Reward for Lost Plane Extended Search in North Continues

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—A search for a missing twin-engine airplane in the northern wilderness of Alaska Tuesday continued, but there never was any radio report—not even a reply to the clearance over Annette.

(Locally, Doug Hague and J. S. Burns in an Aero Club Taylorcraft spent all yesterday afternoon combing the area east of the Skeena River between Terrace and Woodcock with no success despite the fact that weather conditions were good and the terrain below could be plainly scanned.

No other planes from Prince Rupert were out on the search yesterday.

As the search centre shifted inland, two members of the 43rd air rescue squadron para-rescue team at McChord air force base, Wash., were flown north to Prince George, B.C., to be near the scene for emergency action.

A search for a second plane is overlapping the Hall search. It was flown by John Petersen, Atlin, B.C., bush pilot. He vanished while flying alone last Thursday. A ground search party remained isolated in the northern wilds on a trip to check on a report of possible plane wreckage, originally reported by two prospectors.

Searchers discounted the possibility that, if located, that it would be the Hall plane.

Stenographer Admits Slaying Ex-Boy Friend's Teenage Sister

Young Girl's Body Found Shot, Slashed

NEW YORK (AP)—A sobbing Massachusetts stenographer, after hours of protesting her innocence, early today admitted the slaying of her former boy friend's teen-aged sister, Massachusetts police officers said.

Detective David Murphy, a Massachusetts state trooper, said pretty Mildred McDonald, 25, had signed a written statement admitting she shot Mary di Rocco, 14, in the di Rocco home in Somerville, Mass., Monday.

Miss McDonald, also of Somerville, was taken into custody here Tuesday night near Times Square.

Police in Somerville started a search for her soon after the body of the teen-ager was found Monday. The slain girl had suffered five bullet wounds, her throat was slashed, and her clothing was covered with oil. Police said the slayer apparently had tried to set the body afire.

MARRIED ANOTHER GIRL

Miss McDonald had been dated for three years by one of the slain girl's brothers, Joseph. He married another girl last April. New York police said Miss McDonald said she came to New York Monday afternoon.

The officers said they found in her possession a gun of the type used in the Massachusetts killing, a knife, loaded cartridges and six discharged cartridges.

Police said Miss McDonald admitted going to the di Rocco home to talk to Joseph's mother about him.

However, Murphy said, Mary was the only one home and she commented on the happy marriage of her brother. This comment angered Miss McDonald, Murphy said.

Minutes later Mary ordered Miss McDonald from the house and threatened to call for help if she stayed. Incensed, Miss McDonald suddenly drew her gun and made the teen-ager a virtual prisoner, watching over her as she twice answered telephone calls from a cousin.

Reds May Return More POWs Than Originally Promised

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Another 400 United Nations soldiers returned from North Korea stockades today amid indications the Reds will send back some Americans handed jail terms and possibly more prisoners than they originally promised.

Two of 133 Americans who crossed into friendly hands today said some fellow Americans sentenced to prison for "instigating against the peace" were awaiting repatriation, possibly in a day or two, at Kaesong, Kaesong, just north of Panmunjom, is the Red holding point for Allied POWs.

The apparent switch in the Communist attitude toward these prisoners followed protests by the UN command that the Reds were holding back dozens of men on trumped up charges.

At the Allied base camp at Munsan, UN command spokesmen said there would be no comment on the reported return of the jailed Americans.

Along with 133 Americans, the Reds returned 17 British and 250 South Koreans today, the 22nd day of the big exchange of war prisoners.

And 150 Americans and 250 South Koreans will be handed over Thursday, the Reds said.

The Reds have promised to return 12,763 Allied prisoners—including 3,313 Americans—but Red Peiping radio hinted they might send back more.

Sawmill Fire Fourth in Month

VANCOUVER (CP)—A sawmill along the Fraser river here was destroyed Tuesday night by a fire which apparently smouldered undetected for more than an hour before bursting into flames. Damage is expected to exceed $40,000.

Destroyed was the Sunset sawmill, operated by the Melke Bros. Trucking Company. It was the fourth Fraser river sawmill to be swept by fire in just over a month. Cause of the fire was not determined. In the other three, police and fire department officials are investigating the possibility of arson.

