Lands Minister announced today that a newly-formed committee will be sent to find out if there is an oil pool off the coast of British Columbia this summer.

There has been a long history of oil exploration in the area. A permit has been issued for a newly-formed company to drill in the area. The company is a joint venture of the British Columbia government and a private company.

The committee will be sent to find out if there is an oil pool off the coast of British Columbia this summer. The committee will be led by a member of the Lands Department.

Teachers' Pay Set at $4,000

Teachers' salaries will be set at $4,000 per year, according to a decision made by the B.C. Teachers' Association.

The association has agreed to a new contract with the government. The contract provides for a 10% increase in salaries over the previous year.

The new salaries will be in effect from September 1, 1954. The association has also agreed to a new contract for the next year.

City Youths Get Two Years For Break-Ins

Two city youths, Henry Spalding and Barney Dixon, were sentenced to two years in the B.C. Penitentiary for breaking and entering and theft.

The youths were charged with breaking into a store and stealing goods. They were found guilty by a jury.

The judge sentenced them to two years in the B.C. Penitentiary. The youths were also fined $500 each.

Phone Dispute Snags Army; McCarthy War

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Karl Mundt (Rep.-S.D.) said today that the Senate investigating sub-committee may have to re-write what he called its "fuzzy" order for seizure of records on telephone calls in the McCarthy-Army dispute.

With the sub-committee's national televised hearings in recess until Monday, Mundt said in an interview that there is some doubt about the legality of making public transcripts of monitored conversations without the consent of both parties.

"If this matter gets into the courts, we don't want the whole investigation to go down the drain because of a legal technicality," he declared.

STORMY SESSION

In a stormy session, the sub-committee's four Republicans and three Democrats voted Friday to subpoena "all memoranda, all documents, all notes of monitored conversations as between parties in this controversy and all others that are relevant."

If they are found to be material and relevant to the issues this committee is now considering.

The unanimous vote came after McCarthy threw the hearing into an uproar with a charge that the transcribing of a Nov. 7, 1953, telephone conversation he had with Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens was "completely improper."

Indecent and illegal under the laws "because he knew nothing of the action at the time."

Stevens has charged that McCarthy and his chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn, sought special treatment for a drafted former committee aide, G. David Schine. McCarthy has replied that Stevens and his aides tried to put pressure on the sub-committee into dropping its investigation of alleged Communists in the army.

Ash Seen To Fall on City; Test by Geiger Negative

Possibility that some of the ash now positively seen dropping on Prince Rupert, may be particles of coral from the South Pacific was voiced this morning when at least half a dozen fishermen reported seeing a half hour fall of some mysterious substance.

Another separate report received just after lunchtime said that for a few minutes a similar fall of fine particles was observed on Third Avenue between Third and Second Streets.

The fishermen, who wished to remain unidentified for fear of ridicule, all swore that for half an hour this morning a fine powder fell all around the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-op plant at Fairview. The particles, about the size of a sugar grain disintegrated after a few moments, but left no mark. The fact that no moisture was left after evaporation discounted the theory that it might be a brief snow storm.

CITY BLOOD DONOR CLINIC ASKED BY HOSPITAL BOARD

A blood donors' clinic in the Prince Rupert General Hospital was approved last night by the board of directors with the offer of hospital facilities and medical personnel to the local Red Cross unit.

It will be the first resident blood collecting clinic in the city.

The plan calls for the project to get underway in May, two nights a month. The Red Cross would be required to furnish all but medical personnel, and take on canvassing for donors.

Documents A-Blaze In Both Countries

CANBERRA (CP)—Documents went up in flames in embassies 12,000 miles apart today as Russian diplomats here and Australians in Russia prepared to return home after Friday night's break in diplomatic relations over the Petrov case.

In Moscow, the Australian embassy staff worked at top speed to be ready to depart by Sunday night, reports from Russia said.

Andre Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, told the Australian charge d'affaires, Brian Hill, Friday that he wanted the Australians out in "three or four days."

The Russians here, recalled by the Kremlin and not ordered out, can take their time.

The break in relations was called by Russia in a note protesting granting of asylum to Vladimir Petrov, former embassy official and secret police chief in Australia, and his wife Evokiya. The note said Petrov was a criminal who should be arrested by Australia for theft and that Mrs. Petrov had been "kidnapped" by Australian government officials.

