Mayor Extends Greetings Of City to RCN Training Ship

HMCS Sault Ste. Marie, training vessel attached to Royal Canadian Navy Reserve establishment HMCS Malahat at Esquimalt, B.C., docked at the CNR wharf late yesterday to give the crew officers and men a break from their training schedule. Under the command of Lt. D. Rigg, RCN, the Sault Ste. Marie, first docked at the B.O. oil dock where it took on approximately 80 tons of fuel. The vessel, which left Esquimalt last Saturday, made calls at Port Hardy and Butedale on its way up the coast. Training in navigation and pilotage for the officers of the crew constituted the bulk of the syllabus on the trip north. More navigation work, mine-sweeping exercises, dropping of depth charges and a full calibre shoot for the members of the reserve will be undertaken on the return trip. She sails Friday morning.

In charge of the RCN reserve officers and men aboard the Sault Ste. Marie on their annual two-week cruise is Lt. Cmdr. J. D. Garrard, executive officer of HMCS Malahat.

Greetings of the city of Prince Rupert were extended to the ship last night by Mayor Hafold Whalen. Also paying his respects to the ship's company was RCMP Sub-division Inspector Taylor.

Officers and men of the mine-sweeper will be on hand tonight when Rear Admiral J. C. Hibbard, RCN arrives by train from Edmonton.

Berthing at the CNR dock this morning was the tribal class destroyer HMCS Cayuga, veteran of the Korean war, here to pick up the admiral.

Officers and men of both the Sault Ste. Marie and the Cayuga will be guests Thursday night at a dance being staged by HMCS Chatham.

The admiral will leave on the Cayuga Friday morning, independent of the Sault Ste. Marie.

Visiting officers and local sports officials have arranged sports events for the sailors during their stay.

LAWNMOWER SHOTS OWNER WHILE CUTTING GRASS

PAINESVILLE, O. (AP)—A lawnmower shot its owner in the big toe, police reported today.

The victim, Robert E. Heinbaugh, said the machine ran over a 22-calibre bullet while he was mowing the lawn and exploded it.

Montreal Man Appointed New Manager of CFPR

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation today announced the appointment of William C. Hankinson of Montreal as manager of radio station CFPR. He succeeds G. H. Insulander who becomes chief engineer of the station.

Kenneth Caple, regional representative of the CBC, said in June 1. The new manager will take over on July 20.

Mr. Hankinson, 43, began his career in Canadian radio in 1929. He has worked continuously with the Corporation since 1943 and for the past eight years has been with the International Service of the CBC in Montreal. He leaves his present position of program co-ordinator with the International Service to accept the Prince Rupert assignment.

The new manager is founder and president of the Canadian Institute of Speech and for a number of years has given a regular course in speech at Sir George Williams College, Montreal. He has recently specialized in the teaching of English to new Canadians and a system which he devised is now widely used in Canada.

Mr. Hankinson's outside interests also run to music, both as a singer and as a choir director. He was founder and president of the Maritime Concert Association.

His first radio work was at Acadia University from which he holds a MA degree.

He is married and has two children.

Mr. Hankinson will spend a week at the Corporation's offices in Vancouver before taking up his new duties.

Premier Says Two By-Elections To Be Held After Fall Session

Second Cabinet Minister Beaten

Premier Bennett said today two by-elections will be held after the fall session of the B.C. Legislature in an effort to obtain seats for defeated cabinet ministers.

His statement came only a few hours after it was announced that Liberal leader Art Laing had defeated Education Minister Tilly Rolston on the fifth count in Vancouver-Point Grey riding.

Mr. Laing, who resigned his federal seat to contest the riding, thus became the fourth Liberal to be elected.

The result and final standing became known exactly four weeks after voters went to the polls on June 9.

Finance Minister Gunderson was the other cabinet minister defeated in his bid for re-election. Last year he won a by-election in Similkameen but in the June 9 election he sought the Oak Bay seat, which was won by Liberal Reeve Percy Gibbs.

Last riding to report was Vancouver-Point Grey where the outcome on one of three ballots was a surprise.

Mr. Laing's victory brought his party's strength in the next Legislature to four, compared with six after the 1952 election.

Social Credit under Premier Bennett will have a clear majority. The party captured 28 of the 48 seats.

The CCF will again form the official opposition, holding 14 seats, four less than their total in the last house.

The remaining two seats are held by Progressive Conservative Larry Giovando and Labor member Tom Uphill.

Premier Bennett has offered to keep both Mrs. Rolston and Mr. Gunderson in the cabinet.

Mrs. Rolston said she would accept but Mr. Gunderson has not yet decided whether he will remain in the government.

"I haven't made a decision yet," Mr. Gunderson said today. "I am just biding my time. I want to think the matter out."

Asked if he will decide within the two weeks he was expected to advise the premier, the minister said he may or may not.

Reds Ready To Discuss Armistice

By The Associated Press

SEOUL.—The Communists said today they are ready to negotiate final details of a Korean armistice even though South Korea objects violently.

There was still no indication that stubborn President Syngman Rhee would accept any truce which fails to guarantee unification of his war-battered nation.

The Communist reply to Gen. Mark Clark's June 29 proposal to sign an armistice now was delivered by liaison officers in a five-minute meeting at Panmunjom.

The letter laid down what appeared to be some tough conditions for Communist acceptance of a truce negotiated in two years of hard bargaining, but observers said the Reds might waive some of these when the truce talks resume.

The Reds said the United Nations command must:

- "Take effective steps" to assure South Korean compliance with armistice terms;
- Recover 27,000 anti-Communist North Korean war prisoners set free on orders of President Rhee last month;
- "Shoulder absolute responsibility" for seeing that none of 8,000 anti-Red prisoners remaining in Allied stockades escape.

The Communist letter said "our side agrees that delegations of both sides meet at an appointed time to discuss the question of implementation of an armistice agreement and the various preparations prior to the signing of an armistice agreement."

"Date for the meeting will be discussed and decided by senior delegates of both sides through liaison officers."

