Trial of Pair For Robbery Expected To Conclude Today

Trial of Dora McNeil, 21-year-old Naas River native, and Edward Hashka, 23, formerly of Vancouver, on a charge of robbery is expected to conclude late this afternoon.

The couple are charged jointly with robbing Adrien (Eddie) Ouellet of about $70 last Jan. 17 following a drinking session which began the previous day.

The trial began last Monday before Judge W. O. Fulton. T. W. Brown, Q.C. is prosecuting and Gerry Pettenuzzo is representing the two accused.

At the resumed trial yesterday afternoon, Dora McNeil told court she did not recall clearly everything of the night of Jan. 16 because, she said, she was drunk.

Under questioning by Mr. Pettenuzzo she said she began drinking beer with a girl friend shortly after 10 a.m. on Jan. 16 and joined two other girls in another beer parlor about 4:30 that afternoon.

They in turn met Ouellet and a man named Hanson. Later Dora said after she had fetched Hashka, they drank until the parlor closed at 6:30 p.m. and then went to "Henry's where I had three drinks" of whisky.

She, Hashka, Ouellet and Henry returned to the beer parlor about 8 o'clock and remained there until closing time. While there, others joined the table and, she told court, Hashka, Ouellet and Henry all bought beer.

On leaving, she said "the two of us (Hashka and herself) went to a cafe. Ouellet joined us later on."

She testified that Ouellet "bought some liquor from a guy named Dave" while in the cafe but said she did not have a drink there.

About 2 a.m. they left for her room where they had a drink of whisky.

"We were just sitting around. Ouellet was talking about his girl friend. After awhile I asked him to leave. I was tired and wanted to go to bed."

"He wouldn't leave so I went to get the landlady. She told him to leave."

She said Hashka, Ouellet and the landlady left together and when he did not return "after about 10 minutes" she went to the front door where she met Ouellet.

"Ouellet asked where Eddie was. He wanted to come back in. He had blood on his face. He told me they had a fight and he wanted to see Eddie. I wouldn't let him in."

When she returned to her room, Hashka was there. The two then went to visit Geoffrey Robinson and a girl named "Dot."

Later, she and Hashka went to a cafe and after that for a taxi ride. She said she told the driver to take her to an address on Seventh Avenue but the people they were to visit were "in bed at that time so we went back downtown."

Laurie, Moore Rinks Capture Trophies

President of the Prince Rupert curling club, Jack Laurie, had a dream come true last night when in a thrilling 13-end final match he edged out Bob Rudderham's rink 11-9 to capture the Superior Auto trophy competition, Event B in the six-day Third Annual Prince Rupert bonspiel.

The record crowd watching the three finals last night saw Neely Moore's rink turn back a determined late-game drive by Prince George's Clint Geddes rink and win 10-8 the Grand Challenge A Event, for the Fashion Footwear trophy.

Also played at the same time was an all-Smithers final which saw Bill Bovill get an early lead on Ward Carey's rink to win the E. T. Applewhite trophy for D Event 13-4 for the second time in its history.

TIED FOUR TIMES

The Laurie-Rudderham thriller was tied up four times during the game and the score stood at 9-9 at "coming home." The 12th end was scoreless as Laurie missed both his shots trying to raise one of his rocks sent a guard right through the house. The Rudderham's bid to dislodge Laurie's two shot rocks in the extra end failed.

The win was a sweet triumph for Laurie as he had lost out by one point for the same trophy in last year's 'spiel.

The presentation of the Fashion Footwear trophy to Neely Moore was made by A. J. "Dom" Dominato. Mr. Dominato also presented first prizes of automatic toasters to Moore, Scott McLaren, Bobby Anderson and Ron Allen. Second prize of fishing rods went to Geddes, Harold Hetherington, Lew Strandberg and Lars Strome of Prince George.

The trophy had been previously won by the Bill McKenzie rink of Dom Dominato, Jim George-son and Chuck Ostertag in 1952 and by the Bert Rowbotham rink of J. Rowbotham, Bill Baxter and P. Bell in 1953.

Carrying Gun Brings $25 Fine To Ex-Texan

Lee Willis "Tex" Carrell of Prince Rupert was fined $25 in city police court this morning for carrying a loaded revolver in his car without a permit. The gun was confiscated.

Carrell, a Texan who has lived in Prince Rupert district for the past three or four years, pleaded not guilty to the charge, claiming the revolver was part of his household effects which he was moving to Edmonton.

Police Magistrate W. D. Vance levied the $25 fine with alternative sentence of 14 days in jail. The fine was paid.

Defence counsel was Robert Blair.

Twenty-Three Rinks Ready To Start In Women's Totem Bonspiel Tomorrow

Bonspiel fever has Prince Rupert in its grip and right on the heels of the men's 'spiel which concludes late this afternoon comes the start of the Second Annual Totem bonspiel being staged by the Prince Rupert Ladies curling club which gets underway tomorrow at 9 a.m.

Twenty-three rinks of women curlers have entered the annual classic to compete for five trophies. This year's entry which includes two outside rinks and four non-affiliated teams surpasses last year's entry of 19 rinks.

At stake will be the A Event Grand Challenge trophy donated by Fashion Footwear; the Bill Scuby Furs trophy for B Event; the A. E. Smith trophy for C Event; the Al McKenzie Jewellers trophy for D Event and the W. S. Stone trophy for the consolation Event.

