Strike Looms In Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—John Raymond, Windsor, Ont., vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFI), was scheduled to meet with B.C. Electric officials today in an attempt to avert a strike by some 1,000 members of his union.

The IBEW is asking a 10-cent increase and fringe benefits. Basic wage ranges over 12 categories from a low of $1.53 to $2.31 an hour.

Thousands Flock To Art Show

LONDON (Reuters)—One of London's foremost art galleries had to "turn them away" Sunday night as the British capital approached the end of one of the most booming years of its art circles can recall. A line-up reaching at times 1,000 persons formed outside the Tate Gallery on the French Impressionist artist, Pierre Renoir.

Many disappointed art-lovers were still waiting outside when the doors finally closed on the show, witnessed during the last month by 65,524 persons.

Passenger Traffic Down Per Cent in Halifax

HALIFAX (CP)—Despite a mild fall from the recent dockers strike, passenger traffic through this port is 30 per cent from last year.

Both the amount of cargo handled and the total movement have increased. Manager John Mitchell said 48,000 passengers through Halifax in the first 10 months of 1953, compared with 37,000 last year.

Trade Boosts Freight

The fact that freight traffic has continued to increase can be set down to brisk international trade in general and world demand for Canadian wheat in particular. During the six months ended April 30, a peacetime record of 14,000,000 bushels of grain moved from the port.

Cargo loaded and unloaded in 1952 amounted to 4,546,000 tons, a four-year increase of nearly 1,000,000 tons. The total this year is expected to show a further jump.

Terminal Costs Hit Coast Trade Strong Merchant Fleet Needed

By The Canadian Press SAN FRANCISCO.—A Seattle waterfront executive has charged that high terminal costs are killing off coastal and inter-coastal shipping.

Clarence Carlander, vice-president of the Seattle Port Commission, made the charge in testifying before the three-man U.S. Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. Potter (R. Mich.). It is exploring troubles of the shipping industry.

"There is an alarming decline in coastwise trade and climbing terminal costs are a determining factor," Carlander declared.

He said these costs chiefly were in labor and were about four times higher than a few years ago.

He also said intercoastal shipping was being hit further through competition by Canadian vessels.

"They have very nice ships," he said, "with rates about the same, thus attracting much passenger trade that ordinarily would utilize American vessels."

Senator Magnuson (D. Wash.), another committee member, said "American lines are confronted with Canadian Pacific Steamship vessels operating under very heavy subsidy from the Canadian government."

He remarked that a strong merchant fleet was indispensable to the Puget Sound area, along with a strong sea trade with Alaska.

Hundreds Attend Memorial Service for Alan Hurst

More than 500 persons attended a memorial service in the Civic Centre Sunday for Alan M. Hurst, 56-year-old Booth Memorial High School principal who died suddenly last Thursday night.

Conducted by Dr. E. A. Wright, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, members of the Canadian Legion, every service club, and civic officials joined in the solemn ceremony in the main gymnasium of the Centre which Mr. Hurst was instrumental in obtaining and helping equip.

A reminder of the civic-minded principal, who had taught school in B.C. for 23 years and for the past six years in this city and who during the last year was director of YMCA services for the Pacific coast, was the inscription on the back of the chairs.

On each, in black letters, were the initials "YMCA."

Among the throng were dozens of high school students and former students who went to pay last respects to the man who died while playing cards with three friends aboard a cruiser at the yacht club last Thursday night.

The crowd made their way to the Civic Centre in a driving rain. Among the throng were almost every member of the Gyro Club.

Mr. Hurst was vice-president of the Gyro Club and had planned, with other members, to join in distributing boxes of apples throughout the city on Sunday.

Dozens of floral tributes from organizations and many individuals covered the front porch.

Charge Laid Against Driver

TERRACE—A charge of manslaughter has been laid against George L. Robertson in connection with the death of Glen Jackson following a highway accident near Shames on Labor Day.

Police allege that Robertson was the driver of the panel delivery truck which crashed into the end of the Flood bridge resulting in injuries which proved fatal to Jackson and seriously injuring his brother William T. Jackson and Mrs. T. W. Jackson. Robertson received minor injuries in the crash.

