RCMP Force Cost $35,000 Cheaper

City council has withdrawn a resolution, endorsed at a meeting Oct. 13, to place a referendum before the public asking if they wish to retain the RCMP or establish a municipal police force.

The action was taken last night on recommendation of a report of the committee of the whole.

The resolution was presented originally by Ald. George Casey and seconded by Ald. Darrow Gomez.

Last night Ald. Gomez, armed with figures on the cost of a 16-man municipal police force based on West Vancouver statistics, led the move to withdraw the referendum.

The vote on a motion to withdraw the referendum was 4-3. Aldermen Gomez, Ray McLean, Kay Smith and Bill Bremner voted for the withdrawal. Aldermen George Casey, John Currie and H. F. Glassey voted against.

In his comparison between the cost of maintaining a 16-man RCMP detachment and establishing a city police force, Ald. Gomez said it would cost a minimum of $35,000 per year more to have city police. That estimate, he said, was on wages and clothing the men alone.

CITES SALARIES
Chief of police in West Vancouver gets $4,632 per year, two sergeant detectives cost a total of $8,200, 13 constables cost $46,800, making a total of $59,632.

Then, he said, there was workmen's compensation at $1,400, MSA at $384, uniforms $1,200, superannuation at $2,981 and holidays with pay at $1,800, bringing the cost up to $67,567.

For 16 men under the RCMP at $2,000 per man it cost $32,000 plus $600 for the police barracks for single men.

There is a difference of $34,967 or approximately six mills, Ald. Gomez said. The average cost per man under the municipal system would be $4,223, while the RCMP costs the city $2,040 per man.

He added those figures did not include the two or three police cars with two-way radios nor office furniture and other incidentals the city would have to provide if it set up its own force.

Ald. Gomez said that he had talked to a lot of people since "we had the trouble this summer."

"A lot were not in favor of the RCMP and I was one of them."

"No matter how good city police are," he said, "they would weaken and I don't think that is good for the people. The RCMP shifted men aboard, they were not liable to stagnate and be open to graft. A city policeman after 10 years in one town would eventually become subject to pressure and could be reached."

He said that the city under its contract with the RCMP has control over the 16 men it hires. The council should exercise more control, and if it had complaints it should refer them to police chief Sergeant Norman.

Ald. Ray McLean said that he thought council should be severely reprimanded for allowing themselves to be swayed by one man to the extent that they planned to go "to the people with such an assinine motion."

Ald. Casey rose and said that "any time you refer anything to the people of a city you are on pretty safe ground." He said he had no apologies to make for introducing the resolution.

"If the people want city police it's up to them to say so," he said. "If they want to pay $35,000 more for their policing it's their business."

Extra Levy On Shipping Eliminated

Extra insurance premiums on deepsea ships doing business with the port of Prince Rupert have been eliminated.

This was disclosed today by the Department of Transport in a brief announcement from Ottawa that United Kingdom underwriters have cancelled the extra marine insurance premiums, previously applicable on ships calling at B.C. ports north of Vancouver.

Ports benefiting include Prince Rupert, Ocean Falls and Kitimat.

Previously, ships doing business at these ports paid an additional premium resulting from the underwriters' belief that there were extra navigational hazards in the area.

An exception was made in the case of ships moving to and from Prince Rupert using the Dixon Entrance, north of the Queen Charlotte Islands.

The transport department and Vancouver Chamber of Shipping appealed to the Commonwealth Shipping Committee in London to have the extra premium abolished.

This brought Sir Clement Jones, committee chairman, to the scene last June to look over the coast and facilities in this city.

Elimination of extra premiums saves the way for deepsea ships to come to Rupert via Hecate Straits, instead of taking the "outside" route, thereby saving a distance of 125 miles each way.

Orme Stuart, president of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, hailed the move, stating it was a "real step forward for this port."

"All we need now is to be recognized as a Pacific terminal port in order to bring more business."

Shipping agent George Nickerson also applauded the action as "a step in the right direction."

Harbormaster Bill Koughan said ships using Hecate Strait can save a day's sailing from Vancouver.

All Aboard

By G. E. MORTIMORE

We felt vaguely uneasy as our friends' car, loaded to the back window with baggage, disappeared around the corner.

Our friends had gone away for a week's holiday and left my wife and me as resident caretakers in charge of a house, a pig, two geese, a Great Dane, two Pekinese and seven Siamese cats.

I'll say one thing: the house behaved fairly well. No rocking back and forth on its foundations, or anything of that kind. But the animals did show some little behavior problems.

The Great Dane (name of Dana) thought she was a Pekinese. She loved to frisk about the lawn, covering the ground in 10-foot leaps. When she was happy, her great tail lashed back and forth like a whip, nearly drawing blood when it struck.

One of the Pekinese (name of Ming) thought he was a Great Dane. If he was taken for a walk, he sallied up to large dogs with easy assurance, ready for a fight.

Dana had her own bed in the room where we slept, but she was a restless sleeper, and her stirring kept my wife awake, so Dana was banished. The big dog went meekly.

Ming wanted to stay in the room, but his habit of snorting all night made it out of the question. He crept under the bed and refused to come out. Every time I reached my hand under the bed there was a snarl. Ming was ready to battle for his right to stay in the bedroom.

After half an hour, having made his point, Ming came trotting amiably out.

The pig was called Dig-dig, because he had once made a jail break by means of a tunnel and gone missing for several days before his owners recaptured him. He always nosed into his pail of mash before I could dump it into his trough. As soon as I got the mash past him into the trough, he jumped in with both feet.

The two geese kept up a running cackle before and during meal time. Now and then they hopped on a stump and stretched out their wings.

The Siamese cats were keen on helping with the paper work. They jumped up and perched on any notes we happened to be using. At other times they draped themselves over us, purring and crying in their deep, loud voices.

Four of the Siamese were small, white kittens, mewing in a box. At intervals their mother saw fit to move house. She came padding across the room with one kitten after another clenched in her mouth, setting a course for some new dark corner.

Feeding the animals became a pleasant routine. Grunts, cackles, barks and miaows were familiar morning and evening music. When our friends returned and we had to go home, we felt a little sad—especially in view of the fact that we might in time meet the pig and the geese at the dinner table.

However, we are not inconsolable.

Variety of Subjects to be Raised At Forthcoming Session of Parliament

By JOHN E. BIRD Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA—Political observers say the first session of Canada's 29th Parliament, opening next Thursday and expected to sit until June, will be one of the busiest in years.

Most controversial issues likely will be discussed when government legislation is before the Commons, but other topics will be raised by the three opposition parties. Subjects range from taxes to pensions, exploitation of natural resources to trade, security leaks to health insurance, and relations with municipalities to foreign affairs.

The Liberal government headed by Prime Minister St. Laurent has disclosed the nature of some legislation, including revision of the Bank Act which has made every 10 years, amendments to the National Housing Act and extension of gold-mining assistance. Other proposed measures will be outlined in the speech from the throne read at the opening of Parliament by Governor-General Massey.

Most of the overhauling of the Bank Act will be handled by a committee but Finance Minister Abbott may find difficulty when he is piloting the revision through the Commons.

Mr. St. Laurent has announced the Housing Act and the Bank Act will be amended in an effort to provide more low-priced houses.

Federal subsidies to gold mines will be extended a year to Dec. 31, 1954, but current rates will not be increased. Producing mines have the choice of selling on the free gold markets of the world and foregoing a subsidy or taking the subsidy and selling at the official market price of $35 U.S. an ounce.

