Injured Prince Rupert Logger Flown Here In Mercy Flight

Hurt Man Taken By Fishboat to Plane

A Prince Rupert logger, 23-year-old Robert Byrd was rushed to hospital here yesterday after a mercy flight from Cannery Bay.

An employee of Jetter & Johanson Logging Company, Ltd., he is reported to have been injured while working on a mountainside at the company's Crow Lake camp, about 25 miles northwest of Prince Rupert.

Queen Charlotte Airlines was notified and pilot Roy Berryman and Dr. Donald Oakley left here at 11:56 a.m. to pick up the injured man.

Although the flight was "a little bumpy" they got back by 1:30 p.m. and a waiting ambulance rushed Byrd to hospital. Details of the accident were not available.

Byrd suffered a severely injured right arm, chest injuries and shock. His condition is reported "fair."

Camp officials got the injured man down the mountain and a fisherman in a gillnetter transported him from the shoreline of Cannery Bay to meet the QCA plane.

Mrs. Byrd, who was staying at the camp, was brought to the city by boat later in the day. They formerly lived at 1228 Beach Place.

The flight was termed uneventful by pilot Berryman who has made many mercy flights throughout this northern area. He returned only a week ago from the east coast where he took a special course with the Royal Canadian Navy.

Price Index Declines

OTTAWA — The consumer price index, measuring living costs, declined by one-fifth of a point in February to 115.5, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Declining food prices were the deciding factors in trimming the index which had remained unchanged at 115.7 in the previous month.

Coffee prices rose sharply and there were other rises but lower prices for all cuts of beef and most fresh vegetables trimmed the food sub-index by a full point.

The clothing sub-index also declined but all other columns showed increases.

Mayor Asks Fishermen Be Included

Mayor George Hills has asked Premier Bennett to include fishermen in any proposed changes in the Workmen's Compensation Act.

In a telegram to the premier this morning, the mayor said: "Prince Rupert is vitally dependent on the fishing industry. I feel that fishermen in all phases of industry should receive protection under the Workmen's Compensation Act and would urge you to include this group in any proposed changes of the act."

Copies of the telegram were sent to A. Bruce Brown, Liberal MLA for Prince Rupert, and Arnold Webster, CCF opposition leader.

Fishermen and farmers have never been included under the act because of their type of work which does not guarantee a set income each year.

Mrs. W. Vance's Mother Dies

Word was received here today of the death yesterday in Vancouver of Mrs. David McIntosh, mother of Mrs. W. D. Vance of this city. She was 87 years old.

Born in Toronto, she had lived in Regina, and Edmonton before moving to Vancouver. Mrs. McIntosh visited in Rupert several times.

Besides Mrs. Vance, she leaves two other daughters, Mrs. C. Thompson in Vancouver, Mrs. E. R. Borgen of San Jose, Calif., and two sons, Gordon of Winnipeg and Herbert in Sacramento, Calif.

Mother Has Second Child Three Weeks After First

CHELSEA, Mass. — A mother with two complete organs of conception, who conceived separately in each womb, today gave birth to her second child—a boy—three weeks after the first. Doctors described the pregnancies as extremely rare in medical history.

FIRST BORN MARCH 15

The first child, Susan Joy, was born at the hospital March 15. She weighed 3 pounds 14 ounces at birth.

The naval hospital announced the latest birth in this statement:

"Mrs. Thelma Chapman, who delivered a normal but small female infant from the left of two uteri on March 15, 1954, went into labor spontaneously on April 5, 1954, and after approximately two hours of uneventful labor, delivered a normal, living male infant from the right uterus, weight four pounds, six and one-half ounces.

"The mother and both infants are doing well. It cannot be determined at this time whether both babies were conceived at the same time or not. The first baby is still at the hospital and has gained weight from 3 pounds, 14 ounces to 4 pounds, four ounces."

Since the babies came from different uteri they are not considered twins.

Four Killed and 40 Homeless By Fire in Ontario Cities

By The Canadian Press

Fire struck more than a half-dozen Ontario communities during the week-end, killing four children, leaving 40 persons homeless and doing damage estimated at more than $1,250,000.

The children, three under five years old and the fourth a 12-year-old baby-sitter died, at Galt Saturday night when flames spread from a stove.

Dead are three children of Pie and Mrs. Richard Dolson: Ricky, eight months, Mary, 3, and Bobby 4. The baby-sitter was Nancy Wylie, Mrs. Dolson's sister.

The children's parents were at a Canadian Legion dance when the flames spread through their second-storey apartment.

At Campbellford in the Peterborough district, 26 persons were left homeless early Sunday when flames burned through part of a downtown business district. Two stores were gutted and loss was estimated at $250,000.

At Parry Sound, three buildings containing at least six businesses and six apartments were gutted and four families were left homeless in a blaze early Sunday. Damage was estimated at $1,000,000.

