A Tasty Dish

MAGELSEN, New York star of the Vancouver Theatre Under the Stars hit production Norway, seems to be agreeing that he is viewing two tasty dishes. With him holding a bowl of tossed salad is Betty Bailey, another star of the show. They were two guests Salad Supper served principals of the T.U.S. show by the B.C. Salad Week Committee at Park Pavilion last Wednesday night, on the eve of Canada's third annual Salad Week runs from July 30 to August 8.

Laurent Has 'No Intention' Repudiating Campaign Letter

The Associated Press
"dishonest" campaign letter to Petawawa horses, taxes and co-ops figure the federal election Friday.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said the previous night at Sarnia, Ont., that the letter was the "most dishonest" he had ever seen and demanded that Mr. St. Laurent repudiate it.

The letter said the Liberal government is trying to make certain troops get a "fair share" of Canada's "high" living standards but that the Progressive Conservatives "think the government has been extravagant in providing such lavishness and luxury for the armed services."

Mr. St. Laurent said he had focused on inquiry that General Pearkes had made the statement in Parliament's official report.

Mr. St. Laurent said there had never been any horses on the payroll at Petawawa, but no matter how often he told Mr. Drew of this fact "he keeps on asserting this statement which is not true."

KETCHIKAN BALL TEAM TO PLAY HERE TONIGHT

The postponed international baseball series between Ketchikan and Prince Rupert all-stars will be played this evening.

Moore Elected Head Public Relations Council

Moore was elected chairman of the Prince Rupert public relations council at a meeting of the newly-formed organization to discuss plans for the city to potential industry, and to the museum with sufficient funds.

Assisting the museum financially with an eye to the eventual erection of a new building will be an important part of its function.

Two Killed P-38 Crash

DAWSON, Y.T. (CP)—Two men were killed Friday in the crash of a Spartan Airways P38 plane two miles from Dawson. Dead are: Pilot Jim Lago and navigator Ben Benoit.

Twenty-Three Fishermen Fined For Fishing In Prohibited Area

Yanks Reject Protest

WASHINGTON.—U.S. officials today drafted a rejection of Russia's protest that American pilots shot down a Soviet plane—and pondered the curious timing of the Russian communication.

American fighter planes downed a Soviet craft Monday in the dying hours of the Korean war.

The United States says it was over Korea. The Russians say it was over Red China.

Meanwhile it was learned Russian planes have appeared over the polar perimeter of North America and Greenland, where the United States has air bases and other defences, about a dozen times within the last 12 months.

Similar scouting expeditions over Japan average about one every two weeks, a well-informed U.S. Air Force source said today.

This information was made available in answer to questions arising out of the shooting down of an American B-29 bomber which, American officials said, was flying 40 miles off the Siberian coast.

The information was received before Russia formally protested that four American fighter planes shot down a Soviet passenger plane with 21 aboard near the Chinese-Korean border last Monday.

No data may be given on the exact number of incidents involving forays by Soviet planes in the Arctic. It is not known the location or circumstances.

Two Ships Due Over Week-End

Two foreign vessels will be docking here over the week-end and the first of the week to pick up grain.

The Norwegian ship Landan-ger of the Anger Line will arrive Sunday night to pick up a cargo of screenings for Europe. The MV Liberator, a Greek vessel, will take a full cargo of wheat for Japan.

THREE GENERATIONS of the motorcycling Mansell family set out for a Spin in Findon, Sussex, England, with four-year-old Paul Mansell leading the procession. Paul's "machine" is actually a pedal-driven tricycle, fitted to look exactly like the motorcycles manned by his 70-year-old grandfather, Jack Mansell, and his father, Jack Jr., 39 (rear).

Many Interesting Persons Attracted to City Museum

Proof that the Prince Rupert Museum on Second Avenue is one of the biggest tourist attractions in the city is the fact that from June 15 when the museum opened until today 1,045 persons have signed the visitors' book.

Also noteworthy is the number of interesting and sometimes quite famous people that tour the two-storey museum and express admiration for the exhibits and work of the North Coast Indians.

In this week, taking photographs while on a research trip up to Alaska was photographer-author Dick Farrington and his wife Lynn.

Farrington, formerly a photographer and feature writer for the Toronto Daily Star, became well-known when he recently published the story of his sojourn with the Eskimos called "Face of the Arctic Arctic." The book, well filled with excellent pictures and studies of the Eskimos describes his northern tour that took him from the east shore of Hudson Bay to Cambridge Bay on the Arctic Ocean.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrington dropped in on their way to Ketchikan and Telegraph Creek.

Also visiting the museum this week was an enterprising school teacher who is hitch-hiking for knowledge during the summer vacation. Gerold Feltham, Nova Scotian-born teacher now employed at the Indian school at Prince Rupert, paused to examine the Prince Rupert museum exhibits after visiting Anchorage and Fairbanks, Alaska. He had already hitch-hiked through Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba to Churchill and having been up north was planning to visit Vancouver Island.

His plans from there include a trip to San Francisco and then north again to Salt Lake City, east to Kansas City and New York and back to Prince Rupert in time for the start of school.

After being among the Cree and Chippewyan types of art and work in Prince Rupert he was amazed at the difference in coastal Indian craft. However, he felt that work done by the Haida Indians was far superior to any that he had seen.

Mangrum Leads Tam O'Shanter

CHICAGO (AP)—Lloyd Mangrum today celebrated his 39th birthday as top man at the half-way mark of the Tam O'Shanter golf championship.

His seven-under-par 137 nudged him a single stroke ahead of Ed (Porky) Oliver, Dave Douglas, Ed Furgol and Jimmy Clark.

