Obey the Traffic Laws

SOME 1,800 school children will begin their summer vacation here today and once again it is important that motorists heed traffic regulations. Let's make sure the youngsters are protected.

In particular, motorists should pay stricter attention to pedestrians crossing streets in crosswalks. The crosswalks were marked out for a reason.

Many motorists seem to be of the opinion that they have the right-of-way and even honk their horns at citizens crossing the streets, forcing them to run for their lives.

Remember, children are not as cautious as the grown-ups and may not step back when indignant motorists decide to honk their horns and continue along the street.

No motorist need to be in such a hurry. The speed limit on Second and Third avenues is 20 miles per hour, and a second, one way or another, taken to save a life is well worth while.

Yet at least two motorists travelling along Third Avenue yesterday afternoon—one a taxi, the other a small truck—forced pedestrians to step lively in order to save their lives. On both occasions the pedestrians were in clear view of the autoists and were crossing the street in crosswalks.

Let's stop this sort of road "courtesy." Let's not kill or cripple someone because we don't obey the traffic rules.

As I See It

BY

Elmore Philpott

• Welcome Big Converts

REGULAR READERS are aware that for years back I have hammered away in this column for an entirely new kind of trade deal with Britain.

I even ran as an independent in a 1949 by-election to focus attention on the plan. I spoke about it at many factory-gate meetings, at country crossroads, street corners, by loud speaker.

But it did not get maximum attention until Rt. Hon. Harold Wilson praised the plan in the British House of Commons—and had the unusual experience of having his speech commended not only by his own Labor associates but also by the Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden.

THIS IS preliminary to shouts of joy that the leaders of two Canadian political parties have signified their intention of doing whatever they can to help remove the snags to Canadian exports to Britain.

Hon. George Drew said at Guelph: "Our program will include bold and constructive steps to break the dollar-pound barrier and regain our vital British and Commonwealth markets." Mr. Coldwell, at Melfort, Saskatchewan, pointed out that "agricultural sales to the U.K. had dropped 30 per cent from 1949 to 1952." The CCF leader also promised energetic but unspecified steps to restore this lost trade.

IT IS of course quite unfair to Liberals to suggest that they are not as anxious as anybody else to regain our lost markets in Britain.

For instance, the Hon. Jimmy Sinclair not long ago succeeded in selling no less than 200,000 cases of B.C. salmon to Britain. Also, it will take more than good election speeches to remove the obstacles. Surely the whole country will await with keen interest word from George Drew specifying just what are those "bold and constructive steps." Let's all know about them, now.

HERE are some real snags:
1. The British government, even under Churchill's Conservatives, will not permit its citizens to buy foods, or other neutral products, wherever they choose. All import trade must fit into an overall government plan.

2. Because Britain buys from dollar countries far more than

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

Albert's Ottawa oasis, the preferred meeting place of Parliamentarians seeking liquid refreshments, is a warm spot these days. It isn't just the June heat wave, which the air-conditioning system takes care of fairly efficiently. It's rather the heat of political argument, for which no cooling device can be found.

Albert, whose temperament is philosophical, likes the argument to remain on an intellectual plane, with the niceties of dignity and decorum duly preserved. He believes firmly in the old saying that every question has at least two sides. He'll sit attentive and approving so long as the conversation debates the merits of public issues. But when it sinks to abuse and quarrelsomeness he becomes uncomfortable and restive.

No so Artie, his waiter. Under Artie's correct if nondescript appearance a mischievously subversive trait lurks. His manner rarely betrays his feelings. But he's really bored and a bit depressed by police argument. But at any display of elemental spirits he immediately perks up.

Hence Artie wasn't sharing Alberta's satisfaction in hearing two Liberal MPs agree that it would be in the public interest if the St. Laurent government lost a few seats—but not too many—in this election.

"A smaller majority would keep the government right on its toes," one Liberal MP said.

The other agreed and added: "We got too many seats in 1949; our majority has enabled the government to steamroller the Opposition, all right. The only trouble is that it has steamrollered its own private members in the process."

On Albert's listening ear the conversation struck a correct note. It wasn't narrowly partisan but broad and tolerant. It generously conceded that upon the Opposition party an important mission rested. Albert had little difficulty in concluding that the two Liberals had real statesmanship in their make-up.

But in Artie, the cynical conformist, such talk inspired only mild contempt and real cynicism. "Then perhaps we won't be seeing you two gents in the next Parliament," he intervened briskly.

"What d'ya mean?" they both demanded instantly and suspiciously in a single voice.

"Why," Artie returned with an innocent air. "I just thought that perhaps your two seats might be among the ones that the government would lose for its own good."

One of the Liberals fixed a withering stare upon him. "It's the seats of other Liberals we're talking about, stupid, not our own," he snarled. "Go bring us another rum Collins."

As Artie walked off to comply the muscles of his face were impassive. But for all that a ghost of a smile lurked there.

ZOOKEEPER RETIRING—ALLERGIC TO ANIMALS

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—After 17 years' service as zookeeper, George H. Roseman, 71, is retiring—he is allergic to animals.

At least that is what the doctor says. Roseman isn't too sure. All he knows is that he chokes up when he gets near Rosie, the elephant. Roseman was about ready to retire anyway, so he doesn't bear any malice toward Rosie for putting the wheeze on him.

Prince Rupert will be well represented in Calgary during Stampede Week. For that matter, this will be true of a lot of western Canada. And right now is the time to salute Prince Rupert's talented young ladies who have so distinguished themselves in distant fields and who are about to win more plaudits, this time in southern Alberta's metropolis.

An 11-year-old girl has a brand new bike today because she worked hard at a contest for a whole month and finally emerged the winner for the week ending June 6.

She is Carole McKay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua McKay, winner of a "Freshie" contest. Diligently, she gathered enough coupons as the rules required, then answered a tie-breaker question correctly. Carole did all this without the knowledge of her parents, and when the bike came she was in school.

Mommy and daddy were greatly surprised they hadn't ordered any bike and advised the postman that the big parcel must have been misaddressed. Then Carole explained. This is her first bike and she is very proud of her accomplishment. Incidentally, so are her parents.

Highlight at the Prince Rupert General Hospital yesterday was the birth of twins to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wrathall of Miller Bay.

Allan Richard was 6½ pounds and his sister Richelle Anne weighed in at six pounds even. Mother, the former Shirley Dickie, and twins are doing fine. Father, employed at Miller Bay Hospital, is overjoyed not a bad start for a family.

