Molotov's Talk Dims Hope Early Far East Peace

Western diplomats gloomily today that Britain minister Molotov had killed chances for an Indo-China by his speech.

He criticized the policies of Premier Joseph Laniel's government, which now is facing a severe test in the French National Assembly. Foreign Minister Bidault hastened to Paris immediately after Molotov's speech to take part this afternoon in the assembly debate on Indo-China.

Western hopes received their biggest jolt when Molotov got down to the Communist terms for an Indo-China peace.

Some quarters had expected him to make important concessions, but instead he toughened his stand and raised new issues.

He proposed that the conference begin discussions immediately on a political settlement in Indo-China without waiting for agreement to end the fighting.

Other delegates thought they had got around this difficulty when the Communists agreed three weeks ago to give priority to the cease-fire discussions.

Molotov also reiterated the Red position that the problems of the three Indo-China states of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia are identical, and should be taken up together.

Molotov also called for discussions on the sovereignty of the three states, even though they all claim to be independent, and for withdrawal of all foreign troops, meaning French forces, before elections are held.

U.K. Cruiser Blasts Reds In Malaya

PENANG, Malaya (Reuters)—The 8,000-ton British cruiser Newfoundland today blasted a Communist terrorist target in the jungle-clad mountains of northern Malaya to avenge the murder of a British police officer 10 days ago.

A spotter plane which flew over the operations area later reported that a terrorist hideout on a narrow plateau had been blasted to bits.

The Newfoundland was in Penang harbor when news of "a good target" came.

For the last week, army and police patrols have been searching the area where C. N. Godwin, one of Malaya's senior police officers, was killed by terrorists.

Allies Will Meet Red Attack With A-Bomb Says NATO Boss

No Winner Likely In Third World War

LONDON (AP)—NATO's supreme commander in Europe, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, has warned Russia that the West will meet a Soviet attack with "every weapon in our arsenal," including atomic bombs.

"In our thinking we visualize the use of atomic bombs in the support of our ground troops; we also visualize the use of atomic bombs on targets in enemy territory," the U.S. general told a D-Day anniversary dinner Tuesday night at which Prime Minister Churchill spoke and the Duke of Edinburgh presided.

If war with Russia should come this year, the NATO commander said, "the Soviet Union would be defeated."

"I do not want to say we would win, because I am sure in a third world war there would be no winner."

French Planes, Artillery Pound Rebels

HANOI (AP)—French planes, tanks and artillery pounded small concentrations of Communist-led Vietminh guerrillas in the Red river delta today.

The main rebel forces meanwhile took a firmer hold on their semicircle of positions just outside the delta defence perimeter, strengthening the pincers they are expected to try to close soon around this Indo-China war capital.

A French high command spokesman said upwards of 100 Vietminh have been killed or captured in mopping-up operations within a few miles from Hanoi. French Union losses were relatively light, the spokesman added.

Counsellors, Chiefs To Hold Meeting Here

A meeting between district native chiefs and counsellors, Mayor George Hills and RCMP Inspector Taylor will be held in Indian Superintendent Frank E. Anfield's office this Saturday to discuss mutual relationships between the natives and the city.

The gathering is the second such meeting to be held within a year. The initial meeting held last year within a week of the disturbances in the city last August, have improved public relations considerably, Mr. Anfield said this morning.

The meeting is confined to counsellors, chiefs and the designated civic officials and is not public, Mr. Anfield asserted.

Damage Toll at Winnipeg Set at Near $3,000,000

WINNIPEG (CP)—Damage estimates rose as high as $3,000,000 today in the wake of a wind-whipped fire which Tuesday cut a wide swath through the heart of Winnipeg's business district.

As workmen, bulldozers and power shovels worked through the rubble, clearing up, fire department officials attempted to determine the exact origin of the worst blaze in the city's history. It was believed to have started from a short circuit in an electric sign, damaged during peak of a gale.

The sign was at the front of the Time building, which was destroyed along with the Dismorr and Edwards blocks. Badly damaged were the Affleck block and the Norlyn building. All were situated around Portage avenue and Hargrave street.

No lives were lost, and only one of the estimated 245 firemen called out for duty suffered an injury, and it was minor.

About 1,500 workers were left at least temporarily unemployed as the fire swept through a musical supply store, cafes, men's and women's clothing stores, shoe shops, a cleaners, a billiard and bowling parlor and several business offices.

Attacking Plane Russian MiG Probe Discloses

BRUSSELS (Reuters)—The Belgian foreign ministry announced today that an investigation into the attack on a Belgian commercial plane near the Austrian-Yugoslav border last week "proved that the attacking plane was a MiG-15 bearing Russian markings."

The ministry said in a communique that the Belgian ambassador in Moscow has been ordered to protest to the Soviet government and demand punishment of the pilot and compensation for the victims. One crew member was killed and three wounded by cannon fire.

Sentences Follow Fight

One man was given a suspended sentence and another fined yesterday afternoon in police court when found guilty of taking part in an affray Monday.

Given a six months suspension of sentence by Magistrate W. D. Vance was John Geddes while Raymond Jackson was fined $50 or in default one month in jail.

The pair were picked up Monday after police interrupted a brawl at Second Avenue and Sixth Street.

Derailment Delays Train

A derailment on the main line east of Jasper is blamed by Canadian National Railway officials here for the delay in the arrival of the westbound train from Jasper.

The train was due in Prince Rupert last night at 10:35 p.m. PDT and is expected to arrive here tonight by 8 p.m.

No details of the derailment have been received here, a CN spokesman said.

WASHINGTON FISH CATCH IN 1953 WORTH $36,497,100

SEATTLE (AP)—A big catch of 143,211,321 pounds of fish and shellfish was worth $36,497,100 when processed in Washington last year, the State Department of Fisheries announced Tuesday.

The 1953 salmon harvest numbered 10,519,420 fish, the third time since 1931 that the catch has exceeded the 10 million mark.

"The fish were an average of $1.20 each, or $12,646,300 for the entire catch," the report said.

Families Evacuated in Alberta After Rain Swells Two Rivers

EDMONTON (CP)—Two large Alberta rivers, swollen by five days of driving rain, forced evacuation of at least 15 families and isolated two northern towns before starting to recede today.

In Edmonton, the North Saskatchewan rose an inch an hour Tuesday night.

Three families were evacuated from river-bank homes and several other home-owners began moving furniture to high ground.

With almost three inches of rain in the city since Friday and an equitable amount west along the main watershed, the river level increased by almost 11 feet in a 24-hour period ended Tuesday.

However, officials said the river was beginning to decline Tuesday night at Devon, 20 miles southwest of here, and serious flooding is not expected in the city.

The evacuated families, numbering about 10 persons, were billeted by the Alberta civil defence organization. At least one other family was believed to have left their home.

FLOODED LAST YEAR
Most of the danger was centred in low-lying areas in east Edmonton, where the river spilled over its banks in 1952. The city's only other serious flooding came last year, not from the river, but as a result of heavy August rains which swamped basements to cause heavy damage to new houses.

The Athabaska river, flowing eastward then north into Lake Athabaska, was reported to have risen 1 1/2 feet higher than the 1944 level when serious flooding occurred.

The towns of Fort Assiniboine and Holmes Crossing were isolated, with 12 families forced to leave their homes near Holmes Crossing. The river spread to a width of some two miles over flat land near Fort Assiniboine.

Similar flooding, but on a smaller scale, was reported at Broadview in southeastern Saskatchewan. The town received 5.75 inches of rain in the last two days.

More rain was forecast in both provinces overnight and today.

JAMES D. W. BLYTH
... quits commission

Premier Gives No Reason For Blyth Move

VICTORIA (CP)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett confirmed today a report that James D. W. Blyth has resigned from the British Columbia power commission.

He gave no reason for Mr. Blyth's move but said that he had received a letter of resignation from Mr. Blyth and was seeking a replacement.

The premier described as "fully inaccurate" a report in today's Daily Colonist that Mr. Blyth had resigned "apparently because of a difference with the premier over the future status of the commission."

The Colonist in a newspaper story said: "There are reports Mr. Blyth refused to take on the job without an assurance from the premier that the power commission would not be taken over or squeezed out of existence by the B.C. Electric Co."

