Preans to Reject Armistice

ed Troops ain Ground

By The Canadian Press

SEOUL—Pyun Yung South Korea's acting minister, said flatly his country will not accept the pending armistice and hinted that troops may refuse to go back when the armistice is signed.

His statement came as Chantreaux warned through other cities in the straight day of angry demonstrations against a truce would leave Korea divided.

new reports also told of troops in almost regular strength—perhaps 3,000 tracking through the line in the allied position in North Korea today and off bitter counter-attacks by two South Korean troops, troops of the States 3rd Division and back six Communist troops as an estimated 8,000 to 10,000 Red hit American and Korean positions along the 3rd Division reported killed and wounding about 600 troops.

Korean National Assembly President Syngman Rhee also adopted a resolution to avoid "any violence" between Korean people and Allied acting prime minister newspaper men after the meeting: "We cannot accept any part of an armistice terms."

hinted that Republic of troops, who man two of the 155-mile front line, will pull back 1½ miles to a buffer zone after the armistice is signed.

Thousands of South Koreans also adopted a resolution through the street, the city also adopted a resolution to scrap the armistice plan and start

Electors Begin 3-Week Wait Before Learning Result of Vote

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia settled back today to await the official outcome of Tuesday's provincial election—already heralded as a triumph for Social Credit.

Except for the CCF, which still figures it has a fighting chance, other parties are waiting for the final tabulation in gloomy resignation.

In Prince Rupert, CCF candidate George Hills took a wider lead over the other two election contestants with the counting of the advance poll which gave Hills 27 votes, Bruce Brown, Liberal, 15, and William Murray, Social Credit, seven.

New totals for the three candidates in the Prince Rupert riding, with two regular polls—Osland and Oona River—not yet reported, are:

George Hills, CCF, 1,817; A. B. Brown, Liberal, 1,669, and William Murray, 1,557.

Second round under B.C.'s alternative voting system won't be started until June 30, the delay between first and subsequent counts permitting return of absentee ballots to their proper constituencies.

But first counts tabulated Tuesday night and Wednesday indicated re-election of Social Credit with increased strength, quite possibly with a working majority. It appeared the CCF would continue as the official opposition.

Definitely, the Liberals and the Progressives Conservatives too terrific punishment and it appeared almost certain the PCs would not be able to squeeze a single member into the 48-seat house.

Liberals took the lead in two ridings but lost them Wednesday as returns continued to dribble in. Neither was leading anywhere in the latest standings, which showed:

Playing With Matches Deadly
NORTH VANCOUVER (CP)—Playing with matches is blamed for the death of four-year-old Carol Nendick in North Vancouver General Hospital.

RCMP report the girl and a six-year-old companion were playing with matches and old newspapers when the girl's dress caught fire. Flames quickly enveloped her, causing fatal burns.

Log Shipping Experiment May Open New Markets

Japanese Freighter To Load at Pulp Mill

An experiment which may result in a new 6,000,000-board-foot market for B.C. lumber annually is under way here with preparation of a waterborne shipment of low grade cedar logs to Japan.

The Japanese freighter Yayo Maru is due here tomorrow (Friday) to begin loading a million board feet of the logs at the Columbia Cellulose Co. Ltd. pulp mill at Watson Island, Rae Johnson, company woods manager, announced today.

If the logs are found satisfactory for the purpose designed in Japan, regular shipments of this type will be made in the future "and will open an entirely new and considerable outlet for B.C. lumber," said Mr. Johnson.

Because cedar logs, with the exception of the highest grades, are a drug on the B.C. market at present, Columbia Cellulose has been unable to dispose of its "by-product" timber within the province.

Mr. Johnson explained that while cedar is unfit for pulp making, it is cut in the course of logging for pulp woods such as balsam, spruce and hemlock. Between some 20 small logging operators along the northern coast from whom Columbia Cellulose buys pulp logs regularly and its own vast logging operations some six million feet of cedar logs are cut annually.

GET EXPORT LICENCE
Earlier, we were able to sell or exchange these logs in the south, but we can't get rid of them now at all," said Mr. Johnson. "So we have been granted an export licence. If this experiment works, we will be able to absorb all the cedar cut by the small operators as well.

This test shipment will be used in Japan for home building construction; for timbers, rough siding, and panelling. The Japanese buyers will decide whether or not the texture of the lumber and other qualities will meet a prescribed standard.

"If the lumber meets their standard, we can pretty well depend on a market. It will not be sold at any great profit, but would well pay for the operation," Mr. Johnson said.

FIRST SHIPMENT
This will be the first waterborne shipment of cedar logs from Prince Rupert and the first such shipment of any kind of logs to the Orient from here.

Meanwhile, the B.C. Lumber Manufacturers' Association announced that B.C.'s waterborne lumber exports had dropped 3,000,000 feet from March to April.

Of a total of 123,000,000 board feet exported by B.C. in April, one third went to the United Kingdom, Commonwealth countries took another 23,000,000 and the remainder was shipped to the United States.

Deane Finlayson, Progressive Conservative leader, appears headed for defeat in Oak Bay in his first try for election.

At the latest standing, Social Credit was leading in six of 10 seats on Vancouver Island, where it didn't elect a member in the last election. CCF candidates were leading in the other four.

American Financier Makes Deal For 14 Million Canadian Acres

DENVER, Colo.—Dr. Victor Ziegler, head of Ziegler Exploration Co. of Denver, said Wednesday that his firm has completed a deal with four Canadian corporations for the control of 14,000,000 acres of land.

Involved, he said, are 439,000 acres in Alberta, 8,500,000 in the Yukon and Northwest Territories, about 4,000,000 in Saskatchewan and about 850,000 in British Columbia.

