The President in Commons

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER addressed a joint session of the Commons during his two-day state visit to Ottawa last weekend. This is one of several pictures taken during the visit to Ottawa by the President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

Cellulose Woods Chief Signs Post

L. Johnson, 48-year-old chief of the woods division of the Columbia Cellulose Company since June, 1950, has resigned and will leave for the United States about mid-December. He has been succeeded by R. J. Ford, chief forester at the Island plant since the fall of 1951.

'Substantial Increase' in Crime Noted in Annual RCMP Report

OTTAWA — The RCMP reports a "substantial increase" in crime in Canada. The force's annual report blames the rising crime rate on greater activity by narcotics peddlers and safecrackers, and on a sharp increase in the number of motorists charged with impaired or drunken driving, both criminal charges. The report, issued today, also says: There is little hope that British Columbia's Doukhobor problem will be solved by emigration of the fanatical Sons of Freedom. Smuggling of United States cigarettes has declined following the cut in price of the Canadian product early this year. There is no indication of any trend toward narcotics addiction among teen-agers in Canada. The force is making plans for the construction of a permanent headquarters in Ottawa. The report says criminal investigations by the force in the 1952-53 fiscal year ended last March 31 totalled 167,354, an increase of 20,450 or 13.9 per cent over the previous year. During the year, the force investigated 46,909 infractions of the Criminal Code, an increase of 5.07 per cent over the previous year. The number of murder cases totalled 34, a decrease of six; but attempted murders rose to 22 from 17, manslaughters to 105 from 104 and assaults to 3,459 from 3,347. The report says there has been "no indication of any lessening of the illicit traffic in narcotics drugs." It says 495 Canadians were arrested during the year for violation of the opium and narcotic drug act compared with 444 the previous year. Total number of safe-crackings increased during the year to 190 from 122. The report says 4,253 motorists were charged during the year with driving while intoxicated or while their ability to drive was impaired by alcohol. This was an increase of 2,111 over the last nine months of the fiscal year ended March 31, 1952. The impaired driving charge did not become law until June 30, 1951.

Island Floods On Way Down

CAMPBELL RIVER — Flood waters have started to recede at Campbellton and residents today hoped their streets would soon be open to cars and not boats. Youngsters yesterday raced outboard motorboats through the streets in water almost three feet deep in places, as the dam on Campbell River failed to cope with high waters caused by 10 days of rain. fall this month was 2.53 inches Nov. 3. With a weather-eye cocked to the fast-growing mantle of snow on distant mountain peaks across the harbor and on the sight of their own frosty breath clouding the crisp air this morning, housewives dropped scrubbing and shopping routines to dig extra blankets and winter clothes out of the mothballs, muttering "Winter's here."

Temperature Drops to 30 Above Old Man Winter Rears Head

Man Winter's hoary was felt in Prince Rupert this morning as he dropped the mercury to two below freezing, coated streets and roofs with frost, and sent motorists to the nearest garage for a check-up. This morning's temperature was 30 degrees above zero, the winter's first warning. The mercury dropped to 31

QCA Quits Kitimat Service

VANCOUVER.—Queen Charlotte Airlines has suspended all regular flights to the Aluminum Company of Canada project at Kitimat, effective today. The reason given was "hazards of winter flying." Airline officials also announced plans to install navigational aids and weather stations at the entrance to Douglas Channel, leading inland to Kitimat. Completion of plans hinges on the outcome of an Air Transport Board hearing here Nov. 24. QCA will argue before the board for route protection which would prevent other airlines from directly serving Kitimat from Vancouver. Pacific Western Airlines which plans to fight the QCA application, reports it will continue its daily air service to Kitimat.

Other Subversives Needed in Roundup

KANSAS CITY.—Former President Harry S. Truman knew that Harry Dexter White had been accused of disloyalty but decided to retain him in order not to endanger an intensive investigation of subversives both in and out of the government service. Speaking over a nation-wide radio and television hook-up last night, Mr. Truman said further: "The manner and timing of what has been done makes it clear that the powers of the attorney-general have been prostituted for hopes of political gain. No election is worth so much." Truman's first answer to Brownell's charges was that Republicans were "desperate" because of recent election reverses in New York and New Jersey.

FRANK CALDER, guest speaker

HELD DISCUSSIONS

At one point in his speech, he lashed out with this: "It is now evident that the present administration has fully embraced, for political purposes, McCarthyism. I am not referring to the senator for Wisconsin. He is only important in that his name has taken on a dictionary meaning in the world." Mr. Truman said that following Senate confirmation of White as the U.S. member on the board of directors of the International Monetary Fund a series of discussions was held between himself, Treasury Secretary Fred Vinson, Attorney-General Tom Clark and other government officials. "The conclusion was reached that the appointment should be allowed to take its normal course. The final responsibility for this decision, of course, was mine. The reason for the decision was that the charges which had been made to the FBI against Mr. White also involved many other persons..." "It was of great importance to the nation that this investigation be continued in order to prove or disprove these charges and to determine if still other persons were implicated."

Frank Calder Going East For Meeting

The first Native ever elected to a legislature, Frank Calder has been invited to speak at the Indian International Convention at Ottawa next Tuesday and is leaving by train tonight for the Canadian capital. CCF member of the B.C. Legislature for Atlin since 1949, it will be his first journey east. Representatives from every province in Canada will attend. Among others from B.C. who will go to the convention is Andy Paull, head of the North American Brotherhood. Purpose of the convention is to compare problems between Canadian and American Indians. Mr. Calder's main theme will probably concern formation of a national body to assist the government in settling problems concerning natives. Every province has a provincial organization, but there is no national group in Canada to which the other organizations can direct their requests. While in Ottawa, Mr. Calder, who is secretary of the Native Brotherhood of B.C., also will discuss with federal authorities proposed changes in the Indian Act, which is scheduled to go before the Commons this session. He will also discuss the Jay Treaty, which concerns Indians paying duty on goods brought into Canada from the United States.

