Liquor Store Open Six Days

The government liquor store will remain open all day Thursdays from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. after May 15, liquor vendor David Bain announced yesterday.

This will put the government store on a six-day week, necessitating employment of four more personnel. Mr. Bain indicated that applicants for the position had already been chosen. Only exception to the six-day week will be statutory holidays.

The move for later closing of the liquor store follows a resolution from the city council which was supported by the Chamber of Commerce and labor groups for an extension of hours to accommodate fishermen and late arrivals of trains and boats carrying tourists.

1954 Mill Rate Boosted To 72 As Council Makes Estimates

Casey Relieved Of Jobs

Action Follows Committee Row
Alderman George B. Casey has been removed from the board of works and wage committees, Mayor George Hills announced today.

The mayor said that he wrote a letter to Alderman Casey today stating that "through his misconduct at a board of works meeting of May 6, I am hereby relieving him of his membership on the board of works and wage committees."

The two committees mentioned by the mayor are the two committees on which Aldermen Mike Krueger and Darrow Gomez serve.

The mayor's action followed a letter read at last night's council meeting which contained the resignation from the board of works committee by Aldermen Gomez and Krueger.

The letter handed the mayor and signed by both aldermen stated that due to an unprovoked attack by Alderman G. B. Casey during a committee meeting, both aldermen wished to disassociate themselves from any committee on which Alderman Casey served.

NOW ON THE WAY HOME with their mother Queen Elizabeth and father the Duke of Edinburgh are Prince Charles and Princess Anne. Shown playing with a toy dog at the Royal Lodge at Windsor before they left for Tobruk to meet their parents, the royal children today sailed homeward on the Britannia where a tremendous welcome awaits the whole family in England.

CCC Joins Campaign

The slogan is "Let's Make Safety Count" out at the Columbia Cellulose company plant at Watson Island this week as the CCC employees join 32,000 other B.C. mill workers and loggers in Forest Products Safety Week.

Throughout mills and logging camps in B.C. many companies hoisted flags yesterday morning which they will keep flying as long as no accidents occur.

Dan Doswell, personnel manager of Columbia Cellulose said this morning that while there is no flag flying at Watson Island, the campaign is in full swing and no accidents occurred yesterday.

"We have issued a lot of letters stressing adherence to safety practices," Mr. Doswell said, "we have distributed a form letter from the safety committee of the Pulp and Paper industry as well as our own."

A daily bulletin will be issued every day from Columbia Cellulose, Mr. Doswell said.

Major Fishermen's Float Expected For Cow Bay

Expectation that a major fishermen's float will be undertaken at Cow Bay was expressed in a letter from E. T. Applewhite, MP for Skeena which was read to City Council last night.

Mr. Applewhite said that he had a meeting with Minister of Transport Lionel Chevrier and Minister of Fisheries James Sinclair and also Minister of Public Works R. E. Winters and had been finally able to persuade the situation was an emergency. The department of public works that the federal department of public works had been told that the Cow Bay floats were an installation that the fishing industry had become dependent upon and that it was essential that they should be put in a condition which would enable them to be used this coming fishing season.

"This, most likely, will mean replacing of certain floats on a more or less temporary basis," Mr. Applewhite wrote, "as it is pretty obvious that a permanent job cannot be carried out to be of use this season."

Mr. Applewhite said that he did not know that negotiations had been started for the acquisition of additional property on the shore at Cow Bay, and it is his expectation that a major fishermen's float project will be undertaken there.

He said that as he had said before that nothing could be done until April 1, by the federal authorities, but that temporary work had been authorized and the department of public works had wired its Pacific Coast office to that effect on April 27.

A letter from Mr. Sinclair, dated April 27 told city council that while the federal government had not been able to get title to the foreshore, the minister of public works had given instructions to go ahead with the float construction immediately.

Mr. Sinclair said that Mr. Applewhite had been most insistent that the work was of highest priority and it was his expectation that the work would start immediately.

Apart from a new railing placed at the end of the one of the floats by the provincial public works department, nothing has been done by the federal government towards any repairs, a check today showed. The fishing season opens May 16.

No Public Works Without Increase

A budget of $1,163,209.71 was recommended to City Council last night and the by-law for it was introduced for passage. The mill rate, estimated at 72 mills for this year is two mills higher than that of 1953.

The annual rate by-law to make the new mill rate effective will come up for final adoption at a special meeting of the city council Thursday.

An increase in school costs and a special levy for the Civic Centre were cited by chairman of the finance committee Alderman Mike Krueger as being partly responsible for the extra two mills.

In presenting the annual rate by-law Alderman Krueger said that on comparing this year's estimates with those of 1953 it was found that school costs had increased by approximately $14,000, from 23,979 mills to 25,374 mills, a boost of 1.395 mills.

His summary showed:

School rate	25.374
Debtenture rate	4.437
Special levies	1.898
General rate	40.291
	72.000

Due to a change in accounting procedure, the finance chairman said, the debt levy had been reduced from 13.331 mills in 1953 to 4.437 mills, while the general mill rate increased from 30.69 to 40.291 giving an increase between the two of .707 mills.