Offenders Warned Not to Break Law

Fines totalling $575 were levied here this morning against 23 fishermen for fishing in a prohibited area. It was the largest group of fishermen to appear on such charges in many years.

Appearing before Stipendiary Magistrate H. F. Glassey, some of the men said they were carried into the area by strong tides. There was only a small amount of fish involved.

One fisherman, James McKay, was fined $50 for venturing seven miles into the Big Bay area.

All were issued summonses by inspector William Strachan of the fisheries department and his patrol, who found most of the fishermen off Finlayson Island, in Area 2, which was part of the Skeena area closed last Friday for 10 days as a conservation measure.

The area opens again tomorrow night at 6 p.m. Magistrate Glassey warned the offenders that while he was levying only a small fine this time that stiffer penalties would be imposed if any of them appeared before him again. All were first offenders.

He said the laws were made to be enforced and they must pay for breaking the rules.

The magistrate levied $25 fines on all except Mr. McKay. The following paid $25 fines: John Haldane, Gregory Rush, Eddie Russen, Nykola Serbeniuk, John McSween, Yoshio Ichiiwa, George Wesley, John C. Tait, Kichizo Tanaka, Harold Burton, A. Hargrove, John Robertson, James Henry, Y. Sakai, K. Yamashita, Norman McLeod, Charles E. Alexcee, William Adams, Katsiyi Hayoshi, Johnny Alexcee, Charles Watts and Norman Jeffrey.

40 Children Head For Camp Record Storm Hits Prairies

Plans have been completed and the fourth annual Lake-shore Bible Camp, directed by Rev. L. A. Thorpe, opens next week for 40 Rupert children between the ages of eight and 11 at the Kinsmen Kiddie Kamp, Lakelse Lake.

Mr. Thorpe leaves Monday with Dick Kilborn, recreational supervisor, and Miss Ethel Moorehouse, instructress, to get the camp ready for the arrival of the youngsters the following day.

A charter bus will leave the Regular Baptist Church at 8 a.m. Tuesday.

Besides enjoying various sports, the children attend lesson periods each morning. They will be away for nine days.

A second camp of 30 between the ages of 11 and 13 will spend 10 days at the camp beginning Aug. 13. Miss Rusty Thain will attend the camp as swimming instructor and supervisor.

Also attending both camps will be Charles Sinclair, pastor at the Evangelical Free Church.

WEATHER

Latest weather charts give promise of sunny warm weather for B.C. over the weekend.

North coast region: Sunny today and Sunday. Cloudy overnight. Warmer. Light westerly winds. Low tonight and high tomorrow at Port Hardy, Sand-spit and Prince Rupert, 52 and 65.

Douks Strike Again

NELSON.—One woman was badly burned and several other persons had narrow escapes Friday when fanatic Doukhobors set fire to 10 homes in the West Kootenays.

Six homes were destroyed in a one-block area at Krestova, unofficial capital of the radical Sons of Freedom sect.

RCMP said all the homes were occupied by cripples and elderly persons.

Most seriously injured was Mrs. William E. Soukoreff, who was burned on her face and neck when she attempted to save belongings from her blazing home.

At nearby Goose Creek, two bedsteads, a stove and a sewing machine were all that remained of the log home of George Babakaeff.

Ten fires left nearly 30 persons homeless.

Some moved into woodsheds, while others began making over garages and lean-tos.

Edmonton, however, was not the only point hit by storms.

In Southern Manitoba, rains were general and in one little town five inches of rain washed out highways and railroad tracks.

Clean-up campaigns were started in dozens of centres this morning, but officials don't expect to finish the job until mid-week.

The storm struck suddenly and crops in many prairie points were destroyed.

Production of Synthetic Yarn Starts at Giant Edmonton Plant

EDMONTON (CP)—The first silk- of fibre.

The plant in three months is expected to be producing 300,000 pounds of filament and staple fibre a week. Production will increase as operators are trained to handle the complicated machines and as engineers iron out wrinkles.

Partial operation of the plant's petro-chemical department, which makes the first use of Alberta natural gas to manufacture chemicals, is expected to start any moment.

The employees now number about 400. They will be increased to between 700 and 800. They work in buildings sprawling over 430 acres.

One of the largest buildings houses machinery to process cellulose from Prince Rupert, B.C. Cellulose and acetone are the two main ingredients of the synthetic yarn.

'STRAW MATTING' cushions the cement of a Pusan street that serves as a boudoir for this refugee family—one of the many homeless families that bed down nightly in the streets of the Korean city. Refugees of all ages, from all parts of the war-torn country, sleep in a tangle of arms and legs, preferring a life on the streets of Pusan to return to the dangers of their destroyed home towns.

Eat More Salads

NEXT WEEK is Salad Week—an annual campaign to encourage Canadians to eat more fresh fruits and vegetables.

The Canadian Horticultural Council which launched Salad Week in 1951 points out that if Canadians would eat as much fresh fruits and vegetables as health and nutrition authorities recommend, the domestic market for home-grown produce would be increased by 43 per cent.

According to the latest figures available, the average Canadian is eating 376 pounds of fresh fruits and vegetables per year while the amount recommended for a properly balanced diet by nutrition experts is 537 pounds per capita.

Obesity, which is today's polite term for being "too fat," is becoming the number one health problem for overfed, undernourished North Americans.

Changing food habits is a slow process. The Canadian Horticultural Council does not expect everyone to begin eating salads regularly as a result of Salad Week.

All Aboard By G.E. Mortimore

The Soviet embassy has just been repainted, so there will be no war for five years, says an Ottawa newspaper.

It is unlikely that the shrewd Russians would squander all that money on decoration if they were going to blow Ottawa sky-high and the embassy with it, the newspaper theorizes.

