Alaska Statehood Killed by Senate

WASHINGTON, D.C. (Canadian Press)—The Senate today sent the Alaska statehood bill back to committee Wednesday by a margin of a single vote—falling in all probability, any action at this session of Congress to make Alaska the forty-ninth state.

A vote-up of 25 Democrats, mostly southerners, and 15 Republicans voted for pigeon-holing the measure. The roll call vote was 55 to 44.

Secretary Sought

With Sir Oliver Franks, British ambassador to Ottawa, having turned down the post, task of Secretary-General for the Atlantic Treaty Organization falls to the NATO members who are being called to a session by Hon. Lester Pearson, Canada's minister of external affairs.

It seemed that Mr. Franks, who was the favorite for the post, had not wanted it. Prime Minister St. Laurent wants a Canadian in the Canadian post and he has agreed to the executive job for the post.

Sh Costs Mills

Shingle Mills—Some British Columbia shingle mills have had production as low as 10 per cent of normal because of high market prices and rising costs.

The industry is expected to output last year, in capacity, was the lowest in the beginning of the 1950's.

The mills are operating at below last year's output that one-third of the mills are being laid off.

Michael, manager of the Red Cedar Shingle Mill, said Wednesday that the mill is unable to recover present wage rates and prices.

Air Lift to Aiyansh Busy

Ten days of activity in transporting 5000 pounds of food supplies, including 300 pounds of bologna, to the Naas River native village of Aiyansh, culminated yesterday when Pilot Boo Kelsey made three trips with his Queen Charlotte Air Lines Norseman. Going in he carried full loads of provisions and coming out he brought 17 native workers destined for Port, Edward and Sunnyside canneries.

Also going in yesterday was Indian Superintendent F. E. Anfield, who went to Aiyansh to conduct election of the village commissioners. Dr. Lazerchuk, Department of Indian Affairs physician, also went in.

Flights to Aiyansh take about an hour each way.

Throughout the winter, the native people of Aiyansh have kept the river open in front of the village so that aircraft might land.

Tax Agreement Before House

VICTORIA—Premier Byron I. Johnson introduced in the Legislature yesterday the bill providing for the new taxation agreement between British Columbia and Ottawa. Under the agreement, originally negotiated by former Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb and concluded by Premier Johnson himself, the province will receive $41,200,000 per year as compared with the former $31,500,000. There is an escape clause.

The bill would give British Columbia an additional $10,000,000 a year for five years in its tax rental agreement with the federal government.

The old five-year agreement expires March 31. Under it the provincial government received the $31,500,000 a year from the federal government for leasing its income, corporation and inheritance tax fields to Ottawa.

The new agreement will run until 1957.

The bill was given first reading and there was no discussion on it.

No Shortage of Meat Seen Here

VICTORIA — Government authorities and Vancouver packing houses do not expect any serious shortage of meat in the near future in spite of the embargo following the outbreak of foot and mouth disease in Saskatchewan. Should restrictions on shipments from the prairies last more than a month, meat supplies would have to be imported from the United States.

Although meat will be available to British Columbia consumers, prices may be higher.

"I feel that boundaries will be set on the diseased area long before we have to worry and that beef will once more be available from outside the province," Dr. Wallace R. Gunn, livestock commission, said Wednesday.

The barrier against eastern beef, set up on the British Columbia-Alberta border, will likely be "very temporary" unless the disease breaks away, Dr. Gunn said.

The commissioner added that British Columbia cattlemen will be able to provide some meat at this time by slaughtering dry cows and other stock not suitable for breeding. It will also be available from the United States.

Packinghouse officials feel there will be meat if "consumers are prepared to pay for it."

The accident occurred at the south end of the sprawling concrete multi-million dollar building.

Labor Seeks Two Dollars

Would Be New Basic Rate If Local's Agreement Accepted

Prince Rupert laborers are asking for a new basic wage rate of $2 an hour for common labor, an increase of 60 cents from the present $1.40.

Hod Carriers' and General Laborers' local union Wednesday night, at a general meeting, drew up a new agreement to this effect for presentation to employers.

The local union has been re-organized with A. F. Robertson, former city high school teacher, as president protem and committee consisting of T. Bell, J. Mah and G. Gilbert.

There were 27 new initiations at last night's meeting which was attended by 35 members.