Australia had rejected the demand for the return of Petrov when it was made earlier, and is keeping him in a secret hiding place. Mrs. Petrov was reunited with him after a tumultuous incident in which she was taken from a plane at Darwin just as she was about to depart with Soviet agents for Moscow.

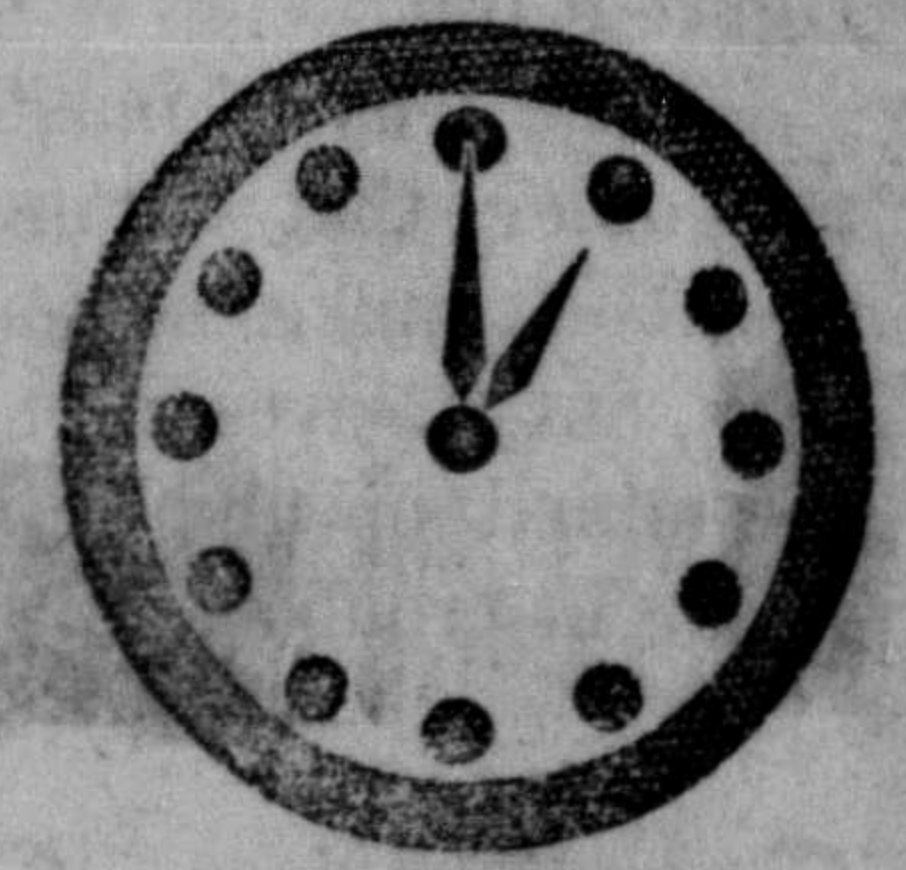

In that incident, the Soviet note charged, "Australian police used violence against the second secretary of the embassy..." and subjected the Soviet diplomatic couriers to forcible search with the use of physical violence.

REDS DISARMED
The two couriers had been disarmed by the Australian police at Darwin after the Russians tried to bar authorities from talking to Mrs. Petrov.

Moscow radio's announcement of the note was the first the Soviet public had been told of the Petrov case.

It is not yet known when the 51 adults and children connected with the Soviet embassy here can get out of the country. There also is the Sydney correspondent of the Tass news agency and his wife.

Meanwhile, the staff today was busily destroying all documents they could not carry with them in a secluded spot in the embassy garden, where a huge fire was burning.

Move Clocks Ahead Tonight

Tonight at midnight Daylight Saving time comes into operation in Prince Rupert and residents will lose an hour's sleep.

Also unless clocks are put ahead one hour at midnight, worshippers tomorrow are going to arrive at city churches in the middle of the sermon.

The time change will affect passengers for the Canadian National Railways and Steamship companies but not those planning to travel by Canadian Pacific Steamships or Canadian Pacific Airlines.

CNR officials said this morning that the Eastbound train will now leave at 9:20 Daylight Saving time, or 8:20 standard time on which all railways and steamships operate. The Rupert bound train will arrive at 10:35 Daylight Saving and city time or 9:35 standard.

