Labor Code Nearing Approval in Principle

The government's labor relations bill, which has been in the second reading stage since last week, is expected to be passed in principle by the House of Commons today. The bill, which is the first of a series of measures designed to bring the Canadian labor relations system into line with that of the United States, has been the subject of a long and stormy debate in the House. GOVERNMENT ALLOTS $39,000 FOR ROADS ON CHARLOTTE ISLANDS

A total of $39,000 has been allocated by the B.C. government for improvement of roads on the Queen Charlotte Islands, it is reported by Bruce Brown, MLA for Prince Rupert. The largest part of this will be for construction work on the road between Masset and Port Clements, for which $20,000 has been allocated. To improve and maintain the Port Clements-Dunro road, the sum of $9,000 has been set aside. The balance of $10,000 will be spent on the road between Masset and Tow Hill. This road is used almost exclusively by the cannery at Masset in connection with its clam operations.

Theft, Forgery Charges Bring 3-Year Jail Term

A 30-year-old former partner of a cafe in Smithers, Robert Gawn McCullough, left here by plane under police escort today for the B.C. Penitentiary for a three-year stay. He was sentenced by magistrate W. D. Vance in police court here yesterday to one year for stealing a car owned by Fred Meyers, three years on a forgery charge and one year on a charge of false pretences. The sentences were in addition to a two-year term meted out against him in Nanaimo, Ontario, last October following his conviction on six charges of false pretences. Evidence yesterday disclosed that McCullough was convicted on three charges of false pretences.

B.C. To Quit Rent Control

VICTORIA — The British Columbia government is going out of the rent control business next year. A bill which would repeal provincial rent control legislation as of March 31, 1955 and provide machinery for municipalities to take over rent control was introduced in the legislature yesterday. The province took over rent controls when the federal government dropped them after the Second World War.

French Fort Again Faces Hot Barrage

New Assault Seen Imminent

HANOI (AP)—The Communist-led Vietminh opened a "violent" artillery barrage today on the French Union fortress of Dien Bien Phu in what may be a prelude to a new mass assault on the Indo-China bastion.

A French communique said the defenders answered back with tremendous barrages as the rebels rained down thousands of shells from their 105- and 75-millimetre artillery and heavy mortars in the hills encircling the French-held plain on which the fortress stands.

REPEATED ATTACKS

Such artillery step-ups have heralded the Vietminh's two previous attempts to overrun the fortress. There was a two-day wave of assaults beginning March 13, then six days of repeated attacks on various corners of the plain's defenses which ended Monday.

ENDS LONG LULL

The artillery duel started after the French had reported that the lull in the Dien Bien Phu area had continued through its fourth successive night. The French defenders and their rebel besiegers were utilizing the "calm" to intensify their feverish build-up of men and supplies for the expected showdown "battle of Geneva."

It is clear that the Vietminh must strike soon, however, if they hope to win a big victory before the East-West conference on Asia opens in Geneva April 26.

Further south in Indo-China, King Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia today ordered general mobilization and announced he would appeal to the United Nations against Vietminh aggression there.

Target Date Set July 1

KITIMAT—July 1 has been set by the Aluminum Company of Canada as "target date" for completion of smelter construction here and the start of production of aluminum ingots. George T. Malby, resident engineer, said the first stage of the plant containing two pot lines is expected to be ready then to receive first power over the 50-mile transmission lines from Kemano.

Ultimate plan for the smelter calls for 12 pot lines, six times the size of the present construction which covers an area 1500 feet long and 1200 feet wide.

Total area covered by the smelter to present construction including the 700-foot concrete dock and conveyor belt is about three-quarters of a mile square.

Major plant work at present is concentrated on installation of the 350 smelting pots. Recently installed on the dock is a giant crane for loading and unloading deep-sea ships, and a pneumatic unloader for pipping alumina from ships to the conveyor belt.

A 600-foot wide channel, 30 feet deep, has been dredged to the approach of the dock.

Planes Find Wreck In Mediterranean

ROME (CP)—Bodies and scattered wreckage were reported sighted in the Mediterranean today by planes searching for a comet jet airliner missing since last night with 21 persons aboard on a flight from Rome to Cairo.

It was feared the traces mark the graveyard of the second of the jet-age transport to crash in the Mediterranean this year.