The boys were kept in the monkey cage for a short period to teach them and other mischievous children a lesson. Later, the lads said they were sorry about the whole affair and promised to tell their friends how to behave properly at the zoo. Signs shown were placed in front of the cage to put across the whole point of their brief confinement.

Mother Role for Fighter Planned for Big Bomber

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Air Force says it has fitted the long-range B36 bomber for a new role.

Taking off with an F84 jet plane in its cavernous belly, carrying it to within striking distance of a target, releasing the fighter for a strike, at more than 600 miles an hour, and then recovering it in mid-air.

The air force Tuesday released for the first time photographs of the B36 in its mother role.

Other sources pointed out that if the big bomber can launch a fighter plane it should also be able to launch guided missiles. Moreover, both the B36 and the F84 have been described by the defence department as capable of carrying atomic bombs.

So the combination seems to provide a formidable merger of speed, range and killing power.

The six-piston engines and four jet engines of the B36 give it a speed of more than 435 miles an hour and an overall range of 10,000 miles, assuming a 10,000 pound bomb is dropped midway, or a combat radius of 4,000.

The swept-wing F84, with its speed of more than 600 miles an hour, has a combat radius of about 850 miles.

The air force said its new development was the first known arrangement for flying a full size combat plane from a mother aircraft, although small experimental planes have been so flown.

ROBBER PHONES PAPER TO CORRECT NEWS ITEM

VICTORIA (CP)—It seems even robbers want their press notices accurate.

Tuesday night the telephone on the Daily Colonist news desk rang.

The voice at the other end of the wire was calm, quiet and a bit indignant.

"That report on the Butler Brothers robbery in Tuesday's paper is not right," it said. "We didn't take any shovels, or cheques or clocks."

"This," the voice added, "is one of the robbers."

While the reporter was thinking what to say next, the telephone went dead and the conversation was over.

Boycott by South Korea Threatens Peace Conference

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A South Korean boycott of the Korean peace conference is threatening the United Nations.

Syngman Rhee's representatives said they couldn't attend a parley with India present unless the Indians sat on the Communist side of the table.

Foreign Minister K. T. Pyun and Col. Ben C. Limb, South Korea's permanent observer at the UN, said Monday night: "The Republic of Korea finds it impossible to collaborate with India on the same side."

"If India wants to sit on the Communist side, all right," added Pyun. "We are not vetoing who will be at the peace conference. But we certainly can say whether we will be there, and we certainly may walk out or boycott the conference if the UN goes ahead and votes to sit India on our side."

Pyun earlier had bitterly attacked India before the UN assembly's political committee as an appeaser of the Communists, "not only trafficking with them but making the world look contemptible."

India's candidacy for the conference is backed by Britain, Canada and two other Commonwealth countries, Russia and most of the Arab-Asian bloc. The United States opposes India at the peace table, arguing that to admit her would discriminate against such other neutrals interested in Korea as Japan and Nationalist China.

Our New Strength

IN its current Monthly Review the Bank of Nova Scotia does well to remind us of the tremendous role minerals have played in Canada's recent growth. Up to comparatively recent times the great bulk of our wealth came from above ground, from our farms and forests. We still have these but in addition we have added metals, oil, gas, iron ore and others. Since 1929 output of these has gained almost five times and it is still climbing.

Mineral development in Canada has widened our frontiers, given us new towns and cities, new railroads, new industries and new jobs. Above all it has broadened and deepened our economy and made us far less vulnerable to outside influences.

A lot of this new wealth is not due to any recent discovery. For years we have known that there was iron ore in Northern Quebec and Labrador, that there was an abundance of gas in Western Canada, that there must be many more minerals locked away in the Precambrian shield. But we lacked the necessary capital for exploitation.

As the Bank of Nova Scotia points out "the present immense scale of expansion is the result of a favorable economic climate, a climate that has encouraged the very large outlays of capital needed to open up remote areas." In our own best interest we must do everything possible to make sure that favorable climate is maintained.

Adenauer Using U.S. Methods In Election Race

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany's tough old Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, fighting for re-election at 77, is making his political opponents squirm with some campaign methods borrowed from the United States.

Taking a leaf from American and Canadian political candidates, the chancellor is crisscrossing the nation on a "whistle-stop" tour to let millions of German voters see and hear him.

