Premier Mossadegh Blasts British at Opening of Trial

DON SCHWIND
AN (AP)—Angry ex-Mohammed Mossadegh, claiming the competence of a tribunal to try him, today threatened to commit suicide, fired his lawyer and warned the court he might boycott future sessions. Clad in his customary pajamas, the 73-year-old former premier told the court he would not appeal any sentence it might mete out.

"I will not accept any forgiveness. I will stay in this prison until I die. If you release me, I will commit suicide as soon as I get hold of the means," he shouted.

"I am not going to attend the coming sessions even if you cut off my head," he declared at the climax of a heated argument with Gen. Nasrollah Moghbell, chairman of the five-man tribunal.

SECOND DAY
It was the second day of the trial for Mossadegh's life. As he did on the first day, Mossadegh wept, panted, pounded the table and gesticulated. He made fiery speeches against the British whom he had fought to a deadlock over this nation's vast oil riches.

At both sessions, Mossadegh declared the military court was not competent to try him on charges he tried to overthrow the monarchy, defied the Shah and illegally dissolved the Majlis (lower house of parliament). And at each, he used the old argument—the British were the cause of Iran's woes—that once had brought him unprecedented power until his overthrow and subsequent arrest after a bloody Aug. 19 coup led by supporters of the Shah.

CHIEF EX-PRIMEIR
Moghbell charged Mossadegh for dragging out his anti-British arguments at this time—as though he already were defending himself—rather than sticking to the subject of the court's competence which was the first item of business.

Under Iranian army law, the first part of the trial turns on the point of the court's competence. If the court declares its own competence, the chief prosecutor can proceed to read the indictment.

PET HATRED

As Mossadegh ranged from this subject to his pet hatred for the British, the court chairman cut in, saying: "If you keep on talking like this, I will come to believe you have accepted the competence of the court."

"Leave these facts for the next sessions," he added.

Early in the session today, Mossadegh showed irritation at his lawyer, Col. Jalil Bozorgmehr. From time to time he mumbled to the court: "I am sick. If I am delaying, it is because I'm sick."

A noisy row over whether Mossadegh could make a speech served the ministers who were with him before Aug. 19 ended with the ex-dictator telling Bozorgmehr: "Go away from me. You are not my lawyer."

Italians Honor Trieste Victims In 10-Minute Work Stoppage

Removal Asked For U.K. Officers

By ALAN JACKS

ROME (AP)—Italians from Trieste to the toe of the peninsula laid down their tools today in a 10-minute "memorial" work stoppage for the six persons killed by police during Trieste rioting last week.

The suspension was called by all three of Italy's big labor federations representing nearly a million workers. They said only essential public services continued during the period. Many schools in Rome observed 10 minutes silence.

The nation-wide demonstration followed a bitter accusation Sunday against the British commander of the Trieste civil police by the Italian government. It's report said the bloodshed in the disrupted Adriatic city "was caused by riot-squad tactics of the police, which were characterized by extreme severity and the hasty use of fire-arms."

SAY ACTIONS UNJUSTIFIED

The report charged the police measures were unjustified and that the British had failed to heed advance warnings by Italian officials to ease the situation.

Today's work stoppage came on the second consecutive day of calm following the bloody riots that swept Italy last week.

Riot police and carabinieri stood guard outside the British embassy in Rome, where thousands of rioters battled police Saturday, but there was no demonstration.

Trieste itself, where an estimated 150,000 persons turned out Sunday to bury the six riot victims, also remained quiet.

CALLS FOR PROBE

Italian newspapers continued to demand removal of Maj. Gen. Sir John Winterton, Allied commander in Trieste's zone A.

Italian Prime Minister Giuseppe Pella called in a radio speech last night for a thorough parliamentary investigation to place the blame for the Trieste outbreak.

The government report issued after Pella spoke named British Majors M. H. R. Darraeger and Williams as leading police units which fired into the crowds. The report added that another British major invaded Trieste city hall "pistol in hand" and took an Italian flag from the balcony.

Pair Sentenced To Jail Terms

Jail terms were handed out by Magistrate W. D. Vance this morning in police court to two women who had pleaded guilty last week to theft and uttering forged documents. Adella Stewart was sentenced to six months in jail for theft and Lorna Steele was sentenced to six months for passing a forged traveller's cheque, the property of Gordon Sedore. The sentences are to run concurrently. A third person, Chuey Neil Chan, is awaiting sentence after being found guilty of forging a signature on the cheques, value of which totalled $900.

PoW Talks Remain Deadlocked

By JOHN RANDOLPH

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Indian chief of the Korean repatriation commission went to Kaesong today for a face-to-face meeting with the Red high command that may determine the future of the stragling Communist program to woo back thousands of its former soldiers.

The trip by Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya came after the Communists defied a set of ground rules for the interviews which he had laid down Friday night. Thimayya told the Reds in his new rules to call 500 prisoners, one compound, a day and forget about those they were unable to get to each day. Otherwise, he indicated, the Indians might have to take over the program themselves.

LAST DAY

However, the Communists on Monday morning demanded the remaining two-thirds of a Chinese compound which was one-third interviewed Thursday on the last day of explanations.

There has been considerable speculation that the Communists may be seeking to force an argument and bow out of the entire program with a propaganda blast that they were treated unfairly.