Glen Jackson died in Terrace General hospital September 16 and Mr. and Mrs. Jackson are reported making steady progress in Prince Rupert General hospital.

Wet, Weary Gyros Wind Way Home After Delivering 1,000 Boxes of Apples

Some 34 Gyros wended their weary way home last night, cold, wet and tired, warmed only by the knowledge that more than 1,000 boxes of apples had been delivered throughout the city, swelling the Gyro club's playground fund by something like $1,200.

The Gyros braved a downpour of rain and wild winds at 3 a.m. Sunday, starting out on their annual project with four trucks, assigned to four sections of the city.

They stopped to change rain-soaked clothes and attend the memorial service for Alan Hurst, vice-president of the club, who, had he lived, would have been a leader in the apple campaign.

The deliveries wound up the Gyro club's annual apple day campaign, launched October 17 with street sales down town from booths.

Most citizens paid for the apples on delivery although there are still some COD payments to come in and the club has ap-

Repatriation Talks Come to Standstill

By GEORGE McARTHUR Associated Press Staff Writer

PANMUNJOM.—The Communists today raised an immediate threat to the success of preliminary Korean peace talks at their opening session by demanding the admission of neutral nations to the big talks a proposal opposed by the United States.

Despite the ominous first day of the preliminary talks, Arthur Dean, U.S. ambassador representing the United Nations, expressed hope that an agreement could be hammered out and "a political conference will be held."

Dean and the Communists collided head on over an agenda for the preliminary talks. The Reds insisted on discussing composition of the political conference first.

Dean has no authority to negotiate the make-up of the political conference. He can discuss only administrative matters, time and place.

Meanwhile, the strife-torn Communist efforts to persuade 22,400 ex-Red soldiers to go home appeared near an end, stymied by an open split in the prisoner repatriation commission over whether to force the PoWs to listen to the Red persuasion.

Lt. Gen. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the commission, said the commission's chances of success in its mission are "very small."

"The situation now is very serious," Thimayya told reporters after a two-hour, eight-minute commission meeting debate on rival Communist and non-Communist views.

Observers have speculated that the Communists may be seeking a way out of the explanations, since two days of talks with 931 Chinese won only 21 prisoners back to the Red fold.

The commission is split over whether to force the prisoners to listen to the Red interviews.

Thimayya effectively has sided against the Reds, ruling that force can not be used unless the commission agrees to it unanimously.

The preliminary peace talks lasted one hour and 15 minutes. The negotiators meet again tomorrow at 11 a.m. (9 p.m. Monday EST).

Chinese Reds Revive Dread 'Wu Fan' Drive

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communists are reviving the dread "Wu Fan" economic terror campaign of last year.

Arrests already have been made and so-called "people's" trials started.

In 1952 there was a national movement to eliminate the Wu Fan (five evils) from private owners—such as tax evasion, bribery and fudging on contracts. In practice it turned out to be a terror campaign to collect extra money for Peiping through fines.

It was called a "tiger hunt" and became so violent in the spring of 1952 that the Reds had to call it off because it was stopping production in private industry—still about half of all China's industry.

Recently stories in Peiping propaganda have hinted that a new "tiger hunt" was about to start against backsliding private owners. The commonest charge was tax evasion. Later in a story covering Manchurian production, the Reds added charges of excess profits.

In one of the first trials, a private factory manager in Mukden was charged with having bought raw materials too low and sold the finished product too high. He was given eight years' imprisonment.

4 Lose Lives Over Week-end

By The Canadian Press

Four persons died violently on Canada's west coast during the weekend and the body of a fifth was discovered where police said they believed it had lain for several years.

Dead are Mrs. Eileen Krebs, 47, of Salt Spring Island, B.C.; Stewart Moore, 45, and Henry Mielke, both of Vancouver, and a seaman, Michael Daskalakis. Found dead was Wilfred Savage, Courtenay, B.C.