He's travelling in a bright red special train replete with all the trimmings—press agents, hatted advisers, a radio telephone, bodyguards, teletype printers and a separate car for reporters.

So far, Adenauer has covered 3,384 miles. He is going 3,000 more before the election on Sept. 6.

This doesn't count side trips by automobiles. In a baggage car, the chancellor carries two black Mercedes limousines. He roars off in these on frequent side jaunts.

Adenauer is by far the best-known figure in German politics and his opponents are jittery about so many people getting a chance to see "Der Alte," the old one, as the Germans affectionately call him.

VICTORIA Report

by J. K. Nesbitt

VICTORIA—When this reporter gets tired of politics he takes a short run into the countryside and finds calmness by talking to people who live on the land.

There wasn't time to get very far this year, but a few days in the Fraser Valley sufficed. I paid a visit to the pleasant little town of Ladner, and decided I would not mind living there. We motored through Surrey, and from a road high up looked down on some wonderful farms. We visited the Hillbrooke Farm, on the main highway, near Green Timbers and talked to Teddy Patterson and his wife. What a place. Is any other household in all B.C. so busy? Mrs. Patterson was busy preserving—what delicious smells—and she was looking after her buglies, too, hundreds of them of the most wonderful colors. Mr. Patterson raises turkeys—and beauties they are. And Mr. Patterson's brother-in-law, just out from Winnipeg, grows some of the finest vegetables on the lower mainland. I'll never forget their cucumbers—and their fried turkey.

At Haney we ran into the Maple Ridge Fall Fair, an historic event, and a delightful day of rural living we experienced. I don't know much about horses, but must admit I was much captivated by the horse show, and astonished, and sometimes breathless, the way mere youngsters clung to the backs of big animals, which sometimes jumped clear into the air. The fair at Haney was a great treat—and I didn't hear politics mentioned all day.

But back to work and once more into the thick of politics—post-mortems on the recent Federal election, and plans for the coming session of the B.C. Legislature.

I can only say this about the B.C. results in the Federal election—that it appeared to me the strong Social Credit-CCF swing in June provincial election was carried through federally. How often can you look at it? S.C. came up with four seats, when it had none before; the CCF gained four seats; the Liberals lost three seats, and the Conservatives stayed where they were—at three, and they would not have got those three without the strong names and personalities of George Pearkes, David Fulton and Howard Green.

So, looking over the hard facts and figures, I can't see how anyone can say Social Credit has shot its bolt in this province.

The Leader of the Opposition and private Social Credit members will be back in the limelight at the session opening Sept. 15.

At last spring's session, there was much hue and cry because, said the oppositionists, cabinet ministers hogged the works, grabbing all the cream, leaving private members with nothing but skim milk.

It was this way: Premier Bennett moved, and Attorney-General Bonner seconded that Thos. Irwin be elected Mr. Speaker. Usually the Leader of the Opposition seconds this resolution, to prove that the Speaker has the support of all sides of the House.

Agriculture Minister Kiernan moved and Education Minister Rolston seconded the Address in Reply to the Speech from the Throne. These high honors are usually reserved for private members, two who have the government's confidence, and so anything they say may be taken as government policy.

This session, however, Leader of the Opposition Arnold Webster will second the nomination of Mr. Irwin as Speaker. The Premier has already asked him, and he will so do. The address in reply will be moved and seconded by private members. Premier Bennett says so, and he's the boss.

He told this reporter the other day that cabinet ministers did all the honors last session to prove that, even if it was a minority government, it had constitutional right to govern. Social Credit having been called on by the Lieutenant-Governor to form a government.

Government House is a bit perplexed about this session, the second in a year. Sessions come expensive to Government House. Two state dinners, a state ball and luncheons for wives of M.L.A.s aren't peanut butter sandwich affairs. They're filet mignon, the right wine with the right course, fingerbowls, butlers and maids. And the Lieut-governor has to pay the bill from his own pocket. The only break he gets is liquor at cost. So it doesn't look as if there will be any big affairs at Government House this session, which will be disappointing to M.L.A.s who like to swank in the governor's mansion and so impress the folks back home.

