Development plans for the Kitimat project call for additional pot lines to be added to the left of the completed pair. Picture was taken about a month ago, and construction on new pot lines is underway. Power for the giant plant will be brought in from Kemano to the left of carbon paste plant to sub-stations, foreground. It is expected power will be turned on next month for trial.

Local Fishermen Reject Salmon Price Proposals

98 Per Cent Say No In Deadline Voting

Prince Rupert District fishermen this morning flatly rejected the latest offer on 1954-55 salmon prices proposed by the Fisheries Association of B.C.

At a joint meeting of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union and the Native Brotherhood of B.C. held at the Legion Auditorium this morning, the membership voted by a 98 per cent majority to turn down the offer.

The Fisheries Association's latest offer as a guaranteed minimum price per pound for sockeye salmon is 21 cents, one cent less than last year's price. The union is asking 23½ cents.

Northern representative of the UFAW, Tom Parkin said this morning that the result of the vote here indicates strongly that a strike of fishermen will take place.

The Skeena salmon season opens tomorrow at 6 p.m. and the fishermen have set the strike deadline for today.

Results of this morning's vote in Prince Rupert have been wired to the union's central headquarters in Vancouver and they include the outcome of a vote held last night by fishermen at Porcher Island, Mr. Parkin stated.

Other results of voting on the operators' offer at camps on the Queen Charlottes, Wale's Island on the Naas, Kincolth and other northern points which are voting independently will be wired directly for tabulation in Vancouver.

Final compilation of the vote of fishermen along the whole coast of B.C. should be known by late afternoon, Mr. Parkin said.

Chairman for this morning's meeting at the Legion was Bill Beynon of the Native Brotherhood. Also attending were two district Native Brotherhood vice-presidents, Charles Dudoward of Port Simpson and Harold Sinclair from the Upper Skeena.

Separate 1954-55 contract negotiations, between cannery operators and the shoreworkers local of the UFAW have reached the conciliation stage.

Mr. Parkin pointed out that the vote this morning did not directly involve the shoreworkers although a fishermen's strike would affect them.

Guatemala Rebels Hold Two Ports 'Liberator' Plane Strafes Capital

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—Two strategic Guatemalan seaports were reported in the hands of invading anti-Communist "liberator army" forces today.

Local informants of the liberation army identified the two ports as Puerto Barrios on the Caribbean and San Jose on the Pacific.

The army, under command of former Guatemalan army Lt. Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, said two inland towns also may be in control of the invaders.

These towns were identified as Zacapa, which lies near the Honduras border between Puerto Barrio and Guatemala city, and the smaller town of Retalhuleu, in the southwest corner of the country near the Mexican border.

The informants said, however, that if the Guatemalan army has sent reinforcements into San Jose and Puerto Barrios the invaders may have been pushed back from initial gains. But, they added, no setbacks thus far have been reported.

NBC correspondent Mac Bannell reported in a Tegucigalpa broadcast heard in New York this morning that the invaders then held about a third of Guatemala. He said two planes had machine-gunned the presidential palace in the capital.

The invasion was the culmination of a long-standing effort to unseat the Communist-backed government of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman.

There are reports here that Castillo Armas, who has been in Guatemala since the invasion began to lead his liberation army personally. But his movements have been kept secret and his headquarters twice has postponed without explanation a promised statement by the 40-year-old resistance leader.

The latest report of fighting inside Guatemala was at Quezaltenango, a good-sized city about 80 miles due west of Guatemala city.

The "liberation" troops, which attacked Guatemala by land, sea and air Friday, were reported locked in bloody combat with defending forces at four important cities. There also were reports of internal uprisings throughout the embattled country.

Eduardo Castillo, a Guatemalan delegate to the United Nations, announced in New York Friday night his government had protested to the Security Council against the "criminal invasion of my country."

Yemen Attack Aden Village In Protest

ADEN, (Reuters)—A force of 100 to 150 men from the Yemen attacked a village in this British protectorate Friday and was repulsed only after day-long fighting, it was announced today.

Four of the attackers were killed and many injured, the announcement said.

The Yemeni force, which allegedly included an unspecified number of regular troops, crossed the border near Assoma and attacked the village of Martaa in the Audhali sultanate.

The Yemen strongly oppose a British-sponsored plan for a federation of the sheikhdoms comprising the protectorate.

French, U.S. Talks Mooted In 'Friendly Warning' Note

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top-level French-U.S. talks on Indo-China, European defence, and other critical issues appeared possible today as a follow-up to the Eisenhower-Churchill meeting opening here next week.

This prospect was brought out Friday in a letter from President Eisenhower to French President Rene Coty and made public by the White House.

