Men's dispute settled

Planned strike today

TRENTON, N.J. — The International Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America (IUMSWA) and four other unions have agreed to settle their dispute over a proposed strike.

The settlement was announced today by the IUMSWA. It was the result of negotiations between the union and the employers.

The settlement covers the period from September 22 to October 31. It includes provisions for wages, hours, and working conditions.

The settlement was reached after several days of negotiations. It is a significant step towards resolving the dispute.

Go Up

The circus is set to leave for its next destination. The show is expected to be a great success.

The circus is a popular attraction in the area. It has been performing for many years.

The circus is a great source of entertainment for the community. It is well-received by all ages.

The circus is a wonderful experience. It is a must-see for anyone in the area.

SO GREAT WAS THE IMPACT of a crash when this 1936 automobile slammed into a tree in Minneapolis that parts of the car were scattered as far as 150 feet. Driver Philip Stanger, 18, was reported to be critically injured in the crack-up, with the remains of his vehicle standing as a grim warning against high speed on the highways.

Commission to Purchase Kitimat Power For Terrace

VICTORIA — The British Columbia Power Commission has recorded the most successful year since it was established in 1945. It was indicated in the corporation's eighth annual report tabled in the Legislature by Premier Bennett.

In the fiscal year ended March 31, rapid expansion of electrical service continued unabated, customer total increased 7.3 per cent, and average cost of power to residential and commercial customers decreased for the sixth time in as many years.

Average cost of electricity to customers in the residential classification was 2.9 cents per kilowatt hour—42 per cent less than in 1947 when it was five cents per kwh, and almost 6 1/2 per cent less than the average kwh cost in the 1951-52 fiscal year of 3.1 cents.

For commercial customers, average power cost now is 42 1/2 per cent less than in 1947—2.7 cents per kwh as compared with 4.7 cents.

Average monthly bill for residential customers now is $5.05, for commercial customers, $15.25. The report says a total of 22.5 miles of transmission lines (over 23,000 volts) and 183 miles of distribution lines were added to the Commission's system, and two new power districts, Fort St. James and Queen Charlotte City-Skidegate, received central service.

While the fire was still burning, officials of Weston Bakeries Ltd. arranged with other bakeries for a supply of bread and cakes and later delivered them in Weston trucks.

Beria 'Hiding' In Europe

A man claiming to be Lavrenty Beria, deposed chief of the Russian secret police, reportedly is seeking political asylum in the United States in exchange for disclosure of Russian secrets.

No definite identification of the mystery man, reportedly contracted in a non-communist country in Europe where he is hiding in terror of his life, has been announced by U.S. government officials.

An informed source in Washington said today that Senator Joseph McCarthy's investigations sub-committee hopes to know within a few days whether the man is actually Beria, who was denounced by Soviet Premier Malenkov July 9 as a traitor.

A senate source in Washington said an agent of McCarthy's sub-committee had flown to a "neutral, non-communist country" in Europe and, after talking with the mystery man, reported he is convinced the man is Beria.

The senate source said today that a new man, who could definitely identify the mystery man if he is Beria, had been sent to Europe and that a report from this person could be expected within a few days.

A person familiar with the senate group's operations said investigators are convinced Beria has escaped from Russia.

Officials in the executive branch of the government said they knew nothing which would lead them to believe that Beria, former head of the Russian secret police, has managed to get out of Russia. At the same time, it was made clear the U.S. government would be glad to receive any man who knows as many of the Kremlin's secrets as Beria does.

Aged Hunter to Buy Compass Before Making Another Trip

MASSETT, B.C.—A 70-year-old retired fisherman who went for three days without food after becoming lost while hunting here last week is going to make sure he doesn't lose his way again.

Short, grey-haired Arthur Watson, who has lived in a little two-room home on Delkatla Inlet for the past 25 years, walked into the little village just before noon Saturday to receive a welcome from everyone.

