Board Names Foreman— Out Improvement Plans

A season's program development which will only be budgetary available by the city of parks committee meeting last night, the appointment of a bulldozer on the grounds in their present wet and boggy state would not be advantageous.

Commissioner Art Murray suggested improvements around totem poles in Alder Park One, in particular, should be equipped with a chain fence and, if possible, plaques with legends of the various poles should be put in. Mr. Murray referred to the great popularity of the totem poles with the tourists and the keen interest that was taken in them. He was delegated to obtain prices on the proposed work.

Looking around at various possibilities of cleaning up park sites, the board decided to communicate again with the city asking for definite action in the clearing up of debris from the old Exhibition Hall on Acropolis Hill, something that has been hanging fire for years now. Correspondence as old as two years on the matter was reviewed.

The chairman, Mr. Forman, reported that he had interviewed the game warden in regard to reported illegal fishing in Hays Creek in McClymont Park. The game warden felt that there was no serious illegal fishing in the creek but the situation would be watched. It was not felt worthwhile to interfere with the angling efforts of small boys.

The board decided to investigate the possibilities of using garbage for grounds filling purposes. More information will be sought in connection with a "sanitary fill" process now being used in Vancouver.

Klismen's Club was granted the use of Roosevelt Park on May 24 for its annual celebration.

Present at last night's meeting were Pat Forman, Parks Board chairman, Commissioners Robert Eby, Robert Armstrong and Arthur Murray and Secretary Peter Lien.

Next Parks Board meeting will be May 9.

Fish Price Answer Due

Answer to trawl-fishermen's demands for a minimum price on sole and cod is expected this afternoon in the second meeting between United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union representatives and Prince Rupert operators.

Union demands one-half cent increase across the board for sole and cod and one-cent increase for ling cod. Present prices range from four to five and a half cents for sole, and five cents for ling cod.

Meanwhile, there is no trawl fishing. The fleet, including vessel owners, remain "tied up" while negotiations are in process, says T. E. Parkin, general secretary of UFAWU.

An immediate union meeting will be called if operators refuse to meet demands. At a meeting yesterday afternoon, operators told unionists they would refer the question to head offices in Vancouver. The increase would cover all trawling operations north of Namu.

Meantime, application for cancellation has been made by the Shoreworkers of the UFAWA following a deadline in negotiations for a thirty-three and one-third percent wage increase, said Mr. Parkin.

No further progress has been made in a new sockeye price agreement. Demands are for a five-cent-a-pound increase. Meanwhile, the minimum price demand for halibut has been dropped, "but only for this year" said Mr. Parkin.

May Mediate Woods Dispute

VANCOUVER (CP)—A government conciliator to mediate the dispute between the International Woodworkers of America and coast lumber operators may be called today.

This was indicated Tuesday as talks between the Union and Forest Industrial Relations Limited, representing the operators, entered the ninth day.

After ten days either party may apply for a conciliator under the labor laws.

Minister Warns High Tariff Height of Folly

WASHINGTON.—Canada today suggested to the United States that it fears a resurgence of high-walled tariff protectionism in the U.S.—a move that would cripple Canada's exports to its biggest foreign customer.

Hon. Douglas Abbott, Canada's finance minister, in a speech prepared for delivery to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, said such a development would be the "height of folly."

The issue was of "crucial importance" not only to Canada but to other members of the North Atlantic community.

Steel Strike Under Way In United States After Truman Decree Is Upset

PITTSBURGH.—Steelworkers, who went on strike when a judge said the government could not be their boss, throttled steel production today in the quickest steel plant shutdown in history.

Halt in the defence-vital steel industry within hours seemed certain.

About 650,000 workers are idle—or soon will be.

Mill after mill went silent as companies and union maintenance crews banked furnaces following hours of confusion at the start of the walk-out last night.

President Philip Murray of both the CIO and Steel Workers' Union ordered the strike when Federal Judge David A. Pine ruled that President Truman acted illegally in seizing the steel industry April 9 to avert a strike.

Pine signed formal orders today directing return of the seized steel mills to their owners and then turned down a government plea to delay effectiveness of the order.

These legal formalities cleared the way for the government to appeal to a higher court Pine's ruling that President Truman's seizure of the steel industry illegal.

