C. Wants Financial Assistance Premier Says Economy Differs

VICTORIA. — British Columbia wants special financial consideration from the federal government, Premier Bennett said Monday.

Bennett did not indicate to a press conference, however, whether the province would be worked out under a Dominion-provincial agreement or through a money agreement.

Premier said B.C. is the most mountainous province in the world and its arable land comprises only three per cent of the total. "We have a different economy," he said. "We are more dependent on natural resources than any other province, not the government, but the people. The government received the money from companies using natural resources."

Development of B.C. was an all-Canada and the federal government should contribute toward it, the premier said.

ANDREW R. GORDON, Canada's foremost authority on the school of graduate studies at the University of Toronto, who takes post July 1, is a member of the defence research committee of Atomic Energy of Canada, Limited, and is head of the university's chemistry department. He was born in England June 21, 1896.

Advocates Naval Blockade

WASHINGTON. — Senator Taft said Monday the administration is not considering a naval blockade against the Chinese in Korea.

Senate Republican floor leaders there are ways to pressure on Red Chinese by a direct assault on troops in Korea.

Seven Guards Hurt Examining Prisoner-Manufactured Bomb

WALLA WALLA, Wash. — Seven members of the Washington State Prison staff were injured Monday in the explosion of a makeshift, prisoner-manufactured bomb.

VAN FLEET BIDS DRAMATIC FAREWELL TO EIGHTH ARMY

SEOUL. — Gen. James A. Van Fleet bade this dramatic farewell to his 8th army troops today: "We have faith that President Eisenhower will find a way to bring peace to Korea as well as to the rest of the world."

Van Fleet Wednesday will surrender command of the 8th Army to Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

Communist China Warns Against Coastal Invasion

HONG KONG (CP). — Communist China announced today any effort to invade the Chinese mainland would be "wiped out on the sea."

The warning came as a welter of reports throughout the Far East described sea clashes, sightings of mysterious vessels and pledges of support for the Nationalist invasion of the mainland.

President Eisenhower touched off the Far East ferment eight days ago by ordering the U.S. 7th fleet to cease shielding the Chinese mainland from a Nationalist invasion.

Today the Peiping radio declared Communist China is building up south coast fortifications into a "defence of steel."

Almost simultaneous with the Peiping broadcast, a 25-minute sea battle took place this morning off an island about 30 miles southeast of the Portuguese colony of Macau.

Reliable sources said Communist patrol boats had exchanged fire with armed junks, believed to belong to Chinese Nationalist "sea guerrillas."

One of the injured men, prison business manager Albert Gruber, may not recover. His arm was blown off.

Al Remboldt, deputy warden, and Gruber were inspecting one of two crude bombs found in a cell when it went off.

Meanwhile, a short-lived rebellion was put down at the Oregon State Prison Monday night and five guards seized by convicts as hostages were released unharmed.

Warden Virgil J. O'Malley said no prison property was damaged during the five-hour disturbance which broke out at 6:30 p.m. as guards entered the segregation cellblock to serve convicts their evening meal.

O'Malley said the hostages were seized to back up the convicts' demands for changes in prison rules.

The prisoners demanded:

• Extension of the exercise period from the present 2½ hours to three hours.

• Regular sentences for time required in segregation cells.

• Convicts in segregation are among the most hardened of the prison's 1,500 convicts. All had been placed there, or in isolation for even stiffer punishment for continued violation of prison rules.

Liberals Used Surplus Cash, Says Bennett

VICTORIA (CP). — Premier Bennett said Monday the outgoing Liberal government last year used up most of the province's surplus cash in a vain attempt to upset the avowed financial policy of the incoming Social Credit administration.

He told a press conference that in the fortnight before Social Credit took office last Aug. 1, the Liberal government employed "very unusual" procedure spending nearly $11,000,000 out of unappropriated revenue surplus without sanction of the Legislature.

The Social Credit government, he said, inherited a surplus of only $1,651,686 from the previous government.

Liberal leader E. T. Kenney said he had no immediate comment but repeated a statement he made in the Legislature that the Social Credit administration had been left the greatest legacy in B.C. government history.

Engineer Will Evaluate Power Company Plans

Aldermen Request Advice by Expert

City council will seek expert advice before deciding whether the B.C. Power Commission or the Northern B.C. Power Co. Ltd. (present supplier) will provide electrical energy for Prince Rupert in the future.

The motion was made by Ald. Ray McLean who said: "I do not consider myself or other aldermen on the council qualified enough to make such a decision without advice first from an expert."

T. B. Black, general manager of the power company, was present and answered many questions directed to him by aldermen.

Mr. Black outlined to council that:

• Further hydro development at an approximate cost of $3,000,000 would be made before present hydro and diesel (including the proposed $400,000 unit) facilities were taxed to maximum output, or 60 per cent increase over present output was necessary.

Mr. Black forecast such a stage might be reached in four years, according to present rate of increase of electrical energy consumption here.

RATE DISCOUNT

• The city would be assured of a rate discount to operate its booster pump if this was found necessary because of the power company's interference with the city's water supply.

• Proposed rates of charge would be those presented to the Public Utilities Commission in August, 1951, which represented a 12 per cent increase over present rates. These rates would be effective if approved by the PUC.

(These proposed rates were contested by city council in a PUC hearing in Prince Rupert and were disapproved by the PUC in its decision last July.)

Council Seeks Restrictions On Lotteries

The Attorney-General of B.C. will be requested by city council to ease restrictions on lotteries in Prince Rupert.

The motion was unanimously endorsed following a suggestion by Ald. George Casey who said the Civic Centre here is "going broke" because it could no longer raise money through carnivals and raffles.

Ald. Kay Smith supported the motion and said several women's organizations in the city also were pressing for release from restrictions in operating small lotteries.

"These are foolish regulations and are causing a good deal of harm," said Ald. Casey. He cited a news item he had read concerning a drive for a hospital in Ontario.

"There they raffled a house for $10,000 for the hospital fund. If they can do something like that in a country where everyone is supposed to go to church, we should be able to do it here."

