Action Needed Now

A MATTER of extreme urgency is before us today. Sale of the drydock without a guarantee that the purchaser would carry on operations would seriously affect many trades.

The Chamber of Commerce is to be congratulated for its prompt action in protesting the conditions of sale and it is hoped the government will give us a satisfactory answer without delay.

So far nothing has been heard from Ottawa sources, except a telephone call yesterday to drydock superintendent Bob Cameron outlining the conditions of sale, which we print here for the information of all.

1. No warranty of any kind, express or implied (except as to title) is given in respect of the Drydock and Shipyard or the three section floating drydock, wharves, buildings, plant, materials, supplies, tools or machinery, therein or thereon.

2. The terms of the sale shall preferably be cash but other terms offered by approved operators willing to carry on as a going concern will be considered.

3. Taxes, rents, insurance, etc., unless otherwise arranged, shall be adjusted as of and at the date of transfer of title.

4. Title to land to be conveyed shall be subject to all existing easements.

5. Access to the land to be conveyed shall be provided by way of easement.

6. This facility is preferably to be sold as a going concern and work in progress is to be adjusted as of the date of transfer of title.

7. The Time Office and Gate House located on the south side of the property are included in the facilities offered for sale but they are not entirely located on the land offered for sale and the buyer shall move them onto the land purchased immediately after transfer of title.

This is something that Ottawa cannot ignore. A solution to the problem affecting Prince Rupert must be found.

Ray REFLECTS and REMINISCES

An advertisement reports men's pants one-third off. Most men, however, prefer their pants to be at the top of their oxords, at least.

It's a fact, all right, that when the woodshed went out, juvenile delinquency came in.

Girls are naturally curious according to a teacher. And how many were ever known to grow out of it?

COULD REMEMBER '85

Arthur L. Davies died a few days ago in Moosejaw. He was in his ninety-second year. He was a veteran of the Riel rebellion in 1885, and while there may be a few more survivors, they are doubtless precious few. The campaign did not conclude after '85. The boys were all young and husky and figured they had earned pension recognition.

Modern life, comments the Ottawa Citizen, is hard on the aged, for families become scattered over great distances. The trend toward small houses makes it difficult or impossible to accommodate the elderly relatives continues to exist. Doesn't it though. Positively embarrassing.

The west's Dog Derby along the Saskatchewan river started this week and should be known by tomorrow or Saturday. It's an annual event with the big win at a thousand dollars. As a sporting event, even the dogs seem to always realize it's the greatest and warmest. The Pas ever knows. The people of the town and neighborhood make the most of it.

THIS PERSON CAN SPELL

"My idea of a really good speller is someone who can write 'apparel' correctly the first time," says a fellow called Sydney Harris. While that's all very well, one should take care to remember the proof reader. He's one of the important men on any paper even though he need not look or behave that way. Yet, he is.

As I See It

India World Key

WHEN the Prime Minister of Canada takes off for his trip to India and Pakistan he will make history, not only for Canada, but for all the nations of the west.

The trip is more than a goodwill mission, although that would be important enough to justify it. It is a striking recognition, by a young and vital nation of the west, of the swiftly increasing importance of Asia in general, and the Indian sub-continent in particular.

IT SEEMS to me that the period from about 1492 to 1914 will emerge, in the history books of the future, as the Age of the White Man's rule.

"Because of a unique and temporary combination of circumstances that part of the human breed which we call 'white' attained an ascendancy over the rest of humanity which had never been the case before—and which, in my opinion, will never be the case again.

The white man had weapons which the older, less mechanized civilizations, could not withstand. The white man overcame, in turn, the black man, the brown man. But he bogged down when he came up against the yellow man. The Japanese learned the tricks of western civilization faster than any nation had ever learned them before.

China took 40 years to stage her own titanic, slow motion revolution. But when it was over the balance of world power had been shifted back about where it was when Drake first sailed his ship around the earth.

