Churchill Replies Labor Critics

By WALTER DAVIS
Reuters Staff Writer

LONDON.—Prime Minister Churchill says it is Britain's "duty" to explain to the United Nations on Korean truce agreements but not to "go nagging" at them.

At the same time, Churchill has favored a return to the proposal, approved by the United Nations, for repatriation of Communist war prisoners willing to go home.

Party critics of the new repatriation proposal in the American negotiation Panmunjom had abandoned the Indian plan, Arthur, labor minister in the Labor cabinet, asked if he did not consider it able to propose a return to the Indian plan.

He said that suggestion is far as it has not already in his thoughts," Churchill said in a House of Commons.

AMERICA

Churchill demands that Britain voice a voice at Panmunjom. He reiterated that the United States has placed the conduct of the Korean war hands from the American side.

He reminded the House as "some serious times," he said that the United States is not to the United Nations has borne 19/20ths of the burden in blood and treasure.

On the matter is not one whether the right or the ability to decide. But it is duty, without separatism, from our great express our opinion and plainly to them in offers.

There have been "conversations of view" on negotiations between London and Washington.

DIFFERENCE

to show how the Communist eight-point repatriation plan, announced May 7, differed from the Indian plan approved by the UN last fall, Churchill said in "two important differences."

The Communist plan provides for a five-nation commission of whom would provide take custody of prisoners. India had suggested a commission could call on UN members to provide supervising prisoners.

The Communist plan left the fate of prisoners of repatriation up to a conference which might be held in even years. India proposed the UN should decide the prisoners' fate if the conference failed to reach an agreement within 30

State Coach in Sugar

JOHN WATTINGER of Winnipeg, an artistic cake maker, has sculptured in icing sugar a model of the state coach to be used in the Coronation procession. The coach is pulled by eight postilion-driven Windsor Greys and Wattinger also made a copy of the St. Edward's crown. Among his previous works were models in sugar of Winnipeg's city hall, Buckingham Palace and the crown jewels. For the coach and horses it took 60 pounds of sugar and 120 hours of work.

First Halibut of Season Landed Here From Hecate Straits Area

First major cargo of fresh halibut from the fishing grounds in Hecate Straits area arrived here at noon today aboard the speedy packer Hillside I operated by Elmer Clausen. Fish, collected from Squadarea camp of J. Clausen & Son, were unloaded at Alton Fisheries. First halibut to come direct from the grounds aboard schooners are expected tonight with the exchange opening in the morning.

'BIG THREE' TO MEET IN BERMUDA IN JUNE

WASHINGTON.—Prime Minister Churchill, president Eisenhower and Premier Mayer of France will meet in Bermuda in June to discuss world problems, it was announced today.

In Paris, Mayer said the big three conference would discuss feasibility of a later conference at which Russia would be represented.

The meeting will be held at the invitation of President Eisenhower. Churchill suggested Bermuda as the meeting place. In London, Reuters reported the date would be June 17.

Douk Problem Up to B.C. Says Fisheries Minister

VANCOUVER.—Fisheries Minister Sinclair said here Wednesday night the Doukhobor curfew requested by Premier Bennett would mean placing Canada on war footing to combat 300 lawless members of a sect.

"The only thing that Mr. Bennett could come up with to cope with 300 Sons of Freedom Doukhobors who are terrorizing the decent majority of Doukhobors and communities in the Kootenays," he told a Liberal election meeting, "was to request to Ottawa to invoke the drastic War Measures Act."

The fisheries minister added: "Mr. Bennett and Mr. Bonner (Attorney-General Bonner) asked for that measure simply because they are unable to cope with the Doukhobor problem and want to dump the responsibility into Ottawa's lap. Enforcement of law is a provincial responsibility and Mr. Bennett must face up to it."

School Labor Dispute Settled

RICHMOND, B.C. (CP)—A labor dispute which threatened to close schools used by 4,000 children was settled Wednesday night nine hours before a strike deadline.

The dispute was between 35 maintenance and other non-teaching employees represented by the AFL Building Service Employees Union and the school board of this municipality.

Police Seek Child

VICTORIA.—Forty men, assisted by RCMP search dog, Wednesday night searched heavy brush, around nearby Methosin for a 3½-year-old boy missing from his home since early morning.

David Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Anderson, disappeared from his home Wednesday about 10 a.m.

Louisiana Threatened By Floods

LAKE CHARLES, La. (CP)—The wildly-spreading Calcasieu River swirled toward this southwest Louisiana port city today with the biggest flood threat in 40 years and drove 1,250 families from their homes.

High water elsewhere in Louisiana caused two drownings. Crews of about 25 vessels of the Canadian Pacific, Canadian National and Union Steamships are involved in the dispute.

Pending strike action, the mid-night sailings of CPR ships out of Vancouver and Victoria will not operate Saturday.

Service from Vancouver to Ocean Falls, Kitimat and Prince Rupert will terminate after Thursday's departure and the last sailing of CPR boats from Prince Rupert are Sunday; from Kitimat and Kemano on Monday, and Ocean Falls on Tuesday.

Tonight is the last sailing of the CN steamship from Prince Rupert if the strike is called. The Prince Rupert sails for Vancouver at 11:15 p.m.

Last sailings of Union Steamships passenger boats from Prince Rupert are by the Coquitlam tomorrow and the Camosun on Sunday.

A tie-up of shipping also would mean that about 500 tons of freight a week into Prince Rupert would have to be re-routed, either by rail or by air. This is about half the freight tonnage unloaded each week on city docks.

Rev. John Casey said the council offered an increase of 5½ cents an hour for laborers over the present rate of $1.24¼; same percentage increase—4.62—for all hourly paid employees and three per cent increase for all monthly paid employees. Firemen and policemen are not involved in the dispute.

Ridgway Advises Congress To Continue Aid in Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Matthew Ridgway advised Congress to keep billions flowing to Europe in the face of undiminished Soviet might which he said could inflict "serious reversals" on the Western allies if war should come.

The Allied commander in Europe testified that while there are not indications now of "imminent hostilities" neither is there any evidence of the sincerity of Russian peace talk.

Ridgway told the House of Representatives foreign affairs committee at hearings on the foreign aid program that it would be unwise to cut military goals of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries. He said it would weaken U.S. defenses.

"Even with the completion of the goals," he said, "we will still fall short of the minimum defensive strength required to prevent serious reversals in the early stages of a determined attack."

Ridgway did not spell out what he meant by serious reversals—whether loss of Germany and Allied airbases there, a retreat

Seamen Strike Called Off As Both Parties 'Agree'

Settlement Subject To SIU Membership

By The Canadian Press

MONTREAL.—A mutually-satisfactory agreement avoiding a west coast strike by seamen was reached today shortly before 3 o'clock.

A joint statement to this effect was issued by Canadian National Railways, Canadian Pacific Railway, Union Steamship Company and the Seafarers International Union (AFL).

It said a common ground was reached on terms of settlement of the wage dispute and that the strike deadline, set for Saturday midnight, had been withdrawn and the agreement is subject to ratification by members of the union.

Steamship officials and representatives of the Seafarers International Union (AFL) met today in Montreal in an effort to head off a strike of west coast seamen called for midnight Saturday.

French Cabinet Defeated

PARIS (CP)—The French National Assembly today toppled France's 18th post-liberation cabinet by refusing to give Premier Rene Mayer a vote of confidence.

The unfavorable vote by the assembly was on Mayer's request for power to cut government expenses by cabinet decree without assembly approval. He had hoped to cut the mountainous budget deficit.

Mayer took office January 7. Collapse of the French premier's government cast some uncertainty over the prospect for the "Big Three" meeting, but there was optimism that it would go through nevertheless.

Dispatches from Paris said Mayer's successor presumably would attend the meeting.

Council Makes Final Offer

VICTORIA.—Municipal council in neighboring Saanich made its final wage offer Wednesday night in an effort to head off a threatened strike of almost 150 municipal employees.

Rev. John Casey said the council offered an increase of 5½ cents an hour for laborers over the present rate of $1.24¼; same percentage increase—4.62—for all hourly paid employees and three per cent increase for all monthly paid employees. Firemen and policemen are not involved in the dispute.

Siamese Twins Die Suddenly Due to Toxic Condition

INVERNESS, N.S. (CP)—Siamese twins born here Tuesday died unexpectedly Wednesday due to a toxic condition inherited from their 19-year-old mother. They had lived about 33 hours.

In top condition during the day, the twin boys, first children of Mr. and Mrs. Max Wyrwas, started to slip suddenly shortly after 6 o'clock and died at 6:45 p.m.

Doctors were stunned because the twins, after one had a brief setback early in the morning, were apparently gaining in strength.

Dr. Frank Macleod, chief surgeon of Inverness County Hospital, said death was due to a poisoning condition from which the mother suffered before their birth.

New Sacred Party Formed in N. Zealand

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP)—A new Social Credit party has announced plans to contest all 80 House of Representatives seats in the next New Zealand general election.

Headed by R. G. Young, the party hopes to drive a wedge in the two-party system which has operated in New Zealand since 1935.

The party is based on Social Credit theory, which originated in Britain and spread to Canada when the Alberta government called in its main exponent, the late Major C. H. Douglas.

Young said "unrest over the rising cost of living is so great that we hope to sweep the House. Unlike the Canadian party Young's group proposes to re-vamp the economic system immediately.

Contest Chairman Elected President of Kinsmen Club

Hard-working Bill Bond, the man in charge of the Kinsmen's Club Coronation Contest running each Saturday in the Daily News, last night was elected president of his club. He succeeds Harry Sheardown.

Mr. Bond's election was by acclamation and in his acceptance speech he said he wished to remind members to pass along the word that entries in the first three parts of the club's contest do not have to be in until May 29.

"Your friends can enter as many times as they wish," said Mr. Bond, "and the more times they enter, the more funds we receive to help the kiddies of Prince Rupert have fun."

Is Mining Tax Justified?

AMID the loud cries from some quarters calling for a much more onerous tax on the mining and logging industries, it is well to give some thought to the appeal being made by the Mining Association of B.C. on behalf of 18 idle mines in the province.

In studying the situation, we might ask whether these resource tax proposals are justified or whether they are merely taxation for taxation's sake. Will increased taxes bring in more or less revenue from mining and logging?

As the "Western Miner & Oil Review" observes, the mining industry is already one of the biggest taxpayers in B.C. In five years, from 1948 to 1952, mining paid more than $114,000,000 in federal, provincial, municipal and other taxes. While it is true that most of the tax money went to Ottawa, a good portion of it came back to B.C. through the Dominion-provincial tax rental agreement.

Further examination brings to light a little known but startling condition. Although the mining industry is kept alive by capital investment, the people of B.C. and all of Canada get directly at least 60 per cent of mining profits through taxes, and a lot more indirectly. The fact is that the mining industry in Canada today is owned not by the shareholders, who have only a minority interest, but by every citizen.

B.C. is richly endowed with mineral resources. At least 40 important cities, towns and communities in the province are entirely or in part dependent on mining. At present the industry is hard pressed to maintain itself. Many properties have had to suspend operations. Under these conditions, it is difficult to attract new capital for the exploration and development of potential new mines. Mining, a depletion industry, must attract this capital or the undeveloped ore deposits will remain in the ground to benefit nobody.