A former member of the RCMP force here—Luke Briggs—is leaving for Haney this week-end where he and his brother will set up a carpentry business. Luke and his wife, Pat, and their baby are traveling by car. Luke has been working at Kitimat until recently and was known here during the war years when he was a stoker in the navy.

Mrs. Glen Lunquist and her sons—Gregory and Geoffrey—have arrived from Seattle to visit Mrs. Lunquist's parents—Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Balagano—while her husband, who is with the Boeing Aircraft, is on a business trip to Ohio.

Old friendships were renewed here last week when John Carpenter came back to Rupert to visit his mother, John, who graduated recently from the University of Edmonton and shortly will set up a doctor's practice in Salmo, B.C., also paid a visit to Smithers. It was in Smithers that John became well known as a baseball pitcher and later played for the New York Giants farm team in Texas. John had a lot of things to talk about when he met Harley Lewis, who spent one winter in Smithers catching while the lanky pitcher peppered him with balls. Alex Bill also met John during his visit and the two recalled that Rupert teams never beat Smithers while John was on the mound. While attending the Alberta University John managed a ball team. During his stay here Mitch Greene took him for a boat ride to show him the "finer points" of fishing. There were no reports of the catch.

When the Job's Daughters head for Calgary next week they'll have a case of canned salmon among their luggage. Popular Harry Robins at Nelson Brothers Fisheries has asked Alex Mitchell to present the salmon to Calgary's Mayor Don McKay... compliments of the drill team.

Bob Ellis—owner, pilot and director of the airline bearing his name, completed his annual vacation yesterday by making a quick trip to Rupert. He came by plane and left last night aboard the Prince Rupert for his home in Ketchikan.

Joanne Prockter Receives Trophy at Borden Graduation

The Miss S. A. Mills Memorial trophy, emblematic of the outstanding pupil at Borden Street School, was presented by Douglas Frizzell, on behalf of former pupils, to Joanne Prockter at the graduation exercises at Borden Street School Wednesday afternoon.

In making the presentation Mr. Frizzell said the pupils would ever remember their days at Borden Street School. Only recently he had met with some of his former classmates and they talked of their elementary school days.

He was very glad to be present and to make the presentation. He urged them all to keep up the school spirit and wished them well in high school. He was particularly happy to make the presentation to Joanne.

Mrs. A. Logan, president of the Borden Street School P-TA, presented report cards to the successful students. She was sure that they would continue their fine work in high school.

Principal J. S. Wilson referred to the school record for the year. The pupils had taken their full share in community activities, the Coronation Day parade, tagging for city organizations, and the Music and Drama Festival.

Their Junior Red Cross activity had been outstanding. With the proceeds from sales of $363.83 and self-denial donations of $93.52, a total of $457.35 would be available for Junior Red Cross work in the province, Canada and overseas.

Mr. Wilson also referred to the fine support given the school by individual parents as well as through the Parent-Teacher Association.

The school choir sang "Whoa, My Gentle Dobbin," and "Soldier, Soldier, Won't You Marry Me?" with Mrs. Gordon Calderwood accompanying, and O Canada and God Save the Queen.

Ricky Paulding gave the good wishes on behalf of the school to the graduating class and also promised that they themselves would keep up the fine name of the school and carry on the tradition. The school song and the school yell were given with the usual enthusiasm.

Pupils graduating were Willard Anderson, Robert Augier, Judy Brown, Gilbert Chow, Marilyn Curtis, Clarence Doane, Leona Mae Dominato, Shirley Eytcheson, Michael Greene.

'Late' Story Not Good Enough

MEDICINE HAT (CP)—Adam Klugg of Redcliff, Alta, had a good story to tell his wife the night he didn't get home from a party: he had been slugged and robbed of $14 by two men he picked up.

The trouble was, he explained in court Wednesday, he actually ended the night by sleeping in his car and when his wife insisted he report the robbery to police, they investigated and proved the hoax.

Famed Job's Daughters Give Colorful Display at Centre

Among the many spectators were about 100 tourists who had come to town earlier aboard the Prince Rupert enroute to Alaska. Many praised the neatness and the ability of the girls and said they were a credit to the city.

LAKE BOATS COLLIDE—One man was drowned, a grain-carrying freighter sunk and the bow of the package freighter Burlington smashed when the two Great Lakes boats collided in heavy fog on Lake Superior, 20 miles from Port Arthur, Ont. The Burlington rescued 29 crew members from the Scotiadic and limped to Fort William.

At the U.S. Naval Air Station in Maryland, a hydrofoil research craft skims over the surface of the Patuxent River during tests. The hydrofoil which can be seen both fore and aft on the craft, are "underwater wings" which support the boat in water in the same manner as an aircraft is supported in air. When sufficient speed is reached, the hull lifts from the water and the boat is entirely supported by the hydrofoils. The value of the "wings" is that it decreases water resistance and enables the craft to travel at much higher speeds and in shallow water.

Court Quashes Conviction of Taxi Driver Fined $300 on Liquor Charge

A city taxi operator won an appeal yesterday in County Court over a conviction in police court on a charge of keeping liquor for sale.

Defence Counsel Doug Hogarth told Judge W. O. Fulton that his client, Clifford Dahl should not be penalized "merely because he owns a taxi business and five bottles of liquor were found on his premises."

Judge Fulton, in quashing the conviction, also recommended that Dahl's taxi operating permit be reinstated. He had been fined $300 and his licence suspended.

Mr. Hogarth, summing up the evidence, said that police, "acting on a rumor," obtained a search warrant and entered 70 Taxi premises. There, police found in the middle of the floor, five bottles of liquor, still wrapped, which Mrs. Dahl that afternoon had purchased from the liquor store for a friend, John Seldon, a fisherman.

Seldon, however, had not shown up as he had promised to claim the liquor. In the interval, at 3 a.m., police raided the premises.

"The Crown has not produced one shred of evidence that liquor was kept for sale by Mr. Dahl, or on his premises."

"If the liquor was kept for bootlegging, it would have been hidden."

"If this conviction is upheld, police could enter any one of our homes and possibly find that much liquor there and all of us could end up here in court on a similar charge."

Mr. Hogarth cited a case in point in which it was established that one person could legally purchase liquor for another for the same price paid at the liquor store.

"I hold that the magistrate in the lower court was wrong in convicting my client."

A. Bruce Brown, appearing for the crown, said "If your honor believes the story of the defence, the no offence has been committed."

Judge Fulton said police should have checked further into liquor store records to find if accused or members of his establishment made regular purchases of liquor, and if accused was bootlegging "he couldn't have been doing a very rusing business."

