Province-Wide Pact Signed By Carpenters

By The Canadian Press

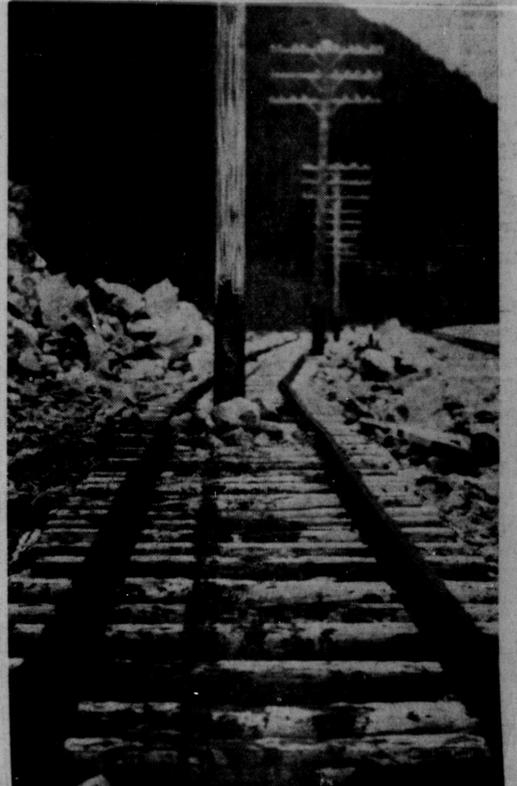

VICTORIA.—A province-wide agreement has been signed between carpenters and major British Columbia construction firms.

A joint statement said agreement had been reached between General Construction Co.; Dawson Wade Construction Co.; Northern Construction and J. W. Stewart Construction Co.; B.C. Bridge and Dredging Co.; Marwell Construction Co.; and various locals of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America (TLC).

More construction firms and local unions are expected to be signed when present contracts expire.

The agreement provides for province-wide rates and conditions for carpenters and millwrights.

Under the agreement carpenters' wages are set at $2.20 an hour and millwrights' at $2.30. Other conditions call for 15-day membership requirement; protection of carpenters' tools and provide for an anti-discrimination clause.

THIS IS NOT AN ILLUSION. A telephone pole actually stands today between the CNR tracks near Salvas, about 55 miles east of Prince Rupert. This picture was taken during a recent trip to Terrace. The track, however, is not the main line. It is a spur, used by the CNR to back up cars for rock. The main line is seen to the right of this line.

Jaycee Making Final Attempt To Get Mail Slots in Homes

LARRY STANWOOD

Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce members yesterday afternoon made a last attempt to persuade city residents to install mail receptacles in their homes so door-to-door mail delivery can be resumed soon.

They talked to the lady or man of the house, explained the necessity of having the slots or boxes in by Saturday; cajoled and pleaded—and also sold a considerable number of letter slots on the spot.

Jaycees believe there will be the required 90 per cent of homes equipped with mail receptacles when the postman makes his survey Saturday.

This is the final survey this year. If it fails, there will be no letter carrier service for another six months or more.

To see what reception the Jaycees got on their calls, this reporter accompanied district vice-president Harold Hampton on a tour of Eleventh Avenue, Bacon and Alfred streets, Ninth and Tenth Avenue East—the district assigned to Mr. Hampton.

Fifteen homes in all were found to be without the required receptacles. Of the 15, two were vacant houses, six were not at home and three had receptacles which they would install immediately, they promised.

Then there were two who wouldn't install them.

A businessman said: "No, I don't believe in door-to-door delivery. I'm not going to have it, as far as I'm concerned. I'm going to get my mail in the post office and be sure that I get it."

"You might be retarding progress by such an attitude," it was suggested.

"Makes no difference to me," was the reply. "I look out for myself."

Another head of the house, a man, said:

"Well, I see most of my neighbors have theirs in. I don't suppose it matters if I don't put mine in." He paused awhile, looking down at a six-year-old playing in the dirt.

"I'm away for several months in the summer. If I get my mail at the house, the girl that looks after the kids might open it. If it was a check, she might spend it. I'll keep getting my mail at my brother's office."

"There was a lady of the house who said she was broke.

"I know we should have done this a long time ago, but honestly, since we bought that wreck there (car), we've just been living from check to check."

"Paying on the house, and paying on the car... keeping us broke all the time.

"And then the car won't run," she added, as an after-thought.

But the young lady promised to tell her husband how important it was that they install a place to receive their mail.

'Successful' German POW Surrenders

NEW YORK (CP)—An escaped German prisoner of war, hunted by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for seven years and now a successful interior decorator, gave himself up Thursday night because of a picture and a girl.

Husky, blonde Harry Girth, 27, said he had lived in constant fear of being caught.

Since he escaped from Fort Dix, N.J., POW camp in 1946, Girth had built up an interior decorating business at Atlantic City, N.J., was buying a $5,900 home, and was engaged to an American girl.

The girl, Judy Florentine, and appearance of his picture in a current issue of Collier's Magazine as one of five fugitive German POWs in the United States led to his surrender.

Coronation Squadron Sets Sail

HALIFAX (CP)—Pennants flying, pipes shrilling, Canada's Coronation squadron slipped anchorage at ebb tide Thursday and made for the open sea and its date with the Commonwealth naval review off-Spitt-head, England, June 15.

The largest single Canadian flotilla, in peace or war, comprised the 17,000-ton aircraft carrier Magnificent, the 8,000-ton cruisers Quebec and Ontario, and the 2,600-ton destroyer Sioux.

Heading the line-astern procession out of the sunlit harbor was the Quebec, flagship of Rear Admiral Roger Bidwell, flag officer Atlantic Coast, and commander of the Coronation squadron.

Board Seeks Final Plans For School

Architects for the proposed new school at Port Edward were urged by the district school board at its regular meeting to speed up plans and specifications.

As soon as plans are made available, tenders will be called. Municipality and rural voters last year endorsed a money budget of $146,000 for construction of a new school in the nearby fishing centre.