"I feel fine, but I'm hungry," he told Walter Feyer, first man to see him since he became lost in the thickly-wooded area north-east of Massett while grouse hunting.

Watson left at 10 a.m. Wednesday and had planned on returning the same evening. He carried only a few matches and 22 rifle.

When he failed to return, neighbors expressed anxiety and a search was started Thursday. RCMP constable Maguire led one group and other volunteer parties aided in scouring the area.

Plane May Be Taken To U.S. For Testing

SEOUL.—A daring North Korean pilot today handed the Allies a sleek MiG-15 jet fighter—the deadly Red warplane for which the United States offered $100,000 last February.

The MiG's guns were still armed when it raced unheralded from North Korea and made a perfect landing at sprawling Kimpo air base near Seoul.

It was the first MiG to fall into Allied hands in Korea. The Russian-built swept-wing fighters never left their own air over Red territory during the war.

The UN command said the $100,000 reward offered for the first MiG to bolt to the Allies is still in effect.

In Tokyo, Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East Air Forces commander, said the flier was a North Korean. His name will not be revealed unless he personally consents.

The pilot disappeared behind a light wall of secrecy and Kimpo air base was closed to everyone but authorized military personnel.

SABRE MET MIG — A psychological warfare colonel near Seoul said American Sabre jets met the MiG over the southern boundary of the demilitarized strip across the Korean peninsula and escorted the Red fighter to Seoul.

An American pilot who met him said the flier pulled a picture of a girl from his blue flying suit and tore it up. The American pieced together the shreds of the picture, which he said "looked like a North Korean."

Reds Answer UN Demands For POW's

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The Communists said today most of the 3,404 Allied troops—including three Canadians—for whom the UN command demanded an accounting "have never been captured at all."

At the same time, the Communists demanded an accounting for 98,742 North Koreans and Chinese they said were captured by the Allies and are missing.

The Reds gave their long-awaited answer to the Sept. 9 Allied demand that the Communists produce the men or disclose what happened to them at a meeting of the joint military armistice commission.

The missing troops—more than 900 Americans, 2,400 South Koreans and nearly 50 from Commonwealth and other Allied nations—were once believed captured, but neither released in the prisoner exchange nor reported dead.

The Reds called the Allied list "crudely manufactured without having been carefully checked," but reserved the right "to make further concrete comment."

Drivers Fined For Violations — Three city drivers paid fines for violations of the Motor Vehicle act this morning in city police court before Magistrate W. D. Vance. Francis Zammit and Albert Rink both pleaded guilty to driving without driver's licenses and were each fined $25.

Junge Kawuguchi pleaded guilty to violating the restrictions on his driver's licence by not wearing his glasses. He was fined $25.

Better Highways 'Needed to Cut Heavy Death Toll on U.S. Roads' — Safety authorities estimate that from one-third to one-half of the lives lost every year on United States highways might be saved by better roads—by roads which eliminate sharp curves, blind hill crests, intersections, and business establishments too close to the pavement; by roads which have better lighting, wider pavement and one-way traffic.

Better highways, James Cope of the Automobile Manufacturers Association told Congress recently, might save as many as 15,000 lives a year.

The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads has estimated that if the highways of the interstate system—about 32,000 rural miles—were improved, almost half of the deaths on these roads might be avoided.

For example, in the state of Washington there is a 24-mile stretch of U.S. 99, south of Seattle, which has a fatality rate of 14.5 per 100,000,000 vehicle miles of travel. The rate for all rural roads in the state is 5.3.

Police blame most of the accidents on drivers who speed, fail to signal or fail to yield the right of way.

While talking about the need for highway improvement, the experts keep stressing that there is no substitute for safe driving.

AMONG THE RELIGIOUS figures harassed by the Communists in China were Sister Alphonse du Redempteur and Sister Marie Germaine, Immaculate Conception Sisters from Montreal. Jailed by the Reds in Canton on a charge of "orphan murder," the two nuns were released after serving 13 months. Above is shown the type of jacket they had to wear. The lettering reads: "Corrective Labor, South District."

