Local Fuss, Feathers to Take Place Opening of Legislature Tomorrow

JAMES K. NESBITT
B.C.'s first major Credit Legislature action tomorrow with the opening of Lieutenant Governor Clarence Wallace, the first session of the Legislature since B.C. joined the Canadian Confederation in 1871.
Last session, in February, there was a Social government, but Social in the House had more against them than for.
The result in the crash of the government on the floor of the House in late March, after a long session on the part of the opposition—CCF, Liberals, Conservatives, Mr. Upphill, Social Credit, Mr. Vancouver-Burrard, Mr. Bennett, though he was with the House not to the government, was enough. It gave him his call to an election. On the last he went to the House and came back with the House members for the House had asked the public.
A resounding victory for the Social Credit. Last session he had 23 safe working majority which will keep him for four years anyway. Humiliation is that two cabinet ministers—Tilly of Education and Einar of Finance—were defeated so cannot take seats. Mr. Bennett says the by-elections in the find seats for these two.

Railroader Alex McIntyre Dies Aged 88

One of the pioneer railroaders and a gardener of note in Prince Rupert for many years, Alexander McIntyre, died over the weekend in Prince Rupert hospital after a brief illness.
Mr. McIntyre was born in Richebucto, N.B., 88 years ago and came to Prince Rupert with his wife Mary Doren in 1910.
As a railroader Mr. McIntyre helped lay the roadbed for the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.
He and his wife lived for many years at 935 Ambrose Avenue where their son, Leo, was raised. After his wife died in 1935 Mr. McIntyre moved to Wantage Road where he cultivated a garden which became the envy of all, and which attracted both local residents and tourists. In the early days he belonged to the Knights of Columbus.
Requiem mass will be sung by Father O. P. Mohan at 9 a.m. tomorrow at Annunciation Church. Burial will be at Fairview Cemetery. B.C. Undertakers are in charge of arrangements.
He is survived by one son Leo at Seattle, who arrived here yesterday, a brother Robert in San Francisco and Duncan in Terrace.

EXPERIMENTAL WRIST RADIO SIMILAR TO DICK TRACY'S

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Army says it has caught up with Dick Tracy.
The development of an experimental wrist radio, similar to the fictional job employed for years by the strip detective.
The new wrist radio, capable of picking up broadcasts in the range of 40 miles, has been dubbed the "Dick Tracy" radio.
The radio weighs 2 1/2 ounces and is worn like a wrist watch. It has an ear receiver, resembling a hearing-aid, connected with a short antenna wire and cord concealed in the sleeve.
The army said the set is powered by a battery little larger than the tip of a pencil.

Douks Continue Hunger Strike; More Kootenay Homes Burned

Troops Quell Outbursts

PANMUNJOM.—Some of the 320 Allied prisoners who refuse to return to their homelands from Red captivity have arrived at nearby Kaesong, Communist correspondent Wilfred Burchett said today.
They are expected to be handed over to Indian custody in the Korean neutral zone.
Burchett, the Paris Humanite reporter who often speaks unofficially for the Red command, did not say how many men are at Kaesong nor did he give their nationality.
About 20 of the 320 are non-Koreans.
Meanwhile, Indian troops guarding anti-Red Chinese and North Koreans squelched angry but small outbursts among the 1,800 Chinese being handed over today.

THERE'S A REASON for little Fido's sorrow, because he knows his pals won't have time for him any more this year—at least not as much time as they had during the summer. All over the country children are back to school, and puppy dogs' tails perhaps don't wag as often as they did in July and August.

Tension Builds Up in UN Over Round Table Conference

By A. I. GOLDBERG
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Tension built up again in the United Nations today as explosive new debate became a certainty in the wake of Communist China's demands for a "round-table" Korean peace conference.
The United States at once emphatically rejected the Peiping proposals, made in a long telegram Sunday from the Chinese premier-foreign minister, Chou Enlai, to UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold.
With the opening Tuesday, delegates prepared for another dramatic battle over Chou's demands that Russia, India, Burma, Pakistan and Indonesia be invited to the peace conference as "neutrals." And that Red China and North Korea be invited to send representatives to the UN assembly "to discuss the question of enlarging the membership of the political conference."
VANCOUVER (CP)—A water tower at MacMillan & Bloedel's Vancouver plywood division plant collapsed Sunday, cascading 10,000 gallons of water down onto three workmen.