Mrs. Krebs was killed and five others injured in a head-on collision Saturday night on the Patricia Bay highway near Sidney on Vancouver Island.

Moore and Mielke both were drowned in the Fraser River where they had gone with a third man to hunt ducks at season opening Saturday.

Daskalakis was reported killed in a fall aboard the SS Atlantic Pilot, which docked Sunday at Port Alberni from the Orient.

Savage was found dead in a bush near Courtenay. RCMP would divulge no details as to how he died except to say they believed the body had lain undiscovered from three to five years.

John Bull—With Laurels

STATESMAN and man of letters, nobleman and commoner, prophet and bon vivant, Sir Winston Churchill is today perhaps the only true Elizabethan.

Clad in the royal purple of his prose, he yet walks the earth in full-blooded enjoyment and lion-hearted fellowship with the people from whom he once demanded blood, sweat and tears.

And now the rubicund and cherubic face is crowned with a laurel wreath. It becomes him well.

Some may wish that instead of the Nobel Prize for Literature he had received the Nobel Peace Prize—in recognition of his heroic attempts this year to turn the course of the cold war, that struggle of giants which he himself was first to forecast at Fulton, Missouri, in 1946.

But history will have to pass judgment on his hopes of moving toward peace through top-level conferences, while his achievement in letters is already writ large and bold for all to see.

Sir Winston stands as a living monument to the power of words. Perhaps no statesman in the English-speaking world since Lincoln—that lanky commoner so profoundly unlike him in most ways—has been able to clothe his thoughts in such imperishable words.

For the prose of such men is more than a matter of "style," of ringing phrases, of words of marble and fire. The style is there all right, but it comes from the depths of character, from thundering vitalities and Olympian disciplines beyond the scope of casual understanding.

Soldiers Asked To Return Home

MUNSAN (AP)—Cpl. Edward W. Dickenson, who quit the Communists to return home, appealed today to 22 American war prisoners who chose to stay with the Reds to "take my advice and come back home."

"Boys, I've found out that the Communists have told nothing but lies to us," he wrote.

Dickenson, of Big Stone Gap, Va., made his appeal in a letter which will be distributed among his friends now held by Indian guards in the neutral zone of Korea.

It is the first attempt to persuade the 22 Americans to change their minds and return home. The Allies have until Dec. 23 or 24 to talk with the balking POWs.

Dickenson was turned over to the United Nations command Wednesday after telling Indian guards he was through with communism.

His letter to his former comrades is now in Munsan awaiting transmission through the Indian command, which runs the POW compounds.

As I See It

These Doukhobors EVER SINCE the Doukhobors came to Canada there has been episode after episode in which some members of that community came in conflict with the laws of this country.

But not till 1950 did any government of Canada—either federal or provincial—ever make a really scientific study of the causes of and possible remedies for the recurrent disturbances.

In the spring of 1950 the then attorney-general, Gordon Wismer, asked the University of British Columbia to conduct this long overdue work. A research committee was set up consisting of the following experts:

Harry B. Hawthorn, professor of anthropology, UBC; William G. Dixon, associate professor of social work, UBC; Charles Harwood, psychologist, University of Washington; Raymond Herbert, lecturer in law, UBC; Gordon Hirabayashi, sociologist, American University, Beirut, Syria; Stuart Jamieson, economist, UBC; Claudia Lewis, Banks College of Education, New York; Malcolm A. Rowles, associate professor of Soils, UBC; Alfred Shulman, resident psychiatrist, Seton Institute, Baltimore; Edro Signori, psychologist, UBC; and Alexander W. Wainman, assistant professor of Slavonic studies, UBC.

These experts went to work on a thorough scientific study of the whole Doukhobor problem in B.C. while a larger civilian group acted as a general advisory body.

A complete job was done by the experts, first in the field actually living and working with the Doukhobors themselves as a part of the process, and later in co-ordinating the task.

On March 29, 1952, the research committee published its 342-page report. It was one of the most masterly jobs ever done in any country in the field of what might be called "social harmony planning."

It set forth in great detail what the experts in various fields had found made the troublesome minority act as it does.