Eight More Doukhobors Convicted

VANCOUVER — Eight more Doukhobors today were convicted on charges of appearing in the nude in public. The 29 fanatical Sons of Freedom convicted on the same charge late last week, were remanded for sentence until Friday.

The 29 Sons, four of them women, were scheduled for sentence today. However, the prisoners' documents had not arrived and magistrate Graham Ladner said prison records could have an effect on severity of sentence.

Spent Night Under Big Tree

"Finally on Friday night, I spent the night under a big tree and when the sun came up Saturday morning I headed south-west, ending up on the beach of Massett Inlet."

He "came out" about three miles from here.

Feyer, a wood dealer, was getting water from a creek for his tractor when he suddenly looked up and saw the aged man, whose vegetable garden is the envy of everyone here, coming towards him.

He assisted him into his truck and drove him home.

Giant Blast Clears Bluff

SPECIAL TO THE DAILY NEWS — The biggest explosion to date in the Kitimat area took place Saturday when 450 cases of dynamite were set off to break-up a rock bluff.

The blast was set off at Anderson Creek Rock quarry after three weeks preparation by tunnelers drilling a 170-foot bore.

The 22,500 pounds of dynamite blasted away approximately 25,000 yards of rock.

Mounties Asked To Watch For Murderer

DAWSON CREEK — RCMP reported Sunday that George William Kendrick, 29, believed headed for Alaska from Texas, is wanted for murder.

RCMP said it is believed he was last seen in Dawson Creek Saturday driving a jeep with 1953 Texas licence plates.

Police said they have set up a road block on the Alaska highway between Dawson Creek and Whitehorse, Y.T.

RCMP said the request from the FBI to arrest Kendrick did not say what murder he is wanted for or where Kendrick is wanted.

RCMP said there is little chance Kendrick will evade the RCMP patrols on the Alaska highway and detachments stationed along its route.

Something For Everyone

IF THERE is nothing else done by play, one thing justifies our indulging in it: play helps us to forget our worries and at the same time tones up our minds for a fresh attack on the cause of our worries.

Play, fun and laughter are agents of health. They give repose to the usually busy brain centres and tone up the muscles.

In this city, we are fortunate in that we have a Civic Centre where we may play, relax or enjoy a hobby. To have a hobby is to indulge in some form of play which exercises our hands as well as our brains, and to take a line that cures our despondent, worried, jittery feelings.

When we indulge in a hobby through which we see something taking complete form under our own hands, then we gain self-confidence and self-respect.

Everyone—even the fortunate man who finds his job challenging and exciting—needs rest, a change from accustomed tasks.

While exercise and changed activity are good as restoratives after work, most people wish to do something specific as a hobby.

A hobby satisfies the desire in all of us to create something. There are a thousand and one ways in which people satisfy their creative urge and with a Civic Centre such as we have in Prince Rupert there are crafts and hobbies to satisfy the majority.

Activities, besides sports, to be undertaken this year include leatherwork, flower craft, metalwork, woodwork, copper craft and pottery-making.

Surely there's something for every family and the Civic Centre deserves our support for its initiative in obtaining instructors in these crafts and hobbies.

But the association can only bring these things to us if we support it. Two weeks from today a one-night membership drive will be held here with dozens of volunteers calling on every householder.

Join the Civic Centre. Give yourself and your children an opportunity to relax and learn something at the same time.

Leisure time use, whether in a strenuous exercise or in something more sedentary, should be made up of enjoying things that are pleasant.

While there is no ready-made hobby suit into which all people will fit, it is safe to say the Civic Centre has something for us all.

Every person makes his own pattern. By making it wisely, he may cure a present ill, fill a great want, or prevent physical and mental ailments.

Poles Need True News From Abroad To Combat Communism, Says Refugee

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Marek Korwicz, Polish diplomat who got his first look at America last Monday says "life in Poland was a nightmare."