Powell River Horror Attack

Man and Woman in Hospital After Domestic Tragedy

POWELL RIVER (CP)—Guarded by police a man lay in hospital here today accused of a hatchet and razor attack on his estranged wife. His young daughter was an eye-witness.

Police said that a mill worker, Charles Martin, attacked his wife yesterday and then ripped at his own throat with a razor while their 12-year-old daughter, Sandra, looked on in horror.

The woman survived although she was admitted to hospital here.

Sandra, unharmed, sat almost speechless from shock and told officers that she tried in vain to stop the attack on her mother.

Police said that no charges have yet been laid. They are waiting until they know more about the woman's chances of survival.

Caution in B.C. Woods

VICTORIA (CP)—British Columbia's government foresters this week will raise the red danger flag for persons entering the woods.

Intending to keep forest fire losses to a minimum this summer, foresters have set the five-month period, from May 1 to September 30 as the fire period.

Starting Thursday, persons will be required to obtain a permit before lighting out of door fires for cooking, warmth or land clearing.

GATHERING GRAIN—About 88,000,000 bushels of the 1951 wheat crop remained in the field when winter set in last fall in Saskatchewan. Modern harvesting machinery, such as operated by N. H. Pearce and his son Murray on a farm 12 miles northwest of Regina, are hard at work to bring in the record spring harvest. They are loading oats from their pull-type combine into their truck. ## First Call in Rupert for Huge Tanker

Imperial Oil Company's third largest tanker, Imperial Edmonton, arrived for her first time in Prince Rupert harbor this morning. She unloaded 35,000 barrels of bunker fuel, for storage in the oil company's large tanks.

Regular run for the Edmonton is from Ioco to San Pedro, California, where the fuel oil was loaded for Rupert. Drawing a gross of 12,000 tons, the huge tanker anchored in mid-harbor while waiting for tug boats to carry its heavy lines to the wharf.

Captain is R. "Bud" Thompson, a veteran tanker master. The Edmonton sails south tonight.

Fatality At Kemano

A lower-mainland caterpillar tractor operator was killed at Kemano Bay last night, according to information received by RCMP here.

The driver's skull was crushed, killing him instantly, when a log the tractor was pushing jumped over the blade.

Coroner Don Forward left here by plane to hold the inquest. Name of victim was withheld, pending notification of next-of-kin.

Barbara Ann Loses Furs And Jewelry

TORONTO—Burglars entered the apartment of Barbara Ann Scott here and took furs and jewelry estimated into the five figures in value.

Giant Plane Disappears in Jungle; Canadians Aboard

RIO DE JANEIRO (CP)—Search planes today combed the dense unexplored jungles of Brazil and its desert-like plateaus for a giant Pan-American stratocruiser, the last word in modern air travel which disappeared with 50 persons aboard.

Among the 41 passengers were the sister of a Canadian government official and the president of Willys-Overland Auto Export Company of Canada Ltd.

The double-decked Boeing stratocruiser is the first plane of its kind reported missing.

Mrs. Lucy Gellis Wood, formerly of Montreal, and her husband, John Vincent Wood, 47, British engineer, are among the missing. Mrs. Wood is the sister of Edmond Joly de Lotbiniere of Canadian External Affairs Department's information division.

The atto official was Marcel Francois DeMueller, 50, Toledo, president and general manager of the Willys-Overland Export Corporation and president of the Willys-Overland Export Co. of Canada Ltd.

Francis Millard of Vancouver, president of the council and host of the six-day party, also spoke out against "planned economy," saying the fishing industry is "perfectly capable of looking after itself."

The industry itself, with the assistance of certain qualified advisers, is best qualified to solve its own problems," he said.

Queen Sends Message Of Sympathy

WASHINGTON, D.C.—President Truman has received a message of sympathy from Queen Elizabeth in connection with the loss of the United States Navy minesweeper Hobson with estimated loss of 176 lives.

Twenty-Five Percent Increase in Series Of Bills at Ottawa

OTTAWA (Canadian Press)—Twenty-five per cent increase in war veterans' allowances being paid to 40,000 of Canada's aged and needy overseas veterans and their dependents was proposed yesterday in a series of government bills introduced in the House of Commons.

A bill sponsored by Veterans' Minister Lapointe would boost to $50 a month from $40 the maximum allowance payable to a single veteran or widow, to $90 from $70 the maximum for a married recipient.

Minimum monthly allowance for an orphan would be $40, for two orphans $70 and for three orphans $85.