Discussion at the meeting had principally to do with the wage agreement and improvements in working conditions.

All Escape in Crash of Plane

SYDNEY, N.S. — Eighteen United States airmen parachuted to safety in a blinding blizzard today as a big transport plane hurtled harmlessly into a wood at the edge of this city of 30,000.

The men, seventeen without previous jumping experience, took to the parachutes after twenty fruitless attempts to land at a nearby reserve airport, abandoning the C47 with fuel for only three minutes remaining.

None were seriously hurt.

Legion Asks Immigrants

Asks Government to Bring Maximum of Easily Assimilable People

VICTORIA (CP) — British Columbia command of the Canadian Legion Wednesday urged the provincial cabinet to adopt a policy of immigration designed to bring a maximum number of immigrants from Britain and from European countries "whose people could be easily assimilated into our Canadian way of life."

A Legion committee, headed by the provincial president, D. S. McTavish, presented a brief to the cabinet.

The committee said that Ontario and Quebec have instituted a system of assisted passages for desirable immigrants and urged British Columbia to do the same.

Dealing with hospital insurance, the committee asked that dependents of service men now serving outside Canada be exempt from paying premiums.

Saskatchewan Gets Budget

REGINA—Provincial Treasurer Fines introduced a budget of $66,000,000 to the Saskatchewan Legislature yesterday. Expenditures are up $8,000,000. A surplus of $30,000,000 is estimated. There are no new taxes and no increases in taxes.

City Workers Seeking More

To receive recommendations from the wage committee following negotiations with Firefighters, Electrical Workers and Civic Employees' (outside and inside) unions, a special meeting of city council is to be called for Friday.

All four unions are asking a 25 per cent general wage increase, based on a 20-point increase in the cost-of-living index over a year, from 171 to 191.

It is expected that city council will make only one offer to the unions. If not accepted, negotiations cease as application must then be made for conciliation.

Alberta Protests

Appeals to Ottawa Against B.C. Embargo

EDMONTON — The Alberta government has protested to Ottawa and Victoria at British Columbia's imposition of the ban on Alberta cattle.

The Minister of Agriculture, Hon. David Ure, telephoned the provincial protest to Ottawa.

He questioned the right of British Columbia to interfere with interprovincial trade, and was informed Ottawa felt the same way and believed British Columbia's "embargo action to be ill-advised."

At the same time, O. S. Longman, deputy minister, telephoned a protest to the British Columbia Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Alberta takes the stand that, if an embargo were necessary, the Federal branch of the department would have already taken action, concerning the health of the animals, in the event of such being necessary.

"All that B.C. is doing is adding to the confusion," said Mr. Ure.

Soft Ice Halts Telkwa Hockey

TELKWA — Telkwa Pee-Wees and Smithers Pee-Wees played what may be their last game of hockey on slushy ice. The game was called off due to the difficulty in skating with the score 3-1 in favor of the Telkwa boys.

During the last period, when the Smithers players stormed the goal in an effort to score, a close shot was stopped as stout hearted Larry Johnston, goalie of Telkwa, held one between his knees. He was down on all fours when a stick was seen to fly up, striking 11-year-old Larry in the mouth. The whistle blew almost simultaneously but not before two little white teeth lay scattered on the ice.

Just how the accident happened has not been determined. Larry was taken into Smithers for medical attention where it was found the two teeth were broken off at the base and another may have to be removed. This is the first mishap of a serious nature to occur since hockey started this season and it is regrettable that such an unfortunate accident climaxed a real season of good hockey for the youngsters.

Retail Price Wars Still on In U.S., Press Survey Shows

By WALTER BREEDE, JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—Are retail price wars flaring up again in the United States? "Yes," many independent merchants report. "Cut-throat price cutting threatens to drive us out of business."

"Nonsense," scoff other retail experts. "Current pricing policies are following the usual February pattern."

An Associated Press survey of retail price competition in 24 U.S. cities gives this general picture of conditions six months after the bitter price battles of last summer:

Price wars still are going on in several major retail centres. But they're being fought in a different way. It's an unofficial undercover style of warfare, concealed from the buying public but no less real and deadly than the noisy fracas of six months ago.

Why the continued price wars? Small retailers unanimously pin the blame of the U.S. Supreme Court's decision last spring which pulled the props from fair trade laws in 45 states. The court's action paved the way for price cutting of nationally-advertised brands.

