Steering Mechanism Of Chelan Not Checked Before Fatal Trip

Jury Hears Reports Of Helm Trouble

VANCOUVER (CP)—A coroners' jury heard Friday that the shipwrecked tug Chelan was having difficulty with her steering mechanism and had not been inspected before sinking off the Alaska coast last April 15.

The jury was investigating the death of Frank Hykaway, one of the tug's 14 crew members who lost their lives off Point Decision.

James Moorcroft, a government steamship inspector, testified that his office had not been advised of changes to the Chelan's steering apparatus before she put out on her last cruise.

He said that it was the duty of company officials to inform his office of any important repairs to a ship.

LETTER READ TO JURY

A letter from the Chelan's second officer, Richard Child, dated a few days before the tragedy, and sent to his wife, was read into the record. It stated that the vessel was still having trouble with helm.

Thomas Wilson Morgan, Supt. Engineer for Union Steamships, owners of the Chelan, testified that he had supervised the replacing of the tug's electrical steering with an hydraulic-assisted mechanism just prior to the disaster.

David George Cox, former first officer of the Chelan, testified that the vessel was sturdy and handled well, but that it had once had trouble with the electric steering during a 35-mile an hour wind.

At that time, he said, it had been necessary to revert to manual steering which required the use of two men. He added that the Chelan had not been heavily loaded on that occasion and that the barge it was pulling "was light."

BATTLED GALE

The Chelan and a barge, loaded with concentrates, went down April 15 as they battled 80-mile-an-hour winds and heavy seas off Cape Decision. Only two bodies of members of the 14-man crew have been recovered.

A veteran tugboat skipper,

Capt. Fred Talbot, testified earlier at the inquest that the Chelan was not in a "normal, safe position" at the time of the sinking.

"I would never have been there," he said. "I would have let the barge go and got out of there."

NO COMPLAINTS

Referring to earlier testimony about the seaworthiness of the tug and its scow, Capt. Talbot said the barge had been found to be "unmanageable" late last year. He added, however, that there had not been any complaints from crew members since adjustments had been made.

The six-man coroner's jury, consisting of mariners, returned a verdict that Hykaway met death from "unnatural causes through drowning."

Dudoward Rites Set for Monday

Funeral service will be held Monday at 2:30 p.m. in the First United Church for Captain Rufus Dudoward, district oldtimer, who died Wednesday night in Prince Rupert Hospital, in his 69th year.

The Rev. L. G. Seiber will conduct last rites for the pioneer Port Simpson fisherman, who operated the first power-driven gas boat in this area.

Born at Port Simpson, December 27, 1883, he started his career as a fireman on river boats on the Skeena and worked up as deckhand and engineer, eventually writing captain's papers.

He helped to survey this area for the Grand Trunk railway and when the city of Prince Rupert became established, he realized the possibilities of the fishing business and started his new life as a fisherman, supplying the city.

His first gas boat, running on a two-cycle engine without clutch or timer, gave way to the first Mary D, the name he gave to each of his subsequent boats. His latest was a deepsea trawler.

Besides his wife, Molly (Mary) of Port Simpson, he is survived by six children, Mrs. E. G. Abbott at Minto Mines, B.C., Mrs. Ole Berg, Vancouver, Mrs. Beryl Dodaur, Vancouver, and sons Wally, Rex and Gerry, all of Vancouver. Wally, Gerry and Mrs. Berg and her young daughter, all are here for the funeral.

Order Lists Liquor Area

VICTORIA (CP)—Twelve more mainline and five more Vancouver Island municipalities have been designated as liquor licensing districts.

An order in council listed North Vancouver, Richmond, Endersby, Surrey, Merritt, Coquitlam, Delta, Fraser Mills, Langley, Maple Ridge, Mission and Pitt Meadows on the mainland.

Island centres were Saanich and Central Saanich in the Greater Victoria area, and North Cowichan, Cumberland and Lake Cowichan, up-island.

