Cement Ship is Tombstone

THE HULK OF AN EXPERIMENTAL First World War ship, made with cement, lies on its side in the shallow surf off Cape May, N.J. An enterprising boat insurance salesman has managed to use the side as a billboard to advertise his wares. The ship was being tested when it proved too much to handle and was beached.

Federal Fisheries Patrol Boats Seek Forked-Tail Albacore Tuna

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three federal fisheries patrol boats are fishing for a million-dollar industry which disappeared three years ago into the vast blue depths of the Pacific.

The motor vessels Laurier, Howay and Kitimat are taking aboard assortments of the odd, brightly-colored "hula girl" lures that British Columbia fishermen use for tuna trolling.

On their regular off-shore patrols, they will be constantly on the lookout for signs of the forked-tail albacore tuna. If they find any, fishermen must move quickly to take advantage of the run.

Such a find would be the biggest fishing news here since July 19, 1948, when one of the vessels found the water alive with tuna.

For two years, more than 2,000,000 pounds of the fish were landed annually until, in the early summer of 1951, they vanished as mysteriously as they first appeared. Since then, the only tuna landed here have been caught off the California and Oregon coasts.

RUPERT ALL-STARS PLAY KETCHIKAN ON WEEK-END

Prince Rupert's all-star baseball team, thwarted in its efforts to take on Ketchikan over the Dominion Day holiday, will travel to the Alaskan centre this coming week-end and play games there Saturday and Sunday. The Prince Rupert Baseball Association said today that the league games scheduled for tonight and Sunday here have been cancelled due to the impending series.

Windy and damp weather Wednesday saw cancellation of the holiday game when Ketchikan phoned down and found out the weather and ground conditions were unfavorable.

Prince Rupert Esquires will play a doubleheader in Terrace on Sunday.

Construction Permits Down $100,000 in First Six Months

Construction in Prince Rupert is down more than $100,000 for the first six months of 1953 compared to the same period last year but June's total of building permits shows that building might be picking up after the April and May lull.

Last year's six month total was $276,332 compared to $171,830's worth of permits taken out thus far this year. However, two large projects, The Royal Fish Company warehouse valued at $23,000 and the F. W. Woolworth building $120,000 made up the majority of the first half of last year's construction.

Monthly totals this year are: January, $16,900; February, $10,875; March, $62,450; April, $11,950; May, $29,825; June, $40,030.

The March total of building permits, largest for the year to date, included four dwellings whose value amounted to $27,500 and renovation of the Royal Bank of Canada at a cost of $18,000.

Of the $29,825's worth of permits in May four dwellings were valued at a total of $19,000.

The June total includes four dwellings valued at a total of $28,000 and a Pacific Breweries warehouse valued at $6,000.

-WEATHER-

Synopsis
A moist air mass covers the northern half of the province today, giving cool weather. In contrast southern sections are generally clear with temperatures somewhat warmer.

Forecast
North coast region — Cloudy today and Friday. A few showers along the windward slopes today. Little change in temperature.
Winds light. Low tonight and high Friday at Port Hardy, Sandspit and Prince Rupert, 50 and 60.

Terrace Bridge To Be Closed Next Monday

The bridge over the Skeena River at Terrace will be closed to all traffic for a 48-hour period beginning at 6 a.m. Monday, July 6, to allow contractors to shift the highway bridge over to new piers so they can proceed with erection of the new CNR railway bridge beside it.

This is the second of three closures. The first closure was made to shift the highway bridge over to a temporary trestle so the contractors could build the piers.

Next closure will be later this summer or early fall.

Lower Taxes Forecast For Aussies

CANBERRA (Reuters) — The acting prime minister, Arthur Fadden, also treasurer, told Australians today they could look forward to further tax cuts. He said the country had a surplus of $13,100,000 (about $30,000,000) and described the financial future as "a pleasant prospect."

Socred Look to Multiple Ridings For Working Majority in House

19 Elected So Far As Count Continues

By DAVE STOCKAND
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER. — Social Credit appeared today to be marching toward majority government in British Columbia with final success hinging on continued strength in the multiple-seat ridings.

Retaining or leading in the interior seats it captured in 1952, and making inroads for the first time on Vancouver Island, the party now looks to the big city ridings for a working majority in the 48-seat legislature.

Tuesday, the to-be-continued provincial election picked up where it left off three weeks ago and there was no change in the trend which showed itself voting day.

The latest standing showed: Elected: Social Credit 19; CCF 12; Liberals 3; Labor 1 and Progressive Conservative 1; Leading: Social Credit 10; CCF 2. Total 48. With 19 seats in the bag—the same number with which it formed a minority government in 1952—Social Credit is six seats short of a working majority.

The Vancouver riding, still a riddle in the counting confusion, could provide this strength, lack of which toppled Premier W. A. C. Bennett's minority government after seven stormy months in office.

The CCF, it appeared, would again form the official Opposition under school principal Arnold Webster who, like Premier Bennett, was one of the first to be declared elected in the June 9 balloting.

Defeated by Social Credit in last year's June 12 voting, the Liberals went into the new election with six members and salvaged three in counting Tuesday and Wednesday. Sitting member Dr. Lorenzo Giovando has been the only Progressive Conservative elected.

Standing at dissolution in the 1952 election, Social Credit 19; CCF 18; Liberals 6; Conservatives 2; Labor 1; vacant 2. Total 48.

Social Credit stormed into the Liberal stronghold of Victoria in counting completed Wednesday night and captured all three seats there for a total of four on Vancouver Island.

B.C. was voting for the second time under the alternative system of balloting. The three-week period before returning officers started on the count of alternative choices was to allow for transfer of absentee ballots to their proper constituencies.

FIVE MINISTERS

As of Wednesday night five of Premier Bennett's cabinet ministers had been returned to office. Education Minister Mrs. Tilly Rolston, meanwhile, was fighting it out in Vancouver-Point Grey with Liberal leader Arthur Laing, while Health Minister Eric Martin and Provincial Secretary Wesley Black were leading in their respective ridings. Attorney-General Bonner was in the lead in three-seat Point Grey with Mrs. Rolston.

One disappointment for Social Credit was the defeat of Finance Minister Einar Gunderson in Oak Bay, where Progressive Conservative leader Deane Finlayson also suffered personal defeat. The seat was won by Phillip Gibbs, a Liberal and sitting member.

Up to Wednesday night, Social Credit had gained two seats from the CCF and three from the Liberals. The Liberals had gained one from the CCF and one from the Conservatives. In turn, the Socialists gained one from the Liberals.

Recounting was reduced to a snail's pace today and returning officers said it may be days before the final outcome is known.

The ridings of Vancouver-Burrard, Vancouver Centre, Vancouver East and Vancouver-Point Grey hold nine seats, seven of them undecided after the first count.

The CCF was elected in one and was leading in one, while first-count figures put Social Credit ahead in the other seven, more than enough for a majority if first-count strength can be continued.

Brown Wins Rupert

Liberal candidate Bruce Brown, 43-year-old city lawyer, is the member-elect of the provincial Legislature for Prince Rupert.

A school trustee since 1946, he ousted out George Hills, CCF member for this constituency in the last Legislature, by 33 votes in the second count.

Result of the second count was announced late Tuesday night by returning officer Scott McLaren after a day-long session at which the ballots were rechecked at the request of Social Credit candidate Bill Murray and absentee votes were added.

In the recheck the result was: Murray, 1,559; Hills, 1,834; Brown, 1,721.

After absentee votes were added, the totals were: Murray, 1,731; Hills, 2,074, and Brown, 1,864.

In the transfer of Murray's second choices, Mr. Brown got 747 votes and Mr. Hills 504, to give Brown 2,611 and Hills 2,573. There were 480 exhausted ballots.

Mr. Brown, who is en route to Atlin where he is prosecuting attorney in a county court theft case, was advised by telegram that he had won the seat.

When the result was announced, Mr. Hills thanked Mr. McLaren for the efficient way he had handled the job and said he would not ask for a recount.

Mr. Hills had held a 110-vote lead over Mr. Brown until the June 30 recheck and count.

It is Mr. Brown's first bid in politics, but he is well known as a community worker.

Mr. Brown came to Prince Rupert 13 years ago as a law student and in 1944 was called to the bar.

Born in Grand Forks, he graduated from high school and in 1930 from the provincial normal school, after which he taught school in Pentlcton until 1937. He had completed three years of university by 1939.

Riders Take Over Trams

CALCUTTA (AP) — Irate street-car riders, angered by a fare increase, took over the British-owned Calcutta Tramways Limited today and forced free rides to all. Police watched helplessly.

TWO EMPLOYEES of the Kapok Research Laboratories in Itami City, Japan, demonstrate the effectiveness of a pair of overcoats that will support a man in the water. The material in the coats is the result of 40 years of research by one Shunji Adachi. It took a long time to develop a material that would make a "life saver coat," and now that it is developed the question arises: Who needs an overcoat when he goes for a swim?

Dick Ayres Joins Daily News

J. R. (Dick) Ayres, former editor of The Comox District Free Press, Courtenay, Vancouver Island, has joined the editorial department of the Prince Rupert Daily News.

He replaces Larry Stanwood, who has been with The Daily News since January, 1951. Mr. Stanwood, a newsman for the past 16 years, will enter private business after a vacation.

Mr. Ayres, a newspaperman since 1931, was formerly with The Daily Colonist, Victoria, for 4½ years and prior to that at The Trail Daily Times and Cranbrook Courier.