"This assurance, according to these reports, was not given," the Colonist stated.

The premier said today that Mr. Blyth asked for no such assurance.

The newspaper said that Mr. Blyth's resignation from the $10,000-a-year post to which he was appointed only 10 weeks ago, has been on the premier's desk for several weeks. Mr. Blyth, the paper said, is back in Toronto with Brazilian Traction, Power and Light Co.

The Colonist quoted Mr. Blyth as saying: "The premier knows the facts and he knows my reasons. He should make any statement there is to be made."

Price Talks Tomorrow

VANCOUVER (CP)—A committee representing west coast fishermen will meet with operators Thursday in another attempt to set 1954 salmon prices.

Tendermen and cannery plant crews already have taken their demands to conciliation boards.

Heading Area 3

The closure of Area 2 to fishing Saturday mid-morning has sailed for the grounds in Area 3, according to Customs and Dominion officials this morning.

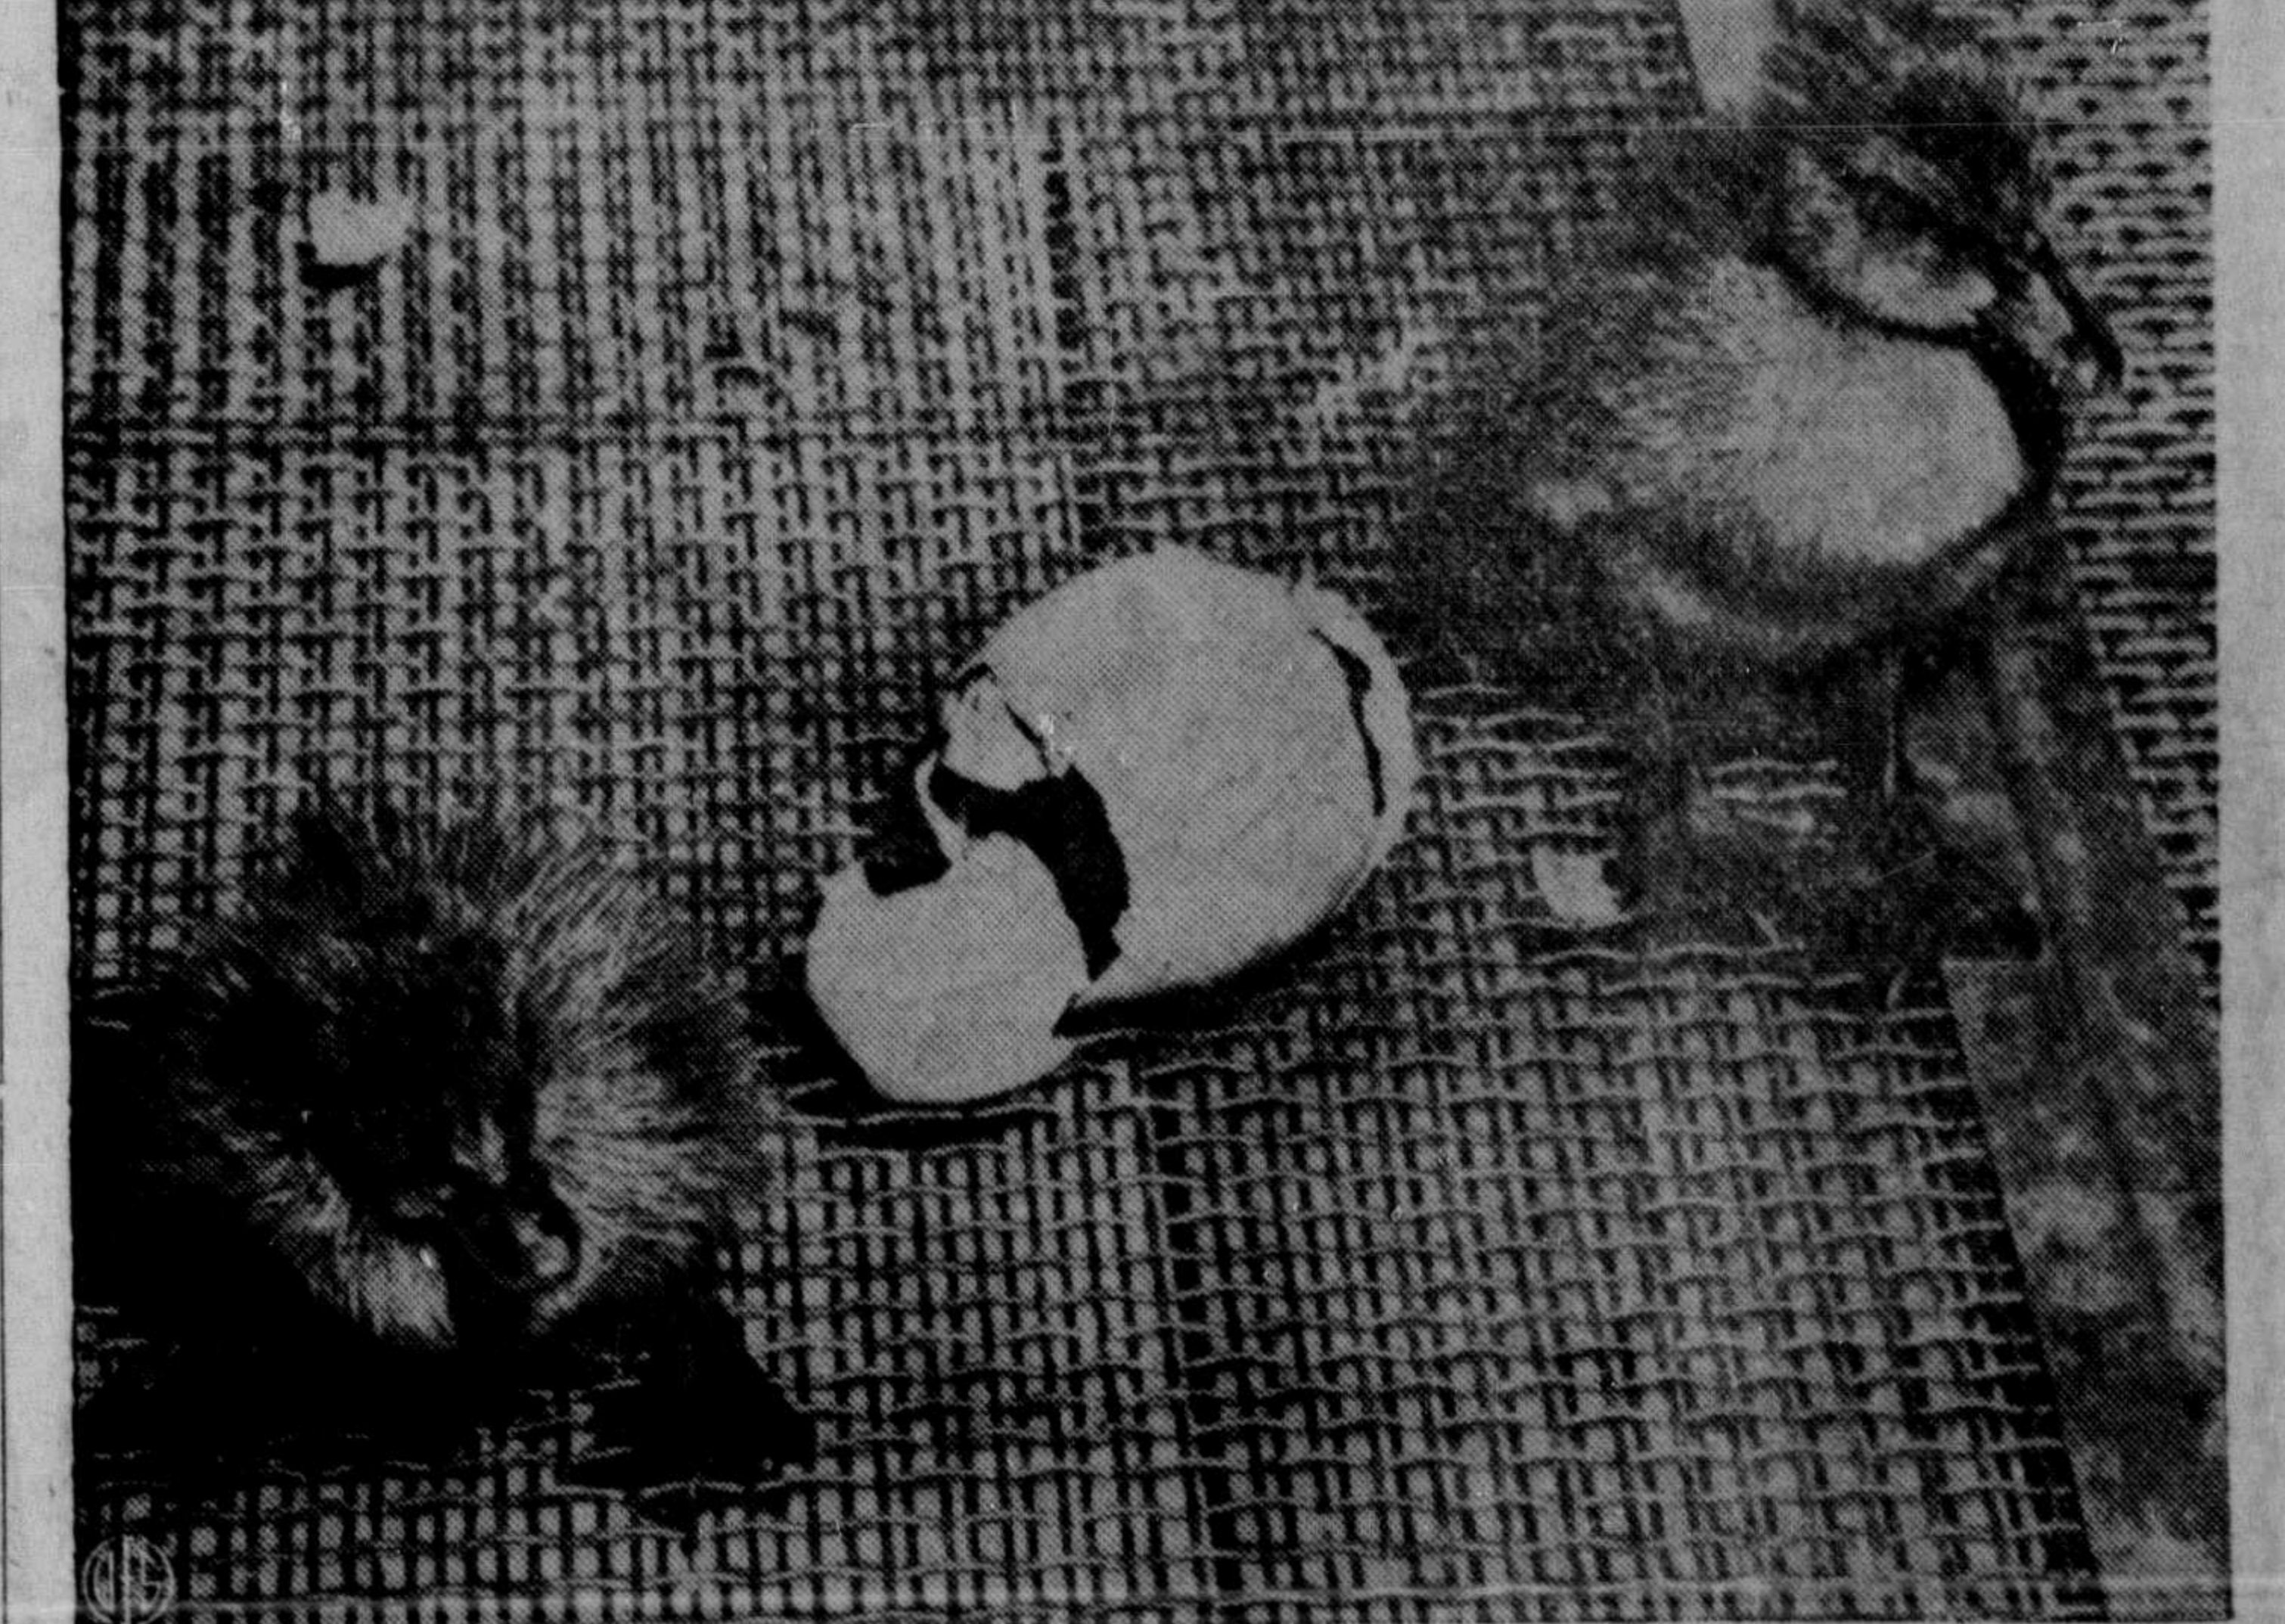

There are no landings at the Rupert Halibut Exchange as it appeared all had returned from Area 2.

Officials expect landings within the next few days.

Fishermen are expected to pull up to Vancouver from their ports, a Fisheries spokesman said.

Winning Essay

(This is part of the essay by Miss Rolande Turcotte, grade 12 student at Booth Memorial High School, which won the contest recently sponsored by the Prince Rupert Retail Credit Grantors' Association. Entitled "Credit—and what it means to me," it is carried here because of the interest it holds as a student's expression on a matter that affects all.)

RESPONSIBILITY is of major importance in everybody's life, and there is no better way to assume and carry out this responsibility to its fullest than by using the power offered to every responsible person today—credit.

This credit is with us every day. It is a way and means of living for many people. . . . If the individual takes credit in its highest standing, and carries out the responsibilities which credit holds, he will benefit from it, not only on the standpoint of convenience, but also as a luxury. If otherwise, credit will just be abused and will not be a help to people as it was intended.

The term "Magic Buying Power" may rightly justify credit. Through this magic power or force, all the good things of life are put in the reach of responsible people. These people may buy now and pay their account when it is more convenient for them to do so. It is these responsible people who benefit from the good things of life day by day. Sometimes even necessities of life for some people are hard to acquire, and this is where credit comes into their lives. There need not be worries or fears of not being able to finance or carry on as before. If the responsible person has any trouble just getting along, he need not have any of these fears or worries if he recognizes and uses credit as it was meant to be used.