In other fires, Mrs. Philip Slater saved her 63-year-old crippled husband from death at Hamilton after he fell against an electric heater. She tore his flaming clothing from him but he suffered severe burns.

At Barrie, Mrs. Marion Shipman and her 13-year-old son carried four small children to safety when fire destroyed their frame home. At Hamilton, a house was destroyed after three children, played with matches in the attic. No one was hurt.

GETTING OVER THAT LOG is no easy job, but these two leopard cubs are scratching away at it. Six weeks old, the spotted cuties are getting a daily ration of sunshine at the Frankfurt (Germany) Zoo.

Sioux Sails For Ocean Falls Following Busy Weekend Here

Departure of the HMCS Sioux at 8 a.m. today, ended a busy weekend for her 231 men and 14 officers, who engaged in a round of sports and social events during their visit here.

Men of the Sioux, which arrived here Friday at 2 p.m., on a training cruise, and are now headed for Ocean Falls and other southern points, were entertained by officers and men of HMCS Chatham and private citizens throughout their stay.

Activities got underway Friday night with a smoker in the men's canteen at Chatham. At the same time, a cocktail party for the ship's officers was staged in Chatham's wardroom. Earlier Friday, Cmdr. A. M. Rankin, commanding officer of the Sioux, called on Mayor George E. Hills at City Hall.

Saturday some of the men were taken fishing, in the harbor and up the Skeena, and many enjoyed fresh trout for breakfast Sunday morning. One man landed a 30-pound cod, while fishing from the stern of the ship at the CNR wharf.

Major features of the Sioux's visit were the boxing card Saturday night in which 1,200 Rupert fans watched local and Navy boxers meet, and a football

French Officials Beaten

PARIS (AP)—Premier Joseph Laniel nursed sore shins today and Defence Minister Rene Pleven a slapped face after a mob attacked them to protest ratification at the proposed European Defence Community.

The 100 or so rioters, identified as supporters of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, Monarchists and possibly some Communists, broke up a ceremony Sunday at the Arc de Triomphe honoring the defenders of Dien Bien Phu, the Communist-besieged fortress in Indo-China.

With only a few police and troops on hand, the demonstrators rushed the official party as it started to leave the ceremony. Laniel was kicked in the shins. A police flying wedge got him to a police car which the rioters then tried to overturn. Police held off the mob and the chauffeur finally rammed the car through the crowd.

Pleven was stranded under the arch alongside France's national shrine, the tomb of the unknown soldier.

Screaming "resign!" the crowd hurled stones which missed him. Two or three knocked off his hat and glasses. Someone slapped him twice. Another grabbed a handful of his hair.

Pale and seething, Pleven stood with the police in the centre of the crowd until reinforcements finally arrived—almost a half-hour later.

The rest of the crowd of about 1,000 watched the attacks with detachment and made no move to intervene. They dispersed after Pleven departed.

French Claim 1,000 Rebel Dead

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—The French high command announced today the defenders of Dien Bien Phu had killed "more than 1,000" Vietminh troops trying again to smash their way into the heart of the besieged fortress through its northwest corner.

Speaking in debate on the hydrogen bomb, Churchill accepted in principle a Labor proposal for a Big Three meeting to ease world tensions but said "we must see what happens" at the Geneva conference. The proposal was offered today by opposition leader Clement Attlee.

Churchill again refused to intervene against American H-bomb tests in the Pacific. He said the tests "increased chances of world peace rather than chances of world war."

He also declared that the Soviet Union was "very much closer on the heels of the United States" in development of the H-bomb than it ever was with the atomic bomb.

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP)—A fire blazed briefly aboard the battleship Vanguard, flagship of Britain's home fleet, in Portsmouth dockyard today. Little damage was done and no one was injured.

BRINGING UP THE REAR of this little procession, consisting of Mrs. Robert Fry, her grocery cart, groceries, and 11-month-old Joyce Lynn, is Joyce's duck, named—inevitably—Donald. The trio has just been doing the marketing in the balmy 58-degree weather of Dayton, Ohio.

Get Surplus of $10,107,000 with Straight But Smallest

The federal government today had a surplus of $10,107,000 in its fiscal year, the smallest in its history since 1947.

Minister Abbott gave a white paper on the Commons preliminary night's presentation of the 1954-55 budget forecasting and tax policy for the fiscal year.

The economic and financial situation showed the value of national income moving to a calendar year low of $4,389,979,979.

The budget surplus, confirmed when the accounts are cleaned up, compares with an $11,000,000 surplus in 1953 and a $1,000,000 deficit in 1952.

JAYCEES URGED TO PUSH VOTE ON LIQUOR ISSUES

VICTORIA — George Wheaton, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce said here Saturday night that British Columbia's high liquor consumption could be reduced by a more intelligent approach to the liquor problem.