CHINA and India are the two most populous nations on earth. They represent the oldest continuous civilizations of any of the great nations.

China has revitalized herself by the revolutionary process known as Communism. That revolution has been applied with utter ruthlessness, especially in the expulsion of all foreign influences EXCEPT FOR RED CHINA'S ALLY, Russia.

Next door to the Red giant stands India which is also in the throes of a revolution. But it is a very different type of revolution than that which has been completed in Red China.

India won her freedom by goodwill methods never before attempted in any land, anywhere on earth. The Gandhi movement was truly unique.

Nehru is trying to walk in Gandhi's steps. He is trying to lead India in the application of western style democracy to the people of his ancient land.

India has made remarkable progress. But no living soul, not even Nehru, can be certain of the outcome. India needs, before anything else, understanding in the west.

ALL ACROSS the brown belt of this earth, and down into the great dark continent of Africa, oppressed peoples and depressed economies are watching and comparing India and China.

Let us never fool ourselves. If Red China can deliver a better life for the vast masses of China than democratic India can deliver to the vast masses of India then all the Arab and African lands will tend to follow in Red China's footsteps, and not in those of free India.

Japanese Start Scheduled Trips

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) - Japan Air Lines' first regularly scheduled flight from Tokyo arrived with 17 passengers at Oakland airport at 1:47 a.m. today. It stopped en route at Wake Island and Honolulu.

The inaugural westbound flight, scheduled to leave San Francisco International airport Friday, is due at Tokyo International airport Sunday.

THIS ODD-LOOKING wooden-wheeled granddaddy of the bicycle was invented by a German noble in 1816, and since it could be afforded only by people of wealth, it acquired the nickname of "dandy horse." The rider sat on a leather-padded saddle while walking. Here, Mark Rochon, dressed in 19th Century costume, demonstrates the carved antique which is on display at the Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Mich.

LETTERBOX

DISGUSTED WITH NBCP
Editor, Daily News:

Some people might think it foolish to change from one company to another, but as the saying goes "a change is as good as a rest." Well I'll take the change.

I've been a resident for the past 10 years, and every once in a while you run across things that make the ordinary working man mad, as we know that we are being "taken" or rather "hooked" for every day needs. I've had experience with the Northern B.C. Power Company again.

JOHN B. C. WATKINS, 51, has been appointed Canadian ambassador to Moscow. A native of Norval, Ont., he is expected to take office March 1 and will be the first to fill the post vacant since Dana Wilgrees was withdrawn in 1946 at the time of the Russian "spy trials" in Canada. Before his new appointment, Mr. Watkins was minister to Norway and Iceland. He joined the external affairs department in 1946.

CARLOS MARTINEZ Aparicio is Columbia's first diplomatic envoy to Canada. In 1950 and 1951 he was on Columbia's delegation to the United Nations. Since 1928 he has been owner of the daily newspaper La Prensa de Barranquilla, Columbia.

We get a bill through the mail, and if one takes the trouble to complain, the only answer you get is that "the meter is right, the bill has to be paid." (Of course, the meter is always right, and so we have to pay.)

What was the idea of new meters being installed outside the houses? So the meterman can read it anyway he likes? Even if they take it on an average, the company is always ahead and the householder is being "taken."

If one complains and suggests that you will take it to a lawyer, they tell you it won't do any good. Where can we turn for our rights? I could take up a petition and I'm sure that out of every dozen householders, I'd get 11 people who are fed up with Northern B.C. Power.

I've been disgusted with different things here in town and one may say, why stay here? But I am making a living here and I'm satisfied with wages, but why do I have to take my pay to the NBC Power?

Let's give another power company the chance. It can't get any worse.

FED UP

BETTER PROGRAMS NEEDED
The Editor,

I certainly am in agreement with "Disgusted" on his or her complaint with CFPR and the one comment I can offer is that he is lucky he can turn his radio off.