The repatriation commission also decided to delay action on a petition allegedly signed by prisoners in the north camp holding 22 Americans, one Briton and 332 South Koreans who have not returned to the Allies.

The commission said it wanted more time to study the protest, which denounced the Indians for not censoring incoming mail from the UN side.

Meanwhile, Allied and Red staff advisers met secretly in efforts to write an agenda for senior diplomats who will plan a Korean peace conference.

WEATHER

Forecast
North Coast Region: Gale warning in effect.
Rain today and Tuesday. Little change in temperature. Winds southeast 20 except 35 in exposed areas today.

THE OFFICIAL OPPOSITION—the Progressive Conservatives—will concentrate early in the new session of Parliament opening next Thursday on government trade policies which it contends have lost foreign markets. Opposition parties want Canada to sell more wheat abroad and relieve the current glut. This long wheat train is moving to a lakehead elevator, crammed, as are most elevators, with grain.

Young Padre Vanishes During Trip Aboard Parish Launch to Sidney

VANCOUVER (CP)—A young padre and a 34-year-old logger died during the week-end in similar accidents off the rugged B.C. coastline. Eight other persons in B.C. died violently between midnight Friday and late Sunday.

Rev. Thomas W. Muir fell from his parish launch, Chancellor, into the rain-swept waters of Swanson Channel off Moresby Island, 25 miles southwest of here.

The island is in the middle of the parish which the young minister used to administer from the cockpit of his small craft.

He was a graduate of the University of British Columbia and Trinity College in Toronto and served in corvettes during the Second World War. He is survived by his mother in Vancouver.

GEAR DAMAGED

RCMP said Mr. Muir was taking two fish company employees to Sidney, on Vancouver Island, to catch a plane when he vanished from the vessel. The two men investigated and turned the boat around to search for him, but could not handle the craft due to a damaged steering gear.

Chris Ingard, the logger, was lost overboard from a fishing boat which had been chartered by a group of loggers to return them to Englewood, B.C., from Alert Bay on Saturday.

Mr. Ingard's home is in Vancouver.

In other mishaps in B.C., six persons died in traffic, four of them in Vancouver, and two more were drowned. One man was killed cleaning a shotgun and a baby was suffocated.

DANGEROUS STREETS

On the prairies, at least three residents were killed and numerous others injured during the week-end as rising temperatures followed a general snowfall to turn streets and highways to sheets of ice and slush.

Two of the known fatalities occurred in Alberta, the other in Saskatchewan.

A collision involving a semi-trailer truck on the Calgary-Edmonton highway near Red Deer resulted in death to 18-year-old Lawrence Allan Sheets of Gleichen, Alta. It was the third fatal accident involving trailer-trucks on the highway in 10 days.

In Calgary, Lorraine Kemle, 21, died in hospital from injuries suffered when the car in which she was riding crashed into a power pole.

A 77-year-old yard caretaker, Bob Johnson, was killed late Sunday night when struck by a car while crossing at Saskatoon street.

TUGS ROUND UP LOGS AFTER GALE SPLITS BOOM
SEATTLE (AP)—The U.S. Coast Guard said Sunday night tugs had succeeded in rounding up most of the logs spread through the Strait of Juan de Fuca Saturday when a raft of 850,000 board feet of logs broke in a high wind.

Tugboats reported that most of the logs had been removed from the shipping lane.

Agreement on Disarmament Plan Again Sought by U.S.

By A. I. GOLDBERG

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States headed a new drive today to try to get world agreement on a workable disarmament program.

The American delegation to the UN placed fresh emphasis on the long-disputed issue in the light of the Korean truce.

Chief delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. was scheduled to deliver a major policy speech on the subject before the General Assembly's 60-national political committee.

Britain opened the debate last Friday. France's Jules Moch and other Western spokesmen expect to take the floor after Lodge, perhaps Tuesday.

Western members of the present disarmament commission—Canada, Chile, China, Colombia, Denmark, France, Greece, Lebanon, Pakistan, Britain and the United States—plus Brazil, Turkey and New Zealand have backed a resolution calling for renewed efforts to bring about a cut-down in the arms race.

The resolution proposes that savings affected in such a cut-down go into an international fund to help underdeveloped countries.

Inquest Planned In Miner's Death

Deputy-coroner George Dawes left Prince Rupert this morning for Terrace to conduct an inquest into the death of Anton Iverson, 60-year-old miner killed in the rock slide which wiped out the placer mining camp near Dorreen.

Iverson was working with his partners, John Secora and Oscar Nelson, October 27 when the rock slide crashed down the mountainside.

His body was found Friday by Secora and Nelson, who escaped serious injury in the slide.

FBI Hot on Trail of Lost Greenlease Ransom Money As $20 Bill Shows Up

DETROIT (AP)—Twenty dollars of the missing $308,000 Greenlease ransom money has appeared in Potoskey, Mich., according to a copyrighted story today by the Detroit Times.

The Times story said FBI agents have swarmed into Potoskey since last Tuesday when the $20 bill was discovered by Mrs. Henry J. Krauser, who operates a rooming house.

Mrs. Krauser identified the money from a list circulated by the FBI to all operators of hotels, motels, rooming houses and merchants. The Times said the number of bills discovered since the FBI came on the scene is a closely-guarded secret.

There have been no arrests more in connection with the passing of the money.

