PORTABLE ALUMINUM "PALACE" is being exported by a British firm to the Persian Gulf for use as a hunting lodge by Crown Prince Saud of Saudi Arabia. The construction consists of a group of prefabricated buildings, each of which can be erected or dismantled in an hour and transported in sections by camel.

Glowing Object Spotted Over England by Radar Crews

LONDON (AP)—A huge glowing object described by observers as a "fireball" has been tracked by radar over England twice in the past month, the war office disclosed Wednesday night.

The reports of the sightings were made by members of the radar crews who estimated the height of the object at 10,000 feet.

The first report came from Sgt. Harry Waller and three other witnesses who were making a test of a radar set for the 256th heavy anti-aircraft regiment in southeast London Nov. 3.

The report said the object was kept in sight for 40 minutes. Then it moved out of range.

"There was a strong echo on the screen, so I looked through the telescope and there it was, just like a tennis ball," Waller told reporters. "It was dead white and completely circular. I could not see it with the naked eye."

"The sky that day was very clear and blue with only a few high clouds. The object was stationary for about 15 minutes. Then it started moving off."

Police Want Parking Fine Increased From $2 To $5

VANCOUVER (AP)—Traffic Superintendent Gordon Ambrose called for an increase in the city's parking fine from $2 to $5.

"The present $2 fine, the city's top traffic officer said, is too low to deter motorists from parking in prohibited areas. He said he is too inclined to take a chance on overparking, and that they can make it back to their cars before the policeman passes."

Interior Loggers Condemn Operators' Secret Tactics

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP)—A confidential memorandum to interior B.C. lumbermen has been made public by the Interior Manufacturers' Association (CCL-CIO).

The memo, signed by association secretary-treasurer L. J. A. Reese, was marked "highly confidential" and asked operators to supply the association with information as to picketing and other union activities which might be required for legal action later.

Operators were asked for names of union officials, names of pickets if possible, picture of pickets in action, conduct of pickets and dates of an information out of union meetings.

The association spokesman said that when it became evident a strike would take place, legal advice had been sought to determine what union activities would be legal and illegal.

Vancouver's Police Wage Traffic War

VANCOUVER (AP)—All-out war on traffic violators has been ordered by Police Chief Walter Mulligan as the toll of traffic deaths mounted again Wednesday.

The fatality score reached 36 with the death of a woman in a car crash.

Police were ordered to use "every trick available" to catch violators. Plainclothes policemen, spotters, unmarked cars and even commercial trucks will be used.

"We'll use secrets and psychology to catch violators," said Traffic Supt. Gordon Ambrose. Trucks driven by teams of traffic officers will cruise the streets.

Mrs. Lucy Elizabeth Clark, 74, was fatally injured by a car near her home.

She was dead on arrival at hospital.

Thirty-four persons were killed in traffic accidents during 1952.

Election Campaign Livens Up

With a two-man mayoralty race and a five-way aldermanic contest already guaranteed, the Prince Rupert December 10 election campaign showed signs today of being the liveliest in many years.

Mayor Harold Whalen, present chief magistrate, has announced he will seek re-election and George Hills, former alderman and ex-CCF MLA said last Saturday that he will run against the mayor.

For the four council seats three of the present council have announced their intention of seeking re-election. Those whose terms expire this year are Aldermen Mike Krueger, H. F. Glassey, George B. Casey and John Currie. All but Ald. Currie said today they will file nomination papers before the December 3 deadline.

Also throwing their hats in the ring are J. W. Prusky, president of the Community Ratepayers' association and August Wallin of 944 Ninth Avenue East, who yesterday announced his intention of running in a letter to the editor.

Ald. John Currie said he "has not made up his mind."

The man who has served under 10 different mayors, veteran Ald. George B. Casey, said he "definitely would be running."

"There is a battle on," he said, "and I'm going to see it through."

Ald. Mike Krueger, 37, chairman of the board of works committee and who in the 1951 voting was elected by acclamation along with Aldermen Casey and Currie, will run again because he wants to see the present public works projects completed. He had already served a short term following a victory in a by-election during the fall of 1951.

Ald. H. F. Glassey, who served as mayor for a short period after the death of Mayor G. W. Ruderham in 1951 said today he had been approached by several persons to run in the mayoralty race but decided against it and instead will seek re-election as alderman.

Besides being president of the ratepayers' association, Mr. Prusky, 51, a machinist at the Prince Rupert Drydock by profession, is also secretary of the Marine Workers and Boiler Makers Union, Local 2 (CCL). He was elected to the 1952 council for one year serving on the finance and board of works committees. A resident of Prince Rupert for 15 years, this will be his third aldermanic race. He was defeated last year.

MAIL OVERSEAS XMAS PACKAGES BEFORE NOV. 21

PLAYING POSTMASTER is singer Jean Martin who joins Prince Rupert postal officials in a reminder that, to assure delivery before Christmas, gifts for servicemen in Great Britain should be mailed by November 21. Deadline for mailing cards and letters to Great Britain is November 29, and for the continent, November 21.

Meeting Set For Tomorrow By New Voters' Organization

First official meeting of the newly-formed voters' organization to be established along the lines of the former Non-Partisan Association will be held tomorrow night at the Civic Centre.