Soviet Call For Big Parley Seen Wedge in Bermuda Talks

LONDON (Reuters)—Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov's renewed call for a five-power conference seeks to split France from the United States and Britain in their Bermuda talks, British officials said today. They said the timing of Molotov's statement to a press conference in Moscow Friday sought undoubtedly to influence the French National Assembly debate next week on the European Defence Community treaty. Of the Big Three members, France is the strongest supporter of a five-power conference to include Communist China. Premier Joseph Laniel's attitude at the four-day Bermuda conference with President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill starting Dec. 4 will be heavily influenced by the all-out assembly debate from next Tuesday to Friday. British officials said Molotov obviously is seeking through a new propaganda attack to halt France from ratifying the EDC treaty which would place French troops alongside those of her historic enemy, Germany, in a six-country defence force. Other troops would come from Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg. Molotov's demand that Communist China attend a conference on world tension before the Big Four open talks on Germany also plays up to the growing French desire to end the costly war in Indo-China. A copy of Molotov's statement was dispatched to Prime Minister Churchill's office. Diplomatic sources said Churchill's proposal for the Bermuda meeting probably provoked Molotov into giving his first Kremlin press conference since the Second World War.

B.C. Seeks Coast-Guard Service

VICTORIA — The federal government will be formally asked to establish an "adequate Pacific coast guard service." A resolution by Anthony Garrahy, CCF member of the legislature for Mackenzie, passed at the recent session of the legislature, has been forwarded by the British Columbia cabinet to Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace with the request that he pass it on to Ottawa. The resolution asks for men and life-saving equipment to be stationed at points on the coastline so as to extend the utmost protection to lives in peril through marine disasters in coastal waters.

Polio Outbreak Panics Edmonton

EDMONTON (CP)—The most serious outbreak of polio in the history of this city of 183,000 has caused a mild panic among parents and created a critical shortage of qualified hospital staff. Health authorities said they believed the peak has been reached. No telegraph service was available for more than 14 hours and the Daily News received no Canadian Press wire service on its teletype last night. Also cut off was radio station CFPR which was unable to bring in Canadian Broadcasting Corporation programs or news.

Beavers Isolate Rupert

All telephone and telegraphic communication between Prince Rupert and the outside world was cut off from 10:45 p.m. yesterday until after 1 p.m. today. Cause of the failure is not known, but Canadian National Telegraphs spokesmen said they believed it was caused when night-working beavers felled a tree over lines at Exstew. No telegraph service was available for more than 14 hours and the Daily News received no Canadian Press wire service on its teletype last night. Also cut off was radio station CFPR which was unable to bring in Canadian Broadcasting Corporation programs or news.

Londoners Ask Early Solution To Annual Death-Dealing Smog

By COLIN FROST
LONDON (AP)—Winter, the time of death-dealing smog, is coming. Worried Londoners, who remember last December's doubled death rate, are flooding newspaper offices and Parliament members with letters. They demand quick action to end pollution of the air before winter's fog turns it into throat-catching yellow smog. Last week the government announced that Britons with heart and lung diseases would be supplied with free smog masks through the national health service. Medical men say last winter's smogs killed around 12,000 persons, most of them infants or old people. The government is probing these deaths with "gravest urgency." But some critics, however, say the government, after announcing it would set up an inquiry commission, took six months to name its members. Up to Sept. 30, they charge, the smog inquiry commission had held only one meeting. Any attack on smog must be a slow, and costly, business. Atmospheric pollution in a big city comes from three main sources: Factories, homes and vehicles. London is trying to cut down chimney smoke in two ways. It is encouraging factories and householders to install efficient heating systems using smokeless fuel. That's not easy in Britain where a blazing coal fire is part of the household tradition. "Smokeless zones" are being set up in industrial and commercial areas. Inside these zones, no factory or office is permitted to belch smoke. A vast upsurge in road traffic followed the end of gasoline rationing in 1950 and it hasn't stopped yet. Exhaust fumes hang in narrow streets and no one has yet thought of a way to shift them.

Young Canada's Book Week

MRS. HUGH JOHN FLEMMING, a former British Columbian who is married to the premier of New Brunswick, has some wise words to say in connection with Young Canada's Book Week, of which she is patroness this year.

"Our most experienced educators keep reminding us that we can't dispose of harmful books merely by trying to ban them," she remarks. "We must provide satisfying substitutes in the form of attractive, good books to inspire and delight young minds."

In these few words Mrs. Fleming has picked out the weakness in the case of those self-appointed censors who would abolish this, that and the other thing from children's reading but have no alternative to offer.

Censorship which merely deletes is never effective. If children are being provided with offensive literature, there is no point in simply removing it from circulation. Something else of equal or more appeal to them has to take its place.

This is one of the purposes of Young Canada's Book Week which the country is now observing. It is a period in which parents, teachers and all others connected with children's activities are asked to make special efforts to interest the young in the treasure-house of fact and imagination found at the local library. In Prince Rupert, a contest to quicken youthful powers of observation and criticism is part of this worthwhile endeavor to turn children's attention to good reading.

As one writer has said, "The pleasant books of childhood cross all the frontiers." No child should be denied the chance to make such a fascinating trip.

What Price Security?

A NOTABLE conversion of thought for society's problems has been registered by J. B. Priestly, British novelist and playwright. At one time Mr. Priestly considered that security was one of man's great rights. Now he asks:

"What relation to their work have the happiest men you know? Women and children need security; but do men, real men? How many persons whom you respect prefer minimum hours of work and plenty of passive amusement to the chance of working like blazes making something? Is our society becoming more flexible or less—and if you think more, have you tried starting anything good lately? Are there more rich, fiery, independent characters about? Are men's deepest needs being increasingly satisfied?"

