Search Near Exstew Fails to Find Plane

For the second time this week a Queen Charlotte Airlines pilot has left the air base here on short notice to search for a plane in rugged, heavily-wooded areas, and both times has been favored by fine weather.

He returned last night from a journey up the Skeena River in search of a twin-engine plane, reported missing after it passed over Exstew, just as a heavy downpour of rain began and continued throughout the night.

On Monday, the same pilot made an exhaustive aerial survey of Wales Island, 30 miles north of here, in bright sunny weather for a "parachute or fisherman" reported sighted by a fisherman.

In neither flight was anything seen.

Flying a Norseman yesterday, the QCA plane left Rupert shortly after a report was received here stating a two-engine grey-colored plane appeared to come down across the Skeena from Exstew and then disappeared.

An RCMP constable accompanied the pilot on the flight which was extended as far as Terrace.

NO PLANE MISSING
 A check this morning disclosed there are no planes missing or overdue in northern B.C.

The CNR agent at Shames, a short distance from Exstew, flag station on the Rupert-Jasper line, said section workers reported the plane missing.

The same report was received in Terrace by Crawford Moore Travel Agency and Mr. Moore immediately dispatched two of his men to the scene.

RCMP at Terrace also sped to Exstew with a small boat and began a search among the heavily-wooded islands in the river.

The Skeena is broken up by islands for about two miles across at Exstew and Shames.

While the police toured the islands by land and water, the QCA pilot hovered back and forth over the area several times before heading for Terrace to check for further information.

Rail Tie-Up Threatened In B.C. If Douk Problem Not Settled

Trial of Nudists Opens in Burnaby

SOUTH BURNABY, B.C.—Three of 144 members of the radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect went on trial here this afternoon before a special court on charges of contributing to juvenile delinquency by parading in the nude.

The remaining 141 of the group arrested Sept. 9 were remanded.

Because of the large number of prisoners involved, the trial is taking place in Jubilee Hall, a one-storey brick building about a mile from Oakalla jail, where they are being held.

Meanwhile an attempt is being made to tie up all rail traffic in B.C. if the menace of the Doukhobor track bombings in the interior is not removed soon.

An authentic source who declined to use his name told Canadian Press Staff writer Joe MacSweeney at Nelson that the running trades of all railways throughout the province are being canvassed for a "withdrawal from work" to back up demands of trainmen in the Kootenay division of the CPR for safer working conditions.

The request came at a recent meeting of the railroad brotherhoods at Nelson, and now is in the hands of lodges of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen throughout B.C., the source said.

In the last three years there have been more than 20 blastings and eight attempts. Bridges were damaged as well as the railroad itself.

William Towhey, chairman of the joint running trades at Nelson, who has been leading the fight of the railwaymen against the Doukhobor terrorists, would neither confirm nor deny the report.

At present, bridges are flooded and guarded, but it would take thousands of men to "guard the railroad adequately."

The source who reported the tie-up attempt said not only CPR unions but also those of Canadian National Railways and the Pacific Great Eastern, which runs unto the northland, had been asked to co-operate.

Of the number who appeared before Magistrate Graham Lader this morning, 73 were men and 71 women.

Their arrest touched off a new outbreak of arson in the Kootenays where 13 homes have been destroyed.

Meanwhile, Tom Goode, Liberal member of Parliament for Burnaby-Richmond, said the Doukhobor problem probably will be raised on the floor of the House of Commons at the next session of Parliament.

"I think it will be a major debate in the House, although the federal government does not recognize any liability in the matter."

Magistrate Dies

VANCOUVER — Mackenzie Matheson, 74, senior police magistrate in Vancouver since 1947, died in hospital here Wednesday following a lengthy illness.

Circus Gives Public Chance To Add Extension to Hospital

Parents and children who attend the Rotary Club's Odyson circus here September 21, 22 and 23 will be combining business with pleasure.

Many of them will be attending their first big circus and will be seeing animals of which they have only heard before and seeing artists doing thrilling acts which they had never dreamed possible.

Parents will be doing their part in helping the Prince Rupert Rotary Club and a much-needed extension to the hospital sponsored children's ward at the Prince Rupert General Hospital.

So far this year there have been 3,998 patient days recorded in the children's ward. Total potential patient days for the ward is 4,028 days which gives the ward an average occupancy of 99.25 per cent — far above the national safety figure of 80 per cent.

The Children's ward which was originally sponsored by the Rotary club in 1947 now contains 20 beds and at least eight more are needed to improve the safety factor; interior alterations, furnishings, painting and beds were all supplied by the Rotary club. Estimated cost of the extension, including equipment is $3,880.

Fines Net $3,926 For City

Court fines and costs enriched Prince Rupert city coffers by $3,926 during August, the RCMP city detachment report to the city council tabled this week showed.

Fines payable to the city last month amounted to $3,596 while costs paid totalled $330.

There were 133 convictions under other than municipal by-laws and 14 under city by-laws. Only five cases during August were dismissed or withdrawn.

The RCMP received and investigated 116 complaints during the month and handed out 35 warnings under town by-laws and 45 under traffic by-laws. Police officers during their nightly rounds also found 18 city premises unlocked and reported 48 street lights out. They attended 13 fires.

Of the cases tried in police court, 139 were liquor cases under the Indian Act and also under the B.C. Government Liquor Act.

Two articles were reported lost and two reported found and are held by city detachment.

Expenses for holding prisoners in jail amounted to $1,119.

Fines payable to the provincial government amounted to $160 and costs of $26 also went to the province. Fifty dollars in fines went to the federal government and costs paid to the Dominion amounted to $202.50. Total fines levied under city by-laws totalled $156.

In the course of duty during the month RCMP city detachment vehicles covered 6,439 miles

Big Drug Raid Made on Ship

VANCOUVER (CP)—City detectives boarded a deepsea freighter in the pre-dawn fog Tuesday, making one of the largest narcotics hauls so far this year.

The detectives, in company with two RCMP officers, raided the China Mail, seizing five containers of drugs, with an estimated value of $6,000 on the underworld market. The raid followed the discovery of narcotics in a rooming house.

Four suspects are being held for investigation.

NICOLE MAUREY, the beautiful and lucky French film actress who played opposite Bing Crosby in "Little Boy Lost" indicates good-bye following a whirlwind 96-hour visit to Hollywood, where she set some kind of record with 21 TV shows, 12 radio appearances, and an average of 14 press interviews per day. Nicole is in this country for premieres of her new picture.

Native Girl's Death Caused by Drowning

Death by misadventure caused by asphyxia from drowning was the verdict given last night by a jury under deputy coroner George Dawes inquiring into the death of 16-year-old Cora Spencer of Metlakatla.

Miss Spencer was found dead aboard the Prince Rupert about 1 a.m. September 11.

According to evidence given by RCMP, a police matron, a steward and stewardess aboard the Prince Rupert, the young native girl was found, fully clothed, slumped over a bathtub with her head in the water.

She ship, which sailed from Prince Rupert at 12:30 a.m. September 11, turned back when the incident was discovered and attempts to revive Miss Spencer were continued from the time she was found until after the ship docked again.

Testimony by Dr. Donald Oakley of Prince Rupert, who examined Miss Spencer on September 9 in the city jail and again on the morning of September 11, and also performed an autopsy, showed there were no signs of external violence, no marks and no bruises. Death had been caused by asphyxia brought on by drowning. The girl's head and clothes on the upper part of her body were damp, he said.

Asked by RCMP Sgt. Norman, who was conducting the inquiry, as to how it was possible that the girl got into the position in which she was found, Dr. Oakley said it was possible that Miss Spencer fainted after dressing.

