VICTORIA — L. Hugh Shantz, member of the legislature for North Okanagan, has been replaced as deputy speaker of the British Columbia legislature.

Alexander Small Mathew, member for Vancouver Centre, has been appointed deputy speaker.

Premier Bennett said today there was no significance in the change from Mr. Shantz.

Mr. Shantz said: "It is apparent the premier does not want me. But I am still a Social Creditor."

Manslaughter Charge Follows Death of Doctor's "Soulmate"

VANCOUVER — A Vancouver doctor was remanded for a week Tuesday when he appeared in police court on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of his "soulmate" wife last Nov. 30.

Dr. R. D. Rush, whose arrest followed a six-week investigation into the bizarre case touched off by a coroner's jury last Jan. 6, was released on $5,000 bail. The jury found that the doctor's wife, Margaret, died of natural causes but that her husband was "guilty of gross negligence."

The jury said Dr. Rush failed to provide "proper hospital and medical care" for his spiritualist wife while she was dying.

Dr. Thomas Dalrymple testified that he treated Mrs. Rush from 1949 to 1951, and added that Dr. Rush told him his wife was receiving spiritualism in the form of faith-healing. She was being treated by three German doctors who had been "dead for 200 years," Dr. Dalrymple said Dr. Rush told him.

All Varieties In Fish Pact

VANCOUVER — The United Kingdom's $5,000,000 purchase of canned British Columbia salmon Tuesday will consist of 220,000 cases of sockeye, pink and coho, the fisheries association of B.C. disclosed Tuesday night.

The contract was negotiated by Sir Andrew Jones, British food ministry representative in Canada who immediately left here for Seattle to complete a smaller deal for American salmon.

The statement followed an announcement by the association that this may be the final bulk salmon purchase by the British government and that in future trading may be done on a private basis.

World-Renowned Artist Here Present Concert Tonight

Barbara Ann Scott, world-renowned figure skater, whose recital tonight at the Prince George will mark the first of her season's Alaska trail concert series.

A Prince George concert-goer said that the artist has a varied diet of music, from a variety of classical to a variety of modern, but tonight's program is the most unusual.

Barbara Ann Scott, who has been acclaimed in Paris, New York and South America, has been termed a rarity in the field of artists for his unusual technique, featuring clean-cut melody and counterpoint instead of misty rippling effects, and for his repertoire which includes many compositions written for him.

His program here will include "Variations on a Swiss Theme" by Beethoven, a sonata for harp by Rosetti, a prelude by Prokofiev, and others, ending with "Jazz-Band" by Tournier.

City-Terrace 'Copter Service Being Studied By Government

CCF Ignores Senate Rites On Pay Hike

OTTAWA (CP) — The 23-member CCF party has boycotted a ceremony in which royal assent was given to legislation boosting parliamentary pay to $10,000 from $6,000.

Fourteen CCF members last night stayed behind while the rest of the House went to the Senate to hear royal assent given to 144 bills, including the pay increase measure.

Earlier, Stanley Knowles (CCF, Winnipeg North Centre) asked that royal assent be postponed. He said it was "inappropriate and unfair" to interrupt a Commons debate on unemployment while members went to the Senate.

Speaker Rene Beaudoin ruled him out of order.

CCF members who made the last protest against the pay increase included two who voted for the measure on third Commons reading: Thomas Barnett (Comox-Alberni) and Harold E. Winch (Vancouver East). The others were:

Mr. Knowles, Hazen Argue (Assinibola); Angus MacInnis (Vancouver Kingsway); R. R. Knight (Saskatoon); Colin Cameron (Nanaimo); G. H. Castleden (Yorkton); Fred S. Zaplitzky (Dauphin); Mervyn Johnson (Kendersley); E. G. McCullough (Moose Mountain); Erhart Regier (Burnaby-Coquitlam); H. A. Bryson (Humboldt-Melfort) and A. M. Nicholson (Mackenzie).

Collection Cans Set Out For Kinsmen Polio Drive

Annual drive to aid polio victims is well under way here and Kinsmen Club officials today said response even at this early date is encouraging. Quota has been set at $2,000.