Dr. Ziegler declined to tell reporters the names of Canadian companies or of financial details.

French Turn Down Third Cabinet Head

PARIS (CP)—The National Assembly early today turned down by one vote Georges Bidault's bid to become premier and end France's three-week cabinet crisis.

Bidault, leader of the Catholic Popular (Republican) movement, was the third candidate the Assembly has refused to confirm during the crisis. Paul Reynaud, wartime premier when France fell before Nazi invaders, and Pierre Mendes-France were turned down by the Assembly before it disposed of Bidault's bid.

Absolute majority of 314 votes are needed for Assembly confirmation. Bidault received 313. Reynaud had received 276 and Mendes-France, 301.

Earthquake In Fairbanks

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (CP)—An earthquake of moderate intensity rocked Fairbanks at 2:37 p.m. Wednesday. Buildings shook perceptibly but no damage was reported.

A seismograph at the University of Alaska recorded the quake and officials there said it was centred about 90 miles south of Fairbanks, which would place it near the Big Delta country.

Month of Decisions

HISTORY may well mark June, 1953, as the month of great joy, celebration—and decision.

It is the month in which a new Queen was crowned, the beginning of the new Elizabethan era, and the time in which world statesmen will make decisions that will have a deep impact on the reign of the young Queen and the economic life of the free world.

Seen through Canadian eyes, the two major world events that likely will follow the Coronation are the conference of the Big Three powers in Bermuda and decisions of the United States—the world's major economic force—on future trade policy.

The Big Three conference—Britain, the U.S. and France—has been reported as a possible prelude to a bigger conference, a meeting of the Western powers with Russia in pursuit of that elusive shadow—peace.

A long-term peace pact with Russia—if such a thing is possible—would, of course, leave Canada and other countries free to rechannel their industrial efforts, produce more for world trade, and thus enhance the possibility of an enriched cultural life under the new Queen.

But to sell more goods abroad will require a deepening and widening of the channels of free trade. Canada and the other countries of the free world have emphasized they rely on the U.S. to provide economic leadership in this field.

A test of what course the U.S. will follow will take place within a few weeks. A committee of the U.S. Congress now is drawing up its report on the so-called Simpson bill which would ring the U.S. Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act with new import restrictions. The act itself must be renewed this month or it will expire. President Eisenhower has asked Congress for a one-year renewal.

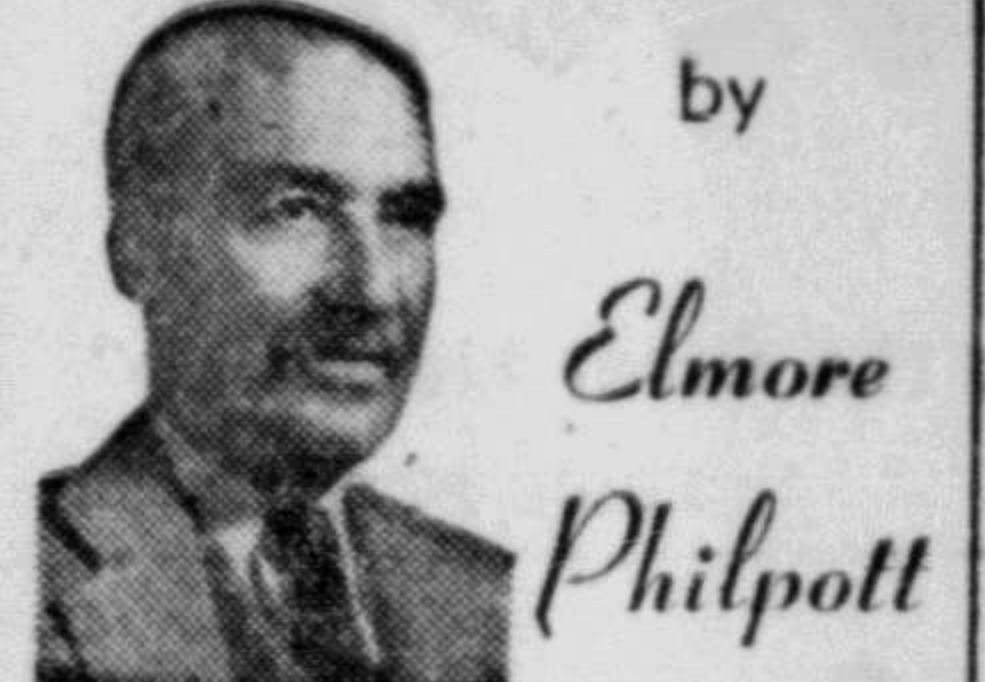

Rhee Intends to Fight on Alone After Armistice He Tells Star

TORONTO (CP) — President Syngman Rhee of the Republic of Korea has told the Toronto Star in a cable from Pusan that his country "intends to fight on alone after an armistice."

As I See It

That Salmon Plan

THE PEOPLE of Hanley, Stoke-on-Trent, England, are having a lively argument about B.C. salmon.

It all started when Mrs. R. Mayer, 2202 Upland Drive, Vancouver, cut out one of my columns and sent it to her sister, Mrs. Percy Sylvester.

Mrs. Sylvester in turn sent it to the Evening Sentinel, and then the fun began. For the Evening Sentinel posed the question which I had asked here:

Should B.C. salmon packers be permitted to stockpile B.C. salmon at warehouses in London? And should Canadians who wish to send gifts of salmon to friends in Britain be permitted to pay for these in Canada—thus by-passing the heavy parcel postage charges and delay in delivery?

