THE DIRECTORS TO MEET EXTENSION PROPOSAL

VICTORIA (CP)—Board of directors of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway will be called into session within the next two weeks to consider plans for building the $12,000,000 Squamish extension link, Premier Bennett announced Friday.

The premier, who is president of the government-owned railway, reiterated earlier statements that he has not recommended any particular route. He said that was a matter for the directors.

World's Largest Pipeline May Take Alberta Gas East

EDMONTON (CP)—The world's largest single pipeline may be built from Alberta natural gas to Quebec by 1956.

The project, one of the two competing for the gas-carrying franchise was announced by Trade Minister Howe.

The Alberta government's main provision a month ago for release of its gas for sale east.

The deal, largest such merger in Canadian history, virtually marks a start of construction.

The 2,400-mile line from Prince George, this year, would be around $200-

Showdown Looms In Korea Over Failure To Open Talks

PoWs Must Be Held Red Premier Says

By The Associated Press

PANMUNJOM — Communist China's premier Chou En-Lai today called for speedy reconvening of the Korean peace conference and insisted that non-repatriated prisoners cannot be released at midnight Jan. 22, as demanded by the UN command.

He said PoWs must be held until a peace conference decides their fate.

In an official statement over Peiping radio Chou declared: "the cessation of discussions will not solve any problem."

Meanwhile South Korea's foreign minister rebuffed a blunt warning by the UN command and refused to retract threats that his government might use armed force against Indian troops guarding anti-Communist prisoners in neutral zone compounds.

And, in answer General Maxwell D. Taylor, commander of the 8th army, said his forces are fully prepared to handle 22,000 Korean and Chinese prisoners who are expected to leave their compounds after 12:01 Jan. 23.

Teacher Strike Ends In Alberta

EDMONTON (CP) — Alberta's first teacher strike in 13 years is over with the 77 strikers winning their demands for wage increases.

The school board in suburban Jasper Place, a town of 12,000 on Edmonton's western boundary, agreed Friday night to meet the teachers' request for a $200 annual salary boost retroactive to Sept. 1 last.

The school board gave in immediately after a public meeting of between 250 and 300 ratepayers approved a resolution urging that the teachers' requests be met.

Fewer than 20 voted against the motion.

Two "observers" from the Alberta Teachers' Association said the teachers will be in their classrooms Monday.

The teachers, from five schools and having an aggregate of 2,300 pupils, did not report for work last Monday after the Christmas vacation.

Negotiations over wages began last May. After a conciliatory failed, an Alberta government "arbitration" board heard representations.

The board, whose recommendations were not binding, urged the teachers be given a $200 annual salary increase retroactive to Sept. 1 last. The teachers accepted the award and the school board rejected it.

The award brought the teachers' annual minimum salary to $2,000 from $1,800.

Friday, R. F. Albright, school board chairman, announced the provincial education department had revised its 1954 grant to the town, increasing it by $15,000 to about $147,000. Mr. Albright said the larger grant would more than cover the cost of increased teachers' salaries.

Bail Jumper Takes Escape Tools to Jail

BURNABY, B.C. (CP) — George Mallock, bail-jumper and formerly high on Canada's "most wanted" list, was found with a kit of escape tools inside Oakalla prison farm, warden Hugh Christie said Friday.

Warden Christie said four jewellers' cutting saws and two $10 bills were found hidden between the sole of one of Mallock's expensive, hand-sewn shoes.

Mallock, who jumped $20,000 bail here early in 1951 on the eve of his assize court trial for conspiracy to sell narcotics, was arrested in New York City last month by RCMP and U.S. bureau of narcotics officers.

He was wearing the shoes at the time of his arrest, due to a regulation allowing prisoners awaiting trial to wear their own clothing, had not been issued with prison garb.

New Canadians Not To Blame For Grim B.C. Labor Picture

VANCOUVER (CP)—Rising unemployment during the winter doldrums has British Columbia worried that immigration officers say new Canadians haven't contributed to the labor surplus.

With 52,000 persons out of work at the year-end, 15 per cent more than in December 1952, unions have asked that no more immigrants be allowed into B.C. until fuller employment returns.

But D. N. McDonnell, district immigration superintendent for the Dominion government, said Friday every immigrant entering B.C. since November has been required to have a sponsor.

"That means he or she is going to have what we call a satisfactory settlement and will not be a burden on the community or the labor market," Mr. McDonnell said.

Last week a Vancouver local of the International Woodworkers of America (CIO-CCL) wrote federal Citizenship Minister Walter Harris asking that his department "discontinue sending immigrants to B.C. until such time as the people of this province are gainfully employed."

The local also asked every effort to direct new Canadians to other areas in Canada "in the event of a serious unemployment situation in the next few months."

