

Anscomb Doesn't Like Plebiscite Wording Speaks at Terrace

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY NEWS
TERRACE.—Progressive Conservative leader Herbert Anscomb talked to 135-residents of Liberal leader E. T. Kenney's home town Tuesday night on roads, mines, and a liquor plebiscite he doesn't like. "The word plebiscite is not sufficiently specific, he said. "Unless we have a very good highway program to the extent of our ability to borrow money as at satisfactory interest rate," he said. "He criticized CCF leader Harold Winch's suggestion that big mining operations such as consolidated Mining & Smelting should pay more than they do for the privilege of taking the province's metal ores. "The province had rented its right to impose income taxes, Mr. Anscomb pointed out. And if C M & S were hit by a heavy tax on a royalty or mineral basis it would have to apply to all other mining operations as well. "Under the Canadian system you can't tax one group more than another and every mining operation in B.C. would have to pay the same tax. "Every little mine in B.C. that is trying to become a big one would go out of business and you could only have C M & S left," he said.

Hospital Insurance Major Issue in B.C. Election

By The Canadian Press
British Columbia's hospital insurance scheme, operated on a compulsory basis, is a major issue in the June 12 provincial election.

A major plank in all party platforms calls for reforms or abolition of the compulsory hospital service. "British Columbia families now pay $30 a year into the hospital insurance plan. There is a co-insurance charge of up to $35 for the first $100 in hospital. "Liberals, Progressive Conservatives and the CCF would have co-insurance payments. "Social Credit and Progressive Conservative parties would have the compulsory plan, but with a voluntary CCF would also roll back insurance premiums to rates of $33 for families and $30 for single persons. "The CCF would introduce an automobile insurance plan at costs as in Saskatchewan, possibly 50 per cent under the rates now charged by private firms in B.C. "Party slogans have their place in the platforms. "Social Credit: 'Prosperity and security with individual freedom.' "Progressive Conservative: 'Make security in British Columbia secure.'

Fisheries Pact Headed For Approval

OTTAWA (CP)—Fisheries Minister Mayhew said Tuesday he hopes the Pacific fishing treaty between Canada, United States and Japan will continue "long after" its proposed 10-year span. He spoke before the Commons Fisheries Committee which is considering the treaty preliminary to formal ratification by parliament. "Mr. Mayhew said the agreement, which allocates fishing rights in the North Pacific and sets up a conservation commission, is a fair one and contains nothing punitive against Japan. "The committee also heard approval of the pact from the Canadian Fisheries Council and Fisheries Association of British Columbia, trade groups. "Kenneth Fraser of Vancouver, representing the B.C. body, said it approves the treaty "without qualification." Treaty was based on sound conservation principles providing for international co-operation.

THE OIL FEVER which has gripped B.C.'s neighboring province of Alberta since the end of the war has spread into B.C. borders. Exploration and drilling is increasing. Above, is the drilling operation at the Pacific Port St. John No. 6 well in northeastern British Columbia.

Winch Laces Liberals, Tories on Resources

"The past coalition government has just been on a drunken spree in giving away your natural resources."

With this statement, Harold Winch, CCF leader, at the Civic Centre last night, roundly criticized Liberal and Progressive Conservative party policies, and statements that the CCF would nationalize industry if they came into power in B.C. "Despite what the Liberals and Conservatives say, capital will continue to come into this province. "But business goes where natural resources are located. B.C. has got to forge ahead industrially and economically because we have thousands of untapped acres that industry needs. "But," said the outspoken veteran CCF MLA for Vancouver East, "we say that the 9.6 per cent derived by coalition from natural resources is not enough and we are going to change that." He said that in 1934 the government received 14 per cent in revenue from natural resources "and under the Liberal and Conservative administration that has dropped to 9.6 per cent in 1952."

Mr. Winch, who at 44 is an 18-year veteran in the legislature, called Mr. Anscomb's contention that his party "got married" to the Liberals to form a coalition in 1941 was because the nation was at war "just eye-wash." "If they were so patriotic after the 1941 election why were they not patriotic before?" He said the two parties remained as a coalition also in 1949 "because they were afraid of the CCF and the Conservatives are still afraid." "In 1933," said Mr. Winch, "you had the right to vote for anyone you wanted, but now you have lost your democratic right because of the new voting procedure. "The Liberals refused to act on recommendations of the hospital insurance committee. (Continued on page 5)

Province Grants Licence To New Pulp, Paper Mill

VICTORIA (CP)—Celgar Development Co. Ltd. has been granted a forest management licence by the British Columbia government. Celgar, an affiliate of Columbia Cellulose Ltd., plans a $65,000,000 integrated forest industry in the Arrow Lakes district of the Kootenays, 300 miles east of Vancouver. Lands Minister E. T. Kenney announced Tuesday the licence has been approved, subject to such controls as are provided by the Forest Act. Licence covers 1,000,000 acres of forest lands to provide raw materials for a sulphate mill, newsprint mill and sawmills to employ about 2,200 workers.

Senate Approves Bill For Kitimat Rail Link Alcan Guarantees Against Loss

OTTAWA (CP)—A Senate committee Tuesday approved provisions of the bill authorizing Canadian National Railways to build a 46-mile railway line from Terrace to the multi-million dollar aluminum plant at Kitimat.

The bill still requires approval of the Senate and royal assent before CNR may go ahead with the $10,000,000 line. Commons already has passed measure. Line will link Aluminum Company of Canada's project at Kitimat with the CNR line running from Edmonton to Prince Rupert. A. W. Whitaker, vice-president and general manager of the Aluminum Company, told the committee the line will carry out aluminum production from the Kitimat project, expected to cost more than $550,000,000. Most of output will go to central United States. A. B. Rosevear, general solicitor for CNR, and G. H. Paterson, research engineer for CNR resources and development department, explained the agreement between the Aluminum Company and the CNR. The company has guaranteed the railway against any loss on freight traffic during a 10-year period. Railway expects a minimum profit of $1,000 during the first five years with a substantial increase after that. "If the freight traffic drops below the $1,000,000-mark a year, Aluminum Company will pay CNR at rate of 33 1/2 cents for every dollar below the guarantee. D. M. Mackay, director of In-

Aga Khan's Entry Wins Epsom Downs Sweepstake Race

EPSOM.—Aga Khan's Tulyar, top British favorite, outran French challengers today to win the Epsom Derby, Britain's top horseracing classic. Gay Time, another English-bred colt, came second and Favourite II, one of eight French starters, third. Thirty-three colts started in the race, which is the basis of international sweepstakes. In the stampeding finish Tulyar came from back and went across the line three-quarters of a length winner. A length separated second and third. Only Canadian-owned horse in race, Indian Hemp, was badly beaten. Entry of Max Bell, Calgary newspaper publisher, was not listed among first 12 to cross finish line. Some 500,000 Britons jammed this historic park for the big race. Time was 2:36 2-5, far off the stake record of 2:33 4-5 set by Mahmoud in 1936. Mahmoud also was owned by the Aga Khan and was ridden by Charles Smirke, who also was up on Tulyar today.

St. Lawrence Barge Missing With 11 Men

Quebec (CP)—A 600-ton coastal vessel and crew of 11 is missing and feared lost today in lower St. Lawrence river. Although the reconverted barge has been missing for 15 days, news of the vessel's disappearance in Matane-Mechins area, some 250 miles below Quebec, only came out last night. A life preserver bearing the vessel's markings was discovered near Metis beach. Considerable quantity of pulpwood, believed to be part of ship's cargo, also was sighted in the district.

Parachute and Bones Held Here by Police

A U.S. Coast Guard flying boat enroute to Prince Rupert to pick up a parachute and some human remains found last week off Ashdown Island, crashed yesterday into Juan de Fuca Strait near Port Angeles.

Two Killed In Mountain Accidents

EDMONTON (CP)—Two Canadians were killed and two United States citizens injured in related accidents Monday on the trans-mountain pipeline construction job near Red Pass Junction, 225 miles northwest of Edmonton. Dead are Nick Vovonovich, 21, of Robb, Alta., and William E. Henry, 45, of Vancouver. Injured are Dewey Moore of Tulsa, Okla., and John Schroawger, also of Tulsa. Police said Vovonovich was crushed by a bulldozer and was being taken to hospital in a station wagon driven by Moore. Henry and Schroawger were passengers. Enroute to Jasper, the car went over a bank. Other employees brought all four to Jasper. While no identification has been made, there has been conjecture that the remains may be of an airman from the B-36 bomber which crashed off Princess Royal Island in February, 1950 with 17 men aboard. All but five of the airman were rescued shortly after the crash.

Big Three Agree On Armed Forces Limits

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Western Big Three powers have agreed upon a proposal to set a ceiling of 1,500,000 men each for armed forces of the Soviet Union, United States and China—provided all three and the United Nations concur. This proposal is scheduled to be presented late today to the U.N. disarmament commission. It is the West's answer to Russia's demand for a flat-one-third reduction of all armed forces of big powers. Plan also calls for strict safeguards to see no one violates the limits. Graham Island, largest and most northern of the Queen Charlotte Islands, has an area of 2,485 square miles.