THIS ISSUE has split the readers of the paper in Britain. It reports:

"A lively controversy has arisen from the rejection by the British government of a plan by which Canadians could send to their friends in Britain gift parcels of tinned salmon at the lowest possible cost.

"On one side are ranged in this country those people who would not benefit from the scheme and traders who regard it with some misgivings. Both support the government's attitude. On the other side are the salmon packers, Canadians who wish to send the parcels and those in Britain whose Sunday tea-time desires are being frustrated."

Mr. Allan Taylor, president of the North Staffordshire Grocery Association, objects that the scheme would mean a stock for "a favored few in salmon-starved Britain" and that "such supplies as we can afford should be bought by them (British private traders) and distributed by them on as fair a basis as possible."

The secretary of the associations adds: "This seems like an attempt by the salmon packers to use the sympathy of Canadians to overcome the currency problem. I would definitely frown on such a scheme."

The newspaper itself sums up the controversy with this comment: "Many people see good points in both lines of argument."

HERE again are the main facts. Many people in Canada regularly send gift parcels to friends and relatives in Britain. These are paid for by Canadians in Canadian dollars—hence no question arises as to whether or not individual Britons can afford to buy our salmon.

But the postal rates on these parcels are so high that the Canadian donors of the gifts feel they are getting only about half the real value for their money.

Under the ship-from-the-stockpile plan the senders of parcels would save very substantial sums of money. For whole shiploads of B.C. salmon would go forward to Britain—and the transportation cost per tin of gift salmon would be reduced to a tiny fraction of the present postal rates.

BRITISH grocers seem to fear that if this plan were permitted, families in Britain would work out private barter arrangements with friends and relatives in Canada. They claim this is already going on in food parcels from Ireland.

The long-term solution, of course, is a new trade deal with Britain whereby Canada would accept sterling for all food purchases—permitting Canadian salmon and other foods now in heavy surplus here to move without any government imposed restriction to the British market.

QUEEN ELIZABETH presents a Coronation medal to Cmdr. Robert Welland of Victoria, B.C., leader of the Canadian navy Coronation contingent.

VICTORIA REPORT By J. K. Nesbitt

VICTORIA—There's talk in the Legislative Buildings of hanging oil portraits of the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh in the legislative chamber.

For years portraits of King George V and Queen Mary hung in the law-makers' chamber, a colorful splash in that ornate, sombre place. But, before anyone could be around to hanging the portrait of King Edward VIII, he had abdicated. Then up went paintings of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth. The one of the Queen wasn't so good, and so something in authority ordered both down. A new picture of the Queen was to be ordered. That was about 1938. It was the end of the matter. It was one of those mysteries of government; nobody knew anything, and the whole thing was forgotten. Since then the spaces for the portraits of royalty, on either side of the clock, have been blank.

When next you people from the interior, or from up-island points, come to your capital city, you may find a few square inches where you can sit down in Parliament Square. For years, each summer, two white benches have been placed on the terrace of the Legislative Buildings. Always they were crowded, and visitors had to sit on the stone curbs and the lawns. No one could understand why more benches were not put on the terrace. It was another of those strange, annoying, petty mysteries of government.

This year, however, the government has found two more white benches; that makes four. If you're lucky you might find a seat. One would think a terrace as long as that one would have 10 or 12 benches, so that visitors could rest their weary bones and aching feet.

The outlook from this terrace is splendid, indeed—sweeping green lawns, the Inner Harbor, with its ships, and crowds on the docks, distant Little Saanich Mountain, its observatory gleaming in the sunshine, the green copper roof of the Cathedral Church of Christ, a glimpse of the turrets and towers of Craigdarroch Castle, the ivy-covered Empress Hotel, with its lawns and flowers and the heavy traffic, constantly swirling about War Memorial corner, colorful and bustling, but far enough away so that the noise isn't heard.

So, next time you're in Victoria, and visit the Legislative Buildings, try and get a space on one of those four benches, and sit there for half an hour. You'll get a view of Victoria impossible from anywhere else, and one that will quite fascinate you.

Lieut.-governor and Mrs. Clarence Wallace are expected back from the Coronation by the end of June. They've been having a wonderful time in the British capital. They were among more than 300 guests at a state dinner the Queen gave in Buckingham Palace.

His Honor will carry back to Victoria with him the commission signed by Queen Victoria in 1858 appointing James Douglas Governor of the Crown Colony of British Columbia. This was the commission which historians had been searching for over the years, and had just about given up hope of ever finding it. Last month it turned up in a long-locked vault in London.

Military Alliance with Britain Urged in Statement by Sen. Taft

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft (Rep.-O.) has called for a military alliance with Britain in the Pacific to bypass the United Nations veto in that critical world area.

The Senate Republican leader issued a statement clarifying the views he expressed in a Cincinnati speech May 26 which caused President Eisenhower to say "no," that he couldn't agree with Taft that the U.S. "might as well forget the United Nations so far as the Korean war is concerned" if efforts to obtain an armistice fail.

Eisenhower said the U.S. would have to "go it alone" everywhere if it operated single-handedly in Asia.

In an interview before he issued the formal statement, Taft made it clear that any early truce in Korea would likely put him back in the same foreign policy boat with Eisenhower in the Far East.

The Ohio senator said he is resigned to United Nations participation in the peace decisions which would follow a Korean cease-fire, a course Eisenhower apparently intends to pursue.

But if armistice negotiations fail, Taft indicated in the statement that he has not changed his view that the U.S. "might as well forget" the UN in dealing with the Korean situation. He denied he ever advocated "go it alone" policies and did not mention any differences of opinion with Eisenhower.