"Evidence shows that liquor purchased at 5 p.m. was still wrapped the same way at 3 a.m. next morning and found in an open place. That is quite enough to make me highly doubtful of this man's guilt."

Famous EP Ranch in Alberta Foothills Reverts to Commercial Cattle Raising

PEKISKO, Alta. (CP)—The Duke of Windsor's EP ranch in the Alberta foothills, 65 miles southwest of Calgary, has gone back to commercial cattle raisings.

For 31 years after the then Prince of Wales bought the 4,000-acre ranch in 1919, it was a purebred stock farm, producing Shorthorn cattle, shropshire and Hampshire sheep, Clydesdale horses and thoroughbred running horses.

After the Duke visited the EP ranch in 1950 with the Duchess of Windsor, the property reverted to commercial cattle-raising. Its functions before the Prince bought it from Frank Beddingfield.

For years the ranch was managed by Prof. W. L. Carlyle. After his resignation it was in charge of Pat Burns agencies and later Canadian Pacific Railway's land department.

When the Prince of Wales visited Canada in 1919, he asked to see something of every type of industry. It fell to Prof. Carlyle, manager of the adjoining Bar U ranch, to play host as the Bar U was considered a worthy example of large-scale, well-organized ranching.

A BEAUTIFUL SCENE

During a long walk there was much talk of stock raising and ranch methods. It was Sept. 11 and a perfect fall day. The Prince and professor topped a high hill which commands a wonderful view of the present royal ranch. "Well," said the Prince, "I have always considered Balmoral the prettiest spot on earth but I never hope to see anything better than this."

Further conversation led to the Prince's decision to buy the farm. Prof. Carlyle resigned from the Bar U to manage the EP.

The first few importations were purebred Shorthorns from the royal farm in Cornwall. Mr. Carlyle started sheep breeding with a Shropshire foundation. These animals from the Duke of Westminster's farms did not prove well adapted to the foothills and Hampshires were substituted. About 90 per cent of the Hampshire flocks in Alberta have been developed from EP stock.

TOURIST MECCA

The ranch proved a mecca for tourists. A large picnic ground was built.

In the spring of 1950 the Duke and Duchess of Windsor visited the property and it was decided to embark on a commercial cattle venture rather than stock it again with purebred livestock.

The ranch now is partly stocked with cattle of Hereford breeding. Some purebred sheep and swine are also being raised.

Cathedral Guides Complete Busy, Successful Season

Two Members of Group to Receive First Class Badges at Rally Tonight

The First Prince Rupert Cathedral Guides have drawn to a close a busy season of activities. The company now consists of 23 enrolled Guides and two adult leaders.

Two members of the troop will receive First Class badges at a rally in Annunciation Hall tonight, where Jean Gold will also be presented with the Gold Cross, highest honor that can be bestowed upon a Guide.

The girls in the Cathedral troop have shown great enthusiasm in their undertakings which included 12 Guides entering the dancing class in the Music and Drama Festival, and four Guides entering the elocution classes.

During annual Cookie Week the company sold 312 boxes of Girl Guide cookies. They also sold tickets and acted as servers for the Guide Association tea on May 2.

As this is Coronation Year, the Guides paid special tribute to their Queen by acts of service, which included the making and filling of 80 candy baskets and the collecting of toys and books for the children of Miller by Hosmer.

The girls undertook to tidy the Cathedral grounds and plant in the garden there flowers which they had grown from seed at home.

They also help the city coronation committee by lining the route of the Coronation parade.

Shipment Of Grain Set Record

WINNIPEG (CP)—Comparative figures for the last nine years show a record winter rail movement of grain at the Fort William-Fort Arthur elevators.

The board of grain commissioners reported Wednesday that sixhead terminals and railways combined to clear 24,904 cars between Dec. 15, 1952, and April 15, 1953. This exceeds last year's total and more than doubles the winter loadings during the heavy 1944-45 year.

Wheat supplies in store and transit were recorded at 247,800,000 bushels for the week ending June 18. This compares with 233,300,000 the previous week and 235,000,000 bushels last year at this time of 207,500,000 bushels.

Country elevator stocks rose slightly during the week as farmers delivered 18,000,000 bushels compared with a shipment of 17,800,000 bushels.

Total grain stocks at the Lakehead bounced to 57,500,000 bushels during the week as car unloads exceeded shipments by 1,000,000 bushels. The previous week's total was 56,500,000 bushels.

First settlers in Pictou County, Nova Scotia, came from Philadelphia in 1767, followed by Scottish Highlanders in 1773.

the rain in torrents on that day.

Climax of their tribute came when they entered a float in the Coronation parade on June 2. The girls planned the float on their own and collected flour sacks which they bleached and sewed together to make bunting on which they displayed large copies of their Coronation Tribute badge.

One Guide showed ingenuity when faced with the problem of making all the service ribbons for the Duke's uniform. She artfully wound the appropriate colored wool around strins of cardboard and sewed them to the uniform. Then she painted some old curtain cords with gilt paint and cut from old crepe paper the admiral's stripes for her arm.

DID BEST

The girls spent many extra hours preparing the bunding for the float, making the costumes and collecting salad leaves, and making other necessary decorations.

After a busy and exciting evening June 1 when the float was assembled, the girls and their leaders went to bed tired but happy, knowing they had done their best to help make Prince Rupert's Coronation parade a huge success.

The Guides showed their appreciation to their captain and lieutenant by presenting them each with a Coronation souvenir cup and saucer.

BADGES EARNED

Several badges have been earned in recent weeks. They include three Second Class badges which were presented to Susie Kewin, Elizabeth Jones and Kathleen Gladish. These three girls also received their patrol leader's stripes and lanyards. Julie Prockter and Nancy Lund won their Pioneer badge, and Julie also qualified for her Hiker's badge. Minstrel badges were won by Susie Kewin and Elizabeth Jones, and Susie was also awarded her First Aid badge.

At a recent enrolment Jean Williams, Geraldine Snider, Judy Davis, Lynn Wrathall and Bernice Kortasari were invested as Guides and placed in their respective patrols.

A campfire followed under the leadership of Miss Ruth Thain at which time refreshments were served.

A district rally is planned for tonight, from 7 to 8:30, at Annunciation Hall, when parents and friends will see First Class badges presented to Nancy Lund and Julie Prockter. First Class badges have not been won here in Prince Rupert for many years.

A corner of the hall will be devoted to camping, where camp literature will be on display and Guides will answer questions concerning the Guide camp which is to be held at Lakelse Kinsmen Camp this summer from July 19 to July 30.