Although some politicians in B.C. apparently are not too familiar with the economic law of diminishing return to taxation, they should be familiar with the old saying about "killing the goose that lays the golden egg," which is the same thing.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

The heavy winter and spring epidemic of 'flu in the Capital has largely run its course. But now a new fever has taken its place. It is by way of contrast, as exciting as the 'flu visitation was dreary. It's Coronation fever.

For the past week no one has been able to walk up the front walk of Parliament Hill and enter the main Parliamentary building. The way has been blocked by a scaffolding extending the full width of the approach. Within the next fortnight this scaffolding will become the platform on which the local and national dignitaries will stand for the Capital's commemoration of the great event.

So if you want to visit the Parliament Buildings these days you detour around by the east or west blocks. That takes you considerably out of your way. And even then you're not too sure of reaching your destination. You may walk smack into the centre of a rehearsal of some phase of the coming ceremonial. And once again you may discover that the longest way round—perchance all the way around the library wing to one of the rear entrances of the main building proper—is the only way to your objective.

Every day now the Governor-General's carriage is drawn through Ottawa streets by three spans of the most intelligent horses which the stables of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police can provide. They make the trip shortly after high noon, just about the time when street and road congestion is at its peak. The idea is to accustom the animals to (a) the indignity of pulling a wheeled vehicle instead of carrying a dashing Red Coat on the exciting mission of getting his man; and (b) to the sudden noises and surprises which street traffic can present in a motor car age.

In the show vehicle an individual rides who is of sufficient dignity to be His Excellency himself. To heighten the illusion he waves graciously to the crowds which pause to stare at the picturesque turn-out. But he isn't His Excellency. He is just a secretary from the Government House staff. His purpose is to enact each day's rehearsal in as much faithful detail as possible, so that the Coronation Day drive itself may be timed with split-second precision, with allowance for crowd greetings and other features of the procession estimated accurately in advance.

Ottawans line the streets of the Capital to witness these and other preliminaries. And as they watch them something of the suspense of the pending high moment of Empire is created. Instead of becoming familiar with repetition, the component fragments of the pageant are creating an atmosphere of expectancy. Something of the importance of the occasion is being sensed from the magnitude of the preparations. The way things are going, when the day itself arrives it will be one of impressive solemnity and intense mass patriotism.

IWA Expels One-Time Commie

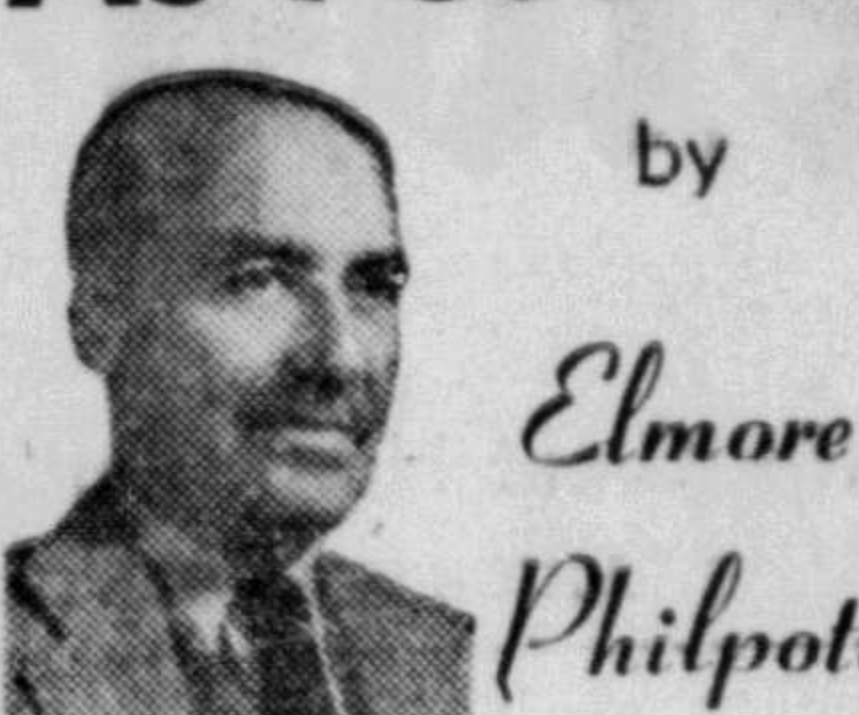

EVERETT, Wash. — (AP) — Western Washington CIO woodworkers have voted to expel a vice-president who has admitted he once was a member of the Communist Party.

Delegates to the District 23, International Woodworkers of America, convention, voting to follow their union constitution to the letter, ordered the ouster of Karly Larson, District 23 vice-president.

Larson one-time international IWA vice-president, is one of seven defendants in the government's Communist-conspiracy trial in Federal Court at Seattle. His courtroom admission he once joined the Communist Party but quit in 1946 "for the same reason I joined" led to Sunday's action by union members here.

Larson, who attended the stormy session, said he will appeal the expulsion to the union's international executive board in Portland. He also may appeal to the union's next international convention, slated to be held in Vancouver next fall.

As I See It

by

Elmore Philpott

Premier Blames Press

PREMIER BENNETT'S speech at Salmon Arm is one of the most astounding ever made by a public man in Canada.

In answers to written questions by the school teachers of Salmon Arm, he flatly repudiated the "sex and socialism" charges made in the Legislature by Mr. J. A. Reid. Then he attacked the newspapers of B.C. in general, and me in particular, for publicizing those charges.

ACCORDING to the Sacred leader's strange theory it was all right for Mr. Reid to abuse his privilege as a member of the Legislature by crude charges Mr. Bennett now candidly and commendably admits had no basis in fact. But the papers should not have given prominence to those charges—which incidentally have besmirched the good name of B.C. from coast to coast in North America.

"The whole issue had been blown up by the newspapers and sensational writings to cloud the issue," said Mr. Bennett.

LEAVING aside for the moment the strange gap in the Premier's logic—appealing for reelection of the man just repudiated—let us examine the implied threat to the press.

This is not the first time that the Social Credit party has tried to intimidate or gag the press. In 1937 the late Premier Aberhart was forced to yield to clamor within his own party to "do something." He imported two "experts" from England to tell Alberta what to do. One of the first laws passed by the Social Credit Legislature at the request of these experts was the famous "BILL NINE" of 1937.

This astounding newspaper gag law was as bad as anything ever set up in Hitler's Germany or Stalin's Russia.

Section 3 (1) gave the chairman of the Social Credit Board power to order "correction or amplification of any statement relating to any policy or activity of the government of the province."

Section 4 compelled newspaper proprietors, editors, publishers to reveal to the Social Credit chairman, on order, "every source from which any information emanated . . . and the names, addresses and occupations of all persons by whom such information was furnished to the newspaper, and the name and address of the writer of any editorial, article, or news item."

Section 5 made it impossible for anybody to take legal action for libel or slander in connection with any statement published under Section 3, above, on order of the Social Credit government.

Section 6 gave power to the government to close down any newspaper which broke the above Sacred rules. It also gave the government power to prohibit the publication of anything it did not want printed.

THANK GOD we had in Canada a Governor-General who knew the meaning of British freedom and democracy. We had a Liberal government at Ottawa and Conservatives and CCF in opposition who were as much opposed to the Social Credit press gag law as were the Liberals.

Thank God the Sacred press gag law was vetoed by the Governor-General-in-Council on October 5, 1937.

MR. BENNETT is quite right when he says "Elmore Philpott and others do not hesitate to attack us."

I think we have seen enough of Social Credit in one year in B.C. to see where it is heading—and why an ungagged press cramps its style.

Parliament Hill

By GEORGE M. MURRAY, M.P., Cariboo

OTTAWA.—One of the results of our huge defence expenditure is the creation of certain radar stations across the land.

This phase of defence work has been kept very much on the secret list. In the Cariboo constituency we have such stations as that at Baldy Hughes Mountain and at Chilanko in the Chilcoot country.

Without revealing any military secrets, I can say that this radar chain forms the eyes and ears of the defence forces of this continent.

These stations keep watch day and night across the broad frontiers of Canada. It has been said that if somebody at Whitehorse, Y.T., bounced a tennis ball into the air, the ball could be detected by radar.

That, of course, is an exaggeration, but if an aircraft over James Bay—that is, a foreign and unidentified aircraft—came over the horizon, one of our radar stations would instantly get track of the plane and would keep that plane in sight so long as it remained within our territory.

From the station the news would be flashed to the RCAF and in a matter of minutes a fighter craft would arise from various Canadian airfields and would attack the invader.

TWO of the most important installations of this kind are those near Prince George and Williams Lake. They cost millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money, but will perform a service which cannot be measured in dollars.

Moreover, these stations, which are essential in the defence of Canada and the United States, can be of vast service to the country should the war clouds disappear and peace be established on earth. Through the magic eyes of radar it will be possible to check upon all aircraft of a civilian character. Lost planes can quickly be identified, search and rescue crews can be directed by radar. Lives may be saved by warning planes of certain weather conditions and by constantly keeping the movement of Canadian aircraft checked.

IMPORTANT ROLE
In regard to reports on weather, radar will in the future play a very important part. It has already been proved capable of detecting and photographing those funnel-shaped hellicasts of the skies known as tornadoes. In the United States, radar was able to follow the formation of the storm clouds and to warn people hours ahead of an approaching cyclone.

Here is Canada radar can be of assistance in saving our forests. It will not be far distant when it will be perfected to a point where the outbreak of a forest fire can be detected by radar installation. This is not a fact at the moment and research is being carried on with the hope of placing this great invention at the service of fire prevention in the forest areas of the continent.

Radar is already a valuable aid in the fishing industry. It is simplifying the work of search ray . . . Reflects and Reminisces

Once upon a time about half a century ago, we spent hours in Westminster Abbey. There was no fuss or formality. He was just a youthful stranger from Canada. Everything was courteous and interesting. It was the same ancient abey but without the Coronation. We didn't mind the utter lack of attention.

Local school children are alive to the spirit of the times. They can be depended on to make the most of June 24. But some times a three-year-old is liable to call festival a vegetable.

There does not appear to be any anxiety concerning Egypt and Great Britain. For one thing, Britain has an army of eighty thousand on the ground.

Pulp, Paper Association Offers Award To Writer of Best Story on Industry

Beginning this year, the pulp and paper industry in British Columbia will provide an annual award of $500 cash for newsmen or newswomen employed by daily newspapers in B.C.

The award will be made to the writer of the best story covering any phase, or development of the pulp and paper industry, or any project sponsored by the industry, it was announced today by Leander Manley, secretary manager of the Western Division, Canadian Pulp and Paper Association.

Because of the growing importance of the pulp and paper industry to the economy of B.C., the operators believe it is timely to encourage and develop an increased interest in its many divisions.

Judges will include members of the staff of U.B.C., leading editorial writers, an executive member of the Newsman's Club of B.C. and a representative of the pulp and paper industry. They will base their decision on the writer's understanding and appreciation of the subject, accuracy of reporting, quality of writing and originality.

In addition to the cash award, the winner will receive a suitably engraved trophy as a memento of the occasion.

"We hope that by making an annual award we shall encourage interesting and factual reporting and provide the stimulating human interest stories in the industry that is becoming of primary importance to the economy of B.C.," said Mr. Manley.

