Rupert Takes Part in BC's Record Grain Year

Grain shipments out of British Columbia ports for the crop ending Tuesday will set an all-time high, it was disclosed yesterday.

A batch of foreign orders totaling 15,000,000 bushels will be shipped by June 30. Total shipments of 112,000,000 bushels, H. H. Smith, Canadian grain board representative in Vancouver, announced.

The total is 10 per cent higher than the 100,000,000 bushels exported in 1932 and compares with a shipment of only 65,500,000 bushels last year.

Mr. Smith said he had obtained sales to foreign buyers' 5,000,000 bushels of wheat before the end of June, 9,000,000 bushels during July and additional 1,000,000 bushels of barley to be shipped from Dominion Grain Elevators in Prince Rupert.

The new record, said Mr. Smith, represents a victory for experiment by the board of getting large shipments of grain through west coast ports. Grain elevator officials here were not available for comment. Mr. Smith's announcement was made last week. All shipments of barley would come through this port at least until the end of the year. Whether the new order will be operations going after December 31 is unknown.

At the present time, the Japanese vessel Ryuzan Maru is the fifth ship to load grain here since the elevator was re-opened last November 14. It is taking a full cargo direct to Japan.

Russ Protests Frisking of Embassy Man

LONDON (CP)—Russia protested to Britain against detectives frisking the Russian embassy man caught with a Foreign Service radio operator now awaiting trial on charges of giving Russian British secrets.

Detectives went through the Russian's pockets but released him when he produced diplomatic immunity credentials.

The Foreign Office announced today that the Russian protest note was handed over in London last week. A spokesman said it was being studied.

Diplomatic experts believe Britain will make no reply to the note until after the trial of the Russian's remarks to be made available to Congress.

Asks Negotiations To Open July 4

VANCOUVER—The British Columbia Labor Board today asked employers and striking woodworkers to reopen negotiations July 4.

Acheson Apologizes To Britain

LONDON (CP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States apologized Thursday at a private meeting of members of Parliament for keeping Britain in the dark about plans to bomb Korean power plants along the Yalu, informed sources reported.

In a meeting with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, Acheson drafted a plan to give Britain a bigger hand in United Nations military moves in Korea in the future as a result of an uproar over the massive air attack.

Informed source said Acheson, with approval of President Truman, declared the United States would welcome a closer link with Britain in the American-directed United Nations operations.

Earlier, Prime Minister Churchill was reported to be asking that a high-ranking British military man be appointed to the U.N. command to take part in planning and policy and to keep London informed on what is afoot.

The air strike early this week, which levelled formerly immune power plants that supplied Red China's Manchurian industry as well as North Korea, created a political storm here.

Clement Attlee, former Labor prime minister, charged the bombing threatened to upset truce talks and carried a peril of total war with Red China.

He charged the Churchill government with having no Korean policy of its own and with riding on American coat tails.

LABOR CENSURES GOVERNMENT

Meanwhile, the Labor party moved today to force a Commons showdown on failure of United States to notify Britain in advance of the bombings.

The party filed a motion for debate Tuesday demanding that the Conservative government make an improved arrangement for prior consultations on such matters in the future.

The move could be construed by Prime Minister Churchill as a motion of censure of government and—if carried—could force him to ask for a dissolution of parliament and a new election.

Meanwhile, indications in Washington are that State Secretary Acheson is going to have to do some explaining to Congress about his reported apology to Britain.

Senator Styles Bridges told the Senate yesterday that the apology—if made—was a "shocking thing."

Senator William Knowland, who brought the matter to the Senate's attention by reading a London news report about it, demanded that a full text of Acheson's remarks be made available to Congress.

The Foreign Office announced today that the Russian protest note was handed over in London last week. A spokesman said it was being studied.

Diplomatic experts believe Britain will make no reply to the note until after the trial of the Russian's remarks to be made available to Congress.

It is the second attempt of the board to settle the strike which has tied up coastal logging and lumber operations and put 32,000 men out of work.

British Columbia operators today rejected a proposal of the Labor Relations Board to re-open negotiations with the 32,000 striking woodworkers.

Under the eight-point proposal, a mediator would be selected and bargaining would continue until an agreement is reached or alternatively "until a termination date mutually agreed upon by both parties." Termination date would not be earlier than July 15.

