Making Another Appeal for Housing

Chamber of Commerce Gives Assurance of Applications Being Forthcoming

Council remained unswayed after an hour's special meeting last night thrown open to the public on the housing question but the city council will make another appeal to Central Mortgage & Corporation who have shelved a 50-unit project if 100 signed applications for homes are received.

Mayor Whalen took "a great deal of exception" to criticism of the project, expressed by Duncan McRae. The city had started the project in the first place, more than two years ago, and had hammered it at it repeatedly.

"Then finally, 'the city as a third partner in the venture, is left out in the cold. Other city organizations get wires about this and that in connection with housing but we are not contacted at all. We haven't even been advised that the project has been shelved. This advice was received by a local contractor."

At the very time that the local contractor received the letter of advice the project had been shelved, provincial housing authorities were advising the city a 10-day extension of the tender term was being requested from contractors, said City Clerk R. W. Long.

Does It Cost So Much To Build Homes Here?

housing representative that bids for the homes averaged $11,000 each. Built in Vancouver, the same type of home cost $7,300 each.

"That's the point on which the Chamber of Commerce should be working... to try and find out why our building costs are 40 percent higher than they are anywhere else," declared Ald. Hills.

Speaking from the jam-packed public floor in the council chamber, Alex Robertson, engineer, declared the "high-priced housing scheme is totally unsound."

"If you are building homes for the higher income class, they don't need them. They can build their own homes here for less."

Subsidizing Should Be Done By Federal Gov't.

authenticity of the 100 applications the organization would submit to the city, but all applications would be "carefully screened."

Duncan McRae said he did not think people should be obligated by filling out a survey form (whether they would be prepared to pay $75 a month for a house), but that such an application "was only a means of attaining a consensus of opinion."

"Anyone filling out the forms must surely be obligated," retorted Ald. Casey. "We don't want a bunch of names off the street, and then find out nobody really wants to rent these homes. That is a lot of bunk!"

Other suggestions submitted in the debate by aldermen: A cheaper type of home, along the basis of the wartime home construction; construction on the present outlined basis of only one section of the three section project, i.e., the 20 homes in Section II area.

One Man Government

Bolton Named Head of Band

one-man government adopted by the smallest Indian band in this area 12 years ago was again revived this week when members of the Kitsumkalum band at Prince Rupert to re-nominate Bolton as their "representative."

Bolton, well known in the Rupert area, is recognized as a staunch leader of his band. He conducts all business on behalf of the band.

Kitsumkalum Indians, who have lived on a speck of land at Port Essington, were led to them by the late Cunningham, former Indian trader and pioneer.

of the small band, totaling 75 persons, is the reserve, surrounding the River at the Skeena near the Kitsumkalum Agency. The band is considered one of the wealthiest in the Skeena River Agency. Considerable amount of timber on the reserve has been sold to Columbia Cellulose Co. Ltd. and to other forestry operations.

The annual election meeting and planning of year's expenditures was held in the office of F. E. Anfield, Indian Superintendent, who said the band was considering a move back to their home reserve in the near future.

Because the band was dependent on fishing for their livelihood, they had sought a reserve near the source of the Skeena River. Now the Kalum natives feel they would prefer their own reserve.

Their argument against the popular type of band government, — chief councillor and councilmen — is in their small numbers. The band places "implicit trust" in the one man elected to consummate all its business transactions, says Mr. Anfield.

Win Probe Of Prison

RAHWAY, N.J. — Sixty-nine weak but surly convicts fled out of the print shop at Trenton State Prison Friday, ending a 77-hour revolt, but sympathy with the mutiny of 231 inmates continued at Rahway prison farm 40 miles away.

Trenton convicts gained one objective of the rebellion — an impartial investigation of the prison.

As the Trenton mutineers surrendered, three prison employees they held as hostages were whisked away to their homes. They are reported in good condition.

At Rahway, R. William Lagay, superintendent of prison farm, said he believed the mutineers will be ready to negotiate surrender before long.

More Pay for City Executives

City administrative officials were granted a $35-a-month increase last night by city council instead of a 13 percent increase recommended by the wage committee. The move was opposed by two aldermen.

