By-Election To Be Held In Fall To Obtain Seat For Gunderson

Changes Planned In Liquor Laws

A by-election will be held this fall to give the defeated B.C. finance minister a chance to obtain a seat in the Legislature.

This was announced shortly before noon today by Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

Meanwhile, the premier said Finance Minister Einar Gunderson will carry on in office despite his defeat in Oak Bay riding in the June 9 election.

Premier Bennett said he had asked Gunderson to continue with his portfolio as minister of finance.

Mr. Bennett said there would not be time to hold a by-election before the special fall session of the Legislature.

September has been set as the tentative date for the session.

Gunderson was toppled in Oak Bay by Reeve Philip A. Gibbs, Liberal, who represented the riding in the last House.

Premier Bennett indicated that there will be changes in B.C.'s voting system before another election.

"There will be a revision or perhaps total scrapping of the alternative voting system."

It will be one of two major projects before the fall session.

The other, said the premier, will be revision of B.C.'s liquor legislation along lines recommended by the Liquor Inquiry Board.

Recommendations included establishment of cocktail bars.

Socred Majority Assured

Calder Retains Atlin For CCF

VANCOUVER. — The finished product of British Columbia's election jigsaw puzzle—a number of pieces are still missing—will be a Social Credit majority government.

Needing 25 seats for a working majority, Social Credit today went into the unfinished battle holding 21 and leading in eight others. The runner-up CCF held 13 but appeared to be just about out of ammunition.

Social Credit Thursday elected two members on the fifth count—Alex Matthew on Vancouver Centre ballot A and George Tomlinson in North Vancouver—while CCFer Frank Calder was returned in the far-north Atlin riding.

These three were the only candidates elected throughout the day and the standing at midnight, when returning officers called it a night, showed:

Social Credit, 21; CCF, 13; Labor, 1; Liberals, 3, and Progressive Conservatives, 1. Leading — Social Credit, 8; CCF, 1. Total, 48.

Frank Calder, CCF member of the last Legislature for Atlin constituency, took a big lead when absentee ballots were counted. Final results show Calder polled 553 votes; Bill Smith, Liberal, 275, and Frank Assu, 108.

At the end of counting June 9, the count was: Calder, 264; Smith, 240; Assu, 86.