Full Docket For Assizes

A full docket, including three murder trials, will face Justice H. S. Woods as he opens Supreme Court assizes here May 5. Six cases will be heard, of which two are local. Assizes are expected to last more than a week.

The murder trials will begin with the new trial of a Port Simpson native fisherman, Harold Ryan, ordered by an appeal court last fall. Ryan is charged with the murder of his common-law wife, Lorraine Tait.

Two others are from Burns Lake. Arthur Bruce Cunningham, 60, is charged with murder of Albert Thorson last fall. Third accused is Jack Barry.

Trials open with a Terrace hit-and-run case in which William Parker is charged with injuring a person by wilful misconduct while driving a motor vehicle.

Other cases include a false pretence charge against Ronald Riley, 35-year-old logger of Armstrong, and a stabbing charge against Peter Byrne, 31-year-old local fisherman.

Forty-eight jurors will be called. The Ryan murder trial will be defended by local lawyer T. W. Brown, Q.C. Other defence counsel are not yet known. Gilbert Hogg of Vancouver is prosecuting counsel.

Boosts For "Free" Trade

VANCOUVER (CP)—Importance of "free trade" in combating "welfare state theories" was stressed by opening-day speakers at the seventh annual Fisheries Council of Canada convention Tuesday.

Virgil D. Reed, vice-president and associate director of research for J. Walter Thompson Co. of New York, told 350 delegates that freeing of trade for traffic restrictions was the only solution of the world's ills and "the greatest single contribution a nation could make to prosperity and peace."

Francis Millard of Vancouver, president of the council and host of the six-day party, also spoke out against "planned economy," saying the fishing industry is "perfectly capable of looking after itself."

The industry itself, with the assistance of certain qualified advisers, is best qualified to solve its own problems," he said.

Refinery Men Strike for Wage Demand

DENVER (CP)—More than 99,000 unionized refinery and pipeline workers are on strike across the United States today as negotiations with the oil industry continue.

Union demands a 25-cent hourly wage increase and a higher night differential pay.

Present average wage ranges from $2 to $2.10 an hour. Motorists are expected to be hit hardest by the prolonged strike.

Long lines of cars were reported at filling stations in Detroit and other cities last night before the midnight strike deadline.

Those Mounting Taxes

ALTHOUGH there may be fair enough excuse for it, what with increasing demands for expenditures and rising inflationary costs which are affecting every kind of business, that big four mill increase in the city tax rate which city council is imposing this year will not ride so easily with the ratepayers. It was natural enough that loud protestations were heard yesterday after the Daily News got out with the announcement.

Furthermore, long suffering business people, already prey for a wide variety of solicitations for every manner of campaign and appeal, are proposed to be hit by a business tax such as they have in Vancouver and which has been so roundly condemned there.

Of course, the city has its problems. There are plenty of demands for improvements and services. All cost money and there is only one way of getting the money—that is by taxes.

So, if we are to have our cake we must pay for it. But the citizens will be expecting that there will really be some cake and that there will be something to show for the money that is being taken from them through these mounting municipal taxes.

The city will also be expected to exercise all reasonable economies and the taxpayers will be watching that this is done.

One gratifying thing is the increasing interest being engendered in civic affairs. Maybe some of those who are showing such an interest will be more willing to come forward and offer their services and exercise their ideas in a practical way by being candidates when the next election comes around.

The North American continent, with nine per cent of the world's population, accounts for 43.6 per cent of world income, according to the United Nations. In contrast, Asia, with 53 per cent of world population, has only 19.5 per cent of world income. U.S.S.R. has 8.1 per cent of world population and 11 per cent of income, while Europe, with 16.6 per cent of the world's population, has 27.3 per cent of world income.

Ketchikan Pulp Mill

A $46,000,000 pulp mill is a big thing for Ketchikan. An industry of that magnitude a mere six miles out of town will revolutionize the whole economy of the "First City" which has derived its livelihood to date from its salmon canneries and a fair-sized sawmill.

We know how a $27,000,000 pulp mill near Prince Rupert changed the whole picture for this community and Prince Rupert had more to start with than Ketchikan which will therefore experience an even greater metamorphosis.

Possibly, the Ketchikan pulp mill will prove of considerable benefit to Prince Rupert in providing traffic for our trancontinental railway. It will bring the two communities into even closer bonds of relationship.