"There is only a short time left before the civic elections and it is important that our organization adopt a line of action with the least possible delay," Hugh MacKenzie, pro-tem chairman, said in announcing the meeting.

"Plans for this are being prepared, and we look forward to a good attendance so that the association can go ahead with the full approval of its membership."

First order of business will be election of officers and directors. A nominating committee has been busy during the week drawing up names for the executive, which is to be a large and representative one. Other nominations will be received from the floor, and the executive will be elected by popular vote at the meeting.

Plans for endorsing candidates in the coming elections and for taking a stand on the various referendums also will be discussed. Another order of business will be selecting a name for the new organization.

Mr. MacKenzie emphasized that all voters interested in the civic improvement of Prince Rupert are welcome to attend. The fee for membership in the association is one dollar.

"Our one and only object is to have good government for Prince Rupert," Mr. MacKenzie said. "We are not concerned with sectional interests, politics or anything else of a partisan nature. We intend to make this an association through which the wishes of the broad public will be made clear and receive their most effective expression at the polls."

"Too often the opinion of a few carries weight because others let it go through by default or lack of organization."

Ewart Heads Firefighters

J. C. Ewart was elected president of the Local 559, International Association of Firefighters (AFL-TLC) in the annual election of officers. Also named to serve on the 1953-54 executive were J. C. Franks, vice-president; J. S. Furness, secretary-treasurer; John Pearson, recording secretary.

The local awarded honorary membership to Thomas Elliott for his assistance throughout the years.

Flying Boat Crew Rescued at Sea

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — All seven crew members from a United States Navy Catalina flying boat which ditched in the Pacific Wednesday have been picked up from a life raft by the transport Daniel I. Sultan, the navy announced today.

Navy officers said three of the men were injured, but none severely.

Snow Storm 'Buries' Three States

By The Associated Press
DENVER.—Biting winds whipped snows through the Rocky Mountains today, tumbling temperatures, icing highways and snarling traffic.

Much of Colorado, Wyoming and Montana was snowed under. Eastern Utah caught the fringe of the storm with some rain and snow.

By early today, the storm centred on northeastern New Mexico and the Texas Panhandle, with the leading edge of the cold front hitting eastern Nebraska, eastern Kansas and eastern New Mexico.

By contrast, the eastern half of the United States basked in summer-like weather, with temperatures as high as 75 Wednesday in the New York area, with more of the same forecast for today.

One man was killed and seven injured Wednesday when a transport plane crashed while attempting to take off in a blinding snowstorm at Kirtland air force base in Albuquerque, N.M.

Heavy rain showers fell in Texas and Oklahoma.

Snow was especially heavy in Wyoming and parts of Colorado. Lander, in west-central Wyoming, had 11 inches. Leadville, in central Colorado, also was buried under 11 inches.

Ice turned stretches of Montana highways in the higher elevations into treacherous drives.

Decision On Dentist Expected Soon

SMITHERS.—Smithers and District Chamber of Commerce expects to learn by Friday whether or not the district will have a dentist in its midst. A dentist, recommended by the College of Dental Surgeons and qualified to practice in British Columbia, visited Smithers recently to look over prospects and to discuss the matter with the chamber. It is hoped that he will decide to set up practice here.

Smithers and district have been without the services of a dentist since last month when Dr. X. Weber return to his home in Switzerland.

Although representations on Dr. Weber's behalf had been made by Smithers and District Chamber of Commerce and other organizations to the College of Dental Surgeons, Dr. Weber said before he left that he had a feeling of insecurity. The College of Dental Surgeons had granted him a licence to practice and an extension until he wrote and passed qualifying examinations for practice in Canada.

Teachers Contract Unchanged

Special to The Daily News
SMITHERS.—Smithers District No. 54 school board and the district Teachers' Association have renewed the existing salary agreement with identical terms for the 1954 school year. Representatives of both bodies signed acceptance of the proposal by the school board that there be no change.

Angus Kerr of Quick, and George Shepherd of Telkwa were re-elected trustees for two year terms at a meeting of district school representatives. Mrs. P. Davidson had already been re-elected as trustee from Smithers. The four other members of the board still with one year to serve are Mrs. A. G. Ford and W. H. M. Collins of Smithers, P. Oliarny, Glentanna, and C. Mortenson, Driftwood.

Embargo Set On Alaska Mail

VANCOUVER (AP)—An embargo against mail, express and freight shipments from Vancouver to Skagway, Alaska, went into effect today.

Postal and freight authorities said the embargo was caused by a strike in the shops of the White Pass and Yukon Route Railway which has tied up rail traffic in the northern centre.

Ball of Fire Falls on Isle Near Victoria

VICTORIA (AP)—A ball of fire hurtled down from the skies and exploded on Moresby Island, about 20 miles north of here in the Strait of Georgia, and was still blazing so furiously late Wednesday morning it could not be identified.

Sketchy reports from the island said the object—believed to be a meteorite—struck the island with a blinding flash and created a violent explosion.

C. M. Robertson reported the impact was followed shortly after by a compact, but intense, fire with tongues of flame shooting 30 feet into the air.

Mr. Robertson reported the occurrence at Sidney near here late Wednesday. He said the missile landed about 200 yards from his home and the home of Albert Elliot.