Britain immediately grounded all her Comets, pride of her air transport industry, for the second time since January, when another of the same type crashed off the island of Elba.

Sir Miles Thomas, chairman of British Overseas Airways Corporation, which owned the craft, which disappeared Thursday night, said today:

"Until the manufacturers can tell us that they have discovered and rectified the cause of these tragedies we certainly cannot carry any passengers in Comets."

THIRD TRAGEDY

He said BOAC had given the Comet "all the support, encouragement and promotion that any operator can expect to give any new aircraft. We have had three inexplicable tragedies which all follow up a certain pattern on reaching or approaching maximum altitude at full power."

The disaster caused postponement of a scheduled flight to Ottawa tonight by Transport Minister Alan Lennox-Boyd, who went to the House of Commons to announce the tragedy—second in the Commonwealth Thursday—and the grounding of the sleek jets. The minister said he hopes to leave for Canada Saturday or Sunday for an aviation meeting with Canadian authorities.

An armada of planes and ships scoured the Mediterranean area on the Comet's route to Cairo during the night and intensified the search at first light of dawn.

First sighted was a huge oil slick about 50 miles south of the Isle of Capri. Surface craft took samples for a check on whether it was aviation oil.

The Reuters news agency reported that the air-sea rescue centre here had received a radio message from a searching plane that wreckage had been sighted.

The follow-up report said bodies had been discovered in the same area.

The Comet, owned by BOAC and chartered to South African Airways for a joint service between London and Johannesburg, took off Thursday evening from Rome's Ciampino airport. It was due in Cairo at 9:20 p.m.

The plane carried a crew of seven South Africans and 14 passengers, three Americans, two South Africans, seven Britons, an Egyptian and a Swiss.

Half an hour out of Rome, the plane radioed: "We are making altitude." That was the last heard from it.

In Paris the French minister of civil aviation, Paul Devinat, ordered the airline Union Aeronautique des Transports to ground its three Comet jet airliners.

The names of all victims but that of the RAF pilot were announced Thursday night.

The name of the NATO pilot, a young Englishman, was not disclosed pending notification of his next-of-kin.

The victims included Mr. and Mrs. George Sweny of Vancouver, married last December and returning home for the first time since Mr. Sweny, president of Vancouver Iron Works, was injured in a Quebec train wreck in February.

Harry McLean, 22, was to have met Doug Harper, Canadian light-heavyweight champion, in the ring at Calgary Tuesday.

Aboard the plane, too, was Oscar Blanck who built a hamburger stand into one of Vancouver's largest restaurants, "Oscars."

Pat Reid, 59, who began his flying in 1915 and won the DFM in the First World War, had become aviation sales manager for Imperial Oil Ltd.

The North Star's stewardess, Marjorie Quinney, was killed. The crash was TCA's first fatal accident in nearly seven years.

Manson's Take on High School In Cage Series For City Title

Bill McChesney's Manson's Omega and Jack Evans' Bo-Me-Hi Rainmakers take the Civic Centre floor tonight in the first of a two-game total point series for the unofficial city basketball championship. Evans, confident that his squad would take the series on total points, said today that his lineup would consist of Fred Kristmanson, Dick Nickerson, Ron Ciccone, Bill Morrison, Rod Tait, Gary Morrison, Rey McKay, Doug Sankey and Art Helin. McChesney, dapper Omega coach, not given to pre-game forecasting for his Senior B league champions and playoff winners, will probably field Danny Bill, Ray Spring, Art Olsen, Mickey Webster, Don Hartwig, Joe Walsh and George Dumas. Liniment and bandages will be on hand in liberal quantities for the prelude to the Manson-High school fixture when a team of Northern European descent takes on one of Southern European extraction. The former, coached by Irishman Art Murray, consists of Angus McPhee, Jack Lindsay, Bob Armstrong, Mella and Herb Morgan. Fred Calderoni, coach of the Southern team, will play Sev Dominato, Vern Ciccone, Boyo Gurvich, Nick Pavlikis, Nick Mazzoni, Jerry Petteuzzo, Joe and Charlie Giordano.

Expanding Barge Service

IMPORTANT as the northern B.C. line is to the CNR right now, there are signs that within the next year or two it will become considerably more so.