We rejoice with and congratulate Ketchikan on this important news.

ray ... Reflects and Reminisces

Well, anyway, our good friends the Yanks never invented the Royal Canadian Mounted Police although they delight in the smart figure, trim hat, scarlet and blue, and spurs.

It was mentioned at a recent sitting of the Fisheries Council of Canada in Vancouver that, if all the half-pound tins of salmon produced in the last 50 years were placed side by side, they would encircle the world more than 20 times. But think of the waste of tin—and tin is in such demand, just now.

THIS LESSON REMEMBERED

G. W. Yates, newspaperman and civil servant, died in London (Ont.) recently. Of him, many a tale is told. When an office boy in the Free Press, he wrote a bulletin announcing the execution in the Birchall-Bennell murder case, Josiah Blackburn, Free Press proprietor, learning who wrote the bulletin, called Yates over, and pointing with his cane to the word "hung" as inscribed, said: "Young man, always remember that beef is hung, but men are hanged." Mr. Yates used to say he never forgot this lesson in English.

Taxis must be off Third Avenue not later than October. Jay walking will be abolished and lots of other traffic reforms are to become effective. The city council is becoming stern. The mayor and aldermen looked and sounded that way Monday night. Prince Rupert is growing up, even if some feel they came about forty years too early.

SOUNDS EXCLUSIVE

Breakfast should be eaten in silence, says a dietician. It will be profound, if he's been out late.

Alderman George Casey is revisiting Rossland, once a flash camp in what was then one of the liveliest mining regions in the northwest. When he feels like it, he can spin many a yarn. Sometimes he does.

THE LETTERBOX

TRAFFIC CHANGES

Editor, Daily News, Could I use the medium of your paper to query some of the newly proposed bylaws? Haven't we any originality in our city council at all? Who ever set Vancouver up as a model for us to pattern our city ordinances after? Surely we can do better than that.

First of all we have that boner at Third and McBride Street. That idea came from Vancouver. Now there's a proposed new business tax. Isn't that the stone city of Vancouver hung around the necks of their own business men?

Next we have the possibility of vehicular traffic giving way to pedestrian traffic. Another Vancouver bylaw that has cre-

COUNCIL NOTES

Estimates will be obtained on the cost of a job evaluation survey for the city hall staff.

Parks Board will be granted an interim budget of $2,000 as recommended by the city council finance committee.

Sidewalk between Overlook Street and fishermen's floats has been condemned by the city board of works and closed.

A lane behind the United Church and Annunciation Church will be gravelled and graded at approximate cost of $200.

Rate for indigent burials is raised from $60 to $65.

A new pump house will be constructed at Shawatlans Lake at estimated cost of $2,700.

Meanwhile, a concrete reinforced sidewalk will be constructed on the north side of Second Avenue between First and Second Streets at an estimated cost of $4,700. Construction is planned on a local improvement bylaw.

Off duty firemen will be paid two hours "call out" pay during day time hours and three hours call out pay other times when called out to stand by at the fire hall when on duty firemen are answering a fire call.

Utilities committee recommended the salary of assistant fire chief be set at $345 a month and that repairs be made to a fire truck at a cost of $230.

Trade licenses were granted to F. W. Reich, for an automatic laundry business; H. L. Knutson, rooming house, and A. McNeil, barber shop.

Prince Rupert Shrine Club was granted permission to hold a four-day circus operated by Crescent Shows beginning May 10 providing suitable grounds can be located. Attempt will be made to obtain space on First Avenue behind the Civic Centre. The Club was granted a licence at $25 a day.

A bylaw was passed to rename Prince Rupert Health Unit, Skeena Health Unit.

Vancouver Cuts Down Travelling

VANCOUVER—City council has cut municipal travelling expenses for the year. There will be no conventions for civic officials beyond British Columbia, Washington or Oregon. The travelling budget is cut from $12,000 to $7,000 for the year. The limitation does not apply to mayor and aldermen, four of whom will be going to a convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities at Calgary.

ated more traffic snarls than anything else. How much worse would it be here with our short city blocks?

It's bad enough having to contend with drunks reeling around in the centre of the roads without doing things up brown Vancouver style.

If there was any sanity in such an ordinance, don't you think our large eastern cities would adopt it? Believe me it will be a long time before we have the same number of motor vehicles as Toronto. So please, if we must have nuisance laws, can't you think up something new? Let Vancouver solve their own.