The graying, 50-year-old Korwicz left Polish UN headquarters last Wednesday. Pretending to be working on a document in the early morning hours, he eluded armed guards and slipped out of his mid-town hotel to telephone an old friend from the Polish underground.

Safe in the friend's home, Korwicz, first alternate of the Polish delegation to the UN, wrote identical letters to Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, president of the UN General Assembly and Dag Hammarskjöld, UN secretary general.

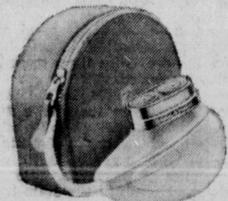

The letter said: "I have the honor of bringing to your attention that I formally renounce my membership in the Polish delegation to the assembly of the United Nations.

"The members of the delegation, headed by Messrs. Naszkowski and Katz-Sucy, do not in any way represent either the Polish nation or the people. It is thus absolutely impossible for me to collaborate with these representatives—not of my beloved country—but solely of the Soviet regime in Poland."

Kotrowicz, author of some 20 books and former professor of international law at the University of Krakow, said he is unmarried and has only distant relatives in Poland.

What the Polish people needed, he said, was "the true news from abroad" to combat Communist propaganda.

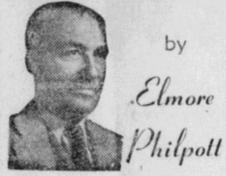

He said dissension was rife in the Communist satellite states since Premier Stalin died, and that 95 per cent of the Poles were opposed to their Communist rulers.

Where MacAdlai Sits

THE SCOTS have a saying which I hesitate to quote:

"Where the MacGregor sits is the head of the table."
"I hasten to appeal to all Scots, other than MacGregors, not to start another war over this. For I long since found out, the hard way, that the saying is common to all the clansmen, ranging all the way from the MacAdams to the MacZebras.

I should not be surprised to hear in Vancouver at least that they are even quoting it about that rather dynamic adopted Scot, and saying, of the British Empire Games:

"Where the MacDiamond sits is the head of the table."
The point is that no matter which Mac you name, the saying is true.

TAKE the case of MacAdlai Stevenson. He was defeated by General Eisenhower by a most impressive, almost overwhelming, margin. But now, less than one year later, the whole world listens to a major speech by Stevenson with as much attention that it listens to one by the President.

The reason the whole world listens, with ever-deepening respect, is that it has come to know that Adlai thinks and says the things that most true democrats, in all countries, want a 1953 American leader to think and say.

THERE IS a striking similarity in one respect between Adlai Stevenson and the late Wendell Willkie. It was after Willkie's defeat that he rendered his greatest service to his own nation and to mankind.

Willkie not only coined the mighty ever-more-vital phrase "One World," but he probably did more than any other human being of our times to impress on us that this earth IS one planet; that the human race IS one family; and that whether or not we like it, we are destined either to live as one or blow ourselves up, together, as one bloc of self-damned fools.

I regard it as one of the greatest tragedies of these times that Willkie died so tragically. See ELMORE PHILPOTT Page 5

Roads Getting Safer in Britain

LONDON (Reuters) — There are more cars in Britain every year, but by a strange paradox since the war the roads are getting safer every year.

In 1930, when "baby" cars were beginning to bring motoring to the millions here, 7,365 persons died in auto accidents. In 1950, the death toll was 4,706. And in the first six months of this year there were only 2,274 traffic deaths.

There now are 4,500,000 motor vehicles in Britain compared with 53,000,000 in the United States, but in Britain there are 17 cars a mile of road compared with 16 in the U.S., including the less settled areas. Belgium ranks third in car congestion with 14 cars to the mile.

The Ministry of Transport ascribes post-war reductions in the death rate to its road safety campaign, started in 1945, which has made Britain so traffic-conscious that although the death rate has fallen the monthly death tolls regularly cause dismay to the public.