While actual play starts tomorrow morning the official opening will be held at 1:15 p.m. Saturday when Alderman Mrs. Kay Smith will curl the first rock with Ladies Curling club president Mrs. Al McBroom acting as skip. The Prince Rupert Pipe Band under direction of Jack Ewart will be in attendance.

BANQUET MONDAY

The ladies will hold their bonspiel banquet in the form of a buffet supper at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the Canadian Legion hall. Entertainment at the supper will be provided with Harley Lewis as master of ceremony.

Prizes and donations for the spiel which will run from Friday to next Wednesday were collected by Elsie Anderson and Donna McNeice and the trophies and prizes will be on display in the Kaizen Co-Op. store window. Fred Aston is acting as draw-master assisted by Mrs. Ray Wilkins, Mrs. Gordon Bateman, Mrs. Fred Aston, Mrs. Barney Eyoifson, Miss Jean Ramsay and Mrs. Bill McKenzie.

Members of the men's curling club will act as umpires for the bonspiel and also run the canteen for the entire length of the competitions. Officials of the bonspiel said today that due to the current excitement reigning at the uncompleted men's bonspiel, arrangements had not been completed for manning the canteen but they expressed the hope that the men would have a routine fixed for the women's 'spiel to ensure smooth running of the refreshment concession.

Tomorrow's draws to start off the bonspiel are as follows:

FRIDAY
Grand Challenge, Fashion Footwear Trophy—Event A
9 a.m. — Wakley vs Willson; E. Johnson vs Petrov; J. Johnson vs Anderson.

11:15 a.m. — Thom vs Kerr; Har-grove vs Schuman; Shier vs Buchanan.

Southern Project To Start This Year

VICTORIA (CP)—A multi-million-dollar shot in the arm for British Columbia's "White Elephant" Pacific Great Eastern Railway is proposed by the provincial government.

Premier Bennett announced in the legislature Wednesday night the government proposes to wipe out interest that has been piling up on the railway's debt to the province for 40 years.

The premier did not give the interest figure but the annual statement for the year ending Dec. 31, 1953, tabled by him showed that unpaid interest from the government on loans totalling $91,088,322 was $97,912,029.

COMPLETION IN 1946

The premier also announced that the 400-mile railway often called a "White Elephant" without a head or a tail, would be extended southwards 40 miles from Squamish to North Vancouver with construction starting this year and completion slated for 1956.

Next year construction would start on a northern extension from Prince George in the central interior towards Fort St. John and Dawson Creek in the northern Peace River country.

The proposed extensions were given full support by CCF Opposition Leader Arnold Webster on behalf of his party. Liberal Leader Arthur Laing will speak today.

UNSUCCESSFUL BID

The premier also said the Canadian National Railways had been approached unsuccessfully concerning possible purchase of the line.

Mr. Bennett was speaking during the second reading of a bill which would grant a $30,000,000 borrowing power to the railway. The money borrowed—either by the government on behalf of the railway, or by the railway itself—would make possible the southern extension and commencement of the northern extension.

The northern extension would cost an estimated $50,000,000 and the southern an estimated $10,000,000.

The premier estimated an operating revenue of $2,750,000 would be possible when both sections of the line are completed. The railway would pay its own way without help from the taxpayer.

TO BE SUBSIDIZED

The premier indicated he expected construction of the extensions would be subsidized by the federal government as was the recent extension from Quesnel to Prince George.

Mr. Bennett said the government proposed to introduce a bill to provide for a write-off of all items of "uncollectable interest" on loans made by the province, "leaving only those amounts which can be said reasonably to be actual cash invested by the province in the company since its inception."

The premier said it was "futile" to expect collection of that interest and its inclusion meant a "most unrealistic asset included in the balance sheet of the province."

Phone Workers Not To Suffer From Transfer

OTTAWA (CP)—Employees of the federal telephone system in British Columbia won't suffer from sale of the system to a private firm, the Commons was told Wednesday.

Transport Minister Chevrier said terms of the sale of telephone assets in central and northern B.C. and on Vancouver island include pay increases in a majority of cases and satisfactory superannuation and seniority provisions.

Mr. Chevrier reported on the progress of negotiations for sale of the government telephone and telegraph assets in B.C. following an appeal by Davie Fulton (PC—Kamloops) to postpone turning over the systems April 1.

Mr. Fulton said the Commons should know the terms of the sales before the British Columbia Telephone Company and Canadian National Telegraphs take over the systems. He asked particularly for assurance that present employees will be properly protected.

Mr. Chevrier said discussion with B.C. Telephone workers went satisfactorily. Similar discussions with CNT were delayed until the telephone talks were completed. Transport and CNT officials now were negotiating in Montreal.

After outlining the effect of the agreement on the telephone employees, Mr. Chevrier said he is "hopeful that CNT would not want to be put in a position of inferiority compared with the telephone company regarding treatment of employees."

B.C. Telephone workers would employ any government telephone workers who want to join the company. They would be subject to a nine-month probationary period.

Work To Start On Wall Soon

Work on the rock wall and fill at McClymont Park is expected to get underway shortly.

Park Board Commissioners at a meeting last night asked city works superintendent G. E. Beaton to get as much work as possible done before July 1 so workmen and equipment will not be in the area when children are playing in the pool and park area.

Art Murray said "we don't want any work project going on there in the summer months while the children are around. There's too much danger of an accident."

Commissioner Bob Eby suggested that the engineer hire more men to do the work if it would speed construction of the project.

Mr. Beaton estimated that construction of the wall would take "at least three months."