The regular Wednesday Canadian National steamship "Prince George" will arrive at 12 noon city time and leave at 1 a.m. Thursday morning, city time, for Ketchikan. It returns to Prince Rupert at 8 p.m. city time Thursday and leaves for Vancouver at 12:15 a.m. city time Friday.

The CPR Canadian Pacific Steamships, however have advanced their sailing and arrival times one hour standard so that residents will go aboard or meet the Sunday boat at exactly the same time as before. The CPR ship will arrive at 8 a.m. city time Sunday and leave at 10 p.m. city time.

Canadian Pacific Airlines departure time remains the same, 11:45 a.m. every day including Sunday.

Nass Leaders Given Queen's Medals

Chief Bright, Mrs. Martha Azak Reiterate Allegiance

A memorable occasion for two settlements on the Nass river during which Chief Michael In-spring Bright, of Aiyansh, and Mrs. Martha Azak, of Canyon City, received Coronation medals was described today by Indian agent Frank Anfield who made the awards.

Speaking of the ceremony at Aiyansh, Mr. Anfield said: "Chief Michael Bright, age 85 years, blind and feeble, but in full uniform as honorary president of the band, was led to the platform, following which I gave an address and pinned the Coronation medal on Mr. Bright's uniform. The old blind bandmaster was given a great ovation by his people."

"Then followed a number of choral selections by the Aiyansh choral society, comprising a group of some 35 men and women whose voices, though untrained by modern standards, were true and full."

The choir, conducted by George Robinson, sang in four parts. After this performance there were speeches by Chief Michael Bright and Chief Councilor Munroe.

"It was a great evening for Aiyansh whose people over and over expressed their deep appreciation of the high honor bestowed on them," Mr. Anfield said.

At Canyon City, a village of 83 inhabitants, almost the entire population was at the landing to greet Mr. Anfield and Constable B. Groenoweg, RCMP. Later at the newly completed hall a speech of welcome was given by Edward Azak, deputy Chief Councilor, in the absence of Ernest Azak, Chief.

"Other addresses followed, then came my own address, after which a dear old lady, long over 70 years of age, Martha Azak, with 72 living children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren, was escorted to the platform and duly honored by the Queen in the Coronation medal.

"She made a lovely speech, filled with humility and gratitude and closing with a plea to the younger people to remain worthy of the honor bestowed on their village and people," Mr. Anfield said.

In her address, Mrs. Azak spoke of the village's happiness in having the Queen notice its boat-building accomplishments and added: "We want to say that we quite well understand that such an honor as this medal is given for victories and work done in the days that are past. We know that just having this medal will not make us the top village in the agency for 1954.

"Therefore we ask you, Mr. Anfield, to inform Her Majesty the Queen that we have industrious plans for the immediate future to prove further that we are a progressive people. We hope to gain permission and assistance to develop the timber wealth of this upper Nass river area."

Remarking that fishing is in a precarious condition and that her people wished to remain independent if at all possible, Mrs. Azak said that plans for tapping timber resources include development of hydro-electric power.

Expressing thanks to Inspector W. M. Taylor, RCMP, who attended one of the previous ceremonies and had a member of his force in attendance for all others, Mr. Anfield said:

"The presence of these officers in full scarlet and gold made a fine impression and was much appreciated by the Indian people in every village."

TO MARS... AFTER MANY MOONS—Trips to Mars have been predicted by Dr. Wernher von Braun, Chief of the Guided Missile Development Division at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala. Writing in the current issue of Collier's Magazine, Dr. von Braun says the trips will probably not come about for at least a century and will take more than two and a half years, round trip. Above is the scientist's blueprint of how men will live on the red planet during more than a year they will have to wait for it to swing into a favorable position for the return trip to earth. Tricky Problem

COMMENCEMENT of daylight saving at midnight is our first real sign that summer is almost with us. It is a sign which causes varied emotions. Gardeners who want a little more time in the evening with their flowers think it is great. Mothers with a problem of getting small children to bed are much less happy about it. The children are inclined to side with the gardeners. And so it goes.

