turn in the weather made it more feasible. The recent mild spell which put a crimp in the annual Smithers curling bonspiel almost ruled out the provincial meet. However, with colder weather and more snow on hand Smithers Ski Club officials, headed by president Hallvard Dahlje have decided to go ahead with the meet and if there isn't sufficient snow for the jump events, snow will be hauled down Hudson Bay mountain.

white men in Prince George at the time. In August, 1915, he enlisted and after training in Victoria went to France early in 1916 with the machine gun section of the 67th battalion. Following Vimy Ridge he went to England, was granted a commission and returned to France to serve with the Canadian Forestry Corps. In 1939, with the outbreak of war, Mr. Crocker enlisted as a lieutenant in the Second Searchlight Battery, coming to Prince Rupert in September, 1939, where he was promoted to captain and commanding officer of the battery. In 1942 he was transferred to Vancouver, promoted to major, and two years later went overseas. Following the war he was appointed Prince George District representative of the B.C. Department of Trade and Industry, a position he held at the time of his death. Funeral was held in Vancouver Tuesday.

Walter Crocker's Opens New Stores in Prince Rupert, Smithers, George

Vern Ciccone, who has been manager of the mail order office here, will continue as manager of the new store which has been completely redecorated in sparkling colors of deep raspberry, forest green and blue-grey, with ornamental fluorescent lighting, and a recessed counter for mail-order business. The face of the building also has been brightened. At the rear, a special cement ramp will facilitate loading and unloading operations. Northwest Construction Company was general contractor on the renovation project. Mr. Ciccone's staff will include Steve King, salesman, Miss A. Pavlikis, Mrs. I. Burchall, Mrs. M. McIntyre, Ron Ciccone and Gordon Brain. In Smithers, Miss Leith will be in charge of the new mail order office, while in Prince George, C. O. Torgeson will continue as manager of the new store.

City Plans To Prosecute Citizens Who Dump Garbage Illegally

Snowfall Tangles Traffic

A sudden return to snow and cold weather caught Prince Rupert motorists by surprise late yesterday, sending cars and buses into ditches on city streets and the arterial highway. A three-hour snowfall, teamed with icy temperatures, glazed streets with ice and tied up traffic until city works department sanding trucks hit the roads. Seal Cove bus service was cut off at 5:20 p.m. after two buses had skidded into ditches on Sixth Avenue. Service was resumed this morning. Meanwhile, on Highway 16 between Galloway Rapids and the city limits, at least 15 cars landed in the ditch. One wrecker service reported rescuing two buses, an oil truck, three half-ton pick-ups, and four passenger cars. All except the buses had skidded off highway 16, and none was badly damaged. Another service reported pulling at least half a dozen cars out of ditches, and said that while the wrecker was working on one ditched car, another skidded into the wrecker. The snowfall started just after 3 p.m. and continued until 6 p.m. while the mercury dropped quickly, reaching 23 degrees below zero overnight. At 5:15 p.m. at least a dozen cars were lined at various angles on McBride Street as they failed to make the slippery grade up to Fifth Avenue. Police untangled the jam. The sudden cold snap came after a brief respite from winter weather, during which the usual rainfall washed the city. Weather figures for January, reported by the meteorological station on Digby Island, showed snow and rain running neck and neck during the month, with a total rainfall of 3.9 inches and snowfall of 3.7 inches, measured on 19 days. Lowest temperature during the month was 7.5 above, recorded January 25. Warmest January day was the 9th, when the mercury climbed to 46 above. But the cold spell brought clear skies to the city, which enjoyed a total of 69.3 hours of sunshine. The weatherman promised milder weather tonight and tomorrow. North coast region: Cloudy today and Friday. Snow showers today and early Friday, turning to rain Friday afternoon. A little milder, Winds northeasterly 25 along northern mainland coast today and southeasterly 25 in exposed areas on Friday, otherwise light. Low tonight and high Friday at Port Hardy 32 and 40, Sandspit 28 and 33, Prince Rupert 25 and 35.