Bill Connor Wallet Search Gives up

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Bill Connor lost his wallet June 3. He placed the following advertisement in Madison newspapers, June 4:

"Lost—man's secretary. Important papers. Reward."

Several days later he worded it this way:

"Lost—man's secretary. Keep the wallet—but please send back important papers. Reward."

Still unsuccessful, on June 12 he inserted this one:

"Lost—man's secretary. Do unto others as you would have others do unto you. Reward."

Sunday's version:

"This is the third in a series of ads placed by Bill Connor, regarding his lost wallet. Keep the wallet. Keep the money. Keep the papers—in fact, forget about the whole darn thing."

The town of Ponoka in Alberta, 60 miles south of Edmonton, was named from an Indian word meaning "Red Deer."

Motors, Battery Both Short-Handed for Match

Both teams were short some of their leading players in last night's football game but the General Motors won 2-1 over the Battery.

Motors started with eight players and the Battery with nine. Then Mills came on to make the teams even numbered and shortly after scored the first goal for the Motors.

In the second half Tambourini took advantage of some slackness in the Motors defence and equalized. He also hit the crossbar. He missed a great chance to put his team ahead when a penalty was given against the Motors but he drove the ball very hard and over the bar. Silversmith saved well but from Wilson's corner kick Mills headed the second and winning goal for the Motors. Final score General Motors 2, Heavy Battery 1.

Bill Baxter refereed. Battery: Silversmith; S. Maron, A. Maron; Fabriz, Boulton, Volker Shradet, Hartnot Shradet, Tambourini, Wells.

General Motors: Bowman; Boulter, Eby; Furunes, Mills; Wilson, Eckert, Murray, Hidber.

Chatter... Silversmith kept a good goal, one save at point-blank range being the best of the game. The Maron brothers defended strongly. Boulton and Fabriz played well with both driving shots just wide. The young Shradet brothers are very promising and will develop. Tambourini, who has transferred from the C.Y.O. was the outstanding forward though his shooting was off. He was always a threat. Wells showed nice touches.

Bowman was not severely tested. Eby was very resourceful and his battles with Tambourini were a feature of the game. Boulter tried hard. Furunes and Mills were very clever and constructive. Mills got both goals. Wilson, Eckert and Murray did well.

Both teams were short of their regulars. Battery were without Dunbar, Georgeson, Gomez and Mazzoni. General Motors were without Robinson, Bishop, Sundberg and Tait.

Yanks Routed Second Time By White Sox

By BEN PHILEGAR

Associated Press Sports Writer

After watching New York Yankees blow two in a row to the hurrying Chicago White Sox about the only conclusion you can come to is that somehow the players put on the wrong uniforms.

Certainly the outfit that wore the big "NY" on their suits the last two days bears no resemblance to a world championship club. And the White Sox look every inch pennant contenders instead of third place talent.

The Sox not only have gained a 6-4 season's edge over the Yankees. They've succeeded in making the New Yorkers beat themselves. In Tuesday night's 11-3 rout the Yankees committed four errors, three in a single inning.

FAULTY PITCHING

It was faulty pitching Wednesday. Starter Jim McDonald found the plate only once in 13 pitches and was sent to the showers in the first inning with the bases loaded and nobody out.

Chicago cashed all three of those runs, plus two more in the inning, and coasted to an 8-4 victory.

So the Sox have proved that even the mighty Yankees are only human.

Cleveland came out on top in a 31-hit slugfest at Boston Wednesday, whipping the Red Sox 13-9. St. Louis scored five runs in the last two innings to edge Washington 7-6 and Detroit won its third straight 6-3 over Philadelphia.

Milwaukee Braves lost their third in a row 10-1 to Pittsburgh, but maintained their three-game league lead over Brooklyn. The Dodgers were beaten 7-4 by Cincinnati when Gus Bell homered with two on in the last of the ninth. Harry Perkowski of the Redlegs allowed only two singles and faced only 25 batters in 8 1/2 innings of sparkling relief pitching.

New York whipped St. Louis 3-0 as Sal Maie scattered eight hits and Philadelphia won its 10th game of the season from Chicago 8-2.

Jim Hegan, Dale Mitchell and Bob Avila each contributed three safeties to the 17-hit Cleveland attack. Mitchell drove in four runs as did Del Wilbur and Tom Umphlett of the Red Sox. Wilbur homered with two on in the seventh for Boston.

Home runs by Roy Sievers and Duke Rokos enabled the Browns to make it two straight over Washington.

The Tigers jumped on Charlie Bishop for four runs in the first inning including a home run by Steve Souchock. Ned Garver went all the way for his sixth victory.

The slumping Braves managed only seven hits off pint-sized rookie curve-baller Roy Face, who posted his third victory without a loss for Pittsburgh. The Pirates delivered a 15-hit attack against four Milwaukee pitchers.

The Phillies pounded Chicago pitching for a dozen hits, seven of them for extra bases while Karl Drews held the Cubs scoreless until the ninth.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GALE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It is more than likely that the dreamed-of four-minute mile could be run Friday if it were possible to bring together Wes Santee, John Landy and Roger Bannister in what some inspired historian almost certainly would tag the "mile of the century."

It is difficult to doubt that at least one of the great trio, given decent conditions, would rise to the challenge and cross the fabled sonic barrier of foot racing. We know now that it can be done and that it merely is a matter of when.

These reflections arise from the fact that Santee, the greatest miler the United States has produced, is making his last big run of the season in the national AAU meet beginning Friday at Dayton, O. Unfortunately, the two men who might force the Kansas flyer to the four-minute goal will be far away and he probably will turn in only a routine timing.

Landy, the Australian with the flowing stride, is attending classes at Melbourne University. Bannister, England's champion for the highest honor now open to a trackman, is similarly busy preparing for his medical exam.

Landy, on his record, is the fastest of the three. Last Dec. 14 in Melbourne, against the poorest of competition, he ripped off a mile in four minutes, two and one-fifth seconds. During the following month, similarly unopposed, the olive-skinned Aussie had times of 4:02.4 and 4:04.2.

Santee ran the fastest mile in American history last June 5 in an invitational meet at Compton, Calif., doing the four laps in 4:02.4 while defeating two such noted distance stars as Finland's Denis Johansson and Belgium's Gaston Reiff. The jayhawker says he fully expects to get under the magic "four."