Faced with heavy inventories and lagging consumer demand, many stores are reported still using marked-down branded merchandise as "bait" to attract store traffic. That's the complaint from the small independent merchants. Big stores defend the policy as one which results in lower prices to the consumer.

NEW GIMMICKS
But even where price competition is violent, as in New York, you no longer find it proclaimed in fat black type in newspaper advertisements. Instead, merchants are resorting to the "unadvertised special," with reductions on branded products that may range from 10 to 50 per cent below the manufacturer's list price. The price is lowered from day to day, quietly and without fanfare. How much it is lowered generally depends on what the

2000 Japs Now Back on Coast

VANCOUVER — More than 2000 Japanese have returned to Vancouver since the lifting of the wartime ban that prohibited them from living on the coast.

The estimate was made by a spokesman for the local branch of the Japanese-Canadian Citizens' Association, who said Vancouver Japanese have been moving into the city in a steady flow, setting themselves up largely in small retail businesses.

He said Japanese fishermen have also returned in large numbers to B.C. coastal villages.

Local executive of the association was elected recently by a meeting of more than 200.

New president is Seiji Homma. Other executive posts are held by Dr. Saita, first vice-president; Kinichi Iwata, second vice-president; Mickey Nakashima, general executive secretary; Tamiko Nakamura, recording secretary, and Setsu Takemoto and G. Nakamura, co-treasurers.

Telkwa Carnival Success

Fine Program At
Highly Entertaining Affair

TELKWA — Telkwa's first ice carnival proved a financial success as well as providing a good time for all who shared in the fun. Gross receipts amounted to some $900.

The frosty temperature didn't dampen the enthusiasm of the spectators or the merry-makers on the ice, some of them lightly clad, including bunny rabbits, cloths, Fanda bears, cowboys and Barbara Ann Scotts.

Winners in the various children's groups were Jill and Ann McMackin, Paul and Garry Morris, Patty-Ann Mahood, Sharon Thorton, Beverly Dockrill, Vera Hill, Sally Shepherd, Michael Maddigan.

The family group costume prize went to the Langevin family. Adults winning prizes were Miss Margaret Gregerson as a Chinese coolie and Mrs. Les Donaldson for the most original costume.

Larry Johnston was winner of the half mile race and Roy Arnold of Smithers won the men's mile race.

The broom ball session was the highlight of the evening when the women and the men battled it out 1-0 in favor of the ladies who took some rough handling, through reefing and body checking.

Mrs. Art Bates went into the boards, landing on her knees and was helped off the ice, necessitating medical aid later.

The events lined up for the night's program was equally entertaining. The hall was filled to overflowing.

The floor show started at 11 p.m. The Rainbow Revue, under the direction of Miss Yeatman, primary teacher, brought three curtain calls. Their colorful costumes in ballet style made an attractive scene.

Clinic To Open Soon

Dental Service to Start in April—P-TA Interested in Fine Arts

Prince Rupert's first preventative dental clinic is scheduled to begin operating in April, according to a report made by J. S. Wilson to the monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teacher Council. The clinic will start by caring for the teeth of Grade One and pre-school children.

The B. C. Parent-Teacher Federation has requested that all city P-TA's survey the situation here to see how art, culture and the fine arts can be fostered in this area, in compliance with the recent findings of the Massey Commission on Arts and Sciences.

CYCLING SAFETY

Because many young city cyclists have no reflectors at the rear of their bicycles and, because there is known to be in existence a tape-like reflecting material obtainable only through an interested public body, the PT Council's safety representative was asked to make appropriate inquiries with a view to obtaining some of this material.

The B. C. Parent-Teacher Federation wrote the council requesting that a report be sent outlining its activities for the past year. The required report will be sent, members decided, featuring the opening of the dental clinic, the visit of Mrs. E. Evans, president of the Federation, and several recent moves to promote safety.

PT Council members unanimously decided to make a donation to the Civic Centre for many services rendered. President R. G. Moore was in the chair.

RETAIL PRICE WAR

competitor across the street is doing. Then there are the fat trade-in allowances paid by some dealers. And the dealers who later give the customer back the old range or refrigerator he traded in.

In many cities discount houses do a thriving business in nationally-advertised refrigerators, rugs, toasters and television sets at substantial reductions from manufacturers' list prices.