There'll probably be a compromise—a high tea (with a drink or two of that tax-free liquor) following the House opening.

THERE WERE ALL SORTS OF GAMES planned for these children at the Bettow Community playgrounds in Topeka, Kan., but the games were ignored. The children were lured to this big elm, and had a delightful time being up a tree!

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLennan

Amongst the Senate vacancies which Prime Minister St. Laurent will have at his disposal when he returns to his office about a week hence will be one in Montreal belonging traditionally to an English-speaking Protestant. And there is more than the usual suspense in Liberal Party circles to see what the Prime Minister does about it.

For the course followed in respect to that vacancy is regarded as an important tip-off in the matter of the coming Liberal leadership race when Rt. Hon. Mr. St. Laurent resigns—whenever that may be.

Fred Whitman, ex-Liberal MP for Notre Dame de Grace and surprise victim of a successful Conservative candidate in the recent voting, is recognized as the logical candidate if the appointment is made now. But if the appointment is not made at this time, it will be understood that the vacancy is being held open for Finance Minister Douglas Abbott, who has been talking about an early retirement for some time past and whose claim upon the Senate post is superior to Whitman's.

If Whitman is appointed in the near future, therefore, Liberal Party circles will take it as an indication that "Doug" Abbott has changed his mind about retiring to private life. And if Hon. "Doug" does change his mind and remain in the political arena, it is reported to be a certainty that he will be a candidate for Mr. St. Laurent's mantle when the Liberal leadership change comes about.

In that event the Liberal leadership contest probably would be a three-way one between Messrs Abbott, External Affairs Minister "Mike" Pearson, and Citizenship and Immigration Minister Walter Harris. Liberal circles do not take seriously the possibility of State Secretary "Jack" Pickersgill being a contender. Even more surprisingly, there is a predominant belief that Health and Welfare Minister Paul Martin, who showed strong support at the 1948 convention, will not be a contestant again.

In a three-man field consisting of himself, Pearson, and Harris, the chances of "Doug" Abbott are looked upon generally as something more than just promising. Despite the unpopularity of his role as tax-imposer, there are few better-liked individuals in the Commons than the Finance Minister. And no one is more highly respected on all sides of the House. The consensus of opinion is that if he goes to the post in the leadership race, he will be a hard man to beat.

Impending Autumn Rains Threat To Already Devastated Greek Towns

ARGOSTOLION, Greece (AP)—Impending autumn rains threaten new disaster to 130,000 earthquake victims on Greece's devastated Ionian Islands, British and U.S. rescue officers said today.

They warned that only speedy completion of the Greek government's temporary housing program on the islands of Kefallinia, Zakynthos and Ithaca could stave off further widespread suffering when the rains begin in mid-September.

The Athens government announced last week it was prepared to spend "about 25 to 30 million dollars in the islands," laid waste by a series of destructive quakes that began two weeks ago.

The warnings of the possible new crisis came as Gen. Dimitrios Iatrides, chief of Greek rescue operations, announced that an estimated 130,000 persons were homeless after the quake disaster.

The death toll has not been officially determined but the most reliable estimates place it around 1,000. Hundreds of other persons were injured.

Minor earth tremors have continued daily since the initial shocks.

Iatrides reported that 60 per cent of the survivors, or 78,000 persons now were housed in 4,175 tents. He declared that "another 5,000 tents will take care of all needs."

Workers reported that inhabitants of isolated mountain villages are sleeping out of doors. U.S. marine corps officers working to repair Kefallinia's

Brenner Keeps Broncs in Lead

By The Canadian Press
Manager Bill Brenner pitched and batted Lewiston to a 9-7 win over Wenatchee Tuesday night to preserve the Broncs' narrow lead in the Western International Baseball League pennant race.

Brenner scattered 10 hits as he marked up his 21st victory on the mound, and drove in the winning runs with a sixth inning double.

The win kept the Broncs six percentage points ahead of the Spokane Indians, who also won. Spokane, keeping pace with the Broncs, posted a 6-1 triumph over Yakima.

Don Bricker's three-run homer in the top of the 10th inning provided Calgary's winning margin in a 10-9 victory at Tri-City.

Victoria shut out Vancouver on both ends of a twin bill, winning the opener, which went eight innings, 2-0 and the nightcap, 6-0.