They are questions more easily asked than answered, but they are worth asking all the same.

Ray REFLECTS and REMINISCES

And now comes a watchful soul who seeks the expiation of Robin Hood from that part of public school studies. Countless pupils will remember him—that forest gallant who robbed the rich and helped out the poor. But today, it seems, Robin is a Communist.

"In another 25 years," remarks B. B. Gragg, general sales manager of air lines on this continent, "the shortest route from sea to sea will be the furthest north. But that was discovered long ago."

DOWN TEXAS WAY

"The reason a $ won't do as much for people as it did once is that people will not do as much for a $ as they once did." This has been found on a cafe in Texas. The proprietor had an idea.

Vancouver records the 34th fatality on the streets and makes a high and mighty resolve. This is all very well, but hasn't it a strangely familiar sound? Before this, hasn't death struck with chilling swiftness and life ebbed on hospital beds.

Lawyers appearing for the kidnapers and murderer of the little son of a Missouri millionaire are submitting a new defence. They are trying to establish the accused are insane. Incidentally they have already admitted they are guilty. Of course they have a new defence.

Mrs. Minette, who has spent most of her 103 years in Ontario, gave a party last week to 107 guests. "What is your secret for a long life?" she was asked. "Sense of humor and never say die."

Eisenhower's French, in the opening words of the speech in Ottawa Saturday morning aroused a cordial reception. The president might have been doing a bit of private wondering as to what French-Canada thought of his linguistic ability.

As I See It

by Elmore Philpott

Opening Day

OTTAWA: The formalities of the opening day of the 22nd Parliament are over.

The speech from the throne has been duly read. But unless the other 266 MPs have a lot better hearing than I have, they will have to wait to read the newspapers like any ordinary citizen to find out what was in the speech which the Governor-General read.

The Senate still lacks sound amplifiers and so the journey of the MP's to that upper chamber is a mere formality.

BACK in their own chamber, the Commons heard tributes to the late Gordon Graydon.

Graydon had a genius for friendship. It is now known that in a lifetime of public service he had accumulated literally nothing but goodwill.

That is just one of the reasons why it is common talk that the other parties are likely to give Mrs. Gordon Graydon election by acclamation in Peel county, which her husband represented since 1935.

THE POLITICAL PEOPLE here were naturally all worked up about the visit of President Eisenhower. They even went to great pains to find out the names of the President's favorite musical selections.

A RATHER laconic announcement by the Department of Transport carries an implication which might make child's play of most of the proposed work of the present parliament.

As I reported in my special series of articles from Los Angeles in September 1952 there is an overwhelming weight of evidence that there really may be something to the numerous reports of what the newspapers nicknamed "Flying Saucers."

In any event the government here has authorized the expenditure of a modest sum of money to set up a station which in a few months can debunk, or verify, the reports that mystery craft from some unknown quarter really have been giving this planet the once-over.

NOBODY in any high position has been talking to me out of turn. Nor do I hope to get any special inside government information.

But purely on the basis of adding up two and two to make four, I figure that either the United States or Britain, or both, passed on a gentle request to Canada to undertake this job. Moreover, my guess is that when the project was undertaken it was deliberately started right out in the open to forestall the sensational speculation and leaks that otherwise would have been a certain by-product of the enterprise.

Canada has a reputation, especially in the United States, of being steady-going, reliable, down to earth and even humdrum. We take everything in our stride. So we have been given, or have taken on our own, the job of unmasking the most fascinating mystery of these times.

In less than a year, the hard-headed scientists who have been hired to do this job will have the answer.

LETTERBOX

The Editor,

The Daily News:
I have read some real gems of whitewashing and issue-skirting articles in my short term on this earth, but your article which appeared on the front page of the News of November 13, entitled "Improvement Noted In Highway 16," by Mr. Bruce Brown, is the grand-daddy of them all.

No doubt the above-mentioned gentleman had all our interests at heart when he wrote to the Honorable Minister of Public Works regarding the condition of our highway, but he certainly was not showing the true picture or reasons for this condition which has prevailed all summer, on this road. However, although I am nothing but a dumb bus-driver, I still feel qualified to give the real reasons for the poor maintenance on this highway.

First, I wish to state and I do not think anyone who travels the road will disagree with me, that the road between Prince Rupert and Kwinitza has usually been in fairly good condition, due to the fact that the Public Works graderman on this end is not afraid to work nor is he homesick by five o'clock, which seems to be a trait all too prevalent with the crew out of Terrace who are supposed to service the road from Kwinitza to Terrace.

For almost one month this outfit, who by the way have three times the equipment that we have in this city, have failed to venture out with their graders and smooth out the road. Consequently when they finally did get around to working, the road was in such poor condition that the first time they went over it with graders, did little good.

This crew since, have made several half-hearted attempts to continue work on this section east of Kwinitza, but I repeat, they have only been half-hearted attempts. I will elaborate and say they have done at least two and one-half miles now and then a day, but comes an hour or two (mostly two) from quitting time, and they are dashing madly back to Terrace, and to their comfortable firesides.

Now if as Mr. Gagliardi states, there is ample money provided for maintenance, pray tell me how the Terrace department accounts for the portion granted for this 40-mile stretch. Perhaps they are saving it for a down payment on the Kitimat highway, which seems to be the uppermost thought in the minds of all, who live in Terrace.

I can tell you that it is not in the thoughts of truck drivers and bus drivers who have to travel this stretch daily in order to make a living. Particularly when they have to take six to eight hours to make the trip from here to Terrace when they should normally only be on the road not more than four hours. And I am not taking into account the tire trouble, broken springs, rear-end breakdowns which are an every day part of their job (and expense) because of the lethargy shown by a few individuals who are paid to do their job out of taxpayers' money.