Eisenhower, noting he would be meeting informally with Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Eden the week-end of June 25, told Coty that he looked forward "to resuming with the government of France such intimate conversations as I have had in the past."

The letter was regarded by diplomats as a gesture of friendship and reassurance by the U.S. leader in advance of a meeting in which the French will not participate, and at a time when the government of France had come into the hands of a new premier, Pierre Mendes-France, of whose ideas U.S. officials have in the past been critical.

The Eisenhower message was considerably more than an action of friendship, however, because in carefully constructed language it warned the French that so far as the United States is concerned time is running out for ratification of the proposed European Defence system in which Germany would take part.

WANT UNITED DEFENCE
The message advised the French government, moreover, that while the United States remains deeply interested in forming a "united defence" against Communist forces in Indo-China it is reserving the right to judge what might be done under any future decision.

"In Indo-China our nation has long shown its deep concern by heavy financial and material aid which continues," Eisenhower wrote. "The proposals for a united defence which we submitted to M. Laniel the previous French premier represented on our part a momentous and grave decision."

"Nothing has happened here to change the attitude thus expressed, even though the lapse of time and the events which have come to pass have, of course, created a new situation.

Eisenhower said he wanted to assure Coty that a pledge of support concerning EDC which the U.S. gave Laniel April 16 still stands "and will continue available" to Mendes-France.

Modernization of Hospital Closer Tenders Called For Renovation

Modernization of Prince Rupert General Hospital drew a closer last night as the board announced it was for tenders today and for the renovation of the hospital.

Tenders will be received for a $35,000 project up to July 5 when the board will hold a specification at 5 p.m. on that day.

The construction project, announced last December, is part of a long-range plan to provide state facilities for the Prince Rupert Area.

The project entails installation of a modern X-ray unit and more space for nine beds on the top floor.

McRae, chairman of the committee announced receipt of two tenders for installation of equipment for the X-ray unit dark room. Competing firms were Canadian General Electric with an estimate of $2,309.40 and Picker X-Ray Company of Canada with a bid of $2,768.10. The board accepted the General Electric bid, subject to a one-third grant from the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service.

The board, at a previous meeting accepted a General Electric bid for the new X-ray machine and combination radiographic and fluoroscopic table, of a little more than $18,000.

Also accepted by the hospital board was a bid of $50,25 for an oxygen regulator by Canadian Liquid Air Company. The other bidder was Dominion Oxygen Company with a tender of $55.

Extension of the elevator shaft to accommodate the new floor brought the board a problem which will see the hospital do without the elevator for five days during the five weeks necessary to make the change.

Doug Stevenson, hospital administrator told the board that the Turnbull Elevator Company had studied the problem from all angles and had informed him that while certain changes in the elevator were taking place it would have to be out of operation.

On advice from Dr. A. W. Large, the board agreed that the elevator company should be instructed to start acquiring the necessary material from Toronto in order that the new installation can be started in September. It was decided that during the time the elevator is not running, emergency patients will be moved to the top floor. In case of accidents where operations are necessary patients will be carried up by stretcher and if there is not room for them to stay there they will be carried down the same way.

No Need For Patients To Go Hungry

Husky patients of Prince Rupert General Hospital who may have a broken limb but an unretarded appetite don't have to go hungry.

Just ask for another helping, boys.

This was made clear at the hospital board meeting last night by administrator Doug Stevenson.

Mr. Stevenson, in answer to complaints passed on by director Norm Bellis, said that it was a standing order for ward maids when they collected trays, to ask the patient "have you had enough? And would you like some more?"

Mr. Bellis said that the meals, served in a most appetizing manner for patients who might be feeling under the weather, were a bit on the skimpy side for a "skookum" logger or fisherman, who might have a broken foot or arm, but still wanted "three squares a day."

Mr. Stevenson said the big meal of the day, with three courses, was served at noon and that the evening meal was usually a cold meal. However, he said, anyone that was still hungry only had to ask for more and they would get it.

French Premier Names Cabinet

PARIS (Reuters)—France's new premier, Pierre Mendes-France, today announced he has formed his cabinet with himself as foreign minister.

General Gen. Pierre Koenig was appointed defence minister and near-Radical Francois Mitterand minister of the interior.

Premier Mendes-France, 47-year-old left-wing radical, called in by President Rene Coty after the defeat of Joseph Laniel's 11-month-old government last week, presented his ministers to the president early this afternoon.

Anti-Vice Leader Shot to Death

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—Albert L. Patterson, who won Alabama's Democratic nomination for attorney-general on an anti-vice platform, was shot to death Friday night.

Patterson, 63, former state senator, was the counsel for the Russell County Betterment Association which has been fighting racketeering in Phenix City for years.