The new proposal will be considered at a meeting of International Woodworkers of America (CIO-CCL) later today. There was no immediate comment from operators.

Workers seek a pay increase of 35 cents an hour. Present basis rate is $1.29 1/2.

The board asked to be notified of acceptance or rejection of the proposal by 3 p.m. Monday.

In differing from its former proposal to break the woodworkers' strike, the board did not issue a back-to-work call before the talks get underway.

US Pilots Down 1000 Red Planes

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Lt.-Gen. Glenn Barcus said today U.S. Fifth Air Force pilots have knocked out 1,147 Russian-built planes in two years in the Korean war, including 474 shot down, 79 probably destroyed and B-29s which are not under his command.

The total includes 326 Red jets destroyed, 58 probably destroyed and 509 damaged. It does not include planes destroyed by B-29s which are not under his command.

The Fifth Air Force said it had lost 676 aircraft forward of the battlefield.

These losses include 263 jet aircraft, 286 propeller-driven planes and 127 jets and propeller-driven planes of attached units—the Australians, South Africa, land-based Marines and Republic of Korea Air Force.

The figure does not include B-29 losses.

Youth Drowned At Sunnyside

A 16-year-old Kitselas Indian boy, Floyd Bolton, was believed to have drowned early this morning in Skeena slough at Cassiar.

RCMP from Fort Edward were called to the scene and are aiding in dragging operations being conducted by the boy's uncle, Eddie N. Bolton.

A brief report from Cassiar said the boy is believed to have slipped off a boat into the tide. He lived with his grandmother, Mrs. Rebecca Bolton, at Port Hardy, Sandspit and Prince Rupert, 48 and 60.

Semi-Mourning Subdues Ascot Style Parade

By MURIEL NARWAY

Canadian Press Staff Writer

ASCOT, England — The first Royal Ascot of the new Elizabethan era saw fashions almost as subdued as the faces of the first crowds trying to pick a winner at the four-day meeting.

Sport writers called it a "black Ascot" for backers and it was almost literally that for the women, who generally followed Queen Elizabeth's preference for semi-mourning colors such as black and white, mauve and grey.

With outsiders winning most of the big races, the milling, elegantly-dressed crowds sought solace in trying to get a glimpse of the queen's party as it drove up the course each day in carriages drawn by Windsor greys.

In the royal enclosure, where people of title and talent gather there were few gleams of colors more startling than an occasional honey gold. For sensible women, the weather—the whole rather pleasant, but with strong breezes at times—meant coats of varying thickness, most of which were black, white and grey.

One fashion pointer was the choice of all-round pleats for silk or organza dresses. On one day, Princess Margaret, who rode in a carriage behind the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh, wore an all-round pleated black organza dress with tiny, white mink, batwing jacket and black coned bonnet covered in white lace.

The Queen and Princess Margaret usually chose wide-skirted dresses with duster coats or tiny fur jackets and stoles. A lovely grey outfit with the silver sheen of the under side of a leaf, worn by the Queen, was a wide-skirted stiff-silk dress, wide-brimmed grey straw hat with tulle.

Other officers on the new executive who attended the meeting were: R. H. Davidson, first vice-president; Mrs. F. E. Anfield, second vice-president; Henry Pluym, secretary, and Charles Roberts, treasurer.

The following committee chairmen were appointed:

Syllabus, Sister Mary Lawrence; publicity, Mrs. G. A. Hill;

membership, Mrs. L. P. Charbonneau; program, Mrs. Anfield; business manager, Frank Skinner; awards and scholarships, Mrs. W. S. Kergin.

Breakfast Clubbers Enter Scrap Book Competition

The Prince Rupert Breakfast Club, at an executive meeting at the home of president Jocelyn Bolton, decided to purchase a tooled leather scrapbook from patients at Miller Bay Hospital.

Decision was made so the club can compete for the District Scrap Book Award at the convention to be held in Victoria next year.

Club pins have been ordered and will be available at the next breakfast meeting.

Several changes in committees were made: Diane Kennedy has been put on the Scrap Book committee, Mary Bulger is now the club historian replacing Helen Douglas, and Mary Simpson has been added to the Bulletin committee. Jenny Christensen has been transferred from membership to the program committee replacing Lillian Howson, who is leaving for Fort Churchill, Man.