City Clerk R. W. Long said that while regulations concerning lotteries came under the Criminal Code, provincial Attorney-Generals reserved power of enforcement.

Mother of Five Dies in Fire With Children

EDMONTON (CP). — Seven children and the mother of five of them died in two Alberta fires.

Mrs. Lawrence Lambert and five of her six children died in a fire at Fort Vermilion in Northern Alberta.

In Edmonton, Patricia Pawluk, 2, and 10-month-old William Pawluk died in a fire at their home in City's north end.

Taxpayers Withdraw Appeals

A large percentage of city taxpayers who appealed their 1953 land assessments have withdrawn their appeals following presentation by assistant assessor W. R. Long of a suggested assessment.

This became evident in the crowded council chamber this morning as the second sitting of the court of revision went into session.

Following the 1953 reassessment by recently appointed assessor Harry Daggett, now ill in hospital, 464 appeals were received by the city clerk.

A quick survey, however, showed that by this morning more than half of those appealing have withdrawn and are satisfied with the suggested assessments which in no case have gone beyond 75 per cent of the 1952 assessments on land.

The original 1953 assessments raised land values in some instances by more than 300 per cent in three city sections including the downtown business district.

These assessments were appealed yesterday by the city and the suggested figures posted in lieu of them. However, all taxpayers who entered an appeal earlier may still appeal the new figures. Some also are appealing assessments on improvements.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the daytime session of the hearings continued. Only taxpayers of section 1 (business) are being heard during the day sessions. Tonight at 8, the residential appeals beginning with section 2 will be heard. This system will be continued until all appeals have been disposed of.

'Cat Burglar' Gets 10 Years

VANCOUVER. — A second-storey cat burglar who admitted breaking into 80 Vancouver homes and stealing more than $40,000 in goods, was sentenced Monday to 10 years in penitentiary.

Roland DeRochiers, 36, of Montreal, was described by police as the "greatest cat man ever to operate in Vancouver."

He was captured because he parked his car in a prohibited area—a $2 offence. Police found a loaded .38 calibre revolver in his car.

Later DeRochiers gave a full confession. None of the stolen goods has been recovered.

Moving Mountain Hits CN Main Line

VANCOUVER (CP). — A "land slip" is slowly moving China Bar Mountain, which towers hundreds of feet above the Canadian National Railways main line 16 miles east of Lytton, B.C.

Trains have been rerouted over CPR lines on the opposite side of the valley, returning to their own rails at Hope, 100 miles east of Vancouver.

Reports from Lytton, 175 miles from here, said the earth movement started with a deep rumble.

Heavy rains or a subterranean earthquake may have started the movement, CNR officials said.

Inch by inch the mountain moves toward the tracks, taking out pile foundations, rocks and earth.

Railway officials described a "land slip" as a slow earth movement not to be confused with a landslide.

Scores of men and machines have been dispatched to the scene.

Briefs Cite U.S. Proposal To Buy PGE

VICTORIA. — Copies of a brief containing a proposal for U.S. interests to purchase and extend the Pacific Great Eastern Railway and to get extensive land concessions for industrial development have been circulated among M.L.A.'s attending the current session of the Legislature.

The proposal is the same one mooted at last November's Social Credit convention at Vancouver. It never reached the floor of the convention.

The proposal involves the formation of the "Canadian Alaska Railway Company," which is reportedly prepared to purchase the PGE and finance huge developments. No specific price for the railway has been mentioned. High government officials have shown little interest in the proposal.