Cans have been placed in most downtown stores and those missed are expected to receive their cans today.

Bill Bond, chairman of the drive, pointed out today that 90 per cent of the money donated to the B.C. Polio Fund is distributed in the interests of B.C. polio victims.

"Up to 10 per cent can be called for by the National Foundation for emergency relief in other provinces but when not needed for this purpose, most of the monies is returned in the form of grants to support research and other preventative measures."

Polio took a heavy toll across Canada last year and researchers are working harder than ever to find the cause of the dread disease.

Canada counted 401 deaths in 8,574 cases during 1954, compared with 301 deaths and 4,757 cases in the previous year.

Of the total 26 deaths occurred in B.C. from 787 cases.

Equipment valued at thousands of dollars has been purchased to treat polio victims and the Kinsmen recently set up an endowment of $25,000 at the University of B.C. to help establish a chair of neurological research.

Send donations to: The B.C. Polio Fund, Box 151, Prince Rupert.

Request For Airport Believed Shelved

Plans to inaugurate a helicopter service between Prince Rupert and Terrace this year instead of starting construction of an airport on Digby Island are being studied by the government.

This was disclosed today in a telegram from E. T. Applewhite, MP for Skeena, to Norton Youngs, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce airport committee, and brought immediate criticism from leading businessmen.

General consensus was that the 'copter service would be of no great benefit to Rupert and indicates that the government once again is going to shelve this city's request for an airport.

Mr. Applewhite's telegram said the service is planned because of "major difficulties including the present lack of roads and other facilities."

"Surveys conducted on Digby Island last summer indicate construction would be very expensive and a long job. It is by no means ideal as to its own topography or that of the surrounding area. However, further and more detailed consideration will be given."

"It would seem obvious," the wire continues, "that the best conceivable results would take a minimum of three to four years, so an immediate helicopter connection with Terrace seems the best possible interim measure."

One of the city's most ardent backers of an airport here, Lou Felsenthal said "it looks like we've been left at the post again."

"We've been pressing for an airport for more than 15 years and all we get is the run around. This east-west idea may be all right, but what we need is an airport here."

More than a dozen other businessmen agreed that a helicopter service to link Rupert with Terrace and other eastern cities "is a far cry from what we have been requesting."

The Chamber of Commerce, which has for years advocated construction of an airport here, so far has not received the report of the survey conducted by government engineers here last summer, and Mr. Applewhite's remarks about it were the first indication that it may now be in the hands of the government.

Mr. Youngs said a helicopter service will help east-west travel but could not be expected to help flights between here and the south to any great extent.

Canadian Pacific Airlines at present do not operate out of Terrace, but it is expected the company will resume similar service shortly to that operated last year.

Mr. Applewhite's telegram did not indicate any starting date nor what company would operate the service, but the announcement recalled a statement last September 3 at Burns Lake by Grant McConachie, CPA president, that "this type of country and the routes that need to be served lend themselves ideally to helicopter service."

Addressing the annual meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central B.C., he also said CPA planned a non-stop service from Vancouver to Terrace.

This would indicate, said Mr. Felsenthal, that the government plans to develop the Terrace airport ahead of any new construction here.

At Montreal last week, J. T. Dymont, director of engineering for Trans-Canada Air Lines, predicted all short-haul flying soon will be handled by helicopter.

His prediction and a summary of the helicopter's position today are contained in a report published by the International Air Transport Association.

Referring to the most practical use of helicopters, the book says there are two schools of thought on the subject.

The airlines group—consisting of operators of conventional aircraft—say the helicopter would be most profitable operating between cities on existing airline routes, and on new routes made possible by its characteristics.

Until last fall, CPA included Terrace on its north-central B.C. run, but discontinued it late in the fall because of lack of a radio-range finder.

The Department of Transport, however, has been constructing a range-finder at Terrace and it is expected, to be completed soon.

CPA, while flying into this city by way of Sandspit with Cansos, also have a twin-engine Dakota making tri-weekly trips to Smithers and other north-central cities.

