Highway Sixteen to Get Legislative Attention

VICTORIA (CP)—The Northern Trans-Provincial Highway from Prince Rupert to Prince George is among public works department construction projects which will be placed before the Legislature at the session which opened today, it was announced in the Speech from the Throne.

One Hurdle Cleared in Korean Armistice Talks

MUNSAN (Canadian Press)—Negotiators agreed today on the final clause of the Korean armistice but two major hurdles still blocked a truce settlement.

The agreement is to recommend that the belligerent governments hold a high level political conference within 90 days after an armistice to consider "withdrawal of all foreign forces from Korea, peaceful settlement of the Korean question, etc."

The agreement was reached in a full dress session. Staff officers were assigned to the job of incorporating the recommendations in the armistice.

Officer Made Bookie Bets

VANCOUVER (CP)—Detective William J. Butchart of the city gambling squad Monday testified that he had made almost $200,000 off-the-track bets, seventy-five percent of them with bookies, during the last twenty-four years.

The "expert on betting" made the statement while being cross-examined at the trial of 26 persons accused of conspiring to keep betting houses.

"I made them illegally, not in the course of duty," he admitted. "You went in representing the law and made bets?" Defence Counsel G. L. Fraser asked. "I didn't represent the police department," the detective answered.

Pay For Holiday

It All Depends On Kind of Agreement

VICTORIA (CP)—Whether or not overtime is to be paid for those who worked on the special holiday for the King's funeral last Friday depends on the type of bargaining agreement.

Many workers who are paid by the day or hour will lose a day's pay even if they are covered by union agreements. This is because some union contracts require that employees be paid for only specific holidays such as Christmas, etc. In cases like these, employers need not pay their workers for Friday if they had the day off. Other union contracts say employees must be paid for all special holidays even if they did not work.

Those businesses which did remain open must pay their employees according to their union agreements. If the contract said that overtime must be paid only for specified holidays, workers will be paid only their regular pay for working Friday. If the contract says that overtime is to be paid on all official holidays, the employees get time-and-a-half.

If the firm has no agreement with its employees, it may pay them straight time or overtime as it desires.

Fierce Winter Gale Brings Tragedy to Ships on Atlantic

BOSTON (CP)—Thirty-two seamen were rescued and 56 others were lost or awaiting help after two tankers broke in two late yesterday off Cape Cod in a fierce and sudden storm which claimed at least 25 lives ashore and covered the New England and Canadian Maritimes coast with a deep blanket of snow.

While searching for one tanker, the Fort Mercer, which had reported herself in distress, rescue aircraft unexpectedly sighted another, the Pendleton, which was breaking in two. Seven men are known dead off the two ships and 13 others are unaccounted for.

Quick rescue work by the coastguard resulted in 32 seamen being taken off the stern portion of the Pendleton by means of whalers. One man was lost during this operation. Another eight men, believed to have been on the bow portion when it sank, are supposed to have perished.

Meantime, a more tragic drama of the sea was being enacted as 23 crew members of the Fort Mercer, also with bow and stern broken apart by the force of the gale, are unaccounted for and supposedly lost.

Another ship, the Helen Stevenson, was reported badly damaged by the storm 200 miles north of Bermuda.

The 50-mile northwester caused at least 30 deaths ashore on the New England coast, several of them dying of heart failure from exertion of snow shovelling.

A mantle of nine inches of snow was laid on Nova Scotia. TOW TO BOSTON The coastguard cutter East Wind moved to the side of the severed stern section of the Fort Mercer in rough seas today and planned to tow the wreck and 33 remaining crew members aboard to Boston.

The captain and another survivor were rescued from the bow section of the Mercer. A message from the cutter Yakutat, a rescue ship, said that two more survivors were still on the bow but heavy seas prevented their immediate rescue. Thirty-three men were aboard the drifting stern, about forty miles away.

Meanwhile the stern of the Pendleton floated more than five miles south of Chatham Light. It was believed that no one was still aboard so it was planned to sink the derelict with gunfire. The Pendleton and the Fort Mercer, apparently, broke up at almost the same time yesterday in the winter's worst storm.

One of the survivors of the Pendleton, Douglas B. Potts, 31, said the ship "broke in half all of a sudden."

"I looked out and saw the bow of the boat floating to port," Ray Sybert of Norfolk, Virginia, the Pendleton's chief engineer, said the noise of the vessel breaking up, sounded "like a roar of thunder."