The board authorized its secretary, Mrs. M. M. Roper, to complete a wage agreement with school engineer-janitors who have been granted a 3.7 per cent increase.

A total enrollment of 1698 pupils was reported by the district's schools, including 556 at Booth, 279 at Borden, 315 at Conrad and Seal Cove, 388 at King Edward, 14 at Digby, 32 at Port Essington, 73 at Port Edward, 24 at Sunnyside and 17 at Inverness.

Snake Expert Survives Full Venom Charge

SAIGNELEGUIER, Switzerland (CP)—Jack Pontet, 28-year-old Swiss snake expert who Thursday acted as his own guinea-pig to prove effectiveness of snake serums he claims to have invented, said today he was "completely satisfied" with the success of his hazardous demonstration.

Pontet, surrounded by several doctors and a score of other witnesses, Thursday forced the full venom charge of three vipers into his right forearm.

Chamber Urges Improved Trade Relations

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government was urged to establish a committee to promote this country's international trade relations policies and procedures.

The proposal was made by the foreign trade committee of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in a 2,500-word brief submitted to the senate committee on trade now studying ways to increase economic co-operation among member countries of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The brief said that until better economic relations within the free world are achieved the interests of Canadian business cannot be intelligently planned and executed.

Two Youths Killed

HOPE, B.C. (CP)—Two 19-year-old youths were killed and a companion seriously injured on Thursday when their light truck swerved off the Trans-Canada highway near here and plowed 200 feet into brush. Dead are Peter Simon Isaac and Wesley Dunsten, both of Lytton, B.C.

Ice Cream Cones Raised One Cent By City Stores

The price of ice-cream novelties has been boosted by one cent in city stores, due to increasing freight costs. Several city merchants announced today that wholesalers have advised them of the increase.

Ice-cream cones, pop-sicles, fudge-sicles and bars will be one cent higher, but there will be no increase in the price of bricks.

Rebel Units Move From Heart of Laos

INDO-CHINA (CP)—Six Communist-led Vietminh units reported withdrawing from the heart of Laos, returning more than one-third of the Indo-Chinese kingdom.

The move may mean the end of a 25-day Red invasion of the little French-associated state at the back door of Thailand and Burma.

A French spokesman declined to estimate the scope of the withdrawal but said the number of rebel troops involved was impressive.

Two reasons were advanced here for the pullback:

● The Reds apparently had overstretched their supply lines in their 200-mile dash south and west from Viet Nam, another of three Indo-Chinese states.

● They also had lost their race to overrun Laos before the seasonal monsoon rains. These are now beginning.

Grain Elevator Operating Past Normal Capacity

Prince Rupert's grain elevator has been operating "past" its normal capacity for the last three months, but with return to work of striking grain handlers in Vancouver, operation here is expected to return to normal.

Arnold Mills, elevator superintendent, said an average of four ships a month have loaded here recently, and an average of 36 carloads of grain a day have been unloaded.

Normal capacity is considered at three ships a month and 25 carloads a day.

Prime Minister Makes Plea Against U.S. Protectionism

WASHINGTON (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent today warned the United States that Communists may win a "bloodless battle" if the U.S. does not take a bold lead in expanding world trade.

In a fervent plea against the growth of American protectionism, the Canadian Prime Minister said free men will stand strong if they have a hope for the future, but it is too much to expect them to remain steadfast, if there is nothing for them ahead "but austerity and fear of depression."

"Unless national economies of the free world can be made and kept healthy and productive, Communism could win a blood-

British Family To Cross Canada On One Bicycle

QUEBEC (CP)—A British family of three, with faith in Canada's future, today prepared for long trip from Quebec to Vancouver, which they intend to make on a tandem bicycle.

George Whitford, former British commando, his wife, Margaret, and their two-year-old son, Jimmy, arrived here Thursday night aboard the Jiner Samaria.

The Whitfords, who come from Barnsley, Yorkshire, England, plan to ride their 14-year-old tandem bike, with Jimmy in a specially-built trailer, across Canada during the summer.

"We think we can make it in about three or four months," Whitford said.

2 Miners Buried By Rock Burst

COLEMAN, Alta. (CP)—A rock-burst trapped two miners Wednesday in the McGillivray coal mine here and little hope was held that they would be found alive.

The pair, John Powlik, 34, and William Kakin, 32, both of Coleman, were buried under 10 feet of rock.

Fellow miners, some of them called from their homes, worked all Wednesday night clearing away rubble.

Dogs Allowed to Roam Here Liable to be Shot by Police

RCMP division headquarters here today announced a final warning that all dog owners here keep their animals tied up or confined because of the threat of rabies in the northern part of this province.

Dogs seen running at large are liable to be shot, RCMP said.

The order was re-imposed in this area three weeks ago. Since then complaints have reached the police that many owners still are allowing their dogs to run at large.

"This is a final warning. All dogs in the city must be kept tied up or locked up until further notice or they may be shot," an RCMP spokesman said.

Shops spread showers are still reported from all sections of the province. However, a drier air from the south, along with a rising trend in barometric pressures will lead to clearing and less cloudiness over the province.

Support the Kinsmen Club

STARTING tomorrow, readers of The Daily News are going to be put through their paces for the next four Saturdays by a contest which will call upon all their powers of observation, deduction, imagination, concentration and a dozen other qualities of the good puzzle-fan.

We refer to the Kinsmen Coronation Contest and consider it only fair to warn that it is going to be tough. It is a game designed to separate the weak from the strong and the idle from the industrious. Primarily, however, it is going to establish who has the best knowledge of Prince Rupert's stores and business firms. It is a knowledge which will pay off well because, to borrow a word from Hollywood, the prizes are colossal.

Behind the game is a purpose equally colossal. It is to promote the campaign of the Prince Rupert Kinsmen Club to raise funds for bringing enjoyment to children, a service for which it is noted.

The club's program for children is all-seasonal. In autumn the Kinsmen give youngsters a Halloween that is safer and more fun. In winter they put on parties for children in the city and at Miller Bay Hospital. In spring they look after the parade and sports of Empire Day—an occasion which will not take place this year to avoid conflict with Coronation Day celebrations.

