VICTORIA (CP)—A 42-year-old Royal Canadian Mounted Police constable, facing a charge of murder in the slaying of a 24-year-old girl in suburban Saanich, died Sunday in hospital from a self-inflicted wound.

Not Halted Downpour

Fought a losing battle against rain clouds on Saturday, the annual May Day parade place regardless. Hundreds of citizens lined 3rd Street to see Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip, who were her four princely escorts radiating splendour. Her and her escorts were drenched by the rain from noon on. The sun won a brief respite in the afternoon, but a downpour drenched the parade.

The parade was scheduled to leave the Court House at 1 p.m. Officials decided to start until 1:30, but it was cancelled.

Cheers of the hundreds of spectators kept dry. The parade moved slowly along the main street and up to Ross Street where it disbanded. The sports program for the afternoon was cancelled.

Plans to hold the parade next Thursday after the rain.

Six Saved As Large Fishing Packer Founders In Collision

SURVIVED CRASH—When a diesel locomotive pulling 87 boxcars smashed into a caboose drawn by a steam locomotive M. J. Kennedy of Belleville, Ont., riding in the caboose, suffered severe head injuries but survived. The caboose was smashed to matchwood. The accident occurred a few miles east of Toronto. Four other Belleville men also were injured. Austin Mahon, Canadian National Railways terminal superintendent, blamed an open switch on the main line for the crash. (CP PHOTO)

Kanawaka Total Loss To Fishermen's Co-op

Six men were rescued when one of the biggest and best-known fish packers which has been working out of Prince Rupert and northern waters for 15 years sank Saturday night three hours out of Vancouver.

Two Dead in Tank-Barge Collision

WILMINGTON, Del. (CP)—A tanker loaded with crude oil and a gasoline laden barge collided in the driving rain in Delaware River 15 miles south of here last night. Both exploded in flames.

Two men were reported dead, six missing and one injured crew member suffering from shock.

There were 39 survivors from the collision between 10,441-ton tank Michael and the 1,162-ton barge, A. C. Dodge.

Hours after the collision near Reedy Island, orange flames and thick black smoke covered the surface of the water and filled the sky over a half-mile area.

The collision happened at 11:30 p.m. Saturday with one of the deckhands at the helm. Others were asleep in their bunks.

A huge hole was torn in the starboard stern and the packer sank immediately. All belongings of the crew were lost.

The packer is considered a total loss of more than $50,000, but would take $100,000 to replace it today, said a Co-op spokesman. No salvage will be attempted.

The Kanawaka, a former rum-runner on both Canadian coasts, was purchased by North Island Trollers Co-op in 1937 and has pioneered the co-operative fishing business in the Prince Rupert area.

She was equipped to pack 135,000 iced salmon, her major duty for past 15 years.

Some well-known fishing vessel skippers have operated her during those years, including most recent Irling Petersen, who turned over his command to Capt. Dalzel this year; Harold Marshall and Fred Walters, first skipper.

The Co-op spokesman said "we intend to purchase or build a suitable ship immediately to replace the Kanawaka." The Co-op operates two other packers, the Ogden and Azurite. A third sank in 1947 on Hammer Rocks, near Triple Island.

U.S. Telegraph Strike Ends

WASHINGTON (CP)—Striking Western Union workers Sunday ratified a new wage settlement and the 52-day-old strike will end Monday.

Adolph Brungs, head of the Western Union division, Commercial Telegraphers Union (AFL), said the vote was 8685 for acceptance of new agreement and 5468 for rejection.

Telegraph workers voted during the week-end on whether to approve or reject the strike settlement negotiated by CTU and the Western Union Telegraph Company.

Agreement calls for pay raises or reduction of working hours. It was hinged to government permission for Western Union to raise its rates. The union agreed to support the company plea before Federal Communications Commission for a rate boost.

Requested increase may be about 10 per cent, union officials said they understood.

Peace Contract Completed To Free Germans

BONN (CP)—A peace contract giving West Germany enough freedom to enter an armed alliance with the West was completed Sunday. Last minute French objections were overcome after long hours of negotiation.

Contract is to be signed today by the big three foreign ministers and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

But on the very day this historic document was completed, Russians made their third demand in three months for a four-power conference to frame a peace treaty for a united and "completely sovereign" Germany.