The Times said there was evidence that a rural mail truck driver in Manton, Mich., received the $20 note and paid it to Mrs. Krauser, unaware of the money's background.

Every operator of a business enterprise in Michigan's northern sector and every bank has been provided with a list of serial numbers from the un-recovered bills in the $800,000 paid by Robert C. Greenlease, Oct. 4, for the return of his son, Bobby, who was already dead.

One speculation holds that the missing ransom came into Michigan through Chicago's underworld where the money may have been sold by professional "fences" for 30 to 50 cents on the dollar.

All of the missing $308,000 is in $10 and $20 bills.

MAN DRIVER REVERSES AND HITS EIGHT CARS

VANCOUVER (CP)—A middle-aged woman motorist created city streets for a few hectic minutes Saturday, side-swiping eight cars, going through a red light and driving over survived. The woman would be summonsed on charges of

Alaska Line Problems

THE overwhelming problem of the Alaska line as of many other businesses is costly labor, but-tressed up with feather-bedding practices. Nobody with good sense denies that the worker, maritime or other, deserves top wages, but there can be little excuse for some of the irresponsible practices that have hurt the Alaska steamer trade. Nor is there any valid excuse for maritime unions to be Red-dominated and of very questionable loyalty, as some of them are.

The Alaska line has improved its passenger service considerably in the last year or two—and failed to advertise this fact. It has served areas the Canadians would not serve on a year-round basis, even if the Jones Act were changed to allow such unrestricted service. And of course the Alaska line had paid wages, social security, taxes and other costs in both Alaska and Washington state. We believe the Canadians, if permitted, would give Alaska good passenger service. And they might be allowed to do so by amending the law that limits their passenger service to Alaska—the Coastwise Shipping Act, we believe it is. The Jones Act is the one that forbids using Canadian bottoms to haul freight of American origin to Alaska. To repeal this clause would allow the Canadians to haul our freight from Seattle, Portland or other U.S. ports to Alaska, or to ship that freight to Vancouver by rail or truck for trans-shipment to the Territory.

Of course it can be argued with some logic that statehood is not far off, and that it will outlaw the Jones Act regardless. But when that time comes perhaps the senators from Alaska will recommend and obtain action on shipping legislation resembling the interim plan of 1946-47. It does not seem wise, from the standpoint of Alaskan growth or national defense, to let the Alaska line pull out of the passenger trade, and face the possibility of giving up later in freight transportation, too.

Ray REFLECTS and REMINISCES

Not so long ago the British Columbia coast learned there would soon be a protection service where maritime affairs were concerned. Canadian craft would attempt to save or help shipping hailing from Canada instead of south of the line. Perhaps action is on already, but we're still curious.

Christmas cards are becoming more popular every year in the Old Country. Six hundred million were sent last year. The card was designed in 1843 by a member of the Royal Academy, but very few were printed, yet they were the start of the huge industry.

HOW THEY FEEL?

The Liberals lost to a Progressive Conservative candidate in an Ontario by-election, says the St. Thomas Times-Journal. As there are only six Liberals to 80 Progressive Conservatives in the House, the Liberals must feel that "Unto every one that hath shall be given and he shall have abundance, but from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath."

It's later than you think after you have sat for most of the evening watching TV programs.

It feels good to have some folks tell you they are in good shape, feel happy and know their business was never more prosperous. That's the way the millers in Saskatoon have been talking, according to last night's radio. All realize which side their bread is buttered on.

HARD TO DO

Once again, after the lapse of 37 years, Great Britain refuses to allow the body of Sir Roger Casement, hanged in an English prison, to be given permanent burial at Murlough Bay in County Antrim. The bearded, fiery-eyed prisoner just before execution declared "Once they've done with me, don't let my bones lie in this dreadful place. Take me back to Murlough to lie there." Sir Roger, during the First Great War, had been aiding Germany. But to make any change now, announces British law "would set a difficult precedent."

The trouble with so many of the girls is that they're mad if the laddies whistle at them and madder if they don't. Visitors from some parts of Canada say a dollar, in Paris, will buy much more of a dinner, a shot of style, manners, and no cold tea spilled on the counter.

Remember, remember the Fifth of November. No chance! It's 438 years since Guy Fawkes tried to blow up the British parliament. Thursday night 10,000 students tried to stage a march on the House. But London police remembered a long way back too.

Everyone, says an Ottawa publisher, should learn how to die. He's also something of a philosopher. It might be added that this change is much easier said than done, and there is this much certain. It must be learned in a single lesson.

The doors were wide open to him in Russia, says Chas. C. Hoffman, International Trade Service, who spent weeks there. Particularly so long as it concerned Canada, they clamored for anything—maps, pamphlets, data and all round information. This sort of Soviet invasion has a different feel.

Wishful Thinking

ABOARD CNR EAST-BOUND: The train stops just long enough at Blue River to permit a quick shave in peace.

I even have time to re-read last night's front pages, which say that Winston Churchill now believes there is real hope of world peace. He figures that when everybody has the hydrogen bomb nobody will use it! With all due respect to the grand old man, I do not think his argument quite holds water; rather I am inclined to think that it is wishful thinking on the part of the most illustrious knight since the days of the fabled round table of King Arthur.

IN HITLER'S war neither side used poison gas, though Hitler was restrained from doing so by no moral scruple.