Biggest Blast Yet Mooted As U.S. Plans Weapon Test

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States may be about to rock the peaceful mid-Pacific with the most thunderous man-made explosion in world history.

An Atomic Energy Commission announced Friday night roused speculation that government scientists may be planning to detonate a hydrogen bomb with a blast power mightier than the combined force of all the conventional bombs dropped by U.S. planes in the Second World War.

The AEC said men and equipment will begin moving this month to its Pacific proving grounds in the Marshall Islands for "a further phase of a continuing series of weapons tests."

The three-paragraph announcement made no mention of specific types to be tested, but a reference to "all categories" of weapons touched off the H-bomb speculation.

MANSONS, RAINMAKERS TIED IN CAGE TOURNEY

Having hit the jackpot five times out of five with his crystal ball in predicting the results of last night's Parker Round-Robin basketball tournament, sports editor Dick Ayres is encouraged to stick his neck out still further.

At the moment Manson's Omegas and Booth Memorial High School Rainmakers are tied with two wins apiece and therefore four points.

Anyway here's tonight's selections:

Gordon and Anderson to win over CCC 300 in the first game. Rainmakers to down Watts and Nickerson in the second tilt. Manson's will take CCC in the third fixture and Gordon and Anderson will take Watts and Nickerson in the fourth. Manson's will edge Rainmakers in the final game to take the series.

Fans are invited to the Civic Centre to make a better selection on the spot.

Five Coronation Medals

IN AWARDING Coronation medals to four leaders of the native people, and to Indian Superintendent F. E. Anfield, the Queen has bestowed honors that meet with warm approval in this part of the country.

Before white men ever reached these shores, the natives had created a civilization with which B.C. is still intimately identified. Their works of art have become a symbol of the province, and their customs and ventures are an integral part of its history.

While the white newcomers have held the main attention with their aggressiveness and tumult, the Indians still form the massive background character of our province. Where others have not interfered and exploited, their life is one of dignity, grace and hospitality. Their hearts are warm and their friendship sincere. Those of the white race who have been accepted as brothers have a bond as close and enduring as any they will ever find.

The four whom the Queen has chosen for recognition personify the finest attributes of these first Canadians. It is an enviable commendation.

For Mr. Anfield the award is a measure of the appreciation felt by a Commonwealth which wishes to retain the affection and allegiance of its native peoples. His mission is successful because he is able to return with equal sincerity the spirit of brotherhood extended to him by those among whom he works.

They are five medals of which we are all proud.

Before Jobs-Capital

THIS year the first aluminum will be shipped from the giant Kitimat plant in British Columbia. Eventually production may reach 500,000 tons a year, worth approximately $200 millions, and a new city of at least 50,000 will be created in what was, less than two years ago, an empty wilderness.

Something more than a vast supply of cheap power on navigable water was needed to open this vast development. Before a single pound of aluminum could be produced, or one permanent job established, there had to be a huge outlay of capital.

When all the bills are paid the Aluminum Company of Canada will have spent around $600 millions for dams, tunnels, power plant, aluminum processing facilities, wharves and housing. The greater part of that money will have to be paid out before the first ingot can be produced and the balance before full production is achieved.

It takes capital—and capital in huge chunks—to keep Canada growing, to provide jobs for the Canadians of tomorrow.

All Aboard By G. E. Montmore

Some people are not to be trusted near a telephone. Alexander Graham Bell's little gadget exercises an evil fascination over them. They are telephone addicts.

I know a newspaperman who enters a friend's house, strides to the phone, and says in a clipped, dramatic voice: "Gimme Mexico City."

He doesn't really want Mexico City, and Mexico City doesn't want him. However, it is a far-off glamorous kind of place, and the very act of calling there conveys a feeling of power and adventure.

Also, the newspaperman happens to know an aide called Oscar at one of the embassies, and he has just remembered that he doesn't like Oscar's face. What better time than the present (3 a.m.) to phone and tell him so?

Mexico City is just an example. The place may be as easily be London, Melbourne, New Delhi or Belgrade. The telephone addict doesn't have to know anybody at the place he is phoning. He once phoned a bar in New York to settle an argument about the way a certain cocktail was mixed. Sometimes he phones statesmen to tell them his views on their policies.

Once he hailed John Diefenbaker, M.P., from bed in Saskatchewan and denounced him in the strongest terms.

Another telephone addict dampened the gaiety of the house where he was a holiday guest, by calling several people in his home town in the United States, hundreds of miles away, and insisting that his hostess speak to them all. The time was already past 1 a.m.

An hour or so later the telephone addict was attacked by remorse, and he phoned all the people again to apologise for having disturbed them. The hostess is now glumly waiting for the bill, which she intends to forward to her former guest.