"We don't want a mud hole around there in the summer," said Mr. Murray, "and I'm prepared to vote against the project unless it can be done by the end of June."

The board endorsed a motion granting the city engineer permission to use his own discretion to obtain rock fill for the project and also regarding construction.

Death in the Stratosphere

RESULTS of the latest H-bomb explosion which spread its contamination far beyond the expected limits will give the world good reason to use in its discussion of another war.

Man is toying with a weapon which, even when used experimentally, casts a pall of danger over civilization. Perhaps the most alarming evidence of this was not so much the effect that the Bikini bomb had on ships within the general area but the fact that its radio-active influence was picked up in Japan, 1,600 miles away.

And the means of transmission in this instance was not the contaminated tuna fish but the upper atmosphere which carried the deadly particles far beyond their explosive source.

If 1,600 miles are within the range of a comparative toy, what will the real thing do?

Although it is disturbing to think that humanity is reaching the stage where the ruin of a great part of civilization lies within the power of a few men, there is the hope that none will be reckless enough to invite the self-destruction which war is certain to bring.

Perhaps the day will come when man will decide that there is no point in devising means to destroy the world any more quickly or completely and that he might as well turn to more constructive results.

Local Effort Needed

LAST-MINUTE transfusion job is needed by the Red Cross, financially speaking.

With approximately $1,300 still required to meet Prince Rupert's campaign quota, a good final effort is called for to help keep the Red Cross strong.

Although the one-night drive went well, it is actually impossible for canvassers to visit everyone who might wish to make a donation to this humanitarian cause. As a result, there may be many in the city whose contributions have not yet been received.

It is well to reflect that this is not a case where your money goes off to points unknown and is never heard of again. While the Red Cross work is worldwide in scope, we in Prince Rupert are constantly feeling its local benefits through the blood and plasma supply which the Society delivers to the hospital. Less tangible but equally important is the Society's readiness to help in case of disaster.

It is not too late yet to offer a generous hand. Send your contribution to the campaign headquarters at the Northern B.C. Power office and help Prince Rupert answer this urgent appeal.

As I See It

by
Elmore Philoott

Duplessis Challenge

IT SEEMS to me that Premier Duplessis of Quebec has launched a direct and deliberate challenge to the national authority which poses a very grave threat to the harmony of this nation.

It also seems to me that, by backing up Premier Duplessis in his challenge to the federal authority, George Drew has done a grave injury to the cause of national unity.

AS WE all know, both the province and the dominion have the legal power to levy income taxes if they so decide.

The system of double, or even triple, taxation was spreading rapidly before the Hitler war. Not only did the Ottawa government collect taxes on incomes, but many of the provinces did likewise. Even some of the larger cities in Canada were collecting income taxes a generation or so ago.

To escape the nuisance, and also the paralyzing effect of this multiple taxation, the King government appointed the Royal Commission headed by distinguished judges, Rowell and Sirois. That commission finally recommended a system to avoid duplicated taxes in the fields of income, corporation taxes, and succession duties.

The basis of the idea was that the dominion should make contracts with the provinces, individually, in return for the temporary cession of the sole right to collect the taxes in question, the dominion would pay to each province a lump sum—a so-called "tax rental."

At first several provinces refused to come in on the deal—but one by one they fell into line. However, Ontario never did so, even in part, until George Drew had ceased to be premier of Ontario and had become leader of the Opposition at Ottawa.

QUEBEC, under Duplessis, has been the last real hold out. Moreover, under the dictatorial rules recently promulgated by Premier Duplessis, the government of Quebec has greatly sharpened the conflict.

First Premier Duplessis forbade absolutely any educational institution in the province of Quebec to accept any money grant from the federal government—thus making it much more difficult for such institutions to operate. Then he intimated to such institutions that larger grants would in future be forthcoming from the provincial treasury. Then he levied an income tax, whereby the taxpayer will be forced to pay to the province, each year, fifteen percent of the total sum payable to the dominion in income taxes.

UP TO this point there is no real argument as to Duplessis's constitutional position. Undoubtedly the province has the right to levy the extra income tax if it so chooses.

But here is the crux of the coming showdown. The Duplessis government demands that the whole provincial income tax be deductible from the federal income tax. The Duplessis argue that if the province had entered into a tax rental contract with the dominion, the dominion would have to pay back to the Quebec treasury, as much as Quebec now proposes to collect by the duplicate tax.

In other words, Duplessis wants to keep his cake and eat it at the same time. He wants all the benefits that would have accrued to Quebec had she come in like all the others. But he does not want to concede to the central authority what all the other provinces have conceded, in order to obtain the compensation which he proposes to grab for Quebec, willy-nilly.

VICTORIA REPORT

by J. K. Nesbitt

VICTORIA — The oppositionists in the Legislature keep looking for a split in Social Credit ranks.

They've quite convinced themselves such a split is coming—that it can't be far off; they certainly hope so.

Every now and then, as legislative debate proceeds, the oppositionists think they see such a split opening up. However, so far, their fond political hopes are soon dashed.

One day SC Mr. Matthew of Vancouver Centre got up and he said that his colleague, SC Mr. Martin, the Minister of Health and Welfare, who's MLA for Vancouver Burrard, had made a very fine speech and all that—but—Mr. Speaker!

Ah, said the oppositionists to themselves—that but—what does it mean? But what? Perhaps, said they to themselves, here's a split between Messrs. Martin and Matthew. Happy day!