First Game of Little League Gets Away at Algoma Tonight

Prince Rupert's first Little League Baseball game gets underway this evening at the newly renovated Algoma Park when Mayor Harold Whalen tosses in the first ball.

The league opener will see the Conrad Street Wildcats matched with Section 2 Chums in a regulation six-inning game. Joe LeTourneau, official umpire for the Prince Rupert senior baseball league will officiate at the game and players will be using regulation Little League equipment.

Work at Algoma Park has proceeded despite scanty support of parents and interested citizens. Request for helpers to get the park in shape failed to rally one parent other than those on the league executive and members of the Carpenters' union from Northwest Construction Company.

Members of the league executive were disappointed last night at the failure of parents of players to turn out and voiced the hope that they would at least turn out to see the game.

Last night cinders were spread, raked and rolled on the playing field and the back stop erected. Those faced with getting the field in shape for tonight's game had an almost impossible task with the lack of equipment and worked until nearly midnight.

Magistrate Vance cautioned both the accused and the RCMP to presentation of their cases and dismissed the charge.

Members of the league executive who were on the job getting the neglected city park ready also expressed disappointment in the lack of interest and support forthcoming from the city. The league was unable to get the park graded and requests for help were to no avail.

Game time tonight is 7 o'clock.

Foresters Probe Fire Reports

Forestry officials left this morning to investigate reports of two forest fires in the Prince Rupert area.

One fire is believed to be near Kildala on the Alcan power right-of-way and the other is on the South Bentuck in the area of Bella Coola.

District Forester Percy Young and other foresters left by provincial government plane and will check the extent of the fire damage and the amount of control. As both blazes are believed to be industrial fires the Forestry department will defer action until such time as aid is needed.

A B.C. Forest Service official said that the humidity in the woods near Prince Rupert is still high but it has dropped in isolated areas to the south due to local conditions and terrain.

First Impressions Remain For Life With Some Geese

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The trouble with some silly geese has been diagnosed at last. The poor creatures may think (A) that they are human beings, or (B) that human beings are geese.

The National Geographic Society has been looking into the goose situation, and its report is surprising indeed.

It seems goslings are extremely impressionable little rascals, so impressionable that the first thing seen or heard by them may be identified forever after as one of their own species.

So if a human being quacks around a day-old gosling, that gosling may go through life convinced he and the human are from the same nest.

This is known as imprinting.

A National Geographic news release says:

"A newly-hatched goose looks upward when it first sees the light of day. Anything that moves and then draws away in a certain manner will imprint the gosling, be it bird, beast, or human kind."