Constable Mason, who was aboard ship on escort duty, said that on advice from a stewardess that a woman prisoner had locked herself in a bathroom, he and Constable Wassen investigated.

When the proper key failed to open the door, they tried it open with a crowbar and found the young girl slumped over the tub.

She was immediately carried out into the corridor where artificial respiration was begun. An American doctor aboard the ship was called and he pronounced the girl dead. However, after the body had been taken to the stateroom opposite the bathroom which Miss Spencer shared with Mrs. M. V. Clayton, police matron, artificial respiration was restarted and continued until the ship arrived back in Prince Rupert.

Mrs. Clayton told the jury that before leaving the police

City Seeks Hunter

A party of 16 men is in the area south of Massaham Island for an eland hunt. The party failed to return on hunting expedition last week.

Watson, 70 started out at 10 a.m. yesterday and when he failed to return last night, friends, other hunters and an RCMP constable searched the woods for him. The woods were intended to hunt a great deal of heavy game.

Jefferson Aged 74

Sammy Jefferson of 117 West died in Prince Rupert hospital at noon yesterday. He was well-known throughout the Rupert district where he spent his entire life. Mrs. Jefferson was the wife of William Jefferson, former foreman of the Stevedoring and Contracting Company. She was born in Simpson 74 years ago.

She survived by her husband and son George White at 117 West; two sons, William Gossnell of Vancouver and Tom Gossnell of Vancouver; one sister Gladys of Vancouver and numerous nieces.