Police chief Pal M. Daniel of Phenix City said Patterson apparently was sitting in his parked car in the downtown area when he was shot twice in the mouth at close range.

IT'S A PURE CASE of motherly love, as this female dachshund cuddles against an abandoned donkey colt. When the colt's mother left it, the dog began to stay close to the baby, as if to make sure it wouldn't grow up without affection. This example of animal affection took place in Berlin, Germany.

Hard Spray Sons Crowd Pomona Fire

POMONA, Calif. (AP)—Poisonous fumes released by a raging chemical fire that flamed brilliant colored hues, Friday hospitalized four firemen and a man and sent nearly 100 persons for emergency treatment.

One of the firemen, Capt. John Appell, 43, was reported in poor condition from inhaling parathion fumes—a substance similar to the military's nerve gas.

Parathion is used in fumigating orchards. It was used in the fire and explosions leveled the half-block warehouse of the Charles E. Co. The owner estimated loss at $200,000.

Five firemen, photographers, newsmen and spectators crowded the area by the bright chemical blaze needed of an antidote, atropine.

Remember Dad

THE theatre, radio or TV doesn't have an "I Remember Papa." Instead we find a rather unflattering pattern which includes such diverse characters as George McManus' Jiggs and Clarence Day's Father . . . characters who, for all their outward difference are dominated by their women-folk, whether the weapon of domination is caecology or a rolling pin.

This is the portrait that fathers have given us of fathers. And we think that the modesty which is behind the portrait has been carried to a distorted extreme. Day after day the male parent is presented as a dupe, dope, blustering martinet or functional bill payer . . . sometimes champ but always chump. That may be well and good for 364 days of the year. But now in honor of the occasion which is to be celebrated tomorrow we propose to cast blushing reluctance aside.

Mother's Day is different. A brave stand in favor of motherhood has long been an annual refuge for editorial writers. But fathers are a different tribe who seldom come in for small praise or attention. We attribute this to a personal epidemic of modesty, an unsuspected virtue which afflicts not only journalists but also novelists playwrights, poets, composers and comic strip artists.

Since these last activities, as well as the writing of editorials, are largely the province of the male, practically nobody gets sentimental over the old man . . . in song or story. There is no Father Machree or any facsimile thereof.

Power For Others

NOT many weeks from now a switch will be thrown and power in a quick surge will flow over the cable from Kemano to Kitimat.

That will be the culminating moment of one of man's most imaginative and large scale hydro projects anywhere in the world—the successful terminal point of an engineering effort.

But in a very real way it will be the starting point for a large section of North Central British Columbia. Alcan's history is almost as much that of a power company as an aluminum company. It has a record of having sought out markets for electric energy so that the product can steadily be sold for highest value uses.

For that reason it will be natural for Alcan to look north and west for opportunities to sell power. It will be within relatively easy transmission line distance of the Skeena River Valley and Prince Rupert. With an abundance of electric energy—something it does not have today—Prince Rupert could look forward to a larger industrial future.

These things will not happen over night. But they will inevitably come. Kitimat will not keep its abundant power to itself but will be the powerhouse for a very large but as yet lightly developed section of British Columbia.

After Geneva

THE defeat of the long-wobbly government of France could be the final death blow to the futile Geneva conference. The question now is:

After Geneva, what? The main effect, and perhaps the most dangerous effect, will be to convince western statesmen and western people generally of the futility of the conference method. Without attempting to fix the relative amount of blame for the failure of the Berlin conference last year and the Geneva conference this year, the facts speak for themselves.

THE BIG powers are not yet willing to accept what must be the foundation of any world settlement—that is, that both the Communists and non-Communist parts of the world have the right to go their own way, in peace.

So long as the new Communist world powers are determined to push the margins of their power by supporting armed rebellion in neighboring countries, it is certain that the rest of the world will be compelled to take collective measures to resist such a new and more subtle form of imperial expansion.

Also, so long as the United States is unwilling to accept what is the greatest political fact of the mid century—that China has had a revolution, and as a result of that revolution has once again emerged as a mighty world power—there is no real hope of a live-and-let live settlement.

IT ALWAYS seemed to me that if the Geneva conference was a success, the recognition of China, by Canada and kindred countries, would follow automatically.

It never was possible that the U.S.A. should have given China full and complete recognition in the present year. Whether we like it or not, Senator McCarthy represents a powerful force in American thinking. He may be a vulgar and crude expression of that force. But the force is there, nevertheless. It is a mixed and confused force. But its main article of faith could be summed up, in somewhat sloganized form, as "No truck ner trade with Red China." But if it was not politically possible for a Republican government in the U.S.A. to face the 1954 facts of life in Asia, it was well within the realm of possibility that the whole British Commonwealth should do so. In fact, had the whole British Commonwealth been able to recognize the real government of China as a result of a Geneva settlement, the whole world tension would have been relaxed.