It showed with great clarity why there can never be real pacification of the Doukhobor affairs in southern B.C. until the whole question of ownership of the land is stabilized.

The research committee recommended that the Sons of Freedom be assisted to migrate from Canada, if they so chose and could find a place to go.

But failing such an exodus, the committee recommended the relocation of the entire Sons of Freedom group in some part of B.C. where they would be able to earn their own living on the soil and be segregated but not imprisoned.

The professors showed the utter absurdity and futility of sending demonstrating Doukhobors to jail for nudism—and indeed argued that the special section of the Criminal Code dealing with nude parade should be repealed.

BY SEPARATING the children from their parents and by sending scores of nude parading Doukhobors to jail within a stone's throw of many nudist camps officially chartered by B.C., the present government has done the very things which its own $200,000 commission said were utter folly.

Canadian Chamber of Commerce Doesn't Expect Economic Recession

OTTAWA — The Canadian Chamber of Commerce, describing Canada as the "land of greatest opportunity in the world," said today there is no basis for pessimism that a cut in defence expenditures will bring an economic recession or collapse.

In its annual submission to the federal cabinet, the chamber—Canada's national business organization—said an easing of international tension should give free enterprise an opportunity to show what it can achieve.

The submission covered policy declarations and resolutions adopted at the chamber's annual meeting in Edmonton Sept. 14-17 and referred to practically all phases of the Canadian economy.

On defence spending, the chamber said it believes any reduction in defence expenditures should be only a minor proportion of present totals "unless and until an effective disarmament agreement is reached and the threat of aggression is removed."

"Moreover, the chamber believes that there are many desirable national projects and alternative civilian demands in Canada... to absorb any economic readjustments that may be necessary."

IMMIGRATION "The chamber believes that the objective of Canadian policy should be a population of 30,000,000 by 1975. To achieve this aim there will have to be more immigrants than have been admitted in recent years."

TAXATION "The chamber believes that both personal and corporate income taxes are too high for a developing country. State control increases with high taxation."

BUSINESS "Government control and intervention in business should be kept to a minimum and should only occur where there is a clear need to protect some accurately defined public interest."

TRADE "The chamber is concerned with the tendency of the United States to modify the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade... Unless new opportunities are provided for other countries to earn dollars to pay for their purchase, there can be no satisfaction."

HEALTH INSURANCE "The chamber is opposed to any form of compulsory health insurance or state medicine."

GOVERNMENT EFFICIENCY "The chamber urges that a royal commission should be immediately appointed to make recommendations for increased economy and efficiency and improve service in the transaction of public business."

COMMUNISM "Communists should be barred from employment in all vital services and industries. The chamber approves the steps already taken by the government in this connection and urges continued vigilance."

OTTAWA DIARY

By NORMAN M. McLEOD

Not the least important news escaping from the government's advance plans for the coming Parliamentary session is the intention to streamline the House of Commons rules of procedure.

The aim of the proposed changes will be to shorten the time which the MP's spend in repetitious debate. The argument is that entirely too much talk is required to deal with the program which Parliament faces each year.

The system in the British Parliament presumably will be drawn upon heavily for guidance. The Westminster plan of allowing only a limited time for the routine Speech from the Throne and Budget debates will be adopted.

In Westminster sometimes as little as a day is set apart for these discussions, after which the House must vote. In the Commons here it is likely that three or four days will be allotted to each debate.

Another major change will be the more extensive use of standing committees in the handling of routine legislation. Such matters as departmental estimates, which hitherto have consumed several weeks of the time of the House as a whole, will be referred to a standing committee for preliminary combing. Much of the information hitherto given in the House will be given there.

The new rules will not become effective before the Autumn, 1954, session of Parliament. They will be adopted by the session opening next month. The assurance of their adoption is the fact that they will be presented as a government measure.

Actually, there is a very good chance that the passage of the new rules may provide the first occasion for the St. Laurent government's reliance upon the steam-roller majority which it won in the late August election.