BARE ESSENTIALS
"Each committee has revised their original estimates so that they are down to bare essentials," Ald. Krueger said, "and while some increase was necessary due to wage increases, estimates have been kept down to a favorable level in comparison to 1953."

He said that while the finance committee was not happy about increasing the mill rate, it was evident that if the city was to carry on any public works projects this year, the mill rate had to be increased.

He said that another factor to the increase was the increase in costs for parks and recreation. In 1953 this amounted to some $16,800 of which $15,000 was for parks and $1,800 to the Civic Centre, in monthly grants of $150.

"This year we have budgeted some $26,000 for this purpose, with $20,000 going to parks and $6,000 to the Civic Centre."

LEVY APPROVED
(At last December's civic elections the Prince Rupert electors voted in favor of assessing one mill or $6,000 whichever was the lesser for the Civic Centre.)

In order to balance the budget at 72 mills, Ald. Krueger said, a portion of the work planned in 1954 and equipment needs were charged to reserve accounts.

The finance committee recommendation that the parks board estimates be set at $20,000 and that $8,724 for sanitary land fill at Algoma Park be charged to the Algoma Park trust account, was also passed by council.

Parks board's estimated budget given to council two weeks ago was for $34,224.

Mayor George Hills, in speaking to this said that "this does not stop the parks board from lodging a complaint, and if they are successful then the by-law can be amended."

Ald. Krueger added that if this happened then the mill rate of 72 mills would have to be increased even further.

Actually the city will only have $809,010.52 of the total budget to spend, this being made up of the general mill rate of 40.291 mills or $269,105 in taxation plus $539,905.32 in revenues.

The remainder of the money collected by the city merely passes through its hands for school costs, debtenture rate and special levies.

School rate of 25.374 brings in $169,474.06.

Interest on debentures, plus 4.437 mills for debt levy amounts to $172,044.35 and is paid out on debt principals and interest.

The special levy of 1.898 mills goes to the Fairview cemetery and the Civic Centre, one mill for the cemetery being $6,679.04 and $6,000 voted by the electors last December.

Goes Free on Bail After Shooting

PORT MOODY, B.C.—Fredrick Melhuish, 36, unemployed carpenter, was freed on $1,000 bail after appearing in police court here on a charge of "inflicting grievous bodily harm."

Melhuish was charged following the shooting of Murray Donnelly, 19, of adjacent Burnaby. He was reported "slightly improved" in hospital where he underwent surgery for the removal of a .22-calibre slug from his stomach. Donnelly was shot while on his way home from a dance, after Melhuish had reported hearing "prowlers" around his home.

Casey Denies Firing Caretaker As Lyons Says Injustice Done

Enquiries and denials flashed back and forth across the council chamber last night, as a controversy arose at the regular council meeting over F. G. Pritchard, cemetery caretaker, leaving the city's employ.

Alderman Phil Lyons led off the debate when he told Mayor George Hills that he wished to inquire "into the unfortunate firing, at the behest of one of the aldermen, of a city employee."

Alderman Lyons said that the move had followed an action taken by the employee in siding the police, which should be backed by law-abiding citizens.

OF OWN FREE WILL
"While his action may not be entirely judicious, it was done of his own free will, not I believe for financial advantage," Alderman Lyons said.

"For this he was threatened, called derogatory names and told he was fired—if not fired in one way, fired in another."

Alderman Lyons went on to say that if any alderman had the power to fire a city employee from his job, then "a reign of terror would be inaugurated."

"If I am not here on the side of law and order—if I must back up those that break the law, then I will not have anything to do with affairs in this city," Alderman Lyons stated. He then called for a repudiation of the action by the board of works in accepting Pritchard's resignation.

Alderman Norman Bellis, works board chairman replied that the caretaker had not been fired, but he had been told that no alderman could fire or threaten him—that the engineer or works foreman were the proper authorities. Alderman Bellis said that Pritchard had phoned him and stated that he still wanted to quit.

"Charges have been made, and I deny them. I never told this man that he was fired. I plead not guilty," Alderman George Casey, former board of works chairman stated.

In answer Alderman Lyons produced a letter written to him by Pritchard which asserted that Alderman Casey had called him by phone at 6:30 April 22 and said Pritchard was fired. The letter quoted Alderman Casey as calling the caretaker a "stool pigeon" and that he would be fired "one way or another."

"I say this is not true," Alderman Casey replied.

Mayor Hills told the council that in the board of works committee meeting he had voted in favor of accepting the caretaker's resignation.

"I am protecting no soundborels! I wish to make that quite clear," Mayor Hills said.

"If more light were thrown on this case—or this bootlegging business—it might be found that it is not quite in the public interest, and we are better rid of our caretaker."

"I think there is very little doubt that pressure was brought to bear at the behest of law-breakers," Alderman Lyons told council.

"Better establish the fact that he was threatened first," Alderman Casey remarked.

COULD ASK FOR APOLOGY
The mayor suggested that if Alderman Lyons thought an injustice had been done, he could move a motion that the man be sent an apology and ask for his reinstatement.

Alderman Lyons said that under the circumstances it was unfortunately impossible for the man to be as satisfactory an employee as he had in the past.

"I am not prepared to move that," he said.