Turn Out the Vote

COME election day, the figure 75 percent is going to be the subject of some curiosity around these parts, for that was the percentage of registered voters in this electoral district who cast their ballots in B.C.'s last general election.

That was three years ago. In the interval many important changes have come to the district and political issues have taken on a sharper edge. Accordingly public interest should be greater and the voting turnout better.

Since there is no guarantee of this, however, the Junior Chamber of Commerce deserves credit for stirring up the vote with the same enthusiasm as if there were no interest or issues at all.

While 75 percent is not a bad showing, it is not in the same class with turnouts at some interior points where scores as high as 88 percent were recorded. Let's make it a real contest so that the man finally elected is, without any doubt, the popular choice.

Ways And Wants

THERE are some words of John Temple Graves in his book "The Fighting South" that should be better known for our own good.

He says, "We have been so intent on ways that we have forgotten what they are for . . ."

"Some of us have been fighting so hard for democracy that we have failed to use democracy."

"Some of us have been so bent upon the rights of labor that we have not remembered how the rights should be employed for quality in workmanship, character and responsibility in those who work."

"Some of us have so feared for free enterprise that we have taken away some of the freedom, or been wanting in enterprise."

It was Good Friday, not so long ago, and when a Baptist Army chaplain asked a young soldier if he could tell him its meaning. The YS paused for a few minutes and said he thought it was a "sort of batman to Robinson Crusoe." You may have noticed lately that school teachers have been insisting on salary increases.

WE ALL HAVE IT

Saturday evening last, the whole of Sunday, and part of the time since then, any number of persons have had that "I Need a Holiday Look" in their tired eyes. You know the expression. It was plain as anything. One could almost hear the words. They sounded impatient.

YOUR SEAFOOD!

Forty kinds of fish that make other nations drool go begging, says Ian Scandlers in Macleans. He's right, of course. A basic industry languishes and our cooks pass up some of the finest eating in the world. Somehow, Canadians are not fish consumers. They belong anywhere except in the Dominion. Of course, there are some in the coastal cities, but to a large extent they stop there. When Canada's kitchens discover how to cook fish as skillfully as it is done elsewhere, more of us will enjoy a greater proportion of a local product, and fewer beefsteaks.

Does reading a comic book have any effect on a child? Nothing, so it is understood, unless it is the prompt desire to read another comic book.

Alderman Prusky asks colleagues the cost of doing away with sick dogs and cats, and learns it's five and three dollars. A few of the councillors suggest this is a shade steep. How could it be much less? In a town the size of Prince Rupert, a dog cannot be laid away any old place. There's many an owner who thinks not of the loss of a five spot, but the absence of an old friend.

As I See It

by Elmore
Philpott

More on No Vote

JACK SCOTT and I have frequently been on opposite sides of public questions from the editor of the Vancouver Sun.

But in my ten years on The Sun this is the first time I remember when the editor and Jack are on one side of a public question while I am on the other.

The editor and Jack favor a Yes vote in the coming plebiscite on sale of hard liquor in hotels and cocktail bars.

I am on the NO side. I think we are already spending far too much money on alcoholic drinks in B.C. If we get the Ontario system here in B.C. a great deal more money will be spent on hard liquor than is being spent now. I think this will be bad for business and for most families—where the wives and mothers have a hard enough time, right now, paying for groceries and things they must have for the kids—such as milk.

THE EDITOR of The Sun, on May 15, wrote that "Elmore missed the point." Noting that I had reported a 300 per cent increase in alcoholic gallonage consumption in Ontario since 1935, he said: "We can't imagine why Mr. Philpott chooses to compare 1935 with 1951 when he knows that cocktail bars were not introduced until 1947."

The reason I picked 1935 was quite simple. This was the last year I lived in Ontario. Believe me, I knew people were drinking plenty even then. The subsequent increase in the consumption of alcohol has been ten times greater than would be warranted by the mere increase in population.

THE EDITOR of The Sun is not quite up to date when he writes "beer drinking in Ontario is increasing at a faster rate than hard liquor drinking—the figures being 27 per cent and 25 per cent since 1947."

The latest official report for Ontario showed the following consumption for last year:

Imported liquors increased 28.9
Domestic liquors increased 6.6
Imported beers increase 28.9
Domestic beers decreased 10.6

The above trend toward more hard liquor and imported beers as against the local brews was carried out in the wines too. Consumption of imported wines increased 21.1 per cent while local wine consumption was down 4.4 per cent.

IT SEEMS to me that there is an honest and above-board argument for the legalized sale of hard liquor in hotels and bars in B.C. That is, that this is a free country where it is no crime to take a drink of alcohol; and that if the majority say they want the right to drink out of glasses in hotel bars and cocktail lounges, the law should be changed accordingly.

But in my 21 years as a working newspaperman in Canada I have seen change after change made in the laws of the several provinces in which I have lived and worked. Always the people who were interested in selling more alcoholic beverages staged a campaign in which the people were told that if only they would legalize more and more sales outlets THERE WOULD BE LESS LIQUOR CONSUMED! What downright bunk! The people were given lofty sounding lectures on intemperance and told that the way to promote sobriety was to put in more barrooms—excuse me, I mean cocktail lounges.

THAT IS WHY I say to B.C., let us get this straight. We know what we have now in B.C. It is certainly not too good. But would we be better off to vote for what Ontario has, as shown by the latest official reports. In addition to the government liquor and beer stores there are

Licensed hotels 884
Taverns 154
Public houses 363
Restaurants licensed 17
Social clubs 191
Veterans' clubs 219
Labor clubs 12
Military messes 115

Divide the above figures by three, for difference in population, and ask yourself: How many of these licenses would be given in our town, and what would be their effect?

LETTERBOX

SUPPORTS HUNTER CITIZENSHIP TROPHY

Editor, The Daily News:

It was with much more than passing interest I read in your issue of May 16 a letter from J. S. Wilson dealing with the untimely and tragic death of my very old friend Alex Hunter. I was intrigued with a suggestion his letter contained regarding a Good Citizen trophy, or some such memorial.

I sincerely hope that the citizens of Prince Rupert will give this suggestion some thought and also let the newspaper fraternity of Canada know of their plans. Alex Hunter was a great citizen and a great Canadian. No one ever lived who was more incere in everything he did than Alex Hunter.

He loved being alive; loved his home, his work and his community. Alex believed in his work and had the most tremendous faith in Prince Rupert and that particular section of Canada. He helped lay plenty of sound foundation stones and should always be remembered as one of Prince Rupert's TRUE and GREAT citizens.

I can only add my sincere tribute to everything that Mr. Wilson has said and I trust something will be started to perpetuate Alex's memory.

Presidential Vote Four-Stage Affair

By JOHN TRACY

The United States is a four-stage affair and American electors, who will vote this year, are near the close of the first stage.

The process starts with the primaries or state party conventions, proceeds to the big national conventions, and then to the actual voting. The final stage is the electoral-college vote, a vestige of the early days of the American Republic.

Purpose of the primaries is to allow the voters of each party to express their preferences for presidential nominees and to select delegates to the national conventions. The idea of the primary is that the people will, by having their say, thwart the party bosses in the "smoke-filled rooms" of U.S. political tradition.

But political experts say it doesn't always work that way and it has been found that political machines can often work their will through primaries as well as through conventions.

Laws in the 16 states that use presidential primaries are "confusingly varied and sometimes ambiguous. In some cases, for example, citizens vote their presidential preferences while at the same time voting for convention delegates whose intentions they do not know.

All in all, the primary system as practised now does not usually give any crystal-clear indication of the nation's popular choices of nominees. For instance, of the 496 delegates chosen by presidential primary for the Republican convention in 1948, only 153 from five states were definitely obligated to support the candidate favored by the voters in their states.

The remaining 32 states pick their delegates through state conventions, or in a few instances, by state party committees.

Both big conventions will be held this year in Chicago, the Republicans meeting July 6 and the Democrats holding theirs July 21. Each party will select its candidates for president and vice-president and lay down its policy. Then the electoral campaign starts rolling.

Actual polling will be held Nov. 4 when more than 50,000,000 voters are expected to vote their choices for president and vice-president. In many states they will also vote for U.S. senators, governors and members of state legislatures as well as for various municipal laws.

MACHINES POPULAR

In most states the paper ballot is used, but a growing number use voting machines. The machines, designed to speed up voting and counting of returns, are operated in a curtained booth by the voter who pulls levers opposite the name or party of his choice. More than 15,000,000 voted on machines in the 1948 presidential elections.

Soon after election day the citizens know who will be their president for the next four years. But one formality remains—operation of the electoral-college system, a hangover from the late 18th century.