The West German pact—a partial peace treaty for only part of the former enemy reich—will not be published until after the signing ceremony.

It will end occupation, grant federal republic near sovereignty and, combined with the six-country treaty will create a million-man European army with 400,000 Germans.

It will bind 48,000,000 Germans west of iron curtain to a free Europe.

The pact is not effective until ratified and it faces parliamentary battles, especially in Bonn and Paris, where strong political groups oppose it.

New Beacon in Hecate Straits

The Department of Transport Manager N. A. Beketov, advises all mariners that a new beacon has been established in Bell Passage, Hecate Straits, on the northern islet of Archibald Islands group.

The beacon shows a group flashing white light bearing approximately southeast, 2, from Butterworth Rock buoy and is visible from all points of approach. Regular notice to be issued shortly, will give full particulars of the new aid.

The citation said he was commanding a six-man rear section of a fighting patrol at night when it was ambushed by seven Chinese soldiers. Three of his men were wounded by small arms fire and grenade fragments and "fierce hand to hand fighting ensued" in the darkness.

Cpl. Cormier pulled an enemy soldier off a wounded Canadian whom the Chinese were attempting to capture or kill. The corporal killed two enemy soldiers and "undoubtedly saved two of his own men who were wounded from falling into enemy hands."

Cpl. Cormier fired "with great coolness and accuracy" and "as a result of his action the enemy were dispersed." He then moved his wounded into the centre of a firm base position and organized the remainder in an all-round defence.

"Due to his coolness and aggressiveness the firm base position was held, permitting the main body of his patrol to withdraw without incident," the citation said. "His actions were an inspiration to the men of his section and platoon and an example of bold leadership."

Young Soldier Wins Medal For Bravery

OTTAWA (CP)—Cpl. Delphis Cormier, 21-year-old member of the Royal 22nd Regiment, has been awarded the Military Medal for an act of outstanding bravery and leadership during an action March 24 last in Korea, army headquarters announced.

Cpl. Cormier is now on leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Cormier, in Atholville, N.B., after completing a year of service in Korea.

The citation said he was commanding a six-man rear section of a fighting patrol at night when it was ambushed by seven Chinese soldiers. Three of his men were wounded by small arms fire and grenade fragments and "fierce hand to hand fighting ensued" in the darkness.

Political Brass Lined up For Toughest Campaign Week in Rupert

ERIC SANDERSON
The places where loyal party members do the hard spadework in winning elections. Working out of these centres, supporters will be busy for the next two weeks arranging schedules for meetings, lining up speakers, checking the voters list, answering telephones, lining up transportation for election day and many other things necessary to get out the vote.

In Prince Rupert, there are 6,088 registered voters and the total in the entire electoral district is 9,077.

Victory in the coming election depends on two things: How the candidates talk and act; and how efficiently the party workers organize the vote.

So far, the political front has been very quiet.

With the exception of several radio addresses, the Liberal party is the only one that has held a meeting. Last Wednesday, Attorney-General Gordon Wismer spoke to an estimated 200 persons in the Civic Centre.

With official nominations now filed and the campaign in full swing, voters will be given a variety of things to think about. Each party has already placed its platform before voters. It's now up to the candidates to win support.

Jack McRae, member of the last legislature for Prince Rupert, is seeking re-election as a Liberal and George Hills is the C.C.F. standard bearer.

Mr. Hills returned last Friday from a tour of native villages.

Throughout the province, 212 candidates are seeking the 48 seats in the House. A total of 793,428 persons are eligible to vote, 144,409 more than in the 1949 general election.

Two plebiscites also will be before voters, one on the liquor question, the other asking citizens if they favor daylight saving time.

Throughout Prince Rupert, there will be dozens of persons taking a small but important part in the election. They will be watched and talked about.

Liberal campaign headquarters here have been set up in a little shop next to the Royal Bank of Canada. Mrs. J. McKay is in charge. Telephone 657.

Progressive Conservatives are at 504 Third Avenue. Phone 270 or Red 595.

Railways Open The Country

CONSTRUCTION of a CNR line from Terrace to Kitimat provides a glimpse of things to come in the railway future of this district.