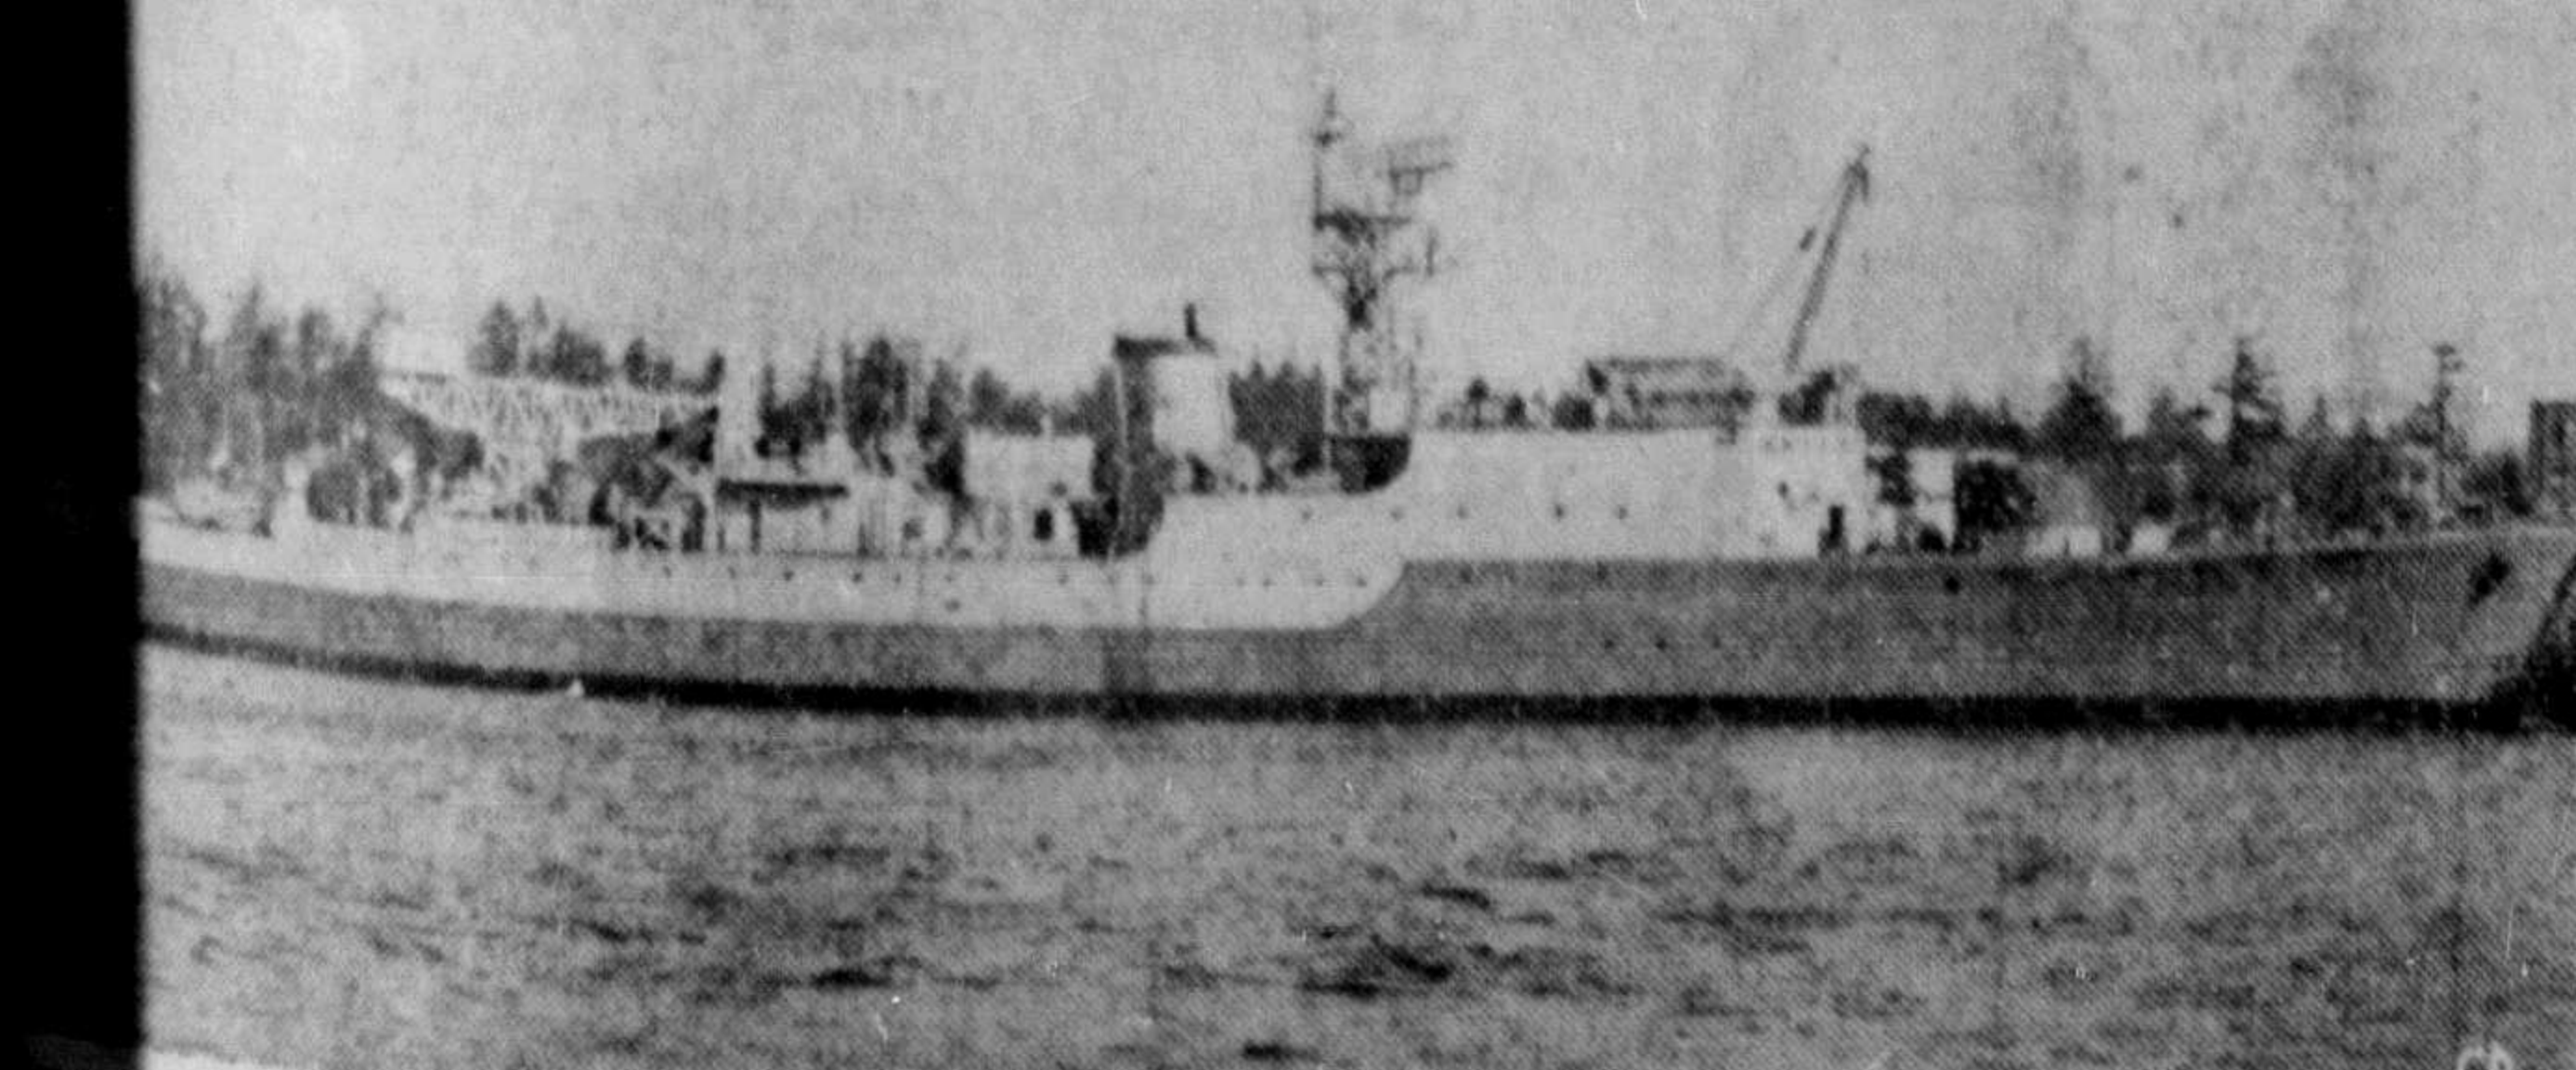

CRUCIAL CAGE CONTEST TO BE AIRED TONIGHT

The senior cage duel set for tonight at the Civic Centre gymnasium between league-leading Mansons and their closest rivals, Gordon & Anderson, will be broadcast over CFRP beginning at 8:30 p.m.