A veteran of four years overseas with the Canadian Army, Mr. Ayres is married and has one daughter. He and his family drove up from Vancouver last week-end.

TWELVE BATHING SUIT MODELS, chosen for their form and photogenic qualities, competed for the title of "1953 Swim for Health Queen." Contest was held at Fallsides Park, N.J. Woman Hit Twice by Lightning CORONACH, Sask. (CP)—Mrs. Ken Elder was knocked unconscious twice in her farm home Tuesday by heavy lightning that struck this southwestern Saskatchewan area 130 miles south of Moose Jaw.

A lightning-caused fire destroyed the Elder home three miles southwest of Coronach and lightning killed the Elder dog and injured several persons in Coronach.

After being knocked unconscious the first time, Mrs. Elder rushed her young children to a barn and returned to the house to put out the fire.

Another bolt struck her unconscious again but she recovered in time to escape from the burning dwelling. Mr. Elder was at work at Coronach when the lightning struck. Notified that his home was on fire, he summoned help, but when they reached the scene the house and its contents had been destroyed.

Dynamite Blast Kills Farmer At Smithers

Special to The Daily News
SMITHERS—Fortunat L'Orse, 47, Swiss-born district farmer, died Dominion Day as a result of a delayed dynamite blast.

In company with his son, Tony, he was blasting post holes on the B.C. Power extension to the Driftwood farm area about five miles from Smithers.

He was investigating one of three charges when the accident occurred about 11 a.m.

Rushed to Bulkley Valley District Hospital here, he died of multiple injuries shortly after arrival. An inquest will be held.

CNR Probes Derailment

T. A. McInprize, CNR superintendent, who returned yesterday from Jasper after an extensive but routine inspection tour, was called out again today due to the derailment of a freight train west of Pacific.

No details of the derailment were obtainable by press time and it is not known whether the incident will delay train schedules.

A Wise Choice

BY A FAIR and honest expression of opinion the people of the Prince Rupert riding have selected the candidate of their choice—Bruce Brown, Liberal—to represent them in the B.C. Legislature.

It was no overwhelming majority that took Mr. Brown to head the polls on the second count; in fact, it was so close a race that it was undecided until the last handful of ballots was counted.

George Hills, CCF candidate and last year's MLA for this riding, however, is a game loser. He admits cheerfully that he was beaten fair and square, even if only by 33 votes.

That is the way democracy works. The candidate's lot is up to the people. They have decided who shall represent them.

It was a good, stiff, clean campaign in the Prince Rupert riding. This itself speaks for the calibre of all three candidates. William Murray, Social Credit, won a lot of support. But it is evident that the people of this northwest frontier believe Mr. Brown can most benefit their part of the province.

We believe the voters made a wise choice and that their trust in Mr. Brown will not disappoint them.

A community worker well known for his determination and integrity, the 43-year-old lawyer has an unquestionable background. Although he has no experience in politics, he is considered a sound businessman of high principles. To back up the trust placed in him by Prince Rupert electors, Mr. Brown will see to it that the developing northwest area of our province must not take a back seat in the B.C. Legislature.

The electors will hold Mr. Brown to his promise when he was nominated . . . "to give unstintingly of my time and effort."

HEALTH DEPARTMENT LISTS RULES TO WARD OFF POLIO

A set of rules to help ward off polio has been issued by Dr. A. F. W. Peart, a health department division chief. They are:

- 1. Keep general health up to par. 2. Get plenty of rest and don't become overtired. 3. Don't plunge overheat into cold water. 4. Put off until fall surgical operations unless needed immediately. 5. Keep the house free from flies.

Canada's worst polio infection is in the Whitehorse, Yukon, district where 131 cases have been reported this year.

Auto Industry Spending Thousands On Engineering Research Projects

By DAVID J. WILKIE

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry probably now is spending more money on engineering research than it has at any time in the last quarter-century.

If you are inclined to question this you need only check over the number of "cars of tomorrow" and other experimental units that have been hand-built by the various companies and the many items of refinement under test.

There is scarcely a car manufacturer who has not built one of the "dream cars." Most of these, of course, never will reach the assembly lines. But many of their components will eventually get into production jobs.

Examples of the cars that will yield something to the assembly line models of the future are General Motors' Le Sabre, Chrysler's d'Elegance and Ford's experimental XL-500. All are strictly "idea" cars, designed to try out engineering principles and theories. Generally the cars are too costly to have any popular appeal, although they excite curiosity and the urge to own the best possible car.

Le Sabre has such future potentialities as aluminum body and fibreglass fenders; a 335-horsepower engine; disappearing headlights and built-in automatic wheel jacks.

Ford's XL-500 has a scarlet fibreglass body with a roof of glare-proof glass and three separate bumpers, one horizontal and two vertical, to protect the rear section.

Chrysler's d'Elegance has such things as a hydraulically-operated spare-tire mount, flush-type pull-out door handles and other such conceits.

While all this research on new devices is going on, the engineering departments also are giving more than normal attention to simplification of many established accessory items like automatic transmissions and power steering.

Simplification, of course, is the first step toward lower manufacturing costs which in turn will bring lower retail prices. Automatic transmissions and power steering are the most popular optional equipment items in the car industry's group of accessories.

The industry is selling just about as many of them as it currently can produce. However, it is aiming at making them standard equipment on all cars as soon as possible.

Because its construction is somewhat less complicated, power steering seems much closer to that than automatic transmission.

Yacht Haven Established Near Vancouver

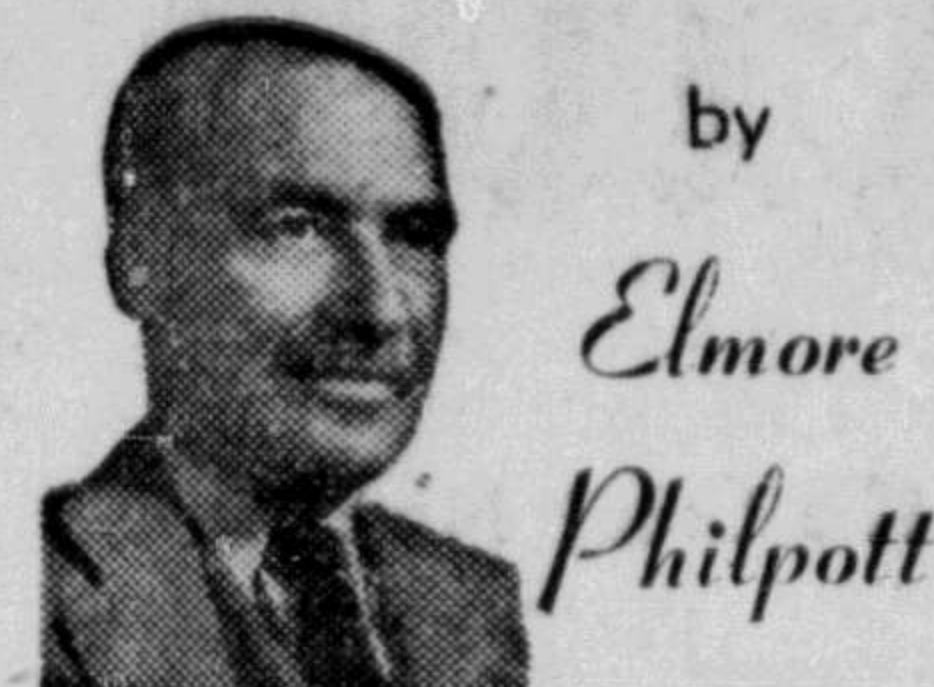

VANCOUVER (CP)—A new haven for British Columbia, Washington and Oregon yachtsmen and sportsmen has been established as a public trust by owner J. F. MacDonald.

It is on a picturesque inlet 100 miles north of Vancouver, six miles from the head of Jarvis Inlet. It is five miles long and the inlet has a 60-foot entrance, giving the harbor complete protection.

MacDonald filed on the property as wild land in 1927 and established floats, shore gangways and woodland trails for visitors.

"The trustees plan to develop the inlet for greater use of visiting boats," said Dr. Leslie Marshall of Vancouver's Burrard Yacht Club, who was named one of the trustees.

As I See It

What Wins Elections?

TWICE in my lifetime I have seen new parties throw out old professionals—and on both those occasions the new parties had no leader, no program, a very bad slate of candidates, and virtually no money.

Yet on both those occasions (Ontario in 1920 and B.C. in 1952) the new parties won.

PROFESSIONALS tell you sadly "elections are not won by prayers" as a French-Canadian, Israel Tarte, put it.

My old boss John Douglak of the Montreal Witness added "what he means is that they are won by the payers."

But that was just a joke. Every political realist knows that you can have the biggest campaign fund on record and still be beaten by a party running on a shoestring. If the latter is the handiest tool to beat what most voters want to beat.

THE SOCIAL CREDIT party in B.C. had very little money in 1952 and yet it ran two per cent ahead of the Liberals who had one of the biggest campaign funds in their entire history.

But by 1953 the Social Credit party had become the "big money party" and in fact had the second biggest campaign fund ever amassed even in B.C.'s big money politics. Yet it won only 36 per cent of the votes—that is just barely reached the peak strength the CCF reached in the middle forties, when the CCF was kept out of power in B.C. only by the coalition of the two old parties.

J. A. STEPHENSON writes in Saturday Night for June 20 about one stunt which certainly helped win the federal election of 1930.

Vancouver's own Senator A. D. Macrae was the Tory campaign manager that time.