THEIR SHIP BREAKING

The freighter Helen Stevenson, which has 35 aboard, radioed today that she is in danger of splitting in two about 230 miles northwest of Bermuda.

A SOS was received from the 7,226-ton vessel by the coastguard, reporting that cracks across the main deck were widening. Search and rescue planes from Kindley Air Force base at Bermuda were maintaining vigil over the ship.

Synopsis

Overnight temperatures fell to freezing or below in all sections of the province. In the central interior Prince George was the coldest with a minimum of 24 below while Victoria was the mildest spot with a low of 32 degrees. Skies were mostly clear with general cloud banks occurring only in the southern interior. Not much change is looked for today or tonight. Some increase in cloudiness in coastal sections is looked for tomorrow as a weakening storm now moving toward Central Alaska moves across the Gulf of Alaska toward the coast. It will remain cold.

Forecast

North Coast Region—Variable cloudiness along east coast Charlottes today and tonight, otherwise clear. Cloudy tomorrow. A few snow flurries near mid-day tomorrow. Continuing cold winds east (25) in mainland inlets, otherwise north (15). Lows tonight and high tomorrow— at Port Hardy and Sandspit, 28 and 40; Prince Rupert, 23 and 35.

Speech Announces Limited Program of Legislation

General Election and Liquor Plebiscite Indicated— Important Issues Deferred

VICTORIA (Canadian Press)—The Speech from the Throne read today at the opening of the British Columbia Legislature forecast a provincial general election soon and a plebiscite on the liquor question.

The speech, read by Lieutenant Governor Clarence Wallace, said the only business to be placed before the Legislature will be of a nature considered to be "essential for the maintenance of public service."

The plebiscite on liquor will probably ask the opinion of the voters on the sale of spirits by the glass in cocktail bars. Presumably the plebiscite will be held at the same time as the election.

The Speech also said that the Legislature will be asked to ratify the new Dominion-provincial taxation agreement.

Reports of three inquiry boards into compulsory hospital insurance service, the Labor Act and Workmen's Compensation will be tabled but only "certain recommendations" of the board inquiring into workmen's compensation will be dealt with, the Speech said.

In view of the recent death of the King, usual pomp and ceremony were lacking when the Lieutenant-Governor opened the session. The Royal Canadian Mounted Police, however, fired a salute and there was a guard of honor.

The Speech from the Throne was kept carefully guarded until it was read by the Lieutenant-Governor.

John Gilbanks Laid at Rest

Funeral was held yesterday of John Gilbanks, 62-year-old veteran of two wars who died suddenly last Thursday. Rev. Fred Antrobus officiated at the rite, held from Grenville Funeral Chapel.

Numerous Legion members were present. Mrs. J. S. Black, organist, played two hymns, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and "Abide With Me."

A Canadian Legion ceremony followed at the burial plot at Fairview Cemetery at which Bugler W. J. Rance played the "Last Post."

Palbearers, all Legion members, were Bob Bone, Carl Anderson, John Laurie and John Macdougall.

France Agrees To Rearing Of Germany

PARIS (CP)—The French National Assembly today gave a hesitant and deeply qualified endorsement to the European army plan for rearming Germany.

The assembly's action came on a vote of confidence in the government of Premier Edgar Faure who staked the fate of his cabinet on the army plan.

Japan Back In Seal Pact

OTTAWA (CP)—For the first time in more than a decade Japan is joining Canada and the United States this year in perennial studies of the great Pribilof Island seal herds of the northern Pacific.

Japan's re-entry into continuing a seal research program ranging across the Pacific has given officials here expectations she will become a signatory to the Alaska fur seal agreement which she abrogated in 1941.

The agreement imposes rigid controls of the killing of seals among the 300,000,000 that breed in United States owned Pribilof Islands north of the Aleutians. Canada and the United States are now the only signatories to the treaty which protects about 80 per cent of the world's fur seals.

Japan withdrew from the agreement before the second world war. She claimed the herd was migrating along the Japanese coast and devouring huge quantities of fish.

OSLO (CP)—Canada overcame a stubborn Czechoslovakian team to win 4 to 1 in the Olympic Hockey championship series. It made Canada's fourth win in the series.

Reduction in Cigarette Tax Seems Likely

OTTAWA (CP)—Ontario tobacco growers Monday asked the Canadian government for a tax cut of about 12c a package on twenty cigarettes. Official quarters indicated later that they may get part but not all of that reduction in the next budget.

Two non-smokers — Finance Minister Douglas Abbott and Francis R. Gregory of Leamington, Ontario, discussed the issue as a delegation of growers gathered to protest what they called an "out-dated and archaic tobacco tax structure in Canada."

