S. Makes Biggest Korean War Attack

Supply Depot Pounded in Day-Long Attack

U.L. Korea (Canadian Press)—The United States Air Force said it had made its biggest attack of the Korean war today on a Red supply depot at Suan.

The day-long attack left the prize target covered with "billowing flames and smoke." Assault on the town, 35 miles southeast of the Red capital of Pyongyang, began at dawn and lasted until nightfall.

Two Red jets were reported shot down and a third damaged.

Reluctant Witnesses

A parade of crown witnesses which continued the murder trial of Harold Ryan yesterday afternoon and night in Supreme Court Assizes here was marked by the obvious unwillingness of Port Simpson residents to answer questions and ended with an uncompleted trial within a trial.

A statement police evidence alleges was made voluntarily was introduced today as crown evidence for the first time in the Ryan murder trial.

Statement, allegedly given to police by Ryan day after Lorraine Tait's death, indicated Ryan and Wilfred Knott had a fight.

"We had a fight. She (Lorraine) wanted to stop us. I hit her with my fist... but I never meant to fight with her."

"This is truth... I never meant to fight with her..." Statement was admitted by Justice H. S. Woods, following a trial within a trial.

Justice H. S. Woods told Crown Counsel Gilbert Hogg, QC, and Defence Counsel T. W. Brown, QC, he would like to see all evidence in today if possible.

Ryan, a Port Simpson native fisherman, is charged with the December, 1950, death of his common-law wife, Lorraine Tait. Her badly bruised and mutilated body was found in the Port Simpson harbor at 11:15 p.m. December 23, 1950. A two-hour resuscitation effort by a nurse failed to revive the woman.

Prince Rupert RCMP arrested Ryan at his Port Simpson home early morning after Miss Tait's death.

Witnesses most reluctant to speak on the stand were Larry Lawson and Ambrose Wells.

Mr. Justice Woods himself questioned Lawson at length during examination-in-chief.

After Lawson told the court he had talked to Ryan at about 8 p.m., then at 11 p.m., saw two boats drifting in the harbor, and 15 minutes later help carry the body of Lorraine Tait to the beach, the judge said:

Terrace-Kitimat Railway Strongly Backed In House

OTTAWA (Special)—The bill authorizing the construction of Terrace-Kitimat railway line passed second reading Wednesday afternoon and was referred to the Railway Committee.

In presenting the bill, Hon. Lionel Chevrier, minister of transport, stated that the Aluminum Company of Canada had undertaken to provide a minimum of one million dollars' worth of revenue traffic per year for the first ten years and that the actual estimate was a much larger figure.

The minister also stated that Alcan had agreed to make substantial amounts of electric power available to others in the district.

Speaking of the operation of the line, the minister stated that it was expected that, during the second five years of operation, it would produce a net profit of $323,000 a year.

Mr. Chevrier closed his speech with this statement: "The building of this line is so plainly in the national interest that I am sure this bill will commend itself to the House."

The bill provides for construction and completion prior to November 1, 1954.

UNPRECEDENTED DEVELOPMENT

British Columbia's unprecedented industrial development was mentioned in the House while members debated the legislation to extend and improve the province's transportation facilities.

The legislation to approve in principle the building by the publicly-owned Canadian National Railways of the 46-mile $10,000,000 branch line from Terrace to Kitimat, serving the $500,000,000 aluminum development now under construction at Kitimat, was endorsed by all parties.

If value of traffic falls below the $1,000,000 per year amount, Alcan will pay one-third of the deficiency. If any deficiency payments are made by the company, refunds will be made up by the CNR on the basis of one-third of any excess of gross revenue earned by the railway over $1,000,000 a year.

The refunding provision may be extended for a further ten years but, in any case, the amount refunded by the CNR to the aluminum company shall not exceed total payments made by the company to the railway.

Mr. Chevrier said the branch line will carry traffic other than that of the Aluminum Co. It is estimated the railway line will operate at a profit from the outset.

GREEN'S SUGGESTION

Howard Green, Progressive Conservative member for Vancouver-Quadra, said the Defence Production Department should contribute financially to the railway line. The department, he pointed out, was contributing to the cost of a line to copper-

REGINA (CP)—A Saskatchewan general election for June 11 was announced Wednesday.

The CCF government, headed by Premier T. C. Douglas, will seek a third consecutive term of office. The standing in the 52-member legislature at dissolution is:

CCF 31.
Liberals 19.
Independents 2.

The next legislature will have 53 members. A redistribution bill gave Regina a third member.

The Saskatchewan election will precede by one day the provincial general election in British Columbia.

Alberta is also expected to vote this summer.

Temporary agreement was signed last December.

Dr. Haywood Dies Suddenly

Norman Haywood left on today's plane for Vancouver, having been called south on account of the sudden death of his father, Dr. A. K. Haywood, formerly superintendent of the Vancouver General Hospital.

Dr. Haywood, 66 years of age and born in Toronto, was formerly superintendent of Montreal General Hospital and, after having come to British Columbia to make a survey, became superintendent of Vancouver General Hospital in 1929. He retired in 1947 after 17 years' service.

Dr. Haywood, who died at his home in Vancouver, was holder of Canada's top honor for hospital administration, the George Findlay Stevens Memorial Award.

Besides his widow, Dr. Haywood is survived by the son here, Norman, and a daughter, Miss Audrey Haywood in Vancouver. Another son, Robert Haywood, lost his life while serving overseas in World War II with the Royal Canadian Air Force (attached to Royal Air Force).

New Air Run To Vancouver

A new commercial air run between Vancouver and Prince Rupert is being planned and, preparatory to it, a converted Canso of Queen Charlotte Air Lines is due here tomorrow on a familiarization flight.

The service will include Ocean Falls and Kitimat as intermediate points and the service will be three times a week.

Schedule details have not yet been announced but it is expected the trip from Vancouver to Prince Rupert will take about five hours.

A. J. Spillsbury, president of QCA, G. C. Upson, Department of Transport, and E. R. Garswell are among those coming north on the familiarization flight.

Queen Charlotte Air Lines announced yesterday that, "in order to keep up with the times," a daily Norseman service to Kitimat, Kildala and Kemano Bay will be inaugurated. Local departure time is 9 a.m., Pacific Daylight Saving time, with arrival at Kitimat 10:15 a.m.; Kildala 10:45 a.m. and Kemano 11:20 a.m., arriving back here at 12:45 noon.