In the Pacific Coast League Seattle defeated Sacramento, 4-1 and Los Angeles shaded Hollywood 7-4. The games cut Hollywood's margin over the Rainiers to 9½ games.

The lowly Oakland Oaks conquered the San Francisco Seals twice, 2-0 and 7-1.

Life Suspension Of Rider Upheld

VANCOUVER (CP)—Suspension of jockey Richard Rossall from racing for life was upheld Tuesday at a special hearing at Exhibition Park. The suspension is effective throughout North America.

The hearing was held before Bert Thompson, Western representative of the Jockey Guild, who flew here to investigate the case after the 17-year-old rider from Peasanton, Calif., was set down for an unsatisfactory ride here aboard Vally Band Aug. 18. He was accused of "pulling" his mount.

In a prepared statement, Thompson said he "must agree with the official ruling that he, Rossall, shall be ruled off the race track for life."

The statement also said a jockey in the same race gave evidence at the hearing that Rossall had told him of betting $100 on another horse in the race for which he was set down.

Rossall denied betting on another horse and said the $100 had been on his own mount.

With less than five weeks to play even Roberts, who at one stage looked a good bet to win 30, probably will consider himself extremely fortunate if he comes close to his last year's total of 28.

The strong-armed righthander posted victory No. 21 Tuesday night 13 days after winning No. 20, by handcuffing Milwaukee on five hits for a 6-1 decision.

Closest to him in either league is lefty Warren Spahn of the Braves who won his 18th Sunday.

Five of the other 10 hopefuls worked Tuesday night. Carl Ernsine of Brooklyn, Gerry Staley of St. Louis Cardinals and Bob Porterfield of Washington all won their 16th games. Billy Pierce of Chicago White Sox failed in his bid for No. 17 and Bob Lemon of Cleveland was beaten trying for his 18th. Roberts' success Tuesday night enabled the Phillies to break even since the Braves took the second game 6-2. Brooklyn split a pair with Chicago Cubs, losing 3-1 and winning 6-5. The Giants beat the Cardinals 3-0 and lost 9-2. Cincinnati won two from Pittsburgh, 8-6 and 9-8.

In the American League the Yankees picked up a game on the White Sox and now lead by 9½. New York edged Detroit 6-3 in 11 innings and Chicago lost to Philadelphia Athletics 4-2. Washington beat Cleveland 8-4 and Boston and St. Louis Browns weren't scheduled.

Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee hit his 40th home run in the first game off Roberts. In the nightcap Lew Burdette, the best percentage pitcher in the league, won his 13th against two losses.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GALE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—There will be no attempt here to picture the big league ball player as a downtrodden slave to a band of greedy masters, but it might be possible to explain from personal observation some of the irritations which have driven the diamond heroes to hire themselves a lawyer.

In the main, the grievances of the athletes are minor ones when taken individually. None of them is of a nature to create a great deal of sympathy for what is generally considered to be a highly-privileged group of young men. When they are lumped, though, they add up to quite a pile of discontent.

They burn about the rigors of the two-light doubleheader and about the late night game from which they rush to catch the last train to their next stop, where they must show up at the park again by noon, still only half awake. They complain that their insides are chronically upset while they are on the road.

Players who, through no fault of their own, are attached to the less wealthy clubs, are jealous of the more considerate treatment given their opponents with the rich and successful outfits. One of their goals will be to obtain uniform handling when away from home.

To illustrate the present disparity, reporters with New York Yankees were astonished upon boarding a post-midnight train out of Philadelphia the other morning to see members of Philadelphia A's, including manager Jimmy Dykes, munching sandwiches and downing bottled beer on the platform. The Yankee party entered its own private dining car and ordered steaks.

COST OF LIVING

Another common gripe is that salary has not kept pace with the cost of living. We have heard players doubt seriously that they were smart in staying with the game. We might add that the average big leaguer of today is bright enough and sufficiently educated to have tackled the business world with some chance of success.

"All you fellows write about are the stars who make the real big money," we were informed recently by an ex-player who got out while still young. I was in the big leagues for four years and I was making exactly $9,000 a year when I quit. I didn't think that was anything to look forward to."