While laying down steel now is far more costly than it was at the turn of the century and every new extension must be undertaken cautiously and after long consideration, the Canadian railways have never yet lagged behind the expansion of their country. On the contrary, they have generally anticipated it with the result that, taking into account its vast area and comparatively small population, Canada is better served by rail transportation than any other country.

Since the development of airlines into a major carrier system, the railways have taken second place in pioneering new areas of economic promise. It is impossible and unnecessary for them to do otherwise. At the same time, no such area can attain full realization of its potential unless it is reached by rail and it is gratifying to know that the railway companies, recognizing this fact, are prepared to meet the challenge to the best of their ability.

Contemplation of progress along these lines focuses attention on the north, and the areas here that stand out rich in possibilities are the Peace River country of B.C. and the Northwest Territories. Rail service into those parts can by no means be classed as the next order of business, but the time will come as surely as it did when what appeared to be the useless mountain wilderness of B.C. was finally crossed by steel.

When that time does come, Prince Rupert, as the closest established outlet to the sea, will take still another step into its bright future.

Contributions to our Community

PRINCE RUPERT citizens had two opportunities over the week-end to see and hear the up-and-coming Booth Memorial High School Band.

It certainly must be an encouragement for the teacher of these young people, for their parents and for all citizens who take a pride in their community.

Only a year ago, most of the bandmen never placed a musical instrument to their lips.

Today, they deliver a brand of music which is a credit to their ability, their enthusiasm and hard work.

We believe that young people want to contribute to the betterment of the community in which they live. All they need is the opportunity and direction. It is marvelous how such opportunity allays the advent of juvenile delinquency.

But our school band is faced with a difficult problem—that of obtaining more instruments to give additional talented students the opportunity of playing in the band.

As citizens of our community we should consider very seriously the opportunity we can afford our young people by giving them a helping hand.

Raising money to help purchase a few more musical instruments would be a worthwhile community project. We have seen the results of only a year's work by the present band and know that the students as well as the teacher are very serious in their learning, conscientious, and demonstrate exceptional ability.

National Library For Canadians

OTTAWA—Canada will have a national library, but unless world tension eases it's going to be a long-term project.

Legislative process was begun recently in Commons when Prime Minister St. Laurent launched a bill for establishment of the cultural centre.

He said some preliminary work, such as cataloguing of books, already has started. But because of the defence efforts he couldn't say when men and materials could be spared for the library or what the whole project would cost.

It is likely that when the centre is built, it will be a bomb-proof, fire-proof structure on the banks of the Ottawa river close to the Parliament buildings. That was the suggestion of the royal commission on arts and sciences and it was embraced by all parties in the Commons.

Mr. St. Laurent said Dr. W. Kaye Lamb, Dominion archivist and chairman of the National Library committee, will be the first national librarian. The chief assistant will be French-speaking.

A competition among architects will be held to select a design for the building. Once the library is established it will co-operate closely with other libraries in Canada. Microfilms will be used to make available copies of rare books that cannot be sent out of the library.

Stanley Knowles (CCF, Winnipeg North Centre) said he thinks the national library should have not only books, but films, musical records and photographs depicting Canada's national life.

The only critical note in the 2½-hour discussion came when Ross Thatcher (CCF-Moose Jaw) said it is strange the government has no idea of the cost. Mr. St. Laurent replied that because of unknown factors he cannot indicate the cost, but when there is a prospect of getting started, estimates will be placed before parliament.

Sees Sask. CCF Win

REGINA: It is a far cry from those momentous days in 1933 when people from all over Canada met here, in the heart of the prairies, to write what became the Regina Manifesto of the CCF.

The sweating, swearing and praying mixture of reformers and radicals who met here in the darkest days of the Great Depression would have rubbed their eyes if they could have been shot forward in time to be here again on the eve of this provincial election of 1952. The radicals of 1933 have become the ultra-respectables of 1952.

For the CCF has had eight full years in office. It has given this province the best government that it has ever had, most fair minded people say. You could get yourself a little smile, though, and a not so little argument, if you pointed out that there is nothing here remotely approaching socialism, as defined by the text books in use at the time of the Regina Convention.

