Adequate Life-Saving Vessels, Equipment Advocated By Jury

Fisherman's Death Termed Accidental

Adequate life-saving vessels and equipment should be maintained in the vicinity of Prince Rupert, according to a coroner's jury which inquired into the death of Hans Grove.

The jury said in its verdict that the 58-year-old fisherman died through "misadventure" on a reef off Holiday Island between 4:30 p.m. March 10 and 1:20 p.m. March 12.

A report by Dr. Antony Ralting, who performed an autopsy and post mortem, said that in his opinion Mr. Grove died from exposure.

The jury's verdict followed a claim by Elmer Clausen, only son of John A. Clausen, pioneer Rupert fishbuyer who is missing from his wrecked packer, the RAP I, that Grove might have been found alive had help arrived sooner.

Meanwhile scores of fishermen today made last-minute preparations for a giant search this week-end of the rugged waters off Dundas Island for Mr. Clausen.

URGES PROMPT ACTION
Besides recommending maintenance of life-saving vessels and equipment, the jury also recommended "that prompt action be taken by available equipment in future."

A rider urged that the recommendation be sent to all members of parliament in northern ridings.

Evidence disclosed that the 50-foot packer was first sighted on the morning of March 11 by a U.S. tug which radioed that there were no signs of life.

An RCMP constable, who is on the crew of the police boat, the ML 15, said the police did not consider it an emergency—as there were no reports of anyone aboard—and preparations were made to leave for the scene early the following day.

The RAP I, with the elder Clausen and Mr. Grove aboard, left Prince Rupert about 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 10, and RCMP said, the ML 15 reached the wrecked boat about 1:20 p.m. March 12.

The RCMP constable told juries that police received a message from Digby Island about 11:20 a.m. Thursday, March 11. It said a U.S. tug, the Launa reported a boat off Holiday Island "high and dry on the rocks. Looks like a trawler. No signs of life."

"According to this information we saw no immediate need for urgency for the trip to the area. We had no reports of any persons or boats missing and in view of that we had anticipated only a routine trip to the site."

Telling of their arrival at the scene Friday afternoon, the constable said there was a 35-mile-an-hour southwest wind blowing when they approached the wreck and saw a "body on a makeshift crossbar on the mast, about five or six feet above the wheelhouse."

"Weather conditions did not permit us to remain aboard at that time any longer than the time needed to remove the dead man . . ."

"On Saturday, I returned again and also searched the reef but could not find any trace of the other man."

He said he could not find an anchor, dinghy or anchor chain on the packer at that time.

"The wreck was approximately 200 yards off Dundas Island and about half a mile from Holiday Island."

No Move Made To Hurt Them Say Canadians Freed by Reds

SEOUL (AP)—Two Canadian soldiers captured and later released by the Reds in Korea's neutral zone said today that they were questioned but not harmed or threatened.

The two were returned to the United Nations command Thursday following 29 hours of captivity near the Panmunjom neutral area.

Pte. Douglas Grant Phillips of Kitchener, Ont., and Pte. James Andrew Piercy of Toronto, both of the Black Watch Regiment, told Canadian officers the Chinese apparently were more curious than determined to get military information.

CAPTORS CURIOUS
They were taken prisoner by Red soldiers while patrolling in the neutral zone. The Communists claimed they were in the Communist half of the zone, but the UN command says they were in the southern half.

Piercy and Phillips said they were marched to a bunker, where the questioning started.

"They asked us what books we had read lately," Phillips said. "But all we told them was our

Red Boss Of Poland Quits Post

WARSAW (AP)—Boleslaw Bierut, No. 1 Communist leader in Poland since the end of the Second World War has resigned from the premiership to become first secretary of the ruling United Polish Workers Communist party, it was announced today.

Vice-premier Josef Cyrankiewicz who held the premiership until the government reorganization of November, 1952, was restored to his old post as premier.

Western observers in Vienna believe the switch in the Polish leadership was made on Moscow orders as part of a general Kremlin plan to end the "cult of heroes" that prevailed in the Communist world during Stalin's time, replacing one-man dictatorships with "government by committee."

The changes were the first official act yesterday of the new central committee just elected by the party at its second post-war congress meeting in Warsaw. Aside from these two changes, the party's powerful politburo remains virtually the same.

The announcement said Bierut resigned from the premiership because he could not hold that post and be party secretary at the same time. He proposed that Cyrankiewicz take his place and the central committee concurred.