SUCCESSFUL "POT POURRI" OPEN LAST TIME TONIGHT

Prince Rupert citizens have their last chance tonight to view the handwork of local hobbyists as the Civic Centre Association's "pot pourri" arts and crafts show concludes its three day display.

Following a large turnout of visitors to the Civic Centre last night, Crafts Supervisor Roly Miles dubbed the show "a success" and said that an even larger attendance is expected today.

"The finest display in the show so far, is the fine co-operation displayed by the various contributing groups," Mr. Miles said.

Tremors Kill 150 In Greece

Violent Shocks Flatten Towns

ATHENS (AP)—Earth tremors rocked central Greece Friday night, hours after violent shocks flattened entire towns and crushed scores of persons to death.

The early death toll was estimated officially at 150. Interior Minister Ioannis Nicolitsias said at least 25,000 persons were homeless.

The minister compared the disaster to that of the widespread quakes in the Greek Ionian islands last August, which killed up to 1,000 persons and destroyed the homes of 120,000.

FROM COAST TO MOUNTAINS
 Friday's stricken area stretches from the east coast into the Pindus mountains, where shattered villages can be reached only over donkey trails. The destruction appeared to centre around Granitsa, 135 miles northwest of Athens, with the towns of Sofades, Farsala, Karditsa and Domokos hardest hit.

Thousands of persons slept in open fields Friday night, some because they had no home to return to and others because they were afraid to go back to the towns they had fled.

The government sped supplies and medicine to the earthquake victims and dispatched troops to repair communication lines.

Driver Fined $75 On Two Counts

Two traffic counts cost Clyde Elmer Leask, Prince Rupert, $75 and costs in city police court this morning when he pleaded guilty to failing to remain at the scene of an accident and also driving without a driver's licence.

Leask, police testimony showed, was picked up last Saturday, minutes after he sideswiped a cab belonging to 99 Taxi on Fifth Avenue. Magistrate W. D. Vance fined Leask $50 and costs on the hit-and-run charge and $25 for driving without a driver's licence.

New police crack-down on speeders brought fines of $10 and $15 against two men picked up Tuesday for cruising more than 15 miles an hour through the hospital zone.

THIS PICTURE of a proposed new city hall at Edmonton was made by superimposing a photograph of a model of the building on a picture of the area where the building will be located. The picture was made by Max Dewar, an architect who helped design the building. The model shows 10 storeys, but the city hall, when completed, will have only nine storeys. Proposed location of the building is on 100th street, midway between the CNR station and Jasper Avenue in the heart of downtown Edmonton. Plans for the $2,500,000 project are approved. Construction is expected to start this year. Corner building in foreground is city-owned office.

Coldest May First in 60 Years Recorded in B.C. During Night

ed in Vancouver and Abbotsford, Nanaimo, Port Hardy and Patricia Bay all established new minimum records for May. Minimum temperatures at northern B.C. points included Prince Rupert 32 above, Prince George 17, Fort St. John 22, and at Whitehorse it was 25 above. A low of 10 degrees at Cranbrook was the coldest May 1 since weather records began, including that point 45 years ago. Kamloops low of 22 topped minimum records that have stood for 60 years.

Temperature records back to 1886 tumbled on the prairies. The mercury reached a high of 35.2 degrees at Edmonton, coldest April 30 since the 36 mark set 68 years ago. It was 27 at Lethbridge, coldest since 28 was recorded in 1913.

Calgary was the coldest spot on the prairies overnight, reporting a zero reading. It cracked a minimum record of 13 reported April 30, 1909. Saskatoon reported a high of 30, three degrees below the previous low maximum reported in 1921. At Medicine Hat it was 28, compared with 44 reported last year. Prairie weathermen gave little hope of much warmer weather in the immediate future.

Clouds are expected to cut short the sunny spell along the northern B.C. coast, and intermittent rain is forecast for this evening.