XMAS TIP: Come In & Find Out For Yourself

Bigger, single SMOOTH head shaves CLOSER than any other method, wet or dry. Try it—then drop a hint to the folks for Christmas. RUPERT RADIO AND ELECTRIC Phone 644

Generally speaking, Parliamentarians believe firmly—although in some individual cases perhaps a little reluctantly—in the truth of the old maxim that no man is irreplaceable.

It's one of the basic facts of life that their whole experience teaches them. The steady disappearance of the great public figures of each era, without major disaster following from their passing, permits no other conclusion.

Yet it may be that an exception is in the making. Right now one of Parliament's really important figures is reported to be bent upon retirement from the office he holds. And MP's and Senators who aren't accustomed to using words lightly or carelessly are saying solemnly and with sincerity that if this person quits, he really will be irreplaceable.

He is Senator Walter Morley Aseltine, in private life a lawyer from Rosetown, Saskatchewan. And the past from which he is bent on retiring—thus stirring a re-action of consternation almost as broad as Parliament itself—is Chairman of the special Divorce Committee of the Senate.

That's the most difficult job in all Parliament to fill. It's easily the most thankless. It ties its incumbent down to weeks of grinding, patient toil when his fellow-Senators may be leading a life of ease due to a lull in the legislative program. It offers no reward, financial or otherwise, for the labors it exacts. It doesn't even reward with the interest of its subject-matter. That is necessarily depressing when it isn't actually so.

It may be asked reasonably in the light of these facts why any

Senator ever should volunteer for the job? The answer is simply that, despite its uniformly disagreeable features, it is one of the really essential posts in Parliament. Successive Senators have been prevailed up to to assume it simply as a conscientious duty of public service.

Senator Aseltine has filled it now for five years. He considers justifiably that someone else now should take over the burden. Normally, the call would come to Senator John T. Haig, vice-chairman of the committee and also a past chairman. But Senator Haig's health will not permit him to assume the heavy work involved. The post requires a lawyer, who must also be a Protestant, since it is contrary to the conscience of a Roman Catholic lawyer to associate himself actively with the granting of divorce. Up to the present the search of the Senate for a Protestant lawyer who is available has failed to uncover a desirable appointee. And there are 250 divorce cases waiting to be heard at the present time. The situation is sufficiently practical importance to be causing the government's concern. Senator Aseltine, yet find himself that rare creature—a Parliamentarian who literally cannot be replaced.

Silversides-Turcotte Vows Pledged at Cathedral Rites

Changing nuptial vows at a midnight service in St. Andrew's Cathedral Friday night, Yvette Turcotte, eldest daughter of Mrs. Alice Turcotte, Seventh Avenue West, and Mr. A. J. Turcotte, and Mrs. A. H. Silversides, 216 1/2 Street, Canon Basil S. Prockter officiated at the rites for which the bride, given in marriage by Mr. L. W. Crompt, was charmingly laced in a gown of white chantilly lace, falling in petals over tiers of nylon net with a matching Chantilly lace jacket, featuring lily point sleeves and tiny collar. Her chapel veil was secured by a headdress of satin trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a beautiful spray of American Beauty roses and white stephanotis.

Her only attendant was Mrs. Janey Crompt, matron of honor, gowned in pretty orchid satin styled with a net yoke and gathered bodice. A dainty cap of net and a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations completed her ensemble.

Attending the groom was his brother, Mr. Robert Silversides. The Elks' Hall was the scene of a large reception following the ceremony, at which the parents of the bridal couple assisted in receiving guests.

Mrs. Turcotte chose for the occasion a two-piece dress of turquoise with matching accessories. The groom's mother was attired in dusty rose silk, trimmed with lace. Both wore corsages of pink and white carnations.

The bride's table, covered with a lace cloth, held a three-tier cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and flanked by candles in silver deposit holders. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Ian Dunbar and to the matron of honor by Mr. Robert Silversides.

Assisting the bride in cutting the cake was Mrs. C. O. Rimmer. Serviteurs were Mrs. Grace McIntyre, Lois Keays, Nora Stromdahl, Ann Dominato, Bobbie Kohlruss, Isla Hague, Kaye Paul, Roberta Paul, Doreen Paul, Rolande Turcotte and Helen Trapp.

A heart-shaped arch covered with pink and white roses and eucalyptus leaves was a feature of the decor in the hall. Music for the reception was provided by Mrs. Jean DeCarlo at the piano.

The newlyweds have taken up residence at 667 Hays Cove Circle.

Child Training Meeting Topic

Training of children in Christian education was the topic of a meeting of the Young Adult group of the United Church here at a meeting Sunday night.

Miss Jean Spiller was guest speaker, discussing Christian education as a necessary part of everyone's life and telling of her experiences in St. Johns, Newfoundland, where she had worked with a United Church orphanage.

Following her talk, members enjoyed a "buzz" session on children's problems with regard to Christian education.

Citizenship Council To Hold 'International Night' Social

A social evening with an international flavor is being planned by the Prince Rupert Citizenship Council.

At the monthly meeting of the council last night in the Civic Centre, plans were drawn up for the special event, to be staged January 11.

All interested city organizations and national groups will be invited to the social, at which a feature will be distribution of text books, published by the Department of Citizenship and Immigration, for New Canadians wishing to learn more of the language and customs of this country.

Mrs. J. S. Black, appointed social welfare convener at last night's meeting, will be in charge of arrangements for the social event.

The council also discussed the forthcoming Christmas carol festival to be staged here by the Music and Drama Festival Association, and planned to attempt to interest more national groups in participating. Only one national choir, of the German Baptist Church, has entered the festival to date.

The meeting also saw election of Father Tunney as vice-president of the Citizenship Council.

UP NORTH, moose have the habit of using snowplowed railway lines as their personal promenades. OK until they come to a bridge; then Mr. Moose is likely to get caught between the ties, break his legs and otherwise gum things up. So the railways lay what they call "moose carpets" of aluminum between the rails and over the ties at spots where His Lordship may need safe footing.

It just goes to show how aluminum's combination of lightness, strength and resistance to weather comes in handy in the most unlikely places. . . . And to explain why, in 1954, our aluminum capacity will be boosted to over a billion pounds a year. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Proposed Club Would Bring Top-Flight Films to Rupert

Plans for formation of a Prince Rupert Film Club were discussed at a meeting in the Civic Centre last night, and a general meeting of all persons interested in such a club was called for next Monday night.

The proposed club would bring in top-flight films, mainly J. Arthur Rank productions, which would not ordinarily be shown here. The films would be shown to members only.

The group anticipates contracting for 12 films a year for monthly showings. The 12 films would be chosen by the club, and could include dramas, comedies, musicals and, if desired, the classics, such as "Hamlet."

Members would pay an annual membership fee, probably not more than $4 or $5, depending on the number of members, and that fee would entitle them to see all 12 films. Membership would be restricted to adults only.

Similar clubs have sprung up across Canada, in many cases replacing "Curtain at 8:30," one-night showings of better class films staged by theatres in some cities up until about a year ago.

The Civic Centre Association here has shown some interest in the project and will be asked to sponsor the club, which hopes to hold its monthly showings in the Civic Centre auditorium where projectors and screen are available.

Fred Jones, Civic Centre secretary-manager, was acting chairman at last night's meeting and Mrs. A. L. Bell, acting secretary.