WORK FOR PARTY
A Warsaw radio broadcast of the shake-up, heard in Vienna, said Bierut had asked in a letter to the central committee to be relieved of his post as premier so he could concentrate his energies on party work.

Bierut was president of Poland from the end of the war until that post was abolished in a major government reshuffling in the fall of 1952. He then took over the premiership from Cyrankiewicz.

McCarthy Insists on Replying To Stevenson Despite Illness

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Senator McCarthy today was confined to bed with virus laryngitis and a temperature of 103, but the Wisconsin Republican said he still plans tonight's reply to a speech by Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee.

McCarthy's doctor, however, advised a day or two of rest.

Stevenson, in a recent address to a Democratic party gathering in Miami, said the chief objectives of McCarthy and his supporters include "not only the intimidation and silencing of all independent institutions and opinions in our society but the capture of one of our great instruments of political action—the Republican party."

"The end result, in short," said Stevenson, "is a malign and fatal totalitarianism."

Dr. Raulf Hanson, who examined McCarthy Thursday night at his hotel, said his condition was brought on by overwork, excessive fatigue and exposure.

McCarthy picked an address here tonight to the Milwaukee County Young Republican Club to make his reply to Stevenson.

The Chicago Tribune radio station, WGN, announced they would broadcast his speech, and offered to let other stations carry it if they wished.

Fairway Killer Sentenced To Die June 22

VANCOUVER (CP)—William Wakefield Gash, the "13th fairway killer" was sentenced Thursday to hang June 22 for the murder of Frank Pitsch here last December.

An all-male jury brought in a guilty verdict with a recommendation of mercy. Mr. Justice J. V. Cline passed sentence.

Gash, 39, was convicted of beating the 46-year-old victim to death with a metal bar in a $100 robbery Dec. 10.

The body of the slain man was found lying on the 13th fairway at Langara Golf Course.

Pitsch lived through the sale of golf balls he found by scouring local courses.

Quake Recorded In California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California was shaken by a rolling earthquake early today. The tremor was strong enough to bring many residents out of bed but apparently caused little damage. Some plaster was knocked from a ceiling at the San Diego Union-Tribune building.

Longtime Miner Given Unusual Honor

Special to The Daily News

BURNS LAKE—A well-known Central B.C. interior mining man, Bartley McCrea, was presented with a complimentary Miner's licence when he paid a St. Patrick's Day visit here.

Mr. McCrea, who has purchased mining licences here for 25 consecutive years, reported good prospects on 12 claims staked by himself and Matthew Sam in the area between Mollice and Kid Price Lakes on the Nadina River.

Work on the claims, named "Lucky Ship" and "Northern" has exposed 2,000 feet of gold, copper, molybdenum and tungsten ores.

The pair plan further prospecting in the coming season when the road linking Houston and Mollice Lake, now under construction, is completed.

Mr. McCrea reports the large body of ore is of low grade and will require concentration.

Makes Small Profit, Optimistic Year Ahead

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada's government-owned railway system, despite its debt, accounted for a small profit in 1953 and year in a row.

Minister Chevrier Thursday said the CNR reported a profit of about $244,000, another good year for the government.

Mr. Chevrier said the system's budget this year was "realistic" one. "The best on the continent," he said, "in volume of business more than one of any other."

He said the heavy work load in 1952, due to the war, had six successful years following the war, ending with a deficit in 1951. He said the system's operation is the most efficient in the world.

At the start of the day's sitting, members gave a desk-tumping welcome to Prime Minister St. Laurent as he returned to the Commons following his six-week world tour.

Finance Minister Abbott said he will present his annual budget message to Parliament Tuesday, April 6.

Song Written by City Woman Published in United States

PRINCE RUPERT (AP)—A Prince Rupert woman learned yesterday that a Dayton, Ohio, music publishing company is including a song that she composed in a book of music for choirs in the United States and Canada.

Mrs. Cliff Gilker, organist for many years at the First Baptist church here, received a letter from the Lawrence Publishing Company, Dayton, telling her that the special Mother's Day anthem composed for the First Baptist church choir in May last year had been accepted and that they were including it in a book of church choral music called "The Volunteer Choir" magazine.

The song, or hymn was composed almost as a result of a dare.

Just before Mother's Day, 1953, the First Baptist church choir discovered that it was without a suitable Mother's Day hymn. A member of the choir suggested that someone compose a hymn of their own for the choir to sing.

Oil Well Fire Still Burning

EDMONTON (CP)—A fire which broke out early today in an oil well at Legal, about 30 miles north of Edmonton, is still burning.