Bromwich Captures Cup 3-2 Win Over Preston

(Reuters)—West Brom today won the Association Cup by defeating pre-game favorite Preston 3-2 before 80,000 fans at Wembley Stadium.

His fine shot, the game appeared certain to go into a 30-minute overtime period.

Preston was a slight favorite to take the 73rd Cup Final, glamorous windup game of the English soccer season.

Other West Bromwich goals today were both scored by Ronnie Allen. One was on a penalty shot that tied the count at 2-2. Allen's first goal came 22 minutes after the starting whistle when he took a fast pass from George Lee and scored with a low, hard kick.

Anrus Morrison scored first for Preston, less than one minute after Allen's opener. Preston went ahead 2-1 when Charlie Wayman scored in the 51st minute. The game was dubbed "not soccer at its best," but offered plenty of thrills in closing half for more than 100,000 spectators and some 10,000,000 radio and television fans.

In other Old Country soccer, the Rangers defeated the Celtics by a 1-0 score in the first round of the Glasgow Charity Cup. In the same series Kilmarnock downed Ayr United 3-0. In the Irish Gold Cup, Derry City and Linfield played to a 1-1 draw.

Saturday Sermon

MAJOR W. C. POULTON, Salvation Army
"Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners."—1 Timothy 1:15.

The apostle ends his writings by saying that of the things there is no end. My Principal at College used to say barrels make the most noise and empty freights chatter.

In this day and age of "officiate, and gobbledegook, and so-called diplomatic language, it is hard to get people to listen to the five-cent words as these nine are. They prefer to pay a big salary to some person who has learned how to say nothing and use a lot of fifty-cent words to say it. It is no longer right to say: "That boy needs a good thrashing," but rather we have to say: "In order to restore the appetite for social behaviour of a standard commensurate with the demands of the local community, it is deemed necessary that this young man be stimulated into the acceptance of such standards by such means as will convey to his mind the pain of body he himself has caused others." Crazy, isn't it?

But to use the loose term crazy to describe ourselves when we refuse to believe the text at the top of the Saturday Sermon, is wrong. There is always hope for the "crazy man" but the man who rejects Christ's offer of Salvation must remember that he stands facing God's judgments.

God's Friday was not just a martyr's day. Easter Sunday is not just Mother Nature's Spring Day. Jesus Christ came into the world to save sinners. That meant me. Does it mean you?

Dramatic Film on Luther Showing Here Next Week

A religious film which was expected to create controversy but instead was acclaimed for its brilliant technique and acting is to be shown at the Totem theatre, May 3 to 6 inclusive. It is "Martin Luther," a dramatic picture photographed in Western Germany close to the scene where the 16th century Protestant Reformation leader lived and preached.

Speaking of preparations to shoot the picture, producer Lothar Wolff said that "in Germany the natives were as sceptical about foreigners making 'Martin Luther' as Americans would be if Europeans came to the United States to film the life of George Washington. Even the sponsors, a group of six Lutheran churches of the United States, didn't believe the film could be made acceptable to Luther's countrymen. To everyone's surprise they liked the finished film, and a German language version has also been made."

Most of the action of the film was photographed in the actual streets, monasteries and castles of the period. Since the town of Wittenberg, in whose church Luther preached, is now in the hands of the Russians, the Maulbronn monastery church was used instead. However, the com-

Place-Nilson Vows Pledged At Lutheran Church Here

Motoring through the B.C. Interior this week are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Place, whose marriage took place at an evening ceremony Saturday at St. Paul's Lutheran Church with the Rev. H. Olsen officiating.

The bride, Judith Minerva, is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lars Nilson, 522 Eighth Avenue West and the groom, well-known boxer Chuck Place, is son of Mr. and Mrs. George Place, 328 Sherbrooke Avenue.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a gown of traditional white, featuring nylon lace bodice with scalloped Dresden neckline and flaring embroidered peplum over a bouffant skirt of nylon tulle. A Juliet cap, studded with seed pearls, secured her chapel veil and she carried a spray of red roses.