"When he saw a chance to exploit the issue of New Zealand butter, he seized it. At considerable expense, he bought a large consignment of New Zealand butter, which had arrived in Montreal, and taking a considerable loss upon his purchase, dumped it on the market at bargain-counter prices. . . . The outraged dairy farmers turned over a substantial number of seats in the Eastern Townships of Quebec."

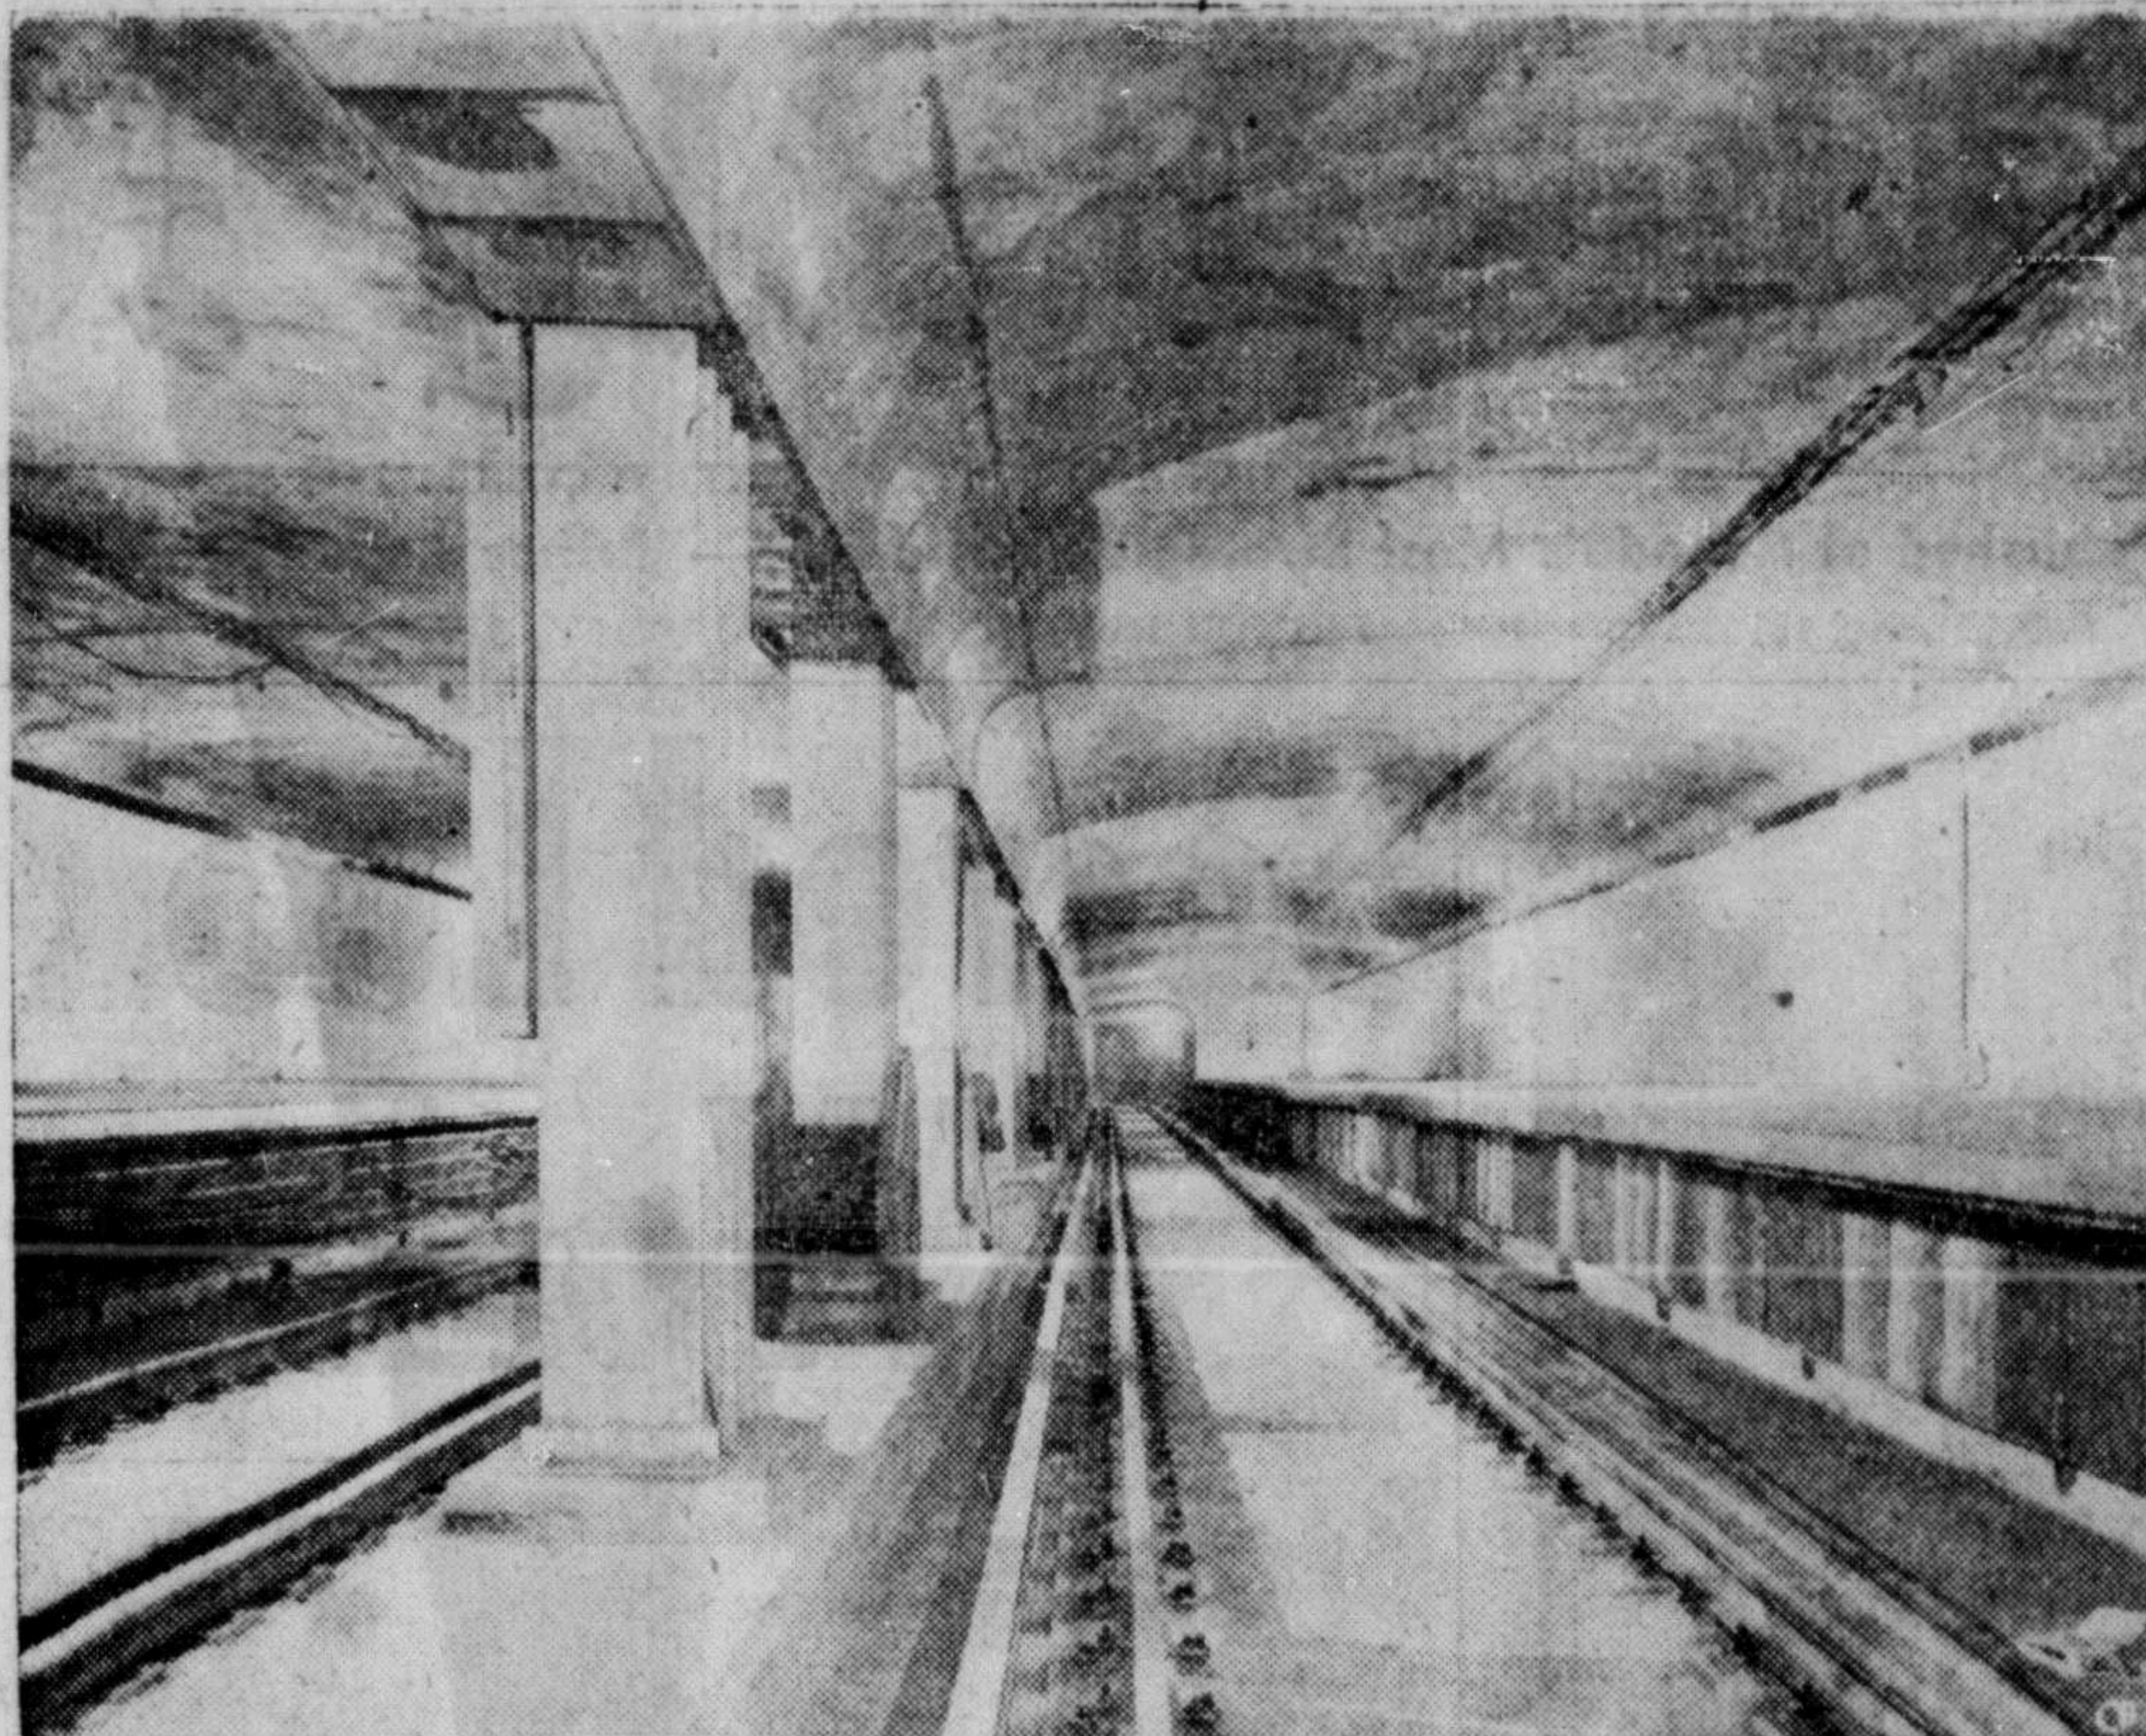

THERE are newspapermen still alive who remember another election stunt—which also scored heavily.

In 1911, when the Tories finally defeated the Laurier government, the issue was Reciprocity—free trade in natural products between Canada and U.S. The Tories were scaring the living daylight out of the people by saying it was a "back door" to the United States. The then President Taft had used a fool phrase that the pact would make Canada an "adjunct" of the U.S.A.

Some of the hard-boiled Tories went down to Washington and paid back-bench Congressmen one hundred dollars per speech to advocate "the annexation of Canada." That was just duck-soup for those Congressmen who would have been glad to make the speeches for free.

Anyway, the trick worked. Nobody down in the States was paying the slightest attention to those fool speeches—in fact, hardly a newspaper bothered to report them. But up here in Canada they were spread over the front pages. And how!

But I hasten to add that in my opinion the Tories would have won both in 1911 and 1930, stunts or no stunts. For the real thought was "it's time for a change."

THIS IS KING STREET STATION, one of the downtown stops in Toronto's subway, now under construction and expected to open in February, 1954. The $58,500,000 rapid-transit system—first in Canada—will carry 40,000 persons an hour from downtown Union Station 4 1/2 miles north to Eglinton Avenue.

Engineers Take Elaborate Precautions to Prevent Accidents in Subway Under Construction in Toronto

By HARRY KINGDON Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO—One of the coolest places in Toronto is Canada's first subway.

Rapid transit system workers say the temperature never varies between 50 and 60 degrees Fahrenheit, whether surface dwellers are sweltering or shivering.

The city-owned Toronto transportation commission expects its subway to cost a cool $58,500,000 before its turnstiles open to the public in February, 1954.

The concrete tunnels that will carry the trains under crowded downtown streets are complete. More than 70 per cent of the track has been laid and most of the stations are in the final stage of construction.

CARS EXPECTED SOON First of the 104 English-built cars will arrive in Toronto in July. The fleet will cost about $8,000,000. By the end of 1953, officials expect to start preliminary test runs.

In full operation, the trains will be able to carry 40,000 persons an hour from downtown Union station 4 1/2 miles north to Eglinton Avenue. Trolley buses then will carry "northerners" about two miles farther to the city limits.

The whole subway trip is expected to take less than 20 minutes in rush hour. Surface travellers should save time too. Yonge street—the city's main north-south artery—will be cleared of street-cars when the subway starts rolling. Yonge cars now carry about 12,000 passengers an hour in rush periods—and move an average of six miles an hour.

STATIONS IN STORES Six of the 12 stations will have entrances directly from stores or office buildings. Engineers have taken elaborate precautions to prevent accidents. The signal system not only warns the driver to stop with a red light, but automatically stops the train if the driver doesn't.

There will be no coffee dispensers, no soft-drink machines, no sandwich or food purveyors in stations. Each station will have its news stand concession selling papers, cigarettes and candy. Advertisements on the station platform will encourage the passengers to buy all manner of goods—somewhere else.

Getting lost in the subway will also be difficult. Each station is marked with its name in large letters along the walls and also by a distinctive color combination. More than 1,000,000 bags of cement were used to build the subway and 12,000 tons of reinforcing steel. Structural and rail steel accounted for another 12,850 tons.

VICTORIA REPORT

by J. K. Nesbitt

VICTORIA.—The storm that blew up in the Social Credit camp about suspension of two civil servants for what the government thought was wrongdoing is dying down.