At that, he was doing better than many of them. The minimum pay at present is $5,000, and occasionally we hear an amazing story of the puny salary being paid some fairly well-known player. This does not happen too often, for such a player is reluctant to admit his lowly financial status. He would rather contribute to the legend of whopping big league pay.

SOON
THE ATOM WILL BAKE A CAKE

ANY DAY NOW there'll be news of some revolutionary civilian use of atomic power.

HEATING? . . . already the British are heating houses from an atomic pile. TRANSPORTATION? . . . we'll soon have atom driven submarines—will we also have atom powered cars and planes? . . . HOUSEKEEPING? . . . will we get new foods, textiles, dishes and labor-saving devices in unheard-of abundance?

Whatever the first big break in peacetime atomic invention, you'll want to know how it works, who figured it out, where it will be produced—and, most of all, who has it and where you can get it in this city.

You'll want the whole story—as only your local paper's news columns or ads can tell it to you. That's how it is with every important news or product story.

It may be important to every living human being from here to Timbuctoo, but only your local newspaper can tell it as it affects YOU.

And there's SOME news that affects you—in some phase of your life—every single day.

So you read the newspaper every day—and so does everybody else. It's one thing people won't do without.

Why do advertisers invest more of their money in newspapers than in any other form of advertising?

Simply because everybody reads the newspaper every day—for its advertising as well as for fun or for news.

So—if you're selling something that's advertised, why should it be advertised only to FRACTIONS of the people who can buy?

When it comes to advertising, you want your selling message brought before as large an audience as possible. In the newspaper it can be read leisurely and studied. The illustrations make your message and its descriptions clear.

Where merchandise can be bought or the service obtained in your community is there, black on white. And the advertisement may be clipped as a memorandum reminding the reader to buy.

THE NEWSPAPER talks to everyone in town. It's created fresh every day to appeal to everybody. Just as you read the paper now, all your customers and prospects read the paper too—at the times they choose, for as long as they choose!

Only the newspaper is first with the most news . . . first with the most people . . . first with the most advertisers!

Labor Legislation Threat To Freedom Asserts Lawyer

BOSTON (AP) — Andre Taschereau, president of the Canadian Bar Association, today listed administrative rulings and labor legislation as "threats to the freedom of the individual."

Taschereau, in a prepared address before today's 75th annual meeting of the American Bar Association, said that "administrative rulings are made by labor boards in Canada similar, at least, to those made in law courts on very important matters."

"While great sums of money are frequently involved," Taschereau said, "there is no appeal from their decisions or judgments, even though they may have been rendered by a bare majority of the board."

"Even worse, these boards may exceed their jurisdiction, but the litigants have no redress against their rulings—so at least says the law."

"The courts have, as a result, lost all control over them and a gross miscarriage of justice may result to the parties thus deprived of the protection that has been afforded to pleaders since time immemorial."

Taschereau said "people must be taught to respect the law if we are to have freedom."

"New ideas and ways of life have created situations that have baffled even the cleverest jurists, sociologists and economists," he said.

"All they can do is to experiment by way of trial and error; but given freedom and the rule of law, errors can usually be corrected."

"People are not satisfied with the established order of things and they try to bring about a change by taking matters into their own hands, regardless of the laws enacted by the properly constituted authorities."

PETER THE SECOND can't look you in the eye—he's that ugly. Less than one year old, weighing a mere 300 pounds, the little renow hasn't quite learned to live with his ugliness. But someday he'll be big and fat and mean as the late Peter the Great, the hippopotamus he's replacing at New York's Bronx Zoo, and then—look out!

"Journalist" Bamboozles Newspapers and Magazines

ESSEN, Germany (Reuters)—Hans Everings, 24, is an ambitious fellow and he learned plenty from a book called "How to Become a Journalist."

He went on trial here today because the prosecution says he bamboozled a lot of people into thinking he was running three news agencies—netting him some badly needed cash.

● Bought 34 rubber stamps, rented a typewriter and set up an office in a windowless attic in Essen;

● Persuaded 30 big West German newspapers and magazines he was the chief of three news agencies—which he gave important-sounding names;

● Promised 500 people —

many of them scientists, jurists and writers—that he would get them into print—and collected financial contributions in advance;

● Accepted their manuscripts and photographs—and used them to keep the stove in his attic going;

● Issued "press passes" to various parties for which he collected about $500.