Summer finds them attending to their biggest project—the Kinsmen Kiddie Kamp at Lakelse Lake which, with the help of friends, they built and equipped themselves. There hundreds of children have spent many wonderful holiday weeks.

All this means that in the contest we have a happy combination of pleasure and benefit. Besides proving themselves loyal workers, those responsible for arranging it have shown they are also ingenious ones. Everyone who enters is sure to find it fun.

The admission fee is literally peanuts—but help the children and buy lots of them.

Scripture Passage for Today

"A pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sun."
—Ecc. 11:7.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

At the 11th hour Liberal MPs have begun to fight back against the PC tactics of the present session which reached their climax in the sensational resignation of Austin Dewar as member for Qu'Appelle.

J. H. Rooney of Toronto-St. Paul's, who in his own city is best known in Liberal circles as "Boss" Rooney, has launched the counter-offensive by placing a number of questions on the Commons order paper relating to business done by Rosehall Nurseries of Brantford with the Central Mortgage & Housing Corporation, or with "any other branches of the government."

Rosehall Nurseries is an enterprise in which John Charlton, MP for Wentworth-Brant, is a director with a substantial financial interest. The real target of the questions which "Boss" Rooney has placed on the parliamentary order paper is stated in Liberal circles to be Charlton.

The PCs rightly interpret the Rooney questions as retaliation by the Liberals against the successive opposition charges during the present session of improper financial transactions with the federal treasury on the part of Liberal MPs. First of all Col. Edmund George of Westmoreland had to defend his collection of his allowance as a reserve force officer in a New Brunswick regiment during the

Candidate Must Quit Job

VICTORIA (CP)—Provincial secretary Wesley Black ruled on the case of a civil servant nominated as a Social Credit candidate in the June 9 British Columbia election.

His ruling: the government employee, Herbert Bruch, must resign from his job before official nomination day—May 19—to be recognized as a candidate. Mr. Bruch, an employee of the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service, applied for leave of absence after he was nominated to contest Esquimalt riding.

As I See It

Elmore Philpott

Surpluses—For Whom?

THE government has unloaded ten million pounds of surplus butter since last I wrote about it.

Here are the latest official figures for government-held food surpluses bought with taxpayers' money to keep up prices in fairness to farmers. They were for April 25, 1953.

Butter 19,000,000 lbs.
Dried milk 4,379,000 lbs.
Canned pork 71,168,000 lbs.
Beef 20,700,000 lbs.

The above figures do not include the carryover of about 400,000 cases of B.C. salmon, which is privately owned, nor more than 300 million bushels of wheat which will remain unsold at the end of this crop year.

THE BRITISH Tories are obviously betting that the law of supply and demand will force down the price of wheat, in view of the tremendous world surplus. Also the British press is having polite fun at the expense of the U.S.A. by asking "Why should Britain subsidize the American Welfare State?" That is tit for tat for the cracks the Republicans took at the British Welfare State in the recent election.

The U.S.A. has a wheat "price support" policy far above the $1.80 level which Food Minister Lloyd George says is fair.

READERS may recall that back in 1946 I exposed through this column the most "successful" price hold up in all history. During the Hitler war normal world wool trade was upset. To support the economies of Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, the British government purchased the entire wool clip.

When the war ended there was an accumulated stockpile of over four billion pounds—equal to a 20-year pre-war supply of wool bought and sold between nations.

The British (socialist) government acted like a shrewd capitalist. It entered into an arrangement with the Dominions concerned. They set up an arrangement called Joint Organization. This organization successfully manipulated the wool market for four years. Buyers for "JO" attended all wool auctions and kept prices from falling lower than JO wanted them.

In less than four years the entire surplus was fed into world markets at prices which never fell—but actually increased.

It was the most striking demonstration in all history that the "law" of supply and demand can be defeated if you have a monopolistic organization in effective control of the entire supply.

IN 1946 I WROTE in this column: "So long as there is one shivering child in Europe dying of tuberculosis because there is no fuel in the house we cannot talk of a wool surplus... It is an insult to talk of holding up prices. Let them come down where they belong."

I think the time is coming when the Canadian farmer will be paid by the government a guaranteed-in-advance price for everything he produces—and that those prices will be kept in line with the price of things the farmer has to buy.

But we will have to find some new way to get the stuff to the people who want it and need it. It was a crime to keep Australian wool from shivering children in 1946. It is a crime to keep Canadian food surpluses from those, at home and abroad, who need them now, but can't pay for them.

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

... by J. K. Nesbitt

(This is the second in a series of articles on leaders of the major political parties in B.C.)

VICTORIA—New C.C.F. chief tain Arnold Webster won't take no for an answer.

Four times the people of Vancouver told him NO when he asked them to send him to the House of Commons.

That didn't discourage Arnold Webster. Somewhere along his life's path he has learned infinite patience and never-ending perseverance—excellent virtues for a politician.

No, no, no, no—said the people of Vancouver to Arnold Webster, and each time the "no" was a little louder. Ignoring the swelling no chorus, Webster was getting ready to try again for Ottawa in the autumn election this year, when along came what he doubtless thought a call to higher duty—the provincial leadership of the C.C.F. party he has stuck by through the years, has helped to build up.

School teacher Webster first went campaigning in 1935, in the Federal riding of Vancouver-Burrard. That campaign his theme was: "The worker has always had too much hardship. In this land, capable of great abundance, the workers alone can secure freedom by obtaining control of the means of sustaining life."

He fought Gerry McGeer that campaign. McGeer had perseverance too, but not much patience. The two had hot times on the platform, going after each other, and Vancouver had a fine time arguing who was right. Night after night they fought each other in outbursts of oratory.

When the ballots were counted the first time, Webster had won. But, a few days later McGeer found a few more votes. McGeer had won. No, no, said Webster—it's not over yet. Next day Webster had won again.

He packed his bags, ready for Ottawa. But there was another count, and McGeer had won. It was Vancouver's chief preoccupation for days—who had won, McGeer or Webster?