During the past year the pulp and paper industry on Canada's Pacific Coast has increased production 50 per cent. The of its production in that has trebled.

Trespassing ... With Sandy

The navy drill hall is a hive of activity these days and according to Dianne Kennedy will continue to be a busy place every day until June 2.

All reserve and permanent force officers and men at HMCS Chatham are helping decorate the hall for a giant Coronation Day ball.

Dianne, a sub-lieutenant in the Wrens, and Inez Griffiths are in charge of decorating the hall and with the help of the men are doing a first rate job.

Huge silver crowns made by Northern B.C. Power Company are being suspended from the ceiling between the many navy code flags. Silver paper, covering the crowns, was donated by McKae Brothers.

A deep dark secret is the decoration to be placed on the bandstand. That chore is being handled solely by the Wrens.

Boy Scouts and Sea Cadets are gathering salal leaves which will be placed on all doors with roses interwoven.

The Sea Cadets, however, already have helped in cleaning "house." On Tuesday night they scurried around "ship" under the direction of the cadet officers—Syd Alexander, Jack Breen, Gerry Woodside and Bill Toderas.

The navy ball is being held under auspices of the commanding officer at Chatham, Commander T. A. Johnstone, and the IODE. It is sponsored by Mayor Harold Whalen and the city council.

On the central committee, besides Dianne Kennedy, are Lieutenant Walter Smith and Mrs. Bill Halliwell and Mrs. Frank Ewart of the IODE.

There are still some invitations left and those wishing to attend should contact members of the navy or the IODE, but, says Dianne, don't leave it until the last minute.

Writer of a daily column in this paper, Bill Raymond, is taking leave of absence for a couple of days. Said Ray last night: "The doctor thinks I should get a check up, so I'm going to the hospital... Guess it's time I did, though—haven't had a good check for, oh, about 25-40 years."

In town for a visit is Mrs. Lynn Currie and her little girl from New Westminster. Lynn is visiting her mother and dad, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Gowan, and her sister Peggy. She's spending a happy time renewing old acquaintances.