Local Surveyor Dies Down South

John Allan Rutherford, a resident of Prince Rupert and district for many years, died suddenly Monday in Vancouver where he had gone for a routine medical check-up.

Mr. Rutherford, aged 61, was a B.C. land surveyor and had worked in the Smithers-Tekwa area and Prince Rupert for many years.

He was a veteran of the First World War, having served overseas with the RAF, and was a member of Canadian Legion Branch No. 27 here. Formerly he was affiliated with the Legion branch at Smithers, where he took up residence shortly after the war.

Besides his wife, Lillian, who flew to Vancouver Monday, he is survived by one brother, Ronald Campbell Rutherford, Los Altos, California, and two sisters, Mrs. Agnes Brodie in Vancouver and Mrs. Mary D. Blaney, Victoria.

Funeral service will be held Friday afternoon at Simmons and McBride Funeral Chapel, Vancouver, with the Rev. Major George Turpin, DD, officiating. Burial will be at Ocean View Park.

Mrs. Dominato, born in Prince Rupert 33 years ago, was the youngest daughter of Mrs. Constance Postulo and the late James Postulo and was extremely well-known in the city.

She was educated at Borden and King Edward schools and in September, 1941, was married to Sev Dominato.

Among other activities she was a member of the Order of the Royal Purple.

Mrs. Dominato is survived by her husband; two sons, Gerald and Robert; her mother, Mrs. Constance Postulo, 855 First Avenue West; three sisters, Miss Martha Postulo, Vancouver, Mrs. H. A. Nelson and Mrs. Gus Stromdahl of Prince Rupert; three brothers, William Postulo, Winnipeg, and Spero and Paul in Prince Rupert.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Hear Panel, See Film Feelings of Hostility"

Mr. Moore, speaking from the teacher's standpoint, said that a teacher recognizes hostility in a child through a number of indications, such as a tremendous urge for leadership, overly good scholarship with little or no interest in anything but school work, an unnatural desire to please teacher which indicates a search for affection missing at home, the bully or aggressive child who is usually covering up feelings of inferiority, and an inability to feel at ease in the company of others.

Possible causes of those symptoms, he said, were over-possessiveness on the part of parents, lack of recognition of a child's interests and needs at home, and especially quarrels at home which instilled a feeling of insecurity in the child.

Mr. Madley, in introducing the film, said that some hostility was natural to the human race. "We all feel hostile toward someone," he said. But an overabundance of feelings of hostility was an illness, and the cause must be found.

The film covered the case history of a girl who, lacking love and security at home, finally turned from seeking love through parents, teachers and friends, to focus on a determined effort to excel mentally, and grew up an unhappy empty shell of a person.

Final Rehearsals Underway For "Streetcar" Production

Tennessee Williams' powerful play "A Streetcar Named Desire" opens Monday, March 1, at the Civic Centre for a two-night run.

The play has won the New York Critics' award and the Pulitzer prize and is one of the greatest, if not the greatest play in modern American theatre. Dealing as it does with alcoholism and insanity, it is not surprising that the play has aroused controversy. A watered-down version of it has appeared on movie screens with Vivian Leigh and Marlon Brando in the principal parts; it has been toured throughout the United States and Canada, and it was presented in arena style in Vancouver about a year ago at Totem Theatre. In every case it played to sell-out houses.

The Prince Rupert production directed by Ian Dobbie, who directed the professional Vancouver production, has Nina Youngman in the part of Blanche DuBois, the Southern girl of good family whose early marriage to a pervert was responsible for her subsequent downfall. Gerry Woodside plays the part of Stanley Kowalski whose home in New Orleans is the final resting place for Blanche's nerve-wracked body and tortured mind.

Marjorie Leeman plays Stella, Stanley's wife and Blanche's sister, who is torn between love for her rough and ready Polish husband and loyalty to her sister. For Stanley cannot understand Blanche's plight. He sees her as the casual observer sees her, an habitual drunkard, a debauched and useless parasite who should be cast out.