The official and final count: McGeer, 10,215; Webster 10,209. Webster had lost by six votes, enough to make most men bitterly frustrated. But not Webster. He unpacked his bags and started preparing for the next time.

In the 1940 election, Webster was in again, once more in Burrard, once more again Gerry McGeer. That election his line was: "If it is easy to procure money for war, why is it hard to find money for the underprivileged in peacetime. If profiteering in bullets in wartime is a criminal act, why is profiteering in bread in peacetime a lawful act?"

The 1940 election count: "McGeer 12,353; Webster, 10,443. That's it—said most people. Webster's finished; he won't try again. They didn't know then of Webster's patience and perseverance.

In the meantime, waiting for another election, Webster was busy in civic affairs, in his party councils, with his teaching, on the Parks Board of Vancouver, fighting racial discrimination and the Non-Partisan League of Vancouver.

Webster can't abide strong drink, and he's convinced politicians, of all people, shouldn't imbibe. In 1943, as C.C.F. president he addressed the B.C. Temperance League: "The effect of liquor on public men is particularly disheartening. I myself have seen a premier of B.C. intoxicated at an opening ceremony, and the impression he gave was very disheartening."

That set tongues wagging! Who was the Premier? Mr. Webster would never tell. He evidently liked the Premier, personally, though he couldn't approve the strong drink.

Racial bias enrages Webster. In 1943 there was a rumpus in Vancouver about people whose skins were not white, bathing in Crystal Pool. Webster dashed off a hot letter to the Parks Board: "It is extremely difficult to reconcile an act of racial discrimination on the part of a public body in Vancouver, with the principles of Canadian democracy, in defence of which we are engaged in the present war."

And now it is 1945, and another Federal general election. Again it's Webster for the C.C.F. in Burrard. But Gerry McGeer was in the Senate by then and so Webster's hopes rose. He would stand a better chance with his old enemy out of the way.

The result in 1945: Cecil Merritt, Conservative, 13,668; Webster, 10,749. Webster said he'd try again next time; nobody believed him.

He specialized between elections in attacks on the Non-Partisan League of Vancouver, said "it constitutes a united front of capitalistic parties, determined to fight to the last ditch to maintain their privileges." And then he snorted: "The simple truth is that they are not opposed to politics at City Hall at all. It is only the C.C.F. politics they don't like."

By now it's 1949, and another Federal general election. Webster was all set once more—in Burrard, of course. This time he knew he would make it; he could easily lick Conservative Merritt.

And now comes word from the Soviet Navy newspaper Red Fleet that it was Russian navigators, and not British, Dutch or Spanish, who discovered the islands in the Pacific. This will be news to responsible historians. What's going to be done now, as the necessity of providing successors to Captain James Cook and Captain Vancouver arises.

TWO BUCKS

Rambling over Europe while awaiting the Coronation, Bruce Hutchison, western Canadian writer, describes "the deep blue Mediterranean and dark silhouette of the Pyrenees, a picture for any artist. But the fisherfolk and their women cared nothing for that. They were interested in the fish. Soon on every seat the crews were crouched about a steaming cauldron of crayfish which they ate with hunks of bread and deep draughts of red wine out of five-gallon bottles. Each man might have earned a couple of dollars on such a good, happy day."

Enthusiastic Audiences Again Watch Youngsters at Festival

By RITA ROGERSON

Enthusiastic audiences once again greeted young performers in the Music and Drama Festival at morning and afternoon sessions yesterday in King Edward School auditorium and the Capitol Theatre.

First item on the forenoon program was a pianoforte solo (under 11) "Toys on Parade." There were 12 contestants in this selection.

Judy Fossum led the group with a mark of 83. Mrs. Wood remarked that the most important thing in music is the pulse. In this piece it was necessary to keep notes on the move, neat and crisp.

Mrs. Becker then introduced Mrs. Verlie Cooter, the choral speaking and drama adjudicator. Mrs. Cooter plays in the Totem Theatre in Vancouver.

Conrad Street School, Grade 2, presented "Mice," in choral speaking. Mrs. Cooter thought this was delightful to listen to, the pace was good, no ragged edges and annunciation was clear. Borden Street School Grade 2 presented "Drums." The adjudicator said the mood was nice, the rhythm should be a little more clearly marked, to give a marching feeling.

The King Edward School Grade 1 gave "Sh—" They were in a happy mood," she said, "and showed confidence in the director, although their pace was a little slow."

In the individual elocution selections, Charlene Parent for "The Kittens" received 88 marks. The adjudicator advised the children, to try to make the audience see the picture, to use a flowing tone, and to throw their voices so they will carry.

Minister Warns Against Extension of Boundaries

By The Canadian Press

OTTAWA.—Fisheries Minister Sinclair said that if Canada arbitrarily extended her territorial waters for fisheries purposes, the United States probably would take reprisal action.

Diefenbaker To Run in Prince Albert

PRINCE ALBERT (CP)—Word was received from Ottawa that John Diefenbaker will stand for the Progressive Conservative nomination in the federal riding of Prince Albert.

The long-awaited statement from the fiery opposition spokesman in the Commons ended a temporary lull in political activity here begun when Mr. Diefenbaker addressed a mass meeting organized by the "Diefenbaker Club" movement, two weeks ago.

This group, which included members of all political parties, attempted to secure Mr. Diefenbaker's nomination here, following drastic alterations in his former riding of Lake Centre.

The Prince Albert riding has been traditionally Liberal. Mr. Diefenbaker was once defeated here. The late Mackenzie King represented the riding for 20 years but finally was defeated by E. L. Bowerman, CCF candidate, who has announced he will again be among those to seek the nomination.

The riding now is represented by Frank Helme, Liberal, who last year announced his intended retirement.

Such reprisals, the minister told the Commons, could be serious since Canada sends the biggest proportion of her fisheries exports to U.S. markets.

The minister made the statement in reply to questions by Howard Green (PC—Vancouver Quadra) during consideration of legislation renewing the Canadian-United States halibut fisheries treaty.

