APARTMENT HOUSES displace jungle foliage near Leopoldville, Belgian Congo. Two-storey concrete huts, and cement sidewalks cover dirt paths as progress rears its cement and not far from the rolling hills of Africa. And look at the apartments. The seven buildings were constructed by the Belgian government to house government personnel in Leopoldville.

Fishing Vessel Owners Inform Ottawa That Drydock 'Essential' Here

Essential for the well-being of the northern B.C. fishing industry, that services at the Prince Rupert drydock be maintained, was stated in a telegram sent last night by the Vessel Owners Association to Transport Minister T. Appellwäite, MP. The telegram said the association strongly protested the sale with no guarantee of adequate services being maintained, adding that approximately 4,000 vessels cleared port here last year.

Port District Teachers Request Salary Increases

Increase in the minimum salaries paid secondary school teachers has been granted by the Prince Rupert District Teachers' Association, it was announced today by school board officials. The minimums were raised from $2,950 to $3,150. Secondary basic from $2,625 to $2,800. Secondary additional from $2,950 to $3,150. The board also agreed that teachers contracting communicable diseases which are epidemic in school shall not have the number of days absent deducted from allowed days for sick leave. Negotiating for the teachers were Miss Jean Burns, R. H. Davidson and Harry Johnson.

Exercise Hot Dog Gives Paratroopers Rigorous Tests in Sub-Arctic Warfare

Indicated the Belgian rifles have not yet arrived in western Canada. Silver Creek is a cluster of five wooden structures built in 1942 for the official opening ceremonies for the Alaska highway which skirts the western shore of 40-mile-long Klauane lake. The same mountainous region also served as a base camp for exercise Eager Beaver, a six-month joint Canadian-United States exercise in 1952 which experimented with airfield construction at the 2,500-foot level of the lake shore. About 40 miles to the west are the towering St. Elias mountains, which include the 19,350-foot mount Logan, highest peak in Canada. The coast mountains to the east are about 5,000 feet higher than the glacier-fed Klauane. The valley forms a virtual trap for the cold air which rushes inland from the Beaufort sea and across the mountains from northern Alaska. In February, 1947, the Snag weather station, about 100 miles north in the same valley, recorded an official 81 below zero. To test clothing and weapons on the march, the army has included several long hikes through the valley and into the mountains. One of the first of these was almost a flop. The paratroopers taking part had to call off the 50-mile hike when they met up with a bitter "williwaw"—a strong local wind that rushes off the western mountain peaks like a waterfall. The troops made only five miles in one day, and called off the hike after the first 17 miles. Another of the treks is planned later this week. The objective will be the radio base and weather station at Alshihik, a 60-mile walk eastward through the coast mountains. The army is supervising survival tests of the Canadian Rangers, a largely obscure force of civilians recruited on a reserve status in the northern mainland and the arctic islands.

No Damage Done In City Fires

City firemen were called out yesterday afternoon and this morning to minor fires, but no damage resulted in either case. At 4:20 p.m. yesterday, flames and smoke spouted from the 555 taxi service station at Third and Seventh Street, when a tank of cleaning solvent caught fire. The blaze was confined to the tank. The alarm at 9:30 a.m. today sent firemen to 402 Sixth Avenue East where a flooded oil stove had flared up.

Rhee Set To Resume Korea War

By RELMAN MORIN
SEOUL (AP) — President Syngman Rhee warned today that he is determined to reopen the war against the Chinese Reds occupying North Korea, and that if necessary he will go ahead without U.S. support. "I am not bluffing," he said. The president of the Republic of Korea made the statement in an interview with this correspondent. Except in general terms, he did not specify when he will order his armies to attack but he said: "Time is rapidly running out. We shall have to act soon or perish." In both manner and speech, Rhee gave every evidence that he means what he says. He repeated several times: "I am not bluffing. I can't bluff now." He criticized U.S. policy as "mistaken" in discussing peace with the Chinese and said: "Unification through a political conference is ridiculous."

PM Warmly Greeted By German President

BONN (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent today conveyed the "cordial and friendly greetings" of the Canadian people to West Germany's president Theodor Heuss. He went straight to a reception by the West German head of state after arriving here, the third foreign stop in his 23,000-mile world tour which began Thursday, in the special Royal Canadian Air Force C-5 plane from Paris. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who visited Ottawa last year, and members of the federal cabinet, met the plane at the airport. The prime minister underscored Canada's close collaboration with Europe by saying he hopes there will be fruitful cooperation with West Germany toward lasting peace. Besides Adenauer and the German delegation, Canadian ambassador T. C. Davies, members of the Bonn diplomatic corps and representatives of the Allied high commission in West Germany met the prime minister's plane at Wahn airport near here. The prime minister will stay in Germany for two days. The four-engined C-5 came out of a cold, wet sky for a perfect landing. Adenauer, smiling broadly, gripped the Canadian leader's hand heartily as he met him. His daughter, 29-year-old Dr. Lotte Adenauer, had brought a bouquet of pink carnations for Mrs. Hugh O'Donnell, his daughter. After a few words from the prime minister the Canadian party drove to Bonn. Heuss met his guests at the entrance and warmly shook hands with the prime minister. CORDIAL GREETINGS The prime minister said at the airport that he brought "most cordial and friendly greetings" from the people of Canada. "We are not forgetful of the past but are looking forward to a future co-operation to bring all our people a better way of living. "I know that your aim is as our aim—a lasting peace."