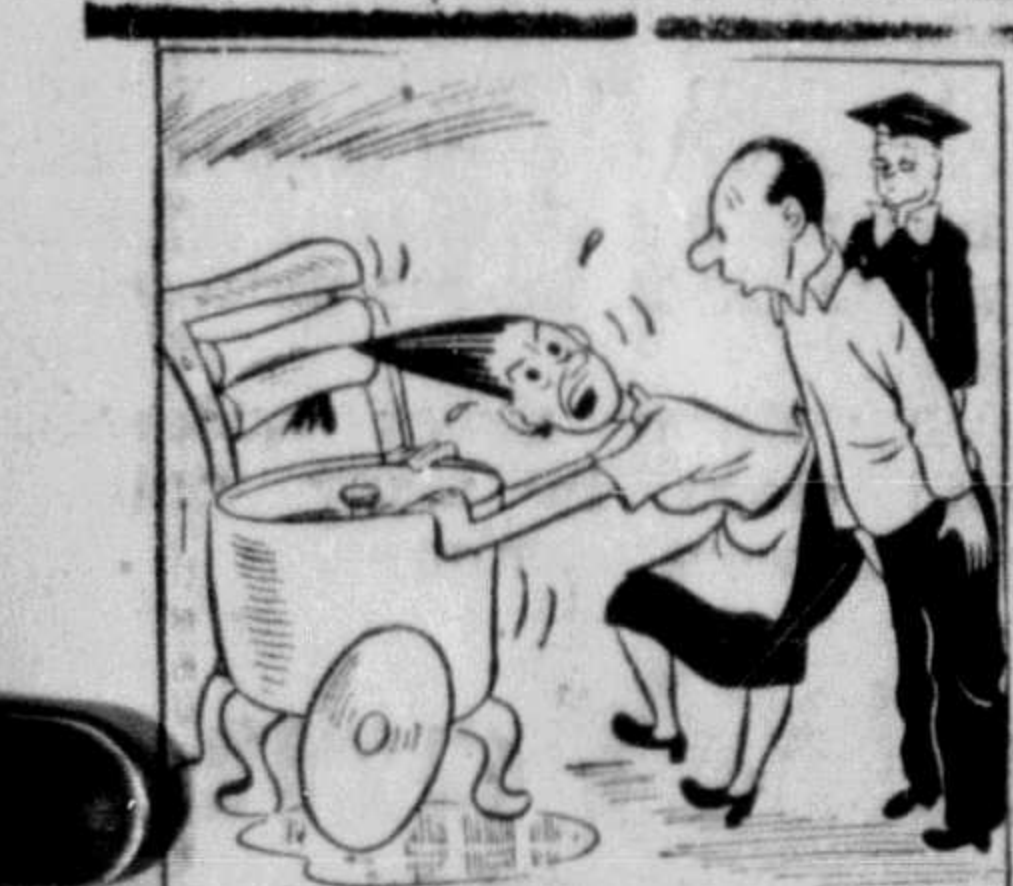

"Not with the cost of painters what it is today." The editorial writer was having fun, but the readers of signs and portents will take him seriously, I'm afraid.

Calling international policy by signs and portents is a trickier business than forecasting weather by watching the squirrels at their harvest.

Squirrels, groundhogs and moss growing on the north side of trees are unreliable aids for a weather prophet, but they are at least honest.

The Japanese had envoys in Washington talking peace at the very moment that Japanese planes were taking off to bomb Pearl Harbor.

As I See It

Lucky Number 57

WHEN my long time friend C. D. Howe stood on the election platform in Vancouver South and told the people how I initiated him into politics away back in 1935 I knew some folks would be saying:

"Well if Elmore is as old as all that, what is the use of electing him an M.P.? Surely he must be too old for anything but the Senate."

Well, you see, I had been in politics quite a while when C. D. Howe came into the picture. I started young.

I AM 57 years of age now—and incidentally 57 is my lucky number.

I will vote (for myself) in poll number 57 and the happiest years of my life were at the old, long time family home at 57 Mountain Avenue, Hamilton, Ontario.

Sometimes when my friends call up people on the phone, or knock on the doors in Vancouver South folks ask:

"Is Elmore's health good enough to stand up to the job of being an M.P.?"

Well, I get around quite a lot even without being an M.P. Even though I do carry around in my carcase quite a sprinkling of steel, as a souvenir of the Kaiser's war, it does not seem to hold me down too much.

Anyway, if I were you I would not bet even a cigar that yours truly will not still be in circulation in the year 1957 which might be an even luckier year for me than the one so sprinkled with 57's right now. You never die before your time—says something inside me.

I FIRST ran as a Liberal candidate in West Hamilton in a by-election in 1931. That was quite a while ago. Then as now some folks said "Elmore would make a good member, but we wonder if his health would stand it?"

On election day I went into the campaign headquarters in the middle of the day. My frantic campaign manager rushed up to the radio station to make an emergency announcement. It seems that a barber who had placed a bet on the election had passed around the rumor:

"Elmore has dropped dead." The silly rumor at least gave me the chance to borrow one of Mark Twain's wisecracks. I told the folks by the radio that I could assure them the announcement was a bit premature.

But what really burned me up was when I heard what the barber had bet. The rascal had bet just one measly cigar on the outcome!

MY FATHER and mother are both still alive at age 87. Twelve of their thirteen children survive, and they have so many grandchildren and great-grandchildren that I just can't keep track. Besides, you have to revise the figures upwards so often that it hardly seems worth the bother of doing the job the census takers get paid for.

REVISE INDIAN ACT The Editor, The Daily News—The state of affairs on downtown Third Avenue last Saturday night should alert and horrify every citizen, as indeed I think it has.