Indeed, the whole point of Hitler was that he was the first leader of a modern state who plainly wrote that it was right for a leader and a master race to have no scruples whatsoever in driving for their goals.

But not even Hitler gave the order to use the gas, against which neither side had any adequate protection. Yet Hitler fought on till his own country was in utter ruin.

Likewise in Korea. The fact that neither side used atom bombs did not stop the war.

So if Sir Winston's argument is sound, it would mean—that neither side would ever go to war. Rather it would mean that both sides would refrain from using hydrogen bombs—just as both sides refrained from using poison gas—but the world struggle would be carried on by other means.

LOOKING back at the lessons of history, I see nothing whatever to suggest that, just because the great governments of the world got bigger and deadlier weapons, they became more lamb-like, and less inclined to act like what the Bible so aptly calls "the beasts."

There was a time when the knight on horseback—clad in steel like a one-man tank—was the decisive factor in warfare. The only protection against him was the stone fortress. In the end the fortress builders got so expert that they did build some forts which never were conquered.

But the substitution of the musket and cannon for the bow and arrow wiped out the old method of warfare. People ridiculed knights in armor. But wars went on.

I THINK CHURCHILL is right to this extent: the fact that both the U.S.A. and Russia already have the hydrogen bombs—and soon every nation, great and small, will have them too—gives our world a "breather."

None of the great governments has yet quite figured out the effects of the new devices. All are re-grouping their armies. But in my opinion it is only a dull, and not real peace. The only real answer to the splitting of the atom by the scientists is the uniting of the nations by the lawgivers.

Churchill of no Churchill we will never get real peace through fear—only through law.

LETTERBOX

THE REAL ISSUE

The Editor,
The Daily News:

I feel that Mr. McCaffery's letter calls for an answer as he is obviously side-stepping the real issue in the UFAWU versus the new union dispute.

Everyone agrees that the UFAWU has accomplished a great deal for fishermen and shoreworkers. Everyone must agree, too, that Alex Gordon has been an excellent business agent and has worked for the bettering of conditions for members of the union.

However — and this is the whole issue — Mr. Alex Gordon is an avowed Communist. So also are the other top men in the union. And, as communists, their first loyalty is to Soviet Russia and they are using their prestige in the union for the advancement of something that threatens our very way of life in Canada.

So strong is the Red element in the UFAWU that the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada has suspended the union... and the results of this will be more and more apparent as time goes on.

What government will negotiate with an organization that is not recognized as bonafide by our own Canadian Labor leaders?

As a result of all this, certain of our British Columbia fishermen have formed a new union

VICTORIA REPORT

By J. K. M.

VICTORIA—The government, in the Victoria by-election Nov. 24, is lucky because the opposition is divided four ways—Liberal, Conservative, CCF and LPP. This should make it easy for Finance Minister Gundersen to get elected. Governments always like the opposition to be well split up, and that's why the Bennett Government is happy as it contemplates Nov. 24.

There's the usual name-calling going on. Premier Bennett and former Premier Johnson are engaged in a bitter argument about finances. Mr. Bennett says it's this way, and Mrs. Johnson says, oh, no, it isn't; it's the other way. Mr. Gundersen hopped in to say it was both ways. Anyway, it's just a matter of bookkeeping. Politicians at election time always argue about high finance, and the public can't make sense of either side. So Messrs. Bennett and Johnson aren't breaking new trails; a similar, and very famous argument went on in the 1937 election campaign between Mr. Hart and Mr. Anson. Mr. Hart said it was one way and Mr. Anson said it wasn't, it was just the opposite. The public believed them both, and each was elected.

And so now it's Madame Senator Nancy Hodges. A few years back it was Madame Speaker Nancy Hodges. Everybody hopes Mrs. Hodges will be able to live up to the dignified, somnulent Senate in Ottawa, as once she lived up to the B.C. Legislature. It'll be a tough job, but if anyone can do it Nancy can. Mrs. Hodges was always best in the B.C. House when she was going after the CCF. However, most of the Senate is now composed of Liberals, who, naturally, see eye to eye. The few Conservatives left are too old to have much fight left in them. There aren't any CCF or Social Credit Senators, and there won't be as long as the Liberals are in power. So it's going to be difficult for Nancy, but she'll probably find some way of making the headlines.

Fact that J. A. Reid, MLA for Salmon Arm, has bought a house in Victoria keeps the buzz going that he's going to be taken into the cabinet. There could well be much in this buzz.

It's highly unusual for an up-country member to move to Victoria unless he has been given the tip he'll get a cabinet job. To move out of his home constituency and live in Victoria, as a private MLA, is almost a certain way of courting defeat in the next election.

When Attorney-General Bonner was sworn in as Minister of Education, Premier Bennett said the appointment was only temporary. After the by-election it is fully expected a new cabinet minister will be named.

Mr. Reid was the Social Credit gentleman who started a great rumpus about education at the Spring session of the House. The Premier, and then Minister of Education, Mrs. Tilly Ralston, were so shocked at what he said about teachers and the public schools' curriculum that they immediately repudiated Mr. Reid, although they said he was free to speak his own mind if he wanted to.

So it's hardly likely Mr. Reid would be named Minister of Education. This would only stir things up all over again. But there could be a minor cabinet shuffle coming. We hear that Provincial Secretary-Minister of Municipal Affairs Wesley Black, a teacher, might get education, and Mr. Reid become Provincial Secretary and Minister of Municipal Affairs.