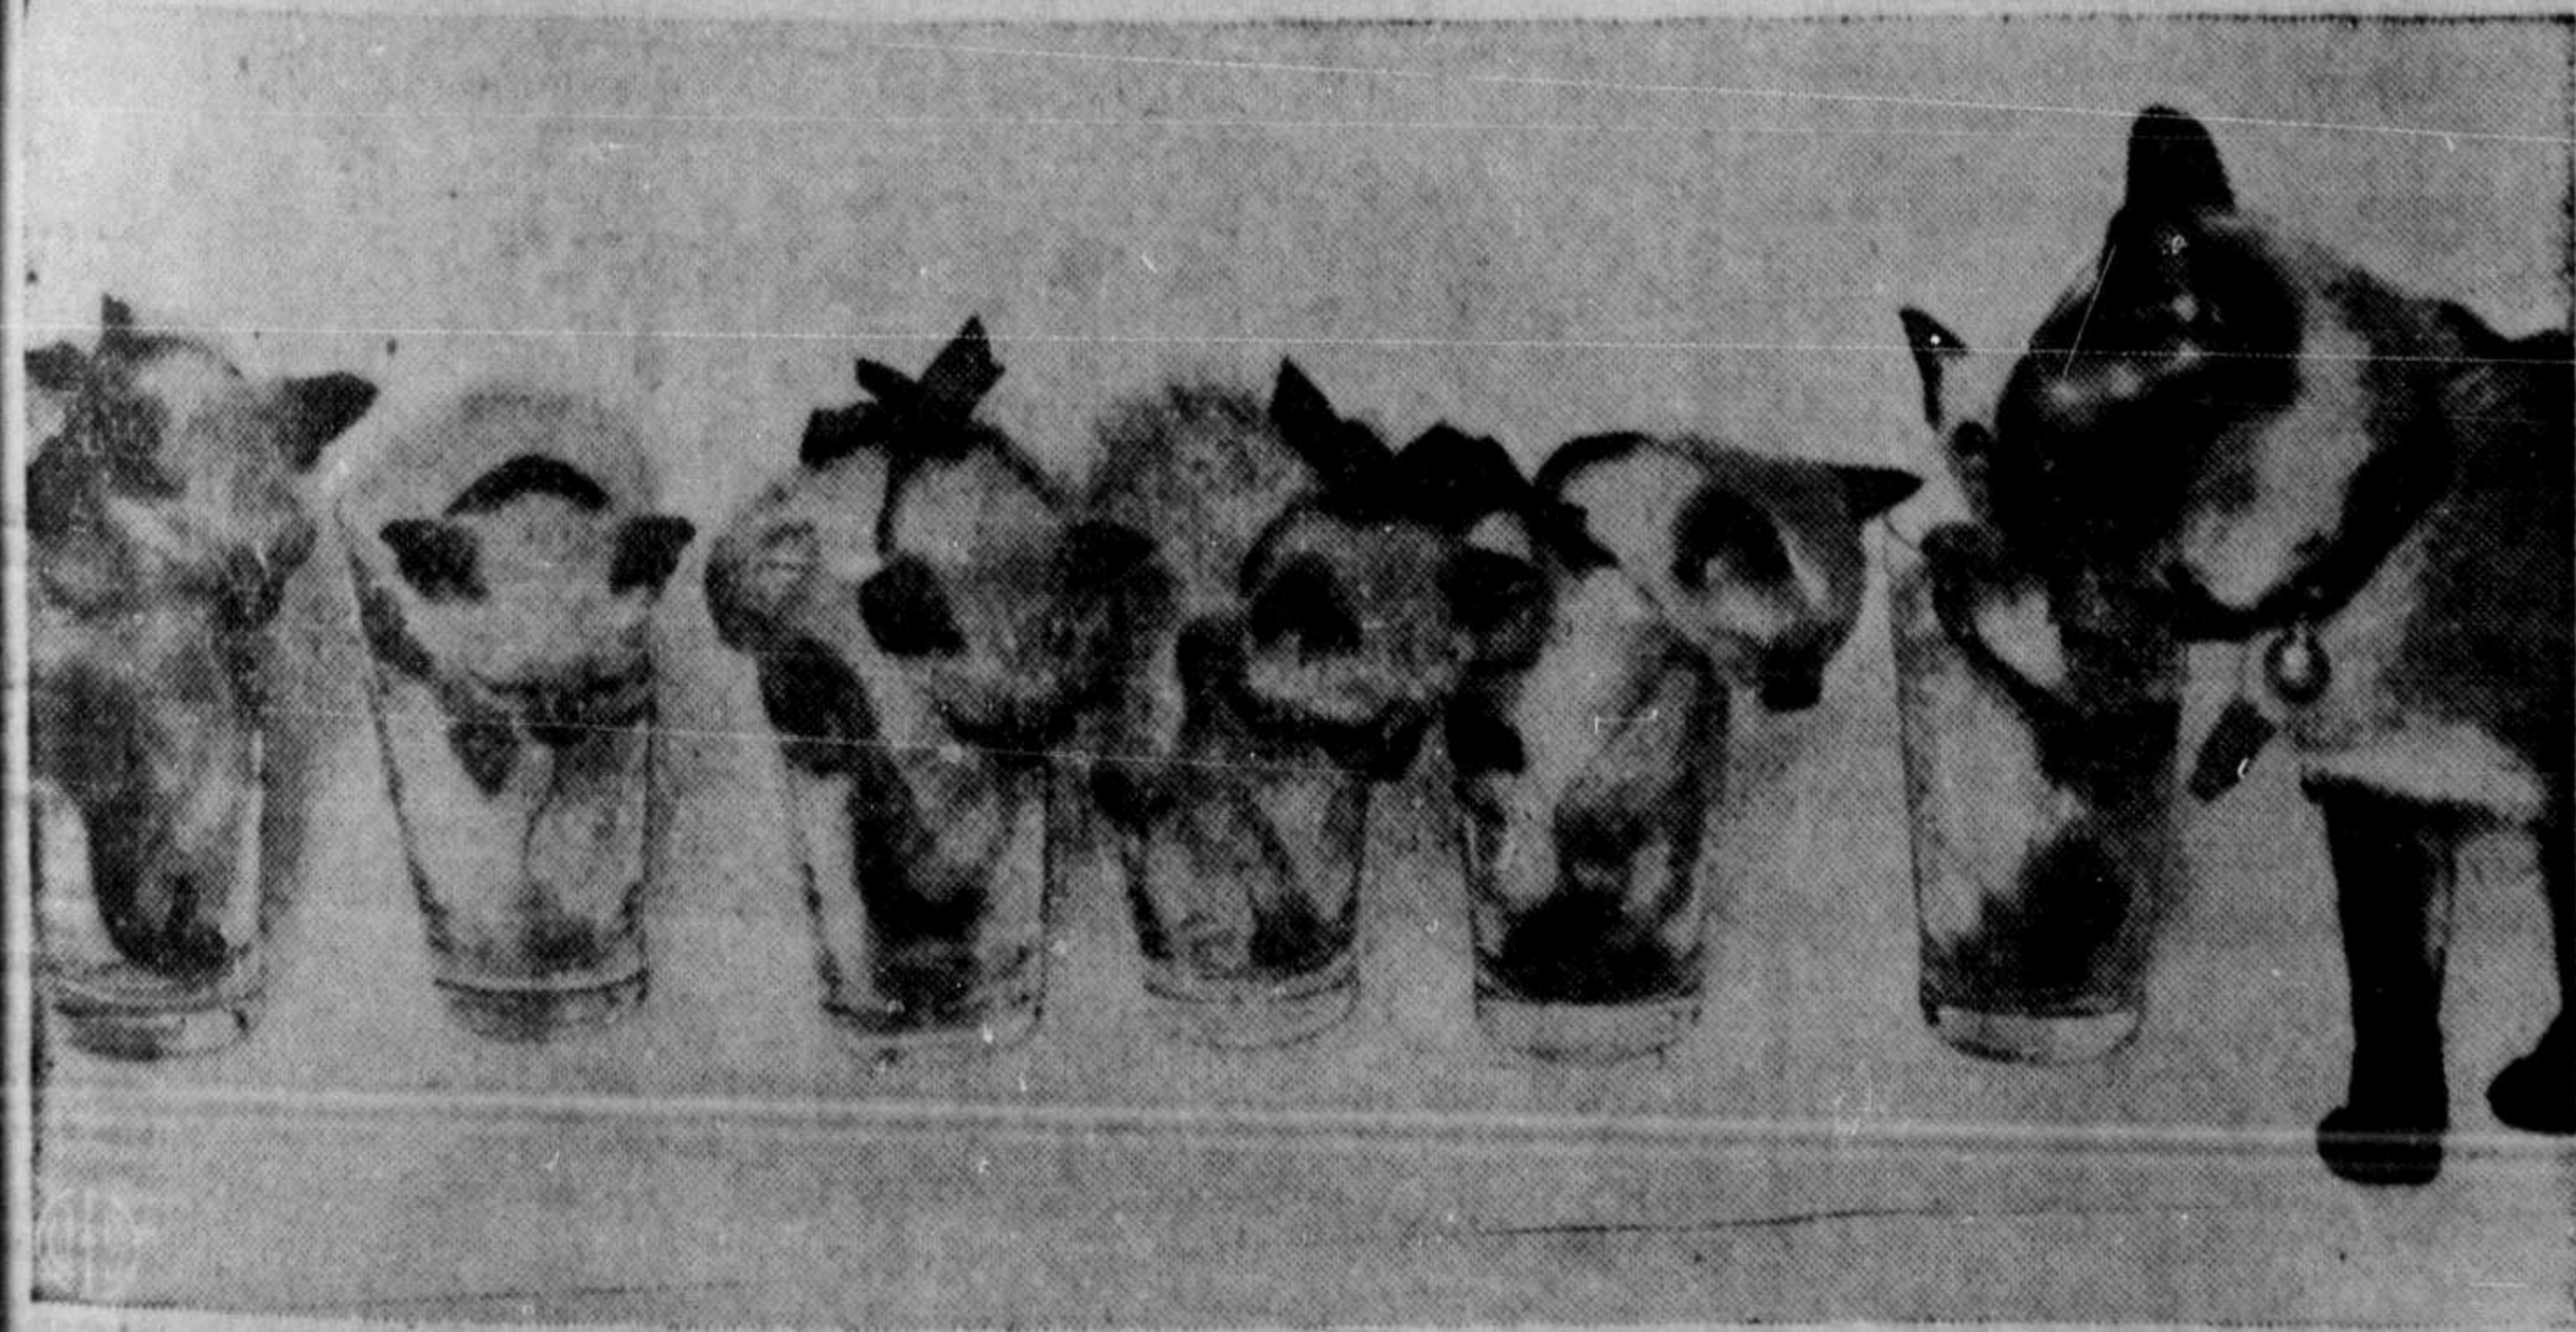

Fortunately, the first thing seen by most geese is their ma or pa. Otherwise, things would come to a pretty pass.

The "best friend" in this case is Bu'ch, a rust-and-white cocker spaniel, which leaped from a 15-foot balcony in a vain attempt to keep Chuckie McDonnell of Denver from running in the path of a moving car. Credit Bureau Keeps Score on Payments

"People make their own credit ratings by the way they handle their financial affairs," Catherine Murre, secretary-treasurer of the Credit Bureau of Prince Rupert, said today.

A charge account is a wonder-thing—it can be both a blessing and a burden. But it is wise to have one, if only to establish credit.

Mrs. Laurie said citizens should not worry about opening charge accounts. "Prince Rupert stores have charge accounts and a process of acquiring one isn't complicated.

Naturally you expect your references and your past credit record will be investigated. That's why the Retail Credit Grantors Association comes in. This Association has been aiding customers and merchants in opening up new accounts for about four years. It is affiliated with the Associated Credit Bureaus of Canada, the National Retail Credit Association and the Retail Credit Grantors Association of Canada. Locally, there are about 150 merchants doing credit business on a consumer-retail level.

NO GUARANTEE
You make your own credit record at a store. The merchant is particularly interested in how much you are worth—his interest is in how you pay your bills. The interview at the time of a charge account—there is no need to worry about it.

A few routine questions will be asked primarily to identify you and to conform with the individual credit policy of each store. Some time during the processing of your account, the merchant will check through the Association's clearing house, the Credit Bureau, to get confirmation of the facts and references you gave during the interview.

"When a merchant extends credit, the action generally is based on two important principles—first, the customer's character and secondly his or her ability to pay. In the final analysis, it is the credit applicant himself who by his past credit experience sets the stage for whatever happens on a new request.

STORES CHECK BACK
If you are shopping out of town and want to charge something, you can be sure that the references you gave in the application will be checked back through the Credit Bureau here. If your record shows that you pay your accounts 'as agreed,' then the merchandise will be shipped to you and the merchant will have no worries because he knows you pay your accounts promptly.

BUREAU FILES
The Credit Bureau has many good sources for finding out all about you. For one thing, they scan the daily paper for all public records and note marriages, divorces, births, deaths, lawsuits, arrests, convictions and all pertinent newspaper items. If you have been singled out for public acclaim, that will be noted on your report as will an arrest for speeding or drunken driving.