UK To Boost Salmon Buys In Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — The United Kingdom is boosting its 1954 purchases of Canadian canned salmon, spurred by a dollar-producing "buy British" campaign among British Columbia industrialists. Fisheries Minister Sinclair announced in the Commons Tuesday the U.K. government has decided to make a bulk purchase "considerably larger" than the 205,000 cases Britain bought last year. He did not indicate the amount, but he said that in 1953 Britain bought $14,250,000 worth of Canadian salmon. In 1952, it bought none because of shortage of dollars. British authorities here said the new order is expected to run around $4,900,000 or a little more.

City's Tax Share Boosted by $14,000

District 52 School Board today announced a budget for estimated expenditures in 1954, which is $27,000 greater than that of last year. The budget—$445,638—brought down by the school board now goes to city council for approval. The $445,638.20 estimate, exclusive of grants from the provincial government and a surplus from last year of $8,235.05 includes only $25,000 for new construction. The new building project included in this year's estimate is a two-room addition for Conrad Street school. Total tax requirements for 1954 to be divided between the city taxpayers and those in the rural area amount to $358,982.84. Prince Rupert's share is 47.21 per cent—or $169,475.80—compared to last year's requirement of 46.81 per cent—or $155,368.02. The rural area's share of 52.79 per cent amounts to $189,507.04 compared to 53.19 per cent or $176,544.01 last year. Last year's total tax requirement was $331,912. 1954 ESTIMATES Estimated in the 1954 budget is $240,000 for teachers' salaries; $57,229.80 for the sinking fund, and payments on debentures for King Edward and Booth Memorial schools; $25,000 for the Conrad school addition. The remainder of the budget is taken up with operation and maintenance of the district's nine schools. Of the $25,000 estimated for the Conrad school addition 50 per cent will be repaid by the department of education in the government's grant of an estimated $78,000.

Industrial Sites Still Available

Satisfactory industrial sites appear to be available in British Columbia immediately adjacent to the Alaskan Panhandle, Minister of Northern Affairs Jean Lesage said in the House of Commons. Mr. Lesage was replying to a series of questions asked in the house by E. T. Appellwäite, MP, Skeena. The minister pointed to the operations at Arvida as an example of an industrial plant working many miles from tide-water and he implied that a similar development could occur in Northern British Columbia. Mr. Lesage said no request had been received from the government of either B.C. or the United States to call a conference with a view to obtaining a corridor through Alaska.

Bennett Again Says PGE To Be Extended

VANCOUVER (CP) — Premier Bennett Monday night reiterated the government's intention of extending the government-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Squamish to Vancouver, saying the project "can mean more to B.C. and Vancouver than any other enterprise." His statement followed an announcement of the appointment of David A. Livingstone of Vancouver as construction engineer for the extension, which would run southward through West Vancouver.

Atlantic Gale Sinks Ships, Takes 3 Lives

HALIFAX (CP) — A fishing boat carried three men to their deaths Tuesday night, another sank without loss of life and a third limped into Sydney, N.S., today with rigging limp and twisted after a 24-hour battle against the seas. The Liberator was heading for her home port of Glace Bay when the storm caught up with her. She went down in heaving seas that hissed with snow driven before 50-mile-an-hour gales. The 159-ton auxiliary schooner Keith V. Collins out of Lunenburg, N.S., had her seams opened by pounding waves and sank about 60 miles east of Halifax. The trawler Cape Smoky picked up her crew and is bringing them to Halifax. The Jena H. of Port Morien, N.S., slipped into Sydney after riding out the storm 20 miles at sea. The weather office here says that skies will clear today in the western Atlantic provinces.

Swan Visiting Morse Creek Believed To Be Trumpeter

A young swan, believed to be of the rare trumpeter variety, has set up housekeeping in Morse Creek pond here, much to the delight of city youngsters who treat the pond and its beautiful occupant as their own private zoo. The graceful bird, believed to have stopped over here for a rest, due to an injured leg, is being treated like visiting royalty by residents of the Morse Creek area, off Second Avenue West, who feed it on bread crumbs, and by the game department, which has added grain to the swan's diet. C. J. Walker, assistant game warden, said the swan arrived Saturday. The size of the bird indicates it is a trumpeter swan, a bird protected by game laws due to its rarity. Mr. Walker believes the swan left a south-bound flock to nurse an injured leg. Appearance of the breed here is not unusual, he said, noting that about this time annually a flock pays a brief visit to Shawatlan Lakes. He expressed no fears for the safety of the bird, saying it was big enough and capable enough to look after itself. The bird seems comparatively tame, allowing visitors to come within four or five feet. Cold weather won't bother it, according to Mr. Walker, who says the bird was sitting in the pond, surrounded with ice early this morning. However, when he tossed a rock on the ice nearby, the bird rose out of the water and walked away on the ice.

THE MINING COMMUNITY OF URANIUM CITY in northern Saskatchewan has shown remarkable progress since the provincial department of natural resources began carving the townsite out of the wilderness in June, 1952. When the hunt for uranium started, incoming prospectors threw up haphazard rows of flimsy shack-tents and one-room shanties. These have been replaced by well-planned business sections and modern homes and schools. Pictured is part of Uranium road showing garages, taxi stand, general store, lumber yard.

A Hand of Friendship

NAMING Asia as the part of the world to which he attaches most importance on his globe-girdling tour, Mr. St. Laurent is being governed by obvious facts. As an Atlantic nation and a member of NATO, Canada must take a vital interest in affairs in the European theatre; but as one of the major Pacific countries we are committed to Far Eastern developments in a way not shared by many of our allies.