Originally, Americans voted for members of an electoral college who, by reason of their knowledge and experience, were considered qualified to pick men to fill the important government offices. Eventually election power was transferred directly to the voters but the electoral-college law remained on the books.

Under present practice, each state has a number of electoral votes equal to the number of members it has in Congress. After it has been determined which states each presidential candidate has carried—even by the smallest popular-vote margin—the electoral votes for of these states are tallied. There are 96 senators and members of the House of Representatives, making a total of 531 electoral votes. Three candidates must have a total election votes to mind.

Canadians Hold Ducats in Famed Sweepstake Derby

DUBLIN (C)—Tickets held by 58 Canadians have been picked in the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes draw. They come in for some of the $3,136,000 prize money that hinges on today's famed Epsom Derby.

And from the hundreds of slips plucked from a big drum came nine tickets for Canadians on the top four favorites of the race, the oldest of Britain's big sport events and the greatest gambling magnet of the year.

The 173rd running of the Derby—a 1½-mile race—was held at Epsom Downs, Surrey England. A sweepstakes ticket on the winning horse will bring $140,000. Second prize is $56,000 and third prize is $28,000. There are consolation prizes of about $1,200 for non-starters.

Three Canadians held ducats on the big choice, Silnet. They are from Southampton, Ont., Glace Bay, N.S., and Toronto.

Silnet, last quoted at about 8 to 1, is a bay colt that has been right up with the leaders in races against the fastest three-year-olds in his native France.

Other ticket holders come from British Columbia, the Northwest Territories, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

A resident of Whalley, near New Westminster, holds a ticket on another hot favorite, Faubourg II, owned by Paul Dupre of France. His name de plume is "Deacon."

Three Toronto district residents will pin their hopes on the Aga Khan's Tulyar, winner of three straight races this season. Another comes from Smithville, Ont.

A holder from Moncton, N.B., using "Ukie" on the slip, drew another good bet in Bob Major. Owned by Lord Rosebery, Bob Major flopped in the two thousand guineas, first of British classics, but is reported doing well in workouts.

One Canadian has a ticket on Indian Hemp, the first Canadian owned horse to run in the Derby. A resident of Yellowknife, N.W.T., with the nom de plume "B and A," has the ticket.

Indian Hemp, last quoted at 40 to 1, is a chestnut colt owned by published Max Bell of Calgary.

US Soldier Called to Dutch Army

WITH U.S. 4th INFANTRY DIVISION, Korea (AP)—Sgt. Geert Hazenberg of Lynden, Washington learned today he had been inducted into the Dutch army and was supposed to report for duty more than two weeks ago.

Hazenberg was drafted into the U.S. army in 1950. He just received a letter from the mayor of Ulrum, the Netherlands, saying he was to report for duty in Ulrum, May 8.

Hazenberg went to the United States from Holland with his family in 1947. He said he took a physical examination before leaving the Netherlands but heard no more from the Dutch government until recently.

CNR Financial Structure Revised by Legislation

OTTAWA (C)—Legislation for a huge financial revision of the Canadian National Railways, in preparation for months, likely will come before the cabinet this week for final approval.

The measure, effecting a multi-million dollar shift in the CNR's $2,300,000,000 capital set-up, will be the top item in Transport Minister Chevrier's legislative program for the year. In transportation bills of recent years, it is second in rank only to the freight rate equalization statute of the late 1951 session.

Other possible transport measures, in the shipping field, are still under consideration. Most important is a proposal to restrict the Canadian coastal-shipping trade to vessels built and operated in Canada.

This now is under study by an inter-departmental committee, but authoritative informants say the committee will recommend against it, for 1952 at least. The committee's recommendation is expected to be accepted by the cabinet.

Without the coastal trade restrictions, the Shipping Act amendments are expected to be of a comparatively routine nature.

The CNR recapitalization measure, stemming from 1951 recommendations of the royal commission on transportation, is expected to be introduced into parliament right after getting the cabinet's endorsement.

Officials say the government expects to see the bill passed before prorogation.

The purpose is to scale down the top-heavy financial structure of the CNR, which has plunged the government-owned system into a chronic deficit position. It is expected this will be done largely by easing the demands on the company's revenues made by its government-held debt of some $750,000,000.

The net outcome will be to put the CNR in a position where in normal years it will earn a small surplus.

The proposed new arrangement will take into account that Canadian National, from now on, will have to pay federal income tax just like privately owned railroads. This was laid down in the last budget.

U.S. Salmon Pack Shows Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Fish and Wildlife Service said Saturday the 1951 pack of canned salmon in the Pacific Coast states totalled 1,161,274 standard cases, valued at $29,388,514 to the canners.

This was an increase of almost 16 per cent in volume and eight per cent in value over the 1950 pack.

The Puget Sound district of Washington accounted for 80 per cent of the 1951 pack of Pacific Coast canned salmon. The Columbia river districts of Oregon and Washington accounted for 17 per cent, and the coastal districts of the three states for the rest.

Chimps, Convicts Same When Caged

LONDON (C)—D. O. Hebb, a Montreal professor, says you can learn a lot about criminals from chimpanzees.

The professor, regarded as an outstanding authority on the mental processes of the ape, told an audience of psychiatrists and scientists five years ago of tests have convinced him there isn't much to choose between caged apes and a "prison population of human beings."

So Professor Hebb advised the more than 100 doctors present at Maudsley Hospital, well-known research centre for criminal psychology, to do some practising on chimpanzees.

As one indication of the similarity between apes and humans, the Montreal professor said the female of the species is the one to watch.

"You can easily fool a male chimp, but you cannot fool a female," said Professor Hebb, leaving his audience to draw its own conclusions about human beings.

Foot-Mouth Freedom Expected

REGINA (C)—Federal Veterinary Director-General Dr. Thomas Childs says he expects Canada will soon be declared free of foot and mouth disease.

In an interview he said that following the declaration that the country is free of the disease the next step will be to convince the United States of the fact.

"When that is done," he said, "resumption of normal trade relations in connection with livestock and livestock products should not be unduly delayed."

Meanwhile, 16 disinfecting stations are being set up surrounding the foot and mouth quarantine area around Regina. At present there are about 11 stations operating.

Veterinarian Dr. Kenneth Wells

of Ottawa said complete disinfection of all premises from which animals have been slaughtered will be finished next week.

These premises will be fenced in and test calves and hogs will run on them for a period to assure that there are no signs of the virus left.

Dr. Childs pointed out that not a single case of foot and mouth disease has appeared inside the 11-municipality quarantine area since immediately after the disease outbreak was announced Feb. 25.

The appearance of the disease near Ormiston, Sask., April 22 and near Weyburn, Sask., April 28—both points outside the quarantine boundary—was caused by infected material being brought to those farms prior to the establishment of the quarantine, Dr. Childs said.