These are seen in reports from Haines, Alaska, that a barge service is expected to get underway soon between that point and Prince Rupert. According to the mayor of Haines, John J. Schnabel, there is a company planning to establish a warehouse and barge grid which will receive freight shipments from this port. Another firm is said to be arranging for shipments from the east which will proceed by barge from Prince Rupert to Haines and thence by truck to Fairbanks.

If the Haines highway can be kept open the year around, a third customer might be the Alaska Propane Gas Company. Now expanding its storage facilities at Haines, this company reports it could double its service to Fairbanks and Anchorage without additional cost if it could ship via the Prince Rupert-Haines route instead of making the long haul by truck from the source of its supply at Grande Prairie.

The Columbia Lumber Company at Juneau also is understood to be interested in taking space on a coastal barge service.

With operations between here and Ketchikan already on the books, these opportunities for additional business make the CNR's prospects in this part of the country brighter than ever. It is possible, of course, that the winter condition of the Haines highway could hold things up since much of the potential traffic depends on this route into the interior being open throughout the year. So far Ottawa has been cold on the subject despite reported offers by interested parties to undertake the work themselves.

Having had first-hand examples of the force of Donald Gordon's decisions, however, we anticipate this attitude will change if returns for the railway show sufficient promise. Don't count Prince Rupert out of the big picture yet.

Early days in the life of the Prince Rupert Empire appear in the Vancouver Sun April 3, 1907, the description being written by P. W. Luce. The dominant figure, however, is John Houston whom the GTP heartily disliked. The Empire's price list included: "Nails, with a few crooked ones, 5 cents; Fresh air, best on earth, free on application; rain water, best in B.C., free. Bread, baked by mother of three legitimate children, 10 cents a loaf. No bed, unless one can be borrowed from a friend."

Dead Baby Chicks

A DEAR old friend who was a nursing sister in the First World War has written me an anguished letter. It is about a horrible Easter custom which has just sprung up, and which she says, should be killed forever by the disapproval of a kindly Canadian people.

It is the hideous practice of selling stuffed dead but real baby chicks and ducklings. I agree with my dear old friend that this is a brutalizing act.

"I stood in front of a drug store," she writes, "with my heart sick and sad at the horrible sight. A young couple came up and stood beside me. One said to the other:

"Why, they are real — but stuffed." The other answered: "Why they can't be, they would never let them do such a cruel thing."

MY DEAR old nursing sister friend says, "I realize that the harm has been done for this year. But surely we should never let such a monstrous thing happen again. If commercial interests can hatch out baby chicks for no other reason than to be killed and stuffed, then what is to stop them from killing and stuffing puppies, kittens, bunnies and everything else."

"We teach our children to be kind to each other and to all pets and animals. Yet we would condone the monstrous act of giving them, as a toy, a little chick which had actually been killed to make a plaything."

I FEEL just the same way as does my friend about this.

Easter is the happiest season of all the year to me. I never could go along with any very narrow and rigid religion and I confess that I feel personally just as much at home with Sikhs, or Hindus, or Moslems as I do with the folks who call themselves "Christians."

But if Easter means anything at all, it means that life triumphed over death, and the king of kindness rose triumphant over the power politicians of his day.

There is nothing that our Lord taught so clearly as that Our Father in heaven cares for every living creature here on earth—that not a single sparrow falls to earth without causing pain to the Creator, and that every single hair of every human being is numbered, as a precious living thing.

IF CHRISTIANITY means anything it means that God loves the baby chicks, the baby bunnies, the baby bears, and all the other babies of every species, in all creation.

The Great Teacher himself taught of a coming day when no living creature would hurt or kill any other living creature in all the earth. Somehow, we don't seem to be moving too fast in that direction in these times. But perhaps a generation hell bent to wipe itself out with H bombs, N bombs or Z bombs, is too callous to give a second thought to dead, stuffed, real baby chicks.

LETTERBOX

SUPPORTS CONSERVATION

The Editor, The Daily News:

In view of the publicity given to statements criticizing the International North Pacific Fisheries Commission, it would seem appropriate to state that this Association does not share the views held by the Fishermen's Union on this subject. We join with Canada's leading fisheries administrators and scientists in supporting this worthwhile effort in international conservation.