There was no immediate report of any injuries.

First reports identified the well as the Fairy Bell of Imperial Oil Limited and said the fire broke out following an explosion.

Members of the drilling crew at the scene said flames shot 150 feet in the air and crumpled the drilling rig.

Bunk Cars For Railway Workers "Filthy" And Cramped Skeena Member Tells House

VICTORIA (CP)—Frank Howard (CCF—Skeena) charged Thursday that conditions in the bunk cars of railway workmen are "filthy" and cramped.

He said in the budget debate in the legislature conditions in the cars are far below the standards set by the provincial government but that the federal government has jurisdiction of the laws governing bunk car conditions.

The cars have double-decked bunks, forbidden by provincial statute for bunks. He added that the air and floor space was half that required.

Mr. Howard said the conditions exist in cars of the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways and, he "understood," in the B.C. government-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway.

Mr. Howard also criticized public works minister P. A. Gagliardi for giving information to a defeated Social Credit candidate in his constituency before giving it to elected members.

He joined Bruce Brown (L—Prince Rupert) in criticizing the fact that the defeated candidate got information on the Terrace-Kitimat road before they did.

Mr. Gagliardi has promised a policy statement in the house, Mr. Howard said.

He also tried to "pep up" the budget debate.

While he was speaking he pinned a black band to his coat sleeve and John Squires (CCF—Alberni) put a bouquet of flowers in a glass before him.

"I am in mourning for the people of British Columbia over the two per cent increase in sales tax," Mr. Howard said.

The response from the members was not very enthusiastic.

As I See It

Eyes South

THERE is one sidelight which has emerged as a result of the reactions to our Prime Minister's statement about accepting the government of China.

That is, the right wing elements in Canada which used to take the leadership from Britain now tend to fall in behind the U.S.A.

Britain long since recognized the real government of China. The U.S.A. refuses to do so. The Congress of the U.S.A. has tied the hands of John Foster Dulles in advance of the Geneva meeting. He has been made to promise that he will not even discuss the recognition of Red China at Geneva.

Yet some Canadian Conservatives eagerly jump in behind—not Britain—but the right-wing Senators of the U.S.A.

MY OWN guess is that the Conservatives in Canada will commit political suicide if they abandon the traditional position of attachment to Britain, and affix their real loyalties to the U.S.A.

There will always be in Canada a place for a party whose main interest is to keep Canada as a loyal and vital member of that strange world cluster of nations which comprise the British Commonwealth. That was the role which the Conservative party traditionally filled in Canada. Moreover, that fierce loyalty to the British connection was the main political asset of the Conservative party. In the last few years that fact no longer applies.

The U.S.A. has emerged as the greatest single power of all time. The U.S.A. has also become the core and centre of what conservatism there is left in the world—standing in fact far to the right of the British conservative government, headed by Sir Winston Churchill. More and more the thoughts of the top right wingers in Canada turn to Washington and not to London.

THERE IS no reason to believe that British recognition of China would have been very much delayed, had the Conservatives been in power, rather than Labor, when it was granted.

The Tories might have been a bit more hard-boiled than the Laborites, in working out the details of such recognition. But the whole British nation had taken to heart the lesson learned at the time of the Russian revolution—that the longer you wait to face the facts of such changes, the greater the international problems you create.

THERE IS another factor which tends to dampen down the loyalty which some Canadian right-wingers tend to feel for the right-wing in British politics.

The British Conservatives have (See PHILPOTT Page 6)

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

There are encouraging signs that the down trend in the economy of the past few months has pretty well spent its force and that an upturn is close at hand. Here are some of the portents upon which government economists now are building a cautious optimism:

The rise in unemployment has tapered off until it now is barely more than perceptible. Some industries are re-employing workers laid off at the depths of the slump. In a few parts of the country the construction industry already is starting its spring expansion.

Railway car-loadings, which in the early months of the year were down almost 10 per cent from 1953, now are running less than five per cent below 1953 figures. That is an obvious recovery from the low point in the economy.

Department store sales are commencing to run slightly ahead of last year. While bargain prices are an admitted factor in the higher volume of business, retailers now are reporting that the public appears to be once more in a buying mood. Confidence now is high that the advent of spring weather will result in a brisk buying demand for a wide range of merchandise.

There are other important factors in the brightening outlook at the moment. One is the certainty now that government expenditures are going to maintain their recent levels over the balance of the year. Another is the definite prospect that development, engineering, and business expansion expenditures are going to run a little ahead of the comparative totals of 1953.