Ald. George Hills led the debate for the accepted increase saying that any greater salary hikes would put the superintendent of works, telephone, city clerk and fire chief in the $5,000-a-year bracket which he considered "just too much money."

Aldermen Michael Kreuger said it is only fair that the executive members of civic employees get the same all-round increase as the rest, which is an average of 13 percent.

Ald. Darrow Gomez sided with Ald. Kreuger. He pointed out that the city was "getting away cheap" not having to hire a city engineer with a superintendent of works taking on the job.

With the present increase, civic executives will receive a little more than $400 a month.

Trans-Pacific Service Again

MONTREAL (CP) — Canadian Pacific Steamships announced Friday the company will resume in August the trans-Pacific freight service that had been disrupted by the Second World War. Two Beaver ships, now operating on the Atlantic run, will be transferred to the Pacific to open the service.

With Vancouver as home port the freighters will provide a monthly service, commencing August 31 between Tacoma, Vancouver, Yokohama, Kobe, Manila, Cebu in the Philippines, Hong Kong and return.

EDITORIAL— Sign Application

As we suggested editorially yesterday, getting the houses is now the thing in Prince Rupert. Much hinges on whether or not the 50-unit housing scheme goes through.

The housing application form, which has already been published twice, is being run again today in the Daily News.

We think it advisable to make an urgent appeal to all persons who are in need of housing in the city to consider this questionnaire very seriously. If they think it would be helpful in solving their problem, they should fill it in without delay and transmit it to the City Hall, a Chamber of Commerce member, the Daily News, or some place where it will be assured of sure delivery to the proper quarters.

The community has been put flat up against the necessity of definitely establishing to the satisfaction of the authorities the need of housing here.

Chamber of Commerce, City Council—everybody in fact—agree on the dire need—it is so apparent.

Certainly, no stone should be left unturned in this housing campaign. The signing of these applications might well turn the trick. It seems as simple as that.

Omaha Menaced Again By Missouri Rampage

OMAHA (CP)—The runaway Missouri hurled a new menace today at Omaha while its muddy torrent smashed levees, engulfed farms and spread destruction downstream for 200 miles.

The biggest flood in the Missouri valley history ran almost uncontrolled into northeastern Kansas, driving families from their homes in growing numbers in Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas.

The damage and flood fighting costs are mounting into uncounted millions.

A new threat to Omaha developed suddenly last night when pressure from the raging river tide blew out a sewer line leading into the low land industrial area. Army engineers rushed hundreds of workers into the fight to seal off the sewer line at the mouth. Army engineers have estimated that the Missouri will roll up $13,500,000 damage toll in the area from Rulo, Nebraska, to the mouth of the river at St. Louis.

Games in eight cities attracted 223,432 fans, compared to 143,079 who witnessed six openers Tuesday. Poor weather and postponement of two games held Tuesday's crowds down. Handy Andy Pafko blasted a home run in the twelfth inning, his second of the day and third of the season, to give the Dodgers a 7-6 victory over their arch-rivals, the New York Giants, before 31,032 fans at Ebbets Field.

Bob Feller, with help from Bob Lemon, pitched Indians to a 5-0 six hit victory over the Detroit Tigers before 56,068 fans at Cleveland. The triumph was Feller's 21st of his career.

Browns rewarded a turnout of 12,573 fans at St. Louis by thrashing the Chicago White Sox 7-1 behind the five-hit pitching of Duane Pillette.

Con Marrero, ageless Cuban righthander, spoiled the opening day for the Yankees by pitching the Washington Senators an 0-3 decision over the world champions, before 45,240 fans in New York.

Boston rallied for three runs in the ninth inning and shoved another home in the tenth to nose out the Philadelphia Athletics 5-4 to the delight of 12,338 Red Sox fans. Clyde Volmer singled home Rookie Faye Throneberry with a run.

Chicago Cubs came up with four runs in the ninth to shade the St. Louis Cardinals 5-4 before 20,396 rooters at Wrigley Field. Pinch hitter Bill Serena doubled home tying and winning runs.

Sid Gordon and Willard Marshall socked ninth inning homers to give the Boston Braves a 3-2 victory over the Phils before 15,911 fans at Philadelphia.

Bob Friend pleased a crowd of 29,874 fans at Pittsburgh by pitching Pirates to a 3-0 five-hit victory over Ewell Blackwell and Cincinnati Reds.