Her only ornament was a double strand of pearls, gift of the groom.

Mrs. Lenore Nilson was her sister's bridesmaid, wearing a pretty gown of pink with taffeta bodice, topped by a brief jacket, and a full nylon tulle skirt. A matching headpiece and spray of pink carnations completed her ensemble.

Mr. Dick Wesch was best man. At the reception at the home of the bride's parents, a two-tier wedding cake centred the lace-covered bride's table.

Assisting in receiving were the parents of the bridal couple, Mrs. Nilson wearing a green crepe afternoon dress with matching accessories and rose carnations en corsage. Mrs. Place chose a dress of French crepe in midnight blue with matching accessories. Rose carnations formed her corsage.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. A. Kaardal, and assisting in serving were Miss Muriel Shier, Mrs. C. Nilson, Mrs. K. Myers and Mrs. J. Prescott.

The couple will make their home in Prince Rupert following their two-week honeymoon.

By DICK AYRES

There's nothing like having a complete dossier on someone who's coming to work for you. That's the way it is with yours truly and the new Daily News reporter and sportswriter.

We've known this guy 35 years and are mighty proud to have done so. We've been connected with sports together for 27 of those years. We crossed the Atlantic together and learned about the great, heart-warming Canadian way of life together. We shared a love of the B.C. coast, climbed mountains in the Kootenays together, skied together, joined the army together, crouched in a slit trench together and fired the same artillery piece together. We went on leave together, pub-crawled together and while we both had a mutual admiration for the fare at "The Windmill" theatre in London, we differed on the "Whitehall Theatre" until they threw out the Ballet Russe and started a strip-tease. In other words, we practically think alike and have similar views.

The gent about whom we speak, of course, is our brother Geoff (pronounced Jeff), who arrived this week in Rupert from snow-bound Saskatchewan. In our book he's a good Joe, and we hope that this town will take him to its hearts as warmly as they did us.

We are bowing out of the sports page except for turning out this column. Eventually, when Geoff has got to know you all he'll take over the space and do a better job.

Brother Geoff is no longer athletic and for good reason. All his life, until he got away from us by going to university, he had to do everything we did. When Gene Tunney beat Jack Dempsey and we re-enacted it, he was always Dempsy. When we played cricket together yours truly was always George Hobbs and he was some minor player. In this country we subjected him to hours of a complicated game of catch, in which as pitcher and catcher we played full nine-inning games scoring with walks and only retiring players with strike-outs. He always lost. Whatever we did, he was always the villain. It was a rough life.

The result was, that although four years younger than us, he could play hockey, baseball or soccer, fight, ski, swim or run nearly as good as we, who loved every second of active participation. (At wrestling he could beat us so we always avoided that.)

However, about 1936 he sneaked off to college. We lost a good sparring partner and he attained his goal of being a spectator.

As a sports writer, he has both watched and chronicled athletic events on the coast from hockey in Victoria Memorial Arena where Lester Patrick's Cougars play, to "grasslin" in Bay Street Armories where Gorgeous George displayed his thespian ability.

Now Geoff's in Rupert ready to write your sports for you. Tell him your name and how you spell it if you're chatting. He's the lad to phone at 749 now. But remember there's only one of him to hundreds of you. Give him a couple of weeks and he'll know which side any of you part your hair and whether your big toe twitches just before you're about to steal second.

POST SCRIPTS — City Clerk Bill Long doesn't want any part of the Friendly Fishing plug chain letter deal. He's had four now, one of which was wished on him by our good chum Ed Garner. Bill figures it'll take 7,000 plugs before he starts getting his. Bob Armstrong, on the other hand, has already had three back. Larry Stanwood sent one plug to W. J. Yeo, Downsview, Ont., and today received a "glitterbug" from W. W. Heath, Smithers.