He urged the Jaycees to encourage city residents to get out and vote on the forthcoming liquor plebiscite.

Mr. Wheaton said "some liquor reform laws are long overdue." Young people were going to continue drinking so they should be able to do so in "decent, respectable" surroundings, he said.

Miss Silva left Cannes a day or two after the picnic. There were rumors—promptly denied by the actress when she arrived in London—that the festival officials had asked her to take her 37-inch bust elsewhere.

The actress told reporters she wanted to go to Hollywood and had agreed to the photographers' request for publicity.

As I See It

by Elmore Philbott

Inside Story

A GOOD friend wants to know the answer to this question: "How do you like being an MP?"

Well, I can give quite a different answer to that now than I would have given a few months ago.

When I first came down here I felt a bit of a freak. Here I was starting in as a freshman MP when sitting on the front benches were men whom I myself had helped to bring into public life some 20 to 25 years ago.

One morning while we were still living in the big hotel my wife and I both woke up down in the mouth and homesick for the west-coast. We looked at each other and said "we sure are the world's prize pair of fools. We had a perfectly nice home, and a perfectly good job. What did we ever come down here for all this 'work and grief'?"

But that was in the confusing, tiring stage, when we did not know our way around very well.

NOW THAT I am really into the swing of the job I am getting a real kick out of it.

Here is a simple example of what I mean. Up till this year the pensions act has never made adopted children eligible for veterans pensions, on the same basis as natural children. I took the matter up with the Minister, made a strong appeal for a change in the law—as I have no doubt others have done long before my time. But I had the good luck to be there just at the right time, or something, because a few days later the Minister introduced an amendment to the law, making adopted children equal in their rights with other children. You can imagine what a thrill I got when I wrote the personal letter to a family I know telling them the good news. For I knew that what was really at stake was not the money—though that is important too. What was really at stake in the mind of the father and mother with one child born to them, and two more that they had adopted, was that those three children should all grow up feeling equally loved and precious—even to the government.

YOU ALSO get a thrill when you, personally, put through an actual change in the law.

I put one through that I certainly never planned to put through. In fact I did not know that the old law was on the books, till I heard about it in debate. It had to do with campaign contributions. The old law said that anybody who had a contract with the government and who made a campaign contribution to any party was liable on conviction to five years imprisonment. That fool law had been on at least since 1892—and probably before that. Everybody in this House, who read it, knew it was sheer hypocrisy and a dead letter. But the government did not want to monkey with it—and all the political parties are nervous about any mention of campaign funds.

I took the bull by the horns and had the bill changed to make the crime the giving of money to obtain or retain a government contract. The thing went through without a single dissenting vote from anybody. Here's hoping we have as good luck when something really big is up, such as a boost in the War Veterans Allowance.

SO, TO DATE—the job suits me fine. I hope I am not here if we ever have to declare that world war three—but on the contrary that I am still here when all the world knows we have agreed on steps that will make that world war three impossible.

WITH EVEREST CONQUERED it remained for Fabio Peteriva (left) to set his sights on the walls of Rome's 2,000-year-old Colosseum.

CAPITAL COMMENTS

By A. BRUCE BROWN, MLA, Prince Rupert

Three weeks have passed since my last report. During that time the budget has been debated, estimates of some departments have been discussed, and important legislation has been introduced.

The budget provides for the expenditure of $204,000,000 during the year April 1st, 1954, to March 31st, 1955. This is the most substantial budget in the history of the Province—nearly double the budget of only four years ago. It is not without cause that many are alarmed at the size of it when it appears to be fairly generally accepted (except by our Provincial Government) that our economy is in the process of levelling off.

The anticipated revenue for the same period is $193,000,000. In other words, the Government is budgeting to spend nearly $11,000,000 more than it expects to collect. However, the Government expects to end the year with a surplus of $5,000,000.

I am particularly concerned that this Government is not making any provision to relieve the municipalities of their financial burden, particularly in view of the ever-rising cost of education. The so-called Rolston Formula has been shelved and there is nothing to take its place. No relief can be expected before 1955 or possibly 1956.

Not only are the municipalities not to be further assisted financially but as a result of certain policies of this Government they will receive even less than formerly. For instance, the exemption from sales tax on meals up to $1.00 and the proposed exemption on children's clothing and footwear will be directly reflected in that portion of the sales tax distributed to municipalities.

In addition, one-half of the 10 percent tax on liquor allocated to municipalities at the Fall session will be lost as a result of the Government taking another of its now famous "second looks" and deciding to abolish the tax. A further hardship will result from municipalities being obliged to pay the increased 5 percent sales tax on their purchases of equipment, supplies, etc.

The trend in B. C. appears to be the same as in Alberta—the provincial government prospering at the expense of the municipalities. It is of interest to note that provincial revenues have increased nearly 500 percent over the last fifteen years, whereas municipal revenue has increased just over 100 percent.