Port Departs Tonight Final Trip of Season

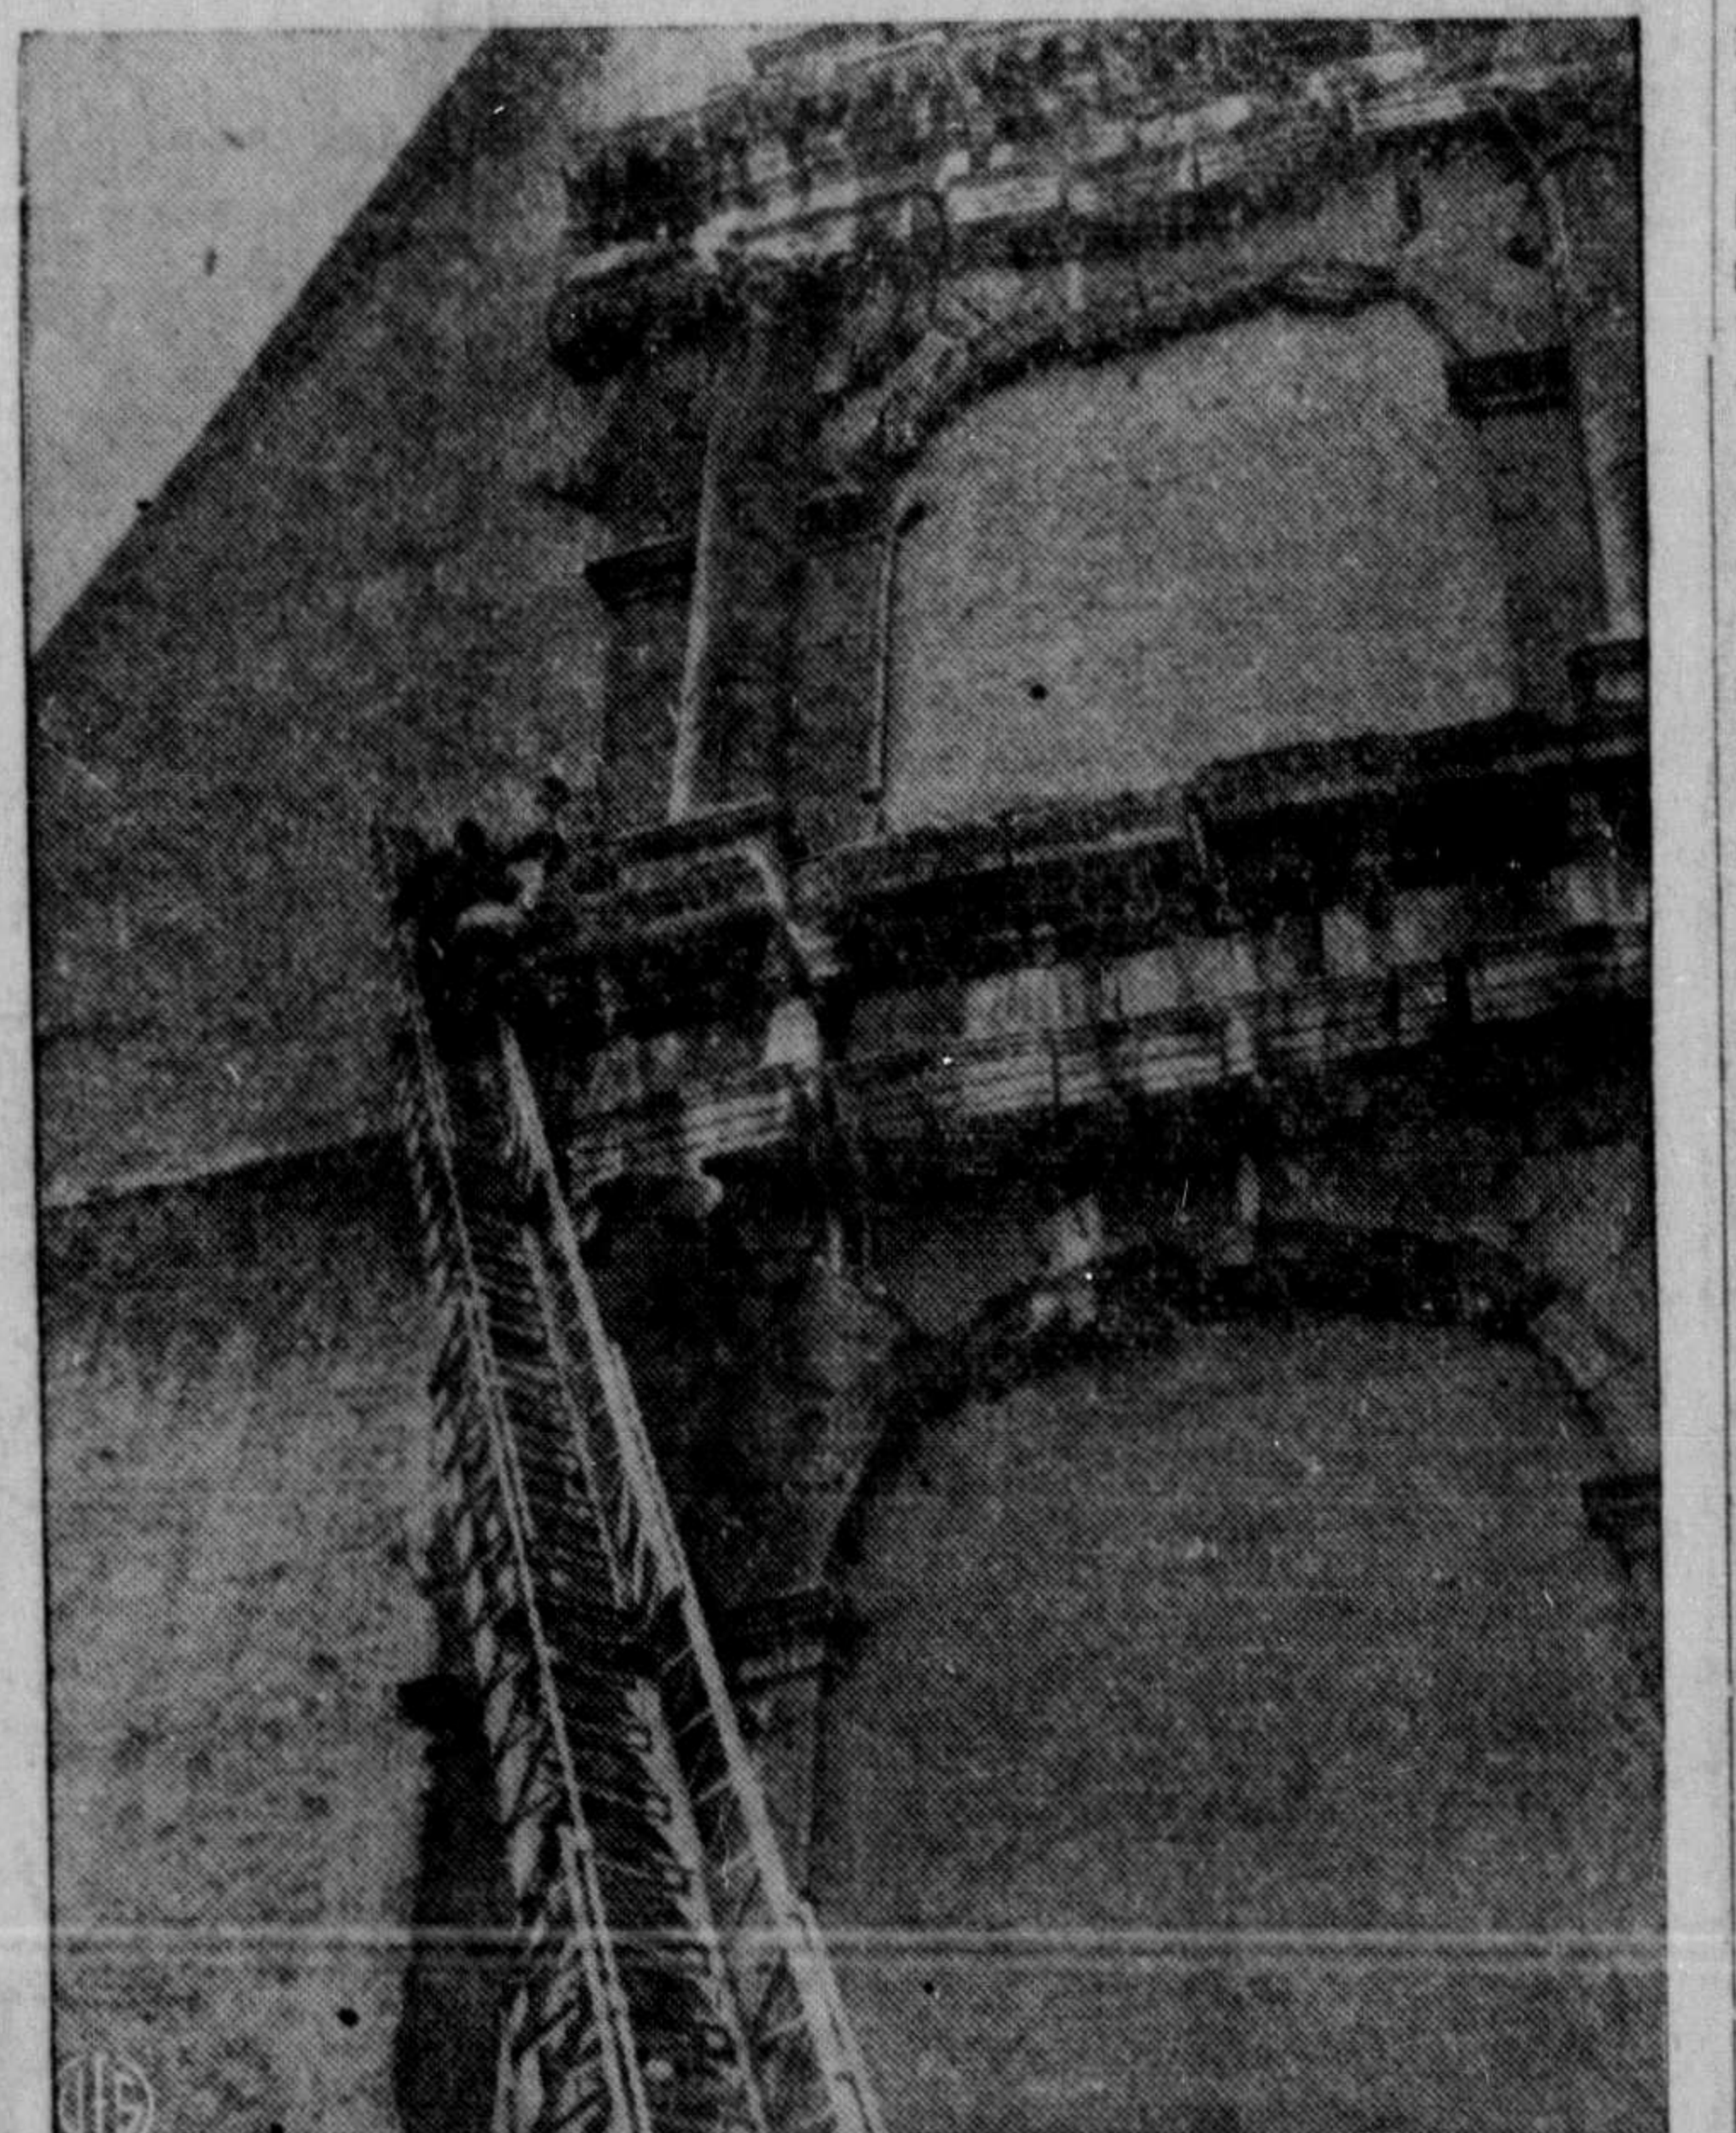

The Prince Rupert tonight will make her final call of the season at this port, and then head for Vancouver where she will be in dry dock for overhaul.

Her duties will be taken over by the Prince George, which is present on charter to a party of Shriners, touring the coast.

Tonight will be one of the rare occasions on which both the Prince Rupert and the George will arrive in port and leave together.

They are scheduled to arrive at 8 o'clock and pull out for Vancouver at midnight, although they won't stay together on the south. The Rupert will head direct to Vancouver while the George will continue the Shriners' cruise.

The master of the Rupert for her final trip is Capt. R. W. Jenkins and purser is D. W. (Don) Jenkins. Captain Eccles is the helm of the George.

Keep the Elevator Open

FOR NEARLY two years now Prince Rupert's waterfront has shared in the activity of the nation's all-around first industry—agriculture—with the reopening of the Dominion government grain elevator.

Canada's grainfields have yielded splendidly in the last three years. This year promises to produce a crop only slightly below the record one of last season. But somehow, the federal government has deemed it necessary to warn the nation that its crop might be difficult to market.

This situation lies in the face of thousands upon thousands of near-starving people in the Orient and in other countries less fortunate than we, who are among the world's primary bread-wheat producers.

A stoppage of grain shipping would seriously affect Prince Rupert's waterfront activity and its economy as well as that of the entire country. But this could likely be avoided if the Canadian Wheat Board sharpened its pencils a little and narrowed down the margin of profit on a bushel of grain.

The buyers of our grain know that we have plenty of it. They feel, therefore, that they are entitled to a little reduction in its price.

Perhaps we could do much worse than sell more wheat at a lower price. Or, we may be pricing ourselves out of another lucrative market in the primary industries.

We have already done so in fishing and lumbering.

We Should be Prepared

FOR the second time in a week, we have found ourselves unprepared to meet an emergency.

In the absence of any established arrangement for handling rescue operations in this rugged flying country, precious time was lost yesterday while airline officials discussed the fate of a plane reported missing between here and Terrace.