The treaty, providing for the preservation of the halibut fishery of the North Pacific and the Bering Sea, was signed in March and replaces the original treaty of 1911.

The House has approved the legislation.

Mr. Green said the 100-mile limit was accepted as the territorial waters limitation unless otherwise specified by Parliament for purposes of the treaty.

He felt that Hecate Strait, fish-rich area between Queen Charlotte Islands and the British Columbia mainland, should be declared territorial waters. American crab fishermen now were exploiting that area and catching more crabs than Canadian fishermen. There was a danger the Japanese also might move in.

Mr. Sinclair said that by a 1909 order-in-council Canada declared Hecate Strait to be territorial waters with one important reservation. The reservation recognized the historic right of Americans to fish there. If boats of nations other than the U.S. fished there, he would expect Canadian action against them.

As for the crab fishery there, he minister said Canadians had never fully exploited it because of lack of markets. If Canada increased her catch there, she must find new markets in the United States.

The halibut treaty, which provides for seizure of boats of either signatory nations caught contravening convention regulations, applied to both territorial waters and the high seas of the Pacific coasts of Canada, the United States and Alaska.

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent will confer with four of the key men in Washington on his three-day air trip to the American cap.

Besides talking with President Eisenhower, Mr. St. Laurent will meet with Vice-President Nixon; State Secretary Dulles; and Joseph Martin, Jr. (Rep.-Mass.), speaker of the House of Representatives.

played by Eddie Turcotte. Mrs. Cooter said that a fantasy is not convincing unless slightly over-acted. Eddie was the only player who did this effectively. "When he was supposed to be thinking, I could almost see his little brain rolling around," was the adjudicator's comment.

GOOD CHARACTERIZATION

Steve Bartlett, as the Chancellor, showed good characterization, and gave importance to important words.

The two cooks, portrayed by John Westhead and Art Twaites, both showed a fine sense of comedy.

Supporting actors, Doreen Freeman and Marilyn Farmer, were given praise for their voices and stage presence. Others who had no speaking parts were "not just fixtures" and helped to make this a very pleasant closing for the evening. The play was directed by Helen Langley.

Plans Nearing Completion For Kinsmen Sports Day

Plans are nearing completion for an inter-school sports competition at Acropolis Hill on the Kinsmen Kiddies' sports day, May 18. Curley Barbour reported at the Kinsmen Club's monthly meeting.

Events will also be held for kiddies under school age and the annual sports day dance will be held in the evening.

Two of the biggest attractions in previous years—the parade and crowning of the May Queen—will not be held. The May Queen will be crowned this year on Coronation Day and the Kinsmen will throw all of their efforts behind the Coronation Day parade.

Last year's May Queen, Carol Ann Nelson, will preside over the events at Acropolis Hill, however, Curley reported.

All four of the city's public schools—Annunciation, Conrad Street, King Edward and Borden Street—will participate in the inter-school competitions. Trophies have been donated for the winning schools in both junior and intermediate events. In addition to the trophies there will be individual prizes for members of winning teams.

First portion of the events which will get under way at 1 p.m. will be open races for children up to seven years of age. There will also be a number of open events for the older children before the inter-school competition stars.

The inter-school competition will be run off in junior and intermediate sections. For each section, there will be dashes, slow bike races, relay races, softball throws, tugs-of-war and skipping races.

As usual, treats will be handed out by the Kinsmen to all kiddies in the park.

Another Salmon Entered In Derby

Another salmon was entered in the Rod & Gun Club salmon derby today when Jack Lindsay weighed in a 13-pound, 13-ounce fish.

Accompanying Mr. Lindsay were Joe Scott and Dr. Hector MacDonald. Fish was caught in the harbor. Indications are that a considerable number of salmon are feeding in and around the harbor vicinity, according to reports by commercial fishermen.

One headline troller this week took five fish in one day, largest weighing over 30 pounds.

The derby is open to all anglers. Full particulars are available at sporting goods stores or at the Yacht Club, where boats are available for hire.

Shriners Get Huge Cheque For $1,000

A cheque measuring one by two feet, made out for $1,000, and declared "absolutely legal" by a local bank, was presented to potentate S. C. Atkinson. It was the result of the concert proceeds and will be turned over to aid Winnipeg's Crippled Children's Hospital.

Canadian Dollar Sinks To Lowest Ebb in Year

By The Canadian Press

NEW YORK.—The Canadian dollar, which has outranked the U.S. dollar in value for more than a year, sank to its lowest level in 13 months Wednesday and dropped below par with the U.S. dollar in at least one foreign exchange trading centre.

The Dominion dollar was quoted here at 11/32 of a cent above par, lowest premium since March 24, 1952. In August last year it commanded a premium of 45/16 cents.

At Watertown, N.Y., the Canadian dollar fell to 99 cents—first time it had been discounted since March 7 last year.

New York banking circles attributed the recent gradual decline in value of the Canadian dollar to "hardening" of the U.S. dollar.

American investors are reported switching from Canadian to American securities and exchanging Canadian money they receive from the sale of Canadian stocks and bonds for U.S. currency.

'Equal Rights' Demanded By Bachelors

TEL AVIV (Reuters)—Bachelors in Israel are demanding "equal rights."

Posters have appeared on walls and billboards in Tel Aviv calling upon authorities to encourage the immigration of unmarried women to equalize the sexes.

At present, the posters declare, unmarried women are so scarce that the bachelors are being "exploited." "There are some 49,000 surplus bachelors who have no hope of marriage even in the remote future," says the League for the Protection of Bachelors' Rights which drew up the posters.

"Women," the posters read, "are aware of this surplus and exploit it. It is no secret that today's girls will look only at taxi-owners, physicians or engineers, while you—the worker—are destined to live and die single, without a wife, a home or children."

The league's posters claimed to quote official statistics to prove its case about the "surplus" of males.

Actually, the latest official figures released here disclose that the number of males in Israel exceeds the number of females by 26,000, the total number of males being 738,000.

A 25-year-old teacher who helped to draft the posters, explained the purposes of the league.

He said that most of the members, whose number he refused to disclose, are between the ages of 25 and 30.