An article appearing in the Vancouver Sun July 27 will turn this horror into anger. Such a flagrant distortion of the truth is intolerable. The facts are that 59 were arrested, both natives and others, many of whom were not intoxicated.

Seldom do we hear about necessary amendments to the Indian Act. Little is said about the ruthless exploitation and discrimination against national minority groups.

The natives live every day under the shadow of the Indian Act which makes them second-class citizens as long as they live on the reserve.

During the time that we served in the armed forces overseas, we could not help observing the methods employed by the police forces over there to maintain law and order.

This is not enough. It goes much deeper than that. It concerns discrimination against minorities and thus becomes a case for every organization of the people such as churches, trade unions, P-TAs and others to raise their voice in protest against this injustice.

The talents of the native population as musicians, artists, sculptors, boatbuilders, etc., are smothered by bigotry and lack of facilities. Should we not be ashamed of what our governments have done to the native population?

ANN MINARD, L-PP Federal Candidate

LOYAL CITIZENS The Editor, The Daily News: Last Saturday's disturbances, on Third Avenue, have received provincial-wide publicity.

Various letters have been written in our local paper regarding the same, but no one has given the Indian side of the story.

Before proceeding to express my views on the subject, I want to refer briefly to our local Indian history. When our Mother Country, Great Britain, brought civilization and Christianity to our forefathers, they accepted it without a war.

Among other authorities, they learned to respect the Royal Canadian Mounted Police; men who travelled thousands of miles over wilderness in pursuance of their duties.

The Canadian Indians have always proved themselves loyal subjects, especially in the two world wars.

He was teaching the nervous young thing how to drive when she suddenly exclaimed: "Quick, dearest! Take the wheel! Here comes a tree!"

THE AVERAGE Indian wants to become a good citizen of our great country, but if the police continue to use methods, too closely allied to the former Nazi S.S. methods, we may have an "Indian riot" over which we have no control.

Reflects and Reminisces

Since the passing of Joe Stalin, several shake-ups have been felt in Soviet Russia. But not a single one has shaken down the Iron Curtain.

Every infant, says the average parent, craves security. But above all else, reliable safety-pins.

He was teaching the nervous young thing how to drive when she suddenly exclaimed: "Quick, dearest! Take the wheel! Here comes a tree!"

Tourists strolling up town want to see more than one side of Prince Rupert, and so cross the street at any old point.

These people brought new life and power into their communities. They were like the high transmission lines that run criss-cross about our land; like the communication lines that run along the tracks and highways.

MAINTENANCE MEN

By REV. LAWRENCE G. SIEBER, First United Church "Men who have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ."—Acts 15:26.

Travelling through British Columbia by train and car is often impressed by the fact of many lonely houses in mountainous places. I remember my first train trip through the Rockies.

This is a good phrase to let sink into our minds: "Maintenance men." The rail traffic must be kept on the move.

Maintenance men are found in other places than along railroad lines. They are found everywhere in our everyday living.

We meet them often in every generation. Looking back into the story of the Christian Church I find Paul mentioning some of them by name.

These people brought new life and power into their communities. They were like the high transmission lines that run criss-cross about our land.

University of Manitoba Honors Former Rupert Man

Professor Charles Daniel Taper, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Taper, 420 Eighth Avenue West, Prince Rupert, and assistant professor of horticulture at Macdonald College, St. Anne de Bellevue, P.Q., has been awarded a doctorate of philosophy in botany at the University of Manitoba.
Prof. Taper spent his childhood and most of his youth in Prince Rupert. Born in Prince Edward Island, he came to Prince Rupert with his parents when a child. He was educated at King Edward School and also took his senior matriculation here before going to UBC. He joined the 102nd Coast Artillery Regiment here and later transferred to the First Canadian Survey Regiment with whom he served overseas for 5½ years.

King Ed Hawks Keep Unbeaten Record With 4-3 Win Over Section 2 Wildcats

King Edward Hawks retained their unbeaten record in the Little League Baseball series when they edged Section 2 Wildcats 4-3 in seven-innings at Algonia Park last night.

The game, played before an estimated 200 spectators, was by far the best and most exciting so far in the league and, in the words of president Art Williamson, "it shows what can be done by taking an interest in our young people."

Both teams played good, clean ball throughout and the calibre of play gave an indication of what the public can expect next year when the league officially gets under way.

Pitchers on both squads were outstanding and it was just the breaks of the game that gave the Hawks their victory.

The winners went into a 2-0 lead in the first inning when R. Oskey homered with Jensen on second and it wasn't until the top half of the sixth inning that Hawks tied the game. Then Brydges got the winning run in the seventh.

Wildcats racked up their runs in the first and third innings.

Brydges started on the mound for the Hawks and was replaced by W. Oskey in the fourth, but came back to strike out the last two Wildcats in the extra inning.

Clayton pitched the first four innings for Wildcats and W. Smith finished the game.

There was little to choose from the two teams as the boys put all their efforts into the fast-moving contest.

Next game will be played Monday night.

A general meeting of the little league executive and all team coaches will be held at the park following the game Monday night.

HOLE-IN-NOTHING SCORED IN HANDICAP TOURNAMENT

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—You can mark Mrs. Jack Gustin down for a hole-in-nothing.

Mrs. Gustin used a 4-iron to hole out her tee shot on the 144-yard 12th hole at Brookfield country club. She was playing in a handicap golf tournament and was entitled to one stroke on the hole.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Williams is back and the stories out of Boston say he "might" be able to do some pinch hitting in about 10 days. You wouldn't want to bet, mister, would you?

A couple more days like Wednesday when Chicago score eight runs against Boston in the ninth inning, and Teddy is liable to take his batting practice between the hours of 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. in American League games.