Red Cross Meeting Fails To Materialize

The annual meeting of the Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society was not held last night because of lack of a quorum. Only four persons turned up at the Civic Centre for the meeting scheduled to be held at 8 o'clock, and president Stan Saville waited for 40 minutes before announcing the cancellation. Mr. Saville has been president of the Red Cross branch here since 1950 and several months ago advised Vancouver headquarters that he could no longer continue in that capacity. While thanking those who went to the scheduled meeting, he regretted the lack of interest shown "in an organization that is always ready to help in time of hardship or disaster." With less than a month to go before the annual appeal for funds, Mr. Saville indicated that there would be no campaign here this year. In an interview today, Mr. Saville said he wanted to thank all the canvassers and city organizations that helped him over the past nine years while he directed the annual campaigns. Citizens here last year gave more than $5,000 to the Red Cross. Over the nine-year period some $87,000 has been donated by Rupert to the Red Cross. While there are not a great many occasions in this district when the Red Cross has to go into action, the most recent aid was the supplying of blankets to two families whose homes were destroyed by fire at Port Simpson.

New European Plan Urged By St. Laurent

BONN (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent, in the major address of his West German visit Wednesday night suggested a concept of integration of the Western powers much broader than the North Atlantic Treaty Organization or the European Defence Community. In a dinner speech, while a guest of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, before members of the West German cabinet the Canadian leader put forward the idea of a political, economic and defence system of countries situated around the "great basin of the Atlantic." The 25-minute speech at the Palais Schaumburg suggested that European unity may not be the answer to western European problems. Newspapermen were not present, and the text was issued today by the prime minister's staff at Soest, where he went to visit the Canadian infantry brigade in Germany. "Perhaps the time has come now to consider whether some steps towards closer integration should be taken within the larger framework of the North Atlantic community," the speech said. "I suggest we should perhaps be seeking solutions to the problems continuing to face you of achieving greater unity in Europe in a wider context and possibly in pursuit of article two of the North Atlantic Treaty."

Rats Reported At Park Landfill

The Algoma Park landfill garbage dump is going to have a gate placed on it with a sign prohibiting indiscriminate dumping. Persons dumping garbage there after hours will be prosecuted, city public works department officials said today. The move was confirmed shortly before press time by city works engineer Carl Gustafson following reports last night of open garbage and rats at Algoma park, by parks board chairman Pat Forman and Commissioner Bob Eby. Mr. Forman said he inspected the landfill site at the McBride Street park area last weekend and noted uncovered garbage. AFTER-HOUR DUMPING He said he had conferred with the public works department and been told that private citizens had been dumping garbage after fill-work was completed either for the day or for the week. Mr. Eby said he had reports of rats jumping out of the city garbage truck and disappearing into the new dump. Commissioner Charles Balagano said: "There are rats all over town", adding that open garbage attracts them to the dump from other areas. Mr. Forman said that the city engineer wanted a gate placed at the dump site and a sign forbidding dumping after hours. Mr. Gustafson said today such a gate would be built and persons dumping their garbage there after the hours of 4 p.m. daily Monday to Friday or on Saturday and Sundays will be prosecuted. He said private persons could take their garbage there when there was a man to supervise the job. He said rats often jump out of the garbage truck and that workmen often found them in garbage cans in various areas of the city.

Searchers Claim Bodies Inside Wrecked Plane

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (CP)—A ground party radioed Tuesday from the site of a plane crash that claimed three and possibly 10 lives there appear to be bodies inside the wrecked air force C-47 transport. Search and rescue planes circling over the wilderness area some 160 miles north of here reported the ground crew requested additional equipment. The crew remained overnight at the scene and planned to continue its investigations today, the Air Force said.

