Headway Toward Airport

A COMPLETELY new and encouraging aspect / \ has been put on the prospects for Prince Rupert's air field in the communication received by the federal M.P., E. T. Applewhaite, from the minister of transport, Hon. Lionel Chevrier, virtually dismissing the Tugwell Island idea and suggesting, in its stead, the use of Ridley Island. The newly proposed site is across from Port Edward, and easily accessible to Prince Rupert, a distance of eleven miles, by highway extension and a bridge spanning Porpoise Harbor. The most important thing is the fact that the department of transport has taken the initiative in actively investigating the situation to the point where favor is expressed for the Ridley Island development. This, in itself, can be taken as a commitment to the necessity and justification of the project.

Of course, this is only part of the way. The strip development will be a costly business and, added to that, will be the road extension and bridge that will have to be undertaken to connect up the strip.

The suggestion of aid by the municipality in purchasing of the land has been raised by the minister. With the outcry that we have made so long about the need for the air strip-and there is no question about that, of course-we could well extend ourselves by going along that far with the government which will be putting such a large stake in the principal aspects of the undertaking. And the question of land, which is serving no useful purpose now and has little prospect of doing so, should not be too difficult a matter.

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, the Canadian Pacific Air Lines, Mr. Applewhaite himself and even the Daily News have been carrying this landing field campaign for a long time now and have contributed in bringing the matter to this new and gratifying point. The minister has given the cue and we are grateful for his active interest. It is now to carry on the campaign to the successful culmination of getting Prince Rupert equipped with the full facilities for handling flying by land and sea, day and night, and removing this from the position of being the only city in Canada of its size, importance and potential which is so lacking in this important branch of modern transportation. It is not necessary for us to repeat the need. We are already notorious through the lack.

The By-Election

DRINCE RUPERT electors seem to prefer old I hands to new. That could be the conclusion from yesterday's civic by-election. Two veterans are back on the aldermanic board, ousting newer and younger men.

Public indifference, as indicated in the comparatively light vote, might have had some bearing on the outcome. However, the majorities in each case were substantial even though the by-election vote was only about half that in the December general election.

Mr. Glassey and Mr. Daggett, although they were defeated in the December mayoralty contest, still enjoy public esteem and confidence.

It was a vagary of political fancy that an aldermanic aspirant, who headed a poll little over a month ago, should suffer defeat now. But elections are always unpredictable.

H. F GLASSEY

Many people feel that this by-election was quite unnecessary and arose from circumstances which should have been obviated. That feeling might, indeed, have influenced the voting of some or tended to disinterestedness.

In any event, the air has been cleared now and it is to be hoped that the city's business will proceed with dispatch and the best measure of harmony.

Snow and Ice Disappearing

Softer air and frequent showers continue to reduce ice so greatly that in some parts of Prince Rupert the streets and sidewalks are bare. Few are heard to praise cold weather. They are eloquent in telling the public what a relief it is to get around without risking a variety of injuries in the way of broken bones.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Root, who have been in the city for the past couple of days, will return by air tomorrow morning to Vancouver, having changed plans to go from here to Edmonton J. T. Hindson, E. Clough, J. W.