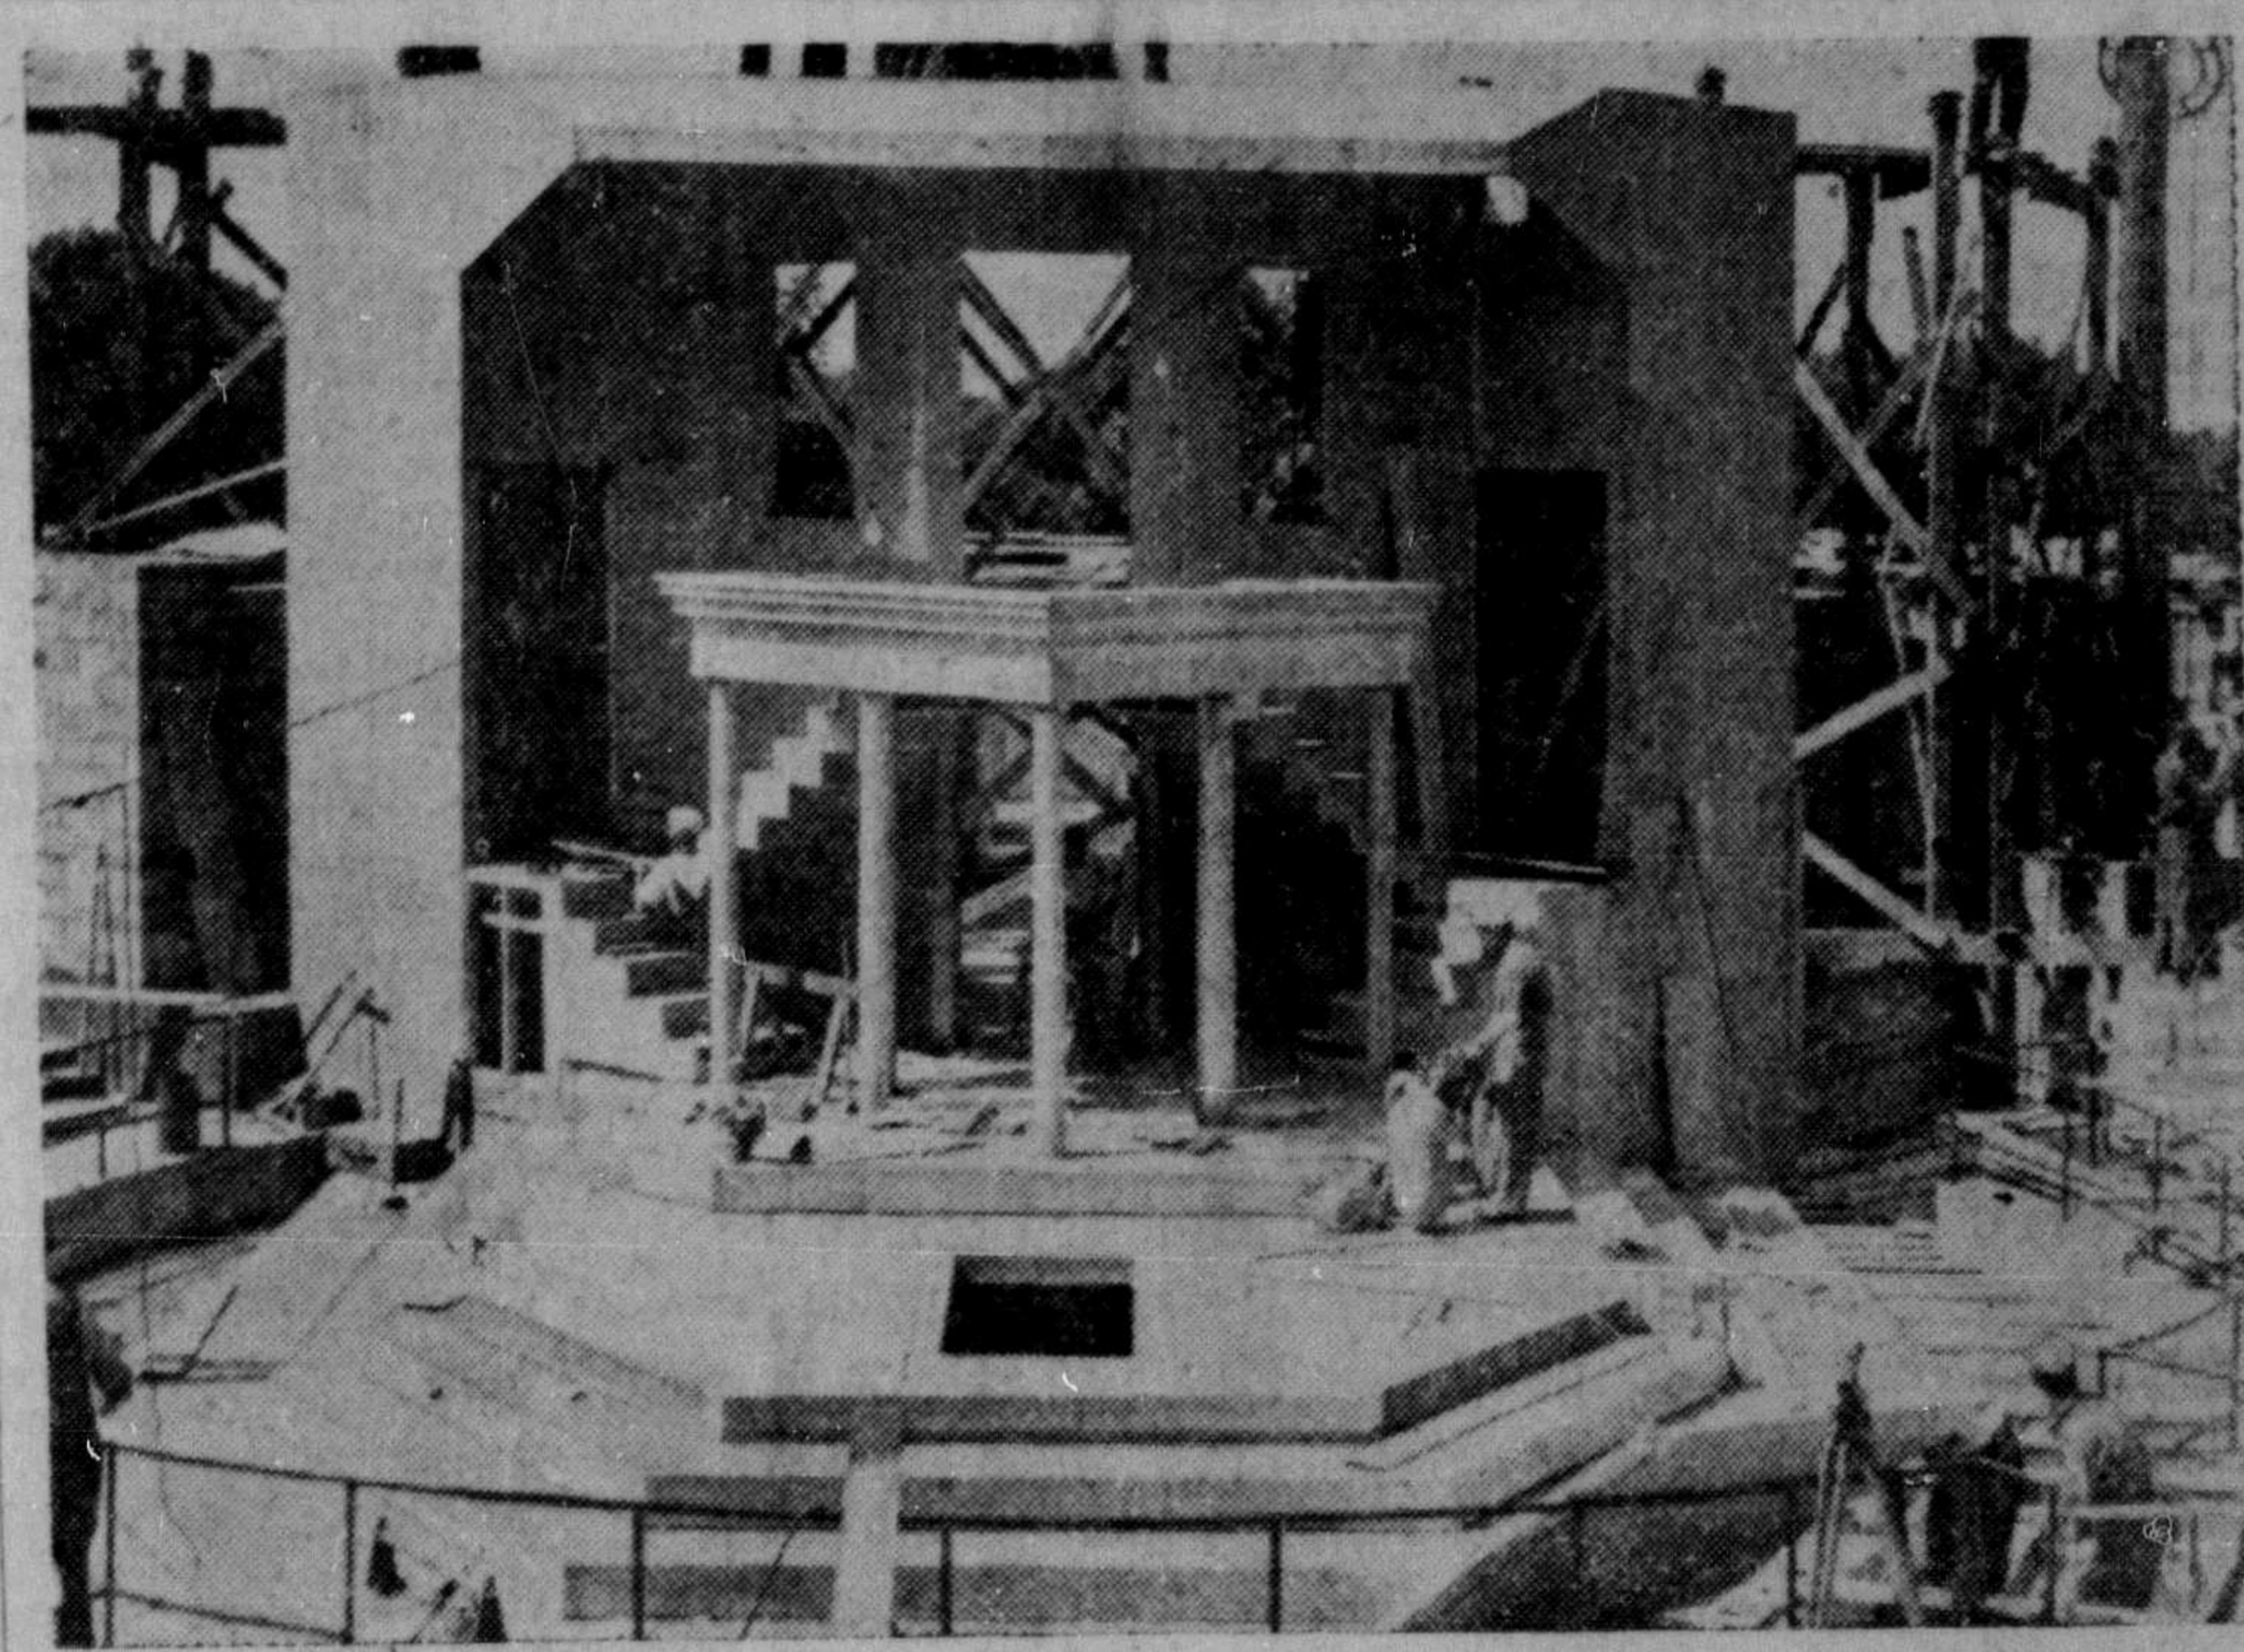

Meanwhile, final results in a majority of the Vancouver seats aren't expected to be known until next week because returning officers are bogged down in recounts.

The Social Credit victory in North Vancouver brought to four the number of seats the party has gained from the Liberals. Mr. Tomlinson defeated Liberal candidate W. R. McDougall by a majority of 157 votes.

The CCF has lost three to Social Credit, gaining one from the Liberals. The Liberals have gained one from the CCF and one from the Progressive Conservatives.

Social Credit is leading in the three Vancouver-Point Grey seats plus the two in Vancouver seats plus the two in Vancouver-Burrard and on ballot B in Vancouver Centre.

The CCF is leading in the one Vancouver East seat still undecided. Outside the city, Social Credit is leading in Delta and Nelson-Creston.