Thanks to the initiative of Queen Charlotte Airlines, a plane was readied quickly and took to the air. Speed is probably the most important thing during a rescue, yet unnecessary delays are caused by failure to establish a set-up here.

A man's life could be lost while waiting for directions from Vancouver where RCAF air-sea rescue operations are supervised.

In cases such as yesterday's and the recent search of American oil magnate Ellis Hall, the first few hours can mean the difference between life and death. We should always be prepared to go into action.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

The fact that the Prime Minister failed to announce his reorganized Cabinet on his return from his fortnight of reflection at his lower St. Lawrence summer home is accepted in Federal circles as evidence that the government's sweeping election victory did not solve all its political problems.

In point of fact, the extent of the sweep simply intensified some of them. The staunch showing which the Liberal candidates made in the Toronto area, for example, strengthened that region's already air-tight claim upon Cabinet representation. In addition, the fact that no members of the Cabinet were casualties in the voting increased the problem of reshuffling portfolios, since it created no new vacancies for outside talent.

The difficulties which Mr. St. Laurent was facing were fully appreciated in Parliament Hill circles. But despite their magnitude the Prime Minister was expected to come back from his holidays with some formula of solution. His failure to do so is sparking widespread comment and speculation, no less in Liberal circles than amongst the opposition.

One report which is being widely accepted in Liberal circles is that the entire project of re-organization of the Ministry has been shelved for the present—at least until the eve of the opening of Parliament in November. The resignation of George McIlwraith, West Ottawa Liberal MP, from his post of Parliamentary Assistant to Trade and Commerce Minister C. D. Howe is cited as confirmation of the rumor. Brilliant yet eminently sound McIlwraith is easily the most eligible MP for Cabinet appointment. The fact that he dropped out of the race after waiting so long for recognition is claimed to be due to his having learned privately that no changes are in the wind for the present.

McIlwraith's resignation as a Parliamentary Assistant points up a situation which better informed Parliament Hill correspondents have recognized for some time now. That situation consists in the fact that the present Liberal Cabinet has reached an age of service at which it is blocking the way to promotion of younger and able Liberal MPs. During no other Parliamentary decade has the rate of turn-over in any Cabinet been so low. For the Cabinet members such a situation probably has been most satisfactory, since it has meant the maximum of security and the minimum of problems of re-adjustment. But for the ambitious young Liberal MPs in the House it has meant frustration of the most vexatious kind.

When dissatisfaction in a party reaches the stage of open expression—as in the McIlwraith case—the usual tendency is for it to mushroom. Federal circles are watching the situation among the more able of the younger Liberal MPs with high interest and some suspense. Developments could be interesting.

One 20-Cent Tomato

WHEN we were up near the Rocky Mountains and doing our own holiday cooking, my wife bought one nice big tomato.

The price was twenty cents for the single tomato!

We talked a lot about that twenty cent tomato next day in the Okanagan. For around Vernon there were some fair roadside bargains in tomatoes—four pounds for thirty-five cents. But at one stand I saw many tomatoes rotting on the ground. The disappointed farm wife, no doubt, had been unable to sell her crop at any price.

THERE IS something radically wrong with our deliberately bottle-necked distribution system in Canada, when you have to pay outrageous prices for a product only a few hours drive from the country where surpluses are allowed to rot.

On the same Okanagan weekend I heard of one peach grower who had decided to let the remaining crop rot on the trees because the cannery could accept no more peaches.

This is not written in criticism of the farmer, nor of the cannery—both of whom acted as you or I would act in their places—given the same circumstances.

But it is written as a reminder that our greatest, swiftly growing problem is still unfaced—and because it is unfaced—we have not yet begun to try to solve it.

SINCE THE invisible but very real Roosevelt revolution, Canada and the United States are both committed to the policy of guaranteed floor prices to farmers.

Canada right now owns vast stocks of unsold butter, bought by the government to keep the floor price above 58 cents to the farmer. We also own a huge stock of dried milk, a vast surplus of unsold canned pork. Recently our government also bought the whole unsold pack of last year's cheese—and the policy is to apply to 1953 cheese as well.

Moreover, while the nation does not itself own outright the wheat crop, it has a very real financial stake in the 1952 crop, which is still totally unsold and in storage, and also the new 1953 crop, now held on farms, for there is almost no other storage place for it.

ALL POLITICAL parties in Canada favor this procedure in principle—and the only criticism made of it in the 1953 election was that it did not go far enough.

Hence, we may take it for granted that such a policy, or something which even better serves the farmer interest, is going to remain in effect.

That is why I think we must face up to some very real decisions. I am all in favor of guaranteed prices for farmers—in fact I think the day will come, and ought to come, when everything the farmer produces or the fisherman catches, will be bought COD by the nation.

But it seems to me nothing less than sheer insanity—indeed a socially criminal act—to use the nation's tax money to buy up food, and then to hoard that food at a price some of the people cannot pay.

You can perhaps justify subsidizing buying of food for the people. But in my opinion you can never justify subsidizing a price-raising process which denies food to anybody who lacks food.

CONANT (right), U.S. High Commissioner for Germany, visits a food-distribution centre in Berlin, where thousands of East Germans are flocking to receive American food parcels at the rate of 70,000 daily. Communist treats against East Zone residents have not retarded the flow of persons risking punishment in order to obtain food.

VICTORIA REPORT

by J. K. Nesbitt

VICTORIA.—Mr. Speaker Thomas Irwin, MLA for Delta, has been delving deep into history so that he may know every facet of his important legislative position.

In the six months prior to the opening of the 24th Legislature he has done a tremendous amount of reading and there are few questions he can't answer about parliamentary procedure, origin of much of which is shrouded in the mists of time.

Mr. Irwin says that nothing done in a Legislature is meaningless, though sometimes it might appear so to the public.

"The pageantry of Parliament," says Mr. Irwin, from his research and study, "is a monument to all those who have fought through the years for civil liberties."

Mr. Irwin puts it this way: "One of the greatest battles of all history was fought without any individual heroes, but in that battle many lives were lost; it was a battle that lasted more than 900 years; it involved two civil wars; three kings were deposed, and one king lost his head. It was the battle of the British people for their freedom from absolute monarchy. The British people were far in the vanguard in pressing for and fighting for their liberties, but all western countries have followed their lead."

Mr. Irwin continues: "At the outset, the king was all-powerful, but he had one vulnerable spot, his necessity for money to administer his own and the affairs of the nation. The people had but one weapon—the money; they used this weapon constantly, gradually attaching one condition after another to their grants of money, resulting ultimately in democracy."

The monarch is not allowed to enter the Commons chamber, save to open and prorogue Parliament. This custom carries right through to the provincial legislature; the lieutenant-governor cannot enter, except on opening and closing days of a legislative session, or when called by the legislature to give assent to bills. He could not wander into the public galleries and take a seat like an ordinary citizen.

Mr. Irwin tells us the origin of this: "In 1523, King Henry VIII, in need of money for his various wars, asked Parliament for 800,000 pounds. In order to compel this, he sent his all-powerful minister, Woolsey, who lived in a splendor and with a revenue greater than that of the king, to Parliament to impose the royal will. Woolsey appeared in Parliament to harangue the members in their duties to

The plain fact is that only the very poorest recipients of old age pensions receive anything like $4.80 net. The rest of us get anything from $300 down and the down may easily approach very close to zero. Even so there is a pleasant sensation in handling the monthly cheque.

About 48 cents of every tax dollar is going to defence. That's a whale of a big bill.

"For the life of me," said the cat, drawing his last breath, "I can't remember what I did with the other eight."

THAT GUARANTEE!