A STATEMENT BY HECATE

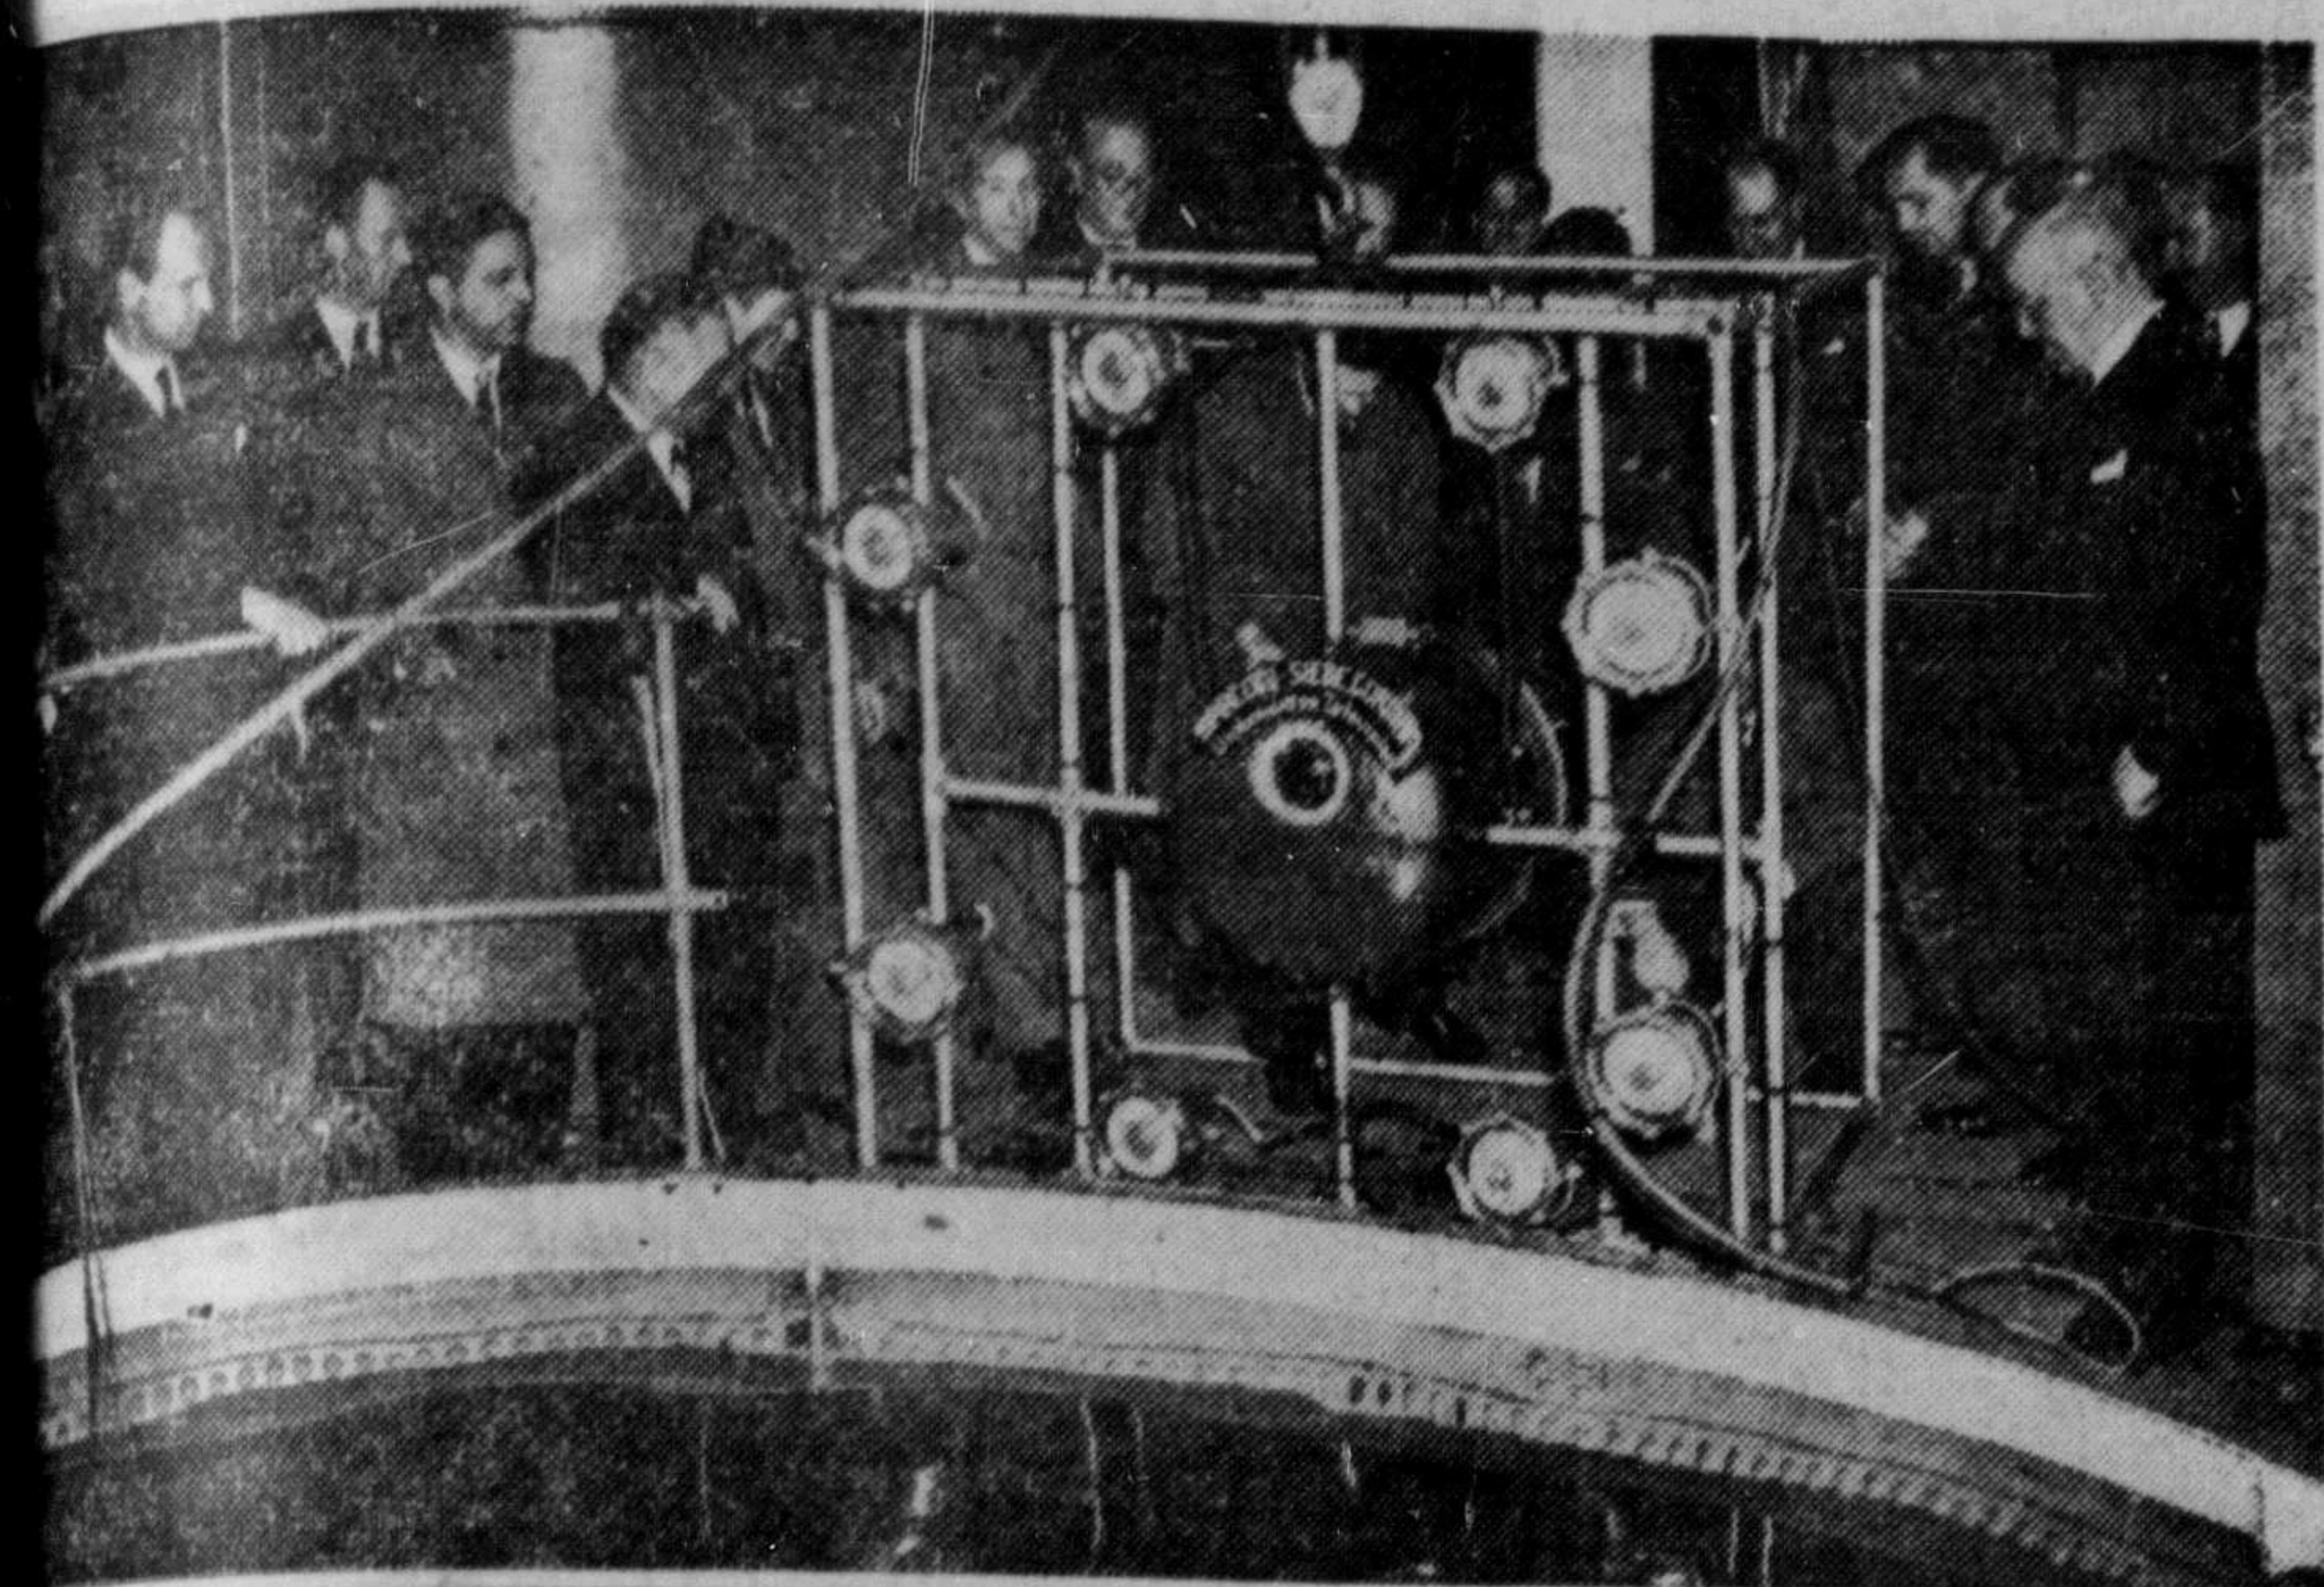

THE Powell River Company Limited and The Aluminum Company of Canada Limited are hopeful of establishing a large newsprint and pulp mill at Kitimat. A Management Licence for timber in the adjoining coastal areas where Powell River has large timber holdings, has been applied for in the name of a jointly owned company, Hecate Development Limited. Surveys and studies are under way to determine if the project is feasible.