A great deal of debate has taken place with regard to the Leaves Throttle.

Report From PARLIAMENT By E. J. Applin (MP for Skeena)

Considerable attention has been focused recently on the problem of providing adequate housing accommodation for Canadians. In order to provide facilities necessary to administer the National Housing Act, 1954, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation are opening a number of new loans offices in all provinces. The manager of the branch office in Prince Rupert is Mr. L. D. Roberts. The manager for the new loans office at Kitimat is Mr. L. H. Gately.

I was most glad to read that Commander Tommy Johnstone and O/S Eric Brown would represent "Chatham" at the Queen's Naval Review in England this year. My congratulations to both of them, and my hope that they will be able to visit me in Ottawa on their way east.

And while we're getting personal, perhaps I should add my congratulations to Doug Stevenson upon the handsome photograph which recently appeared in The Daily News.

I hope you all heard the speech on "The Nation's Business" made by Hon. Jean LeSage on March 16. He is the new minister of the newly constituted department which, under a bill introduced by Prime Minister St. Laurent some four months ago, is the successor to the Department of Resources and Development, now the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources. And he said the immense extent of our country will be better realized if it is pointed out that, if one were to travel southward from Ottawa for the same distance as lies between our capital and our northernmost point, one would reach Central Venezuela. Coming from a member from a Quebec constituency there was real weight to his remarks when he said that for each of us Canadians, whatever his or her origin, the homeland is not merely the street or the municipality, the village or the town, the county or the province where each one lives; it is every part of Canada's three million, eight hundred and fifty thousand square miles.

Inspection of all imports of tuna from the Pacific area for radioactivity contamination is to be carried out, according to directions sent to the Coast from Ottawa last week. This inspection has been deemed necessary in the interests of protection of the consumer and follows evidence already widely publicized to the effect that radioactivity contamination has been found in certain catches of the tuna species purportedly as a result of the recent experimental atomic explosions in the southern Pacific. In order that these instructions may be carried out expeditiously, the following information is being requested from importers as far in advance as possible:

- (1) Name of ship carrying the import—date and time of arrival—name of the pier at which unloading will take place. (2) Description of the import. (3) Whether inspection can be carried out in the hold of the vessel. (4) If not, time of unloading.

Louder and more insistent grow the demands upon Ottawa for higher tariff protection. The main point emerging from the emanations of the textile industry is that the industry regards Bill 29 merely as a first instalment of government bounty, "some indication" as past-president Lawson of the Primary Textile Institute puts it, "that men in Ottawa... are beginning to understand what is wrong with the textile industry." A second exhibit is a recent

National Wildlife Week

BRITISH Columbians should have a special interest in National Wildlife Week which started yesterday. Few people in the world live in a region with such variety of wild animals and birds, and any occasion which draws attention to this natural resources is all to the benefit of the province.

Not only does B.C. play host to magnificent stands of big game animals such as moose, caribou, elk and deer but also holds healthy populations of species such as grizzly bear which have dwindled elsewhere.

The province has within its borders the last appreciable heads of California bighorn mountain sheep, and right in our own local area is an animal that is found nowhere else in the world. It is the diminutive Kermode's bear that lives on surrounding islands.

As a tourist attraction, our wildlife is of tremendous importance. Approximately 4,000 hunters and 28,000 anglers come to B.C. each year to enjoy their sport. This is about three times the number in each category that visited the province 20 years ago. Hunting and fishing in B.C. mean an annual revenue of more than a million dollars in the sale of licences alone.

Yet many are inclined to take our wildlife heritage for granted, even though it is only through constant care and wise management that we can continue to enjoy our present wildlife abundance. There are some species which, unless their numbers are controlled, will quickly exceed the available range. When this occurs there is nothing but misery and a wastage of a valuable, harvestable resource which is renewable each year. Other species have to be rigidly protected so that their numbers will be maintained.

An interested public is one sure method of perpetuating our wildlife resources. National Wildlife Week serves a valuable purpose by attracting wide public attention to this great heritage.

Stop and Look

THERE is a venerable sub-section in London's new traffic bylaw which makes it an offence for a pedestrian to leave the curb without first looking both ways. The penalty is $50, but Chief Constable Knight says the section has never been enforced.

There is another law, however, which comes into play in cases of violation. The pedestrian pays a penalty of death or injury.

Despite man-made rules the individual has some obligation to protect himself in such an intricate undertaking as crossing a street filled with highspeed automobiles jockeyed here and there by speed fiends seemingly allergic to pedestrians.

Ray REFLECTS and REMINISCES

Mounties appear unable to praise the new film play called "Saskatchewan." The production was actually filmed in the Canadian Rockies, and presumably tells the story of the founding of the police, back in the "seventies." If there is a Hollywood background, it will have a colorful plot all right. One has a hunch, somehow, all is not well.