What they have in Saskatchewan is a hard-headed, sure-footed variety of the Welfare State. It is a little bit like the Tory Ontario of my boyhood—for here they put through public ownership of power, with marked benefits especially for farmers. They have the best Hospital Insurance scheme in Canada, with the Liberals in B.C., Ontario and Alberta all trying to set up as good a system as Saskatchewan's. They also have a small pilot plant of complete public health and dental care in the Swift Current region. But it is typical of the cautious, down to earth tactics of these Saskatchewan folks that after a half dozen years of testing they have not yet allied the Swift Current plan to the whole province.

HARD HEADED folks hereabouts are betting two to one that the CCF will be returned to power in the election which takes place June 11. Being half Scotch by descent I would not bet such odds myself. But I would surely bet a little better

Korea Likely Place For Third War Start

By ROBERT EUNSON

TOKYO (AP)—United Nations officers are eyeing suspiciously a buildup of Soviet strength in Asia because of the danger that Russia might leap into the Korea war.

There is nothing to indicate right now that the Soviets are planning any more than to keep Chinese and North Korean soldiers well supplied with arms, ammunition and vehicles.

But the belief here is that if the Russians ever decide to touch off a third world war, Korea is just as likely a spot as Europe.

The power which controls Korea also controls Japan and Japan is the last stand of the free world in Asia.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's remarks in Washington that Russia is carrying on a big and "significant" military buildup put on the record what staff officers at his old headquarters here have been observing for more than a year.

The threat is closer now because Korean roads are just about thawed.

The North Korean Reds, Russian trained and Russian equipped, started the Korean war on June 25, 1950. Summer is the best period for movement of supplies and tanks.

Although the danger period is approaching, the general belief here, however, is that Russia probably is ready to enter the Korean war only in case the Chinese Communists need help.

"Face" is an important thing in Asia. If the United Nations were to launch an all-out attack, threatening the Communists with defeat, Russia undoubtedly would step in to save China's reputation among her neighbors.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U.S. Eighth Army commander, estimates the Communist strength in Korea at 750,000 men with a substantial reserve force in Manchuria.

Red air strength is about 1500 planes, with half of them jets, according to Lt.-Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East air force commander.

The situation, when Ridgway turned over command to his successor, Gen. Mark Clark, was this:

1. Despite the armistice talks military strength of the Chinese and North Korean Communists had increased.

2. Personnel and equipment losses have been replaced.

3. Communist soldiers have been equipped with a substantial amount of new clothing, even to the extent of having a surplus for civilians.

4. During the last nine months the Communists have dug themselves into new and deep positions, so well constructed as to compare to the famous military defence lines in Europe. The bunkers are heated in winter and well stocked with food and ammunition.

5. There is no doubt but that the Communists are planning on maintaining strong positions in Korea.

Cronin-Babine Mine Goes Into Production

SMITHERS—Milling of silver-zinc ore at the Cronin-Babine Mine near here is now under way.

Leslie C. Creery, president, said maximum efficient operating rate will be determined on the basis of operating experience but the management anticipates it will be about 50 tons daily in the initial stages.

Per ton value of the average metal content should yield a better return than originally expected as price of silver, lead and zinc has risen since engineers first looked over the site in December, 1950.

Six working faces are ready to supply ore to the mill and, Mr. Creery said, a systematic development program will be designed to keep ore reserves ahead of mill requirements.

Pride of a Nation Shown by Ceremony

Large Attendance at Citizenship
Day Program

A stirring event Friday night proved that Canadians are proud to be a nation and Prince Rupert citizens are no exception.

Citizenship Day was celebrated in the jam-packed Civic Centre auditorium that had people standing in the corridors.

From the time that Master of Ceremonies F. E. Anfield asked everyone to shake hands with their seated neighbors, the two-hour program was applauded for each item, skillfully produced and enthusiastically delivered.

Mr. Anfield himself gave a stirring address on "the meaning of citizenship to a Canadian."

He said that Canada as a new nation had made "tremendous strides" in only a few years and he called on all Canadians, young and old, "to honor and remember the daring of our pioneers—the men and women who dared to venture out and make of this immense country a nation of Canadians."

He declared that "today we are a nation that can do much for the future peace of the world. The eyes of the world are upon you, Canadians—this is Canada's century."

Mr. Anfield stated there was "a great need" for more kindness in the world and called on young Canadians to "learn politeness—which is the physical expression of kindness."