Motherwell Cup Winner

GLASGOW (CP) — Motherwell defeated Dundee 4 to 0 today in the final of the Scottish soccer cup.

Looking for More Thefts

OTTAWA (CP)—Large scale Petawawa thefts are being checked from coast to coast by the Department of Defence to try and see if they are being emulated in other camps of all three services.

Already charges have been brought against one army captain and four civilians engaged in the junk business, for theft, fraud and conspiracy.

Authorities say more arrests are coming up but no depreciable reports that losses involved come near $1,000,000.

Warrants were sworn out last night for two more men said to be involved in the investigation.

Authorities say an extensive check in other military camps will be made in an attempt to smoke out any parallels of incidents at Petawawa, 118 miles northwest of here.

Would Boost Steel Wages

WASHINGTON (CP)—The Secretary of Commerce, Charles Sawyer, on Friday, fired an ultimatum at the government-seized steel industry with the announcement that he will boost steel workers' wages unless a settlement is reached by next Monday or Tuesday.

Sawyer said he is going ahead with plans for a wage increase because it has been impossible to obtain an industry-union agreement which would "get the government out of the steel business."

Steel industry lawyers are prepared to go into court the instant Sawyer tries to grant the workers a raise over the management's head. They are expected to argue there is no warrant for such action in the constitution or laws.

Saskatchewan Floods Easier

REGINA (CP) — The flood situation eased on Friday in Saskatchewan as unofficial estimates placed flood damage in the province this spring at $1,000,000 of more.

In the southwestern part of the province run-off waters from the Cypress Hills continued to diminish.

At East End, 50 miles southwest of Swift Current, where almost all of the 800 residents were forced out by rampaging Frenchman Creek, the town is almost free of water and clean-up operating are under way.

At one time water up to three feet gushed through the town.

Hospital Heating Plant Seen By President as No. 1 Need

Dr. L. M. Greene, new president of the board of directors of the Prince Rupert General Hospital, in the chair at his first regular business meeting last night, named renewal of the hospital's heating plant as No. 1 project for the year.

He appointed Director Norman Bellis, R. G. Moore and Sid Elkins as a special committee to look after early calling of tenders so there may be no delay in getting the new plant built.

Instead of the originally contemplated $40,000 to $45,000 new building to house two 75 h.p. steam boilers, a new and less costly scheme to instal two 50 h.p. boilers in the present quarters is being considered.

Campaign will be reactivated to raise the remaining $13,000 of the original $75,000 modernization fund objective. Substantial federal and provincial grants will be made to augment what is spent locally on boiler house and boilers and other equipment added to increase patient capacity.

Other projects which should be taken care of this year, Dr. Greene said, included repairs to hospital grounds such as landscaping, driveway paving and painting of the hospital and old nurses' home.

The board decided to observe Hospital Day May 12, the anniversary of Florence Nightingale's birth, with an open day at the hospital when the public will be received and escorted through the institution by married nurses of the city in uniform. There will be a tea by the Women's Auxiliary the same afternoon in the Nurses' Home.

Miss Elizabeth Clement R.N., lady superintendent, reported the hospital very busy these days with an occupancy of 108. As the normal capacity is 92, beds have had to be put in the corridors to handle the excess of patients.

The board once more appreciated the desirability of further opening into the new wing of the hospital.

Anti-Sub Weapons

VANCOUVER (CP) — A $2,000,000 contract for the construction of anti-submarine weapons has been awarded to the Dominion Bridge Co. It is the first major defense contract to be awarded here. The project is to be carried out in the company's suburban Burnaby plant.

Announcement was made by naval intelligence. Details were not disclosed.

Sign Applications, Urges President of Commerce Chamber

"It is imperative that all citizens realize the grave danger of the proposed 50-unit rental housing project being shelved permanently unless there are the required number of applicants," it was emphasized by T. Norton Youngs, President of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, this morning following a meeting of a Chamber delegation with the City Council last night.

Youngs announced that arrangements had been made for a further printing of rental application forms in the Daily News today. He appealed to all people who are interested in better housing to obtain one of these forms, discuss the matter with friends and then contact any member of the Chamber of Commerce for further information, if necessary, in connection with signing the application.