Mr. Gregory asked Mr. Abbott to cut the 25.2c a package federal cigarette tax by about half.

As chairman of the Ontario Flu-Cured Tobacco Marketing Association and head of the growers' delegation, Gregory said that this would reduce the retail price to 30c a package from 42c and half the growing cigarette smuggling racket in Canada.

Mr. Abbott issued no statement on the conference. Informants said, however, that it was likely the cigarette tax may be sliced when the 1952-53 budget comes out in April but not as much as the growers want.

The federal cigarette tax was increased by three percent a package a year ago.

Shooting at Port Edward

RCMP are investigating a shooting incident which landed a 16-year-old Port Edward girl in hospital last night with a bullet wound in her forearm.

Police said today the juvenile was too hysterical "to make much sense" when questioned last night. In Prince Rupert General Hospital, she is reported in good condition today.

Grain Ship Now Loading

With lining of the Japanese grain ship Atago Maru completed yesterday noon, wheat has begun to pour into her holds which will be filled with 345,000 bushels before departure.

Some 40,000 feet of lumber was used in lining the steel holds. Work was done by local carpenters and longshoremen under the direction of Capt. Hector Perry, of Canadian Stevedoring Co. Ltd.

Grain loading is expected to be completed tomorrow noon when the vessel will sail for Union Bay to bunker before proceeding to Japan.

Obstacles to Entry of Germany Removed

Agreement Reached on Seven Important Points

LONDON (CP)—The foreign ministers of three western powers and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of Western Germany said today they have removed obstacles to Germany's entrance into the European community. Ministers are Dean Acheson of United States, Anthony Eden, British Foreign Minister, and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman.

France is listed in the communiqué. Seven points, they said, assured a successful conclusion of the talks now going on in Bonn and Paris.

The three ministers and Adenauer have been engaged in conference here since Saturday in an effort to smooth German-French relations and open the way for the creation of an European army in which German and French armed forces would be unified and pave the way for a "peace contract" between Western Germany occupation powers.

Trapper's Body Found in North

VICTORIA (CP)—A Royal Canadian Mounted Police plane from Prince George is flying officers into the Dease Lake area, 20 miles from Moccasin Mine, to investigate the death of Philip Hankin, 73-year-old trapper.

Hankin was found shot in his trap line cabin last Friday. A prospector, Stanley Brideau, found the body, according to Royal Canadian Mounted Police here.

The cabin is near the British Columbia-Yukon border. It has been estimated that Hankin had been dead about one month. His dogs had been shot and covered with snow outside the cabin, police said.

Bus Plunges Into River

CHATEAUGUAY, Quebec (CP)—A bus, carrying 43 passengers, Monday night plunged through a guard rail into the Chateauguay River, severely injuring six persons.

An eye-witness said the bus went through the railing when approaching the bridge and fell some twelve feet. Only the front of the bus went through the ice. Most of the passengers scrambled through windows to safety but towing trucks were called from a nearby garage to drag the bus out so that rescuers could get to others of the injured.

Some of the victims were thought to have suffered broken legs.

Robbery Admitted By Rupert Man

VANCOUVER (CP)—Calvin L. Sallas, 19, who said he came from Prince Rupert, and Earl Morris of Whalley in the Fraser Valley pleaded guilty on Monday to five charges of armed robbery. They will be sentenced tomorrow.

Police say that the two were responsible for a recent wave of small grocery store hold-ups in which not more than $200 was stolen.

A 20-year-old waitress arrested with the men boasted to the police that she accompanied them on eight hold-ups. The police, however, did not believe her story and she was freed from custody.

King Survived Cancer

THE LATE KING did not die of the cancer of the lung which made necessary his operation of last autumn.

The British Medical Journal states conclusively that his painless and peaceful death was due to a blood clot, caused by a disease of the circulation system. The King had been treated for this clogging condition ever since 1948. The lung operation was completely successful, and there was no evidence to show that any early recurrence of the cancer was expected.

THE CONQUEST of cancer seems to me the supreme medical goal of these times, for it is at the very core and centre of the greatest mystery of life.

Take the greatest love story. A single cell, we boys, mates with another cell, girl. Out of this wedding, which takes place between two cells too tiny even to be seen by the human eye, there grows even the most highly developed living creature. If you or I could look at the tiny newly wedded cell, we could not tell the difference between the tiny speck which would grow into a whale, a rattlesnake, an eagle—or a human being. But God knows. And the laws of Nature, which are the agencies of God, cause each one of these specks to develop according to wonderful patterns.