Visit The Hospital

IT IS HOPED that the hospital's open-house invitation tomorrow will meet with a good response. Despite the vital part this institution plays in our community, comparatively few have any understanding of how it operates. The general picture is a place with lots of beds, but it is the complexity of services which go into the care and comfort of those who occupy the beds that makes the real story.

Tomorrow evening, with nurses as pleasant and well-informed escorts, the public will have a chance to see this aspect of hospital life. The occasion is Hospital Day which is observed every year at this time throughout North America in honor of Florence Nightingale, whose birthday was May 12. Earlier in the day there will be a tea given in the nurses' residence by the women's hospital auxiliary.

It is a disappointing fact that in recent years residents of Prince Rupert have not shown any pronounced interest in this opportunity to visit their hospital. Believing the time may have been inconvenient, those in charge have changed it from the afternoon to the evening. If this does not prove any more attractive, consideration may be given to discontinuing the event.

It will be unfortunate if such a step is found necessary. Prince Rupert has reason to be proud of its modern and efficient hospital, and a few minutes spent in going through it will prove why.

Credit Record Is Open Book

BUY WISELY and pay promptly is the slogan this week which is being observed throughout Canada and the U.S.A. as Retail Credit Education Week.

As the sponsoring National Retail Credit Association points out, people whose intentions are good sometimes have credit difficulties because their arithmetic is bad. They buy more than their income justifies and cannot pay when payment is due. The result is poor credit which may eventually oblige the customer to go without those things he really needs.

In Prince Rupert, accurate records of how customers in the district pay their accounts are kept by the local Credit Bureau. This information is available to all members of the Bureau, and to the members of something like 1,800 other credit bureaux from coast to coast in the U.S. and Canada.

The purpose of the bureaux is not merely to keep people from buying things for which they cannot pay, but to encourage the sound use of credit as an indispensable part of the modern business system.

It all amounts to the fact that a customer's credit record is indeed an open book in which others can read how trustworthy that customer is. It pays to keep this record straight.

Jet Plane Wrecks Plant In Naples

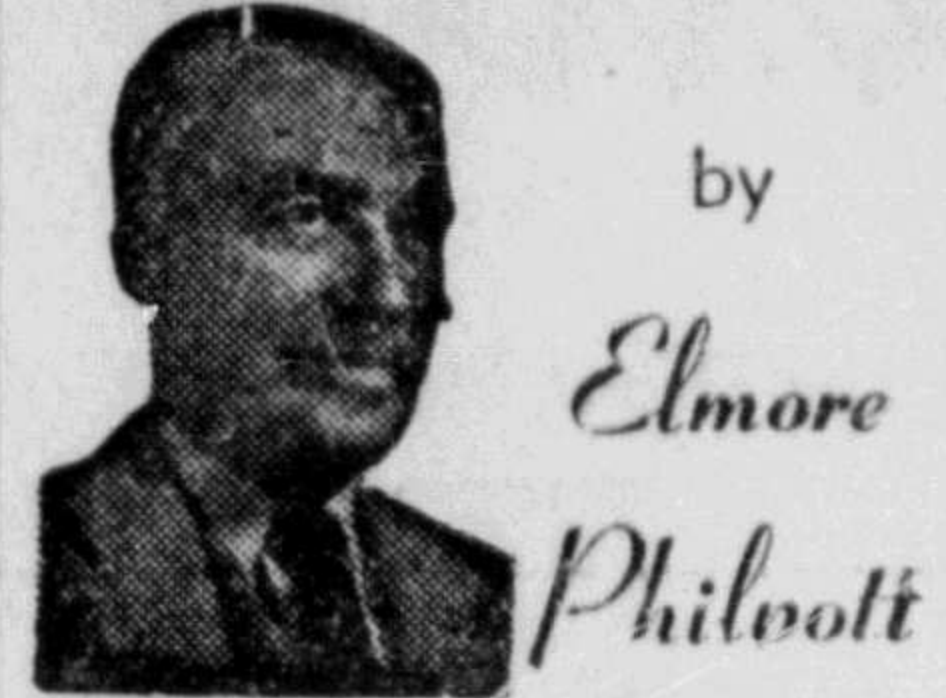

NAPLES (AP)—An Italian Air Force jet plane spun out of a formation Monday and crashed into a coca-cola bottling plant, killing the pilot and an office worker. Nine other workers were seriously injured by explosion and flames following the crash. The stricken plane, trailing smoke, plummeted into the plant at a steep angle through the roof and into the office of plant manager Antonio Merco. An accountant in the office was killed. Merco was uninjured.

As I See It

Oh No Toronto

IN ITS issue of May 4 The Toronto Telegram says "Elmore Is Off Base."

According to the Tely, Toronto did not forget to install public toilets at the 12 stations of its (otherwise) magnificent new subway. They were deliberately left out!

"Had Mr. Philpott pursued the subject he would have learned that Toronto authorities forgot nothing, but on the contrary gave considerable thought to this matter. They consulted the operators of subways elsewhere and were advised by them and by the police not to provide public toilets for various reasons—they would have to be kept locked, or an attendant would be required; they would provide a convenience for perverts and indecent offences; pickpockets would find them useful for disposing of lifted purses."