Besides Alcan and several firms working under contract on the aluminum project, three major logging companies also will be serviced by the new flight, said William Priest, local air lines agent.

Expansion of the QCA service out of Prince Rupert will involve the addition of a third Norseman to the company's local fleet. It is coming from Vancouver within the next couple of days to be based here.

Still another Norseman is based at Alford Bay on the Queen Charlotte Islands, operating in a local island service.

Reds Capture General—POW Camp Commandant

TOKYO (Canadian Press)—Communist prisoners on Koje Island, off the South Korean coast, were reported tonight to have seized General Frank T. Todd, commandant of the United Nations prisoner-of-war camp, and to be holding him as a hostage.

An official United Nations announcement on the situation is expected later.

It is authoritatively learned at Tokyo that the Communists took Todd captive 48 hours ago on a prison island where two bloody prisoner riots occurred in February and March.

United Nations Should Negotiate Further on Prisoners, Contended

MUNSAN, Korea @—Communists today accused the United Nations Command of delaying a truce in Korea by refusing to negotiate further on the prisoner-exchange question, the only issue still in the path of an armistice.

The North Korean general's blast failed to shake Allied delegates from their stand against the forced return of prisoners to Red rule.

The Allies have told the Reds that 62,000 captured Red soldiers did not want to be repatriated.

New Railway Pension Plan

Regional pensions committee of the Canadian National Railways from Winnipeg, holding meetings in British Columbia to explain the new pension plan to employees, is visiting Prince Rupert today.

The committee is made up of Walter T. Patterson QC, assistant regional counsel; C. M. Brown, regional auditor, and E. J. Gilgwater, staff recorder, all of Winnipeg.

A meeting with all employees, including those of the dry dock, is being held this evening.

Anniversary of Atlantic Battle

OTTAWA (CP)—The military blue, white and green ribbon of the Atlantic Star will have special significance Sunday, May 18 when naval bases and training stations across Canada observe "Battle of the Atlantic" Sunday.

The date was announced Wednesday by Defence Minister Claxton.

Church services on land and special services on board ships at sea will commemorate the roles of the Royal Canadian Navy and Canada's merchant navy in the Second World War.

Naval veterans, associations of former Wrens and former members of the merchant navy have been invited to take part.

Easing Up on Instalments

United States Follows Action of Canada

WASHINGTON @—Controls over instalment buying were suspended Wednesday because the United States government decided inflationary dangers have eased off.

Canada took similar action in removing credit controls Monday and the ruling went into effect Tuesday.

For the consumer, the decision means no government requirements as to down payments or time to pay for automobiles, furniture, radio and television sets and scores of other things.

POW Camp Air Attack

PANMUNJON (CP)—The Communists said today that a prisoner-of-war camp at Changsong was attacked by night flying aircraft twice this month. The report did not include a specific demand for redress or action by the United Nations command.

Changsong is 30 miles north-east of Sinuiju, near the Yalu River boundary with Manchuria.

British, American and other non-Korean Allied troops are reported held there.

European Army Pact

Treaty, Including Western German Troops, To Be Signed Tomorrow

PARIS @—The treaty setting up a six-country European army with West German troops in it will be initiated tomorrow, the Foreign Office announced today.

The army will have 40-odd divisions made up of troops from France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Signing of Fish Pact

TOKYO—The formal Japan-U.S. fishery agreement will be signed today at the Japanese foreign office, the Kyodo News agency announces.

Fish Price Dispute is In Deadlock

Dispute between operating fish companies and the United Fishermen's and Allied Workers' Union on the question of flatfish and lingcod prices appears to have reached a deadlock.

Interested parties have failed to come to an agreement and there is no machinery for arbitration.

Some of the beam trawlers have left for their home port of Vancouver.

Conquer Cancer Fund Well Away

Price Rupert's Conquer Cancer campaign, which recently went over the top of the $2000 objective, has now reached a total of $2,365.07, it was announced today. A few more books, more especially from outside points, have yet to be accounted for and efforts are being made to hustle these in so the final return may be closed off.

William Fox, Movie King, Passes Away

NEW YORK @—William Fox, aged 73, pioneer moving picture producer and one time operator of more than 250 theatres valued at more than $100,000,000, died today.

Fox ran $1600 into a personal fortune of $35,000,000 but his moving picture empire crumbled under the depression, creditors and law suits.

Theda Bara, the "Vampire," and Annette Kellerman, who made the one-piece bathing suit famous, were among the stars of his productions.

this. Can't you tell us any more?"

Lawson said he had towed one of two boats adrift back to the wharf. It was the Eileen S. owned by Robert Sankey.

Lawson said he had not towed in the Westerly, Ryan's gillnetter, which was also adrift.

"Why not?" asked the judge. "But after Lawson answered he thought perhaps the owner was aboard. He said no more. He said he 'couldn't remember' if he heard Ryan or any other sounds on the Westerly."

"I'm not quite sure," he replied to steady questioning by both Mr. Justice Woods and Mr. Hogg.

Two teen-age girls, Ruth Wesley and Ruby Dudoward, said they had been on the wharf between 10:30 and 11 p.m. They saw the two boats adrift in the harbor. From the Westerly they heard screams, and "pots and pans being thrown around."

Both girls said they saw Ryan on the Westerly.

SCREAMING WOMAN

Ruby Dudoward said she heard a woman screaming: "Leave me alone!" Screams were accompanied by the crash of dishes.

The girls said accused's brother, Larry Ryan, had been with them on the wharf. Larry had shouted to Ryan on the Westerly:

"Tie up 'our boat'."

"Shut up, or you'll be next!"

But this had not worried the girls, they said. They left the boat and spent the next hour visiting their friends in another boat, they told Mr. Brown, in cross-examination.

When they returned again to the wharf, the two boats were still adrift.

Ruth Wesley told Mr. Brown she heard a splash near the Westerly. She saw the body of a woman in the water.

"She tried to pull herself on the boat, she was grabbing for the side. She screamed when she couldn't make it."

Ruby Dudoward said she also heard the splash, saw the body. Attempt was being made to swim. She didn't see attempts to clamber aboard the boat.

Ambrose Wells gave little more than "yes" and "no" answers in his testimony. Mr. Hogg asked the questions. Wells confirmed he had seen Ryan swimming in the bay underneath a bridge on which he was standing "about midnight."

Then Ryan got ashore, walked up to the village and to his home. "Was Ryan staggering?" asked Mr. Brown.