AT FIRST GLANCE, this eight-point deer appears to be just another hunting trophy being carted home in the usual manner. But this is exactly how the "hunter" found him near St. Ignace, Mich. The animal, trying to cross a busy highway in the black of night, crashed into (and ruined) the grille of an automobile driven by Prentiss Brown Jr. of St. Ignace.

Faded Letters From Far North Cairn Delivered 34 Years Late

OTTAWA (CP)—A bundle of faded letters, discovered in a cairn on the roof of the world about 500 miles from the North Pole, will be delivered today—34 years later.

The letters were left in the Arctic for Roald Amundsen, famous Norwegian explorer who died in 1928. The postman will be Resources Minister Lesage. He will deliver the letters to E. S. Bent, Norwegian minister to Canada.

Mr. Lesage will make sure the mail gets through at a ceremony at the Norwegian minister's home attended by the men who found the letters in the isolated cairn.

The story of the lost letters was first told last summer when Geoffrey Hattersley-Smith, of the Defence Research Board, and his assistant, Robert Black Jr., of the Geological Survey of Canada, returned to civilization from a northern patrol.

Travelling by dog sleigh and on foot, they made their way last May from the weather station at Alert on Ellesmere Island to remote Cape Aldrich, 500 miles from the Pole. They opened several cairns left by previous Arctic travelers and in one they discovered a bundle of letters left there in 1919 for Amundsen.

The letters were left by Capt. Godfred Hanse, a close friend of Amundsen serving in the Danish Navy. At the time the Norwegian explorer was attempting to drift across the roof of the world from Alaska to northern Europe by ship.

Flying Saucer Inquiry

WITH a somewhat lack-lustre session anticipated at Ottawa, the report that the Department of Transport is authorized to investigate flying-saucers flashes out like a gem among dross.

At last the extraordinary subject has reached a stage where high officials no longer scoff whenever it is mentioned. To quote the engineer in charge of the government's project at Ottawa: "There is a high degree of probability that flying-saucers do exist and are interplanetary."

While the experiment is in every sense a long shot in the dark, there are thousands of citizens—ourselves included—who will await results with definite expectancy.

Scepticism concerning flying-saucers brings to mind events of the 17th century when the brilliant mathematician, Galileo, was branded a heretic because he was bold enough to think that the earth was merely a satellite of the sun.

The attitude that our world is the centre of the universe still persists to a far greater extent than we generally realize. We are enormously important to ourselves, and it is thus quite difficult to appreciate that there may be other civilizations several hundred jumps ahead of us which have been exploring the universe for centuries. If they are not making landings on this earth, perhaps it is because they know more about our evolution than we know ourselves.

One day we will certainly understand more of the mystery than we do now, either to see it vanish as a foolishness or to have it lead us along even more remote avenues of exploration. Whatever the success or failure of the stratosphere station at Ottawa, few will begrudge this small attempt to probe a great secret.

Ray REFLECTS and REMINISCES

A haircut in Ottawa costs 35 cents. On the Pacific coast the charge is a dollar, and that includes Prince Rupert. But under sometimes unusual circumstances, 65 cents is worth thinking of more than once.

Worry kills more people than work. But then, more people worry!

BILL HIMSELF!

Bill Boss served the Canadian Press in Korea, and now he is shifted for the first time to Moscow, it being his first experience in the Russian capital. He will certainly use his eyes, ears and tongue, but it need not mean they will manage to all get by a nuisance commonly known as the curtain.

Maybe our health standards are improving today because we cannot afford to become ill. Presnack!

Reporting a hanging, in view of the latest read in British Columbia, have been neither brief or lacking in detail. Do the general run of individuals—both sexes, all ages and classes—hesitate to cover every word of the story? You bet they do not.

FULL OF IT

The Province prints a four-column front page story in which a staff member describes a visit here of the SS Rupert City in January 1909. He describes passengers complaining of cold, the Rupert City ice-sheathed, and the harbor of Prince Rupert being full of ice.

Maybe so, but we dislike calling anyone a liar. However, we arrived in Prince Rupert in 1909 and never beheld any ice whatever. The month of arrival in 1909 was May instead of January, and plenty of weather changes can occur in three or four months. And here, just let us remark we've been here ever since—44 years—beheld the harbor—one of the finest on earth every day, and never the slightest skin of anyone complaining of any novelty as new as that.

GET IT IN NECK

A sinister possibility, this Christmas, comes to menace the season, if British Columbians eat de-sexed American turkeys. A drug called estrogen is being inserted in the necks of roosters. This causes sterility, as well as the fowl's growth. Sizing it all up, the situation could degenerate into a sorrowful prospect. No longer could Yuletide joys be real.

IT PAYS

No parent or friend ever errs in thinking its wisdom to encourage young folks in starting a library. It will be small, but that's to be expected, in beginning. This is young Canada's Book Week, and it can apply just as handily to seniors, as to all others. The printed word has a priceless value. And all librarians realize how easy it is to give children a love of good reading.

As I See It

by
Elmore Philpott

The Old Ottawa

TODAY I took my back-bench seat in the House of Commons.

Naturally, I have been in Ottawa a good many times before. But today I have been thinking of my first visit to the capital of Canada; and about the vast changes in this city, this country—and this world—since those days of March 1915.

IN THE SPRING of 1915 the word passed around the University of Toronto that a colonel from Ottawa was enlisting a field artillery battery. That is how I came to belong to the 25th Battery of Ottawa.