Westerners Heavy Drinkers Moved to New Jail Quarters

TORONTO (CP)—British Columbia has the greatest number of alcoholics per capita than any province in Canada, a survey by the Alcoholism Research Foundation of Ontario indicates. The survey also showed that western Canada has a greater proportion of drinkers than the East, with British Columbia heading the list with 81 per cent of its adult population listed as drinkers. VANCOUVER (CP)—Twenty-five Sons of Freedom Doukhobor women, fasting at suburban Oakalla prison farm, have been moved to new huts temporarily, prison officials said here Wednesday night. The move was made to allow workmen to repair damage estimated at $3,000 caused when the women set fire to their hut during a Feb. 1 demonstration.

Speaker Modifies Ruling About Pictures in Legislature

VICTORIA—Speaker Thomas Irwin, faced with a mounting wave of protests from newspapers and opposition parties today modified a ruling that would prohibit newspaper photographers from photographing opening ceremonies of the B.C. Legislature next Tuesday. Reversing an earlier decision announced Wednesday that only photographers from the B.C. Government Travel Bureau would be allowed to take still pictures inside the building, Irwin said two press photographers would be allowed inside the chamber. He also said the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation would be allowed to televise the ceremony. The announcement Wednesday brought quick protest from newspapers and all three opposition party leaders who said the ruling was a dangerous violation of the principle of freedom of the press. A spokesman for the Vancouver Newspaper Guild (CCL) said the ruling was "an overt attack on freedom of the press in B.C." Liberal leader Arthur Laing protested what he called "disturbing implication" of the speaker's ruling. "He's going to give them (newspapers) government photographic handouts," he said. "Will it be a handout on new next?" (See earlier story, page 6).

Politics Versus Statehood

THE political angle injected into statehood arguments for Hawaii and Alaska is merely a "smoke screen." It is not entitled to serious consideration.

As Senator Butler is quoted as saying in committee: "I don't know why this committee needs concern itself with whom we are going to elect."

Certain Democrats charged that Republicans wanted to admit Hawaii for statehood since it was Republican, but opposed Alaska statehood because it was Democratic. Thus, the supposition was that Hawaii would send two Republican senators to Congress while Alaska would send two Democrats.

There is no assurance of such elective action in either case. In fact, Alaska elected a Republican legislature in the last election.

The McCarthy investigation of corruption in Alaska also is charged by advocates of Alaska statehood to be a deliberate political game to delay action.

A bill has just been introduced to allow any future state only one senator.

Representatives of the house are elected to Congress according to population.

Previously a bill was proposed also to elect senators on a population basis.

The crux of the whole question is not whether Hawaii would elect Republican senators or Alaska elect Democratic senators, but whether either is ready and capable of assuming statehood status.

With big government construction work in Alaska easing off, The Daily News believes Alaska not ready or capable of supporting immediate statehood.

Along with Senator Butler, we are not concerned about the political angle. We are concerned only with what we believe is best for the general welfare of Alaska.—The Ketchikan Daily News.

STOP WORRYING, PARENTS! SCHOOLS TO OPEN AS USUAL

VICTORIA @—Parents worrying about the Sept. 1 early opening date for provincial schools can relax. Education Minister Robert Bonner said Tuesday opening will take place the day after Labor Day.

The change followed representations made to the education department by parent-teacher groups and individual citizens who believed the early opening date would interfere with holidays.

Polish Peace Plan

IT IS SAD but true that the Western allies now feel compelled to reject Russia's suggestion on Germany, though they themselves would have regarded that same suggestion as the ideal solution had it come a few years ago.

The Western allies stand firmly behind John Foster Dulles' plan.

The Russians are adamant against that plan, or indeed against any plan, which lines up all Germany in a bloc which they consider essentially hostile to Russia.

MR. MOLOTOV offers to the Big Three who sit with him at the same table and through them to all Germans everywhere something much simpler.

An immediate peace treaty, whereby all foreign armies would be compelled to withdraw immediately from Germany; and complete freedom of Germany thereafter, subject only to her guarantee in the peace treaty that she would never arm beyond the point necessary to defend herself.