Each tiny invisible wedding speck, grows over the years to what God's laws say it should become—maybe a superb beast like a lion, maybe some cheeky and chirpy creature like a city sparrow, maybe a king, maybe you or me.

In simpler, more primitive creatures there are but a few cells. In the more highly developed creatures, like Man, there are billions of tiny cells, all doing the job they are supposed to do to fulfill their pre-planned purpose. But no matter how many or few, all the cells must themselves obey the inflexible law of God.

They must come into being by the splitting of some existing cell. They must live their individual lives, as law-abiding units of the larger organism of which they are parts.

THEN THEY MUST DIE. They must give back to God the invisible Life Force. They must give back to earth, to the material world, the material, visible elements which they have held in their own body pattern.

CANCER is a condition of lawlessness, a rebellion by the individual cells, for some reason which man has so far been unable to discover.

The individual cells refuse to die, at their appointed time. They keep on splitting and splitting into more and more living cells. They grow out of order in all directions in the end they literally kill the creature of which they were ordained as component tiny servants.

CANADA like all the rest of the civilized world has men and women year in year out working in laboratories to unravel the mystery I have touched on above.

Canada also leads the whole world in the transformation of recent atomic discoveries into agencies for combating cancer. Saskatchewan's "Cobalt Bomb" marks the greatest anti-cancer step of recent years.

But everywhere one third of all people who die of cancer could be saved if only they would take the available treatment in time, as King George did.

May Bring Down 1952-53 Budget Early in April

Considerable Tax Reductions May Come in View of Surplus

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—A record peacetime budget, containing tax reductions and announcing a surplus of possibly $500,000,000 for 1951-52, will be presented to the forthcoming session of Parliament.

The session opens Thursday, Feb. 28 and Finance Minister Abbott may bring down the 1952-53 budget Tuesday, April 8, a short time before the Commons adjourns for the Easter recess. The 1951-52 budget was presented April 10 last.

The contents of the budget will remain a secret until read in the Commons, but hints dropped by Mr. Abbott in the last few months have launched a flood of speculation.

Some political observers have predicted tax reductions amounting to between $100,000,000 and $150,000,000, despite forecasts that record peacetime defence expenditures of $2,200,000,000 are planned for 1952-53.

Mr. Abbott has said that in preparing the budget he and his officials will look closely at the heavy cigarette taxes, blamed for large-scale smuggling of American cigarettes into Canada, a drop in consumption of Canadian cigarettes and unemployment in Canadian tobacco factories.

The federal tax now amounts to 25 cents on a package of 20 cigarettes retailing for 42 cents in Ottawa. There has been speculation in unofficial circles that Mr. Abbott will cut the tax by from two-to-five cents a package.

Some also have predicted reductions in the 15 per cent excise tax on electric stoves, washing machines and refrigerators.

Mr. Abbott has said he plans to incorporate into the regular tax structure the 20 per cent defence surcharge placed on personal income taxes and corporation profits in the last budget. In doing that, he may effect some reduction in the general taxes on corporations and personal incomes.

Two per cent of the yield from the personal income taxes, from corporation taxes and from the 10 per cent sales tax will be earmarked to pay the cost of $40 a month pensions to all 70 and over, regardless of means.

The healthy surplus compiled during the current year gives Mr. Abbott a fair amount of leeway for making tax adjustments. He also has forecasts from experts that the outlook for 1952 is good. The value of Canada's gross national production in 1952 is expected to be $22,500,000,000, an increase of $1,300,000,000 over 1951.

Last spring, Mr. Abbott estimated his revenues for 1951-52 would amount to $3,730,000,000 and expenditures to $3,700,000,000, leaving a surplus of $30,000,000. Last fall, he revised his estimates and indicated he expected to end the fiscal year March 31 with a surplus of between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000.

His second estimate appeared conservative as the year neared

Arbitration for Civil Servants

VICTORIA (CP)—Arbitration proceedings will be open to British Columbia's 10,000 civil servants, if the government acts on the recommendation of special legislative committee which inquired into the Industrial and Conciliation Arbitration Act.

It was learned Saturday this is one of the committee's important recommendations in its report to be tabled in the House this week. Under the present system, employees through their organization, B.C. Government Employees' Association, bargain directly with the cabinet which has the final word.

The amount had grown to $178,284,313. At the outbreak of the second world war in 1939 expenditures were $53,063,097. They sky-rocketed to a peak of $5,332,253,505 in 1944.