The league also demands income tax relief for bachelors who are now "discriminated against."

Weather on Prairies Gives Way Allow Grain Seeding To Start

WHEG—Cool weather prevailed across the prairies of this spring has now way to higher temperatures generally. Shower showers to good Moisture conditions in most districts of southern Manitoba are not too satisfactory, according to the weekly crop report of the department of agriculture of the Canadian National Railways.

Seeding is furthest advanced in southern Manitoba. Wheat seeding is 75 per cent completed in some districts and a start has been made with coarse grains.

In the Regina division of Saskatchewan, seeding, which was delayed on account of rains, will commence this weekend if fine weather continues.

Seeding should be general in most sections of central Alberta in about another week and should begin this weekend in the Edmonton territory and be general within the next four or five days.

In the Okanagan, weather continued warm with several good showers. Prospects now are that apricots will approximate the same volume as last year, peaches and cherries heavier, and pear blossoms indicate that this will be the heaviest crop yet.

Apple blossoms will not be out for another week but indications are for a heavier apple crop than last year.

GASOLINE PRICES CUT THIS WEEK IN BRITAIN

LONDON (Reuters)—The price of gasoline went down in this week. The Minister Geoffrey Lloyd said the government decided to control the price in view of ample supplies. Gasoline sells from 60 to 65 cents a gallon.

One Knows Who Named Towering Mount Robson

MT ROBSON, B.C. — "monarch of the Rockies." The summit is almost always hidden in clouds and has offered a challenge to mountaineers for decades. Many have climbed it. The railway crawls around its southern flank after coming from Alberta through the Yellowhead Pass, and it gives its name to Robson Park, separated from the more famous Jasper Park by the B.C.-Alberta boundary.

MENTIONED IN 1865 Mount Robson is first mentioned in the book "Northwest Passage by Land," by Milton and Cheadle, published in 1865. The mountain is also marked on their map but nothing is said by whom or after whom it was named.

Alexander MacKenzie, who came through the Yellowhead Pass, refers only to the "height of land" which he marked on his map and Simon Fraser doesn't say anything about it at all. Similarly David Thompson, who must have passed close, does not write of the mountain.

Again, David Douglas, the botanist who gave his name to the Douglas fir, went through the same country in 1827 but does not mention the peak in his journals.

HUDSON'S BAY CLERK Many of these early explorers must have known of two books written by Joseph Robson, an old Hudson's Bay man, in 1753-64, but authorities do not believe the mountain was named after him.

A check of Hudson's Bay Company employees for 40 years before the first mention of the name gives no Robson, unless the name was corrupted from Robinson or Robertson.

In any event, there is no record of the origin of the name given to one of the most famous mountains in Canada.

The young man who joins the Army and has completed his Infantry training may then volunteer to start training for the proud wings of Canada's "Soldiers of the Sky."

AND YOURSELF

How does a man choose a job? He examines the pay; the working conditions; the opportunities for advancement; the financial security. From every one of these aspects an Army career is excellent. And more — no monotony of being stuck for years in one place; pension plans after 20 years service; medical and dental care whenever needed — without regard for cost or time. Opportunities for training and advancement in the Army today are truly outstanding. For the bright young man who is interested in his future — as well as Canada's — the Canadian Army Active Force has much to offer.

IN THE ARMY

Soldiering is a man's life! There are challenges and dangers. Overseas duty carries with it the excitement of new places and strange customs in distant lands. But wherever you go, in the Army, you know you can rely on your comrades, trained fighting men who share with you the action of military life. If you think an Army career is for you, enquire about the opportunities for service with the Infantry — the most important men in the Canadian Army.

You are eligible to join the Army if you are 17 to 40 years of age and able to meet Army test requirements. Applicants should bring birth certificates or other proof of age when reporting for interview.

Robinson Not Planning Ring Comeback

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, retired middleweight champion, said he would go back into the ring if the crown left the United States. "I'm not planning to go back to boxing, you understand," Robinson told a reporter, "but I would if my friends wanted me to and especially if the crown left the country." But he denied reports he is planning a ring comeback. "I'm doing enough fighting here on the stage," he said. Robinson gave up boxing to become an entertainer. He is appearing in a Columbus night club. Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, brought speculation on Robinson's comeback into focus with the statement he had a "hunch" Robinson would fight again.

Big League Attendance On Decline

NEW YORK (AP)—Major league magnates have been bemoaning the drop in attendance this season, and they've good reason. Whether due to television, poor weather or a combination of both, the big league ball fan just isn't showing up as often as he used to. An Associated Press survey disclosed today that attendance at major league parks is 24 per cent under last season's total in a comparable number of home dates for each club. Paid admissions for 1953, including Tuesday night's games, totalled 1,373,984. Last year it was 1,802,729. That's a drop of 428,745.

In British Columbia, says an Oshawa newspaper, a man has quit politics because after 20 years of it he is broke. And now they are wondering what party he belonged to. Might have been hard to discover not so long ago.

All Lineups Revised

Baseball Season Gets Underway Sunday

Local amateur baseball opens Sunday when the Prince Rupert and District Baseball Association's league gets underway on two fronts—here and at Terrace. In Rupert, newly-named Esquires play hosts to last year's champion Gordon & Anderson's in the opener, while Commercial go on the road for a twin bill at Terrace.

This is the first year in recent city baseball history that an out-of-town team has been entered in the league.

Another new feature in local baseball is the major revision of 1953 lineups of all teams. Many former ball stars have either migrated, or have retired, leaving the field open to many a newcomer.

Following are tentative lineups of city teams, with more efforts to be signed:

Gordon & Anderson—Rusty Ford, manager; Harley Lewis, coach; Christianson, Carolle, Don and Sid Scherk, Hartwig, Sunberg, Ford, Young, Marshall, Enrdige, Dunbar and Morrison. Commercial Hotel—Miner Simundsen, manager; John Lazaruk, coach; Morgan, Pavlikis, Gunn, B. Simundsen, Scott, Carlson, Williamson, Davis, Cameron, B. Sharpe, Tom Naka. Esquires—Alex Bill, manager; Benny Windle, coach; Spring, A.