It is in Asia that much of the potential danger of war arises. Yet from sections of that great land mass, too, comes the promise of great peacetime trade possibilities for us. The latter consideration will be prominent in the Prime Minister's contacts with Japan, with which we are now formulating a trade pact.

The vast potentials of India and Pakistan will attract particular attention during Mr. St. Laurent's tour. Both politically and economically the sub-continent is destined to play a powerful role in world affairs. In talks with Prime Minister Nehru, the Canadian leader will renew the acquaintanceship formed at Commonwealth gatherings and during the Indian's visit to Canada, and no doubt discuss in the friendly atmosphere of informality the position of India on many pressing problems.

In this connection Mr. St. Laurent could perform a valuable service to the democratic cause by reason of his ability to serve as an intermediary between the anti-communist West and the heretofore uncompromisingly neutral India.

Such a prospect is indicated in the Prime Minister's comment that "I hope to be able to bring back with me, and also to leave behind, not only useful information but perhaps a clearer picture of the problems which all of us have to face together."

He has listed "complete equality and a spirit of genuine understanding and co-operation" as essential requirements in maintaining good relations between Asia and the western world.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

Shop-talk amongst the MP's these days centres mainly on the expertness—or otherwise—of the footwork shown by the different political parties in the House on the bill to increase the legislators' take-home pay.

It's an anxious subject. The MP's have the uneasy feeling that the general public has been left cold and even hostile by the case which they put up for a 100 per cent increase in their indemnity.

This suspicion is mainly the product of the Parliamentary mail-bag. MP's who defended the pay raise in the course of the debate have received no fan mail whatsoever commending their stand. Instead, several of them have had their desks littered with correspondence ranging from coldly critical to violently abusive in their innuendo.

On the other hand, CCF-er Angus MacInnis, who fought the increase without any reservation at every stage of the bill, has been literally snowed under with letters approving his stand.

Veteran Parliamentary observers can remember few comparable illustrations of the ability of public opinion to alter the attitude of the House of Commons towards a measure. True, the weight of public opinion wasn't quite sufficient to block the passage of the increase. But it very definitely changed the climate of the Commons Chamber towards it.

When the measure first was introduced, Parliamentary confidence in the favorable reception that it would secure from the public ran high. Virtually everyone in the Chamber—with the noteworthy exception of Mr. MacInnis—was prepared to support it. The CCF reservation that the increase was too high was regarded tolerantly by the other MP's as merely a matter of Socialist political tactics. The problem envisaged for the PC's was simply how they could both support the measure and talk against it at the same time.

Then the public reaction commenced to register. MP's learned it when they visited their ridings over the week-end and through the correspondence that passed across their desks. In the end only 112 Liberal MP's went into the House to vote for the bill. The PC's voted solidly against it. Angus MacInnis won half of the CCF group to his way of thinking. Only the Social Crediters remained unchanged in their opinion of their own higher worth.

Of the various groups in the House, the PC's are the most satisfied with the way things turned out. They believe that for once they landed on the right side of an issue which will burn itself increasingly into the public mind. The other parties are inclined to concede a definite score to the PC strategy.

Climbers' Hazard

LONDON (CP)—Sergeon Charles Evans, 32 and Dr. Michael Ward, 28, members of the 1953 Everest expedition, told the Royal College of Surgeons that sore throats, caused by difficult breathing and lack of sleep, were the main medical problem on the epic climb.

As I See It

by Elmore Philbott

THE Prime Minister is off on his trip, to India and several other countries.

Who knows? Maybe in the long run his trip out to Asia will have a more important effect on world peace than will the much-publicized meeting now going on in Berlin between the spokesmen for those powers which call themselves the "Big Four".

In the long run, the fate of future generations is more likely to be decided by what happens in India than what happens in Germany.

India—not Germany—holds the key to the future. Our own country, Canada, is three years older than Germany, as a united nation.

WE ALL know that much of the world is now divided into two hostile groups: The United States, richest and most liberalized great nation that there has ever been in all history, heads one group.

Russia, operating under a new, more subtle form of imperialism, applied through native agents controlled in the last analysis from Moscow, heads the other bloc.

Neither bloc is solidly united. Much of the Soviet bloc is held together by ruthless force. Another part of it—notably gigantic China—is allied to Russia on terms which are by no means clear. Most of the old school diplomats, especially in Britain and other European countries, are completely convinced that there will sooner or later be a drifting apart of Red Russia and Red China. The most fundamental item in the code of beliefs is that systems come and go, leaders rise and fall—but national interests go on. They argue that Russian interests and Chinese interests are not identical—and hence reason that a rift is only a question of time.

But if the Russian bloc is not solid neither is that led by U.S.A. Every ally and associate of the United States chafes, in some degree, at the tendency of the U.S.A. to make all the effective decisions on which the welfare and indeed fate of the whole western camp depends.

At this period of year some people absent themselves from the capital. They go to California, so that if someone should ask them: "Were you at the State Ball?" they may reply: "Oh no, my dear—we couldn't go—our annual vacation in the south, you know." When all along they weren't invited. That is called saving society face.

In time-honored fashion the session will drag along for almost a month, as member after member rises to take part in the Throne Speech debate. Everyone will say that, isn't all the talking awful, and that it should be stopped, but, of course, everybody will keep right on talking, hoping in this way to make an impression on the folks back home. Then will come the budget, and then the speechifying will start all over again in the budget debate, in which the budget will hardly be mentioned at all. This is just an excuse to make speeches. And it won't be a debate. There'll be few interruptions to members' set speeches.

The government's legislative program is a bit hazy yet. Premier Bennett seems determined to make this what he calls "a FGE session." He's set on starting the Squamish-North Vancouver extension; it'll get under way by June and take 18 months.