At next week's meeting, Monday night in the Civic Centre, an executive will be elected and committees named to choose films and launch a membership campaign.

Optimists at Dinner for Governor

Plans for a dinner for a visiting official were made when members of the Prince Rupert Optimist club held their monthly business meeting last night at the home of Mrs. L. B. Boulton, 549 Eleventh Avenue.

President Elizabeth Clement conducted the meeting at which a group planned a dinner November 24 in honor of Mrs. L. B. Boulton of Chilliwack, governor of the western region of Optimist clubs, who will be here for her official visit here.

President appealed for a full membership turn-out for the dinner.

Ralph Smith, chairman of the T.B. Christmas seal campaign, reported that the T.B. campaign was scheduled to under way November 16 and the seals were all ready for mailing.

In the close of the business meeting, the group studied a pamphlet on external affairs.

William Noble was welcomed as a new member.

Rupert's Future Topic on CBC's 'C. Profile'

Prince Rupert — boom or bust was the question discussed last night by Ormeo J. Black, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and J. F. Black, publisher of the Daily News, on CBC's new regional broadcast, C. Profile.

Speculating on the effect that would have on this city, two speakers pointed to the advantages that will be created by development of the interior which should result in the establishment of new markets on the coast.

They also saw more activity in mining and improvement of educational facilities. The possibility of Prince Rupert obtaining power from Kitimat was another feature mentioned as a result of the alumina project.

Other cities heard from on the half-hour broadcast were Vancouver and Victoria. The series is carried every Monday at 7:30 p.m.

The Dog and the Bone

A DOG was crossing a plank bridge over a stream with a piece of meat in his mouth, when he happened to see his own reflection in the water. He thought it was another dog with a piece of meat twice as big; so he let go his own, and flew at the other dog to get the larger piece. But, of course, all that happened was that he got neither: for one was only a shadow, and the other was carried away by the current.

WITH THREE LARGE CROPS in a row, totalling 3,500,000,000 bushels of grain in 26 months, storage is an acute problem in Western Canada. Farmer Andy Anderson, near Drumheller, Alta., shovels some of the grain, piled on his farm, into a new granary he is building. An estimated 3,500 to 4,500 bushels of No. 2 grade wheat is in this pile.

Farm Surpluses Take Top Place In Eisenhower Administration

By OVID MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm surpluses take top place in the Eisenhower administration's list of domestic troubles.

Faced with the twin headaches of declining farm prices and increasing surpluses, Congress when it reconvenes will hear chief proponents of this idea at recent hearings of the House of Representatives agriculture committee.

Four Referendums To Be Placed Before Voters at December Election

Besides electing a mayor and four aldermen at the December 10 civic elections, city ratepayers will vote on four referendums all concerning disposition of city funds.

The referendums were filed last night by council when the bylaws covering questions to be placed before voters were introduced for passage.

The first referendum will ask the people whether they favor a special levy of two mills per year to make up a reserve fund for new municipal buildings. Ald. Ray McLean moved the motion and Ald. H. F. Glassey seconded it.

The second question to be asked the voters will be whether they favor the transfer of funds from the Roosevelt Park Trust Fund to a reserve fund solely for the development of the Algoma Park area.

Voters also will decide whether they favor a special levy of one mill a year for the development of Algoma Park.

Another referendum will in all probability be placed before the city ratepayers but since it will only be submitted last night it will be dealt with at next meeting of the council.

The referendum was submitted by the Civic Centre Association, asking that one mill or $3,000, whichever is the lesser, be allotted the association every year by the city of Prince Rupert in lieu of the present $1,800 annual grant.

W. F. Stone, president of the Civic Centre organization, told council that since 1946 the Civic Centre had operated at a deficit of from $4,000 to $5,000 per year. He said the association had had to abandon the Civic Centre carnival with which it used to raise large sums of money annually.

Other sources of raising funds had been explored without success.

It was moved and carried that the city clerk be instructed to draw up a bylaw for a referendum.

City works superintendent A. Beaton was given authority to use his own discretion on the matter of laying off men over 65 and if become necessary during the slack months.

Ald. Casey suggested if the board of works was coming to a "pinchy" period then work should be found for the men regardless of their age. He recommended that since funds were available for cemetery improvement that arrangements be made to drain the cemetery.

Mr. Beaton told council there were three men over 70 and seven men over 65 on the public works department staff. He said $4,500 had been spent on the cemetery already this year.

A motion by Ald. Ray McLean, who said age should be no barrier, that men be laid off according to seniority, found no second.

Ald. Casey moved that the city superintendent use his own discretion.

A motion by Ald. George Casey that the matter of painting the firemen's quarters in the firehall be attended to now instead of being referred to the incoming council was defeated.

Council approved a utilities committee recommendation that Wayne Harrison be appointed to the permanent staff of the fire department.

It also approved a recommendation that Northwest Construction contract price of $7,647 be paid for work on the new telephone exchange building.

Also approved was a Board of Works committee recommendation that final payment of $9,238.70 be paid to G. W. Ledingham & Co. Ltd. for gunniting and sealing the city reservoir, and that the account of F. C. Stewart, covering survey work during 1951, 1952 and 1953 for $2,751 be paid and charged to the water-works reserve account.

The licensing committee reported to council that the Public Utilities Commission had granted a licence to the TMC Transportation Co. to operate Routes 2 and 4 as originally applied for.

The committee also granted a trades licence to Antor Hieberg for plastic manufacture.

The finance committee passed a recommendation to next year's council that $2,075 be set aside out of estimates to change the city hall furnace from coal to oil and to install automatic control on the firehall furnace.

A letter from the department of education on the subject of community recreational centres was tabled until next council meeting for further study.

Alderman Mike Krueger was granted leave of absence from November 2 to November 16.

A request from the Shell Oil Company to build a service station on the corner of Third Avenue and McBride Street was tabled so the city engineer could study the feasibility of that site for such a building.

Canadian Soldier Making 4th Trip to Korea To Serve With Black Watch

OTTAWA — A 33-year-old Canadian soldier and former sergeant, Cpl. B. A. (Bert) Clinton, believes in travelling. On his way to Korea for his fourth time.

Clinton, a wartime paratrooper with the 2nd Battalion The Black Watch (Royal Highland Regiment) of Canada, will be his seventh trip to the Pacific with an element of the 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade since Canada sent troops to Korea in 1950.

Clinton's first trip to the "land of morning calm" was with the 1st Battalion of the brigade to set up a training camp in Pusan during his second tour of duty in the Far East. Clinton, wearing the badge of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, served as personal rifleman to Brig. John R. Rockingham who commanded the brigade at that time.

Back in Canada he transferred to the Royal 22nd Regiment and sailed with the 1st Battalion of that regiment for a third time to Korea.

Born in Argentina of French and Spanish parents, Clinton now speaks Italian, Spanish and Japanese as well as English. A veteran paratrooper of the Second World War, he saw service in the United Kingdom, Italy and the south of France.

'Police Arrest Obliging Admitted Thief

VANCOUVER (CP)—RCMP showed that they could be obliging Saturday when a 31-year-old logger walked into RCMP office here and asked to be arrested in connection with a $200 burglary at Salmon Arm, B.C., last Monday.

An RCMP escort was en route to Vancouver from Salmon Arm soon after learning that the unidentified logger's description of the break-in was similar to the one at the provincial government buildings in Salmon Arm. The loot included proceeds from a tag day held for the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatic Society.