Finally, there is that fact that the so-called "period of correction" through which the economy has been passing has brought about some helpful price adjustments. Prices now are more closely related to consumers' willingness to pay than they were at the peak of the boom, when disturbing signs of a "buyers' strike" were becoming apparent.

According to the yardstick of Ottawa economists, conditions have levelled off by an approximate 10 per cent from the peak of the boom. That's not enough to cause a depression,—but it's dangerously close to the critical point. Any further extension of the down swing would be serious.

The question now is the extent of the recovery movement, which may be expected. Government experts frankly don't expect the peak prosperity of last year to be repeated. But they believe that the leveling-off point will be only slightly lower,—five per cent as a maximum. By all normal standards that will rank as a really good year.

New Mark Set By Alcoa Output

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Aluminum Company of America set an all-time production record in 1953, turning out more than 116,000 tons. Alcoa, largest aluminum producer in the world, said last year's production represented a 30 per cent increase over 1952. Net profits of $48,848,094 in 1953 registered a $5,320,852 increase over the preceding year, the firm reported. Net income for each share of common stock amounted to $4.71 compared with $4.19 in 1952.

Paper Planning New Building

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Vancouver News-Herald announced in a newspaper story today that it will establish a modern publishing offices and plant here this year.

The announcement was timed to coincide with paper's 21 anniversary. The new offices will be situated on West Georgia Street in the heart of the downtown business section. Cost of project was not announced.

Research is constantly improving soaps and cleansers, adding chemicals that brighten fabrics, suppress bacterial growth and give better detergent action.

Old at 65?

MUCH of the difficulty in making adequate provision for old-age pensioners arises from the unsupported belief that an employee's efficiency deteriorates rapidly after the age of 60 or so. In other words, there are more people getting along in years who have to be taken care of by the government than is necessary. Moreover, many of them on the help are probably just as unhappy about the situation as the taxpayers.

While it is beyond dispute that physical powers decline as age advances, there is no proof to be found anywhere that mental faculties follow the same course. In fact, the latest scientific evidence suggests just the reverse. The saying that you cannot teach an old dog new tricks seems to contain less truth all the time.

After extensive study, the Institute of Psychological Research at Columbia University has concluded that intellectual power does not change from about 20 to beyond 60. In experiments on teaching industrial skills it was found that, if anything, the older people had a slight edge because of the experience they could bring to bear on the subject. Their only handicap was their own doubt about their learning capacities.

With industrial equipment becoming more and more automatic, there is less reason why the physical limitations of age should be a consideration. Some companies are recognizing this, much to their profit. In one plant of Detroit's Chrysler Corporation there is a division where the workers' average age is 66, and some of them are over 80. To conserve the wealth of intelligence among its scientists, the General Electric Company has a policy of hiring those who are "over-age" back on contract—after retirement.

A waste of human ability is the greatest waste of all. It will increase the country's productiveness and thereby help employment as a whole if Canadians change "retirement at 65" to read "retirement at discretion."

Ray REFLECTS and REMINISCES

When you pick up a paper today, before you throw it aside, you will have read scandal stuff—yet true. But if you'll keep on looking, you'll invariably come across these little stories of the value of just plain ordinary people—the back page heroes.

THINKING IT OVER

A Vancouver paper gives notice that no time should be fasted when turning in a wedding report. Three days is the limit, else no story. The bigger the household, the longer does it take to find the final word. Some homes love to struggle with printers ink, writing the same stuff over and over and over again.

will soon have a new home. It will be one of the world's largest and finest. Incidentally this is commencing to resemble competition for the "afternoon sheets," which had begun to feel a bit consequential.

It is dangerous to expect children to outgrow habits of misusing sound. It sounds mighty cute to hear Junior say "wabbit" for "rabbit" when he's three years old; it's tragic when he's six feet tall and applying for a job.

A PRICELESS GIFT

Los Angeles' health officer, Dr. R. O. Gilbert, estimates that Americans are using between three and four million dollars worth of sleeping a year. Fellow physicians say his reckoning is far too low. One, in Santa Barbara declares: "It is costing us more than three billion a year to get some of the 'synthetic' value of sleep that good health, good conscience and peace of mind receive as nature's gift."

remainder of the hospital expenditures, $147.20, went for magazine subscriptions and library supplies.