The stage was designed by Taryia Moisewitch of London's Old Vic and Stratford, Eng., Memorial theatres. There are several playing levels and scenery will be eliminated. The plays, "Richard III," and "All's Well That Ends Well," will be directed by Tyrone Guthrie, of the Old Vic.

Higher Prices of Foodstuffs Send Cost of Living Index up

OTTAWA — Living costs rose one-half an index point to 114.9 during May—after a steady half-year of declines—with the consumer price index increasing by the sudden change in the index—based on 1949 prices equaling 100—was caused mostly by higher prices for foodstuffs. Price boosts for fresh and cured pork, fresh fruits and vegetables and smaller increases for bread and eggs were noted. Rents also climbed.

The old cost-of-living index, based on 1935-39 prices equaling 100, also increased, rising by 1.2 points to 184.8 from 113.6 in April. This was the first increase in this yardstick after a continuous three-month decline.

It was the biggest increase in the consumer price index since a jump of four-fifths of a point in October, 1951. The yardstick's peak was 118.2 in December, 1951. High for the old cost-of-living index was 191.5, also in December, 1951.

With food costs rising during May, the food sub-group in the new index rose by 1.3 points to 111.4 from 110.1. It was the first increase in this column since October, 1952. The peak was 122.5 in November, 1951.

The shelter group, which includes rent and home-ownership costs, rose to a new high of 123.6 from 122.9, following increases in rent.

Other sub-groups were unchanged. The clothing group stood at 110.1; household operations at 116.6; and the other commodities and services column at 115.1.

Officers of the 3rd Republic of Korea Division told Associated Press correspondent John Randolph that infantrymen who swept the Reds off the battered ridge after dawn found a number of Chinese bodies wired together. They could not say how many of the bodies were dead.

Crowd Greet Conquerors Of Everest

LONDON (Reuters)—The conquerors of Mount Everest came home to a hero's welcome today. Sir Edmund Hillary stepped off the airliner with his Sherpa guide Tenzing to a ringing cheer from crowds gathered at the airport.

Tenzing and his wife and two young daughters accompanied Hillary and other members of the expedition back to Britain to share in the triumphant reception.

Representatives of Britain, India, New Zealand, and Nepal greeted the smiling party.

The climbers, including the expedition's leader Col. Sir John Hunt, arrived at London airport in a four-engine airliner from New Delhi.

The 39-year-old Tenzing, "Tiger of the Snows," and his family are visiting Britain for the first time. First to welcome the men who "stood on top of the world" on May 29 was War Secretary Anthony Head.

Train Delayed By Derailment

Repairs to the CNR track west of Pacific were completed early today following a minor derailment yesterday. CNR officials said the incident involved a few freight cars and that the eastbound train with the Job's Daughters contingent aboard was only delayed about six hours.

A CNR spokesman said the train would be able to make the necessary connections at Jasper in time for the girls to proceed.

City Air Cadets Leave Tonight For Course at Abbotsford Camp

The air cadets are leaving town tonight for a two-week course at their summer camp in Abbotsford.

More than 25 boys will board the Coquitlam for the trip to Vancouver and will travel from there by charter bus to camp. They will return by air on July 19.

Cadets are instructed to report to the Canadian National docks at 7:30 tonight where FO. Ned MacNeill, adjutant of the squadron, who is accompanying the group, will check off each boy as he boards ship.

Also travelling with the boys as far as Vancouver is Flt. Lt. Lawrence Seiber, parde to the squadron, who is going to Union College for a course before returning.

Cadets are divided into age groups for the purpose of instructions.

While at Abbotsford, they will be taken on sightseeing tours between training periods and will be allowed one week-end pass. The boys have to be in bed by 10 o'clock each night with lights out by 10:30.

Last Tuesday night, acting Flt. Sgt. Roy Pederson left by train for Camp Borden where he will take a seven weeks' senior leaders course, and this Monday two other cadets—acting Flt. Sgt. Ron Black and Stan Kaardal—will report to the Prince Rupert Aero Club to start training under a flying training scholarship awarded them earlier this year.

After a four-week course, Black and Kaardal will be flown to Vancouver for a banquet with cadets from other squadrons.

The two boys here are the only ones in Canada that will learn to fly from a water base.

One of the young cadets heading for Abbotsford, Bruce Stanwood, will meet the boys at camp. He left last week to visit relatives in Longview, Washington, and Vancouver and Chilliwack.

Two boys, both acting corporals—Howard Johansen and Dick

Many of Escaped Prisoners Willing to Return to Camps

By ROBERT GIBSON

SEUL (AP)—Many of the 27,000 anti-Communist North Korean prisoners who escaped from Allied stockades would gladly return now if assured there would be no reprisals, an official source said today.

Others would return to prison only on direct orders from President Syngman Rhee.

A spokesman who cannot be named said the prisoners who were promised protection by the South Korean government are finding it hard to live and work in the wrecked South Korean economy.

Some have been enlisted in the Republic of Korea army and thousands appear to be headed for army duty, even against their will.