Credit to me personally is an asset. I think that I have been fortunate to have been able to learn and know about credit, as it is a source of many things which I may not have been able to get otherwise. Even though sometimes a person does not need to use credit, it is a wise gesture to do so as it establishes a firm foundation of good credit standing provided it has been used properly.

I think that it is a privilege to have some creditor trust me enough to let me buy what I want now and pay for it when it is convenient for me to do so. It is a personal satisfaction and gratification to know that I can use credit any time I wish because I have established a good credit standing which can be recognized by creditors anywhere I go.

OTTAWA DIARY

By NORMAN M. McLEOD

One brief and largely unnoticed interlude in last week's House of Commons was packed with almost a whole world of significance. It threw into sudden and sharp relief the sort of world in which we are living today and the things we have come to accept philosophically as just standard practice—although they would have shocked and startled us not too many years ago.

It occurred when the Prime Minister, in the course of the debate on security precautions, remarked that "quite a number" of men had had to be dismissed from Canada's post-World War II army because they were not considered good security risks.

These were Rt. Hon. Mr. St. Laurent's words: "It is unfortunate we have to assume that there are efforts made by foreign powers to obtain through espionage or intelligence services information we think they should not have. And so we have to be on our guard."

The Prime Minister spoke in the normal tone of voice which he employs for any statement that is just routine. And the House received his remarks as just a routine statement. There was no reaction or unusual interest, and no recognition of a possibly sensational state of affairs.

The whole incident was in striking contrast to the storm of excitement which a few years ago greeted the exposure of the spy ring centred in the Soviet Embassy here. It showed how far parliament had travelled in the interval in accepting threats to security as just part of the normal pattern of life, and in accepting espionage activities as also something to be taken merely for granted, without getting too shocked or indignant about them.

The MP's generally took it for granted that Soviet Russia was the foreign power which had been trying to infiltrate its espionage agents into the Canadian armed forces. But about the only effect this knowledge had upon them was to make them somewhat more critical of the sale of Canadian canned pork at a reported price of 19 cents per pound behind the Iron Curtain. Some 8,000,000 pounds of this canned pork went to Soviet dining tables. It cost the Canadian taxpayer 60 cents per pound in the cans.