SEWING ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Another major service to the hospital was sewing of such articles as dish towels, diapers, pillow cases, table covers and others, a total of about 340 pieces.

The display of baby wear in the hospital, with items for sale, had been highly profitable. Other money-making projects staged by the auxiliary were a rummage sale, tag day, Hallo-wen tea and a bake sale.

Mrs. H. A. Breen reported on the library service for Chairman Mrs. Peter Lester, noting that the year-round project included service one afternoon and two evenings every week. It was also noted that used magazines and books from the hospital library were sent to Miller Bay Hospital and to lighthouse keepers along the coast.

Members also had driven several patients downtown to see the Coronation Day parade, and had offered to take patients for afternoon drives, when health permitted.

PLANNING SALE

During the regular business session, the group planned to stage a rummage sale next month and a Hospital Day tea in May.

They also planned to supply baby layettes for needy patients and to sponsor a sewing and knitting table at the Civic Centre crafts show at the end of April.

Six new members accepted were Mrs. Hector MacDonald, Mrs. Robert McKay, Mrs. Stan Petrow, Mr. Y. Wong, Mrs. M. J. Simpson and Mrs. R. D. Thorar-inson.

Rainbirds Out For Win In Second Finals Game

Bo-Me-Hi Rainbirds will be going all out tonight when they take the Civic Centre floor tonight against the Girls' League champions Dom's Department Store in the second game of the best of three finals.

Rainbirds, dominated by both Frosty's and Dom's throughout the most of the season staged a comeback in the latter stages to eliminate Frosty's and also win games outside the city. In the first game of the finals the high school quintette showed some slight awe of the league champs but nevertheless only lost 22-20. Tonight should see them back with full confidence.

If however, Dom's pulls off their second straight win, two trophies are awaiting them and will be presented tonight. Already clinched is the Cree trophy emblematic of the league championship and waiting for the winner of the finals is the Heilbronner trophy, a former Prince Rupert basketball association award, not played for since 1936 and now allotted to the girls league.

Also scheduled for tonight is the first game of the Junior Boys final which sees Sports Shop meet Sea Cadets in the first encounter of a best-of-three series. Boys game is at 6:45 and the girls fixture is at 7:45.

Teleg Bowlers Ready To Play In Big Tourney

A Prince Rupert CN Telegraph bowling team will take the alleys here tomorrow in the CN's third annual trans-Canada teletype bowling tournament, competing against 62 teams across the nation.

Ken McIntosh captains the local team which includes Tracey McIntosh, Mary Postuk, Jezi Pavlikis, Paul Porier and Melvin Little.

About 9,000 circuit miles of wire will be used to link 14 cities in every province with match headquarters in Toronto. Results of games, played simultaneously in every city, will be compiled in Toronto and up-to-the-minute standings transmitted to competing teams from coast to coast.

Twenty-four teams from Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton and London will compete in Toronto. Cities with one team entered are: Cornerbrook, Nfld.; Sydney, N.S.; London, Ont.; Victoria and Prince Rupert. Furthest north are Dawson Creek, B.C. and Gander, Nfld. with two teams each. Winnipeg has entered nine teams, second only to Toronto with 13 teams.

CNT employees at Whitehorse, Yukon, had planned to enter the contest but the town's only bowling alley has recently been torn down.

Mary Postuk Tops Ladies Loop

Mary Postuk of Dom's captured both high scores in the Ladies' Five-pin bowling league Tuesday when she rolled a high single game of 273 and a high three of 686 in A division. Dibb Printing took A division team honors with a team high single of 1119 and a team high three of 2932.

In B division Gert Smith of Cook's rolled a high single of 254 and won high three with a score of 666. Toilers took team high single with 920 and Cook's took team high three with 2593.

Results:
A Division: Dibb Printing 4, G. & A. 0, Art Murray's 4, Lyons 0, Stars 4, Rupert Radio 0, Bulger's 3, Cloverleafs 1, Sunrise 3, New Laurel 1, Dom's 3, Amettes 1.

B Division: P.R. Plumbers 3, 7th Ave. Mkt. 1, Manson's 3, Wajlacc R. F. H-Flyers 3, McKay's 1, Toilers 2, 75 Taxi 2, Big Sisters 2, Cook's 2.

Ford Leads Men's League

Rusty Ford led Art Murrays to an easy victory over Short Circuits in "A" Division of the men's five-pin bowling league this week with a high game of 354 and best three of 822.

Team mate Johnny Comadina had a 312 game and the only other 300 bowler of the night was Ian Dunbar of North Stars who posted a 311.