Below zero weather was common enough in Alberta early this month but that's nothing to become concerned over. More or less of this sort of thing is expected annually, and disappointments are few.

ONE AFTER ANOTHER The threat of nitrogen bomb was first heard of this week, so far as the general newspaper reading public is concerned. But everyone is remaining calm. Suppose the old NB is worse than the ones before?

It isn't just the high prices that hurt: It's the upcreep.

GO AFTER BUSINESS President Gordon says the Canadian National Railway is in for a deficit this year unless more traffic develops. In Ottawa he expressed the hope before the Commons railway committee that "sanity and reason will prevail" in the demands received. The CNR is a great system and entitled to fulfillment of what the chief hopes for. And that

Drinks Taxed Five Per Cent

VICTORIA (CP)—British Columbia drinkers didn't get off as easy as they think under amendments to the Sales Tax Act. The amendments which increased the tax from three to five per cent also abolished the 10 per cent drinks-by-the-glass tax, but left provision for drinks to be taxed at the regular five per cent, the same as any other taxable purchase. The act became law Thursday.

New Chemical Adds Life To Oil Tanks

A new chemical formulation that will add to the life expectancy of home heating oil tanks is to be provided as an added service to customers of Philpott, Evitt and Co. Ltd.

A. D. Vance, manager, said today the chemical, called Sonitor, works by retarding corrosion which causes tank leakages and failure. It was developed by Shell research scientists and is being applied by Shell to Philpott, Evitt.

Mr. Vance said research preceding the announcement of Sonitor showed that corrosion is not related to the heating oil itself but is caused by small quantities of water that normally accumulate in the tank. "Any home owner who has uncapped his oil tank has probably noticed the sweating inside the fill pipe," Mr. Vance said. "Moisture condenses inside every tank from the humid air which is breathed in through the vent pipe."

"With the installation of 600,000 new oil burners in Canada since the Second World War, the problem of protecting this equipment has become of major importance throughout the oil industry.

"The use of Sonitor will result in substantial savings in tank replacement costs and the elimination of considerable inconvenience to the home owner by protecting new tanks as well as old."

The new corrosion inhibitor will not undo damage already done in a tank, Mr. Vance explained, but it will prolong the life of any tank.

Queen Visits Cocos Islands

COCOS ISLANDS, Indian Ocean (Reuters) — The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh stepped from the royal yacht Gothic into another world today as they paid a 90-minute visit to this romantic coral group.

All 350 inhabitants of Home Island, one of the three main islands, gathered along the "main street" of the village as the royal couple drove 300 yards to the house of Mr. and Mrs. Clunies-Ross, the ruling family.

The brightly clad natives who greeted the royal couple were members of one of the few feudal communities left in the civilized world. No islander who leaves for the mainland is ever allowed to return. There is no currency on the island. The only export is copra. Payment is made on barter system.

Clunies-Ross, 25, is lord of the island. His house is a three-floor affair of glazed bricks brought from Scotland. It stands at the end of the main street.

The Clunies-Ross family has developed the island as a welfare state for the 1,000 inhabitants during the last 130 years. The present ruler, John Clunies-Ross, is known as "the king of the Cocos."

He is the descendant of a Scottish trader who first reached here in 1825 and was granted a "perpetual lease" over the islands by Queen Victoria.

He rules with his Manchester-born wife over an island paradise of model villages. It has its own free health system.

A GALAXY of gorgeous garments from the Mayfair salons of London's "Big 12" await the debutantes stepping into England's new social season. This pearl-colored nylon satin has been chosen by Michael Sherard for his classical ball dress, cut with one broad shoulder panel crossing the tucked bodice. Nylon satin has a particularly rich, gleaming texture, flattering under ballroom lights.

Popular Rupert Newlyweds Honeymooning in Interior

Honeymooning in interior B.C. are Mr. and Mrs. Allan Armand Pellegrin, whose wedding took place here last Wednesday evening at a ceremony in the First United Church.

The Rev. L. G. Sieber conducted the service uniting Lorraine Catharine Youngman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Youngman, 417 Dunsmuir Street, and the son of Mr. John Pellegrin of Trail, B.C.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a gown of traditional white, fashioned of Chantilly lace, poised over nylon net and satin.

The ballerina-length frock featured long-sleeved bodice etched with seed pearls and nylon net and a scalloped hemline on the lace overskirt, revealing bouffant layers of net.

A coronet of seed pearls secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion and she carried a colonial bouquet of baby red roses.

Attending the bride was her sister, Miss Nina Youngman, wearing a pretty gown of sky blue nylon net over taffeta with matching lace jacket. Complimenting the ensemble were her headress of white carnation petals and colonial bouquet of spring flowers.

Bestman was Mr. Archie Cambrin and ushers were Mr. Robert Roy and Mr. Leonard Youngman. Organist was Mrs. Yvonne Calderwood.

