Threshing Time Again
SIX MONTHS AHEAD OF THE NORMAL SEASON, threshing of oats gets under way on Trachsel's farm, near Stratford, Ont. The grain had been stored in the sheaf all winter. As ice on the puddles and the ground stiff with frost as Melvin Schmidt (left) wheeled in threshing machine soon after dawn and set up to thresh. At right are Harvey Trachsel, Wilhelm and Leslie Nau.

Tem Poles in Danger of Falling
Unless Immediate Repairs Undertaken

Original Indian totem poles in several city parks are in danger of collapse unless action for their repair is undertaken, the parks commission has announced. Park commissioners have asked the city for $1,000 to pay for re-posting of the totems, after hearing a report by Commissioner Charles Balagno at a board meeting last night. Mr. Balagno said he had made a survey of the 14 poles and had found most of them rotting at the base, many of them leaning dangerously.

Instrument Firm Pays Fine For Artie Shaw

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Dance band leader Artie Shaw was fined $5 for parking his car near the Hotel Elkhart where a canopy sign reads "Welcome, Artie Shaw." He couldn't find the car when he came out. The police had towed it away for parking in a no-parking zone. The instrument firm paid the $5 fine.

Government Asked to Seek Markets For Fish Products

OTTAWA (AP)—The Fisheries Department of Canada has expressed interest about markets for Canadian fish products and has asked the federal government to do so. The department said it believed Fisheries Act regulations should be strengthened concerning protection of such fisheries and that the B.C. government should provide legislation for the safeguarding of valuable fisheries resources.

Freight Rate Hike Appeal Date Nears

OTTAWA (AP)—An appeal by eight provincial governments against Canada's latest freight rate increase is expected to be heard by the cabinet during the first week of May. The governments are asking the cabinet to rescind the seven per cent boost that went into effect March 16, pending new studies by the board of transport commissioners aimed at reducing or wiping out the increase.

Court Cuts Sentence

VICTORIA (CP)—British Columbia Court of Appeal Wednesday reduced the manslaughter sentence against Albert Fairweather from 10 to eight years. The court, however, denied his appeal that his conviction for manslaughter in the death of Raymond Boyce in September, 1951, be set aside.

May Reject New Proposal

VANCOUVER (AP)—Striking workers indicated Wednesday they would reject the latest proposal of grain companies to arbitrate issues in the 67-day walkout at five elevators but hope continued for early settlement talks. Operators of elevators offered the proposal to submit all differences to arbitration.

Communists Pledge To Return All Sick, Wounded UN Troops

2 Liberals Vote Against Government

OTTAWA.—Two Liberal Commons members supported a motion Wednesday calling for the downfall of the government—a vote of censure that was defeated by the Liberal majority.

In the first bolt of Liberals on a vote involving the life of the government since Prime Minister St. Laurent took over in 1948, J. L. MacDougall (L—Vancouver-Burrard) and A. H. Jeffery (L—London) sided with the solid body of the opposition and independents in backing the censure vote.

The government came through by a majority of 138 to 61 on a Progressive Conservative motion criticizing the cabinet for "violation of the rights of Parliament" in passing an order-in-council under the Emergency Powers Act with Parliament in session. The order was a ban against Canadian ships sailing to North Korea and Red China. The ban was approved by all groups, but it met criticism on the ground it should have been passed normally by Parliament. The censure motion was one whose passage would have toppled the government automatically, and veteran parliamentarians said they could not recall the last time government supporters had bucked the administration on such a vote.

Citizen Helps Police Arrest Escaped Man

VANCOUVER (AP)—Red-haired William Mukosey's illegal freedom ended at shotgun-point Wednesday after a battle in which he hit a policeman with a scythe handle. Mukosey, 22, was captured when a citizen came to the aid of Constable G. C. McQueen with a shotgun. The convict had been free since March 26 when he escaped from hospital here, where he had been transferred for examination while serving a theft term in Oakalla prison.

Police Quell Demonstrators

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—United States military police today fired over the heads of about 4,000 demonstrators outside the American embassy here in protest against resumption of cease fire talks at Panmunjom. About 100 members of Korea's National Assembly led shouting demonstrators. Thousands of South Koreans also demonstrated in Seoul against any armistice which would leave Korea divided.

-WEATHER-

Synopsis
Pressures are rising steadily on the coast this morning in the wake of a minor storm that is now moving through the southeastern corner of the province.

Forecast
North Coast Region: Sunny with cloudy intervals today. Cloudy Friday. Little change in temperature. Winds light today and southeast 15 Friday.
Low tonight and high Friday—At Port Hardy, 34 and 52; Sandspit, 35 and 48; Prince Rupert, 35 and 52.

BAIT PAIL FILLED with earth worms, rod over his shoulder and pants tucked in rubber boots this young Nova Scotian welcomes the opening of the trout season in his native province. His cat is along to lend a hand. The young fisherman is headed along a country road near Halifax for a quiet pool.

Natives Seek Release From 'Ancient' Laws

The only hope of survival of the Indian native is complete integration with other citizens of Canada. So says Peter Leighton of Metlakatla, a main-spring behind the drive for enfranchisement of his native village, across the harbor from Prince Rupert.

The federal Department of Indian Affairs, which has cooperated in every way to grant the wish of the Metlakatlans, has considered this application for enfranchisement as a "test case." It means much more than that to the people directly concerned. "From the cradle to the grave we have been told, when we wanted or needed anything, that 'the Queen will get it for you.' This has made us wards of the crown, really nothing to be proud of. "We want to be an asset to our country, not a liability as we are now," declares Mr. Leighton, a retired fisherman and philosopher in his own right. Today, the Indian living on a reservation such as Metlakatla has never had it so good in many ways. He pays no taxes, derives his income from fishing, trapping, also from sale of timber rights on reserve. Most of the villages are completely modernized, with good schools, water systems, electrical power plants. Relief is granted in case of hardships. No Indian will starve, regardless of income. "It's a virtual paradise for Indians today," agrees Mr. Leighton, "but this is doing no good for our people. It is doing us and the country a lot of harm. We are becoming more dependent all the time on the government. We are like a flock of sheep."

Advantages of Enfranchisement

What are the advantages, because then, of Metlakatlans becoming enfranchised? "First of all, we need education and it must be compulsory," says Mr. Leighton, speaking for enfranchisement. Today, schools are provided for Indian children and under the Indian Act, post-academic education also is provided, including trade and university studies. But few Indians feel the need of such education, because their environment itself has taught them that they need not compete in the world for a livelihood. "The Queen will get it for you." "Secondly, we need responsibility," continues Mr. Leighton. "This can only be brought about by self-government on a civic basis and taxation of its citizens."

Want A Chance To Develop Town

"We have a very pretty town-site—it is much better than Prince Rupert. We want a chance to make something of it." Meanwhile, the process of enfranchisement has hit a snag which likely will find its way into the courts before a decision is reached, and this may still further delay the realization of the dreams of such far-seeing men as Peter Leighton and others. The snag is in the form of an argument between two governments, the federal and the provincial. The villagers have surrendered their reserve lands—a matter of some 14,000 to 16,000 acres from which the municipality planned to derive some revenue—in trust of the federal government. But a new provincial government, taking over from its predecessors, said it must investigate the situation. Its investigation led to the unearthing of the "reversionary clause" in the 1912 McBride treaty which set out the turning over of Indian reserves by the province to the Dominion. The contentious clause provides that should an Indian band become "extinct" all the reserve lands would revert to the provincial government. The new government apparently holds that by enfranchising the band, it becomes "extinct" and therefore lays claim to all reserve lands not actually in use for the municipality itself. The federal government, however, holds that the Metlakatlans are entitled to their share of revenue from the surrendered lands—thus the deadlock. "No one can halt forever the path of progress. We will become an integral part of this country, living side by side with you, working for a common cause. "And it is our only survival, not as a race, but as individuals."

Number Not Stated In Latest Promise

PANMUNJOM.—The Communists said today they will free more disabled allied prisoners. Originally they insisted on releasing only 605, as against 5,800 by the UN.

They did not say how many more nor their nationalities, but they did pledge to return all sick and wounded allied troops. The decision was reached at a meeting between UN and Communist officials, called for yesterday by the UN command. Meanwhile, pain-wracked allied soldiers wounded only a few weeks ago in bloody fighting for outpost hills in western Korea, came back this morning from Communist captivity. Some managed a smile despite pain of unhealed wounds. Others, pale with shock and suffering, gripped the sides of their litters. A South Korean told of almost unbelievable cruelties by his North Korean captors. Sergeant Kim Ka Sung, 25, said the Reds climaxed their torture by hacking off all his fingers, some with a saw. Allied prisoners exchanged in the past four days have said many more seriously sick and wounded were left behind in North Korea. Lance Corporal Paul Dugal of Quebec City, first Canadian prisoner repatriate, brought with him a notebook containing messages from 15 other Canadian POWs. They were among 29 Canadians the Defence Department in Ottawa listed as missing, believed killed in action.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposal to inquire into Red atrocities against prisoners of war in Korea has been put temporarily on the Senate shelf. After being assured the Arms and State department will step up collection of evidence with a view to later war crimes prosecutions for any atrocities against United Nations prisoners, the Senate Appropriations Committee today dropped plans to investigate the claims being made by repatriated soldiers.