THE ABOVE explanation should surely rate for some kind of an Oscar in next year's prizes for comic writing. We are told that the potential problem of having to deal with "queers" so frightened the Toronto transportation authorities that they solved it by this masterminded solution.

Simply deny the facts of life and the needs of nature. Up till now most of us had supposed that there were per capita no more sex deviationists, or even pickpockets, in Toronto than in New York, London, Paris, Berlin, Moscow or Vancouver. We had also supposed that there were more serious human problems, connected with maintaining comfort, peace and good order in a big city, than that of preventing pickpockets from using public toilets as disposal places for snatched purses.

Let us assume that 99 and 44/100 per cent of the subway users in Toronto are decent, average folk, just about like other humans in most other similar cities. Let us assume that it is the remaining tiny fraction which is the nuisance against which the Toronto subway managers planned to protect themselves by a unique policy.

Surely the solution is not to penalize the vast majority. By that same upside-down reasoning Toronto would discard the seat covers in the subways, because a few morons slashed some brand new covers when the subway trains first began to operate.

BUT THE explanation by the Toronto Telegram reaches the high point when it says: "However, each station has facilities for the use of the staff, and on request they are available to members of the public in need."

In other words, Toronto has provided twelve secret rooms, one per station, for the use of the subway employees. These rooms are neither marked in any way nor are they marked by anything which plainly means "General Public Keep Out."

True, as the Tely says, if an ordinary traveller knows about SEE PHILPOTT—Page 6

Queen Elizabeth Sails for Home

GIBRALTAR (Reuters)—Queen Elizabeth sailed for home today, tanned, slimmer and still smiling after hundreds of receptions and thousands of handshakes on her six-month global tour.

Thousands lined the fortress harbor to cheer the Queen, the Duke of Edinburgh and their two children as the royal yacht Britannia began a five-day voyage to London.

Before sailing today, the Queen's schedule was as busy as the earlier part of her tour which brought concern over whether she could stand the strain. After a five-day rest at sea, the Queen faces a day of welcome in London already assuming the proportions of the Coronation "fever."

As the band played farewell, Elizabeth, the Duke of Edinburgh, Prince Charles and Princess Anne waved goodbye from the Britannia.

One of the Queen's last acts this morning was to lay the foundation stone of the King George VI Memorial Hospital with a silver trowel.

Among the farewell gifts for the royal family was a silver flask for the duke. The Queen received a diamond coat-of-arms of Gibraltar—her gift from the British garrison and residents.

OTTAWA DIARY

By NORMAN M. MacLEOD

Public relations-wise the Soviet Embassy here is staging the most spectacular performance of its kind ever witnessed in this Capital.

The climax came during last week with the visit of the party of touring concert artists from the Russian homeland. The embassy took over the Capital's largest theatre for the occasion. But no tickets were sold. It was entirely an invitation affair. And the invitations were made available on the broadest possible basis. Far from any discrimination being shown against a capitalist or bourgeois audience, the surface indications all suggested that that was exactly the sort of audience before whom the Russians wanted to parade their artistic and cultural wares.

The diplomatic corps was invited almost en masse and without discrimination. Cabinet Ministers and political leaders were included. Leading foreign correspondents and senior Canadian journalists were given preferred box seat treatment. Leaders in the business and professional life of the Capital, as well as senior government employees also were on the guest list. In brief, the guest list was as distinguished and representative a list of names as ever compiled for a comparable Ottawa function.

The most significant feature of the entire affair, however, was that everyone attended, virtually without exception. And they came in spite of the worst weather which the present Spring season has produced so far. It was a night of teeming, chill rain, when to venture out of doors was to court rheumatism and brave influenza. Nevertheless, half an hour after the scheduled curtain time, every seat in the theatre—Capacity 2,500—was filled. The delay in starting was necessitated by the fact that the convergence of taxicabs and private cars on the theatre produced Ottawa's worst night traffic jam of a decade and delayed the arrival of many of the audience.

It was an evening of brilliant entertainment. The Soviet artists were really superb. Ottawa never had heard a violinist greater than Leonid Kogan, a pianist more moving or thrilling than Pavel Serebryakov, or a soprano with the amazing range of Elizaveta Chavdar. There was the great Stalin prize winner tenor Arturs Frindbergs, and there were the two ballet soloists Sophia Golovkina and Leonid Zhdanov. The appetite of the distinguished audience for their offerings appeared to be limitless, and the artists were generous with their encores. It was midnight before the curtain finally fell.

It was literally an evening such as social Ottawa had not known before. Obviously, it was part of the new friend-making policy which has dominated the embassy's public relations policy since the arrival of the new Ambassador. Was it propaganda? Indirectly it may have been. But if so, it was propaganda of a distinctly high order.

Credit Grantors Outline Aims

Observation of Retail Credit Education Week across Canada has brought an outline of the aims of the Prince Rupert Retail Credit Grantors' Association by President Norman Moorehouse.

The association, which is sponsoring an essay contest for local students this week, is composed of almost 70 local and district merchants and was organized in May, 1950.

Its objectives, said Mr. Moorehouse, were to attain a closer relationship among merchants, for their mutual protection in extension of credit, to educate the public to the necessity of prompt payment of bills and to establish and operate one central information bureau, known as the Credit Bureau of Prince Rupert.