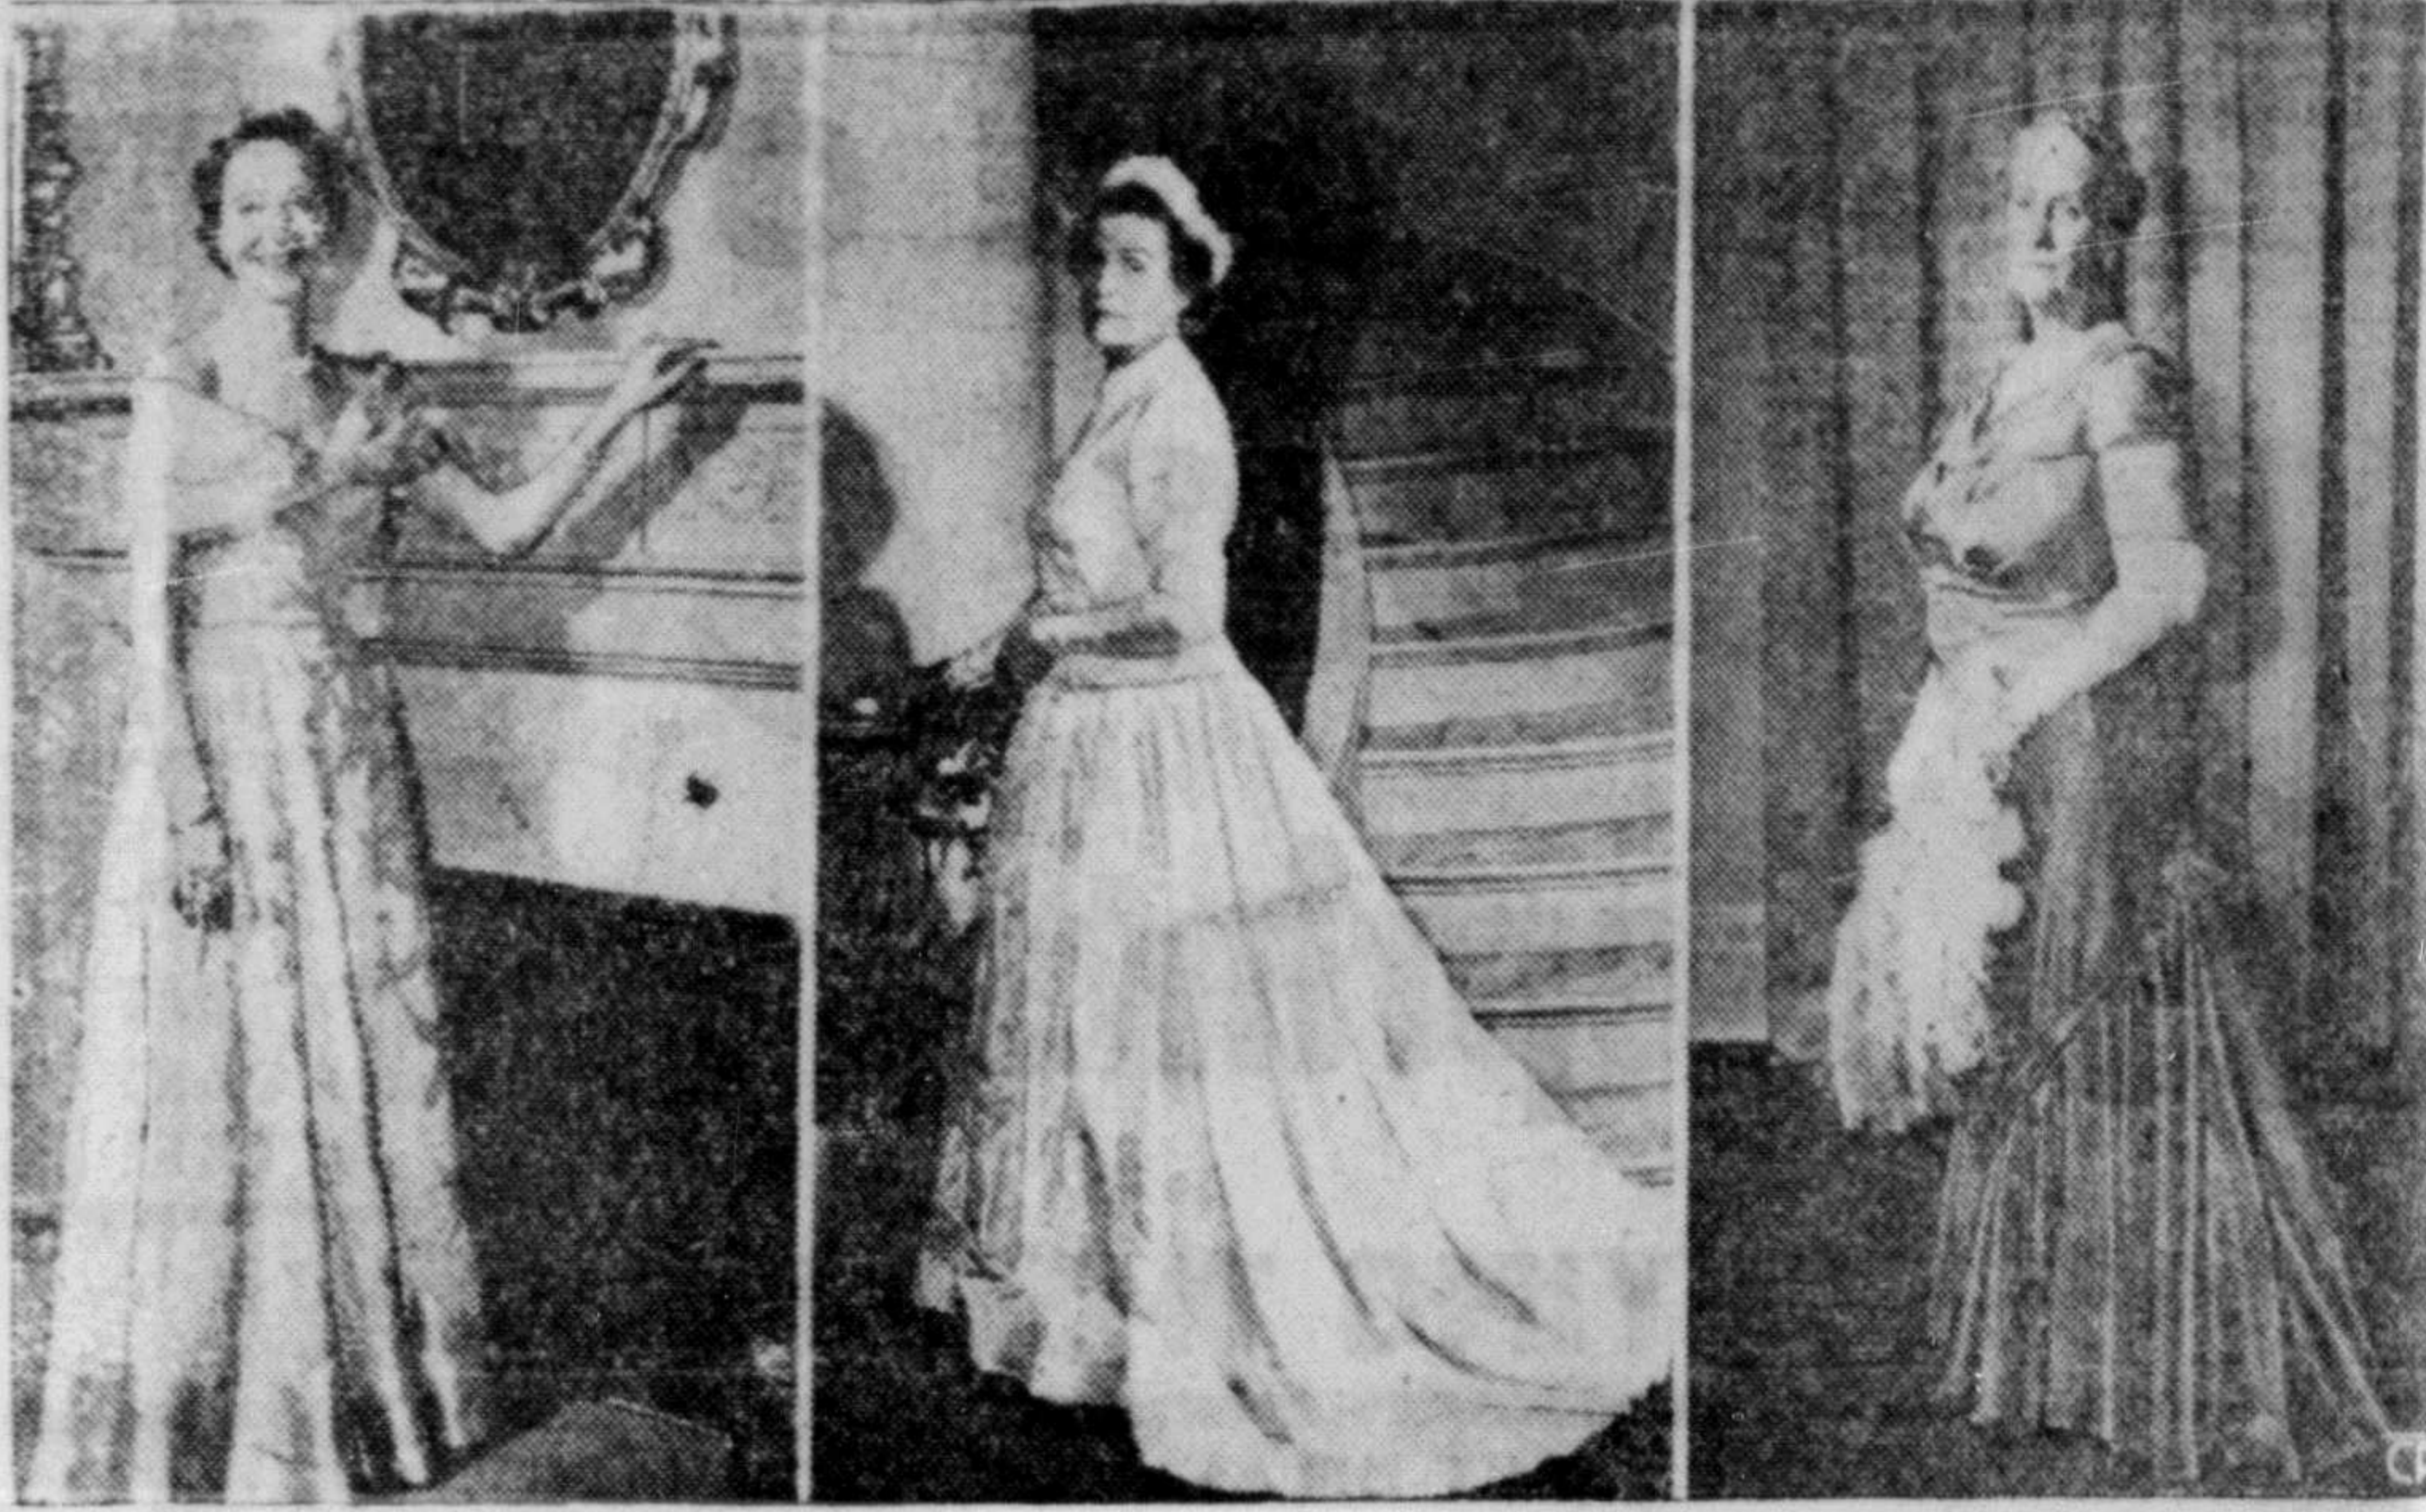

It may be that Teddy Johnson and Gordon Brochu landed the first halibut of the season here. The two ardent fishermen didn't go very far... just toured around the harbor entrance last Sunday and, before they called it quits, had some 80 pounds of halibut aboard.

At Coronation time readers of The Daily News will see the byline of a former alderman in Prince Rupert, Major L. Bullock-Webster. Now living in London, Major Bullock-Webster will give a spectator's account of the ceremony for us. Besides his aldermanic activities, he will be remembered for his work as provincial director of community drama and his position as ADC to the Lieutenant-Governor. He writes: "I am so glad to be once more in touch with Prince Rupert. I had a number of very good friends there. My best wishes to any who may possibly remember me."

In town today enjoying the bright sunshine is a former Prince Rupert boy, Al Eyolfson, a member of the RCMP in Dauphin, Manitoba, who's here with his bride.

GOWNS THEY WILL WEAR at the Coronation June 2 are modelled by wives of three members of Parliament in Ottawa. Mrs. George Drew (left), wife of the Progressive Conservative leader, will wear a Norman Hartnell gown. It is of silver satin with a slate tone and an over-all pattern of opalescent sequins. The gown worn by Mrs. Ross Macdonald (centre), wife of the Speaker of the House of Commons, is of white, Italian-brocaded satin in a period design with a full skirt forming a small train in back. Mrs. C. D. Howe, wife of Production Minister Howe, will wear an amethyst and silver lame gown. The fullness in the bottom of the skirt is gathered to form a slight train in back.

Award of Merit To Be Given Annually To Top Commercial Class Graduate

At their regular dinner meeting the Business and Professional Women's Club had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Applewhite.

In an interesting and informative address Mr. Applewhite pointed out why international co-operation and national freedom cannot be taken separately in world affairs.

He inferred that isolationism which is a great threat to international co-operation, belongs to the nineteenth century, and it should be discarded in present day affairs if the rights of a people and a nation are to be respected.

In closing Mr. Applewhite urged the group to take a firm and intelligent stand to safeguard the freedom which has been achieved, in spite of the fact that the threat of the aggressor is not as great as it was three years ago.

"The free people of the world should not lose their perspective—it is their duty to carry on with vigilance and firmness."

After Mr. Applewhite's address, the new officers for the coming year were installed: president — Christine Worsley, vice-president — Joy Bryenton, recording secretary — Muriel Reeves, treasurer — Connie Weise. Then the new members—Lillian Wasuta Susan Stewart and Helen Langley were initiated and welcomed into the club.

The club decided to present "An Award of Merit" each year to the top-ranking girl graduating in the commercial department from the High School. One student will receive the award this year.

Joan Croxford Honored At Miscellaneous Shower

Miss Joan Croxford, whose marriage to Mr. Bruce Mills will take place on June 4, was the guest of honor when Marguerite

ANNE JEFFERSON of Halifax, 25-year-old student at the Ontario College of Art, Toronto, has been awarded the Governor-General's medal for painting. It is the top award at the college for work done during four student years. After a summer of work in Toronto she will go to Europe for further study before returning to Halifax to continue portrait painting.

Doiron entertained at a miscellaneous shower on Tuesday evening, at her home.

The bride-to-be was presented with a corsage of garden flowers and sat in the "bride's corner."

A gaily pastel decorated box held the gifts from the well-wishing guests, who were: the bride's mother, Mrs. Croxford, the groom's mother, Mrs. Mills and the mesdames, Krause, Moorehouse, Carter, Griffiths, Leighton, Laughlin, Guyan, Doiron, Yalloway, Brett and the misses Mamie Pearson, Helen Balagno, Ethel Hemmons, Glenna Moore, Frankie Murphy, Marguerite Doiron.

Unable to attend were Mrs. Hemmons, Mrs. Parsons, and Miss Edna Kirkham.

Delicious refreshments and bride's cake were served by the hostess and her mother, Mrs. Leo Doiron, assisted by Mrs. Theima Yalloway and Miss Frankie Murphy.

Men, Women! Old at 40, 50, 60! Want Pep?

Want to Feel Years Younger? "Phosgene" means what a little "springing up" with cheer has done. For body old after 40 but begins low in iron. Introduce "Phosgene" also only one. Try Doctor Tonic Tablets for new pep, vigor and younger feeling. Use very day. At all drug stores.

Sandra Marie Rife Speaks Vows in Victoria Ceremony

St. Saviour's Anglican Church in Victoria was the scene of a pretty spring wedding last Friday when Sandra Marie Rife, daughter of Mr. S. G. Rife of Victoria and Mrs. James Sowler of Prince Rupert, was united in marriage to Mr. Jack Twist, son of Mrs. Agnes Twist of Victoria. Rev. D. Kendall officiated.

The petite bride, attired in a cream and rose dressmaker suit and carrying sweetheart roses, was supported by her cousin, Miss Barbara Turner, who wore a dusky pink suit with a navy picture hat.

Best man was Mr. Ken Smythe of Victoria.

Spring flowers in profusion decorated the reception hall at Victoria West Community Centre where the bride and groom received congratulations from more than 250 friends.

Mr. P. Burrell proposed the toast to the happy couple.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. Alec Stewart entertained with piano selections.

For a southern honeymoon, Mrs. Twist donned a Windsor rose topcoat with winter-white accessories.

Mrs. Twist received a considerable part of her schooling at King Edward School and the Convent here.

On their return the couple will reside in Victoria.

Safety Measure

SASKATOON (CP) — Upwards of 200 gas masks have been shipped by the Saskatchewan civil defence organization to agricultural representatives, to be used in the battle against the rust grain beetle. Chemicals employed in the campaign are highly poisonous.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD
Muzzy, Alas, Didn't Know When To Use Safety Play

"What's the use of learning all those safety plays?" asked Mr. Muzzy. "They come up so seldom."
 "They come up often enough," replied Mr. Champion caustically. "You just do not recognize them."
 I suggest that Mr. Champion's reply is worth some quiet thought.

The spade slam in today's deal was makeable against any defense but Mr. Muzzy managed to go down one. He yelled loud and long about his bad luck. Let's see how unlucky he actually was.
 Mr. Dale opened the jack of clubs. Mr. Muzzy won with the king and planked down the ace of trumps! Now Mrs. Keen was bound to win two tricks in the trump suit.

With a trump suit like this, the standard safety play is to lead first from the hand with two honors. In other words, Mr. Muzzy's first play in the spade suit should have been the king. Assuming the first club trick is won in the closed hand, lead a small spade.
 In this particular deal Mr. Dale would have shown out. Play the king from dummy, then and return a small spade. If Mrs. Keen splits her honors, the ace will win the second trick and now with jack, nine, eight and seven left in the two hands, it is a simple matter to knock out the other outstanding honor and, later, pick up Mrs. Keen's fourth trump.

If Mrs. Keen should duck the second spade lead, the nine would win in the closed hand. The ace would pick up the ten and the queen would be the only winner for the defense.

NEW YORK (CP)—Wednesday was a wild and woolly day in the major leagues.

Cincinnati, last-place club in the National League, beat Philadelphia, first-place club, 14-5. The Redlegs hit four home runs and they battered Curt Simmons, who had won six and lost only one, into submission in four innings.

The New York Giants clubbed seven Chicago hurlers for 21 hits, a new high in the majors for the season. Needless to say, the Giants won. The score was 16-6.

National
New York 16, Chicago 6, Brooklyn 7, Milwaukee 2, Philadelphia 5, Cincinnati 14, Pittsburgh 6, St. Louis 11.

American
Detroit 8, New York 9, St. Louis 3, Boston 3, Chicago 1, Philadelphia 3, Cleveland 3, Washington 8.

Western International

Remember When

Sammy Mandell successfully defended his world lightweight title against Jimmy McLarin at New York 25 years ago tonight. The champion poked and slashed his way through a bristling 15 rounds against the Vancouver fishman, Mandell was dethroned by Al Singer in 1930, while a heavier McLarin collared the welterweight crown from Young Corbett in 1933.

Two Teams Challenge CCC Shooters

Two teams tonight will shoot against Columbia Cellulose trap shooting team, holders of the Rupert Radio challenge cup. The defending team will consist of Harold Schaeffer, Frank Allingham, George Robinson, John Lazorek and Victor Williams.

The challenging teams are Fashion Footwear, made up of Dom Dominato, Tommy Boulter, Hans Husvik, Earl Becker and Bill Collins; and Rupert Radio and Electric's team composed of Frank Parlett, Hans Schmidt, Elmer Clausen, Al Manson and Bob Armstrong.

Columbia Cellulose team has won the cup twice in succession and now have to defend it against the best score of the other two teams.

The cup will be brought out for display tonight and spectators are invited.

The shoot starts at 7 p.m. sharp at the rifle range.