Oil Leases Sought in Anchorage

ANCHORAGE (AP)—An oil lease filing flurry is under way in this northern territory. Following a recent rush in which filings were made on 350,000 acres in a single day, six Los Angeles residents this week filed on 90,000 acres. At the same time, C. F. Shield and his associates in the Alaska Oil and Gas Development Co. reported drilling was starting this week at a site along the Glenn Highway in the interior. The Shell Oil Company also announced the opening of a Seattle exploration division office because of its interest in the Alaska prospects. The announcement said four mapping parties will go into the field in mid-May. The surge of interest in Alaska oil prospects has developed since the Department of the Interior signed with the Phillips Oil Company for test drilling this summer in the Katalla region along Alaska's southern coast, east of here. Filings since then have covered widely scattered areas of the territory. The Los Angeles residents' filings were in the Cold Bay and Wide Bay areas of the Alaska Peninsula, in the territory's southwest corner.

Ontario Police Fly to Coast For Wanted Men

TORONTO (CP)—Two Ontario Provincial Police officers flew to Vancouver Wednesday to bring back two wanted men, one of them Henry Seguin and the other Harry Duguid. Seguin, sought in connection with the murder of a taxi driver, is serving a term in the B.C. penitentiary for attempted robbery of a bank at Williams Lake and wounding of the bank manager. He faces a murder charge in the slaying of Leonard Hurd of Maxville, Ont. Duguid is a suspected bank robber and jail escapee.

Rod and Gun Club Launches First Annual Salmon Derby

The first annual Prince Rupert Spring Salmon Derby opens Sunday at 5 a.m. for a two-month period ending June 21. Sponsored by the Rupert Rod & Gun Club, the derby will feature weekly prizes for the heaviest salmon; prizes for the heaviest fish entered during the entire seasonal derby, and special big prizes for the three-day derby—June 19-21—which winds up the spring salmon event. All anglers are eligible, provided sporting tackle is used and entry fee paid in advance. There will be no fishing boundaries, but salmon must be weighed in at the official weighing-in station at J. Clausen & Son, Cow Bay, on the same day caught. Complete information and rules will be published Saturday. Meanwhile, the open salt-water derby, also sponsored by the Rod & Gun Club, ends Saturday. The junior-senior event has netted 22 entries in all. Leading the senior division is the Rae-Bernice Johnson man-and-wife team. Mr. Johnson heads the entries with a 28-pound, two-ounce salmon; Mrs. Johnson is second with a 25-pound, nine-ounce, and Mr. Johnson, again, third with a 24-pound, six-ounce. In the junior division, Bill Watnough has cornered the first three prizes, leading with an 11-pound, 14-ounce gray cod, a 10-pound, four-ounce, and a 10-pound even entry. Final weigh-in of this derby is Saturday, 5 p.m. Winners and prizes will be announced soon.

A Unique Experiment

WHAT PROMISES to be an entertaining and informative weekly program was introduced over radio station CFPR Tuesday night when four high school students engaged four city councillors in a microphone interview.

To judge from the first broadcast, the students will be specific and articulate in their demands on the councillors' knowledge, and at least one or two of the city fathers are wisely doing some preparatory homework.

Generally speaking, the interviewees also acquitted themselves well in their first trial. The case of the first court house was left in amusing doubt, but there were remarkable feats of memory in spite of that.

It is to be hoped, however, that the broadcasts do not become colored by personal prejudice. In the opening one, which was supposed to be entirely historical, the history of the city's water supply was allowed to develop into irrelevant and perhaps unfair criticism.

A certain amount of plain speaking adds liveliness to the program, and listeners will look forward to it. Our suggestion is, however, that the competent young moderator keep his charges as closely as possible to the subject and encourage a balancing of sides if the discussion develops—as it will do occasionally—into debate.

Nevertheless, it was a good show. Those who did not hear the first broadcast should be sure to tune in next Tuesday.

"Do all to the glory of God."—1 Cor. 10:31.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

Albert—if he has a second name no one ever uses it—isn't one of Parliament Hill's fiction characters. He's a very real person. In fact, he's so real that he's always at hand and dependable in any emergency.

Technically, Albert doesn't belong to Parliament Hill. He gains his status vicariously by a process of absorption. He's the proprietor and presiding genius in an unpretentious but snug little bar that a good many of the MP's drop into on their way home from their labors.

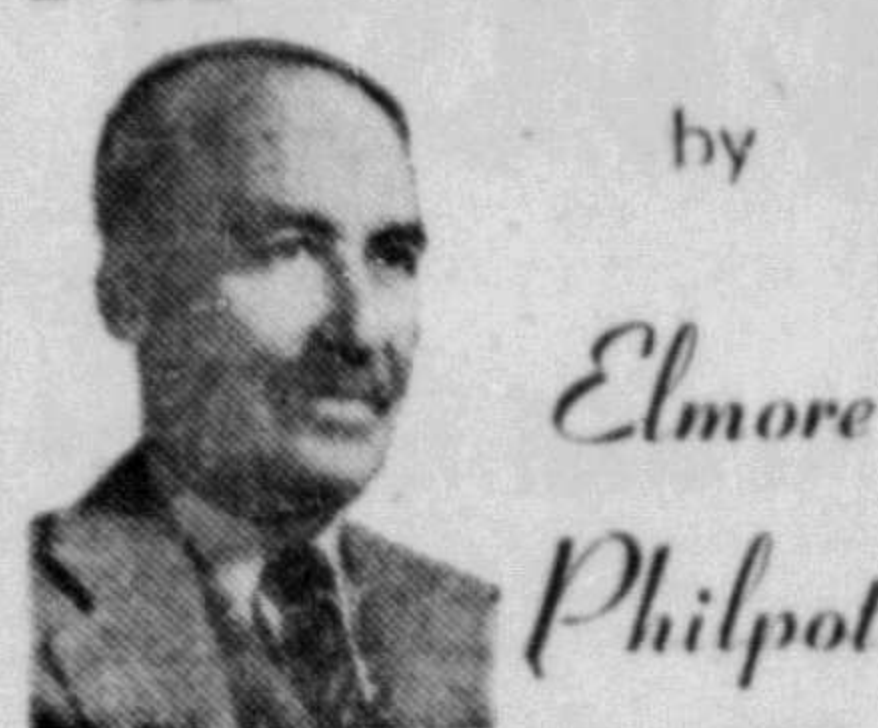

Albert's the intellectual type. When he mixes you a drink, he lavishes on his chemistry the same thoughtful concentration that a physicist bestows on an intricate atomic experiment.

He could be called a philosopher, if the proviso were added that he is always a discreet one. A good many secrets are confided to him in the course of a day by frustrated statesmen who seek his ministrations.

When he's wearing his philosopher's cap, the subject Albert is most likely to brood on is the friendliness which prevails in the establishments he operates. He can never quite get over the fact that the MP's shed their party politics at the door when they take off their coats and hats.

When he's wearing his philosopher's cap, the subject Albert is most likely to brood on is the friendliness which prevails in the establishments he operates.

As I See It

Elmore Philpott

That 15 Cent Loaf

PRAIRIE farmers are mad because Britain will not boost the maximum price for wheat from $1.80 to $2.05 a bushel (though Britain would have signed the wheat agreement with the ceiling at $2).

The bakeries of Vancouver are getting ready to boost the price of bread to 15 cents a loaf. They blame it on the raise in world wheat prices from $1.80 to $2.05, and because their workers have asked for another raise.

Yet the head of the Alberta Wheat Pool says the wheat handlers are overpaid already!

DID WE EVER SEE a better case of a dog chasing his own tail?

The workmen in all lines of business demand higher pay each year, because they say prices and profits are still going up. The farmers want higher prices, too, to bring them up to what they have to pay for city products.

Yet nobody faces up to the hard fact that if wages keep going up year after year prices will keep going up, too; and vice versa.

And nobody faces up to the even harder fact that when you have vast surpluses of food you either have to

- 1. Lower prices to the point where the goods will sell, or
2. Destroy the goods—or give them away.

OUR Canadian government still owns 29 million pounds of "surplus" butter, bought to keep the floor price to farmers above 58 cents. The U.S. government owns 125 million pounds.

The New York Times reports: "President Eisenhower at his news conference April 2 said he would rather see government-purchased butter marketed at a loss, even a complete loss, than have it spoil while some people are starving. He said he had reports that some butter, having been stored in inadequate warehouses, had reached spoilage stage."

THE PLAN: TRUTH is that no one has yet found a way to sell that surplus butter, at bargain prices which would move it without demoralizing the existing market. We don't want to face facts.