They tapered off from 1944 until the war broke out in Korea. Since then they have again swung upward.

DEFENDS POLICY

Mr. Abbott has frequently defended his policy of high taxation in periods of prosperity. He has said that to carry on deficit financing in times such as these would be a "fraud on the public." The surplus is used to reduce the country's debt.

The surplus will be his sixth in a row since the end of the second world war. He had surpluses of $373,648,901 in 1947; $676,119,656 in 1948; $595,502,741 in 1949; $131,524,953 in 1950 and $203,456,000 in 1951. The 1947 surplus broke a string of 17 consecutive deficits compiled during the years of the depression and of the second world war.

Canada's net debt, amounting to a mere $266,480,004 at the turn of the century, climbed to $335,996,850 by 1914—the year of the outbreak of the first world war. By 1918, the debt had reached $1,191,884,063.

In 1939—the first year of the second world war—the debt totalled $3,152,559,314. It climbed to a peak of $13,421,405,449 in 1946. The surpluses in the last five years have reduced it to $1,441,100,000.

The trend of the debt reflected the movement of federal government expenditures. In 1901 expenditures totalled $46,896,368—an amount that now barely covers the expenditures of one department of government.

By 1914, the government was spending $127,384,473 and by 1918

Exhortation For Eternity

At St. Paul's Lutheran Church Pastor S. R. Johnson brought another stirring evangelical message last night when he spoke on the heavenly banquet, emphasizing that every time the Word is preached the invitation is sent out to prepare for eternity.

There will be a great gathering on that "last day," he declared. "And they shall come from the east and west, and from the north and south, and shall sit down in the Kingdom of God." However, the pastor made it very clear that only those who have "washed their robes in the blood of the Lamb" will be there. Jesus said: "I am the way, and the truth and the life. No man cometh unto the Father but by Me." There are people who want to be saved in their sins, but refuse to be saved from their sins.

The pastor exhorted that the people should come as they are. "He that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out." "O task, and see that the Lord is good." One's own works cannot merit salvation. Every soul must be dressed in the righteousness of Jesus Christ in order to enter into heaven.

The challenge was "Are your names written in the Lamb's Book of Life? Do you know Jesus as your personal Saviour?"

Spotlight on Schools

EDUCATION WEEK will be observed in each of Canada's ten provinces from March 2 to March 8.

The theme this year is the same as in other years: Education is Everybody's Business. Certainly, everyone subscribes to this slogan, but how many individuals dig in as wholeheartedly as they might in making the occasion something more than just another of the calendar's endless "special" weeks?

If Education Week is to be given real meaning, its success must depend on something more than lip service and a few dollars' contribution; it requires interest, ideas and active participation. The home, the church, the school, the farm, industry and commerce, management and labor, all have an interest and a responsibility in the continuing process of improving Canadian education.

Why Education Week? The purpose of this week set aside each year in March is to encourage Canadians to examine their educational system, discuss it and help in its development. Criticism, provided it is sincere, informed and constructive, can make a valuable contribution to our schools, our methods of teaching, and the effectiveness of education in a rapidly changing world.

It is easy to fall into the dangerous habit of taking education for granted. Education Week is an opportunity for all of us to clarify our thinking on the real purposes of our schools.

Feminine Appeal

MANKIND, meaning in this case the male of the species, usually discovers sooner or later the wisdom of that familiar injunction: Never underestimate the power of a woman.

Advertising men have long observed this principle by directing their appeal as often as possible to the purchasing agent of the family. Husbands, of course, do have more spending money of their own, but more often than not they are strongly influenced in the way they spend it by women's ideas, preferences or expectations.

It has been proven, too, that women influence men in many other ways—in their attitudes toward their jobs, for example. In this connection, a survey of industrial workers' wives in Cleveland last year produced some interesting findings.

The investigators found, among other things, that a wife looks upon her husband's job mainly as a source of family income. As long as spendable income is steady, she isn't too concerned about such things as job prestige or working conditions.

If young, the wife encourages her husband to work overtime for more money. If older, she is more inclined to oppose overtime.

The wife of a habitual absentee may have considerable influence in correcting the situation if the facts are brought to her attention.

There is nothing very startling about these findings; they merely help to confirm what many people have assumed for a long time—that employees' wives are an important factor in industrial relations.

Wide Variance in How Hands Are Played Shows Up on Score Cards in Match

This is the first deal in a team of four match between our friends from Mr. Masters' club and a team representing the Uptown Club.