As for taxi parking, why not off-the-street parking entirely? What about parking meters? Of course then everyone would pay the same for parking privileges, or would that be fair to the "sleepers" who park for five or six hours at a time and still pay less for their licence plates?

It is about time our bylaw of April 5, 1943, was revised. Do mothers know, according to By-law No. 968, that it is unlawful to push a baby carriage on the sidewalk in Prince Rupert? Yes, some changes need to be made but please be a little more careful this time.

Thank you, Mr. Editor.

J. P. McLEAN.

As I See It

Doctors Want In

AN EARNEST young medical student writes about the plan I recently proposed in this column:

The government would finance the courses of students who want to become doctors and dentists. In return, students so financed would sign contracts to serve for a set number of years in pioneer districts which lack doctors or dentists now.

The young fellow says: "Just let us in to take the courses and we will gladly sign such contracts. What is holding us up now is not the money to pay our way through but the strict exclusion rules which let in only about half of those who want to become doctors."

RECENTLY I gave some adverse publicity to the woodworking industry and showed that man for man there was more chance of being injured if you were a B.C. logger than if you were a soldier in Korea.

Turn about is fair play. Here is a tribute to the B.C. Lumber Manufacturers Association from the National Safety Council. On April 3 Ned Dearborn, President, wrote as follows:

Dear Mr. Andrews— It gives me great pleasure to extend the sincere congratulations of the National Safety Council to the B.C. Lumber Manufacturers Assn., its members and their employees. The record established—an association wide compensable accident frequency rate reduction from 51.36 in 1949 to 43.93 in 1950 and 32.07 in 1951 is outstanding for any association, but deserves special commendation for any woodworking industry. . . . Mr. Dearborn adds "it is important that none of you—management or employees—rest on your laurels but go ahead to even greater accomplishments." One of the best signs of the times is that accident reduction is one of the grounds on which labor and management meet in hearty cooperation. The woodworkers union in B.C. has recently appointed a full time safety director. THE New York Herald Tribune has suddenly become converted to the benefits of the St. Lawrence waterway, which it opposed till last week. Canada still keeps the door open for US partnership in this scheme. But I for one would like to see Jack Canuck complete this job on his own. Why take a half-hearted partner? Let us build it—but let Uncle Sam's ships pay their tolls on it exactly as our ships do when they use Panama. . . . A FLU bug or some other me to bed last week not enough for a complete out. In bed I recovered. read A KING'S STORY Duke of Windsor. In one way it is sad of a man with a boy's there are many bright. One was his memory grandfather. ## Dramatics Revived Here

Little Theatre in Action Again With Two Plays

Prince Rupert Little Theatre can be proud of itself in reviving amateur dramatics in the community. Although only a small audience of 200 cheered the return to the stage of the dramatic group, its performance last night, of two one-act plays was enjoyed and showed considerable talent.

If audience reaction is to be used as a criterion of judgment, the comedy-satire play, "From Five to Five-Thirty" would gain merits over the mystery, "Death Writes A Message."

No doubt the comedy had a more capable cast with considerable amount of "show-stealing" by assisting role of a cleaning woman played by Jean McLeod.

Briefly, the story centres around three daughters who consider themselves in "respectable" positions in society and are faced with what they term "unrespectable" actions of their 70-year-old mother.

The daughters individually face their mother with some of the things she has been seen to do such as emerging from public drinking places, and especially, clothes-buying sprees. The mother is supposed to be supported by the 25 shilling a month donations from each daughter.

Mother settles the daughters' suspicions, finally, by telling them she sold an oil painting hanging over the fireplace, for 15,000 pounds. Then she tells her daughters that because of their suspicions she will cut them out of her will, that she will leave London to travel, taking with her the cleaning woman as a travelling companion.

The scultery man has made one appearance in the play at this time, being hounded by the daughters who treat her like "scum." The daughters are distraught at their mother's intentions.

"Not the cleaning woman—she's nothing but scum," they cry.

"That scum is your real mother," Mrs. Treetops returns. Then, while the daughters gasp realistically, their foster mother explains derisively that she undertook to care for the three little babies of a young mother sent to jail for the murder of her husband. When the jail term ended, Mrs. Treetops hired the real mother of the foster children as a cleaning woman.