Williams' return naturally recalls the dramatic comeback of Hank Greenberg in 1945. Hank, a captain in the U.S. Army Air Force, was away for four years before he returned to Detroit Tigers. He hit a home run in his first game, played 78 and wound up with a .311 average.

That final damp day at Sportsman's Park in St. Louis never will be forgotten by those who were there. Washington already had finished its season with an 87-67 record. Detroit, rained out Saturday, went into a final Sunday doubleheader at St. Louis with an 87-65 record. If Detroit won both or split, they were in. If they lost two, there would be a playoff Monday.

Washington had four pitchers, including Roger Wolff, the knuckleball ace, waiting in Detroit for the playoff. The rest of the club was ready to take off as soon as the results were in.

It rained hard at St. Louis, so hard it seemed they never would be able to play. The game started an hour late and was played in a drizzle. With St. Louis winning, in the ninth, Greenberg stepped up in the rain and mud to hit a grand slam home run that won the pennant. The second game never was finished but it didn't matter.

In baseball, nothing is impossible. The Red Sox trail the Yanks by 9½ ball games and time is beginning to run out on them. Still, they have 55 games to play, eight with New York, nine with Cleveland and seven with Chicago.

The Yanks don't see the Red Sox again until Sept. 7 when Williams figures to be back in the lineup as the regular left-fielder. And five of those eight September games with the Yanks are at Fenway Park.

They say Ted will get about $50,000 for the balance of the year. That comes to about $1,000 a game. The rest of the league ought to chip in to help the Sox pay the salary, for Williams' return will be the greatest attendance tonic the league could have.

Yanks Trip St. Louis 11-1

By The Canadian Press

If Paul Richards' hopes have aspirations when he hits New York next week-end, he better set a base-hit ration system for Chicago White Sox.

Friday at Washington, the Sox managed only three hits off Bob Porterfield and lost 2-0 to drop 5½ games behind New York Yankees who smothered St. Louis, as expected, 11-1.