"The heart and core of the Credit Bureau, however, is the ledger information given to it by members of the Retail Credit Grantors Association. If the Blank Store sells you that radio or furniture, the Credit Bureau will keep a regular check on the store to find out how and when you are meeting your payments."

IODE Chapter Organizing Country Fair
The Duchess of Edinburgh Chapter of the IODE is organizing a "country fair" to be held at the Armories on Labor Day. This will include exhibitions of flowers, fruits and vegetables, together with home-made pies and preserves and home-baking. Prizes will be given for various classes and all are invited to enter.

A schedule of classes and details of how to enter will be announced in about two weeks. There will be a small entry fee for each class, and exhibitors will be able to reclaim their exhibits after the show if they wish.

Many exhibits which are donated will be auctioned off during the evening and funds so raised will be used for IODE charities. After the auction and prize-giving, there will be an impromptu dance or hoe-down to end off the day.

Admission tickets will admit the holder as often as he wishes during the day. It is also hoped to arrange a baby show during the afternoon.

Only five harps were imported into Canada in 1951, compared with nine the previous year.

Child's Shoes Should Have Leather Tops

By ELENORE LESTER
Today's little girls are mighty lucky.

There was a time when everything pretty wasn't "good for little girls" and when everything "good for little girls" was plain and clumsy. Today this contradiction is outmoded.

This is true of shoes, which now come in delectable multi-colored and solid colored summery pastel shades in glazed kid leather. There are also suede pumps with gay embroidery and shell pumps in light shades—and all are designed to be kind to young and growing feet.

Sis will make a bee-line for the prettiest shoes in the store. But Mother has to make sure that the shoes are good for her youngster's feet. Here are some rules to follow:

1. Make sure your child's all-day shoes are leather top and bottom. Sneakers and rubber-soled shoes are fine for short play periods, but sneakers do not provide enough support and rubber bottoms may irritate the skin when used for prolonged periods. The pores in leather allow the foot to "breathe" in summer and provide proper support without binding.
2. Never buy shoes for a child without a fitting. The size can change in a matter of weeks.
3. Avoid loafer shoes for young children, except for very occasional wear, since they do not give enough support through the instep. The muscles of the instep do not develop real strength before the age of 12.
4. Take your time examining shoes when you buy them. A little thought at the time of purchase may save your child much discomfort.