City Magistrate At Convention

City Police Magistrate W. D. Vance is in Vancouver this week for a convention of B.C. Magistrates.

CITY COUNCIL BRIEFS

Rupert May Take Over Salt Lake Park

City council received a letter at its regular session last night from the Hon. R. E. Sommers, Minister of Lands and Forests asking if the city would consider taking over Salt Lake Park and running it as a municipal park.

The communication explained that the area had originally been operated as a class C provincial park, but that in recent years the provincial parks board had become less active. It went on to explain that while the park was outside the municipal boundaries, it was used almost exclusively by Prince Rupert people. The suggestion was referred to the city park's board.

Clausen Rites Held Today

Representatives from major fishing companies in Prince Rupert were honorary pallbearers at the funeral of John Arnt Clausen when services were held at 2 p.m. today at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, with Rev. H. O. Olson officiating.

Honorary pallbearers were C. E. Salter, Doug Souter, Norman Bellis, A. L. Fletcher, C. Appel and B. J. Bacon.

Active pallbearers were Arthur Sweet, Dan Kristmanson, Einar Christensen, Anton Strand, H. E. Scott and O. F. Stuart.

CODE Told Of B.C. Conclave

A report on the recent provincial convention of the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire was heard at last week's meeting of Cambrai Chapter, IODE, held in the Civic Centre.

Mrs. C. G. Ham, local delegate, reported on highlights of the convention, held in Vancouver. Miss E. Rivett was elected assistant secretary of Cambrai Chapter and Mrs. Alex Bremner, convener for service at home and abroad, reported that Mrs. Codville had many knitted articles ready for shipment.

Refreshments were served at the close by Mrs. T. W. Brown, Mrs. Alex Bremner and Mrs. R. H. Cleyton. The monthly prize was won by Mrs. Brown.

The licensing committee reported that the application of W. P. Stewart to carry on the business of general contractor had been accepted. Council accepted the report.

Council accepted the recommendation of the board of works committee that a cinder and wooden sidewalk be provided from Second Avenue West to Beach Place at an approximate cost of $400. A further recommendation that a sidewalk be constructed on the easterly side of Musgrave place at a cost of $350 was also approved.

Alderman Phil Lyons rose during council last night asserting that part of a report he had made to council on the Prince Rupert General Hospital April 26 had been misunderstood.

"I made no comparison of service, and no disparagement of the quality of the work in regard to any laundry or laundries was in my mind or was intended," he said. "The contract for hospital linen was let strictly on a price basis," he said.

The Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities extended an invitation to city delegates to attend the annual conference August 29 to September 2 in Windsor, Ontario. The invitation was referred to the finance committee for a report.