Taft said the United Nations had proved itself unable to halt aggression.

Northwest Rated Top Defence Area

SEATTLE (AP)—The Northwest is one of the most important defence areas in the nation, Charles S. Thomas, undersecretary of the navy, said here today. He told the Seattle chamber of commerce, at a luncheon aboard the aircraft carrier Yorktown that the navy has spent almost $250,000,000 in the Seattle area since July 1.

Special Session To Be Called If Truce Signed

OTTAWA (CP)—The United Nations General Assembly will automatically be called into session by External Affairs Minister Pearson should the truce talks at Panmunjom result in an armistice, S. F. Rae, secretary to Mr. Pearson, said today.

"The position is that under a resolution of the assembly passed at the conclusion of this part of the seventh (last) session, if there is an armistice in Korea, the president is requested to recall the assembly," he said.

Mr. Pearson, president of the UN General Assembly, would thus automatically recall the deliberative body.

The Montreal Gazette has just observed its 175th anniversary. In other words, more than half the history of Canada can be found in its pages.

That was a keen-minded woman who won a trip to Bermuda for sending in the best answer to the question: "Why is a newspaper like a woman?" What she wrote was: "Because every man should get one of his own, and not look at his neighbors."

It will not be the fault of the government of those grass plots in front of the post office do not become exclusive, although there is just as much playground room as ever for dogs—and that goes from poodle to mastiff. There is also seating space for leisurely citizens.

LEGALLY CORRECT While we never felt certain, it now appears well established that a dog has legal rights. It appears that in Middlesborough (Eng.), a bow-wow was lying on the doorstep of his home enjoying the supreme doggy delight of gnawing a bone. A neighborhood girl tried to take away the bone. He growled and bit her. The charge read that he had been a dangerous animal at large. The magistrate held that the dog was not a large but on his own ground and it was the natural thing for a dog to defend his property. Case dismissed. Congratulations, Rover. Give us your paw.

Certainly the government is glad to announce statistics on increasing longevity. We can pay taxes longer.—Ex.

Terrace Sees
World Preview
Of Alcan Film

TERRACE—This centre had a world preview last night when "Prelude to Kitimat" received its first public showing before an audience of 1,000 in the Civic Centre.

In introducing the film, George Vincent of Alcan said Terrace was chosen for the occasion because its future and that of Kitimat were tied together.

He foresaw the time when the two places would be competing in sports and sharing in community efforts. He said Terrace was a favored spot as a junction point and a neighbor of Kitimat.

The film was a spectacular documentary of the Alcan project from the first stage of construction to commencement of the plant at Kitimat last fall. Of special interest was the christening of the Kenney dam a year ago.

Will Robinson, president of the Terrace and District Board of Trade, introduced Mr. Vincent.

Annunciation Group Forms
Committee to Fix Grounds

Because of the high cost of material, the Annunciation Home and School Association is unable to pay for construction of a fence enclosing the school playground.

Members, however, at the final meeting of the present term last night, formed a volunteer work committee to build a backstop to prevent balls from rolling into yards of neighboring homes.

The meeting, under chairmanship of the association's new president, Art Murray, also endorsed a move to hold meetings on the second Monday of each month, beginning next September.

Representatives from the senior grades attended the meeting and were invited by president Murray to attend gatherings again when the association begins its fall sessions.

At Montreal, the Canadian Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation concluded its 16th annual meeting by passing for the 10th consecutive year a resolution urging the federal government to accept a bigger share of the costs of education. In its resolution, the federation said educational facilities across Canada vary greatly and in many areas "are deplorably inadequate, with little hope of improvement." The associations were concerned not only with provincial matters in education but nationally as well.

Board of Works Employee Loaned To Parks Board For Supervisory Job

Parks board commissioners last night considered themselves fortunate in securing the services of a city board of works employee as parks working foreman and supervisor for the summer months.

John Briglio was appointed to the position at a monthly salary of $320 an da work project was outlined by the commissioners. When his parks work is completed, Mr. Briglio will return to the board of works.

Priority was placed on clearing McClymont Park of stumps, remaining after last summer's brushing job on the banks of Hays Creek. A bulldozer will be used to push the stumps together, then the pile will be burned. The area is to be sown in lawn.

Other work placed on the priority list included repairs to the Roosevelt Park grandstand, clearing of underbrush at Westview, construction of handrails in Service Park and repair of tottem poles in city parks.

Commissioners were advised by the city board of works committee that their request for the city to undertake repairs of the tottem was not approved.

The board of works said it considered the parks board with a 50 per cent greater budget this year than last "will find some way" to make the repairs.

A motion by Commissioner Bob Eby to purchase a power lawn mower in order to keep down the grass in parks "which is growing like hay" was defeated. Commissioner Charlie Balagno voted against the motion on the basis that the board should wait until next year, then purchase a high quality machine which present funds would not allow.

As there were only three commissioners present, including chairman Pat Forman, the latter's negative vote broke the tie. Commissioner Art Murray had left the meeting earlier to attend another meeting. Commissioner Bob Armstrong was absent.

Youths Ask Court Trial In Theft Case

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY NEWS

TERRACE — Two 18-year-old youths in police court yesterday chose to face a preliminary hearing in connection with the $4,000 Cook's Jewellery store robbery here May 23.

One of the youths was arrested in Prince Rupert with part of the loot found on his person. RCMP said the other was arrested in Terrace and a cache of jewellery located by police here.

The pair appeared before Magistrate Will Robinson and a preliminary hearing ordered after accused chose to stand trial.

The hearing will take place in a few days.

Included in the loot recovered by the RCMP and identified by the owner, George Cook of Prince Rupert, were 40 watches, 89 rings and a quantity of cigarette lighters and cases.