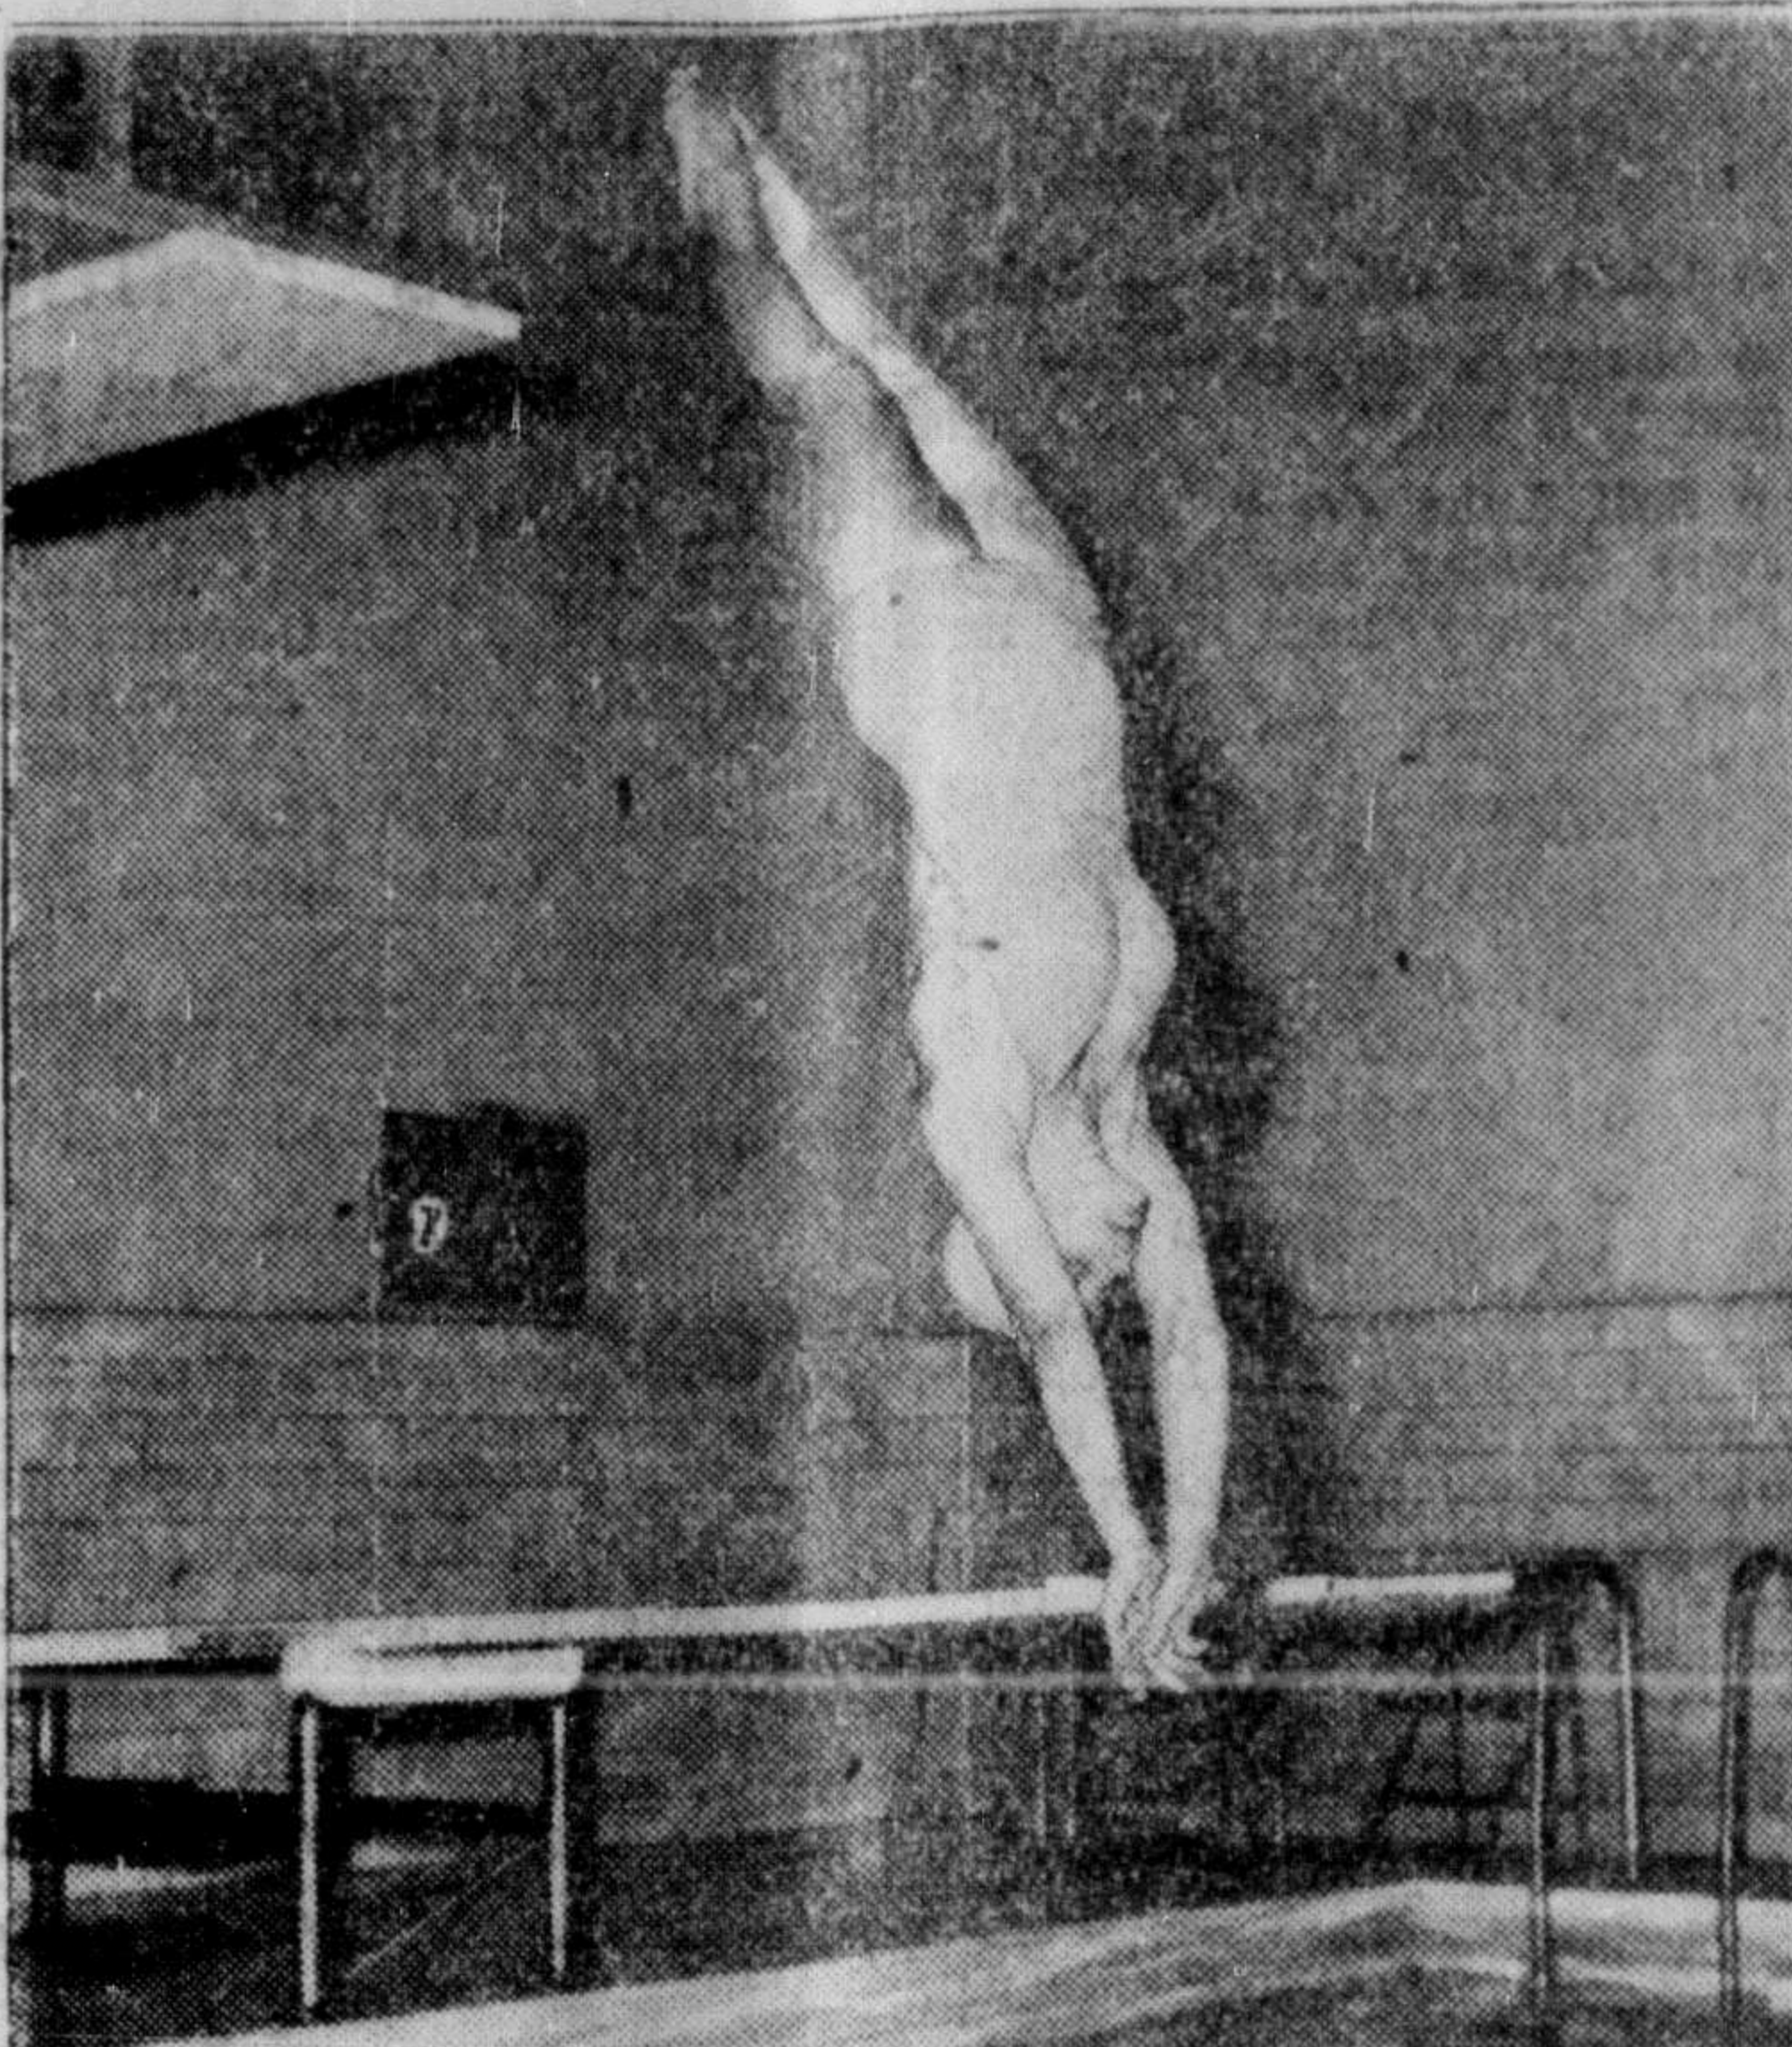

Cleveland whipped Philadelphia Athletics, 12-6, with Wally Westlake hammering five straight hits including a homer.

Ralph Brance won his second game for Detroit Tigers, beating Boston 5-3.

Brooklyn finally broke their west-of-the-Mississippi jinx with a 2-1 squeaker over the Cardinals in St. Louis for their first triumph in six tries in the Cards' home park.

Milwaukee Braves bowed, 5-1, to Robin Roberts in the first game of a twilight-night doubleheader with Philadelphia Phillies. The second game, a scoreless pitching duel between Bob Miller and Max Surkut, was halted in the top of the 11th inning because of rain.

New York Giants beat Cincinnati 10-1 behind Larry Jansen's pitching.

JACQUELINE LeBLANC of Toronto displays the style that won her the senior women's three-metre diving title at the Canadian Swimming and Diving Championships at Winnipeg.

Cobb Rates Campanella One of Greatest Catchers

CHICAGO (AP)—Ty Cobb, one of baseball's immortals, says Brooklyn's Roy Campanella potentially is one of the greatest catchers of all-time.

The Georgia Peach said Wednesday, after watching the Dodgers whip the Cubs 6-5: "He's got to watch his weight and be the all-star catcher for the next few years. He's great now but you've got to go over a long period of time to prove it to everybody."

Cobb, 66, was a surprise guest at Wrigley Field, enroute from Copperstown, N.Y., to California. He leads all baseball with a lifetime batting average of .367. He said of Campanella: "Look how close he is to the plate. That the sign of a great catcher. He catches a lot of balls before they curve or drift away from the plate and gets strikes on a lot that are called balls on other pitchers."