Mayor Harold Whalen, who opened the ceremonial concert, listed the privileges and duties of a Canadian, and said that "perhaps the greatest of our privileges are to worship freely and our freedom of speech."

Standard bearers of each chapter of Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire they marched, dressed in white added color to the ceremony as and with a Union Jack at salute, to take their place near the stage.

Cake donated by Mrs. Montgomery was won by Mrs. T. Beattie.

Committee in charge was composed of Mrs. Harold Anderson, Mrs. Chater, Mrs. Vic Duncan, Mrs. Murdoch and Mrs. Holdbrook.

Symphony Band played under leadership of Conductor Peter Lien.

Of special interest were the pageants, recitals and singing by Annunciation, Conrad, King Edward and Borden Street elementary schools. Their presentations, carried the theme of Canadian history, background and folklore such as described by Conrad pupils' square dancing; King Edward school's historic pageant depicting the birth of Canada, its struggles into Confederation and into nationhood.

ROTARY CHOIR

A special feature was the appearance of the Rotary Choir, under leadership of C. P. Balagoo.

Others on the program were RCMP Sgt. E. A. Wales, who spoke briefly and said Canadians should obey all laws, because the laws were made by the people and for the people.

James Nicol, Canadian Immigration officer, said immigrants coming into Canada and to Prince Rupert were "of the highest calibre and will become good Canadian citizens."

Mr. M. Girardet said briefly "what Canada means to me," and Russel Morrison, Booth high school student, delivered "the credo of a young Canadian."

Of more than 200 people who attended the ceremonies, there were those of four different racial and at least seven different national origins.

EMPIRE DAY
The IOOE representatives and standard bearers visited schools throughout the day, as well as attending Citizenship Day ceremonies.

Standard bearers were Mrs. M. J. Keays, Municipal Chapter; Mrs. A. C. Gillis, Queen Mary Chapter; Mrs. C. T. Stokoe, Cambrai Chapter; Mrs. A. Johnston, Duchess of Edinburgh

Chapter, and Miss Sheri Beth Ingalls, HMCS Chapter.

Representatives were Mrs. G. G. Withers, municipal regent; Mrs. William Halliwell, Mrs. Jens Munthe, Mrs. J. R. Carr, Mrs. J. Ridsdale, Mrs. G. P. Lyons and Mrs. W. J. Lineham.

Program at the schools was arranged by Mrs. J. A. Tend. Students heard addresses by W. C. R. Jones, mill manager of Columbia Cellulose Co. Ltd., and by Major W. C. Poulton, Salvation Army.

At Conrad Street school, the film "Royal Wedding" was shown, and at all schools, pupils entertained visiting IOOE members with band selections, songs, recitations, pageants and plays.

At the elementary schools, 1,000 Union Jack button-pins were presented to principals by Mrs. Withers, for distribution among the pupils.

Mrs. Withers called on the pupils to be "good Canadian citizens, showing love and loyalty to Queen Elizabeth II and the British Empire."

New Members For Moose Women

Eleven new members were inducted into the W.O.T.M. at the regular meeting in Moose Hall last week. Senior Regent McIntyre was in the chair.

The association will treat children under six years of age and the hospital will take care of those over six. The plan is to be effected through organization of a provincial Crippled Children's Society.

The Palsy Association, aided by the Pythian Order, will sponsor a provincial parents' conference in Vancouver May 30 to June 1.

DIFFICULT MARCH FOR HIGH SCHOOL BAND

Editor, The Daily News:
The events of this week-end have illustrated the service the high school band can be to the community of Prince Rupert.

On Friday, May 23, the Booth Memorial High School Band played for the march to Roosevelt Park and also for the high school track meet held there. This was the band's initiation to marching while playing. The results left much to be desired. The famous bandmaster, Edwin Franko Goldman, said "It is seldom that one ever hears a march well-played for marching purposes. In fact, I confess that I have never heard a really fine marching band... Successful marching bands have to be schooled and hardened to their work, and must indulge in this type of work, frequently in order to do it even passably well."

I would like to say however, that never have I marched and played under more trying circumstances than we encountered on the May 24 parade here. The following are a few of the things which handicapped the band: lack of preparation, difficult terrain, the rain which

Reflects and Reminisces

For some folks—and quite a few, along in years, dwell in Prince Rupert—climbing a stairway is just as dangerous as falling down them is to others.