However, the play has moments of brilliant humor such as Stanley's wild exhibitions at poker games and rowdy descriptions of Blanche and her pathetic ways.

Final week of rehearsal is under way, and will culminate with run-through performances to tie in the many effects and the original music used for the New York production.

The setting is being painted by Gillian Hodge and constructed by Harold Thomas. Equipment is being rented from Vancouver to achieve the unusual lighting effects which the play demands.

CAMP CONDITIONS ASSAILED

VANCOUVER —The International Woodworkers of America today joined the Prince George health officer in denouncing sanitary conditions in many interior sawmill and logging operations.

The Cranbrook IWA local introduced a resolution at the union's annual convention here claiming that "sanitary conditions in the majority of interior camps are deplorable and in many instances downright filthy." The resolution asked that the district put pressure on "those people directly responsible" to clean up the situation.

"SAVE THE CHILDREN FUND"

NINE-YEAR-OLD RAYMOND BADGER, chosen this year as "Timmy" symbol of the country-wide Easter seals campaign in aid of crippled children, beams proudly at his hockey hero Ted Kennedy, captain of Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League. Ray, who comes from the Toronto suburb of Weston, will represent thousands of handicapped youngsters during March 18-April 18 when service clubs across Canada will join with their provincial crippled children's societies in the annual campaign to sell Easter seals. Despite his handicap, Ray is a fair swimmer and plays in goal for his grade team in his school's soccer league.

OUTDOORS With Marly -

Subject to the final acceptance of Game Commissioner Butler, the date for the annual dinner of the Rod and Gun Club is set for Friday, March 5. It is not yet known just who will represent the Game Commission at this most important function, but all persons interested in hunting and fishing are strongly urged to attend in order to impress the Commission with the great changes now going on in our North country.

An immediate and imperative need is that this game zone have met little sympathy from delegates representing other regions. We now have opportunity to parade our strength before the "powers that be" and be given more representatives at the yearly convention, with the obvious consequence that our resolutions and requirements will meet favorable attention. This game zone has problems peculiar to itself, and hitherto must not fail to do so!

We should prepare ourselves for, and lend our support to, a move towards an increase in the cost of angling and firearms licenses; these have not kept pace with the general upswing in prices and wages, nor are they compatible with the sums we so willingly spend on all other requirements of our sport. This additional revenue is much needed by the Game Commission, (whose comparatively small appropriation was increased by $24,000.00 last year, unasked) in order to continue and expand the program of game management so vital to your sport and mine.

MAINTAIN GOOD STOCKS

We must learn to maintain good stocks of fish and game against a continually increasing population, and this is best accomplished by trained biologists and enforcement officers; normal good business practice is to pay for improvements out of profits, we profit by our enjoyment of our sport, so we should pay for it in our license fees. In this wise we shall provide these funds quite painlessly, and do our share towards the perpetuation of our enjoyment.

One other thing each of us may do, is to teach our newer Canadians that although we definitely have this continent's finest outdoor sports, we can preserve them only by conforming to this country's ways and laws, that we must not necessarily pattern ourselves upon European or even American methods, and that our evolution and our destiny is in our own hands. We are not wise in comparing our wild and little used woodlands with those of centuries old lands which have been plowed and "gamekeepered" since away back when, we must choose to profit by providing.

Last Night's Fights

New York—Carmella Costa, 130, Brooklyn, outpointed Ike Chestnut, 123, New York, 3.

Sacramento, Calif.—Bob Woods, 132½, Vancouver, stopped Joey Lopez, 134½, Sacramento, 6.

London—Jean Sneyers, 125½, Belgium, outpointed Sam McCarthy, 125½, London, 15, for European featherweight title.

London—Terry Allen, 111½, London, dethroned Eric Marsden, 111½, London. Marsden disqualified for low blow in fifth round for British flyweight title.

en errors elsewhere, we must recognize that the biologist is a scientist who accepts only facts, we must provide him access to our woods and waters, and then abide by his findings.