Many MP's were of the opinion that this subsidy of 19 cents per pound to Communists who had been trying to infiltrate our armed forces with their espionage agents was carrying the principle of trade, or of humanity, or of whatever motive was involved, just a little too far.

Rival Unions Meet; Plan Joint Group

PORTLAND — Representatives of AFL and CIO sawmill and wood workers, bitter enemies for years, met in amity Tuesday to set up a joint organization aimed at strengthening their hand in pay increase demands.

Both unions, negotiating separately, seek 12½-cent hourly pay increases, and both got from employers in six states a firm refusal to do more than renew existing contracts.

The CIO International Woodworkers' union time back authorized a strike. The AFL Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union did the same thing in a vote announced last week.

Not since 1937, when the CIO split away from the AFL camp, the parent union, have the two groups met in harmony until now.

As I See It

BY

Elmore Philpot

Missing Link

DREW MIDDLETON is writing a series of reports for the New York Times on British-American relations. Like many other North American newspapermen revisiting Britain after an absence of some years, he is appalled by the changed attitude of Britain toward the U.S.A.

It all boils down to this: A very high percentage of the British people of all classes believe that Russia and the U.S.A. are jointly to blame for the present state of world struggle; and most Britons (says Middleton) are inclined to place almost as much blame for this condition on the U.S.A. as on Russia.

The veteran reporter blames this British attitude on the propaganda of the left wing press in Britain. This latter opinion seems to me to be miles off the beam.

WHAT makes Bevanism so powerful a force in Britain (on this matter of British-American relations) is that Nye Bevan is only shouting from the house tops the same things that Tory (conservative) MPs are saying privately as they sip their whiskies and soda in the clubs of London, or even the House of Commons.

In other words, Nye Bevan is not creating the ground-swell in British public opinion; he is riding up on it. It is the very fact that there is such a ground swell that makes Bevanism a real threat. The vast majority of British people believe either that the U.S.A. is leading the western world in a clumsy and crude fashion, or that there are forces in effective control of U.S. policy which are deliberately heading the whole world toward war.

In the former class are what you could call the disappointed British friends of the U.S.A. In the latter class are the minority who are more or less hostile to the American way of life in general.

THE great American tragedy of recent years was the submergence of the Roosevelt spirit as a basis for international co-operation.

The people of Britain trusted Roosevelt's world aims. So did the people of all the world, including Russia, for that matter. No matter how the lesser men of later times have tried to defame his memory, the fact remains there for all to see that in the days of Roosevelt the whole free world gladly accepted the moral leadership of the U.S.A. on the level of international political action.

He was able to speak right to the hearts of ordinary people everywhere because those same ordinary people everywhere were convinced that he spoke FOR them.

But what is most needed is not another Roosevelt but some common meeting place where the people of western nations, especially, can talk out their common problems, common aims, and above all, hopes for world peace.

The Manchester Guardian recently sent the brilliant Patrick Keatley to try to re-discover the America of Roosevelt.

Pat (who is one of our own Vancouver products) told me on his way back to Britain via Ottawa that if all the people of the outside world could get to meet the ordinary people of the U.S.A. ON THEIR OWN HOME TERRITORY the fears and suspicions that people now have of the U.S. government would disappear as if by magic.

The great missing link is some way to get together.

Cardiff Mooted As '58 BEG Site

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Vancouver newspaper in a sports page story yesterday says the 1958 British Games will be held at Cardiff, Wales.

The newspaper says there will be no official announcement on the venue of the 1958 games for several months but that it has learned from a city track official that Cardiff already has been selected as the games site. The official was not identified. The games, staged every four years, will be held in Vancouver this summer.

Polio Claim Described as Nonsense

TORONTO — Three Canadian poliomyelitis experts have described as "utter nonsense" an Oklahoma chiropractor's claim in Vancouver that he has found a cure for polio and that the disease may not necessarily be contagious.

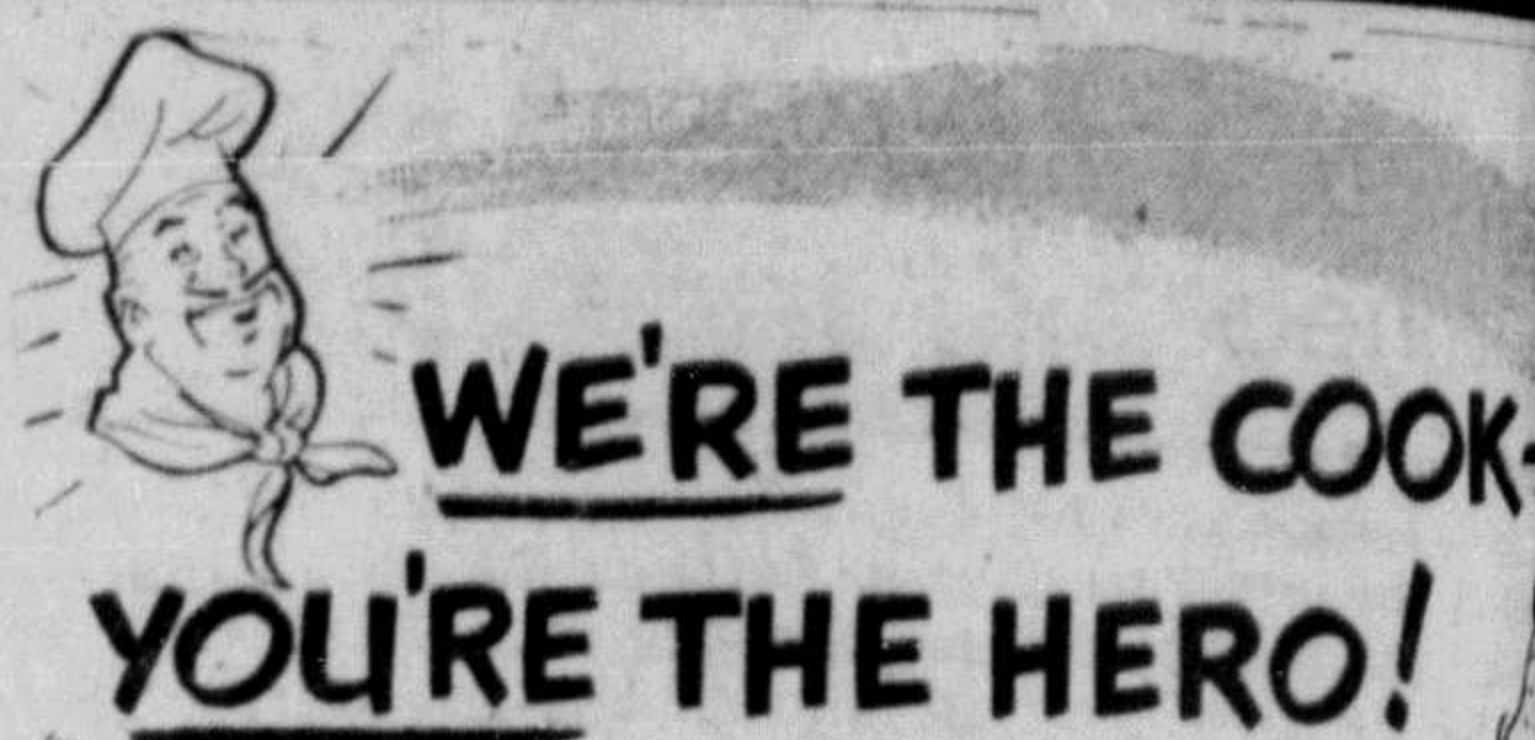

Dr. Theodor G. H. Drake, who helped develop food wrappings designed to cut down the fruit fly spread of the disease, said of the claim made by E. R. Dunn of Oklahoma City: "That is a very dangerous statement for him to make and is positively incorrect."

Dr. Drake, who has done considerable research in the contagious aspects of polio, said that research has proved beyond doubt that polio is contagious.