It is significant to note that these press reports do not reflect the attitude of James Cameron, a member of the union executive board and one of the four Canadian commissioners. Mr. Cameron, an experienced fisherman who is extremely well informed about the principles and objectives of this new international body, is the Canadian representative on the commission's important biology and research committee.

One of the chief points made by the Union is that Japan is "invading" the waters of the North Pacific, catching salmon destined for Alaska and B.C. streams and thus causing a decline in this northern fishery.

These statements cannot be supported by the fact. They can, however, create misunderstanding and jeopardize the work of the commission.

Japan is not "invading" the North Pacific. In the first place these are international waters of the high seas and open to exploitation by any country. In actual fact, Japan is operating in an area west of the 175th meridian, well over half way across the Pacific. Had Japan not signed the fisheries treaty, her fishermen could have operated anywhere in the Pacific up to the three mile limit off Alaska and B.C. In accepting membership in the commission she has voluntarily refrained from fishing east of the 175th, the meridian accepted by the three countries as the provisional line separating salmon of North American origin from those originating in Asia.

Contrary to statements made by the union, no one knows for sure where the salmon caught by the Japanese are spawned. Finding the answer to this question will be one of the first tasks of the biological research committee.

"IT'S NEVER TOO LATE TO TURN TO GOD"

KTN, 557 Kc, Saturday, 10:15 a.m.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. M.

When the government replies to a question that has been placed upon the House of Commons order paper, no debate is permitted at the time. The M.P. simply receives the information for which he asked. If he wants to make use of it, he has to wait for some appropriate occasion to which the information is relevant.

These somewhat complicated rules of the House explain why nothing was said the other day when Citizenship Minister Stewart (CCF, North Winnipeg) that Canadian Citizenship has been granted to three French nationalists convicted of collaboration with the Germans during World War II—and is being considered for a fourth.

The topic is an explosive one in government circles, and Cabinet Ministers aren't at all happy about the Stewart questions for lifting the lid which previously had been clamped tightly on it. The North Winnipeg M.P. asked if the government knew if any French collaborationists had been given asylum in Canada, if any of them had applied for Canadian citizenship, and if their requests had been granted. The reply of Citizenship Minister Harris was that the government knew of five such individuals who had been given asylum, that four of them had applied since for Canadian citizenship, and that three of the applications had been granted.

The reply raised the obvious further questions—not yet asked but inevitable—as to why five individuals who had been branded as traitors to France in the days of the battle of the underground for freedom, should be considered entitled to asylum in Canada, let alone the further shield of protection of Canadian citizenship?

For all five Frenchmen had been tried by the French courts in absentia—they had fled the country when the occupation ended—and had been convicted of collaboration and sentenced to death.

That was when they turned up in Canada. They shrewdly threw themselves upon the good offices of some Quebec nationalist organizations. Their story was simple: the French courts before which they had been convicted had been Communist and anti-Roman Catholic. They had fled them not because of guilt, but because of the knowledge that they couldn't hope for justice. The weak point in the government's role in giving them asylum is the fact that in no other respect has it implied that the French Government was Communist-dominated. In fact, its whole NATO policy has been built on the assumption that France is a bulwark against Communism. How then is it going to justify sheltering these fugitives from French justice? Because they're going to have to justify it before the session is over.

President Mrs. V. Duncan, and a standard-bearer, to be named later, will represent the local branch, accompanying Mrs. J. S. Black, first vice-president, provincial command, to the convention scheduled for May 30 - June 2 in Penticton.

At last night's meeting of the auxiliary, two new members, Mrs. D. Hootz and Mrs. A. Forbes, were welcomed.

The auxiliary donated $25 to the provincial Canadian Legion scholarship fund, for which local sons and daughters of war veterans may compete. Members also sent donations to the Queen Alexandra Solarium.

Mrs. T. Yule Off on Trip To Old Home in Scotland

An exciting trip is in store for Mrs. Tom Yule, 321 Third Avenue West, who left here last night aboard the Prince George on the first lap of a trip to her old home in Scotland, where she will spend the summer.

Mrs. Yule, who hasn't been home to Scotland for 31 years, will spend the weekend in Vancouver with her oldest son, Jack, before embarking on her long trip.

She'll travel by train across Canada and sail from Montreal April 17 aboard the Cunard Liner Scythia, for Southampton. From there she will travel to Peterhead, Aberdeenshire, where she was born. She will visit with three sisters in Peterhead and one in Aberdeen, whom she hasn't seen since she left Scotland, May 14, 1923, with her husband.