But there is one thing about it on which almost everyone seems to agree. It is the question of whether to turn the clock back or ahead. Opinion is virtually unanimous that this is one of the most confusing problems known to modern man. Mathematicians, astronomers and transportation officials have all been known to fall by the way in trying to figure it out.

One way of mastering the brain-teaser is to remember that summer is ahead, so clocks go ahead. It makes no sense from the logical point of view, but it saves a lot of work. Of course, if you get mixed up and think of winter being behind, you're in trouble again.

Conquering Cancer

IN THE extraordinary success of the Conquer Cancer appeal we have evidence of the deep impression made by those among us, both now and before, who have so courageously fought this cruel affliction. It is a tribute to them, as well as to the generosity of Prince Rupert people, that the drive has soared far above its objective.

If this will to win and to help others is common to many communities, the victory over cancer must be close at hand. For those whose lives it has taken, there could be no finer remembrance than to see the disease in turn destroyed.

Law Versus War

AS THE leading statesmen of the world assemble at Geneva, to discuss peace in the Far East, the main sentiment is pessimism. Even Lester Pearson leaves Canada, cautioning the newspapermen who see him off not to expect too much from the gathering.

It seems to me that what we are witnessing at this moment of history is the almost last days of nationalism.

All the nations of the world are caught in the iron-clad grip of big power politics. There is no spot on all the planet which is not subject, directly or indirectly, to one of the two superpowers—the U.S.A. or Russia.

Russia, with her new and mighty ally Red China, now controls about one-third of the population of the earth, and about the same proportion of the land surface of the globe. But this mighty bloc has a strength beyond its size and numbers. For it is all in one vast, connected, solid geographical chunk.

The vast empire of the new Red Czars cannot be starved out and broken by blockade from the outside as other contenders for world rulership were starved out and broke over the past four centuries.

I DO NOT think that the United States has so far even begun to win the world struggle against Russia because she has so far ignored her only real winning asset.

There is in my opinion only one way in which the U.S.A. can beat out Russia, either with or without another world war. That is to make the issue—not America versus Russia but law versus war, which is the product of lawlessness.

In other words, I do not expect the world tide really to turn against Communism until the nations of the west face the plain fact that the old order is already dead and proceed to lay the foundations of a new order based on world law.

WE CANNOT foresee by what exact route world law will come—for the obvious reason that we cannot foretell whether it will come, by agreement, in time to avert a third world war, or whether it will come as a consequence of such a war.

Incidentally, there is no reason to expect that the mere fighting of a world war would automatically push mankind toward acceptance of world law, made by a world parliament. An atomic war would more likely have the effect of leaving this world as a desert, where all law and order had broken down, even locally; or of making one government—either that of U.S.A. or Russia, the temporary world ruler.

But if world law comes by consent of the majority of free nations it must begin by proclaiming freedom from war and tyranny. It must make it a crime for anybody in any country to take any part in any attack, by land, sea, or air, on any other country; and it must set up machinery whereby oppressed peoples can win their freedom by some other means than the Americans had to win theirs.

BABY INJURED BY MISTAKE.
TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—A tiny baby, mistaken for a doll, was seriously injured Thursday when two boys tossed her in the air and played roughly with her. The child's mother, Mrs. Robert Volk, told police she found the two boys, one four and the other five years old, tossing the baby about. The boys told her they thought the infant was a doll.

"Years later, I went back. How everything had shrunk! The mountain was just a hill and the river was just a creek that you could jump across."

The mountains and rivers of boyhood have a way of shrinking like that. The ogres turn into harmless old men and women. Young comrades in mischief suddenly grow to be middle-aged bores, with paunches and worried frowns.

Rip Van Winkle is a poignant caricature of the returning exile. In that fable, Washington Irving distilled the sadness of the passing of time. There is something of Rip Van Winkle in every man who goes back to his home country.

You hear of people who return to England after many years in Canada.

"Old Smith stayed in England only a couple of weeks and booked his passage back to Canada on the first ship he could get," the gossip says. "He didn't like it. I guess that proves that Canada is the best country in the world."

I hate to seem an unpatriotic Canadian, but it proves nothing of the sort. All it proves is that Smith went back and found things different.