Premier Bennett has so far won that one. A Social Credit group in Oak Bay attempted to censure the government for the suspensions. The government would not be censured. Premier Bennett flew into one of his cold rages, in effect told the Social Crediters to mind their own business.

An Oak Bay Social Credit meeting blew up in confusion over the whole affair. The tide that first brought the matter up were severely reprimanded. Social Credit's enemies took great comfort from all this, but it was too late. If only the rumour had come before the election, said they in some agony.

The case of the suspended civil servants has caused a lot of public argument, and a great deal of confusion in the public mind. Should a political party attempt to run the government, even if it's of the same political persuasion? Mr. Bennett said he would take no dictation from anyone, not even his own party. The Oak Bay dissidents cried that B.C. no longer has Social Credit, it has Bennettism.

A lot of people—even non-

Social Crediters—agree with Mr. Bennett. A political party is not the government, even if it helped elect that government. Political parties are important, yes, and they may, and should, make their wishes known to the government, by resolution, like any other organization. But there shouldn't be attempts by a political party to tell the government it MUST do so-and-so—or else. A government is responsible to all the people, not just the members of one political group.

One of the curses of the past has been the party machine, operating in the background. Governments seldom make important decisions without consulting those machines. That was one of the many abuses the people eventually became fed up with. Such dictation by the machines eventually brought ruination to Liberal and Conservative parties in this province.

It's going to be difficult for Premier Bennett to keep a Social Credit machine from building up. Machines are like cancers; they start innocently enough, before anyone is aware of them; suddenly the growth is all over the body politic.

There are hangers-on in Social Credit, as in any other party. They are bound to increase, and more and more feel their oats.

Premier Bennett isn't going to find it easy, either, keeping out patronage. He says he will—but patronage, of one kind or another, is almost certain to build up. It always has, and always will, with governments. Some of the Social Credit boys are bound to want patronage, and they're going to demand it. They'll say they fought to get Social Credit elected, and so they want their reward. It's going to be interesting to see what happens.

Rhee Opponent Arrested in Seoul

SEOUL (AP)—The South Korean government announced that Chough Byong Ok, a political opponent of President Syngman Rhee, was under arrest by South Korean military police for his own protection.

Chough, a leader of the Opposition Democratic Nationalist party, was beaten up by four young assailants Tuesday night—a day after he spoke out publicly against the anti-truce policy of President Rhee.

Dr. Karl Hong Zee, director of the government public information office, said Clough was under arrest by a certain organization.

Karl did not name the organization, but other officials said Chough was being held by military police of the provost marshal general's office.

By Norman M. MacLeod

One of the popular pastimes in a politically aroused national Capital these days is comparing the qualifications of the campaign teams working in support of the leaders of the two major political parties.

On paper, they're curiously well-matched. The PC machine, contrary to what might be a general expectation, shades its Liberal counterpart in the factor of experience. But the Liberals have an admitted superiority in the important field of advertising and public relations.

Both machines have undergone an approximately equal infusion of new young blood since the last contest back in 1949.

At the Bracken House headquarters of the PC's, R. A. Bell, QC, brilliant Ottawa lawyer, is the presiding genius. An individual of solid and practical, rather than spectacular but erratic methods, his sagacity stems from key association with every national Conservative campaign since 1935. In riding organization and in the sheer mechanics of fighting an election, Bell is an acknowledged authority. Past Conservative failures have never been attributed to lack of thoroughness or efficiency on his part.

