Those Four Questions

T SEEMS to us that of the four referendums to be presented to the voters on Thursday, there are two in particular which call for an affirmative reply. One concerns the use of the Roosevelt Park fund to develop Algoma Park. The other calls for an opinion on whether the Civic Centre should be allowed an annual grant of one mill or $6,000, whichever is the lesser.

There is nothing to say about the case for Algoma Park which has not already been said. Briefly the contention is that the Algoma grounds can be developed less expensively than those on Acropolis Hill and will provide a more centrally ocated and less exposed centre of recreation.

While it is true that the transfer of funds will change the whole purpose for which they were acquired, there is no reason why the public should be bound forever to a doubtful cause. In any case, there are other things that can be done to enhance the appearance of the hill and perhaps make money out of it at the same time.

One of these might be to open it up for the building of homes. There are some magnificent sites for this, and the area could well serve for a project similar to the Park Royal development in North Vancouver. This has added more to the beauty of Vancouver than any park could and has its commercial usefulness as well. Possibly, too, the replacement for Borden Street School could be located on the hilltop.

The case for the Civic Centre has been made lin to the corresponding quan equally clear. Unless the city offers real financial help, the Centre is certain to disappear. Yet its directors are asking for the minimum amount of assistance. The request is worded so that the grant will never exceed $6,000.

Since the Centre is losing $4,000 to $5,000 a year and will not receive its present yearly grant of $1,800 if the new levy is passed, the board of directors will certainly not have more money than it knows what to do with. In fact, it will still be a trifle pinched but feels this is a good arrangement as it will ensure continued vigor of operations.

With respect to the other two referendums, the need for action is there all right, but with much less urgency. If the parks board receives about $26,000 for development of Algoma Park through the transfer of funds, it is going to have its hands quite full for awhile without getting the proceeds from a one-mill levy for the same purpose. There is no doubt it will need the extra money as time goes on, but we wonder if it is necessary to start acquiring it all at once.

It must be remembered, of course, that the imposition will not in actuality be a new one and that it has the saving grace of being limited to five years. Nevertheless, this referendum cannot be bracketed with the other two as an urgent mutter. In our opinion, the least pressing of all is the Before SCOTCH

Int voters

101 Say SCOTCH one asking about a two-mill levy for municipal buildings. Since the city's financial position will be substantially better in 1955, it would seem advisable to wait until then before tampering with the tax structure any further. Moreover, as there is no time limit stipulated, the thought is raised that voters are being asked to sign a blank check.

If the city hall and firehall can continue in their admittedly dilapidated condition for another year or so, it seems to us it would be wise to refrain from any specific financial planning for the time being.

The devastating tornado struck suddenly, causing millions of dollars' damage in minutes — a fearful example of the power of nature.

Most fire insurance policies provide protection against windstorm damage for a nominal additional premium. Wind damage in Canada is not uncommon, and Fire and Casualty insurance companies pay many windstorm claims each year. Tornadoes such as at Sarnia are fortunately rare.

Claims paid resulting from the Sarnia tornado totalled approximately $3,000,000 — an example of how the small contribution by the many who want protection provides full indemnity and compensation for those who do suffer loss.

WALLS CHILLS OPPONENT IN LESS THAN MINUTE

EDMONTON (CP)-Earl Walls, Canadian heavyweight champion, Friday night knocked out Bernie Reynolds of Fairfield, N.J., in 33 seconds of the first round of a scheduled 10-round feature bout here.

More than 6,000 fans saw only a brief sparring session until Walls connected with a left hook which spun Reynolds around. Walls then landed a hard right to the jaw which sent Reynolds 10 feet across the ring. He had to be carried to his corner.

Walls weighed 192 pounds, a pound more than his opponent.