The comment in regard to "Figaro" brings an incident to my mind. It happened in a downtown barber shop and of course CFPR was the station tuned in on the radio. A cello recital was going on and for 10 solid minutes a "G" string was being plucked. I just about lost an ear, for each time that string was sprung like an elastic, the barber jumped, expecting it to break.

We all had a good laugh, and that's the only time I can honestly say I enjoyed the "better class" of music.

I, for another, am all in favor of either better programs or disperse with the station. After all, we, the taxpayers, are paying for our suffering.

CONFUCIOUS.

OTTAWA DIARY

According to the statistics maintained by the Income Tax branch of the National Revenue Department, the MP's will have done a very thorough job for themselves when they raise their own pay to $10,000 per year.

At least it will be thorough in the sense that they will have boosted themselves to the very top of the various income categories which the Income Tax branch lists. Lawyers, engineers, doctors, and other professional categories will be trailing them by varying margins.

Here is how it works out: Since $2,000 of the proposed indemnity will remain tax-free, its minimum value as compared to a taxable $2,000 in a $10,000 income bracket will be $2,600. That means that the minimum value of the new indemnity, for purposes of comparison with taxable income, will be $10,600.

The highest income group which the Income Tax branch lists consists of lawyers. Their average annual take is given as $10,214—$388 less than the Parliamentarians will be receiving.

Doctors occupy second place in the Income Tax branch's rating with annual average take-home pay of $9,975. Architects and engineers are right on their heels in third place, with annual average incomes of $9,628.

But at this point all resemblance to the prosperity of the MPs ceases. Category Number Four, consisting of dentists, draws only $6,287 annually. Right down at the foot of the list comes those working in agricultural enterprises. Their cash take over the year averages a lowly $1,607.

An important factor in any comparison of the parliamentary indemnity with the financial rewards of other occupations is that the MP doesn't receive the whole of his compensation in his pay envelope. In addition, there is the pension benefit for which he qualifies by attendance at just 12 sessions of Parliament.

That is a really substantial item. Ostensibly, the MP provides one-half the fund out of which the pension is paid by annual contributions, which the government matches. The catch here is that if any MP fails to qualify by political defeat or retirement, he gets his contributions refunded. But the contributions which the government has made to the fund on his behalf are not refunded to the treasury.

The total contributions which an MP makes for maximum pension benefit ($300 monthly for life) is $4,380. The price of a similar contract with an insurance company for a private buyer has been given as $50,000.

NEW PROOF THAT MILLIONS CAN E THE NEED FOR LAXATIVE

—find relief from constipation this safe, natural way—without the injurious effects of repeated laxative use.

With all the progress of medical science over the past 30 years, authorities say there is no longer any reason why irregularity should be our inescapable lot. The common-sense correction is to be found not in the drug store but in your food store.

Long-continued study of the problem has shown that one of the most common causes of irregularity is lack of bulk in the diet. And when this is the case, the common-sense correction is to be found not in the drug store but in your food store.

IT HAS LONG BEEN A MEDICALLY RECOGNIZED FACT THAT NATURE HAS PROVIDED, IN THE NATURAL FOODS MEN WERE INTENDED TO EAT, ALL THE ELEMENTS NECESSARY FOR THE LIFE-LONG AVOIDANCE OF COMMON CONSTIPATION.

One of these elements is natural fibrous bulk, or vegetable cellulose, which normally and naturally aids the rhythmic process of elimination.

In no natural food is this natural bulk so ideally found as in the outer layers, or bran, of the whole wheat kernel which, as you know, is lost in modern milling.

Because of the known value of bran in promoting regularity the Kellogg Company has produced a complete, whole bran—with nothing taken away to lessen its effectiveness—sold under the name of Kellogg's All-Bran, the natural laxative cereal.

How effective is All-Bran? This has been demonstrated in a scientific clinical study in leading medical journals.

If you think you must take preparation occasionally, do it wisely. Avoid the chemical or drug-type laxative. But for natural relief put your trust in Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast and dinner.