However, Mr. Matthew was merely disagreeing with Mr. Martin because Mr. Martin had boastfully said that Vancouver Burrard is the centre of Vancouver. That's not so, Mr. Speaker, said Mr. Matthew; the centre of Vancouver is Vancouver Centre. Where else could the centre of Vancouver be but Vancouver Centre?

There's a lot of talk—and hope—in opposition ranks, too, that Mr. Chant and the Premier are rivals for Social Credit leadership in B.C. Oppositionists pin their hopes on Mr. Chant to lead a rebellion against Mr. Bennett.

But the day Mr. Chant got up to speak he was loud in his praise of the Bennett budget. A wonderful, realistic budget, said Mr. Chant. The oppositionists had to admit, even to themselves, and among each other, that they could see absolutely no sign of a break between Messrs. Chant and Bennett.

CCF Mr. Howard of Skeena noted one day that SC Mr. Tisdale of Saanich had said there is no other way but for an opposition in the legislature, now that B.C. has a SC government.

Maybe Mr. Tisdale thinks that, but Mr. Howard doesn't, Mr. Speaker. If ever the people of B.C. need an alert opposition, that time's now—now that there is a SC government. That's Mr. Howard's sentiment.

To Mr. Howard—so he said—SC backbenchers are nothing but a bunch of remote-control robots—and, considering that, a good opposition's more necessary than ever, Mr. Speaker! That's what Mr. Howard said.

SC Mrs. Lydia Arsens, who runs a restaurant in Victoria, likes to lecture MLA's on the kind of food they should eat to remain healthy. Mrs. Arsens insists too many people these days are taking foods that she says poison them. "You are what you eat," said Mrs. Arsens, and it seemed she glared at the plump, bald ones.

And, while she was about it, Mrs. Arsens took a whack at cigarette smokers, particularly women, and mothers. Mrs. Arsens admitted she can't abide a mother with a cigarette in her mouth and a baby in her arms.

Horried, too, was Lydia, as she viewed Canada's booze bill. She came up with the startling figure that each Canadian drinks 20 bottles of hard liquor a year.

"I'm not doing my share," said Liberal Mr. Gibson of Lillooet.

Mrs. Arsens, who was once a Liberal, and then flirted with the CCF before going SC, is now a super-enthusiastic kind of Social Credit. The likes to go after the Liberal MLA's, telling them what a terrible government the Liberal government in Ottawa is—or so she thinks.

Liberal MLA's don't like hearing Mrs. Arsens talk this way, and they try to trip her up, but Mrs. Arsens isn't easily tripped up because she just won't be tripped up.

"Get a Social Credit government in Ottawa and we'll show them what we can do," says Mrs. Arsens.

Everything in Canada that's wrong, in Mrs. Arsens' opinion, could quite easily be fixed up. How? By having a SC government in Ottawa, Mr. Speaker. It's simple as that. That's Mrs. Arsens' firm political conviction. SC Mr. Bate of Point Grey has taken to sniping at opposition benches. This has annoyed Liberal Mr. Brown of Prince Rupert, who called Mr. Bate a menace, and asked Mr. Speaker to please silence him. However, Mr. Bate refuses to be silenced.

The opposition wants Mr. Williston of Fort George as the Minister of Education, Liberals and CCFers, however, if they continue to so best Mr. Williston, will do him harm, for the Premier doesn't like taking opposition suggestions.

Liberal Leader Laing's so sure Mr. Williston's the man that he said he would like to ask the minister-designate a question.

"The question isn't directed to me, so I won't answer," said Mr. Williston.

A full-grown walrus, found in both the Atlantic and Pacific, will weigh more than a ton.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. Macdonald

There's a fairly healthy suspicion around Parliament Hill circles that Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland knew what he was doing when he insisted last week that the Newfoundland salt fish industry be transferred from the jurisdiction of Federal Minister of Fisheries James Sinclair to that of Trade and Commerce Minister C. D. Howe.

From the very inception of the Federal Wheat Board the wheat-growers of Western Canada have been under the jurisdiction of the Department of Trade and Commerce, so far as their marketing arrangements are concerned. And it is a matter of well-known record that over the years they haven't done too badly. In fact, at times it has been the complaint of non-westerners that they have done far too well and that the taxpayers generally have had to share the bill.

Premier Smallwood's insistence that the Trade and Commerce Minister should assume responsibility for the island's salt fish industry is interpreted as a move to obtain for the Newfoundland fishermen the same sort of a deal as the western wheat-growers have been getting in years past.

The move could be of long-range significance. For if Mr. Howe's efforts to improve the economic lot of the Newfoundland salt fishing industry, now badly depressed, bear fruit, it may be taken for granted that the entire fishing industry will want to get on the band-wagon. Ultimately Mr. Howe could become responsible for the sale of all Canadian fish products, just as at the present time he is responsible for the sale of all Canadian grain production.

The pattern of the wheat industry was clearly in Premier Smallwood's mind when he was here last week. And it presumes ably was in Rt. Hon. Mr. Howe's mind as well. For one of the outcomes of the talks between the Island Premier and the Minister of Trade and Commerce was an arrangement whereby the fishermen will be given an initial payment on their catch, and the balance paid to them after the fish have been marketed. This is a straight adoption of the system which prevails in the marketing of wheat.

If the Canadian fishermen became organized for marketing purposes along the same lines as the wheat-growers in the west, the movement could have obvious and important political by-products. It is because of the closeness of their marketing organization, in great part, that the wheat-growers constitute one of the most effective pressure groups in Parliament. In way of contrast, the fishermen have never managed in becoming a powerful pressure group. But that could change overnight if Premier Smallwood made the first move in about such a change.

they will discuss expenditures at the meeting.