For the reception in the Legion auditorium, the bride's parents assisted in receiving, Mrs. Youngman wearing a dress of navy blue crepe with matching accessories and corsage of red roses.

The bride's table held a beautifully decorated wedding cake flanked by tall white tapers and sprays of spring flowers. Serving refreshments were Miss Madeline Youngman, Miss Diane Kennedy, Miss Mildred Furness, Miss Beth Astoria, Miss Nellie Bill and Miss Lorraine Dell.

Canadian Champ Wins by KO As Marshall Floored Twice Sudden End to Fight Leaves Fans Stunned

By ERIC SANDERSON

In one of the biggest surprises of the night, Canadian middleweight champion Trent Ketcheson of the Royal Canadian Navy knocked out Andy Marshall of this city in the second round of a scheduled four-round fight here Saturday.

The victory, at the end of the second round, wrote links to a lively card staged by the Elks Lodge to raise funds to send Marshall to the British Empire Games trials in Toronto. The Civic Centre gymnasium bulging at the seams held about 1,200 screaming fight fans who roared their appreciation of the card.

Official attendance and gate has not been disclosed, as the Elks Boxing committee and trainer Joe Ward did not wish the figures to be released at this time, it was learned this morning.

Marshall, who won the B.C. Golden Gloves 165-pound championship just a few weeks ago in Vancouver by knocking out Ketcheson, was in trouble from the start of the bout.

MARSHALL OVER EAGER

The Canadian champ was waiting for the onrushing Marshall who came out of his corner determined to repeat his Vancouver win. Ketcheson peppered Marshall with lefts and rights and when Marshall, over-eager, left himself open, tagged the Prince Rupert fighter hard on the head. Wary of Marshall's vaunted left hook, Ketcheson took no chances and right hand held high, waited for every opportunity, tagging Marshall hard after every two-fisted flurry.

Ketcheson dumped Marshall hard 40 seconds after the start of the second round, jolting the local boy's mouthpiece to the canvas. Marshall took an eight-count and got up to meet a Ketcheson determined to finish the fight in short order. Ducking down to avoid the barrage of blows from the navy boy, Marshall was a sitting duck for Ketcheson's uppercut that lifted him up and dumped him on his back with a resounding thud, that was all.

OUT ON FEET

Instinct and a superbly conditioned body brought Marshall to his feet but his eyes were glazed and he was out on his feet. Trainer Joe Ward called off the fight right then and there and referee Benny Windle raised Ketcheson's hand in victory.

Ketcheson appeared just as fresh at the end of the battle as he did when he stepped into the ring. Both fighters received a big hand from the fans, although disappointment ran throughout the jam-packed gymnasium when Marshall was unable to come out for the third round.

Ketcheson was awarded a handsome trophy by Mayor George Hills and also received the prize for the "best fight of the evening."

Marshall weighed 167 pounds, Ketcheson, 166.

In best crowd-pleasing fight of the night scheduled, Maurice Bishop, 39-year-old former Imperial Army middleweight titleholder, won a unanimous decision over Bill Watts of the Canadian Navy. Bishop weight 156, Watts, 160.

TOOK BIG LEAD

The Rupert boxer took a big lead from the start with a continuous barrage of left jabs that kept the navy boy swinging wildly, although Watts got in a few hits before Bishop took the advantage.

Watts, a heavy-chested boxer didn't have as long a reach as Bishop and missed several chances. Bishop, with his longer arms, was the aggressor and drew prolonged cheers from the crowd when he floored Watts for an eight-count 15 seconds before the bell ending the second round of their scheduled three-rounder.

OPENED UP WITH LEFT

Both battlers got in some good punches at the start of the third until Bishop again opened up a barrage of left jabs and occasional rights to drive Watts around the ring.

Bill (Mouse) Morrison was the only other fighter to be awarded a unanimous decision. He beat Doug Kerr, 196-pound navy man in four two-minute rounds of the semi-final bout.

Neither fighter showed much in the first round, and in the second, referee Benny Windle was forced to separate them time and again as they fought from close in.

Both appeared to be waiting for a break in the opening seconds of the third round, until Morrison broke loose with a series of lefts and rights to take the lead and leave the navy boxer groggy at the bell.

Watts broke fast at the bell but went down for two counts of eight before the judges awarded Morrison the unanimous decision. The navy boy looked tired at the bell.

Lightweight Chuck Place lost by a decision to the navy's Nelson Lewis although he got a knockdown in the first round after both fighters pounded each other with a series of lefts and rights for more than half a minute.

GROGGY AT BELL

Place went down for a nine-count shortly after the start of the second, but came back to finish. He appeared groggy at the bell.

Both came out strong in the third and were looking for an opening with Lewis the aggressor. Place took a pounding from the navy boxer and was tiring badly when the bell sounded to end the bout.