Trucks carried several hundred anti-Communist former war prisoners to the South Korean Army replacement depot for the third straight day today.

The defence ministry refused to make any statement concerning the former prisoners and the total number that have gone into the army was not disclosed.

Most officials agree that ever prisoners who want to return would not do so unless assured by the South Korean government that no reprisals will be taken after their eventual legal release.

The only attempts by the UN Command to retrieve the North Koreans has been in radio broadcasts appealing for voluntary surrender to prison camps.

Results have been poor. Fewer than 1,000 North Koreans have been re-taken.

All of the escaped prisoners have new identification cards, making it possible for them to show they are bonafide citizens of South Korea.

Apparently, the South Korean Army will accept enlistments as soon as training facilities can accommodate new recruits.

Youngsters Wishing to Play Baseball Urged to Register at Centre Saturday

Youngsters between the ages of eight and 13 years presently playing baseball and those wish to play in the newly-formed Prince Rupert Little League baseball loop are asked to register at the Civic Centre between 3 p.m. and 5 p.m. Saturday.

Officials of the new league started last night to give a chance to play baseball but play properly in an organized league, and want boys to register, giving their ages and also the time they expect to be away on their holidays.

In this way managers and coaches of the six teams will be able to know when replacements are needed and can make arrangements so that teams are always at full strength.

As an added attraction and educational feature for the young ball players the new executive has arranged to show two baseball movies, "One Hundred Years of Baseball" and "The 1952 World Series" at 7:30 Monday night in the Civic Centre.

Buses Idle For 4th Day

REGINA — Some 4,000 miles of bus routes were idle for the fourth consecutive day while a walkout of 220 employees of the crown-operated Saskatchewan Transportation Company remained no nearer settlement today.

Statements from the union and the company were the only developments Thursday in the strike involving 65 buses which cover 35 services in the province from the international border to the Lac La Ronge region 150 miles north of Prince Albert.

An 11-year-old boy whose pitching record of 21 strike-outs more than 12,000 other boys from 94 schools and playgrounds in Seattle's annual "woodenface" contest.

The contest is sponsored by the Seattle Times and the city playgrounds.

To win the grand prize, Ronnie sent 21 strike-outs past "old woody," the automatic umpire in the finals, pitching against six other boys, each a "champ" in his own playground.

Ronnie passed through here yesterday enroute to Skagway.

Other distinguished visitors on the George were Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Pew of Philadelphia. He is well known in American and Canadian business circles as director and former president of the Sun Oil Corporation.

Army Officers Warned Against Wearing Kilts

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA — The army has quietly reminded a few senior officers, including Brig. John M. Rockingham, that they are improperly dressed in wearing the kilt or its sartorial cousin, tartan trousers or trews, as they often do.

Headquarters is understood to have called attention to long-standing rules laying down certain dress standards for men promoted above the rank of lieutenant-colonel. They became general list officers and are supposed to wear standard uniforms that don't identify them with any particular unit or corps of the army.

No order has been put out and it is doubtful that the rule is going to be rigidly enforced in its elimination of kilts.

Brig. Rockingham wore his beloved Canadian Scottish kilt and trews in Korea and after returning from Korea. He also wore them while commanding a brigade in the Second World War but that, headquarters says, was legitimate. He was then commanding the 3rd division's Highland brigade and that constituted a rare exception to the rule. He was improperly dressed in wearing the kilt as commander of the 25th Brigade in Korea because it was not a Highland brigade.

He now is in London attending the Imperial Defence college.

Brig. M. S. (Mike) Dunn of Cornwall, Ont., likes to wear his Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlander trews as Eastern Ontario area commander at Kingston. Col. Harold Cathcart similarly likes to wear his Toronto Scottish kilt as chief at the Valcartier, Que., army camp.

All these officers and others are understood to have been told privately that they are out of line. Their reactions have not been made public and probably can't be because of normal army discipline.

Prince Rupert will be represented by a delegation of over 40 at the international convention of Jehovah's Witnesses in Yankee Stadium, New York City.

Salem Senators On War Path For WIL Title

By The Canadian Press

The Western International League swung into the second half of its split season Friday, with the Salem Senators on the prowl for a repeat of their first-half victory.

The Senators closed out their first-half schedule Wednesday night by splitting a twin bill with Vancouver. They were idle on Thursday night, as was second-place Edmonton.

Lewiston, the third-place club, bowed to Spokane, 3-2, and Tri-City, No. 9, outlasted Wenatchee, the fifth-place team, 10-9. The rest of the loop was idle.

The final standings stacked up this way: Salem, Edmonton, 2½ games off the pace; Lewiston, 3 games down; Vancouver, 6½ down; Wenatchee, 11 games behind; Spokane, 11 games behind; Victoria, 12 games down; Tri-City, 12½ games off the pace; and Yakima and Calgary, both 13½ games behind Salem.

Spokane's victory over Lewiston's Broncs was the result of a neat four-hit pitching performance by Art Worth, who went the distance for the Indians. The loss went to Joe Ruddle. It was his first starting assignment for the Broncs. The Indians got the win in the eighth when they combined a walk, a sacrifice, an infield single and an error for their third run.