Big Three Denounces Israel For Killing of Arabs in Jordan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Big Three Monday denounced Israel before the United Nations for the recent killing of 53 Arabs in the Jordan border village of Kibya. But they agreed to hold off a call for Security Council action until both sides have their say.

Israel's chief delegate, Abba Eban, told the council he will plead his government's case when the hearing is resumed.

Israel, meanwhile, faced another charge today before the council on neighboring Syria's complaint that she is stealing the life-giving waters of the Jordan from Arab farmers by diverting the river for an Israel hydro-electric project.

Israel agreed, at the UN's behest, to halt work on the Jordan project while the council debated the Syrian complaint. But Israeli sources indicated Monday night that if the council does not take action soon, she will seek permission to resume work.

Britain, France and the United States joined in strongly censuring the Oct. 14 Kibya raid by armed Israel as a flagrant violation of the already-strained Palestine armistice. They said the incident endangered the peace in the Middle East, and appealed to Israel to stop trying to justify the incident as a logistical act of reprisal and to help bring the guilty ones to justice.

An authoritative Big Three source said Eban's response to the Western censure largely will determine how strong the wording of their resolution on the border killings is to be.

Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb spearheaded the Big Three rebuke, labelling the Kibya incident a "threat to the security of the entire area."

Jebb deplored the revenge motive which apparently sparked all the Arab-Israeli border incidents and said they had resulted in a "vicious circle" which must be stopped before it gets out of hand.

Canadian Railways Open Contracts to 150,000 Workers This Month

By BOB JOYCE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA — Representatives of 150,000 railway men this month will meet company officials to hammer out a wage-pattern for the coming year.

Of the contract talks has not been fixed, but most of the unions concerned have filed notice of their de-

DAISY GRAYDON of Ontario, said she will bid Nov. 30 for the elementary seat left vacant when her husband died two years ago. Mrs. Graydon, a widow, is an affairs expert for the Conservative party. She would seek the PC nomination for the by-election riding.

Margaret's Walk Stroll Causes Furore

OTTAWA (Reuters)—Princess Margaret's walk with her dog in James' Park, just across the street from Buckingham Palace, stirred up a fuss in the press which says she has broken an unwritten rule by retaining a bodyguard.

The princess' today said there was no such rule. Members of the Royal family have left the grounds and walked in the park before.

It is not the first time that Margaret has done so. The rule which says that princess must be accompanied by a bodyguard. Perhaps she perhaps she isn't.

Some have the idea that the Royal Family does not follow the rules. This is the rule.

Others have reported that Margaret had told the "rule" was out of date and received permission to ignore it.

Weather Cuts Road Work

EDMONTON (CP)—Construction of the new 108-mile north-south cut-off road from Edmonton north to Valleyview was shut down for the winter by the Alberta provincial highways department Monday.

The work was hampered by heavy rain and wet weather, crews considered work at both ends of the project during the winter season.

The unions' negotiating committee is composed of delegates from 17 unions whose members—classified as non-operating employees—man shops, stations and offices across the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific's rail network.

Union representatives, headed by Frank Hall, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks (AFL-TLC), announced they do not intend to seek wage increases at the coming contract talks.

Mr. Hall made the announcement in Montreal last September after the group's top-policy body—the general conference committee—came out of a two-day huddle.

Last year the unions asked for a 45-cent-an-hour general increase, and other concessions including a one-cent-an-hour bonus for every point rise in the cost of living, and checkoff of union dues.

The railways refused, saying it would cost them $32,000,000 a year.

The workers finally settled for an increase of roughly 16 cents an hour. Dues checkoff was granted.

In 1950 it took a nine-day general rail strike and action by Parliament to settle the dispute.

PAID HOLIDAYS
Demands this year by the unions are:

- Premium pay for Sunday work at time-and-a-half for the first eight hours; double-time thereafter.

- Eight paid, statutory holidays for all employees. At present hourly-rated employees do not qualify, and double-pay for a statutory holiday worked.

- For each day worked in any part not used up transferable to the following year.

- Increase in paid holidays from the present five-to-10 days to 10-20 days depending on the length of service.

People who appreciate fine cars are turning to Monarch.

"... everything you could ask for in a really fine car..."

My friend the Judge is used to making decisions on the basis of evidence. He told me he'd bought a Monarch because all the evidence pointed to its being the very best buy in its field. Now that I'm driving a Monarch I can appreciate his good judgment. Monarch has everything you could ask for in a really fine car... a 125-Hp. V-8 engine that's as dependable as it is powerful... riding quality that's completely satisfying in every way... and the kind of beauty admired by people who know truly good design when they see it. By the way, I'm glad I invested a little extra and got all Monarch's wonderful power features. It's a great experience to drive with absolutely no effort, yet to know that you have perfect control of your car wherever you go.