Dr. Dunn, doctor of chiropractic from the Dunn polio clinic in Oklahoma City, told the Western Canadian Chiropractic Convention here "could be cured by chiropractic treatment involving massage."

Dr. Andrew Rhodes, who has done liaison work between Canada and the United States in the fight against polio said: "It is not conceivable that true polio could be cured by any type of chiropractic manipulation."

Said Dr. Nelles Silverthorn of Toronto's Hospital for Children: "It is utter nonsense. We are concerned."

Mrs. H. G. Watts Heads WA Board For Diocese

Reports from branches throughout the diocese and election of officers featured yesterday's final sessions of the Caledonia Diocesan Women's Auxiliary Board annual meeting in St. Andrew's Cathedral Hall.

Mrs. H. G. Watts was elected president, succeeding Mrs. F. E. Anfield. Mrs. Anfield, who with her family is leaving the city soon, was presented with a beautiful inscribed rosebowl by Mrs. Watts on behalf of W.A. members, in appreciation of her service.

The Rt. Rev. H. G. Watts, Bishop of Caledonia, in an impressive service in the Cathedral, installed the new officers who include, besides Mrs. Watts: first vice-president, Mrs. Lionel Holtby; second vice-president, Mrs. M. O'Connell; recording secretary, Mrs. T. B. Black.

Corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. Lindseth; treasurer, Mrs. S. Darton; united thank offering secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. Rids-dale; Dorcas secretary-treasurer, Mrs. C. A. Hinchliffe; social service secretary, Mrs. J. W. Stokes; secretary-treasurer of G.A., Mrs. F. Longair; secretary-treasurer of Juniors, Mrs. J. Davis.

Secretary-treasurer of Little Helpers, Mrs. C. J. Currie; secretary-treasurer of education, Mrs. G. E. Moore; editor of Living Message, Mrs. H. Winstone; secretary-treasurer of Living Message, Mrs. H. E. Faure; secretary of prayer partners, Mrs. J. Prince; delegate to dominion annual, Mrs. C. A. Hinchliffe.

The day's sessions opened with prayers led by the Rev. Canon Basil S. Prockter, after which reports from the various branches, all noting much activity, as well as officer's reports were heard.

Of particular interest was the report by Miss G. Waterman on the Sunday School by post work and the Bible reading fellowship.

Bishop Watts gave an interesting address on giving, stressing the importance of the church vans, carrying on the work of the church in outlying districts, and noting that a third van had been purchased.

EARLY DAYS
Another interesting talk by F. E. Anfield was heard by the delegates. He spoke on the early days of this diocese and particularly on the struggle between Bishop Ridley and Father Duncan, resulting in the founding of New Metlakatla in 1887 by Father Duncan and his followers under the name of the Duncan Christian Church.

He also noted that in Metlakatla proper, a newly-built church had been dedicated last Sunday by Bishop Watts.

MEDITATION TIME
Noonday prayers were led by Mrs. Watts who stressed the importance of solitude, urging each to set aside a period of quiet to "keep above the noise and confusion of the busy present day life."

Lunch was served by the local W.A. branches, after which the installation service was held and Benediction closed the two-day session.

Later, the delegates were entertained at tea by Mrs. Watts in the Bishop's Lodge.

MESSAGES OF THANKS, attached to balloons, soar over the towers of Westminster Abbey in London, and out over the countryside. The 1,000 colored balloons were released from the Dean's Yard to mark the raising of one million pounds to be used in the maintenance and repair of the famous, old Abbey. The messages read: "Greetings from Westminster Abbey. Appeal fund target achieved."

Concert Auxiliary Enjoys Short Preview of Brigadoon

Working without stage, props or costumes, a major part of the cast of the forthcoming Prince Rupert Little Theatre production of Brigadoon, last night convinced members of the Civic Centre Concert Auxiliary that the musical will be well worth seeing.

Directed by Ian Dobbie, the chorus and leading actors and actresses staged the first half of the hit show almost in its entirety, holding the audience spellbound despite their lack of costumes and props, and with only the piano for accompaniment.

The well-blended choir especially won the applause of the audience, singing the already well-known and beloved choruses from the popular show with gusto and beauty.

Harley Lewis and Ed Harrington play the two American hunters lost in Scotland, who are in the village of Brigadoon and Harley gives an effective rendition of "It's Almost Like Being In Love" joined by Pat Wicks as the Brigadoon maid with whom Harley is falling in love.

Gordie Dell plays the part of the Brigadoon bridegroom, singing "I'll Go Home With Bonnie Jean," and Shirley Hill as the town's bad girl, "Meg," gives a riotous performance of "My Mother's Wedding Day."

The preview closed with W. H. Hankinson, as the school teacher of Brigadoon, telling the two hunters of the history of the village, in which 100 years passes each time the villagers go to sleep.

Meanwhile, elsewhere in the Civic Centre, the Brigadoon orchestra worked on the difficult score and the Scottish dancers practiced their intricate steps while Little Theatre handymen continued their job of renovating the auditorium stage to increase working space for the players.

Mr. Dobbie, in introducing the preview last night, said his cast had made great progress, and would progress even more in the two weeks remaining before opening night June 22, and the listeners indicated with their applause their confidence that the few rough spots discernible would be ironed out before opening night.

Different-Hued Roses Grow On Same Plant

A pretty buttonhole rose plant has Mrs. E. J. Michaud of 100 Eleventh Street wondering if she's seeing things.

The potted plant given to her last fall has been blooming merrily with bright red roses, but now, all of a sudden, two white roses have appeared, and more are on the way.

Mrs. Michaud checked with the friend who gave her two of the plants, and the friend reports the roses were always red. A neighbor, who was given a shoot from Mrs. Michaud's plant, also reports nothing but red blooms. And Mrs. Michaud's second plant also sports nothing but red roses.

However, the white roses are there, not only on the same plant but on the same branch as the red blossoms, most of which are now finished.

Mrs. Michaud has never seen anything like it. Have you?

New Concert Group Chief Urges All-Out Support

Plans for a stepped-up ticket sales campaign for the 1954-55 concert series and election of new officers highlighted last night's annual meeting of the Civic Centre Concert Auxiliary.

Several season's tickets were sold at the session, at which a draw for four free season tickets was made, with winners being Mrs. E. H. Davidson, Mrs. A. Dowdsley, Bob Jensen and Mrs. Basil S. Prockter.

The newly-elected president, Dr. L. M. Greene, called for all-out support of the concert series, hoping for a surplus instead of a deficit in series financing. The financial report for last season showed a deficit of $374.36.

Treasurer Fred Jones, in reporting the deficit, blamed a greatly increased amusement tax and a poor first concert. The opening concert, early in September last year, had drawn a poor crowd.

However, the coming series will not open until October, and the first artist, cellist Zara Nelsova is a Canadian.

Other artists scheduled to appear here in the Alaska Music Trail series are Olga Coelho, Brazilian soprano-guitarist, in November, Frank Glazer, American pianist in March, and the famed wind ensemble of the San Francisco Symphony, including oboe, flute, clarinet, bassoon and French horn, in May.

Past president of the organization, R. C. Teiford, was thanked for his work during the past season and new officers elected, besides president Dr. Greene were: Secretary, Mrs. Fred Jones; chairman of ushers committee, Mrs. W. F. Stone; entertainment committee, Mrs. J. T. Harvey; chairman, Mrs. W. S. Kergin; ticket sales committee Mrs. N. A. Bekelov, Mrs. M. Wayman, Mrs. A. Dowdsley and Dave Radford; publicity, J. F. # Education Theme as Bosses Pertained by Credit Club

As guest speaker, R. H. Davidson, high school principal, said that he was glad his students had a chance to look at credit during the essay contest and also during the talks and panel discussion held at the school as part of the recent retail credit education week.

Emphasizing the sense of responsibility which credit develops, he drew attention to one of the essay prize winners, Kurt Gottschling, who came here from Germany a year ago and applied for admission to the school. He was accepted "on credit" and the progress he has since shown has proved that he is a student determined to pay his way, Mr. Davidson remarked.