Ken Michelson won his first game of the season against four losses for the Tri-City Braves as they edged Wenatchee in a wild slugfest at Kennewick. Michelson had tough going in the fourth frame when the Chiefs tagged him for six runs, but he stuck on to wrap up the win. Three hits, an error and a walk gave the Braves two runs and victory in the bottom of the ninth with Don Charonias' bases-loaded single the key blow.

WINNIPEG — Coaches and officials talked long into the night Thursday ironing out last-minute details for tonight's start of the annual Canadian junior track and field championships here.

Rules and regulations, scheduling and timing got the once-over Thursday. Tonight 120 of Canada's top junior athletes set out for Canadian crowns in 23 events. The remaining 22 go Saturday.

Winnipeg's Sargent Park, in top condition for the meet, buzzed with activity, athletes running through final warm-ups.

Gord McLennan of the Winnipeg Athletic Association Hounds said park facilities are looking the best ever.

Among the entrants are 19 members of the Toronto Track Club under Lloyd Percival, nine from the Montreal Track Club, 11 from Windsor AKO, six from Montreal St. Lambert Track Club, five from the Saskatchewan branch of the Amateur Athletic Union, six from British Columbia points and 48 from the host Hounds.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GALE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Nineteen years ago Saturday, on a hot July 4 in Chicago, a young Negro named Joe Louis fought his first professional fight against another preliminary boy named Jack Kracken. The record shows that Louis won by a knockout in the first round, and nobody ever heard of Kracken again.

Three years and 35 fights later the young Alabama Negro was to knock out Jim Braddock in the same city and win the heavyweight championship of the world. From that day until Sept. 27, 1950, when, old and fat, he was given a savage beating by Ezzard Charles here, Louis was not to know defeat as he piled up the greatest record of victories in the history of the heavyweight division.

It would be nice to record that in the course of defending his title 27 times and appearing in scores of exhibitions, Joe amassed a comfortable fortune and was prepared now, at the ripe age of 39, to spend the remainder of his days indulging in his favorite pastime, golf. Unfortunately, it wouldn't be true.

As another Independence Day rolls around Joe is getting ready to hit the road again in search of the dollar. The millions he made for himself and others during nearly two golden decades are gone except for small remnants here and there, and Joe is a man who requires lots of "walking around" money, as it is known in the boxing profession.

This time Joe is preparing for a two-month tour of the country as the star of a troupe of entertainers who will acquaint the movie-going public with the fact that "The Joe Louis Story" is on the way. The former champion, who now scales about 230 at a rough guess, possibly will be the heaviest song and dance man in the history of the theatre.

The tour is scheduled to open in Boston July 16 and from there the show will play one-night stands through the midwest and southwest until it is time for Joe to attend the picture's world premiere at Detroit, where his boxing career began. By then, if the heat holds up, Joe should have slimmed down considerably.

Persons who are not entirely disinterested say that the movie version of the Dark Destroyer's life is one of the best things of its kind they have seen. They predict it will make a great deal of money for Joe, and that is to be hoped, for he was an athlete who never cheated anyone.

Montgomery Wins Shoot

Bob Montgomery emerged winner of the Prince Rupert Rod and Gun club regular trap shooting meet held at the rifle range on Dominion Day.

The winner of the meet was decided after Montgomery and Tommy Bonter tied with 22 each. In the tie-breaking shoot-off of ten shots Montgomery topped his rival to win first prize of a smoked black cod donated by B. J. Bacon.

Another winner among the several squads of five competing was Frank Parlett who won the hidden prize of a picnic ham with 15. Vic Williams with 20 and Frank Allingham with 19 were runners-up.

The next shoot is slated for July 15 and it is expected that several teams will compete for the Rupert Radio Challenge Cup.

Hogan Favored In U.K. Open

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (AP)—British bookmakers, scared to death of blazing Ben Hogan in his first bid for the British open golf championship, made the little Texan their betting favorite today at odds of 7 to 4.

A few of the canny Scottish odds-layers who have watched the U.S. champion in warm-up 70 rounds for the week-long grind starting Monday would offer no better than 6 to 4.

This is the same as saying they'd rather not bet against him.

The way Hogan has dominated pre-tournament speculation was further reflected in the odds of 5 to 1 generally available against Bobby Locke.

The big South African has won this title three times and is the defending titleholder.

Roberta de Vincenzo, the Argentine star, was on offer at 8 to 1.

Baseball Club Facing Charge On Lottery

TORONTO — The Toronto Maple Leafs baseball club again has been charged with conducting a lottery in connection with $2,000 in cash prizes given away at an International League game here June 23.

Frank Pollock, Maple Leafs' general manager, said Thursday night the club has received a summons but he declined to comment.

The club was fined $250 June 5 after club officials pleaded guilty to conducting a lottery when a car was given to a baseball fan earlier in the season.

Five similar charges against club officials, including president Jack Kent Cooke, were dropped.