Nobody wants low prices—in the lines HE sells. Nobody wants lower wages in HIS particular job.

The plain harsh truth is that literally nobody still believes in our much boasted system of "free enterprise"—the big business man least of all. Nobody really believes in the law of supply and demand any more, otherwise we would bring out that butter, that dried milk, that canned pork and those 400,000 cases of unsold salmon, and we would sell them for what they would bring.

ANY TRADE UNION leader who really believes that wages can go on up and up, year after year, in the existing state of world markets, should have his head read.

SIR CHRISTOPHER CHANCELLOR, (right) general manager of Reuters, world-wide British news agency, is welcomed to the annual dinner meeting in Toronto of The Canadian Press by Roy H. Thomson, president of CP, Canada's national news-gathering agency.

VICTORIA REPORT

... by J. K. Nesbitt

VICTORIA.—There'll be lots of wild election promises this campaign, as always, but the wild one of last year's campaign has been buried once and for all.

That was the Social Credit and Conservative promise that hospital insurance would be made voluntary. It was largely because Conservatives and Social Crediters were agreed on this vital matter that the public tended to get them mixed up—to believe they were one and the same.

Social Crediters, once in power, found hospital insurance wouldn't work at all if the compulsion was taken out of it. So, very wisely, they went back on their election promise, although they wouldn't say so.

In fact, at the recent session, they wouldn't say hospital insurance was compulsory and they wouldn't say it wasn't compulsory. But the government left the impression that you've got to pay up—or, at least, that you should pay up, because if you don't you're breaking the law.

The Conservatives want to forget about their foolish hospital insurance promise of last year's campaign. They won't be making the same promise this year. They know hospital insurance is a necessity, that it's here to stay.

All of which is a tribute to Byron Johnson who, as Premier, brought in hospital insurance. He went down to defeat because of it, too, because this time last year hospital insurance had become a political football, and it was popular to kick it around. Strange—isn't it? Johnson got his head chopped off because he brought in a great social reform, as important as universal education and abolition of child labor.

Want Oak Bay

The Conservatives, more than anything else, want to get Oak Bay back into their fold. It's in Oak Bay Conservative leader Deane Finlayson is running. When Conservative leader Herb Anson lost Oak Bay last June, Tory hearts sank to an all-time low. It was a terrible blow, combined Tory ego was dragged in the mud.

Deane Finlayson, though his home is in Nanaimo, has moved into Oak Bay for the election campaign. He lives, for the campaign at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel, on the waterfront; but he has little time to admire the splendid view.

He's going to visit around the province, but he's going to pay

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

The sale of bow ties is said to be making extraordinary strides in British Columbia. This is not a matter of unusual or exceptional importance, yet we are bound to realize how to tie a smart looking bow tie without tying and untieing the darned thing three or four times is a stubborn fact. It makes one feel tired, as well as wrinkled.

Canada will be the only nation at the Coronation without its own national emblem, according to what is heard as June 2 draws nearer. Perhaps as we attain further maturity there won't be any real difference between what is left.

President Eisenhower has ordered the White House yacht Williamsburg put into mothballs because it is a symbol of needless luxury. Tom Lipton never thought so. His Atlantic never used to make a lot of industry in itself.

Win Gardiner Captures Men's City Badminton Title in Exciting Final

Awards to be Presented At Reception Next Wednesday

PROF. A. E. FLYNN of Halifax was elected president of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy at the institute's annual meeting at Edmonton, Prof. Flynn, attached to Nova Scotia Technical College, succeeds Dr. Desmond F. Kidd of Vancouver.

Win Gardiner, a newcomer to the local shuttles, downed all opposition in the four-day Prince Rupert Badminton Club tournament to win the men's singles championship last night.

Other championships were won by Frances Cross and Lea McKay, ladies' doubles; Charlie Mills and George Viereck, men's doubles; Frances Cross and Charlie Mills, mixed doubles. Consolation events were won by: Michael Prentice, men's singles; Violet Manjovich and Anita Toffoli, ladies' doubles; Bob Moxley and Doug Christensen, men's doubles; Violet Majovich and Stan Vickerman, mixed doubles.

In the men's singles, Gardiner defeated Dave Bown in a close 15-12, 3-15 and 18-16 semi-final, then used his deceiving net drop shot to down Barry Williamson in the finals 13-15, 15-3 and 15-11. Williamson, who played outstanding badminton, had downed Charlie Mills in the semis.

Prentice defeated Frank Olson in the semis, then overcame Doug Christensen in an exciting final game, 15-12, 5-15 and 17-16 for the consolation award. Cross and McKay downed Dot Paulding and Dot White, 18-15 and 17-14, in an exciting and closely contested final match to win the ladies' doubles championship.

In the consolation event Manjovich and Toffoli defeated Helen Balgano and Charlotte Rouse, 15-9, 15-10, in another close game.

In men's doubles, Mills and Viereck won the championship from Herb Morgan and Nick Pavlikis, combining tricky net shots and skillfully placed drives. Result was 15-11, 15-7.

Consolation event saw Moxley and Christensen defeat Fred Aston and Olson, 15-11, 15-8, for the award.

Cross and Mills came from behind to win the mixed doubles championship by defeating George and Mary Viereck, 8-15, 15-12 and 15-12, in the most exciting event of the evening.

Both sides were well matched and displayed brilliant net shots and powerful, well-placed drives.

Consolation event, Manjovich and Vickerman downed Don Hartwig and Pat Hixon, 15-6, 15-9.

Awards will be presented April 29, following regular badminton at 9 p.m. when players will retire to the ladies' lounge in the Civic Centre. A buffet supper is included.

Donna Miller Tops Women Five-Pinners

Veteran Mize Leads Yankees To Victory

NEW YORK (CP)—A crestfallen bunch of rookies, some of whom hadn't been born when Johnny Mize started in baseball games, watched the 40-year-old New York Yankee slugger do it again Wednesday.

An eighth-inning pinch single off Hec Brown with the bases loaded drove in the winning run as the Yankees went on to whip the youthful Boston Red Sox 6-2.

The big fellow later ambled home with the sixth Yankee run as Vic Raschi gained his first victory of the year after a shaky start.

Other scores:

- American: Chicago 9, Detroit 7, Philadelphia 7, Washington 4.
- National: Milwaukee 15, Chicago 6, Brooklyn 4, Philadelphia 5, Cincinnati 3, St. Louis 8.
- Pacific Coast League: Hollywood 4, Oakland 5, San Diego at Seattle, Sacramento at Portland, postponed.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Last year Brooklyn Dodgers won only eight of their 22 games against New York Giants, and yet they were able to distance the Polo Grounders by a comfortable margin because they slaughtered the tail-end Pirates, Braves and Reds 54-11.

Charlie Dresen, manager of the defending National League champions, does not believe it possible for his athletes to again run up such a staggering margin over the second-division patsies. For one thing, the law of averages is against it, and for another the Dodger pilot is convinced that there is more sound strength in the National League's lower bracket than there was a year ago.

So, Charlie reasons that it behooves him to take a much firmer stand against the Giants this time. Every move he has made this year was aimed primarily at gaining at least parity with Leo Durocher.

He realized he had to do something drastic about Sal Maglie. The Giant right-hander slapped his lads down six out of eight last season, which might well have proved fatal if other clubs in the league had not curbed up and died before the Flatbushers.

"It'll be different this time," Charlie promises. "If I feel like I can toss in six left-hand batters against that guy, something I couldn't do last year."

On the other hand, there isn't much Leo can do to help his lineup when I throw my lefty, Preacher Roe, at him. He hasn't any right-hander hitter he can put in rightfield to replace Don Mueller or at first base in place of Whitey Lockman."

Dresen feels that Russ Meyer, whom the Dodgers obtained in the winter, may give him some important help. We recall that the Giants viewed the deaf with vast distaste.

It is a matter of interest that neither Dresen nor Durocher ever says much about the Phillies, whom many experts consider a serious threat. When pressed they claim they respect Steve O'Neil's team and do a spot of raving about pitcher Robin Roberts, but they don't sound troubled. Both appear much more sincere when they go around to the subject of St. Louis Cardinals' Stan Musial. They only fear each other, really.

A survey shows that practically all experienced gates as good as before, and some had better. London's powerful Arsenal played its first floodlit game in August, 1951, and its second game a month later drew 63,000, compared with the average league attendance so far this year of 54,000.

First division club giants seeking the best possible lighting system can pay more than £10,000.

"All the clubs that have installations, small or large, are enthusiastic about the possibilities," said the article, implying that the paying public likes the lights, too.

That is substantiated by accounts from clubs that already have lights.

La Starza and Bucceroni Near Top In Boxing Association Spring Ratings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roland La Starza and Dan Bucceroni jumped into the heavyweight title picture today on the strength of the National Boxing Association's spring ratings.

La Starza, a sleek boxer who lost a much-disputed split decision to champion Rocky Marciano three years ago, hopped into the No. 3 challenger spot on the basis of his victory over Rex Layne during the winter.