Teamed up with Bell as phrase-maker extraordinary and general idea man—in many respects the J. H. Pickersgill of the PC's—the Drew machine has another formidable veteran. He is R. K. Finlayson, QC, Winnipeg lawyer who came to the Capital in 1932 to help then Prime Minister R. B. Bennett organize the Imperial Economic Conference. When the Imperial Conference ended Finlayson stayed on Parliament Hill to become one of the recognized powers behind the Conservative throne. Along with Washington Ambassador W. D. Herridge he was the author of the Bennett Government New Deal legislation—which only failed to save the Ministry politically because of the severity of the economic depression. In addition he being recognized as one of the ablest

Trespassing
... With Sandy

Kinsmen Bill Bond has gone out of town for his annual vacation, but before departing he picked the winners of the club's Coronation contest...

A young man, who earlier this year became well known to the basketball fans—Roy Webber—was the closest of all in the 83 finalists who were asked to guess the combined weight of the 28 members of the Kinsmen Club.

Roy, who lives at 147 Fifth Avenue West, knew most of the club members, figured an average of about 170 pounds, then subtracted 30. His total was 436. The actual total weight of the members was 4,630.5 pounds.

Roy wins a round trip to Vancouver by CP Airlines and will have a car at his disposal for two days, through courtesy of Crawford Moore Travel Agencies. He plans to take his holidays in the last two weeks of August... so he'll be flying to Vancouver.

Second prize winner—Mrs. E. H. Christison—with a guess of 4,223 pounds, wins two round-trip tickets to Stewart.

Mrs. Christison figured on the basis of 169 pounds per person, added 100 and then changed the last two numbers. Her figure was 4,823.

Third prize winner—a trip to Ketchikan—was won by Mrs. Gunnard (Liz) Anderson of 303 Fourth Avenue East. She got a total of 4,839 for her figure.

The manager of the Ellis office here—Karl Lundstrom—would like Mrs. Anderson to give him lots of notice before she goes. He wants to make sure she won't be disappointed.

While she didn't know until the morning who won first prize, it just happens that Roy Webber played basketball for Gunnard's team... Mrs. Anderson said she knew all but eight of the Kinsmen and just tried to figure the average at around 175 pounds.

Tickets for the first three winners can be picked up at The Daily News office.

Consolation prize winners—there were 13 of them—get five free taxi trips. Taxi tickets will be mailed to the following:

Mrs. David L. Hewer, 326 Biggar Place; R. Shearer, 1063 Seventh Ave. East. Mrs. Robert McKay, Jr., 1010 First Ave. West; Edith V. Eby, 630 Fifth Ave. East; Mrs. A. Holbrook, 764 Alfred St.; Mrs. Betty Negraiff, 510 Seventh Ave. West; Mrs. F. H. Hood, No. 4, Waldron Apts.; Evelyn Antilla, No. 1, Metropole Hall, Third Ave. West; Miss Violet Manojlovich, 736 West Fifth Ave.; Mrs. Mary Long, 1222 Beach Place; Mrs. Jack Lindsay, 802 Borden St.; Mrs. A. Sandford, 339 Fifth Ave. West; Mrs. R. A. Johnson, 1421 Piggott Place.

Job's Daughters Leave Tonight To Take Part in Calgary Stampede

The famous Job's Daughters' drill team enroute tonight on special cars for Calgary where they are due to give a display at the Calgary Stampede on July 6.

Enroute the team have been invited to exhibit their spectacular drill routines in Jasper, and are to be entertained during their brief visit by members of the Order of the Eastern Star.

The girls have a remarkable record: in 1949 they received first prize for military marching, and second prize for exhibition marching at Spokane, and repeated that performance in Long Beach, California in 1950. In 1951 they won three first prizes in major events for military, exhibition, and novelty marching at Richmond, Virginia.

The team is under the direction of drill master Alex Mitchell. Mrs. Laura Mitchell is the Bethel Guardian.

Girls in the team are: Drill captain, Margaret Giske; Carol Hill, Carol Elkins, Sharon Skinner, Georgina Mitchell, Sharon Williams, Judy Lloyd, Ann Eyoifson, Della Haig, Catherine Finlayson, Gail Redpath, Barbara Stalker, Pat Hill, Joan Bennett, Alice Nickerson, Linden Nicker-

Two Rupert Scouts Leaving Shortly For Annual Jamboree at Ottawa

Two Prince Rupert first class Boy Scouts and one from Terrace will leave here within the next two weeks to join some 300 other B.C. scouts to board a special train to the second Canadian jamboree at Ottawa July 18.

Northwest representatives will be Jimmy Paldwin of the Second Prince Rupert (Conrad) Troop; David Ridsdal, First (St. Andrew's) troop; and Joseph Sparks, First Terrace Troop. F. E. Anfield, district commissioner, announced.

The three will fly to Vancouver by courtesy of the Boy Scouts Association, B.C. Provincial Command.

Other expenses, such as train fare and incidentals, provided at individual cost, will be borne by the individual scouts.

This is the third time Prince Rupert scouts have attended jamborees. The first, four years ago, was held at Ottawa; the second, a year later, at Valley Forge, U.S.A.

This year the rolling Connaught Rifle Range near Ottawa will rock with the excitement of more than 2,000 Boy Scouts as they prepare for a week of outdoor fun.

The boys—all first class scouts—between 14 and 18 years old—come from all across Canada.

An international touch will be added by scouts from the United States, Cuba and Central America.

The jamboree will be officially opened July 20 by Governor-General Vincent Massey, in his capacity as Chief Scout for Canada.

Mr. Massey will make a tour of the camp and see the boys at work.

Prince Rupert scouts attending the event have been grooming themselves for more than a month, said Mr. Anfield.

"They have been out camping practically every week-end, hardening themselves for the rigors of eastern Canada."

The big Connaught ranges will take on the appearance of a miniature city for the jamboree.

In addition to a daily newspaper written by the scouts and printed by an Ottawa company, there will be a post office, a bank, a 20-bed hospital with a full-time staff, three canteens, a police force, church services for all denominations, a sports arena complete with bleacher seats for the public and many other facilities.

Mr. Gen. D. C. Spry, chief executive commissioner of the Boy Scouts Association, says that the jamboree would stress higher standards and quality. He said higher standards have increased the boy scout population in Canada to 150,000 from 92,000 in 1945.

Gen. Spry said the jamboree would also give the boys a chance to know boys of other provinces and would enable the scouts to see the national capital. A full program has been outlined for the week including swimming periods and tours of Ottawa.

No matter what province a scout comes from, he pays no more than $40 return train fare to attend the jamboree. Scouts from nearby provinces pay their own train fare and an additional $10 to help scouts from more distant provinces.

Acting on the old saying that an army marches on its stomach, some $30,000 will be spent on food for the week. In all some 60,000 meals will be cooked by the scouts themselves over charcoal fires.

They should have plenty to eat. Already ordered are bread, 11,440 loaves; buns, 8,800; pastries, 15,400; cereals, 2,640 boxes; potatoes, 3.5 tons; fresh meats, 3,610 pounds; canned meats, 3,520 tins; vegetables, 14,360 pounds; eggs, 2,017 dozen, and milk, 17,600 quarts.

RUSS WIFE OF NEWSMAN NOW ALLOWED TO TRAVEL

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russian wives of two U.S. citizens—Eddy Gilmore of The Associated Press and Robert Tucker of the U.S. embassy—expect to leave the Soviet Union next week.

The government announced on June 9 that it was lifting the restrictions on outside travel for Mrs. Gilmore and Mrs. Tucker and others in similar position. The restrictions had been in force for years.

Bernice Miriam Ryan Wed In Pretty Ceremony Here

Bernice Miriam Ryan became a June bride when she was united in marriage to Thomas Pilford at a ceremony in First United Church last Friday.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kelly of Port Simpson, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pilford of Prince Rupert, made their vows before Rev. Lawrence Sieber. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Henry Helin.

She chose a gown of maize net with a sweetheart neckline, and her shoulder length veil was held in place by a yellow halo. She wore a beautiful golden locket, a gift from the groom, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations with blue iris.

The matron of honor, the bride's aunt, Mrs. Henry Helin chose a gown of turquoise, and wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Bridesmaids Mrs. Glen Doane, Mrs. Dorothy Di Guistone, and Miss Marietta Musgrave were all dressed in beautiful formal length gowns with matching nosegays and the flower girls Isabelle Helin and Marlene Pilford, wore long gowns with matching nosegays.

Best man was brother of the groom, Mr. William Pilford, and the groomsmen were Doug Woods, Lawrence Helin and Eddie Pilford. Ushers were Charles Pilford and Artie Helin.

The reception and a dance were held at the Valhalla Hall where the guests were received by the bride's mother, who wore a navy blue suit, and the mother of the groom, who wore a navy blue dress. Both had white accessories, and corsages of American Beauty roses.

The master of ceremonies was Mr. Henry Helin.

The toast to the bride and a speech were given by Mr. William Beynan.

Refreshments were served in the drill hall annex by members of the canteen committee.

The dance was the first of the summer at the Navy Drill Hall and it is expected that there will be similar events later in the summer to mark the visits of Canadian warships.

300 Couples Enjoy Dance At Drill Hall

Between 250 and 300 couples celebrated the Dominion Day holiday on Tuesday evening at the Seamen's and Wrens' dance sponsored by HMCS Chatham at the Navy Drill Hall.