As things have turned out, this has been impossible. The Communist spearheads in Asia have shown every determination to push ahead in Indo-China. There is not the slightest indication from any Communist source that anybody in any Communist government really wants an agreed settlement. So long as the Communists are having continuing success in shooting it out, they may be unwilling really to talk it out, in a way which could have meant quick success at Geneva.

THERE is no use blinking the fact that the failure of the Geneva conference ushers in a much more critical period even than we have known in these last dismal years.

All Aboard

By G. E. MORTIMORE

A Chinese scientist in New Orleans has persuaded a cat and a rat to dine together.

Dr. Loh Seng Tsai put a cat and a rat in a divided cage. After 700 trials, the cat and the rat co-operated by simultaneously touching two buttons to release a partition and give them access to a dish of food. Then they shared the food.

News of this armistice between the species will be greeted by a clamor of miaows and squeaks from the respective camps, especially from the rats. As for me, I am going to move cautiously, and reserve judgment. Whatever attitude my cat may take, I am not sure that I am willing to accept all rats as friends immediately. I'm conservative about these things.

There's no species prejudice about me, mind. Some of my best friends are rats. But I won't have the cat bringing just any old rat home to dinner. I'll have to get to know the rat first, and satisfy myself that he (or she) is a proper companion.

I don't mean to ridicule the peace which appears to have been signed between these two great families of beasts. It is a fine achievement. I only hope that it will endure.

Now, perhaps, the way is open for a United Species organization, in which the lion and the lamb will both be members of the security council.

Perhaps Dr. Loh Seng Tsai can be induced to apply his peacemaking talents to the service of humanity. I can see it now: Uncle Sam and the Russian bear sitting down peacefully together to make a meal of the rest of the world. I can hear them offering one another second helpings of Turkey and Baked Alaska.

I can see labor and management rubbing elbows at the dinner table, each looking innocent as they try to hog the gravy.

I have only one fear about these matters—and it is the same fear that I entertain about the experiments in New Orleans. There may come a day when the scientist forgets to ladle out a generous enough helping. And then the cat will eat his little partner for dessert.

LETTERBOX

LIFT WHERE NEEDED
 The Editor,
 The Daily News:

We would like to express our appreciation to the people of Prince Rupert for giving a lift where it is needed. For more than 70 years the Mission Board of the Seventh-Day Adventists has put forth an increasing and ever expanding effort in meeting humanity's needs.

Co-operating in this humanitarian work are thousands of friends who have generously contributed their own money, enabling us to carry on relief work at home bases and in many mission lands far beyond the possibilities of our own budget.

We wish you could follow that gift and see the good it accomplishes and the blessings it brings to those in need of spiritual, physical and material need.

Deductions for administrative expenses are nil, since projects supported by Ingathering friends are administered by existing church organizations, with income derived elsewhere.

It takes $26.59 to support this uplift program for one minute. In 1953 a total of $5,207,218.14 was contributed from the world field, besides the more than $90,000,000 given by Adventists in regular tithes and offerings. The work is being carried on in 137 countries, where a total of 721 languages are used.

We gratefully accept your contributions and pledge ourselves to use the funds received in carrying out the great humanitarian principles of Christianity.

We hereby wish to express our profound appreciation to all contributors who have donated so liberally to this charitable work.

FINISHING TOUCHES on the colorful costumes for the forthcoming musical production "Brigadoon" is Iona Campagnola, (centre) costume designer, assisted by Bernice Michaloff and Evalina Boulanger, members of the cast. These and other workers have nearly completed the big cast of the Little Theatre production which opens in the Civic Centre tonight.

Brigadoon Cast To Show Off Costumes In Full Dress Preview Parade Tonight

Prince Rupert tonight will be the scene of a preview of the musical production "Brigadoon" when members of the cast will parade in their "full dress" costumes through town. The parade, which will give an idea of the striking costumes designed for the production, is scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m. Leading the parade will be the cast of the production, which opens Tuesday at the Civic Centre, is the production of the Prince Rupert Little Theatre's undertakings. The play centres around a miracle, the miracle of the town of Brigadoon which appears only once in every 200 years, for one day only. Director Ian Dobbie today termed the local production of the show a miracle in itself. Enough local talent for a cast of almost 60 dancers, singers and musicians for the orchestra, plus more than 30 backstage workers is a miracle for a city the size of Prince Rupert, said Mr. Dobbie.