After the presentation of prizes by J. F. Magor, Mrs. Laurie called upon the winners to read their essays. Miss Turcotte spoke of the "magic power" of credit in making the good things of life accessible to responsible persons, while Mr. Gottschling pointed out that credit originated from the Latin word "credere," meaning to believe. He observed that the businessman believes in his customer when he sells goods to him without receiving immediate cash. Miss Trapp emphasized the value of credit in helping young couples who are faced with many expenses as they start life together.

A special item on the program was the presentation of a farewell gift to Miss Maresa Winkler who is leaving Prince Rupert soon.

Toast to the bosses was made by Mrs. Jocelyn Bolton, with Phil Lyons giving the reply. Norman Moorehouse, president of the local Retail Credit Grantors Association, followed with a tribute to the work of the CWBC.

Birthday flowers were presented to Mrs. Mary Turner, Mrs. Laurie and Miss Margaret Johansen. Winner of the lucky draw was Bert Field.

IN THIS CORNER

DICK AYRES

It's amazing the difference a week can make in a baseball league. Seven days and all is changed. It happens in the majors, it happened in the Prince Rupert Senior baseball league, between May 30 and last Sunday. A large and quite appreciative crowd watched Benny Windle's Esquires put an end to Gordon and Anderson's skein of victories. They were treated to some good hitting and some quite smart fielding, best of which was Joe Giordano's back-handed catch of Darrow Young's drive in the second inning and Gordie Mundie's nice try for a double play in the ninth after he's snagged another of Young's sizzlers, this time a grounder.

It was too bad that G & A didn't score a few more runs to make it a more even game, but likewise it was tough luck for Jackie Sharpe to lose his shutout. The hardware men finally got to him in the ninth. Strange thing about the game was that while Jackie was winning, losing pitcher Freddy Christensen gave up 10 hits but struck out 16 batters. Sharpe only fanned three men.

All in all it was a good ball game, for the spectators and Esquires, that is. Mournful Mundie wasn't mournful, he was happy with his two triples and G & A's leading hitter Cheerful Dave Hill was even more cheerful batting .500 for the day. Also hitting 2 for 4 was Esquire's up-and-coming receiver Rey McKay who in his first year of senior ball shows great promise indeed.

What will happen tomorrow night when last-place Commercial Hotel, who took 18-5 and 9-6 lacings over at Terrace, Sunday, meet up with Rusty Ford's G & A crew remains to be seen. Miner Simundson's charges don't look too bad in action but they certainly lack something. Possibly it's pitching depth, although Jimmy Flewin is doing very well for a first year lad. In any case it's to be hoped that the hotelmen's fortunes pick up before the league race gets out of hand.

One thing is certain about Prince Rupert and that is, the town sure loves its baseball. While the seniors had a fair-sized crowd in the afternoon, another crowd turned up Sunday evening to contribute something like $18 for the Pony League game. The Little League at Algoma is averaging about the same amount every good evening.

POST SCRIPTS—Speaking of the Pony League we can't understand why Moose mentor Doug Wood doesn't use Billy Watmough more. Billy's a pretty good all-round athlete for a youngster and can be counted on to do his best at all times. . . . The senior ball league may do away with its present system of having regular "ball-shaggers" if more foul balls don't come back to the dugout. So few come back Sunday afternoon that league secretary-treasurer Don Hawryluk didn't feel much like paying off the regulars. Maybe reversion to the old payment for every ball brought back would prove worth a try. It would stimulate competition among ball-chasers and probably save money in the long run. . . . Andy O'Brien, of Weekend Magazine and formerly of the Montreal Standard, has in a statistical column come out for Ezzard Charles in his June 17 title-match with champion Rocky Marciano. Because, we don't agree with Mr. O'Brien's theories on fights, (he thinks boxing is legalized murder) and also because we can't see Charles at anytime, we'll pick Rocky in less than 10 rounds.

Chiefs Notch Twelfth To Trail Caps by Two

The Wenatchee Chiefs are creating quite a smoke in the Western International League. An eighth place club two weeks ago, the fired-up Chiefs notched their 12th victory in 15 starts Tuesday night outlasting Tri-City, 11-8. The win moved them to within two games of first-place Vancouver, a 4-3 loser to Lewiston. In the league's only other contest, Spokane topped Victoria, 6-2, to move into the first division .002 percentage points ahead of the . . . A high wind at Keweenaw gave a considerable assist to batters in the Wenatchee-Tri-City affair. There was a total of 27 hits in the contest, 15 by the Chiefs. One was a home run, by Wenatchee's Joe Unfried in the third with one man on. The Chiefs held a 4-3 lead when they added two runs in the fifth inning.

Top Pitching Halts Climb

Superlative pitching by one of the Pacific Coast League's best right handers has put a momentary kink in the San Francisco Seals' hopes of catching the pace setting Hollywood Stars. The Seals ran into Al Gettel of Oakland Tuesday night and dropped the opener of their seven-game series, 3-1.

Gettel allowed only three hits and a sacrifice fly by Chuck Stevens in the seventh drive in the only Seal run. Oakland didn't exactly fatten its batting average on San Francisco pitching, for the three Seal hurlers gave up only seven hits.

The San Francisco defeat dropped San Francisco 5½ games behind Hollywood, which beat its crosstown rival, Los Angeles, 7-4.

Hollywood didn't knock over Los Angeles without a struggle, for the Angels, notoriously light hitters, reared up with a three-run rally in the sixth that tied up the ball game at 4-4. Hollywood settled the issue in the seventh, third baseman Jack Phillips prodding a home run over the left field fence with Dale Long and Carlos Bernier on base.

San Diego set back the battling Sacramento Solons, 7-2, as Eddie Erault limited them to eight hits and wasn't scored on after the third inning. Bob Elliott homered for the Padres in the eighth. Chety Chet Johnson, Solon southpaw, was batted out in the sixth as the Padres scored two runs and took a 4-2 lead. Al Federoff led the Padres' 13-hit attack with three singles.

North Stars Maintain First Inning Lead To Take 13-11 Decision From Super Valu

By BOB MORRIS
North Star took an early lead, and held on last night, to defeat a battling Super Valu team 13-11.

North Stars took their big inning at the first of the game last night getting eight runs for Gene Maskaluk who had stopped Super Valu with one counter. Super Starter McKenzie gave up eight hits in the first, two each to Colius and Helland. Thom, Patrick, Chummy Oakie and Maskuluk each picked up one hit.

Both Mutch and Russell hit doubles for Super Valu in the first inning but Mutch was the only one who came home as Main and Ballinger were both strike-out victims and Windle grounded out to the pitcher. Super Valu added two more runs in the top of the third when Main walked and Windle came on in when the North Star short-stop threw a relay too wide for the catcher to make a play at home. However, another error failed to bring in any further tallies as Morrison hit to the third base-man who tagged Ballinger when the latter tried to advance from second and fired back to catcher Thom in time to cut off Erikson for the second double play of the game.

Russell re-opened the run column for Super Valu when he smacked out a triple to start the fifth and came in on a neat sacrifice by Erikson. Calderoni threw a walk but Wells took Rosedale out on strikes and Romero, from La Tompa province, has never been knocked down in his career of 23 professional and 25 amateur bouts.

LEWISTON, Idaho — Two Lewiston players, one of them under suspension for "misconduct," were given their outright releases by the Western International League club Tuesday.

Business Manager Tom Tabor said he was instructed to release infielder Artie Wilson and pitcher Don Tisnerat after efforts to sell or trade them failed to produce any offers.

He said Wilson had been under suspension since last Friday for misconduct.

Fourth Place Braves Take 6-5 Loss As Irvin Rallies Giants in Ninth

By BEN PILEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer
How long will the Milwaukee miracle last if the Braves continue to save their winning baseball for their road trips?

A quick rundown of the Braves' won and lost record at home and abroad suggests the Milwaukee patrons should consider asking for cut rates.

With the top home attendance in either league—649,659 cash customers for 23 single games and two twin bills—the Braves have won for the home folks only 11 times. They've been beaten in County Stadium 16 times.

But when the show goes on the road it's an entirely different story—14 victories, including one streak of nine straight, and only six losses.