Proceeds of the dance were in aid of the mess and canteen funds of HMCS Chatham. Arrangements were handled by a committee composed of Wrens Nina Youngman and Jacqueline Cochran and Seaman Bill Hemminger. Master of ceremonies was Syd Alexander. The hall and annex were appropriately decorated with streamers and flags of the International Naval code.

A guest of note at the dance was Leading Seaman Edward Dawes, RCN(R), who recently returned from taking part in the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II in London.

Door price of a floor lamp was won by Fred Schaeffer and spot dance prizes by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hitchcock and Ray Spring and his partner, Mrs. Lorraine Dell.

Refreshments were served in the drill hall annex by members of the canteen committee.

The dance was the first of the summer at the Navy Drill Hall and it is expected that there will be similar events later in the summer to mark the visits of Canadian warships.

Doris Grable Tops At Thornhill

Doris Grable took medal honors last Sunday when 17 women members of Thornhill Golf Club at Terrace took part in the ladies club championship and Terrace Hotel championship. Play for the championship will follow.

On July 12 golfers from all over the district will be shooting for the Bob Parker trophy emblematic of the Skeena Valley Open championship. The tournament is open to any golf club member from Prince Rupert to Prince George.

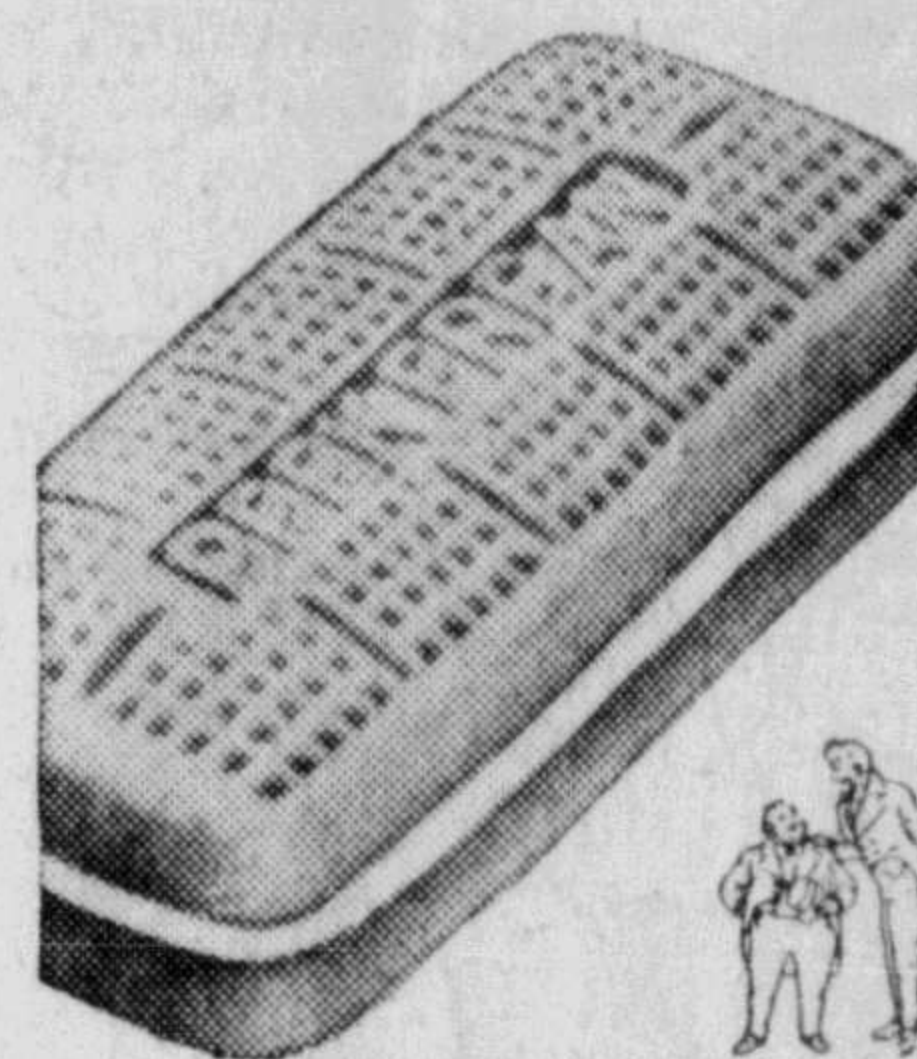

From July 13 to July 18 members are asked to bring a visitor for a free round or rounds at Thornhill. This is to be an annual event as the club wishes to see some new faces around the course.

Prince Rupert visitors to Thornhill this past week were Gerry Lemire, George Bradley, John and Kathleen Martin, Roy Webber, Bill Becker, Jack Rowbottom, T. Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. M. Payne, G. Cameron, Fred Christenson, Edith Jack, Elaine Maynard, Helen Langley, Charles and Ruth Starr, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Fulton, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Lavett and Ted Smith.

Tenders Called For Deepening First Narrows

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fisheries Minister Sinclair has announced that tenders have been called for the job of deepening the First Narrows shipping channel.

The channel will be deepened to a depth of 37½ feet. The present channel is 35 feet but there are places where it has been silted in to a lesser depth. It will be 700 feet wide.

"This is the first step in widening the entire narrows," said Mr. Sinclair.

BOTTLE-FED BABIES

If your baby is bottle-fed, be sure to watch little bowels closely. Mother's milk has a natural laxative effect which helps take care of baby's need. Lacking this, a bottle-fed baby often gets fretful, fussy and suffers constipation and upset stomach. Let Baby's Own Tablets help you keep baby's bowels on schedule—sweeten upset stomach. Used with confidence by mothers for more than fifty years. No "sleepy" stuff—no dulling effects. Equally good for simple fever, constipation, restlessness and fretfulness resulting from irregularity at feeding time, and other minor ills. Get Baby's Own Tablets today at your druggist.

Bid For U.S. Sabre Rejected So Jacqueline Came to Canada

By The Canadian Press
Canada has been dragged into aviation's battle of the jet-propelled Jacqueline. The flying women's rivalry has been pushed through the sound barrier by a Canadian plane.

In California, Jacqueline Cochran, 43-year-old wife of an American millionaire, flew a Canadian-built F-86E Sabre jet fighter faster than sound.

But probably more important to her was the fact it went faster than the other Jaqueline. Jacqueline Auriol, 35, the daughter-in-law of the president of France, had had the temerity to steal Miss Cochran's women's speed record.

Chances are Mme. Auriol now will get herself another jet and do some supersonic hair-pulling of her own.

WENT TO CANADAIR
The inside story of how Miss Cochran got hold of a Canadian Sabre has not been told. She tried to get a Sabre in the U.S. but couldn't, so she came to Canada.

She tried the RCAF and was turned down. Then she went to the Canadair plant in Montreal which builds Sabres and finally became a consultant to its directors. After that it was easy. Technically she took the Sabre south to make some tests that couldn't be made here.

Jacqueline Cochran has been used to getting what she wants since she took her first solo 15 years ago while working at a beauty parlor. She went on to head her own cosmetics company, become director of an airline, marry Floyd Odlum, multi-millionaire financier, start a big ranch with him and dominate women's flying—until Mme. Auriol came along.

The Harmon Trophy, awarded by the International League of Aviators to the world's outstanding woman flier, stood on the Cochran sideboard from 1937 to 1950. In 1938 she won the Bendix Transcontinental Trophy race against a field of men and became the only woman to receive the Billy Mitchell Trophy as the outstanding pilot of the year.

That was the year the other Jacqueline, a shy girl of 20 unheard of in the aviation world, married Paul Auriol. There was a child next year and another three years later.

While Jacqueline Auriol lived the quiet life of a wife and mother, Jacqueline Cochran was organizing a group of American women pilots to fly with the British Air Transport Service in England, became director of U.S. Women's Air Force service pilots (the Wasps), and in 1945 was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal.

In 1947 she established two world flying records which still stand, and in 1948 she set two more.

MME. AURIOL'S START
That year Jacqueline Auriol, 30, with her children in school most of each day, took flying lessons. In 1949 she gave an exhibition of stunt flying at Paris.

A few days later she crashed into the Seine on a routine flight. Her face was badly smashed but she flew again even before surgeons had finished a series of 22 operations on her.

May 12, 1951, Mme. Auriol broke the world speed record for women, averaging 509.245 mph in a Vampire jet fighter over a 100-kilometre circuit. The Harmon Trophy went to France. Last December she raised her record to 534.375 mph and was awarded the Legion of Honor.

Jacqueline Cochran already had the Legion of Honor and the honorary wings of the French, Turkish, Chinese and Spanish air forces, but she no longer had the record.

So last month in her Sabre, above the Mojave desert, she became the first woman to fly through the sound barrier. In making the 100-kilometre circuit at 652.337 mph, she not only regained the women's record, from Jacqueline Auriol, but exceeded the men's record as well.

It looks as though the Harmon Trophy will be on the Cochran sideboard again. But for how long?

JET-PROPELLED Jacqueline Cochran, 43-year-old wife of an American millionaire, is the first woman to fly through the sound barrier. In an F-86 Sabre-jet built by Canadair of Montreal and powered by an Orenda engine, she flew at 652.33 m.p.h. over a 100-kilometre circuit to win not only the women's speed record but exceeded the men's record as well. She also defeated her rival woman speed aviator, Jacqueline Auriol of France, who previously had wrested the women's speed record from Miss Cochran.

Murder Sentence Reduced

VANCOUVER (CP)—Court of Appeals has reduced to manslaughter the verdict against Glen Donald Smith, 22-year-old army deserter who had been sentenced to be hanged for murder in Whitehorse, Y.T.