A REVOLUTIONARY type of eye frame based on continental designs has been revealed by Alexander Kono at a Chicago showing. Called the "French Touch," the creation is said to be an entirely new concept in optical styling. A slim 10-karat gold brow piece is gracefully contoured and then poised above tapered lenses, expertly shaped to follow the natural curved line of the eye, giving the appearance of a "vanishing lens line." The youthful upswing of the brow is accented with a bold dash of gold trim suspended above.

King Edward Students Stage Concert For Red Cross Fund

Students of King Edward School yesterday raised funds for the Junior Red Cross by staging an interesting program for mothers in the school auditorium.

R. G. Moore, school principal, explained to the large audience that the various performances by class groups were repeats of progress staged throughout the year at Monday morning assembly sessions in the school.

Young Miss Barbara Hinton of Division 1, Grade 6, was emcee for the enjoyable program which opened with Grade 1, division 11 students singing "Pigeons" and "Five Little Chickadees." Most of the presentations were designed by teachers to fit the students, and especially pointing up with the studies of the young-ster that scheme was a Grade 22, division 9 skit with Mother Goose and her nursery friends, whose usual rhymes were changed to incorporate health and cleanliness rules.

Other items included: Grade 5, division 4, four well-executed square dances; Grade 6, division 1, an amusing play, set in Russia, featuring a confusing dispute over the ownership of a calf; Grade 1, division 10, dramatized reading; Grade 2, division 8, a clever puppet show, with puppets made by the students bobbing and nodding and clapping hands to recitations and songs by the hidden youngsters;

Grade 6, division 3, a small but nicely-blended class choir, presenting three songs in harmony; Grade 4, division 6, a play, "Bag of Feathers" demonstrating the sometimes drastic results of gossiping; Grade 5, division 5, a play, "Where's Tito," set in Guatemala, and about a mischievous pig; Grades 3 and 4, division 7, a play, "The King's Highway," an amusing story of reward for the lowly but good, and Grade 6, division 2, a comedy, mock operation by doctors and nurses.

Saturday Sermon

THE LAMB OF GOD
By Rev. R. W. Starrett
PENTECOSTAL CHURCH
"In whom we have redemption through His Blood, even the forgiveness of sins."
Colossians 1: 14.

The death of Christ is due to the love of God. God gave His Son because He so loved the world. The cross is the expression of a love which is older than the oldest star; more ancient than the most venerable elder who stands in the zenith light of heaven; long as eternity; vast as infinity; deep as the being of God. In this was manifested the love of God, that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.

We can catch the exultant throb in Peter's heart when he wrote: "Ye were redeemed not with corruptible things as silver and gold from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers, but with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot." It is not the grace which was in His lips, not the glory which men beheld, and still do behold in His life, not even that adorable deed of the Incarnation, which is the sublimest truth to sinful men. The church of Jesus has never exalted any one of them to the pre-eminence without loss. It is the cross and its redeeming sacrifice. And, therefore, the song which the whole ransomed Church shall sing, when it looks back with clearer eyes than are given to man on the earthly pilgrimage, is, "Unto Him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in His own blood, and hath made us clean to Himself; and to Him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen."

It would be no violation to the sense of Scripture to say, "God so FORGAVE the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." By substituting forgiveness for love you may more easily get at the heart of this matter, for God's forgiveness is as free and full and unconditional as His love. If we will not receive the love or forgiveness of God, it cannot help us back to life and character, and we are left to suffer all the misery of sin both in this world and the world to come; and that is to be lost. Lost, notwithstanding God's love; lost, notwithstanding His forgiveness! But if we will accept this love and forgiveness into our personal lives they will give us eternal joy and peace with God.

NO FIRE DAMAGE
No damage resulted from an oil heater which became overheated through flooding at the home of Martin Erickson, 303 Fourth Avenue East last night. The Prince Rupert Fire Department responded to a call from the Erickson home at 8:50 p.m. and stood by until danger of the flames spreading had passed.

DICK AYRES

How wrong can a guy get? Our prediction that Rocky Marciano would retain his world championship by a knockout in the ninth round was way off but there is some small consolation that we were not alone in our embarrassment. There must be upwards of 100 sportswriters throughout the continent trying to think up reasons why Ezzard Charles not only wasn't knocked out but went the entire 15-round distance to put up one of the most gallant ring stands in modern boxing history.

This poses the question, is the vaunted punch of "The Rock" all that it has been cracked up to be? Certainly the "hot-and-cold," "undependable" Charles, as some writers called him, is made of sterner stuff than was originally thought. He was able to absorb more punishment than most humans can endure and still managed to dance up and down and throw his arms around Rocky at the end of 45 minutes of fighting.