Commissioner Charlie Balagno will look into needs at Service and Alder parks; Commissioner Bob Eby, Seal Cove and Casey parks; Commissioner Dunc McRae, Westview and the tennis courts; Commissioner Art Murray, Roosevelt and Gyo parks.

Mr. Balagno announced that five of the group of totem poles in the city's parks have been repaired and repainted by Charles Dudoward and five more have to be completed.

He said the poles "must be taken down to do a proper job," although Mr. Dudoward at present is doing the job from a scaffolding on the pole at Service Park.

"I don't believe the job can be done properly unless the poles are taken down," said Mr. Balagno, adding that Mr. Dudoward is "getting on in years and cannot be climbing a scaffold."

Weather is also a factor to be considered, said the commissioner, stating that some of the poles are rotted at the top and "must be taken down to repair them properly."

PUT UP SWINGS

On motion of Commissioner Eby, the city engineer will be asked to inspect all playground equipment and purchase any necessary repairs.

The board agreed that some of the playground equipment could be put up now so the children can enjoy themselves in the parks "during these fine days."

"Nobody's having any fun on the swings while they're in storage," said Commissioner Balagno.

Repeat Show Will Aid Museum Fund

"Impressions of '53," the local musical production which won rave notices at its initial performance earlier this month, will be repeated tomorrow night in the Civic Centre, with proceeds earmarked for the museum building fund.

Some new acts have been added to the original program by producers Pat Bolton, Mel Skalmard and Mel Thompson and all of the original hit numbers will be included.

The show, divided into two acts of modern pops and western music, features impersonations of famous popular musicians with the cast synchronizing actions with recordings.

Cast includes Carol Brentzen, Frankie Murphy, Marie LeVigne, Jim Cumming, John Currie and the three producers, plus the popular Westernaires.

The Prince Rupert Credit Women's Breakfast Club is sponsoring the show to raise funds for the proposed new Northern B.C. Museum here.

Prosperity Plus

BALTIMORE (CP)—Tim Bright, Maryland's only candidate so far for the Republican nomination for governor, gave the local Women's Republican Club his definition of the "130 per cent prosperity" he favors.

"I want you to have porterhouse steaks for breakfast." After Bright's speech, the audience was served hot dogs and lemonade.

Indians Mod

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP)—If the Indians got mad when the white man took their land, they are boiling now.

The Japanese are blamed this time for making "genuine" Navajo handwork and selling it at one-fifth the Indians' price. And right here on the reservation, no less.

Ned Hatathli, manager of the Navajo Arts and Crafts Guild, said the local tourist market is being flooded by beaded Indian belts, dolls and bows and arrows—all made in Japan.

Smithers Asks Retention Of Power Group Setup

Special to The Daily News
SMITHERS—Concerned with the possibility of a change in the setup of the B.C. Power Commission following resignations as a result of the What-shan development enquiry Smithers and District Chamber of Commerce passed the following resolution at a special meeting last week.

The resolution has been forwarded to Premier W.A.C. Bennett, with copies to Skeena member Frank Howard and Omineca member Shelford. Support of the resolution is being sought from other members of the North-Central Boards of Trade of B.C.

"Whereas it has been drawn to our attention that as a result of the recent upheaval in the personnel of the B.C. Power Commission there may be a possibility that the future of the B.C. Power Commission may be at stake

"And Whereas the B.C. Power Commission has in the main done excellent work in the past

"Now therefore be it resolved that this Chamber urge the B.C. Government to retain the present setup of a power commission and that a very strong committee be appointed who will fully implement the Electrical Power Act relating to subsidization of marginal electric power extensions.

"This Chamber further urges that one of the Commissioners should be a member from the North Central area of the province where electrification is a very important subject."

Smithers Village commissioners at its regular meeting last week also submitted a telegram to Premier Bennett acknowledging the good work of the B.C. Power Commission in the past eight years in Smithers and urging no major changes be made in its basic structure as a result of the resignations of the Power Commission.

Well-Known City Family Going South

A trio of long-time Prince Rupert residents will leave here tonight aboard the Prince George, bound for new homes in the south.

They are Mr. and Mrs. T. Strand, Tenth Avenue East, who have lived in Prince Rupert for about 35 years, and their daughter, Mrs. Peter (Jennie) Haan, 646 Fourth Avenue East, who was born here.

Mr. Strand has retired after 29 years with Atlin Fisheries. He worked his last day Friday, when a staff party was staged in his honor, at which Manager Harold Thom presented him with a gold watch, a gladstone bag and a wallet with money, on behalf of the staff. Mr. Strand was latterly manager of the filleting department at Atlin Fisheries.

Mr. and Mrs. Strand plan a brief visit in the south after which Mr. Strand will sail to Norway to visit his 93-year-old mother whom he hasn't seen for 43 years. He will leave to the old country in May, returning in September.

Mrs. Haan, who will be accompanied south by her five-year-old son, John, will join her husband in New Westminster where he has bought a home. Mr. Haan, who has been a Prince Rupert fisherman for the past 10 years and was born on the Queen Charlottes, plans to continue in the fishing industry and probably will visit Rupert area during the coming fishing season. He has been in the south for about a month, and his son Stanley, 14, is attending school in Vancouver.