Two Terrace boys put on crowd-pleasing matches to win split decisions.

Young Ron Fownes won over Bobby Dumas of Annunciation Club, and Ron Earl won from Arthur Turcotte, also of Annunciation.

The visiting lads, both trained by Ab Hart, an ex-wrestler from Montreal, now living in Terrace, were both aggressors and piled up leads in the early rounds. Both bouts were three-round one-minute affairs.

Fownes and Dumas both weighed in at 118 while Turcotte and Earl tipped the scales at 128 pounds each.

In the opening event, Bobby Smith and Gerry Dominato, a couple of 70-pounders fought three one-minute rounds to the cheers of fans, who showered money into the ring.

Red Wings' Power Too Much As Habitants Mowed Down 3-1

By W. R. WHEATLEY

Canadian Press Staff Writer

DETROIT — A production line that produced and a punch line that was punches tells the story of Detroit Red Wings' 3-1 victory over Montreal Canadiens in Sunday night's opening of the best-of-seven Stanley Cup final.

The Red Wings had the power on the power plays. Their big line of Gordie Howe, Ted Lindsay and Alex Delvecchio, with rookie Earl Riebel tossed in as the extra forward, was the most potent on the ice. Two of Detroit's goals came on power plays.

It was the rookie, too, who did the most scoring damage to Montreal by scoring the winning goal early in the third period. From far over near the right boards Riebel let go a 40-foot rising shot that goalie Jacques Plante never saw.

As far as Canadiens were concerned the game was gone then and there.

Red-Kelly, Detroit's tireless defenceman, added the coup de grace with a goal while his own team was short-handed.

Ted Lindsay scored the only goal of the opening period and Boom Boom Geoffrion put Montreal even in the second when Canadiens made their best stand.

But on the whole, Canadiens were outskated and outchecked in the hard, sometimes rough game.

Coach Dick Irvin was openly disappointed with the failure of Montreal's punch line. That line, made up of Ken Mosdell, Bert Olmstead and Rocket Richard, was remarkable for its impotence. The line has yet to get even an assist in this year's Stanley Cup play.

Irvin still has veteran centre Elmer Lach and winger Calum Mackay. Neither appeared in the Boston series. He said it was too early yet to consider using either of them, and present indications are he will go into Tuesday's game with the same squad that took a waking Sunday night.

Catholics Laud Senator McCarthy In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Senator Joseph R. McCarthy (Rep.-Wis.) received an enthusiastic reception Sunday from a Roman Catholic audience that later nearly crushed him in efforts to express congratulations.

The senator's half-hour speech was addressed to some 6,000 persons, including Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York at a communion breakfast of the city police department's Holy Name Society. Some of the audience cried: "McCarthy for president!"

The senator was introduced by the Rt. Rev. Joseph A. McCaffrey, retiring police chaplain, as a man who "has fought untruth with truth, disloyalty with loyalty, treason with patriotism and godlessness with godliness."

JAMES SAVAGE, 31-year-old Montreal jewelry salesman, waits at home with his children Joy, 8, (left) Nancy, 7, and Donald, 9, for news of the condition of his wife Catharine, who gave birth to triplet girls—two of them Siamese babies joined at the head by flesh and bone. The three infants, a month premature, were placed in incubators. The triple birth was a "complete" shock to the father and attending obstetrician who said he believes the birth is without precedent in medical annals. Specialists, including a neuro-surgeon from the famed Montreal Neurological Institute, and leading Montreal pediatricians have seen the Siamese babies.

Canadians Spent, Saved More in 1953

OTTAWA (AP)—Canadians, other than farmers, earned more, saved more and spent more in 1953 than at any time in history.

The budget white paper, tabled today in the Commons, set personal incomes for the year at $17,128,000,000 compared with $17,128,000,000 for 1952. Personal savings totalled $1,500,000,000 compared with $1,381,000,000, and personal expenditures $15,147,000,000 compared with $14,424,000,000.

Farmers did not share in the general increase. Net income from farm production was down to $1,667,000,000 from $1,934,000,000 in 1952. More than half the reduction was traced to a decline in agricultural production.

Despite the drop in farm production, Canada's gross national production hit a record $24,300,000,000, up $1,100,000,000 over 1952.

The national production figure represents the value at market prices of all goods and services produced.

Labor income, representing the largest component of personal income, joined the record setters in 1953.

Wages and salaries, including military pay and allowances, were estimated at $11,962,000,000, an increase of $900,000,000.

The civilian labor force, including both employed and the unemployed, averaged 5,325,000 for 1953, an increase of 68,000 over 1952.

Finance Minister Abbott noted a decline of 48,000 in the number of agricultural workers and said this marks a continuation of the shift from rural to urban occupations.

Investments Set New High

OTTAWA (AP)—Canadians invested a record $1,662,000,000 in new homes in 1953.