We were half university students and half real hard-boiled loggers and other rough-and-ready he-men from the north country. At first the mixture was like oil and water. But when the students taught the lumberjacks the hard way that the students were not all pantywaists or sissies, and when the loggers taught the students that a fellow could be a wonderful guy and a real friend, even if he never finished grade school, we got on fine together.

I SHALL never forget our first day in uniform. We had a red-haired farrier, or blacksmith, corporal. It was raining cats and dogs in Ottawa that day, and the farrier corporal was a sensible fellow. He came down to the drill hall carrying a civilian umbrella.

I shall never forget, first the eyes, and later the language of our quartermaster-sergeant when he spied the farrier corporal under the umbrella.

The tiny little, black-eyed bantam of a man, who wore an enormous handlebar moustache and jingling spurs, let loose a string of choice army cuss words that were so hot they almost dried up the rain.

THAT army of 1915 was a free and easy affair. About 20 of us boys slept in a sort of army storehouse. But the government gave us a living allowance too. We had to buy our own meals.

I remember our favorite eating house was a high class boarding house we nicknamed "Liberty Hall." The rate was 25 cents per meal, and we could and literally did get all we could eat for that sum! Often we would eat three pieces of pie apiece, to top off the real banquet the kind lady provided for one quarter each.

WE WERE reviewed on the lawn of the Parliament Buildings by old Sir Sam Hughes, who was then Minister of Militia. Sam stopped and talked for quite a while with my best pal—Wendy Mendizabal, from Bolivia. The Ottawa papers, next day, described Wendy (most inaccurately) as a "South American millionaire."

That night, maybe fired by the sight of the Parliament Buildings, we went to attend a session of the House. But I was let down. For my then hero—SIR Wilfrid Laurier—was sound asleep at his desk. I seem to recall he had his feet up too.

In those days Ottawa had several live theatres—now she has no professional theatre. It is just not true that the world has "gone ahead" in all things since 1914.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

On the same day on which the new Russian ambassador presented his credentials at Government House, the Chicago Tribune published an interview by its Ottawa correspondent with Igor Gouzenko and thus revived vivid memories of the Soviet spy ring which formerly operated here.

Was it coincidence that the bones of the old spy case were rattled by the fanatically anti-Communist Tribune on the same day on which diplomatic relationships between the two countries were getting off on a new footing? Or was it by design?

The coincidence theory is the one most commonly held here in Parliament Hill circles. Almost everyone subscribes to it—with the noteworthy exception, however, of the Soviet Ambassador himself.

The Ambassador is definitely suspicious. He points out that his appointment to present his credentials was arranged a fortnight in advance and was fairly common knowledge along Diplomatic Row. That made it easy for any person—or for any newspaper—to lay plans to intersperse a sour note into the otherwise agreeable nature of the occasion.

The incident was very disappointing to the Ambassador. His mission here is obviously to cultivate Canadian friendship. And front-page headlines reviving memories of the Soviet spy ring which once had its headquarters and nerve centre here don't contribute the most helpful sort of atmosphere for close friendship. They rather suggest an attitude of caution.

If the Gouzenko interview had been published only by the Chicago Tribune the new Ambassador wouldn't have been too disturbed. But once it appeared in the Tribune, the Canadian newspapers picked it up. The account of the Ambassador presenting his credentials to the Governor-General occupied a single paragraph on an inside page in most newspapers. The Gouzenko interview took up more than two columns and appeared generally on the front page under care headlines.

It wasn't too encouraging a start for the Ambassador's Canadian mission.

Dmitri Chukhavin, the new Russian Ambassador, is definitely a friend-making type. He has a background of diplomatic service in Washington, Yugoslavia before Tito's day, and Albania. He is inclined to be round, has a ready smile, and an easy manner. Given sufficient time, he is likely to become a highly popular member of the Capital's diplomatic corps. He ranks as a senior Soviet diplomat.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Airport officials have taken steps to rid the landing field of flights of ducks which plague pilots every year. Wild crops of oats growing along the runways are being plowed under and replaced with grass.

Teachers Seek New Salary Scale

RICHMOND, B.C. (CP)—School teachers throughout British Columbia will seek a salary pattern in 1954 wage contracts that gives major increases to teachers with extensive training, it was learned here.

New salary scale, involving 11 per cent increases over 1953, was presented to Richmond school trustees by a teachers' salary committee. The committee said other school districts in B.C. would be asked to adopt the same minimum salary scale.

Under the plan, salary would be based on the training undertaken by teachers to fit themselves for instructional work rather than the present system which emphasizes whether the teacher is handling elementary or secondary classes.

BC International Radio Programs Designed To Tell Others About Canada

report on Canada's international radio service, which broadcasts in 16 languages to a variety of countries mainly in Europe and South America, was made by a large audience at Prince Rupert Canadian meeting last night.

C. Hankinson, manager of station CFPR and former executive with international radio for the CBC, told the group Canada had taken its place in the international radio field the winter of 1944-45 in order to send familiar programs to Canadian servicemen overseas, to give other countries a picture of Canada which was beginning to take an important place in all international fields.