There shouldn't be too much in the way of politics discussed at the session. A general election's a long way off! The Liberals, naturally enough, will crow about their victory over Finance Minister Gundersen in the Victoria by-election last November. They'll rub it in, and Social Crediters will have to sit there and take it. They'll reply that Liberals and CCFers ganged up to beat Mr. Gundersen, that there was collusion, no less. A new kind of coalition, will say the Premier—a coalition between Liberals and the CCF. Mr. Bennett always says that, with evident political satisfaction, when he sees Liberals and CCFers joining against Social Credit.

And there'll be the usual questions from the oppositions—about what on earth is Social Credit, anyway? Health and Welfare Minister Martin will attempt to explain, but Mr. Bennett and his attorney-general, young Mr. Bonner, who don't know what Social Credit is, and don't care, either, will shush Mr. Martin. They don't want Mr. Martin making any theoretical speeches about Social Credit. Mr. Martin has a way of getting the government into hot water when he makes a pop-off speech.

COMMUNISM carries a vital, dynamic appeal to the vast millions of unliberated Asia and Africa. It has a ready-made plan to get rid of the foreign overlord and the local landlord—to shoot him out. One of its strongest features is its preaching and practicing of real racial equality.

India opposes this philosophy, but in her own way. India says, in effect, that the backward and oppressed millions can achieve all they want by democratic means dream about and plan for, but by democratic and merciful methods which are poles apart from ruthless Communist procedures.

Our western fate is bound up with the success and failure of Indian democracy, which is the real reason for our P.M.'s visit.

VICTORIA REPORT

By J. K. Nesbitt

VICTORIA—Next Tuesday the guns will roar and Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace will arrive at the Legislative Buildings to open another session of the Legislature.

There'll be the usual fuss and feathers, all the pomp and circumstance—the big show that this capital loves so dearly.

That night, at Government House, the lights will gleam, and B.C.'s top officialdom will sit down to dine in the state dining room with the Lieut.-governor. The State Ball will follow.

The annual state-ball causes many an ache in the breasts of socially ambitious people. Just about everybody wants to go to the State Ball, Victoria's most glittering social function. But there's room for only 500 to dance comfortably in the ballroom, and so people must be disappointed.

At this period of year some people absent themselves from the capital. They go to California, so that if someone should ask them: "Were you at the State Ball?" they may reply: "Oh no, my dear—we couldn't go—our annual vacation in the south, you know." When all along they weren't invited. That is called saving society face.

In time-honored fashion the session will drag along for almost a month, as member after member rises to take part in the Throne Speech debate. Every-

They don't want Mr. Martin making any theoretical speeches about Social Credit. Mr. Martin has a way of getting the government into hot water when he makes a pop-off speech.

Some back-bench Social Crediters are said to be somewhat annoyed with the government. They think the government does too much without consulting the back-benchers.

Here's a case: Some S.C. back-benchers think they should have been consulted before the Premier announced that the 10 per cent tax on drinks by the glass would be thrown out. It's known Mr. Chant, a former Alberta cabinet minister, who thinks he should now be in the B.C. cabinet, is particularly annoyed, and may attempt to lead a bit of a revolt against the Premier.

However, back-benchers always feel that way about the government they support. They feel they should be consulted on every move. This, however, is nonsense; how can it be done?

If that were done, the MLAs would have to be in session day in and day out. A government is elected to make decisions and recommendations to the Legislature. It shouldn't have to get in touch with every MLA before it can move.

But, in caucus, there are always back-benchers who like to get up and howl about dictatorship in the government they support. These howls leak out, and so gets around the buzzes that there's revolt in government ranks. However, it's never very much to worry about.

'MISQUOTED'

The Editor,
The Daily News:
I take exception to a statement appearing in the Feb. 9th issue of your paper, purportedly made by myself at a special council meeting last week.

I did not at any time state that action on the Drydock was strictly City Council business. I did, however, suggest that the City Council should take action on its own and not merely endorse the action of the Chamber of Commerce.

Shipments Set Record

VANCOUVER—Grain shipments from British Columbia ports in 1953 set an all-time record of 421,000,000 bushels, the Seattle Grain Company reported Tuesday.

The shipments of wheat, oats and barley produced on the prairies were sent to Europe and Asia from terminals in Vancouver, New Westminster, Prince Rupert and Victoria.

The grain company, tracing the history of West Coast ports, said they had now grown to the point where they were handling about a quarter of the yearly shipments made through the Great Lakes.

Vancouver has seven terminal elevators and New Westminster, Victoria and Prince Rupert have one each with a total capacity of 28,000,000 bushels.