These applications must be bona-fide, said Mr. Youngs, although they were in no way binding. They should only be filled in by those who are sincerely interested in obtaining better housing.

Mr. Youngs fears that, should this project fail, any future hope of improved housing assistance would be lost to the people of Prince Rupert.

He stated that the Chamber of Commerce delegation had pledged themselves to the City Council to obtain at least 100 bona fide signatures on the approved application forms.

Mr. Youngs pointed out that the mayor and council had advised the Chamber's delegation that the city had signed up with the senior government but have now been required by the Dominion Housing authorities to submit the 100 applications from bona fide prospective tenants. The council stated that, if the 100 applicants could be obtained, they (the council) would continue to give their full support to the project.

Mr. Youngs said that the Chamber was confident that many more than the proposed 50 houses could be rented as soon as they were available.

Atlin Liberals Nominate May 1

STEWART—Liberal nominating convention for Atlin riding in the provincial election has been called for May 1.

Only candidate who is being seriously mentioned is W. D. Smith, former MLA.

Mr. Smith has intimated that he would accept the nomination.

Already in the field are Frank Calder, CCF, member of the last Legislature, and T. S. Mackay, Progressive-Conservative.

Malan Stays By His Guns

CAPETOWN (CP) — The Prime Minister, Daniel Malan, said on Friday his government is ready to test public opinion on the "Courts vs Parliament" controversy in the election next year.

Malan, who has challenged the power of the courts to invalidate parliamentary laws, dared his political opponents to make his policy a campaign issue. He said the government will use all available force to maintain law and order—in effect a warning against violent anti-government demonstrations.

Swift Current Menaced Again

SWIFT CURRENT (CP) — A new flood threat to Swift Current—earlier believed out of danger—is posed by the erosion at Duncan Dam, 25 miles upstream on Swift Current Creek. The concrete spillway, at the dam began to disintegrate late Friday. Complete disintegration would release thousands of tons of water from the reservoir and cause serious flooding here.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Girle arrived in the city on the Camosun last evening from Vancouver. Mrs. Girle is staying over in the city to visit her daughter, Mrs. Frank Skinner, while Mr. Girle, who is a mining engineer, makes a trip to Queen Charlotte Islands.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Smith are sailing tomorrow night on the Camosun for Vancouver to attend the British Columbia Liberal convention next week.

Uncertain Election

ALL political observers appear agreed that "anything can happen" in the 1952 provincial election. There are so many new factors that the outcome appears quite unpredictable. What can be said for the rest of the province in regard to the uncertainty also goes for Prince Rupert riding.

One factor that contributes to the uncertainty is the great proportion of new population since last election. No longer, if it ever was very accurate, is there the possibility to know how a substantial proportions of the population is going to vote. Here in Prince Rupert there are a large number of voters whose preferences cannot be adjudged. That tends to the general uncertainty. It's going to be a fight of more than unusual interest.

Bribery

THERE seems to be a great and growing number of people who believe that we can be bribed into being good, or satisfied, or useful, or happy, just as they are confident that sufficient inducements can change our political stripe. We seem to be forgetting the word "character" which once used to impress us. It spoke of men who had no price but did what their conscience directed without thought of other reward.

Strangely enough, it was Lady Megan Lloyd George who gave the latest support to the theory that the public has a price when she said in an address in Toronto that it was the social services that had prevented Britain from going communist.

One may be permitted to doubt the soundness of this judgment, suspecting that it arises from enthusiasm rather than truth. For, if it is true, then the basic character of a people has changed. For over a thousand years, through good times and bad, in days of opulence and days of mourning, the British people have held and fought for an ideal of freedom and, we believe, will continue so to hold and so to fight.

It is only some of the leaders who have lost their faith—who are assuring themselves, against all the evidence of history, that men will not die for a cause but only for the bribe in the hands.

If bribes are needed, then the evidence is clear. Bribery has destroyed the spirit of liberty.

France's Folly

The decision by the UN Security Council not to discuss the case of Tunisia could endanger the very existence of the world peace making body.

For years past the Asian and African members of UN have chafed at what might be called the unwritten "white supremacy" rules which govern UN. One set of values governs when some issue is up which affects the rights and privileges of the big powers of the west—that is, the U.S.A., Britain or France. But quite a different set of values prevails when the issue concerns some grievance of one of the lesser nations.