Pedestrians are being constantly urged to use the "Zebra" crossings painted for them on the roads in black and white. A driver risks a £5 fine if he runs over the crossing while a pedestrian is on it.

London, with 339,600 registered vehicles and 8,000,000 inhabitants, is the most congested city in the country and traffic hold-ups of up to 10 minutes' duration are frequent.

The speed limit throughout London, and in all built-up areas, is 30 miles an hour.

The Canadian weather station at Alert Bay on Ellesmere island is less than 100 miles from the north pole.

OTTAWA DIARY By NORMAN M. MacLEOD

Economic questions are receiving a significantly greater share of the government's consideration than was the case when the current year commenced.

The reason is the accumulation within the past month or so of evidence which could mean that the post-war boom which the nation has been enjoying almost without interruption now since 1945 has passed its peak and that a levelling-off phase is at hand.

Here are some of the recent developments which support such a possibility:

The automotive and construction industries, both of which have functioned as key props to the record-length post-war boom, now have begun to drop substantially if not yet too seriously below their recent record levels.

Department store sales and retail business generally dropped below last year's level in August for the first time in any month this year.

Car loading, generally looked upon as a significant economic barometer, are lagging behind a year ago.

As yet, none of these factors have assumed proportions to constitute an unmistakable trend. They may represent just a pause in the upward climb of the economy, or they may represent the levelling-off process which many Federal economists believe to be now past due. Government authorities are in a state of considerable suspense and some anxiety until they learn which alternative is involved.

There is still no fear of a major depression in the foreseeable future. Latest figures show savings deposits to be almost $1,000, 000,000 higher than a year ago. Weekly payrolls are up by 11 per cent and volume of employment is up by three per cent. All these factors combine to place a solid floor of consumer buying power under the business picture.

Furthermore, the expansionist phase of the nation's natural resources and engineering development has yet to reach its peak. Latest estimates forecast a start-up on the huge St. Lawrence sea-way and power project in the late summer of 1954. New mineral prospects in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick are still in the exploration stage, with the heavy engineering work yet to come. A development program for Newfoundland is just starting to roll. It should be gathering momentum fast by the spring of next year.

Longest river in Canada, the Mackenzie rolls 2,514 miles including headwaters.

Regional Hospital Council Members Approve Compulsory Insurance Plan

British Columbia Hospital Council has approved as compulsory hospital insurance, the present voluntary plan.

its convention October 27 to 30, in Vancouver. The district council also discussed the pros and cons of establishment of hospital districts for the purpose of raising funds for capital expenditures, but delegates at the meeting were against such a scheme. Other topics discussed, with no definite action taken, were hospital operating rates, 1954 salary and wage policies, and radiology service for the area (Prince Rupert has the only radiologist in the region.)

Represented at the Saturday morning session in Smithers were the Terrace and District General Hospital, Hazelton Wrinch Memorial Hospital, Burns Lake General Hospital, Smithers Bulkley Valley District Hospital and the Prince Rupert General Hospital. Representing Prince Rupert were hospital board members R. G. Moore and E. A. Evans, and Douglas Stevenson, hospital administrator and chairman of the regional council.

Kitimat School Adds Two Classrooms, Two Teachers

Special to The Daily News

KITIMAT.—Additions to the teaching staff and provision of further school rooms have been necessitated here by the fast-increasing school population.

Total enrollment at the beginning of the school term here was 110 students and it is expected the school population will be swelled by about 60 students by Christmas time, due to the constant influx of new families in this town.

Last year, four teachers handled the school here, in four classrooms. This year the staff comprises six teachers, and a new classroom has been opened in the basement of the school. One of the large classrooms has been divided into two rooms, to accommodate two small senior classes.

There is little change reported to date in Kemano, where the school is continuing with five rooms and five teachers, the same as last year. School population at Kemano last year was approximately 110. There has been no report to date on this year's total enrollment.