In business, comments the Financial Post, there can be no such thing as a guaranteed annual wage. Money is paid only so long as a business continues to be profitable. When its products and services cease to be attractive to consumers, the business will fold and all its workers from the office boy to the big boss himself must find other jobs.

AN OLD FRIEND

We always regarded codfish in a matter-of-course spirit—something that had always been here and always would am! In youth we swallowed cod liver oil by the teaspoonful, table-spoonful and part glassful. And many the meal, not beefsteak, have we munched. Nor can there be forgotten the advertisement showing the figure of a stalwart fisherman with a huge cod, safely caught and landed. It's about as long as himself, extending from shoulders to feet, and he seems quite pleased with the way things are going.

Tour Party Gets Quick Look At City Before Departing

An excited, and visibly impressed group of some 40 Americans spilled off the Prince Rupert when she docked here yesterday afternoon, eager for a quick look at the city before starting on the homeward leg of their northwest tour.

The 40 men and women, of Buffalo, New York, and district, participating in the fourth annual tour sponsored by The Buffalo Evening News, were taken to see the B.C. Packers cold storage plant and other points of interest in the city, before boarding the train for their jaunt eastward to Jasper and Winnipeg, and on to Buffalo.

H. E. Boyer of the Northern Pacific Railway company is leading the party which left Buffalo September 6, and visited Yellowstone park, Spokane, Portland, Seattle, Victoria and Vancouver before boarding the Prince Rupert for the trip north.

Few if any of the visitors had seen the American or Canadian West before, and all were impressed.

Mr. Boyer said they were the most enthusiastic group he had worked with, full of praise for the beautiful scenery particularly along the coast from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, and full of praise, too, for the hospitality of westerners.

After their visit to B.C. Packers, where they fired questions at plant officials, they returned to the Rupert for dinner, and then boarded the train.

I Reach For Them with pleasure—because I know that my S.O.S. Scouring Pads will do whatever I need them for in a jiffy. Maybe it's to scour the bath tub—or the top of the stove—or a burned pot. Sometimes it's to take a stain off linoleum... or remove old wax. Any time—every time!—S.O.S. does the job! It's really a magical combination of sturdy, interwoven fibres, filled with grease-dissolving soap. They're so neatly made too—a pleasure to use in every way. I think that "S.O.S." must stand, too, for "Secret of Secrets" for every woman who wants her house to shine with cleanliness. It's certainly mine!

I Bless The Day when I first brought FRENCH'S INSTANT POTATO powder into my home... and threw out the old drudgery of potato preparation! All the full flavour—and nutrients—of the finest potatoes are ready in the twinkling of an eye—as the best mashed potatoes you ever tasted!... Or, maybe as a crisp brown coating to fish cutlets, or croquettes... Try it as a thickening for gravies, stews, and soups... or as a topping for baked casserole dishes, Shepherd's Pie... meat or chicken pie. It turns a delicate brown under the broiler and adds food flavour and food values that I need in meal-planning for my hungry brood.

Count Them! All the things you'll like about BLUE BONNET DE LUXE MARGARINE! One of them is the shine of the De Luxe Blue Bonnet quarters. They get right from the package to the plate... and they're individually wrapped in pure aluminum foil. That's to preserve the delicate flavour of De Luxe Blue Bonnet... delicious fresh from the refrigerator—or when served melting hot on toast, meat or vegetables. Incidentally, besides the natural nutrition of good ingredients, 16,000 units of Vitamin A are added to every single pound of De Luxe Blue Bonnet. And another thing you'll like about De Luxe Blue Bonnet—the handy chart on the package shows where to cut for recipes.

New Units Officially Started by Imperial

Special to The Daily News

IOCO, B.C.—The most modern refinery in Canada and the largest in the Pacific Northwest officially went "on stream" here Wednesday afternoon when Honorable Einar Gunderson, B.C. minister of finance, closed a switch to start operations in Imperial Oil's new plant on the shore of Burrard Inlet.

Speaking on behalf of the premier, Mr. Gunderson expressed great pleasure at being present to participate in the official opening of such a modern refinery.

During his address he traced the history of oil and its derivation from the days of ancient civilization to the present time.

He drew attention to the intensity of the province and complimented Imperial Oil on the part it has played in the development of the country.

Other speakers included Hon. G. McGregor Sloan, chief justice of B.C.; E. K. Lewis, superintendent of the refinery, and J. R. White, president of Imperial Oil.

The rebuilt refinery has the first fluid catalytic cracking unit in British Columbia, the reconstruction program, which almost doubled the capacity of the refinery to 22,500 barrels a day, took 18 months and cost $13,500,000.

Mr. White pointed out the refinery addition would have cost only $7,450,000 if it had been built 10 years ago, and he cited this as evidence of the sharp rise in industry's cost of living.

"We as manufacturers don't like rising costs any more than you do as consumers," said Mr. White. "The fact is that in several recent years we have incurred losses in this province and the best performance we have been able to average in our British Columbia manufacturing and marketing operations since the war has been a return of less than two per cent on our capital employed here."

IOCO was enlarged because of the assurance of a supply of crude oil from Alberta by pipeline, Mr. White said, adding any price reduction would depend on the tariff which Trans Mountain Pipe Line would put into effect when it starts deliveries later this fall.

You will find De Luxe Blue Bonnet wonderfully convenient. Individual quarters are ideally shaped to put right on your plate... to slice into neat pats... to measure for recipes. Bob Turley, Strikeout Artist, Limits Yanks to Four Hits

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer
One of the brightest prospects who will leave St. Louis with the Browns at the end of this season is young Bob Turley, a strikeout artist fresh out of the army.

A big, husky 22-year-old righthander, Turley turned up unheralded in mid-August and went to work at once. In a month he's appeared in eight games. His won and lost record of two to four is nothing to shout about, but in 47 innings he has struck out 48 men. He has pitched complete games in his last three starts, allowing a total of only 15 hits while striking out 30.

Pitching for a last-place club is one of the toughest jobs in baseball. Turley has lost all four of his games by one run.

He lost one of these Wednesday night to the champion New York Yankees, 3-2. He gave up only four hits, all singles, but the Yanks combined three of these with two walks to get all of their runs in the sixth inning. Turley struck out eight and walked eight.

LOPAT INJURED

The Browns won the first game of their twin bill, 5-3, against an assortment of second-stringers. Ed Lopat suffered his fourth loss and was forced from the game in the fourth inning when he was struck on the right foot by a line drive. The injury was not serious.

In other action Wednesday Cleveland Indians beat Philadelphia Athletics 7-2, Washington Senators defeated Chicago White Sox 4-2, and Detroit Tigers thumped Boston Red Sox 8-3 in the American League. St. Louis Cardinals edged Brooklyn Dodgers 5-4, Milwaukee Braves whipped Pittsburgh Pirates 7-3, New York Giants shaded Cincinnati Redlegs 4-3, and Chicago Cubs defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 7-4 in the National League.

FELLER WINS NINTH

Bob Feller scattered eight hits in winning his ninth game for the second-place Indians at Philadelphia. Larry Doby paced a 12-hit Cleveland attack with a home run and a single and drove in four runs.

Eddie Yost celebrated his "night" in Washington with a single and a double as the Senators beat Virgil Trucks, who was trying for his 20th victory. Yost scored the first two runs. Connie Marrero beat Chicago for the third time this season, giving up six hits.

Rough Riders Top Big Four After Comeback Downs Als

By The Canadian Press
Ottawa Rough Riders found themselves atop the Big Four Football League today after coming from behind to defeat Montreal Alouettes 22-13 Wednesday night in the capital's Lansdowne Park.