Nude Group Holds Protest Meeting

By The Canadian Press
Only four of the 148 Sons of Freedom Doukhobors now awaiting trial in Oakalla Prison Farm have deviated from a hunger strike they began last Wednesday.
In the small West Kootenay village of Krestova all was quiet today but the charred remains of five Doukhobor homes testified to the work of fanatical arsonists early Sunday morning.
The four prisoners, all elderly members of the Freedomite sect, were taking small amounts of nourishment but the remainder of the jailed Sons steadfastly refused to eat anything offered them.
From Krestova, Joe MacSween of The Canadian Press reported that four of the homes burned before dawn yesterday were at Krestova, while the fifth was at nearby Glade.
Later Sunday, some 50 men and women staged a parade in the nude, starting and ending at a crude meeting hall where they held a meeting to consider the arrest of their companions.
The burnings followed the pattern of Sons activity in their long quarrel with man-made laws. The nude parade consisted largely of elderly people. They chanted Russian hymns and prayed for the welfare of those in jail at Vancouver on charges of contributing to juvenile delinquency by parading in the nude.
The paraders, especially the women, hurled threats at photographers and glared at reporters on the scene.
There was considerable commotion during the parade. Afterwards, the Freedomites returned to their homes. They were accompanied during the demonstration by a handful of orthodox Doukhobors who number in all about 8,000.
The orthodox group seldom mixes publicly with the radical Freedomites. Their action Sunday gave rise to speculation that the Sons have received recruits from the orthodox Doukhobors since the mass arrests.

TWENTY-YEAR-OLD Evelyn Ay, of Ephrata, won the Miss America title Saturday and with it $50,000 worth of prizes at Atlantic City, N.J., from 51 other beautiful girls from United States and Canada. Miss Ay, who was Miss Pennsylvania in the state contest, was a bathing suit winner earlier in the week. She stands 5 feet 8 inches, weighs 132 pounds, has a 37-inch bust, 24-inch waist, 36-inch hips and boasts ash-blond hair and green eyes. Miss Kathy Archibald, of Kelowna, Miss Canada in the big contest, failed to place.

Tenement Fire Claims Three Persons

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three persons died in an early-morning fire which swept a 29-room skidroad tenement Saturday, and a fourth, a 16-month-old girl, died in her flaming home at White Rock, B.C.

Object Revives Hope For Plane With Oilman

A report of a balloon or parachute seen hanging from trees on the southwest tip of Wales Island by a Prince Rupert fisherman, has revived faint hopes that the Ellis Hall plane with four others aboard might yet be found.
Roy F. Coswan of the troller Aurora reported shortly before press time today that he had seen such an object through good binoculars late last week. It was also seen by the crew of the "Marion H."
If the object were a balloon it is likely to have come from Annette Island weather station as the prevailing wind comes from the northwest. Digby Island weather station does not send up meteorological balloons but Sandspit and Port Hardy do.
A $30,000 reward was offered by the Condor Petroleum Company of which Hall was a principal owner, for anyone finding the missing plane. Aboard when it went missing on a trip from Annette Island to Smithers were Hall, his wife, two children and a young 17-year-old youth from New Mexico.

A. J. Croxford Dies Down South

Well-known Legionnaire and patternmaker in Prince Rupert, A. J. Croxford died in Shaughnessy Hospital, Vancouver, on Saturday. He had been ill for some time.
Mr. Croxford retired recently and went to Vancouver about a month ago. He worked in the drydock here for 25 years as charge hand in the pattern shop. A veteran of the First World War, he spent many hours working for Canadian Legion Branch 27 and most of the woodwork in the Legion Auditorium was done by him.
Besides his wife, who was with him at the time of his death, Mr. Croxford leaves four daughters: Mrs. E. T. (Sylvia) Brock, Pen-ticton; Mrs. Jack (Renie) Birch, Campbell River; Mrs. T. (Lillian) Hawthorne, Prince George; Mrs. Bruce (Joan) Mills, of this city, and one son, Syd Croxford, also of Prince Rupert.
Funeral services are being held in Vancouver tomorrow.

At Ottawa, where Parliament Hill was baked by 95-degree heat recently, the RCMP ordered its mounted constables to dismount until cooler weather arrived to give them relief.

Soldier Back At Barracks

The AWL soldier who decided to give himself up to police last week is back in the Army. A member of the PPCLI, Stanley Johnson was escorted from the Prince Rupert city jail over the week-end and taken back to Currie Barracks, Calgary. He would give police no home address but said that he had deserted the army about a year ago.

LAW-ABIDING PUBLIC PRAISED BY MOUNTIES

Praise for the public at large came from Sergeant Norman, head of the RCMP city detachment this morning as he reported one of the quietest week-ends in a long time. Only two persons were arrested over Saturday and Sunday, both being charges of drunkenness.

Rita Receives Death Threat

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Rita Hayworth has received two notes threatening death to herself and her daughter Yasmine unless they return to Aly Khan, the FBI was told Sunday.
The film star's attorney, Bartley Crum, confirmed reports he had told the FBI of the letters. The first, he said, was received a few days ago and the second, Saturday.

Parliament of Business

BUSINESSMEN from every province in Canada are meeting today in Edmonton. The significance of the event cannot be over-emphasized.

Gathered together are representatives of businesses, large and small, at the 24th annual meeting of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

The mere fact that hundreds of individuals, some of whom are officially accredited delegates of their local Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce and others who are non-voting representatives of business firms who hold corporate membership in the Canadian Chamber, meet to discuss national problems is in itself evidence of the acceptance of the responsibility of citizenship.