Should this mill be built, it would need large quantities of pulpwood from the Interior as well as from the Coast, and the Company would expect to buy such Interior wood, year in and year out, from settlers and logging and sawmill operators now located in the district.

Hecate does not plan to buy saw logs in the Interior, but it would want lodge pole pine and other species of pulp trees not now in demand which should make it possible for logging operators in the area to sell all of the timber reached by their logging roads instead of only one third, as is often the case today.

It ought to be of benefit to all those who live in the area to have such a market for these products.

Underwater Television Interests 12 Nations

Last year the British succeeded in finding their sunken submarine Affrey by television in the English Channel. Since then two of their radio and marine salvage manufacturers have put together and produced underwater television that looks like opening up new fields in marine research and salvage.

Foreign countries are also interested, and pictured above are eleven naval attaches — from Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Denmark, Holland, Italy, Norway, Spain, Sweden, Turkey and Venezuela—plus British officials watching an underwater camera being lowered into a test tank. pital inquiry board," said Mr. Winch, who was a member of the board, "even though the report showed how administration costs could be cut by $1,000,000 and the number employed to administer the service could be reduced from the present 643 to 223."

"If you put hospital insurance on a voluntary basis you'll wreck it. You'll have to pay more than you are today."

"No private insurance company can give you what you are getting today for less than $100 or $150 a year."

"If, as the Social Credit and Conservatives say, private companies are going to compete with the government, that means your rates will go up."

The CCF policy on insurance would be to abolish co-insurance and exempt low-income groups. The party also, if elected, would "give car accident insurance at cost by setting up a government operated system to give you much more protection for much less than you pay now."

Stressing that the government should receive more revenue from the natural resources, Mr. Winch said "we believe the people have the right to be true partners in government and we do not agree to a $51,000,000 profit by Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company while they pay only $1,400,000 in taxes."

SOCIAL CREDIT

Referring to the Social Credit party, he said: "First of all, B.C. was worried about hoof and mouth disease, and now it's Social Credit."

"And I'm sure we don't want them or any kind of party that brings in a printed program at a democratic meeting and tells you you must approve it without discussing it."

"That's how the Social Credit party platform was set up in convention at New Westminster."

Mr. Winch said the CCF believes in the people being full partners in the running of the government.

"The Liberals, Conservatives and Social Crediters stand for a system of competition, the CCF for a transitional period to a system of co-operation."

Mr. Winch asked electors to vote for the CCF on June 12.

and, although he did not urge that voters "plump," he made no mention of the party to whom the CCF wish the people to cast their second or third choice votes under the preferential system which comes into effect for the first time in B.C. for this election.

FIRST CHOICE, CCF

Asked by a member of the audience of more than 300 the party's view on second choice, Mr. Winch said, "that's your business, but vote Number 1 for the CCF."

"It doesn't make any difference to the CCF what your second choice is. That's why we have made no policy on the matter."

Prior to Mr. Winch's address, George Hills, CCF candidate for Prince Rupert, and Frank Howard, the party's standardbearer in Skeena riding, spoke briefly.

GEORGE HILLS

Mr. Hills criticized the housing project now under way in Prince Rupert and said the city council, of which he is a member, and Chamber of Commerce should not be too proud of boasting about their efforts to get the houses even though they pressed for the construction.

Average cost of the homes will be $10,750, said Mr. Hills, while the same home costs only $7500 to build in Vancouver or Moose Jaw.

"Even allowing $1000 for muskeg and rock, that still leaves $2000 to be accounted for," said the speaker, adding that rents, "which will average from $60 to $85," are also out of line.

NO NATIONAL ANTHEM

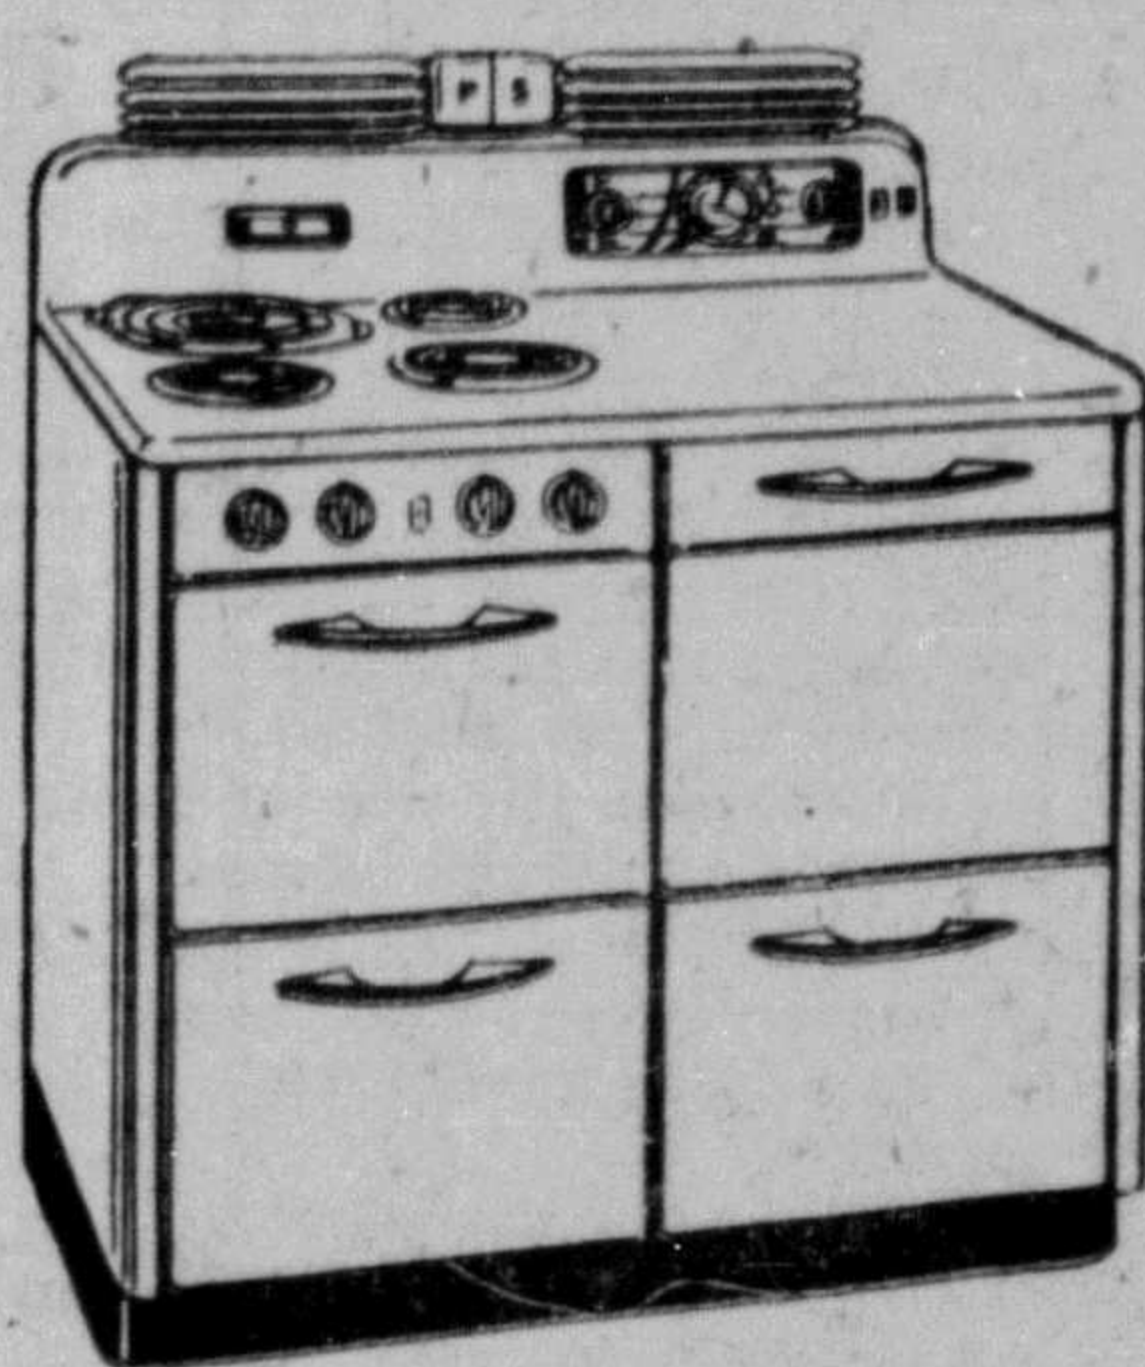

At the conclusion of his address Mr. Winch called for questions from the audience and after a lively 15 minute session he thanked the audience for their attentiveness and the meeting broke up.