A top merchandising executive of one of New York's biggest department stores confirms that unofficial competitive price-cutting is in full swing, particularly in the Herald Square area where Macy's and Gimbels slugged it out last summer. But the New York merchandising moguls—remembering what happened in the summer—would prefer to avoid another open war, he says.

Featured in New York's "unofficial" price war at present are small electrical appliances, long-playing phonograph records, sewing machines, cosmetics, drugs and books.

Items like refrigerators and television sets are being sold at substantial discounts in hastily-rented lofts and warehouses by dealers who have sprung up overnight.

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS

MONTREAL, Feb. 28th — Many a bride has won her man during leap year. And no doubt this year will be no exception. But the surest way to keep your man, leap year or any year, is to cook and bake specially for him. And you know any young — or not so young — bride can make her reputation as a "cook extraordinaire" if she bakes delicious cakes for her husband. Such cakes as are made with SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR. You want them to be delicate — and as deliciously moist and tender as a husband's favourite cakes should be. Well, there's no trouble at all in pleasing the good man when you have Swans Down Cake Flour — Swans Down is specially milled for better cakes. It is sifted and rested 27 times as fine as ordinary flour. Treat the man — and the family — in your life to a Swans Down cake... soon.

Here's How — To Happy Travelling! Whether you are taking an off-season vacation or returning far from home for any other reason, your money will travel in real safety if you carry it in the form of Travellers Cheques. The BANK OF MONTREAL can supply you with Travellers Cheques that can be easily cashed at banks anywhere — and at many hotels and stores. And they're specially designed so as to be no good to anyone else... only you can use them! B of M Travellers Cheques come in convenient amounts of $10, $20, $50 and $100... and you can buy them for a trifling charge at your neighbourhood branch of "My Bank" — before you pack your bags — call on the B of M and put your money into Travellers Cheques... for a truly Bon Voyage!

4 Last! Here's a nylon shirt he'll be proud to wear... the new BVD NYLON SHIRT! It's made of nylon tricot... something brand new in shirting material, it's attractive and comfortable in all kinds of weather. And the fused collar and cuffs of these BVD shirts never wilt, they stay good-looking for the life of the shirt without ironing. In fact, you never iron this easy-to-care-for shirt... laundering is a breeze! You'll save the price of the shirt in laundry bills alone! What's more, a BVD Nylon Tricot Shirt will outwear an ordinary shirt several times over. At $12.95 the new BVD Nylon Tricot Shirt — blue, tan, grey or white — is a "bargain" he can't afford to miss!

There's No "Trick" to serving truly tempting Lenten meals... simply make sure you have a good supply of SUNKIST CALIFORNIA LEMONS! Tangy, fresh Sunkist lemon juice brings out the flavour of fish and makes it so much more delicious. Try this taste-tempting fish dish some evening soon... Jellied Salmon. To 2 cups of canned salmon add the juice of 1 Sunkist lemon, 1/2 tsp. salt, dash of red pepper, 1 or 2 sliced, hard-cooked eggs and 1/3 cup green peas. Mix lightly. Soak 1 tbsp. gelatin in 1/4 cup cold water and dissolve in 1/4 cup hot water. Fold into salmon mixture. Chill in large or small moulds and serve on lettuce. Serves 6.

"Most Used" of all my favourite recipes are the exciting dishes I can whip up in a jiffy with HEINZ CONDENSED SOUPS. Those are the soups made by soup specialists — so no wonder they "do" things for your meat loaves, pies and rarebits. Try this: CREAMED DRIED BEEF MUSHROOMS AND NOODLES. 4 oz. dried beef, shredded. 2 tablespoons butter or mild flavoured dripping. 2 tablespoons flour. 1 10-oz. can Heinz Condensed Chicken Noodle Soup, undiluted. 1 10-oz. can Heinz Condensed Cream of Mushroom Soup, undiluted. 1 cup milk. Toast triangles. Sauté beef in butter. Sprinkle flour over beef. Brown well. Add Chicken Noodle Soup and Mushroom Soup and heat thoroughly. Add milk and mix well. Serve hot over toast triangles or hot biscuits. Serves 6-8.