"Yes."

"Did you see lights on the Westerly?"

After a considerable pause, Wells said he had seen lights before seeing Ryan.

Mr. Brown referred to the script of last year's trial, read where Wells stated he had seen lights "go on and off" after he had seen Ryan swimming.

"I was mistaken," said Wells.

"Well, why did you say that then?" insisted Mr. Brown.

"I was scared," whispered Wells.

"Scared of me?"

No answer.

"It is obvious he is now," said Mr. Hogg quickly.

"Were a lot of people drunk at Port Simpson that night?" asked Mr. Brown.

"Yes," answered Wells.

TRIAL WITHIN TRIAL

Police evidence, which began late in the afternoon, continued throughout the night session into a trial within a trial concerning admission of evidence formerly not submitted by the crown.

RCMP Sgt. L. A. N. Potterton said Ryan was arrested at his home at about 4 a.m. December 24. A police boat departed from Prince Rupert for Port Simpson following a midnight telephone call from the Indian village.

It landed with five police officers, Sgt. Potterton in charge. After some conversation with persons on the wharf, the police contingent headed for the Ryan home.

Accused was sleeping, said Sgt. Potterton, who instructed a constable to handcuff him while in bed.

HANGOVER

The sergeant said Ryan was not drunk when taken into custody "but may have had a little bit of a hangover."

Const. Jack White identified a long list of exhibits which included men's underwear, a woman's green purse, a soft-drink bottle, a man's wristwatch and shoes.

He told the court Ryan's boat, the Westerly, had been towed by the police launch to Prince Rupert. White said he locked the cabin of the Westerly. He had examined the interior briefly at Port Simpson.

"It was in a very disarrayed condition. There were blood stains on the walls, on the floor and around the engine." Witness said no articles were touched before photographs had been taken in Prince Rupert.

"Are you sure the articles on the boat were in exactly the same position in Prince Rupert as they were in Port Simpson?" asked defence attorney Mr. Brown beginning his lengthy and thorough cross-examination.

"I think the articles were in the same position," said the witness.

Mr. Brown asked if the Westerly may have pitched or rolled during its tow from the Indian village, and whether the hatch cover on the boat had been locked.

The boat may have pitched a little; the hatch cover had not been locked.

Const. White said he had found no money in the Ryan home, which he had searched, and had found no money in the dead woman's purse, besides one five-cent piece in the change compartment.

Mr. Brown asked the witness to show the jury how the inside of the purse was torn. Const. White also said there had been what appeared to be blood stains on the inside of the purse.

There were bills—paid-up store bills—in the purse, showing December 23 shopping totaling $45.28.

HAIR ON BOTTLE

Witness pointed out on a photograph where a full soft-drink bottle was found by him. On the bottle were dark brown stains, in which were embedded several strands of hair and visible fingerprints.

Samples of hair from the heads of accused and the victim as well as accused fingerprints along with the bottle had been submitted for analyses, said Const. White.

Mr. Justice Woods said he would like to see all evidence in the case presented today, so the jury could be addressed in the morning and in the afternoon be able to retire to consider the verdict.

"The jury should not be tired out when it is called upon to make such an important decision in a murder trial," said the judge.

TUBELESS TIRE
PROTECTS AGAINST BLOWOUT

CHANGES BLOWOUTS TO SLOWOUTS

Most blowouts start when you don't know it. A curb or a hole bruises the cords inside your tire. As the tire flexes, a break occurs at the weak spot and the inner tube is forced into the gap. Here it is pinched and rubbed until suddenly, miles or perhaps days later, when you don't expect it, the tire blows out.

But with the B.F.G. Tubeless Tire there is no tube to blow out. The air-retaining lining is actually a part of the tire itself. If damage does occur, it can only cause pinhole leaks in the lining that lose air so slowly you have miles in which to make a safe, easy stop.

PROVEN ON THE ROAD

Developed, tested and perfected by B.F. Goodrich, the Tubeless Tire has been used in the U.S.A. for over four years by thousands of motorists. Their reports of phenomenal, trouble-free mileage are your best guarantee that this is the finest tire you can buy today.

PROTECTS AGAINST PUNCTURES

A layer of special sealant rubber under the tread sticks to any puncturing object and prevents loss of air. When the object is removed, the puncture seals itself instantly and permanently.

PROTECTS AGAINST

DANGEROUS SKIDS

The B.F. Goodrich Tubeless Tire has an amazing new tread with thousands of flexible rubber "grip blocks" 16 to the inch. These tiny blocks road like a tank tread. In wet their flexible action wipes the road safe, sure traction... so they actually light a match on the road.

The B.F. Goodrich Tubeless tire bead with rim-seal ridges your present rims. Scientifically air-tight pressure lock against the can't come off... won't lose air.

Curriculum Criticized

Prince Rupert School Board Cannot Endorse Vernon Resolution

Because it does not agree with the wording, Prince Rupert's Board of School Trustees finds it impossible to approve a resolution from the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association and the Corporation of the City of Vernon criticizing the present educational curriculum and urging the Department of Education of British Columbia to reorganize its structure on a more realistic basis with a view to "intensification of basic education and elimination of unnecessary subjects." The resolution had been referred to the local school board by the city council which received it from Vernon.

WHEREAS: Today a High School diploma can no longer be considered a guarantee of a standard of education, due to the present system of carrying all students "en masse" through to graduation, regardless of ability, and

WHEREAS: This system entails ever increasing costs for more and larger schools, with extra staff, and

WHEREAS: These ever increasing costs have become a financial burden, out of all proportion to the ability of the taxpayers to support,

BE IT RESOLVED: That we petition the Department of Education of British Columbia to reorganize the structure of its curriculum on a more realistic basis, with a view to intensification of basic education, and elimination of unnecessary subjects.

Battery Wins Opener Of Football Season

Defeats General Motors 2-0
In Well Contested Game

The 1952 football season got off to a good start last evening before a better than average number of spectators. In a well contested game, the Heavy Battery defeated the General Motors by two goals to nil.

The Battery had the best of the opening exchanges and Roue did well to spoil Armstrong. Later he brought off a great save from Pavlikis and then saved on the line. But he had no chance when Smith headed in a beautiful cross from Holkestad. Battery showed better team play. Krause saved Maron's corner kick. Matthews showed to advantage but the General Motors were mainly on the defensive. Smith shot over as did Pat Wilson at the other end on a snap drive. Murray was just wide from Wilson and half-time came with the Battery a goal up.