The game is expected to be hotly contested. Mansons are ahead in percentage points, having won eight games and lost five, while G-A's have won seven and lost four. Third team in the league, CCC's, have won three and lost nine.

With only four games left to play until the finals, Mansons must win all of them for a favorable berth in the league championship, but even that doesn't clinch it. G-A's have six games left which include one tie game to be replayed with CCC's and two postponed games.

Finals, scheduled to begin March 3, will be played off between the two top teams of the league in a best-of-five or best-of-seven series.

'Lower Slobbovia' View Wrong

"LET'S Not Fool Ourselves" is the title of the leading article in the current "News Letter" of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. It is good advice, because there is reason to believe that a good many people are acting more like ostriches than intelligent citizens in their attitude towards Russia.

"Far too many of us think of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics as a comic strip Lower Slobbovia, inhabited by ragged, ignorant peasants battling for existence in a perpetual snowstorm," comments the News Letter. "From there it is easy to work ourselves around to thinking that if the Russians really want to fight, we can beat them without working up a good sweat."

As far as Soviet living standards are concerned, a competent reporter, who spent 18 months in the country, says they are rising slowly but perceptibly. Already they are higher than those of northern Greece, southern Italy and some other parts of the free world. This observer says that many Russians feel grateful to the Communist regime for giving them luxuries that their grandfathers never knew. Their economic situation may not be comparable to that existing in most of the freeworld, but it is infinitely better than a large part of the population knew under the Czars.

It may be a comfort to think that Russia is a half-starved land where the people would throw out the present regime if they only had the chance, but it is not safe to believe so. Production-wise, Russia is making progress. She deliberately hides information on her industrial progress, but the current issue of Jane's "All the World's Aircraft"—considered highly reliable—says the Soviet is turning out 22,000 aircraft a year, half of them fighters. U.S. production is about half that.

The fact that Russia's material position isn't as bad as it is painted doesn't mean her people are better off in the full sense of the word. This progress, if you can call it that, has been wrought by forcing on the people a fairly comprehensive form of slavery. The advances are no advertisement for Communism, but they are a warning to the free world of the deadly error of complacency.

The Russians won't stop working to build up the economic strength of the country and to provide the sinews for war. If they do, they'll be shot. If we kid ourselves into thinking we can beat the Russians industrially, and militarily if need be, with one hand tied behind our back, we fall in trouble.

Ray REFLECTS and REMINISCES

A man is incomplete until he's married. Then, he's really finished.

In a mild winter, it would seem, a lot of those up-turned coat collars must be to disguise the Christmas scarf that hides the Christmas necktie.

Hardly anything is considered more responsible for all this talk about good old times than a poor memory.

ALWAYS COME BACK

It was Lord Shaftesbury, back in 1848, who said "Nothing can save the British Empire from shipwreck." Some folk, gazing at the storm-beaten coasts today, may be thinking of saying the same.

When a man in Ohio lost control of his car it smashed right through the front of a tailor shop. It's anybody's guess who had the fit.

SOMETHING BEING SAID

Much is being said in parliament and elsewhere about increasing the amount of the government pensions to all people over 70, comments the St. Thomas Times-Journal. But nothing is being said or done about those who really should be given more money. No matter whether they live alone in rented quarters, or in their own homes, or in boarding houses, they are putting in a bare existence.

Of course, money isn't everything. It isn't even what it used to be.

As I See It

by

Elmore
PhilpottB.C. Liberal Leader

THE FORTHCOMING convention of the B.C. Liberal party is important to all Canada.

It will demonstrate whether the live Liberals are alive enough to slough off the curl-up-and-die, tired, rather tarnished, Liberals.

Incidentally, the convention is of deep interest to the general run of the people, including many who have never yet voted Liberal in their lives. For the more realistic among us are well aware that—despite all its faults—the Liberal party is the main army of social welfare and political progress in Canada.

CANADA MIGHT not have become one of the most socially advanced countries in the world had it not been for the rise of the militant left wing CCF party. The CCF has acted effectively as a whip. But it is the old ornery Liberal horse that has been whipped up by the CCF. You can get along without a whip—especially if your horse is really alive and willing. But you can't get along without a horse or something better.

The Liberal party has given Canada Unemployment Insurance, Family Allowances, Old Age Pensions at 65 with Means test, Universal Pension at age 70 without means test; and in B.C. the best industrial-relations laws in all Canada. In fact, the labor laws put on the B.C. statute books by Hon. George Pearson in the face of the biggest opposition lobby in our history, not only saved B.C. from many and maybe bloody labor disputes. They became a model for all Canada.

THE TEST of survival of the Liberal party in B.C. will be whether or not the forthcoming convention picks the kind of leader who will keep the Liberal party really alive and really Liberal. I hear several names mentioned throughout B.C. anyone of whom would fill the bill (I withhold my personal preference). They are, listed alphabetically:

COLONEL ALAN CHAMBERS, now head of the Veterans' Affairs at Canada House, London. Mr. Chambers is a former MP for Nanaimo. I remember him at the Kelowna Liberal convention back about 1939 advocating what we now call the welfare state, against the stand-pattism of the old, tired, go-slow brigade.

ARTHUR LAING, MP for Vancouver South. The apparent first-choice of the rank and file Liberal workers over most of the province, especially as he has been so long and so deeply identified with the movement to clean out corrupting influences, and to cut clean loose from the millstone of open coalition with Tories, or secret deals with Social Credit. Not too old, not too young, not too radical and not too conservative.