Ten-Thirty and the house is swept and a whistle-blow. Now you're ready for a chat with Mary over a good cup of coffee. Well, I'd like to suggest INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE. Takes just seconds to make (no longer than boiling the water!)... and it's delicious. That's because it's made by the folks who "know their coffee" — it's the only instant coffee backed by over 55 years of coffee experience. The flavour's there — and the real coffee hit. After a cheering cup of Instant Chase & Sanborn, you'll feel like a new woman. Another thing you'll like about this good instant coffee... it's economical. There's no waste. And it's as easy to make ten cups as one.

Your Busy Hands DESERVE The Best Of Care. So when they feel dry after using detergents (nice for your china, but not for your hands!)... just treat them to soothing, smoothing JERGENS LOTION. You see, because Jergens is liquid, it quickly supplies the softening moisture that dry, thirsty skin needs. Frankly, I don't know what I'd do without it! I keep a bottle of Jergens handy in both kitchen and bathroom and use it after every watery chore. Then, at day's end — my hands look as if they'd never done a "lick" of work! I know you'll like Jergens Lotion. Ask for it — just 15c, 37c, 65c and $1.15.

Have You Ever Noticed how things you learned at school suddenly come back to you? Marg said her washing always had a yellow tinge and then she remembered her chemistry teacher telling her that seven colours combine to make white, and one of them is blue. That's why there's no true white without blue. So of course, the answer to the problem of yellow-looking washings is Blue. Just wash it in the final rinsing and presto! — your sheets, shirts, table linens will fairly sparkle. What's more, Blue is kind to fine fabrics — won't harm them in the least! Costs just a few cents a month, too! Yes, for the whitest wash, it's RECKITT'S Blue.

Legion WA Card Party Enjoyable

Twelve tables of cribbage, whist and bridge were enjoyed last night at a card party by the Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion.

Prize-winners were: cribbage, Mrs. A. Norton and O. K. Olsen; whist, Mrs. A. J. Croxford and Mrs. W. Whiffin; bridge, Mrs. A. Curzon and Miss Martin.

Delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. C. Graham, Mrs. S. Downing, Mrs. William Rothwell and Mrs. R. S. Scherk comprised the committee in charge.

Walter Longwill, pioneer plumber of Prince Rupert, who left for the Old Country a few months ago, is reported to be enjoying the change and rest. Health had been far from good for a considerable time. He is now in hospital in London.

New Governor Now in Office

OTTAWA—Met by Prime Minister L. S. St. Laurent and other dignitaries and greeted by a 21-gun salute, Hon. Vincent Massey arrived by special train today from his home at Port Hope and was sworn in as Governor-General of Canada by Chief Justice Thibaudeau Rinfret. The swearing-in took place with due ceremony before 500 persons in the Senate chamber. Mr. Massey was accompanied by Prime Minister L. S. St. Laurent and Leader of the Senate, Wishart Robertson. Wearing the full regalia of office for the first time since Lord Tweedsmuir was here in 1927, Mr. Massey officiated at the opening of Parliament this afternoon, reading the Speech from the Throne.

Bulgers Beat Annunciation

Bulger's proved the strongest team of the game when they outscored Annunciation 32-25 in the Junior Basketball League Tuesday night.

Bulger's played one of their best games of the season but the Annunciation team played well too and held the stronger team at bay in the second and third quarters.

Bulger's worked hard for the lead they took back in the last quarter.

The Annunciation boys play hard but they were handicapped by their lack of height and size.

Russell McNeil was in fine form leading the scoring for Bulger's with eight points and Art Turcotte was Annunciation's strong man with nine. De Man of the Jeweller's team made five of a possible seven foul shots.

Maple Leafs Even Again With Montreal Canadiens

NEW YORK (CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs made their spring chances count Wednesday night to defeat New York Rangers 3 to 1 in a close-checking National League game before 10,063 fans at Madison Square Garden.

Quarter time scores were: 10-5, 17-12, 19-19, 32-25.

Referees Fred Caledroni and Danny McAfee handed out 23 fouls during the game, 15 of them being of Annunciation.

Bulger's—MacNeil 8, Smith 7, Sedgwick 5, Saville, Husvik 6, Newfield, Pillold 1, De Man 5. Total 32.

Annunciation—Desarmeauc 6, Prystay 2, Turcotte 9, Bury 4, Dumas, Smith, Letourneau 4. Total 25.

with Cal Gardner scoring what turned on a pass from Harry Watson.