TUNISIA is a small country on the north coast of Africa. Its people are demanding a measure of self government. But France has "cracked down" against this home rule movement with utter ruthlessness.

Here, if ever there was one, is the kind of a case that should come before the UN. From one end of Africa to the other there are smouldering fires. The peoples everywhere want the same kind of self government which Ethiopia won, as a result of our victory, over Mussolini. Britain has been wise enough to grant almost complete self government to the Africans of the Gold Coast—incidentally, after facing a situation of threatened violence much like that which faces France in Tunisia.

But France seems incapable of facing reality in regard to her colonial possessions.

THE VOTE in the UN Security Council, on whether or not to consider this case, is significant. France and Britain voted a flat "no." The United States and countries under strong U.S. control abstained from voting.

But Russia voted with the Asians—which is this case included even the representative of Chiang's ex-government of China. This line up seems of great significance. The incred-

Affirmation and Rejection

REV. CANON BASIL S. PROCKTER, B.A., B.D. St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral

Among the Christians there often exists an almost competitive code of rejection. But it is unwise to dismiss it as competitive because it is concerned with man's purest and deepest passion which is for the Knowledge of God.

Consumer Problems More Numerous

OTTAWA (CP)—Housewives are bringing their troubles in such numbers to the Canadian Association of Consumers that the C.A.C. has organized a complaints division to deal with their problems.

Mrs. Hubert R. Kemp, a specialist in economics who lives in Ottawa, has been named head of the new division. Others on the committee include Miss Avis Clark of Winnipeg and Mrs. Jean Butterfield of Toronto.

In the last few weeks association headquarters has received a variety of complaints.

A woman in Truro, N.S., wanted to know whether pork fat has as much nourishment as margarine. The C.A.C. replied that while it hasn't a vitamin content equal to that of margarine, it nevertheless is valuable in cooking.

Another woman in Camrose, Alta., wondered why she could not buy bloomers without the elastic sewn into the material. "I have had some of these before," she said. "And I find they fray from the elastic down. I like the inserted elastic better."

There is the rejection of marriage, the rejection of meat, the rejection of wine, the rejection of dancing, the rejection of commercial entertainment, the rejection of bearing arms at the call of the Country. Finally, there are the complete rejectors who, out of honor to Jehovah, would repudiate all governments, law courts and churches that nothing shall stand between man and his Maker.

Of course, the rejectors will always be a minority even among believers. The others, for reasons partly of charity and partly of sensuality, avoid such extremes. But every generation owes a debt to the rejectors. For everything that we do can only assume decent proportion if done against the backdrop of Divine Judgment. So I believe that abstainers, celibates, pacifists, vegetarians and even the people who teach that church and government are Satanic are very necessary to preserve any godliness in the midst of our pride and stupidity.

But is it necessary to be a rejector in order to be a Christian? Not necessary but probably easier. The path of Affirmation is both thorny and adventurous. And it must be trodden in a

Wren Eileen Trapp Takes Cook Cup as Wrens Do Good Shooting

With a high score of 98 Wren Eileen Trapp once again took possession of the Wren shooting cup donated by George Cook. The past month saw some good shooting by the Naval reserves and the competition for the coveted cup was keen. Making full use of the renovated 22 range, which is built under Chatham's Drill Hall, the members of the divisional rifle team practiced with the new No. 7 Mark 1 22 rifle in preparation for entering the inter-divisional shoot. The men's cup was won by Naval Storeman Pat Bolton who just missed shooting a perfect score, taking the cup with a 99 score.

Chouinard is expected to arrive by CPSS on Monday. Able Seaman Tony Chursky, minus tonsils, which were removed during his short stay in the local hospital last week, is back at his desk as ship's writer.

Wrens were pleased to hear of Wren Olive Miller's recent engagement to Able Seaman Jimmy Olsen. Congratulations were bestowed during a mess meeting following evening quarters. This is truly a Naval romance, as Wren Miller met her fiance since joining the Wrens.

An enjoyable period was spent learning to rig a whaler for sailing. Shouts of "step the mast" and "hoist the mainsail" could be heard from one end of the drill hall to the other while Wrens prepared the craft for sailing.