Mrs. Strand will stay with the Haans in New Westminster until her husband returns from Norway, after which they expect to make their home in New Westminster.

Mrs. Haan has been honored at several farewell teas and parties by her many friends here in the past weeks.

Haymes, who made a quick trip to the capital Wednesday, left by plane for New York. He said he hoped to have a statement of his plans in two or three days.

In good humor, he added: "I haven't a worry in the world."

Fish and Game Stocking Plan Success in Smithers District

Special to The Daily News

SMITHERS—Reports on success of fish and game bird stocking in the area, and election of officers with J. R. Nicholson returned as president, highlighted the annual meeting of the Bulkley Valley Rod and Gun club here.

Jim Bovill and D. Trew were re-elected vice-president and secretary, respectively, and H. Hinchliffe was named treasurer. P. Thibault, Will Watson and S. Multhead were elected to the board of directors.

In his annual report, President Nicholson noted that an estimated 88,500 Kamloops trout eggs, of the 90,000 received from the game department, had hatched last season, and had been distributed to various district lakes. The program of stocking over the past years was bringing results in better fishing in district lakes and streams, he said. He also noted that 90,000 more eggs have been ordered for this year.

The meeting also heard reports of apparent success in introduction of ring-necked pheasants to the district. Birds received from the game department and those purchased by the club, plus some hatched from eggs here were released last season and had wintered well. Trapping of hawks and owls preying on the pheasants is under study.

The club has requested 50 more birds from the game department and authorized purchase of 100 pheasant chicks. Eggs laid by birds not released last fall also will be hatched.

Re-application by the club for purchase of the quarter-section site of its fish hatchery has been approved by the provincial lands department, but the club will seek a reduction of the price asked, $285 plus a $30 crown grant fee.

Members cited the club's program of improvement and expansion of hatchery facilities and other projects in fish and game protection and propagation with attendant costs, in asking for the cut in price.

Security Risk Publicity Said Kept at Minimum

OTTAWA (C.P.)—The government says it takes no security risks with its employees, but does not want to harm individuals by publicity concerning civil service dismissals and transfers for security reasons. Prime Minister St. Laurent informed the Commons yesterday that the number of security dismissals and transfers is "not very numerous."

Railways Plan Drastic Cuts For Steel Jobs

VICTORIA (C.P.)—The Victoria Colonist says in a newspaper story today that drastic reductions in Canadian railway freight rates for movement of Canadian steel to West Coast ports will be announced within 24 hours.

The newspaper says it had been informed that present rates will be slashed almost in half. The Colonist says word of the impending rate reductions were received in Victoria by an industrialist during a telephone conversation with the Hamilton offices of the Steel Corporation of Canada.

The reductions would put Canadian steel on a competitive basis on the West Coast with that of Great Britain, the United States, Japan and European producers.

The Colonist says Canadian railways have asked the board of transport commissioners to cut the freight on steel bound for Victoria and Vancouver from $2.10 to $1.10 a hundred pounds. The newspaper says the steel corporation planned a further freight allowance of approximately 28 cents a hundred pounds.

Basic price of steel in Canada is $4.60 a hundred pounds and Canadian steel now sells for about $6.70 a hundred pounds on the West Coast. The reductions forecast by The Colonist would mean Canadian steel could sell on the West Coast for about $5.42 a hundred pounds. United States steel from Utah now is sold here for about $5.68 a hundred pounds.

However, he made no direct reply to a question by David Fulton (PC-Kamloops) as to the number of civil servants affected by security precautions since Jan. 1, 1947.

Mr. St. Laurent said that in answering questions the government must consider the possibility of identification "that will cause unnecessary prejudice to an individual who has not had any trial, against whom no charge has been brought, but who, we feel, it would be undesirable to take risks for."

It would be difficult, if not impossible, to provide a breakdown of dismissals or transfers and the reason for each, and even if that could be done it might be "not in the best interests of the public to make that kind of list public."

DISCHARGE RESPONSIBILITY
"We merely attempt to discharge our responsibility to be careful. We are not in the position of a court trying an individual and having to direct evidence, but we have rather to have the benefit of the doubt, if any, go the other way."

"If there is any doubt about the likelihood of there being disloyalty, we just cannot take any risks; but we do not feel we are making any kind of a conviction that would justify branding an individual in such a way as to cause him harm in the community generally."

He said Communist or Fascist activities or associations are not the only reasons for dismissals or transfers. Others were "indications of weakness of personality or character habits and circumstances that render a person susceptible to pressure or blackmail."

He added: "On the whole, Canada is entitled to be proud of both the loyalty and devotion of most of its public servants."

In reply to Donald Fleming (PC-Toronto Eglinton), Mr. St. Laurent said the government has not yet found any workable appeal system. The government had considered providing appeals for civil servants dismissed or transferred as security risks, but was not convinced there would be any greater assurance of fairness by going beyond the present procedure.

MISTRESS of ceremonies Arlene Francis did a double-take on the U.S. Army "Talent Patrol" TV show when her guest (above) gave his vital statistics. Here they are: Pvt. ## NEW PROOF THAT MILLIONS CAN END THE NEED FOR LAXATIVES —find relief from constipation this safe, natural way—without the injurious effects of repeated laxative use.

With all the progress of medical science over the past 30 years, authorities say there is no longer any reason why irregularity should be our most widespread human malady.

Nor is there any reason for developing the habit of use of harsh laxatives—of dosing with one preparation after another in the vain hope of finding, in some potent pill, the "secret" of lasting relief.

