Thanks For Everything

J. F. MAGOR, President

EXT Monday is a special day during which we are asked to pause awhile and consider the things which make this life a good one. It is a day of hopes and memories, of prayer and festiveness.

-But these are generalities which by themselves do little to describe Thanksgiving. All through the year we have our own individual times for reflection and gratitude. Why make a public occasion of it?

Perhaps the reason can be understood by calling to mind the emotions of those pilgrims who survived a perilous existence after venturing west to America more than 300 years ago. They had faced extinction on sea and on land, and now at last life looked a little better. The soil was generous, they had learned how to protect themselves against the dangers and sometimes bitter climate of their strange country and, above all, they had found the freedom of thought and worship which had driven them to endure these ordeals. A day of thanksgiving to God was proclaimed, and together they fell to their knees and prayed.

The point of remembering this bit of history is to observe that the pilgrims were offering thanks for those benefactions which we now take for granted. We expect to eat well. We expect to walk in safety and to have warmth in our homes. We know we can think and worship as we wish.

In that lies the present significance of Thanksgiving Day. It is a particular occasion to be grateful for what today is so normal that it hardly bears a thought. When the life of one close to us is saved or when material fortune comes our way or when our love for someone is returned, perhaps then we give thanks in our own personal way. But Thanksgiving Day encompasses all that and the not so special, too.

It is a time when we say "Thank you, God, for everything."

... thousands are "doing-it-themselves" with Sylvaply! It's "caught on" from coast to coast in Canada because everybody wants to try this exciting and profitable way to a better home. And, what others can do, you can do, too.

YOUR "HOSPITALITY CORNER"—just one of the modern improvements you can build into an older home—or plan for a new one. It starts with a storage wall of Sylvaply and finishes with whatever your own good taste inspires.

NEAT BUT NOT COSTLY-Adding attic rooms is easy with Sylvaply and the free "How-to-do-it" folder your lumber dealer has for you. Simple wipe-down finishes add the touch of beauty to Sylvaply's natural wood grain.

TOYS FOR TOTS—Dad's having fun-Mom's proud -and the kids will be happy. Sylvaply's large, easilyworked panels help make short work of this simple Sea-Saw Boat. This and many other toys and games are in the Free toy plan folder at your lumber dealer's.

A BASEMENT "GOLDMINE"—There's more potential living space available for remodelling in the average basement than anywhere else in the home. You can build extra rooms yourself and have fun doing it. First, get your Free "How-to-do-it" from your lumber dealer, it shows you how . . . step-by-step.