Bucceroni climbed from nowhere into the No. 4 challenger position, and he claims he's ready to take on all comers.

Former champions Jersey Joe Walcott and Ezzard Charles are rated one-two behind Marciano. Walcott gets a shot at the title May 15.

Col. Harvey Miller, NBA secretary, said "the natural assumption" is that Charles will take on La Starza, with the winner getting the next crack at the title.

There were no major surprises in the NBA's spring ratings, which contain only one Canadian. Four men were lumped in the top middleweight bracket, where a champion still is to be crowned to replace the retired Sugar Ray Robinson.

Randy Turpin of England, who took the title from Robinson once only to lose it again, is listed at the top, followed in order by Bobo Olson of Hawaii, Charles Humez of France, and Paddy Young.

The NBA said the eventual champion is expected to come from a meeting of the winners in semi-final bouts between Turpin and Humez, Olson and Young.

Jimmy Carter, the lightweight champion, is the first of the current titlists to defend his championship. He takes on Tommy Collins of Massachusetts in a 15-round fight at Boston tomorrow.

Collins is rated the No. 4 challenger. Ahead of him come George Araujo, Henry Davis and Johnny Gonzalez.

The lone Canadian in the rankings is Arthur King of Toronto. British Empire Lightweight champion, King received honorable mention.

King outpointed third-ranked Davis in a 10-round bout in Toronto Monday night.

Harold Johnson and Joe Maxim are listed as logical contenders for Archie Moore's light-heavyweight title. Billy Graham, Johnny Bratton, Johnny Saxton and Gil Turner are listed as logical contenders for Kid Gavilan's welterweight championship; Percy Bassett is the interim featherweight champion and logical contender in the absence of champion Sandy Saddler, who is serving in the U.S. Army.

Robert Conn of Albany, Pappy Gault are logical contenders for the bantamweight crown of Australia's Jimmy Guthrie.

Yoshio Shirai of Japan, flyweight champion with a 14-0 record, is a contender in the absence of champion Sandy Saddler, who is serving in the U.S. Army.

Allen of England was runner-up in the U.S. flyweight championship last year.

There are men and women (perhaps you're one of them) who won't let "nature take its course". THEY TRY TO SUBSTITUTE UNNATURAL "FORCING ACTION" FOR THE NATURAL REGULARITY WHICH SENSIBLE DAILY HABITS AND SUFFICIENT BULK IN THE DIET COULD PROBABLY MAINTAIN.

Many fall into the habit of using laxatives in a way that makes never intended. They take "big doses" willy-nilly without even reading the directions on the label.

Naturally, such overdoing—with products intended only for overnight relief of a temporary stoppage—exerts upon the delicate digestive system an unnatural strain.

There's nothing wrong, of course, with taking laxatives occasionally. If you feel you have to take a laxative, just be sure you take it wisely—in an accurate, recommended dose.

BUT THERE IS A WAY TO AVOID TAKING DRUG-TYPE LAXATIVES AND TO PLACE YOUR DEPENDENCE ON NATURE, IF LACK OF BULK IN THE DIET IS YOUR TROUBLE.

In many natural foods—such as certain vegetables, fruits, and grains—nature grows abundant natural bulk which normally and naturally aids the rhythmic process of elimination.

In no other natural food is natural bulk so ideally found as in the outer layers of the whole wheat kernel, known generally as bran.

Bran is nature's "laxative food instead of a medicine". When properly processed and shredded, whole wheat bran yields smooth natural bulk that the digestive system can handle in a natural way.

WINDSOR, N.S. (CP) - Edmund Horne, the Nova Scotia prospector who discovered the great Noranda base metals mine after nearly half a century of lonely toil, left an estate valued at $950,000 when he died March 15, aged 88.

His will, probated here, bequeathed $26,500 to various orphanages and charitable institutions and $50,000 for construction of a church at Enfield, N.S., where he was born.

The party marched through heavy rain for two days before the weather improved and gave them a clear view of Everest, a report said. This is regarded as a sign of good weather to come.

During a three-week stay at Rhyabuch the climbers staged "experimental" ascents of two 20,000-foot peaks. Last year an unsuccessful Swiss Everest expedition established its first advance camp 17,225 feet up the glaciers.

SEATTLE (AP) - A trio of Washington scientists has discovered that salmon are almost human - when they get sick. Prof. E. J. Ordal of the University of Washington and Brian J. Eap and C. H. Ellis of the Department of Fisheries were studying kidney disease in young salmon when they found the fish also were subject to tuberculosis.

The department has published a 72-page paper on the results of the study, the first basic publication on kidney disease in salmon.

Correct Bidding Principles Win Against Best Defence

The magic figures 65, 75, 85 and 90 are particularly helpful to the player whose partner has opened the bidding. With 65 per cent of the high cards, a partnership should be in game at no trump or a major; 75 per cent will usually make game in a minor; 85 per cent, a small slam, and over 90 per cent, a grand slam.

An opening bid of one in a suit promises a minimum of one-third of the high cards. If you, the opener's partner, hold less than one honor trick, you pass. With a little more, but less than one-fourth of the high cards, you plan to bid just once unless subsequently forced by partner.

With an average hand (one ace, one king, one queen and one jack, or the equivalent) you plan to make two bids. An example would be where you re-respond in a suit of your own on the first round and, if partner makes a minimum rebid in his suit, give him a single raise.

When partner opens the bidding and you hold one-third of the high cards, you can immediately decide to reach game at no trump or a major suit. In other words you are assured that the partnership holds about 65 per cent of the top strength. Of course, you may stop short of game when the hand is an obvious misfit.

In today's deal, Mrs. Keen held enough for just one bid. With four cards in her partner's bid suit, she correctly decided to make the most descriptive bid available, a raise to two hearts. That was all Mr. Champion wanted to know and he promptly contracted for game.

Miss Brash cashed the ace of clubs and shifted to the four of diamonds. Mr. Dale won with the ace of diamonds and returned the queen of clubs. It was covered with the king and Miss Brash ruffed. She led the trey of spades.

At this point it appears that Mr. Champion has no way to get rid of his remaining club loser. Yet he made his contract against the best possible defence. Check your play with Mr. Champion's which will be shown in tomorrow's column.

Semi-Finals Underway In CCC Loop

The semi-finals for the CCC 300 Club bowling league got underway Monday night with the first four teams from each half rolling off.

In the first half, teams one and four, Nonames and Residuals, rolled off with the Residuals finishing on top. Teams two and three, Woodbutchers and Sparks, also rolled off with Woodbutchers the victors.

Following these games the Woodbutchers and Residuals rolled off with the Woodbutchers finishing as winners of the first half.

The playoffs for the second half were not completed. Teams one and four, Boom Operators and Maniacs, played with the Boom Operators the successful winners. Teams two and three, Nonames and Wet's End, roll off on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Finals between the Woodbutchers and the winner of the second half will meet for their playoff on Monday night at 7 o'clock.

New Zealand Wants No Part of Plan To Take Grizzly Bears From Canada

By J. C. GRAHAM
Canadian Press Correspondent
AUCKLAND, N.Z. (C) — New Zealand wants no part of Canada's grizzly bears.

The editor of the New York magazine who has hunted bears in North America recently made a trip to New Zealand's Fiordland, the great area of mountains and forest in the extreme southwest corner of the country.

It is almost uninhabited and long arms of the sea wind inland for many miles between steep cliffs.

GOOD HUNTING GROUND
Fiordland is a growing attraction to sportsmen because of herds of red deer and wapiti, brought from overseas, which have become established there. Hudson believes bears would thrive in the area and hunters from all over the world would be attracted.

New Zealand has turned thumbs down on the proposal in no uncertain terms.

Said R. W. Roach, director of the Auckland zoo and a leading authority on wild life:

"New Zealand has already had costly experience of the dangers of introducing animals. Whenever an animal has been brought in, another has had to be imported to keep it in check. The result is an abundance of pests and nuisances. Bears would do well here, but there is not a wide range of food for them in Fiordland. Before long they might move into the sheep and cattle country. I think people would be sorry after a few years."

HUNTERS DISAGREE

Only hunters favored the idea, and they were not unanimous. A member of the National Deerstalkers' Association, Arthur Hamilton, declared that it would be an excellent idea to introduce a really high-class game animal to Fiordland. It would double its value as a sporting asset.

But K. W. Dalrymple, who has hunted bears in the Rockies, said: "Bears build up on wild blueberries, raspberries, cranberries, wild onions and wild parsnips. They also like salmon. We have no food like that for bears. After all, the grizzly is not much of an animal to hunt. The main thing is to catch up with him."

Sinclair Says Controls Needed In All Waters

OTTAWA (CP)—High seas as well as off-shore fishing should be subject to international control, says Fisheries Minister J. Sinclair.

He held the eighth annual meeting of the Fisheries Council of Canada Tuesday that Canada in recent years has built up a series of international fish conservation treaties without counterpart anywhere else in the world.