OUTDOORS With Marty

The girls are getting into the act early this year, and the first report on cutthroats comes from Herdis Holkestad who is showing how its done at Prudhomme Lake: her best fish so far is a 17-incher in prime condition that accepted a piece of cut bait. Right there is a tip for times when fishing is low on flies, capture a minnow or squawfish and cut him into chunks with the hook pushed right through, fish the bait deep and chances of a sizable fish are good; remember that the little ones usually feed on tiny stuff, but the big fellows need more than flies and nymphs, and that practically all fishes become cannibals as they mature.

A few of our more ardent rod trollers are having line trouble, with wear at the rod-tip gradually fraying light braided lines quite expensively; the answer is the installation of a roller stop-guide. This guide will swivel in any required direction according to the movements of the fish, is made to fit rods up to 1/4" tip, costs just under a buck and is obtainable from Canada's oldest tackle manufacturer located in Toronto. They are expected to be on sale in local stores very shortly.

The unnamed gentleman who called upon me a few days ago should contact Chas. W. Moore, Delhi, N.Y., who is equipped to make flat or other types of springs for all early vintage or obsolete fowling pieces. The early run of Dollies is now at Fairview, average size 14", and schools of smaller ones now starting their first season in the ocean, are also much in evidence. This means fly and light spinner fishing for some months ahead, but the hand-liner will get plenty too!

Flounders and whiting in profusion, lots of grey cod still in good shape for filets, a few smelts and sand lance all offering sport to the numbers of anglers of both sexes who fished around the Co-op plant during the long weekend; to mention all the names would fill this column. Jim Bacon and party added to the many who fished Terrace, the Lakelse River will never again be the little fished stream of earlier days, and the Skeena is becoming more popular than ever.

The variety of lures offered on the market today seems endless.

but do not lose sight of the fact that fishes have in no way changed during these many years, and that the old fashioned spoons and plugs are deadly as heretofore, fish have not yet learned to think nor discriminate between lures, beware of the tackle that is intended to catch only the unwary and gullible fisherman!

This year the Game Commission will continue (and augment) its long-term program of recording the take of fish by sportsmen, which same information is to provide the basis for the management of this valuable resource. When this information has been analyzed we should know the monetary value of our sport's fishery, what species is or are most important in various regions, where the heaviest fishing pressure occurs, where to direct the greatest proportion of our efforts in management, and what the future holds for angling in B.C.

The purpose of the program is to furnish the department with a continuous record of the sport fishery for the province as a whole. In addition, now that we are faced with increasing use of water for hydro-electric, industrial and agricultural development, records as to the extent and value of angling in all areas is certain to be vitally important in order that we may present a strong case for the protection of sport fishing in any case where conflict may arise.

Much of the success of this plan will rest upon the number of anglers checked, and the cooperation of resort owners and guides is solicited. All reports of number of angling hours required to take how many fish, including nil reports, will be of value; so if you should make a trip and not be contacted by a game warden, you will do worthwhile service by making a report to him at your convenience.

The large amount of biological and other scientific data now on hand requires only the addition of knowledge as to what comes OUT of our many lakes and streams, to almost completely round out the picture of this wonderful sport fishing of ours, so let us all do our part towards its improvement and perpetuation.

Norwegians Downed 4-0 By All-Stars

The visit of a Norwegian ship to Prince Rupert gave an international flavor to football last evening at Acropolis Hill when it put a football eleven up against an all-star Prince Rupert team but the visitors were beaten 4-0 in a fine game, played under fine conditions before a good-sized crowd.

A minute after the start, following several partial clearances by the visitors, Tambourini got hold of the ball and gave the goalie no chance with a fine ground drive. The sailors attacked but Leopold saved.

Rutton, with very clever head-work, broke up another Norwegian attack. Leopold saved a fine shot from the visitors' outside right. A Rutton to Tambourini to Murray move saw the latter centre neatly and Vanlerland capitalized on the move to make the score 2-0. Leopold ran out to save a critical situation and half-time found the locals leading, 2-0.

The locals had most of the game in the second half with Vanlerland and Mills scoring. Eby broke up a dangerous attack with a very neat tackle. Murray took dangerous corners and in the closing minute Leopold made two great saves, one a spectacular one at full length to keep the visitors off the score sheet.

Bill Baxter did a very satisfactory job as referee.

Rupert All-stars: Leopold; Dunbar, Eby; Sundberg, Rutton, Scatani; Pavlikis, Mills, Vanlerland, Tambourini, Murray.

CHATTER: A great deal of credit is due the visitors who fielded a good team from a crew of only 50. The visitors rarely kicked the ball high in the air. In nearly every play the ball was placed to a teammate. Defensively they were good.

In the second half they tired a bit but that often happens when a crew from a ship comes ashore. They gave a fine sporting display of clever football.

For the locals Leopold did an outstanding job in goal. Dunbar and Eby were very sound and kicked safely. Rutton did a masterly job at centre-half while Sundberg was a hard-driving tackler with a hefty kick. Scatani did some very neat tackling and set up the forwards. Tambourini, Vanlerland and Mills were the best forwards, all showing neat constructive touches.

Canada's tobacco products industry employed nearly 8,000 persons in 1952.

'Mr. Uranium' Relaxes In Old English Home

By ARCH MacKENZIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

KEEVIL, Wiltshire, Eng. (CP)—Weather-beaten Augustus (Gus) Hawker — "folks call me Mr. Uranium because of the million I've made out of that black gold"—is relaxing in the bosom of the awe-struck family he left 27 years ago for Northern Canada.

The 50-year-old farmer-trapper-storekeeper struck it rich at booming Uranium City in northern Saskatchewan last summer. Today, his four young wide-eyed children—more used to the rock and sparse trees of northern Saskatchewan and Alberta than the soft Wiltshire countryside—are begging him to sell out his uranium interests and stay in England.

"I don't think Canada would like me to go," said Hawker, a quiet, philosophical man who persevered for 26 years against the adversities of the Canadian north.

He said he's sold $210,000 worth of claims and holds nine other groups, one of which is to be exploited by a New York company. He will try to interest British money in more developments while here.

He and the four children, June, 14, May, 11, April, eight, and Ashton, three, born of an Indian wife now dead, will also see the Coronation. They have bookings for a return flight to Canada June 14.

Hawker homesteaded four years in the Peace River district near Whitelaw, Alta., cleared 80 acres of timber, sowed four crops and took off none.

He went trapping in the Pagan Mountain area of Northern Alberta, 120 miles up the Athabasca River from Athabasca. The bottom fell out of the market and he headed north by boat. The boat sank in the rapids and he walked on to McMurray where an Indian fed him.

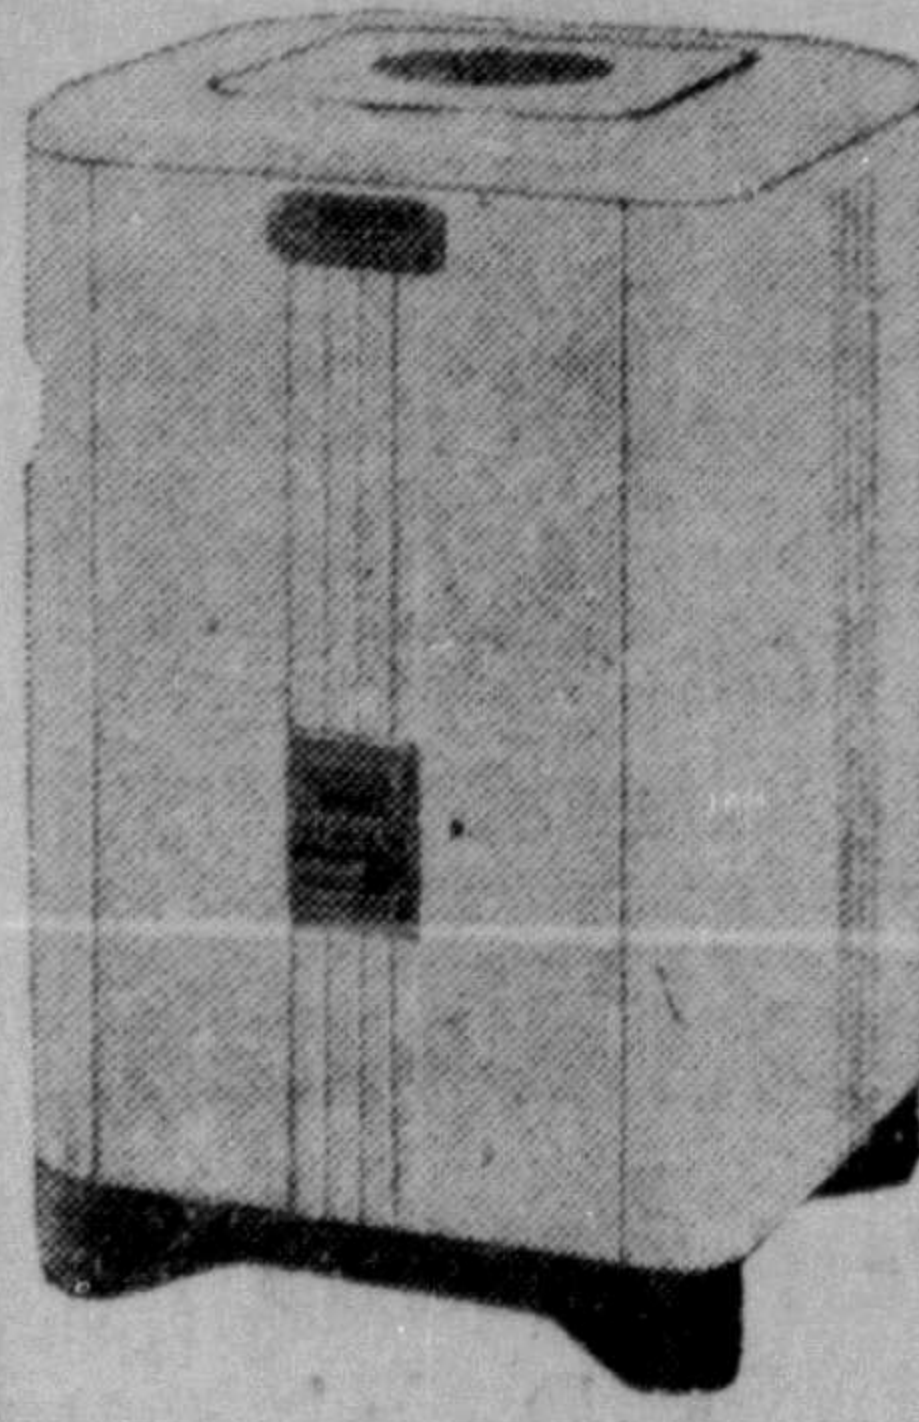

He traded with the hard-up Indians in stores at McMurray and at Goldfields, Sask. Then, when the uranium rush flared up 18 miles north of Prince Albert, Sask., on Lake Athabasca, he set up a store there.

"I prospected at night," Hawker said. "The kids looked after the store a lot of the time." That was last July. Then his claims started to pay off.

"When I got paid $210,000 for the first sale of claims I stuck the money in the bank and decided to do what I'd always promised—give the kids a trip over here.