By a really strange coincidence, the players from the Uptown Club are named Mr. North, Mr. South, Mr. East and Mr. West.

On hearing this, Mr. Muzzy caused a stir by insisting that he and Mr. Dale play against Messrs. East and West.

SOUTH'S TOO GOOD
"I'm not going to play against that fellow South," he asserted. "I read four bridge columns every day and South holds all the cards and make impossibly good plays on every hand."

Mr. Muzzy's request was granted and after the contest the four players got together to discuss the results.

"You and Muzzy seem to have had some unusual results," said Mr. Champion as he looked over his teammates' score card.

"We did," answered Mr. Dale drily.

four spades and South led the king of clubs. When North played the deuce, things looked pretty hopeless for the defense.

"South switched to a diamond and I won, knocked out the ace of trumps and later parked my queen and jack of hearts on dummy's diamond suit, making five-odd. I imagine it was the same at your table, wasn't it?"

"Not by any means," said Mr. Dale, smiling. "At our table Muzzy held the South cards and the defense he put up held declarer to 10 tricks."

"Unbelievable," Mr. Champion muttered.

"A fact, nevertheless," said Mr. Dale. "We took three tricks on the defense, so we win the match."

See tomorrow's column for Mr. Muzzy's amazing defense on this same deal.

Red Wings Make It Sixth Straight Win

Gordie Howe Gets Two Goals in 4 to 2 Victory Over Boston

DETROIT (Canadian Press) — Gordie Howe scored two goals in the last eight minutes, capping a third period rally which brought the Detroit Red Wings a 4 to 2 victory over Boston Bruins here Monday night.

It was first place Detroit's sixth straight triumph, boosting its National Hockey League lead to fifteen points, the biggest of the season.

Howe's two goals were thirty-second and thirty-third of the season, tops in the National Hockey League. The last one was a 60-foot shot into an empty cage after Goalie Jim Henry had been pulled out with 55 seconds left.

Twice Boston held the lead. Dave Creighton counted his fifteenth goal of the year for the only counter in the first period. The Red Wings tied it up briefly on Glen Skov's tap of his own rebound.

The best that could be said about the Poles, who absorbed their fourth straight shellacking, is that they tried hard. In the hockey sense, they did not belong on the same ice as the Canadians.

Five teams among the nine entered in the round-robin tournament are still undefeated. Sweden heads the hockey standing with four straight victories.

Other undefeated teams are Canada, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland and the United States, each of which have had a bye in the series.

OSLO — Hjalmar Andersen, Norway's sensational speed skater, completed a triple slam in the 1952 Olympic Games today, shattering three records in the process. Andersen was against the class in his own field in winning the 10,000-metre race, breaking his own listed world record and the 16-year-old Olympic record to become the first triple winner on consecutive days.

His victory also gave Norway six of the eleven Olympic championships decided up to that time in the 1952 Games.

OSLO — Edmond Mercurys romped through a snow-storm Monday night in handing Poland's weak hockey team an 11 to 0 shut-out, wrapping up Canada's third victory without a loss in the Olympic hockey championship series.

As far as hockey prestige is concerned, the result meant little or nothing.

The ladies get into action with stones and brooms next Monday night with the opening round.

Delicious refreshments were served to more than 200 members and guests by the Ladies' Curling Club with preparations in charge of Mrs. Moore, assisted in the kitchen by Mrs. Gene Holliston, Mrs. Joe McKay, Mrs. John McLeod, Mrs. Harry Paulson, Mrs. Roy Evans, Mrs. Sid Elkins, Mrs. H. Kellough and Mrs. Ed Boulter.

Mr. Frizzell sent the first rock down the ice after which teams were served for the first game. Skips were G. N. Moore, J. Laurie and Dr. L. M. Greene, president's team; E. Boulter, Bill McKenzie and T. G. Bateman, vice-president's team.

Climax of the round came at the end with the final rock being thrown by Moore, which displaced rival Boulter's rock in the centre.

Delicious refreshments were served to more than 200 members and guests by the Ladies' Curling Club with preparations in charge of Mrs. Moore, assisted in the kitchen by Mrs. Gene Holliston, Mrs. Joe McKay, Mrs. John McLeod, Mrs. Harry Paulson, Mrs. Roy Evans, Mrs. Sid Elkins, Mrs. H. The Navy means Business!

Canada's Navy is engaged in the largest peacetime expansion in its history. We must play our full part in defense of freedom of the seas and our essential ports.

More Ships to be manned!