The first test of the two 500-watt transmitters, located at Avonlea, N.B., took place on Christmas Day, 1944, and lists of overseas reported Canada as the loudest thing on the normal opening of the over-broadcasting was February 1945, and since that time Canada's international radio expanded to cover a wide countries for broadcast from local stations.

Another special service, following the war, has been an experiment for Unesco. Following favorable comment on school broadcasts presented in Canada, several typical broadcasts have been translated into several languages and the discs sent to various countries for local broadcast, for students whose schools and books went up in smoke during the war.

Concerning response to the broadcasts, Mr. Hankinson said that when he was with the international radio service, thousands of letters came in from a variety of countries, complimenting the service and asking questions about Canada. He read excerpts from several such letters.

He explained that the short-wave broadcasts could seldom be picked up in Canada because they were not actually broadcast, that is sent out in all directions as were medium wave broadcasts. They were beamed in the direction of the target country.

The only programs designed for listening in Canada were the Northern Messenger Service which sends urgent messages to Canadians in the far north who have no other means of communication, and a few programs for broadcast to fast-growing communities in the north, which can't get ordinary Canadian broadcasts.

The broadcasts comprised only news, commentary and information on Canada generally. During the war, he said, oppressed peoples in Europe heard only slanted news broadcasts from their home radio there was much favorable comment on Canada's straight news reports.

Following the war, the programs have focussed mainly on information about Canada. But when the cold war began, Canada was drawn into the propaganda war and recently has been able to penetrate behind the Iron Curtain.

Even Canada's so-called propaganda broadcasts have drawn favorable comment, he said.

Besides its straight news broadcasts and commentaries, Canada also gives special attention in covering important international conventions held in this country. The International Trade Fair was one of the major projects, and radio broadcasts from the fair had been credited with bringing business to the fair in the few years.

The international radio has a staff at the United Nations and often brings delegates to the microphone to report in their own language to their listeners.

Reception of music on short-wave broadcasts is generally good and so little music is included in Canada's broadcasting, Mr. Hankinson. However, with a Canadian flavor recorded and sent to many

Canadian-Line Up Seen Lively When Bombers Meet Speedy Beaches

WINNIPEG (CP)—Everyone is trying to predict coach George Trafton's strategy for Saturday's Grey Cup sudden-death semi-final when his mighty Blue Bombers take on the light but speedy Toronto Balmy Beach.

The "experts" already have declared Bombers a "shoo-in," but they're stumped as to what method Trafton will use to try to eliminate the champions of the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

Most guess that Trafton will send his first-stringers in at the start and try to build up a comfortable margin, then come back in the second half with his Canadian bench.

If that's Trafton's system then some 16,000 fans on hand will get a glimpse of the squad which sidelined Edmonton Eskimos 30-24 in the thrill-packed western final at Edmonton Saturday night.

Some railbirds insist the Canadians, led by former McGill quarterback Geoff Crain, will get into the game at the opening whistle. If they aren't clicking, then first squad, with either Jack Jacobs or Joe Zaleski at the helm, can be called in.

The "Canadian-first" advocates claim Trafton will not take a chance on his starry imports being injured unless necessary.

The coach isn't saying until game time. He's had the whole team working out at full steam since their day off Sunday, with all three quarterbacks getting an equal share at calling the shots.

Emphasis last night was on passing, and the ball-handlers and receivers looked sharp. After the two-hour drive, the team went back to the field-house.

Dan Bucceroni Scores TKO Over Beshore

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Philadelphia's Dan Bucceroni, whose record now shows 28 knockouts in 38 starts, registered one of the technical variety when referee Joe Stone waved Freddy Beshore of Los Angeles to the repair pit in the eighth round Wednesday night.

The favored Bucceroni, 26 and a ranking heavyweight contender, who hopes to get a shot at champion Rocky Marciano next year, was in command all the way, but Beshore showed an amazing ability to sop up punishment.

A national audience of television fans saw Beshore blasted from corner to corner, but he kept wading in as Bucceroni, possessing an edge of three inches in reach and five inches in height, slammed lefts and rights to his head. Bucceroni weighed 188½, Beshore 194.

There were no knockdowns in the fight, scheduled for 10 rounds.

ing Chicago Black Hawks 3-1 in a National Hockey League game last night.

But a lack of spectator interest didn't stop the Broadway Blues from giving their faithful followers their money's worth.

The victory was the Rangers' fourth over the Hawks this season and their third win in six starts. They tied one and lost two.

Andy Bathgate, recruited last week from Vancouver Canucks where he led Western League scoring, notched his first NHL goal in the first period. Ron Murphy, a former linemate of Bathgate's with Guelph Biltmores of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series, and rookie Camille Henry assisted. Murphy with Don (Bones) Ralston, also assisted on Harry Howell's tie-breaker in the second period. Paul Ronty, with the help of Wally Hergesheimer and Hy Buller, scored the third goal in the final period.

Murray Costello scored Chicago's goal.

Tonight, Toronto Maple Leafs, with a record of eight straight games without a loss, face the league leading Montreal Canadiens in Montreal.

Canadiens have lost three, tied one and won one of their last five games. Detroit Red Wings, tied with the Leafs for runner-up spot, also tries for a first-place tie tonight when they meet the fourth-place Boston Bruins.