In "B" Division Paul Piche hit the pins for a 306 game and posted high three of 795.

Results:
A Division: Art Murrays 4, Short Circuits 0, Philpott Eviatt 4, Moose 0, Family Market 4, N.W. Const. 0, Cooks 3, Thom Sheet 0 (default), North Star 3, 537 Taxi 1, Local 708 3, CNRA 1.

B Division: LCB 4, Jaycees 0 (default), Kaien 4, Savoy Hotel 0, Rupert Motors 3, Overwatten 1, Nelson Bros. 3, Legion 1, Deuces 3, Don Juans 1.

Senators Farm Team Warned To Remove Negro Players

WINTER GARDEN, Fla. (AP) — Washington Senators baseball officials Thursday reported a second warning to remove Negro players from their farm-team training base here — and said they will do it, although city officials insist they have imposed no racial ban.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation is investigating the incident, which began when a man drove up to the camp Wednesday and was said to have told Zinn Beck, general manager of the Chattanooga Lookouts:

"Have those Negroes out by sundown and don't bring them back."

Joe Engel, president of the Lookouts, reported the second warning. He said an anonymous phone caller told him: "Get those Negroes out right away."

Mayor V. E. Bourland denied the city had imposed a ban. "We leased the park to the club," the mayor said. "It's up to them whether they have Negro players there or don't. It's none of our business."

Edward J. Powers, chief of the FBI in Florida, said an inquiry was started at the request of the United States department of justice to determine if federal law was violated.

Longer Bouts Than Usual Asked For Card

Elks Lodge boxing committee said today that Joe Ward, trainer for the Civic Centre Boxing Club, whose champion Andy Marshall will fight Canadian middleweight titleholder Tremi Ketchison of the Royal Canadian Navy here April 2, has asked RCN officials to make the main event a five round bout.

Amateur boxing bouts are usually three round fights with two-minute rounds but on special occasions longer fights are fought. Mr. Ward wants the Navy's permission to have the Elks stage a five-round main event of five two-minute rounds with supporting navy fighters against Prince Rupert boxers in bouts of four two-minute rounds.

The Elks boxing committee also said today that the venue of the fight had been changed to the Civic Centre. It was originally scheduled for the HMCS Chatham drill hall but it is felt that the Civic Centre would prove more suitable.

Navy authorities in Esquimalt have been asked to supply information on Marshall's opponent, Ketchison and also names and weights of other boxers who will arrive on the HMCS Sioux, April 2.

Local fighters who will appear on the same card will be heavy-weight Bill Morrison, light-weights Chuck Place, Billy Tauchy, Art Turcotte and 75-pound Billy Saunders. Tickets will go on sale early next week.

Trio Puts Terry Sawchuk Right Behind Eight Ball

By The Canadian Press
Labine... Godfrey... Martin. Three distinguished names in Boston Bruins Stanley Cup assault and ones Terry Sawchuk would rather forget.

Those three Bruin players scored Thursday night as the Bruins and the league-leading Detroit Red Wings fought to a 3-3 National Hockey League tie. They shoved Terrible Terry behind the eight ball in his race for the Vezina trophy and hockey's prized goalkeeping award.

Sawchuk, winner of the Vezina for the last two seasons, was only two goals behind Harry Lumley of Toronto Maple Leafs before the game. Leo Labine made it three, Frank Martin four and Warren Godfrey five.

Sawchuk was the only fellow that had anything at stake and he was put in a tough spot. There are only two games left for each club in the regular 70-game schedule. Sawchuk and Lumley face each other at Detroit Sunday night.

The Red Wings, in a slump for the last week, had to come from behind to gain the tie at Detroit Olympia. It was too late as far as Sawchuk was concerned.

FIRST-PERIOD LEAD

It was the only game of the night and Gordie Howe sent the Wings into a lead in the first period before the fourth-place Bruins took over. Other Detroit scorers on netminder Sugar Jim Henry were Bill Dineen and Ted Lindsay.

Sawchuk has been scored on 125 times and is having the toughest Vezina race of his four-year career in the big-league.

Sawchuk has had troubles with other players besides Labine, Godfrey and Martin. He has been scored on 14 times in the last four games, as compared to six goals against Lumley.

Sawchuk picked up one of the game's oddities Thursday night. He got an assist when he stopped a Boston shot and deflected the puck to Howe, who went in alone on Henry for the first Detroit goal. The last time a goal was given an assist was in the 1950-51 season when Bill Durrant of Montreal Canadiens turned the trick.