Battery were lucky to go two goals ahead when in a mix-up, Price was unfortunate to turn the ball past his own goalie.
Robinson sent Tait ahead but Krause saved. With the sun behind them the Motors pressed but finished weakly. Tait shot over from close in and Krause brought off a great save after the General Motors forward line showed a spell of neat combination. Dunbar saved at the expense of a corner. Battery were always dangerous when they broke away while Krause saved well from Murray. Tait, Bowman and then outgassed Pat Wilson when the latter seemed to be through.

Teams:
Heavy Battery—Krause; Dunbar, Parkhouse; Jensen, George-son, Ford; A. Gomez, Pavlikis, Ralph Smith, Armstrong, Holke-
stad; Darrow Gomez, Youden.
General Motors—Roue; Robinson, Price; Lien, Eby, John Wilson; Murray, Bedford, Pat Wilson, R. Maron, S. Maron; Matthews, Tait.
Krause played one of his best games and was very fast on close-in plays. Dunbar was as reliable as ever and Parkhouse used his speed to good advantage. Georgeson and Jensen were resourceful and constructive.
Ford was effective. Smith and Pavlikis were always a threat.
Holkestad's cross that produced the first goal was a beauty.
Armstrong is still a great playmaker and rarely wasted a ball.
A. Gomez and Youden did well.
Darrow Gomez came on in the second half. He must be credited with being able to turn out a team whose members play well collectively and individually.
Roue, who turned out in goal
when Boulter had to go to Terrace on business, was very good and could not be blamed for either goal. Robinson was fast and resourceful though he got a nasty knock from Smith. Price kicked hard and was unlucky to score against his own team. Eby was clever in breaking up plays and setting up his own forwards. Lien played a tenacious and successful game. John Wilson played hard and robustly.
Towards the end he set up several dangerous movements. Matthews, Tait and Murray were the best forwards. Tait was fast and crossed the ball nicely while Murray showed good footwork and centred well. Matthews promises to be one of the best playmakers for the Motors. He has speed and ball control. The Maron boys give promise of being assets to the team. Pat Wilson got few chances but had to

Rookie Wins For Red Sox

Boston Stays in Lead—
Indians Humble Yankees

NEW YORK — Bill Henry, unheralded rookie lefthander of the Boston Red Sox, turned in his fourth victory without loss
Wednesday to defeat Chicago
White Sox 7-2, and maintain a Sox one-game edge over Cleveland Indians in the American League pennant race.

Runner-up Indians defeated the once proud New York Yankees 7 to 2 in the only other day game in the majors.

Henry allowed only five hits and helped his own cause by driving in two runs on a triple and single. Red Sox wrapped it up with a four-run attack in the second inning against Ken Holcombe. Johnny Pesky featured a rally with bases loaded on a ground rule double.

The only scheduled National League day game between Boston and the Cubs at Chicago was postponed because of the cold weather.

Red hot Washington Senators turned back Detroit Tigers 6-2 for their sixth straight victory in the night game at Washington.
Sid Hudson limited the Tigers to five hits while the third place Senators whacked Ted Gray and Fred Hutchinson for eight. Senators clinched the decision with a four-run outburst against Gray in the third inning.

Festival Worthwhile

Week Prince Rupert is enjoying a form of recreation which, perhaps more than any other, is the real character of a city. It is true that there are carnivals, parades and exhibitions create a kind of high excitement but, when children and adults gather in music and drama, a mood of festivity which is different and revealing. In a festival of this sort there is an abundance of activities which are desirable in our way of living. They are there for all to warm their hearts on. There is community and family union. There is healthy competition, co-operation and the quest for achievement. There is education and fun, and there is the basic interest in artistic endeavour without which our civilization would be a thing.

Those who organized the fifth annual Prince Rupert District Music and Drama Festival, who are taking part in it and adjudicating it, those who are supporting it merit the warmest thanks it is in our power to give. By their efforts they are helping to elevate the entire social standard of Prince Rupert and giving it a proud place among Canadian cities.

Sunny Days Here Again

Spring days are here again. Indeed, it is almost early summer. These clear skies and sunshine brighten up our shabby spots but give us the urge to stand and brighten up. After the dull winter days and the long deferred spring, we are inspired with spirits and fresh smiles. We begin to feel again the really worthwhile life is in Prince Rupert.

Weather, after all, is the great depressor or the stimulant. It makes all the difference in the world to our attitudes and our efforts.

So we salute Old Sol again. May he come often and stay long.

All is happy again and we can even endure the bright saving for, after all, our daytime is so bright that it makes little difference about such matters.

Yes, these are days for a hearty cheerio.

Election Nears

The provincial election is little more than a month away now but there is little excitement about it. It may seem that now is time for serious thought and discussion on the important issues of the day. It is time to ponder and speculate on how we will vote and what the effects of our voting will be.

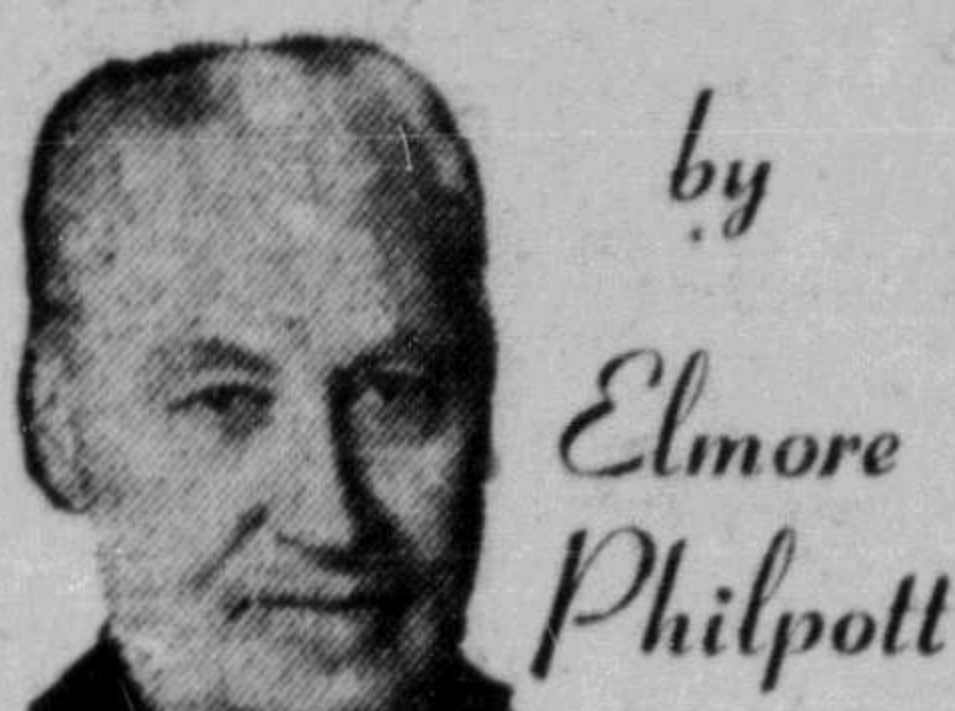

But an indifference appears to exist which may be a healthy sign. We know an election is coming but we do not seem to be very much impressed by its effects and implications.