The Ottawa victory coupled with Toronto Argonauts' 21-20 defeat of the Tiger-Cats in Hamilton, changed a three-way tie for top spot in the league to a three-way tie—Toronto, Montreal and Hamilton—for the league cellar. Riders have lost once in four starts this season. Avatus Stone, triple-threat Negro back who jumped a National Football League contract with Chicago Cardinals to go to Ottawa, starred in the scoring for Roughies with 17 points—three majors and two rouges.

Gene Roberts converted all three Rider majors and Tom O'Malley, who quarterbacked a convincing fourth quarter, kicked two singles.

Montreal's Sam Etchevery threw touchdown passes to Ray Poole and John O'Quinn. Both were converted. Jim Miller's rouge completed the Als' scoring.

Auburn Lambert, fourth quarterback employed by Hamilton this season, threw 14 completed passes in 32 tries, but still couldn't beat Toronto as 14,000 critical Tiger-Cat fans looked on.

Toronto's first points came when Doug Smylie piled over from the Hamilton one-yard line. Then Jack Gray, who pounced on a blocked kick, crossed for the second Argo major and Joe Scudero scored the third. Jack Barry converted twice and kicked a field goal, and Steve Karrys punted a single.

Lou Kusserow took a Lambert pass over the Toronto line for Hamilton's first major in the third quarter and Hal Waggoner and Lambert scored two more in the final 15 minutes. Tip Logan kicked all three converts and Cam Fraser booted two singles.

BOOSTS TRADE

KARACHI (CP)—A delegation from the Japanese rayon industry arrived here to explore possibilities of increasing the sale of Japanese rayon in Pakistan. Japanese steel industry leaders are also coming shortly to discuss enlarging trade between the two countries.

HARD-RUNNING JOHN HENRY (35), tower of strength for Calgary Stampeders was cut short by an unidentified Edmonton Eskimo player when the Cowboys bowed 18-6 to Edmonton in a Western Interprovincial League game. Fullback Mike King (32) of Edmonton moved in to make sure Johnson stayed put.

Peterborough Takes 2-0 Lead In Canadian Boxla Finals

VICTORIA (CP)—The swash-buckling Peterborough Trailermen appear headed for their third straight Canadian senior lacrosse title.

The robust, smooth-passing Eastern Canada champions handed the game but lighter Victoria Shamrocks another lesson in close-knit defensive play Wednesday night to score a decisive 10-7 victory and take a commanding two-game lead in the best-of-seven series for the Mann Cup.

While a sellout crowd of 5,500 loyal Victoria rooters watched in dismay, the easterners jammed three goals past goalie Jim Heatherington in the Victoria cage to take a 7-3 lead and the game.

Slater and Powless paced the Peterborough attack with five goals, Powless getting three. Coach Bobby Thorpe, Curly Mason, Nip O'Hearne, Roger Smith and Harry Wipper added the others. Archie Browning and Jackie Nerthup scored two apiece for the losers. Lew Lanness, Arnie Ferguson and Al Gill who played a standout game for Victoria, got the others.

The game started auspiciously for Victoria, who lost the opening contest Monday 13-12. After Smith had opened the scoring for Trailermen, Northup tied it up and Browning sent Shamrocks into the lead for the first time in the series.

But it was a short-lived lead. Trailermen came back to lead

3-2 at half-time in the close-checking game. Then they ran wild in the third after the clubs had traded a goal apiece.

Trailermen rolled for three fast goals from the sticks of Slater, Powless and O'Hearne, while teammate Dutch Viterelli was sitting out a penalty.

That was the game. Peterborough broke through for three more goals before the final whistle. Shamrocks rallied to bring the final count to 10-7.

Soccer Semis Set October 10

LONDON (CP)—Draw for the semi-finals of the Scottish League Soccer Cup today pits Hibernian against East Fife at Tynecastle Park, Edinburgh, and Rangers against Partick Thistle at Hampden Park, Glasgow.

The matches will be played Saturday, Oct. 10. Replays if necessary will be held Oct. 17.

Dewey Soriano New Manager For Rainiers

SEATTLE (AP)—A front office which put a lad who once sold peanuts in the grandstand into the job of general manager of Seattle Rainiers.

Former Prince Rupert resident Dewey Soriano, 32, was named general manager of the Pacific Coast League club Wednesday by owner Emil Sick after Leo Miller, 51, resigned by mutual agreement with the management.

Soriano was general manager last season for the Vancouver club in the Western International League.

Miller, here on a one-year contract, said he'd return to his home at Buffalo, N.Y. He was general manager of the International League Buffalo club in 1951.

"Seattle has a nice climate, but not for baseball managers," Miller commented. "Business is business, and I realize that attendance hasn't been good this year."

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It was the next-to-the-last game of the year for New York Yankees that first day of October, 1927.

They had scored 108 victories and were a mile in front. Yet 10,000 fans had paid their way into Yankee Stadium on the chance that they would see a burly young fellow named George Herman (Babe) Ruth break his own record of 59 homers set six years before.

Lefthander Tom Zachary, one of the best of the era, was Washington's choice to halt the Babe short of his goal. Tom bore down grimly, not wishing the distinction of serving up the record pitch.

So carefully did he work that the Babe walked on his first trip to the plate. Each of the next two times he singled. Twice the great man scored, and when he pigeon-toed to the plate in the last of the eighth the count was tied at 2-2. Shortstop Mark Koenig was on third, having tripled.

The Babe swung viciously at Zachary's first pitch, and missed. The second was a ball. The third was a smoking fast ball, low and inside. The resultant "whack" was heard throughout the park, and the crowd rose in thunderous acclaim as the ball streaked almost on a line for the seats in the rightfield bleachers.

It passed about 10 feet inside the foul pole, landing halfway over the stands, and the Babe had his 60th homer.

NO CONSOLATION

As the Babe trotted around, spiking each bag carefully, Zachary flung his glove to the ground and looked toward his teammates for some sign of consolation. He found none.

The applause from the crowd continued to the end of the inning and swelled anew as the moon-faced slugger trotted out to his place in right field, giving a snappy military salute every few steps.

Czechs Streamline Operations

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Prague radio have announced a sweeping reorganization of Czechoslovakia's Communist government. The emphasis seemed to be on streamlining and centralizing operations rather than on purging disgraced officials.

Premier Vilem Siroky remained head of the government under President Antonin Zapotocky, but the "Soviet-style" praesidium of premier and numerous vice-premiers set up last February to control the government apparently was replaced by a three-man committee.

This new "high command," Prague radio said, is composed of Siroky and two former praesidium members, the state planning chief, Jaromir Dolansky, and Defence Minister Alexei Cepicka, who become the new cabinet's only vice-premiers.

Other praesidium members, however, were given new posts of ministerial importance.

Along with Siroky and his two deputy premiers, Communist party boss Antonin Novotny continued a major figure in the Czech set-up. Though he lost his deputy premiership, he remained first secretary of the party's central committee and thus retained control of the powerful party organization.