In other words, Russia suggests that Germany should become a sort of "greater Switzerland" in the centre of Europe. There is an immense appeal in this program, which incidentally is exactly the same as I myself made in this column years ago, as one possible solution.

YOU MIGHT say that the crux and core of the Dulles plan is that all, or as much as possible, of a re-armed Germany, should be included in the western alliance.

You might say that the crux and core of the Russian plan was to keep as much as possible of Germany out of that western alliance; and the best way she now sees of doing this is by offering the Germans what the vast majority of Germans want most—namely to be re-united, and to be free to run their own country in their own way.

NO MATTER how anybody tries to solve the so-called "German problem" immense difficulties remain.

POSSIBLE CONFUSION

Some medical men have been saying that if anyone has been seeing spots before his eyes, he's in for a billious attack. Could have been gazing at a polka dot pattern.

Calling Canadians the "most tasteless people in the world", Dr. Arthur Lismer addressed the Montreal museum recently. Perhaps we are something like that. Like Dr. Lismer, we also love good poetry, yet cannot get away from the more practical conviction that bathtubs and motor cars are important.

Comes a report from Minnesota that a citizen of that state was caught in a blizzard, with the result that part of his face was frozen. From now on there is no time we would care to play poker with him.

One advantage newly weds have in starting out in a small home is that there is less room for argument.

"The white's not over yet". Who said that? The late Sir Harry Lauder of course.

THAT PANHANDLE

The question of Alaska highway paving is reported close to action, in Washington. It should that develop into a fact, it should mean early Alaskan statehood. Nor is that all. It could and eventually would mean economic and defensive unity in the panhandle—involving Canada.

The head of a woman's college says there are three things a woman can make out of practically nothing. These are a salad, a hat and a quarrel. There's also hash, but that was forgotten.

Only a fragile globe... but destined to change the world! The first practical incandescent light, invented by Thomas A. Edison, October 21st, 1879, sparked the advent of the electrical age. It is doubtful if any other invention in modern history has ever meant so much to so many!

This year we celebrate the "Golden Jubilee of Light" to mark the 75th anniversary of the incandescent light. In the official slogan "Light for Freedom, Power for Progress" we pay just tribute to the man whose inventive genius gave a dynamic new dimension to the world we live in.

Coastal Indians' Progress Outlined For Canadian Club

Progress in the lives and customs of west coast Indians and their fervid desire for citizenship were outlined for members of the Prince Rupert Canadian Club last night by Indian Superintendent F. E. Anfield.

Titling his address "Thirty Years With the Coast Indians", Mr. Anfield said that the progress of the natives in those 30 years was amazing. They had advanced during that short time more than any other natives of any country.

Mr. Anfield illustrated his topic throughout with amusing stories, and pointed up the comparative wildness of the Indians just 30 years ago when he had his first contact with the race.

He was in charge of the B.C. reformatory when two Indian boys were brought in. Never having seen a bed before, they slept under it instead of on it.

He told of his work at a residential school in Lytton with the Thompson Indians, and later at Alert Bay, where the Indians lived in community houses and where despite the prohibition of potlaches by law in 1851, the custom was still carried on.

The potlatch was a kind of insurance, he said. The chief took tribute from his tribe, in fur, fish, blankets and other items and piled up the wealth in coppers (great barrels made of copper).

An invitation to a potlatch was in effect, a command, and the people dared not refuse to come. At the accompanying feasts, each member was seated according to his rank . . . ranks which are carried through to this day.

Then the chief would give away all his wealth. But as these gifts were repayable, at 300 per cent interest, the chief could always call for a member to repay his gift.

There were no written records of how much was given to each man, but women of the tribes, with remarkable memories, kept records in their heads, and knew to the last skin or dollar what was their chief's due.

The totem pole, said Mr. Anfield, was originally the visible witness of contracts carried out. They were, so to speak, memo pads, placed beside the door of the community house.