It's said Mr. Anson is writing his memoirs, but that they won't be published until after his death.

It's good to know Mr. Anson is writing his political memoirs, but it's a great shame they won't be published until he dies. Everyone hopes Mr. A. will live long yet, but 25 or 30 years is too long to wait for the Anson memoirs.

Future generations will be interested in the picture of the political times through which Mr. Anson moved with such distinction. But so is the generation that moved on with Mr. Anson, and if that generation has to wait until he dies it will be out of luck. Most of us will never know what went on behind-the-scenes in the hectic days of Coalition.

Mr. Anson's political life was

Believe it or not... this could be you

The man whose picture belongs here is not necessarily a celebrity or a leading citizen. Indeed, he might be any one of millions of Canadians.

How did so many people benefit their communities greatly? Simply by insuring their lives! In this way, the motion a series of events which have far-reaching effects on themselves and their fellow-citizens.

Take for instance the new highways, schools, power plants, homes, hotels, hospitals and other important works now being built from coast to coast. Many of these projects have been financed with money which life insurance companies have invested for their policyholders.

Or look at the workers streaming out from some industrial plant. They may owe their jobs to life insurance policyholders who provide the money needed for investment in that plant's expansion.

Good health, too, is promoted by life insurance policyholders. Several important medical research projects, supported by life insurance company funds, are waging against polio, heart ailments, cancer and other diseases.

But perhaps the life insurance owner's most important service is not any of these things. It is the way he provides for his family so that they will not be a financial burden on his relatives or the community.

Mansons and CCC Win Cage Openers

Manson's 51, Gordon & Anderson's 34
CCC 47, Terrace 26

Manson's Omegas and Columbia Cellulose 300 Club emerged as winners in the two-game card featured for the opening night of the Prince Rupert basketball season.

Manson maintained a steady lead throughout all four quarters of the first game to trim last year's champions Gordon & Anderson's 51-34 in the first Senior B league game. CCC grew stronger every quarter to trounce a Terrace squad 47-26 in an exhibition game.

Chairman of the Prince Rupert Basketball commission Fred Jones made the opening remarks, thanking the fair-sized crowd for its patronage and introducing cage commissioner "Slim" Davidson, high school representative on the commission.

"Since the majority of our players are drawn from the high school it is only fitting that a high school representative toss up the first ball," Mr. Jones said. The accuracy of Manson's Ray Spring, Art Olson, Danny Bill and Mickey Webster proved too much for the G & A who even when they reached scoring positions failed to hit the bucket. Minor Simundsen, G & A coach, watched his squad lose out time and time again under the Manson basket and watched last year's runner-ups make good many a floor-length break.

Danny Bill was the star for Mansons, sinking seven baskets and two free shots for a total of 16 points. Ray Spring with 12 points and Mickey Webster with 11 and Art Olson with 10 took care of the remaining Manson points except two netted by Don Hartwig.

G & A were weakened by the fact that Glen (Tiny) Carlson was at work and Rupe Holkestad had hurt his foot by stepping on a nail.

For G & A, Joe Davis, Jimmy Flaten and Ted Arney were the sharpshooters, each collecting 8 points apiece.

Simundsen's crew sank 6 of eight free shots while Bill McChesney's charges had five chances and scored on three.

Mansons led 11-9 at the first quarter, 23-17 at the half, and 39-26 at the end of the third.

The opening game was exceptionally clean, only ten fouls being committed, four by G & A and six by the winners. Flaten of G & A and Hartwig of Mansons were the major offenders with three each.

Terrace's offering to this district's basketball was only impressive by its team's unwillingness to give up.

Coach of the Terrace rep team Bill Wellings was introduced by Fred Jones, who said the exhibition was a test game to see if the visitors were good enough to play in the local Senior B league.

However, only in the second and final quarters did Pop Pay's CCC squad look at all effective. The first quarter was tied at 6-6 and in the second stanza CCC outscored the visitors 11-4 to give a half-time score of 17-10. CCC only had a 10-9 edge in the third quarter but smartened up in the final canto to outscore the tiring Terrace crew 20 to 7.

CCC had their practiced plays down pat but they just didn't click until the last quarter. Terrace, with a few veteran cagers and no orthodox style, kept hammering away until they ran out of steam.

Don Scherk with 17 points and Marshall with 10 sparked the CCC victory while Chick Geisser with 9 and Larry Matthews with 5 were top point getters for Terrace.

Terrace committed 12 fouls to CCC's 11 with Matthewson and Sarich of the visitors and Sunberg for the Pulp Millers each getting three.

CCC sank 7 out of 16 free shots while Terrace bucketed 6 in 12 tries.

CCC—S. Scherk 8, D. Scherk 17, Thompson 1, Marshall 10, Christensen, Cameron 1, Dumas 5, Sunberg 5, Peterson. Total 47.

TERRACE—Patterson, Matthews 5, Sharon 3, Pedersen 4, Geiser 9, Sarich 2, Gillanders, Hampson 2, Rose, Matthewson 1, Total 26.

Gordon & Anderson—Davis 3, Flaten 8, Holkestad, Webber 6, Carlson, Arney 3, Currie, Flewin 2, Abbey 2, Total 34.