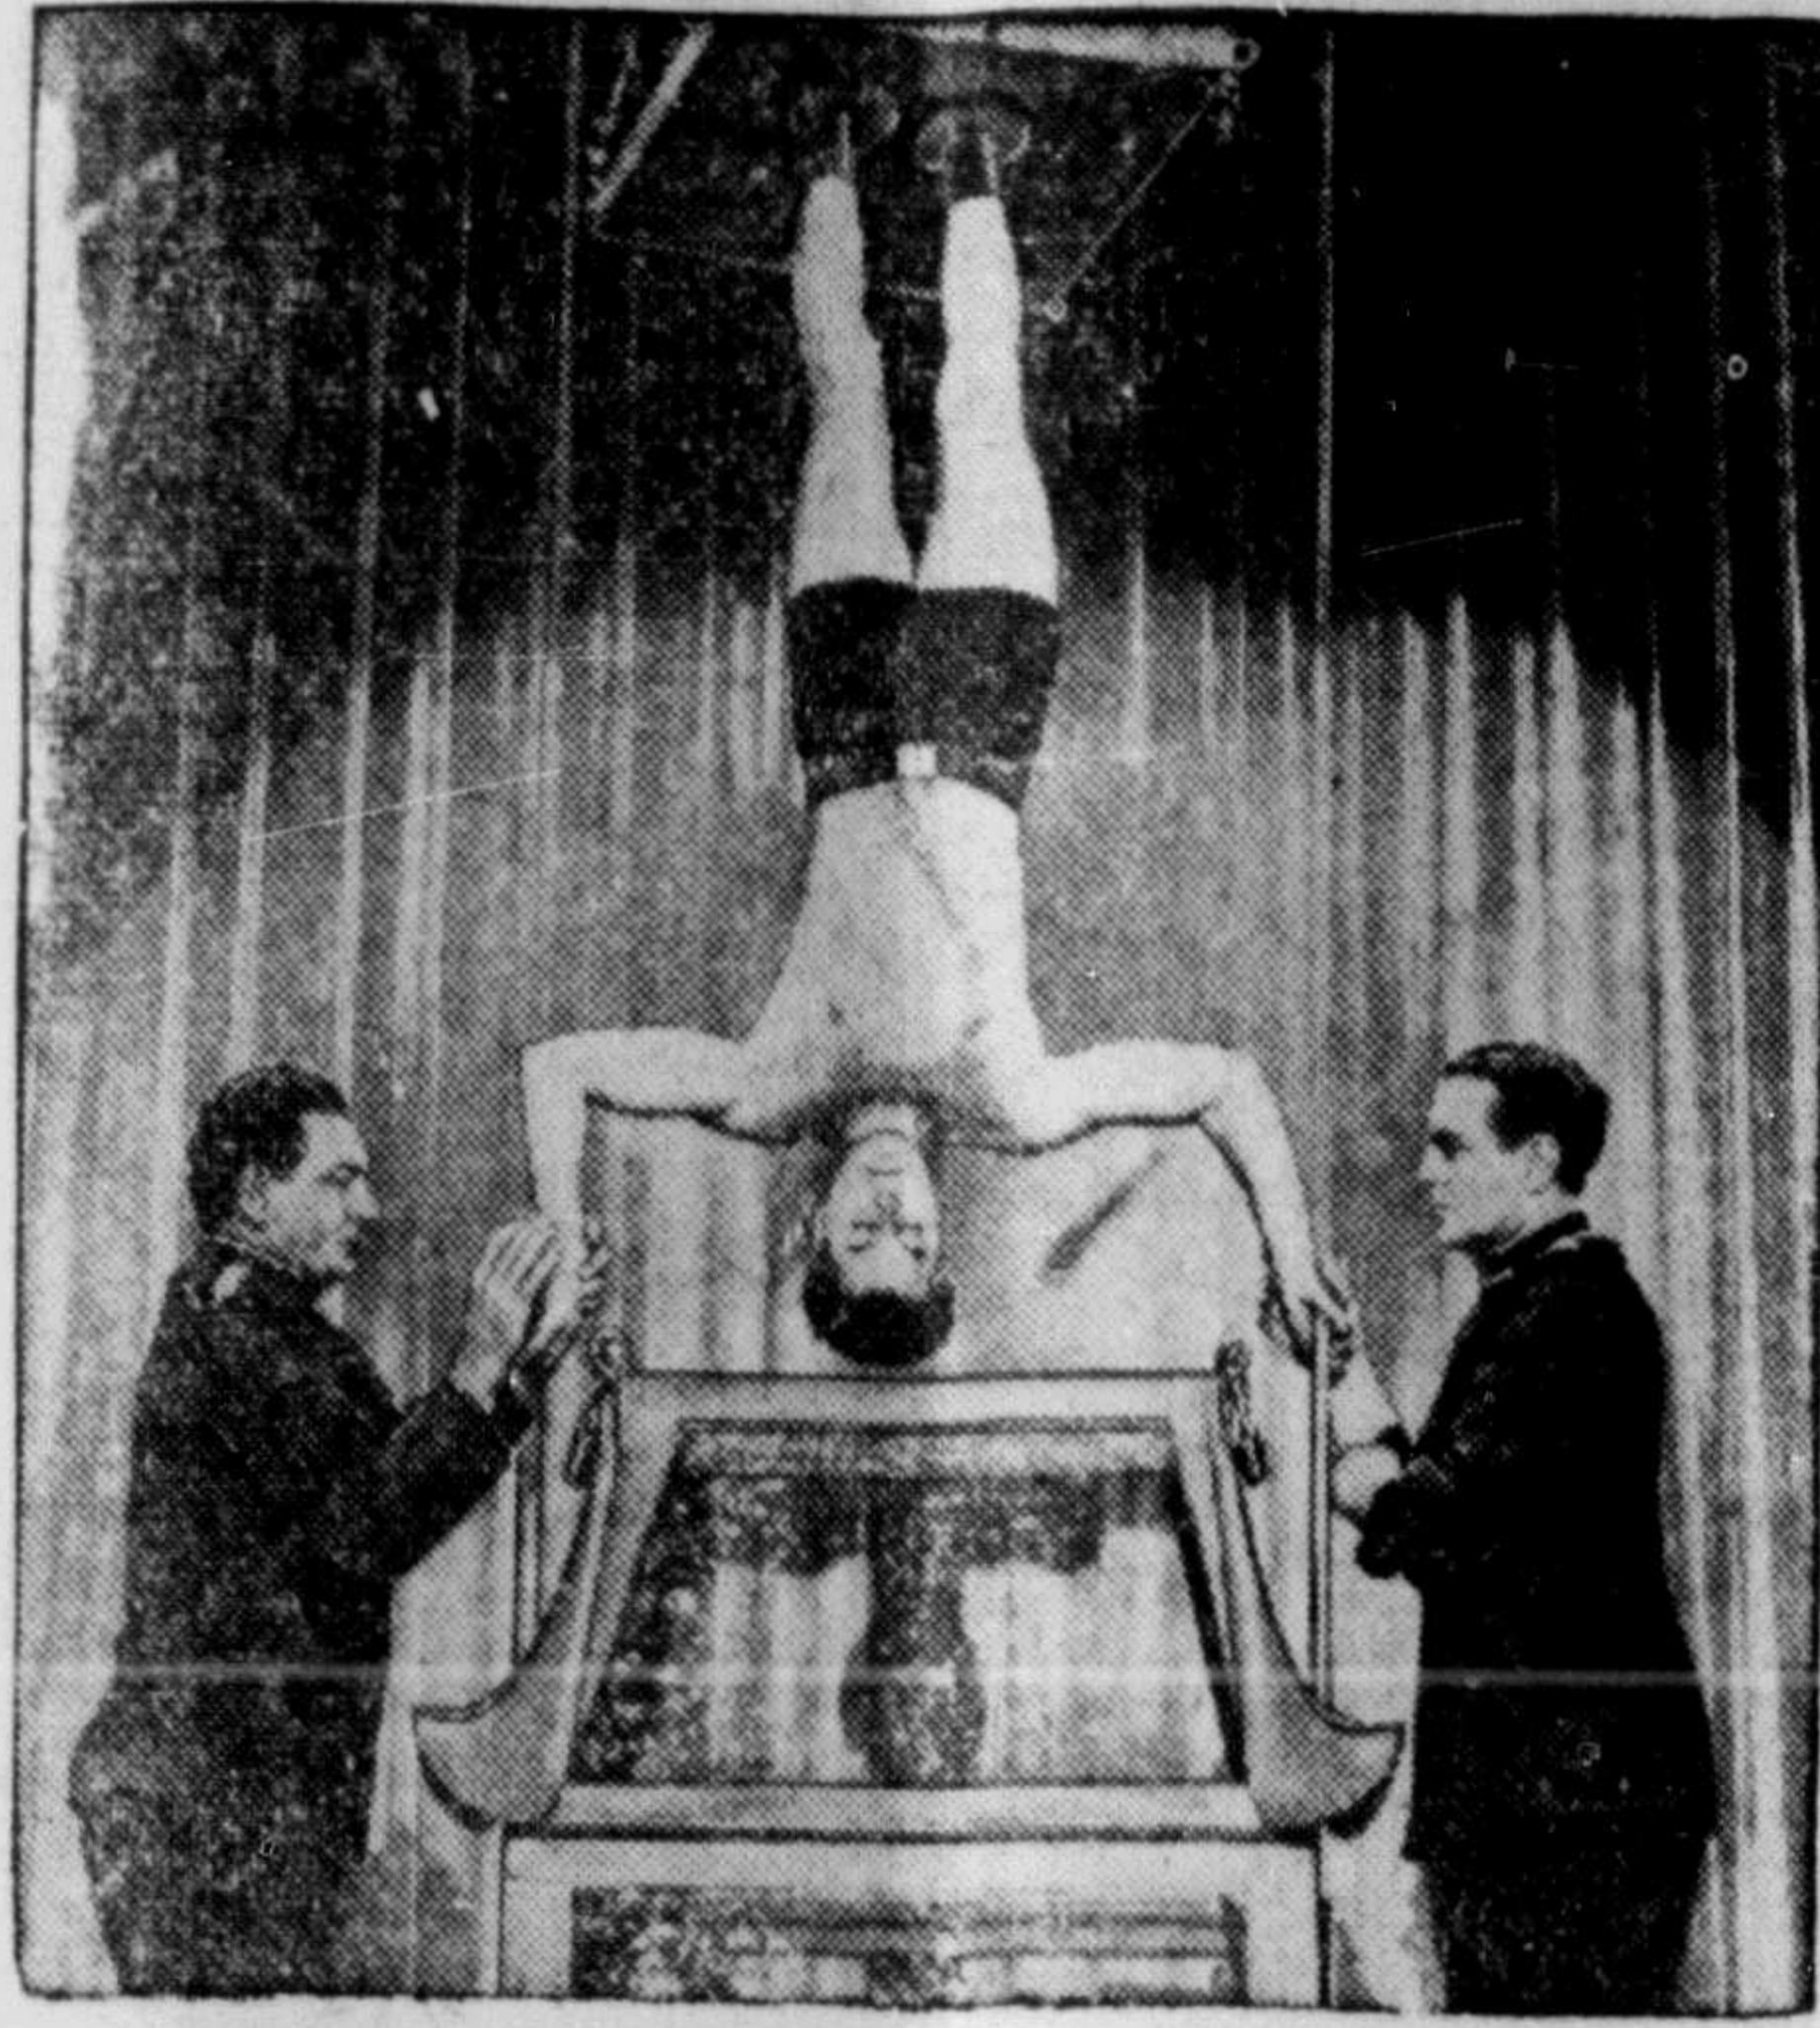

The reorganization was the first major shake-up in the Czech government since Zapotocky stepped up from the premiership on the death of President Klement Gottwald last March and Siroky moved into the premiership. The praesidium has been set up only last February.

The shake-up follows months of widespread unrest in Czechoslovakia.

Egypt Denies Fatemi Reports

CAIRO (AP)—A spokesman for Egypt's governing revolutionary council today denied reports that Hossein Fatemi, right-hand man of Iran's ousted premier, Mohammed Mossadegh, is in Egypt or is expected here.

An informed source said here Monday that Iran's former foreign minister, a fugitive from an Iranian police dragnet since Gen. Fazollah Zahedi overthrew the Mossadegh regime nearly a month ago, either had arrived or would arrive shortly in the Egyptian capital.

HE COULD HAVE BEEN the master criminal of all time. Or, he could have been the international spy king. But, instead Harry Houdini became one of the fabulous entertainment celebrities of world history, thrilling millions with his death-defying stunts and escapes from seemingly impossible places and situations. Now Houdini's amazing real-life story is going to reach millions more through the medium of Paramount's Technicolor motion picture "Houdini," which, starring Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh, begins tonight at the Totem Theatre.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

Miss Brash Enlists Aid of Opponents

Many players holding Mr. Meek's hand in today's deal would have doubled the one no trump overall. But, running true to form, Mr. Meek was afraid he might not be able to beat it, so he took the conservative course and gave his partner a single raise in hearts.

Miss Brash ran true to form, too. For her, the sun is always shining. The single raise was all she needed. On her near minimum holding, she jumped all the way to game.

Before we get our necks out, criticizing her bidding, I'd better tell you she made it.

The king of hearts was opened and she won with the ace and led her singleton diamond. Mrs. Keen put up the queen and dummy's ace took the trick. A small diamond was returned and ruffed.

Now dummy was entered with the king of clubs and another diamond led and ruffed. Here Mrs. Keen's king dropped and it seemed that she was down to trumps and black cards.

Miss Brash then led a trump and Mrs. Keen was in with the jack. She cashed her queen of hearts. She then decided that the situation was grave as far as the defence was concerned.

UNICEF Passes Aid Programs