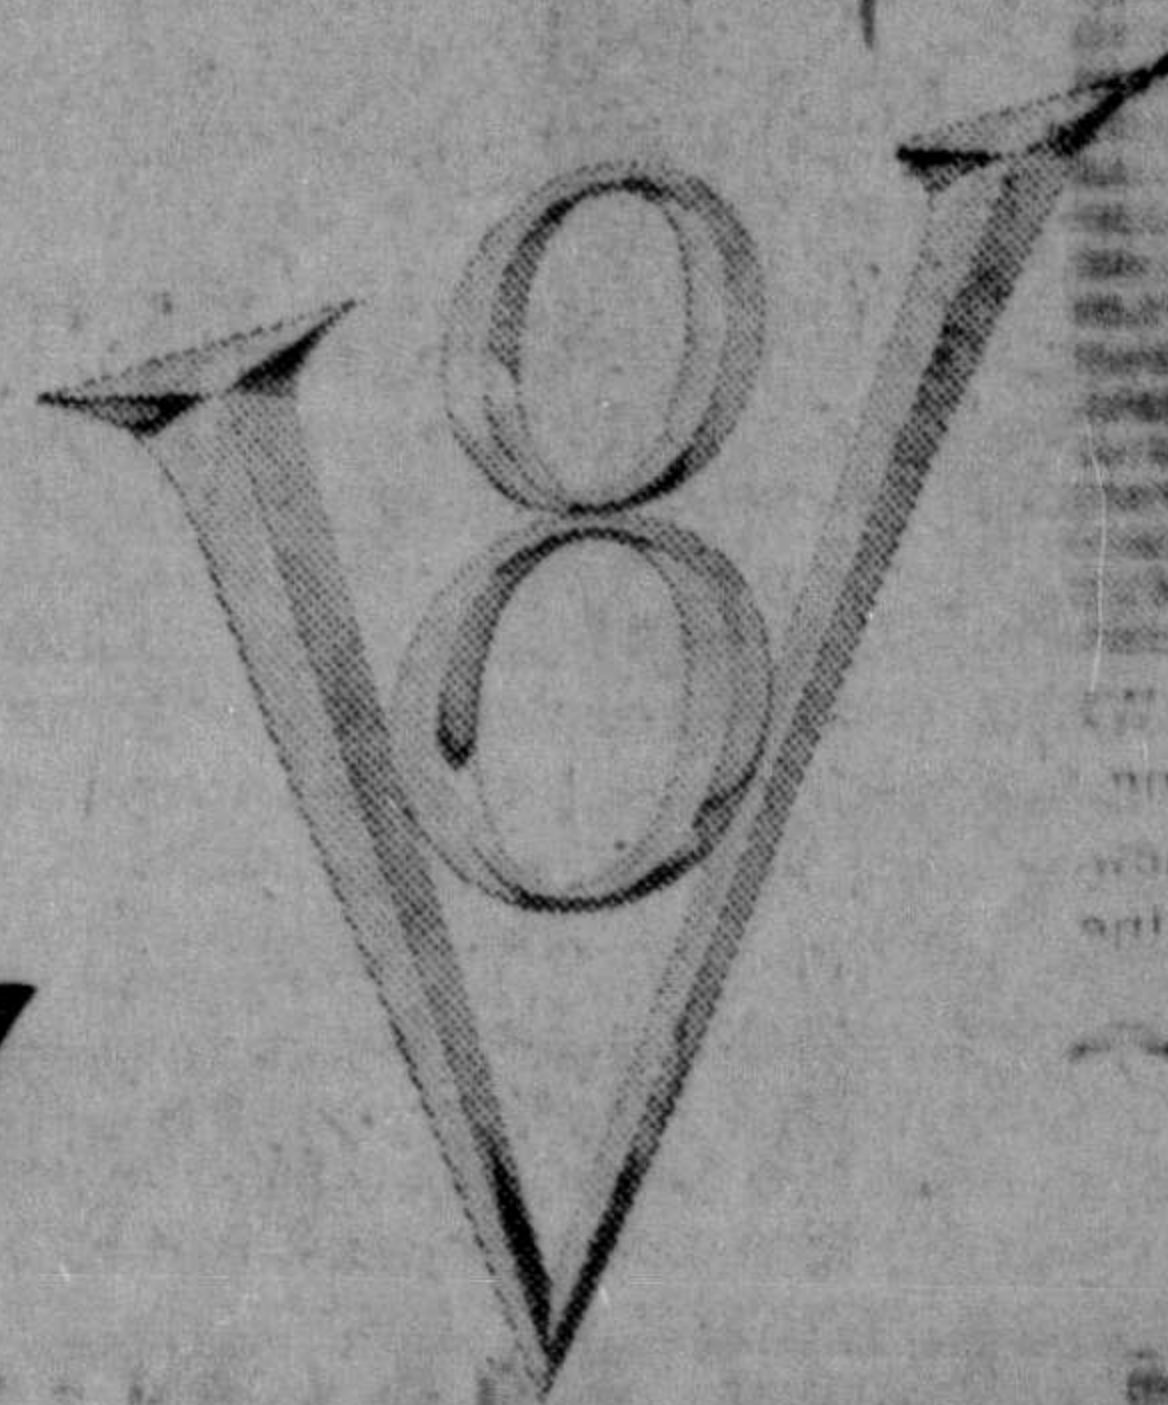

This could be your experience, too... see your Monarch dealer soon.

Play in Prince Rupert Basketball association Senior B league gets underway in earnest tonight when the last year's champions Gordon and Andersons take on the Columbia Cellulose 300 Club in the second game of the newly-inaugurated 1953-54 season. Saturday night G & A didn't look particularly effective against Manson's but the same could be said about CCC who finally got around to trouncing a disorganized Terrace squad. Thus the way is open tonight for a much closer game with Pop Pay's Millers and Minor Simundsen's hardware crew both out for their first win. With only one league game played Danny Bill has set 16 points as a mark for which to shoot.

As a matter of interest this corner is keeping a game-by-game point race schedule although we sincerely hope that it doesn't result in any break-up of combinations or perpetual solo efforts by point-happy sharpshooters.

Basketball commission chairman Fred Jones has located all the seven or eight trophies yet to be presented to outstanding players and the silverware is being polished up and repaired at the moment. The prizes, which include the Civic Centre Most Valuable Player Trophy and the Bobby Houston Memorial Trophy for the most sportsmanlike player, will be presented in about two weeks time. A committee made up of Bob Armstrong, Howard Hogan and Bill Brett are in charge of making the selections.

Also getting underway tonight are Inter-A and Inter-B leagues, both expected to provide plenty of talent. Art Olson is coaching the Manson Inter-B entry which meets General Motors in the opener. Don Hartwig will call the plays for the Motors squad which has enough players to use the platoon system on a grand scale. General Motors had 14 players signed up to last night to the Manson's seven.

Signed with Manson's are Al Hodgkins, Harold Webber, Billy Sedgewick, Tommy Sedgewick, Bob Barnes, Mel Anderson and Chris Erickson. The Motors roster includes Ted Leask, Charley Lewis, Jimmy Saville, Bert Tipton, Mike Jones, Jim Carlson, Morris Dean, Terry Auld, Terry Shenton, Bruce Forward, Bob Pedersen, Bruce Stanwood, Phil Lyons and Eugene Nelson.

While kicking around all these names, which will appear throughout the season in sports writeups, we would appreciate it if any of those mentioned who have double-barreled names or whose parents blessed them with handles like Throgmorton Percival Fogbound, would inform us personally, by phone or by letter to the sports department as to whether they are known, sportswise, as Bud, Bill, Hank or Stinky.

Inter-A league play, now set for the season after the high school informed the cage commission that it wouldn't be providing senior talent this year, sees Fraser & Payne meet North Star Bottling Works in the middle fixture tonight.

Don Hartwig will be doubling in brass tonight since he will also be coaching the Fraser & Payne entry, composed mainly of the players for whom the Inter-A age limit was raised to 23 for the Prince Rupert league only. Scheduled to see action tonight for the drygoods squad are Ron Ciccone, Henry McKay, Gary Morison, Fred Kristmanson, Greig Forbes, Jim Stewart and Doug Sankey.

The North Star aggregation with Jack Evans as coach will have eight players from which to choose including Richard Austin Hickerson (see what we mean), Bill Donaldson, Art Turcotte, Art Helim, Raymond McKay, Ron Black, Bill Morrison and Rod Tall.

Prince Rupert curlers have been betrayed by the mild weather and the rink, just in the midst of Gordon Hardware trophy play has been closed down due to soft ice which was proving dangerous for play. Curling club president Jack Laurie said this morning that the condensation machine, expected to remove moisture dripping from the girders, is being shipped from Vancouver today and will arrive Friday. That means a work bee will be slated for the weekend, so any of you broom and stone men who figured on getting the weekend off have another think coming.

While on the subject of curlers we have a correction to make. In our last column we said that Fred Aston was the chairman of the draw committee and t'aint so. Bill Baxter is the boss of the draws and has been out of action due to illness. Hope we're forgiven.

For some strange reason news editors have the mistaken idea that chess constitutes a sport and whenever a chess story comes along they immediately pass the buck to ye sports ed. Now if ever there was a past-time, a most excellent one we will agree, that required or featured less physical energy, it's chess. Participants have been known to go as long as five hours without twitching an eyelid lest their opponent read their minds.

However, James Wilson, tournament director of the B.C. Chess Federation informs us that the seventh annual correspondence Chess Tourney gets underway December 1. All persons interested may take part, providing they renew their memberships and make arrangements before the starting date. No special skill is required to play correspondence, Mr. Wilson assures us, and enquiries and applications should be sent to James Wilson, 230 Maple Avenue, Chilliwack, B.C.