Continues to sell more life insurance than any Canadian company—$576 million new business written in '53.
A higher dividend scale which for the fifth consecutive year will again reduce the cost of life insurance for the holders of two million Sun Life of Canada policies, is announced by George W. Bourke, President, in his Annual Review of the Company's business for 1953. Dividends to policyholders during 1954 will amount to $24½ million, 11% more than in 1953 and an increase of more than 50% over the last five years. Most policyholders carrying participating plans with the Company will benefit by this increase, with the largest payments being distributed in respect of policies longest in force. New life insurance issued during the year amounted to $576,946,000, an increase of $31 million over 1952, and the largest amount for the year of any Canadian life company. New Group Insurance included in the above figure amounts to $170 million, an increase of more than $5 million over the previous year. This rising volume of business was spread over world-wide territory in the nearly 30 countries covered by Sun Life service.
In his survey of the figures for the year, Mr. Bourke comments on the manner in which life insurance meets the responsibilities of its purpose. The Sun Life of Canada, he said, has paid $2,729,000,000 in benefits since the first policy was issued in 1871, and during 1953 no less than half a million dollars was paid out by the Company each working day. Total amount paid during the twelve month period was $125,057,000.
New annuity contracts during the year included individual annuities and group pensions guaranteeing payments of more than $4 million per annum. Total annuity payments to be made by the Company either immediately or in the future, through group pension plans and individual contracts, increased to $126 million per annum. Total Sun Life insurance in force at the end of 1953 amounted to $5,678,008,000. Group insurance included in this figure is $1,751,000,000, an increase of 17%. The growth of Group insurance and pension plans reflects the business and industrial expansion of recent years during which time the Company, a pioneer in this form of insurance, has retained a leading position, protecting many hundreds of thousands of employees of business and industrial organizations throughout North America.

Dances, Food of Many Nations Served by 300 at "Brotherhood Night"

plus a skit including song and dance from Russia comprised the entertaining program, which was followed by a buffet feast of typical dishes from every land.

The event also featured displays of arts and crafts of almost every nation.

MINIATURE FLAGS

One display of articles from Europe and Asia was cleverly set up with a huge, hand-drawn map, and threads stretching from various countries to miniature national flags set on the table and surrounded with that nation's arts and crafts.

Another table held articles from the many countries of North and South America.

There were bright, handwoven materials from Sweden and Finland, beautiful decorated eggs from Russia, pretty handpainted wooden bowls from Estonia, carved Dutch shoes, quaint gilt plaques from France, castinets from Mexico, an attractive carved horn from Trinidad and a myriad other articles from many lands.

The event was cited by Rev. L. G. Sieber as typifying the work of the Citizenship Council, of which he is chairman, in attempting to bring together the people of all nations in Canada.

MORE IMMIGRANTS

In a brief address opening the program, Mr. Sieber noted that the one-millionth immigrant to this country would arrive by June 1.

Those million people, he said, were bringing a richness of culture, language, arts, science and skills to contribute to the culture of Canada.

"At meetings such as this," he said, "we meet, see and understand one another's cultures."

He said that the citizenship council was planning further such programs as had been held recently with New Canadians participating, and appealed to persons of various countries, who had mastered Canadian customs and language, but retained their mother tongues, to assist in the work of the council.

Harley Lewis was master of ceremonies for the program which saw the audience join in singing "Maple Leaf Forever," "Waltzing Matilda," "I'll Take You Home Again Kathleen" and "Alouette."

Participating in the program were Maria Bussanich, Helda Pootsik, Casey Nuyten, Muriel Erickson, Maria and Marcello Bussanich, Will Hankinson, Mary Bird, Tom Wardrope, Aus Lindseth and Jimmy Robertson.

Winding up the program was the Russian skit. . . . Stranger in Paradise. . . in which a Russian woman (Helen Murdock) arrived looking for Canada, the land of freedom, or paradise, and staged an amusing Russian song and dance.

Mrs. Linda Patzold and A. Steileder were in charge of the displays, assisted by Mrs. George Alderson, Mrs. M. Hubel and A. Desautels. Included in the displays was a group of native handwork loaned by Dr. J. A. MacDonald, property of his grandfather.

Jimmy Robertson and Mrs. W. Murdock were in charge of the musical program while Mrs. A. Desautels and Mrs. J. Kurdziel convened the buffet dinner, with the many varieties of food prepared by P-TA members.

While guests enjoyed the unusual delicacies, a background music from many countries filled the hall.

A silver collection netted $123 for the P-TA's bursary fund.

MRS. HELIODORE CYR, 42-year-old Ledges, N.B., farmer's wife, cuddles her new eight-pound daughter, her 25th baby in 26 years. With 18 children still living, the oldest of which is 24, the new arrival evened the score of nine sons and nine daughters. She and her 47-year-old husband live in an 11-room house on a 400-acre farm where all but the latest child were born. The newest baby was born in hospital at Fort Kent, Me. Mrs. Cyr, married at the age of 17, says she wants more babies.

Royal Tour Program Changed

LISMORE, Australia — A change in the royal tour program for Thursday, announced today, indicates that Queen Elizabeth may be feeling the strain of travelling.

Premier Joseph J. Cahill of New South Wales announced that the Queen will return the 52 miles from Wollongong to Sydney Thursday by train instead of by car.

Cahill said the royal visit committee felt that after the heavy program, including a drive to Wollongong, it would be imposing too great a strain on the Queen to ask her to return to Sydney by road. The journey is a long, slow drive.

The premier's announcement was made before the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh appeared in Lismore, where they spent the night, for another big welcome on their tour.

WAIT IN RAIN

Fifty thousand people stood in rain and steamy heat for several hours to see the Queen. The crowd cheered lustily at the civic welcome outside the council chambers.

Later today the Queen and the duke visited the town of Casino, then made a two-hour flight to Dubbo, in western New South Wales, and will end the day with a 75-minute flight back to Sydney.

When the Queen returns to Sydney tonight she will have travelled 1,000 miles by air, rail and road in two days.

Sons of Norway Install Officers

Installation of their new president, Pete Peterson, highlighted this week's meeting of the Sons of Norway lodge.

Other officers, installed at a former meeting, are: Vice-president Gunnar Selvig; judge, K. Dehli; regent Mrs. E. Sornes; secretary Mrs. C. Strand; assistant secretary Mrs. F. Diminutive Canadian Singer Sought by U.K. Theatre Agents

LONDON (CP)—Fifteen theatre agents telephoned Vancouver's Wendy Martin after the honey-blonde soprano made her debut on Britain's home television program.