As the crowds streamed out the door one man said, "How about singing O Canada?"

Mr. Winch said, "Okay, I'll sing it with you," and an elderly man near the platform headed for the stage to play the piano, but the crowd continued to disperse, and it was not sung.

In the lobby of the Civic Centre, several citizens remarked about the failure to close the meeting with O Canada, one man saying: "We always close our meetings in Prince Rupert by singing the National Anthem."

Antarctic Isles Ice Circle Arctic Region

Three glacial water ice islands which had their origin hundreds of thousands of years ago in the last great ice age, have been under observation by Canada's defence research board's Arctic section.

Changing in shape with drifting ice surfaces the islands drift around the top of the ice in a jagged circle. They more than five years to complete the circle.

It was the shifting of the ice that was put to?

Don't think they have any chance other than for basic research," said Sqdn.-Ldr. Keith Greenaway, the research board's top navigation expert. One now is a temporary United Nations scientific base.

Though they are easy to pick out from the air because of unripples on their surfaces, the flat enough and smooth to land planes on in winter summer there is deep and long puddles over much of the islands.

On T1, T2 and T3 they are surrounded by the embracing jagged ice and are surrounded by broken away icebergs which have drifted down the desolate northward of Ellesmere Island.

On May 1947 T3 was sighted by RCAF-USAF flight over the islands of Canada's archipelago by Sqdn.-Ldr. Greenaway. Existence of T2 was confirmed in the summer of 1950 by USAF crew flying near the pole. T1 was picked up by USAF in 1946 by a USAF aircraft.

Sqdn.-Ldr. Greenaway flew over T1 at low altitude, some 10 miles eastward some 10 miles from the northern tip of Ellesmere Island. In the past years since it was picked up T1 had traveled estimated 412 nautical miles swinging westward across

Accident-Free Safety Week For Cellulose

Columbia Cellulose Company at Port Edward was one of seven large B.C. firms which emerged without a single compensable accident during a recent safety week held by primary branches in the forest industry.