With all the will in the world, it is not possible for the observations of occasional woods walkers to compare with the actual findings of those scientists who are given a governmental ukase to bring out these facts; therefore it is incumbent upon the practicing sportsman to furnish funds for top-notch biologists and enforcement officers, to the eventual advantage of all concerned.

PROTECT HERITAGE

Wherever you belong in this great game zone, join up in your local Rod and Gun Club, attend its meetings, speak your piece, and protect the wonderful heritage of outdoor sports which are placed in your safekeeping. There is no need to fear that an increase in license fees will result in a loss of revenue, my own long experience is that the visiting sportsman uses money merely as the means to the end of filling his bag, the money he leaves in provincial coffers is but a small percentage of his outlay for the whole trip. He is already up against higher fees in certain of the States, these same states having less variety and quantity of game to offer than here.

The resident hunter spends the same sum for a firearms license that he spends for a single box of 12 gauge shells, four men may hunt moose for less than $30.00 fees, if the kill is one moose only, are they not amply rewarded? Old-timers will say that a long ago, it was the same, but then, it was not all of them, it was only a few. Mel Bussey is quite accustomed to fish in quantity lots while on the halibut banks, but last weekend he tried the steelhead in the Shames river without success; the reason—large Dollies were there in such prodigious numbers that he found it impossible to get a lure into the water without hooking one. This occurred in the second pool upstream from the Highway bridge, about ten minutes walk. Very nice of Mel to pass the good word along.

9th Win Scored By Lyndhursts

KREFELD, Germany (CP)—Toronto Lyndhursts made it nine victories in a row Tuesday night with a 10-0 rout of Krefeld before 7,000 fans.

Lyndhursts, Canada's entry in the world hockey championships starting in Stockholm Feb. 26, have lost only one game since beginning their European exhibition tour four weeks ago. The loss was the first game in Paris against a team of Canadians from the English leagues.

Centre Norm Grey and left-winger Earl Clements led Lyndhursts' scoring with one goal each in both the first and third periods. Left-winger John Petro and right-winger Moe Galand caged one each in the first.

In the third period, Heinz Wacker, a member of the German team, unintentionally gave the Canadian a bonus goal by kicking the puck past the Krefeld goalie, Lyndhurst centre Bob Kennedy and right-wingers Vic Sluce and John Scott each scored once in the finale.

Manson's Senior Champs As CCC Mauls GA 70-47

Manson's Omegas won the Senior B basketball league championship last night as Columbia Cellulose 300 Club trampled a weakened Gordon and Anderson squad 70-47 in what turned out to be the final game in the season's schedule.

The CCC victory, the highest scoring Senior B game of the year gives the Bill McChesney's squad the Sun Life Cup emblematic of the Senior B championship. The playoffs between CCC and G & A may start Saturday.

The pulp millers' decisive victory robbed G & A of any chance of tying Manson's for the league lead and caused cancellation of the league's remaining games.

Final standing was as follows:

Team	W	L	Pts
Manson's	10	3	20
Gordon & Anderson	7	7	14
CCC 300 Club	4	11	8

Driving Bill Sunberg with 22 points sparked the CCC win with Don and Sid Scherk and Freddy Christensen all hitting double figures.

G & A were minus the services of Joe Davis and although fighting back every bit of the way failed to stem the CCC sharpshooters.

EARLY LEAD

The millers took an early lead, taking the first quarter 18-12, boosted to 32-20 by half time. CCC were still unreachable in the third quarter outscoring the hardwoodmen 16-10. Despite the G & A drive in the ruggedly-played final frame when the losers chalked up 17 points the CCC squad came through with 19 more, as Rupe Holkestad and Jimmy Platen both fouled out.

At the foul line CCC scored on 16 to 24 free shots while G & A sank 12 in 17 tries. CCC were penalized 15 times to 20 calls against G & A. Rupe Holkestad netted 16 points to lead the losers.

In a foul slugged Inter A game, Fraser and Payne edged a notch closer to catching the league pacesetters as they downed North Star 49-39. Freddy Kristmanson paced the winners with 16 points as they tied the first quarter 8-8, and took the rest of the encounter 17-15, 15-10 and 9-5. Ray McKay was the top marksman for the bot-tlers with 15 points.