This All-Bran plan has been found to re-establish and to maintain full regularity. Why not yours?

Guide, Brownie Activities of Past Year Outlined at Association Annual Meeting

Election of officers, reports on highlights of the past year's activities and plans for forthcoming projects highlighted last night's annual meeting of the Prince Rupert Local Girl Guide Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon MacKenzie

Nuptials at United Church Unite Two Rupert Families

Two Prince Rupert families were united in the wedding rites at First United church here at which Mae Ida Newton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alec Newton, 1445 Piggott Place, became the bride of Gordon Stephen MacKenzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray MacKenzie, 330 Third Avenue West.

The Rev. L. G. Sieber officiated at the double-ring ceremony for which the church was gaily decked with tulips, iris, carnations and heather.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a gown of chantilly lace over satin with nylon net skirt trimmed with sequin flowers and sequin trimmed jacket. A sparkling white tiara secured her lace-trimmed veil and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations with sprigs of heather.

Bridesmaid was Miss Betty

Portugal Plans Naval Program

LISBON (Reuters)—Portugal's growing ship-building industry this year, for the first time in history, will begin building naval vessels for a foreign power, the United States.

Under the terms of an "off shore" procurement system contract, Portuguese shipyards will build three coastal escort vessels in iron and two anti-magnetic minesweepers in wood. The total cost will be 250,000,000 escudos (about $8,750,000).

On the same day the contract was signed, the keel was laid for the biggest ship ever built in Portugal, the 16,800-ton tanker Tref, being built at a cost of $3,500,000 for a Portuguese company.

Portugal's merchant marine at the end of 1953 consisted of 111 ships, totalling 575,098 tons, compared with a tonnage of 150,389 tons in 1945 and 265,320 tons in 1939.

Procter; music and drama festival representative, Mrs. B. E. Eyoilson; Canadian Citizenship Council representative, Mrs. J. F. Denning; Civic Centre representative, Mrs. R. H. Yamada; museum representative, Mrs. D. F. Baldwin.

It was reported that the Prince Rupert District Guide movement has been incorporated into a new division in the province, which covers remote areas throughout the province, with a divisional commissioner in Vancouver.

Plans for Thinking Week activities, February 21 to 23, were discussed, including Girl Guide displays in several store windows and church parades February 21 with girls parading to various churches in the city.

Founder's Day, which falls on February 22, will be marked February 26 with a joint Guide and Brownie session in King Edward school at which Brownies will present songs and dances and Guides a pageant, followed by a campfire session. All Brownie packs and Guide companies will hold open house at respective meetings that week.

It also was reported that the Miller Bay Brownie pack is functioning again. Young girls, patients at the hospital, are under taking Brownie work, despite being confined to bed. The association approved a grant of funds for equipment to promote the Miller Bay work.

In her annual report, Commissioner Silversides noted that three Guide companies and six Brownie Packs are now functioning with 76 Guides, 134 Brownies and 25 leaders participating.

Reports from the various companies and packs showed the highlight of the past year to have been the Coronation in which the girls undertook such projects as cleaning the museum, making up baskets of candies and toys for Miller Bay patients, clearing church grounds, cleaning a school hall and grounds and other special good deeds, to earn the Coronation badge.

The first Guide camp at Lake-else lake had been a highnote of the year for girls from the various companies. Other Guide and Brownie projects in the past year included donations to flood relief, teas, supplying of Christmas gifts to Miller Bay, a Brownie project of repairing toys for distribution to needy youngsters at Naas River for Christmas, mother-and-daughter parties and other projects.

The first Guide Company reported preparations well underway for an International Dinner February 13.

Plans are also underway to organize a Ranger group.

The navy drill hall was scene of the reception, for which their parents assisted the bridal couple in receiving. Mrs. Newton wearing a frock of grey corded taffeta with red accessories and white carnations in corsage. Mrs. MacKenzie wore navy corded crepe with blue accessories and red carnations in corsage.