Local Option Voting Opposed

VICTORIA.—Vigorous protests against local option voting in connection with a new liquor law will be launched by the Citizen's Committee For A Common Sense Liquor Law, George A. Cran, chairman, said here.

"The people have already spoken. In the June, 1952 plebiscite, they gave liquor by the glass a three to two majority. This is a clear mandate to the government to follow the Stevens report."

Mr. Cran said the only cases where local option votes should be taken is in areas where the plebiscite vote was negative.

Factions Influence Doukhobor Problem

KRESTOVA ©—Quarrels between factions in the Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect were seen today as an added reason for unrest in the turbulent Kootenays.

The Freedomites, 144 of their number now facing trial at Vancouver, have long acknowledged Stefan S. Sorokin as their spiritual leader. Recent home burnings and nude parades were taken as a protest against a government edict that they send their children to school. It was a demonstration against this edict that landed the 144 in prison.

But Doukhobor sources also stated Sunday that a faction led by John Lebedoff, who in the past has served a jail term for arson, still challenges the leadership right of the bearded Sorokin. This could lead to violent repercussions among the Freedomites.

Lebedoff, whose whereabouts in the Kootenays are not divulged here, swings considerable weight in the ranks of the radical sect, but has never won title of leadership in the sense of Sorokin. Sorokin is in Uruguay, where he said in an interview Thursday that his efforts to find a new home for the discontented sect have been ruined by the recent acts of arson, dynamiting and attempted blastings.

New reports of action differences came after the Doukhobors, some in the nude, conducted a service of religious mourning Sunday for their imprisoned comrades. Some 200 persons, including sightseers, attended the outdoor service and heard the fate of the imprisoned bewailed in Russian chants that left many in tears.

More moderate Freedomites express a hope for the return of Sorokin, whose influence was mostly for peace and reconciliation. But others hotly reiterated the sect's determination to have nothing to do with man-made laws, holding themselves responsible to go alone.

Sorokin said Uruguayan authorities verbally agreed to the colony at first but started using the "manana" technique after the press published reports of nude demonstrations by the Sons of Freedom group within the sect—which he described as "fanatics instigated by Communists in Canada."

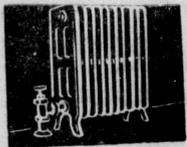

Fishermen Protest Lack of Aid

ST. JOHN'S Nfld. ©—The Newfoundland Federation of Fishermen says most of its membership, irked at lack of a federal support price for fish, has stopped fishing.

The movement appears to be widespread in most of the island's major inshore fishing centres, but it was not a strike in the sense of an organized walkout.

Max Lane, president of the federation, which claims a membership of between 5,000 and 6,000 emphasized that the federation had not ordered the men to cease fishing or hold up their fish. It was a voluntary movement which apparently spread rapidly.

The movement apparently started soon after Fisheries Minister Sinclair announced last Saturday that the government did not intend to fix a support price this year.

Body Found

VANCOUVER ©—Discovery of the body of an unidentified elderly man in Stanley Park Saturday started a police investigation into possibility of foul play. Police gave no indication of the cause of death.

MISSING GIRL STRANGLER

QUESNEL, B.C. ©—Dona Lee Corbett, 13, who disappeared from a circus here a week ago, was found Friday, strangled with a shoelace in the bush north of Quesnel, RCMP reported Saturday. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Corbett and was the subject of a province-wide police alarm. Her body was found by B. F. Crick, Quesnel sawmill operator, who was hunting in the area three miles north of here when he stumbled over the body.

Two Men Drown

ABBOTSFORD ©—Paul Bell and William Knutson, both of New Westminster and in their early 30's, drowned Saturday when their boat capsized while fishing in the Sumas river near here. Two other members of the fishing party reached shore safely.