When the potlatch was driven underground due to the white man's laws, it became even more of a problem and one man will ed himself to die in order to break the line of debts amounting to $100,000.

Mr. Anfield also had worked with the natives at Bella Coola and had travelled the trail to Anaham lake where the Indians were the most primitive on the coast.

He had also been at Kitimat, long before Alcan had become interested in the area. Contrary to common belief, he said, the Indians at Kitimat are not Tsimpsians but originally came from Rivers Inlet, and now are an ethnological puzzle because of intermarriage with Skeena Indians whom they met on a trail through the mountains at Lakelse.

His years in Prince Rupert, he said, were the most fascinating years in the growth of the natives.

Out of the Second World War he said, had come great men of state like Churchill, the four freedoms, and Canada's exhaustive survey of Indian problems. And whereas Canada used to spend only $2,000,000 yearly on aid to natives, last year the budget had totalled $29,000,000, and was helping the natives on a program which will take them to Canadian citizenship.

Citizenship, he said, is what the natives want more than anything else, and when they are given relief, they always, without exception, want to do something in the village for the money they have received, striving in their own way to become articulate as good Canadians.

Members were asked to patronize a dance to be staged at the school Friday night by Conrad Cubs and Scouts, as a fund-raising project.

The parent attendance award went to the class of school principal T. G. Bateman.

Mrs. T. Tustin Elected Regent Of IODE Lodge

Reports on the past year's activities and election of officers, with Mrs. T. G. Tustin named regent, highlighted the annual meeting of the Duchess of Edinburgh Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

Other officers elected were: First vice-regent, Mrs. N. E. MacDonald; second vice-regent, Mrs. H. W. McCormick; secretary, Mrs. W. E. Hallwell; assistant secretary, Mrs. F. Hicks; treasurer, Mrs. V. Dexter; educational secretary, Mrs. W. McLean; Echoes secretary, Mrs. J. Moran; honorary regent, Mrs. W. E. Hallwell.

Annual reports noted that the chapter had made donations to the dental clinic, sent food parcels to Britain, Christmas parcels to the children's ward in the hospital donations to the Westminster Abbey fund and to a crippled child in the city. The chapter also had assisted the school at Digby Island.

The group discussed plans for a social evening for members and friends, and the monthly prize was won by Mrs. R. McLean.

MELBOURNE, Australia (CP)— The Victorian state government railway found they wasted time and money answering questions from train enthusiasts so they published "Parade of Power," with pictures, specifications and history of 20 locomotives. The book proved popular and a second edition has already been ordered.

Education Week Tea Planned By Conrad P-TA

Plans for a tea during Education Week, March 7 to 13, were made at the monthly meeting of Conrad Parent-Teacher Association here.

Mrs. R. Mackie was named convener of the tea which will be a feature of Visitors' Day at the school, March 9.

The group also planned a White Elephant sale and tea, to be held at the school in April.

Members were asked to patronize a dance to be staged at the school Friday night by Conrad Cubs and Scouts, as a fund-raising project.

The parent attendance award went to the class of school principal T. G. Bateman.

VICTORIA — Speaker of the legislature Thomas Irwin has ruled that only photographers from the British Columbia government travel bureau will be allowed to take still pictures inside the legislative chambers on opening day, Feb. 16.

The pictures will be made available to the press.

Mr. Irwin said he did not want the traditional ceremony of the rod, where the old mace, symbol of the Queen's authority, is substituted for the new one, interrupted by intermittent flashing of camera bulbs.

He said if he let in one newspaper photographer he must let them all in and too many photographers block the view of the spectators.

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will be allowed to televise the ceremony but no microphones will be allowed on the floor of the house. The announcers' voices will be dubbed in.

At Vancouver, Kenneth Caple, B.C. regional representative for the CBC, said the CBC had "made no formal application to the provincial government for an exclusive coverage" of the opening.