Referees Fred Calderone and Bob Smith handed out 24 penalties to the drygoods crew and 18 to North Star.

In the Inter L fixture Manson's clinched the league title with a 35-28 victory over Nelson Brothers for a 16 points total in 11 games. Webber with 12 points and Anderson with 11 paced the winners while John Newton scored 14 for the losers.

Warwick Sets Point Record As V's Triumph

Penticton's Bill Warwick continued his sizzling scoring pace last night by recording his 86th point—two more than the three-year-old Okanagan Senior Hockey League mark set by Harvey Stein. Warwick broke Stein's record Saturday after tying it Friday.

Warwick's goal Tuesday night, however, was overshadowed by his team's 9-3 rout at the hands of the visiting Kelowna Packers. The game was marred by 25 penalties, four of them 10-minute misconducts in the third period.

In the other OSHL contest, Kamloops Elks moved into third place by bumping the faltering Vernon Canadians 8-4. The loss dropped Vernon into the cellar.

Over in the Western International Hockey League, Trail Smoke Eaters regained second place Tuesday night by downing their traditional rivals, Nelson Maple Leafs, 5-3.

At Kamloops, young Walt Farina, a member of the Vernon senior "B" club, replaced Johnny Sofiak in the Canadians' goal and handled 31 shots. There are no games scheduled in either league for tonight.

Canucks Dump Flyers 3-1; Boost Lead to Eight Points

By The Canadian Press

Vancouver Canucks, who like other west coast members of the Western Hockey League usually find it rough going on the Prairies, reached the two-third mark of their current tour Tuesday night with a win and a tie.

Following Monday night's 2-2 stalemate with Saskatoon Quakers, Vancouver went on to bump Edmonton Flyers 3-1 and thereby lengthened their league lead to eight points over Calgary Stampeders.

In the lone game of the night, Gordie Kerr sniped two goals for Canucks, with the other going to centre Bill Wylie, who also assisted on Kerr's two markers.

Ray Hannigan notched Edmonton's lone goal, but it was goalie Glen Hall who kept the fourth-place Flyers from being routed.

Following a scoreless first period, Canucks took a one-goal lead midway in the second and came out of the period with a 2-1 margin. The winners picked up their third goal while Edmonton was a man short in the finale.

Vancouver winds up their tour at Calgary tonight, and the only other league action sees Seattle at New Westminster.

Lorne Worsley matched Hall's performance, both pipemen turning aside 25 shots.

However, due to the superb support ahead of him, most of the shots on Worsley were of the desperation variety.

At the other end of the ice, however, Hall's 25 stops featured

Cook's Trophy Won by Warren

Ken Warren's rink last night won the George Cook Jeweller's trophy defeating Neely Moore's crew 11-7 in the final played at the Prince Rupert Curling Club rink.

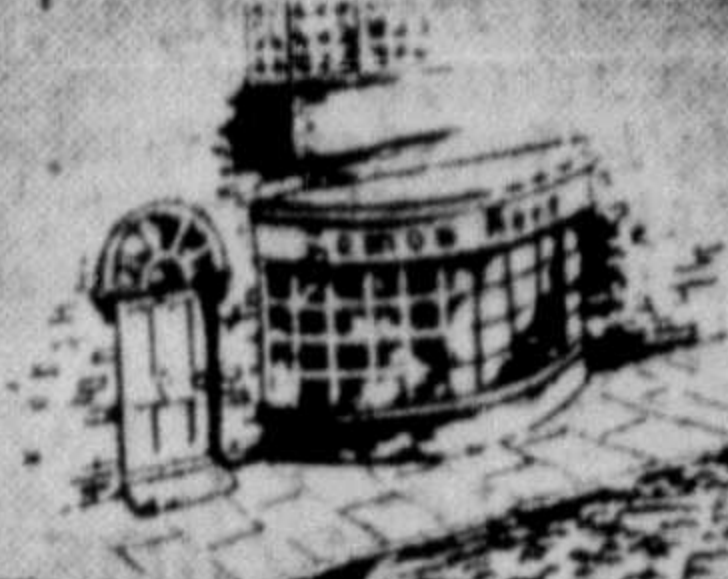

Warren established a healthy lead winding up the fifth end five up, but Moore gained steadily and was only one down 8-7 at the 10th end. Warren added two more in the 11th and in the final end added an extra point.