ELEVEN-YEAR-OLD Darlene Hackel of Waukesha, Wis., feeds one of her four adopted pet rabbits with an eye dropper, as the other three wait patiently for their turns. The bunnies were found on a Waukesha street after their mother left them. There were five in the original group but one died. The Hackel family has been taking good care of the rest.

Guides Have Busy Time Here During Past Twelve Months

Guiding has made tremendous strides in Prince Rupert's Second Guide Company under the able leadership of Mrs. D. F. Baldwin, Captain of the Company. The first Gold Cord Guide in the city, Jean Golds, is a member of this company. She received her cords from Commissioner Silversides June 25.

This company now has 26 enrolled Guides, who have been kept busy working on badges for First and Second Class Guides and for proficiency badges. There is at present one First Class Guide, Jean Golds, and six second class Guides, Judy Lloyd, Anne Eyoifson, Heather Stevens, Anna Colussi, Shannon Pellant and Shirley Kurdziel.

Hill 60 branch of the IODE gave their colors to the Conrad Guide Company and these were dedicated at a beautiful service at St. Peter's Church by Rev. J. S. Twining.

The Guides participated in helping to form the Guard of honor during the Governor-General's visit here in October, and also took part in the parade on Armistice Day.

LIGHTER MOMENTS
Life in this company has its lighter moments too. A masquerade Halloween party was held, to which all other local Guides were invited. On learning of Mrs. Duncan Black's departure from town, they held a surprise party for their former leader.

Hiking is a great favorite with the girls and by the time their meal is cooked, often without utensils over a trench, crane or trapper's fire their appetites are keen and do justice to their cooking. On a hike of this nature tests are held for fires and tracking and trail marking.

Cookie week is a busy time for Conrad Guides, testing out the business initiative of the Guides. The Thinking day service held his year in the Civic Centre auditorium was a beautiful service.

THREE CHURCH PARADES
There were three church parades during the year, the last one at Queen Elizabeth's special request, prior to her Coronation.

In order to win the Coronation badge the Conrad Company conducted their efforts on cleaning and painting at the Museum.

Throughout the year, six enrolments were held when 13 girls were enrolled, and thereafter were able to wear their Guide uniforms. One of these enrolments took place at "Camp Peg Leg" instead of the school.

This camp had been held in Mrs. Gold's garden when five girls tented three week-ends, under canvas, and won their pioneer badge. There were also four "Walk Ups" when nine Brownies came into Guides and one "Flying Up" ceremony when one Brownie flew up to Guides.

Court of Honor, composed of the captain, company leader and patrol leaders met regularly to direct the course of the company's program.

Timely RECIPES

The easiest way to end "salad same-ness," is to make a collection of the new salad recipes being published by food editors these days.

Here are several salmon salad recipes you will want to clip and keep. Salmon is one of those wholesome nutritive key ingredients that gives a salad real "body" and what could be easier than just opening a can of that appetizing, colorful salmon that is so much a favorite of Canadians everywhere.

HURRY-UP SALMON SALAD BOWL

1 bunch watercress
1 head crisp lettuce
3 tender green onions
1 medium size cucumber
1 lb. can red salmon
Sharp French dressing.

Break the watercress and lettuce into pieces and place in salad bowl. Add sliced green onion, cucumber and the salmon, broken in large flakes. Add the French dressing and toss lightly. Six servings.

HEARTY PICNIC SALAD BOWL

2 cups (1 lb.) canned salmon
1 cup sliced celery
1½ cups cubed, cooked potatoes
½ cup sweet pickle relish
½ tsp. salt, dash of pepper
1 tsp. horse-radish
1 tsp. scraped onion
1½ cups well seasoned, cooked salad dressing.
Cucumber, radishes, dill pickles, tomatoes, lemon wedges, crisp lettuce.

Break the salmon into large pieces and combine with the other ingredients in the order given. Line your salad bowl with crisp lettuce leaves and endive or Romaine. Fill with salmon mixture and garnish around edge with sliced radishes, slivers of dill pickle, sliced cucumber, tomato and lemon wedges.

GRAPEFRUIT AND SALMON SALAD

1 lb. can salmon
2 cups grapefruit pulp
1 cup diced cucumber
1 cup chopped celery
French dressing
Lettuce.

Separate grapefruit pulp from all membrane and cut in pieces. Mix with salmon, diced cucumber and celery. Top with slightly sweetened French dressing. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise. Serves six.

Airlines Getting Bigger, Better, Faster Each Year

By BOB JOYCE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (P)—The world's scheduled airlines are growing bigger, better and faster every year.

A report on civil aviation in 1952 by Dr. Edward Warner, president of the International Civil Aviation Organization's council, shows that civilian airlines flew farther, carried more passengers and cargo, and touched higher speeds in 1952 than ever before.

The report, and appraisal of progress made in civil aviation since 1944, was published in the current issue of the ICAO Bulletin.

During 1952, despite an oil strike in the spring which curtailed airline operations in North America, scheduled airlines carried 13 per cent more passengers and flew five per cent more freight-miles than in 1951.

The passenger movement alone was equivalent to transporting the population of Greater London or Greater New York from Montreal to Europe.

Last year airlines carried 2½ times as many passengers and five times as much freight as in 1946. In 1937 freight operations were so negligible that no accurate figures are available, but the number of passengers today is 17 times as great as then.

Dr. Warner, exploring the reasons for the increase in traffic, listed improved equipment, better navigation aids and operating methods, all of which contributed to regularity, increase in speed and in economy.

Today in the United States one of every three persons travelling more than 120 miles by paid transport goes by air, and airline passenger-mileage is 20 per cent higher than that of Pullman rail service. In 1946 it was only one-third the Pullman mileage.