Stamps Hand Vancouver Canucks Worst Trimming of Current Tour

By The Canadian Press
The top two teams in the Western Hockey League tangled in Calgary Wednesday night and the home-town Stampeders bounced Vancouver Canucks 7-2 for the worst beating of their current campaign.

The largest crowd of the season watched the league-leading Canucks lose their third game in a row during their first swing through the Prairies this year.

Meanwhile, on the coast, Seattle Bombers were shaded 4-3 by Canucks' cross-town rivals, New Westminster Royals, who carried the game with a baffling checkerboard passing attack.

SCORERS DEEP GASH
The Calgary victory, by Pat Lindy with two goals and Max Gaekkenbush, Gus Ryan, Archie Scott, Johnny Michalik and Walt Trentini, was marred by the severe injuries suffered by Johnny's brother Art.

The starry defenceman suffered a deep instep gash and possible shoulder separation.

The Vancouver goals were scored by Al Stanley and Larry Popcin.

Spokane Trowned By Dynamiters

By The Canadian Press
It was no way to treat visitors, but Kimberley Dynamiters left their etiquette in the dressing rooms Wednesday night and polished off Spokane Flyers 7-1 in a Western International Hockey League feature played in the B.C. city.

At the same time, over in the Okanagan Senior Amateur Hockey League territory, Kamloops Elks were busy taking the measure of the WIHL Nelson Maple Leafs, 6-4.

For Kimberley, Buzz Mellor and Buck Kavanagh poured in two goals apiece and Gordon Andrea, Les Lilley and Andy Port scored singletons.

Bill McNally tallied for Spokane.

Carly Carlson with two and single efforts by Evans, Slater, Booth and Taggart, accounted for the Kamloops scoring.

Messrs. Lavell, Haldane, Koehe and Gare were Nelson shot-smiths.

"Eat-Em-Raw" Tiger Cats Maul Alouettes 37-12

HAMILTON (CP)—A defensive wingline loaded with all-star material took up the "eat-em-raw" battle cry of Tiger-Cat football fans last night as Hamilton mauled Montreal Alouettes 37-12 in the opening game of the best of three Big Four final.

It was the worst licking the high-powered Al's have taken all year and victory gave hope to Tiger-Cat supporters that this year, after four frustrating seasons of watching the Bengals go out in the playoffs, they might advance to the Nov. 28 Grey Cup final at Toronto. If Tiger-Cats duplicate their performance in the second game at Montreal Sunday, the Al's are dead.

Hilltops Prep For Junior Final

SASKATOON (CP)—With the thermometer reading about 25 degrees above zero, Saskatoon Hilltops didn't cherish any thoughts of an outdoor practice Wednesday as they got ready for Saturday's Dominion junior football final against Windsor AKO at Griffiths Stadium here.

But coach Bob Arn said: "If you think it is too cold out there, just run a little faster," and it was the team's motto as they worked for more than an hour in the chilly weather.

A paying crowd of some 7,200 fans will see Hilltops and Windsor battle for the Canadian championship. It will be a record football crowd here and perhaps the largest ever to witness the national junior final.

Ticket sale was stopped Tuesday after 3,000 reserved and approximately 1,300 general admission tickets had been sold.

The remaining 2,900 tickets will be put on sale Saturday at Griffiths Stadium two hours before game time.

Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan will be here to make the opening kickoff.

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—American hopes of regaining the Davis Cup dipped today with the defeat of both Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas in the semi-finals of the New South Wales tennis championships.

In what was looked upon as a preview of Davis Cup strength, the Americans went down before two 19-year-old Australians, Lewis Hoad and Ken Rosewall.

Hoad whipped Trabert, the United States champion from Cincinnati, 6-1, 6-2, 5-7, 7-5. Seixas, the Wimbledon champion from Philadelphia, tumbled in straight sets before the agile Rosewall 6-4, 6-2, 6-3.

OUTDOORS With Marty

There remains ample time to stage a moose hunt this year with the season not due to close in the nearby Eastern District until December 15, and chances of success are enhanced as time goes by because the Interior conditions are bringing the animals down to the valley floor and to a snow carpet which offers good tracking facilities.

Another possibility is available for those who can make the longer trip to Wells Grey Park, where both cows and bulls are fair game until November 30; west way in is via Quesnel. Maybe the local hunting is not worked enough, for it appears that those in the know get venison without leaving the harbor, the latest take being a good buck deer by TED JOHNSON practically in sight of town.

About a dozen years ago the moose began to move into the country around the north end of Kalum Lake, and since there is plenty of willow for feed it was expected that they would thrive and increase. At this time it looks as though somebody has jumped the gun, for a recently returned party saw only one fresh track in two weeks of hunting, and further reports that there is no evidence of cows and calves. The Lakelse neighborhood has given up some dozen or more bulls this year, accessibility being heightened by the workings at Kitimat, but things have tapered off after this early success.

JOHN VENIARD (of a small town in the south of England) has just published possibly the finest work on this fascinating hobby: it is titled "Fly Dressers' Guide" and tells the whole story, there are color plates that are almost three-dimensional, clear descriptions of every necessary step, reasons for the use of fine wire or heavy wire hooks for different flies, and so on. I would expect it to become the standard work for all fly tyers.

It is a large book truly expensive at $6.30 and may be obtained from Toronto; address upon request to Marty.

Plenty of bluebills in the harbor now, other ducks too, are you getting your share of this good shooting?