Gone seems to be the old spirit and vigor which was such a factor in our election campaigns. We wonder if the lack of fire and the excitement about our elections is not an adverse commentary on the acceptance of our citizenship and appreciation of individual responsibility.

Election time is the time that every citizen gets a chance to exercise his expression in the really important way under a democratic system.

It is the chance for us to say what we think and with the most effectiveness—a privilege which is more important in these days when many of the rights of democracy seem to be diminished by the tendencies to bureaucracy, the greatest nurture of which is our individual indifference, heedlessness and lack of individual responsibility.

As I See It

Mary Pack's Army

ABOARD CPR NEAR REGINA: Just before I boarded this train for the east a smart young man handed me the latest Canadian Home Journal which has a fine article in it about Mary Pack.

The author of the article even gives me the credit for having turned the tables on Miss Pack and starting her out on her crusade which has meant so much for so many victims of arthritis in Canada.

I long ago retired from the executive of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society because the detail work was just too much for me to handle, in addition to my other jobs. But each year, when CARS goes out on its annual campaign, I get a real thrill, part pride and part amazement. The pride is because I had one small finger in what has become such a big pie. The amazement is that such mighty things could grow so quickly from such small beginnings.

HERE are the key facts about arthritis and rheumatism. Some 600,000 Canadians suffer from such diseases and about 100,000 are partly disabled from them. About 15,000 rheumatics are permanent cripples now—bed-bound or confined to wheelchairs.

Tremendous strides have been made in recent years in research into the cause and cure of the various forms of rheumatism. While there is as yet no one sure cure for all forms of arthritis, there is reason to believe this fact of great hope.

IF THE PUBLIC OF CANADA GIVES CARS THE SUPPORT IT NEEDS, CRIPPLING FROM ARTHRITIS CAN BE VIRTUALLY WIPED OUT IN TEN YEARS.

IF I WERE to ask Mary Pack if she has any apologies for asking the public, year after year, for substantial financial support, I think she might answer about like this:

"We are not apologizing for another campaign; we Canadians should be apologizing for not having had them 40 years ago.

"In B.C. alone we have treatment centres in 14 districts. We have 19 treatment units. We have given 50,718 patient treatments since we began in 1948.

"Apart from the hundreds of doctors who co-operate with us and refer patients to us we actually employ one medical director, 17 chartered physiotherapists, two nurses, one medical social worker, one medical stenographer and an office staff.

"In addition we have squads of volunteer car drivers who take patients for treatments and for outings."

ONE of the arguments that is often heard is that the state ought to take over the whole responsibility for treatment of such diseases as arthritis.

Actually across Canada the governments do give substantial grants to aid the work of CARS and other such bodies. But at least in this stage of development of Canada no government scheme could deal with the vast problem of arthritis as well as it is now being attacked by CARS.

In other words, even if the government took over the whole financial responsibility, CARS would still be necessary as the key connecting link between all the various needs.

IN BRITAIN and other countries where they went over to ward complete state medicine they found that they had to rebuild the volunteer health and welfare societies. I think this was because such services cost MORE THAN MERE MONEY. Somebody has to give a damn—beyond the call of duty—and the power of tax-money. Somebody has to pay in worry—in "the sweat of thy brow."

CARS is doing just that—a grand job.

Development of Canada Catches Up With Rail Construction—Mather

Increase in Capacity and Efficiency Necessary

MONTREAL.—W. A. Mather, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, said yesterday in his address to shareholders at the 71st annual general meeting of the company here that the development of Canada "had caught up with railway construction."

"As the productive capacity of the nation increases," he said in his address at the meeting which was presided over by George A. Walker, QC, chairman of the company, "an increase in the capacity and efficiency of transportation facilities is essential. Railways provide the cheapest method of mass transportation on land and, as such, it is vital that their facilities should be expanded and improved in anticipation of the expansion of the economy."

He urged that the railways "be placed in a position to finance their requirements of capital on a sound basis."

Tracing the role of transportation in an expanding economy, Mr. Mather said: "The integration of Canada as a vigorous nation, the growing forestry and mining activities of Quebec and Ontario and the expansion of agriculture in the prairies were made possible only by the construction of railway mileage."

"The railway systems of Canada were built, in a large part, in anticipation of the traffic needs of the country," he continued. "Railway mileage is no longer in excess of needs. The development of Canada has, in fact, caught up with railway construction."

Stressing the record traffic volume figures of 1951, Mr. Mather pointed out that there is every indication that in the future traffic will reach much higher levels. "Plans for the enlargement and improvement of properties to meet this situation have been made," he said.

There is also a concurrent need to increase efficiency in order to move the present volume of traffic expeditiously, and large expenditures will be required to replace present equipment and facilities as they must be retired or become inadequate. These replacements offer the best prospect of holding down rising costs of operation."

Speaking of the capital expenditures program of the CPR he said that in 1949 it was estimated that an expenditure of about $80 million annually over a period of five years would be required. "However," Mr. Mather explained, "acceleration of the growth in the economy which has occurred since this program was drawn up, as well as the increases in the level of prices, indicates that even larger annual expenditures may be necessary."

"These," he said, "are the basic requirements of the railway to meet the inevitable future growth of Canada."

In the speech, Mr. Mather announced that Canadian Pacific Airlines have applied to extend trans-Pacific services from the Orient, now terminating at Vancouver, to South America, and that Canadian Pacific Steamships will have to acquire a ship to replace two "Beaver" class vessels which are being transferred from Atlantic service to the Pacific.