Only one game is scheduled for tonight. The Bruins take on the last-place Black Hawks at Chicago.

Prince George Out of Tourney

VANCOUVER (CP) — Prince George High School, lone northern B.C. entry, was knocked out of the annual B.C. high school boys' basketball tournament here yesterday, dropping a close 61-58 decision to Delta High from Ladner. Ken Larson of Prince George was high scorer in the game with 32 points.

Prince George had been eliminated from the championship round Wednesday and the second straight loss put the northern quintet out of the consolation round.

Still in the running for the title are Mission, New Westminster Trapp Tech, Vancouver Gladstone and the defending champions, Burnaby South.

Speaking of Values...
Check These PLYMOUTH Safety Values
You'll discover a great difference from the moment you take the wheel

First, you'll discover new and wonderful visibility. You have a clear, close-in view of the road ahead over the lower Plymouth hood. Driving is safer and much more enjoyable.

Try how easily a Plymouth handles—there's an amazing difference. Drive it around curves and feel it actually cling to the road. No outward sway—no sense of strain of "holding" your car.

Then, the steering wheel is below eye-level. You look over the wheel—not through it. Plymouth Chair-High Seats let you sit up comfortably so you see all round. You don't get tired and cramped as in ordinary, lower seats.

The Plymouth Balanced Ride using Oriflow shock absorbers, has been widely accepted, but test the original. Feel how it eliminates pitch, roll and jounce... how it smooths out the roughest roads, makes pavements feel level as a table-top.

To these safety features add other Plymouth values... outstanding Plymouth styling... beautiful two-tone interiors and gem-bright baked enamel body colours... durable Chrysler engineering that saves you money.

You've an extra value, too, peace of mind. Plymouth Safety Rim Wheels, exclusive with Chrysler products, afford extra protection in case of sudden tire failure, because the Safety-Rim feature holds the deflated tire on the wheel while you make a straighter, safer stop.

You have the all-time protection of constant-speed Electric Windshield Wipers—they won't slow down when you climb a hill or accelerate to pass as you've seen vacuum-operated wipers do.

You have balanced braking. Plymouth has two brake cylinders in each front wheel brake where extra braking effort is required—not just one like most other cars. Cyclebond riveted brake-linings last much longer—no rivets to score brake drums—greater surface contact area for more efficient braking effort.

If you like the extra ease of Power Steering—remember, Plymouth's Full-Time Power Steering is on the job all the time, from the moment your engine starts.

*Full-Time Power Steering is available on ALL 1954 Plymouths at reasonable cost.

Any way you look at it PLYMOUTH

Legal Lotteries Sought For Canada in TLC Brief

OTTAWA (CP) — The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada today repeated demands for a government-sponsored lottery.

The 580,000-member labor organization suggested an amendment to the Criminal Code allowing the Federal government to set up a national lottery. The proceeds, after prizes and administration, should be placed in government coffers instead of being used for a specific purpose, the brief added.

The TLC also recommended that labor organizations and service clubs be permitted to hold raffles and draws up to any amount which in the opinion of provincial attorneys-general are reasonable. The criminal law limits to $50 the value of raffle prizes.

The two recommendations were made in a 1,500-word brief prepared for presentation to the Commons-Senate committee on capital and corporal punishment and lotteries.

DON'T WANT RACKETS

Dealing with its proposal for higher prizes for raffles, the brief said:

"We would not like to see any change in the law which would allow rackets to develop... our affiliated membership, however, desires the change we are recommending in order that reand believed to be the last person to see the two men alive, could not definitely state whether the dinghy and anchor were aboard the RAP when it left here.

TO INSPECT CAMPS

Clausen and Grove were going to one of the veteran fish-buyer's camps to inspect some floats and were only about five miles from their destination.

Elmer Clausen, 34-year-old son of Mr. Clausen, told the jury he last saw his father about 11:30 a.m. on March 10 on his return from a vacation in California.

In answer to questions from jurymen, he said he considered the RAP was in "fairly good" mechanical condition and believed the dinghy would be aboard when his father left here.

He was critical the lapse between the time the first report was received by police and the time of arrival of the police boat at the scene. He stated further that another boat, the Union Steamships' Cassiar "also investigated the RAP about 1 p.m., March 11... but did not go to the wreck... yet the body was found 24 hours later."

"I feel sure that if a boat had left here at 11:20 Thursday morning, Hans' life could have been saved."