These treaties covered both coasts. However, pressure from foreign fishermen coming each year with new and better equipment was increasing.

"With such pressure, too many fish can be caught, when the fishery will become un-economic for all. Thus protection of the resources in the sea is a basic necessity, not only for our time but for the future."

Commons Speeds Legislation To End Session by May 8

OTTAWA.—The Commons is reaching deep into the government's legislative barrel these days in an obvious spurt to finish the present session early next month—target date is May 8.

The main job now is consideration of estimates for the 1953-54 fiscal year. The projected spending program for the departments of national defence and public works already has been approved.

Legislation given final approval this week includes:

- Abolition of the annual $2.50 radio licence fee.
- Amendments to the Canadian Shipping Act tightening requirements for Canadian ships carrying ship-to-shore communication facilities.
- Extension of the Veterans' Benefit Act according Korean war soldiers the same benefits as those of the Second World War. It will stay in force until the end of the 1954 parliamentary session.
- A wide series of amendments to the Citizenship Act.
- Amendments to the Indian Act, chiefly to provide government loans to Indians for clearing and breaking new land.

A bill to provide university education for children of Canadian servicemen who lost their lives in service—described by Veterans Minister Lapointe as the first legislation of its kind in the world—was given second reading.

Under it such children who are high school graduates and want to attend university will get their university tuition fees paid plus a $25-a-month subsistence allowance.

Transport Minister Chevier has tabled a copy of an order-in-council barring Canadian ships from calling at ports on the Red China mainland and North Korea except under licence.

The action was taken in conjunction with Britain and the United States, but an official said as far as Canada is concerned it is mainly an insurance move. No Canadian ships have visited these areas for two years.

Archdeacon Hodson Retiring Sunday After More Than 40 Years in Ministry

TERRACE—Forty years of ministry in the Church of England will come to a close this Sunday when Archdeacon Hodson holds his farewell services in St. Matthew's Church.

He and Mrs. Hodson are leaving next week for Nanaimo, where they will live in retirement near one of their sons.

A congregational farewell party was held for them Monday in the recreational hall at the Home for the Aged and more than 60 people gathered to wish them God's speed, good health and happiness in their new surroundings.

Games and cards were enjoyed by those present and everyone joined in with the community singing with Mrs. C. J. Norrington at the piano. Mrs. L. Newhouse gave a solo and a trio was sung by Mrs. G. Martin, Jim Norrington and Len Leighton.

Refreshments were served by the Senior and Evening branches of the Women's Auxiliary to the guests seated at a long table, following which Mr. Ralph Corey presented the Archdeacon with a well-filled wallet. Mrs. E. S. Laird, president of the senior branch of the Women's Auxiliary then gave Mrs. Hodson, on behalf of the members, a jewelled brooch.

Archdeacon for the gifts and he expressed his regrets at leaving Terrace where he had spent three happy years.

Regrets at their leaving were felt by all present as they had come to the church at a time when Terrace was without an Anglican clergyman.

The Archdeacon was born in England 70 years ago and came to Canada in 1907 where he served the church in Saskatchewan.

He graduated from Emmanuel College in September, 1914. He spent the next 14 years in the prairies in small churches. In 1929 he came to the Diocese of Caledonia, to Hazelton, Kitwanga. Then to Osoyoos where he spent 25 years before coming to Terrace for three years at Seal Cove, P. Rupert.

Experimental Homes Defy Old Building Regulations

SYDNEY, Australia (C)—An experimental village is to be built near here in which each of the 100 homes will defy many of the present government and municipal regulations.

Architects have long felt unhappy about what they considered were antiquated and long out-of-date building laws. Some of these demanded a minimum ceiling height of nine feet. Others prohibited washing machines in kitchens and insisted that every house have tubs and a laundry boiler whether or not there was to be a washing machine. Other regulations refused to allow concrete floors unless supported on piers.

Now a new agreement between the Royal Australian Institute of Architects and the New South Wales housing commission will allow at least a trial of what the architects claim is "a common-sense application of specialized training in contemporary planning and the use of advanced knowledge in building materials and techniques without necessarily conforming to any existing building ordinances."

The operation from planning to final supervision of the completed village will be the responsibility of a committee of private architects selected by the institute with an architect from the housing commission.

Arctic Study To Continue This Summer

MONTREAL (CP)—Col. P. D. (Pat) Baird, one of Canada's top explorers, plans to resume his study of the Arctic this summer on lonely Baffin Island.

He will head a 13-man group of Canadian, British and Swiss experts and university undergraduates to the Arctic outpost. The group will make its headquarters at Pangnirtung and branch out from there in search of scientific data on conditions in the Arctic.

The expedition, sponsored by the Arctic Institute of North America and the Swiss Foundation for Alpine Research, leaves Dorval airport May 15. Col. Baird will act as leader and glaciologist.

W. H. Ware of the United Kingdom Department of Scientific and Industrial Research will join the expedition as a glaciologist.

A total of 12 tons of supplies were sent to Pangnirtung last fall and stored there. Still to go is a ton of scientific equipment. The party will fly by RCAF to Frobisher Bay, and then to Pangnirtung.

Establishment of TV Station by CBC Ottawa Draws Ire of B.C. Member

—Tom Goode (L-Richmond) said in the broadcasting committee strongly disagrees the decision to establish a television station in Ottawa.

Mr. Goode said there are 5,500 television sets in lower B.C. tuned to station KING, Seattle. It was not good business for the CBC to prevent a private television station from opening in Vancouver or New Westminster while advertising was being sold for programs aimed at this market.

The CBC should recommend that a private station be established in B.C. Once the CBC began operations, private stations would have a hard time meeting its competition. However, it did not seem that lower B.C. was to get television before January or February.

Mr. Goode said there are 5,500 television sets in lower B.C. tuned to station KING, Seattle. It was not good business for the CBC to prevent a private television station from opening in Vancouver or New Westminster while advertising was being sold for programs aimed at this market.

The presentation was made at a dinner by Dr. Gerard Letendre of Quebec, corresponding member of the institute in Canada.

A native of Campbellford, Ont., Mr. Diamond has been connected with Consolidated since 1917. He has received recognition for new methods introduced in the extraction of ore.

In 1948, he was chosen as the first recipient of the Selwyn G. Blaylock Medal "for distinguished service to Canada through exceptional achievement in the field of metallurgy, and for his contributions to the eminent position of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada Limited."

Mr. Diamond, 62-year-old executive vice-president of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company's western region, was given the award for "outstanding service to the non-ferrous metallurgical industries."

Police Chief, Two Henchmen Arrested for Violating Law

MOSCOW (Reuters)—The security police chief in the Soviet state of Georgia, where Stalin was born, has been arrested along with two henchmen for framing charges against three other party men.

Veteran M. Bakridze, Georgia's newly-elected premier, said the arrested men face "stern punishment." The victims of the "frame-up" have all been taken into the state cabinet, one filling the security post, the premier added.

He named those arrested by surnames only, State Security Minister Rukhadze and party secretaries Charkmiani and Mgeladze. Avksentii N. Rapava had been given Rukhadze's ministry in the new Georgian government.

The two other victims, Mikhail I. Baramiya and Zodelava, have been made agriculture minister and vice-premier respectively.

Bakridze declared in a recent speech to the Georgian Supreme Soviet: "By gross violation of Soviet Socialist laws, by trampling underfoot the rights of Soviet citizens and all kinds of machinations, Rukhadze and his myrmidons attempted to arouse discontent in Soviet people and tried to inflame feelings of national hostility."

He said Rukhadze and his conspirators had the innocent men seized by the police on false evidence in an attempt to "do harm to the Communist party and Soviet power."

The Supreme Soviet confirmed the appointments of two vice-premiers and 16 ministers of the new Georgian government, which now is composed on the same lines as the Malenkov central government in Moscow.