The appeal court sentenced Smith to 15 years in penitentiary in the case arising from the shooting death of Ralph Caruso, Whitehorse taxi driver, last Aug. 11.

Defence counsel was Mayor John M. Cuelenaere of Prince Albert, who today withdrew all his grounds for appeal for Smith, except the application for reduction of the charge to manslaughter. He pleaded for a sentence of from seven to 10 years on the ground that Smith had no criminal record.

Chief Justice Gordon Sloan said Smith's sentence will be subject to review from time to time and he may be released before the end of his sentence if his conduct warrants it.

Lawyer Eats Cockroach To Prove Point

SAVANNAH, Ga. (CP)—A lawyer ate a cockroach in court here to prove a point.

The incident occurred during a hearing on a suit by a woman asking $20,000 from the Savannah Coca Cola Bottling Company, alleging she was made ill by swallowing a cockroach while drinking a coke.

The company contended the insect didn't get into the bottle at its plant and then Alex A. Lawrence, defence counsel, produced a cockroach in the courtroom and started eating it, bit by bit, to prove it harmless.

Superior Judge David S. Atkinson restrained Lawrence before the roach was entirely consumed and the amazed jury promptly returned a verdict in favor of the company.

Judgment Reserved on Rate Appeal

OTTAWA (CP)—The Board of Transport Commissioners has reserved judgment on an appeal against a $1,000,000-a-year freight rate boost on West Coast lumber shipped to Toronto, Montreal and other Eastern Canadian markets.

C. W. Brazier of Vancouver, counsel for the British Columbia Lumber Manufacturers Association and other western member groups which initiated the appeal, said the rate boost would throw the whole western lumber rate structure into "utter confusion."

He charged the increase was part of a secret tariff deal between Canadian and American railway interests operating out of the Pacific coast. The charge was promptly denied by railway witnesses.

Moreover, said Mr. Brazier, Canadian railways took part in rate-setting not only in Canada but also in the United States and thus created a situation in which they "compete with themselves."

The rate increase was imposed by the railways last May 1 when it decided that West Coast lumber moving into markets east of the Great Lakes should be in the "competitive" rate class, thereby withdrawing it from the $7,000,000-a-year federal railway "bridge" subsidy on hauls between Eastern and Western Canada.

The effect of the increase—suspended by the board pending the outcome of the current appeal—was to jump lumber rates by 14 cents a hundred pounds on hauls between Vancouver and Toronto and by 14½ cents a hundred pounds on hauls between Vancouver and Montreal.

By BILL BOSS
IN KOREA (CP)—With one good battle and 46 nights of routine patrolling recorded, the 3rd Battalion, Royal Canadian Regiment, has completed its first tour in the Korean line.

The RCR's now hope an armistice will intervene to make their first tour else their last. But the 47 days between April 21 when the unit relieved the homebound 1st Royal 22nd Regiment, until June 8 when the 2nd Princess Patricia's took over the sector, established that the battalion was found in all departments.

Says Lt.-Col. Ken Campbell of Perth Ont., officer commanding: "The troops proved to have been as well prepared for battle as the soldiers we took into battle during the war and who had four years of training. Perhaps our men were even more fit."

Highlight of the 47 days was the May 2 battle when the Chinese swarmed in strength over a plateau position commanded by Lieut. Ed Hollier of Toronto only to be destroyed by lashing artillery fire from the 81st Field Regiment, Royal Canadian Artillery.

The night's fighting yielded the RCR two Military Crosses, three Mentioned in Despatches and three mentions in dispatches.

"For the rest it was straightforward, not very difficult, soldiering," says Campbell. "We learned a lot about patrolling . . . An officer who can handle a fighting patrol can do anything."

The command post worked out so efficient a counter-mortar technique that RCR mortar bombs were in the air, engaging enemy mortars, before the Communists' own bombs landed. Constantly watching the front through 50-power binoculars, RCR observers took on particularly areas of responsibility. As soon as enemy mortars coughed from his assigned area an observer would shout a code word into the radio linking him with the mortars. Canadian bombs would be in flight toward the active mortar before the enemy's had arrived.

Did you ever deliberately set out to find native Indian petroglyphs, stone weapons or tools around our immediate countryside. There is a whole mine of various interesting articles and objects of historic and intrinsic value quite close by; three beautifully made stone axes were recently picked up at Cloyah Bay, and the north right hand going out side of Metlakatla passage has rock carvings of natural size human heads.

Many answers are still sought by those scientists engaged in tracing the beginnings of our natives on this continent, and the Prince Rupert museum and F. E. Anfield would greatly welcome any addition to the local collection.

Junior fishermen with only legs for transportation are doing as well as some of the far-ranging grown-ups by taking some good sized dillies out of the Hays Creek tidal pool, four of our celestials had limits of 2½ to 3½ pound dillies at the "Hole in the Wall," Telegraph Point also paying dividends on the same species; Lakelse Lake still red-hot on cutthroats with the Royal Coachman leading taker, and the GUSKE-JONES - MOSTAD trio met brilliant success on rednecks at the Shandilla Lakes (which same ponds almost invariably repay for the hike in from the highway.) Fairview in the news as usual with dillies, skil-fish, and grey cod; a good run of rock-fish in assorted colors but all the same splendid eating no matter the color.

Two does are offering pictures to lucky snapshots who meet them near Oliver Lake these long evenings; more slowly and quietly if you get a chance, don't wave your arms around and perhaps you too will be fortunate.

There is a sea-lion finding good pickings along the waterfront, with the Yacht Club to Cold Storage being most favored with his presence; a big, dirty-white colored creature, and no friend to any fisherman.

The early cohos are showing up a few miles nearer the Skeena, and Dundas Island vicinity should have good fishing any time now.

Do you know that there are more than 30 different kinds of willows growing in British Columbia, and that they range from sea level to up above timberline, and that they quite commonly hybridize?

John Fitzgerald and two couples, the Stones and Vincents, with Butch Ray Johnson and daughter Arlene made the flight into Khatada last Sunday, weather was particularly good and all hands took a ducking at some time or another.

Most of the fishing was done at the entrance to the lake and south, the heavier fish were in the deeper water and names of the unlucky anglers who failed to hold on will not be mentioned.

Excellent book on the readers' table at the Civic Centre library, Hammond's Atlas of Game and Fish of North America; color illustrated and a very valuable work with brief account of the pictured creature that is highly educational.

CYO Down Battery 4-1 For Second Win in Series

Catholic Youth Organization defeated Heavy Battery 4-1 last night in first round play for the Sheardown football trophy in a game played at Roosevelt Park.

The score which gave CYO its second win of the series was not indicative of the play which saw the Gunners miss chance after chance around the CYO goal.

The artillerymen drew first blood when Father Mohan banged a hard shot past goalie F. Rutton.

Shortly afterwards A. Tambourini tied up the game for the CYO when a Battery back failed to clear and Tambourini had no trouble beating goalie Walter Silversmith.

Before half time Jerry Van-lerland put CYO in the lead with a sizzling unassisted shot into the Gunners' net.

In the second half, lack of finish around the CYO goal-mouth saw Battery miss a dozen chances to score. Rutton in the CYO goal made some excellent saves but the Gunners' shots were invariably wide of the mark.

Vanierland made it 3-1 for CYO and Tambourini scored his second counter when the Battery back and Silversmith both came out to meet him and left the goal unprotected.

A. Rutton played his usual valuable game at centre half. In the present Sheardown trophy series CYO has two games to its credit and General Motors' eleven has won one game. Tomorrow night General Motors meets the Battery with the latter trying for their first win.

Last Sunday Prince Rupert All-Stars travelled to Smithers where the locals defeated the home squad 3-1 under ideal conditions. It is hoped that Smithers will be sending an eleven down in the near future for a return game.

Salem Wins First Half Of WIL

By The Canadian Press

Salem Senators are the Western International Baseball League's first-half champions, and Edmonton Eskimos, in a surprising finish, have laid claim to the runner-up berth.

A 7-2 victory in the second game of a double-header at Vancouver Wednesday night assured the Senators a place in the post-season playoff for the WIL pennant. They will meet the winner of the second half of the league's split season.

The Eskimos, who became a serious threat only 10 days ago, fashioned 2-1 and 7-6 wins over Calgary and took at least temporary command of second place when Lewiston's Broncs bowed 2-1 to Spokane.

The sad-sack Broncs, WIL pace-setters until their luck turned sour in mid-June, have one more game on their schedule, tonight's meeting at Spokane. A Lewiston victory in the finale would give the Broncs second place in the final standings, four percentage points in front of the Eskimos.

Salem, needing a single win to take the first-half title, dropped the first half of the Vancouver twin bill 4-3, but came back strong in the nightcap. The Senators tallied twice in the second inning and put the game beyond reach of the Capitanos with a three-run outburst in the fourth.

Yakima, league doormat most of the season, staged a rebellion at Victoria. The Bears shaded last year's champions 10-9 in their first game of a twin bill and outslugged them 15-9 in the afternoon. The double win lifted the Bears from the cellar to eighth place. Calgary replaced them in the basement.

Wenatchee Chiefs shut out Tri-City 14-0 and assured themselves of a first-division finish. The teams wind up their schedule at Kennewick Thursday night. A loss would still leave the Chiefs in fifth place in the final first-half standings.