RCAF Personnel at Zweibrucken Live In Luxuriously-Furnished Barracks

By ARCH MacKENNIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ZWEIBRUCKEN, Germany (CP) — More than 700 RCAF personnel settling in at this third Canadian airbase in Europe will be on top of the world if they appreciate material comforts.

The men and women who fly and maintain the Sabre jets of Canada's No. 3 fighter wing officially took over this German-built, French-financed base late last month.

Visitors here for the international ceremony saw enough to convince them that the spacious, cream-colored offices, barracks and recreation centres add up to something hard to beat in service set-ups.

"They haven't missed a thing," said a touring RCAF officer, eyeing the amenities of theatre, gymnasium and working and living premises.

Barracks' features include tiled bathrooms carpets, easy chairs and two-bed cubicles. There is a Protestant and Roman Catholic church. Asphalt roads and cement sidewalks are installed and there is visible evidence of extensive landscaping plans. No. 3 fighter wing is Canada's third European aerial contribution to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. A fourth wing will be added this year.

This first Canadian airbase on German soil lies atop a plateau, surrounded by rolling, wooded terrain pocked with the ruined pillboxes of Hitler's Siegfried line. Some had walls 11 feet thick.

German bulldozers bit into the rust-colored Saar soil two years ago to initiate construction. German labor moulded French designs into the virtually finished project at undisclosed cost. The expense is being met by France from German war-reparation payments.

Famed Woman Flyer Breaks Sound Barrier

MUROC LAKE, Calif. (CP) — Famed woman flyer Jacqueline Cochran, flying a Canadian-built F-86 Sabre jet, has become the first woman to break the sound barrier and fly faster than sound.

The speed of sound at sea level is approximately 760 miles an hour, depending on temperature.

She followed this "first" by flying the jet around a closed 100-metre course Monday at a speed of 652 miles an hour, a world record for the distance.

The previous record of 635 miles an hour was made at Detroit in 1951 by Col. Fred Ascard of the United States Air Force. The previous women's jet plane record was held by Mme Jacqueline Auriol, daughter-in-law of the president of France.

The jet Miss Cochran flew was built by Canadair, Montreal, and was powered by an Orenda engine, manufactured by A. V. Roe at Malton, Ont.

Announcement of results was made by the National Aeronautic Association, U.S. representative of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale of Paris.

The flights concluded a number of tests of the aircraft conducted by the flight staff of Canadair. Miss Cochran for the last year has been a flight consultant and adviser to Canadair in Canada and the U.S.

In referring to her flight, Miss Cochran said: "The Canadair-built Sabre jet is a fine plane and the Avro Orenda engine performed up to the high standards set by its specifications."

U.S. Army Uses Blood Plasma Substitute

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Army will henceforth use dextran, a substance made from sugar, instead of blood plasma for all requirements at home and overseas.