CHIEF JUSTICE GORDON SLOAN. Occupies a unique prestige position in B.C. Has made the closest study of our major industry, forestry, of anybody in public position. Has an admirable record of conciliation in industrial-labor disputes. Deeply respected by organized labor, and business. Could probably win the leadership if willing to enter convention to contest it. But would a Chief Justice take a job when any leader would have to pledge himself to stick with it, win or lose, after the pending B.C. election?

SIDNEY SMITH of Kamloops. One of the deservedly most trusted men in the Liberal party and all B.C. Headed the Legislature Committee which recommended the streamlining of Hospital Insurance system. A safe and sane man, with two feet squarely on the ground, but real Liberal. Respected by everybody, including organized farmers and union labor.

Most Merchants Welcome Order

WASHINGTON (CP) — The United States has shifted back to free-market economy amid predictions there will be little immediate change in living costs.

Merchants generally applauded the President's orders shifting many government controls and said consumers prices won't change much.

Eisenhower junked all wage controls and took first steps to pull away all curbs on prices.

MR. MARTIN REPLIES

Editor,

The Daily News:

Mr. Shelford as MLA for Omineca, seeks to impugn my knowledge of his constituency, but succeeds only in airing his lay opinions on things zoological which will become patent to him with the passage of the years.

His remarks on moose and their calves are the result of insufficient observation and study, but let us call the point controversial and leave it for time to show that species that have survived since pre-historic times will remain unharmed by the comparatively small thing which is now so gradually taking place.

About the lakes that will smell malodorous with rotting vegetation, is it not a fact that many of the smaller lakes in the area are already unfit for man or horse, but may be OK for cattle and dogs? Since many of the smaller creeks dry up in summer and only those folk on the larger lakes are assured a year-round water supply, is it not the usual thing to dig a 10 or 15 foot well?

During the years many settlers have entered this area, quite an influx from Saskatchewan just before the war, around Owen Lake many lots reverted to the Crown, the same goes for the whole area in question: there has been and still is, a continual defection of the young folk. A factual reason for this is that here is one of the lowest yearly average temperatures in inhabited B.C., Wistaria showing 37 F. average, with winter lows down around 40 F. below.

The potential farm land at the head of Ootsa Lake is certainly not 15,000 to 20,000 acres. True there are patches five to perhaps 200 acres throughout the country, but an older generation remembers an attempt to winter range cattle that was quite unsuccessful. The possibility of frost in ANY month of the year precludes full agricultural use being made of much of the terrain.

For all these reasons, those few people who are being discommoded or perhaps worse by the flooding, should not raise too loud a protesting voice against those who have paid them for their losses. Some folk in the Lake Country are content with their cheques, perhaps we both know of others who became greatly perturbed a number of years back when it was whispered that the whole enterprise might be called off!

My driving licence is 39 years old, some years longer than Mr. Shelford has lived. I claim this gives me the right to write of the Buck Flats Road (and others similar) as "grievous"; it is a fact that my daughter and myself have slept many cold nights on the slopes of Morice Mountain. We drove there in a two-ton truck, not a jeep; we drove beyond the last visible car tracks before we took to horses into off-the-round country.

Concerning the forest cover; Mr. Shelford has done some logging around Ootsa Lake and Wistaria too, the stuff that he took from his own place averaged 50 FBM per 16' stick, mostly jackpine of course with a little similar sized spruce; but I certainly wonder why he never took out a licence to cut the 36" diameter trees he claims to know of in thousands, particularly when timber now being salvaged is being sold by his own government at not more than 30 cents per hundred cubic feet for spruce and even less for jackpine!

In any event, a large amount of timber is being cut and removed daily, several enterprising operators being right on the job; nobody need feel that the public rights are not being safeguarded, although the actual flooding and its resultant benefits are now in progress.

I must apologize to you, Mr. Editor, for my encroachment on your space, but this "shot in the dark" impugnation of my knowledge of this area, and the assertion that I have not even visited it, brings ready facts to my pen; since the MLA for Omineca and myself have never met, he should realize that the paths of a farmer-politician seeking votes, and a hunter seeking game are not likely to converge.

I believe, however, he should now be informed that I currently pay taxes on two farm properties in the Omineca Assessment District, and that I vacated one of them but a few months ago on being transferred here.

It is better that we spare a thought for those long-settled Canadians who are to be flooded out along over 100 miles of the St. Lawrence River in preparation for the great St. Lawrence Seaway project; let us be glad for the evidence of the care being used by engineers and others who are to construct five more dams which will prevent a radical (and hitherto expected) change in the level of Ootsa Lake; and remember that our Provincial Game Commission is well aware of its duty towards the creatures which are in its keeping. BOOST B.C. WE'RE DOING ALRIGHT!

SUPPORT THE VARIETY SHOW

Editor,

The Daily News:

May I congratulate you, Mr. Editor, for your splendid editorial, "Keep The Museum Open," under date of February 4.

May I also take this opportunity to congratulate an Interested Citizen for the letter, "Support The Museum," dated February 2.

Our local museum merits the attention of all our citizens. It also needs our support, since we are now confronted with the fact that, unless immediate help is given, our Museum must close. This civic cause is therefore among the important issues at stake.

On March 1, at 9:00 p.m., in the Capitol Theatre, the Credit Women's Breakfast Club (with Pat Bolton and Mel Thompson in the lead) will give of their time and talent to entertain all who have the interests of the Museum at heart. Surely these artists deserve our co-operation, when by simply attending this show, we may be contributing to a new lease of life for our Museum.

The true value of a Museum cannot be stated materially, since it is a living memorial to the first inhabitants of our country, some records of which cannot be duplicated. We should be justly proud to have a Museum in our city and I am pleased to add my name to those interested in preserving this heritage.

Generally speaking, Museums are unique inasmuch as they hold some interest, as well as educational value for every one of our citizens. Another important factor—and one which you

Use Machine For Making Valentines

Did you ever try making Valentines with a sewing machine? Here's some ideas:

Take a hankie, or a square of lawn and embroider a tiny red heart and initial in the corner on the machine. The signature stitch would be good for this, and it is done without any attachments.

Use either red mercerised or silk thread in the needle, with finer thread of the same color in the bobbin. Remove the presser foot, drop the feed or cover with the feed cover plate. Loosen the bobbin tension slightly, but keep the needle tension normal.