Elsewhere in the underdeveloped areas the airplane, the report says, has opened new ways in world trade, permitting goods to move where slowness, hazard, cost, or sheer awkwardness of transport in the past virtually prohibited their shipment.

Keep Cool With Consommé

MBER, clear, jellied consommé. What could be cooler, more refreshing on a sweltering day!

This is the dish to keep every day for summer eating. Store several cans of consommé in your refrigerator. Then it will be completely chilled and jellied when you arrive. It takes about an hour to jell in the refrigerator. Consommé is to chill at breakfast time; then it's just right for lunch.

Enjoy it with a bacon-tomato sandwich. Or with a vegetable and cheese salad. Crisp crackers are always good nibbling with consommé.

Lemon is traditional topping for chilled speciality. Or a slice of lemon adds a new tradition. There are many other crispy tidbits to sprinkle over or stir into the consommé. Also it combines well with other juices. You'll like the following variations.

CONSUMME COOLERS
Consommé with Sour Cream and Olives: Chill a can (1½ cups) condensed consommé in refrigerator at least 4 hours so it is jellied. Spoon consommé into chilled bowls. Top with combination of sour cream mixed with chopped chives.

Fruit Consommé: Combine 1 can (1½ cups) condensed consommé with ½ cup orange juice and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Chill in refrigerator at least 4 hours. Spoon into chilled bowls. Garnish with grated orange rind, 3 servings.

Hawaiian Consommé: Mix together 1 can (1½ cups) condensed consommé, ½ cup pineapple juice, and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Chill in refrigerator at least 4 hours. Spoon into chilled bowls. Garnish with pieces of canned pineapple, if desired. 3 servings.

SOUP SCOOPS
Beans Are Picnic Special: A picnic is only complete with beans and pork, especially when prepared this way. Put 2 cans of beans into a 1-quart casserole. Cut 1 large tomato into 6 slices; arrange these over top of beans. Lay short strips of bacon over tomatoes. Bake casserole at 400°F. about 20 minutes or until bacon is browned. 6 servings. Just the thing with toasted frank's and cold tea.

Big Guns of G & A Clobber Hotelmen

Unleashing their big guns in the fourth and fifth innings, Gordon & Anderson clobbered a luckless Commercial squad 6-1 in a scheduled Prince Rupert Senior Baseball League game at Roosevelt Park last night.

Fancy base stealing played an important role in the hardwaremen's win, with Endridge stealing third base after hitting safely and being sacrificed to second by Christensen in the third inning. Jerry Ford rapped a ball down the third-base line to score Endridge.

Commercial tied up the game in the bottom of the third when B. Simundsen singled and went to second on a passed ball. After Pavlikis and Gunn both flied out, M. Simundsen singled to drive in his brother.

Don Scherk began the G&A rally with a single to deep center. Sid Scherk sacrificed his brother to second with a well-placed bunt and Young blasted one past Commercial's third-sacker to score D. Scherk. Andy Marshall poked out a long single, made second on the throw-in, stole third and stole home. In the mild rhubarb which followed, plate umpire Joe Letourneau ruled that Gordy Cameron had committed a balk.

Two B.C. Men Given Berths On Cup Team

By GEORGE FRAJKO
MONTREAL (C)—Two veterans and two newcomers have been picked to represent Canada in the first round of the North American zone Davis Cup tennis tie here July 17-19.

The team:
Lorne Main, 22, Toronto and Vancouver; Henri Rochon, 29, Montreal; Paul Willey, 22, Vancouver, and Bob Bedard, 21, Sherbrooke, Que.

They were picked by the Davis Cup selection committee of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association to play against a three-man Mexican team in the opening round of the international tournament.

Main and Rochon are veterans of Davis Cup play. The Mexican team, defeated by Canada 5-0 last year, will be headed by Mario Llamas. He will be accompanied by Rafael Ortega and Pancho Contreras.

Canada's selection committee was under the chairmanship of Dr. Georges Leclerc, non-playing Davis Cup captain.

Golfers From All Over World Entered in Tam O'Shanter

Only a last minute entry from Mars could increase the geographic spread of locations from which entrants are scheduled to participate in the world championship of golf at Tam O'Shanter Country Club this year, according to George S. May, sponsor of the event.

With six weeks yet to go before the Aug. 6 tee-off and more than a month remaining before the July 24 closing date for entries, every continent has already produced an aspirant toward goldfom's global crown.

Norman van Nida, Australia, has signified he will make his fourth try for top honors. Hassan Hassanain, Egypt, will make his second attempt to take the big prize back to the land of the Nile. Yoshiro Hayashi, Japan, will again be an Asiatic representative.

From South America, in addition of Roberto de Vienzo, who took a third place share of the prize money back to Argentina last year, will come his countryman, Antonio Cerda, this year's Argentine PGA champ, and Paul Posse, who hails from the other side of the Andes Mountains, in Colombia.

EUROPEAN GOLFERS

The European continent will include Ronald Blackett, Austria; Arthur de Vulder, Belgium; Carl Poulsen, Denmark; Albert Pelissier, France; Hector Thomson, Scotland; Arne Werckell, Sweden; also Ugo Grapponi, back from Italy for a second try, and G. P. De Wit in a third effort to give Holland a king—of golfers, that is.

From another "down under" country, Alex Murray of New Zealand completes the list of foreign entries received to date.

George Bessner, Germany, and Angel Miguel, Spain, have been named as representatives of their respective countries but have not yet completed entry blank formalities. South Africa and Mexico have indicated took the next three Commercial batters down in order.

In the bottom of the fifth, with two down, G&A's third-baseman D. Hartwig stepped up and homered. M. Sunberg slapped a sharp drive over pitcher Cameron's head and Don Scherk bounced a sizzling ball over the shortstop advancing Sunberg to third. Sunberg stole home and Sid Scherk singled to score brother Don.

Christensen was momentarily in trouble in the sixth when he walked Maurice Scott, but Scott, who had gone to second on a passed ball, was thrown out before he could do further damage. Christensen walked B. Simundsen but Nick Pavlikis hit into a double play to end the threat.