No, we don't think Marciano's punch is any the less fearsome. He hasn't the punch Louis had, or even that of Maxie Baer, who killed a man. Fighting the way he does, with all his heart and soul, never stopping, and missing a fifth of the punches he starts, he just ran out of steam. As predicted, Charles outboxed Rocky in the early rounds. We thought he was going down in the sixth. Then again, we figured we'd called it right in the ninth. But Ezzard, having weathered the fresh fury of Rocky's strength, proved in the later rounds that his "absorption-of-punishment saturation point" was never quite reached. Consequently, much to everyone's amazement, including, I imagine, Marciano's, he was still on his feet at the end of the fight.

It was truly a wonderful boost to professional heavyweight boxing. Here were two men, about whom there has never been a breath of scandal, very little if any pre-fighting boasting by either man, and with no real or "dreamed-up" hatred for each other. They just went in there and gave every ounce of strength and courage in search of a common goal. In doing so they provided the maximum in fight entertainment to untold millions, in Yankee Stadium, to radio listeners and TV viewers.

Whether there were as many blows thrown as were described by radio commentator Don Dumphy, remains to be seen when the fight film arrives in town. We recall vividly refereeing a fight in Trail once that was being broadcast by CJAT. It was between a Trail lad and a welterweight from Spokane, Wash. The fight which had been pretty exciting at first had slowed down as the two fighters circled each other and action was at a minimum. But behind me, mike in hand, was a radio announcer throwing punches out over the air, that only existed in his own imagination. It's to be hoped that Thursday night's fight wasn't given the same treatment.

One thing that resulted was an increase in the respect the two men have for each other. Rocky says the fight was even tougher than the 13-rounder he had with Jersey Joe Walcott. Charles makes no bones about it and is already clamoring for another crack at his former title. They both should be healed up by the time September rolls around and it should be interesting to see what the sports writers have to say on that one. It'll take us until September to think up which way we're going to call it.

Strangest mail we've received since we've been in Rupert arrived today. It was addressed to us personally and was from and we quote "the world famous Texas Cow Girls Basketball Team."

The letter accompanying the glowing press notices goes on to say that the Texas Cow Girls conduct a training camp every year for "talented young ladies" who wish to try out for this team that has beaten high school, college and university all-star teams.

"We try to pick the best available talent on the North American continent," the letter asserts. Not only that but they "take pride in presenting a good evening's entertainment" (Basketball-wise of course).

The Texas girls last season played 152 games and won 117 of them over male opponents. They've played in places as large as Madison Square Gardens and have helped raise funds for the March of Dimes, Red Cross and for such groups as the Lions, Kiwanis and veterans' organizations.

"If there are any young ladies in your community that wish to try out for this world famous team, they may do so by contacting "Dempsey's Texas Cow Girls Basketball Team, Training Camp, Mismark, North Dakota, Post Office Box 1395."

The letter adds that "it is an opportunity for a young lady who likes the game and who has ability to make a good living, travel and see the world and play a game she likes." So there you are girls. If any of the Rainbirds, Doms or Frestry's take up this offer BE SURE, to let us know.

However, in a serious vein, the Cow Girls are presently making up their 170-odd game schedule for the 1954-55 season and want to know "if there are any sponsors in your community and we would appreciate it if you would advise them that we (the Cow Girls) are available for bookings at this time."

Okay, basketball commission. What say you line up a Cow Girls versus Manson's series to start off next season?

Super Valu Take 24-11 Win Off Runner-up North Stars

By BOB MORRIS

North Stars went down under a 24-11 defeat at the hands of Super Valu last night at Algoma Park in a scheduled Little League game.

Murray Wells, North Star starter gave up the first 14 Super Valu runs on five hits, and an error while giving out eight bases on balls. Ray Oakey who took over in the second inning, with the bases loaded and none away, was tapped for nine hits and he handed out four walks to let in another nine runs. Roy Helland came in, in the fourth inning with two away and three on bases, finished the game with four more hits, two walks and one more run. Wells struck out two men, Oakey one, and Helland four.

Jack Martin who pitched the first four innings for Super Valu allowed six hits, gave out three walks and struck out two batters for the five North Star runs. Don Love relieving at the bottom of the fifth gave five hits, two walks, struck out two, and saw three errors committed to score six more runs.

Biggest hitter for Super Valu was first baseman Billy Main who scored four runs on four hits for five official trips to the plate. Best average for the night will go to Super Valu pitcher Jack Martin who scored three runs on three hits for three official at bats.

Gene Maskulak and Ken Cameron shared top spot on the North Star score sheet each bringing in three runs. Maskulak hitting twice in five chances, Cameron one in four.

The game which was started during a threatening weather situation was played in spite of heavy drizzle during the first innings, ended in sunshine and moves the idle Sea Kings into first place.