CNRA Planning Terrace Trip

Tentative plans for a variety of summer activities, including a week-end excursion to Terrace, were discussed by the executive of the Canadian National Recreational Association at a meeting Wednesday night.

President John McLean reported that special rates could be obtained for a summer week-end train trip to Terrace if over 150 persons would agree to make the trip. The group will circulate a petition among CN employees to discover how many are interested. Joe Kirnbauer and Fred Slade were named to the committee in charge.

The group also decided to stage a summer picnic, and fund-raising plans for the picnic will be discussed at a later meeting.

Members approved plans to rebuild the old tennis courts temporarily and called for volunteers to aid in the work. Those interested were asked to contact Fred Slade. Formation of a new tennis club also will be decided at a later meeting.

Tentative plans for a dance late in April also were discussed.

Job's Daughters Hold Successful Tea and Sale

The drill hall of the Prince Rupert armories was decked with gay streamers of green and white, and dozens of model rabbits for yesterday's Easter tea and sale presented by the Job's Daughters and their mothers.

Cut-out cardboard rabbits pulling little mauve-colored carts filled with crepe paper flowers centred the tea tables, and on the serving table was a novel and striking centrepiece of pastel-tinted rabbits of mock ice, placed in a nest of grass and surrounded by colored eggs and toy baby chicks.

Honored Queen Sheila Bennett and her mother, Mrs. C. Bennett received guests at the affair, convened by Mrs. Alex Mitchell.

Pouring tea and coffee were Mrs. S. D. Johnston, Mrs. Ralph Morin, Mrs. Robert Gordon and Mrs. Jack Frew, worthy matron of the Order of Eastern Star.

Mrs. J. W. Eastwood was convener of the tea room and serving were Mrs. George Mitchell, Mrs. Jack Evans, Mrs. William McIntyre, Mrs. A. Ritchie, Miss Donna Macarthur, Mrs. A. R. Berry and Miss Dru Patrick. In the kitchen were Mrs. T. Pallant, Mrs. D. Hopkins, Mrs. William Halliwell and Mrs. William Way. Cashiers were Mrs. M. Macarthur and Mrs. Sam Haugan.

The event featured a variety of sales including a rummage sale with Mrs. A. Dominato and Mrs. Tom Wilford in charge. Convening baby clothes sales were Mrs. D. Ritchie, Mrs. M. Martin and Mrs. W. R. C. Jones, sewing, Mrs. N. McKay and Miss Shirley Haugan, home cooking, Mrs. Hans Knutsen, Mrs. J. Strand and Mrs. A. Jensen.

At the fish pond were Miss Jackie Halliwell, Miss Rita Yoston and Miss Beatrice Thorarinson. In charge of the candy sale were Mrs. B. E. Eyolfson.

Then there was the fellow who took up law and discovered that his wife laid it down.

and Mrs. T. R. Lloyd, aprons, Mrs. W. H. Doumont and Mrs. Carl Brechin, grocery hamper and other prizes, Mrs. V. Long and Mrs. R. Good, and plants, Miss Judy Lloyd, Miss Anne Eyolfson and Miss Pat Mitchell.

By The Canadian Press
No one could blame supporters of the Edmonton Flyers if they felt a little discouraged over their team's Western Hockey League playoff hopes.

The Flyers must beat Calgary Stampede four times for the right to meet Vancouver Canucks in the finals. But the really tough part of the assignment is that they must do it before Calgary beats them twice.

The Stampede, who had to grind out their first win on home ice in overtime, really flew Thursday night in winning the second game of the best-of-seven semi-finals 7-1.

Pat Lundy and Jim McFadden were the top marksmen for Calgary with two goals each. Archie Scott, Sid Finney, and Ray Barry checked in with the others.

Enio Scisizzi got the Flyers' only goal in the first period. The teams resume the series in Edmonton Saturday and Monday nights.

The clubs fought out a 1-1 stalemate in the first period before Calgary blew the lid off with two goals in less than two minutes in the second and potted four markers in the third periods.

Wings in Driver's Seat As Canadiens Downed 5-2

MONTREAL — Detroit Red Wings, never to be taken lightly even under most auspicious conditions, were back today in the familiar role as Stanley Cup favorites because of power plus.