Remember When

Percy Williams was eliminated from the 100-meter dash in a semi-final at the Los Angeles Olympics 21 years ago today. Eddie Tolan of the United States won the heat and equalled the Vancouver star's world record time of 10.3 seconds set in 1930.

Wicks Calls Conference

VICTORIA (C.P.)—Provincial Labor Minister Lyle Wicks will hold a round table conference with representatives of about 175,000 British Columbia workers Aug. 28 to discuss amendments to Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

He said the Native Brotherhood of B.C., the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.) and each local council of Canadian, Congress of Labor and Trades and Labor Congress of Canada have been asked to send representatives.

U.S. To Retain Shemya Airport

WASHINGTON (C.P.)—The air base at Shemya Island, on Alaska's Aleutian chain, will remain in operation for at least a year, Senator Jackson (Dem. Washington) said today.

He said he was advised by F. B. Lee, Civil Aeronautics administrator, that CAA is making arrangements with the Air Force to continue operations of the base until July 1, 1954.

The Air Force has announced it will no longer use the North Pacific air route to the Far East, using instead the Central Pacific route.

Chiefs Down Loop Leading Senators, 2-1

By The Canadian Press

Wenatchee Chiefs climbed out of the Western International cellar Friday night on neat two-hit pitching performance by lefty Rick Bothelo. He led the Chiefs to a 2-1 decision over the loop-leading Salem Senators.

Pushed into last place was Victoria, who split a twin bill with Spokane, taking the opener 7-1 and dropping the 37-hit nightcap, 20-11.