Mansons—Spring 12, Olson 10, Bill 16, Hartwig 2, Webster 11, Evans, Walsh, Ratchford, Total 51.

Referees: Vern Ciccone, Boyo Gurvich.

Argonauts Out Of Playoffs

By The Canadian Press
Western Interprovincial Football Union clubs, whose sad experiences against Toronto Argonauts in the Grey Cup final are legend, can relax. The defending cup champions are out of the picture this year.

The curtain on an in-and-out Toronto season was lowered Saturday at Ottawa when the Rough Riders, going from the straight T to split-T formations, swept Argonauts out of the Big Four playoff scene with a 13-4 triumph.

It was Riders' second victory in two weeks over a club that has been perhaps the greatest opportunist team in the Canadian game.

The victory, coupled with Montreal Alouettes' 31-18 triumph over Hamilton Tiger-Cats, left Argonauts out of reach of a playoff spot with only one game remaining in the 14-game schedule.

Olson, Shenton's Top 5-Pinners

Art Olson of Shenton's rolled a high single of 330 and high three of 844 to top play in the Mixed Five-Pin Bowling League and Shenton's also captured most other honors during the night. Jessie Shenton rolled 695 to take ladies' high triple in Group 2 and Shenton's won both team high single and high three with scores of 1395 and 3888. Ladies' high single was taken by Agnes Pierce of Fashion Footwear with 290.

Betty Hydman of Thom Sheet Metal captured high single in Group 1 with a score of 267 and shared high triple honors with Bessie Ing of Whalen's Lucky Six when they both rolled 560. Gerry Lord of Whalen's hit 300 to get men's high single and Bert Edgar of Whalen's took men's high triple with 675. Whalen's took double team honors with high team single of 1245 and high three of 3352.

Eskimos Trounce Bombers

By DON HANRIGHT
Canadian Press Staff Writer
EDMONTON (CP) —

Edmonton Eskimos, relaxed and warm in their new heated dugouts in Clarke Stadium, scampered out in the frigid air Saturday night to whip the numbed Winnipeg Blue Bombers 25-7 in the first game of the best-of-three Western Interprovincial Football Union finals.

A bitter wind sent icy blasts across the snow-hardened field but on the Edmonton bench two big heaters, of the type used by the air force to heat aircraft engines in cold weather, threw waves of warm air over the Eskimos and two huge ducts carried the heat along the gravel-bottomed pen.

Meanwhile, Bombers were taking their breathers huddled under parkas and blankets on a similar uncovered dugout bench.

Edmonton football fans are wondering if it was this new heating system that got quarterback Claude Arnold and reserve quarter Ray Willsey so warmed up that their combined efforts on polished signal-calling stopped Bombers cold.

Negro scatback Rollie Miles, touchdown twin of the injured all-star halfback Billy Vessels, plunged over for two easy majors to spur an almost invincible Eskimo ground attack.

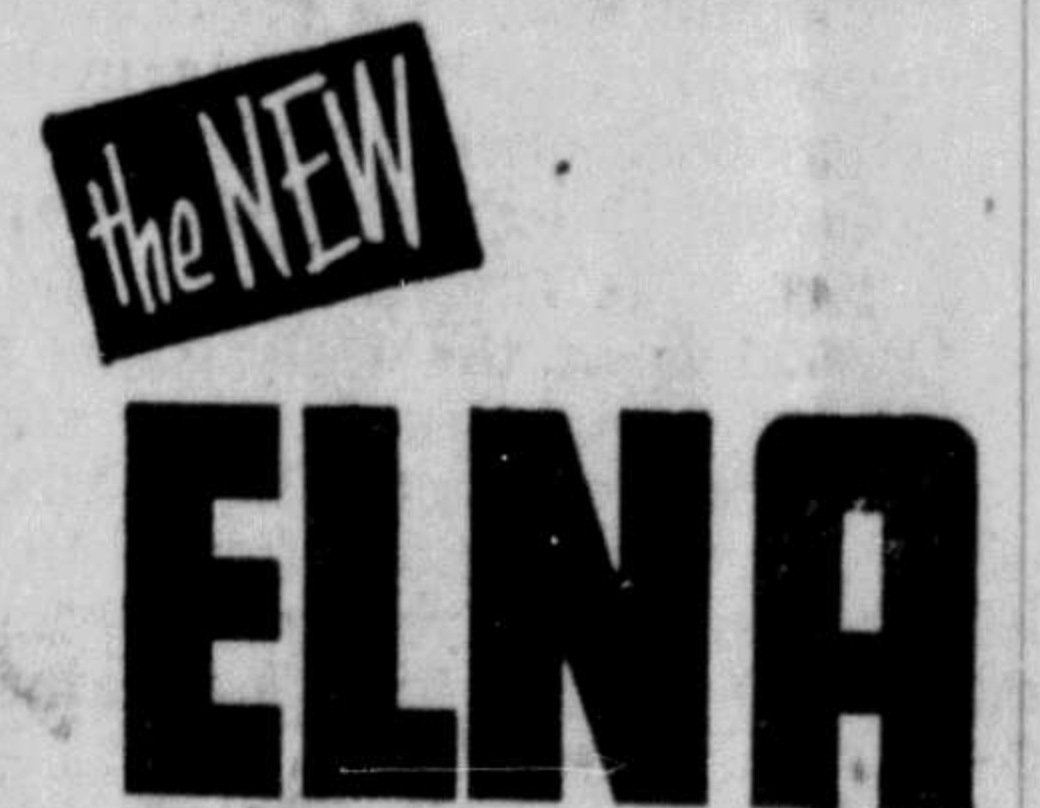

Rod Pantages, former Vancouver junior, subbed brilliantly for Eskimos' other all-star casualty, backfielder Normie Kwong. Pantages went over for the third Edmonton touchdown, and his accurate toe lifted seven punts, an average of 53 yards, and two of them resulted in singles.