DROP HEARTBREAKER
Currently the Braves are in fourth place in the National League, four games behind the leading Brooklyn Dodgers. Tuesday night they dropped a 6-5 heartbreaker to the New York Giants.

The Giants, trailing from the time Joe Adcock hit a grand slam home run in the first inning, won on two runs in the ninth. Al Dark singled for his fourth hit, Hank Thompson walked and Monte Irvin doubled them home.

The Chicago White Sox took sole possession of first place in the American League by whipping Philadelphia 9-3 while Cleveland was bowing 5-2 to Washington on Maury McDermott's two-hitter. Billy Hoelt gave the New York Yankees only two hits as the Tigers won 8-0. Baltimore beat Boston 7-4.

Brooklyn's 10-game winning streak ended with a bang. The Dodgers were trounced 10-3 by the St. Louis Cardinals. Chicago edged Philadelphia 6-5 and Cincinnati tripped Pittsburgh 5-0.

Brooklyn committed four errors and the Cardinals combed Carl Erskine and two successors for 16 hits. Stan Musial hit his 20th homer, tops in either league, and a triple, driving in four runs.

Wally Moon drove in another four with a triple and three singles.

HOMER DID IT
Robin Roberts of the Phillies succumbed to the home run power of the Cubs. Ralph Kiner hit a pair, his 9th and 10th, and Hank Sauer hit his 19th. Only a two-run homer by Granny Hamner in the Philadelphia ninth kept it close.

The White Sox broke open their game at Philadelphia with five runs in the seventh inning. A single, double and walk filled the bases. One run scored on Minnie Minoza's sacrifice fly, two more on Ferris Fain's double and a final pair on George Kell's home run.

The Indians sorely missed their big guns, Bobby Avila and Al Rosen, as they lost to Washington for the first time this season. With the two sluggers injured, the only Cleveland hits were a pair of singles by Al Smith.

Practice Slated

A full-scale practice will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 at Algoma park for the Super Valu Little League team, manager Danny Johnston said today. He asked that all 32 original members of the team be on hand.

NEW GASOLINE ADDITIVE BOOSTER ENGINE POWER

Report Power Gain as high as 15%

In the engines of the road today, there's a lot of power never used. Locked in by carbon deposits.

But now, according to tests at the Shell Oil Co., a new gasoline additive, Shell Premium Gasoline, adds to the power, increases the engine's life, and gives you more power.

Two-way Power

In combustion chamber deposits glow red hot. The gasoline-air mixture that reaches the firing position. Engage this pre-ignition. Pre-ignition—the full power engine is never really working.

These same deposits, engineers say—also form plugs, where they crowd the spark plug, short-circuiting it. They point out that power-wasters, pre-ignition spark plug misfiring, and engine overheating are all caused by carbon deposits.

TCP Freez Caplets

Shell Premium Gasoline

TCP, Shell engineers put this caplet engine work, boosting engine power as much as 15%. Still, explain it this way: "TCP additive keeps from becoming red, therefore stops pre-ignition. Also makes the deposits and ends conducting."

The engineers say Premium with TCP quickly that a motorist that his engine has up before he's finished. But Shell says since deposits conduct, pre-ignition, there is only one way to maintain the increase—continued use of call TCP the greatest development in 31 years. Premium with TCP is only at Shell Dealers.

Courting Stick's Revival Urged

By HAL BOYLE
 That is the practice of bundling quills and separated by a wooden partition, lay propped up side by side in a bed as they discussed the local corn crop, ethics and other interesting topics, shivering as the fire sank lower.

NEW YORK (AP)—If your teenage daughter is hogging the telephone in long talks with her boy friends, why not solve the problem by buying her a courting stick?
 The time seems ripe for a revival of this communication tool of lovers, popular in old New England.
 An antiquarian friend of mine, doing research on old marriage customs for the 50th anniversary of the Fuller Brush Co., which distributes cosmetic and brush-
 "Television made the courting stick eminently practical again in the average home."
 What is a courting stick? Well, in colonial times it was a hollow wooden tube six to eight feet long. Sternly-chaperoned lovers could sit on opposite sides of big fireplaces and whisper romantic nonsense back and forth unharmed by other watching members of the family.
 While the courting stick, the forerunner of Alexander Graham Bell's invention, would seem to fit well in the television age, another old colonial courting custom, now has few firm friends left.

Burma Fights Communism With Reforms

By DAVID CHIPP
 RANGOON (Reuters)—The Burma government, by pursuing a vigorous policy of social and land reforms, is defeating communism by example as well as by force.
 The program of rehabilitation and development is seen by many observers to be a constructive and positive reply to the spread of communism in Asia, for it has successfully countered every Communist argument.
 The Burmese policy of producing a system which experience has shown works better than communism is beginning to bear fruit. Over the last few months a number of fairly high-ranking Red leaders have surrendered, saying that they no longer believe in the revolutionary cause.
 But even more important than the leaders has been its effect on the ordinary non-party peasants who previously either supported the Communists actively or tolerated them, thinking that they would improve their lot.
 Their disillusionment has been increased by the army's successes against the Communist insurgents, especially the 1952 campaign southwest of Mandalay which split up the big concentrations and forced them into small bandit groups.
 The Burma government has nationalized land and begun to set up machinery for its equitable distribution. They set up co-operatives, awarded compensation to landlords and, above all, granted loans and help to peasants who had not the equipment or animals to start farming on their own.

Management's Responsibility To Workers, Public Stressed

By FORBES RYDGE
Canadian Press Bureau Editor
JASPER, Alta. — Industrialists had varied views to mull over today as they ended the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and headed for a post-meeting visit to Vancouver and Victoria.

The views, as expressed in discussion sessions Monday and Tuesday, ranged from grave apprehension to almost unbounded optimism.

On one hand were fears that Canada might return to being virtually a farm country with limited industry unless decisive measures were taken concerning her disadvantages in today's competitive trading world.

On the other hand was the bright picture that Canada would be kept hopping to meet the demands of her growing population and world need for her resources.

The views weren't necessarily so much in conflict as might appear. Rather it might be said that one set of speakers presented the realities and possibilities of current opportunities.

PRESENTS PROBLEMS

Chief speaker on management problems was Harold M. Turner of Toronto, president of the Canadian General Electric Company.

He hung a heavy burden on management's shoulders, saying that the future of Canada would in large measure depend upon their skill, enterprise and daring.

He said, also: "Management must recognize its responsibility to every one affected by business: shareholders, customers, employees, suppliers and the public. Business must be managed in the balanced interest of all."