ECONOMIC POSITION

Mr. Mather said it might be timely for Canadians to consider their economic position. "There is no question in my mind as to the future of this country," he said, "but there is a doubt as to whether the continuation of what appears to be the present policy of decreasing the hours of work without a compensating increase in production will not have an effect on the future prosperity of Canadians directly contrary to our hopes."

Mr. Mather's review of the first quarter of 1952 showed that gross railway earnings were up by $9.6 million over the same period of 1951, largely reflecting the increase in freight rates. "However," he said, "working expenses, which included the costs of the 40-hour week, increased slightly more, being up by $10.6 million. Freight traffic volume, in terms of gross ton miles, was 13.5 per cent greater than in the first quarter of last year."

RAPID DEVELOPMENT

In speaking of the rapid development of natural resources now taking place in Canada, Mr. Mather noted that much of it is in areas served by the domestic routes of Canadian Pacific Airlines, citing such ex-

And, speaking of extras—you get extra value for your money when you buy the big 13-ounce bottle of Heinz Tomato Ketchup. Just compare it with the 11-ounce bottle of some brands—and see how little extra you pay for Heinz quality.

Gardening....

By Gordon Lindsay Smith

Protection — Even with bugs and insects around, and there are few places in Canada where these enemies are not lurking, it is possible to grow the finest of flowers and vegetables, if one is reasonably on guard. For every pest, fortunately, there is a control or cure. The main thing is to get this control operating at the very first sign of attack. Careful gardeners will examine any damage like wilted or partially destroyed or eaten leaves, will regard with suspicion any sudden check. Careful gardeners will also supply themselves with some sort of a duster or sprayer and the proper materials to go with them. There are all sorts of equipment available, and for the small garden it is not necessary to spend more than a dollar or two. There are also specific dusts and sprays ready mixed for use. As a general rule, insects that eat the foliage are attacked with a poison such as DDT, arsenate of lead etc., while those that suck out the juices like aphids and other plant lice are controlled with preparations incorporating nicotine or tobacco solutions, lime, sulphur or special soap. Finely ground sulphur dust is an excellent preventive for diseases like rust. Above all it should be remembered that a healthy, well-cultivated, well-fertilized garden is the first and main defense. If plants are left unthinned and surrounded with weeds, if the soil is poor and growth spindly and weak we have an ideal spot for pests to flourish.

NO RUSH

There is plenty of time yet to have a good garden. For every plant or seed lost through late planting there are probably a dozen that perish through being put in too soon. There is nothing to be gained by rushing. True, certain grass seed, peas, nursery stock, and such lovers of cool weather, can hardly be put in too soon. But with the great majority of the flowers and vegetables we grow in Canada there is no hurry. The main growing period, speaking generally, will be June and early July and often those things which are planted a week or two later than the first will catch up. Of course, with most vegetables experienced gardeners advise planting not once but several times and at about a fortnight or three-week intervals. This brings them along in succession, spreading the harvesting or good-eating season over weeks instead of days. To extend that season still further it is also advisable to use at least one early and one late maturing variety of each sort.

KEEPING AHEAD

No matter how unfavorable the weather may be the weeds seem to thrive. Far too many people get discouraged early, especially when they see these pests literally crowding out their tiny flowers and vegetable plants. One should take hope from the fact that one thorough weeding will bring the situation well under control. But this means pulling the weeds out by the roots or cutting them off below the soil's surface with a cultivator or hoe. This first and thorough job is carried out after the newly seeded flowers and vegetables are nicely up, say with their second or third set of leaves well started. Once that first clean-up has been carried out, a little routine cultivation will take care of the garden for the rest of the season.

Russia Not Starting War

Opinion Is That Soviet Needs More Time—Strong Nevertheless

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP)—A growing impression among top United States military leaders that Russia won't launch a hot war soon appears based partly on a belief that she needs more time to ready her armed forces and economy.

This is in addition to more obvious reasons, including the improved conditions of the mutual-defence set-up in western Europe, and the bald fact that Russia has been doing exceedingly well with a cold war of subversion, pressure on weak countries, and promoting a "little" war in Korea.

During recent days Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, chief of staff of the combined western defence forces in Europe, pointed up what he and others had said before. He expressed belief that the Russians will not attack this year or in the near future.

Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, has commented that among the reasons the Russians have had for not starting war is the superior atomic stockpile of the U.S., American air power and the collective-security arrangements in Europe. But he added: "We don't know what the Soviet imperialists intend to do."

There Bradley was making a distinction between intention and capability.

What are Russia's military capabilities?

Information gleaned from a wide variety of sources, some apparently reliable, include these points:

1. Production of steel still is only about one-quarter of that of the U.S. She probably is deficient in petroleum production.

2. Russia has sought to prepare her European Communist satellites for war, but only Bulgaria seems anywhere near an adequate condition.

3. The Soviet Union's transport and communications system is woefully short of military requirements.

These seem reasonable arguments for believing that Russia might not be ready yet to step out on a third world war. But no one is brash enough to deny the Soviet Army and Air Force aren't formidable: fighting machines right now.

LONDON (AP)—Harold Dodd, a leading surgeon, advised in a medical journal that children should not be told "it won't hurt" when given medicine or treatment. "Children should be given the same courtesy, honesty and explanations that are extended to adults," he wrote.

Reflects and Reminisces

No one had heard of foot-and-mouth disease when Prince Rupert staged its first stampede on the Acropolis. This was up-teen years ago, hard by the exhibition building. There were no bucking bronchos. We cannot recall anyone being thrown. The grandstand was packed and the weather was as cloudless as a day in Wyoming or Texas.

EVERY DROP PURE

Most of the cowboys, who had staked out "daunches" on Third Avenue, wore sombreros. Some sported chaps. Practically all had followed the trail of '07 or '08. And even then could be sighted a covered wagon, if the vehicle leaked. Unlike parts of the far southwest, regions adjacent to Prince Rupert had abundance of excellent drinking water.

Royal Dressmaker Designs Uniform

LONDON (AP)—The girls of the Queen's Women's Royal Army Corps will shortly be wearing the dark green "waikout" uniform No. 1 dress.

The uniform was designed by Norman Hartnell, the Queen's dressmaker, and consists of a jacket and skirt with a peaked cap which at the gives the impression of a beret. The jacket has three zonal channel pleats across front and fastens with buttons. Channel pleats also the effect of pockets at the although the only pocket is the lining of the jacket.