A three-tier wedding cake centred the lace-covered bride's table which also held white tapers in silver holders and sprays of pink and white carnations in silver bowls, with white streamers.

For her wedding trip to Ketchikan, Alaska, the bride donned a tailored suit of blue gabardine with navy accessories and corsage of roses and carnations.

The pair, who will reside at 1433 First Overlook, both were schooled in Prince Rupert. The groom is employed by the department of transport on the boat Alexander MacKenzie and the bride by Columbia Cellulose.

BRUCE BROWN
... honored by club

George Mitchell New President Of Rupert Club

George Mitchell, well known construction firm owner here, is the new president of the Prince Rupert Club. He was elected at the annual meeting this week to succeed W. F. (Bill) Stone.

Art Nickerson was named vice-president and Bob Rutherford was elected secretary-treasurer to succeed A. Bruce Brown, Liberal MLA for Rupert, who resigned because of pressure of business.

Mr. Brown, who had been secretary-treasurer for the past 114 years, was presented with a wrist watch by Bill Stone on behalf of the membership. Mr. Brown leaves next week for Victoria to attend opening sessions of the B.C. Legislature.

Members of the Rupert Club elected for 1954 were: W. D. Lambie, A. D. Vance, W. J. Scott, Edward Garner, John Taylor, Robert McKay, Jr. and W. F. Stone.

Turncoat U.S. Soldiers Attend New Year's Party

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Twenty-one Americans who spurned their homeland for communism attended a Chinese New Year's party Wednesday night at Kaw-sung.

Communist correspondent Fred Burchett said a number of Korean and Chinese girls attended the party, and there was plenty of Chinese wine.

"I think they will be leaving soon" for Red China, Burchett said.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Webber Mark Silver Wedding Date

Another Prince Rupert couple, who were married in this city 25 years ago, marked their silver wedding anniversary at a surprise celebration Tuesday night.

They are Mr. and Mrs. R. C. (Reg) Webber, 147 Fifth Avenue West, both of whom had lived here for some time prior to their marriage in 1929.

About 40 friends surprised them at their home with an anniversary party, highlighted by presentation of a gift of silver flatware for eight. The bride's brother, Mr. Barney Wick, made the presentation on behalf of the guests. Mrs. Webber also received a corsage of red roses, and a toast to the couple was made by Mr. Peter Lien with the groom responding. Several congratulatory telegrams also were read.

A buffet supper was served, featuring a beautifully decorated anniversary cake, set on a lace-covered bride's table flanked by white tapers in silver holders and sprays of pink and white carnations.

Both honorees have been interested in community activities during their long residence here. Mrs. Webber is a member of the Sonja Ladies and of the Canadian Club. Mr. Webber is active in the Masonic order.

Guests at the celebration included their daughter, Mrs. Edure and the arts.

Teachers Again Seek Separate Salary Schedule

TORONTO (CP)—Representatives of Toronto high school teachers early today decided to put their battle for a separate salary schedule back into the hands of the executive of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation.

The city's high school teachers have threatened to resign in May if they are not granted the right to bargain on salaries independently of public school teachers. A single salary schedule, which gives equal pay to high school and public school teachers for equal training and experience, now is in effect.

Rastovorov Revealed as Leading Red Spy

By JOHN RANDOLPH

TOKYO (AP) — Lt.-Col. Yuri A. Rastovorov revealed today as Russia's chief Red spy in Japan and a youthful protege of Lavrenti Beria, executed chief of the Soviet secret police.

Rastovorov, who was kidnapped by the Japanese in 1941, was revealed today as a leading spy in Japan.

It was a revelation that was not made until today, when the source said, "I was kidnapped by the Japanese in 1941, and I was a spy for the Soviet Union."

Once a personal courier for Beria, Rastovorov apparently was headed for a brilliant future in the secret service. But, the source said, a growing admiration and "weakness" for Americans, probably Beria's execution, and finally direct orders to return to Moscow sparked his decision to change sides.