Yanks Extend Win Streak To 13 Games

NEW YORK (CP)—New York Yankees extended their winning streak to 13 games in the American League and Milwaukee Braves clung to their one-game lead in the National League Wednesday.

The Yankees scored seven runs in the sixth inning to whip Detroit 11-4.

Sid Gordon drove in three runs with a home run in the eighth inning for Milwaukee's 6-5 decision over New York Giants.

CHATTER — Martin Nuyten played his first game in months and kept a fine goal. Carolei and Mye defended strongly. Rutton played an all-out game at centre-half. Letourneau was fast and Romane fought hard. Verhaar was dangerous but the forwards got few chances. Phillips wastes few balls.

Motors were unucky in goal. John Wilson, who tried his first game of the year when there was no other goalie available, found his damaged knee not up to the job and this cost the side a goal. Crosby took over and was equal to anything. Eby and Robinson tackled hard and skillfully. Sundberg and Bishop who changed places were both good. Furness was clever. Eckert was the best forward. All tried hard.

There were spots of everything in the game. Strong kicking, tackling, some hard and fair and some not so fair.

Sometimes there was clever footwork and lots of good heading. Rutton, Bishop, Sundberg all excelled in this play. It was Bishop's first league game of the season for the Motors. He was a stand-out.

Friday evening's game brings together the Battery and the General Motors. In their last game these two played to a draw.

CYO, General Motors Play to 2-2 Tie In Hard Fought League Football Game

In a hard-fought game last night in the North Star Football competition CYO and General Motors battled to a 2-2 tie.

CYO attacked at the start and then the Motors took over and following a period of pressure Mills beat Martin Nuyten to put the motormen a goal up.

From a corner kick Mohan equalized the score from close in. CYO went a goal up when John Wilson, who was subbing in goal,

South Korea Against Use of Indian Troops

JOHN HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. said President Eisenhower of an early defence of South Korea representative generous concession to Korean government cooperation with the impending communist truce agreement not by any means, meet the demands laid by Korean President Rhee in a statement through the embassy recognized by officials there is a fundamental irreconcilable difference between the Korean and U.S. positions about carrying on a war, and there is deep uncertainty about any compromise can in run produce real status Korea. Authorities said they have to do the best with what they have.

To Continue
Basic issue is whether should be unified by military or political and diplomatic means. Rhee wants to end the war until, he says, and it with a united force of Red power. But United States and its UN ally insist upon a truce with now, in the middle of leaving the matter of to later, peaceful negotiation.

Rhee's offer of a detest was contained in a made public by the White after it was released in President Rhee. Friday Rhee indicated in a statement that he would settle for withdrawal of forces from Korea if he first got a defence with the United States. The department felt he was saying that he wanted assurance that U.S. would not get into trouble through future efforts to North Korea by military force.

While, however, there are various intimations to United States that Rhee would settle and agree to the truce—whether or was willing to sign it—if could get a defence with the United States. At least, would assure Korea's protection after the truce, the Koreans felt.

Change
posed the question of a change in long-range Eisenhower administration policy. While it has been probable that a detest would be made with Korea, officials were in terms of action to

Atomic Weapon Production To Be Raised

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atomic Energy Commission officials, viewing 1954 as a year of "urgency," have told the United States Congress that they plan a sharp increase in the output of weapons with "new and greater effectiveness."

In testimony released here, they said a boost of more than 25 per cent in the production of atomic materials and weapons is scheduled for next year.

This would build up stockpiles at "a much higher rate" than last year when atomic developments were described as "revolutionary."

Chairman Gordon Dean cautioned against any further cuts in next year's atomic budget, which he said already has been slashed 32 per cent. It had been "pared to the bone" and "contains risks."

Russia, Dean said, is pushing a top-priority atomic program that underlines "our sense of the urgency which we feel about the year 1954 and the importance of our program."

Rehabilitation In Korea To Be Costly

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—The cost of rehabilitating what fighting in Korea destroyed will be huge, a statement by J. Donald Kingsley, retiring agent general for Korean reconstruction, indicates here.

Mr. Kingsley estimated recently that up to $1,500,000,000 worth of capital investment would be needed in Korea.

He also told the five-nation UNKRA advisory committee that the 1954 budget of the agency, the main UN instrument for long-term aid to Korea, should be $250,000,000 instead of $130,000,000 estimated as the maximum to be available.

"I have always believed very deeply in the historic mission of the United Nations in Korea," said Mr. Kingsley.

"If we can succeed in Korea, not only in terms of stopping aggression but also in restoring the economy, we will have made collective security a reality for the first time. Moreover, if we can do these things in the right way, the march of Communism in Asia will be checked and the whole history of the world will be altered."

With Conquest of Everest Now Over Explorers to Probe Depth of Ocean

With the conquest of Everest, adventurous man now turns from the roof of the world to the depths of the sea.

Thirty years of bitter failure passed before New Zealander E. P. Hillary, 34, and the Sherpa guide, Tensing Norkay, 39, planted the flags of Britain, the United Nations and Nepal on the 29,002-foot summit of Everest.

Now scientists and explorers are discussing the ocean beds and laying plans to probe their secrets so that no part of the globe remains hidden in the shadows before the light of 20th century progress.

"Explorers must now turn their attention to the undiscovered depths of the ocean," Sir Douglas Mawson, famous Australian Antarctic explorer, said in Adelaide, Australia. The fields of physical achievement are becoming fewer, he said, but the ocean remains "a great unknown sphere."

Taking him at his word is the shaggy-mustached Belgian scientist August Piccard, 69, virtually the only man today constantly delving into the mysteries of the sea.