Expense is the last thing a telephone addict thinks about. As some men are slaves to alcohol, he is a slave to the telephone. The two habits are sometimes found together.

The compulsive long-distance telephoner may be a man who feels lonely and inadequate. Speaking to eminent persons in far places restores his self-esteem, for a while. He can gain this relief without any hard work, but it doesn't last.

He and his kind should gather in a club called Telephoners Anonymous. Members would be pledged never to use the telephone unless it rang for them.

The founder and president should be my newspaper friend. The last I heard of him, he had tried to place a call to himself clear around the world. He failed to get through. I don't know why. Maybe he didn't answer. Or maybe his line was busy.

As I See It

Buy More British

THE PRIME MINISTER of Australia hits the nail square on the head when he says that there is no hope of an early sterling-dollar money convertibility scheme unless it is supported by the U.S.A.

But will the U.S. government enter any such scheme? And would any British government give up its control of exports and imports, as the U.S. would doubtless demand as a condition of any such scheme?

IT SEEMS to me that the scramble for export markets is likely to get much more intense than it is now.

In spite of some dark spots in the general picture, Canadian prosperity is at a very high level indeed at an all-time high level when all accounts are added up.

Nevertheless the situation could change very quickly, for the worse, for Canada. For, more and more, we tend to put too many eggs in the one basket—the U.S. basket. Uncle Sam is now by far our best customer. Yet on trade alone we are going deeper and deeper in the red each year with the U.S.A.

The Canadian dollar stands where it does today only because private investors are sending in to Canada vast quantities of new capital equipment, which they are paying for in their own country, with their own money.

IF FOR any reason the present slow-down in American business should deepen into a real recession, the Canadian picture could change, for the worse, overnight.

We have seen what happens in Canada when a local industry, such as the textile, is hard-hit by competition from outside. The pressures on the home government just cannot be resisted when there is mass unemployment in industries which make goods, which suddenly flood in from outside in swamping quantities.

Why should anybody imagine that American manufacturers, American trade unions, and American Congressmen will act any differently than do their Canadian opposite numbers in similar circumstances?

To be more specific, what would happen to the present high volume of lumber shipments from Canada to U.S.A. if there is a major shutdown in the woodworking operations in U.S. itself?

NO COUNTRY in all the world has a greater stake than Canada in removing the money-exchange snags which have so drastically cut down Canadian sales to the sterling area.

If the finance ministers, now meeting in Australia, can work out a pound-into-dollars convertibility scheme, then all well and good. But if no such convertibility scheme can be reached, then the longer we wait to take emergency steps to finance trade with the sterling area, the worse things are going to get, for Canada in general and B.C. in particular.

THE NUB of any successful move to regain our British markets for salmon, apples, and wood products is a plan which puts more Canadian dollars in the hands of British buyers. Loans are no answer.

It is only common prudence for Canada to buy more from the sterling area, and less from the American dollar area. It is the only way to keep our ship on even keel.

The U.S.A. can get along quite nicely without our lumber, salmon, fruits and other farm products. But the sterling area needs them—and must buy them from somebody.

DAMAGE WAS ESTIMATED at $300,000 in a three-alarm fire in a downtown Toronto building. Firemen battle the early-morning blaze which for a time threatened an entire business block on Front Street.

Ray REFLECTS and REMINISCES

Of course, there is always some unemployment somewhere any time. But there should be closer estimates. Yesterday in the United States for example, there was a grand total of 1,850,000. Some hours later, another guess came zooming along. This made it roughly two and a half million. Or perhaps they made a recount, the same as at an election now and then.

Plant Scientist Warns Against Diseases, Insects

VICTORIA (C) — A leading Canadian plant scientist has warned that the world's food supplies will be depleted by plant-killing diseases and insects unless nations co-operate to combat the threat.

Dr. William Newton, head of the Dominion laboratory of plant pathology here, said in an interview there is great danger of insects and diseases from warmer countries spreading to Canada.

Just returned from Ceylon where he served a year under the United Nations food and agricultural organization, he studied various types of virus diseases of that country.

"Diseases of warmer countries cause widespread damage to crops and their control depends largely on co-operation of scientists in all parts of the world," he said.

"Many of the diseases in Ceylon would thrive in Canada. The world is getting smaller and it is easier for diseases to spread from country to country."

Dr. Newton said scientists suspected that new virus diseases found in central British Columbia came from some other country. No one had yet found where the new Canadian wheat rust disease originated.

"Plant disease and insects do not know such a thing as an international boundary and for this reason plant and insect research should be completely internationalized."

OTTAWA DIARY

By NORMAN M. MCLEOD

Technically, the power of the coming meeting of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada to deal with the PC leadership situation is pretty strictly limited. The way the PC party constitution is set up, jurisdiction over the leadership is the prerogative of a National Convention—and of no lesser body.