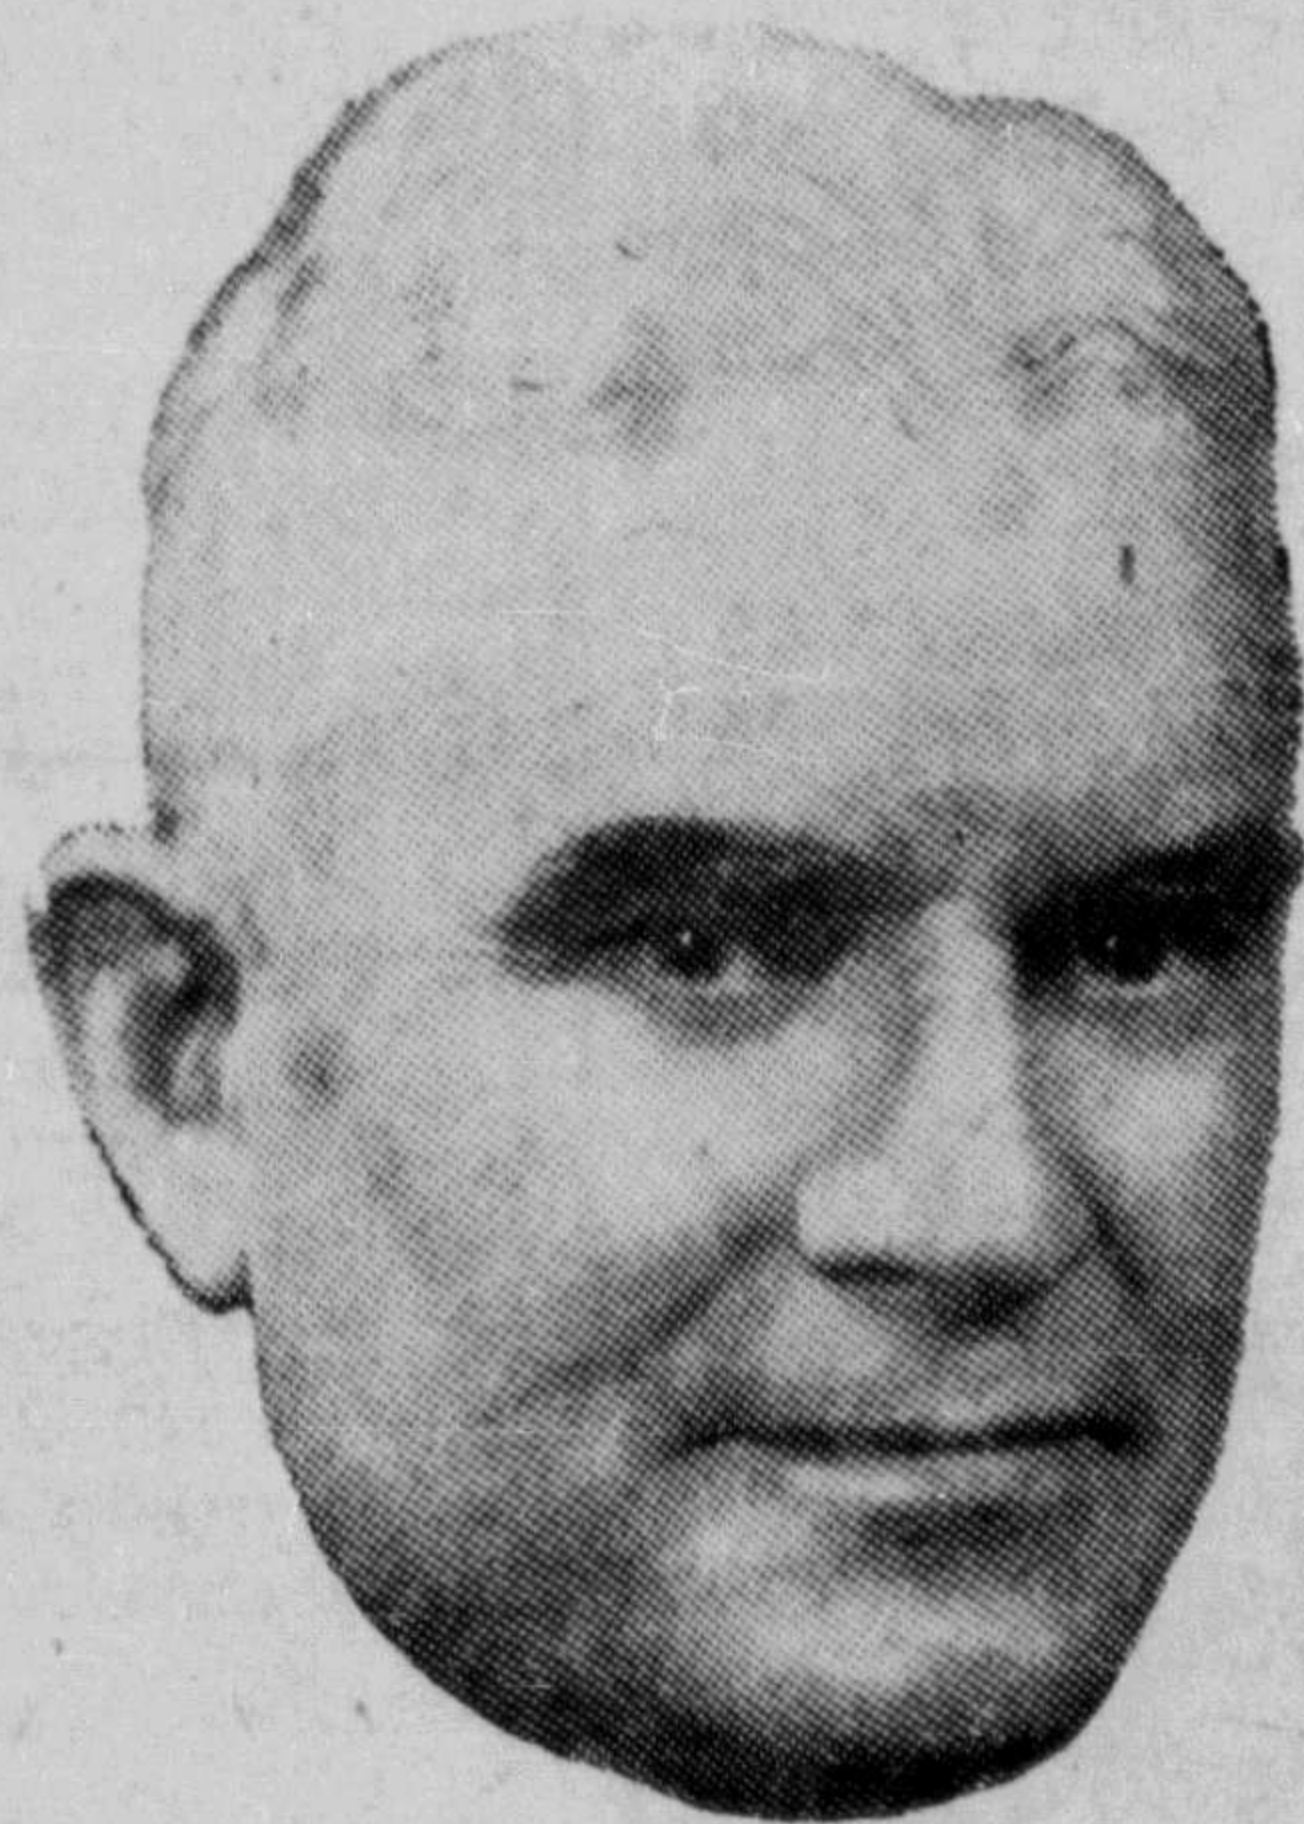

The contest was between the primary mills of the pulp and paper industry, which employs 6,500.

Other mills included in the accident-free week were: Alaska Pine and Cellulose Ltd., Port Alice and Woodfibre; MacMillan and Bloedel, Nanaimo and Port Alberni; Powell River Co., Powell River; Pacific Mills Ltd., Ocean Falls; Howe Sound Pulp Co. Ltd., Port Mellon, and the Westminster Paper Company at New Westminster.

The Canadian Pulp and Paper Association (western branch) said that due to the continued efforts and co-operation of employees and management the accident frequency of the industry during the past five years has been reduced 80 percent.

During the same period, the accident severity rate has also been reduced 84 percent, the association said in a prepared statement.

Timely RECIPES

Here's something super-special for Dad on his day, June 15. An "Upside Down Rhubarb Pie". It's really delicious and easy to do. Make it like you do an ordinary pie, only put melted butter, brown sugar and crunchy walnuts in the pie pan before lining it with pastry. After the pie is baked, invert over the serving plate and out comes your beautiful nut-topped pie.

Upside Down Rhubarb Pie
1/4 cup soft butter or margarine
1/2 cup walnut halves and pieces
1/2 cup brown sugar (packed)
1 tablespoon water
Pastry for double 9-inch crust
4 cups sliced rhubarb
1 cup granulated sugar
4 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon salt

Spread butter on bottom and sides of 9-inch pie pan. Press walnut halves around side of pan and sprinkle pieces over the bottom. Cover with brown sugar and pack firmly over butter. Sprinkle water around bottom of pan. Line coated pan with pastry. Mix rhubarb, granulated sugar, flour and salt lightly, and turn into pastry-lined pan. Cover with pastry and flute edge. Prick top with fork. Bake in very hot oven (450 F.) and bake 35 to 40 minutes longer, or until pastry is well browned and rhubarb tender. Cool until syrup stops bubbling. Invert over serving plate. Serve warm. Serves 6 to 8.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

Pre-emptive Bids Trick Even Best Players

Pre-emptive bids sometimes cause even the best of defenders to go wrong. When Miss Brash opened the bidding with four spades on this hand, Mr. Champion was determined not to be shut out. He bid five diamonds.

Miss Brash felt she had no defense against that contract and went on to five spades. Of course it might have turned out that her best bet was to let her opponents play five diamonds. In other words, she might have been set four tricks at five spades. But apparently thoughts like that never enter Miss Brash's head.

When Mr. Champion passed five spades, Mrs. Keen considered it to be a forcing pass. That is, she felt sure Mr. Champion had plenty to double five spades but was asking her to make a choice between doubling and going on to six diamonds.

With a singleton spade, ample diamond support, and a little other stuff, Mrs. Keen elected to bid six diamonds.

That tied it. Miss Brash had pushed her opponents into a slam which, as far as she knew, they could make. So she bravely bid six spades. Grinning evilly, Mr. Champion doubled.

He cashed the ace of hearts. After considerable thought he finally decided that it would be extremely dangerous to try to cash a diamond trick at this point.

Holding six diamonds himself, with two showing on the board and a diamond raise from partner, it was probable (he thought) that Miss Brash was blank in the suit.

Well, he had a little surprise for Miss Brash. He had another ace, the ace of clubs, and it was only three long. May as well cash that first to make sure of the set—and then try the diamonds.

Big Summer Show Boosts Business At Scenic Spots

By The Canadian Press

A new Canadian summer radio series, "The Happy Motoring Show," promises to be a big booster for tourist business. This is something different from the usual business approach and expects to spur wider travel by Canadians themselves.

The series began May 12 for a 16-week period. It is heard Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings over the Dominion network of the CBC. Popular vocalists Terry Dale from Vancouver and Wally Koster from Winnipeg are starred as the young Canadian couple who are seeing Canada by car.

The show opened in Yarmouth, N.S., and the series includes each of the 10 provinces, giving coast-to-coast publicity for the varied tourist attractions. All provincial tourist departments are consulted in arranging a comprehensive itinerary and Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce are giving their support.

Stories of local legend are interspersed in each program with Howard Cable and the orchestra supplying the music. Historic spots and famous tourist resort areas will be covered from Newfoundland to British Columbia.

Telephone engineers at Montreal came up with a new robot-like alarm that can answer questions, obey orders and even call for help. It's to be used on some of the 15 microwave radio-relay stations now being built between Montreal, Toronto and Buffalo to carry network television programs and long-distance telephone calls in connection with the first Canadian television operations this fall.

The repeater stations are located at intervals along the 400-mile network, involving many maintenance problems, but the "robot brain" will be of great help. Attendants will be on duty only at key stations. The others will be watched by the warning equipment, which sends signals to the alarm centres.

The basis of this warning system is a series of musical tones, each station having its own frequency. When everything is operating smoothly there is a steady tone from the robot guard. When trouble develops the alarm signal is set in motion, and the attendant will be able to trace it and correct it, perhaps automatically, or by sending a repair man direct to the scene.

But Miss Brash was not the surprised one. She ruffed the ace of clubs, took out the trumps, led a heart to the king and the rest of the tricks were hers.

"Well, partner," she said, "they tried to talk us out of our slam but they couldn't do it."

Mr. Champion got purple in the face. "Do you mean to say," he sputtered, "that you've got the colossal nerve to believe we were the ones who were the ones who were sacrificing on this hand?"

"Who else?" replied Miss Brash innocently.

Hotelmen Whip Clothiers Equal Second Place

A first inning free-for-all gave Commercial the win over Abel & Odowes last night, tying the teams with one game apiece for the season.

Commercial started their night on a 'Clothiers' error brought playing manager Simundson safe on first. Other errors by fielders

George Landis, Commercial's pitcher, threw a ball which hit the Commissioner's nose. The night-marish inning for the Clothiers ended when Le Page grounded out and Scott struck out.

Miner Simundson, Commercial's manager and outfielder, thrilled fans with his diving and running catches for five sparkling put-outs. Combined with the slow curves of Pitcher Fraser, Hotelmen kept Abel & Odowes hitless for four innings.

Fraser was tagged only twice, by Hodgson and Giordano, both of whom hit staggering triples for only long hits of the game.

Winning pitcher gave up six hits, three runs, one base on balls and struck out three. Losing pitcher Dick Letourneau gave up seven hits, nine runs, one base on balls and struck out six. Only one run was earned.

At the time the 1929 meeting around, the owners obviously realized that they had to the mat with Landis. During the interval made one fiery speech denouncing the farm system. The man Breardon, then president of the Cardinals, rose and the commissioner have it. They are selected portions of amounted to a declaration of war.

Landis has, to my knowledge, gone out of his way to do his business.

Landis would say that these 16 men in this room, representing an investment in major league clubs alone of $50,-

This is big business, men, and I do not think the man at the head of business, whom we have appointed, who has a great deal for us, I do think he should make these men, unless after thorough investigation and at least after talking with us who have money invested in it and would have got our opinion if they are broadminded. I received the solid support of his fellow owners. Judge, facing an obviously rising uprising, finally said perhaps he had been misled and a breach was averted. There is no record that he forgot the incident. A later he nearly wrecked the farm system by making agents of the bulk of the young players.

Maglie Rings up Ninth Win to Shut Out Brooks

Mays Leads Victory With Homer

NEW YORK (CP) — Sal Maglie rang up his ninth straight victory without defeat Tuesday night in pitching New York Giants to four-hit, 3-0 victory over Brooklyn Dodgers. Victory increased Giants' first-place lead in the National Baseball League over Brooks to 1½ games.