New furniture for the Wrens mess has arrived including two chesterfields, one a brilliant red and one gaily chintz-covered sofa; two matching easy chairs, several blond wood tables and a large rug.

A set of rules are being drawn up to be followed by a constitution. Mess President Wren Phyl Tomlinson announced that Wren Jean McLeod was elected to the ship's welfare committee.

HISTORY—1914-1918
The RCN grew, by 1918, to a strength of 391 officers and 1080 men, and the RNCVR to 745 officers and 6,613 men. All cadets, RCN, ex-RNCC, served in the Royal Navy, as well as 1,700 RNCVR's, 43 Surgeon-Lieutenants and 598 Probationary Flight Lieutenants, Royal Naval Air Service. HMC ships were employed on commerce protection and patrol duties, chiefly on the East Coast.

spirit of repentance which is just as necessary in church as at the theatre. If we can avoid thinking that this or that is all right simply because we do it, for Christ's forgiveness, grace then we still have the door open and guidance. Affirm your part in the life of your generation, if you will, but preserve your sense of balance by learning also to say: "Lord have Mercy, Christ have Mercy, Lord have Mercy."

DO YOU REQUIRE RENTAL ACCOMMODATION?

THEN IF SO... ARE YOU WILLING TO PAY $65 TO $85 PER MONTH RENT FOR A NEW HOUSE?

From preliminary estimates on costs of the proposed 50-unit housing project it has been determined that rents will be in the above range depending on locality and number of bedrooms.

In order to ascertain if 50 houses could be rented at these rates for a considerable time, it is requested that all applicants who are willing to pay such rents complete the following questionnaire, cut out, and submit to the City Hall by April 11, 1952:

A. Present Accommodation:
Type House Suite
Rooms No. of Bedrooms Heated
Rent Paid

B. Total number of persons in household
Number of children in family

C. How many bedrooms required?

D. Is family at present in city?

E. Maximum rent you can pay per month

F. Occupation

G. It would be of great assistance if you would indicate your average yearly income. Answering the question, of course, is quite optional.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Blunders Set Stage for Squeeze Play

In books, the hands which illustrate squeeze plays are set up so that there is nothing the defenders can do about it. In actual play, however, a squeeze often develops as the play goes along and after a blunder or series of blunders by the defenders.

It may not be fair to charge Mr. Muzzy or Mr. Abel with outright errors in the defense of today's hand. Let's say they just made unfortunate choices of leads.

If a club had been led by the defense at any time, a squeeze play would not have been possible. But Mr. Muzzy's opening lead was a spade and Mr. Abel's nine spot forced the ace.

Typically enough, Miss Brash didn't look at all worried in spite of the fact that she had a sure trump loser and possible losers in spades and clubs. After a little thought she cashed dummy's three top diamonds and got rid of her spade loser.

Next she led a trump and Mr. Abel was in with the ace. He, too, had a chance to lead a club but, instead, returned the king of spades. Miss Brash ruffed and then ran off all of her trumps but one.

At this stage everybody had four cards. And Miss Brash had

AS I SEE IT

ible folly of France—aided and abetted in this case by Britain and U.S.A.—is driving all Asia and Africa into the political arms of Russia.

I travelled through much of that part of the world last year and everywhere I went I found the same story. Up till now there are no strong Communist parties operating above ground. Even the underground Communist parties are of small account, to date. But the political climate in all those countries is "made to order" for Communism to sweep in like a prairie fire, once it gets a start.

FRANCE'S folly in Africa is the more incredible since she seems to have learned nothing from the tragedy in Indo-China. Immediately after the Second World War it would have been possible to settle the Indo-China. They (the French Communists) expected to come to power in France in the near future and they wanted to retain Indo-China under the direct control of France in order to have a ready made base of operations in Asia. They were caught in their own trickery.

APPALLING as is France's folly in regard to African home rule movements—the short sightedness of the U.S.A. seems even more incredible. There was a time when every American actually believed the great words at the start of the Declaration of Independence.

Fibber McGee's Cupboard Challenged by Array Here

(By ROWLAND MILES) Anyone who is under the impression that Fibber McGee is the most frustrated victim of an overloaded and somewhat colossal cupboard can now rejoice in the fact that a new contender for this crown made a bid for fame on Friday afternoon.