Other results last night were: Eyolfson 9, Stewart 6 in the Rupert Motors trophy play; Bowdham 11, Scott 6, McKenzie 9, Berg 8; Oster-tag 17, Parker 5 in the Grotto trophy competition.

Tonight's draw is as follows: 7 p.m.—Peterson vs. Sieber; Johnston vs. Shier; Bird vs. Ford; 9 p.m.—Mel-then vs. Gordon; Miller vs. Kel-lough; Garner vs. Wakley all in Rupert Motors play.

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE
 By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Co-operation Necessary In Bidding As In Play
 Lack of partnership co-operation in the bidding carries severe penalties, as is well illustrated in today's hand. The deal was played in a team-of-four contest.

Miss Brash's opening bid was weak but she was swayed by her holding of nine cards in the major suits. Mr. Dale overcalled two diamonds and Mr. Champion, with every indication, doubled.

Here Mr. Masters showed excellent partnership co-operation. He passed. His partner had not asked him to bid. In fact, Mr. Dale's failure to make a take-out double strongly suggested that he would not welcome a bid from Mr. Masters.

HORRIBLE PASS
 Miss Brash's pass was horrible and showed a complete lack of co-operation. She should have bid two hearts, thereby telling her partner that she held a second suit and that she had a very poor hand for defending against two diamonds.

Mr. Champion opened the ten of spades, and Miss Brash won with the king and returned her lone diamond. Mr. Dale put up the king and it lost to the ace. Mr. Champion then led the six of hearts, and the king fell to the ace in the closed hand.

Now Mr. Dale led the seven of diamonds. Mr. Champion ducked, a spade was discarded from dummy and Miss Brash also dropped a small spade. Next came the eight of diamonds and Mr. Champion won with the queen. Another spade went on from the board and Miss Brash played a low heart.

UNDERLEADS QUEEN
 Mr. Champion returned his last trump and Mr. Dale won and led a club. Mr. Champion went in with the ace and saw that he wasn't going to beat the hand unless he could put his partner in to cash a spade win-

More Works Projects Urged To Avert Serious Situation

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Trades and Labor Council was told last night that unemployment insurance benefits must be increased by 75 per cent and more public works projects must be undertaken if a "serious" unemployment situation is to be averted.

The proposal, made by the local Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers Union (CIO-CCL), called for increased unemployment insurance benefits and lengthier benefit periods "so the unemployed can stay on benefit until they find work."

The proposal was referred to the B.C. Trades Union Congress for consideration.

R. K. Corvin, secretary-treasurer of the council, said joint TLC-CCL meetings will draw up a brief "to bring this serious unemployment situation to the attention of the government."

An official of the Vancouver TLC also said B.C. trade unionists want to be consulted before the provincial government introduces changes in the Workmen's Compensation and Industrial Conciliation Acts.

Commenting on proposed labor legislation indicated in the Speech from the Throne at the opening of the 24th session of the Legislature, council secretary R. K. Corvin said he will be "happy with changes if they let labor look at them first."

He also said he hopes to see changes in the structure of the Labor Relations Board and in rulings governing injunctions against labor.

SWINGING ACROSS a Sudanese jungle stream is a Tarzan is Maj. Salah Salem, Egyptian Minister of National Guidance and Sudanese Affairs. On his tour of the southern Sudan, the major's informal attire consisted of sandals, short pants, sun glasses and rain hat.

British Scouts Take Stand On Communists

LONDON (Reuters)—Headquarters of the Boy Scout association in Britain this week faced a national controversy over whether a Communist can be a scout—with a resounding "No."