Vic Williams will be giving a short talk on the evolution of guns at the Rod and Gun club meeting Monday night. He's bringing along some of his collection of ancient firing pieces to the meeting which will also see the presentation of prizes to derby winners Ed Garner, Jack Lindsay and Dick Gilker. The Rod and Gunners also hope to set the opening date for youngsters fishing at the newly developed Oliver Lake fly-casting site. Members of the Gordon and Anderson senior baseball team recently took up a collection among themselves and went shopping at Bulger's. They've come up with a Jerry Ford Memorial trophy for the "most valuable player" to his team during league play. Gerry, who was killed last fall in an accident, turned in a stalwart job as second baseman for G & A. Herbert Hadland was doing a good job of refereeing last night at a pick up football game out at Port Edward school grounds. What the lads lacked in experience and polish they made up for with enthusiasm.

Power-Laden G & A's Appear Slated For Walk-Away in Senior Ball Loop

By DICK AYRES

A hurried glance over the senior baseball scene in Prince Rupert gives one the impression that Rusty Ford's power-laden Gordon and Anderson squad is a "shoo-in" for the league championship.

This of course is disputed immediately but somewhat unenthusiastically by Miner Simonsen, pilot for Commercial Hotel and Benny Windle, Esquire Men's Wear manager. What the Terrace baseball fraternity think is an unknown quantity, but neither of the last-mentioned local mentors have come up with any arguments as to what might prevent G & A from ending up with the league trophy.

It certainly doesn't appear that any sudden acquisition of top flight talent will solve the situation for Messrs Simonsen and Windle for the simple reason there's a remarkable dearth of it at the moment.

Rusty Ford plans his 1954 onslaught with practically the same line-up as last year plus former Esquire veteran Stan Petrow and a couple of newcomers.

Freddy Christensen, G & A's curveball artist, will assume the major pitching chores aided and abetted in his nefarious work by Bobby Squires and Ian Dunbar. Behind the plate will be Don Scherk with brother Sid at first. Rusty isn't sure who will hold down the keystone sack but it might be Dave Hill, broad-shouldered navy type. Bill Sunberg will be at short with Don Hartwig on third. Out in the pasture it's likely to be Mouse Morrison in right, Ralph Enridge in centre and Petrow will probably patrol the port side. Just by way of insurance Rusty has word that husky Darrow Young will join the G & A roster around May 16. Dennis Reed, a rookie is being included in the pitching staff.

the signing of ex-Esquires Jack Lindsay and Cliff Dahl. The two veterans of local ball here will be a great morale booster to the skinny lineup with which Simonsen finds himself this year. Left overs from the 1953 season include Gordy Cameron, the spreadball gent who practically carried the hotelmen as far as they went last year which was third place. Gordy, who lost the tip of his index finger in an accident, has been chucking regularly at practices and seems to be doing okay. Whether his healing hand will give as much, less or more control remains to be seen.

Back of course will be Miner and brother Bruce plus Bill Gunn and Nick Pavlikis. Herbie Morgan will be playing whenever he can as will Joe Davis, but summer activities will likely keep them both out of action and shape. Newcomer who might bolster the Commercial chances is Don Kidd. Former hotelman Maurice Scott may be too busy helping the minor leagues.

NOT TOO BADLY OFF
Esquires don't seem to be quite as badly off for talent as Commercial.

Back from last year is first sacker Danny Bill who may take over second. Ray Spring will be back in the hot spot at short if Joe Giordano isn't assigned there. Don Hawryluk will be out in the left field and the rest of the fielders are expected to come from the ranks of the rookies. Dick Letourneau and Jack Sharpe will probably spit hurling assignments with newcomer Bill Donaldson. Coach Benny Windle will do the receiving unless one of the newcomers, Reynold McKay can prove he's up to the job. McKay is also being given the once over by Commercial and hasn't signed with either. Almost sure of a spot on the squad is Earl McPhee who was with G & A two years ago. Other ball chasers seeking berths are Jimmy Flewin, Carl Teichman, Barry Williamson and Paul Poirier.