Watson added an insurance goal with Gardner and Howie Meeker assisting at 9:51 of the third period.

Remember when?

John J. McGraw, one of baseball's most dynamic personalities, was buried at New York 18 years ago today. During 42 years in the game, including 30 as manager of the New York Giants, his teams won three world's series and 10 National League pennants.

Schools in 1952

IN MACLEAN'S Magazine for March 1, Dr. William E. Hume charges that "progressive" education is turning out high school graduates who are lazy, inefficient in work and lacking in knowledge.

He cites the obvious fact that a considerable percentage of high school graduates cannot spell—and that many would-be entrants to McGill University did not even know the name of Canada's Prime Minister. The veteran Canadian educationist blames all this on lack of old-fashioned drill.

"Who ever learned anything without drill?" he asks. "Hockey is learned by drill; a boy thinks nothing of practising skating and puck handling until he's good enough for the team. Singing is learned by drill... the old saw about education being 'the application of the seat of the pants to the chair' is as true today as it ever was."

IT SEEMS to me that the pendulum did swing somewhat too far to the free-and-easy side in education in the past few decades.

There are some things in this life that you just do have to learn the hard way—and unless you do learn them you are not only handicapping yourself for your whole future life; you are also holding back all the other folks in your own nation, for somebody will have to try to carry your share of the total load, or it won't be carried at all.

But in all fairness to the schools it should be recognized that they are being asked to take over more and more of the responsibility of training the rising generations.

Where is the family today which applies the tough discipline, or even steady routine, which was almost universal at the end of Queen Victoria's time? Will anybody in his right senses pretend that the churches and Sunday schools, as a whole, loom as large in the lives of the average Canadian family of 1951 as they did, say, in 1902?

PARENTS have abdicated a great deal of their responsibility. So have the churches. So now the whole tendency is to pile on to the school not only the old responsibilities but others which used to be discharged elsewhere.

Sex education is now a school teacher's job. So is Bible reading. Another extra burden that has been thrown on the school system is by industry. In the old days all sorts of crafts used to work on the apprenticeship system. A few still do. But more and more the schools have had to take over the task of giving the preliminary instruction that private business used to pay for, and give.

THE WEAKNESSES of the school system today seem to me to be mere by-products of CHEAP HOUSING—Built amid the rubble left by departed armies are these new Korean homes, typical of hundreds going up in the war-ravaged country. The barbed-wire entanglement running past the houses gives evidence of a former defence line. (CP from National Defence)

KOREA SURVEY

Homes Provided Under United Nations Scheme

[Editor's Note: Bill Boss, Canadian Press staff writer in Korea, has completed a two-week survey of conditions among the civilian population during the Korean winter. This article is the third of a series based on interviews with United Nations, Korean Republic and civilian sources.]

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SEOUL, Korea (CP)—Recipe for a two-family duplex house: Thirteen hundred board feet of two-by-four lumber; 12 to 14 pounds of nails; two or three bags of cement (unless the builder is a reactionary who prefers mud); add assorted rush lathing and mud plaster, work for 12 days.

It's a good house, too, says 56-year-old Lee Tok Chong who built one in a small settlement eight miles north of Seoul on the road to Uijongbu.

Lee is chief of the village, elected by the heads of its other 39 families because "he gets things done and knows how to run us."

There are 20 new duplexes like Lee's in the village, each unit housing a family and built by the occupants with materials supplied by the United Nations.

EVADED COMMUNISTS

The settlement of tenant-farmers was destroyed by Korean Communist troops retreating after the September, 1950, Inchon landings. Lee and his neighbors hid as the northerners pillaged and burned, then moved south with what little goods they could carry.

Last autumn the UN permitted some farmers to go back to their land in "restricted" areas and plant winter wheat.

"Restricted" areas extend to within four or five miles of the front, where a "prohibited" area begins.

As destitute citizens in essential employment, Lee and the others in his community qualify for free temporary housing. The United Nations Civilian Assistance Command provided the materials—wood, nails and cement, if desired—and the prospective occupants provided the labor.

Wood-framed, walled in with mud plastered on rush lathing and with thatched roof, each half of a duplex has two rooms—one a 10-foot square living-room, the other a kitchen half that size.

"Not so temporary," said Lee. "By thatching the roof every other year, I can make this house last 20 years."