CASEY DISAGREES:

Ratepayers Reject Motion Seeking Grant From City

Alderman George Casey might be a good supporter of the Prince Rupert Community Ratepayers Association but he wasn't having any part of a motion that the city council subsidize the ratepayers group.

A motion that the association appeal to the city council for $500 to help it carry on its business was defeated at an association meeting held in the Legion auditorium.

J. W. Prusky, speaking to the motion, said the ratepayers organization was the backbone of the city and he didn't see why the city shouldn't help finance its work.

Ald. Casey said the city council, elected by the people, couldn't be rightfully called on to support the ratepayers. If the council was going to assess its taxpayers to subsidize the ratepayers, it would mean in effect having two city councils.

REFER MATTER

In any case, he added, the present council would merely refer the matter to the incoming council and the new civic body would turn it down as it had a previous request by the association of the same nature.

"The ratepayers can't discuss things at city council meetings," Mr. Prusky said. "I disagree that we would have two city councils. We have a group here," he said, referring to the association, "that is working toward the advancement of the city."

Ald. Casey agreed that the ratepayers association's aim was to promote civic welfare but, he said, he would rather the association did it on its own initiative. "We have no right to hope that the city council will provide funds for the ratepayers association. There are service clubs in town who do good work, raise their own money without asking the city to grant them money."

OPEN TO EVERYONE

Mr. Prusky replied that there was a difference between service clubs and the ratepayers association in as much as the latter was open to unlimited membership. It was open to everyone in the city who has to foot the bill, he said.

Mr. Prusky started a discussion regarding the laying off of 16 civic employees. He said that an increased assessment had been set aside for public works projects, and if works department money had run out so that men were being laid off, he would like to know where the money had gone.

Ald. Casey said that when his subject was broached at city council, he had suggested that the remaining funds in the cemetery reserve fund be used and a start made on the overgrown drainage ditch.

Ald. Mike Krueger told the meeting that the reason the money had run out was that in keeping the city waterworks system operating the waterworks account had been over-expended.

At the opening of the meeting Mr. Prusky told the ratepayers that they should all exercise their vote in the December 10 election so that the 1953 election would be the "grand-daddy of them all."

At the conclusion of the meeting the association approved a motion that a hall be hired between Dec. 3, the deadline for filing nominations, and election day, so that all candidates could speak to a public meeting.

Five Parties To Contest Victoria Seat

VICTORIA—Finance Minister Einar Gunderson will be opposed by four other candidates in the Victoria by-election Nov. 24.

When nominations closed on Monday, the list showed:

Finance Minister Gunderson, Social Credit; George F. Gregory, Liberal; Alfred Matthews, CCF; Progressive Conservative Leader Deane Finlayson, and Mrs. Doris Blakey, Labor-Progressive party.

The by-election was necessitated by the resignation of Social Creditor Percy Wright, elected last June. He resigned to allow Mr. Gunderson to contest the city seat. The minister was unsuccessful in Oak Bay in the June general election.

Kinsmen Club Plans Yuletide Activities Here

Plans for their Christmas Party-Pack sales campaign were made by Prince Rupert Kinsmen yesterday.

Hal Newman was appointed chairman of the campaign committee which includes Frank Dafeo, Bill Long, George Levas and Harry Sheardson. The party-packs of fancy nuts will be sold in a door-to-door campaign during the second week of December.

The club planned to discontinue its annual Christmas party for Prince Rupert children, which had grown too big to handle, and will use the funds for other projects such as the Christmas party for child patients at Miller Bay hospital. Mickey Fudger was named chairman of the committee in charge of the Miller Bay party.

A report by Jack Ingles of Prince George, zone co-ordinator for the Frontier Kivention, stressed the need for full support by all northern clubs for the Kivention to take place in Prince George next year.

Ralph Anderson was elected treasurer, replacing Wally Isherwood, and John Banman, new member, was initiated.

One-Time Maryland Handyman To Renounce U.S. Citizenship

KIRKOWAN, Scotland (Reuters)—Sir Adrian Dunbar, one-time handy man from Maryland who inherited a Scottish title, stood in the shadow of a derrick, moss-covered mansion and said he will renounce his United States citizenship.

While he paid his first visit to his ancestral estate at nearby Mochrum Park Tuesday he said: "I am going to renounce my American citizenship because this is my home and this is the land of my origin."

Dunbar was born in Weymouth, England, 60 years ago. He inherited Mochrum Park with its 40-room mansion, 15 farms and 3,400 acres of land in January when he became the 12th baronet of Dunbar after the death of two previous baronets. He arrived in Scotland about 10 days ago and until Tuesday had been conferring with his lawyers.

Dunbar, who went to the U.S. via Canada, was obviously disappointed when he and his American wife, Emma, drove up to Mochrum mansion, a crumbling ruin. He couldn't get in to see the place. The caretaker, who

There is no "overnight cure" for irregularity

But there is a simple, natural answer to the common problem of irregularity due to lack of bulk

There are men and women (perhaps you're one of them) who won't let "nature take its course". THEY TRY TO SUBSTITUTE UNNATURAL "FORCING ACTION" FOR THE NATURAL REGULARITY WHICH SENSIBLE DAILY HABITS AND SUFFICIENT BULK IN THE DIET COULD PROBABLY MAINTAIN.