Remember when

Maxie Rosenbloom became undisputed world's light-heavyweight champion 23 years ago tonight by outpointing Jimmy Slattery in a 15-rounder at Buffalo. The title had been thrown open by the resignation of undefeated champion Tom Loughran in 1929, and Slattery claimed the title by a win over Lou Scozza. Rosenbloom's victory over Slattery put him on top.

Willie Shoemaker Rides 13 Winners In Last Three Days at Hollywood

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Willie Shoemaker, riding 13 winners in the last three days of racing at Hollywood Park, is out to rewrite some of the turf's records.

As of today, his victories for 1953 stand at 210, ahead of the average needed to become the first jockey aboard 400 winners in a year. And it's a virtual pinch the silent shoe will become the first to ride 300 winners a year three times.

Until last year when Tony DeSpirito rode 390, Wee Willie shared the American record at 388 with Joe Culmone. Both did it in 1950. Culmone is seldom heard of, but Willie had 315 winners last year.

The flyweight Texan, born in El Paso, has been clipping along at a two-a-day average at Hollywood Park with 57 winners. At this rate he stands a solid chance of bettering Johnny Longden's 105 winners for 50 days of racing at Hollywood Park in 1948.

Shoemaker brought in four winners Wednesday.

Fight Postponed For Second Time

QUEBEC (CP)—Promoter Paul Plamondon said today a Canadian championship fight between Fernando Gagnon of Quebec and Stan Almond of Vancouver has been postponed a second time to July 1.

The 12-round bout, originally scheduled for June 22, was postponed a week when the Quebec champion pulled a leg muscle. The second postponement was made because the June 29 date conflicted with a Provincial baseball league game at the stadium where the fight will be held.

A TRIO OF ATHLETES perform a difficult balancing act on the bank of the famed River Seine which runs through the heart of Paris. The cool river waters, a portable radio, the warm weather and an afternoon off provide a holiday haven for those who cannot get away from the city for a week-end. Against a background of horns honking along nearby boulevards the river is a "beach" by sunlight and a romantic setting for lovers by moonlight.

A. J. Wirick Leaves Co-Op

VANCOUVER. — Thomas J. Robertson, president of the B.C. Co-operative Union, announced today that the resignation of the organization's secretary-treasurer has been accepted, with regret.

A. J. (Art) Wirick, well known in co-operative circles throughout the province, has served the Co-operative Union in his present capacity for more than six years. He will leave the union's employ at the end of July.

Mr. Wirick has accepted an appointment in the University of Saskatchewan's department of extension, where he will act as supervisor of adult education services. He spent several years in that province in the 1940s, working in co-operative extension and adult education posts. He assumes his new duties in August.

Military Secrets Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Somebody's security slip was showing today with publication of recent testimony about United States military secrets by army officials before a congressional committee.

Military secrets which popped into the open included information about:

● A new weapons-carrying vehicle nicknamed "The Thing" but carrying the official designation "ontos," to be used variously, including as a mount for a new "very high-powered" recoilless rifle and for a quadruple .50-calibre anti-aircraft weapon against low-flying planes.

● A plan to provide "much longer range" for the 280-millimetre cannon, which now has a 20-mile accurate range and fires either atomic or conventional shells, and a new shell, slightly smaller than the calibre of this giant cannon, expected to extend its range "by about 50 per cent."

● "Extra light tanks," two of which are under test, of a type expected eventually to replace the 28-ton Walker bulldog tank.

● A lightweight radar for battlefield use, apparently to help detect enemy attempts at infiltration of the front line, a technique much used by the Communists in the Korean war.

● A long-range radar IFF (identification, friend or foe), which could mean the identification of aircraft long before they are within range of anti-aircraft guns or guided missiles.

● A folding, portable bridge, to be carried on top of a tank as a shelter for the crew while being put in place under enemy fire.

● A steam outboard motor for small boats, to be used for quiet crossing of rivers when the noise of gasoline outboard motors would warn the enemy.

Army officials expressed amazement and appeared appalled when copies of the 1,667-page printed testimony released by the appropriations sub-committee of the House of Representatives reached the Pentagon defence headquarters.

Among the pages was information on new weapons still stamped secret by the Pentagon.

Mercy Plane Flies Polio Victim Home

VICTORIA — An American youngster stricken with polio went home Wednesday—all the way to Texas—in a mercy flight carried out by the U.S. air transport service.

Taken from Victoria to San Antonio in an air transport plane sent up from California were Lance Cheney, 20 months old, and his father, Lieut. Frank Cheney.

There was no need to worry about medical care during the long trip. The plane carried two medical officers and two flight nurses.

Lieut. Cheney is stationed at a U.S. Air Force base in Texas.

The youngster was stricken June 11 while visiting here with his mother. He was taken to hospital and when his condition became more serious his father flew here. Later he asked for a flight to take the child home to Texas.

Since stricken, Lance has improved but he is paralyzed in his leg and in one arm.

Once Gay City of Budapest Suppressed Under Red Rule

By RICHARD O'REGAN

BUDAPEST (AP)—Hungary, five years after a coup d'état brought communism to power, is a flower among Russia's dreary East European satellites, but a flower imprisoned and wilting.

Its jailers are 25,000 rarely-seen Russian troops and the all-powerful Hungarian Communist leaders who are driven in curtained black sedans.

Prisoners are more than 90 per cent of 9,000,000 Hungarians who appear to have just enough to eat.

Budapest, once queen city of Eastern Europe, today is almost as shabby and depressing as the cities of post-war Germany. Gone are the smart Paris-style salons, the sidewalk cafes of the Danube embankment and the Magyar women who gave Budapest more beauty than any city in Europe.

Suppressed, too, are Budapest's traditional gaiety, its care-free love of life.

In their place, the Communists have shuttered thousands of shops, ripped off the names of their owners and replaced them with state stores whose poor quality goods are out of reach for virtually every one but the new upper and middle classes of communism.

Hotels are deserted except for visiting Communist dignitaries. Over the entire new society, Hungarian communism has imposed the grim conformity of Bolshevik dress.

To American correspondents visiting Budapest from Vienna itself the over-crowded capital of a poor land, the Hungarian capital is depressing. But it is said to be a dreamland compared with Prague, Warsaw, Bucharest and Sofia.

It has the atmosphere of war. Truckloads of soldiers, singing in the Russian style, roar through the streets at night. Brown uniforms of the military branch of the secret police mingle with blue-clad civil police.

There is hurried construction of buildings meant to house the instruments of Communist power, but cracked streets and sidewalks remain unrepaired and unswept.

Of new developments, outstanding are the two-block square complex of the Hungarian defence ministry and the nine-storey dazzlingly white headquarters of the state police.