The feature of the Canadian Chamber's annual meeting, which attracts delegates from far and wide, is that there is provided an opportunity for each Canadian in attendance to express his or her own views on the matters which are discussed.

While there is ample opportunity to hear the viewpoints of specialists and experts in various fields, it is never forgotten that in the final analysis it is the individual who must grapple with the problem in his own community and whose attitude must be considered if a sound practical solution is to be found.

The judgment and experience of business and community leaders in every field of Canadian endeavor are brought to bear on a wide variety of subjects.

Whether one agrees or not with the final decisions one cannot help but leave such a meeting with a far greater understanding and appreciation of the subject and be, therefore, better qualified to make a worthwhile contribution to the development of sound public opinion.

Faulty decisions are usually based on ignorance of the true facts. They flow from misunderstandings, misconceptions and sometimes the results of deception.

By bringing together people representing the viewpoints of various parts of the country and by providing an opportunity for the exchange of opinions a great deal of ignorance is dissipated.

At the Edmonton conference, there are no pressure groups, no lobbyists, no preconceived ideas. A free and frank exchange is encouraged and a decision represents the considered opinion of two-thirds of the communities represented at the meeting.

The Parliament of business is indeed democracy in action.

Scripture Passage for Today

Mark 14:34-35

Ray REFLECTS and REMINISCES

The neighborhood of Third Avenue and Sixth Street is getting away from what it used to be, but this is not saying any serious harm has been done. Once, that particular part of the town was all important. But not today.

Elsewhere, between the western junction and Hays Creek, other reality values are gradually yet surely beginning to develop and expand. There's a difference in the look of things. And that—one might say—is practically true of no matter where one could wander between Westview and Seal Cove.

ON ITS WAY!

There's no boom, and for that matter, little prospect. Nevertheless, a change is on the way. Let's look back along Third Avenue as far as the Port Office. There's little to make one jubilant. Let's do a bit of reminiscing. Some old timers have just naturally folded up. The White Lunch and Majestic Theatre, for example. As for Ben Self, no one has seen him for 'umpteens years.

THE DAILY BREAD

George Richmond helped feed Prince Rupert, but he's not been doing so for years and years. Instead he's a flourishing baker and says there might be worse parts of the earth than California. Another cafe proprietor, Johnny Vaccher did well while he had his health but he lost it, and a sojourn in his native Italy did not restore it.

There used to be a group of musicians called Harveys' Orchestra. Anyone seen 'em? And where's Vernon Cole? One might also inquire about Jack Judge the barber who continues to go strong, just down around the corner.

AN EARLIER DAY

Joe Scott's hardware store and George Tites furniture and toy shop? Pioneers of an earlier day. Across the avenue stood—and still stands—the McIntyre Hall bearing the name of a member of the first city council. Plenty has happened in this useful building—everything from election meetings, assize sittings and prize fights to start with. If memory serves correct, oe Bailey and Burns were both seen there.

Before Max Heilbroner moved into the handsome business block he built, just across from the CNR offices, he did business in the premises now occupied by the Singer company at 3rd and 6th. He followed the trail of '98, had spent his youth in Montana, and on the roof of the new store established a garden it was a pleasure as well as a privilege to behold.

We've gone back a few decades and lived an association with old friends.

Nudes and Dudes

THE B.C. government's handling of the Sons of Freedom would be a sidesplitting joke if it were not so serious.

For months past Doukhobor homes have been going up in smoke, and whole chunks of railway tracks have been dynamited. Yet not a single arrest was made until some of the Sons of Freedom went on another of their nudist parades.

Then the government moved. A whole special trainload of arrested Sons of Freedom was rushed to Vancouver jails.

Yet all around Vancouver are nudist camps, where many respectable families of B.C. spend their weekends in their birthday suits—weather and mosquitoes permitting.

Why does the government get in such a terrible tizzy when Sons of Freedom use this particular fool stunt, when nobody has suggested that any harm comes to the children exposed to the sight of the nudist camps—which also operate under the laws of B.C.?

THE REALLY serious thing about the Bennett government's handling of the Doukhobor problem is that it has completely ignored the 342-page report of the Doukhobor Research Committee, appointed by the previous government.

Incidentally, this committee is still in full operation, and has I believe cost the treasury of B.C. over $200,000 to date.

But the money spent has been well spent. For the first time in the history of B.C. real experts studied and wrote about all phases of the Doukhobor problem.

The best brains that could be hired in Canada and other countries gave their findings about all the matters connected with the problem. They did their best to show WHY the Sons of Freedom act as they do.

But the experts, who had no political axes to grind, made concrete and constructive proposals to remedy the situation. All these are included in the book (The Doukhobors of British Columbia) published on March 29, 1952. Yet up till now—almost a year and a half later—not a single one of the recommendations of the experts has even been attempted—must less carried out.