Across Korea, 1,024,000 persons have been moved north into the restricted areas. A total of 1,550 "temporary" houses has been built and 6,200 more are under construction.

To qualify for settlement on this own land, such farmers must:

Return as family groups. Have all their household effects, and still have their family bull to plow the plot.

To save materials, the new houses must conform to a basic plan, though changes have been made to accommodate local needs and customs.

THOUSANDS IN BILLETs

Despite the building program, most of Korea's homeless still are billeted on the populace south of the Han River or are in organized camps.

Reflects and Reminisces

Federal Parliament opens today. No general reduction of taxation is expected. Of course not! Who wants to be bothered with taxes when the first Canadian-born viceroy is installed? The latest in style can be observed. Overpowering uniforms are flaunted. Sonorous sounding statements are heard—and what's it all for?

A stubborn old sport, this Jones Bill. It must be close to forty years that Canadian ships have been barred from doing business between the United States and Alaska. Again a bill is before Congress asking admission of Canadian shipping. Alaskans themselves would like to see it in effect. But the influence of Seattle is old and far reaching.

Third Avenue is not yet the Great White Way but general development is in that direction. Every improvement means more lights. Six months hence the Woolworth Block will brighten one's thoughts. The Wallace corner is about to become a blaze of lights and spacious windows. And the illumination over The News entrance makes reading world dispatches and local reports clearer than ever.

FUNDS ARE FAVORABLE:

This being election year, President Truman is having his worries but, financially, he should feel grateful. Common report has it that present available funds will give him in retirement $10,000 a year. He owns a farm and residence in Missouri. In 1948, he was next door to being broke.

Literary luminaries are already wondering who the next poet laureate will be although (Continued on page 9)

World Needs All Our Growth

HUNDREDS of millions of people are starving on the verge of starving.

Hundreds of millions of other people are getting food than they need to nourish healthy bodies.

Hundreds of millions of other people want more food than they are getting.

These three groups of people total almost two billion. They are all in this one world, in Canada must produce and exchange as much health of our people permits if Canada is to be as a free nation playing its part in promoting world well-being.

No Canadian is exempt from the duty of doing what he or she can do within the limits of health and the needs of humanity.

The hungry people of the world will pay every penny for food. They will deprive themselves of anything else that they can live without to get food to eat for another day.

The alternatives to maximum production and exchange are horrifying. They involve a totalitarian economy in which the work, production and standard of living of every Canadian must be determined by an all-wise bureaucracy.

The one world we are in, as it is, not as we might like it to be, is the world in which we must live, and exchange our goods and services.

An urgent need is to cut our costs by more production per person per day and by better methods, to reduce our prices accordingly. There is plenty of room in this direction to accomplish enough to our agriculture and industry thriving and play part in averting disaster.

Community Building

THE twenty-five centuries ago, Themistocles, the Saviour of Athens in the Battle of Salamis, prosecuted in his old age by political enemies the ancient Athenian law that no man might lose his citizenship unless he had acquired a trade.

"I have a trade?" said the rugged old warrior, eyes shining, as he answered his accusers. "No, I have no trade—but show me a mean city and I will make it a city."

In a sentence, this dim figure of the past has captured the spirit that should animate every member of every board of trade and chamber of commerce. Strong and progressive communities are the foundation of a strong and progressive country and are few titles that a man can bear so proudly as that of a Community Builder.

In the early days as communities were forced in various parts of this continent, when newspapers were few or entirely non-existent and long before the advent of the radio and telephone, one of the pillars of community life was the general store.

It became the town hall and the business men's club of the community. Around the cracker barrel citizens discussed the problems of their community and of their country. Here it was that they discussed candidates for office and exchanged ideas.

It was here that they thrashed out the problems of state. In those days, despite the lack of present day methods of communication, citizens had a sound and personal knowledge of their local problems at least, and it was here that the men who were chosen to represent them in the various legislatures. With the advent of civilization, the old and familiar institution of the general store has almost completely disappeared. But the need which was filled by the discussions which took place around the cracker barrel still remains. We can think of the community chamber of commerce as a replacement for the old and familiar institution. The chamber of commerce provides the opportunity for the forwarding of citizens of a community to exchange views and ideas, to discuss problems and to arrive at satisfactory solutions for those problems.

Gardening....