Other details are two buttons and a single button on the epaulets. There is a matching belt on the jacket for use, but on ceremonial occasions officers wear a sash and rank a white belt. The skirt is fairly full. At about 15 from the ground it is shorter than the present trend.

Cooking With Condensed Soups Is Modern Method

ASK any best cook her secret of success these days—and she's pretty sure to give credit to condensed soup. You're probably an enthusiast yourself.

Cooking with soup is a habit that's helping many homemakers make ends meet—from the standpoint of both minutes and money. The double-rich, double-thick soups make such fine cooking sauces. Start with one of them and it's easy to prepare a casserole or any meat or fish dish that calls for sauce as an ingredient or as a topper. Each soup contributes a special tantalizing flavor of its own—whether you're using tomato, cream of mushroom, chicken or celery soup.

Just think of all the recipes that give extra-good results in short-cut time by way of soup cookery. It's an amazing array from ham loaf to the cheese soufflé and French dressing. One prize dish that's as much in season right now as the flowers and sunshine is "Chicken Slices in Cheese Sauce".

Chicken Slices in Cheese Sauce
1 pound asparagus, cooked (fresh, frozen or canned)
6 slices cooked chicken
Place asparagus in bundles in a flat baking dish or pan; top each with sliced chicken. Stir soup and cheese together; pour over chicken.

SOUP SCOOPS

Nibblers Tray: At lunch-time, a tray of pick-up foods is pleasant to nibble along with bowls of soup. Make up the tray with cold pickles, wedges of smoked cheese, and buttered toast fingers (rye bread).

Party-Style Beans: To give glamour to plain-Jane pork and beans, bake them with pineapple kabobs. Use pineapple chunks and cubes of canned luncheon meat for the kabobs; string them alternately on toothpicks, three per pick. Place kabobs on top of beans in a casserole; pour a little pineapple juice over them; heat all in a moderate oven. Fix two kabobs for each serving.

In Honor of Mother: How about the family pitching in to get Sunday night supper on Mother's Day while she enjoys a holiday. Even the youngest can help in the kitchen if it's an easy soup-and-sandwich menu. Cream of mushroom soup with toasted bacon and tomato sandwiches makes a good combination. For a festive finish, strawberry shortcake.

Local Band and Aiyansh Choir at Music Festival

Music and Drama Festival opened Tuesday night with two numbers from the local Shrine Band under the baton of Peter Lien. The "Martha" melodies were warmly approved by the adjudicator who awarded 86 for these and 84 for the Handel selection which followed. He commented that this band had an unusual facility in musical expression.

St. Peter's Choir from Aiyansh conducted by Reuben McMillan rendered the test piece "Bless the Lord" by Ivanof and offered Handel's "Worthy Is the Lamb" as their own choice. They were in excellent voice and blending and were awarded 165 marks by the adjudicator who made a number of helpful and constructive suggestions.

The ladies' trio—Mesdames Roberts, Lindseth and Wicker—accompanied by Henry Pluym, delighted the large audience with their two numbers "Dream Seller" and "The Lamb." The adjudication was also highly complimentary along with suggestions for greater excellence. Marks totalled 169.

The chamber music class brought two fine numbers from received very good adjudications with one extra mark for the first singer for his first song. The accordion ensembles, under the direction of Mike Colussi, were enthusiastically received by the audience. This proved yet another popular festival innovation. The Intermediate Band received 85 marks for "Santa Lucia" for the variety in their tonal quality. The vocal duet "O Divine Redeemer" (Gounod) was beautifully rendered by Mrs. C. Roberts and Rowland Miles with Henry Pluym at the piano and received 85 marks.

Would Ease Home Building

Talk of $100,000,000 Company—$10,000 Home For $1,000

By FORBES RUHDE
(Canadian Press Business Editor)

TORONTO (C)—A proposal designed to make more money available for home building, with lower down payments and somewhat lower interest rates, is being discussed in lumber circles. The plan is said to be similar to those of British building societies.

A company would be formed to issue, say, $100,000,000 in bonds, which would be offered for sale to the public and investment institutions.

These bonds would pay 3½ per cent interest to the purchasers. The federal government would be asked to allow this interest to be tax-free, and to collect ½ per cent tax on the bonds from the issuing company.

Assuming the bonds were sold, the company would then have $100,000,000 for its program. It would operate like this:

The prospective home purchaser would pick out the house he wanted, and, depending on both the purchaser and the house being approved, the company would buy it for him, and he would repay the company through a mortgage on which he would pay five per cent interest.

The mortgage ordinarily would be up to 80 per cent of the price of the house, but if the purchaser still did not have the amount of the 20 per cent down payment, the company would advance a further 10 per cent.

Under this, a house costing say, $10,000, could be bought for a down payment of $1,000.

Under the plan, however, it would be necessary that the amount of the mortgage above 80 per cent, be guaranteed by some one, presumably by a local government, and presumably a provincial government.

The practicability of the proposal would seem to depend upon whether or not the governments asked to participate would consider it sound, and whether or not there were purchasers for the company's bonds.

Saleability of the bonds, unless there were a big public response to them, would seem to depend upon their appealing to investment institutions.

The investment companies, or other private purchasers, would presumably examine the bonds on the basis of the soundness of their set-up, and upon whether or not they thought a correct estimate had been made of the costs of operating the scheme.

NO PROFITS

Under the proposal, there would be no profits to the company. Interested lumber companies would benefit from their sales of lumber.

Maurice B. Dix, secretary-manager of the National Council of Retail Lumbermen and president and general manager of Interprovincial Building Credits, Ltd., gives the following division of the five per cent interest which the home purchaser would pay on his mortgage:

To bond holders 3½ per cent; to federal government for tax, ½ per cent; reserve to cover possible losses, ¼ per cent; services, ½ per cent; administration, ¼ per cent.

The plan envisions operation through interprovincial building credits, owned chiefly by retail lumbermen, which handles the financing of credits granted by retailers to home owners for home improvement.

It handles credits from $100 to $2,000, and on the basis of experience with these, Mr. Dix thinks the cost of administering the plan would be moderate. He says Interprovincial Building Credits has virtually no collection problems, and adds:

"Home owners certainly pay up. Money pours in on the due date. We hardly know a lawyer. Last year, out of $3,000,000 in notes, our loss was only $400."

The plan envisions that builders would be in the same position as producers of other lines of goods. They would build the house, and the buyer would see the finished article before he took it.