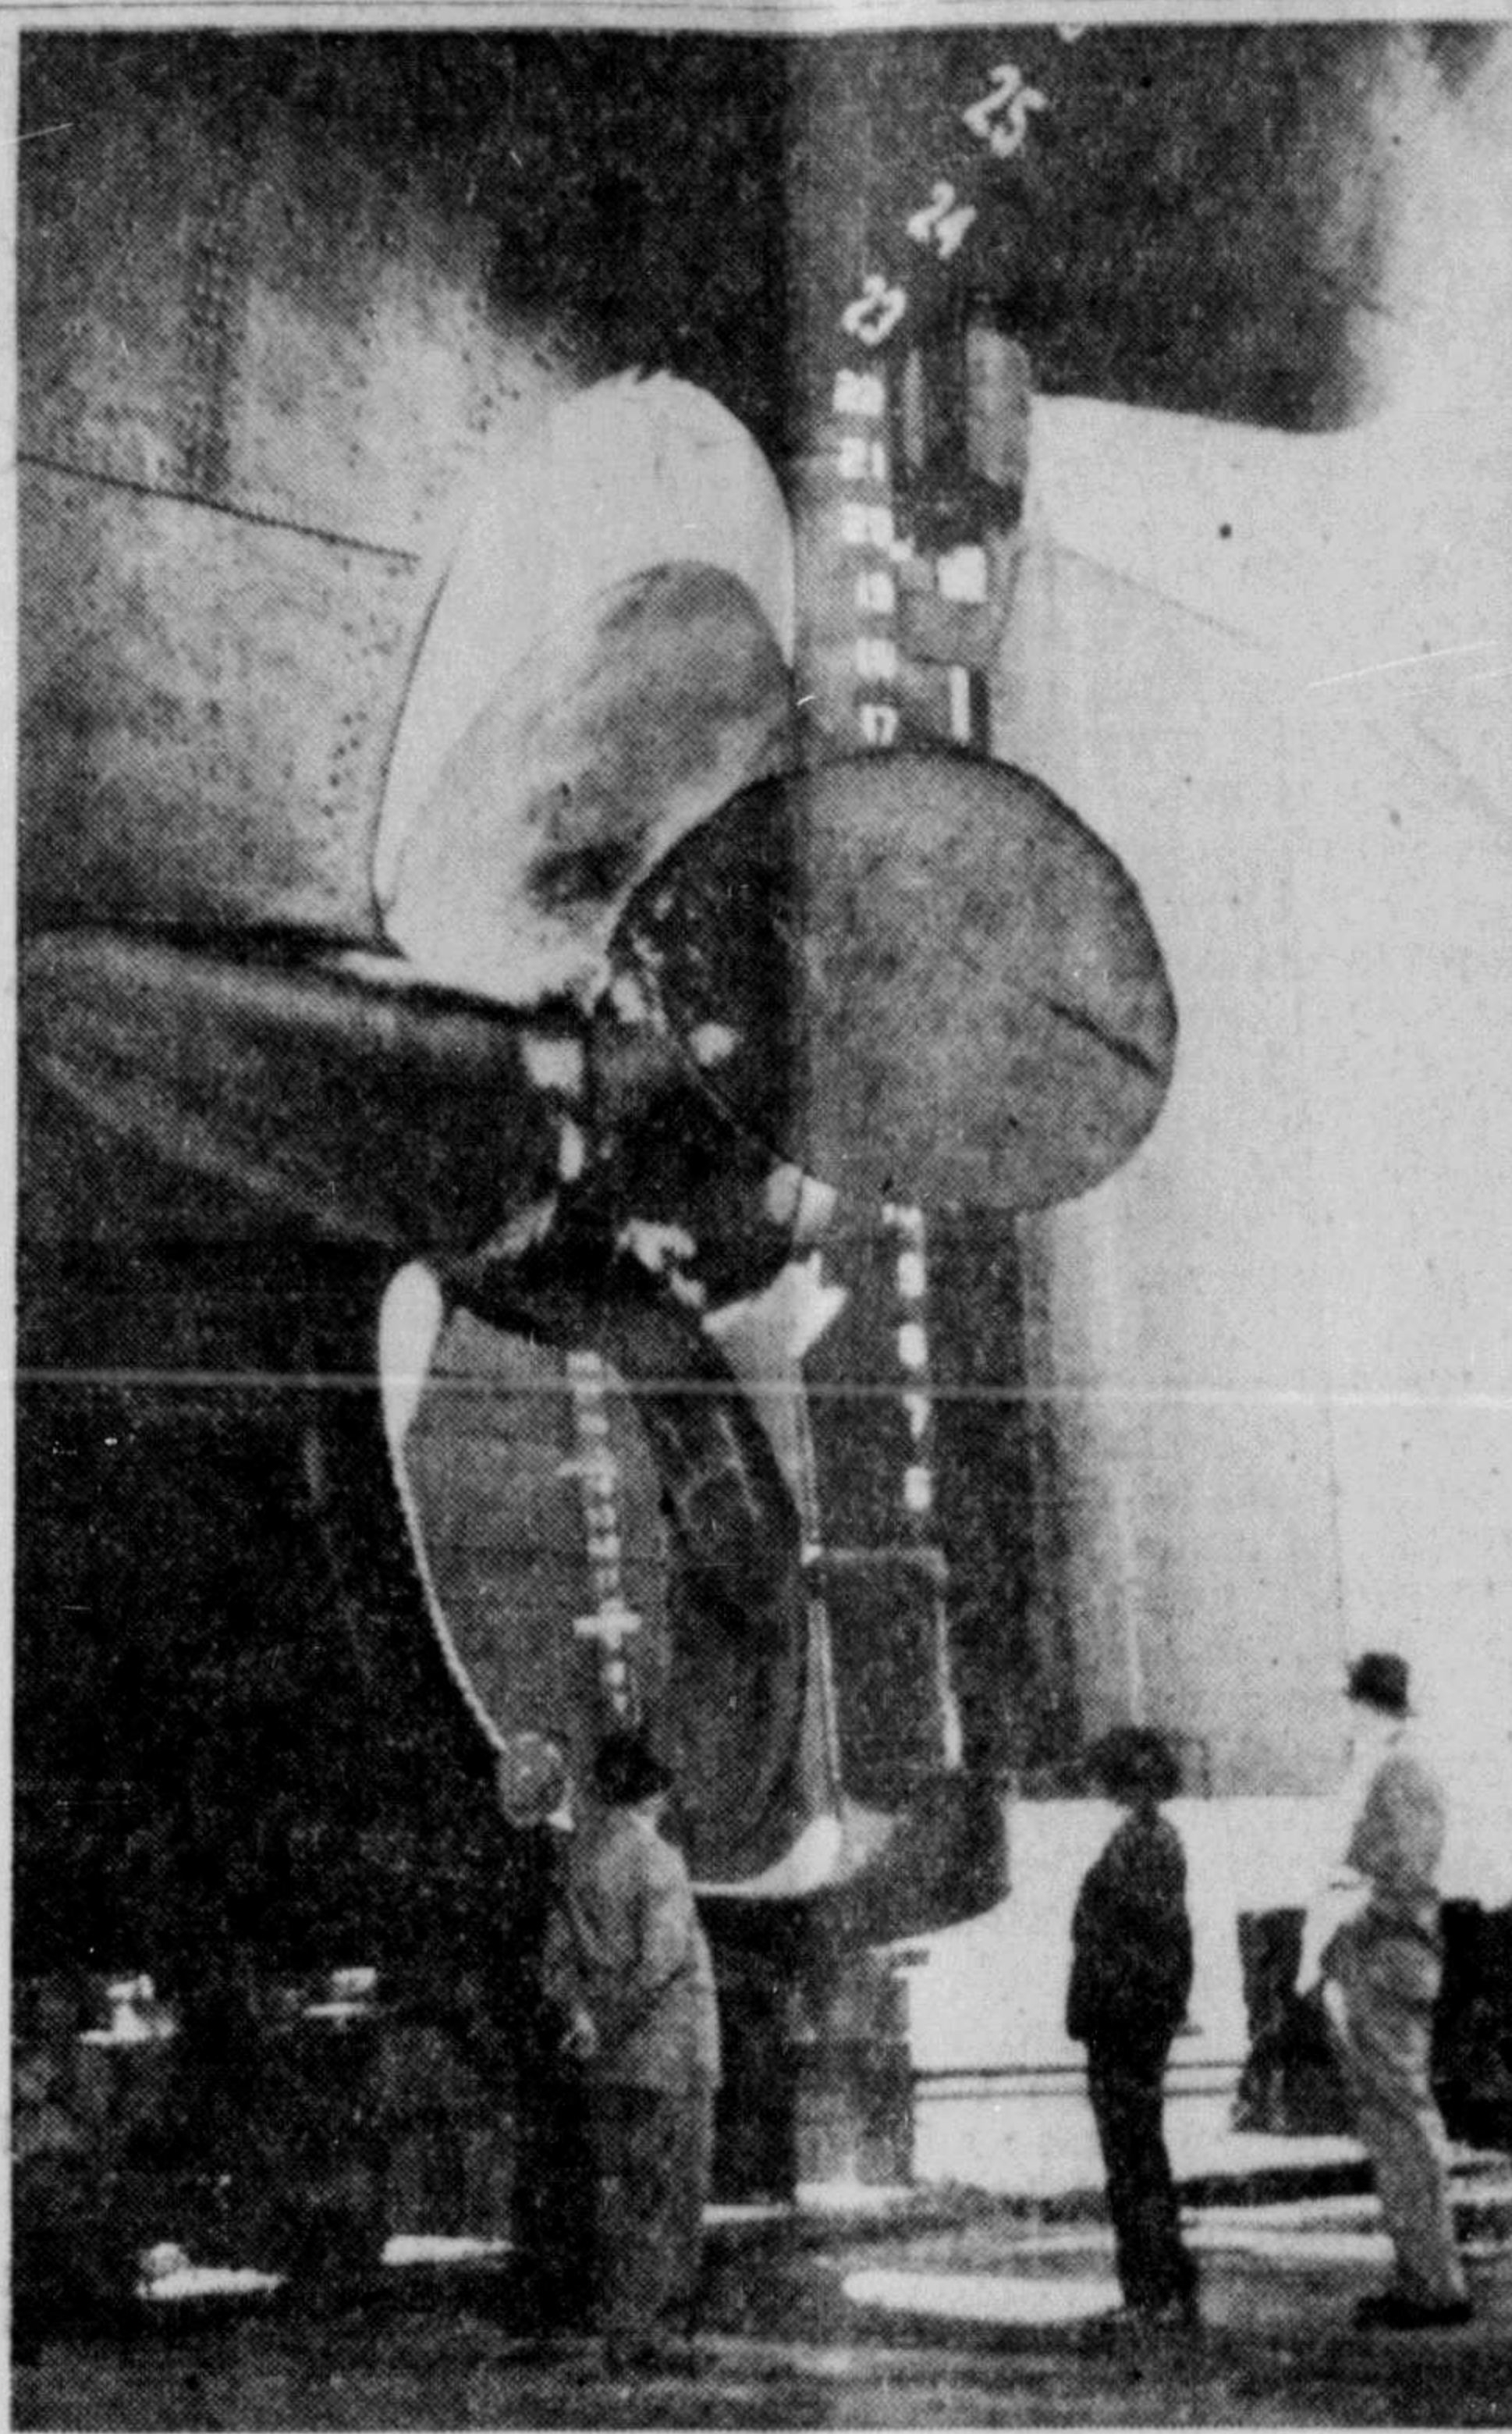

An authoritative army medical source, who asked not to be quoted by name, said Saturday night "a complete switch-over" to the plasma substitute has been put into effect, following "utterly convincing" tests of dextran during the last few months.

The army official emphasized however that there was still a vital need of whole-blood donations from the public because of other uses.

"We have now begun to fill all orders from domestic and overseas theatres with dextran instead of plasma."

He said that supplies of plasma already stockpiled in overseas theatres would be used up on certain kind of cases where plasma gives better nutritional support than does dextran.

But he added that a blood fraction known as "serum albumin" can also give this nutritional support and efforts are already under way to increase the army's supply.

FOURTEEN TONS OF STEEL suspended from the stern of the 10,000-ton Canadian Pacific freighter "Maple Cove," is the new rudder which will guide the vessel in her trans-Pacific Orient service which she resumes next Tuesday. The Maple Cove lost her rudder and part of her stern-frame in mid-Pacific in December last year, and for nine days, with no steering control, battled heavy Pacific storms before reaching Vancouver on December 27. Above, the ship is shown at Burrard Dry Dock, North Vancouver, where the new rudder and stern frame were installed.

Indoor Rowing Pool Planned For Year-Round Training

TORONTO (CP) — An indoor rowing pool, a new wrinkle in Canada but an established piece of equipment in the United States and England, may be built in Toronto this fall. The pool would provide year-round training facilities for oarsmen.

The idea, advanced several weeks ago by A. Sidney Dawes of Montreal, past president of the Canadian Olympic Association, was considered at a meeting of rowing officials from Toronto and Hamilton. The Montrealer has offered to pay $5,000 towards its initial cost.

A five-man committee, headed by Tom Alison of the Toronto Argonaut Rowing Club, was chosen to investigate the possibilities of constructing the 40-by-40-foot pool. Information on the feasibility of the pool will be sought from four U.S. colleges which have used the pool idea for years—Yale, Navy, Harvard and University of Pennsylvania.

The committee said that if reports are favorable it is likely the pool would be built here in the next few months. Ultimately, it is hoped to construct pools in Montreal, Ottawa, Hamilton, St. Catharines, Brockville, Fort William and Winnipeg. Committee members stressed, however, they

Communists Withdraw

LONDON (AP) — Britain has broken the back of the Communist rebellion in Malaya, High Commissioner Sir Gerald Templer said.

Templer told a press conference: "We have got the Communists down, but they are not finished yet. They still retain a dangerous armed potential."

Templer said Britain must redouble her Malayan war effort and force the Communists to choose between "surrender or death."

Northland Has Many Resources Needed By Rest of World Says Alaska Governor

TACOMA (AP) — Removal of obstacles to investment capital in Alaska is urgent for its future development, Governor B. Frank Heintzleman said in an address at opening sessions of the Pacific Northwest Trade Association.

"Our northland," Heintzleman asserted, "has many resources which the world needs." But they must be "evaluated properly, brought to the attention of prospective enterprises and the way smoothed for their development to investment capital."

Federal spending, he indicated, was an obstacle to the indigenous development of the north country.

"The economy of the territory is presently far too dependent on federal spending for defense to be healthy, and we must bring more of the natural resources into use to take up the slack when defence construction appropriations stop or are greatly curtailed."

Heintzleman pointed to three projects as outstanding for the future of the northland. They were the Klimal aluminum project, the pulp mill of the Columbia Cellulose Company at Prince Rupert and the Ketchikan pulp mill, sponsored by the Puget Sound Pulp Co. and the American Viscose Co., the latter is the only one in Alaska.

"These three plants," he asserted, "lead the list of new establishments which give assurance that the north country is now on the march." He said the fact that they were built with private capital "is tangible evidence that investment firms have confidence in the soundness of large industrial enterprises in the north country."

MONTREAL, May 21st—Here's a brand new taste treat. It's NEW INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE. What's new about it? The very thing that makes it so completely good... it's 100% real coffee. You see, it's made by a new "Natural Flavour" process that keeps the flavour and aroma—yes, the very colour and texture of freshly ground coffee. And talk about magic! New Instant Chase & Sanborn dissolves like a flash in hot or cold water. Incidentally, it's wonderfully economical. Saves me up to 40¢ a pound compared with regular coffee. Once you've tried it, you'll want to make it your regular coffee.

Want To Know How To Make A Better Lemon Pie? The secret is to use the finest, juiciest lemons to be had. And that means SUNKIST LEMONS. What's more, use more of the lemon-juice, peel, pulp—all added just before baking. The result is a tangy, fresh lemon flavour that's out-of-this-world!... SUNKIST LEMON MERINGUE PIE

1 1/2 cups sugar 3 egg yolks
1 tablespoon butter 2 tablespoons milk
1/2 cup water 1/2 teaspoon salt
5 tablepoons cornstarch 3 Sunkist Lemons

Mix sugar, butter and 1/2 cup water; bring to boil. Lower heat. Add mixture of cornstarch and 3 tablepoons water. Cook until thick, stirring constantly. Beat egg yolks, milk and salt; add to mixture, cook over medium heat until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Grate peel from 1/2 lemon. Squeeze lemons. Strain pulp from juice. Add pulp and juice (1/2 cup) to filling. Cool. Pour into 8" pie shell. Top with Sunkist Meringue. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg) until golden brown (15 to 20 minutes).

It's Simple Arithmetic to figure out how much time and money B.V.D. NYLON T-R-I-C-O-T SHIRTS can save you. Made of good-looking nylon tricot for cool comfort in warm weather... with fused collars and cuffs that never will—B.V.D. Nylon Shirts need no ironing. Just think! It takes me almost 15 minutes to iron a shirt. 15 minutes multiplied by 7 to 10 shirts a week equals almost 2 shirt-ironing hours a week. Then there's the money saved. If the laundry price for a shirt is about 20¢—your husband's $12.95 B.V.D. Nylon Shirt is paid for in 65 days—with most of its life ahead of it! Yes, the B.V.D. Nylon Shirt (in grey, blue, tan or white) is a "bargain" you can't afford to miss.

Before And After A Party... my favourite housecleaning "help" is S.O.S. I've been using S.O.S. Scouring Pads on my pots and pans for years, of course. And now I've discovered that they're every bit as effective in all kinds of housecleaning jobs... cleaning old wax off floors—cleaning basins and bath-tubs—cleaning rust off the stove and stains off the kitchen linoleum. Actually, it's no wonder S.O.S. Scouring Pads do such a good job of so many jobs. They're an inspired combination of sturdy, interwoven fibres and grease-dissolving soap. I know you'll agree they work wonders. Just try them!

Hurry! Hurry! Hurry! I'm Sounding Like A "Sideshow Barker" because I don't want you to miss the important Food Festival now at your grocer's. It's HEINZ BIG VALUE FAIR... wonderful values! Now's the time to discover new Heinz taste treats and stock up on the old favourites. Start with Heinz Tomato Juice and Condensed Soups... the perfect beginning for any meal. Take home plenty of Heinz Oven-Baked Beans, Cooked Spaghetti and Macaroni. And—mum-mum—you'll want a real supply of Heinz Tomato Ketchup, Chili Sauce and Pickles. Remember baby, too! Be sure to get a good supply of Heinz Baby Cereals, Strained Baby Foods or Junior Foods. They're made for tots and toddlers.

When I See Folks Bright And Cheery In The Morning, I'm willing to bet that they've had a good breakfast—a hot "CREAM OF WHEAT" breakfast! Ever tried piping hot "Cream of Wheat" topped with strawberry jam? It's the cheeriest way I know to start a day. And so easy, too. You see, Quick "Cream of Wheat" takes only five minutes of boiling to cook to perfect smoothness. What's more, it's good for you. It contains iron for good red blood and calcium and phosphorus for diets deficient in these elements. So give your whole family—youngsters and grown-ups, too, a good start—a quick start for the day. Treat them all to their favourite... hot "Cream of Wheat".

Free Good-Looking Redheads Helping Bring Color Back to UK Parliament

FRASER WIGHTON (Reuters)—Women are again bringing color to the British Parliament the kind it enjoyed when Victoria's Nancy Astor was a member of the House of Commons, quipped and laughed into the headlines.

British public rarely give women politicians into characters. But it is pleased to pay increasing attention to the 19 women—12

Socialists and seven Conservatives—who sit in the present House.