Albania Gives Peasants 'Break'

LONDON (AP)—Another Soviet satellite announced concessions to its population today. Albania's government, via radio Tirana, said the peasants no longer have to hand part of their harvest to the state.

The broadcast said the Red regime hopes thus to build up "a patriotic working peasantry." Albanian refugee sources in the west long have reported widespread unrest in the little Adriatic country.

Hostels Serve Thousands

LONDON —The holiday habits of thousands of all-age Britons have been reduced to fit economy into the annual wanderlust.

Intent on going as far as possible on a budget restricted by the times and currency regulations, Britons have turned to the hanks' mare and the trusty bicycle to get them around their island and Europe.

The trend has speeded steady growth of a system of hostels offering inexpensive beds and meals.

Since the first hostel appeared in 1929, they have sprung up throughout the United Kingdom within easy travelling distance of each other. The Youth Hostels Association, whose name belies the diversity of individual membership ages, now has more than 420 hostels and a membership exceeding 245,000.

Three-fifths of the association members are under 21 and another fifth are under 30. The remainder run from five to 80. Diversity in the type of traveller is even wider, ranging from holidaying students and professors to typists, laborers and other elements.

Hostel amenities are rough and ready, but adequate.

For from six to seven shillings, hikers, bicyclists or canoeists get a bed for the night, two solid, plain meals and a packed lunch. Prices are cheaper for younger persons.

No one is allowed entrance before 5 p.m. Lights go out at 10:30 p.m., residents must clean, dust and cook and smoking isn't allowed in the sleeping quarters.

The hostels themselves are as varied as their occupants and the U.K. total includes converted mills and former manor houses.

Captain Bartholomew Gosnold, first white man in New England, landed near New Bedford, Mass., in 1602.

Economy Supported by German Mark Tops Almost All Pre-War Production Records

HANNES NIERBOURG
FRANKFURT (AP) — Five years ago this week the Allies produced a drastic monetary reform in defeated West Germany and created the Deutsche mark. The new mark has since grown to one of the world's healthiest and most stable currencies. Flourishing economy it has topped almost all pre-war production records.

Germany's industrial production rate now hovers at 160 per cent of the 1936 level when the country entered the economic boom for Hitler's Germany. There even are prospects the Bonn republic will cap industrial supremacy in Europe this year.

Germany's having brought this spectacular new development are $1,605,024,000 in the States. Marshall aid and other American assistance, the industry of the German worker, the Korean, and a liberal economic policy labelled "social market economy."

The man who introduced this economic policy is Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard, one of the most active campaigners for free conversion of all European currencies. International currency controls still exist but at the Swiss level, most sensitive Euro-currency barometer, the German mark remains virtually unchanged at 4:1 to the dollar, only above the official rate of 20:1.

The monetary reform ended the primitive post-war economy in Germany which relied heavily on barter and used the American cigarette largely as its "currency."

On June 20, 1948, the new currency was introduced in the Western zones. Old currency bank deposits were revalued. The Deutsche mark to about 100 Reich marks. Germans were allowed a maximum cash quota of 40 marks ($9.52).

Shortly after, the Soviet zone introduced its own Deutsche mark, now worth about one-fifth of the western version.

The housing shortage will remain for years in a country where 2,000,000 dwellings were smashed by Allied bombs or in battle, and millions others damaged.

But despite these facts, Germany's bustling economy is highlighted by these features:

Germany tops all European countries in reconstruction and now has a "home a minute" program with a target of 500,000 new dwelling units to be built in 1953.

The national income from 1949 to 1952 rose by 25 per cent and now is at 1,085 marks ($258.23) per capita. At the same time, the government's social contributions for war veterans, unemployed and pensioners rose from 10,900,000,000 marks ($2,570,400,000) to more than 18,000,000,000 marks ($4,384,000,000).

From practically no foreign trade in 1948, the Germans bounced up to sales abroad of more than $4,000,000,000 last year. Foreign trade surplus reached an all-time high in April, 1953, with exports exceeding imports by 274,000,000 marks ($65,212,000).

Germany ranks among the world's biggest shipbuilding countries and has increased automobile production more than 300 per cent since 1948.

German steel manufacturers predict that the Ruhr steel output soon will be second only to the United States and Russia. Production records are also expected in the coal, chemical and machine tool industries.

Used Cars Plug S. Market

DETROIT (AP) — Nearly everybody interested in the use of the automotive industry is jabbing at the used car situation these days. Used car stocks in the United States are greater now than they have been at any time. The auto and finance companies are urging sharply restricted limits in the handling of used cars. The auto makers are turning their advertising agencies on the promotion of used sales and many dealers are concentrating upon used car sales.

There probably is nothing the used car dealer needs right now more than more used cars. Yet you can read or hear occasionally that this or that "needs used cars."

One of the things that suggest used car sales have been affected to some extent in the post-war period is that their sale to new car sales has dropped sharply. Before the Second World War, used car sales averaged three for every one new car transaction. Currently they are said to average less than 1.5 to one.

My Family Wouldn't Give A Fig for anything but my own home-made strawberry jam. I guess they must be prejudiced. And I am, too. I wouldn't "do down" any way but the CERTO FRUIT PECTIN. That's the only way I can be sure of results. I don't like risking my time, money and fruit on anything but certainties. The true fruit flavor is retained... not boiled away as so much of it was in the old-fashioned method. And I find I get up to 50% more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit. Have you tried Certo Fruit Pectin? You'll save 2/3 the time of the former long-boil way of jam and jelly-making. There are grand recipes in the booklet under the label of each bottle of Certo.

Here's A Wonderful Way to get your family to eat breakfast every morning. Simply serve hot "CREAM OF WHEAT" with plump, mellow slices of bananas. Top with milk or cream. "Fertile," they'll say. Yes, and easy, too. Quick "Cream of Wheat" takes only five minutes of boiling to cook to perfect smoothness. And best of all, hot "Cream of Wheat" is truly good for you. It contains iron for good red blood and calcium and phosphorus for diets deficient in these elements. So give the family a good start—a quick start for the day. Treat them to hot "Cream of Wheat" for breakfast.

You can whip up a serving of creamy-smooth mashed potatoes in just one minute with FRENCH'S INSTANT POTATO. Baby will eat every delicious spoonful... m-m-m-m-m!—so good! French's Instant Potato is made from top quality potatoes, pre-cooked by a special process that preserves the important nutrients. Simply follow the instructions on the package to make exactly the amount you want—with no waste. Incidentally, baby's serving is prepared differently from grown-ups' servings. Which reminds me, your whole family will enjoy mashed potatoes made with French's. Serve them soon!