Winning pitcher was Freddy Christensen who struck out five and gave up two free passes. Cameron, the loser, fanned four and walked none. There was one double play from Sunberg to Ford to S. Scherk. Commercial's left one man stranded while Gordon & Anderson left four runners adrift. Commercial's reach Christensen for only three hits while G&A combed Cameron for nine.

Joe Letourneau called the balls and strikes and Dido Gurwich worked first base. Gordon & Anderson take the field again tomorrow night at 6:45 when they meet Esquires.

their intention to send entrants yet to be named for the world professional competition.

Margaret (Wiffi) Smith, of Guadalarjara, Mexico, recent winner of the amateur women's crown in the Mexican Open, is the first officially entered aspirant to the world title in that classification.

For the all-American events the preceding week, more than 75 entries are already in, the list comprising a virtual "Who's Who" of American golfdom.

Such perennial sub-par shooters as Lawson Little, Freddie Haas, Sam Snead, Skip Alexander, Jim Ferries, Pete Cooper, Chick Harbert, Shelley Mayfield, Earl Stewart, Chandler Harper, John Barnum and Tam O'Shanter's own representative in professional competition, Lloyd Mangrum, are among the early entrants.

The large number of lesser-known professionals who have sent in entries, most of whom will have to play a qualifying round to earn a place in the big event, provides more than the usual chance that an "unknown" might capture the $3,420 prize for the all-American winner or even goldfom's biggest award, the $25,000 that goes to the world champion.

All players will be required to wear numbers as a condition of entering so the public can always know who they are seeing

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Across the street an electric sign blared the magic name "Jack Dempsey's" in bold orange letters. Out-of-townners stopped in front of the door, hoping to steal a look at the old mauler, who probably was refereeing a wrestling show in Tacoma, Toronto or Timbuctoo.

On the other side of Broadway, a few oldtimers of the fight mob talked about the old days. "The good old days" was the way they said it.

"I hear Mickey Walker wrote a book," somebody said. "Did you read it yet?" The other fellow said he hadn't. The other fellow happened to be Walter Friedman, also known as "Goodtime Charlie," who was around in the gay days when the Mick and Doc Kearns were cutting a wide path through the 1920s. He didn't need to read any book about Walker.

"How about the time you and him went to London?" another said.

"If you know fight managers it didn't take long to get the story. If there is anything they like to talk about, even more than their new 'tiger' with bare fangs and a knockout in each hand, it's the old days. 'We were over there to fight Tommy Milligan,' he started.

Seattle Jumps Back to First Place

Seattle vaulted back into first place in the Pacific Coast League standing, moving ahead two full games as it won a doubleheader Tuesday night from Oakland, 4-2 and 7-3, while Hollywood dropped to second place by blowing a doubleheader at San Diego where the Padres won 3-2 and 7-6.

Third place Los Angeles bowed to Portland which moved to within two games of the Angels in the standings.

The Ports came out of it with a 3-1 victory.

Sacramento pitcher Marino Pieretti put on a display of temper as he was batted out of the box in the third innings by San Francisco and threw the ball over the press box. He had been rapped for four runs in the second inning and was being hit hard in the third when he threw the ball away. He said later he lost his head. Sacramento lost the ball game 9-5.

Mulloy Raps Sportsmanship Of British

MIAMI (AP)—Gardner Mulloy, No. 1 United States tennis player, says the British "talk about sportsmanship until they believe it themselves, but don't practice what they preach."

"All one hears over here is what great sportsmen the British are," Mulloy said Monday in a by-lined article sent to the Miami Daily News from London. "Well, I've got news for you; the English are no better sports than the spectators in other countries, and, in my opinion worse than some. I've seen them all."

Mulloy reported that he was "suing several English newspapers for defamation of character, slander and libel" in connection with their coverage of his defeat in the Queen's Club championships June 18.

Mulloy threw a racket after he was defeated by George Worthington, a New Zealander. He said the press "alleged that I threw my racket at a linesman" and added that such a statement "couldn't be further from the truth."

Bums Set Homer Record; Browns Take 20th Loss

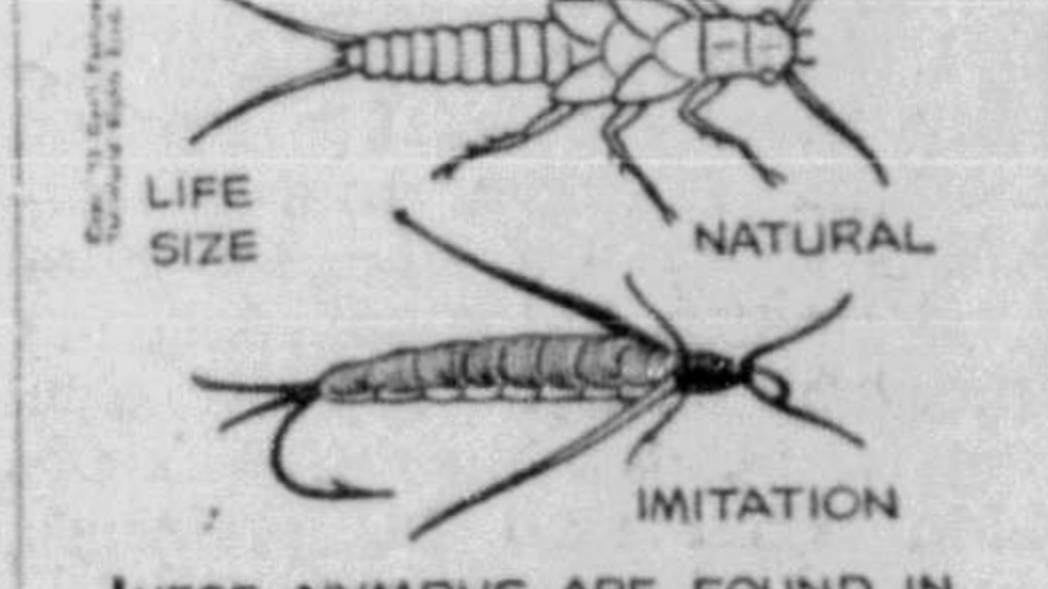

Brooklyn Dodgers have unlimbered their home-run artillery. They hit for the circuit six times Tuesday in winning a pair from Pittsburgh 5-4 and 9-5 and set a National League record of blasting at least one out of the park in 21 consecutive games.