Nevertheless, nothing is more certain than that technicalities will be disregarded at the approaching March meeting and that some definite action affecting the leadership will be taken. To imagine otherwise is tantamount to imagining hunters going into the woods in autumn to hunt partridge—and spending their time admiring the beauties of the autumn coloring.

The March annual meeting of the PC's needn't be held. It has been skipped several times in the past and it could easily be skipped again if the Conservative Brass considered such a course expedient. The fact that the Brass scheduled the meeting a few hours after leader Drew had denied a news agency despatch forecasting his early retirement is evidence that it is ready to go to the mat with the formidable forces in the party who are clamoring for a leadership change.

There are two courses which the coming PC annual meeting could take with propriety. One would be to decide that the existing situation justified the calling of a National Convention. The other would be to accept Mr. Drew's resignation, if it should develop during the course of the meeting, and name a temporary leader who would submit himself to a later National Convention for confirmation. Either course involves a National Convention some time to make things fully legal and there is no device by which a National Convention may be bypassed without doing violence to the party constitution.

There is, of course, a third plan which the March meeting might adopt. It might give a vote of confidence to Mr. Drew, who has indicated clearly that he doesn't propose to step down from the leadership without a fight.

The chances of this third alternative materializing shouldn't be too heavily discounted, mainly for reasons of geography. Drew is weakest in the Maritimes and in the Prairies, which are least likely to be solidly represented at the March meeting, and he is strongest in nearby Quebec, which is almost certain to have its full quota of delegates. The hatful of Quebec votes, together with the votes of the faction bitterly opposed to the entry of John Diefenbaker into the leadership, might be all that Drew might need to survive a vote of confidence.

Alberta Names New Minister

EDMONTON (C) — The Alberta cabinet was shuffled and a new minister added in moves to fill the vacancy caused by the Dec. 23 death of Hon. D. A. Ure.

Hon. L. C. Halmrast, a southwestern Alberta cattle rancher and public welfare minister for more than a year, was sworn in as minister of agriculture to succeed Mr. Ure, killed in a high-way accident.

R. D. (Bob) Jorgenson, Alberta Social Credit League president for 14 years and Social Credit MLA for Pembina, replaced Mr. Halmrast as minister of public welfare.

Henry Ford Jolted World 40 Years Ago Establishing $5-Day Wage Scale

DETROIT — Forty years ago this week Henry Ford gave the industrial world a jolt it long remembered: He established the $5 a day minimum wage in his factories.

Factory wages then ranged from $1 to $2.50 a day, depending on skill.

Ford's action was of tremendous significance, socially and economically. It brought instantaneous criticism as well as praise.

"Industrial suicide," some of Ford's fellow manufacturers wailed.

"Just social justice," Ford replied.

"It will ruin the Ford company and others with it," cried the critics. "Ford is trying to buy the workers' souls."

"It is a sound thing, economically and socially," Ford retorted, "and the time is not far distant when none can fail to realize it."

The industrial bombshell Henry Ford dropped on his competitors, of course, did not ruin them or the Ford Motor Co.

FLOCK TO DETROIT Detroit then had a population of 685,000 persons. But there were many thousands of others idle at the time. The day after announcement of the new wage scale 15,000 persons gathered at the gates of the Ford plant seeking the $5 jobs. Thousands of others were attracted from other sections of the country.

It was a milling mob that required squads of police to keep in order. The influx of outsiders

CHRISTIAN HOPE

By Rev. H. Olson, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church

There are 356 days left of this new year. By experience we know that our natures and attitudes toward life in the various situations and circumstances will vary considerably. In our lives there will be changing scenes. In the life of nations we entertain a period where many drastic things could take place. However, through these various experiences the Christian people know that there is a supreme power that rules the universe. Those who have placed their trust and faith in Jesus Christ possess a hope of better things. The following verse is real to every Christian: "Fear not them that can kill the body, but fear him that can destroy both soul and body in hell."

Hope is the confidence that good will somehow overcome evil; the expectation of future good; it is the fruit of faith and is inseparably connected with it for faith is the substance of things hoped for.

CHRISTIAN HOPE IS DIVINE HOPE

Christian hope has for its foundation, Jesus Christ. It is based on the revelation of God's love in Christ. We hope because we believe that God's love in Christ is a fact—a reality. The Christian's hope of happiness and glory in heaven is founded on the merits, the blood, the grace, the promises, the Spirit of Christ and the unchangeable truth and almighty power of God.

The hope of the Christian is said to have for its basis the words of Him who cannot lie. "It was impossible for God to lie, that we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us which hope we have as an anchor of the soul and which entered into that within the veil."