By TOM REEDY
BERLIN (AP)—East German's shaky Communist government invited its rebellious subjects today to air their grievances in Red-sponsored public discussions.

The new policy obviously was designed as a safety valve to keep the east zone from exploding again into open warfare, but the Reds' radio Berlin commented that the discussion sessions also would give the government a chance to explain its "new course."

The Russians, however, gave no major sign of lifting their iron grip imposed after the open rebellion began a week ago. Martial law still prevailed and a curfew emptied the streets nightly.

The Russians made only a few minor concessions, allowing East and West Berliners who work across the gun-ringed frontier to cross at three special points. Some 500 West Berliners still were being held in a former slaughterhouse for further checking.

Russian firing squads executed three of the picked East German "peoples' police" in East Berlin and shot two others in Gera for alleged complicity in the week of strikes and rioting. This brought to 27 the known total of Soviet executions in their drive to stop the revolt.

Maj.-Gen. P. T. Dibrowa, Soviet commander in East Berlin, lifted the ban on public meetings to permit operation of the East German satellite government's new discussion program.

The east regime's dominant German Communist party secretary-general Walter Ulbricht, announced that disgruntled senior workmen in plants and factories would have a chance to air their complaints without fear of reprisal.

Radio Berlin commented that "many still do not understand our new course" and that at the meeting "explaners appointed by the party will engage immediately in this important work to develop democracy on the German soil."

East German Premier Otto Grotewohl told a workers' meeting that new plans would be unfolded in the next several weeks to carry out the regime's promises of improvement in the working man's lot.

Financial Aid Needed by Deep Sea Fleet
OTTAWA — Operators of Canada's deep-sea shipping fleet said here the already decimated fleet will "inevitably disappear" unless the federal government provides financial aid.

Banding together under the newly-formed Canadian Ship-owners' Association, the operators said they are faced with two major problems: high operating costs and high costs of building new ships in Canada to replace aging vessels.

The organization, representing owners of 146 ships totalling about 1,000,000 gross tons, is headed by M. G. Angus of Montreal, president. A. E. Riddle of Vancouver is vice-president.

Appointed manager is W. J. Fisher, former deputy federal transport controller and traffic services director of the Canadian Maritime Commission. Educated at Calgary, Mr. Fisher was wartime director of movements for the Canadian army, with the rank of colonel.

High operating costs already have hit the Canadian fleet. The government in 1950 agreed to allow a transfer of a part of the fleet to United Kingdom registry. As a result, of the 146 ships, only 55 now are operating under the Canadian flag, Mr. Fisher said.

Sweden Starts Building 500 Shelters

STOCKHOLM (CP)—Sweden is building 500 giant shelters under her granite cliffs and mountains where her warships and aircraft will be stored and serviced safe from atomic attacks in any future war.

The shelters, costing a total of about 450,000,000 crowns (about $90,000,000), will also accommodate Sweden's defence staffs, chief radar stations and other essential military and civilian services.

More than 40,000,000 worth of these shelters have already been built.

After the first atom bomb fell on Japan, Sweden's military leaders made a secret inventory of all the country's cliffs and mountains strong enough and high enough to serve as "roofs" for underground shelters, proof against atomic attack. They wanted something bigger and better than the underground U-boat pens built by the Germans in France.

Nature had already done some of the excavation work. In many cases, man had only to enlarge, elaborate and improve. Above ground, are runways for aircraft landing for operation. The aircraft are towed by jeeps through long tunnels to underground workshops.

Alongside the workshops are hangars where aircraft can be stored, safe from atomic and other forms of attack.

Highest cliffs in the British Isles, 2,000 feet above the sea, are at Achill Island in the Irish county Mayo.

Auriol Asks Independent

PARIS (CP)—President Vincent Auriol crossed up political observers Wednesday and called on Joseph Laniel, a deputy little known outside his own Independent party, to have a try at forming a government to end France's record political crisis.

The nomination was announced after Antoine Pinay, another independent, gave up attempts to put together the country's 19th post-war cabinet. France has been without a government since Premier Rene Mayer was ousted May 21.

Laniel, a textile manufacturer, has served in several French cabinets but always as a junior minister.

As he left the president's palace after calling on Auriol, the 63-year-old premier-designate told reporters he was willing in principle to make the attempt, but would be unable to give any definite answer.

Laniel's selection came as a surprise. National Assembly observers had predicted Auriol would turn next to Mayer or to Rene Plevin, Mayer's defence minister and also a former premier. The observers considered both capable of representing France effectively at the Big Three conference now set for July 8 at Bermuda.

Pinay was the seventh political leader Auriol has tapped for the job and the third to say no without going before the Assembly for approval. The other four were turned down by the deputies.

Skullduggery at Polls Gets Tougher Following Adoption of 'Wylie Fold'

OTTAWA (CP)—Skullduggery at the polls is getting tougher all the time.

Safeguards against beating the election laws have been building up for many years, and the odd new barrier will be set up in the election, Aug. 10.

The existing system is regarded as virtually unbeatable, either by voters or by candidates and their supporters. The form of the ballot, and the way it is handled, are part of a scheme designed to block any form of manipulation.

The ballot, which comes in book form, is made up of three parts: A stub, a counterfoil and the ballot proper with the names of the candidates. Each ballot has to be initiated by the deputy returning officer in a poll.

VOTING PROCEDURE

When the elector comes in to vote, the DRO rips from the book and hands him the ballot with counterfoil attached. After the ballot is marked, the DRO, before dropping it into the box, checks his initial on the back of the sheet and makes sure the number on the counterfoil tallies with that on the stub.

The identifying counterfoil is turned off before the ballot goes into the box.

Scrutineers for all opposing parties in each poll double-check these precautions.

Since the last election, a new twist in ballot-handling has been put into effect by Parliament, aimed at cutting down the chance of a poll official taking a peek at how a particular person voted.