The club gave a woman $1,500 first prize for making the closest estimate of the number of persons at the game June 23.

Unofficial Little League Formed Here; First Game Set For Algoma Park Wednesday

By DICK AYRES

Unofficial Little League baseball will be launched in Prince Rupert Wednesday night at Algoma Park. It was decided at an organizational meeting held in the Civic Centre last night.

The meeting, which elected Art Williamson president of the new league executive, decided that this year would be an organizational year for the league as it was too late for entry in the international Little League Baseball group. Teams of youngsters aged eight to 13 years will be included in the newly-formed league and adherence to the 12-year-old age limit will not be observed this year.

Other members of the executive elected were Maurice Brydges, vice-president; Jack Martin, secretary-treasurer; finance committee chairman Doug Souter will have Bill Noble and Art Ogilvie assisting him; equipment committee chairman Maurice Brydges will be aided by George Van Roche. Chairman of the officials committee is Ed Gladding. George Van Roche heads the rules committee. The schedule is being drawn up by Maurice Scott.

FOUR TEAMS

President Williamson told the meeting there were already four teams playing and that enthusiasm among the youngsters was extremely high. The meeting was firm in its stand that coaches of the individual teams must not let the teams down by not turning up and by not giving the players the necessary support.

Six teams were set as the maximum for the league this year. Representatives for the teams were set as Maurice Brydges for the Hawks from the King Edward School area; Art Ogilvie for the Wildcats from Section 2; Mitch Greene for the Pirates from Borden Street; Johnny Weston for the Sockeyes from Conrad Street; Art Williamson for the Chums also from Conrad Street, and George Robinson as temporary representative for a team to be formed from children of members of Loyal Order of Moose.

A preliminary game, arranged before the organizational meeting was held, is scheduled for 1:30 Saturday afternoon at Roosevelt Park. The first league game of the planning year will be staged at the renovated Algoma Park at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Member of the parks board, Art Murray pledged full cooperation of the parks board. The park, originally set up by the American army as a softball field, will be graded and rolled before Wednesday night. A temporary backstop is to be provided to serve for this season.

Players will wear identifying sweatshirts and caps this year with full Little League uniforms slated for next year when the official Little League is launched in accordance with international rules which provide for the diamond, bats, balls and other equipment to be two-thirds the size of senior equipment.

Former ballplayers, aging athletes, anyone with any baseball equipment whatsoever are asked to donate it to the newly formed league. It can be left at the Daily News office or a phone number can be left and equipment will be picked up.

Registration hours for present players and other youngsters wishing to play have been set for between 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. Saturday at the Civic Centre.

Yankees Break Win Drought; Dodgers Blank Philadelphia

By BEN PHEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now that the Yankees finally have quit losing maybe Cleveland Indians will go back to playing better ball.

Instead of concentrating on their own business, the Indians this week have been going through their aces with one eye on the scoreboard to see how much ground they were gaining on the fading New Yorkers. As a result they have lost two in a row to the tail-end Detroit Tigers. They have a chance to make immediate amends since they go home tonight to face the usually docile Bengals in three more games.

The Yanks broke their nine-game victory drought by edging the Red Sox, 5-3, in 10 innings at Boston Thursday. Cleveland bowed 4-2 to Detroit and slipped six full games behind the world champions.

Chicago White Sox, who had Thursday and today off, also are six games back and just two percentage points behind the Indians.

In the National League Brooklyn Dodgers made sure they will be in first place on the morning of the 4th of July, traditional turning point of the pennant races. The Dodgers defeated Philadelphia, 8-0, and second place Milwaukee skidded a game and a half behind by losing to Cincinnati 3-1. Other National League clubs weren't scheduled.

Johnny Mize hammered the hit that broke the Yankee slump. Pinch-hitting in the 10th with two out and Yogi Berra on third, Mize drove a 3-2 pitch from Sid Hudson into left field centre for a double.

Gil McDougald then drew an intentional pass and Bill Martin brought in the insurance run with a single that scored Bill Renna, running for Mike.

So far this year Brooklyn's biggest difficulty has been in its pitching but you couldn't find much wrong with Carl Erskine's seven-hit performance against the Phillies. The ace right-hander, belted hard last month, had been given a 10-day rest and he was at the top of his form.

Cincinnati has hit 94 home runs, more than any other major league team, and the Redlegs used them to good advantage in handing Milwaukee its eighth straight home loss.

Ted Kluszezski put the Reds ahead in the first inning with his 23rd home run, and Gus Bell hit his 21st in the ninth.

Al Rosen hit his third home run in three games to get Cleveland off in front, but the Tigers went ahead with a pair in the third on a walk, a wild pitch by loser Mike Garcia and singles by Johnny Pesky and Walt Dropo.

Don Lund produced the winning runs with a home run scoring Matt Batts ahead of him in the seventh.

Steve Gromek, who toiled for Cleveland until two weeks ago, scattered seven hits in registering his third victory.

The swim, tried unsuccessfully three times by Detroit swimmers, is scheduled for Aug. 3.