Hans is charged with defrauding at least 10 persons through the three "news agencies." He has eight previous convictions on various charges from falsifying documents to embezzlement.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Calling "Bluff" Often Proves Highly Costly

Probably you will recognize the John Doe who held the West cards in today's deal. He is a player who is driven to all kinds of desperate measures by an opposing pre-emptive opening bid. He is not to be talked out of anything. He will not be shut out of the bidding.

Of course the player who boasts he is never bluffed by an opposing psychic or pre-emptive bid is a loser in the long run. In many cases where you suspect an opponent of making a psychic bid, you simply cannot afford to find out for sure—especially when you are vulnerable and he is not.

Occasionally you will be bluffed out of a game. However, you will also avoid some gruesome penalties where it turns out the suspected bluff bid was honest, after all.

It is surprising how often a quick pass by you over a suspected bluff bid on your right will result in the enemy's getting into real trouble. After all, the partner of the bluffer usually has no way to recognize the psychic.

In today's hand Mr. Dale tried a gambling three no trump bid. Of course Mr. Doe couldn't bring himself to pass. He came in with a four spade bid, hoping his partner rather than Mrs. Keen held the balance of power. Mrs. Keen's prompt double told him this hope was not to be realized.

He did find a key trump in dummy, which meant a full trick to him, but still went set 1100 points. He won six spades and no other tricks.

As you see, Mr. Dale could have made an easy small slam at clubs. But he did better as it was and if Mr. Doe had stayed out of the bidding it was by no means certain the club slam would have been reached.

Canadian Business Boosted By Huge Television Sales

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor
TORONTO (CP) — Canadian business is getting a potent jab in the arm from television.

Prior to 1950, only 8,212 sets, with a retail value of $3,418,500, had been sold in Canada. But, by the end of the year, the total of all sales before, during and since 1950 will reach an estimated 574,811 sets, with a retail value of $250,941,707.

The increase is even more striking if taken year by year. In 1950, 29,611 sets valued at $12,858,083 were sold; in 1951, 40,615 valued at $21,237,442; in 1952, 146,373 valued at $64,677,682; and the estimate for this year is 350,000 valued at $148,750,000. Thus, this year's sales are estimated at nearly 1½ times the total for all preceding years.

The figures are from the Radio - Television Manufacturers Association of Canada, as quoted in a review of the industry by Canadian Westinghouse Co., Ltd.

At the same time, sales of voice-radio receivers are up over last year, with automobile sets, and such items as clock radios, in leading roles. Sales in the first six months of this year, as compiled by the association, were 292,171 sets, valued at $26,776,302 including 116,077 automobile radios, compared with 211,555 sets valued at $19,413,395 in the first six months of last year.

Expansion in sale of TV sets has occurred while Canada has been only getting under way in television broadcasting, although Canadian centres close to the international border have been getting good reception from United States stations.

Canada's only television broadcasting now is from three Canadian Broadcasting Corporation stations: in Montreal and Toronto, both opened in September, 1952, and in Ottawa opened in June of this year.

However, CBC expects to be operating from Vancouver before the end of the year, from Winnipeg before next spring, and from Halifax by early spring.

At Vancouver Tuesday, Peter McDonald, director of CBC-TV there, said B.C.'s 10,000 TV set owners will be able to tune in their first Vancouver program about the middle of November with permanent operations to begin early next year.

More Arrests Seen in Berlin In Riots' Wake

BERLIN (AP)—A wave of new arrests in connection with Germany's June 17 revolt has been reported as the Communists announced an alleged leader of the uprising had been sentenced to life imprisonment.

The West Berlin radio said Communist zone security police had arrested 64 persons suspected of taking part in the revolt. They were bagged in three steel plants and an artificial rubber plant.

A few hours earlier the German Communist ADN news agency announced that Gerhard Roemer, 26, had been sent to jail for life as a leader of the rebellion.

According to ADN, Roemer burst into Magdeburg jail brandishing a rifle, demanding the freeing of all prisoners and later threatened Russian tanks moving into his factory with his rifle.

Red authorities plan to stymie this financial rebellion by withholding union dues from wages, the radio added.