THE "WYLIE FOLD"

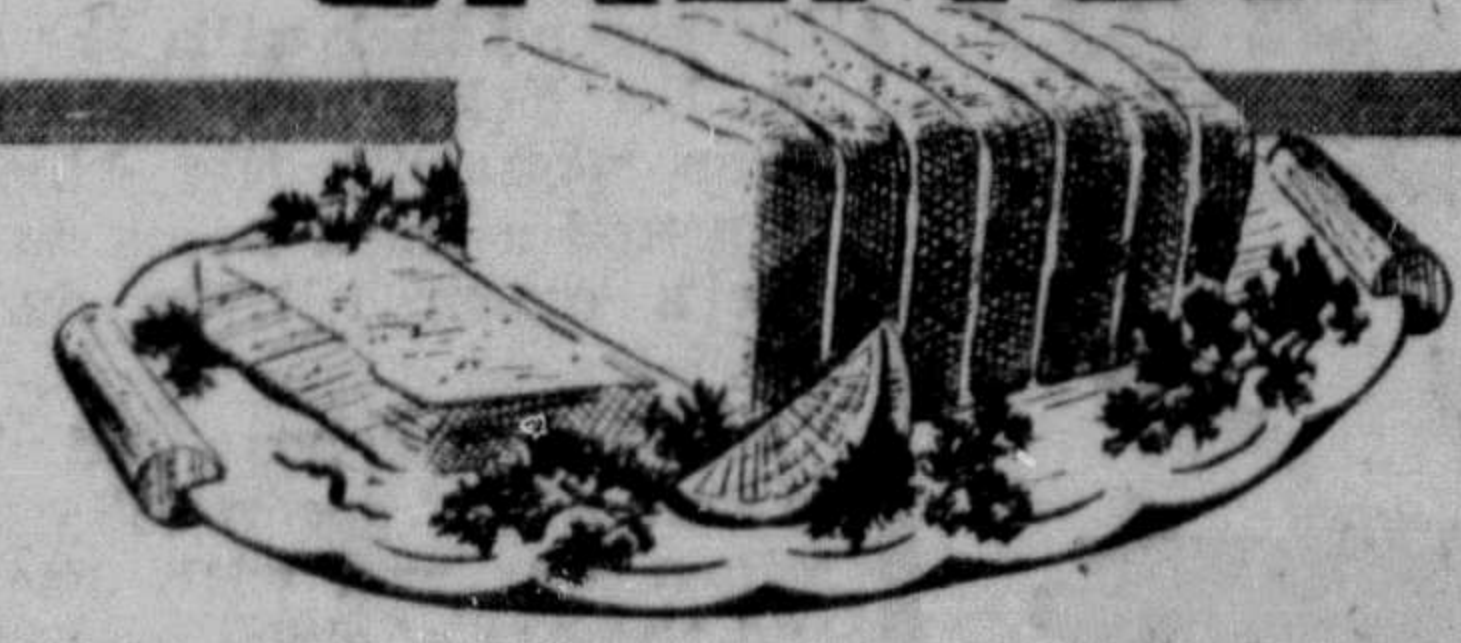

Ballots handed to the elector have to be folded in a certain way by the DRO and refolded by the voter before being given back to be put in the box. William Wylie, Social Credit member of the Commons for Medicine Hat, convinced the House elections committee in 1951 the fold left a chance for a quick look at how an elector voted and proposed a new one.

The "Wylie fold" was adopted by Parliament and now is official.

Psychiatrist Says Christie Fascinated by Dead Bodies

LONDON (CP)—A psychiatrist said Wednesday that John Reginald Christie—who admits killing seven women in a grisly sex-murder drama rivaling the exploits of Jack the Ripper—was under-sexed and "fascinated" by dead bodies.

Dr. J. A. Hobson told a tense and packed Old Bailey courtroom Christie was more indignant when testimony placed him inside a tavern than he was at evidence of the gruesome slayings.

Dr. Hobson was called to buttress the defence contention that Christie was insane when he committed the murders with strangling cord and gas tube. He said Christie's fascination with corpses started when, as a boy, he saw the dead body of his grandfather.

Hobson followed Christie in the witness box after the lean-faced defendant told the jury there was "no reason, no sense" in the slayings.

Christie's lawyer described him as "mad as a March hare when he kills people."

Nervously working his long fingers, Christie haltingly admitted garrotting three more women, a total of seven so far, as his murder trial progressed through its third day at Old Bailey court. Tuesday he admitted killing his wife and three other women.

Christie told defence counsel Sir Lionel Head that he put his wife's body under the floorboards "because I did not want to be separated from her and lose her—that is why I still had her in the house."

Tuesday, Christie wept as he told the court he strangled his wife with a stocking because he could not stand seeing her suffer from a convulsion.

Police found the wife's body lying close to a small grating

Donald O'Connor and Debbie Reynolds cavort on the Totem Theatre screen in "I Love Melvin," a skylarking new M-G-M Technicolor musical brimming with hit songs, deft dance routines and amusing plot situations. The show starts tonight.

O'Connor is seen as Melvin, assistant to the ace cameraman of a national magazine, with Miss Reynolds cast as Judy, a Broadway chorus girl eager to scale the heights of stage and screen fame. In an effort to ingratiate himself with Judy, as well as to break up her romance with an affluent rival, Melvin contrives to get her photograph on the cover of his magazine.

But before he is able to achieve this almost miraculous feat, the young couple sing, dance and impersonate their way through a hilariously diverting series of comedy complications.

The songs and dances of "I Love Melvin" form an integral part of the story and action.

Unusual Play Turns Out To Be a Wise Precaution

It isn't often you have to duck the first lead in a suit where your have three sure stoppers. This unusual play was made in today's hand and the kibitzers considered it an extreme (and probably unnecessary) precaution. Actually, it was based on sound and quite simple reasoning.

Mr. Abel led the jack of spades and, to his surprise, it held. Here was Mr. Masters' reasoning in ducking the trick. First he couldn't hope to win more than three spades. To make his contract, he would have to bring in at least two club tricks.

Now, if the opposing spades were divided 4-3, only one spade need be lost and the contract was probably safe. However, if Mr. Abel had five spades, it might be vital to wait until Mrs. Keen was out of that suit before surrendering the lead to her in clubs.

The chances were good that the three high club honors were split between the defenders and that Mrs. Keen could get on lead at least once.

This thoughtful planning paid off handsomely. Mr. Abel can hardly be criticized for continuing spades and Mr. Masters won the second trick with the queen. He led a low club which Mrs. Keen won with the king. She returned a small heart and Mr. Abel's queen fell to dummy's ace.

Another club was led, losing to Mr. Abel's queen. The spade return was won with the king and the ace of clubs was knocked out. Mr. Masters still had a spade stopper and the contract was on ice.

Note that if Mr. Masters had won the first spade trick he would have gone set. On gaining the lead with the king of clubs, Mrs. Keen would have led back a spade knocking out the second stopper. Now Mr. Abel, with two more club tricks and only one more high spade to knock out, would have been one jump ahead of Mr. Masters at all times.