NEWHAVEN, England (C)—Municipal authorities in this Sussex town are urging children to "adopt" their own trees on a local estate. It is hoped the children will thus learn to care for the trees instead of damaging them.

LONDON (C)—Britons visiting the continent this summer may be able to insure their holidays against rain. A similar plan has already been started by a Dutch firm which pays clients £1 every day it rains.

Gory Killing Story

Retrial of Harold
Ryan at Assizes

Four witnesses yesterday morning recalled the story of a gory killing at Port Simpson the night before Christmas Eve, 1950, as the murder re-trial of Harold Ryan, native fisherman, got under way.

Wilfred Knott, who travelled with Ryan and his common law wife, Lorraine Tait, the alleged murder victim, to Port Simpson from Cow Bay December 23 re-told the story of a heavy drinking party on the small gas fishing boat.

Larry Lawson, another Port Simpson resident, told the court he had helped to bring the body of Miss Tait from the harbor after it had been towed to the beach by three men in a small rowboat.

Again, in his evidence, he repeated a statement allegedly made by Ryan to him that fatal evening.

"Christmas is lop-sided, I'm going to straighten it out," Ryan told me," recounted Lawson.

Knott showed his anger at the steady, pounding cross-examination by Defence Counsel T. W. Brown, Q.C.

"A white man gave me the liquor, he bought it for me in Prince Rupert," answered Knott when questioned how he had obtained, although against the law, his supply of liquor which Knott said totalled three bottles of rye and three of wine.

Knott also said he had been charged after the Tait murder night with possession of liquor, and had been fined after prosecution by Const. George Redhead.

LIED TO POLICE

Witness admitted having lied to police—"but only because I was afraid about the liquor."

"How often have you been convicted on liquor charges last year?" suddenly shot out Mr. Brown.

Witness was unwilling to answer. "I didn't keep track," he said sullenly.

"Now, tell me—was it closer to five or ten times?" insisted Mr. Brown.

"Twice, I think."

"Is that all? Why were you drinking? Did you have a bad conscience about that night of December 23, about something which happened to Lorraine Tait?"

"No."

Knott said he, Ryan and Miss Tait had arrived at Port Simpson "between 7 and 8 (p.m.)" and all had been "happy and friendly." A few minutes after docking, Knott said he left the Westery (Ryan's boat), took his liquor which now consisted of four and a half bottles and went home.

The trial is expected to last a minimum of three days. Justice H. S. Woods asked both counsel to ensure none of the new jury had been members of the jury at the former trial at which Ryan had been convicted.

Gilbert Hogg, Q.C., is prosecuting counsel, assisted by Mrs. Willa Ray.

BEN, HIMSELF

Ben Self was a shade portly but none of Rupert's seasoned cattlemen was happier. None entered into the rodeo and round-up with more cheer and soaring spirits. Incidentally he wore his Arizona hat at not too great a slant, and was content to refrain from attempting fancy riding.

"Sure," muttered sourdoughs who'd trapped beaver, hooked halibut, snared salmon and shot it out with Simsburns away in the shadows of the Shawatians. "Swell show."

And it was that way with everyone. Nimble young punchers and cowgirls rode around and around, steers panted, heif-

Squeeze Can End in Opponent's Slam

When you are trying for a squeeze in two suits and each of those suits is guarded by a separate opponent, success will not be yours. Even where the guarding of the essential suits is so divided, however, it is sometimes possible to play your cards in such a manner that the entire burden of defense will rest on one opponent.

In today's deal Mr. Dale purposely underbid his hand. But Miss Brash, after checking on aces, bid a grand slam anyway.

Mr. Champion had no way of knowing that the lead of the king of clubs would make the contract impossible. He opened the king of diamonds and dummy's ace won.

Miss Brash saw that she had 12 tricks—seven spades, two hearts, a heart ruff and the minor suit aces. If the thirteen-trick could be realized at all, it would have to come from a squeeze. Of course, the squeeze would be successful if Mr. Champion had king, queen, jack of diamonds and the king, queen of clubs. In that case, he alone would have the job of stopping the minor suits.

As you see, Mr. Champion did not have all of these cards. Mrs. Keen had the jack of diamonds so that Mr. Champion could safely throw away all of his cards in that suit.

But Miss Brash was able to transfer the responsibility for the diamonds to Mr. Champion. At trick two she led a small diamond from dummy and ruffed it high. She took out the opposing trumps in one lead, cashed her two top hearts and ruffed her last heart.

Then she led another small diamond from the board and ruffed it. On this trick Mrs. Keen's jack fell. On the run of the balance of the spades Mr. Champion found it impossible to hold two high clubs and a diamond to beat dummy's ten. Thus, through good play and very good luck, the speculative slam was made.

CHEWTON, Mendip, England — Chewton Priory, the family seat in Somerset of Earl Waldegrave, will be demolished. The Earl, who says he has tried to dispose of the 90-year-old building several times, lives in a small house in the village.

Starring Jane Russell, Victor Mature and Vincent Price, "The Las Vegas Story," coming Friday and Saturday to Totem Theatre, is an action-packed story played against a background of Nevada's glittering sporting centre. Miss Russell portrays a cafe singer who marries Price for money when she thinks she has lost the man she loves, depicted by Mature.

Later, Fate brings the three together in a Las Vegas gambling palace under dramatic circumstances when Price is accused of a diamond theft and a murder. When Mature, as a local police officer, takes up the task of clearing him, complications and sensational disclosures develop. A spectacular surprise denouement, with a helicopter chasing a station wagon, brings the film to a climax.

Miss Russell features some stunning costumes and wears a $150,000 diamond necklace from Cartier, Inc.

Hoagy Carmichael, as a piano-playing philosopher, and Brad Dexter as a criminal adventurer head the supporting cast.

Musical features include songs by Miss Russell and Carmichael. They are "I Get Along Without You Very Well" and "The Monkey Song," also "My Resistance is Low."

Wind cleared the ice on Francois Lake this week and the ferry is now crossing several times a day but is not on schedule yet.

A few people have their gardens planted and land work is going ahead.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Millar have Mr. Miller's mother staying with them from North Battleford.

On Tuesday there was much activity at the corner when there was a community clean-up of the hall and the church. The interior of the church was oiled.

er-dust ascended, folks murmured "O give me a home where the buffalo roam" and for the time being no one had a care on earth. Prince Rupert never had a stampede before and, for all anyone knew, there might never be another.