Put your square of material between embroidery hoops, place under the needle and follow the outline of a heart traced in the corner in pencil. Put your initial inside the heart. Work on the right side and run the machine quickly but move your hoops slowly so the stitches pile up a little to form a raised outline.

A good way to arouse your little girl's interest in sewing and in using the sewing machine at an early age is to let her make a Valentine on the machine with you.

Give her a large sheet of drawing paper on which you have helped her to trace a heart. Then let her put the paper under the needle and stitch the outline.

The spark stitch makes a pretty red edging for a Valentine. The boucle stitch would look nice on a red felt heart.

Many Attend Shower For Myrtle Sather

A shower was held at the home of Mrs. O. Rudvik to honor Miss Myrtle Sather, whose wedding to Herbert Morgan takes place Thursday.

The bride-elect was seated in a beautifully-decorated chair and presented with a carriage of lovely and useful gifts by little Judy Rudvik.

Games were played and delicious refreshments were served.

Present were Mrs. M. Sather, Mrs. O. Rudvik, Mrs. K. Statta, Mrs. M. Barthwick, Mrs. E. Bate-man, Mrs. V. Norberg, Mrs. B. Hedstrom, Mrs. V. Pierce, Mrs. S. Ballinger, Mrs. F. Shannon, Mrs. O. Skog, Miss Sather and Miss Evelyn Rudvik. Those sending gifts but unable to attend were Mrs. A. Houston and Mrs. J. Furness.

Four B.C. Girls To Visit UK For Coronation

Four British Columbia high school girls will visit Great Britain this summer on a six-week expense-paid tour that will include the Coronation.

The B.C. girls will form part of a group of 50 teen-age girls representing all parts of Canada on a tour sponsored by W. Garfield Weston, Canadian-born international industrialist.

Final selection will be made within two weeks by the Canadian Education Association which is reviewing recommendations of the British Columbia education department. Nominations were received from high school principals throughout the province.

Purpose of the tour is to develop closer Commonwealth relations. Selection standards take into consideration not only a candidate's scholastic record, but also her leadership qualities and ability to absorb experiences and share them with others later. Simultaneously, 50 girls from Britain will visit Canada as Mr. Weston's guests.

In previous years, Mr. Weston has sponsored exchange tours of both boys and girls. The Canadian party will sail for England, May 22 on the Empress of France and will spend several days with members of the British group in London at the Coronation.

New-Type Garbage Truck To be Purchased by City

The city will revolutionize its garbage collection system with purchase of a sanitary-type collection truck at an expected saving of $700-$850 a month.

The truck will be fitted with a 12-yard Leach Packmaster to be operated by one man. This equipment automatically stacks and packs the garbage in an enclosed van under 18,000 pounds pressure. It dumps easily and automatically.

Cost of the Packmaster is $6,550.

"It will pay for itself in a year with the saving in time and labor," said Ald. Mike Krueger, chairman of the board of works, as he moved adoption of the recommendation.

Purchase of telephone equipment for a total of $2,924.52 will be made from the following firms whose tenders were the lowest: Kalen Hardware Co., Automatic Electric, and Fairbanks-Morse.

The following lots were sold, as reported by finance chairman Ald. Ray McLean: Lot 10 and southerly half of lot 11, block 6, section 1 to E. J. Michand for $420; lots 18, 19 and easterly half of lot 20, block 21, section 8 to Maurice Nowack for $175; lot 27 and westerly half of 28, block 6, section 7 to Chester Bowly for $345; lots 5 and 6, block 24, section 8 to Joe Abrattis for $100.

Mayor Harold Whalen suggested that a special committee should be set up to arrange a city-wide celebration for Coronation Day, June 2, when Queen Elizabeth II will be crowned Queen of England.

A request by Mayor F. J. Hume of Vancouver that Prince Rupert as well as all other B.C. municipalities make a contribution to the British Empire and Commonwealth Games Fund was tabled until consideration of estimates for 1953.

Mayor Hume's letter urged that all B.C. take a part in making the Games a success, which would benefit the entire province.

Two letters, one from an organization, the other from an individual, were referred to the board of works for action.

THOM, ARMSTRONG TIE IN TRAP-SHOOT TOURNEY

First team trap-shooting competition of the season got underway at the Rod & Gun Club shooting range Sunday afternoon with teams led by Harold Thom and Bob Armstrong tying for first place.

Kinnamen and the Moose teams tied for second place and Rotarians came in last.

Members on the top teams were: Harold Thom, Bill Woods, Elmer Clausen, Al Manson and R. Christoff; Bob Armstrong, Mrs. Armstrong, Frank Parlett, Tom Boulter, Jr., and Mr. Williams.

An outstanding feat was performed by Clyde Black, visiting from Prince George who broke nine clays out of 10 in a doubles contest. The "backer-up" competition was won by the team of Fitzgerald and Collins, scoring 16 out of 20.

OUTDOORS With Marly —

The Cloyah was thoroughly worked over by different parties on both days of last week-end, and it is fairly certain that the steelhead run is not yet begun.

Water conditions were very good and perhaps cutthroats might have been taken on suitable lures that were not employed by the Steelheaders. More reports later.

This column stands corrected for the recent statement that herring were in short supply in adjacent waters. It was better to have made this statement concerning the harbor only, for your columnist has seen proof of a near saturation content of herring in Gasboat Passage, and of like conditions prevailing throughout the waters likely to be visited by fishermen seeking them; it is a fact that the population of herring in the further reaches of the North Pacific is a well-known fabulous thing, and untouched schools are available when required.

SEVEN-YEAR LIFE SPAN

The herring of this coast is a fish with a usual life span of seven years, by far the great majority of them die of old age after several spawnings; no need to worry that they are going the way of the passenger pigeon just yet!

The herring is somewhat inconsistent in his wanderings, and while he was found in harbor waters in the winters of 1950 and 1951, that is no criterion that he would return this year. It is not possible to predict his return from year to year, and for the same reason the number of Springs in a given locality would differ with the amount of feed fish.