POLIO CLAIMS 149 LIVES

WINNIPEG ©—Polio has taken 149 lives this year and the daily number of cases reported in two epidemic areas last week still continued at a high level, a Canadian Press survey showed Sunday. Total number of cases reported in Saskatchewan has been 678 cases and in British Columbia 398 cases and 12 in

Trucks Notches 20th Win; Zernial Takes Homer Lead

By JOE REICHLER
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 With the pennant races decided days ago, attention was focused on individual performances Sunday. Chicago's Virgil Trucks became the fourth American League pitcher to win 20 games this year when he pitched the Sox to a 5-2 win over the St. Louis Browns.

Bob Keegan, 32-year-old right-hander, pitched his second successive three-hit shutout 4-0 in the opener.
 Gus Zernial walloped homers Nos. 40 and 41 to help the Philadelphia Athletics win two games from Washington 13-9 and 4-3.

and wrest the American League lead from Cleveland's Al Rosen. New York Yankees edged Boston Red Sox 10-8, Cleveland Indians won 6-3 over Detroit after the Tigers had taken the opener 8-6.
 Stan Musial, battling against long odds to retain his batting championship, cracked out a single, triple and his 28th home run in four times at bat to lead St. Louis Cardinals to an 11-6 victory over Chicago Cubs.
 The pennant-winning Dodgers divided a twin bill with Philadelphia, winning the opener 5-4 and losing the second 2-1.
 Pittsburgh defeated New York Giants 8-4.
 Philadelphia beat Washington 6-5 and Boston trimmed New York 3-0 in the only two American League games played Saturday.
 In the National Saturday Pittsburgh split a doubleheader with New York, losing the first 4-1 but taking the second 6-5. Other National games Saturday saw Brooklyn beat Philadelphia 5-4, Milwaukee overcome Cincinnati 5-2 and Chicago take St. Louis 5-2.

Boxla Squad Given Rest After Illness

TORONTO (CP)—New Westminster Salmonacs, stricken with food poisoning Friday night, have been given another day to recover before they continue their best-of-five-game Canadian junior lacrosse final with Long Branch Monarchs.
 Originally scheduled for Saturday night, the fourth game was postponed twice when the Salmonacs did not get over their illness in time for today's contest. Late for the fourth game has now been set for Tuesday night.
 Salmonacs lead the series 2-1 and suffered their first defeat of the season Friday when they lost 16-6 to Long Branch. Many New Westminster players complained of "not feeling well during the game."
 Truck MacDonald, Salmonac coach, said it was definitely established that the poisoning was not contracted from any of the restaurants in the vicinity of the motel at which the Salmonacs are staying.
 From health department reports, it seems likely the illness was caused by a virus infection rather than ordinary food poisoning.

Champ Out to End Dispute About Last LaStarza Fight

By JACK HAND
 GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP)—Marciano, at the peak of his career, expects to erase the only disputed fight in his record Thursday night at the Polo Grounds against determined Roland LaStarza.
 "I'd like to clear that up," said the heavyweight champion after Sunday's sizzling workout. "It's the only fight there ever was any argument about. I always figured I'd fight him again."
 "He's a strong guy, one of the strongest I ever fought—at least as strong as Joe Walcott. But he doesn't hit like Walcott. He doesn't hit like Walcott."
 "I think I've improved an awful lot since the first fight with LaStarza. After all, that was 3½ years ago."
 Marciano won a split decision from LaStarza March 24, 1950.
 The big crowd that jammed the quonset-hut hangar at the airport for his last heavy drill agreed that the rock from Brockton, Mass., was much improved over the crude, awkward slugger of even a year ago.