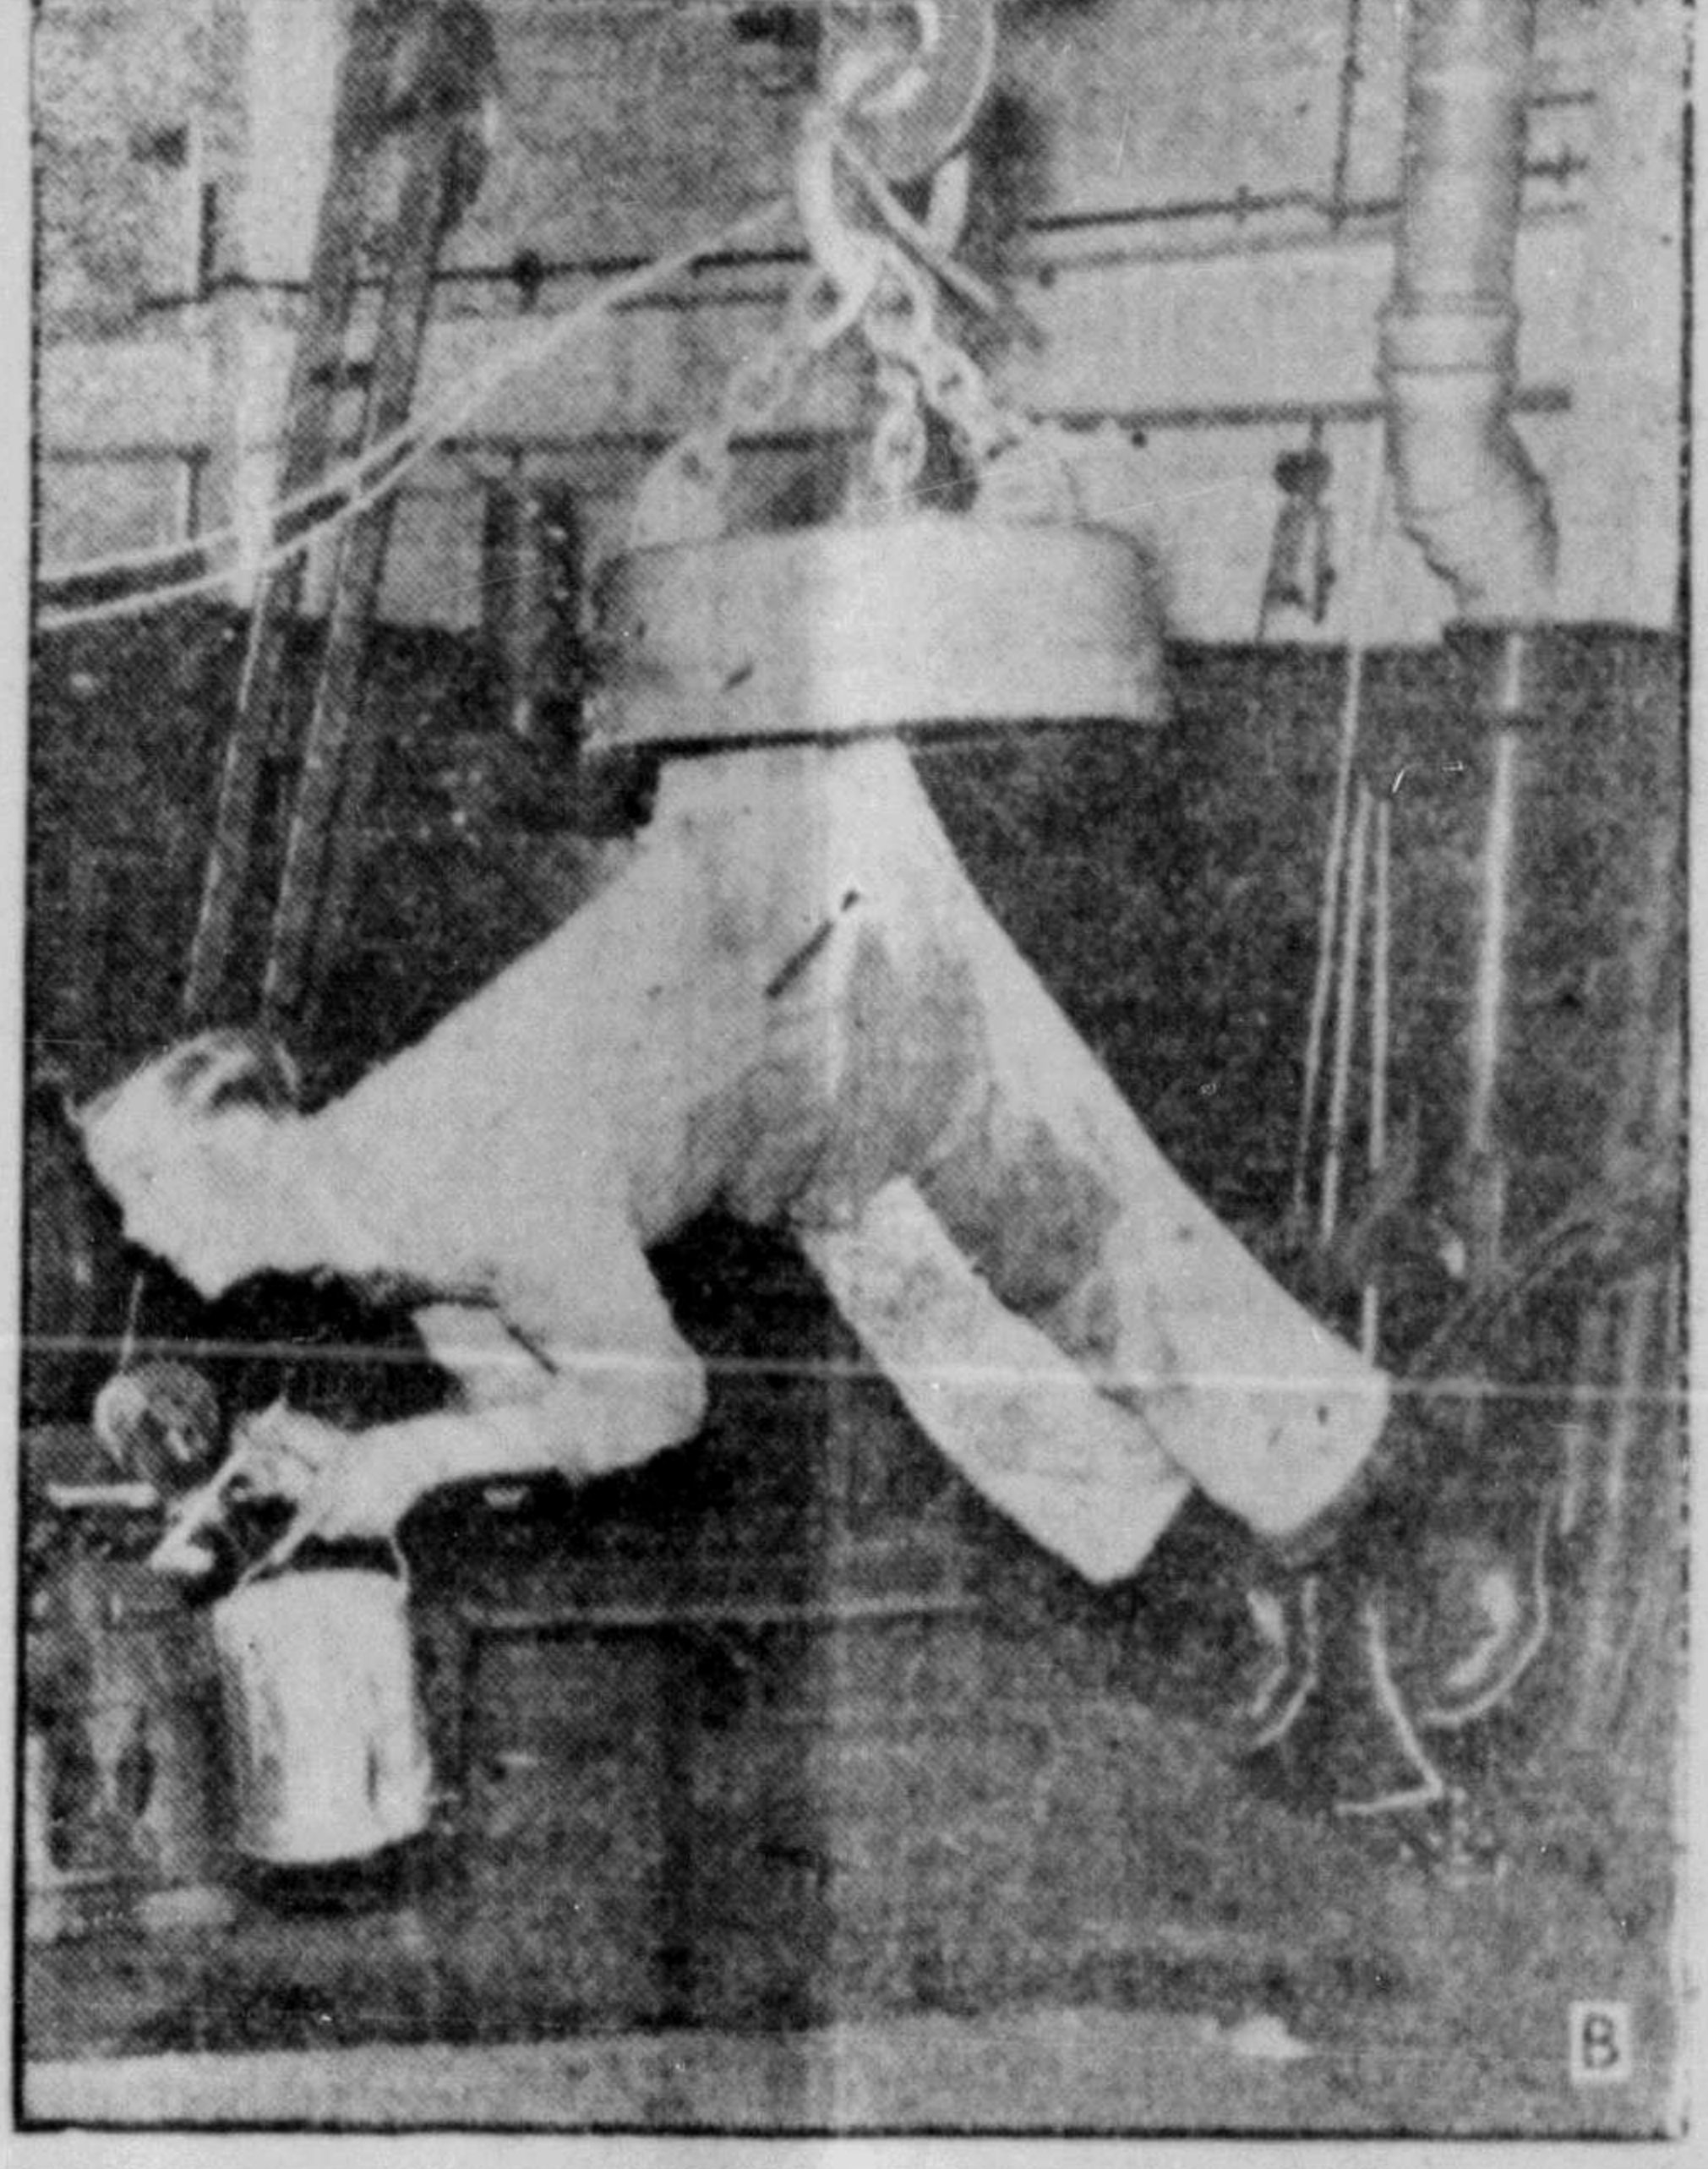

Among the most noteworthy appointments is that of the well-known Georgian motion picture director, Vladimir E. Chiaureli, who made "Road to Berlin," as minister of culture.

Funeral Service Planned Once For Wounded Soldier

QUEBEC—Mrs. Yvonne Dugal once planned to have a funeral service for her son, Paul, missing in action in Korea and presumed dead. She did not go through with the plans because she was convinced her son still lived.

A telephone call from Korea Sunday night informed her that her 20-year-old son was among the prisoners exchanged at Freedom Village.

"I never despaired of seeing him again," said Mrs. Dugal in an interview. "I took steps some time ago to have a funeral service for him. At the last minute, I decided to wait, convinced that he was still alive."

Record Tourist Season Forecast for Canada

By The Canadian Press
Holiday memo for Americans: If you can't get to Britain for the Coronation, come to Canada, where Elizabeth II is also Queen. This is one of the lures being held out to United States tourists by travel bureaux across the country as Canada prepares for probably its biggest tourist season in history.

Other factors which should boost the industry: Canada's industrial development has become front-page news in the U.S.; there won't be an American presidential campaign this year; the foot-and-mouth disease has run its course, enabling American hunters to take home their kills.

D. Leo Dolan, Canadian government travel chief, says his department has received its biggest number of inquiries in history—122,000 between January 1 and March 21, a 54 per cent increase over 1952.

All indications point to the biggest travel year we've ever had," Mr. Dolan says. The industry was worth $276,000,000 last year, six per cent more than in 1951.

British Columbia last year took in $63,000,000, expects $70,000,000 this year. It looks for 1,600,000 visitors, about 900,000 of them from the U.S.

The largest proportion—34 per cent—like to go fishing. Television spot announcements are being used on seven stations in Pacific coast states to attract visitors.

Rags and waste paper were collected in Victoria and Seattle for the manufacture of pulp in B.C.'s first pulp mill at Port Alberni in 1894.

Irish Immigrant Got $16 For Working 70-Hour Week

HALIFAX—A group of 350 Irish immigrants arrived here aboard the liner Georgic with money and jobs on their minds. David Corbett, a 35-year-old Belfast, wanted to know if Canadians are a "saving" people—"I mean, do they make enough money to put some in the bank?"

"Most of us made enough to live but we couldn't save anything, not a quid," said Corbett, who earned about £7 ($19.90) weekly as a furniture store salesman and paid £5 for lodging and food.

Majority of the immigrants, largest single group to leave the country in 25 years, are farmers coming under an assistance scheme whereby the Canadian government loans them $196 each and finds them a job. Most are bound for Alberta, like Joseph Laverty, 21, of County Armagh, who often worked a 70-hour week for $16.

"It wasn't enough for the work," said Joe, who will be placed on a farm when he reaches Calgary.

Many of the farmers were encouraged to come to Canada by advertisements and films shown by touring members of the Canadian office in Belfast.

A large proportion of skilled and semi-skilled workers of all kinds were among the group, whose average age was about 30. Unlike the farmers and domestics, they have no assurance of jobs but are hopeful of finding them.

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE
MONTREAL, April 23rd—Now that Spring here, you'll be able to hang your wash outside again. And—mum!—how sweet it smells when it comes in from the fresh morning air. And here it is when you've used Blue to wash your wash. You have trouble with yellow-looking washes? You use Blue to keep them snow-white. You know you must raise your wash to get the electric. Then simply put a dash of Blue in the wash tub. Your sheets, hubby's shirts and your washable linens will be fairly sparkling. And, remember—Blue is kind to fabrics—won't harm them at all. Costs just a few cents a month. Yes, for the whitest wash, use HECKTITE.

Feeling Good because the sun is shining and Spring is in the air? You'd like to go for a walk—but your feet are hurting you? Well, don't let that spoil your enjoyment of Spring! Try new BLUE-JAY Corn Plasters with Phenylum. That's the new medication that puts under your corn and helps push it out from underneath... the first really new medication for corns and calluses in over seventy years! In actual tests, Phenylum went to work 25% faster, worked 25% more surely than any other leading remedy. So take my tip—ask for Blue-Jays with Phenylum at your favourite drug counter today!