SYDNEY GRUSON, New York Times correspondent in Mexico and Central America, has been expelled from Guatemala by the foreign ministry of that country. The ministry said Gruson "has systematically defamed and injured this republic and its government through the press." Gruson began his newspaper career in Toronto with The Canadian Press.

Storm Lashes Atlantic

HALIFAX — The worst storm of the winter lashed the Atlantic coast Tuesday night, apparently claimed three lives and sank a fishing vessel.

The fishing vessel Liberator, at first feared to have gone down, sailed without her crew into her home port of Glace Bay, N.S., in an early-morning haze. There was no sign of Capt. Tom Barrett, Paul Ford, 19, and Jack Burke, 19.

Capt. Barrett's tiny vessel, heaving and pitched, drifted into port unaided. She followed shoreward a long trail of broken hatches and fishing gear that had drifted to within a few hundred yards of the dock from which she sailed the day before.

Senate Approves Bill Granting MP's Raises

OTTAWA — Parliamentary pay raises, a controversial issue in the Commons, still had only a procedural ripple in the 102-member senate.

The upper chamber Wednesday approved the principle of a bill increasing parliamentary pay to $10,000 from $6,000. The measure now needs only final approval and royal assent to become law.

The legislation got safely through the Commons but on its way it split both the Progressive Conservative and CCF parties.

A majority of each party voted in the Commons Tuesday against giving third and final reading to a bill doubling the $4,000 yearly indemnity of members of the Commons and Senate.

Four members of each party however, backed the measure at the House approved it 153 to 46. The bill also was supported by Liberal and Social Credit members.

The pay increase, retroactive to last Nov. 12, is in addition to a $2,000 annual expense allowance, bringing MPs' total yearly pay to $10,000.

Tuesday's vote showed changes within both the Progressive Conservative and CCF parties from their positions last week when the legislation was given second reading, approval in principle. At that time it was opposed by all PC members and by 15 CCF members, while seven CCF members approved the principle of the pay increase. However, only four of the seven CCF members who supported the measure last week were at third reading. They were Joseph W. Roseworthy, Clarie Gillis, Thomas Barnett and Harold E. Winick.

The three others, including party leader M. J. C. Wells, were among the 15 CCF members voting against third reading.

Rangers Down Wings 3-2 But Still Trail Bruins

By The Canadian Press

New York's unpredictable Rangers hung one on the tough Detroit Red Wings, but it didn't help. They're still in fifth place in the National Hockey League, two points behind Boston Bruins.

The Bruins managed to keep a jump ahead of the New Yorkers, as they have all season, by upsetting the odds-makers with a 3-2 win over Toronto Maple Leafs on Leafs' home ice.

Nobody gave the Rangers much chance against the league-leading Red Wings before last night's game. However, New York showed plenty of class by defeating the Detroiters 3-2 for their first loss in eight games. The Rangers built a 2-0 lead in the first period, checked the Red Wings hard in the second and then held off Detroit attacks in the third.

SCORE FOR RANGERS

Defenceman Harry Howell, Paul Ronty and Bob Chrystal scored for the Rangers.

Right-winger Gordie Howe, the league's leading scorer, tallied both Detroit goals. His first came as he took a pass from Dutch Reibel in front of the New York goalmouth in the second period and drilled it past netminder Johnny Bower. He tallied the second in the last period with a sizzling shot from 10 feet out.

The Bruins capitalized on penalties for two first-period goals and went on to edge the Leafs before 12,459 fans.

Milt Schmidt, Dave Creighton and Cal Gardner were the Boston marksmen. The Leaf goals were by Rudy Migay and Ted Kennedy.

Bobby Kohlruss Sets New High In Ladies Loop

Bobby Kohlruss of Bulgiers in A Division of the Ladies' Five-Pin Bowling League set a new high single for the season Tuesday when she rolled 340 to beat the high of 338 set several weeks ago by Claudia Sanderson.