"I was the most unpopular person in my hotel that day," she said with a laugh. "They were trying to cope with frozen pipes when most of the calls came through."

The diminutive Canadian singer with a strong soprano voice, made her first TV appearance as Britain suffered the coldest spell in a decade. The TV critics liked her voice and the telephone calls started after Miss Martin admitted to a reporter that she had no agent.

TAKING HOLIDAY

Till then Wendy, blue eyed and 20, had been too busy holidaying on the continent to worry about agents. After a summer season singing the lead in "Desert Song" at Vancouver's "Theatre Under the Stars," Wendy came to Britain last October with her mother for a late holiday.

Almost immediately the slim, good-looking youngster was asked to appear in a film made here for the opening of Vancouver's new TV station and featuring several Canadian actors and actresses, prominent in London's theatre circles. She also made a TV film in aid of Canada's polio fund, singing a duet with Edmund Hoekridge, also of Vancouver.

Now Mrs. Martin has returned to Canada and Wendy is seriously attacking the problem of finding theatre work here. For some time she has been studying under old-time opera star Maggie Teyte, and thinks she'd like to "try" opera.

Put Wendy is still of two minds whether she wants to become a straight actress or singer. "I guess I'd like to be both," she said.

Omeegas Near Loop Title As CCC Cut Down 69-49

Manson's Omeegas practically tucked away the Senior B league championship last night when they went on a scoring spree and downed Columbia Cellulose 300 Club 69-49 in the highest scoring game of the season at the Civic Centre.

The Omeegas with 20 points and three games left to play need only one more win to put them out of reach. Second place G & A would have to win all their three remaining games including those against the league leaders to the Manson's.

In the Inter A loop North Star handed Watts and Nickerson its 11th loss of the season 64-44 to stretch its lead over second place Fraser and Payne to four games as many as the dry-goods squad have left to play.

IN SECOND PLACE

Nelson Brothers moved into second place in the Inter B league by downing Sunrise 39-34. Despite the efforts of Bill Sunberg who scored 18 points and Sid Scherk who chalked up 15, CCC couldn't halt the rapid fire scoring of Manson's. The millers dropped the first quarter 12-7, drew to within one point of the Omeegas by the 2:10 mark of the second period when the score stood 23-22.

BOOSTED LEAD

However, two quick baskets by Ray Spring who led Manson's with 21 points and assisted by Danny Bill, Mickey Webster and Don Hartwig who netted 17, 14 and 10 points respectively Manson's drew ahead again to set up an insurmountable lead. The Jewellers took the second quarter 21-20, the third 16-8 and finished off the game outscoring the shorthanded millers 20-14. CCC were down to five men who played the full game with Ralph Enridge of the Inter A loop spelling them off occasionally.

The fast and furious Inter A game saw North Star almost blank Watts and Nickerson for most of the first quarter, taking it 17-6. However, Bill McChesney's crew fought back to hold the bottlers 12-12 in the second, 12-12 in the third but faded in the stretch to drop the last frame 23-14.

Dick Nickerson led the North Star squad with 21 points with Art Helin turning in a good game as he potted 15. Bob MacFarlane and Bob Smith shared with Watts and Nickerson scoring honors with 11 points each.

Fred Calderone and Don Hartwig kept a strict hand on the Inter A game calling 47 fouls while Bill Morrison and Doug Sankey held down the senior game to 24.

Nelson Brothers held off a battling Sunrise squad right to the end despite being edged in the second quarter. Steve Yamamoto topped Nelson Brothers with 13 points while Jack McLean paced the losers.

VETERAN HOCKEY PLAYER

Joe Shack of Winnipeg, 38, recovering from an eye operation for a displaced retina in his left eye in London, England, has recovered the sight of the eye but an official of Harrington Racers hockey club indicated his playing days may be over. Shack, captain of the Harrington team, has been in English hockey since 1946 and played previously with St. Paul, Ottawa Senators of the Quebec Senior League and briefly with New York Rangers of the National Hockey League. The eye condition is believed to have resulted from hard knocks he received during his career.

Kamloops Edge Smoke Eaters For Second Spot

Canadian Press Staff Writer

One period of hockey Tuesday night was enough to win an inter-league encounter in the interior and shoot Kamloops Elks into second place for the first time this season.

The victory, a 4-3 fast-passing hockey game, was taken by Elks from Trail Smoke Eaters of the Western International Hockey League.

It was played on Okanagan Senior Hockey League ice at Kamloops.

The Elks romped to a 4-0 lead by the end of the first period as Andy Clovechok and Bud Evans blinked the light once each and "Slats" Slater beat Trail's Seth Martin twice.

Smokies came back in the second with playing coach Moe Young and Apps Dorothy making it 4-2 by the end of the period.

Hal Gordon and Martin locked the doors from then until 13:51 of the third when Young again connected from the blue line.

Young, going for a tie, pulled Martin at 18:35 when Kamloops' Bud Evans was thumbed for tripping. However, Kamloops held onto the puck until the final whistle.

As the teams stand now in the OSHL, Penticton has cinched the league leadership with 70 points. The Tuesday night win put Kamloops second with 50.

However, Vernon Canadians and Kelowna Packers are tied just one point behind Kamloops, so it's anybody's race for second spot.

Trail moves into Vernon tonight and Spokane Flyers journey north to play an Nelson Maple Leafs.