The opposition parties are almost certain to be united against changes as sweeping as these which will be proposed. The logic of this is simple: the rules of the House are designed in large part to bolster the rights of the opposition minority; any abridgment of them automatically extends the power of the government side of the House.

The most popular argument which the government will advance in favor of the new rules is their effect in shortening the length of the Parliamentary session. The inducement will be held out of a cut of a month or more off the time that the MP's will have to spend in Ottawa. It is only a short time, of course, since the pay of the MP's was increased handsomely to compensate for the longer time they are having to spend in Ottawa.

But then, as is well known, Parliament never worries too much about the consistency or otherwise of its actions.

STEADY GNP RISE The GNP, as it is known among economists, has been rising year by year. At the outset this year's GNP was forecast at a record $24,000,000,000. Now the indications are this will be exceeded, possibly by more than $100,000,000.

And despite some talk of possible recession, the experts are convinced Canada's GNP will continue to grow, perhaps by as much as $1,000,000 next year. They base their convictions on industry's long-range investment plans for developing resources; the continuing heavy demand for goods; the growth of the Canadian market and national income; and other signs of economic strength.

A sudden shift in world events could upset their rosy outlook. But they observe that when the world's most powerful economy, the United States, hit a mild recession in 1949, Canada rode out the storm with hardly a ripple in her economic expansion.

Federal taxes next year likely will be about the same as this year—about $4,400,000,000.

Canada's Growth May Give Tax Relief To Some Citizens This Year

By HAROLD MORRISON Canadian taxpayers, told to expect no major tax cuts in next year's federal budget, can hope that the country's economic growth will produce some relief.

Experts say that despite the probability of another $2,000,000,000 defence budget in 1954, the growth of Canada's national production may permit a few tax cuts, likely in the personal income and corporation tax fields.

Finance Minister Abbott, however, made clear in a speech last week that no major cuts are likely until 1955.

The two main factors influencing tax rates are the government's needs and the gross national product-value of all goods and services produced by Canada.

And despite some talk of possible recession, the experts are convinced Canada's GNP will continue to grow, perhaps by as much as $1,000,000 next year.

They base their convictions on industry's long-range investment plans for developing resources; the continuing heavy demand for goods; the growth of the Canadian market and national income; and other signs of economic strength.

Society Makes $2,000 at Tea

An appeal to all citizens of British Columbia to aid the work of the Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada was made by Lieutenant-Governor Wallace.

Because of the urgent need for medical research to find a treatment for this crippling disease, which has ruined thousands of young Canadian lives, the Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada devotes its entire efforts to research. A careful handling of funds has enabled the Society to make substantial grants to research from very modest revenues.

The Lieutenant-Governor spoke at the fall bazaar and tea, which launched the 1953-54 campaign for research funds by Vancouver Chapter of the Society.

Research on this disease started a year ago in Vancouver, is being supported by a grant from the Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada to the University of British Columbia.

Research revenues will benefit by more than $2,000 as a result of the bazaar and tea at the Canadian Legion Hall, 2177 West 42nd Avenue, Vancouver.

Amateur Night Contest Soon At Terrace

TERRACE—Fall and winter activities are in full swing now at the Terrace Civic Centre, and President O. A. Kaubeck and the directors are busy making final plans for one of the highlights of the season, an Amateur Night, to be staged November 13.

First and second prizes, gift certificates valued respectively at $10 and $5, will be awarded in four age groups, nine years and under, 10 to 12 years, 13 to 19 years—and adults, and similar prizes will be given in the old-time fiddler contests to be staged between each group contest.

Other activities at the centre include badminton, basketball, roller-skating and eight bowling alleys in full swing.

The directors, at a recent meeting, turned down a request from the Parent-Teacher Association that sale of candy at the canteen be prohibited.

This Week—The Prince Rupert Music and Drama Association will meet in the Civic Centre, Wednesday, October 28, at 8 p.m.

Special to The Daily News
TERRACE—Installation of officers highlighted the Terrace Kinsmen Club's annual banquet and dance here in the Civic Centre, with Ernie Robin taking over the presidency.