In the mind, far-away people never change their appearance. But in real life they grow old, move away, perish or forget. Meanwhile Mr. Smith has also grown older. Although he consciously rejects the notion, his inner mind hopes that in re-

LETTERBOX

OFFENSIVE LANGUAGE

The Editor:
The Daily News:
I am one of those who found much of the language of the recent play "Born Yesterday" offensive, and am pleased to find that the director, Mr. Dobbie, has heard enough repercussions to take recourse, as I am doing, to the press to state his views regarding the attitude of "the few" who objected. Here, then, are my views, and I believe many who saw the play will agree with me.

Supposing we grant that the director is honest and right in allowing the play's author complete control over the actions and speech of his puppets on the stage, then I must quarrel with the choice of play. Was that play the popular choice of all the people who gave so much time, thought, work and planning to its production? Could not a play have been chosen with dialogue less degrading to speakers and hearers? Is Born Yesterday a good play?

The Director's Note on the program pronounced it a sure fire comedy hit. Most of the laughter I heard about me came in the form of nervous titters at each outburst of profanity from the main actor. Also noted was the fact that the play's author changed his decision to write it as straight drama, and decided on comedy. The play seems to reflect this and as a result is neither. The comedy is thin, and the serious "point" of the play is made laboriously and at too great length.

Let us not be misled by the "what is good enough for New York is good enough for Prince Rupert" type of reasoning. As a small part of the Canadian public we are at liberty to set our standards as high as we please, and the fact that we pay our admission to be entertained or otherwise by a stage performance gives us the right to criticize, praise, blame to show our honest appreciation or otherwise, regardless of what is accepted in New York, Vancouver, or anywhere else.

MR. AND MRS. G. W. DUNCAN

Duncan, Bill Vows Pledged At Annunciation Ceremony

Making their home at the Angus Apartments, Second Avenue West, are Mr. and Mrs. Garrie William Duncan, whose wedding took place here last Saturday evening at the Church of the Annunciation.

The bride is Olga, youngest daughter of Mrs. D. Bill of Prince Rupert and the late Mr. Sam Bill, and the groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Duncan of Edmonton, Alta.

The Rev. Fr. O. P. Mohan officiated at the rites for which the bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Alex Bill, was lovely in an ankle-length gown of off-white acetate taffeta with form fitting bodice topped by a bolero, and a full skirt with interwoven inserts of the same material. Her chapel veil was of illusion net held by a circlet of miniature orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Miss Nellie Bill as her sister's bridesmaid was charming in a ballerina length gown of sapphire blue acetate taffeta with a halo of tiny flowers in tone in her hair. Her bouquet was of blue and white carnations.

Bestman was Mr. Joe Walsh. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bill, where the bride's mother and sister-in-law assisted in receiving guests, the former wearing a gown of turquoise with gold trim and white accessories, the latter choosing a linen frock of pale blue with silver trimming and accessories of white. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Boyo Gurvich with the groom responding. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Mike Munizaba and Mrs. Boyo Gurvich.

The bride is a popular member of the local telephone staff and the groom is employed by the Columbia Cellulose Co. Ltd., here.

Saturday Sermon

By WILLIAM LEMMON

St. Peter's Anglican Church, Seal Cove

WE MUST REPENT

Amidst all the turmoil, confusion and suffering of these days a new order is struggling to be born. God help us to redeem our strength, our lives and our substance to liberate that new order!

Undoubtedly, Christianity is on trial today. So is our modern social way of life. It is my definite conviction that the only civilization which will survive is that permeated with the spirit of Christ and motivated by Christian ideals. It follows, therefore, that a gigantic task confronts the Church. She must not fail the world in this hour of judgment.

Our way of government insists on the right to freedom, and this democratic way of life demands that the inherent value of the individual be recognized. But without the aid of a virile Christianity, democracy cannot achieve the ideals it so eloquently proclaims. Hence I believe that Christ and His Church must save the world once again as they have done before.

God reigns; Christ is still King; therefore lift up your hearts! We have Christ's own promise, and that cannot fail.

Hence come what may, we face the future with courage and confidence.

The follower of Christ knows that God is working His purpose out, that right will eventually prevail, goodness will conquer evil, and God's kingdom in the end will finally be established.

Reminding ourselves that on the Church today rests the obligation of an increased Spiritual Production, I would name one specific contribution as essential to our every day well-being—the cultivation of Penitence. How greatly we ourselves need to repent! We have wasted our substance in riotous living, our democracy we have besmirched with such national evils as class hatred, racial antagonisms and religious bigotry. God has not forgotten us, but we have ignored Him.