At the French naval base of Toulon secret tests are being carried out with the 10-ton steel diving bell in which Piccard plans to explore the ocean bed at a greater depth than ever before.

Piccard plans to go down nearly 10,000 feet this summer off the Italian island of Ponza, near Capri. This is nearly 7,000 feet more than the record set up by U.S. explorer Charles William Beebe off the Galapagos Islands in 1934.

Piccard will explore unknown plant and animal life with the help of powerful searchlights attached to his new, Italian globular bathysphere.

In 1948, he abandoned a projected 13,200-foot descent off Cape Verde Islands because his bathysphere was damaged in a trial dive. Now Piccard says that at the end of the Ponza expedition, he may make a balloon ascent to 100,000 feet—to find out whether life exists on Mars.

But the world has not forgotten the achievement of the men still on the icy walls of Everest.

Mrs. Tensing Norkay and her two children had a caller at their humble home at Darjeeling, west Bengal, a special messenger from Dr. H. C. Mookerji, governor of the state.

"Permit me, madam," the governor said, "to congratulate you on the glorious achievement of your husband Tensing Norkay, of Everest."

India to Honor Nepalese Guide With UK Expedition

NEW DELHI (AP)—India's President Rajendra Prasad will award a medal for "extraordinary courage and heroism" to Tensing Bhutia, Nepalese mountain guide who was one of a two-man team successful in scaling Mount Everest.

The award will be made at a special ceremony after the British Everest expedition, led by Col. John Hunt, makes its way down the perilous slopes of the 29,000-foot peak. Tensing also will be honored by his own Nepalese government.

The guide's companion on the ascent to the top of the world's highest mountain, Edmund Hillary of New Zealand, and Hunt have been awarded knighthoods by the Queen.

Since Tensing is not a British subject, study is being made of how Britain can most suitably recognize his part in the achievement.

The Indian government radio meanwhile warned the Hunt party that monsoon storms are fast approaching, and to take precautions on the descent. The weather experts do not know the exact location of the climbers.

Algonquin Crew Offers Blood To Save Marine's Fiancee

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Canadian Navy men have offered their blood—and it will be accepted—to help save the sweetheart of a U.S. Marine.

Spokesmen for the crew of the Canadian destroyer Algonquin, here on a visit, said today approximately 200 pints would be given for Nancy Davidson, 20.

The pretty fiancee of Sergeant Guy Warren of the Marine "Death Angels" air squadron, based at Hawaii, needs a pint of fresh blood at least every two days.

Her doctor said she was ill with a severe anemia, threatening her life.

The offer came just as Warren was starting back to Hawaii at the end of an emergency leave. "That's wonderful," he declared. "Those Canadians are all right."

Warren had devoted all of his leave the past month to obtaining blood for Miss Davidson, who has no family to turn to. Fellow marines here and in Hawaii have contributed.

The Canadian crew read of Miss Davidson's plight in the San Diego Union and, after getting permission from the Algonquin's skipper, Cmdr. P. E. Russell, canvassed the crew.

Nearly the whole crew volunteered.

The blood will be given at the San Diego community blood bank today when the Algonquin returns from a brief exercise at sea.

Fund Short Of Finances

CHILLIWACK (CP)—Attorney-General Bonner told the provincial game convention here that the game conservation fund will be operated when revenue is sufficient.

He said Game Department expenditures last year totalled $630,924 against returns of $678,874 and there was no money left to transfer to the fund.

The fund was established at the request of sportsmen who, in turn, agreed to raise hunting and fishing licence fees.

Chief biologist James Hatter reported on the "deplorable" state of moose range throughout the southern interior.

"It's a question of long-term planning," he said. "We can have more moose on the range now and none later or, properly managed, we may have somewhat fewer moose for a healthy annual crop."

South Korea Threatens War Against India Too

SEOUL (AP)—The vice-chairman of the South Korean National Assembly says "we will . . . declare war against India should they send troops without our consent" to guard balky Red PoWs while they are under custody of the proposed five-nation repatriation commission.

Yoon Thai Yung said South Korea will never allow Indian troops to guard the PoWs.

"We will fight them. We will fight not only the Indian troops but also declare war against India should they send troops without our consent."