End Neill Armstrong caught a five-yard toss across the line for the Winnipeg major with only a minute remaining and while Eskimo coach Darrel Royal was using an eager line of second-stringers. Bud Korchak converted.

The other Bomber point came in the first quarter when Miles was bullied back over the line after taking Jack Jacobs' long punt.

Quarterback Joe Zaleski couldn't manoeuvre his line through the flurry of Edmonton players who repeatedly charged the Bomber backfield from scrimmage.

Eskimos outran Bombers 204 yards to a meagre 43 second game will be played at Winnipeg Wednesday.

Ties With Rangers and Leafs Drop Wings Into Second Slot

By The Canadian Press
There is a natural temptation today to write down Detroit Red Wings, the National Hockey League's perennial champions.

Twice this week-end, Wings had to scramble for a tie against clubs that not even their best friends would rate on a par with the mighty Detroiters.

Instead of gaining on league-leading Montreal Canadiens, held to an even break by Boston Bruins, Detroit dropped into a second-place tie with Toronto Maple Leafs and have the Bruins breathing down their necks a single point back.

All this resulted from 2-2 ties against the Leafs and New York Rangers in which the five-time league title-holders never held the lead at any stage. Alex Delvecchio saved them in Toronto Saturday night with some six minutes' playing time left. Ted Lindsay cut it finer Sunday, tying it up with less than three minutes to go.

But there are signs that the Detroit situation isn't as unhealthy as it appears at first glance. In their 13 starts this season the Wings have won six, lost three and tied four. That leaves them four points behind Canadiens, who have an identical 2-1 ratio of wins over losses and have played two more games.

The Detroit defensive average 1.38 goals a game scored against them is easily the best in the NHL. Rookie centre Earl Reibel and his famed line-mates, Lindsay and Gordie Howe, top the league scoring race, with defenceman Red Kelly close behind.

Ted Sloan and George Armstrong were the Leaf marksmen Saturday night. Lindsay fired the first Detroit goal. In other action Saturday, the Canadiens beat Boston for the first time this season, 5-2, and New York edged last-place Chicago Black Hawks 3-2. The Hawks suffered their second home loss Sunday as the Leafs edged them 2-1. The Bruins blanked Montreal 2-0 at Boston.

Spokane Cuts Smokie Lead
Saturday, Kelowna Packers dropped a 6-2 decision to hosting Kamloops Elks and Penticton V's visited Vernon Canadians, bowing 5-1. Both were OSAHL games.

Over in the WIHL, the home-townies again picked up all the marbles, Kimberley Dynamiters losing 7-4 to Nelson Maple Leafs and Trail Smoke Eaters wallowing 8-3 before Spokane Flyers Saturday. In a return fixture Sunday, Trail lost again, 4-1.

52 Canadian Ambassadors of Goodwill

THE CANADA STORY is being told abroad as perhaps no other living nation's story ever has been told... told as only art, the universal language, can tell it.

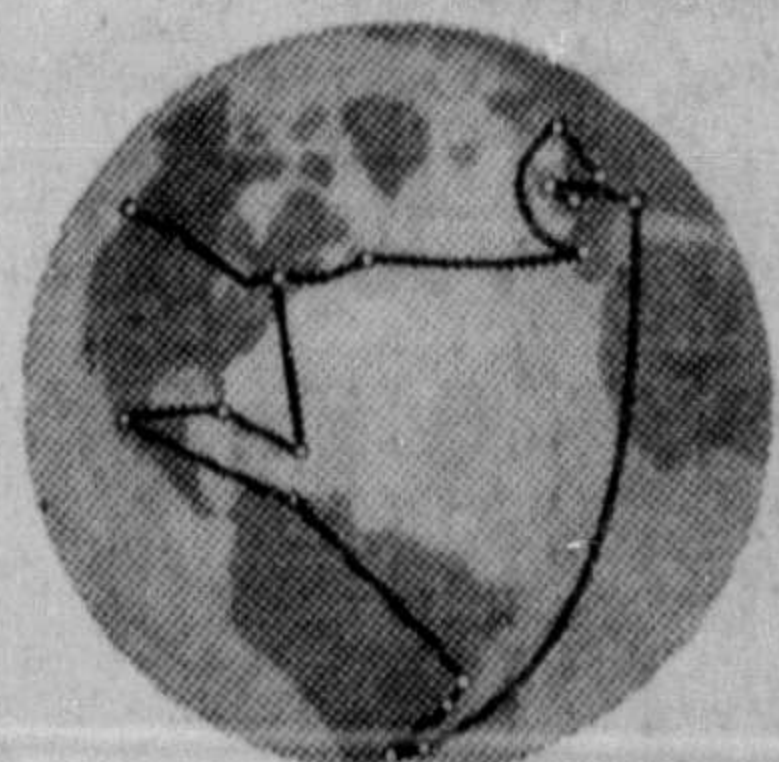

When The House of Seagram commissioned the painting of 52 portraits of Canadian cities by distinguished Canadian artists and then dispatched those paintings by air on a 30,000-mile international tour, it was with the earnest hope that greatly increased understanding and goodwill toward Canada would follow.