Four Aces blanked Luckies Sunday in the Mixed Ten-Pin league and Tinymites won double team honors when they rolled a high single of 700 and a high triple of 1899. Alan Sheppard collected men's high single with a score of 217 and high triple was won by Bob Rudderham when he rolled 516. Maresa Windle took high single for the girls with 210 and Jean Sharpe captured high three game total with 507. In team play M & M's beat Timberticks, gaining 3 points to the latter's 1 and Tinymites garnered 3 points to Domino's 1.

CARTER SAVOIE

THIS IS THE TALE OF THE TAPE for the world's lightweight title bout to be held in Montreal Wednesday, Nov. 11. Savoie once beat champion Carter in a non-title bout.

Manager of Jimmy Carter Says Nix to Local Judges

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal's Athletic Commission today meets the managers of champion Jimmy Carter and Montreal's Armand Savoie to work out details of Wednesday night's lightweight championship fight. Willie Ketchum, manager of the champion, has made it clear he considers his side was gypped in last spring's non-title fight here when Savoie took the decision over the champ.

Willie wants no part of the judges who wrote the decision to that scrap. "They're prejudiced; they see only one man in the ring," says manager Ketchum, "and I'm going to insist none of them be on the list again."

Willie would also like to see Jack Dempsey as referee, or a referee attached to either the New York or Pennsylvania commissions. He figures a Montreal referee is far short on experience.

Names of the officials won't be announced until a few minutes before the fight. Tommy Sullivan and Maurice O'Connell are senior men on the Montreal commission staff.

LIGHT WORKOUTS
Both fighters had only light workouts Monday. Savoie weighed himself at 134 1/2. Carter wouldn't give his own weight. The official weigh-in will be at noon Wednesday, along with the final medical examination.

BUFFALO BISON LINE SHARE AHL HONORS

NEW YORK (AP)—Veteran wingers Ed Slowinski and Gaye Stewart and rookie centre Don Marshall, all of the leading Buffalo Bisons, share the American Hockey League's scoring lead with 22 points.

These three members of Buffalo's high-powered first forward line hold a one-point lead over Johnny McCormack, another teammate.

Slowinski and Parker McDonald, Pittsburgh rookie, lead the circuit in goals with 11 each.

Larry Cahoon of the Hornets is the loop's bad man with 38 penalty minutes while Jacques Plante, Buffalo's goalie, leads his rivals with a 2.93-a-game average.

CYO Captures Soccer Trophy With 2-0 Win Over Gunners

CYO captured the Manson Trophy Sunday afternoon when they defeated Heavy Battery seven 2-0 in a sudden death final at Roosevelt Park.

Despite the fact that Battery had 70 per cent of the play, the Gunners were unable to capitalize on their scoring chances. Time and time again Battery was close to scoring only to be robbed by the stalwart work of fullback Alf Rutten. Lacking finish around the CYO goal-mouth, Battery saw CYO score two goals in the first half and never relinquish the lead.

Tambourini opened the CYO scoring about 20 minutes after the game began when unassisted, he rifled a shot past Battery goalie Father Mohan.

Just before the end of the half Cor Verhaar dribbled one against the Battery goalpost which deflected off the custodian's foot to roll into the net.

Battery made valiant efforts during the second half to tie up the game but every drive was thwarted.

The trophy will be presented to the winners at the annual football dance to be held later this month.

Baltimore Orioles' Boss Not Sold On Marty Marion as Manager

BALTIMORE (AP)—The official word is due today whether Marty Marion is to manage the Baltimore Orioles next year, and the conjecture is that the answer will be no.

Marion and Art Ehlers, general manager of the new American League baseball entrant, who is making the decision, talked four hours behind closed doors Monday but enough seceded out to make the odds appear against Marty.

Ehlers said, "Marty's position will be determined in the next 24 hours," and some thought it was to give Marion time to get out of town and back home to St. Louis.

Ehlers let it be known beforehand that Marion was no cinch to come here along with the Browns. He said he already had been thinking about others in case he wasn't sold on Marion. Among the others are

Army Cook Beams With Joy at Sight of Gadgets in Kitchen at Soest Camp

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
SOEST, Germany — Operation "Come and Go," the largest peacetime transfer of troops overseas in the Canadian Army's history, is approaching completion amid a marked absence of the usual soldierly gripes. In fact, everybody's happy.

Homeward-bound Canadians are glad to be going back after a tour of duty in Germany, and incoming soldiers speak in superlatives about their brand-new barracks in rural country beside the Moehne dam.

"As the saying goes, we've never had it so good," says Lt. Col. S. U. Waters, a fast rising young officer who joined the army from the University of Alberta in 1941 and now commands one of the four new Canadian camps in Germany.

Beyond doubt, the happiest man among the Canadians is Pte. Robert Angus of Toronto, who runs the gleaming, gadget-strewn cookhouse at one camp.

MODERN KITCHEN
"I've cooked in Toronto's Royal York hotel and in several American cities but I've never seen anything like this," said Angus, pointing to kitchen contraptions as complicated as the guts of a jet fighter.

"Give me three fatigues and with this kind of equipment I'll whip up a meal for 400 men. His favorite device is a huge mixer equally handy for hamburgers or ice cream.

More or less the same approval runs through all comments on the camp, spread over 35 miles of rolling agricultural land in Westphalia. Two are near Soest, one of the towns of the old Hanseatic League, and the others outside Werl and Hemer.

The barracks were built to British Army design and were completed in time to accommodate the first main party of Canadian troops, who reached here by train from Rotterdam Oct. 31. Other detachments arrive every week in a rotation.

At Least 5 Die In Philippines Election Riots

By DON HUTH

MANILA (AP)—Polls closed tonight in the tension-ridden Philippines presidential election after a day of local but deadly violence that left at least five dead and more injured.

Definite results are not expected for about three days on voting for the Philippines new chief executive—either President Elpidio Quirino or challenger Ramon Magsaysay.

An estimated 5,500,000 Filipinos turned out to choose a president, a vice-president, eight senators and 102 congressional seats.

In troublesome Cavite province, army units in armored cars patrolled the streets of Bacoor, less than 10 miles from Manila, after a gun battle that left the city's vice-mayor and his bodyguards and a special agent dead.

The Philippine News Service said the vice-mayor and his bodyguards were slain by local police. The special agent of Cavite, Governor Dominador Camerino, was mortally wounded in the battle and died in a few hours.