Matthews Wins

SPOKANE, Wash. (CP)—Harry (Kid) Matthews of Seattle threw a solid right and knocked out Jack Nelson at 1:16 of the first in a scheduled 10-round heavyweight match Tuesday night.

Nelson never landed a punch in the brief encounter.

Richard Still Showing Way But Howe Tops Point Getters

MONTREAL (CP)—If Maurice Rocket Richard keeps to his present goal-getting clip he will have a total of 43 at the end of the current National Hockey League season.

Montreal Canadiens' 32-year-old right-winger, now in his 12th campaign, is still showing oldsters and youngsters alike the art of putting the puck into the net. This is the sixth season in his career he has scored 30 goals or more.

In 52 games this season the Rocket has fired 32 goals, an average of .615 a game. That's the pace he maintained the 1942-49 campaign when he scored 43 goals in the full 70-game season.

Richard's record-making all-time total, now at 379, is far ahead of any other active player in the NHL.

However, Gordie Howe of Detroit Red Wings is showing the way to the Rocket and all others in the tussle for this season's point-scoring honors. The NHL's official statistics, released today, show Howe with 53 points, made up of 21 goals and 37 assists. Richard has only 29 assists to put with his 32 goals and trails Howe by six points.

Howe failed to score in three games last week but picked up four assists, while Richard's point-making was confined to three goals in three games.

Harry Lumley of Toronto Leafs lost ground to Terry Sawchuk of Detroit in the goal-tenders' little feud. Lumley still leads, with a goals-against average of 1.68 to Sawchuk's 1.73. But a week ago Sawchuk had 1.83 and Lumley 1.70. Gerry McNeil of Montreal holds third place easily with 2.15.

There are many of us who do not realize the amount of game animals and birds actually living here on Kaien Island. These creatures thrive after a fashion because the law protects them from shooting and trapping; but how much better would they do, and how much more in evidence would they become if other laws ament the running of dogs at large were enforced?

Last Sunday your columnist observed a pack of five collarless mongrels obviously returning from a hunt, since one of them was endeavoring to rid himself of a bunch of newly acquired porcupine quills around the muzzle. Two of these mongrels were certainly part coyote, the others nondescript, long-haired marauding canines as these which will some day attack a child in play. Quickly the play becomes rough, the child goes off his feet, then the pack takes over and the youngster will be worried to a point of serious injury or worse.

It is a fact that there are deer right on this island, and grouse too. The Game Act calls for the seizure and impoundment of dogs chasing either of them; furthermore, any dog found running at large within the boundaries of a game reserve may be destroyed by any game warden or constable. Perhaps some of us are all unaware that Kaien Island is a closed area under the Game Act! Penalties upon a dog owner can run into heavy money on conviction of an infringement of these laws, plus costs of impoundment charges; cats receive even less attention at law, they may be destroyed by aforementioned officers at any time when they are found in unfenced woodland, and the abandonment of any cat in woodland is punishable by fine and imprisonment.

The tentative date for the annual Rod & Gun Club banquet is March 3, but this may be set back due to the loss of Game Commissioner Cunningham; it is expected that one of the biologists will act as representative.

Believe it or not, but there is an American firm quite seriously advertising a body armor for hunters; it comes in five different colors and is claimed to be proof against shotgun slugs, and Savage 303 and similar rifle bullets. It is Marty's sincere prayer that this equipment never becomes necessary in our Canadian forests!

The Cloyah is high, off-color, and a raging torrent to those not well acquainted with its habits at this time of year, nonetheless BOB ARMSTRONG and two cronies took three steelheads from it last Thursday. Fishing is pretty well confined to the pool right now, but Bob will submit gladly to a little brain-picking by brother anglers; go see him!

A simple way to protect the winding on rod guides if rod is being transported around or undergoing heavy usage, is to bind them with adhesive or scotch tape, the former is more resistant to water and gets my first choice. This trick is particularly valuable when rod is frequently placed against stanchions when trolling or when rested up against a rock while adjusting lures, sharp corners would otherwise cut through the fine silk very easily. Trolling rod holders, being rubber cushioned, are a more expensive way of doing the same thing.

Salmon season coming up shortly, and have you checked on that old line? If any sign of wear or fraying then replacement is in order. Remember to grease the reel, too, bearings thrive on it, while salt water makes rust. The tip guide needs close inspection if the angler uses nylon line, for it cuts deeply unless the guides are of dead hard steel.

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE
 By EASLEY BLACKWOOD
 Best Player Often Not Best Partner

Mr. Dale is not the best player in the world in a technical sense, but he is just about the best partner. Mr. Champion will make obscure squeezes and communication plays which the old boy may miss, but that sort of technical excellence will pay off only on two or three hands in a session.

Mr. Dale's partnership tactics pay off on more than half of the hands dealt. He always makes his partner feel at ease, which is the condition in which anyone plays his best game. He never tries to grab all the glory. He tries to think of the 26 defensive cards as a single unit and is constantly looking for a way to promote tricks in his partner's hand.

In today's deal if he had tried to beat the three-no-trump contract all by himself he would have taken exactly four tricks. The way he played it, he won only three tricks in his own hand, but he made it possible for Mr. Abel to take two.

The opening lead was the six of diamonds. Mrs. Keen saw that her best chance was to play for the diamond suit to block so she went right up with dummy's ace. But Mr. Dale got out of the way. He played the jack.

Mrs. Keen then led a club and Mr. Dale ducked, the queen winning. Next came a heart finesse and he won with the king and cashed the king of diamonds. Now, because he had the trick of diamonds left instead of the jack, he was able to lead through Mrs. Keen's 10 up to his partner's queen-nine. Thus the defenders won three diamonds, a heart and a club, for down one.