The regular educational meeting of the Breakfast Clubbers was held Wednesday at the Civic Centre. Chairman for the meeting was Mrs. Catherine Laurie, who gave a comprehensive and descriptive talk on "Letter Writing." Samples of letters were given to members present and a spelling test was held at the end of the meeting.

The educational course will be discontinued during July and August, and it is planned to hold a refresher course in September and October prior to the examinations in November.

Women Tired Of Masculine Monopolies

NEW YORK (AP)—The women of the world—some of them anyhow—are getting sick and tired of these masculine monopolies.

The breezes and full-skirted fashions gave an unusual slant to the requirements of a well-dressed woman. Pretty petticoats that grandmother would have loved were the saving grace of many light gowns. But sharp-eyed Joan Reeder of the Daily Mirror detected a flaw: "Illusions of enchantment were sadly shattered," wrote Miss Reeder, "when the breeze blew skirts waist high... showing the skimpiness of underwear."

For debutantes, big skirts wide hats and uncomfortable-looking sandals, formed by a few narrow straps, seemed the popular choice. Fashion writers generally appeared to think that the Ascot debutantes were overshadowed by the smart clothes of the older women.

Women don't like to associate with these stag denizens of the smoke-filled room, said Margaret P. Hundman, a Canadian corporation lawyer, but it's a female duty to get in the candidate-picking act.

US Doctor Suggests Cure for Common 'Driving' Ailment

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—If your back aches after a long drive you may have "accelerator leg," Dr. August L. Schultz said today.

He told the convention of the National Chiropractic Association that this ailment consisted of "pains in the back radiating down the right leg."

It is caused, he explained, "by long hours at the wheel while maintaining the position necessary to keep the right foot on the accelerator."

Dr. Schultz suggested a double accelerator, to be used by either foot, as a method of eliminating "this form of torture."

Doctor Warns Of Local TB Epidemics

REGINA—A doctor said today that localized epidemics of T.B. may occur more frequently in Canada now than the disease rate is lower.

Dr. G. E. Maddison of Saint John, N.B., told the annual meeting of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association of a recent outbreak in a small eastern Canada village.

Out of a population of 1,500 in the village and surrounding area, 29 have been admitted to sanatoria since May, 1951, he said in a paper on "Epidemic Tuberculosis."

In the previous 10 years only one or two persons had been admitted to sanatoria each year.

The source of infection apparently was a 28-year-old man with an advanced case who was too ill to work and spent most of his time sitting in a country store, Dr. Maddison reported.

"Because the source of most cases of tuberculosis is from the family or intimate acquaintances, or from the sporadic case in the community, it may be forgotten how acutely infectious this disease may be or how rapidly it can spread as it has done in this community," he said.

In another address, Dr. H. D. Jenner, superintendent of the Fort Qu'Appelle Sanatorium at Fort San, Sask., said the medical profession may be approaching the end of the "streptomycin era."

He presented a paper on current use of streptomycin, both alone and with PAS.

PAS is given in conjunction with streptomycin to prevent formation of strains of tuberculosis resistant to streptomycin.

Dr. Jenner said medical men should make a definite effort to define the true place of streptomycin in their therapy before the concurrent use of other drugs confuses the issue so they will no longer be able to separate the effect of streptomycin alone.

REVIVE WASTELANDS—An irrigation scheme costing $1,000,000 is bringing to an end the age-old drought conditions on thousands of acres of former British Columbia wasteland. Dams and reservoirs have been built, water diversions created, pipes and pumps installed by the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration to make the land ready for settlement through the Veterans' Land Act. Here, workmen place sprinkler pipes in new orchards on the 12-acre full-time farming unit of Eric H. Brown at Westbank. Apples and pear trees are planted in this project. ### Powell River Asks Forest Management

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Powell River Company Thursday applied for a forest management licence covering a large acreage in the Queen Charlotte Islands, Northern Vancouver Island and the upper coast.

A spokesman said it is the first time the company has ventured into forest management of Crown lands.

Application is made to allow for a long-range program of development and forest management, integrating private holdings and Crown lands under one plan, he said.