Montreal Canadiens tried it the hard way Thursday night and they took a thumping 5-2 setback, leaving them trailing 2-1 in games in the best-of-seven cup final.

The powerful red-shirted flock so asserted its mastery that the 14,481 fans in the Montreal Forum could be pardoned for wondering just how much difference a full-strength Canadian team would have meant.

BLOW TO MONTREAL

The Detroit top echelons graciously said the loss of defence-man Doug Harvey and centre Jean Beliveau through injuries was a sad blow to the Montreal cause.

But before these commiserations the Red Wings had a disorganized Montreal team already on the run after only 42 seconds of play when Alex Delvecchio banged in the first goal.

Ted Lindsay and Johnny Wilson ran the count to 3-0 by the end of the second period, and the way the Wings were travelling Montreal's pre-game hopes were all but shattered.

As if in disdain of defence-man Tom Johnson's goal after seven minutes of the final period, Metro Prystai and Gordie Howe widened the margin.

FIGHT TO END

To Canadiens' credit, they fought it out to the end and for a brief spell stormed to the offensive with defence-man Dillard.

Pratt Charged After Accident

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. — Walter (Babe) Pratt, 38, one-time star defenceman with the Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, suffered a fractured nose and face lacerations today when his car crashed a lamp post. Pratt, treated and released from hospital, was charged with driving without due care and attention.

Saskatchewan Boxing Champs Decided at Meet

REGINA (CP)—Nine Saskatchewan champions were declared Thursday night at the start of the two-day provincial boxing championships.

A technical knockout, a knock-out and a dazzling light-heavyweight scrap were the highlights of 17 bouts. More than 14 champions will be named tonight.

Donny McFadden of Weyburn, Rolly Mayes of North Battleford, Des Archer of the RCMP and Regina's Lee Donison all won titles because there were no other entries in their classes. McFadden claimed the novice featherweight, Mayes the junior lightweight division, Archer the junior middleweight and Donison the heavyweight title. There were no entries in the open featherweight class.

Donny Leader of Regina won in the third pee wee division. In novice divisions, Arnold Wilson, Regina, won the bantamweight; Frank Hartenberger, Weyburn, middleweight; Paul Messer, Regina, light-heavyweight, and Ed Heidt, Regina, heavyweight.

The evening's only knockout was an upset victory for Chuck Gilhooly of Melfort over Jack Butala, 1952 Canadian welterweight champion and an Olympic contender the same year. Gilhooly flattened Butala 32 seconds in the third round.

Other winners included: Ron Peters, 100, Regina, defeated Frank Fagan, 96, Moose Jaw. Harold Collins, 130, North Battleford, defeated Keith Johnstone, 136, Moose Jaw.

B. Hanson, 108, Melfort, defeated Bruce McDonald, 110, Moose Jaw.

Brighter Prospects

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP)—Prospects for employment in the building trades here are brighter than at this time last year, according to union officials. Among projects under way is a new jetty at the Point Edward naval base.

Train Stopped Before Mishap

NORTH BAY, Ont. (C)—A bush pilot saved 150 passengers and the crew of an Ontario Northland Railway train from possible death Wednesday night when he stopped the train 150 yards from a washout with flames from his emergency kit.

The train came to halt on an embankment 125 feet above Trout lake about four miles north of here.

Railway officials credited George Coleman, a bush pilot who operates a tourist resort at the lake, with averting a tragedy.

Portland Trounces Stars 7-1; Oaks, Seattle, Angels Win

By The Associated Press
Hollywood's Stars bowed for the third time last night to Portland, 7-1, before only 1,821 fans.

Dick Walbel, young Portland right-hander, had Hollywood eating out of his hand after the first inning and he allowed only four hits.

An even better pitching performance was that turned in by Oakland's 19-year-old rookie, Charley Beamon. Beamon limited Sacramento to one hit as the Oaks won 1-0. Beamon, who had a 6.25 earned run average with the Seattle team in the Western International League last year, was just about invincible, but he had to be to win, for Al Cloutte, who opposed him, didn't give up a run until the ninth and he permitted only five hits.