Canada's shipyards are building new Canadian-designed ships. Other ships are being modernized and will join the fleet. Ships... more Ships... is the aim.

More Men to be trained!

More men are needed to operate these ships and the large naval establishment behind them. There are immediate openings for good men in all branches of the R.C.N., but particularly needed are men to train for the technical trade branches, including:—

ENGINE ROOM • ELECTRICAL • SHIPWRIGHTS
BANDSMEN • NAVAL AIRMEN (sea-going "ground crew")

To join the Navy you must be 17 to 25 (29 in some specialized categories) ... have Grade 8 education or better ... be physically fit. When applying, please bring certificates of birth, education and trade qualifications (if any).

See the R.C.N. recruiting officer at the address in the coupon... or mail the coupon today.

City Council To Bid $25,000 For Third Avenue Site

An offer of $25,000 will be made to the Liquor Control Board of British Columbia by the city of Prince Rupert for the former liquor store located on Third Avenue and Third Street, proposed as a site for a new automatic telephone exchange building site.

Decision was reached Saturday night at a special sitting of city council after a two-hour session. The long debate began on a question of whether or not to send Ald. Michael Krueger as a delegate from Vancouver to Victoria on official city business.

Ald. Krueger had told council previously he was going to Vancouver at this time on business of the company which employs him. Finance committee was given power to act in authorizing Ald. Krueger and Ald. Hills, who also went to Vancouver on company business, as delegates.

Special meeting was requested by Aldermen J. W. Prusky, George Casey, Harry Daggett and H. F. Glassey when finance committee could not agree on this matter.

Considerable feeling ran throughout the debate in which Mayor Harold Whalen called for order several times. The mayor also told several aldermen point blank they were "wasting time" and they didn't "know your own mind."

After throwing out two motions and an amendment which sought to leave all city negotiations with the Victoria government until after the Legislature session, council finally approved a motion to offer $25,000 for the liquor store and grounds as only action to be taken at this time.

Meantime, Ald. Krueger will attend the Union of B. C. Municipalities meeting in Vancouver as a city delegate.

CHANGES MIND

Ald. Casey also said he had changed his mind about approving the Post Office site on Second Avenue as a future home for civic buildings. He said he was opposed to it on account of likely high expense involved in purchasing the property first of all—money we can't spare at this time.

After Mayor Whalen called on for the council, City Clerk R. W. Long said the "most pressing problem at this time" was to find a site for the telephone exchange building.

"The telephone engineer has drawn his plans on all connections terminating at the old liquor store. The bid on what it will cost for a new system will be based on those plans. But if we can't get the building, it is the problem of the council to decide on another location as soon as possible."

Mayor Whalen called on the council to "act and not waste time any longer."

"If we don't decide and make upon our minds as to what we want pretty soon, we'll be waiting another year longer for a new telephone system, and I for one, hate to feature that."

It is expected that if negotiations with the Liquor Control Board are not successful, telephone exchange site will be chosen next to the present city hall site.

HONEYMOONER JAILED—John Lalonde, 43-year-old magazine salesman of Lanark, Ont., shown with his 15-year-old bride, was jailed on a charge of abduction six days after his marriage to Ma'lorie Mary McGonegal. The warrant for the arrest was sworn out by the school girl's mother, Mrs. Eldwood McGonegal of Lanark, who was visiting Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., when the couple married. A two-day search by police for the couple ended when Lalonde and his bride walked into Provincial Police headquarters at Perth, Ont. (CP PHOTO)

Industrialist From Sweden

Knut Varfeldt, Danish-born industrialist of Malmö, Sweden, is paying a brief visit here with his brothers, Gunnar and Ole Varfeldt, in the course of a business tour of Canada and the United States. He arrived Friday by air from Vancouver and will be returning south tomorrow.

It is the first visit to this continent for Mr. Varfeldt who is manager of a roofing and asphalt manufacturing concern at Malmö. However, Mr. Varfeldt has travelled extensively in Europe and, in addition to Danish and Swedish, he speaks English, French and German fluently.

Before coming here on his trip, which is being carried out entirely by air, Mr. Varfeldt was in New York, Chicago and San Francisco. After leaving here he will visit Victoria, Toronto and Montreal.

This is the first time he has seen his brother Gunnar in twenty-three years while it is twenty-seven years since he last saw Ole. He is keenly interested in Prince Rupert and has had the opportunity to visit various industries here.

Soon after the end of the war, Mr. Varfeldt had occasion to visit Germany, among other places the stricken city of Aachen where not a single building was left standing after the bombings.