His conversion, long and deliberately sought by U.S. Army operatives, is called by observers here the most brilliant piece of U.S. intelligence work publicized since the start of the cold war, and a blow at Soviet espionage in a key Far Eastern area.

SAID GREAT VICTORY "Intelligence work is subterranean war," the source said. "This is a great victory that may be decisive in Japan. It is the intelligence equivalent of a Midway or Normandy."

Rastovorov, reported Wednesday to be co-operating with U.S. agents on Okinawa, was described as a dashing, handsome Soviet spy who moved easily in Tokyo social circles and who cultivated Americans.

"He even ate and drank at American Army officers' clubs," the source said. Some of his hosts did not know whom they entertained. Some knew all too well.

It also was revealed that at the time of Beria's execution, announced in Moscow Dec. 23, Rastovorov got in touch with U.S. agents who shadowed him continually and sounded them out on changing sides.

ORDERED HOME Much as the army wanted him, it moved cautiously until Rastovorov, apparently in panic at personally delivered orders to go home, called the agents on the telephone and asked them to protect him as a political refugee.

The unit then had no choice but to grant his request for a flight to freedom, the source said.

The news apparently came as a shock to the defunct Russian mission of about 35 men still in Tokyo. Last week they filed an angry protest that Rastovorov was a spy.

THE THING for walking on dark streets are black and white leather shoes with tiny light bulbs in the soles furnish power to keep made-to-measure light-footed. Design: C. Coore, the novel was exhibited at a fashion show in Paris.

Paper Supports Conservatives' Deal to Frame New Trade Agreement

(CP) — Two London papers today took up the issue of whether Britain should trade barriers or put them in their place.

The News Chronicle, Liberal, and the Conservative government action in framing a trade agreement with Japan.

Conservative policies, generally in opposition to the government, and the Express, a "new trade structure" based on the Commonwealth preference.

The two papers cross on an issue which has a division of opinion in the Conservative party itself.

idea of a Liberal leader's efforts to liberate the "frankly funny" News Chronicle. "over the Jan."

SMOKE BILLOWS up as firemen clamber over mounds of tires in a west Toronto rubber plant where fire caused damage estimated at more than $500,000. Nearly 100,000 tires were lost in the blaze at National Rubber Company plant. Damage to machinery and buildings was $250,000. Smoke could be seen from all parts of the city and the fire smouldered for hours.

Alcoa May Spend Own Money

VANCOUVER, Wash. (CP) — Aluminum Company of America is considering spending its own money to build power dams in the Northwest.

There already have been "informal conversations" about Alcoa's helping to provide more power, C. S. Thayer, the firm's Northwest manager, said Wednesday.

Alcoa would work either with private companies or public utility districts, he said. He said that there have been tentative talks with private utilities.

Alcoa, he said, is "quite concerned" over its inability to get long-term firm power arrangements for its Vancouver and Vancor plants.

Aluminum plants now get much of their power on an interruptible basis. That means it's cut off in periods of short supply, such as when rivers are low.

Bill Increasing MP's Yearly Pay Awaits Only Third, Final Reading

OTTAWA (CP) — A pay boost for parliamentarians to $10,000 from $6,000 a year virtually is assured.

In a Commons debate this week members approved government legislation proposing a $4,000 increase in indemnities for MPs and senators.

This, however, did not come about until after:

1. The CCF party split on the principle of raising pay. Seven were in favor and 15, along with 30 Progressive Conservative members, were opposed.

2. CCF proposals, first to reduce the proposed increase by half and then to eliminate the 102-member Senate from any pay increase, were defeated.

3. A Social Credit amendment, suggesting members be given choice of taking part or all of the increase, was defeated.

4. The government adopted opposition suggestions to increase penalties for absenteeism.

The bill, given second reading, approval in principle, and clause-by-clause approval, now awaits third and final reading before it is sent to the Senate.

CCF SPLIT The CCF split came on the motion for second reading, which was carried by a vote of 155 to 45.