Want To Know A Good Way to get off to a quick start in the morning? Simply treat yourself to hot CREAM OF WHEAT at breakfast. It's extra-soft, smooth-tasting and tempting served with maple syrup or golden nuggets of brown sugar. And so easy to prepare. You know, Quick Cream of Wheat takes only five minutes of boiling to cook to perfect smoothness. And best of all, it's so good for you. It contains iron for good red blood and calcium and phosphorus for diets deficient in these elements. So how about it? Do as I do every morning. Treat yourself to hot Cream of Wheat for breakfast and give yourself a good start—a quick start for the day.

Are You "In The Dark" about feminine hygiene? Every woman should know about... and many have found that the most satisfactory method of feminine hygiene is ZONITORS. Zonitors are gentle, stainless, snow-white vaginal suppositories that are powerfully germicidal—yet absolutely safe to delicate tissues. And they're so very dainty and convenient to use. Ask your druggist for Zonitors tomorrow—and write to me—Barbara Brent, 1111 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—for a free booklet giving facts you should know about feminine hygiene. It will be sent to you in a plain wrapper.

Drive To Wipe Out Rumor-Mongers, Profiteers Started by Juan Peron

RAMON JIMENEZ
Buenos Aires (AP)—President Peron has rallied the length of supporting military and political forces in his two-pronged drive to wipe out rumor-mongers and profiteers.
 The president has said these elements have been the cause of recent events which shattered Argentina's order and tranquility.
 The spokesman for the federal government indicated that the arrests of rumor-mongers are continuing throughout the country but he would give no figures to add to the 77 known to have been swept into the police net in Buenos Aires alone last Saturday.

Relatives said Adolfo Mitre, a member of the family which owns Buenos Aires's big independent newspaper La Nacion, was arrested in the roundup.
 The relatives said Mitre was picked up when he was heard to say "What a shame!" as he stood in front of the fire-wrecked aristocratic Jockey Club. The swank club was burned by Peron's supporters in the night of violence following last week's bomb episode during a Peron address in the Plaza de Mayo. Six persons were killed in the bomb explosions.
 The police spokesman said 117 food shops had been padlocked and their owners jailed in the campaign against violators of the government's tough new price controls.
 Every newspaper gave prominence to the two-pronged action as all signs indicated Peron had successfully weathered the rumor-filled critical period.
 In the political field, Peronista congressmen, who make up all of the Senate and the overwhelming majority of the House of Deputies, issued a statement emphasizing their endorsement of whatever measures Peron sees fit to take. Leaders of the army, navy and air force have taken the same stand.

TCA Passenger Capacity To Be Raised

VICTORIA (CP)—The passenger capacity of Trans-Canada Air Lines will be increased by 720 seats on domestic routes with the addition of 15 new turbo-prop aircraft.
 Gordon R. McGregor, president of the government owned airlines, said in an interview here today the new aircraft will go into service late in 1954 or early in 1955.
 Mr. McGregor said the new aircraft will not be replacements for present equipment. They will take care of the "gross potential" traffic indicated for the time they go into service.
 They are British-built Vickers Viscounts, powered by four Rolls-Royce Dart turbo-propeller engines. Their seating capacity will be reduced from 57 to 48 for Canadian use.
 Order for the planes was placed last September. The first one is due in Canada by September, 1954 and the last in 1955.
 TCA also has eight 65-passenger Constellations on order from Lockheed Aircraft Corporation for use on the overseas service. The delivery date of these planes has been set back from November of this year to February, 1955.
 Three Bristols, specially designed for cargo work, are on order, Mr. McGregor said. Commitments for these aircraft total $31,000,000.
 The Constellations will replace the North Stars on overseas routes and the North Stars will be converted to cargo planes.
 Mr. McGregor said the new Viscounts are more economical at reasonable altitudes than full jets. They will cruise at 305 miles an hour.