In fact, by doing absolutely nothing about the arson and dynamiting, and then moving so drastically after a silly nude parade, the government has done the very thing its own experts told it NOT to do. For the experts found that the nudist weapon can only be effective as long as governments and the general public get so worked up about it.

One wise mother writes me that the way to end the Sons of Freedom nudism is: "Let the sentence be that any nude parader should have his or her clothes taken away for so many months."

ONE of the small jobs I hope to do in parliament is to ask my fellow MPs to repeal the fool law passed by R. B. Bennett. This disenfranchised the Doukhobors of B.C. because they had almost all voted Liberal in the election of 1930. As things now stand only B.C. Doukhobors are debarred from voting. But Saskatchewan Doukhobors may vote in both provincial and federal elections—while a B.C. Doukhobor may vote in neither.

38-Mile Trans-Canada Highway Link To Take Two Years To Build

GOLDEN, B.C. — Construction of the Trans-Canada Highway from here to Field, 38 miles away near the continental divide, is expected to take two years, and progress can almost be measured in pounds of blasting powder.

The road, when completed, will wind through the treacherous but picturesque Kicking Horse country, through Yoho National Park in the Rocky Mountains.

The road will equal the engineering wonder that takes the Canadian Pacific Railway track through the mountainous area. The highway is being blasted out of the sides of the steep slopes, about 500 to 1,000 feet above the white waters of the Kicking Horse river.

RAILWAY BELOW

Below the road is the railway, and, of course, the rock and dirt that is blasted from the side of the mountains cannot be dumped over the side and onto the roadbed. It must be hauled to safer spots.

It takes a pound of powder to blast every yard of rock. The blasts vary in effectiveness and it is estimated that the job will mean removal of 500,000 yards of rock and an equal amount of dirt.

The job was started this spring and already considerable progress has been made. About 10 miles have been paved.

There have been many slides, but none so far of a too serious nature.

FOLLOWS OLD ROUTE

The old road—24 feet wide—presented many a problem when a motorist met a car coming in the opposite direction. The new road, which follows the old one, will be 38 feet wide.

Nine miles east of Golden what will be the park bridge, a 450-foot span, will cross the Kicking Horse river at a height of 100 feet. Twelve miles east of Golden a 160-foot span will cross Mount Hunter creek at a height of 75 feet.

The traveller will get his first glimpse of what will be the Rocky Mountains' leg of the new road soon after he passes the east gate of Banff National Park.

Still a matter of interest is the route to be decided on from west of Golden to Revelstoke. From what work is going on, it is obvious a new route is at least under consideration.

TOUGH PROBLEM

Survey crews are working in the box-like Albert canyon country 70 miles west of Golden. A more direct route between the two points would cut 100 miles from the present 200-mile loop that follows the Columbia river.

It was in the Albert canyon area that the CPR was stymied by the mile-high Mount Macdonald, and first went through Rogers pass, with the roadbed climbing 500 feet in five miles.

In 1916, the CPR eliminated this by boring the five-mile Connaught tunnel through Mount Macdonald.

To illustrate highway-building problems in the area, the railway line between Golden and Revelstoke touches the Beaver, Columbia and Illecillewaet rivers and in this game of engineering tag crosses the rivers or their tributaries at least 15 times.

ALL ABOARD

By G.E. Mortimer

The superhighway drills straight across country, ignoring the landscape. Quaint bends and gnarled, rickety bridges are foreign to its nature. The superhighway hurries from one town to the next, stopping only for hot dogs and hamburgers.

Because it follows the shortest route, the superhighway is often accused of being a sterile monster among roads, as soulless as a tunnel. Yet the charge is most unfair.

Somewhere in the hinterland to the right or left of the broad new highway is the old road which it replaced. Like an old workhorse in semi-retirement, assigned to light duties, the old road is still available when it is wanted. It dawdles across country, free at last from the dust, smell and punishment of heavy traffic.

When the old road was the main highway, gangs of public works ruffians were attacking it all the time, lopping off its elbows, crushing its shoulders, pummeling, widening and straightening.

Now the old road is left in peace. The superhighway is its protector. The new road takes the main shock. Behind its shelter, the old road winds along the way it did before, a happy case of arrested development.

Sometimes people have cause to travel through the country around their old home to reach some other place. Likely as not they drive along the new highway.

Then one day, when they are in less of a rush they get to wondering whether the old haunts are still the same. So they turn down the old road, and there it is as they remember it, a stretch of the past neatly preserved alive.

Some changes have taken place, but the chief outlines and many of the details are still there: the same house, the same barn with an advertising sign on it, the paint faded and flaking now; the same dip and turn of the road, the same big tree.

Recently I turned aside and drove along the old road which I had known in early childhood. The soft sweet country extended thorns and twigs to scratch the heart.

The old humpback bridge was gone, and there was a new one, but it was the same river, and behind the church stood the same house where I used to live, a small lonely boy who had no one to play with.