Ships and Waterfront

Bound north from Vancouver to Skagway and other Alaska points on a regular scheduled voyage, CPR freighter Yukon Princess, Capt. Shields, was in port on Sunday, arriving at 10:30 a.m. and sailing at 3:45 p.m. The vessel had a full cargo of freight for Skagway enroute to the Yukon.

Furser A. H. Robinson of the Union steamer Camosun is off this week for a holiday at home in Vancouver. A. Anderson is relieving as purser during his absence.

CPSS Princess Louise, Capt. Ronald Hicks, arrived in port at 1:30 p.m. yesterday, a few hours late due to cargo unloaded at Kemano Bay. Passenger list leaving Vancouver totalled 179, of which 21 arrived at Prince Rupert. Others were employees for the Kemano-Kiikimat site. Those disembarking here were G. Mulvey, Don McKerricher, Mrs. Boyd, S. Burchell, Mr. McCuaig, Mrs. J. Slack, Mr. Chursky, Dr. ens Munthe, G. E. McKee, J. F. T. Marquette, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Duffey, J. A. Lindsay, J. J. Jackson, Mrs. Spreadboro.

Frank Waterhouse freighter Chilliwack arrived yesterday from the north with 295 tons of concentrates from Stewart and 137 tons from Alice Arm. Chilliwack will load 10 cars of herring meal at Butedale before proceeding to Ocean Falls for 72 tons of paper for Powell River.

BASKET BUZZES

City basketball playoffs continue tonight in a four-team fixture, one game to decide who will meet the league topping Elks Saturday.

Playing their second of a two-game, total-point series, CCC 300 and Rainmakers take to the floor in the final show. Winner in points will play Elks. Score Saturday was 60-54 in favor of CCC.

Meanwhile, the second round of semi-finals starts when Manson's face Gordon & Anderson in the first senior bill tonight. There is also a two-game, total-point feature which finishes Saturday. Winner enters the finals with Elks, or team playing Elks—whoever wins the total-point series.

Finals begin March 4 and championship playoff will be a best two of three series.

Meantime, Prince Rupert all-stars, the Co-op Challengers, are turning out three nights a week to bear down with Coach Alex Bill in preparation for the big test. Senior "A" playoffs begin in Penticton March 13, when Challengers meet Omegas in a best of three series.

Winner goes on to Vancouver, where B. C. finals begin March 17, also best of three.

"I'm not making any rash promises," says Coach Bill, "but we've got something entirely different this year and I think there is a good chance it may work." Bill was referring to a new type playing tactics which he is drilling into his men.

He will take a 10-man lineup with him to go south, all of whom are expected to get the necessary ten days off from their work.

Al Was Good Man For Prairie Farmer But He Did Not Stay

The whistle of a freight train warned the prairie town it was moving on but hardly had the echo across the parched fields subsided when a knock sounded on the door at the end of a well trodden path.

"Al's, my name," said the middle-aged bareheaded man dressed in rough garb, and he continued to tell the blue-uniformed man a story of being hungry, without a job, home or relatives who cared.

The story was well-known to the other who was, in part, a welfare worker. It was a story told so many times, the kindly man wondered why they didn't change it just a little sometimes. But Al got his meal ticket, of course, and with it left for the town restaurant.

Within minutes, the "Army" man answered a telephone call. It was from a farmer, wanting a man to work "for a couple of weeks."

"A man for a job? Why, sure, I know just where to find one," was the prompt reply, and half an hour later Al was on his way to the farm.

A week later the farmer called again—this time to say what few employers have time for.

"Thanks for sending that man over," the farmer said to the "Army" man. "But why would such a good worker be out of a job? He can stay here as long as he likes."

ANOTHER WEEK
Another week went by before the farmer called once more—this time for another man.

"Why—what happened to Al? You were sold on him, you said."

The farmer told this story: "We were working the back fifty, near the railroad tracks. There is a long valley down which the train comes and a lot of cross roads the train has to pass over . . ."

The farmer went on to say how the morning was so clear the moan of the whistle seemed to hang in the air. Al heard the whistle, too. In fact, he stopped the tractor he was driving as the freight train neared. He asked the farmer to pay him off quickly.

"I gave him his pay and he took off. Had his bundle with him, too. Caught the freight at the nearest crossing."

Just then, the moan of a whistle warned the prairie town a freight was coming through.

"I guess there goes our Al," said the farmer.

"And he's probably not alone," suggested the Army man.