About three a.m., with a drizzle, the other day, two beer smelling strangers entered a local hotel office. A bedroom was not asked for. It was demanded in a loud voice. Of course, there was nothing of the sort. The night clerk was ordered to get one and do it quick. So the night clerk, from his post behind the office counter, reached for something a few feet away. It was a club, a bit smaller than a baseball bat.

"Get out." They got.

Verily, there has been no peace. We're still battling for it. How much sweet harmony was seen after 1918 or 1945? And since then, the average peace table bears an apple of discord.

A bank is said to be a place where a husband makes allowances for a wife's shortages.

It was still chiefly "grits and stories" not so many years ago, although multiplicity of parties might have been dawning. It was like that in Prince Rupert. Early enough, there would emerge into the white light of public approval or otherwise some aspirant, Fred Stork—first mayor and man who welcomed Laurier—was one. His banner was Liberal. You could not think of it's being anything else.

Ocean Falls To Have Public Works Service

Special To The Daily News

OCEAN FALLS—The provincial public works department is going to station a man permanently at Ocean Falls.

This was announced by B. M. (Batt) MacIntyre, Coalition member of Mackenzie riding in the last legislature and now Liberal candidate for re-election in the June 12 election.

He told a meeting in Martin Inn Ballroom that the public works department have committed themselves to extending the Martin Valley road to the end of the new subdivision. The road will be widened and resurfaced. "Following the building of 25 new homes a public works truck and man will be stationed permanently at Ocean Falls," said Mr. MacIntyre.

"The truck will be equipped with a snow removal blade. In addition the department will survey and clear the trail to Twin Lakes, a distance of 2½ miles."

ruined music and drums and finally the absence of eleven bandmen which left us with no bass and no alto section. The spirit, however, of the 20 bandmen who did turn out, was undaunted. Two switched from trumpet and substituted on the alto horns while I had to take over the bass.

As Bobby Mitchell said, nothing keeps the Booth Memorial Band down—I feel very proud of these young people and I am sure the citizens of Prince Rupert feel the same way about them.

We feel indebted to Mr. S. Saville and the Kinsmen Fraternity for the opportunity of rendering a service to our community and I feel that we are on our way towards raising the $3000 we so badly need for high school band work. In this connection I would like to say that at our recent pre-festival high school concert, held on May 2, Mr. John McNaughton, who has so generously supported the band both morally and financially, surprised the band members by presenting the president, Jean Golds, with a sock containing five $20 bills. Mr. McNaughton has been a wonderful Santa Claus and I hope we can get many more such socks from other sources as well.

FRED HUBER, Bandmaster.

CCF headquarters: Metropole Hall, Telephone 790.
Social Credit Committee room is located on Sixth Street between Second and Third avenue. Phone 79.

Mr. McRae, who was injured May 10 in an accident at Kemano, has returned from hospital in Vancouver and is directing his campaign for re-election from his home. He is not expected to appear on a public platform.

Mr. McRae suffered a severe injury to his right leg, which will keep him confined for several months. He will, however, make several addresses over the radio.

While candidates here so far have been taking things easy, party leaders have been visiting every riding in the province.

Hospital insurance has been the main target of the Progressive Conservative and CCF speakers. The premier also has spoken of the BCHS and, in opposition to the contention of Mr. Anscomb, has stated that a voluntary hospital plan as advocated in the Pro-Con platform, is useless.

Premier Johnson, who toured every riding during the 1949 campaign, this year also has his right-hand man, Gordon Wismer, making a province-wide tour.

All Liberal speakers have capital investment in B.C. is the stressed that encouragement of most important clause of the party platform.

The Progressive Conservatives platform pledges a new plan of government hospital insurance on a non-compulsory basis with elimination of co-insurance and also pledges reduction by 30 per cent in the cost of licence fees on all passenger cars.

If elected, the CCF would revise the Workmen's Compensation Act and "the Industrial Conciliation Act would be overhauled in conformity with labor's requests," Mr. Hills stated recently. The party also would revise the hospital insurance service set-up.