The Christian life is motivated by faith in God through Jesus Christ. This is exemplified by the words of the Apostle Paul: "I am crucified with Christ, nevertheless, I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me and the life that I now live in the flesh, I live by the Son of God, who loved me and gave Himself for me." Dear reader, do you possess saving faith in Jesus Christ?

DIVINE HOPE IS A PRICELESS POSSESSION

Christian faith can see beyond the temporal. Christian faith can see God's judgment upon sin. It knows that all who reject Jesus Christ as Saviour will, of necessity, give an account of their works and deeds to God. Yes, the eyes of faith can see the love of the Saviour. There is a yearning in the hearts of believing people for the salvation of the world, to see people come into the right relationship with Jesus Christ.

Every true Christian loves God in this that he not only admires God but labors to imitate the object of his love which is Jesus Christ in obedience. "Who is he that overcometh the world but he that believeth that Jesus is the Christ and every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself even as he is pure." This means to follow after holiness. Those who possess the hope of eternal life will have a desire to pursue and practice holiness. The Bible says "every man." There is no exception. All who are saved will have a desire to follow God. As natural as it is for a bird to fly or for a fish to swim it is for the Christian to pray and praise his God. Amen.

All national groups in this city have been urged to attend a meeting Monday night of the Prince Rupert Canadian Citizenship Council in the Civic Centre. President Rev. L. G. Sieber in

Organizations Urged To Keep Paper Advised of Activities

An outline of the production of a newspaper and work of a reporter, was heard by members of the Credit Women's Breakfast Club at their monthly meeting here this morning.

With 100 per cent of the members in attendance, Mrs. Charles (Shirley) Yule of The Daily News described the various stages of production of a newspaper and the difficulties in obtaining stories to meet deadlines.

She urged members of all women's organizations to keep the paper advised of their activities and programs, which are of interest to the city.

During the business session, the club approved an Easter sale project suggested by Mrs. Jocelyn Bolton, ways and means convenor. The group will prepare Easter eggs, candies, baskets, and other novelties for a sale to be held the Saturday before Easter.

Mrs. Bolton also was authorized to appoint a committee to discuss methods of choosing the recipient of a $100 bursary for a deserving Prince Rupert school student.

Members planned to meet January 17 to review their study courses on Credit work, in preparation for annual examinations to be held at the end of this month.

A report on the recent Christmas party for children was given by secretary Maressa Windle and a vote of thanks went to Myrtle Lippett, party convenor.

New Year's greetings were received from the credit women's district president Audrey Harness of Victoria, including congratulations on the past year's work of the Prince Rupert club.

Corsages were presented to Myrtle Weir, new member, and to Ethel Georgeson, Mildred Jensen, Hilda Berg and Mary McLeod, who celebrate their birthdays this month. Miss Olsen won the special prize at the meeting, which noted 100 per cent attendance.

Mr. Nicholson was guest of honor at a luncheon arranged by the Ministerial Association yesterday at which he spoke of the fellowship he had enjoyed here and made reference to the rich heritage and example left by the early missionaries of this coastline. Bishop and Mrs. H. G. Watts were also guests of the Ministerial Association.

Inviting the groups said the meeting would include an address on citizenship by F. E. Anfield and a social hour. Refreshments will be served by a committee headed by Mrs. J. S. Black.

LPP Member To Fight Case

VANCOUVER (CP)—Beatrice C. Fernyhough, 45-year-old member of the Labor-Progressive (Communist) Party who was fired and fired this week as B.C. director of the Junior Red Cross said Friday she plans to fight the dismissal with "every democratic process available."

In her first public statement since she was fired Wednesday, Miss Fernyhough termed her dismissal a "gross act of discrimination."

THE DAILY NEWS

Trespassing ... With Sandy

The title of this column is well backed up today as it takes over on the sport page. But, since there are a number of athletes mentioned perhaps sports editor Dick Ayres won't mind.

News that a service club curling league has been formed and is already in action will be a surprise to some... but the scores also will probably catch a number off guard. In this league are the Gyros, Rotarians and the Jaycees.

The league got underway last Thursday afternoon and reports have it that the Gyros won two games and lost one... the Jaycees getting the victory.

As is customary before a game, the Rotarians received a pep talk at their weekly luncheon from president Tony Crawley. In his brief remarks he urged members not to over-exert themselves and suggested the 'second-stringers' take the ice as the club didn't need to send in top players against Gyros.

The fact that there were several new players (new to the game) is being used now as an excuse by the Rotarians for their double loss.

On one team skipped by 'hard luck' loser Peter Bird, were Jack Mussallem, Bert Field and newcomer Charlie Roberts... Rumor says Charlie was wearing new shoes and couldn't bend enough... the fact that the Gyro scored under skip Al Miller scored a six and a five-ender didn't enter into the discussion. With Al were Dom Dominato, Alf Rivetti and Emil Blain, the bowler turned curler.