You can't go ALL-OUT

If you feel ALL-IN

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD
Under Mr. Big's Stern Gaze, Abel Quails—And Muffs

Mr. Champion practically never makes an error, either in bidding or play. He wonders why he doesn't win more than he does. The principal reason is that he bullies his partners so that they never play their best games.

Mr. Abel is especially sensitive to this kind of treatment. He tried so hard on this hand that he completely overlooked the winning play. The opening lead was the deuce of spades and he won in his own hand with the jack. He led the trey of diamonds and finessed dummy's queen. Mr. Dale won with the king and returned a spade to dummy's ace.

Now Mr. Abel led a low diamond to his jack and paled when Mrs. Keen showed out, discarding a spade. It was now proven that Mr. Dale still had a diamond stopper.

The hand now added four spade winners, three in hearts, and only two in diamonds. That made only nine and it was therefore necessary to risk the club finesse in an effort to pick up the necessary three tricks in that suit.

When Mrs. Keen showed up with the queen of clubs the contract was down. "I could have finessed the eight of diamonds on the second diamond lead," said Mr. Abel, trying to beat Mr. Champion to the punch.

"And possibly have the lone 10 make in Mrs. Keen's hand?" replied Mr. Champion disgustedly. "You don't have to do that. Just play the ace of diamonds first, then lead a little one toward your jack."

"If Dale goes in with the king your troubles are over. If he doesn't, then play your jack. Now, if Mrs. Keen follows suit, the diamonds have broken 3-2 and you have to lose only to the king. You're bound to make four diamond tricks."

"As it actually was," Mr. Champion continued, "Mrs. Keen would show out on the second diamond BUT you haven't lost a trick yet. Now you can go to dummy and take the club finesse. Even if it loses, Mrs. Keen can't return a diamond and you're going to win three club tricks—enough for your contract."

As usual, Mr. Champion was right. But unfortunately this kind of being right doesn't show up on the score.

He took no chances, though, and campaigned as fervently as ever. The 1949 result: Dr. J. Lorne MacDougall, 10,630; Cecil Merritt, 10,630; Webster, 8,589. It was hopeless, everyone said—everyone but Webster. No, he wouldn't try for the Provincial house; he'd just wait for the next Federal election and then he'd make it, sure.

While he was waiting he got into the thick of last June's provincial election. He concentrated on the Liberals; like everyone else, he was sure those Social Credit people hadn't a chance. The Liberals took the full brunt of some of Webster's orations: "I do not know of any influence on B.C. public life more corrupting, more damaging than the Liberal organization in this city (Vancouver). Some day, when the people's eyes are opened, there will be a great revolt against the activities financed and carried on by the Liberal Party."

Thus did Webster get even with Gerry McGee and Lorne MacDougall. And, if he was dismayed at Social Credit success, he must have taken some personal satisfaction in the Liberal rout in Vancouver. Through all the years he has been a C.C.F. pillar. Not only does he make speeches, but he pitches in and does hard work too. He's a great one to collect money for the C.C.F. cause.

Last June, at a huge meeting in Pender auditorium he stood on the platform and pleaded for money. He left a lot of dollar bills, and five dollar bills, and he jingled silver; he glowed; he talked, he said he'd even sing. More, more, more—more money—he cried, more money for the C.C.F. And he wouldn't sit down until he'd drained the last draught out of that meeting.

When the hat was counted there was the astonishing sum of $359.93. Webster was almost exhausted, but that didn't matter—he'd try again any old time for his beloved C.C.F.

Now he's going campaigning for a seat in the B.C. Legislature. That House of Commons seat will just have to wait for him.

Lucky Catch
ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Harold Lear cast a line for sea trout at Seal Cove near here "just for luck" and landed a 19-pound salmon. It was believed the first salmon caught on Newfoundland's east coast this year.

Laos Invasion Causes Anxiety In Hong Kong

By FRED HAMPSON

HONG KONG (AP)—The invasion of the kingdom of Laos by the Indo-China Communists causes anxiety in this part of Asia because it suggests that Red capabilities may be expanding.

But the move also could mean Communist weakness.

The northern Indo-China war has been fought for six years around the French-held Red river delta. This area is both the breadbasket and chief population centre of the northland.

The side that holds the delta also holds control. In invading Laos the Communists are turning a reported 40,000 fighting men away from the main objective. In effect, the Reds are sending them off on an expedition to conquer more jungles and mountains. The Reds would get all that by default if they conquered the delta.

The explanation for this apparent military sideshow is not yet clear. There is some speculation that the Reds' objective is to squat on the Burma and Thailand frontiers and link up with Burmese and Thai Communists. Still other observers say the drive might be the first stride of invasion into Thailand and thence to Malaya and Indonesia, the start of the long-feared drive into South-east Asia.

Only Mao Tze-Tung, Chinese Communist leader, has the armed power to invade Southeast Asia and there is no evidence that the Laos strike is his work.

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A group of former American prisoners-of-war have expressed deep bitterness over the "Red label" they say has been hung on them on their return to Valley Forge Military Hospital for special treatment.

Ten of a group of 23 submitted to press interviews, two at a time, to "try to remove some of the false stigma that has come over us."

Four of the 23 refused to take part in the conference and a hospital spokesman said their action was based on their "bitterness over the whole situation."

The remainder were either bedridden, too weak to undergo questioning, or did not care to take part because they wanted to be with their recently-arrived families.

All those interviewed expressed surprise over the idea that any of the members of their group should be considered pro-Communist. One of the PoWs, Cpl. James Ball, 21, said "this Red label makes us feel like criminals. We are all completely innocent." And then he added in response to a question about

Buenos Aires Government Seizes Clubs

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The government has seized control of 13 airplane clubs suspected of using amateur fliers to smuggle explosives into Argentina from neighboring Uruguay.

This came on the heels of the arrest of 29 members of the opposition Radical, Socialist and Communist parties last Sunday on charges of rumor-peddling and distributing literature against President Juan Peron.