Guests from Vancouver and Prince Rupert clubs attended the affair at which Curley Barbour of the Rupert club presented a gavel to the Terrace group, received by past-president Jack McLeod.

A president's pin was presented to Mr. Robin and a past-president's pin to Babe Rougeau.

Other officers installed were: Fred Stewart vice-president, Parker Mills secretary, Hal Windt treasurer, Ernie Shave Bulletin editor, and directors, Charles Agar, Al Davis and Jack Williams.

The group enjoyed a turkey dinner served by the Rebekah lodge, and dancing wound up the evening.

S.R. Walters Gets New Post

The Aluminum Company of Canada, Limited has announced the appointment of Stephen R. Walters as manager, Vancouver district sales office, replacing John D. Runkle who has been transferred to new duties at Alcan's head office in Montreal.

Mr. Walters, a naval architect, has been associated with the Aluminum Limited group of companies since 1947, having joined the organization in London, England after some years with the naval construction department of the British Admiralty. He has been attached to Alcan's Vancouver district sales office, a territory which includes all of British Columbia and Alberta, for the past two years.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

Oh, WHERE is my wandering ad tonight?

That's a fair question and deserves a factual answer. When you buy newspaper advertising you have an investment in every copy of the paper that carries your sales message because the circulation of the newspaper is also the circulation of your advertising. So, what you get in return for your advertising dollars depends on the newspaper's circulation. In order that you may buy space in this newspaper as you would make any sound business investment, we hold membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations, well known to advertisers and publishers as A.B.C. Only publications with paid circulation—evidence that people want the paper—are eligible for membership.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors comes to our office to make a thorough audit of our circulation records. The FACTS that he obtains as a result of the audit are published in A.B.C. reports which tell you: How much circulation we have; Where it goes; How obtained; How much people pay for our paper, and many other FACTS that you need in order to KNOW what you get for your advertising money.

It's never necessary for our advertisers to ask, "Oh, where is my wandering ad?" They get the FACTS from our A.B.C. report and KNOW. Ask for a copy today.

The Audit Bureau of Circulations is a cooperative, nonprofit association of 3,450 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers. Organized in 1914, A.B.C. established a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring circulation and methods for auditing and reporting circulation FACTS.

Government Decision on Air Cargo Service Vital to Air Development

OTTAWA (CP)—C. H. (Punch) Dickins, president of the Air Industries and Transport Association, said today the pending cabinet decision on Canadian Pacific Airlines' application for cross-country cargo service is "vital" to the future of the country's air development.

Mr. Dickins, a former northern bush pilot and one of aviation's most colorful pioneers, recalled in his presidential address that Transport Minister Chevrier at last year's annual meeting of AITA "announced his intention to permit limited competition in certain areas."

CPA has applied for a licence to run a Montreal-Vancouver cargo service in competition with Trans-Canada Air Lines' combined passenger-cargo service, which has been given exclusive cross-country rights. The federal cabinet has discussed the question at length, but Prime Minister St. Laurent said recently there is still a difference of opinion.

Dredging 'Interfered' With Radar

VANCOUVER (CP)—A controversy over dredging operations at the entrance to Vancouver harbor during the fall fog season developed Saturday night as an aftermath of the collision between the SS Cardena and the Princess Elizabeth.

At the same time shipping officials said a "radar blind spot" beneath Lions Gate Bridge may have been a contributing factor to the collision Friday which tore a 35-foot hole in the port bow of Union Steamships' 1,500-ton Cardena and caused minor damage to the Canadian Pacific Railway's Elizabeth.

The collision occurred while the ships, both using radar, were passing beneath the bridge in the thickest fog of the season.

Captain Thomas MacDuff of the CPR's BC Coast Steamships said the blind spot covered a radius of 100 to 150 yards from the bridge due to the effect of the steel span on the radar's electrical impulses.

One high coastal marine authority described the dredging ordered by the federal government as "extremely dangerous" to shipping, and Captain Eric Suffield of Union Steamships said:

"I believe a contributing factor was the dredging operations because they cut down the channel to half its width." He said the dredging should have been carried out in the summer, rather than in the late fall when the fog is bad.