A's Up in Third Place As Rookie Tames Orioles

By BEN PHELEGAR

If big Bob Trice can keep up his fast start he may make the jump from International League rookie-of-the-year to the same title in the American League in one season.

The Georgia-born Negro, first of his race to play baseball for Philadelphia Athletics, has started, finished and won three games. And each time he's pitched he's been better.

Against Baltimore Orioles last night he had a one-hit shutout going for eight innings, and wound up with a 5-1 three-hitter.

PLAYED IN QUEBEC

Trice, 25, won 16 and lost three for St. Hyacinthe in the Quebec Provincial League in 1952.

Trice's fine pitching pushed the Athletics into third place in the American League.

The White Sox downed Boston 5-0 for their ninth victory in 11 games.

Detroit outlasted Washington 2-1 in 12 innings and Cleveland Indians thumped the Yankees 9-4 with a five-run explosion in the 10th inning at New York.

In the National League, Brooklyn took over first place from Cincinnati by beating the Redlegs 6-3. New York Giants shaded Chicago Cubs 4-2 in 14 innings on Willie Mays' home run and Philadelphia Phillies defeated Milwaukee 5-2. Pittsburgh was rained out at St. Louis.

Bob Keegan scattered nine hits for his third straight success for the White Sox. He's won eight in a row over two seasons.

FOUND RANGE

The Indians found the range in the 10th against Whitey Ford, battering the Yankee relief pitcher for a triple, three singles and a walk good for five runs.

Sal Maglie, written off as a has-been in the late stages of the 1953 campaign, became the first pitcher in either league to win four games. To do it he had to pitch the longest game of his career.

Brooklyn and Cincinnati sprayed 24 hits over Cincinnati's Crosley Field, but the Dodgers used theirs to better advantage. Two of the 13 Brooklyn safeties were home runs by Duke Snider and Pee Wee Reese.

Salem, Lewiston Tied on Top After Three Days WIL Play

SEATTLE (P)—The Western International League's 1954 season went into its third day Saturday with the Salem Senators and Lewiston's Broncos tied for the top spot with two wins apiece.

The Broncos capitalized on 12 walks and 10 hits Friday night in trimming Wenatchee, 12-5, and Salem won out over Edmondton, 9-4. Both games, at Lewiston and Salem, were played in sub-freezing temperatures.

In other action Friday night, Calgary edged Tri-City, 5-4; Victoria downed Vancouver, 2-1; and Yakima chopped off a last-gasp rally by the Spokane Indians for a 4-2 decision.

Lewiston cinched its win over Wenatchee's Chiefs with five runs in the fourth inning on four walks and a brace of singles, added two insurance runs in the seventh and four more in the eighth.

Salem Senators started festivities in the first frame with a pair of runs and sent Edmondton Eskimos scurrying for cover in the third with four runs on a walk, a hit batsman and three successive singles. The winners added three more in the eighth.

Bill Brenner and Hal Flinn locked horns in a tight pitching duel as Victoria's Tyeys squeezed for five safeties, while fanning six and issuing four walks. Brenner gave up eight hits, walked one and struck out five. Victoria won the game in the top of the ninth.

Ted Edmunds turned in another top pitching job at Spokane in Yakima's victory over the Indians. Edmunds scattered six hits as he went the distance for the Bears. Charlie Mead was the big man in the Yakima attack with three hits in four trips.

Tri-City broke loose for three runs in the seventh inning in a desperate bid to overtake Calgary but the rally fizzled out. Calgary started fast, with two runs in the first inning and a solo tally in the second. Tri-City countered with one run in the third and then was held scoreless except for the seventh while the Canadians were adding singletons in the fifth and sixth frames. Three Tri-City errors aided the Calgary cause.

The Saturday night lineup finds Spokane at Lewiston, Victoria at Wenatchee, Vancouver at Yakima, Edmondton at Tri-City and Calgary at Salem.