Further along, the road had changed little. It was this road that I used to follow when I went on expeditions with the dog Towster, carrying something I called "lunch"—raisins and crumbs packed in a matchbox. This scanty nourishment I used to share with the dog. He pretended he liked it.

The little stream appeared to be dry, and there was a culvert instead of a stream. The old schoolhouse had converted into a garage. With the dog sniffing at my side, I used to go to the old schoolhouse on mer days, looking into vacant windows, finding rickety in the bushes near the door.

But all that was a long ago. I turned the car back onto the new highway and on the gas, watching the speedometer needle move forward as the car sped along the smooth road toward the north.

Winter Program Starts Tonight At Chatham

The winter schedule at HMCS Chatham gets away tonight for the Women's Royal Canadian Service as well as for the general naval work of the Wrens this evening. The program is expected to be an interesting one with several members who are training courses at naval centres this summer.

Sub Lieut. Dianne took a divisional officer at HMCS Cornwallis in June. The course was to acquaint the 23 officers and nursing sisters with a greater part of the navy and its work, and the requirements of a divisional officer.

Tomlinson, formerly at HMCS Naden, is now on continuous duty at HMCS Naden. He was a special course in radar sent to Vancouver to be in a mass navy show.

He is now back at Naden, where he is acting as a divisional officer.

Local Wrens, Nina, Nancy Hopkins and Mary, went to HMCS in Halifax to take summer training in the summer course. They were successful, gaining 88, 88 and 93, respectively.

The course in marks was highly recommended.

Oldtime Port Simpson Native Dies

Funeral services were held September 10 for one of the most esteemed headmen and councillors of the Tsimshian Nation when Sam Bennett was laid to rest. Mr. Bennett died September 5.

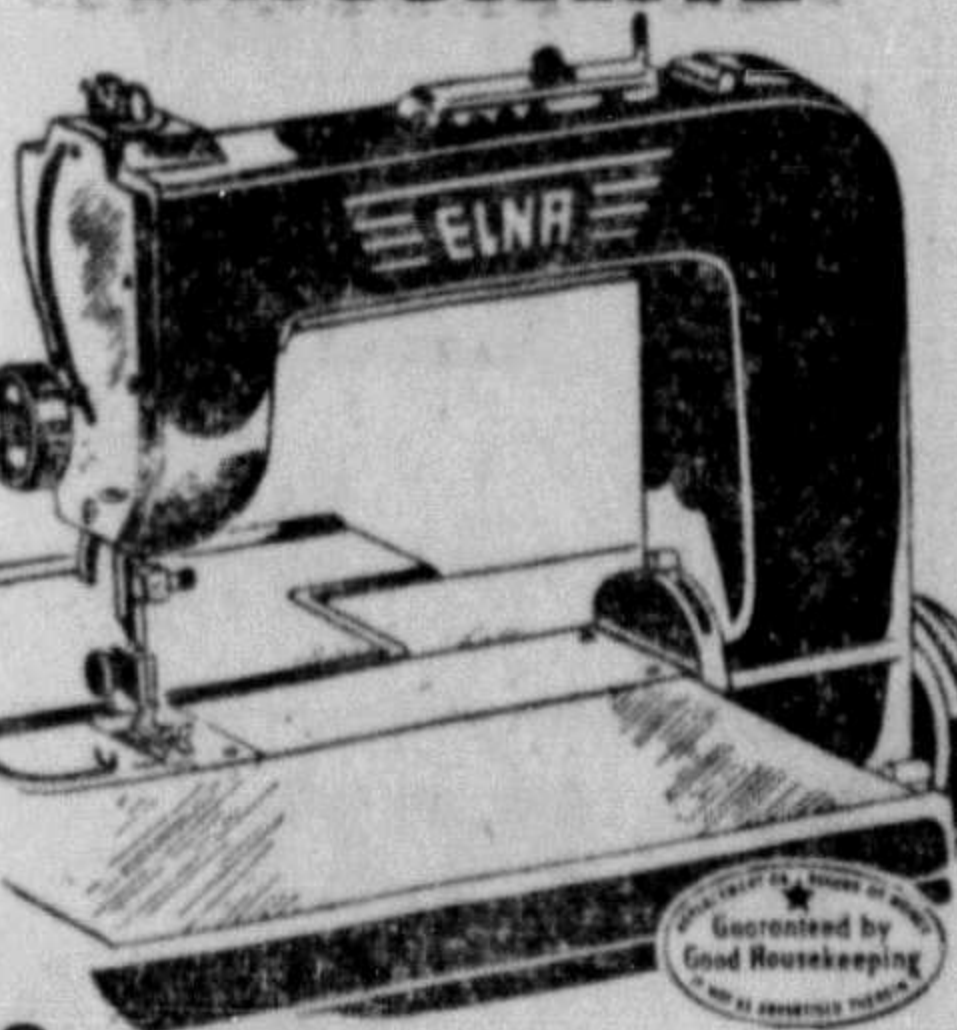

Born 88 years ago, he always worked for the betterment and welfare of his people. In religious activities he was instrumental in the establishment of the first The Band of Workers, then the Salvation Army and finally the Epworth League of the United Church. He was active in the building of the new United Church and became a member of the board of elders which position he held until his death.