Nearly Half Million to Vote In French Municipal Elections

By HAROLD KING
PARIS (Reuters)—French men and women will go to the polls next Sunday to elect some 466,800 municipal councillors in 30,000 "communes"—and at the same time give French politicians an inkling as to which way the political wind is blowing.
 Only 425 of the towns and villages concerned, including Paris, have more than 9,000 inhabitants. But these may have a general political significance.
 French political parties attach much importance to the municipal elections, and by mutual consent all parties agreed to adjourn parliament at the end of March until May 12, to leave politicians free to campaign in the municipalities.
 Chief prize is the mayor's chair in each municipality, since he has great political influence even though he is not always a member of the strongest party in the municipal council.
 Municipal councillors, too, form part of the body of electors who help to choose the senators.
 In the last municipal elections in October, 1947, the Gaullist movement was at the height of its popularity and polled nearly 40 per cent of the total vote.
 Observers expect the Communists to lose seats. But they wonder whether they will lose votes to any appreciable extent.
 The total Communist vote has remained steady at about 25 per cent of the total electorate since the end of the war.
 Many observers ascribe the steady vote for Communists to the fact that many Frenchmen have felt that all other parties were "government" and voted for the "opposition."

Carnegie Grants Given 3 Canadians

NEW YORK (CP)—Three Canadians have received travel and study grants from the Carnegie Corporation of New York.
 The grants were listed in a report on the first quarter of 1953 made by the philanthropic foundation which aims at "advancement and diffusion of knowledge and understanding."
 The Canadians are:
Geoffrey C. Andrew, executive assistant to the president, University of British Columbia, Vancouver.
 He will study university administration in the United States and Britain.
George W. Brown, professor of history, University of Toronto, for research on NATO at the University of London.
Francis J. Leddy, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon; to study university administration in the U.S. and Britain.

TB Battle Paying Off

EDMONTON (CP)—The federal government is winning its battle to control tuberculosis among Eskimos.
 Dr. W. L. Falconer, director of the Charles Camsell Indian Hospital at Edmonton, says the 70 new cases being treated at the institution this year should wipe out the backlog of cases.
 Then it will be relatively easy to keep the disease under control, he said in an interview.
 The Eskimos are being brought from the Arctic to Edmonton in RCAF planes, continuing the "ambulance flights" that have been going on for years.
 Most of the ill Eskimos will remain in Edmonton a year or so and then will return home. At the Charles Camsell Hospital they will be taught many things, particularly health rules to pass on to their people.

Russia Offers Britain Grain

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union has offered substantial shipments of timber, grain and foodstuffs to the United Kingdom in direct Anglo-Soviet trade talks.
 The talks were held within the framework of the 26-country conference convened by the UN economic commission for Europe to revive trade between East and West Europe.

If you DON'T agree the result is as fine a cake as you've ever baked in your life, please send me the new Jewel carton top, before May 30, 1953, and I will refund the cost of all ingredients used in my Challenge Cake."

Jewel Challenge Cake
 Quick Mix—No Creaming Method
 Preparation: Preheat oven and set at 375°F. Line bottoms of cake pans with two layers of waxed paper. Have all ingredients at room temperature. Sift flour before measuring.

Yield: Two 9-inch layers or three 8-inch layers

Group I
 1/2 cup new Jewel
 2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
 1 1/2 cups sugar
 4 teaspoons baking powder

Group II
 2 eggs
 3/4 cup milk

Method: Place new Jewel in bowl. Sift together flour, sugar, vanilla. Beat 2 minutes on medium speed of electric mixer, or by hand, using 150 strokes per minute. Keep batter scraped from sides and bottom of bowl. Add Group I. Beat for 2 minutes more. Scrape bowl and beaters. Pour batter into cake pans. Bake at 375°F. for 25 minutes. Suggested frosting: Jewel Cream Frosting.

Oil Firm Gets Permit To Sell Gas

EDMONTON (CP)—Imperial Oil Ltd. has been granted permission to sell natural gas from several leases in the Peace River district for export outside the province, it is reported in the Alberta Gazette.

The government has authorized an agreement through which Imperial Oil will sell gas to Westcoast Transmission Co. Ltd., which has received permission from the provincial government and from Ottawa to export Peace River gas to the Pacific coast. Westcoast is at present applying to the United States Federal Power Commission for permission to move gas into the northwestern U.S.

H. H. Sommerville, deputy minister of mines and minerals, said several other companies with oil and gas leases in the Peace River area have agreed to sell natural gas to Westcoast. He said that to date about eight similar agreements have been made.

No Date Set For Election In Manitoba

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Manitoba Legislature was prorogued without an official announcement regarding a provincial election.

Premier D. L. Campbell said in an interview there is no dissolution yet. An election June 8 is widely rumored.

The session was the seventh of the 23rd Legislature, elected in November, 1949. Its term of office could extend to November, 1954.

Syd Chaplin, Charles' son, makes his film debut in United Artists film, Limelight, which opens tonight for a three-night run at the Capitol Theatre.

Freight Schedules of CNR Speeded by Use of Diesels

VANCOUVER—Freight schedules of Canadian National Railways between Eastern Canada and the Pacific Coast have been speeded up by 20 to 24 hours as a result of dieselization, and will be further improved soon, when diesel electric locomotives go on the run between Vancouver and Winnipeg, S. F. Dingle, vice-president of operation, Montreal, said today during a visit to Vancouver.

Other improvements mentioned by Mr. Dingle included faster freight service to and from Vancouver Island, when a new barge slip to be built on Burrard Inlet is completed. This service will replace the present barge service from Port Mann.

More private rooms for passengers on trains, in place of the present open Pullmans, is also slated for the near future, Mr. Dingle said. The CNR has 300 new passenger cars now on order, he announced.

"Our studies have shown that the travelling public prefers closed accommodations," he said. A new ship to replace the SS Prince Rupert, announced earlier by CNR president Donald Gordon, is expected to be ready in time for the 1955 summer season. Mr. Dingle said that designs for the new ship are now being prepared by marine architects.

Accounting for 80 per cent of B.C.'s pulp and paper production in 1952, newsprint now comprises only about half of our Province's pulp and paper output.

Tokyo Flight Routine for RCAF Crews

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TOKYO (CP)—To the globe-trotters of the RCAF's Dorval-based 426 Transport Squadron a trip to Tokyo is just another entry in the log books.

The "Thunderbirds" certainly get around. Twenty-three-year-old FO John Middleton of Burlington, Ont., who captained the North Star aircraft which flew me from Canada, has flown 864,000 miles during the last 10 months.

Since his last trip to Tokyo in December he has made four trans-Atlantic crossings to Germany, two to England and crossed Canada each way twice. GET "JAMMY" JOBS

The squadron is the glamor outfit of the RCAF but, as my flight's navigator, 20-year-old FO Mort Lightstone of Ottawa, says:

"Yes, we get the jammy jobs, but people would be surprised to see how beat up we can be at the end of a long haul."

The squadron operates eight scheduled flights a month from Dorval, near Montreal, to Tokyo; one a week from Dorval to North Luffenham, England (shortly to be stepped up to three a week); a trans-Canada flight from Dorval to Vancouver and flights as required from Dorval to the Arctic station at Resolute Bay.

It also is on call for emergency and special flights. During the recent floods in Britain and Holland it flew emergency shipments of Canadian Red Cross supplies to disaster areas. Its Canadian-built North Star aircraft also fly home sick soldiers from Canada's 27th Brigade in Germany.

Elapsed time of my flight from McChord Field, Wash., to Tokyo was just under two days—four days from Montreal. Time in the air from McChord was 23 hours but there was a 14-hour stop at Shemya in the Aleutians to sleep. The aircraft carried 5,000 pounds of mail and 800 pounds of CBC equipment to record the Wayne and Shuster show in the Far East.

Air crews do not stay together in the transport outfit. Nor do they stay on any particular run. A man operating with one captain today on a Tokyo flight may next week be with another flying to Resolute Bay.

Mayor Admitted To Yukon Bar

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP)—Mayor J. M. Cuclenaere, QC, has been admitted to the Yukon bar and left for Whitehorse to defend 21-year-old Glen Donald Smith on a charge of murder. Mayor Cuclenaere said Smith, charged in connection with the death of Ralph Caruso, a part-time taxi driver, in Whitehorse, April 11, 1952, faces trial next Monday.