REMEMBER WHEN
By The Canadian Press

The longest game in the major leagues was the 26-inning battle between Brooklyn and Boston of the National League, 34 years ago today, which ended in a 1-1 tie as play was called on account of darkness. Leon Cadore of Brooklyn and Joseph Oeschger for Boston pitched the entire game, which took three hours and 50 minutes of play.

PORT EDWARD CLUB STAGING JUDO EXHIBITION ON MAY 8

An exhibition of judo will be staged by the Port Edward Judo club at the Civic Centre, Saturday, May 8.

The 23-member club, under the direction of instructor Harry Noda has been training out at the bunkhouse at Port Edward for three months and have made up teams to demonstrate the various throws and methods used in this science of self-defence.

Noda and Toshi Nishi, Steve Yamamoto and Mas Nakatsu and Billy Tsuchiya and Don Tasaka will be three teams that will give displays of the art. Four youngsters will also show off their ability in judo work. Also to be shown is a film on judo.

Oakland Southpaw Whiffs 11 To Shutout Luckless Angels

Either the Los Angeles baseball club doesn't have any hitting potential or the club is in a deep slump, but in either event it just missed being held hitless Friday night as young Don Ferrarese, a stylish southpaw, hurled Oakland to a 3-0 victory before 2,345 chilled spectators at Los Angeles' Wrigley field.

Ferrarese, an Oakland product who began his professional career in 1948 with Stockton in the California League, gave up just one hit—a blooper over second base in the fourth inning by Angel third baseman Tommy Brown.

The curve-balling portsideer fanned 11 batters, walked three. Only five men reached first, one on an error. His string of strikeouts boosted his season total to 37.

Oakland outfielders Gene Hermanski and Sam Chapman honored for the Oaks.

Al Cicotte, Sacramento youngster, contributed another sparkling pitching performance as he pitched the Sacs to a 2-0 victory over Seattle. Cicotte, a nephew of Eddie Cicotte, the old Chicago White Sox star, granted the Rainiers only two hits, the first one coming in the sixth with two down. Joe Erault doubled in the eighth for the only other safe blow.

Hank Schenz's homer in the first inning was the decider, but in the eighth Schenz walked, was sacrificed, went to third on Joe Brovia's infield out and came in on Nippy Jones' single to centre.

Stamps Leading Western Finals

CALGARY (P)—Calgary Stampers are only one game away from the Western Hockey League championship by virtue of their 3-1 victory last night over Vancouver Canucks, and may take the crown tonight here in the sixth game of their best-of-seven series. Stampers now hold a 3-2 edge in games, and if the Canucks tie the series, the seventh game will be held in Vancouver Monday night.

Winning goal and insurance marker were fired by winger Jim McFadden, Canucks, without injured goalie Gump Worsley was replaced by Lucien Dechene, New Westminster Royals net minder.

Centre Pat Lundy put Stampers in front in the first period. Defenceman Harry Dick got the equalizer when he scored the only goal of the second period at 10:57.

McFadden then took over the game, firing the winner at 7:25 of the last period. Canucks in a last-ditch effort, pulled Dechene with 98 seconds remaining. The move backfired when McFadden slapped the rubber into the empty net.

San Francisco Kegler Leads Congress

SEATTLE (P)—Eugene Elkins of San Francisco moved into the championship finals of the American Bowling Congress Masters Tournament Friday as he defeated Willard Taylor, Columbia, W. Va., 830-742, in the match of the winners bracket.

IN SPRING A YOUNG MAN'S FANCY...
It used to turn to love and poetry—but in this day and age, it seems to be love and a jalopy. L over boys don't seem to be writing poetry any more and, from what we recall of our youth, it's probably just as well.
So now that the sap is beginning to flow, most of the young swains around town seem to have their eyes on some dame, or some jalopy—or both. In either case we wish them luck. We hope they all get both. But about that jalopy—whether you want some old boat to pole around in or one of the sleek newer models, we've got 'em. These and many others to choose from.