In the early days, when HMS Egeria was engaged in the hydrographical survey of the northern waters, Mr. Bennett served as a guide and pilot until the Egeria was decommissioned.

He always held the interests of young people at heart and was one of the founders of the Young People's Educational association at Port Simpson.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. B. T. Bacon and grandson, William Bacon of Prince Rupert and Robert Smith and Dan Gosnell of Port Simpson.

mitts. Her elbow length veil was secured by a headdress of pleated satin and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis centred with a white orchid.

ATTENDANTS

Attending the bride were her sister, Mrs. Henry Nelson, and her niece, Anne Nelson. Mrs. Nelson, as matron of honor, wore a ballerina length gown of blue nylon net and lace in redingote style with accented pleated underskirt.

Matching nylon mittens, a floral headdress and a colonial bouquet of sweetpeas and carnations completed her ensemble.

Anne Nelson, as flower girl, was charming in a floor-length dress of pink nylon net over tulle, with a floral headdress. She carried a colonial bouquet of blue carnations.

Late summer flowers decked the bride's parents' home for the reception at which the bride's mother was assisted in receiving by Miss Mary Postuk of Prince Rupert, sister of the groom. Mrs. Caldwell wore a suit of navy bengaline with white accessories and corsage of white gladioli.

Good Deeds you may have done unknowingly

1. Here's a new home you may have helped provide for one of your neighbours — if you are a life insurance policyholder. For part of your premium money is invested by your life insurance company in ways that provide funds for building not only houses, but schools, roads, power plants, other developments.

2. Perhaps, too, you can take a small part of the credit for Tommy's recovery from a serious illness. Medical science is always learning more, through research, about how to combat disease. And you may be providing some of the funds that life insurance companies contribute to such vital research projects.

3. Ever help a man get a job? You may have — unknowingly. For life insurance money, invested in ways that enable an industry to expand, has played an important part in providing new jobs for many workers — including, perhaps, yourself.

4. As a life insurance policyholder, you do all your fellow-citizens a service. For the financial security you've provided for your family reduces the chance of their ever becoming a burden to others. The more protection you own, the more that chance is reduced.

In all these ways, millions of life insurance policyholders are building security for their future — and helping to make Canada a better land to live in!

Crippling Milk Drivers' Strike Ends In Toronto

TORONTO — Toronto milk panies and the five-day week drivers were back on their routes eliminating Wednesday deliveries today after the most serious milk strike in the city's history ended Sunday.

Most dairies said milk supplies were ample, although some, reported deliveries would be a few hours late because they were still waiting for milk to come in from the farms.

The 1,700 striking drivers and other workers, members of the Milk Drivers' Union (AFL-TLC), voted 413 to 341 Sunday to accept wage boosts offered by the com-

The strike lasted four days, during which farmers dumped thousands of gallons of milk into ditches. Police laid charges of assault against four milkmen.

Farmers lost an estimated $320,000 in spoiled or dumped milk and strikers gained a wage boost of $6.50 a week to bring weekly wages to about $68.

The strike didn't change the price of milk to Toronto consumers.

Prison Riot Blamed on Umpire's Rule

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — Rioting prisoners smashed windows, furniture and equipment at the Maryland State Reformatory for males Sunday night in an uprising blamed on a baseball umpire's decision.

Superintendent Henry R. Raymond said a few inmates received minor cuts from window glass before the rebellion was crushed by guards and police manning fire hoses and tear-gas guns.

Bishop Goes On Trial Today In Warsaw Court

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The former Roman Catholic Bishop of Kielce, Czeslaw Kaczmarek, three other Roman Catholic churchmen and a nun were scheduled to be tried today by the Warsaw regional military court on charges of spying for "American imperialists" and the Vatican.

The official announcement said the bishop was accused of organizing an espionage and diversionist centre in Kielce province, central Poland, of directing anti-state activities, of sabotaging economic plans of the Communist government, conspiring to bring capitalism back to Poland and carrying on black market activities.

He also was accused of co-operating with the German occupation forces during the Second World War.

The bishop has been under frequent attack by the press for the last five years as an alleged German collaborator and a "reactionary."

Maritime Premiers Meet Today

MONCTON, N.B. (CP) — Premiers of the three Maritime provinces and a cabinet minister from Newfoundland meet here today to discuss mutual problems and possible solutions.

The meeting may lead to a new era of co-operation in the eastern provinces, known usually for their regional jealousies.

High on the agenda is a study of the economic position of the provinces.