So please, let us have a few heads removed and perhaps we will be able to have the best possible gravel roads, not only for ourselves but for the tourist trade which we so sincerely wish to have. A copy of this untidy, but fairly civil letter, is being forwarded to the Honorable Minister of Public Works, just in case you good people decide it is too lurid to print.

DAN C. JONASON,
C.N.R. Bus Operator.

The Editor,

The Daily News:
Congratulations to Mrs. Ken J. Warren for her letter of November 9. It was frank and down to earth and should make the people of Prince Rupert sit up and "face the facts."

As for Alex Gordon's letter following—"Who does he think he's kidding?" Perhaps the union in question (UFAWU), does try to advance the interests of the Canadian people... but "In what way?" To go a little further, "Why, if this union is all it should be, was it found necessary to suspend it from the TLC?" It seems Mr. Gordon neglected to answer this.

I do not belong to any union and never have, but does that mean to say I and many more must sit back and take no interest in democracy?

Of course the "bread and butter" question is important. No one doubts that, but when our very way of life is threatened, that is more important, and as Mrs. Warren suggests, is the real issue!!

"OLD TIMER"

The Editor, Daily News:
In your editorial November 13 you call for sound leadership in council affairs.

For my part, I desire more than that. I want sound, honest leadership and I care not from what quarters it comes.

I also stand for peace and harmony, but not at any price. I desire to serve the people, not deceive them.

On these fundamentals I have always stood and will continue as long as I remain a member of the city council.

ALD. GEORGE B. CASEY.

Britain's Export Trade Decreases in October

PARIS (Reuters)—West Germany's mounting industrial boom and Britain's slump in export trade are reflected in European trade statistics issued here today.

The European Payments Union, international clearing house for trade payments, recorded that during October Britain fell a further $30,200,000 into the red with the E.P.U. bringing the total British deficit to $822,400,000.

The October deficit is Britain's biggest in recent months and the highest deficit on the list.

At the other end of the list, West Germany maintained her position as the E.P.U.'s biggest creditor. The republic's bustling industry added another $44,600,000 to its over-all surplus.

End Ordered For Fishing

SEATTLE (AP)—The State Fisheries Department has ordered commercial fishing to close in Puget Sound at midnight tonight.

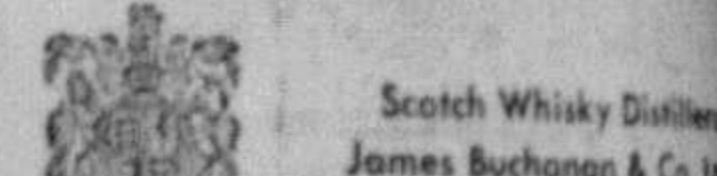

The order was issued to permit proper escapement of the chum salmon run which is 50 per cent below normal. The department announced catch to date totals 12,000 chums. The closure, 14 days short of schedule, winds up the commercial season which ended June 15.

Olafson-Budinich Wedding Cemnized At St. Paul's

Candlelight and masses of chrysanthemums and a pretty setting in St. Paul's Lutheran church here for the nuptial rites uniting Louise Budinich, daughter of Mr. Michael Budinich, 1700 Third Avenue West, and the late Mrs. Budinich, and Karl Kenneth Olafson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Olafson, 1700 Fourth Avenue East.

The principals were born and bred in this city. H. A. Olsen conducted the service, for which music was provided by Miss Corinne Kelso.

The marriage was celebrated by her in a length frock of pink taffeta, featuring a white bodice and cover-up with stand-up collar and sleeves. Pink net gloves, white shoes, and a finger-ring veil secured by a Jewel-secured her ensemble. She carried a charming bouquet composed of a white rose surrounded by white and pink net and a white veil.

Attending the bride's were the gowns of her attendants, striking coral taffeta worn by Mrs. Phillipson, matron of honor, and soft blue net over white.

The groom wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and a white bow tie. He carried a white boutonniere and a white pocket square.

The reception was held at the home of Mrs. Olafson, 1700 Fourth Avenue East.

The bride and groom were accompanied by their parents and other relatives. The bride's father, Mr. Michael Budinich, and the groom's father, Mr. Karl Olafson, were both present.

Film Club Elects Executive; Plans Big Membership Drive

The Prince Rupert Film Club was formally organized last night, with an executive chosen and plans made for an immediate membership drive.

The new club, which will bring top-flight films here at a low charge for members, named Harry Winstone president. Other officers named included Mrs. C. Williams, vice-president; Mrs. A. L. Bell, secretary; Fred Jones, treasurer and chairman of the membership committee; A. E. Yates, house committee; J. L. Hiebert and Robert Hill, projection committee, and Mrs. C. Yule, publicity committee.

The group planned to launch its club film showings early in the new year but decided to open sales of membership cards as soon as possible so that cards could be given as Christmas presents. Membership fees were tentatively set at $4.00 for a single member and $7.00 for a couple, for members of the Civic Centre, and $5.00 and $9.00 for individuals and couples not members of the Centre.

The entire executive, acting as a film committee, made a tentative selection of 24 films and has sent for further information on prices from the J. Arthur Rank organization which will provide the films. The choice will be narrowed down to 12, to be shown one a month throughout next year.

The club, meeting last night in the Civic Centre, also made tentative plans for the monthly club meetings and film showings, suggesting a brief introduction of the films, showing of the films, and a social hour with refreshments to wind up each meeting.

IF COLDER WEATHER HAS struck your vicinity this past week, turning your thoughts to getting your fur coat out of storage, may I remind you again of what I think is the best hint given by furriers on how to avoid wear on your coat. Try never to sit on your fur for long periods—particularly when driving or riding in a car—as this subjects the fur to strain. What I usually do in a car is to slip my coat from under me and wrap it around the front. This way you are still snug and warm without doing damage to your fur.