While boasting of religious freedom, we have neglected the worship of God, regarding it neither as a privilege nor a duty. We have bowed down before the God of Gold and spurned the Golden Rule. Our heroes have been those of the movie screen, stage and world of sports rather than the soldiers of Christ.

We have permitted the growth of science to exceed the growth of goodness. We allowed technology to outstrip all social controls, such as religion, morality and philosophy. In short, modern nations have insisted they can get on without God.

We recognize the troubles and anxieties of these times a just doom; the consequence, according to God's laws of our neglect of His command and defiance of His will.

And when the Church has brought the nation to its knees. Penitence having done its beneficent work, and soul of man once again will hear the voice of a loving Heavenly Father: "Return unto me and I will return unto you."—Malachi, chapter 3, verse 7.

Despite adverse weather conditions earlier in the week, baseball players young and old have been getting out to a few practices. Little League has squeezed in three evaluation workouts and coaches Andy Marshall, Verne Ciccone, Art Ogilvie and Carl Erickson have looked over the 8 to 10 year olds. This afternoon the 11-year olds are getting the big eye and having their good points marked down.

The Pony League looks like it's on its way and sponsors checked prospects in a hastily arranged workout Thursday afternoon. We hope that all the lads between 13 and 16 that want to play ball have collected their registration forms from Jerry's and Wallace's.

Most of this info, scant as it is, has been gathered over the phone this week as we've been sort of desk-bound since the author of "Trespassing" left and we took over the news editorship. For that reason we haven't been able to get around as much as before and must confess that we have no news about the senior ball situation.

The boys have been grabbing what workouts they could but none of the coaches have volunteered any information as yet as to possible lineups. Maybe we'll get up to Roosevelt park this week-end if the weather holds.

See that in Pacific Coast League baseball the annual rubeats have started early. Seattle Rainiers manager Jerry Priddy who was fined $50 for his run-in with Umpire Frank Walsh this week, paid off Thursday night with 49 one dollar bills and 100 pennies. The damps said they wouldn't take the pennies but Priddy said he wouldn't take them back. Despite a lengthy hassle there was no settlement. Cliff Chambers, San Diego pitcher who took part in the same tiff, was fined $25 but Manager Lefty O'Doul of the Padres told him not to pay and said he was wiring his protest to league president Clarence Rowland. Only thing that occurs to us is, how did anyone named Clarence get into baseball.

While Edmonton Oil Kings will be the first junior club to represent the oil capital in the national junior finals since 1939 they have a record which promises to make their bid a husky one. In 55 Western Junior hockey league and playoff games they were beaten only four times. In four playoff series, involving 19 games, they scored 149 goals to their oppositions 32 while goalie Al Jacobson racked up five shutouts. In their WJHL schedule, Oil Kings won 33 games, lost three and scored 263 goals to 84 against them. Jacobson earning four shutouts. Western Canada has not held the Memorial Cup since 1948 when Port Arthur Bruins turned the trick. And it has been 28 years since a team from Alberta, Calgary Canadians, won national honors.

The B. C. Game Commission in Vancouver yesterday reported "definite proof" of the success of its campaign to cut down the numbers of predatory animals that prey on big game and domestic stock. G. A. West, supervisor of predatory control, said 18 dead wolves had been found near a "poison station" at Moose Lake, near Telegraph Creek. The wolves were poisoned with strychnine-treated bait, dropped from Game Commission aircraft. Mr. West said it was the first time such a large number of dead animals had been found at one time.

WORLD CALENDAR

Under the "world calendar" sponsored by many groups, every Jan. 1 would fall on a Sunday.

All Bets Off As Canucks Knot Finals

VANCOUVER (CP)—All bets were off in the Western Hockey League Friday night as Vancouver Canucks skated over, around and through Calgary Stampede for a 7-3 victory to square the best-of-seven final at a game apiece.

Calgary won the first game here 2-0 Wednesday. Third game will be played here Monday.

The first period was tied 1-1 and the score remained that way until Doug Adam cut loose early in the second. Adam, obtained from Saskatoon Quakers late in the season, showed his worth as he rammed in three goals. Carl Kaiser also banged in a second period effort to give Vancouver a 5-1 advantage.