High three for the night was captured by Agnes Pierce of Lyons with 753, Lois Keays of Stars also chalked up a good triple with 739.

Team high single was won by New Laurels with 1075 and Lyons rolled 2910 for team high triple.

In B Division, Betty Mayers collected double honors when she rolled 320 for high single and put together 630 for high three. Prince Rupert Plumbers took team honors with a high single of 949 and a high three of 2542.

Results:
A Division—Lyons 4, Stars 0; Rupert Radio 4, Sunrise 0; Annettes 3, Bulgiers 1; New Laurels 3, Dibb's 1; Dom's 2, Art Murray's 2; G & A 2, Cloverleafs 2.

B Division—Manson's 4, Big Sisters 0; Wallace R 4, Co-op 0; Cook's 3, Tollers 1; McKay's 3, Steena 1; P.R. Plumbers 3, 75 Taxi 1; 7th Ave. Mkt. 2, Hi-Flyers 2.

But For Wind Landy Runs Perfect Mile

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—Running on a rain-dampened track, John Landy, Australia's premier miler, failed again today to set a world record for the mile as he won the Australian championship in 4:05.6, compared to Gander Haegg's world mark of 4:01.4.

An announcement immediately after the race said it was officially estimated that a southerly wind flowing at the time of the race impeded Landy to the extent of seven seconds.

In other words, Australian athletic officials reckoned that without the wind Landy would have run the mile in less than four minutes.

Landy took the lead after the first lap and won easily by about 30 yards over fellow Australians Jim Bailey and A. Anderson, second and third in that order. Landy's best time for the mile was set last Dec. 12, when he made it in 4:02.

Canucks Edge Bolzano 9-8

BOLZANO, Italy (CP)—The unheralded Bolzano hockey team threw a scare into Toronto Lyndhursts Wednesday night before Canada's representatives in the world hockey championships were able to stave off their late rally for a 9-8 victory.

After disposing of Italy's perennial champions, the Milan Internazionale Club, 9-4, at Milan Tuesday, the Lyndhursts expected an easy night against Bolzano and appeared to be headed for an easy victory in the first period when they opened up a 6-1 lead.

But the stubborn Italians pecked away steadily at the visitors' margin and it took John Petro's fourth goal of the night to sew up the Canadian victory in the third period. Petro's big night made him the leading sniper of the Lyndhursts' European tour with 19 goals. Another left-winger, Fred Clements, moved second place by scoring his ninth tally, Don Couch, Harold Fiskari, Bob Kennedy and Normie Gray completed the visitors' scoring quota.

The victory was the Lyndhursts' sixth straight after a disastrous 1-2 defeat at Paris in their first European appearance.

Vernon Moves To Second Spot

The see-saw battle for second place in the Okanagan Senior League continued last night, Vernon Canadians taking over with a 5-2 win over the visiting Western International League Trail Smoke Eaters. The win had an element of revenge to the Canadians, just returned from a tour of the sister circuit in which they failed to gain a victory in four games.

The win gave the Canadians 51 points, a half-game lead over Kamloops Elks in second place. The Elks have a half-game edge over cellar-dwelling Kelowna Packers.

In the second Interior game, Nelson Maple Leafs moved closer to second place in the Western International League, dumping the visiting Spokane Flyers 7-2.

In action tonight, Trail moves on to Kelowna in the only game scheduled.

Remember When

Ernie Schaaf was knocked to the canvas by Primo Carnera in the 13th round of their heavy-weight bout at New York 21 years ago tonight. Schaaf never regained consciousness; he died in hospital four days later. Carnera went on to win the world title from Jack Sharkey, and lost it to Max Baer in 1934.

Gymnast Honored
HAMILTON (CP)—Ernestine Russell, 16-year-old gymnast from Windsor, Ont., Wednesday was named Canada's outstanding woman athlete of 1953 by the Women's Amateur Athletic Federation of Canada.