The 13 clubs are in Entre Rios province north of Buenos Aires, Peron said in a May Day speech to Congress that explosives used in recent bombings came from Uruguay. He charged also that pilots against him were being directed by a "foreign power." The pro-government press has blamed the bombing incidents on an anti-Peron campaign led from abroad, particularly the United States.

Monks Weave Queen's Robes

FARNBOROUGH, England (CP)—In a tiny, fifth-floor cell of a Hampshire monastery, monks at St. Michael's Abbey are weaving part of the Queen's Coronation robes.

Dom Edmund, in charge of silk production, continues a centuries-old craft weaving tapestries from his own threads. The tools have changed little through the years.

Vestments for use in Roman Catholic churches are also made at the abbey. The monks keep their own groves of mulberry trees to raise silkworms.

Military Commitments Unchanged

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Claxton said today Canada's commitments of military forces in Europe have not been changed but Parliament will be asked to vote more money for other defence expenditures there.

The recent meeting of the NATO council in Paris agreed, he told J. M. Macdonnell, PC-Toronto Greenwood, to a three-year program for construction of airfields, fuel lines and other things and Canada's share of this would be 7.13 per cent.

This works out at roughly $55,000,000 if the total figure of $770,000,000 quoted by Mr. Macdonnell is accurate.

Mr. Macdonnell said misunderstanding could arise when it is said that Canada's military commitments have not been increased and yet the government has agreed to this new expense. Mr. Claxton said Parliament will be asked to vote the necessary funds. If Parliament didn't, Canada couldn't help carry out this particular program.

Burma's annual rice export have dropped from 3,500,000 tons annually before the war to about 1,500,000.

Former Prisoners of War Bitter Over 'Red' Label

COMMUNIST "brainwashing" techniques:

"I never even heard the term 'brain-wash' before I got back home."

A member of the hospital medical staff, who asked that his name not be used, added: "I don't know where this idea started, but there's one thing for sure—we're not running a damned laundromat here."

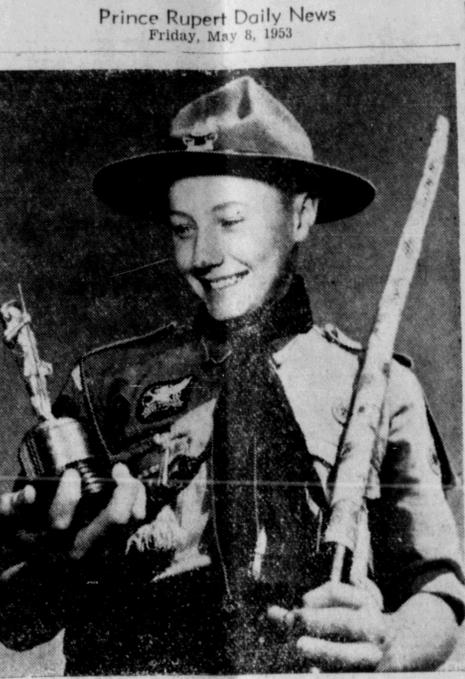

Another of the interviewed groups said they had been given a "dirty deal" in the form of a "Red label" on their return.

They are Pte. Roger Herndon, and Cpl. Vernon Warren, 22, Herndon, who lost his right arm because of a machine-gun wound suffered at the time of his capture in November, 1950, said he was perfectly willing to go back to Korea for "another crack at the Reds" despite his wound which would prevent any return to combat duty.

Herndon said he felt "a few" of the Allied prisoners might have succumbed to Communist propaganda, but hastened to add he knew of no specific American cases. Neither Herndon and Warren said neither was subjected to any ill-treatment or torture but were given "the full treatment" by Communist propaganda officers.

"We were given Red magazines and papers—New York Daily Workers and some papers from Shanghai—to convince us," Herndon said. "We also had to attend a lecture lasting an hour and a half and a two-hour discussion each day conducted by Chinese. Some of the non-American PoWs camp companies had Russian propaganda officers."

Asked if attendance at such sessions was forced upon the PoWs, Herndon said: "The Reds never said we had to attend but they made it pretty plain attendance was highly recommended. Some of the PoWs who didn't show the right attitude or interest wound up in solitary confinement—and during the winter months solitary usually meant a case of frozen feet."

SMITHERS—Smithers District Senior Chamber of Commerce was informed of planned improved telephone service for Smithers and Telkwa at their regular monthly meeting.

A letter from the Federal Minister of Transport was to effect that decision was expected soon on proposed sale of the system to the B. C. Telephone Company.

Removal of telephone lines and poles from Main Street is under way. Installation in the new federal building to meet growing demand is awaiting completion of the building.

Legislation for amendment of regulations governing impounding of vehicles without pink slips, involved in accidents is presently under advisement, Victoria informed the Senior Chamber. At its last meeting members pressed for some action for quicker release of involved vehicles on proof of financial responsibility.

Private construction of a new 28 by 35 foot post office building at Telkwa has been authorized it was announced at the meeting.

Telkwa will not support the drive for funds for an addition to Bulkley Valley District hospital until the doctor situation is cleared up, Telkwa delegates told the meeting.

Facilities for a doctor to practice have been provided in Telkwa. Assurance is sought from the hospital board that a doctor located there would be allowed use of the hospital at Smithers.

Pelican Goes to Grave Off Sydney

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP)—The Pelican has come to her grave.

The 1,130-ton barque, credited with sinking a German submarine while running the hazardous route to Murmansk in the First World War, fought for 18 minutes to stay afloat after a heavy dynamite blast splintered her teakwood hull.

Finally she rolled over and went to the bottom 40 miles at sea while the naval gate vessel Port Dauphin dipped her flag in a parting salute.

The Pelican, launched in England in 1877, was raised last week and towed from this Cape Breton port where she has been a navigation menace since swimmers opened her sea cocks and sank her nearly 30 years ago.

Built for the Royal Navy, she later bucked northern ice floes as a trader for the Hudson's Bay Company and later reverted to her battle role.

After the war she was stripped of her gear and towed here as a derelict.