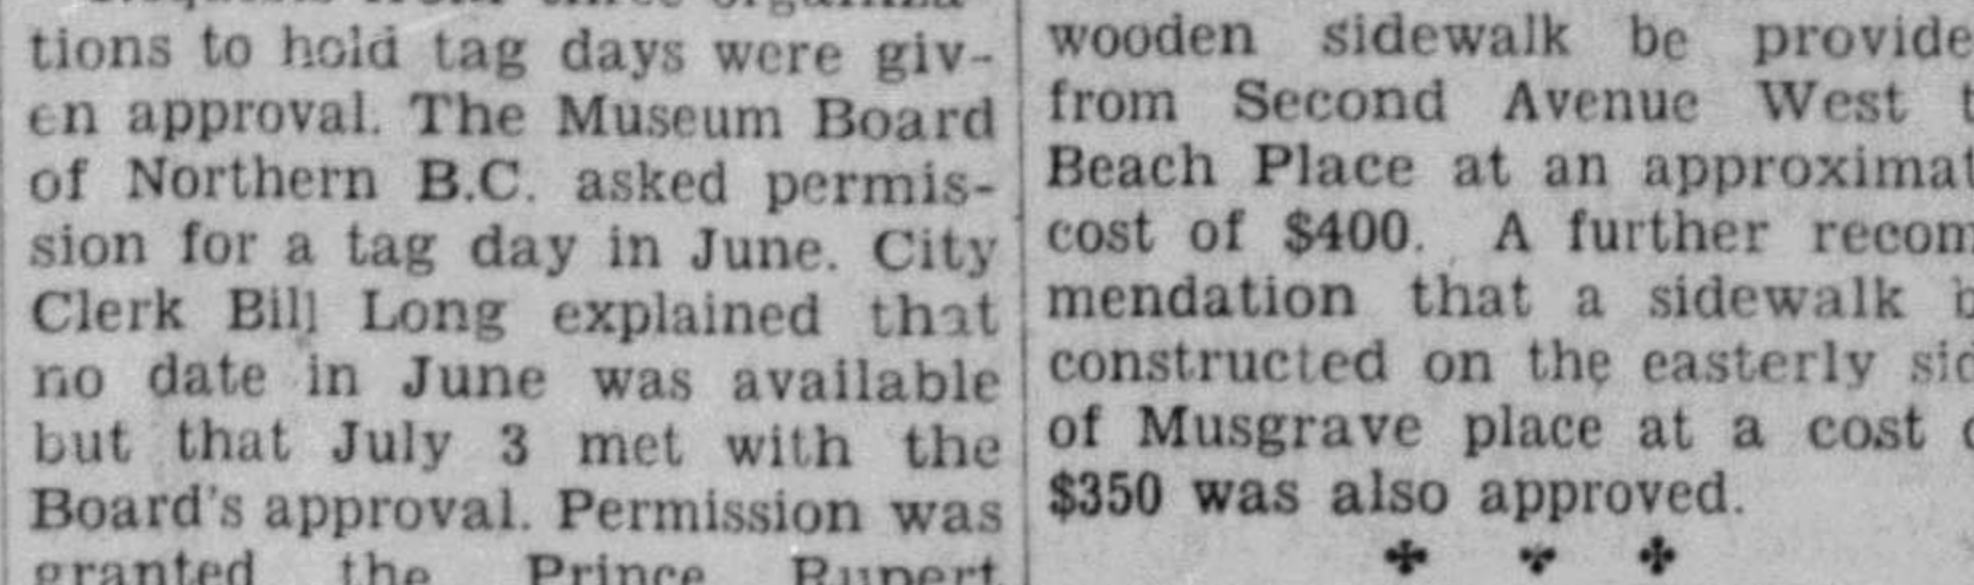

Tenders for the city's 1954 gravel supply were opened during a committee meeting of the whole. Two tenders were received, one from Armour Salvage and the other from Kalien's Gravel. Armour's bid for 4,000 cubic yards of pit-run gravel was $3,400 cubic yards of two-inch minus at $3.85 and 1,400 cubic yards of three-quarter-inch minus at $4.85. Kalien's bid on the same amounts were pit run at $3.20; two-inch minus at $4.05 and three-quarter-inch minus at $4.85. The tenders were referred to the board of works for an early report.

You can't go ALL-OUT

If you feel ALL-IN

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take DODD'S Kidney Pills. DODD'S stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for DODD'S Kidney Pills at any drug counter.

In This Corner

By DICK AYRES

It just wasn't in the cards for Prince Rupert to have a British Empire Games contender. Everything seemed to be going well and then boom! the bottom dropped out. The lad we wanted to be on the Canadian BEG team, Andy Marshall, was good enough. Andy was all square with Canadian middleweight champ, Trent Ketcheson, with one win and one loss. The Elks Lodge had ample money to send him. The B.C. Amateur Boxing Commission nominated Andy and then had a lapse of memory. But that was no obstacle. Anyone of any class who could get down to Toronto would be given a showing. That much was made clear by two appeals issued by supporters of flyweight Gerry Boucher and Earl McDonald of Vancouver.

Then Joe Ward, RCMP radio operator and Andy's coach, was posted to Vancouver for a six-week course and that did it. Andy isn't going because Joe isn't able to go. He doesn't operate without Joe in his corner and he doesn't want any part of coach Tom Paonessa, who the BCABC named official B.C. boxing team pilot.

So that is that. Well anyway the Elks have a comfortable bank account for future boxing contingencies. Roger Bannister's thrilling feat of running the mile in 3 minutes, 59.4 seconds, brought back a lot of memories to us. It took us back more years than we care to remember, about 22 or 23 in fact. In those days we were a member of the Trail High School track team and were assaulting the 430 mile. We had quite a track team that year of 1932 and a great coach. Among the athletes were Pat and Joe Haley, the former who was financed through Washington State University and then later UCLA and the elder brother who represented Canada in the 1936 Olympic Games in Berlin.

But our coach was no small notables either and his word was law. He was Fred Martello, who in the Olympic trials of 1928 had run second to Percy Williams. A huge man for a sprinter, (he weighed about 210) he operated on the theory that the harder and oftener you slammed your spikes into the cinders the faster you covered more ground. Even as a junior Pat Haley was running the 100 yards in 9.9 seconds under Martello's tutelage. Joe Haley, all 6-foot 3-inches of him, perfected the Western roll for high jumping and scaled more than his own height before leaving Canada.

Martello was a martinet. We hit the track at 7 a.m. every day in the spring and fall and we worked. We were out for the half mile and for three years up until 1932 we trailed the same guy, Art Morris around the Trail track with revolting monotony. But we got the works, exercises, special diet, starting practices, jens with the milers, laps with the 440 boys, and then we'd be permitted to practice our own race.

Morris used to dream about the 1936 Olympics like men dreamed of scaling Everest. And we dreamed right along with him. To be a member of the Canadian team was the peak of our ambition. We never made it, nor did Morris, but Joe Haley did. He went with the Olympic team and jumped 6-foot 4-inches and still placed fourth against lanky United States Negro boys who were leaping 6-foot 6 and 7 inches. But Haley went quite happily without Martello and did his best and got whatever points he could for Canada.

The weatherman couldn't have been kinder to the Prince Rupert Baseball association on Sunday, giving us perfect weather for the season's opener. Everything went off fine, luckily. Luckily because no one back of home plate was hit by a ball due to the lack of screen there. A month ago the Parks Board asked the baseball executive what it wanted done at Roosevelt Park. Chairman Pat Forman attended the annual meeting and Commissioner Art Murray went up to the park with members of the executive for a personal look see. Friday the board of works department got the "hurry up" signal from the works department, but it was too late without paying overtime. No need to pay overtime when there's been a month to let the public works know the job had got to be done. The city couldn't stand a damage suit right now. Might subtract it from the parks board budget.