To Play Again

MONTREAL — John (Red) O'Quinn, one of the best passing ends in Canadian football last season, will play for another year with the Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four League, it was learned today.

O'Quinn made the Big Four All-Star team last year.

To date the Montreal club has 11 imports and 13 Canadians ready for tryouts.

Scotland Yard Moves 200 Policemen From Desks to Active Crime Hunting

LONDON (Reuters)—Scotland Yard, determined to wipe out its list of unsolved murders, has announced a drastic reorganization. This week the yard pulled 200 policemen out of office chairs and put them on active crime-hunting. Three top superintendents have gone to new key assignments.

ended, British criminal authorities have had to admit defeat in an average of 12 per cent of murder cases, and write into police files the words, "Assailant unknown."

The yard's tightening-up follows indignation over the fact that brutal killers, including sex fiends who attacked women and children, are still at large.

The latest public stir came early this month when two teenage girls, bicycling along a "lover's lane" near the London suburb of Teddington, were raped and viciously stabbed by an unknown sadist-killer. Scotland Yard has but its best brains and equipment into an all-out effort to find the man who killed Barbara Songhurst, 16, and Christine Reed, 18.

The yard's reorganization was ordered two years ago, when a committee of experts was set up to study the necessary changes.

The switch of 200 police officers from desk jobs will help meet a permanent shortage on the London force. Civil servants will take over the office work.

In the high-level personnel switch, one of London's top crime fighters, Chief Superintendent Harold Hawkward, was promoted to deputy commander to head a planning and research department. Top-drawer detectives have been assigned to him.

Chief Superintendent B. I. Chapman, head of London's famous flying squad, took over the murky East End and the Thames river patrols.

The flying squad is headed by Superintendent Robert Lee, who becomes chief superintendent.

Professor Lysenko Says Soviet Theory On Genetics Was Premier Stalin's Idea

WASHINGTON (AP)—The man credited with establishing the Soviet theory of genetics, ridiculed outside the Iron Curtain as pitiful puppetry, now says the whole idea was Stalin's.

Prof. T. D. Lysenko labelled his statement an "eulogy" to the late Russian prime minister.

But the statement, published today by the magazine Science, might be interpreted in the West as an attempt to get off the scientific hook.

It says Stalin dictated to Lysenko how he was to present the theory that acquired characteristics of a plant or animal may be passed on to offspring. Many Western scientists denounced Lysenko as a tool of the Communist party and ridiculed his paper when it appeared in 1948. Nevertheless, it was adopted as doctrine by the central committee of the all-Russian Communist party.

SCIENTISTS FIRED

As a result, many leading Russian scientists who didn't go along with the theory were kicked out of high teaching posts in agricultural and other colleges.

Then, under Stalin's direction, the whole system of teaching biology in Russia was changed to fit the theories approved by the politicians.

The theory that acquired characteristics of a plant or animal may be passed on to its offspring conflicts with Mendel's explanation of heredity, developed during more than 80 years of work by scientists throughout the world.

Lysenko's "eulogy" first was published by Pravda, official organ of the Communist party. It was sent, translated, to Science magazine by Ivan D. London of Brooklyn College.

Lysenko's statement said Stalin first pointed to the significance of the theory of acquired characteristics. It said, too, that it was Stalin who personally helped prepare the scientific paper by Lysenko that touched off the round of criticism from non-Communist scientists. "He (Stalin) directly edited the plan of my paper; in detail explained to me his corrections; provided me with directions as to how to write certain passages in the paper," Lysenko wrote.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Mr. Champion Finds Both Muzzy and Heinsite Wrong

Mr. Muzzy's hand looked very good to him in today's deal. A six-card suit always goes to his head. He couldn't bring himself to rebid merely two clubs. Instead, he made the overbid of two no trump and Mr. Heinsite justifiably went on to three.

The opening lead was the 10 of hearts and Mr. Muzzy ducked in dummy. Mr. Masters won with the king and pushed the 10 of diamonds through.

Mr. Champion cashed the queen and ace of diamonds and led a third round of the suit. After winning with the king of diamonds, Mr. Muzzy went to dummy with the king of spades. He led back the jack of clubs and finessed it. Mr. Champion won with the king of clubs and cashed a diamond for the setting trick.

Mr. Heinsite looked like a man who had just been stabbed.

"Where did you get that two no trump bid?" he screamed. "In the first place, you didn't bid a semblance of a heart stopper. And you certainly didn't have enough high cards in your hand."

"If you must overbid your hand, jump to three clubs and let me bid three no trump. From my side of the table it was cold. From your side there was no play for it."

This irritated Mr. Champion. Not that he was against criticizing a partner. He did that himself. But at least the told himself, he was always right.

"It was cold from either side of the table," he remarked coldly. "Just win the first trick with the ace of hearts and take the club finesse. Now you can't lose more than a club, a heart and two diamonds."

Mr. Champion was right. Mr. Muzzy didn't need to win three heart tricks. The important thing was to establish clubs quickly—before the enemy had a chance to set up their fourth diamond for a winner.