IF YOU FELL INTO THE crinoline rage this summer but now find after a few washings that yours have become wilted, try rinsing them in a solution of sugar and water (2 teaspoons sugar to a quart of water). Hang straight to dry. You'll find this puts the stiffness back into the limp fabric.

THERE ARE NUMEROUS TIPS for the care of various fabrics so I might as well give you a few. Feather flannel will retain its finish and freshness longer if clipped in a very thing starch after rinsing.

RAYON GABARDINES of the lighter weight also react beautifully to this same treatment.

RAYON BLOUSES OR SLIPS that have grown limp can be restored to life by dipping in gelatin. First, wash the garments as usual in lukewarm soap-suds; rinse well. Now make a dipping solution by softening two tablespoons granulated gelatin in cold water. Dissolve in two quarts of boiling water; cool to lukewarm. Dip garments, squeeze out excess moisture. Iron as usual.

A TRAVEL HINT WHICH I have found most helpful is to pack a cellophane sandwich bag with detergent for washing undies and stockings; 2 tablespoons per bag will wash two batches. This keeps your detergent close at hand without spilling and prevents the necessity of dashing out to buy a box of flakes which you probably will only use once or twice and then leave behind.

I REMEMBER WHEN I WAS very young what a thrill it was to assist my mother, grandmothers or aunts in housecleaning their drawers and cupboards. They always smelled so wonderful—because of the old-fashioned sachet habit. It seems too bad that the modern housewife has drifted away from this dainty habit. I think one good reason is that sachets today are so terribly expensive to buy, compared with the cost years ago. However, you can make your own very inexpensively. All you have to do is sew up a scrap of silk or muslin into a tiny bag and fill it with your favorite scent of sachet.

Greenhorn Danish Housewife Named Commerce Minister

By GUY BRETTANY
COPENHAGEN (Reuters)—The biggest surprise in Denmark's new Socialist government was the appointment of Mrs. Anna Lisbeth Groes, a 43-year-old housewife and the mother of nine children, to the post of minister of commerce.

Mrs. Groes had never been in public office before and had never taken an active part in politics. She is not a member of the Folketing, Denmark's single-chamber parliament.

Her only apparent qualifications for the post were that she received a degree in political economy at Copenhagen University and that for the last three years she had been chairman of the Danish Housewives' Association, which keeps a close watch on retail prices.

Her husband is chairman of the Danish Wholesale Co-operative Society. "I was really surprised at my appointment," Mrs. Groes told Reuters. "I think it was a rather bold step by the prime minister. But I hope all the same to be able to do something to help Danish industry and commerce to run smoothly."

Asked how she would reconcile the duties as the mother of a large family with the responsibilities of a cabinet minister, Mrs. Groes replied: "Well, I shall have to make arrangements for my home to run more or less without me as my main job now is at the ministry. The children were enthusiastic over my appointment."

OUR CITY'S BUSINESS... IS YOUR BUSINESS...

In This Corner

By DICK AYRES

The other night at the basketball games an ardent fan suggested, jokingly of course, that in our cage write-ups we were "pulling for the wrong team." Now we knew this wasn't so, and stoutly denied pulling for any team. And that, sports fans, is the way it is and will be.

When a good sportswriter or a good reporter covers an event, he doesn't care who wins. All he cares about is that the athletes provide sufficient entertainment or excitement to make a good story. Let the teams do their part and if the reporter will do his, trying to recapture what the paying patrons saw for the readers who didn't see the game but who are interested.

We try to do this and don't hold with the type of sportswriter who will boost his favorite team throughout the season, making excuses for it when it loses and piling it on the losers when his team wins. A reporter, whether he covers sports, police court, city council, or club meetings should be impartial in his writings. Naturally, deep down he might have his own thoughts on the matter, but he should never express them to his reading public. Praise 'em all when they earn it, blast 'em when they warrant it, that's our motto.

You can't please everyone of course. There's the sports fan who dotes on statistics, there's the reader who likes his drama, there's the player who likes to be "typed" (lithe, curly-haired playmaker Noodles Brainloose) and there's the fan who expects his local sports writer to be a second John Lardner, dropping ironic quips in every second sentence. A writer can try to get all of that in one story if he has the space with which to work, but usually he has about four columns of type to divide up between local basketball, bowling, curling, P.C.L., NHL and minor league hockey, Canadian football (we don't get U.S. college grid games or we'd have that too) and any other major sporting event taking place in the world. So he can't sit down and write a novel on each game.

However, we're open to suggestion, should anyone care to make any.

Manson's Omegas currently boasting a two-win, no loss record in the Senior B cage loop intend to keep it if they can and coach Bill McChesney apparently doesn't want to get stuck with five men on a bench. Former high school hoopster Reg Lavigne, just up from Kemano where he has been working on the high line as an electrician, signed with Manson's last night. He will probably see action by the end of the week or next Tuesday. Also signed up with the Jewelers is 12-year-old Norm Rollin, an ex-highschooler from the Okanagan whose 6 feet 3 inches will prove most handy under the basket. Only other addition to Senior B company is Harv Youlgen who has signed with CCC.

Tonight at 9, Minor Simonsen hopes to whip his Gordon & Anderson crew into a frenzy of

Daily Dusting

YEARS of medical research sponsored by the Ontario Mining Association may have found the answer to silicosis, the disease which attacks the lungs of miners exposed to silica dust. Curiously enough, the treatment consists of breathing very fine aluminum dust directly into the lungs; the aluminum renders the silica particles harmless. The treatment has been adopted in gold and other mining areas in Canada and throughout the world.