Elks Pitch Two Hitter But Lose to Moose 7-6

Despite two-hit pitching and a tremendous four-run rally in the sixth, the Elks' team of the Prince Rupert unofficial Pony league were edged last night at Roosevelt Park by the Moose entry in a game that was won and finished at the same time.

Tied 6-6 going into the bottom of the seventh, Moose got the game when Elks' second baseman Frank Warner scooped up Dick Bury's ground ball and then pulled team mate Phil Thom off first sack with the potential putout throw. The miscue allowed Bury a life and Jim Arsenault, who had walked, stole second and third, to come in.

Elks starter Eddie Eyford, who was replaced by Fred Gulbranson in the bottom of the fifth, had allowed only one hit, although four walks he issued in the fifth were responsible for two runs.

Reliever Gulbranson also only allowed one hit although he was responsible for two runs, including the climber.

Moose's Buffy went all the way, allowing six runs on eight hits and striking out 14 batters along the way. Eyford whiffed six and Gulbranson two.

Moose took the lead in the first on a hit by Per Halverson and three errors by the Elks. Elks tied the game in the second on singles by Gulbranson, John Lambie and Eyford as well as four bobbles by Moose fielders.

Moose moved three up after Willard Anderson, Moose third sacker scored in the third and again in the fifth along with team mate Jim Arsenault.

In the sixth, Elks used three hits, singles by Lambie, Don Murray and Charlie Lindstrom to bring in four runs. Moose aided the Elks cause with one error, two passed balls and a wild pitch.

After facing eight men and seeing seven of them get on base, Bury bore down and struck out the ninth and tenth to end the Elks scoring in the sixth inning.

Top hitter for Moose was Billy Walmouth who batted one for one. Whatmough was also the unluckiest batsman, getting hit by a pitched ball and being thrown out twice at home plate.

Big bat for Elks was swung by John Lambie who garnered two for four. Similar averages were chalked up by Charlie Lindstrom and Eyford, both of whom batted one for two.

The game was the first time the Pony leaguers have taken to the field in their new "uniforms." The occasion was scheduled to see an "official" opening of the league, but lack of a crowd caused postponement of the ceremonies.

Umpiring duties were handled by Mike Montesano behind the plate, Bill Lambie at first and Ross Clayton at third.

Haddix Grabs Third Shutout To Rack Up Ninth Straight

By BEN PHLEGAR

Associated Press Sports Writer

If some of the major league's best pitchers turned up with aching backs today they have a good excuse.

They're busy talking bows for Friday night's games when in every active park in the two circuits there was at least one hurler who covered himself with glory.

At the Polo Grounds it was Harvey Haddix of the St. Louis Cardinals. The pint-sized left-hander snapped the New York Giants' six-game winning streak with his third straight shutout, 5-0.

In winning his ninth consecutive game Haddix ran his string of scoreless innings to 32, longest in the majors this season. He also increased his top-ranking strikeout total by 7 to 86 and his overall record to 11-3. Nobody else has won as many as 10. Stan Mustard hit his 22nd home run, tops in both leagues.

At Forbes Field Vern Law, one of the National League's brightest rookies, allowed Milwaukee only three singles and won the game 2-1 for Pittsburgh with a bases-loaded single in the last of the ninth.

Spokes Respond To Reprieve With Fifth Win

By The Canadian Press

The orphaned Spokane Indians, assured of at least another week in the Western International League, responded Friday night with a furious home run barrage that gave them their fifth straight win.

Calgary's Stampeders were the victims, 21-6.

The surge has carried the Indians to within five games of the first place Vancouver Capitanos, who split a twin bill with Victoria. The Caps dropped the opener 10-5, and then came back to shade Tyees 8-6 in the night-cap.

In other games, runner-up Yakima, 4½ games off the pace, nosed out Tri-City, 3-2, and Wenatchee, in fourth only six games out, disposed of Salem 6-3. Lewiston at Edmonton was rained out.

The league agreed Friday to operate the Spokane club for another week at the request of Mayor Arthur Meehan, leader of the "Save Spokane Indians, Inc."

Meehan told WIL prexy Robert B. Abel more time was needed by the fan organization to raise the nearly $40,000 still lacking in the drive to assure operation of the team in the race of the season.

It shows how Cominco expanded and is still expanding to keep pace with the growing demand from both its Canadian and United States markets.

Some Contracts Depend Upon Opponent's Error

It is somewhat unusual to raise your partner, holding the singleton trey in his suit.

However, Mr. Dale believed that action was completely sensible in today's deal. His partner was Mr. Meek, the chronic underbidder. It is hard enough to get Mr. Meek to overcall at the one range, not vulnerable. Here he made a jump overall vulnerable. Mr. Dale knew he had hearts a mile long.