Tip for Steelheaders: If you have difficulty casting a float which is set several feet away from the hook when using eggs or bait, try this. Either make a loop about the depth you wish to fish, or make a bulky knot at that same point—after having run the line through the guides, slip a small pearl shirt button on the line (this cannot pass the previously made knot), next put the line through the loop of the float, then bend on the hook and bait up.

When casting, the whole of the terminal gear will be a compact mass, bait and float assist each other to add length to the cast, and the action of the water will soon draw the bait through the float loop until it is working freely and near bottom; use any lead that conditions may demand. The same stunt may be employed at greater depths when mooching for salmon with lead.

Answering the question as to whether coyotes and wolves mate successfully with dogs. Definite cases are on record and many local people can cite instances. BUT, these hybrid pups are sterile! I cannot give a positive case of a virile male being produced from one of these matings, though genetically it is possible although very rare.

Varmint shooters seeking tops in velocity at extended ranges go for the fully pointed bullets (bronze or otherwise) because of their ability to maintain speed away out; in 30/06 a point holds up at better than 2000 feet per second, while its soft-point fellow, pushed along by the same load, has fallen off to 1700 fps. The Silvertip splits this difference and is pretty good varmint stuff, but look out for your backstop!

Ever try any shooting in the dark? Just put a spot of the same luminous paint that is used on a watch dial, on the tip of the foresight and one on each side of the backsight, it is good enough for short range hurry-up shooting, particularly if one lives in the country and gets an unwanted animal caller. On bright moonlight nights a wide aperture peepsight is satisfactory, and never hesitate to make the aperture large. I use 1/4 inch for brush work on deer with full success.

Hitherto Marty has had to import fishing caps equipped with polaroid eyeshields (for eliminating glare and giving sight penetration down into the water) from Boston, U.S.A. Perhaps these would sell here in town if made available. Only hinting!

Curling Club To Hold 'Spiel Here March 20

The second annual bonspiel of the Prince Rupert Curling Club will open March 20 for a seven day run. Club President Ed Boulter announced today.

About 40 rinks are expected to enter for the six trophies at stake—one more than last year.

Additional trophy is being awarded by Bacon Fisheries.

The bonspiel, open to all visiting and local rinks expects to draw entries from as far as Prince George.

Last year, a similar number of rinks were entered of which two from Smithers captured championship trophies.

The 1952 bonspiel was the first to be held in this city, and followed completion of Seal Cove curling rink.

Winners of the 1952 'spiel were: Grand Challenge (Fashion Footwear) Dominato rink, Prince Rupert; primary (Superior Auto) competition, De Lage rink, Smithers; North Star, secondary, Rowbotham rink, Prince Rupert; Applewhite secondary, Bovill rink, Smithers; Grand Aggregate (Frizzell) trophy, Dominato.

Golf Tourney Sponsors Mad

EL PASO, Tex. AP.—Sponsors of the $10,000 El Paso open golf tournament are boiling mad at Cary Middlecoff for quitting over the condition of the course.

Middlecoff, defending champion, stalked off the windblown, dry-as-a-bone 5,300-yard course last Thursday after shooting nine holes in five-over-par 41, and said it was the worst he ever had seen. "I never before in my golf career took six bogeys in a row nor ever three-putted more than three greens in succession," he growled. "I three-putted five in a row here."

Bauer Sisters Feel Ban on Shorts In Golf Tourneys 'Terribly Unfair'

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—The sports world is sharply divided on a burning issue: Did the U.S. Golf Association do right in banning shorts for all official women's tournaments?

The fairway fathers issued the edict last Saturday. No more scanty, revealing attire for the links lassies. Conservative skirts only.

"We feel it's terribly unfair," said the golfing Bauer sisters, who taught galleries to appreciate more than a pretty swing. "The decision should be left to the individual."

Another staunch shorts wearer is Peggy Kirk, who could grace a chorus line. Says Peggy: "I feel the USGA ban is only against the briefer type of shorts."

The knee-length or Bermuda-type shorts should be okay. They offer freedom."

Canada's Barbara Ann Scott, star of the ice revue who glided to world and olympic figure-skating championships in a brief ballerina skirt, said she thought golf skirts just as attractive but added: "I play golf some . . . in shorts."

From Maureen Orcutt came a strong vote for the USGA action.

"Shorts are all right in tennis and other sports in which players are in an enclosure," said Maureen. "On a golf course, out in the open, they are undignified. Besides, skirts are much nicer."

Gussie Moran, who shocked Wimbledon tennis galleries a few years ago with her fancy lace, panties, said she thought "the modern woman athlete should wear whatever garb is necessary for her to execute the required movement of the sport."

Harry Conover, model agency head who termed lady golfers "dowdies" in naming his "ten most glamorous women in sports" commented: "It's a good move, but they didn't go far enough. They should ban women golfers. That is, unless they live up to the tradition of the Bauer sisters."

THE GREEKS

HAVE A WORD FOR IT

... We mean the magic word that tells a mule to get going. It probably worked better than usual, recently, when Greek mule-drivers had to transport into the isolated interior, roofing materials needed for the construction of refugee shelters. The government purchased 2,000 tons of aluminum for the purpose—and incidentally licked the transportation problem.

Another nice thing about aluminum's lightness is that a given poundage goes two to three times as far as with other metals. It often means that aluminum, with all its advantages, actually costs less, too. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

CARDINALS MAY BE SOLD TO PITTSBURGH SYNDICATE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Post Gazette says representatives of Fred Saigh, owner of St. Louis Cardinals, have offered Saigh's majority holdings in the National League club to a Pittsburgh syndicate for $4,250,000.

The Post Gazette says the syndicate is headed by Charles Morris, prominent Pittsburgh realtor.

Saigh announced he would sell his baseball stock shortly after his recent sentencing to 15 months in prison for income-tax evasion.

High Rates Affect Prairie Lumber Market

OTTAWA (CP)—British Columbia lumber producers, claiming high freight rates are causing them to lose prairie markets, have asked the Board of Transport Commissioners to lower rates.

The board has scheduled a hearing for February 23 at Vancouver to deal with a complaint of the B.C. Lumber Manufacturers Association.