Major plank in the Social Credit platform calls for abolition of compulsory hospital insurance. Among points in a nine-point program approved at the convention in New Westminster two weeks ago the party, if elected, also would institute a "pay as you go" policy in all provincial expenditures and reduce administrative costs.

Mr. Hansell, who is also president of the National Social Credit Association of Canada, after his election as campaign director, said he planned to visit most ridings in B.C. before election day.

The 56-year-old honorary minister of the Christian Church of Vulcan, Alberta, has been member of Parliament for Macleod since 1935.

Reserve Navy Enjoys Picnic Tour of Harbor

"The best time I've ever had"; "a wonderful picnic"; "let's do it again"—these were a few of the remarks by Wrens and reserve men of the division as they disembarked from the Navy tug Marysville Sunday night.

With the sun shining brightly, the Marysville steamed to Pilsbury Cove where the hook was dropped and all picnicers ferried ashore in the skiff, loaded with picnic baskets, cameras and coffee pots.

A ball game on the beach between the Wrens and the men was brought to a sudden halt by the odor of boiled crab wafted on the warm breeze. For some this was the first time they had tasted this delicacy but by the way the crabs disappeared it won't be the last.

Ex-Chief C. E. Twaites not only had to gather the crabs but cook them. Everybody of course helped him eat them.

The Wrens handled the helm like veterans while ABS Jimmy Olsen and Ernest Bitterman took care of the engine room department.

The Sea Cadet corps of Prince Rupert has made great strides in progress since they received their charter and permission to reform the corps last fall.

Under the guidance of Lt. A. Ogilvie, commanding officer, Sub-Lieutenants S. Alexander and E. Dawes recruited and trained these cadets to their present peak of smartness.

The annual inspection of the Rupert Corps will be made by the Commanding Officer of the Canadian Destroyer HMCS Sioux, Cdr. J. Haddon, at 7:15 p.m. May 29. Cdr. Haddon will receive the salute from the corps during the march past. Later he will observe the Cadets training in classes and boat work.

Many citizens have observed these boys training on a Thursday night and have agreed the corps is worthy of acclaim.

The public is invited to be present during the inspection which will take place in the Drill Hall of HMCS Chatham.

SCREEN ★ ★ FLASHES

A compelling drama of romance, "Close to My Heart" begins tonight at the Totem Theatre. The Warner Bros. picture teams Ray Milland and Gene Tierney, top flight Hollywood performers, in their first role opposite each other.

The story concerns a couple happily married until they realize the void in their life. It is when they decide to do something about it that a series of dramatic events follow which involves them with court officials, shady characters and finally, in a stirring climactic sequence.

"Sands of Iwo Jima" opens at the Capitol Tuesday starring John Wayne as a tough Marine sergeant.

Insect Warfare Waged By Huge Aircraft Fleet

YAKIMA, Wash., (AP)—Nineteen commercial planes are making a mass flight 3,600 miles to New Brunswick, to spray 300 square miles of forest against spruce budworms.

H. A. Gardner of Central Aircraft Co., which has the spray contract with a private Canadian firm, said he believed it is the largest flight of commercial planes on record.

The fleet left here yesterday in three groups and stayed overnight at Ogden, Utah. Tonight's stop is scheduled at Omaha, Neb. Another overnight stop will be made at Watertown, N.Y., the port of entry, and the fleet also will touch at Rochester, N.Y.

Gardner said the actual spraying over the roadless forest near Dalhousie, New Brunswick, will be four or five days. But the total time for spraying and travel will be one month.

The fleet includes planes from several Pacific northwest points,

US Soldier Sentenced

NUERNBERG (AP)—A 19-year-old United States soldier, has been sentenced to death for murdering two Germans and stealing their car.

Pte. John Vigneault of Goffs Falls, N.H., stood quietly and showed no emotion as he heard the sentence pronounced by the court-martial. He confessed to the killings.

This was believed to be the first time since the war that an U.S. soldier was sentenced to death for a killing a German.

An average of $13,000,000 worth of ready-mixed concrete is manufactured in Canada each year.

The Goldeneye duck is restricted to forested regions since it nests in cavities in trees.

including Langley Prairie, B.C.

The amount of the spray contract was not announced. Gardner said Central Aircraft got the job because there was no nearby firm equipped to handle such a large project.