Ken Robertson, the former Winnipeg hotshot, led his Gyro team to a 10-7 victory over Bill McAr's Rotarians... but in this game also the official final score is something of a question mark... some of the Rotary crew believe the score was 9 to 4 and another said it was 11 to 8.

It was just superior play as far as the Robertson crew were concerned and jeweller George Cook, who'd never curled before, was one of the members of the winning squad. Also helmed out were Hec McDonald and Cliff Ham.

The hardy Rotarians who lost with skip Bill McAr were Johnny McLeod, Art Nickerson and Art Ogilvie... it is reported that they knew they were on the losing end so 'forgot' to look at the scoreboard after the last rock was tossed.

In a third match the 'barber-shop-quartet' with three barbers actually in on the play, tipped the Gyros 9 to 5. With skip Harley Lewis were Gerry Lemire, Bob Anderson and Danny Johnson.

On the Gyro squad were 'tiny' Mitch Greene, who with Ben Parker's superb help, Dunc McRae and Dave Radford went down to defeat. The Gyros think they lost by a score of 15 to 11... but the winners, playing under the name of the Jaycees, believe they won 9 to 5.

Game warden Jack Williams of Terrace has caught a record-size steelhead. Fishing in the Copper River last Wednesday, he landed a 27-pound 12-ounce fish after a 40-minute fight. The fish was 41½ inches long. He used a casting rod with a 12-pound tester and a Gibson No. 3 nickel-brass golf tee. The Terrace record had been held for the past two years by Vic Giraud, who accompanied Williams on his trip.

Speaking of fish, Jeff Wilson, who caught a 30½-pound steelhead in the Kispix last September, intends to enter his fish in the 1954 contest... It may be a world record.

Howard Sutherland, for some time in charge of the city weigh scales, is retiring because of ill health. The post is now being filled by J. B. (Dude) Robinson.

Oscar Holmquist has returned to the city after a spell at Kitimat. He went to the Alcan centre last summer and says he will remain here for several weeks.

Rupert's pioneer transfer man — Joe Lindsay — is back home recovering from an illness that forced him to spend a few days in hospital here recently.

Travelling salesman sure get around. Last week, George Kearley, a member of the Rotary Club here, became the first visitor at the Terrace club's initial meeting. He was welcomed by president Neil McKerracher... Rev. M. W. O'Connell was the club's first guest speaker.

Today was 'flower daze' for the female members of The Daily News staff. Shirley Yule and Myrtle Weir got corsages at the breakfast club meeting... and Jean Nixon received hers for her birthday.

In This Corner

By DICK AYRES

We're mad, good and mad. In fact we're disgusted.

We're not mad because we got shifted out of the corner to the left. We're not peeved because our round-robin predictions were 100 per cent correct, nor because it seems that Henry McLeone in the Vancouver Province and yours truly seem to have the same column titles. We're mad because two incidents that took place in the Civic Centre last night during and after the final game of the night, between Bo-Me-Hi Rainmakers and Gordon and Andersons.

First somebody showed ignorance and bad manners on spitting on the Civic Centre floor. Secondly because a basketball commissioner forgot himself and allowed his emotions to sway him to the point that he betrayed his trust as a member of a group of men appointed to govern basketball in Prince Rupert as an impartial body.

For this spitting incident there is no excuse. Whether committed by a youngster or a high school student, as was alleged by the referees, paying for one's ticket doesn't entitle a spectator to direct dirty habits at an official in charge of a game. Boos, jeers and cutting remarks, the referees tolerate but spitting, thrown bottles, profanity directed directly at them they do not have to take in any sport. Last night, with a predominantly high school crowd booing decisions against the high school and cheering those against Gordon and Anderson, and with players' tempers short, referees Fred Calderone and Ole Slatta had their hands full. Both teams were deathly determined to win and did all they legally could to accomplish just that. They also did as much illegally as they could without being caught. If they did get caught, well that was that. We saw plenty of fouls that weren't caught and possibly there were some that weren't justified. Okay, referees can't see them all. Sometimes they see a foul start and never completed. Other times they see only the tag end of a foul. They can only call on what they see actually happen, not what they think happened, just what they see. And that's what they do, what they're paid for and what they take abuse for. No wonder, they ponder if it's worth it.

Turning to basketball Commissioner 'Slim' Davidson, we'll make no reference to the fact that he's a teacher, a coach of basketball teams expected to instill good sportsmanship in his teams. He was in attendance last night as a spectator and as a member of the Prince Rupert basketball commission. On the commission he is the high school's representative, appointed to see that high school players and teams in the city's leagues get a fair deal. In other words he's a part of an august body that is above petty beefs, favoritism or personal feelings towards any team in the league.