Twin triumphs edged Dodgers 2½ games ahead of the second place Milwaukee Braves who won a single encounter from Chicago 4-1.

St. Louis Cardinals outlasted Cincinnati 7-6 and the suddenly-improved New York Giants won twice from Philadelphia.

Philadelphia Athletics broke an eight-game losing streak with 5-4 decision over New York Yankees.
Yanks' two nearest pursuers both profited. Second-place Cleveland moved within 5½ games by handing St. Louis Browns their 20th straight home defeat to set a major league record. The score was 6-3 with Browns making five errors in last two innings. Chicago used a pair of Detroit miscues to score in the ninth inning and nip Tigers 3-2.
Skinny Brown of Boston Red Sox pitched the day's only shut-out with Washington Senators as his four-hit victims, 2-0.

Export of Canadian Asbestos Fibre Hinges on 'Goodwill' of Industry

OTTAWA (CP)—Nearly 70 per cent of the world's asbestos fibre is produced in Canada and exports in the next few years will hinge largely on the "goodwill" of the industry.

The latest issue of Foreign Trade, published by the government's trade department, says it is a credit to the industry and important for future dealings that Canadian mines have kept prices at "reasonable" levels.

Asbestos fibres have been scarce in recent years. Foreign Trade says Canadian mines could have obtained three or four times the prices charged.

Exports of asbestos fibre in 1951 totalled 942,000 tons valued at more than $80,000,000. In 1939 production was 374,000 tons. But as a consumer, Canada ranks low—less than five per cent of the asbestos produced is used here.

Two factors have boosted foreign demand: Industrial uses have grown and new uses have developed, such as the evolution of asbestos friction materials. Major uses for asbestos are in building, moulded automotive parts, papers and cloth.

The United States buys 75 per cent of the asbestos from Canada's seven producing companies, five of which are subsidiaries of American or British firms. Asbestos enters the U.S. duty-free and supplies a large manufacturing group which in 1951 turned out some $450,000,000 worth of asbestos products.

As asbestos deposits are found elsewhere in the world, Canadian producers will likely face increased competition. A continuing market would seem to be assured in the U.S. but sales competition is likely to become keener in Europe. Here transport charges would be significant.

Canada's exports of manufactured asbestos goods had a value of $1,500,000 in 1951 and included brake-linings and packings. Half these exports went to the U.S. Other markets included the British West Indies, South America, Europe and the Middle and Far East.

At the same time, Canada imported $3,400,000 worth of manufactured asbestos products, all from the U.S. Manufacture of asbestos products in Canada is largely limited to Canadian requirements.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Mr. Heinsite's Criticism Isn't Always "Constructive"

As soon as a hand is played, Mr. Heinsite whips into his analysis, usually pointing out something his partner should have done to get a better result on the deal.

Often these criticisms go unchallenged—especially when the partner is Mr. Meek or Mr. Abel. Mr. Meek hates an argument and is eager to get on to the next hand. Mr. Abel doesn't think as fast as Mr. Heinsite and often fails to see the flaw in the latter's remarks.

With Mr. Champion, it's different. He loves an argument. And he thinks even faster than Mr. Heinsite. It is foolhardy indeed to criticize Mr. Champion's bidding or play.

In today's hand Mr. Abel led the king of spades. Mr. Heinsite overtook with the ace and returned the trick. Mr. Champion played the seven and Mr. Abel won with the 10. He led back the queen, dummy ruffed with the nine of hearts and Mr. Heinsite overruled with the jack.

Mr. Heinsite shifted to the deuce of diamonds. Mr. Champion had to find a way to prevent the loss of a club trick.

He won the fourth trick with the king of diamonds. He cashed the ace and king of trumps. Next he led to the ace of diamonds, returned a diamond and ruffed it. Now he led the rest of his hearts.

On the last heart Mr. Heinsite was squeezed. Dummy's last three cards were the eight of diamonds and the king-nine of clubs. Mr. Heinsite had to play the 10th trick holding the jack of diamonds and three clubs to the queen. Obviously he had to lead his diamond, so he let go a club. Mr. Champion ten led the king of clubs, back to his ace, and the four of clubs won the last trick.

"If you'd returned the deuce of spades at trick three, Abel," said Mr. Heinsite, "that would have told me to return a club and a club return would have killed the squeeze."

Mr. Abel was silent but Mr. Champion was not.

"Don't be silly, Heinsite," he said. "If you lead a club at trick four I win with the ace and cash four hearts, leaving in dummy four diamonds and the king of clubs. What would you hold for your last five cards?"

"Three diamonds and two clubs," answered Mr. Heinsite, uncertainly.

"All right. Then I play king and ace of diamonds and trump a diamond. Dummy's eight of diamonds would then be good and I could get to it with the king of clubs."
"I don't mind your analyses—but try to be right once in a while."

SCREEN ★ FLASHES

A page from the Penrod stories of Booth Tarkington comes to Technicolor life in Warner Bros. musical, "By the Light of the Silvery Moon," which opens Thursday at the Totem Theatre. Popular song stars Doris Day and Gordon MacRae play the leads in the song-filled adaptation of the warm and humorous stories of a typical, small-town American family.

Doris Day, the girl whose career literally started with an accident when she learned to sing while recovering from a severe leg injury, is cast as the big sister whose romantic entanglement with the boy next door, Gordon MacRae, leads to some humorous episodes.

Songs which are blended into the screenplay include "If You Were the Only Girl in the World," "Ain't We Got Fun," "Your Eyes Have Told Me so" and "By the Light of the Silvery Moon."