In the American League, leading Cleveland Indians went down 6-4 before cellar-dwelling Detroit Tigers. Vic Wertz's three-run homer capped Detroit's six-run rally in the sixth inning.

Willie Mays, who reports for induction in the army Thursday, led the Giants to their sixth straight National League triumph and their second in row over Dodgers with a home run and two doubles. Don Mueller also homered off loser Ben Wade.

Maglie walked four and fanned five as he shut out Dodgers for the second time this season. He didn't allow a hit until Carl Furillo opened fifth with a single.

Sports Day At Stewart

Special to The Daily News
STEWART — Empire Day sports were held on Saturday, May 24, under auspices of the Stewart Branch of the Canadian Legion.

Although an overcast sky and a cold southwesterly wind threatened to ruin the games, the weather changed and it brightened up enough to enable the sports to be run off.

Winners in the various events were:

Boys 10 and under, 75 ft. race — 1, Frankie Walker; 2, Mike Seaton; 3, D. Spencer.

Girls 10 and under, 75 ft. race — 1, Peggy Walker; 2, J. Brett; 3, McMacLeod.

Boys 14 and under, 100 ft. race — 1, Walter Toffila; 2, Roy Sharp; 3, Ray Snyder.

Girls 14 and under, 100 ft. race — 1, Barb. Lawrence; 2, G. Lawrence; 3, F. Macleod.

Boys 16 and under, 150 ft. race — 1, Chas. Lewis; 2, Walter Toffila; 3, Roy Sharp.

Girls 16 and under, 150 ft. race — 1, Barb. Lawrence; 2, G. Lawrence; 3, Joan Genge.

Sack Race — 1, Frankie Walker; 2, Frances Macleod; 3, Walter Toffila.

Three Legged Race — 1, Walter Toffila and Betty Behnson; 2, Mary Manojlovich and Roy Sharp.

Hop-Step-and-Jump — 1, R. A. Seaton; 2, A. Robinson; 3, T. McGee.

Ball Throwing — 1, Walter Toffila; 2, Chas. Lewis; 3, Ray Snyder.

Wheelbarrow Race — 1, Ray Snyder and Billy Walker; 2, Betty Behnson and Ralph Sharp.

Married Women's Race — 1, Mrs. Jackie Ferrier; 2, Mrs. Ila Kirkpatrick.

An attempt was made to get up a ball game between the girls and the boys but the weather turned so cold and threatening that the game was abandoned. When stopped, the girls were ahead 5 to 4.

Stewart Whips Premier In Ball Opener

Special to The Daily News

STEWART — The baseball season opened here last Sunday with a game in which Stewart trounced Premier 29 to 10.

In fairness to the visitors they have not had the opportunity for practice that the Stewart boys had and from the look of them, with a little practice they should be able to give a good account of themselves later this season.

The Premier team opened the batting and scored three runs in the first. Stewart came back with five runs. In the second, the Premierites were held scoreless while Stewart rampaged around the diamond scoring 11 runs. From then on the Stewart boys had full command of the game.

Premier had 18 hits, 10 runs; Stewart, 34 hits, 29 runs.

INSIST ON HOSPITAL INSURANCE

Without Compulsion

The Progressive Conservative Plan for Hospital Insurance will succeed because the foundation on which it will be built has been proved sound. It will:

- (1) Eliminate Compulsion, the need for policing and Government monopoly.
- (2) Free hospital management from the dictation and interference of government planners.
- (3) Make Hospital Insurance available to all the people of the province under a sound plan
- (4) Provide free hospital care to old-age pensioners, the indigent, social assistance cases and all others entitled to it. As it is now.)

Leading Sacred MP To Speak Here June 2

One of Alberta's ablest Social Credit speakers—H. H. W. Beyerstein—will address a public meeting here June 2.

Member of Parliament for Camrose, Mr. Beyerstein is a prominent citizen of that city. He was elected to the House of Commons in the 1949 Federal election.

A chiropractor by profession, he was born at Meeting Creek, Alberta in 1907 and was graduated from the Paulmer School of Chiropractic at Davenport, Iowa, in 1940.

Before moving to Camrose, he practised at Bagshaw, Alberta.

Mr. Beyerstein was president of the Camrose Social Credit constituency from 1944 to 1948 and was also president of that city's Board of Trade in the 1947-48 season.

He has been secretary-treasurer of the Alberta Chiropractic Association since 1943 and is also a member of the Canadian Chiropractic Association.

He will speak here in support of Art Murray, Social Credit candidate for Prince Rupert.

Slightly more than 67,000,000 chickens, turkeys, ducks and geese were sold in Canada in 1951 at a value of $161,000,000.

Scotland Yard's Greatest Mystery Remains Unsolved

By EDWARD CURTIS

LONDON (AP)—A year ago today, two British diplomats boarded an excursion boat, sailed across to France—and vanished.

Fifteen thousand police and secret agents have been looking for Donald Maclean and Guy Burgess ever since. There has been much rumor and speculation but not a solid trace. It is one of the greatest mysteries Scotland Yard has ever faced.

The government says it still doesn't know where they went or why. Officials shrug when asked if the two went over to the Russians. Russia and the Soviet satellites have made no claim that they are harboring the two.

The missing diplomats were experts on Anglo-American relations with access to secret policy matters. The Foreign Office has issued assurances that no documents disappeared with them.

Maclean was 38, a polished Foreign Office type, with a wife, two children and a third on the way, born three weeks after he disappeared. He was head of the Foreign Office U.S. department.

Burgess, 40, had a private income along with his Foreign Office pay. He was recalled as second secretary of the British embassy in Washington a month before he vanished after being arrested three times in one day for speeding in Virginia.

This much is known: They boarded a cross-channel steamer, the Falaise, and got off at St. Malo. There they hired a taxi and drove 60 miles to Rennes. They got there in time to catch a Paris-bound train.

And that's all, except for three telegrams they sent.

Maclean sent one to his wife and one to his mother from Paris. Burgess sent one to his mother from Rome. The messages were, on their face, routine assurances that they were all right and extended love and kisses. They gave no helpful clue to investigators.

Since then they have been reported seen all over the continent. But none of these tips ever has panned out.

As the anniversary of their disappearance approached, London newspapers started new speculation. One said Maclean had been secretly in England a few weeks ago. Another said Burgess was broadcasting three times a week from Prague and that Maclean was an adviser in the Czech foreign ministry. The Foreign Office here said it had no reason to believe either report was true.

Medical Bills Everyday Cost, Says Abbott

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott said Tuesday in running Canada's financial affairs he works on a principle that no ordinary living expenses should be deductible from salaries before income taxes are paid.

He said he feels deeply about that principle. That is why he did not recommend elimination of four percent floor under medical expenses which may be exempted from income taxes.

He noted that in the 1952-53 budget he raised ceilings on deductible medical bills—to $1,500 from $750 from single person and to $2,000 from $1,000 for married persons.

To have also recommended elimination of the floor, Mr. Abbott said, would have been "unsound, unfair and unjust" because medical bills are ordinary living expenses and something which eventually touches almost everyone.

He was replying in Commons to a renewed plea by Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre) for elimination of the floor. Earlier in the session, members approved a motion by Mr. Knowles that government "consider" such a move.

Germans Back Down on Deal With Canada

BONN (CP)—West German publishers have definitely refused to accept delivery of 2,000 tons of newspaper from Canada because of cheaper Scandinavian paper, here the economics ministry announced Tuesday.

Emergency allocation of 2,000 tons of newspaper from Canada was granted West Germany last January to overcome an acute shortage. Price had been fixed at $209 per ton.

Meanwhile, West German publishers obtained needed printing paper from Scandinavian manufacturers at $155 a ton.

The ministry announced it has informed Canadian exporters of German publishers' refusal to accept delivery "after negotiations with Canadians for a price cut failed."

two-day sale in February, 1950. Also a record was the $3,110,000 paid by Texaco Exploration Co. for one crown reserve parcel of 160 acres in the Bonnie Glen area, just south of Alberta's promising Wizard Lake field. The most ever paid before for a quarter-section of land at such Alberta sales was the $1,853,333 put up by Crown Trust Co. in June, 1950.

Shell Oil was the biggest purchaser, paying more than $300,000 apiece for three separate parcels.

Alberta Nabs Record Take From Oil, Gas

EDMONTON (CP)—The Alberta government took in a record $12,882,042 from its first 1952 sale of crown oil and natural gas leases and reservations. This is about 10 per cent of the total provincial budget for 1952-53.

The two-day sale ended with the government announcing successful bids on the last 58 parcels of land, all in unproven oil territory. The opening day of the sale brought $9,525,933, mostly for land in proven oil production areas.

The $12,882,042 total for one auction was a record, surpassing the mark of $9,122,145 set at a