It was strictly a forced play. Fame, once again, has beaten a path to Prince Rupert and the title of "Colossal Cupboard Contender" is within easy grasp of one of this fair city's most humble servants.

Had I known that this dastardly deed was to fall to my lot, this serene and peaceful afternoon, I should have been typing resignations to employer.

POEM There's a box full of hats, caps, a helmet or two, Enough togues to fill up a silo, And the gloves that are here, well, it's really quite clear Everyone's done a Venus de Milo.

If you are still with me, kind people, I might add that since this little "ode" took "odor," there has been several enticing morsels added to this devastating debris so we strongly suggest that you claim anything that sounds like yours thus allowing ample time for laundering and wrapping as a gift for Christmas.

CLASSICAL RESEARCH

RACHMANINOFF RHAPSODY - On a theme of Paganini, Opus 43, is played by the Robin Hood Dell Orchestra of Philadelphia under the direction of Fritz Reiner with William Kapell soloist.

Whether or not the composer had in mind a "programme" when he wrote the Rhapsody is not known. We quote here a portion of a letter pertaining to it found in his family archives which seems to indicate that he did:

DISLIKES "MODERN" ART Law has little patience with the so-called "modern" school. "If I had my way I would give most of the canvases to little boys... along with a pair of scissors," he quipped.

Of Nova Scotia, Law says: "This province is an artist's paradise. I could spend months in just one spot, painting."

LANDSCAPES AND SEASCAPES appeal to him because they give more scope for expression and creative ability. The portrait painter, he claims, is tied down by the subject, whom he must flatter in most cases.

Miss Peggy Large, after spending the Easter holidays here with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Large, returned on today's plane to Vancouver to resume studies at Vancouver Normal School.

THIS WEEK'S ARTIST

KAY STARR - The blues-singing Miss Starr has been placed by the devotees of rhythm and blues as one of the top personalities in that field.

Kay, born Kathryn Starks in Dougherty, Oklahoma, is of Irish and Cherokee Indian parentage. Before she was in her teens, she competed in amateur singing contests always taking first place honors.

After her high school years Kay sang for two years with Joe Venuti's orchestra and in 1943 joined Charlie Barnett's unit with whom she remained until 1945.

Since then it's been hit after hit for Miss Starr, whose Capitol recordings of "Bonaparte's Retreat" and "I'll Never Be Free" awakened the public to the fact that she is a star in every right.

Popular Concert At Civic Centre

A popular type concert will be presented at the Civic Centre this month-end, Director Jack Stirn announced today.

NOTE - There is a special bargain for people with only one ear - 6 single earrings almost worth the price of a small amputation.

Variation No. 12 - the "Minute" - portrays the first appearance of the woman. Variation No. 13 is the first conversation between the woman and Paganini.

Union steamer Camosun, Capt. William McCombe, arrived in port at 7:30 last evening from Vancouver and waypoints and sailed at 4:30 a.m. for south Queen Charlotte Island points.

Montreal Actor In Dickens Film

By MURIEL NARRAWAY Canadian Press Staff Writer LONDON (CP) - A peroxide-blond shoulder-length haired actor takes the spotlight again after a considerable absence...

That, at least, is now Murton rates his role as Snodgrass in the film version of Charles Dickens' "Pickwick Papers," which goes before the cameras in May.

Murton, a six-foot 36-year-old Canadian, has worked under Langley before. They met in 1943 when Langley, then in the Canadian Navy, started production of the "Meet The Navy" show.

Little Theatre In Spotlight

Prince Rupert's Little Theatre takes the spotlight again after a considerable absence as the amateur actors make their first appearance this year with presentation of two plays April 29.

Following a shuffle of the ranks in the organization, practices began anew after Christmas. The two plays are "From Five to Five-Thirty," a comedy, and a mystery, "Death Writes A Message."

The comedy is directed by Gerry Woodside while the mystery is handled by Actor Kenneth Boulter.

Yachting Makes Super Holiday

It does not follow that all the yachtsmen seen at Prince Rupert in the course of a summer own their ships. But, by owners or charterers, this sort of holiday has few rivals. Sailing privately or with guests means substantial costs, of course. Yachting involves expense, yet not so heavy as some might think.