Pat Lundy rifled in two goals within three minutes in the third to raise Calgary hopes but Vancouver clinched things with two in reply.

Other Vancouver goal-scorers were Chuck McCullough, Larry Popein and Les Hickey. Calgary's first goal was tallied by Sid Finney as the Prairie team took a short-lived first-period lead.

Turning point in the game came when Vancouver scored their third goal aided by the roar of a jam-packed crowd of 5,300.

The fans objected when Calgary's Gus Kyle held Popein and referee Scotty Morrison held up his hand for the penalty. Calgary, evidently thinking the whistle had gone but unable to hear for the roar, relaxed and Kaiser whacked home the puck.

Adam earned his first goal on a precision three-way attack with Gordie Kerr and Wiggie Wylie and scored his second when he and a bouncing puck were left unmolested in front of Brennan.

Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen Now Farm Team For Eskimos

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen of the Ontario Rugby Football Union and Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Inter-Provincial Football Union, today jointly announced they are associated in a working agreement. Dutchmen have terminated a one-year tie-up with the Ottawa Rough Riders of the Big Four. Terms gave Edmonton first call on all players developed by the Dutchmen during the life of the two-year agreement. Ottawa, however, has first call on Canadian players from the 1953 Kitchener team.

Maroons Clobber Penticton 4-0 To Take Western Series Lead

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP)—The big, burly Winnipeg Maroons are only one game away from representing the west in the Allan Cup final, emblematic of amateur hockey supremacy in Canada.

Winnipeg blasted in three big goals in the first period here Friday and the Penticton V's never seemed to recover. The visitors went on to post a 4-0 shutout, the first of the series. The V's, down 2-1 with two games tied, must win here tonight to prolong the play-off and preserve their chances of winning. Winnipeg has taken both games played here to date.

Bill Juzda, ex-Toronto Leaf, playing-coach Odie Lowe, and Bill Robinson slapped home the three first-period goals. Laurie Mitchell, flown here from Winnipeg for the remainder of the games, tallied the fourth in the final frame.

Young Jockey Ties Record

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP)—Jockey Willie Harmatz, in his next to last day as an apprentice rider, Friday tied an American record of 47 years standing by winning six straight races at Bay Meadows.

The 22-year-old flyweight from east Los Angeles, top jockey of the current Bay Meadows meet, ran out of the money on the first race and then booted in winners in all but the eighth race, in which he did not have a mount.

Coleman Comes Into Own As Orioles Down Sox

By BEN PHILGAR

Associated Press Sports Writer

The new Baltimore Orioles, criticized in some quarters for picking up too many Athletics and not enough athletes, are rapidly nearing the point where they can have the last laugh.

One of the biggest reasons is Joe Coleman, a sore-armed right-hander resurrected by Philadelphia last season from Savannah of the Sally League where he had lost 12 of 13.

It has been five seasons since Coleman had shown real promise in the majors. But now he really has blossomed.

He made his second start Friday, pitched his second complete game, and won for the first time, 3-1, over Chicago White Sox in 10 innings. His other time out he lost a three-hit heartbreaker to Ned Garver and Detroit 1-0. In 19 innings he has given up only nine hits.

NEEDED ALL SKILL

Coleman needed all of his skill because the Orioles weren't getting anywhere against Billy Pierce until Vern Stephens homered in the eighth. Then in the 10th they picked up two on Billy Hunter's single, Ray Murray's double and a single by Coleman himself.

Garver, who had beaten Coleman for one decision, pitched another good one Friday, beating Cleveland 6-1 on six singles. The Tigers battered Early Wynn for five runs in the first inning. The game was an hour late in starting because Cleveland's equipment got sidetracked in Pittsburgh. The Indians were sorry it showed up.

Rain washed out one-third of the scheduled night games, but from the standpoint of total time they weren't missed. Brooklyn and Pittsburgh used four hours and 13 minutes before the Dodgers won 6-5 in 13 innings. Milwaukee and St. Louis played four hours and two minutes with the Braves winning 7-5 in 14 innings.

Chicago Cubs blasted Cincinnati 10-3 with four home runs and 20 hits and Washington edged Boston 7-6 in other night action. Philadelphia Phillies were rained out against the Giants in New York as were the Athletics and New York Yankees in Philadelphia.