But Captain Ian McTavish of Straits Towing, which contracted as tenderers for the dredging work, said the equipment was in the middle of the narrows and represented no "menace" to shipping because vessels normally keep to the right in such narrow channels.

"Boss" Denies Bennett Claim On Finances

VICTORIA (CP)—Former premier Byron I. Johnson broke his long silence on British Columbia affairs Saturday to deny Premier W. A. C. Bennett's claims on provincial government finances.

He issued a statement describing as "utter nonsense and not in keeping with the facts," a claim made by Premier Bennett at the opening of the B.C. Social Credit League convention in Vancouver. Mr. Bennett claimed at that time that, before Social Credit entered office, the Liberals proposed borrowing $28,000,000.

"As premier and minister of finance during the Liberal term," Mr. Johnson said, "I know of no decision to borrow any money prior to handing over the government. All the treasury bills owing the bank were paid off before the Liberal government left office."

Mr. Johnson said the Social Credit government put all the surpluses left by the Liberal government into general revenue.

"The pay-as-you-go policy for the first year at least was paid out of surplus funds taken over by the Social Credit when it assumed office."

"It is now necessary for them to find new revenue to take the place of money left by my government," Mr. Johnson said, "hence the many new taxation bills passed at the last session."

Cattle Start 200-Mile Trek to Quesnel

QUESNEL (CP)—A herd of 150 head of cattle is now on a 200-mile drive from Anahim Lake, 40 miles east of the head of Burke Channel, in the coast area, to Quesnel.

The cattle are en route to the annual Quesnel sale, set back a week this year to give Anahim ranchers time to finish haying before rounding up their steers for the long trek.

E. A. Winder, secretary of the Quesnel Cattlemen's Association, said he expects 1,000 head in the sale.

'UNKNOWN' ROAD LEADS DRIVER TO SECRET BASE

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—John B. Gribble of Albuquerque became lost on a visit to the airport Sunday and wound up in a top-secret section of Kirtland air force base.

Questioned for two hours after he asked someone for directions, Gribble showed air force police a back road he took to the base.

"They said they didn't know it existed," he said. "There wasn't a fence or a gate or even a sign saying 'keep out'."

"Will you always live at your present address?"

No one really likes moving, although most of us do move at one time or another.

When we do, we hope it will be to something approaching our idea of a "dream house". This is likely to be pretty expensive.

This doesn't apply, of course, to those few people whose taste runs to an igloo or a tent.

If you are one of those people who want to own their own home... or want to move to a bigger or better one... or even to be ready to move if you have to, shouldn't you take steps now?

Not everyone wants to save for a house, of course. There are probably a thousand and one things you want. Saving is the way to get them.

To save there's no surer way than with Canada Savings Bonds. It's the safe, convenient and systematic method.

They're easy to get through your bank, investment dealer or through your Company's Payroll Savings Plan. Better do something about it today!

Seattle Takes Double Lacing From Canucks, N.W. Royals

By The Canadian Press
Seattle Bombers, on their last sweep through Canadian territory, boosted themselves into third place in the Western Hockey League, so two Canadian teams visited the United States city during the week-end and returned the compliment.

Victoria Cougars settled for a 1-1 tie in New Westminster, Edmonton Flyers visited Saskatoon and took the Quakers 4-2.

When the smoke cleared, the Canucks had won their eighth game with one tie and no losses, to lead the league with 17 points. Calgary, idle during the week-end, is second with 13 points.

Seattle is third, New Westminster fourth, Saskatoon and Edmonton tied for fifth and Victoria last.

Vessels Injured As Bombers Thump Eskimos

By The Canadian Press
Saskatchewan Roughriders and Winnipeg Blue Bombers start Canadian major football along the playoff trail Wednesday when they open their home-and-home, total points Western Interprovincial Union semi-final in Winnipeg.