There is something about this type of outing—the novelty and contrasts—for a few weeks or longer that puts new life into one and stimulates daily existence. Nowhere else in America is there a coast quite like this. Safety and security are only a few of its superb attractions.

The wage dispute in the British Columbia whaling industry will be settled, it is expected, by a conciliation officer. The B.C. Packers, who operate five ships, ask that pay rates be the same as in 1951. The 80 employees refuse. The Packers reason for the stand they take is that the company cannot pay a higher scale because of poor world market. The opening demand of the union was for a 33 1/2 per cent hoist for boatmen and 25 per cent for processing plant workers.

Five hundred delegates are expected to attend the annual convention of the Fisheries Council of Canada in Vancouver April 28-30. It will be an international event with all parts of the United States and Canada represented. At the opening session a welcome will be extended by Hon. R. W. Mayhew, Hon. H. R. Bowman and J. M. Buchanan.

QUICK GRAIN LOADING

Swiftness in grain loading, as well as general service, featured the past winter at Prince Rupert. The record established by the Japan vessel Kiyokawa Maru was a fine accomplishment. Another was the fast work of the Japanese vessel Kiyokawa Maru in the season. She was handled by G. W. Nickerson & Co. for the Anglo Canadian Shipping Ltd. She started fitting on a Saturday at noon, and was receiving her 9250 tons of wheat early Monday morning, completing the job and sailing Wednesday at noon. The next five vessels here this spring will be taking barley.

Last year just over seven thousand herrings were tagged and 112 found, most of them by foreign trawlers. The data gained has shown that a large proportion of the herring caught in the fishing grounds off the Shetland Islands and the northeast coast of Scotland belong to a type which does not spawn near the Scottish coast. From returned tags, various hints of what almost might be termed a herring circular tour are beginning to emerge, suggesting that perhaps some of the fish find their way to the Scandinavian coast, after spawning somewhere near the Dogger Bank. One tagged herring, returned to Britain had traversed the breadth of the North Sea and turned up nine months later 300 miles away in the Skagerrak off Denmark. A more recent discovery travelled 400 miles from Peterhead in Aberdeenshire to Ostend in Belgium. Fishermen everywhere are interested in the new experiment and extremely co-operative. They also receive a standard reward of about 10 shillings for every tagged herring returned to its country of origin.

The two remaining ships of the fleet of famous steel sailing vessels built in Germany early in the century for the European-South American trade have passed into the ownership of a Hamburg firm. They will be used as cadet training ships but will go on commercial voyages. There will be a crew of 74 each including 45 pupil-seamen. One, the Pamir, has become well known as a lumber carrier from ports of the Pacific. Not long ago, she sailed from Vancouver for Australia. The Preusen once held the blue ribbon which she gained by a voyage from the Lizard to Iquique in 57 days.

Shipments of bar metal through British Columbia ports more than doubled in 1951 over the previous year. There were 14,636 1/2 tons shipped from Vancouver and 78,636 shipped from New Westminster for a grand total of 93,600 1/2 tons. Exports of pulp and paper from all B.C. ports in 1951 were the highest on record, totalling 735,725 tons.

Broadly smiling, Captain Kurt Carlsen is seen in the world's press, boarding his ship Flying Enterprise, the second vessel of the name, which takes the place of the one that her skipper tried so bravely to save. He looks happy. The chances are he's exactly that. He is where he wants to be, sailing the seven seas and enjoying a wide renown.

Stratford In Hockey Final

STRATFORD, Ont. (P) — The Stratford Indians Friday moved into the Allan Cup finals by downing the Pembroke Lumber Kings 6-4.

The victory gave Stratford the best of seven in the Eastern Canada of four games to one and earned the club's right to represent the East in the Dominion finals against Fort Frances Canaclans or the Edmonton Pats.

Guelph Hits Puck Final

TORONTO (P) — The Guelph Biltmores Friday won the right to represent Eastern Canada in 1952 Memorial Cup finals when they defeated Junior Canadiens 5-2. The victory gave Guelph best of seven Eastern Canada Memorial Cup finals four games to two.

Biltmores will meet either Fort William Hurricanes or Regina Pats in the Dominion Junior finals.