Deputy Coroner George Dawes, speaking to the jury said: "for some time a coast guard service has been advocated and if we had had a coast guard vessel of some kind, no doubt a life could have been saved in this case."

Summing up, he said the jurors must weigh all the facts and reviewed briefly events from the time the first report was received up to the finding of the body.

Members of the jury were: Don Harrison, foreman, Eric Grant, James McLean, Ian Dobbie, John McKenzie and R. G. Farmer.

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Many Games Are Won By Good Bluffing

One of the simplest and most effective defenses against declarer's attempted end-play is the ability to sit calmly in your seat without frowning, squirming or showing any sign of distress. It was a good thing for the defence on this hand that Mr. Dale held the West seat. The play called for an old-timer who had been under fire many times before.

Mr. Dale opened the jack of diamonds against the no trump slam. He secretly regretted the fact that apparently he alone had the job of guarding as many as three suits. But you could not read this in his expression.

CHAMPION PLANS

Mr. Champion won the first trick with the ace of diamonds. He saw four chances for his contract. If the jack of spades fell in three leads, dummy's 10 would furnish the 12th trick. The diamonds might break 3-3. A successful heart finesse would do the trick. Or Mr. Champion's favorite, the end-play, might succeed.

Beginning at trick two the three top spades were cashed. On the third spade, Mr. Abel discarded the deuce of clubs. One chance gone. Four club tricks were now cashed. On the last two, the trey and five of hearts were played from the board. Mr. Dale had to make three discards. Without hesitation he dropped the deuce, four and six of hearts in that order.

Mr. Champion next led a diamond and cashed the king and queen. Mr. Abel showed out on the queen of diamonds, dropping the 10 of clubs. Another chance gone.

BLUFFER WINS GAME

At this point everybody was down to three cards. Mr. Champion knew Mr. Dale held the good diamond and the good spade and one heart. So the end-play was out. If Mr. Dale were thrown in with a spade or a diamond, he would be able to cash the setting trick.

It came down to the heart finesse, then. There was no reason to think Mr. Dale had the king of hearts as he had shown no sign of being in trouble on the run of the clubs. After some thought Mr. Champion led a heart and finessed the queen. Mr. Dale won the last three tricks.

Motion of Non-Confidence In Government Out of Order

VICTORIA (CP) — A motion of non-confidence in the government was ruled out of order by Speaker Thomas Irwin Thursday.

Liberal Leader Arthur Laing moved the vote after an hour-long budget debate speech which covered most of the points in the budget speech.

The motion said it was regretted that the budget indicated no attempt at economy; that it failed to provide relief for municipalities; that the "severity" of the proposed sales tax would effect business and employment, and that "ministerial pronouncements" in the budget debate had attacked leaders of organized labor.

Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi will likely answer Mr. Laing's speech today when he concludes the budget debate. E. E. Winch (CCF-Burnaby) will conclude the debate for the opposition. The house then will turn to detailed study of the departmental estimates for 1954-55.

Other speakers in the debate yesterday were Leo Nimsick (CCF-Cranbrook); Mrs. Lydia Arsens (SC-Victoria); Bert Price (SC-Vancouver-Centre) and W. N. Chant (SC-Victoria).

WORSE OFF

Mr. Laing said he figures 60 per cent of British Columbians will be worse off under increased sales tax than they were under hospital insurance premiums.

He asked Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan to hear delegations wishing to discuss the government's abolition of milk controls above the producer level.

Mr. Irwin backed up the point of Attorney-General Robert Bonner that the motion of non-confidence was out of order because it did not have the requisite two days notice.

Mr. Laing said newly married couples would suffer under the sales tax increase.

He said Fraser Valley farmers were running at a loss of $1,000,000 a year. The wholesale buyer, not the consumer, was getting the benefit of the price decontrol order.

Mrs. Arsens said naturopaths can do more to alleviate overcrowding in hospitals than anything else. She said while doctors fill patients full of pills and surgeons "cut out your parts," naturopaths and dieticians can prevent ailments.

Mr. Nimsick said he was "reliably" informed that B.C. Hospital Insurance Commissioner Lloyd Detwiller did not know of

STOLEN GOODS DANGEROUS

NEW YORK (AP)—Blow-gun darts are missing from Museum of Natural History here, and the museum warns the toothpick-like weapons may have been dipped in curare poison. The darts and a gourd container, part of an exhibit depicting life among Indians in the Peruvian forests, appeared yesterday.