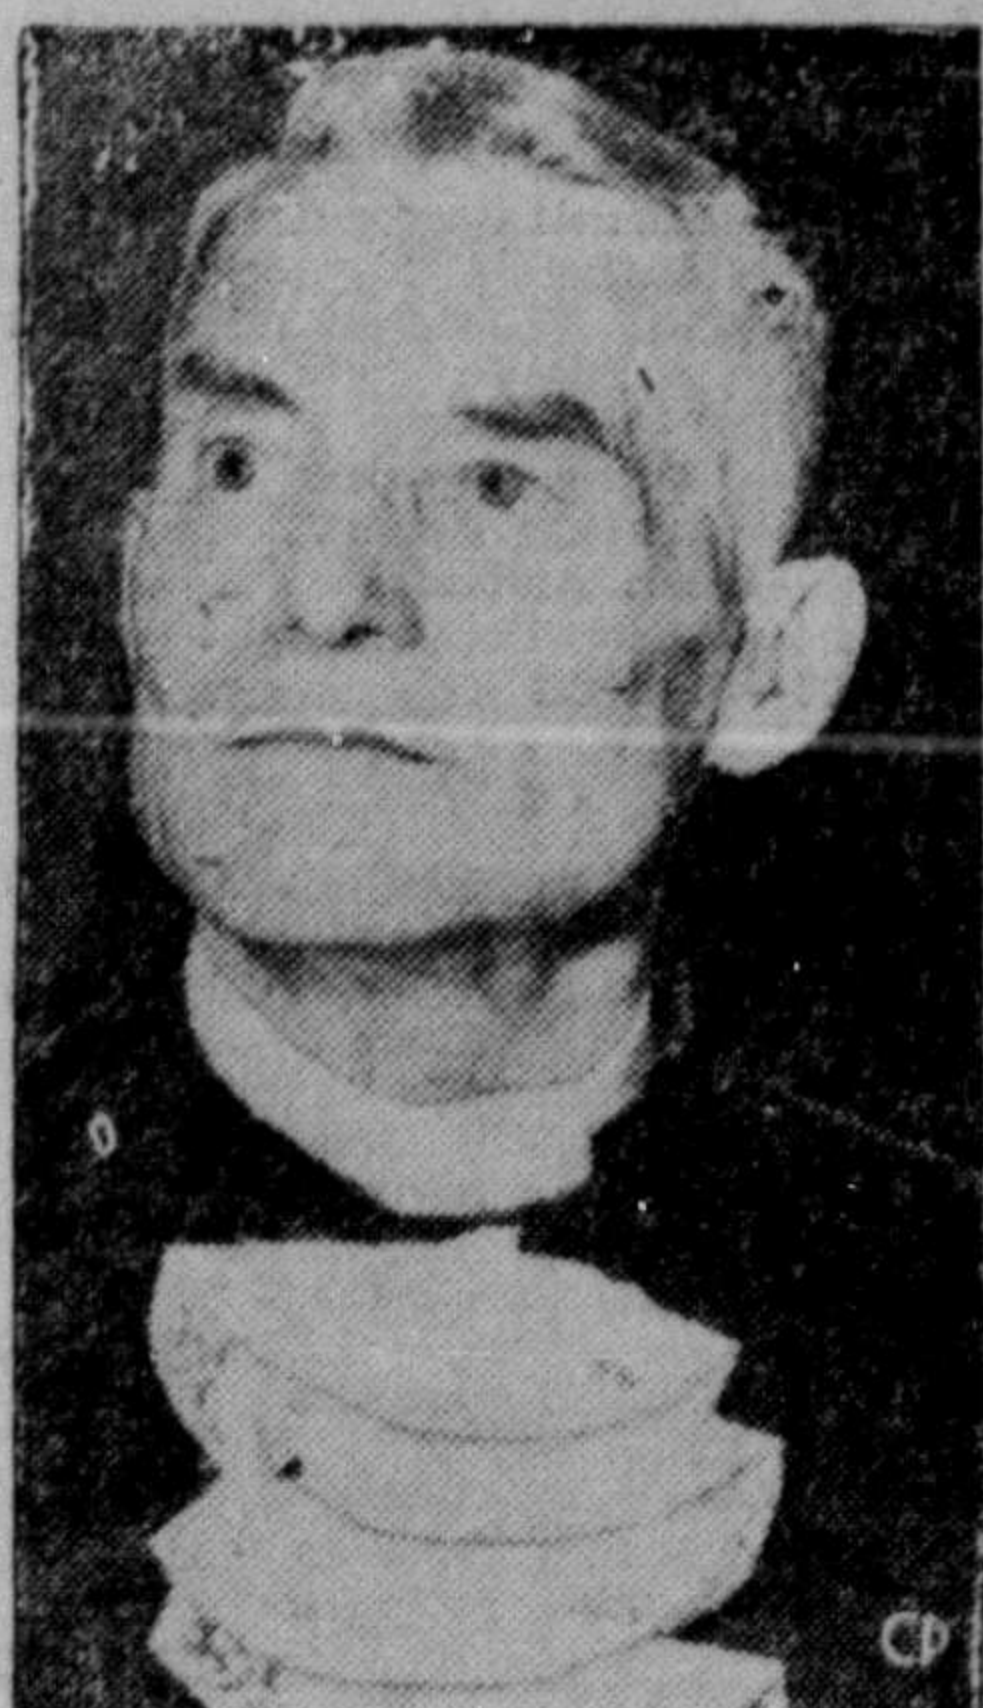

Yoon also said the South Koreans will fight any Communist representatives who come to South Korea to "explain" repatriation to the reluctant Reds.

Yoon declared the Republic of Korea should "forget the United Nations and deal only with the United States."

He said he had suggested to President Syngman Rhee that the government recall its permanent delegate to the UN because there is "no use for him to stay with the UN any more."

Yoon declared that all British troops in Korea "should pack up and go home." He said the U.S. apparently was pressed by Britain to adopt the May 25 UN proposal which touched off the violent South Korean reaction.

Yoon declared "We simply are disappointed with President Eisenhower for selling out Korea under the Truman administration, sold out China to the Communists. . ."

REV. W. A. CAMERON of Woodville, Ont., a pioneer western missionary of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, has been elected moderator of the 79th General Assembly. Dr. Cameron, at present general secretary of foreign missions, succeeds Rt. Rev. J. A. MacInnis of Orillia, Ont. Forty-two years ago he had his first mission 100 miles west of Saskatoon.

Judith Arlene Jennrich, four, who was the 10,000th youngster to open an account at a branch of the First Federal Savings and Loan Assn., in Chicago, is shown as she weighs exactly 6,048 pennies. Morton Bodfish, chairman of the bank, had advertised that the 10,000th child to open an account would get his weight in pennies, or 10,000 pennies, whichever was more. Judith is now $100 richer.