Before alternative voting, Mr. Kenyon would have been declared elected. Under alternative voting, Mr. Titchmarsh's votes will be distributed on second count. Mr. Finnerty could take the lead if he received most of the vote transfers. In any case, a third count will be necessary to decide the Similkameen winner. Depending how Mr. Titchmarsh's votes go, any of the other three could be dropped when the third count is made.

Chief issue in the election campaign was B.C.'s compulsory hospital insurance scheme. B.C. families must pay $42 a year, single persons $30, for hospital care. In addition there is a "co-insurance" charge of up to $35 for a patient's first 10 days in hospital.

All parties agreed there should be hospital insurance. But the Liberals and CCF promised to abolish "co-insurance" and the CCF also promised to reduce premiums. The Progressive Conservatives and Social Credit offered a voluntary scheme.

The B.C. industrial boom figured largely in the campaign. Liberals and Progressive Conservatives each claimed their party was the only one able to attract capital investment to the province. The CCF and the Social Credit said they would impose higher taxes on companies exploiting natural resources, particularly the forests.

by X-RAY shoe fitting

In fact, it's dangerous to have your child's shoes fitted in any other way. The tender child foot with its soft bones and pliant muscle can be compressed into almost any type of shoe. The child, feeling no pain, cannot tell if the shoe fits properly or not. That's why we insist upon fitting children's shoes by X-Ray. That's the only way we, and you, can be sure that your child's shoes will help to develop normal, healthy feet for a lifetime of foot health and comfort.

ped and his ballots are distributed to be required in the half-dozen seats remaining.

Because the CCF, SEocial Credit and Liberal parties received approximately the same share of the popular votes, three or more candidates remain in the running in a number of ridings.

For instance, in the four-candidate riding of Similkameen, the first-count was: Maurice Finnerty, Liberal, 2,485; E. A. Titchmarsh, Progressive Conservative, 1,389; H. S. Kenyon, CCF, 3,355; and Harry Francis, Social Credit, 3,226.

Before alternative voting, Mr. Kenyon would have been declared elected. Under alternative voting, Mr. Titchmarsh's votes will be distributed on second count. Mr. Finnerty could take the lead if he received most of the vote transfers. In any case, a third count will be necessary to decide the Similkameen winner. ### SCREEN ★ FLASHES

The cry of "play ball" with the accompanying excitement of All-Star games, shut-out pitching and Dizzy Dean's garbled English gives a World Series atmosphere to the Capitol Theatre tonight which features "The Pride of St. Louis."

Starring Dan Dailey as Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean the picture narrates the life story of the gifted athlete who clowned his way across the national scene for seven volatile semesters to become a baseball immortal.

Among highlights shown on the screen will be the 1934 All-Star game in Washington and the 1934 World Series between St. Louis Cardinals and Detroit Tigers.

Joanne Dru plays the part of Patricia Nash, the Houston girl who became Mrs. Dean and exerted a levelling influence on her husband's life.

At the Totem Theatre, Abbott and Costello, who have tangled with the Invisible Man, Frankenstein, the Foreign Legion and gangster mobs, get into something new tonight by tangling with a man-eating giant in "Jack and the Beanstalk."

Buddy Baer, prizefighter turned actor, plays the role of the giant. He stands six feet, five and a half inches tall and weighs 270 pounds.

Farmers Borrow $85 Million For Improvement

More than 75,000 farmers borrowed $85 million in 1951 under the Farm Improvement Loans Act. Finance Minister Abbott reported in his annual report to the Commons.

Since inception of the Act in 1945, 246,000 loans have been made. The 1951 total is nearly $22 greater than the 1950 figure.

Most of the money was loaned to prairie farmers although the report showed 2010 British Columbians borrowed nearly $2 million.

Ninety-two percent of the money borrowed—$78 million—was for the purchase of farm machinery and farm trucks.

Wheat is well into the short blade stage in most districts while in others it is heading out, varying in height from 10 to 15 inches. Coarse grains are storing well and prospects for high yields are good.

In the Okanagan Valley weather during the past week has continued warm with few showers. No damage to the fruit crop from any source is reported and an excellent crop is in sight.

Exception was the southeast portion of Manitoba and the extreme southern portion of Saskatchewan where additional moisture would be welcome, according to the Weekly Crop Report of the CNR department on agriculture.