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The executive board of the UN International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF) approved new aid programs totaling $9,920,000 Wednesday. Allocations included $603,000 in emergency funds for South Korea and $154,000 for Japanese food victims.

As you see, she was quite right. On a club return, Miss Brash would win tricks with both the jack and ace. She would trump her last club, then discard two spades on dummy's two good diamonds, giving up just one spade trick at the end.

Mrs. Keen's actual return was the ace of spades, followed by the trey of spades. When Mr. Abel failed to show up with the king of the suit, it was all over.

Miss Brash's bidding may be loose but she brings home many of her optimistic contracts by following the commendable practice of enlisting the help of her opponents whenever possible.

She doesn't try to do everything herself, like playing the spade and club suits in today's hand. She let Mrs. Keen do that for her.

3-Cent Hike Recommended For Loggers

VANCOUVER (CP)—An increase of three cents an hour for interior British Columbia woodworkers has been recommended by a majority report of the three-man conciliation board set up to deal with a contract dispute between operators and the International Woodworkers of America.

The report, issued over the signature of Percy Gomery, board chairman, with whom J. C. Munro, employees' representative concurred. It was released to Union executives Wednesday.

Executives of the IWA expressed dissatisfaction with the report.

"As far as the report is concerned, the chairman concerned himself more with an unfounded diatribe against the union rather than a consideration of the facts," commented G. H. Mitchell, secretary treasurer of the IWA B.C. District Council.

A minority report has been submitted by William Grey, union representative on the board. Besides recommending the wage boost the majority report said in part:

"Our impression must be that this union, as the result of its disapproved acts last year, has lost prestige, not only in the eyes of general public and the employers, but, indeed, a number of union members generally and even some lumber workers."

Volcanologist Believed Dead

ANCHORAGE, Alaska. (AP)—A knapsack, an empty light-meter case and footprints found by searchers Monday led to the belief that Dr. Werner Juhle, missing young volcanologist, drowned in an icy Alaska mountain stream.

Reports received here from the search party said Juhle's equipment was located at the edge of the stream near Mt. Katmai, in the Valley of 10,000 Smokes at the base of the Alaska Peninsula.

The search for him began Sept. 8, and by last week-end had grown to 39 men in the ground parties and 10 military planes, including helicopters.