Aluminum, long used in hospital kitchens, today serves the medical profession in many ways—from aluminum foil for covering serious burns, to aluminum acetate for medical dressings, to aluminum blenders for the preparation of sterile biological products. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan)

Efforts To Be Made Again To Interview Igor Gouzenko

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator William E. Jenner, Indiana Republican who heads the United States Senate internal security sub-committee, has renewed his efforts to question Igor Gouzenko, the Russian code clerk who walked out of the Soviet embassy in Ottawa in 1945 with voluminous documents exposing the Canadian spy ring. Jenner made public a letter, dated Friday, to State Secretary Dulles asking him to renew the sub-committee's request for permission from Canada to interrogate Gouzenko. The Canadian government turned down Jenner's previous bid in a letter to Dulles dated Nov. 5, saying Gouzenko had nothing to add to what the U.S. government already knew about his case. NOT IN REPORT But Jenner said his sub-committee has a "1945 security document" which quotes Gouzenko, now living secretly in Canada, as saying he was told at the Soviet embassy that the Russians had an agent in the U.S. state department in May, 1945. This information, Jenner said, does not appear in the report of the Canadian royal commission which investigated Gouzenko's revelations.

The session of Parliament on which history rolled up the curtain last Thursday is new in at least three of its major attributes, viz:
It is new because it is the first session of a completely new Parliament.
It is new because never before has a government returned victorious from the polls with as few strings upon the course of action which it is required to pursue. The obligation of the present government as a result of all its election commitments is a simple one: to do its very best at all times in the national interest.

Finally, it is new because of the thoroughly original idea which the St. Laurent government has of fulfilling its general, if elastic, pledge to the Canadian people to promote their interests to the very best of its ability. The government intends simply to give the Canadian people the equivalent of a legislative holiday.

That means that at this session there is to be no further travel along the road of paternalistic or social legislation involving further financial burdens to the national treasury. National health insurance definitely is not on the government's sessional program. Nor is there any possibility of it being added, despite the fact that the CCF is expected to launch an all-out drive to force its adoption.

The situation is that the normal source of mortgage monies is provided by the life insurance companies. Since World War II these companies have been particularly well fortified in their cash resources because they have been liquidating their heavy wartime investments in government bonds. But now they have reached the end of their wartime bond accumulation. Hence, unless a new source of mortgage funds can be arranged, financial support for the housing industry will be curtailed—and building will be curtailed proportionately. That's where the new legislation and the chartered banks come into the picture.

SEED FOR GERMANY
CORONATION, Alta. (CP) — A total of nearly 35 tons of bromegrass seed was shipped by the Alberta Seed Growers Association to Montreal for trans-shipment to Germany. The seed was all grown in the Coronation district.

Actually, the main bulk of the session's legislation will be routine. It will include the decennial revision of the Bank Act and the revision of the Criminal Code which already has been before the Commons at a couple of sessions but hasn't yet succeeded in

Takeout Double Can Be Safer Than Overcall

The history of the battle of cards is something like the history of real wars. The attacker develops more powerful weapons. The defense improves to meet the new threat. The attacker gets still more powerful weapons and after a short lag the defense tightens up again.

Mr. Fusty, the old-fashioned bidder, has not changed his defensive bidding in 25 years. In his day it was fairly safe to overcall on the hand he held in today's deal. The development of the takeout double took some of the danger out of entering the auction on this type of hand.

For example, if he had doubled on this hand, Mr. Abel would have responded with two diamonds and whether that became the contract or the opponents went on to bid game, the result would have been much more favorable.

As it was, Mrs. Keen promptly doubled the two heart bid. She led the deuce of spades and Mr. Dale won with the ace over dummy's queen. He cashed the king of clubs and followed with the five.

Mrs. Keen won this trick with the jack and cashed the ace of clubs. She then led a fourth club and Mr. Dale ruffed in with the nine of hearts. Mr. Fusty over-ruffed with the queen. He now had no good lead and finally laid down the ace and another diamond.

Mr. Dale won the second diamond with the queen, cashed the king, on which his partner discarded her last club, then led the deuce of hearts.

Mr. Fusty played the seven of hearts and Mrs. Keen won with the 10. She returned the king and was permitted to hold the trick. She then had to lead from the jack-six into Mr. Fusty's ace-eight. However, she won the last trick as she had one more trump than Mr. Fusty.

Thus Mr. Fusty executed a nice trump end-play for a snappy down four. He indicated surprise at this result, remarking his hand was good enough for an opening bid. But as I have pointed out before, one can easily go broke using that as a yardstick for overcalls.

Allies, Reds Reach Accord On Agenda

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Allied and Communist diplomats today pumped new life into dwindling hopes for a Korean peace settlement with agreement on an agenda for preliminary talks to arrange a political conference.

Top-level negotiators reconvened after a week-long recess and approved an agenda drafted by staff advisers in six closed-door sessions.

The agreement provides for simultaneous discussion of a time and place for the peace conference and of the countries which will attend. Communist insistence on deciding the composition first and deadlocked the preliminary talks for three weeks.