Owing to the unfortunate fact that Mr. Meek did not have a second diamond, the contract was not makable. That is, not unless the opponents erred. On a club opening dummy's only entry would be knocked out and it would be necessary to lose two hearts and two spades.

FINDS OPENING

Mr. Abel found the club opening, laying down the jack. Mr. Meek thought fast. If he ducked the club and then the suit was continued, he could unblock the diamonds by getting rid of his ace of diamonds on the ace of clubs. It was a remote chance but he elected to try it.

He played low from dummy. To his regret, Mr. Muzzy overtook with the queen. Apparently there was no reason for Mr. Meek to make this play unless it was because he had guessed what Mr. Meek's plan was, and feared that his partner might not see the necessity for a shift.

MEEK UPSET

Mr. Meek felt terrible. He wondered what his partner was going to say if it turned out that the hearts were divided favorably so that only one trump trick had to be lost. In that event, the play of the ace of clubs at trick one would have made the contract.

But of course Mr. Meek is always worrying most of the time unnecessarily. Certainly he had nothing to worry about in this case. Mr. Muzzy had nothing.

at all in mind when he overtook the jack of clubs. As a matter of fact he returned a club.

Mr. Meek discarded his diamond and won the board. He then led the king and queen of diamonds and got rid of his spade losers. He lost only the club and two tricks in hearts.

Rocky Gets September Title Offer

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Boxing promoter Manny Almeida of Providence says he'll guarantee heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano $275,000 to defend his title in Rhode Island next September.

Almeida Friday night telegraphed the offer to Marciano's manager, Al Weill, listing a privilege of taking 42½ per cent of the net gate for a title defence against Ezzard Charles.

Almeida, who has promoted 29 of Marciano's 46 pro fights, said he's sure a Rhode Island title bout would draw "at least 50,000 and do a million dollars at the gate."

Providence is only 34 miles from Brockton, Mass., home of the champion.

Victoria Strike May Be Lengthy

VICTORIA (AP)—Indications are the strike of Victoria outside workers will be a long one.

While both sides have said they are willing to re-open wage negotiations, neither has backed down on its final decisions of Wednesday.

Only two cents an hour separated workers and the city then. Council offered five cents an hour and the workers held out for seven cents.

Outside workers, members of the Civic Employees Protective Association, rejected the city's offer and went on strike Tuesday.

No word has been received from Labor Minister Lyle Wicks who was asked by the city to determine whether the strike is legal under the new Labor Relations Act.

B.C.'s "Foundling" PGE Railway Expects "In The Black" Operation For First Time

By EN METHERAL

VICTORIA (AP)—British Columbia's controversial foundling, the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, expects to make a historic purchase this year—black ink.

For 42 years the government-owned line, traversing hills and valleys of central B.C., has ended each year in the red.

"But 1954 will be different," says the province's deputy minister of railways, J. S. Broadbent. "All expectations are that the PGE will show a substantial profit this year."

In 1950 the PGE operated at a loss of $500,000. The figure included straight operating costs, maintenance and provision for depreciation but excluded fixed charges on the $130,000,000 debt, largely wiped out by the government this year.

Two years later, when the 347-mile rail link between the southern terminal at Squamish, B.C., and Quesnel in the Cariboo country had been extended another 82 miles northward to link up with the CNR at Prince George the loss was $346,332. Last year it dropped to $70,000.

Founded in 1912 as a private venture designed to tie in with the old Grand Trunk Pacific system running between Prince Rupert and Red Pass Junction, near Jasper, Alta., the PGE went into bankruptcy five years later. The provincial government took it over in 1917.

The PGE this year launched a long-promised $60,000,000 extension program, a 40-mile, $12,000,000 southern extension will bring the line from Squamish to North Vancouver.

The line expects to "make a much more respectable showing on a new 270-mile northern extension into Dawson Creek, B.C."

The extension will link up with the Northern Alberta Railway that runs between Dawson Creek and Edmonton. Construction will start next year and is scheduled for completion in five years.

Ralph Chetwynd, who joined the PGE in 1943 as a traffic trouble shooter and now heads the entire organization as B.C.'s minister of railways, says the southern extension will be a paying proposition, largely due to a speed-up in traffic and reduced handling charges.

Neither the government nor the PGE expects the northern extension to show a profit in the first few years of operation.

Mr. Chetwynd says he is confident the northern extension will have a sufficient traffic volume to defray straight operating expenses from the start, but he believes it will be some time before it will show a profit.

"It will have a tremendous impact on trade and industry in B.C. It will provide a long needed link between northern and southern B.C. and give the products of the Peace river shorter outlet to tidewater, to foreign markets and to the west coast markets in both Canada and the United States."