SWEET PEAS COMING BACK TO STAR IN HOME GARDENS

Spencer Type Sweet Peas
Sweet peas, once the most popular annual flowers in this country, grown in almost every garden, are making a strong come-back. Varieties which bloom early and resist hot weather are in part responsible, and better methods of growing help a great deal.

It used to be advised, and still is in some garden books, that seed of sweet peas should be sown at the bottom of a trench six inches deep, covered lightly with soil and allowed to grow, the trench being filled in as the plants grew.

Now we are advised to make a drill only 1½ inches deep in which to sow the seeds, which is not only a lot easier to do, but avoids plenty of trouble from poor drainage and disease. Stress is put upon the importance of sowing early, as soon after killing frosts have ended as the soil can be prepared.

Sweet peas and garden peas are first cousins. They are cool weather plants by nature, and give their best yields before the weather gets really hot. This makes early flowering vital in sections where spring is a brief interval between freezing and perspiring.

When the old-fashioned granddora type of sweet peas was made obsolete by the larger and more beautiful Spencer waved strains, it was found that the newer type was so much later in flowering that hot summer weather cut its harvest short in many sections.

It took time to change this, but there are few problems which modern plant breeders cannot solve, and this one was solved some years ago. More and more gardeners are learning that now there are available strains of Spencer sweet peas which bloom early, and resist hot weather, so that a long season of beautiful flowers is possible from seeds sown in the outdoor garden.

Seeds can be sown as early as the hardest varieties of garden peas. Porous garden soil as fertile as you have give best results. As soon as the plants are three inches high, brush should be provided for the vines to climb, and by the time they have grown to six inches wire supports, well anchored to resist wind, should be in place.

Regular watering is essential; after the spring rains end, the soil should be soaked at least every week, oftener if necessary to prevent drying out. A liquid plant food rich in nitrogen should be applied every two weeks, equal to an ounce of sulphate of ammonia for 10 feet of row. A mulch of manure, lawn clippings, or similar material will help retain the moisture in the soil and prolong the flowering season.

Sweet peas are legumes, and secrete nitrogen from the air. They benefit if the seeds are inoculated with a bacterial culture sold for that purpose.

Store seeds in a cool place if they reach you too early. They keep better than in a warm room.

Soil which is frozen should be thawed out gradually for seed box use. Quick drying tends to form hard lumps. After it is sifted, baking in a hot oven for half an hour will kill fungi and weed seeds.

Because leaf lettuce is demanded by hotels and restaurants for fine salads, it is grown extensively in greenhouses all winter. Home gardeners may enjoy it all summer at small expense.

No greater saving can be made by the amateur gardener than by growing his own flower and vegetable plants from seed. Modern scientific methods of preventing disease, watering automatically, and transplanting seedlings, have made success easy for one who learns the simple methods to be followed.

Do not sow seeds indoors too early. In a greenhouse, 8 to 10 weeks before the plants can be set out in the garden is enough; in a hot-bed, 6 to 8 weeks, in a cold-frame, or box in the window, 4 to 6 weeks, will be early enough.

Put Industry Before Public

Educating Young People in Forestry Important Function

Importance of the public knowing what is going on in such a government department as that of forestry and in the industry generally was emphasized by Eric Druce, director of public relations for the Department of Lands and Forests, who spoke before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club at luncheon yesterday.

It was particularly desirable for school pupils to be acquainted with industry, Mr. Druce held, and there was special concentration with a definite program upon the schools by the public relations and education division of which he was the head. Ninety-five per cent of the schools were now being visited regularly by representatives of the department.

The most effective educational work of his department was that by moving pictures, Mr. Druce believed. There was a heavy demand by schools, service clubs and other organizations on the department's film library which encompassed eighty subjects relative to the forest industry.

Junior forest warden activities of the Canadian Forestry Association, which collaborated with the department, were also highly commended by Mr. Druce who hoped that Prince Rupert lads might also become organized was welcomed as a new member.

The speaker recommended that Prince Rupert people should see a new film "Flying Surveyors," depicting the country around Portland Canal and Bowser Lake, which had been produced by the Forest Branch in collaboration with the topographical survey department.

Other functions of his public relations department, which includes placing of advertising, issuance of annual reports, photography, were described by Mr. Druce.

President Marc Gormely was in the chair and the speaker was thanked by A. M. Hurst, Sergeant A. E. Wales, RCMP,