Yanks Nearing Loss Record

New York Yankees, who usually don't have to ask anyone for anything, might consider borrowing Charlie Grimm's Milwaukee textbook on "How To Start Winning While Losing."

Yankees go into today's game at Boston with a chance to set a "second best" losing record for the club. The all-time mark is 13 in 1913. The next worst is in 1945 and equalled Wednesday with a 4-0 loss to the Red Sox.

Braves went into a tailspin the same day as the Yanks and lost eight straight before righting themselves Tuesday. They won again Wednesday with ease, 10-2, over Cincinnati.

Brooklyn nipped Philadelphia in the 10th inning to keep their half-game lead over the Braves. Although they lost, Yankees kept their five-game American League lead as second-place Cleveland also lost, 4-2, to Detroit, snapping a six-game win streak.

Collins Retires From Ring

BOSTON (AP) — After being knocked out in his last two starts, Tommy Collins, Boston featherweight, has accepted manager Rip Valenti's advice to retire from the ring.

Two months ago Collins suffered a 10-knockdown beating from lightweight champion Jimmy Carter.

In his recent "comeback" bout, Collins was flattened twice before losing a 10-round technical knockout to Teddy (Redtop) Davis of Hartford, Conn., the second ranking featherweight.

"When featherweights can beat you, it's time to quit for good," Valenti told Collins. The Boston battler considered Valenti's advice for several hours and then decided to follow it, much to the delight of his 21-year-old wife, Mae.

"I never would ask him to quit," Mrs. Collins said. "Fighting was his life. But now that the decision has been made, I'm very happy."

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GALE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Why, comes the inquiry, has there been no organized move to elect Lefty O'Doul to baseball's Hall of Fame, considering the fact that the record shows the "man in the green hat" hit for an average of .349 in 11 big league seasons, a lifetime figure topped only by Cobb, Hornsby and Joe Jackson among the moderns?

The answer is that Lefty, now managing at San Diego, wasted the first four of those years trying to be a pitcher and was crowding 30 before he discovered he was meant to be a slugging outfielder. In his two greatest years with the Phillies, 1929-30, O'Doul hit 398 and 383. In his last big year, 1932, he clubbed 365 for Brooklyn.

Lefty is tied with Bill Terry of the Giants for having made the most hits in a National League season, 254. George Sisler holds the American League record with 257.

Some of the more rabid Yankee rooters are chiding this corner gently for having suggested that their team's runaway threatens serious damage to American League attendance. They point out that more than 30,000 crowded into Yankee Stadium to watch St. Louis Browns break the Champs' 18-game winning streak the other night.

That's not the proper test. Wait until Stengel's mob hits the road next time with its wondrous lead and goes prospecting for dollars out through the steaming western tier. That big stadium at Cleveland is going to look awfully empty after those 70,000-plus throngs it held when there still was a race.

It becomes more evident each day that the fans no longer will turn out in large numbers just to see a baseball game. There are too many other things to do, too many other forms of entertainment competing for the sports dollars. The baseball fan now demands a contest.

New Record Set Over Jasper Links

JASPER—A new record was set Tuesday on the Jasper Park Lodge golf course when Ron MacLeod, of Victoria, scored a 64. The previous record over the par 71 course was held by Stan Leonard of Vancouver, who shot a 65.

MacLeod counted a 34 in the first nine, one under par, and a 30 on the back nine, six under par. He set the record despite two three-putt greens. He shot five straight birdies and six in the last nine holes.

The new record was set while playing with Mr. and Mrs. William Saffold, of Edmonton.

Pro-Cons Would Ban Communists

VICTORIA — Hon. George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, says the Liberal government is incapable of dealing with the Canadian housing problem, because the number of houses completed in Canada was smaller last year than in 1950.

Mr. Drew, in an election campaign speech delivered Monday night before he left for Vancouver, also accused the Liberals of sitting back while Communists burrowed into vital industry.

He said a Progressive Conservative government would ban Communist activities under the Criminal Code because present Canadian laws had no way of dealing with Communists until they had committed sabotage.

The Liberal government took "arbitrary action" against employing some persons on Communist grounds while making no attempt to define communism under law, and at the same time employed "those of well-known Communist record in other agencies of the same government."

Stars Within Half Game Of Rainiers

By The Canadian Press

With an assist from Los Angeles the Hollywood Stars moved to within a half game of the Pacific Coast League leading Seattle Rainiers.

Los Angeles jumped Seattle, 6-4, and Hollywood overcame Sacramento 9-2.

Oakland had a four-run seventh inning that overcame Portland, 4-3. This game, played at Portland, was delayed 42 minutes by a defective circuit in the park lighting system.

Southpaw Al Lien of San Francisco was pretty much the whole show as the Seals whipped San Diego 3-1, in an afternoon game.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Mote-Catching Mr. Heinsite Was Slightly Off the Beam

Do you have your own Mr. Heinsite, who makes your ears ring with a long and boring analysis of practically every hand?

Let me tell you a little secret about him. He does not analyze everything there is to analyze about a hand. Not by any means.

He analyzes only that which suits his purposes or, in other words, that which makes him look good and makes his partner look like a dope.

No sooner had Mr. Heinsite seen the dummy in today's deal than he started yelling about Mr. Muzzy's two heart bid.

"You need about twice as much as you had to make a free bid in a higher ranking suit than mine," he snarled.

Continuing his complaints all through the hand, Mr. Heinsite played as follows:

The opening lead was the queen of spades and he won with the ace. He laid down the jack of hearts. Mr. Dale covered with the king and dummy's ace won. The queen and 10 of hearts were now cashed and, if the suit had broken 3-3, 10 tricks could have been taken in all.

But Mr. Dale showed out on his third heart and Mrs. Keen's nine spot effectively blocked the run of the suit. Now there were only eight tricks available and the contract was down one.

Mr. Heinsite continued his verbal chastisement of his partner.

"Did you ever hear such bidding?" he asked, turning to Mr. Dale for sympathy.

"You're right," Mr. Dale replied. "Muzzy's two heart bid was pretty bad. On the other hand, it wasn't any worse than your play. Certainly you befogged in three no trump and in fact it was ice-cold."

Mr. Heinsite was stunned in silence for a moment. If he hadn't been so engrossed in analyzing Mr. Muzzy's bidding he probably would have seen the right play for nine tricks.

It wasn't a difficult play. As Mr. Dale pointed out, it consisted merely of letting Mr. Dale hold the first heart trick with his king. Mr. Heinsite there would have won the next four hearts—which were all he needed for his game.

SCREEN ★ FLASHES

Broderick Crawford, noted on the screen as a "tough guy," plays his most rugged role in Columbia Pictures' "Last of the Comanches," which opens tonight at the Totem Theatre. The average screen "tough guy" is plenty tough, all right; but usually he's only tough against fellow humans.

Crawford appears in "Last of the Comanches" as a hard-bitten U.S. cavalry sergeant in command of a small band of Indian massacre survivors fleeing over 120 miles of burning desert and beset both by thirst and Comanches. The film pits the star against both man and nature.

Crawford, who won the Academy Award for his performance in "All the King's Men," has come into what is, perhaps, his finest role since "Last of the Comanches."

A backward glance at some of Crawford's recent roles will illustrate in "The Mob," the star played a hard-hitting cop on a rough assignment; to crack a racket wide open. In "Scandal Sheet" he portrayed a ruthless editor who would go to any lengths to get his story, even if he had to commit murder! In "Born Yesterday," a role on the gentle side—for Crawford—saw him as a ruthless big shot trying to buy up a Congressman.

A brawny brawler, mixing it with his dukes or swinging his weight around in a figurative sense, Crawford always can be counted on for a colorful, vigorous performance in a free-swinging style of acting.

A FAMOUS PLAYERS THEATRE

LONDON (Reuters)—Lavrenti P. Beria, who became the No. 2 man in the Kremlin hierarchy on Stalin's death, is still the subject of much speculation.

When Prime Minister Malenkov and 11 other Soviet leaders went to the Bolshoi theatre in Moscow last Friday night to see a new opera, Beria was not included.

The 11 names comprised all the full members of the party praesidium top direction except Beria who is secret police chief and interior minister.

No explanation of Beria's absence from the list was given. It was not known so far whether Beria is ill, out of town or out of favor.

Had Beria been in Moscow and in good health, it is regarded as certain that he would have been at the opera together with his colleagues for what was evidently a "state occasion." The listing of high Soviet officials in a strict order of seniority follows a definite pattern—and omission of names is never accidental.

RAILROAD RECEIVES $5 FOR RIDE TAKEN IN 1929

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Frisco Railroad is $5 richer today because a passenger kept worrying about a free 10-mile ride he took in 1929. The money came from a California resident who said he took advantage of a confused conductor and rode without a ticket.

Douks Fire Homes After Wedding

KRESTOVA @—Romance kindled terrorism during the weekend when a young Doukhobor leader got married in a colorful

In the hour following the marriage of John J. Verigin, torch raiders came out of hiding to strike at three communities and set fire to 10 homes.

It appeared the raids were timed to take the spotlight away from the peaceful joy surrounding the wedding. The 30-year-old leader of violence, secretary of the orthodox Doukhobor communities 10,000 inhabitants.

Born in Russia, he is a great-grandson of Peter (The Bold) Verigin, former Doukhobor spiritual leader in Canada.

Close to 50 dwelling have been destroyed by terrorists in recent months in Doukhobor settlements in the province's southern interior.

There was no trouble at the community of Brilliant, where Verigin claimed as his bride Doukhobor Laura Relkoff.