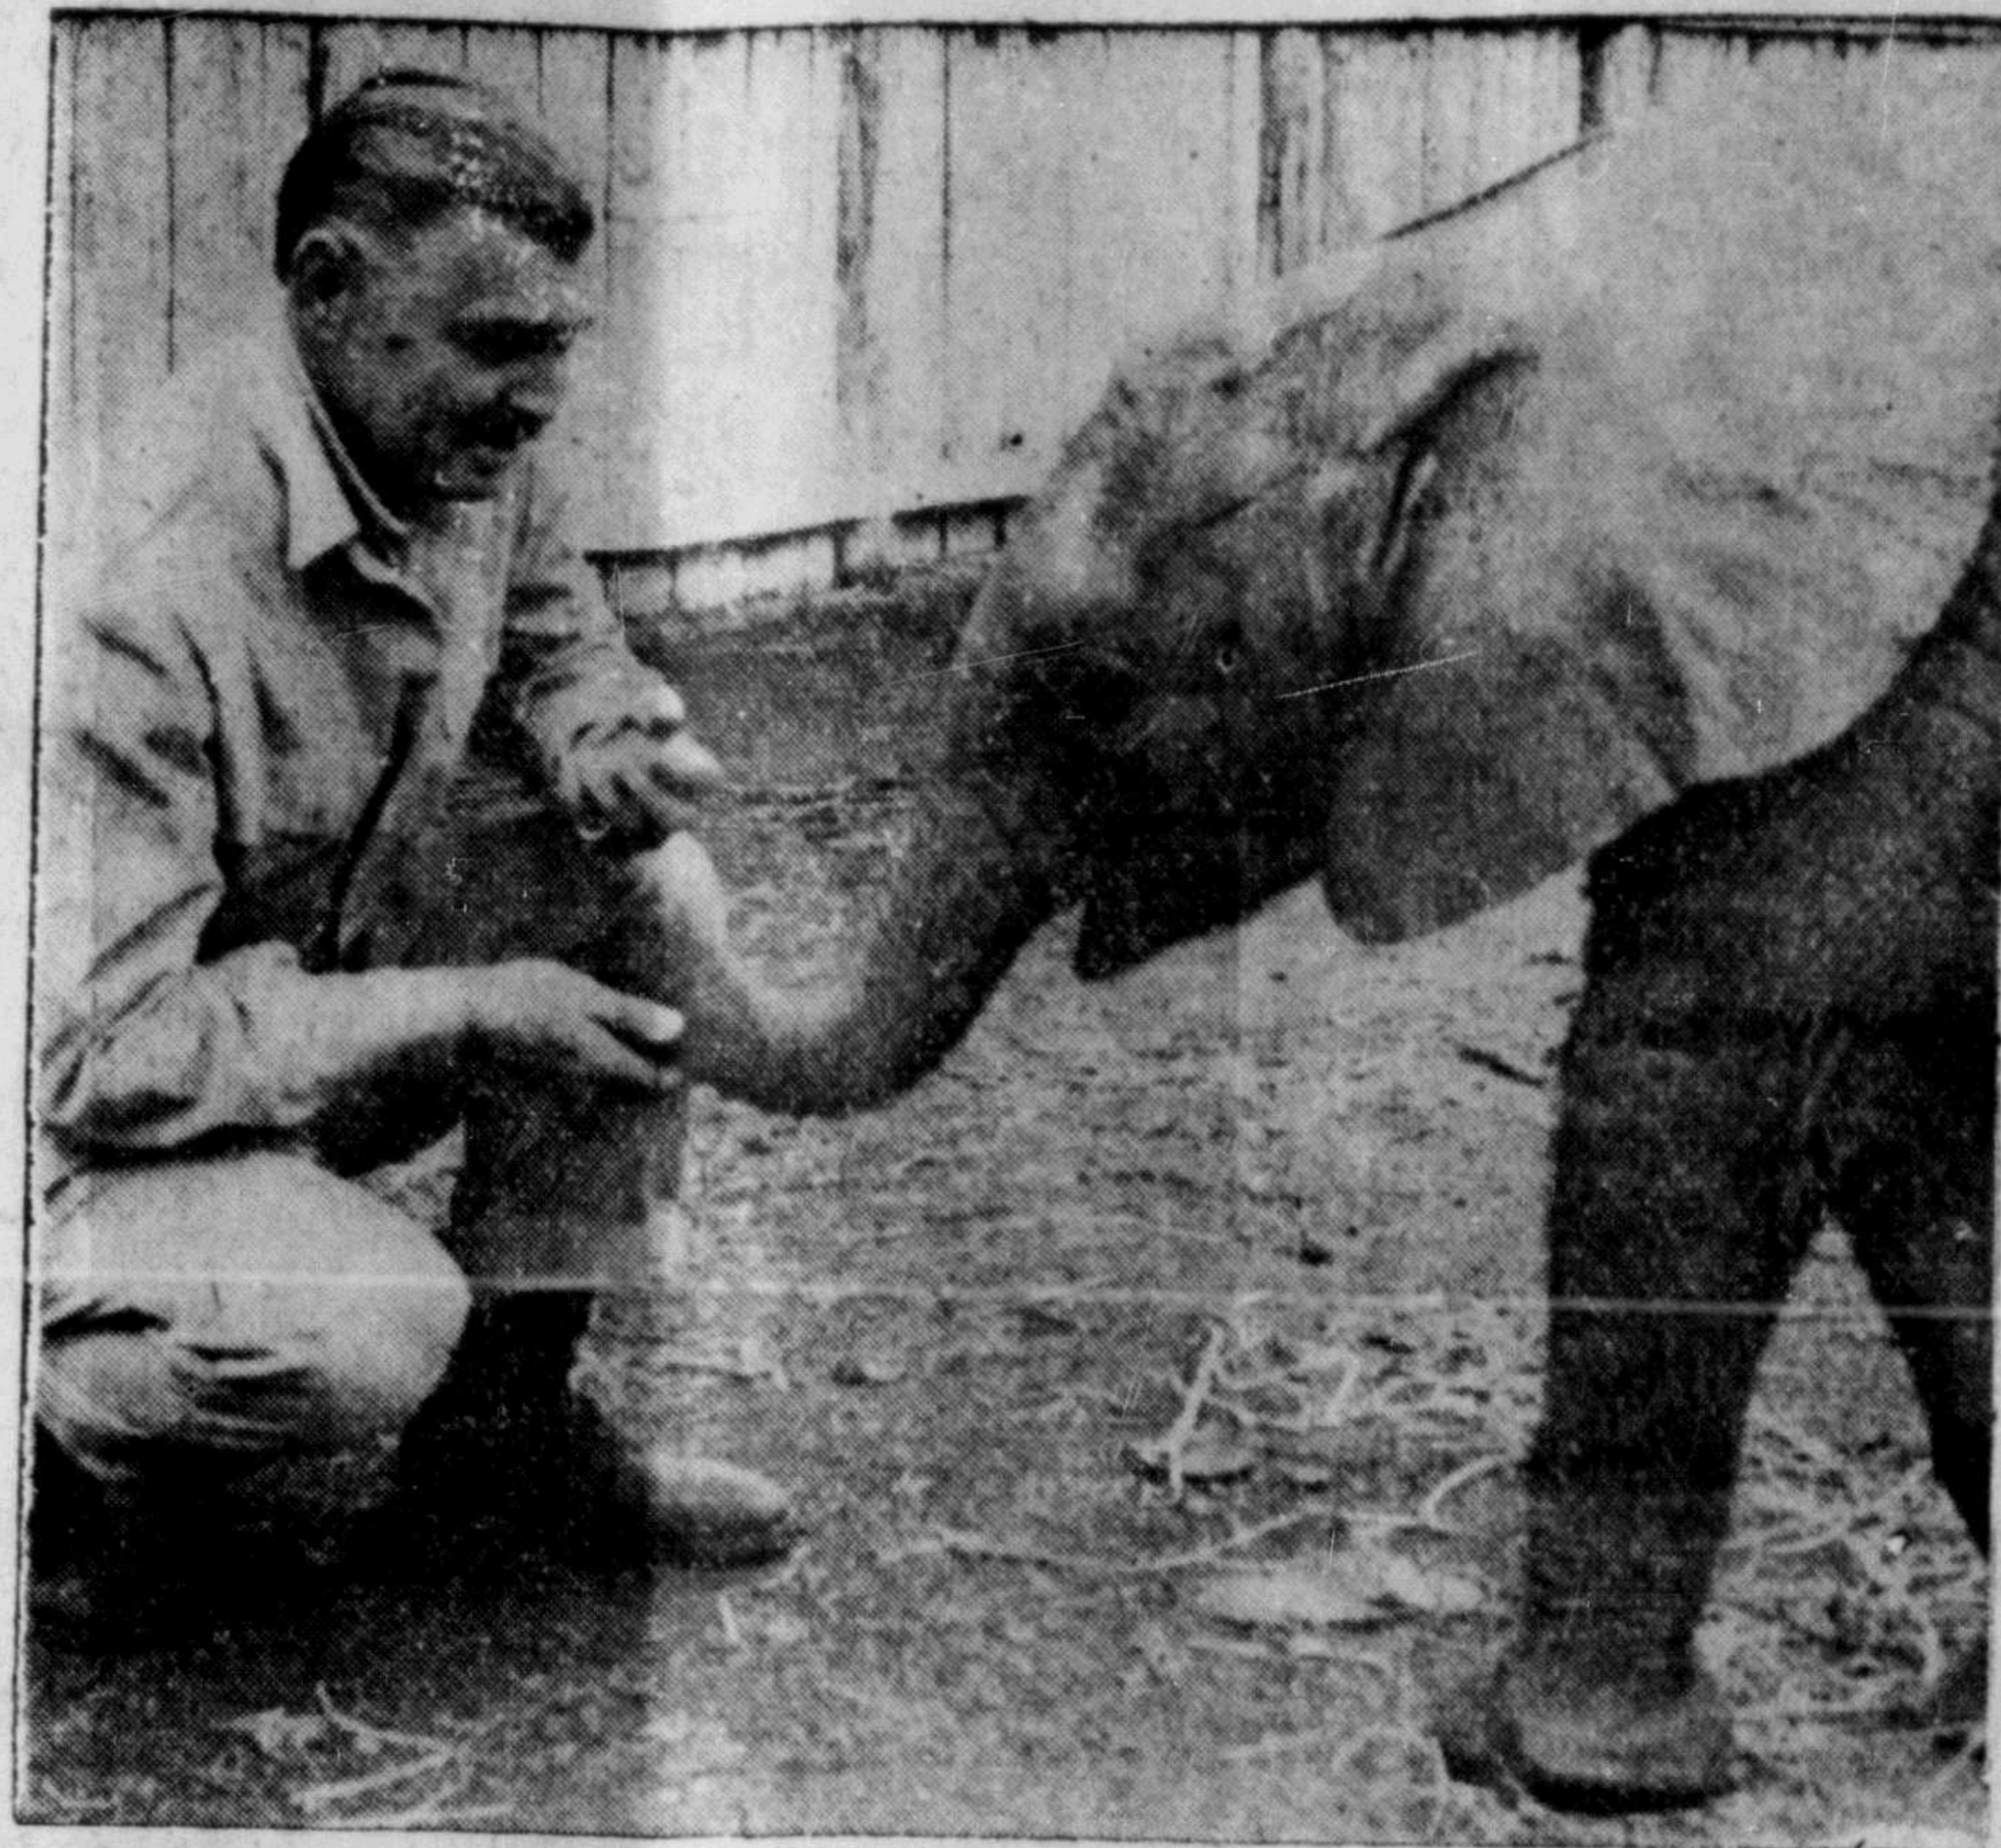

ARMED MEN

Military investigators were told by witnesses that the killers were supporters of Senator Justiniano Montano of Cavite.

Montano is an ardent supporter of Magsaysay's Nationalist-Democratic party coalition. Camerino was backing Quirino's Liberal party.

The senator and governor, bitter political enemies, are known to have issued arms to groups of men for protection. Camerino said last week he would "shoot it out" if Montano or his men appeared in the province on election day, but Mayano said he would be there to work for Magsaysay.

B.C. Youth Dies In Accident After Wedding

DAWSON CREEK, B.C. (CP)—Ronald Vernon Nicholson, 18, of Cecil Lake in the Fort St. John urday in a traffic accident on Columbia, was killed early Saturday in a traffic accident on the Alaska Highway.

Nicholson was returning from a wedding party when the car in which he was riding left the road and overturned at mile 46.

An unidentified girl was seriously injured. Three other persons, including the driver, were not hurt.

Nicholson was reported crushed under the car.

Proper Wiring Essential in Home

VICTORIA — The increasing public interest in guarding against the hazards of defective wiring has been lauded by Major-General W. W. Foster, C.M.G., D.S.O., president of the Electrical Service League of B.C.

"We hope people will continue to remain conscious of the necessity for proper and adequate electrical services in their homes and businesses," General Foster said.

He noted that the Provincial Fire Marshall's Report for 1952 attributed 15 fires with a total loss of $97,488 to defective wiring, and 478 fires with losses totalling $323,814 to short circuits during the year.

Albania Gets Help From Russ

LONDON (Reuters)—Russia will help the development of Albania under an agreement signed in Moscow last month, the Soviet news agency Tass reported today.

Russian specialists will advise on a development program covering the food industry, coal production, power stations, railroads, building materials and citrus growing.

TAIF, Saudi Arabia—King Ibn Saud, 73, world's richest and most powerful absolute monarch.

NEW YORK — Poet Dylan Thomas, 39, who for two decades has been one of the world's major literary figures.

LONDON—Sir Philip Haldwin, 73, British shipping magnate and a former president of the British Chamber of Shipping.