The 30 PCs voting against the motion followed the lead set by opposition leader George Drew, who criticized the government's method in presenting the bill. Nineteen PCs were absent.

He said there had been no justification for any of the suggested increases and urged a preliminary study by a royal commission or special committee.

Prime Minister St. Laurent had announced that Liberal members could vote as each saw fit, but all 132 Liberals present voted for the bill. There were 39 absent.

Thirteen Social Credit members, all but two, who were absent, voted with the government, as did the three Independent members Raoul Poulin (Beauce), Paul Gagnon (Chicoutimi) and Fernand Giar (Lapointe).

There was one more vote on a clause covering additional salary increases for holders of three parliamentary positions, including opposition leader Drew.

Progressive Conservative and CCF members voted against it, but were out-voted by Liberal and Social Credit members and the increases were approved by a vote of 93 to 32.

The increases: Commons opposition leader to $15,000 from $10,000; government leader in the Senate to $10,000 from $7,000; Opposition leader in the Senate to $6,000 from $4,000.

The present government leader in the Senate, Hon. Ross Macdonald, will be paid as solicitor-general.

3 BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Many Games Are Won With Opponent's Help

Many a good play by declarer is successful because of the co-operation of one of the defenders.
That is to take nothing away from declarer but the fact remains that without the help of the enemy, a great number of attempted end-plays, squeezes, etc.
would fail.

You can often take some action that will prevent your partner from being placed in an impossible situation. Mr.
Abel overlooked an opportunity to do this in today's deal.

He chose the 8 of diamonds for his opening lead and Mr.
Champion won with the ace and returned the suit. Miss Brash won the second trick and after some thought elected to play as follows.

She cashed the ace and king of clubs and ruffed dummy's last club in her hand. Then she led a low spade. Mr. Abel ducked and dummy's jack won.
A spade was returned and Mr.
Abel had to win with the ace.

A club or a diamond return at this point would lose a trick as Miss Brash could ruff in dummy while discarding a heart from her hand. So Mr.
Abel led the seven of hearts.
Dummy ducked and Mr. Champion won with the ten of his side's third trick.

But now he was in a hopeless position. As before, a minor suit return would give Miss Brash a sluff and a ruff while a heart return would go into dummy's ace-queen.

"Win the first spade and lead a heart," said Mr. Champion. "Then if she ducks the heart, I'll win, but I'll have a safe return in my last trump.
Later I'll win another heart for the setting trick. You co-operated beautifully with Miss Brash in stripping the hand."

"I was afraid you might have the lone king of trumps," Mr.
Abel explained.

U.S. Paid Tremendous Price For Accidents During 1953

CHICAGO (AP)—This is the tremendous price the United States paid for accidents in 1953: Killed, 55,000; injured, 9,300,000. The cost: $9,100,000,000.

The bill was added up today by the National Safety Council which noted that the 1953 accident death toll was 1,000 below the 1952 total. But it also noted that it was more than three times as great as the toll of U.S. dead during the entire Korean war.

The motor vehicle held its place as the No. 1 accident killer. Traffic deaths numbered 38,300. That was a gain of one per cent over 1952.

The traffic total was the third largest in history, exceeded only in 1937 and 1941.

Fatalities in home accidents numbered 28,000, a decline of 1,000. Accidental deaths at work were unchanged at 15,000.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, stated that "no civilized nation can long endure this tragic and disgraceful waste of manpower and resources from accidents that are avoidable."

But there were some relatively bright spots in the otherwise grim array of statistics.

DEATH RATE LOWER

The 1953 death rate for accidents of all types was 60 per 100,000 population, lowest on record. Nevertheless, one out of every 16 Americans suffered a disabling injury last year.

The 38,300 traffic deaths were recorded during a year when the number of vehicles on the road and the number of miles they travelled reached an all-time high. Thus the death rate per 100,000,000 vehicle-miles was estimated at seven—lowest rate on record.