At the first trick Mr. Dale realized that his partner was extremely weak and the only face card he could reasonably

West Braces for Molotov's New 'Security' Proposal

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
BERLIN (AP)—Western delegates to the Berlin conference appeared agreed today that Foreign Minister Molotov's promised "new proposal" on European security is almost certain to be just another propaganda attack on Western defenses against communism. However, they promised serious consideration of any genuine proposal which Molotov might put forward at today's Big Four session.

Senator Says Pledge 'Violated'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator John C. Stennis (Dem. Miss.) contended today that the Eisenhower administration violated a pledge by sending 200 United States Air Force mechanics into Indo-China before consulting key congressmen.

Stennis, a member of the Senate armed services committee, said in an interview that he favors immediate recall of the U.S. mechanics as a move to avoid possible direct involvement in the long anti-Communist war there.

Declaring that "I'm no isolationist," Stennis said he believes a majority of his Senate committee opposed sending the mechanics into Indo-China. He himself favored increased U.S. aid in money and equipment to the anti-Communist forces.

Senator Harry F. Byrd (Dem. Va.), in a separate interview, called it a "risky step" to send the mechanics. He, too, said members of the committee were not informed in advance, and that they were told the plan by Admiral Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, at a secret session Friday.

More Technicians Sent
That followed publication of newspaper accounts saying 125 or more technicians had been sent.

Byrd said the next steps would be requests by the French for U.S. pilots and ground forces in Indo-China, and added that he would oppose that. Defence Secretary Charles E. Wilson told a press conference Tuesday that the fighting is going satisfactorily, and that he sees no need to step up U.S. aid.

Wilson said Tuesday that unless the Red Chinese intervene or some similar new factor enters the picture, he thinks chances are good for a military victory in the seven-year-old war the French and native forces have been fighting.

State Secretary Dulles, Foreign Minister Bideault and Foreign Secretary Eden met at Dulles' house at noon to co-ordinate their strategy. About the most they could do in advance of Molotov's move, however, was to agree that they would not engage in any repetition of old arguments with him but would take a careful look at anything new he might offer.

After the meeting, the three Western statesmen joined the Austrian foreign minister, Leopold Figl, and other members of the six-man Austrian group he brought here Tuesday to appeal for quick conclusion of Austria's long-delayed independence treaty.

The Austrian problem now is scheduled to come up Friday. Tuesday, as he had done before, Molotov referred to the European Defence Community treaty as a divisive force covering only six powers, West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg and The Netherlands, and leaving other European countries out in the cold. He contended EDC was "a preparation for war" against Russia.

Economic Activity At New High

OTTAWA (CP)—Governor Graham Towers of the Bank of Canada said today that Canada's economic activity soared to an all-time high in 1953 but showed "levelling-off" signs toward the year-end.

The stockpile of unsold goods in stores and on farms began to climb during 1953. Spending by governments increased slightly, but the rise was a fraction of the jump in the previous year. Employment toward the end of the year did not keep pace with the annual increase in the labor force.

In all, however, Canada had a prosperous year. National production showed a 3 1/2 per cent rise in volume to a peak of $24,200,000,000, Mr. Towers said in a 22-page annual report tabled in the Commons by Finance Minister Abbott.

Consumer spending reached a new high of $15,000,000,000, up $700,000,000, from $14,300,000,000 in 1952.

BANK LOAN DEMAND
He made these other points:

1. Demand for bank loans was "particularly strong" during 1953 in connection with the rise in inventories and instalment buying by consumers.
2. Total assets by Canada's chartered banks rose to $8,534,000,000, up $491,000,000 from $8,043,000,000 in the previous year.
3. The Bank of Canada, the government's banking agency, showed a net profit of $4,092,807 in 1953.
4. Canada savings bond sales almost tripled in 1953 to $900,000,000, compared to $341,000,000 in 1952.

THE OLDEST JESUIT in the world and the oldest Roman Catholic priest in Canada, Father Joseph R. Richard celebrated his 100th birthday last Saturday at Guelph, Ont., where he now is stationed.

At Montreal, Father Richard was ordained in the Society of Jesus at Montreal Aug. 15, 1886. Four days later he was assigned to Indian missions in Northern Ontario where he continued until his retirement in 1933.

Russians Disclose New System Of Waterproofing

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
MOSCOW (AP)—The Russians have come up with a waterproof system they call "hydrofobization." It's so good, they say, it'll even keep tissue paper dry in a rainstorm and permit you to carry a quart of loose milk home in a paper bag.

The discoveries were reported in the newspaper Leningrad Pravda. Scientists at Leningrad University are credited with developing the process.

No details are given except to say the chemicals used are of a silicious organic character which are cheap and can be produced in large quantities.

The paper claims this is an entirely new waterproofing method. It says that where rubber "mechanically keeps water out, hydrofobization prevents the molecular ties between water and fabric and treated fabric therefore repels water."

This means you could throw your raincoat and rubbers away if you had a suit and shoes treated with the stuff. Paper cups no longer will have to be waxed, water colors can be washed after treatment, and "even the cheapest cottons will repel water as if they were made of rubber," the newspaper says.

The article goes on to say that treated and untreated fabrics are indistinguishable in appearance. The chemical cannot be removed from the fabric either by boiling or chemical detergents.

Building materials, ceramics and glass all can be treated—even auto windshields which, when hydrofobized, do not get wet, the paper claims.

Leningrad University researchers, the article concludes, now are looking for a way to hydrofobize metals.