The association consists of sawmill and shingle mill operators and plywood manufacturers on Vancouver Island and the B.C. coast.

Chicago Pays Record Salary

CHICAGO (AP)—Ferris Fain, American League batting champion is perhaps the highest paid player ever signed by Chicago White Sox, coming to terms for a reported more than $30,000.

Fain, who earned $23,500 last season with Philadelphia Athletics, needed just a two-minute phone conversation with a Sox general manager, Frank Lane, to agree on a 1953 contract.

Guesses were the Sox gave him a $2,000 or $3,000 boost over his Philadelphia salary.

Mr. Abel Makes His Own Breaks—Bad Ones

Mr. Abel flubbed his contract in today's hand because he timed it wrong. The king of spades was opened and he won with the ace, led a diamond and finessed the queen.

When it held, he cashed the ace and king of trumps. Next he led to the ace of diamonds, returned a small diamond and ruffed it. He looked very sad when Mr. Dale failed to follow suit on the third diamond lead. He had counted on the suit breaking 3-3.

Now he went to dummy with the ace of clubs and trumped another diamond in his hand. When he led the nine of spades, Mr. Dale ducked and let Mrs. Keen win with the ten. She cashed her queen of trumps, taking the last trump off the board and now Mr. Abel lost two clubs and a spade for down two.

"All I needed was a break in diamonds," he said.

"All you needed to do was to time the hand right," snapped Mr. Champion. "Just let Dale hold the first spade trick."

"I get it," said Mr. Abel. "Then I win the second spade and ruff a spade."

"No, not yet," continued Mr.

B.C. Second To Ontario In Canned Peas

VANCOUVER — British Columbia is the second most important producer of canned green peas on the basis of preliminary estimates of the 1952 pack. B.C. output, second only to Ontario, was 605,075 cases of the nation-wide pack of 3,338,150 cases.

"It was the first time in the past 10 years that B.C. vegetable canneries packed more green peas than Quebec," stated J. W. Edwards of Vancouver, Pacific district sales manager of a can-making firm. "The 1952 pack was an all-time record for canned peas in B.C."

Emphasizing the importance to the province's economic welfare of the expanding vegetable pack, Mr. Edwards said peas and other crops are an important source of income for growers as well as providing wages for farm and cannery employees.

Chicago Pays Record Salary

CHICAGO (AP)—Ferris Fain, American League batting champion is perhaps the highest paid player ever signed by Chicago White Sox, coming to terms for a reported more than $30,000.

Fain, who earned $23,500 last season with Philadelphia Athletics, needed just a two-minute phone conversation with a Sox general manager, Frank Lane, to agree on a 1953 contract.

Guesses were the Sox gave him a $2,000 or $3,000 boost over his Philadelphia salary.

Tommy Reilly, six-foot-two musician from Ontario, plays a harmonica theme as background music for the British thriller "Street of Shadows." It is the first time the harmonica has been used as background to a movie and film people are predicting the music may become as popular as the zither accompaniment to the drama "The Third Man."

West German Film Makers Draw up Working Agreement

By DON DOANE

MUNICH (AP)—West German movie makers have taken a step which they hope will set their industry on the road back to pre-war prosperity.

But American officials appear worried that this may lead to another film monopoly like UFA, one of Hitler's biggest propaganda weapons.

The action arousing such hope and concern is this:

A co-operative association of 1,300 theatre owners has joined with a film-producing company and a film-distributing agency to make, distribute and exhibit its own films.

This is a pretty close resemblance to the way it used to be done in the pre-war Reich by "Universum Film Aktengesellschaft," the big trust which dominated the entire German movie field.

PROPAGANDA AGENCY

UFA not only made and distributed films, but even owned most of the theatres which showed them. It turned out some fine movies. But it was 51 per cent government-owned to begin with, and when Hitler seized power, he turned UFA into an outright propaganda agency.

After the war UFA was outlawed and broken up as a monopoly under the Allied decartelization law.

Founders of the new combine deny they are trying to set up a new UFA. They describe their producer-distributor-exhibitor tieup as only a co-operative working agreement in which each agency remains separate and independent.

They say their aim is to overcome one of the main weaknesses of the post-war German film industry—its division into many small companies with none big enough to operate efficiently.

Another difference from UFA is that it is small theatre owners who now are acquiring production interests instead of a big producer becoming a monopolist theatre owner. Only about a quarter of West Germany's 4,700 movie houses are in the association.

Most of the leaders in the new enterprise are former UFA men.

ABBOTT SEES BRIGHT FUTURE FOR CANADA

TORONTO (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott has taken a pre-budget look at the roots of Canada's prosperity and concluded that Canadians "can face the future with confidence."

The man responsible for federal tax rates said in an address here he couldn't talk about taxes because he had a date to say something about that "in another place" in the near future.

But it is no secret, he added, that this is the time of the year when he takes a close look at the economic structure and the underlying forces shaping Canada's future. What he has seen is encouraging.

Mr. Abbott's 1953-54 budget, to be brought down Feb. 19, is developed after government economists examine what the country's production will yield in the way of tax revenue.

"We move forward into 1953 against a background of solid achievements," he said. "We have high levels of employment; the economy is producing a rising level of real income for all our people; we have prosperity without inflation. There is a new opportunity to establish world trade on a better basis."

There likely will be new problems ahead, but Canadians should not be unduly worried, said Mr. Abbott. The progress Canadians have made in building a balanced and flexible economy will make it easier to deal with "any difficulties which may arise."

Mr. Abbott estimated that Canada's exports for 1952 reached a record $4,300,000,000, but noted that the main increase took place in trade with Britain and other overseas countries.

Editor's Son Loses Life

SEATTLE (CP)—An avalanche snuffed out the life of a 17-year-old youth, stunned one of his pals, and sliced the skis off the feet of another in the Cascade Mountains Saturday.

Body of Keith Jacobsen, son of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer's city editor, Berne Jacobsen, was found Sunday, buried in snow and mud.

His companion, Larry Schinke, was found on the edge of a 100-foot slide of snow, mud and rocks. He was described as dazed and shaken, but able to talk.