There is as yet no post-war counterpart of Nancy Astor, in 1919 the first woman to take her seat in the Commons. She was a member for 26 years when she retired in 1945.

But there are several women who in time may inherit her reputation.

THREE REDHEADS

Three good-looking redheads are in this up-and-coming class. Youngest is Patricia Hornsby-Smith, 39, who entered Parliament as a Conservative in 1950.

Winston Churchill, impressed by her fighting performance as an election candidate made her a junior minister as soon as he was returned to power in 1951.

As parliamentary secretary of the ministry of health, she has used her ready wit to handle awkward Opposition questions and aplomb in speaking from the government front bench. She is one of only two women holding office in the government.

Self-confidence is the strong suit of Mrs. Barbara Castle, 41, one of the chief supporters of left-wing firebrand Aneurin Bevan.

"OLD HAND"

Auburn-haired Barbara Castle is a member of the Labor party national executive committee, and is already a parliamentary "old hand."

For eight years, as a fighting left-winger, she has been making her presence felt in the House.

The third redhead is Dr. Edith Summerskill, 52, tall, whimsical Socialist who was national insurance minister in the late Labor government. She is a doctor of medicine, the wife of a doctor, and has two children.

Dr. Summerskill, who supports the "right-wing" Socialist old guard headed by party leader Clement Attlee, sometimes clashes with militant leftist Bevan.

The men, who number 606, are impressed by the way the little band of women pulls its weight.

Among Conservatives as well as Socialists, 224-pound Mrs. Bessie Braddock of Liverpool, whom Socialists prize as a champion of the British housewife, is held in genuine affection.

ON FRONT PAGE

More than any other woman member of Parliament, Mrs. Braddock, a smartly-tailored brunette of 53, is on the newspaper front pages.

Among Parliament's acknowledged "best-lookers" is Lady Tweedsmuir, whose father, the first baron, was novelist John Galsworthy and governor-general of Canada. Tall and fair, she is an active member of the Conservative rank and file.

The only woman minister of cabinet rank is Florence Horsburgh, middle-aged education minister.

On the opposition back-benches sits Jennie Lee, 48, wife of Bevan and one of his faithful parliamentary supporters.

NO SPECIAL FAVORS

Women enjoy no special parliamentary privileges apart from those dictated by the gallantry or courtesy of the men.

Like the men, they may take guests to dine with them, and they have their own rest room.

In the Commons itself, they face the men on equal terms, taking their share in the cut and thrust of debate. Their sex does not spare them from political attack across the floor, nor does it excuse any ineptitude they may show if they reach the rank of minister.

BRUNT OF RECENT HEAVY FIGHTING on the Korean front was borne by "Charlie Company, 3rd battalion of the Royal Canadian Regiment, some of whose survivors rest up and have breakfast the morning after the action, earlier this month. In the group are: Pte. H. W. Collins, Port Perry, Ont.; Cpl. D. S. Hartman, Kitchener, Ont.; Pte. E. W. Alexander, Toronto; Pte. D. E. Kelcher, Toronto; Pte. W. M. Brown, Truro, N.S.; Pte. P. M. McManus, Elora, Ont.; Pte. G. V. O'Neill, Kentville, N.S., and Pte. A. King, Christian Islands, Ont.

LIEUTENANT E. H. HOLLYER of Toronto (left) called down artillery fire on this command post in Korea when it was overrun by Chinese Communists. His action was credited with saving the situation and he was given an immediate award of the Military Cross for his "coolness and gallantry." The post was occupied by No. 7 platoon of the Royal Canadian Regiment. In the action the 3rd battalion of the RCR was engaged. With Lieut. Hollyer is Sgt. P. J. Stone of New Westminster, B.C.

Urges Spanking

WINNIPEG (CP)—Magistrate D. G. Potter remarked in court that youths who go around in gangs and get into trouble with the law ought to be treated like children and spanked. He suspended sentence on two youths implicated in the thefts on condition they pay for the losses.

Special Dances, Receptions To Be Held Coronation Day

MELBOURNE — (Reuters) — Dancing and singing in the streets, marching soldiers and prayers in churches will mark Australia's celebration of the Coronation.

In various parts of the country there will be extensive decorations, special dances and receptions, fireworks, colored lights, massed banks of flowers, reviews of troops and fly-pasts of aircraft, speeches and salutes. Boy scouts and girl scouts will take part in huge homage rallies.

ies and lines of school children will follow chalked lines to form huge colored crowns surmounted by E R Elizabeth Regina on green athletic fields.

In the far north, Aborigines will beat the red earth into dust and their spirits into a frenzy in a corroboree dance.

Television has not yet come to Australia. But Australians will follow radio descriptions of the pageantry in London.

In the capital, Canberra, the new governor general, Field Marshal Sir William Slim, will make his first major public appearance.

He will hold a reception at Parliament House and later will take the salute from service detachments.

Lincoln heavy bombers, Vampire jet fighters and navy aircraft will take part in a fly-past while a royal salute is fired by the artillery.

Also in the program for Coronation week are a civic ball, a state banquet, a fireworks display, a symphony concert, a full-scale armed services display and an international ball arranged by the good neighbor council, an organization whose aim is to make "new Australians," as immigrants are called here, feel at home.

Some 450,000 Australians have sailed to London to see for themselves the pageant of June 2.

Fifty ships have carried these Australian sightseers to Britain. Another eight or ten thousand are travelling by air.

Father Finds $665 in Cash In Baby Buggy

NEW YORK (AP) — Now who'd dump garbage in a baby carriage?

Quess I'll just have to throw it out.

Hmmm, maybe I'll have a look inside the bag.

What? did I say garbage?—It's money!

This was the train of thought Tuesday night for Frank Conry, 35, an elevator operator, as he found a paper bag filled with $665 in cash in the empty baby carriage of his two-year-old child. The carriage had been left in an apartment house hallway.

Police said they were looking for the owner, hoping to trace him through some names of papers found with the money.

The micro-wave system has a capacity of 12 one-way television channels or thousands of telephone circuits.

Edinburgh Scot Takes Over As Pipe Major of RCAF Band

LONDON (CP)—A 32-year-old pipe major from Edinburgh has taken over the RCAF's pipe and drum band at North Luffenham. Sgt. John McKenzie, from a line of pipers dating to the days when the pibroch first sounded across the Scottish moors, now gives lessons in the craft to air-men such as Sgt. Stan Bendle of Toronto, LAC. Campbell McNeil of Sydney Mines, N.S., and LAC. Jay Henderson of Victoria. Formerly in the Scots Guards, whose red and black Royal Stewart he has exchanged for RCAF blue, McKenzie brought his own pipes to No. 1 fighter wing, where the RCAF pipe band was formed about a year ago under a former Glasgow police band piper. The 30-piece, volunteer band will have its first real test May 30, when it will compete in the Caledonian games at London's White City Stadium. McKenzie has never visited Canada. His only link so far is a sister-in-law, Mrs. P. Shanahan, who lives in Toronto. But the husky Highlander hopes ultimately to take his wife and 11-month-old daughter to Canada. After 17 years of playing the pipes—he was taught by famous Willie Ross at Dunblane Academy — that new RCAF pipe major says there's only one way to learn. "Start young when your fingers are supple, and keep at it," he says. "You don't necessarily have to be a Scotsman."

Young Veteran Appointed Naguib's Aide

CAIRO (Reuters) — Lt.-Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser, a young, strapping six-footer who looks like a movie star has been appointed to the No. 2 role in the Egyptian administration.

His appointment as vice-president of the 13-man military junta revolutionary council, the country's controlling body, confirmed his position as the right-hand man of Prime Minister Mohammed Naguib, president of the council.

In recent weeks, Nasser has presided over the daily meetings of the council when Naguib could not be present, and has come to be regarded as the top policy-maker in Egypt's military administration.

Nasser, a modest man of 35, wields vast power in the fast-moving regime of the new Egypt. From the beginning of Naguib's coup d'etat last July it was clear that Nasser, in his quiet way, was the strong man of Egypt's military regime.

When the coup leaders vacillated on whether to shoot, imprison or exile Farouk, it was Nasser who largely influenced the decision to spare the pudgy monarch's life. His reason: "History will sentence him to death."

Now, nearly a year after the coup, Nasser is the right-hand man of the premier. But, unlike Naguib, Nasser's power is directed from behind the scenes. He rarely makes public appearances.

Before Naguib came to power, Nasser's career showed no spectacular development. But he learned much about military affairs, particularly during the Second World War when he was attached to the British forces in the western desert of Africa.

Senator Warns Against Tariff Tension

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — A Canadian Senator warned the United States at a conference of the Pacific Northwest Trade Association here that neither his country nor its neighbor could afford to risk threatened tension over tariffs.

Senator J. G. Turgeon of Ottawa said he was concerned about import restrictions, particularly on agricultural products, that might threaten the good relations of the two countries.

"Unfortunately," he said, "already many strong statements have been made in Canada. There have been threats of retaliation. Those threats have been made by members of Parliament, not by the government, but they are serious in any case."

The speaker, for a number of years a Canadian representative in the United Nations, said some Canadian legislators wanted to place export restrictions on nickel and asbestos in retaliation. Canada is the chief source of both products, he said.

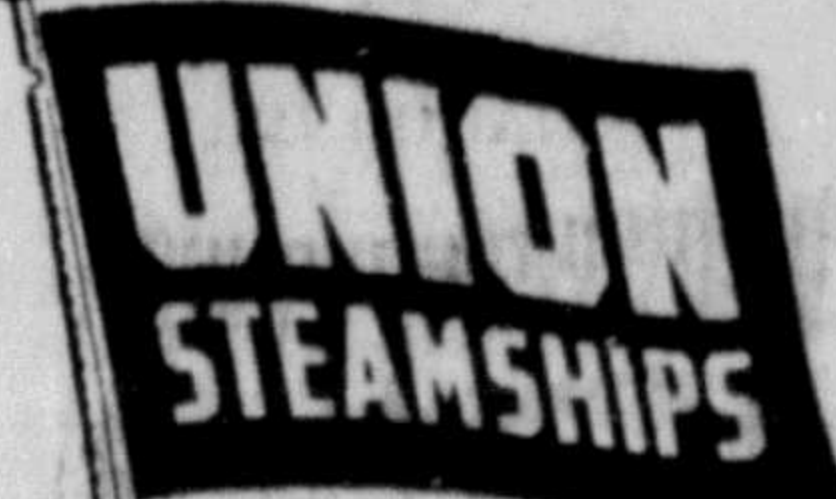

Another speaker, William H. Brown, secretary-treasurer of the American Viscose Corp., suggested that Alaska could get valuable lessons from Canada on how to attract investment capital.

He emphasized liberal tax treatment and sources of accurate information as strong points in Canada.

American Viscose is an investor in the $40,000,000 pulp plant at Ketchikan.

In the Black

CORNWALL, Ont. (CP)—Mayor Aaron Horowitz remarked "it's not much, but at least it's not a deficit," when the auditors' statement revealed the city of Cornwall had a net surplus of slightly more than $3,000 in 1952. Operating surplus actually was about $14,000 but somewhat more than $10,000 was needed for cost of reassessment.