The figure was contained in a budget white paper tabled today in the Commons. The previous record was $901,000,000 in 1950.

The housing record was set in a year when gross domestic investment reached $5,286,000,000, up from $4,506,000,000 in 1952 but lower than the 1951 total of $5,430,000,000.

The white paper said the "most significant" change in investment during the year was the volume of increase in business inventories. These increased by about five per cent during the first nine months of the year and then declined during the last three months.

Unfavorable Trade Balance $467,000,000

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada had an unfavorable net balance of $467,000,000 on international transactions in 1953.

The budget white paper tabled today in the Commons said there was a merchandise import surplus of $55,000,000 in 1953 compared with an export surplus of $491,000,000 in 1952.

"This change in the merchandise trade balance was the major factor in the movement from a current-account surplus of $137,000,000 in 1952 to an estimated deficit of some $467,000,000 in 1953," said the white paper.

Merchandise imports were valued at $4,207,000,000 an increase of $361,000,000.

Merchandise exports were valued at $4,152,000,000, down $135,000,000.

Czechoslovakia And Red China Fail on Loans

OTTAWA (AP)—Communist China and Czechoslovakia defaulted in 1953-54 on the repayment of Canadian loans.

A total of $49,400,000 is outstanding on a loan of $51,000,000 to the Chinese republic following the Second World War. Czechoslovakia owes $9,900,000 on a post-war loan of $16,400,000. Status of the loans was outlined in a budget white paper tabled today in the Commons.

Repayments were received on schedule from other countries to which Canada extended credit.

Britain has whittled to $1,142,100,000 the $1,250,000,000 loan received in 1946. She also has reduced to $142,500,000 a $700,000,000 loan in 1942.

Defence Spending Down Last Year, But Still Big Item

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada's defence spending was reduced in the last year but it remained the largest item of federal expenditure.

A government white paper tabled today in the Commons, showed budgetary spending on defence of $1,889,600,000 for the fiscal year ended March 31, down $81,600,000 from the year before but still 43 per cent of expenditure.

There was a cut of $127,500,000 in direct expenditures on Canada's armed services. The largest reduction was that of $108,900,000 on the army, to $407,200,000.

RCAF costs were the highest of the three services, though they were reduced, by $22,800,000 to $264,500,000.

The navy showed the only increase in the services, up $4,200,000 to $264,500,000.

Defence production spending fell off to $49,900,000 from $83,800,000.

Mutual aid to NATO countries jumped $74,100,000 to $309,200,000. Contributions toward NATO military costs remained almost unchanged at $12,000,000.

Plan Monument To Honor Laval

MONTREAL (AP)—A monument will be erected over the Mount Royal cemetery grave of Calixa Lavalie who wrote the music for the Canadian national anthem "O Canada" it was learned Sunday.

The project is sponsored by the St. Jean Baptiste Society, an organization devoted to the preservation of French culture and tradition in Canada.

JANE RUSSELL (right) has been signed as actress-producer by United Artists on the eve of its 35th anniversary, to be celebrated next month. Mary Pickford (left), one of the founders and still a co-owner of the company, was the first actress-producer on the roster.

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Good Bidding Puts Hand Into Slam

When his partner opened the bidding with a heart, Mr. Dale correctly considered his hand too strong for a mere double raise of hearts and not quite strong enough for a jump shift. He therefore decided to try to send that information across the table by describing his own hand and eventually showing his fine heart support.

His bid of two diamonds and three clubs were both forcing as each was a bid in a new suit by a responder. When Mr. Masters raised the clubs, Mr. Dale now showed his heart support.

With good fitting cards in diamonds and clubs and a lone spade, Mr. Masters put the hand in a slam after checking on aces.

NICE PLAY

It took a nice play to make 12 tricks. The opening lead was the deuce of spades, dummy played low and Mrs. Keen won with the queen. She returned a low club and dummy's queen won.

The king of clubs was cashed and Mr. Masters then took two rounds of trumps ending in his hand. He played the ace of clubs, discarding a diamond from the board, then ruffed his last club.

There was still a losing diamond to contend with. A squeeze seemed the only hope and apparently that could be accomplished only if the defender with the high spade also had as many as four diamonds.

From the opening lead of the deuce of spades it appeared that Mrs. Keen had started with five cards in that suit. And surely she had the ace, as Mr. Abel would hardly have underled that card against a slam bid.

But she couldn't have five diamonds because she had followed suit to four leads of clubs and two leads of hearts.

Dilemma. But a dilemma which Mr. Masters easily solved. He merely transferred the holding of the high spade from one opponent's hand to the other. He led the king of spades from the board and ruffed out Mrs. Keen's ace.

Now the high spade (the 10) was in Mr. Abel's hand and as he also held four diamonds he was squeezed on the run of the remaining trumps. On the last heart he either had to unguard the diamond or drop the high spade so that dummy's nine would be good.