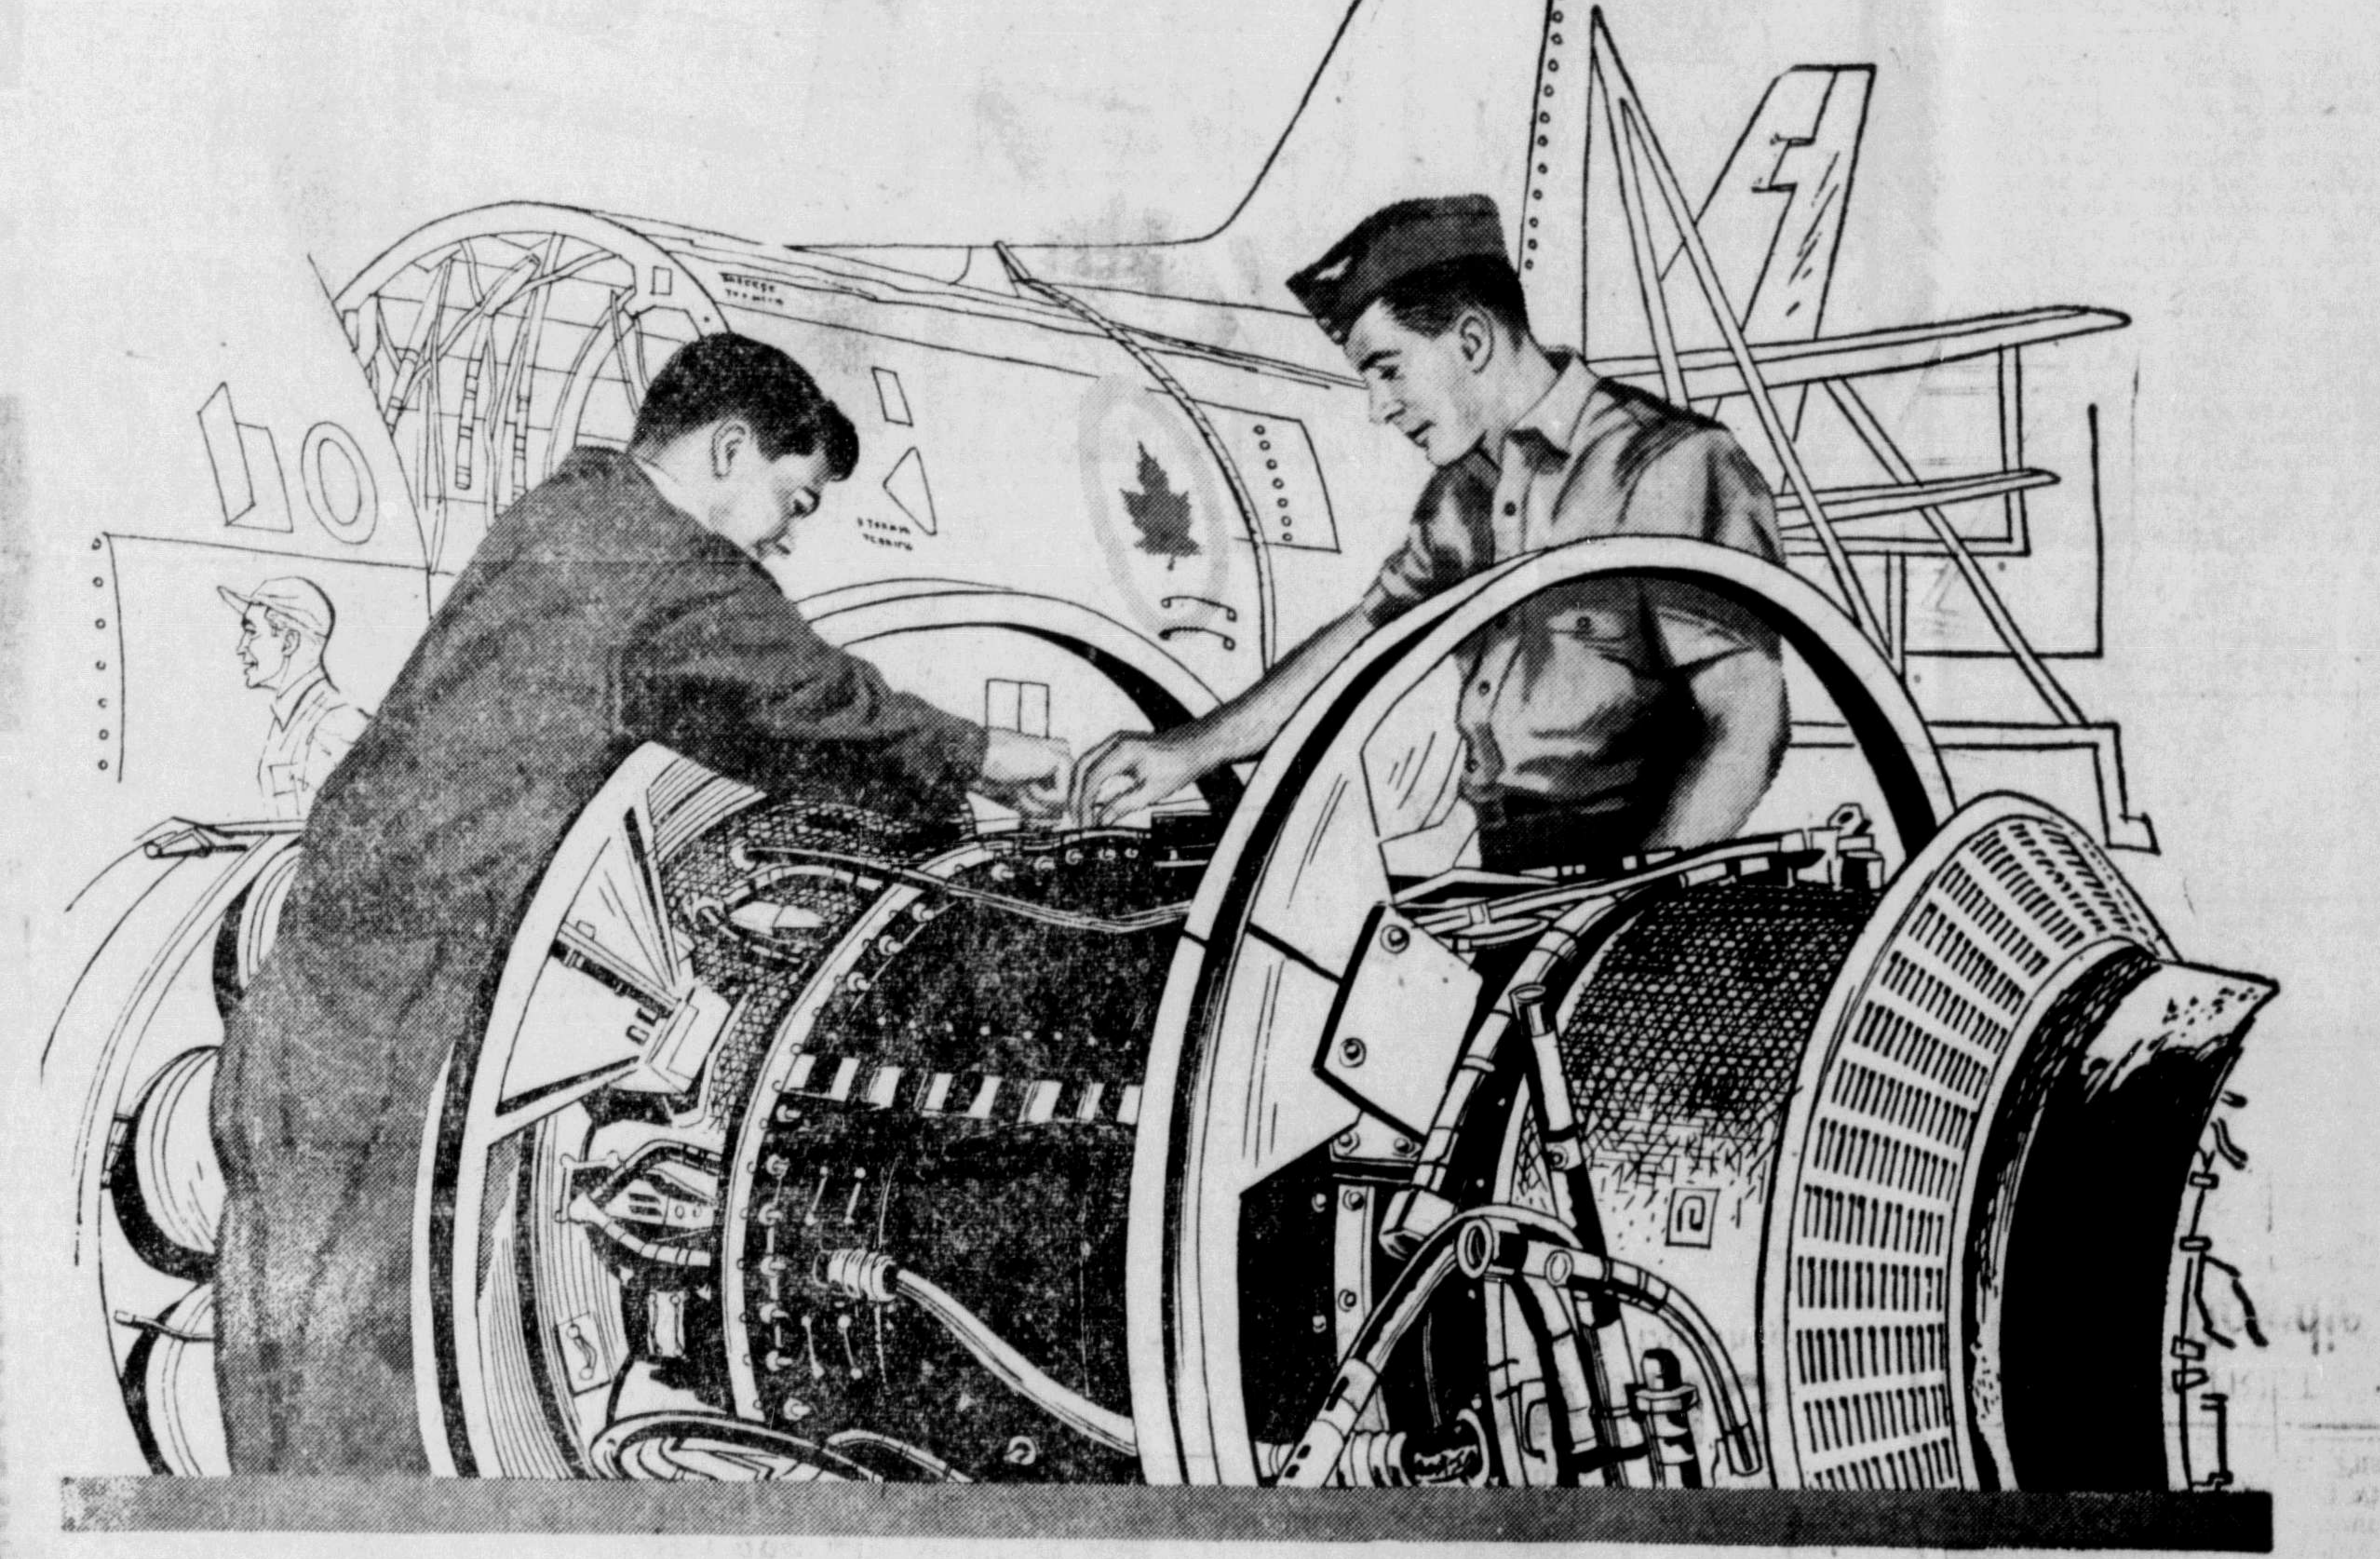

Approval of the agenda will get the stalled preliminary talks under way.

Plant Sale Completed In Phone Booth

DETROIT (AP) — One of the automotive industry's biggest deals, the $26,000,000 purchase of the Willow Run plant by General Motors, was completed in a pay-station phone booth, it was learned here.

Negotiations between Kaiser Motors Corp. and GM were under way last Tuesday and Harlow H. Curtice, GM president, waited for confirmation of the purchase from Edgar F. Kaiser in Washington.

Meanwhile, he was scheduled to make a luncheon address before the Fisher Body management group at a downtown hotel.