Newsmen Make Trip to New York In RCAF Comet, Averaging 473 mph

OTTAWA (CP)—The RCAF gave the press and radio a round trip to New York in its new $1,200,000 Comet jet transport which clipped off the 900 miles in less than three hours. The white-enamelled giant, with its cargo of 40 newspaper and radio men including aviation reporters from leading United States publications, took off from Ottawa's Uplands airport and banked above the stone towers of Manhattan exactly 57 minutes later. Then, sweeping north and west, it headed back to Uplands via Montreal. Speed on the flight to New York averaged 473 miles an hour. It was about 50 miles better than the 57-ton giant's delivery flight to Uplands May 29. On that occasion the Comet made the transatlantic crossing at about 420, in 10 hours, 20 minutes. The Comet's top speed is about 600 miles an hour. Peak of the ascent was 36,000 feet and the aircraft dipped to 8,000 to circle over New York. The press and radio men sat in comfortable relaxing chairs in a forward cabin or walked about in a blue-and-grey decorated rear cabin. The flight was almost motionless. One man balanced a pencil on end on a table. Another balanced two five-cent pieces on edge. On the flight deck, the Comet's five-man crew, headed by Sqdn. Ldr. J. D. Dickson of Rothesay, N.B., sat silently intent on the plane's row of instruments. The fliers made the occasional casual adjustment. Only sensation of movement—and that was slight—was on takeoff and landing.

INDIAN CHIEF THINKS ELIZABETH 'WILL DO REAL GOOD' AS QUEEN

VANCOUVER (CP)—Chief Matthias Joe is home from the Coronation, satisfied that Queen Elizabeth II "will do real good" as Queen. From his seat on the parade route near Hyde Park, the 67-year-old leader of the Capilano Indian tribe saw the Coronation procession pass twice. "The Coronation wagon (the Queen's coach)—that's what I wanted to see. Makes me think they must look after that wagon pretty good—it looked the same as it did back in 1911." Chief Joe saw the Coronation of King George V.

He gave an impromptu speech at the airport here at the end of his nine-day flying trip to London. "I'll tell the whole world the good white people sent me," he said. Public donations raised the $850 necessary for the trip. The chief got his own share of Coronation cheers. "I walked down to my seat, out as far as from here to North Vancouver, I guess, with my regalia on, and I got the biggest shout I ever had in my life. "Million people cheered me, I guess, and I got tired of signing my autograph." Today, he reverted to more prosaic transportation after his flight to London and back. Still in full regalia, he left for Bellingham, Wash., for Indian war canoe races. "Gotta catch the first bus out of here," said Chief Joe, with a farewell wave.

Congressional Sleuths Investigating Alleged Gun-Smuggling Ring in Texas

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Communist airlift allegedly smuggling guns from Texas to Panama, to supply weapons for planned revolutions in Latin America, is under secret investigation by congressional sleuths.

A well-placed source who declined to be named said Senator Joseph McCarthy has turned up evidence that the conspirators have their sights set on overthrow of the governments of Bolivia, Ecuador, Venezuela and Colombia, and possibly some Central American governments. Another informant said Cuba also is among the countries at which the Communists are aiming.

The Wisconsin Republican himself refused to discuss the story or to say whether the inquiry had anything to do with his recent visit to Texas and Mexico, which he described as a combined investigative and pleasure trip.

However, McCarthy was reported to have informed government agents of what he has learned. He is said to be thinking seriously of asking his Senate investigations sub-committee to launch a full-scale investigation of some aspects of the alleged conspiracy, and that meanwhile sub-committee staff members are quietly assembling evidence.

An informed source said there is evidence that some American Communists are involved, and they evidently have access to a multi-million-dollar fund to finance their operations.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Most Maddening Moment Losing to Opponent's Fluke

The one thing that comes closest to making you give up the game (nobody ever really does give it up, of course) is having an opponent make a devastatingly fine play against you, unknowingly.

This sort of thing is irritating in some degree even to the mildest of players.

Here's the way it came up in today's deal. Mr. Champion effectively choked off the bidding by leaping to four spades over Mr. Dale's one diamond opening.

Mr. Muzzy led his lone diamond and Mr. Dale won with the jack, over dummy's seven spot. The king of diamonds was returned and Mr. Champlon ruffed with the queen of spades.

Mr. Muzzy did not overruff but discarded the nine of hearts. The reason for this was that he had the king of spades in with his clubs and thought he had only the lone deuce of spades.

Naturally, Mr. Champion now placed the king of spades with Mr. Dale. Obviously there was no use finessing and the only hope was that Mr. Dale had the king of spades all alone.

At trick three, then, the jack of spades was led. Mr. Muzzy played his deuce and the ace was put up in dummy. Mr. Champion looked expectantly for the king to drop—but Mr. Dale's card was the four.

Well, there was no cause for alarm. A spade, a diamond and a heart could be lost and Mr. Champion would still win 10 tricks if the heart finesse lost, the two small hearts in the closed hand could be ruffed with dummy's two small trumps. Mr. Muzzy could not lead a trump back after winning with the king of hearts because the only trump out, the king, was in Mr. Dale's hand.

Or so Mr. Champion thought. He took the finesse of the queen of hearts and Mr. Muzzy won and laid down the king of spades, looking very guilty.

"Guess I revoked," he said. "I just turned this card. It was in with my clubs."

"You didn't revoke," said Mr. Dale. "Trumps have only been led once and you followed suit with the deuce."

Mr. Champion was holding his head.

"Beat because some dope gets his cards mixed up," he moaned. He realized that if Mr. Muzzy had overruffed at trick two, his game would have been easy.

As the hand was played, however, Mr. Muzzy's delayed lead of the king of hearts left only one trump on the board—to ruff two losing hearts.