Scientists Exploring Means Of Trapping Sun's Energy

Scientists are planning to explore the possibilities of chemically speeding springtime and delaying winter—as far as crops are concerned.

This was made known Sunday at a conference of some of the world's outstanding experts on solar energy. They seek ways and means to allow man to take better advantage of sunshine energy already available to agriculture—and also to tap a virtually wasted bounty of solar radiation as a means of supplying more heat and power for homes and industry.

The idea of the "crop season extension" is to hasten the planting season a few weeks by spreading chemicals on the snow or frost to promote melting, and by using the growing season to absorb enough solar energy to delay Jack Frost's attack another couple of weeks.

Paper Scores Canadian Visit Of Clergymen

LONDON (Reuters)—An editorial in today's Daily Express opposed the idea of Canadian contributions to the cost of building a new cathedral for Coventry in Britain.
 "Two clergymen of the Church of England are on tour in Canada. They are the Rt. Rev. Richard Howard, provost of Coventry Cathedral, and the Rev. Clifford Ross, personal chaplain to the Lord Bishop of Coventry," the paper said.
 "They have with them an architect, Mr. Basil Spence, and a model for his proposed new cathedral for Coventry. And they have their caps in their hands. They go a-begging for 100,000 sterling.
 "It is a sorry thing to see these mendicant priests wandering around trying to talk Canadians into providing funds for an English church," this newspaper commented.
 "If the people of England are deeply moved by their religion they will build their own churches..."

Weather Hits Small Loggers

VANCOUVER (C)—British Columbia's fire-free summer, which tripled the province's timber cut, is forcing small lumber operations to the wall, spokesmen for the industry said Saturday.
 "Larger operators, with both lumber camps and sawmills, are closing down some of their camps," one logging official said.
 "They find it cheaper to buy logs already in the water than to cut their own. Some of the smaller firms need money badly and are selling their cut on the 'distress' market."

Stars Split With Oaks To Wrap Up PCL Flag

By The Associated Press

Hollywood wound up with its second straight Pacific Coast League pennant Sunday as the schedule came to an end. Seattle was in second place eight games behind.

In Sunday's finale Hollywood split with Oakland as the Stars' George O'Donnell hurled all of the opener which Hollywood lost 8-7 and part of the second game which they won 8-6 and in so doing notched the elusive win No. 20 for the season.

At San Francisco, big Tony Ponce, who only joined the Seals 17 days ago, hung up victories Nos. 7 and 8, both at the expense of the third-place Los Angeles Angels, 4-2 and 1-0. Portland clinched fourth place with two wins over San Diego 4-3 and 5-4, while Seattle beat Sacramento 6-5 and then lost 5-2.

HATS IN THE 1953 MANNER

There's nothing like the "lift" a woman gets from a new hat. Stunning, smart-inviting, Wallace's New Fall Hats. Lots to choose from and more arriving all the time.

Wallace's Dept. Store

San Francisco wound up in fifth place followed by San Diego, Oakland and Sacramento. Frankie Austin homered for Portland in the second game. The Beavers won the game with three in the sixth, highlighted by Eddie Basinski's two-run single.

Seattle also had a large crowd on hand for the finale, 5,189. George Schmees and Jack Tobin accounted for nine of the 13 Seattle hits in the opener. Rookie Cal Humphries, up from Tucson in the Arizona, Texas League, went the 10 innings to notch the pitching victory. Neil Sheridan, with three hits, led the successful Sacramento attack in the nightcap.

FIRST GAME OF CUP TIE RE-SCHEDULED WEDNESDAY

Yesterday's early afternoon rainstorm completely washed out the first game of the Prince Rupert Football association cup tie game scheduled for 1:30 at Roosevelt park.

Hopes for the opening match which saw Battery pitted against CYO were dashed early and the game was called before the players got up to the field.

However, the game has been rescheduled for 6:45 Wednesday when the first game of the best of five series will be played. A large crowd of spectators and fans is anticipated.

Only Two Wins Needed For Yanks to Win Flag

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Today is V-Day for manager Casey Stengel and his New York Yankees.

V stands for five, the record number of consecutive pennants Stengel and his Yanks are certain of winning, a feat never accomplished before by club or manager.

The world champions reduced their "magic number" to two Sunday by defeating Cleveland Indians 6-3 on a Johnny Mize pinch-hit home run with two in the eighth. The triumph boosted the Yankee lead over the Tribe to 12 games.

Two Yankee victories or Indian defeats is all that is needed to gain New York's fifth straight pennant. A New York victory over Cleveland today would eliminate the Tribe.

Chicago White Sox officially faded out of the pennant race Sunday, losing 7-6 to the Red Sox in Boston. In the American League games, Detroit solidified its hold on sixth place, sweeping a doubleheader from Washington 10-4 and 6-4 while St. Louis Browns and Philadelphia A's divided.

The Browns spoiled Ottawa's rookie righthander Bob Trice's major league debut, defeating the Negro 5-2 in the opener. The A's won the second 2-0 as Harry Byrd ended a personal nine-game losing streak.