Long-continued study of the problem has shown that one of the most common causes of irregularity is lack of bulk in the diet. And when this is the case, the common-sense correction is to be found not in the drug store but in your food store.

IT HAS LONG BEEN A MEDICALLY RECOGNIZED FACT THAT NATURE HAS PROVIDED, IN THE NATURAL FOODS MEN WERE INTENDED TO EAT, ALL THE ELEMENTS NECESSARY FOR THE LIFE-LONG AVOIDANCE OF CHRONIC CONSTIPATION.

One of these elements is natural fibrous bulk, or vegetable cellulose, which normally and naturally aids the rhythmic process of elimination.

In no natural food is this natural bulk so ideally found as in the outer layers, or bran, of the whole wheat kernel which, as you know, is lost in modern milling.

Because of the known value of bran in promoting regularity the Kellogg Company has produced a complete, whole bran—with nothing taken away to lessen its effectiveness—sold under the name of Kellogg's All-Bran, the natural laxative cereal.

How effective is All-Bran? This has been demonstrated in a series of systematic clinical studies reported in leading medical journals.

In one study, 135 people with known delayed bowel function were given one ounce of All-Bran daily for one week. They were studied clinically and with X-ray with tests made before, during and after they ate the All-Bran.

OF THE 135 PEOPLE, 107 SHOWED DEFINITE CLINICAL IMPROVEMENT IN JUST 7 DAYS.

IN A FOLLOW-UP STUDY, BETTER THAN 6 OUT OF EVERY 7 PATIENTS WHO WERE GIVEN ALL-BRAN IMPROVED.

The greatest advantage of All-Bran is that it corrects the cause of irregularity due to insufficient bulk. Chemical or drug-type laxatives, on the other hand, are intended only for overnight relief of a temporary stoppage.

When people use these products habitually—in a way that laxative makers never intended they punish their digestive system in a way that nature never intended. Instead of correcting the cause, they often actually make their condition worse.

If you think you must take a laxative preparation occasionally, do so. But do it wisely. Read the instructions completely. AVOID EXCESSIVE USAGE. But for natural and lasting relief put your trust in nature. Just eat daily a one-ounce serving of All-Bran for breakfast and drink plenty of water.

This All-Bran plan has helped millions to re-establish and to maintain healthful regularity. Why not you?

Maple Leafs and Bruins Out For Revenge Tonight

By The Canadian Press

Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston Bruins go after their first goals of the Stanley Cup semi-finals tonight.

The Leafs, blanked 5-0 Tuesday night in Detroit, meet the Wings in Detroit for the second game of the series while Boston, white-washed 2-0 by Montreal Canadiens Tuesday, play their second game in Montreal.

Going into tonight's game in the best-of-seven series against the National Hockey League champions, the Leafs have scored only four times in eight appearances on Detroit ice this season.

The Wings will be at home four times if the series goes the seven-game limit. No matter how many times the Leafs beat Terry Sawchuk in Toronto, it can't get them any more than three victories.

Besides battling the Detroit scoring famine, the Leafs have to cope with a slump by goalie Harry Lumley, who won the Vezina Trophy for the best netminding record for the regular schedule.

While the Owen Sound, Ont., native hung on to edge Sawchuk by a single goal for the trophy, he has been scored on 16 times in his last three appearances, looking particularly bad in fanning on a couple of long shots Tuesday night.

The seasoned Red Wings, almost all veterans of previous Stanley Cup campaigns, are in top form.

The Leafs, on the other hand, with six players in their line-up who have never tried for a Stanley Cup, showed signs of playoff jitters Tuesday.

In Montreal, coach Dick Irvin said his Canadiens will go after victory No. 2 with the same lineup that stopped the Bruins.

"We took that first game and I'm planning to go along with the same bunch," said Irvin Wednesday night.

DENIES GALLIVANTING

Incidentally, Irvin denied reports that he went gallivanting off to a farm Wednesday to see his chickens.

Instead, he spent most of the day at his home in Montreal, worrying over his brood of hockey players and the power of the "unseen hand," which, to Irvin's mind, plays an important part in every game.

"I still think the breaks will decide this series," said Irvin. "We played very well Tuesday night but we can play a little better. That goes for two or three of our fellows, anyway."

"If we take the second game we will be hard to beat."

MIGHT END IN MONTREAL

The third and fourth games are in Boston. The teams then alternate between cities game by game and if the series goes the seven-game limit it would end in Montreal.

Coach Lynn Patrick of the Bruins may have to make line changes. He was giving consideration Wednesday to using three instead of four lines, especially when defenseman Hal Laycoe has recovered from an injury and is ready for rear-guard duty.

Centre Gus Bodnar was expected to be ready for tonight's game. With Bodnar ready, Patrick planned to drop Guyile Fielder, up from Seattle of the Western Hockey League.

Patrick also has to find some means of overcoming Canadiens' defensive strength. In the first game, won by Montreal 2-0, the Bruins were outshot 43-12.

BEG Tickets Going Fast At Early Date

VANCOUVER (C)—Tickets for the British Empire Games, still four months away, are going fast, games officials said Wednesday night.

Ticket sales chairman Sam Rosen said advance ticket sales for the games here July 30 to Aug. 7 have reached $12,500. He said officials expect tickets for the swimming, boxing and cycling events will be sold out within a few weeks.

Rosen said demand is also brisk for tickets to the track and field events but there was no danger of an immediate sell-out.