Tribe Takes First Game In Series With Yankees

By The Associated Press

Al Lopez' writers obviously have given the Cleveland manager a new script for the Indians' series with New York Yankees in the American League this season. Last spring the Indians played the meek little lambs being led regularly to slaughter by the big bad Yankees. The 1954 script casts the Indians in a different role. The first time, in New York.

Rainiers Meet Beavers Tonight For First Time

By The Associated Press

Portland and Seattle Pacific Coast League baseball teams hook up Tuesday night in their first face-to-face duel of 1954 with each out to make a "cousin" of his neighbor. Only two games behind front-running Oakland and Sacramento, Portland hopes to get fat at the expense of the Rainiers who have had an up-and-down season. And, the Rainiers who bested Charley Dressen's Oakland team by a 4-3 series margin last week have similar designs on the Beavers. Although in sixth place, Seattle is only three games away from the top.

Meanwhile Hollywood and Oakland will tangle in the league's first real test of strength. The two times champion Stars host Oakland in seven games starting Tuesday night, and if either club makes a runaway of the series it should indicate whether Hollywood is headed for its third title in a row. Manager Bobby Bragan of the Stars says his club, which got away to a miserable start and wallowed around at the bottom of the standings with San Francisco for three weeks, is now on its way.

The Stars last week took six of seven from San Diego, a team some of the experts figured might make a determined fight for the pennant. In other games San Diego returns home as host to Sacramento and Los Angeles moves to San Francisco.

Remember When

By The Canadian Press

Lefty Grove, later one of the great pitchers in the American League, tossed a three-hit shut-out for Baltimore against Toronto in the International League 32 years ago today. Three years later Grove went to Philadelphia Athletics with whom he won the AL pitching championship in 1929, 1930, 1931 and 1933, and repeated the feat with Boston Red Sox in 1939.

the Indians scored five runs in the 10th inning for a 9-4 triumph. The next day the Indians came off with a 10-2 victory.

But the version unveiled in Cleveland Monday night topped anything so far as the Indians won 8-7.

Cleveland spotted the Yankees three runs, then roared back with seven before the New Yorkers could get anybody out in the home half of the first inning. Almost everybody got into the act as umpire Bill Summers thumbed Yogi Berra and then Casey Stengel from the game during the uprising.

With seven runs home, Jim Hegan on third, nobody out and Whitey Ford and Bob Kuzava shelled from the mound, in came Yankee rookie Bob Grim.

HELD COMMAND

The youngster promptly started pitching a no-hitter. Hegan got home on a sacrifice fly, but one after another Grim fooled the Indians. They got only two more harmless hits.

Meanwhile the Yankees cut their 8-3 deficit to 8-5 after two innings and 8-7 after three. At this point Don Mossi checked them.

Dave Philley was the big hitting star of the first inning as he belted a grand-slam home run over the left field fence.

Only one other major league game was played Monday. Baltimore Orioles rallied for four ninth-inning runs and shaded Philadelphia Athletics 7-6. The run total was highest for the Orioles this season.

Sudbury Plans Win Tonight

PENTICTON, B.C. — Sudbury Wolves have a chartered plane standing by to fly them—and the Allan Cup—to Ontario after Tuesday night's game here against Penticton V's.

Max Silverman, coach of the Wolves, says his team plans to arrive in Sudbury for a big civic welcome some time Wednesday.

His confidence is based on the fact that Wolves hold a 31 edge in games over V's and could wrap up the series with a win tonight.

However, Penticton hockey fans aren't cancelling any bets yet. Winnipeg Maroons at one time stood within 17 seconds of winning the western championship and also made plans for a triumphant return home.

Maroons left three days later without the Patton Cup and the western title.

Stampeders Topple Aces 7-4 Lead 3-1 For Duke's Trophy

CALGARY (CP)—Calgary Stampeders poured in four goals in the third period, one into an empty net, to defeat Quebec Aces 7-4 Monday night and take a commanding 3-1 lead in games in their best-of-nine series for the Edinburgh Trophy. Fifth game will be played here Wednesday night.

Calgary moved out in front 2-1 in the first period but were down 4-3 going into the last period. But they quickly tied the score and went ahead to stay.

Sid Finney and Archie Scott led the Stampeders with two goals apiece. Other Calgary scorers were Max Quackenbush, Bill Shvets and Ray Barry. Barry missed the previous games due to a stomach ailment. Still missing from the Calgary line-up was centre Pat Lundy, out with an injured heel.

Fred Hueul, Larry Regan, Gerry Cabana and Jean Talbot scored for Quebec. The Aces were without ace centre Ray Powell who suffered a leg injury in the third game Saturday night at Edmonton.

Stampeders won the first game last week with an 8-1 score. Quebec took the second game here 2-1 but dropped the third 6-5.

Finney opened the scoring at 10:19 of the first period on a play with Quackenbush. Scott put Calgary two up midway in the session, bouncing the puck into the net off goalie Jack Gelineau's pads. Hueul got that back on a play with Brown.