Tri-City's Braves crushed Yakima, 10-2; Edmonton squeezed by Calgary Stampeders, 5-4, and Lewiston shaded Vancouver, 6-4.

Senators got their only run off Bothelo in the fifth when Chuck Essigan doubled and scored on an error. Jerry Ballard got the other safety, also in the fifth. Jake Helmuth's single and Harry Bartholomew's triple gave the Chiefs their winning run in the seventh.

Bill Bottler rationed Spokane Indians to three hits in gaining credit for Victoria's first game win over the Tribe. Jim Command was the big gun in Spokane's 25-hit attack in the second game with a single, a double and a triple.

John Marshall, winning pitcher, and catcher Clint Cameron teamed up on the offensive to give Lewiston its win over Vancouver Capitanos. Marshall went the distance in scattering 11 hits and joined Cameron in a three-for-three performance at the plate. The Broncos clinched the win in the bottom half of the eighth with four runs.

Stampeders jumped off to a 5-0 lead in the first two innings as they edged Edmonton and snapped a five-game losing streak. Glen Hittner spaced 11 hits for the Stamps, who made the most of five safeties.

Five errors told the story in Tri-City's shellacking of Yakima Bears. Fourteen walks issued by three Yakima moundsmen helped the Braves' cause along. Vic Buccola furnished Tri-City's batting power, punching out three hits in five times at the plate.

Pipeline Company Attempts To Interest U.S. Buyers

VANCOUVER (C)—British Columbia supporters of a natural gas pipeline running from the Peace River area to Vancouver have started to stump the Pacific Northwest states to drum up interest in the proposed project.

In order that the pipeline be economically feasible, it will also have to deliver gas to the populous states of Washington and Oregon. B.C. businessmen are trying to convince the Americans they will be better off with Canadian gas than from United States sources.

W. C. Mainwaring, vice-president of the B.C. Electric, has fired the latest round in the battle of words between the rival pipelines.

He journeyed to Yakima, Wash., Thursday night to tell businessmen attending a joint service clubs meeting that natural gas from Canada will provide almost as much power for the Pacific Northwest as two Grand Coulee hydro dams.

Mr. Muzzy Should Make Errors Like Champion's!

Mr. Champion did an excellent job of counting today's hand and finally defeated the contract by a brilliant play near the end. As you see, the opening of the ace of clubs would have clarified the situation at the start and the defenders would have taken the first four tricks.

But even Mr. Champion cannot see through the backs of the cards and he led the ace of diamonds and continued a diamond. Dummy's king won the second trick. The ace of spades was cashed followed by a small spade to the queen. On the second spade Mr. Champion discarded the five of clubs.

Mrs. Keen now ruffed the jack of diamonds on the board. She cashed dummy's two high hearts, led a third heart and ruffed it. With both red suits now stripped from her hand and dummy, she led a club.

Mr. Champion was ready. Without hesitation he played the ace. This startling, but necessary, play befuddled Mr. Muzzy. He was horrified to see that his partner had dropped his lone ace.

"Well, chalk up an error for you for a change," he said to Mr. Champion. "Did you HAVE to go up with the ace?"

"You should make an error like this one now and then," Mr. Champion replied. "If I had played the jack of clubs, you'd have won with your king. With only red cards left, the lead of either a heart or a diamond would let Mrs. Keen ruff in one hand and discard a club from the other. We'd get just two clubs and a diamond."

"Well, what if Mrs. Keen had held three clubs to the king?" asked Mr. Muzzy.

"Then we couldn't defeat her," said Mr. Champion. "If I won with the jack of clubs and cashed the ace, it would make her king good. Or if I led a heart after taking the jack of clubs, she would get a sluff and a ruff—again losing just two clubs. On the fall of the cards I knew she had exactly three clubs and we couldn't beat her unless you had the king of clubs alone."

John Morrison Buried Today

Funeral services for John Morrison, 49, bosun on the Dominion public works department snag boat Essington were held today at 2:30 p.m. from Grenville Court chapel, with Rev. Dr. E. A. Wright officiating. Burial took place at Fairview cemetery.

Mr. Morrison was born in Stornoway, Scotland and came to Canada 34 years ago. Coming to Prince Rupert about 12 years ago he worked at the grain elevator and at the drydock. He later served aboard the Department of Transport lighthouse tender Alexander McKenzie and also the Alberni and Port Alberni. He was single and had no relatives in this country. He died Wednesday.

Rupert Scouts
Leave For Camp

A dozen Prince Rupert Boy Scouts left today for 10 days camping at Lake Kathlyn, near Smithers.

The Scouts, under the direction of Scoutmaster Archie Mitchell and Assistant Scoutmaster B. Warmouth, will take part in regular outdoor training camping routine, swimming, hiking and patrol work trying for their outdoor badges.

Returning today are three Prince Rupert area Scouts who have been attending the Boy Scout Jamboree at South March, Ontario. Two of the trio, David Bidsdale of the First Prince Rupert Scout Troop and James Baldwin of the Second Prince Rupert Troop, will fly in today, weather permitting.

Some men have the mistaken idea that quality clothes are too expensive. They should know that quality is not costly when you consider the value of a good impression and the seasons of wear a good suit gives.

Shiffer-Hillman Clothing leads in workmanship, styling and fine quality wool worsteds, unequalled for long wear, comfort and good looks.

BUDGET SURPLUS BELOW
FORECAST BY ABBOTT

OTTAWA (C)—The finance department announced today the government's 1952-53 budgetary surplus totalled $23,500,000—less than one-half of the $48,000,000 forecast by Finance Minister Abbott in his budget speech Feb. 19.

However, it is nearly three times greater than the $9,000,000 Abbott predicted at the beginning of the fiscal year.