The brash Pirates refused to play dead before the Dodgers, coming from behind three times before finally bowing.

Chicago's attack against Cincinnati included home runs by Gene Baker, Ernie Banks, Ralph Kiner and Randy Jackson. Jackson also collected four singles to increase his league-leading batting average to .615.

Secret Societies Flourish A-New In Singapore
 SINGAPORE (Reuters)—A sudden stab in a narrow alley... tattoo marks... ritual oaths... revenge in the dark...
 These are the signs of Chinese secret societies which are again blossoming in the underworld of this outwardly-placid British colony.
 Police estimate there are 400 secret societies in Singapore. The police know of at least 10,000 members.
 Singapore's secret societies have their roots in ancient Chinese history and at times the ritual of the societies has been purely idealistic.
 But in Singapore, in recent years, the groups have deteriorated into little more than extortion gangs, glowering over a multitude of cowering prostitutes, hawkers, coffee-stall proprietors, small traders and taxidancers.
 Each society has a group of "strong men" who go out to punish those who do not pay protection money.
 Almost 100 years ago, the fore-runners of today's societies fought a gang war. Six hundred persons were killed and 300 houses burned.
 From early times the religious colors for Easter has been white, symbol of joy, light and purity.

Stars Show Champion's Forms Taking Third Win From Angels

By The Canadian Press

Hollywood Stars, Pacific Coast League champions of 1952 and 1953 are on their way up off the floor after taking a bad pasting for the first two weeks of the season. They're only four games back of league-leading Oakland and Friday night made it three out of four from Los Angeles.

Hollywood is winning the close ones now. It was 1-0 over the Angels and Red Munger and Andy Hansen combined to scatter the four hits they got. Los Angeles.

Fletcher Robbe's double in the ninth drove in catcher Jim Gladd with the winning run as Portland trimmed Sacramento, 4-3. Bob Alexander was the winning pitcher. I Cicotte the loser.

Ted Beard homered for San Francisco in the ninth but it wasn't enough and Oakland beat the Seals, 3-2. Ken Holcombe went the distance for San Francisco, allowing only five hits, while Chuck Beamon retired as Oakland's starter in favor of Bob Murray.

Bill Thomason limited Seattle to one hit, a single in the first inning by George Schmees that scored a run, as San Diego beat the Rainiers, 5-1.

Bombers Sign Evan Slonac

WINNIPEG — Ralph Misenar, president of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, announced today the signing of halfback Evan Slonac, former star with Michigan State Spartans.

The 23-year-old, 170-pound Slonac becomes the 15th import to sign with the Western Inter-provincial Football Union club. Thirteen Canadians also have been signed for 1954.

Slonac, who played on the Michigan varsity team from 1931 to 1953, was a member of the Spartans famed "pony backfield," consisting of quarterback Tom Yewick and halves Leroy Bolden and Billy Wells, none of whom weighed more than 180 pounds.

Last year, Slonac averaged 5.3 yards rushing on 71 tries. He scored two touchdowns and converted 16 of 18 attempts in eight games.

Tug Owners Plan Service

VANCOUVER — Plans for a tug-boat rescue service on the jagged British Columbia coast were completed here by the B.C. Tugboat Owners' Association last night.

A heavy toll of life and property from blizzards and gales last winter led to organization of the rescue unit which will serve almost 300 operators and 1,500 men.

The unit, to be paid for by the operators, will act as the marine arm of the RCAF search and rescue centre.

A central office will keep tabs by radio-telephone.

Plywood Hamper Easy To Build

No washday aid, perhaps, is of more use throughout the rest of the week than the clothes hamper.

Simple as a box, convenient as a third hand, the easy-to-build Douglas fir plywood hamper shown here fits neatly into either the bathroom or utility area.

Front and side panels are of 1/2 inch fir plywood. Holes for air should be spaced in the 1/2 inch hinged top. Bottom should be of heavier 3/4 inch plywood to give stability.

The frame of 3/8 x 1/2 inch strips can be assembled with and nails (or use screws). The panels and quarter-round corners are similarly attached. The partition of the fir plywood hamper can be installed using small, triangular strips to hold it in place.