The Boy Scout headquarters declared a Communist cannot sincerely comply with the scout code. It backed up a regional scout officer's action in asking for the resignation of a youth who was found to be a Communist.

The headquarters statement said that if he does not resign he will be dismissed.

The youth, Paul Garland, 19, is a district secretary in the Young Communist League.

The association took action after he attracted national attention by refusing his district commissioner's suggestion that he leave the movement voluntarily. Garland is holder of the rank of "Queen's Scout"—highest in the British scout designations.

In support of his position, Garland quoted the fourth law of the Boy Scout movement—"a scout is a friend of all and a brother of every other scout, no matter to what country, class or creed the other may belong."

Aussie Employment

CANBERRA (CP)—Harold Holt, Australian labor minister, reported the number being paid unemployment benefits dropped from 42,000 to 13,000 at the end of last year. At the same time 37,000 job vacancies were listed. Development projects suggest a bigger demand for labor this year, he said.

Government Hit On Labor Matters At IWA Parley

VANCOUVER (CP)—The 32,000-member International Woodworkers of America (IWA) Monday opened its 17th annual district convention with a scathing attack on provincial government handling of labor matters.

The blast was contained in the officers' report read at the opening session by District president Joe Morris, W. N. Gray, first vice-president, and George Mitchell, secretary-treasurer.

"We have kept a watchful eye on provincial legislation and are greatly alarmed by the power which is being assumed by the provincial government in labor matters," the report said.

The union accused the labor relations board of "going almost unopposed, doing almost as they please without any consideration whatsoever for trade union principles and practices."

The membership was urged to keep a "watchful eye" on the legislature session opening this week to "see the changes, if any" to be made to the Workmen's Compensation Act, Hospital Insurance Act, and Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act.

Preparations Set For H-Bomb Test

HONOLULU (AP)—Preparations for the coming hydrogen bomb test series in the Pacific are nearing a climax, according to indications in this strategic mid-ocean staging area.

But there is no indication that any of the planned series of tests has actually started.

A recent rash of Pacific area earthquakes prompted speculation that an H-bomb already has been exploded but seismologists flatly deny the possibility of any such connection.

The tests, which will include the first trial of an actual combat-designed hydrogen bomb, are expected in two or three weeks.

Alvin Graves, director of the 1954 tests at the Marshall Islands atomic proving grounds, passed through Honolulu two weeks ago and is presumably in the test area now.

Maj.-Gen. Percy W. Clarkson, commanding officer of the atomic task force, left Honolulu a month ago, presumably for the Marshall Islands, and returned last week. Two days later he left again, in the same direction. An army spokesman reported his arrivals and departures without further comment.

MOVEMENT ABOUT OVER
An informant at an engineering and contracting firm which supplies men and material for the atomic tests said the movement of construction personnel to the test area is about over.

The Atomic Energy Commission notified airlines in advance of the 1954 tests to stay clear of the area. Because of news leaks at that time, the airlines now have been told there will be no such advance warning this time.

One airline spokesman said that in case of any danger they would be notified on an emergency basis.

The weather bureau provides a hint that the tests are still two or three weeks off at best. Prevailing winds through February blow west to east across the Pacific and could carry dangerous atomic dust clouds to Hawaii and the United States.

Carnation Milk Introduces Cheeseburger Loaf

It's New! A wonderfully rich flavored loaf of beef and cheese — made extra juicy and delicious by Carnation Milk — because Carnation is concentrated to double richness — because Carnation is specially heat-refined.

Rich, Moist, Delicious
CHEESEBURGER LOAF
(Makes 6 servings)

- 1/2 cup undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk
- 1 egg
- 1 cup cracker crumbs
- 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1 tablespoon catsup
- 1 cup grated cheddar cheese

Blend all ingredients except cheese until thoroughly mixed. Line loaf pan with heavy waxed paper. Place 1/2 cup cheese in bottom of pan, spread evenly. Cover with half of meat loaf mixture. Repeat with remaining cheese and meat layers. Bake in moderate oven (350°) about 1 hour. Allow loaf to stand about 10 minutes before turning out on platter. Remove paper; slice for serving.