LOOKS SHARP
 The charno looked sharp as he went four rounds.
 "That was the best I ever saw him in training," said manager Al Weill.
 Marciano talked freely of his last fight with LaStarza.
 "It was very close," he said.
 "But I thought I won it. I don't think I threw even one combination that night. I didn't hit him a full shot. It was a long right that caught him against the ropes."
DIDN'T HURT HIM
 "I guess he's the best boxer I ever fought. But I don't remember that he ever hurt me."
 Marciano passed a preliminary physical exam in fine style.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello of the New York State Athletic Commission said he was in "terrific shape."
 The doc said Rocky weighed about 186. Charley Goldman and Allie Colombo, his handlers, figure he'll come in close to 184 for the 15-round fight, his second defence.
 There will be no work for Marciano today with a brief three-round final session scheduled Tuesday with Willie Wilson, a LaStarza-type boxer. He'll go in to New York Tuesday to stay at the home of a friend.
 And the fight?
 "I hope it doesn't go more than seven," said the champ.

 VICTORIA (CP)—Peterborough Trailermen and Victoria Shamrocks meet in the fourth game of the best-of-seven Canadian senior lacrosse championships here tonight. If the last game is any criterion, it will be another rough, penalty-filled battle.
 Victoria is going all out, as it did in Friday's game, to even the series. It went into Friday's third game trailing 2-0 and after the roughest game seen here in a long time, defeated the defending champions 8-7.
 Peterborough won the first and second 13-12 and 10-7 respectively.

Vessels Sparks Eskimo Win; Als Brush Ottawa 37-21

By JACK SULLIVAN
 Canadian Press Staff Writer
 Billy Vessels of Edmonton's split-T-formation Eskimos and Chuck Hunsinger from Montreal's suddenly-hot Alouettes today stand out as the glamor kings of football.
 The 21-year-old Vessels, tabbed as the find of the season in the Western Interprovincial Football Union, powered the Eskimos to a 12-6 victory over Saskatchewan Roughriders Saturday with a two-touchdown performance, and Hunsinger went over for four majors as the Alouettes wiped out a 9-5 half-time deficit to crush Ottawa Rough Riders 37-21 at Montreal on Sunday.
 The Edmonton victory, coupled with Winnipeg Blue Bombers' squeaky 16-15 win over Calgary Stampeders at Winnipeg on Saturday, left the Eskimos with a clear four-point lead over the Bombers in the WIFU. And the Alouettes, accustomed to the cellar position in the Big Four in recent years, now share the top rung with Riders and Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

The Tiger-Cats, combining pass interceptions with heads-up play and a crunching ground offensive, defeated the Argonauts at Toronto 12-9 on Saturday to post a 3-2 won-loss record for six points, even with Riders and Als. Argonauts are in the unaccustomed last-place position with four points.
 Vessels, former Oklahoma University star, has put the sting into the Eskimo offensive since he joined the club and he can take a large chunk of credit for Eskimos' six straight victories.
 Hunsinger, 28-year-old native of Harrisburg, Ill., scored the Als' first touchdown in the first quarter, went over for their second to give Montreal the lead in the third and capped his one-man gallop with another pair in the last 15 minutes.

Trophies Given
 Tennis Champs

Last four matches of the Rotary club city open tennis championship were played Saturday, and the lengthy tourney, hampered by weather, was wound up with a party Saturday night at which T. Norton Youngs, of the Prince Rupert Rotary club presented trophies to "A" and "B" Flight champions.
 Saturday's play saw H. Holkestad defeat H. Stadyk 6-1, 6-0, 6-2 for the men's single's "A" Flight championship. D. Waterman beat B. Wells, 6-3, 6-4 for the men's single's "B" Flight title. E. Kierstead and H. Holkestad beat B. Bolton and Y. D. Lee 6-4, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1 for the mixed doubles "A" Flight crown. M. Tough and B. Tough beat P. Hickson and B. Gordon, 6-2, 5-6, 6-5 for the mixed doubles "B" Flight.
 Other trophies were presented to the following winners:
 "A" Flight: Women's singles, P. Hickson; Women's doubles, P. Hickson and E. Webster; Men's doubles, H. Holkestad and D. Bown.
 "B" Flight: Women's singles, S. Tams; Women's doubles, E. Kierstead and S. Tams; Women's doubles, E. Kierstead and S. Tams; Men's doubles, D. Doswell and R. Sahleen.