With Calgary playing a man short, Regan grabbed a loose puck and blinked the light. Aces went ahead about a minute later when Cabana scored and went two up at 6:30 when Talbot scored on a screeched shot.

Quackenbush, Shvets and Finney scored in that order in the third period. Quebec pulled Gelineau in favor of the extra forward but it backfired when Scott slapped the rubber into the empty net.

CNE To Ask Fastest Runners To Meet in Exhibition Race

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Canadian National Exhibition hopes to stage an international mile foot race featuring four of the world's fastest runners, George Duthie, sport director of the big Toronto fair, said here Monday.

Duthie said the CNE has cabled Roger Bannister, who at Oxford last Thursday became the first man to run a mile under four minutes, inviting him to take part in the race.

He said invitations will also be extended to Australia's John Landy who has done the mile in 4:02; New Zealand's Murray Halburg, 4:04.2, and Wes Santee.

Hamilton Sees Hometown Play As Dominion Festival Opens

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—Hamilton, the city of heavy steel mills and growing industry, went all out Monday night for the opening of the Dominion Drama Festival.

The first-night audience of more than 2,000 persons, many of them in evening dress, saw a hometown drama group perform. Hamilton Players' Guild production of "Rebecca" by Daphne du Maurier started off the week-long festival of eight plays picked from across the Dominion.

Governor-General Vincent Massey recalled the days of its inception when he was one of the delegates called to Ottawa by Lord Bessborough to start "the then daring enterprise of a Dominion festival."

Mr. Massey, patron of the festival was elected its first president in 1933 and has followed its progress "with great interest since."

Following the first night performance, part of which was televised by the CBC, Mayor Lloyd Jackson of Hamilton and the governor-general met festival actors at a civic reception. Adjudicator Hugh Hunt lauded Dorothy Berner who played the part of Mrs. Danvers, the twisted housekeeper in "Rebecca." She delivered "the best performance I've seen in a long time on the amateur stage."

Mr. Hunt, who has a distinguished record as a freelance producer-director in England, criticized the company for missing the atmosphere of "Rebecca." He said the setting of an all-traditional English home was not well portrayed—"it looked more like an hotel suite." He said the play could have been more carefully directed.

BLACKWOOD on BRIDGE

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

"Pretty aggressive, weren't you, with that three-spade bid?" said Mr. Heinsite when the dummy came down in today's deal. Miss Brash merely shrugged.

Mr. Abel led the king of hearts, then made a good shift to a trump. Mr. Heinsite saw that he couldn't stand too many trumps leads as he had two losing hearts left in his hand. Deciding to play Mr. Champion for the king of spades, he went right up with dummy's ace.

He led a small diamond, Mr. Champion ducked and the king won. A heart was ruffed in dummy and now there was no quick way to reach the closed hand again. Finally, Mr. Heinsite led the queen of diamonds. Mr. Champion won with the ace and led the king and other spade, taking the last trump off the board.

HEINSITE CRITICIZES

Mr. Heinsite still had a losing heart and a losing club. He couldn't put both of them on dummy's good jack of diamonds and so he went down one.

He seemed almost happy, as the result appeared to justify his criticism of Miss Brash's bidding. "I ask you again," he said. "Why did you bid three spades instead of two?"

"Why didn't you make your contract?" put in Mr. Champion. "Let me tell him," said Miss Brash. "Duck the first spade lead. Mr. Champion will win and undoubtedly return a spade which you can take in your hand. No ruff a heart on the board. Return a small diamond."

BRASH EXPLAINS

"If Mr. Champion ducks, win with your king and ruff your last heart. If he goes up with the ace of diamonds and leads another trump, you will have two discards coming on dummy's diamonds. That is, you will win the trump lead, cash your king of diamonds and go to dummy with a high club. On dummy's queen and jack of diamonds, you can park a club and your last heart."

"I saw that play," lied Mr.

Had your aluminum today?

CHANCES are you have, because practically everything we eat—grains, vegetables, meat, milk, eggs—contains aluminum. This is not surprising, since one-eighth of the earth's crust is aluminum.

Aluminum is most readily available commercially, however, in the form of bauxite ore. Alcan ships this ore from South America to feed its pot lines at Arvida, Isle Maligne, Shawinigan Falls and Beauharnois, P. Que. When the huge new Kitimat development is completed in B.C., refined ore will be shipped up the West Coast from South America or other abundant sources. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

the secret rooms and has nerve enough to ask the nearest subway employee for special permission to enter the privileged chamber, the traveller may get in.

But distressed travellers, knowing the facts of life on Toronto subways, will not apply by phone or telegram for special permits from the Mayor, Police Chief, or even the Stationmasters. They will make haste to get to the big department stores—where the problems of how to cope with potential pickpockets have not yet caused the management to close down the toilets.

THE TELEGRAM asks "By the way, Mr. Philpott, what's the situation in Vancouver? Don't bother to answer."

It's no bother. The public convenience situation in Vancouver is a disgrace, as it is in almost every city and town in North America, as distinguished from Europe.

But I can't imagine even Vancouver building a $58 million subway, with not a single toilet for the travelling public.