Tickets have been sold as far away as Peru and Skagway, Alaska but 90 per cent of the sales have been to British Columbia residents.

SENIOR BASEBALL GROUP TO HOLD MEETING SUNDAY

Prince Rupert Senior Baseball association holds its annual meeting at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Elks Hall to plot the course of this season's play.

Attending will be representatives of the three city teams, Gordon & Anderson, Esquire Men's Wear, and Commercial Hotel, plus Neil McKerracher, manager of the Terrace team.

First item on the agenda will be the appointment of a baseball commissioner to succeed last year's league proxy Eddy Gladding and also naming a secretary-treasurer in place of Alce Bill who is retiring due to health reasons. Canadidates who have been mentioned for the post are Father O. P. Mohan and Ian Dunbar.

The meeting will also decide, in answer to a Parks board request, what funds are needed for the maintenance of Roosevelt park for the coming season.

OUTDOORS With Marty —

Although an ample quorum of members appeared at the recent Rod and Gun Club meeting, President JIM BACON quite properly refrained from proceeding with the election of officers in view of his belief in the need for a stronger representation of the membership to give him a firmer mandate for the program which lies ahead. There are resolutions to be passed upon, which, if enacted into law, will have a definite effect upon outdoor folks' pocketbooks; also the Junior part of the Club is to come in for greater attention.

The acquisition of certain rights to territory out of town for angling and shooting needs, perhaps a hatchery of our own, a clubhouse to be erected, rifle and crow shoots, some pistol work for those interested, the general encouragement and tuition of the younger members, and some special attractions for the ladies are all in the offing, but willing hands and capable heads are an urgent need for all that is to be done.

Only too often we hear the remark that "it is the same crowd running the club every year," this condition will remain unless YOU do something about it. Be done with idle talk, the old days are gone, the old order changed, let us get on with something new!

The remarkable progress made in only four months by the young rifleman has already elicited the promise of another 22 rifle, it is expected that yet another will be forthcoming when the lads have added two more firing points and butts to the four now in operation. At the moment two separate evenings are required to give each of the forty lads his turn at the targets, but their enthusiasm does not wane, should yours?

Many, many outdoorsmen in this city have not joined the club to date, if they will but come into the fold with their abilities and modest dues, we can break down the present lethargy and become the focal point of attention to both officialdom and the sporting fraternity. Let us now accept our destiny and lead the sportsmen of the north country as we should; do not fail to attend the next meeting March 29.

Precisely as your columnist predicted some moons ago, JEFF WILSON took first prizes from both Field and Stream and Hunting and Fishing in Canada with his 70-pound steelhead, and brought glory to the Kispiox and the Hazeltons. It is happily noted that human predators using unfair tactics are being brought to book for their misdoings in the Kispiox country, while the Burns Lake folk are resolved to have an end to the horrible practice of certain motorists who deliberately run into covets of grouse which they meet on the highway.

Local anglers out in force over the past brilliant week-end, but the only success reported was by a party who sought larger fish at Telegraph Point, they were plenty pleased by a good take of oolichans. A few days earlier GORDON READE led a Copper River sortie which accounted for eight good steelheads. Springs are momentarily expected to reach Metlakatla and the local harbor, meantime one must be content with flatfish and rockfish; at least the faithful bottom fish will fill in both sportswise and in the frypan.

New fishing tackle showing up in the local stores, and even more would be used if there was a convenient place along the waterfront for small boat owners to trailer-back the outboard rig into salt water. Seems a pity that these small boats are used almost exclusively on lakes, when they might serve an extra turn close home when time does not permit a journey inland.

Remember the date, Monday, March 29, the Moose Hall, the Rod and Gun Club meeting.

IMPORTANT!!!

Late flash: MAGNUS HALVERSON tells of large dollies around the rear of the Cow Bay Co-op, they rise to a handful of chummed hamburger or similar, and should fall a single egg or small meat bait.

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

End-Play Good Trick Getter

Just glancing at the cards in today's deal, it seems certain that Mr. Champion will have to lose two hearts and two diamonds. But, using that wonderful trick getter, the end-play, he managed to make his contract.

Mr. Abel led the trey of hearts and Miss Brash won with the ace. Realizing she was on lead for the last time, she returned the five of diamonds. Mr. Champion went up with the ace and noted Mr. Abel's play of the queen. This, he hoped, indicated a holding of the king-queen doubleton.

He laid down the ace and king of spades and on the second spade Mr. Abel discarded a small heart. He now played the queen of hearts and Mr. Abel was in with the king.

SEES DANGER
The king of diamonds was cashed, but then Mr. Abel had nothing left but hearts and clubs. If he led a heart, Mr. Champion could ruff on the board and throw the losing diamond from his hand.

Mr. Abel recognized this danger and decided to return the eight of clubs, hoping Miss Brash held the jack. But Mr. Champion had that card and he ducked the club lead in dummy and won in his own hand. He then picked up the last outstanding trump, finessed the queen of clubs and parked his last diamond on the ace. Thus he lost only two hearts and a diamond.

COULD SQUIRM OUT
It wasn't easy to see, but Mr. Abel could have squirmed out of the trap. If he had returned the king of clubs instead of a low club, Mr. Champion would have been held to two tricks in that suit.

On winning with dummy's ace, he could have returned to his hand with a low club to the jack. But then there would have been no way to return to the board to cash the queen. Miss Brash's jack of spades ruined the chance of reaching dummy with a trump lead. And at the end Mr. Champion would have had to concede a diamond trick.