There was little doubt that these graphic glimpses of the Canadian skyline and landscape would bring to people of many lands a deeper interest in Canada and a warmer feeling of friendliness for the Canadian people.

Today the Seagram Collection is barely half-way on its international tour—and the actuality is daily outstripping the most optimistic of advance estimates. Throughout Latin America... in San Juan, Havana, Mexico City, Caracas, Rio de Janeiro, Sao Paulo, Buenos Aires... Canada, through Seagram's airborne art gallery, is Page One news. Not only at the time of the formal previews for leaders of government, industry, the professions and society, but throughout the seven-to-ten day public showings in each city the Canadian paintings and the cities they represent are major topics of interest in the news pages, on radio, and television, in everyday conversation.

As these Canadian ambassadors of goodwill leave Montevideo for Rome, Paris, London, Stockholm, Geneva and Madrid, more than 60,000 people already have studied the collection and carried home brochures reproducing the paintings in full colour. More than that, they have carried away vivid personal impressions of Canada as a great and growing country—a land of vast natural and industrial resources and remarkable human resourcefulness.

Fuel Arrives For Kitimat Pots

KITIMA (CP)—Production of aluminum at the Aluminum Company of Canada's Kitimat smelter moves a step closer to reality Saturday with the arrival of the first cargo of gas briquettes to "bake" ore-reducing pots.

The 12-ton pots will be baker for six weeks as the first step towards actual production.

The briquettes are being hauled 800 miles from Portland, Ore., by deepsea tug.

Former Carnival Strip Teaser Held After Kidnapped Baby Found Alive

DURANT, Okla. (AP)—Federal Bureau of Investigation agents held in secret custody here today a 17-year-old former carnival strip teaser and the five-month-old baby boy they said she admitted kidnapping in Evansville, Ind., to replace her two children who died at birth. Agents arrested Mrs. Norma

Jean Doughty and recovered the baby, Richard Lee Stammer, alive. They were found at the home of Mrs. Doughty's father, Buford H. Mason, north of nearby Bokchito.

The arrest occurred only a few hours after Mrs. Doughty arrived in this area following her two-day flight with the baby through four states by hitch-hiking and bus rides.

Special FBI agent James C. Ellsworth reported the baby was placed immediately under a physician's care and appeared "to be none the worse for wear and tear."

Ellsworth also announced that the U.S. district attorney at Muskogee, Okla., has authorized that kidnapping charges be filed against the woman.

MOTHER BITTER

Mrs. Shirley Stammer, 18, was stunned when told at Evansville that the baby and his abductor had been found. "We can just be thankful he's OK," she said. "I was awfully bitter against her, but not too bitter now."

The Stammers said they hadn't slept since their baby disappeared Friday night with the babysitter who lived across the hall from the apartment of Mrs. Stammers' mother.

Ellsworth reported Mrs. Doughty told him she "fell in love with the baby" immediately last Friday when his mother brought the child to his grandmother's to be cared for during the evening. She was hired as a babysitter for the occasion.

At Gainesville, Tex., police said the woman's husband, B. R. Doughty, is seeking an annulment of their marriage.

Although Mrs. Doughty said she took the child to replace two children of her own that she lost, Doughty said as far as he knew she had no children

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

It Shouldn't Happen to Mr. Champion

"This is ridiculous," said Mr. Champion savagely when he discovered the situation in the club suit. He meant that things like that shouldn't happen to him.

Mr. Muzzy had opened the trey of diamonds and Mr. Champion had won with the king. He then cashed the ace and queen of clubs. On the second club Mr. Muzzy showed out, dropping the trey of hearts.

As you see, the club suit was now blocked. If another club is led to the king, the high club is then in the closed hand—and there are no more entries to dummy.

If Mr. Champion leads the nine of clubs and ducks in dummy, Mrs. Keen will win with the jack and the defenders can then win four tricks in diamonds.

Well, when you don't have the entries you need to make your contract you can always try to enlist the aid of your opponents. Mr. Muzzy had led the trey of diamonds so it appeared he didn't have more than five cards in the suit. If he could be enticed into cashing his diamonds, the hand could still be made.

So at trick four Mr. Champion tossed out his six of diamonds. "Ridiculous is right," commented Mr. Muzzy, to whom it ap-work for Inco?

"Well, in the city of Sudbury there are upwards of 50,000 people, and 20,000 more in the mining communities around Sudbury. A large proportion of them work for Inco or have jobs that wouldn't exist if it weren't for the nickel mines and plants. Many more work at the great nickel refinery at Port Colborne, Ontario."

"It must cost a lot for wages?"
"Yes, dear, in 1952 the International Nickel Company paid over $65,000,000 in wages and salaries to Canadian workers. And of course thousands more people earned a living producing the food, clothing, furniture and other things bought by nickel employees, and the machinery, equipment, lumber and power used in the nickel mines and plants. So Inco really helps to create employment all over Canada."