Seattle made it three straight over San Francisco, beating the Seals 3-1. Here again it was pitching that told the story. Jim Davis held the Seals to five hits, one of them a long double by Nini Tornay in the sixth that scored Jim Westlake with the only San Francisco run. Singles by Ray Orteig and Merrill Combs and an infield out by Davis tied the score in the seventh. In the eighth Seattle led it as Manager Jerry Riddie singled with the bases loaded.

Sheldon Jones, former New York Giant, made his debut as a Los Angeles pitcher and got credit for a 7-3 win over San Diego.

Gert Van Meer, Sheila Ramsay Too Women's Loop

Gert Van Meer, with 288, and Sheila Ramsay, with 281, led the parade in the women's five-pin bowling league this week. Gert also had high three of 637 in "B" Division.

Jeannie Warren rolled best three of 666 in "A" Division and her team, Art Murray's, had high three of 2870.

Results:

"A" Division: Bulger's 4, Dobb 0; Sunrise 4, Cloverleafs 0; G & A 4, New Laurel 0; Annettes 3, Stars 1; Art Murray's 3, Dom's 1; Lyons 2, Rupert Radio 2.

"B" Division: Cook's 4, Seventh Avenue Market 0; Trollers 3, PR Plumbers 1; Co-Op 3, Wallace R. 1; 75 Taxi 3, Big Sisters 1; Skeena 3, Hi-Flyers 1; Manson's 3, McKay's 1.

Anfield Repeats Perfect Score

Frank Anfield chalked up his fourth perfect score of the season last night when he shot 100 per cent at the Thursday night shoot of the Civic Centre Youth Rifle club.

Other scores made during the evening were Bill Holgate, Robert Pedersen and Jerry Jensen with 96 per cent; Tero Paavola 90; Ed Turcott 86; Ron Petersen 85; Ralph Olson 84; Lance Theobald and C. Stewart 83; Phil Lyons 82 and Dale Turcott 71.

treaty. It is worth observing that many groups in Japan have opposed the treaty because it denies them the right to fish in large areas of the high seas which, by international law, were formerly available to them. The fact is that Canada has gained most from the establishment of this new Commission; we will lose the most if it is not allowed to operate effectively.

The Fisheries association believes that this agreement between the United States, Japan and Canada is in the best interests of the B.C. fishing industry. The International North Pacific Fisheries commission could well become the most important venture in international fisheries co-operation and the most effective force in the proper development and conservation of one of the world's richest fishing grounds.

Yours truly,
A. H. SAGER,
Executive Assistant to the Chairman, Fisheries
Association of B.C.

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Old Ideas Are Rejected by Modern Bridge Players

Mr. Fusty, the old-fashioned bidder, might have said two clubs on the North hand after his partner opened with one heart. He would have attempted to justify this by saying that he had two quick tricks, and a biddable suit.

Today's players have discarded the idea of measuring a hand by quick tricks or honor tricks. They prefer, soundly enough, to consider playing tricks as represented by point count.

Without thinking about it in detail, Mr. Champion knew that his distribution was stodgy, his club suit weak and without "body" and his heart support mediocre. If he responded with two clubs he would be providing a better hand, either in high cards or in distributional assets. He made the correct bid—one no trump.

MUZZY MAKES BAD MOVE

When his partner now jumped to three hearts, his jack doubton in that suit became ample support and he did not make the mistake of bidding three no trump, wide open in two suits.

Mr. Masters opened the queen of clubs and dummy's king won. Mr. Muzzy looked very happy as he saw only three losers—a spade, a diamond and possibly a heart.

At trick two he blandly led the jack of hearts from the board and let it ride. It lost to the lone king and after that there was no way to avoid the three losers he had thought about in the first place.

CHAMPION TRIES TO EXPLAIN

"Why not make the safety play for ten tricks?" said Mr. Champion acidly.

"What safety play?" asked Mr. Muzzy.

South dealer

The bidding:

1 H Pass 1 N T Pass
3 H Pass 4 H All pass

Mr. Champion waited a moment to gain control of his voice. "Look," he said, "If either opponent has four hearts to the king, ten, nine, eight, you're not going to make the hand. But you can't lose and may gain by playing your ace on the first heart trick. If Masters has the lone king, you gain. If he shows out or plays the deuce, you have lost nothing. You see that?"

"No," said Mr. Muzzy. "Anyone for bridge?" asked Miss Brash.