LONDON—Sir Ernest Scott, 81, veteran British diplomat and former British minister to Uruguay.

KANSAS CITY—John Savage, 69, former manager of the Kansas City Blues and one-time owner of the Topeka, Kan. baseball club.

STAR PERFORMERS

LONDON (CP)—Five 24-inch garpike sent to the London zoo from the Quebec biological bureau are already favorites with visitors. The speed with which the yselze a small fish at feeding time, turn it around until it's in line and then bolt it down, has made them a "star" turn.

This type of hand baffles Mr. Muzzy. There seems to be plenty of high card strength. Every suit is doubly stopped and there are two long suits to work on. But it's not as easy as it looks. It takes a little planning to decide on the best play for nine tricks.

The four of hearts was led and Mr. Muzzy saw no problem to the hand. He won in his own hand with the king, led a diamond and ducked in dummy. Winning with the 10 of diamonds, Mr. Dale returned the trey of hearts.

Dummy's ace won and Mr. Muzzy started running the good diamonds. He soon realized, however, that even though he could win a total of five tricks in that suit, he could not win nine tricks in all without surrendering the lead.

After cashing all the diamonds he led a club, but Mr. Meek stepped in with the ace and led a heart. Three winners in that suit completed the set.

Mr. Muzzy should have foreseen this gruesome and unnecessary result. A better play would have been to win the first heart trick on the board and lead a club.

This would have offered several additional chances for the contract. If Mr. Meek goes up with the ace, Mr. Muzzy should win five club tricks, two diamonds, two hearts and a spade. If Mr. Meek has the ace of clubs and ducks, then Mr. Muzzy has stolen a club trick.

He can then go after the diamonds as before. Finally, if Mr. Dale shows up with the ace of clubs there are still the chances that the clubs will break 3-3 or that the 10 and nine will fall out doubleton from Mr. Meek's hand.

As a general rule (and this fits today's case) it is better to start on the long suit in which you do not have the top controls.

The famous mediaeval miracle... During the first four plays of York, England, were last of this year, Indian interludes performed in 1580. (lines carried 157,250 passengers)