Traffic accidents resulted in about 1,350,000 non-fatal injuries. Falls brought death to 20,200 persons, one per cent fewer than in 1952. Burns cost 6,400 lives, a four-per-cent decrease. Firearm fatalities rose four per cent to 2,450. Drownings were unchanged at 6,800.

The estimated economic loss of $9,100,000,000 covers both fatal and non-fatal accidents. It includes wage losses, medical expenses, insurance costs, production delays and damage to equipment and property.

A PRIVATE ENTRANCE and hot and cold running water are selling points of this new-type bathtub. Mr. Per Bergman of Stockholm, Sweden, its inventor, explains that the door is especially designed for the halt and the lame.

MacMillan Profit Up

VANCOUVER (CP)—Net profit of $2,691,300 was reported by MacMillan and Bloedel Ltd. for the quarter ended Dec. 31, 1953, almost identical with the figure for the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

In the final quarter of 1952, net profit was $2,682,620. Net earnings per share of $.51 was the same for both quarters.

Net sales and operating revenues in the final quarter of 1953 was $30,750,888, compared with $29,639,157 in the corresponding quarter of 1952.

Last quarter 1953 was the first whole quarter during which the second unit of the Harmac pulp mill was in operation. Higher profits resulted from this source but these were offset by lower profits in other departments of the company, management reported.

All Opposition Parties Expected To Oppose Postal Rate Increase

OTTAWA (CP)—A government proposal to increase first-class postal rates is expected to meet opposition.

The legislation giving effect to the one-cent-an-ounce increase starting April 1, comes up for debate today in the Commons. Progressive Conservative, CCF and Social Credit parties voted against the increases last month when they were outlined in a resolution preliminary to the bill.

The bill would increase the letter rate on the first ounce to five cents from four on mailings between postal districts and to four cents from three on mailings within a postal district. The rate on additional ounces also would be increased one cent an ounce.

The government also plans to eliminate the seven-cent air-mail rate within Canada and proposes to carry all first-class mail by air wherever facilities are available.

Wednesday the Commons spent most of its half-day mid-week sitting debating a government motion to eliminate private members' business on Wednesday—starting Wednesday. After protests from all three opposition parties, the motion was withdrawn by Citizenship Minister Harris, government House leader.

He said, however, that the government will introduce the motion again later, asking that government business be given precedence over private members' business on and after Wednesday, Feb. 17.

This would leave only one hour on Tuesdays and Fridays for private members. Private members' Mondays previously were eliminated.

Telephone Campaign Under Way

HULL, England (Reuters)—The campaign has started here for a vacant House of Commons seat, and the heat is on—over the telephone.

Tonight, and every night until Feb. 11, you just dial Hull 21835, and you get a 60-second heart-to-heart talk from each of the candidates.

If you happen to dial into the beginning of Conservative candidate Patrick Wall's recording, you'll hear this:

"Yes? Patrick Wall speaking. Oh, it's you. I'm glad you phoned because it means you're interested in the by-election."

After Wall has told you what he stands for politically he says, "Hang on a minute, my wife wants a word with you." Then his attractive wife, Sheila, 28, comes to the phone with a plug for her husband.

Wednesday night a reporter dialled 21835 and the first thing he heard was Labor candidate Charles Bridges shouting, "Get out." Bridges hadn't meant to be rude. He was merely saying that the election gave the voter a chance to tell the Conservative government to change its class policy—"o. get out."

The telephoning campaign service is carried from 8:15 to 11 p.m. every night except Sunday over Hull's phone system—the only privately-owned one in the country.

The phone election campaign service is donated by the Hull phone company.

At the last parliamentary election in this area Bridges was defeated by Conservative candidate R. K. Law by 7,583 votes. Law became a baron in the New Year's honor list and therefore had to give up his Commons seat. Polling is Feb. 11.

The government Wednesday Prime Minister St. Laurent to had planned to have the House raise the salaries of cabinet consider a bill sponsored by ministers.