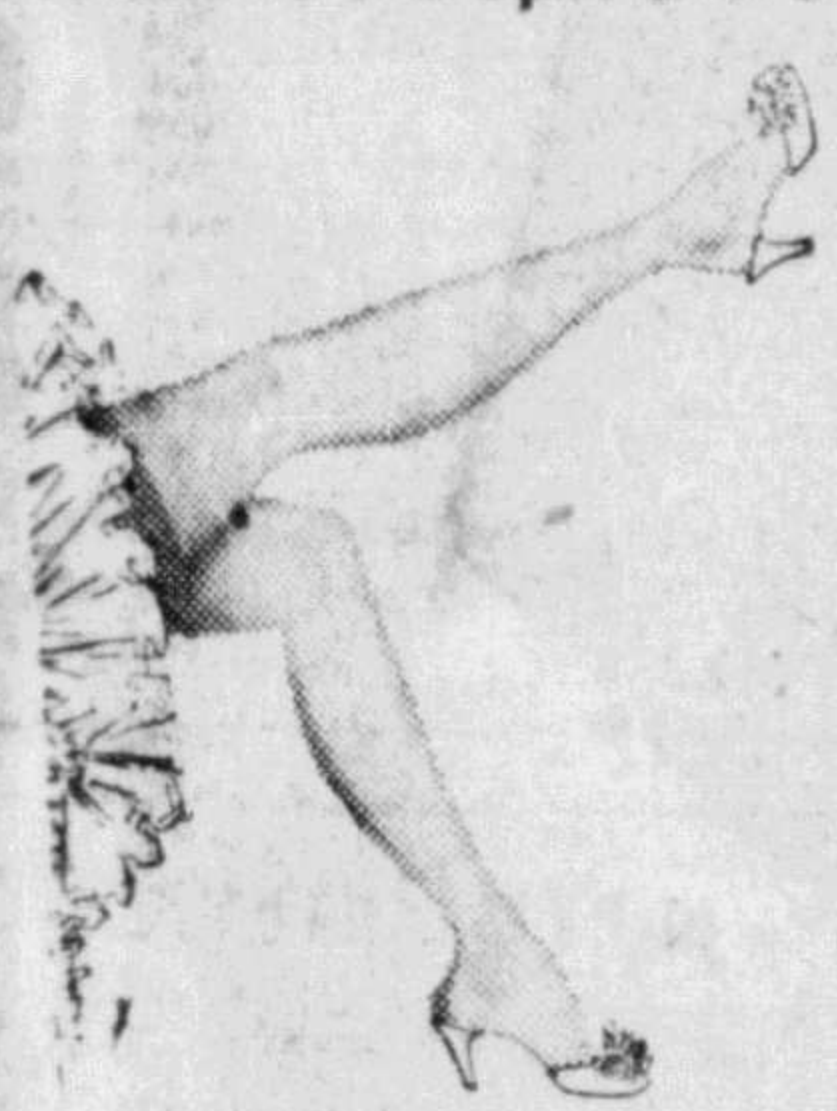

"Economists say that one distinguishing characteristic of modern capitalism is the growing social consciousness of management. We must always recognize that our objectives are part of the Canadian scene and people will judge us not merely by our products and services; but by whether our enterprise as a whole is socially and economically beneficial."

OPTIMISTIC FORECAST

Most optimistic speaker was W. E. Williams of Toronto, president of Proctor and Gamble Company of Canada, who said: "Canada could run for three full years on an all-out basis, taking care only of her needs in schools, hospitals, housing durable equipment and non-residential construction."

He opposed resale price maintenance, a system now banned in Canada but which has many supporters, under which manufacturers freeze the price at which their goods should be sold.

Here is the legend of the Weeping Totem, and it brings us a moral.

On the island of Tanu in the Queen Charlotte group stands a very old totem pole. It depicts an aged man shedding great streams of tears. This is the weeping totem pole of Tanu, dating back to the days many hundreds of years before the white man came.

When Chief Always Coughs ruled the people of the Northern Island he was a wise chief, and he knew that the Great Spirit dealt kindly with the people, just as long as they dealt kindly with all creatures having life. The people were allowed to kill for food and for necessary skins, but never for pleasure. Under the wise chief's rule the people prospered and were happy.

Chief Always Coughs heard

New Patrol Ship Being Tested

OTTAWA — HMCS Labrador, an arctic patrol vessel built for the navy, will undergo sea trials this month before being commissioned at Sorel, Que., July 8.

Capt. Owen C. S. Robertson, 45, of Montreal and Victoria, will take command of the 400-ton ship to be used in the collection of scientific information in the Arctic.

that the bear were fat on the island of Tanu. The people liked fat bear, so Chief Always Coughs led a hunting party, including his seven sons, two grandsons and seven canoe loads of the people. It was evening when

Sect Parents Up in Court On School Issue

GRAND FORKS, B.C. — Twelve more Sons of Freedom Donkhor parents appeared in police court here Tuesday charged with failing to send their children to school.

They brought to 17 the number called before Stipendiary Magistrate W. M. Evans in a stepped-up drive by provincial authorities to force the radical sect to send their children to school.

The eight men and four women refused to plead or give evidence. The Freedomites maintain that they are guilty only before God.

Each was given a three-day suspended sentence to have their children attending classes. If they do not comply, the child welfare department of the Social Welfare branch of the government can take the children away from their homes. Some 20 Freedomite children are involved.

they reached Tanu, so they made camp for the night, and while some of the men gathered driftwood others started a fire with rubbing sticks. In the morning the party split into small groups and went to hunt for the fat bear of Tanu, but they left the two youthful grandsons in camp.

"Guard the fire well, my grandsons," said the old chief, "for it is easier to keep a fire going than it is to start it."

"We will watch the fire faithfully, for our grandfather," the youths replied. When the hunters returned that evening they found the fire was out. "What happened to the fire?" asked Chief Always Coughs. "Why did you let it go out?"

"It was the toads," said the older lad. "Yes," said the younger, "it was the toads."

"When we gathered wood, we found a large toad, when we threw it on the fire it swelled up very large and burst with a bang. We thought it was fun, and other toads, they all burst with a big noise. But the last was the largest toad of all, and when he burst he put the fire right out."

"Woe, woe," cried the wise chief. "Do you not know that those who harm one of the Forest Spirits' creatures will suffer in a like way?"

"What a thing you have done," wailed the father of the boys. "We must leave this place. We can not stay, not even if the fat bear of Tanu."

"To the camp, quickly," cried the old chief. As one man they rushed to the canoes, but at the same time the earth started to shake and to roar and fire burst out from the rocks.

"Of all the men in the hunting party, only the old chief returned, and ever since that awful day he is known as the 'one-who-always-cries-for-his-children-and-his-people'."

This totem pole was carved from a big cedar tree, and was erected in memory of the lost people, and to remind all never to be cruel to animals.

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Mr. Dale Gets a Workout in Close Play With Foe

With a weak dummy player as a partner, Mr. Dale might have been content with a game in today's hand. But playing with Mr. Masters, he didn't hesitate to raise the opening no trump bid to six. He knew the hand would be well played and he had enough to offer some play for 12 tricks even if the opening bid were a minimum.

As it happened, Mr. Masters' hand was little more than a minimum and the contract was far from a laydown.

The queen of clubs was opened and after surveying the dummy, Mr. Masters saw he had 11 tricks off the top. He had three chances for his 12th trick—a three-three break in clubs, the drop of the jack of hearts in three leads and a squeeze.

CONCEDES FIRST TRICK

He conceded the first trick to make it easier to test the club distribution while retaining full control and also to facilitate the development of a squeeze. A club was continued and he won with the king. When Miss Brash discarded a heart, chance number one was gone.

The king and queen of hearts were now cashed, followed by the ace of clubs on which Miss Brash dropped a diamond and Mr. Masters the deuce of spades.

Three diamonds were now cashed and on the third one Mr. Champion discarded the trey of spades. The king of spades was played and everybody followed suit. On the lead of the last diamond from the closed hand, things got a little tight.

Miss Brash had to keep a guard for her jack of hearts and so had to release a spade. A club was played from the board and Mr. Champion also got rid of a club. But now the entire burden of guarding the spade suit lay on Mr. Champion. When the ace of hearts was cashed his situation was hopeless. If he dropped his last club, dummy's eight would be good.

So he discarded his next to last spade. Mr. Masters then played the club from dummy and took the last two tricks with dummy's ace and six of spades.

Canadian, B.C. Municipalities More Progressive

VICTORIA (CP) — Canadian municipalities are ahead of those in the United States and municipalities in B.C. are ahead of the rest of Canada in administrative progress.

Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs, B. C. Bracewell, made this statement to delegates at the 15th annual conference of the B.C. Municipal Officers' Association here Tuesday.

"I'm not saying this boastfully," he said, "but encouragingly."

The situation had come about to a great extent through Canadian heritages.

"We're not always prating about them and dangling them about, but I'm convinced that they're there."

Fisherman Stuck With Mud Shark

PORT ALBERNI, B.C. — Fisherman Alfred Nass returned to port here with a big fish, a ruined net and a dilemma.

He caught the two-ton mud shark at the south end of Alberni inlet and had to tow it here to salvage what he can of the net. Then, port authorities say, he'll have to tow the shark back to deep water to dispose of it.

Floods Cause Water Breaks In Cariboo

CLINTON, B.C. (CP) — Residents of this Cariboo village 250 miles northeast of Vancouver are without drinking water following a break in the water main caused by flooding of Clinton Creek during the week-end.

Residents at Loon Lake, 20 miles southeast, have been isolated by a flood which washed away miles of road between the Cariboo highway and the lake.

High water in Burnt Creek carried away the bridge at the junction of the creek and Fraser River, 60 miles north of here, leaving 2500 tons of the Fraser stranded in the area.