Very well. So he sees the high school team being 'done wrong.' So he believes that a referee is favoring another team and over-penalizing the high school. The place to take his protests is to his own commission, the group of judges or officials elected to rule on such matters. What he is not expected to do is to button-hole referees in public or vent his rage on them in the lobby of the Civic Centre in front of the departing crowd. It does not reflect well on himself, the high school or the commission. In fact it makes a mockery of the latter and apart from being the wrong procedure it reflects poor sportsmanship from a source where sportsmanship is supposed to originate. Wonderful thing this sportsmanship... when you encounter it. Let's not have a weakness in our top cage officials if we expect strong leagues and good basketball.

POST SCRIPTS—Hope that the upshot of last night's rhu-barb doesn't lose us any more referees was indicated last night. Let's get the tournament finished anyway before such incidents completely wreck basketball in Prince Rupert... Question of the week: Where did Bill Sunberg suddenly pick up those wonderful hook shots?... Donny Scherk, nursing a badly broken nose says he's lucky he didn't lose an eye at Metlakatla. He was banged against a bolt in the stage at the end of the Metlakatla gym. Doctor's bill and hospital costs made it a costly trip for the Challengers but the boys report that they were treated royally in both Ketchikan and Metlakatla, Alaska... Don Hartwig, of Manson's Omegas, has accepted the position as coach of Prince Rupert Challengers teams which may represent the city from now on.

Manson's Rainmakers Tied For Round-Robin Lead As Exciting Cage Tourney Goes Into Second Night

Manson's Omegas continued their winning ways and Booth Memorial High school Rainmakers won two hard fought victories over senior teams to tie up the lead with 4 points each in the first night of the Parker Round Robin basketball tournament at the Civic Centre last night.

Omegas, Senior B League leaders, downed Watts & Nickerson of the Inter A League 29-19 in the opening game and defeated Gordon and Andersons 35-30 in the evening's third fixture. Bo-Me-Hi meanwhile had knocked off Columbia Cellulose 300 Club 23-16 in the second game and concluded the evening with a narrow win over Gordon and Andersons 33-28. In the fourth game CCC gained two points by shellacking Watts and Nickerson 48-26 in the highest scoring game of the night.

Ray Spring and Mickey Webster shared scoring honors with 7 points each as the jewellers downed the clothiers. Omegas took a 16-10 first half lead netting four field goals and 2 out of eight shots at the foul line. Watts and Nickersons were outscored again 13-9 in the second half as Manson's potted 4 field goals to W & N's 3 and sank 5 out of the 8 free shots compared to the clothiers' 3 out of 9. Wesch with three dead-on long shots was W & N's star with 9 points.

SLOWED DOWN
A short-handed CCC 300 squad slowed down the Bo-Me-Hi Rainmakers in the second game but the high school quintet took the first half 8-5 and lengthened their lead in the second half by outscoring the pulpmillers 15-11. Freddy Kristmanson and Rey McKay shared high school scoring honors with 6 points each and Sid Scherk with 8 points led CCC. The Cellulose gang only committed 5 fouls to Bo-Me-Hi's 10 but netted only 6 out of 16 free shots while the Rainmakers sank 5 out of 8.

Art Olsen's hook shot was working in the third game as Manson's set up a 16-13 lead in the first half over G & A. Rupe Holkestad and Jimmy Flaten scored 8 points each for the losers as Manson's took the second half 19-17. G & A were nipped for 14 fouls and Manson's 9. The hardwaremen collected on 8 out of 13 free shots.

CCC scored the highest number of points in any game and also netted 17 field goals, the most scored in any game, as they went to town on Watts and Nickersons. Harold Marshall with 21 points and Bill Sunberg with 19 racked up 40 of the pulpmillers score as the clothiers lost the first quarter 21-14 and the final frame 27-12. The pulpmillers held off the striving clothiers after Mel Thompson, Marshall and Sunberg had fouled out leaving the CCC squad with only Scherk, Gordy Cameron and Freddy Christenson on the floor.

Tempers flared in the final game as the Rainmakers, checked hard and fast by the

Gordon and Anderson's squad trailed 13-15 at the half. Comments from the Bo-Me-Hi bench drew a technical foul and the game was held up after the referees Calderone and Ole Slatta. Ron Ciceone led the high school rally after the lead had changed hands several times. Ciceone's three fast counters saw the high school's lead go 30-26, a gap the hardwaremen never closed. Ciceone was top scorer for the high school with 8 and Rupe Holkestad scored 8 points to lead G & A. G & A scored 20 of their 28 points on 34 free shots while being held to four field goals, three in the last half. Bo-Me-Hi scored 14 field goals and sank 9 free shots in 25 chances. The Rainmakers were penalized 20 times to G & A's 13 fouls.