The teams battled right down to the wire for second place before Frank Filchock's galloping Riders won it by one point as the WIFU ended its 16-game schedule Saturday night, Saskatchewan tying the cellar-dwelling Stampede 13-13 at Calgary and Winnipeg thumping the first-place Eskimos 17-8 at Edmonton.

Edmonton's loss may have cost the Flyers more than wounded pride. Their star halfback from Oklahoma, Billy Vessels, was injured during the game.

An unidentified Eskimo spokesman said Vessels suffered a fractured muscle attachment on the spine, but he "may be able to play" in the WIFU finals.

The spokesman charged that the Bombers "deliberately set out to injure Vessels" and other members of Eskimos. He said Vessels was "kneed" by Winnipeg guard Buck Rogers.

Bomber coach George Trafton and president Karl Slocomb quickly issued denials.

ARSENAL ASKED TO MAKE 15-DAY TOUR OF RUSSIA

LONDON (AP)—Sergei Savin, the big boss of Soviet soccer, today disclosed plans for an annual exchange of visits by top Russian and English teams.

As a starter, Savin, who is visiting here, has invited Arsenal, English League champions, for a 15-day tour of the Soviet Union next year. "If Arsenal are unable to go we have invited the Football Association to send any other team," he told reporters.

Arsenal and the Dynamos, Moscow's best team, played here in 1945. The Dynamos won, 4-3.

Road Trips Fatal to Detroit; Boston Dumps Leafs, Hawks

By The Canadian Press
If you were a National Hockey League coach with a home engagement coming up, would you face Detroit Red Wings or Boston Bruins?

Pick the Wings, five-time NHL champions, holders of a flock of league records, the most powerful scoring machine in hockey today—and you'd be right.

Choose the Bruins, a collection of youngsters and oldsters, a team that hasn't won an NHL title in 13 years—and you'll be sorry.

In four road appearances this season the Red Wings have lost three games and tied once. The most powerful scoring machine in hockey today hasn't scored more than one goal in any game on foreign ice.

ROAD RECORD GOOD

In four out-of-town trips the Bruins have broken even and invariably scored two goals or more.

Again, during the week-end, the Wings travelled to Montreal and were shut out 1-0 Saturday by the Canadiens. Sunday they came home and trimmed Toronto Maple Leafs 2-0.

Meanwhile, the Bruins whipped the Leafs 3-2 at Toronto Saturday, moved on to Chicago and beat the Black Hawks 4-3 Sunday.

In the only other league activity, the Canadiens edged New York Rangers 3-1 Sunday, clinging to a two-point lead over the second-place Wings. Boston's double victory moved the Bruins into a third-place tie with Toronto.

Argos, Riders Score Victories In Big Four

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

It's just as well that nobody in western Canada knows which club will travel to Toronto for the Nov. 28 Grey Cup final because no one east of Winnipeg has the foggiest idea who will be waiting for them at Varsity Stadium. The way things have been going, the Big Four should conduct saliva tests.

The Western Conference hits the play-off trail this week and the Big Four race is normal—that is, everything is all fouled up.

Toronto Argonauts, humbled by Montreal Alouettes 29-11 the week previously, took it out on Hamilton Tiger-Cats with a 17-5 count at Toronto on Saturday. And Ottawa Rough Riders, the powerhouse of the Big Four on paper that looked second-rate on the field the last three outings, knocked over the AIs 30-15 at Montreal Sunday.

The AIs and Tiger-Cats now top the standings with 12 points each and Argonauts and Riders follow with 10 each. Next Saturday Ottawa meets Toronto and Montreal, Hamilton.

Argonauts stopped Tiger-Cats cold, allowing them a meagre 34 yards gained on the ground and only 100 yards in the air. The Bengals were outplayed badly along the line and Toronto quarter Nobby Wirkowski had practically enough time to count the house while looking for pass receivers.

Woodbutchers Record High Single Overshadowed by Shearpins' Victory

Woodbutchers are taking a verbal beating these days since they were trounced Friday night by Shearpins of the Sulphite Workers Local 708 Mixed Bowling League. Although the carpenters broke the league record for high single game they still lost the point as the Shearpins