Many fall into the habit of using laxatives in a way laxative makers never intended. They take "big doses" willy-nilly without even reading the directions on the label.

Naturally, such overdosing—with products intended only for overnight relief of a temporary stoppage—exerts upon the delicate digestive system an unnatural strain.

There's nothing wrong, of course, with taking laxatives occasionally. If you feel you have to take a laxative, just be sure you take it wisely—in an accurate, recommended dose.

BUT THERE IS A WAY TO AVOID TAKING DRUG-TYPE LAXATIVES AND TO PLACE YOUR DEPENDENCE ON NATURE, IF LACK OF BULK IN THE DIET IS YOUR TROUBLE.

In many natural foods—such as certain vegetables, fruits, and grains—nature grows abundant natural bulk which normally and naturally aids the rhythmic process of elimination.

In no other natural food is natural bulk so ideally found as in the outer layers of the whole wheat kernel, known generally as bran.

Bran is nature's "laxative food instead of a medicine". When properly processed and shredded, whole wheat bran yields smooth natural bulk that the digestive system can handle in a natural way.

The Kellogg Company has made whole wheat bran into a delicious breakfast cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran.

KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN PERFORMS NATURALLY WHAT DRUG-TYPE LAXATIVES DO CHEMICALLY. IT HELPS CLEAR THE INTESTINES OF WASTE IN A NATURAL WAY. IT PROVIDES SOFT NATURAL BULK FOR EASY NATURAL ACTION.

There is no stomach upset, no churning, no after-effect except the feeling of satisfaction and fulfillment that comes with natural, normal elimination.

To obtain lasting relief, of course, Kellogg's All-Bran must be eaten regularly. You can have it for breakfast every morning secure in the knowledge that it isn't habit-forming.

More than one million servings of Kellogg's All-Bran are consumed each day. This popularity of itself is proof that this natural laxative cereal lives up to what we say about it.

But even better proof comes from thousands of satisfied All-Bran users. They write of their own free will to tell us what natural relief they receive from eating Kellogg's All-Bran daily and drinking plenty of water.

EAT KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN EVERY MORNING FOR BREAKFAST FOR 10 DAYS. THEN, IF YOU'RE NOT COMPLETELY SATISFIED, SEND THE EMPTY CARTON TO THE KELLOGG COMPANY, LONDON, ONTARIO—AND GET DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK.

Remember—Kellogg's All-Bran has helped millions. Why not you?

Fibber McGee, Molly To Stay With Radio

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Fibber McGee and Molly vow radio is still good enough for them, even though the pay is less than half what it used to be in the pre-television days.

It's well known in the trade that many a sponsor would love to convert the saga of Wistful Vista from radio to television. If ever a format were ready-made for TV, the story of the unglorious Fibber and his practical Molly is it.

"We'll probably do TV one of these days," promises Fibber. "But we found out on our last trip to Peoria that a lot of people still listen to radio."

When that time comes, Fibber hints that he will not try for any sock belly laughs.

"It makes you too hard to watch, unless you're Red Skelton or Abbott and Costello. I hate situation comedies that keep pushing too hard for the belly laughs."

Margaret Sees Banned Picture Show

LOOEIFZ (Reuters)—Princess Margaret Wednesday night went to the theatre to see F. Hugh Herbert's "The Moon Is Blue" the film of which has been condemned by Francis Cardinal Cullen of New York and refused a certificate by Hollywood's Censor Board.

Star of the play is Dianna Lynn, as the girl who picks up a boy at the Empire State Building and spends the night in his apartment warding off him and a friend, played here by British actor Robert Fleming.

Takeout Double on Right; Pass Weak, Redouble Strong

When the "defensive" bidding side developed the takeout double to a high degree of effectiveness, the attacking side had to do something to offset it.

For awhile many players experimented with making a trap pass after a takeout double on their right. In other words, they would pass with a good hand and come into the bidding on a weak hand. These tactics proved inadequate and the present 10 spot but he still had to lose a heart trick for down one.

He could have made the hand by handling spades in this manner earlier, before touching the diamonds. Then, after picking up Mr. Dale's last club, he could put Mr. Dale in the lead at a time when the old boy would either have to lead away from his queen of hearts or lead a diamond to dummy. But this takes nothing away from Mr. Dale's imaginative lead of the king of spades at trick two.

The bidding:

method is to redouble with a good hand and to pass holding practically nothing.

Against the three no-trump contract in today's deal, Mr. Masters led the jack of clubs. His partner won with the ace and made the good return of the king of spades with the idea of ruining the chance of setting up dummy's diamond suit.

Mr. Abel won the second trick with dummy's ace of spades and led the king of diamonds. Mr. Dale ducked and Mr. Masters carefully played the deuce, showing either a singleton (in which case all hope of shutting out the diamond suit would be gone) or a three-card holding.

Mr. Dale therefore knew he had nothing to lose and possibly something to gain by winning the next diamond trick with the ace. He got off the lead with a club and Mr. Abel then tried for an entry to the board by leading a small heart and putting in the nine from dummy.

But it was no good. Mr. Dale won with the 10 and again got out safely by leading a spade. Mr. Abel made a good play here. He did not finesse the 10 but went up with the queen and led back the five. This set up his