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

Heinsite Plays Hand After It's Finished

Mr. Dale's luck had been good all during the session, so over his partner's three diamond jump he took a shot at three no trump, intending to go to four diamonds if doubled.

No double was forthcoming and Mr. Abel got off to the lead of the eight of hearts. Mr. Dale ducked two rounds of the suit. He won the third heart and discarded the trey of clubs from dummy. Mr. Abel played the six of spades.

At trick four a diamond was led toward the king. Mr. Abel promptly ducked. But Mr. Dale figured with considerable reason that if Mr. Heinsite had started with as much as six hearts with a hundred honors and the ace of diamonds, he probably would have opened the bidding.

He went up with the king of diamonds and it held. A diamond back cleared the suit, Mr. Abel winning with the ace. Now there was no return that would beat the hand. Mr. Heinsite had plenty of winners but no entry. Mr. Dale was bound to win five diamonds, one heart, one spade and two clubs.

Whenever a contract is made against Mr. Heinsite, he automatically thinks his partner must have made some mistake. (Often he isn't satisfied even when a contract is defeated after a trick.) In this particular hand he had to think for a while before he discovered what Mr. Abel could have done.

He finally figured it out. "You should have discarded the ace of diamonds on the third trick, Abel," he said. "Then there would be no way for Dale to run his diamonds without letting me in."

"True," replied Mr. Abel, "but that's quite a play you're asking me to make. Suppose you'd held the king-Jack-10 of spades instead of the minor suit queens. Then I'd look great throwing away the ace of diamonds and letting him run away with the whole suit—and the contract."

Mr. Heinsite was not convinced. "But it wasn't that way," he argued unreasonably. "I'd have played the ace of diamonds without a second's delay if I'd held your hand."

"Then why," asked Mr. Abel, "did it take you so long to figure out the play even after you'd seen all 52 cards?"

Important Segments of Industry Hit by Layoffs During Past Week

By The Associated Press

Important segments of heavy industry in the United States were hit by a new wave of layoffs this week.

Idle are workers in U.S. automobile plants, steel mills, railroads and electrical manufacturing plants. The textiles, farm equipment and rubber industries also have been affected. Railroads in recent weeks have laid off about 18,000 employees.

Most company spokesmen, in announcing the layoffs, blamed "adjusted production schedules" or "a lack of immediate business."

In Washington, a report from the bureau of employment security which is part of the labor department, indicated the number of jobless may exceed 2,000,000.

The bureau said 413,300 initial claims for unemployment compensation were received in last week during the week ended Jan. 9. This is nearly 20 per cent higher than the previous week and represents the largest weekly volume of such claims since January, 1930.

Michigan appeared the hardest hit by the layoffs with the jobless listed at 124,000. At the Plymouth division of Chrysler Corp. and the automotive body (bodies) division, 1,000 workers were taken off the payroll Friday. Hudson Motor Co. laid off 2,000. Studebaker Corp. said in South Bend, Ind., that it would lay off 3,000 to 3,500 because it plans to cut production.

Bethlehem Steel Co. in Buffalo, N.Y., took additional heat-treating out of production. The Buffalo Evening News said that steel production in the area is at 700 per cent of practical capacity, compared to 100 per cent two months ago. It also said that the four-day work week is becoming prevalent.

The number of layoffs among railroads increased as the Reading Co. said 1,200 workers would be laid off at its main car shops in Reading, Pa., increasing the road's total layoff since the end of December to 2,400.

Total employment curtailment in General Electric plants in Auburn and Syracuse, N.Y., rose to about 1,000.

Lawyers Barred From Visiting In Oakalla

VICTORIA (CP) — Two Vancouver lawyers have been barred from visiting clients in Oakalla prison because of suspected trafficking in narcotics and liquor, the attorney-general's department announced Thursday.

Department officials said one lawyer was reported to have passed drugs to a prisoner and the other to have given liquor to another prisoner. Names of the lawyers were not disclosed pending completion of an investigation by the department.

ONE MAN WAS KILLED and 18 other passengers escaped into the sub-zero cold when fire broke out in a pullman on Canadian National Railway's westbound transcontinental flyer near Pembroke, Ont. Police held Charles Faulcault of Noranda, Que., for mental examination after he told them he fell asleep in his compartment with a lighted cigarette in his hand. All but one of the trapped passengers jumped through a window smashed with a travelling bag.

Trabert Wins Tennis Title

ADELAIDE (CP) — Tony Trabert turned the tables on Australia's Lewis Hoad today, beating the Aussie star 6-4, 6-2, 6-2 to win the South Australian singles championship.

In the recent Davis Cup challenge round Trabert lost a grueling five-set match to Hoad that enabled the Aussies to tie at 2-2. Before the match started Hoad received treatment for a strained right elbow while Trabert was treated for a sore right shoulder.