EXTEND WIN STREAK
Chicago's seventh-place Cubs extended their winning streak to nine straight, defeating the champion Brooklyn Dodgers 3-2 in 10 innings. St. Louis Cardinals rolled up 19 hits, crushing Phils 17-3 for Harvey Haddix's 18th win.

Warren Spahn won his 20th Milwaukee split a doubleheader with New York Giants. Joe Adcock's 18th homer with a man on enabled Spahn to win a 2-1 duel from Larry Jansen in the opener. The Giants won a 7-4 victory in the nightcap.

After Pittsburgh's Paul Larpaine pitched a seven-hit 5-4 triumph in the opener, Cincinnati came back to win the second game 8-6 to hand the Pirates' Murry Dickson his 19th defeat.

Spokane Rally Evens Series With Senators

SALEM, Ore. (AP) — Spokane scored twice in the top of the ninth inning Sunday night to frame a 5-4 win over Salem in a Western International Baseball League playoff game.

The win evened the best-of-seven series between the teams, champions of the two halves of the WIL's split season at two apiece. They play again here Monday night.

Leading 4-3 going into the ninth Spokane pulled even when Eddie Murphy singled off Larry Borst and later raced home on Wilbur Johnson's safe blow. Johnson went to third on Les Witherspoon's error and was singled across the plate by Jim Command.

The Indians scored their first three runs in the second inning. The Senators scored twice in the fifth and added their final tallies in the eighth.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Which Suit To Start Important in No-Trump

In playing at no-trump, it is often important to make the right decision on the question of which long suit to start working on first. Sometimes, as in today's deal, it is necessary to work on two long suits "at the same time."

Here is what I mean. Mr. Abel got the five of spades opening and won in his own hand with the king. He gave considerable thought to his next lead. Should he go after diamonds or clubs first?

Diamonds were solid from the king to the eight. If one opponent had the ace of diamonds singleton or doubleton, he could not shut out dummy and four diamond tricks would be available. Then, if Mr. Masters had the king and only one other club, three tricks would be available in that suit—enough or game.

Not too good a solution, but anyway Mr. Abel led the jack of diamonds at trick two. He played low from dummy and he jack won. Next came the 10 of diamonds which also held.

Obviously the dummy was now dead and Mr. Abel shifted to the ace of clubs and followed with the queen. Mr. Masters von with the king and returned a spade, clearing the suit. Mr. Abel cashed three more tricks but ended up with just eight tricks.

He should have alternated diamonds and clubs as follows: At trick two lead the jack of diamonds and overtake with dummy's queen. Mr. Masters best play would be to duck. Now lead back a club and finesse the jack. Lead the 10 of diamonds and overtake with dummy's king. Mr. Masters would have no winning defence. If he ducked again, another club finesse would bring in five tricks in that suit which, with two diamonds and two spades, would make the game.

If he played the ace of diamonds and returned a spade, Mr. Abel would win, enter dummy with the nine of diamonds, run the rest of that suit, then take another club finesse and make five-odd.

Billy Vessels Puts Eskimos In Western Grid Loop Lead

By The Canadian Press

Dazzling Billy Vessels, Edmonton's fleet back from the Oklahoma Sooners, personally put his team atop the Western interprovincial football union Saturday night.

Vessels snagged one touchdown pass and swept 40 yards for another major as the Eskimos pummeled Saskatchewan Roughriders 13-1. The victory broke a first-place tie and put the Eskimos in the lead with eight points, two ahead of Winnipeg Blue Bombers, who lost, 23-14, to Calgary Stampeders.

In the east, Ottawa's surging Rough Riders battered down a desperate Toronto Argonaut rally Saturday to climb into a three-way tie for first place in the Big Four Football Union. The 20-16 win over the Canadian champions put Ottawa atop the four-club heap along with Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Montreal Alouettes.

The powerful Eskimos, watched by a capacity hometown crowd of 15,300, counted converted touchdowns in the first and third quarters and added a single in the final. Frank Tripucka, last year with Dallas Texans, counted Saskatchewan's only point in the first quarter. SNAP LOSING STREAK snapped a two-game losing streak by a final-quarter rally. The Stamps fired two converted touchdowns late in the game to take the decision before a crowd of 12,000.

Leading the Calgary attack was Pete Thodos who snatched passes from quarter Frankie Albert for two touchdowns. Another major came from a John Henry Johnson plunge.

Ottawa counted touchdowns in the first, second and fourth quarters, leading 13-1 before Argos took fire behind Knobby Wirkowski's fine passing. He completed 12 of 25 heaves for a total of 282 yards.

In the Senior Ontario Rugby Football Union, Toronto Balmy Beach overwhelmed injury-ridden Brantford Redskins 31-9. Saturday night while Kitchen-Waterloo Dutchmen celebrated the return of senior football to their city by downing Sarnia Imperials 20-16.