While the author of the play is not known, an attempt seems to have been made to copy the O. Henry style of story telling but the loosely-knit sequences weaken it considerably as little regard was given to build up to a strong, single effect.

"Death Writes A Message" employs the age-old plot of a mystery revealed by the last minute appearance of an oft-discussed character in the play who practically relates the solution. Placards could have told the story as simply. While some of the acting was fine a strong love-making scene was weakened by the leading man's lack of enthusiasm. Nina Youngman played her part well as the conniving wife of a husband she thinks she murdered in order to marry her secret lover, a role taken by Archie Mitchell.

In the climax, Kenneth Boulter appears as the "murdered" husband and tells his wife that the explosion she set off in the laboratory did not kill him but his helper.

Appearance of the Mel Thompson-Pat Bolton team during intermission in a vaudeville skit drew heavy applause from an audience well pleased with the slapstick humor. Thompson as a professor tries an experimental "cure on an alcoholic (Bolton). Skit ends with the two of them staggering off the stage together.

Cast: "From Five to Five-Thirty"—Miss Claire Sirett, Miss Marisa Windle and Mrs. Lillian Miller, the three daughters; Miss Jean McLeod, as Mrs. Boxer (the cleaning woman); and Miss Ileana Witts, as Mrs. Treetops.

"Death Writes a Message"—Miss Nina Youngman as Sandra, the wife; Mrs. Bernice Woodside, as Ann, the sister; Archie Mitchell as Frank, the brother; Kenneth Boulter as Clark, the husband.

Gerry Woodside directed the satire, Mr. Boulter the mystery.

Timely RECIPES

WALNUT MACARON TORTE
1 cup California walnuts
3 eggs
3/4 cup granulated sugar
1 cup finely rolled zwieback crumbs
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup tart red jelly
1/2 cup whipping cream

Chop walnuts fine. Beat eggs until light, and gradually beat in sugar. Combine crumbs, walnuts, baking powder, salt and cinnamon and fold in egg mixture. Turn into greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in moderately slow oven (325° F.) about 40 minutes. Cool in pan. Spread top with jelly and whipped cream. Cut into squares to serve. Makes nine squares.

Logical Thinking Can Give Formula For Squeeze Play

Follow Mr. Abel's thinking on this hand as he discovered, through logical and simple reasoning, one of the essential principles of the squeeze play.

The king of spades was opened and taken by dummy's ace. Surveying his prospects, Mr. Abel saw seven winners in hearts, one in spades, one in diamonds and two in clubs. Eleven in all—one short of his contract.

It looked like only a squeeze could develop that 12th trick. What about a squeeze on Mrs. Keen in clubs and spades? It would work if she had her side's only stoppers in the black suits. In the club suit, she would have to have both queen and jack or any five clubs. In spades she would have to hold both queen and jack and that seemed unlikely on the bidding and the play to the first trick.

Mr. Abel applied the formula I have recommended to check on a squeeze. Mrs. Keen had to retain a first round winner in spades. Therefore she had to hold only one card in that suit.

She had to hold a third round winner in clubs, which meant she had to retain three cards in that suit—a total of four cards. Now, if Mr. Abel could play out nine more tricks outside of the potential squeeze suits (spades and clubs, that would make 10 tricks played and Mrs. Keen clearly could not hold those important four cards.

Mr. Abel counted. One trick had already been played. He could win seven hearts and one diamond. But that totaled only nine and Mrs. Keen would still have her four essential cards. The squeeze would not operate.

Mr. Abel thought long and hard. Finally his face brightened. He saw the answer. He had to lose one trick in any case. That loser, plus the nine tricks referred to above WOULD total 10—and the squeeze would be on.

So at trick two Mr. Abel led a low spade from dummy and calmly discarded the five of diamonds. He won the high spade return by ruffing and cashed his hearts and the ace of diamonds. On the 10th trick Mrs. Keen either had to drop her king of spades, making dum-

Labor Trouble Holds Up Game—
Indians Beat A's 21 to 9

NEW YORK (Canadian Press)—Preacher Roe, Brooklyn's left-handed master, beat the St. Louis Cardinals for the eighth straight time as the National League-leading Dodgers scored a 4 to 1 victory in a game which began Tuesday night and ended at 3:30 a.m. Eastern Daylight Time today.

The start of the contest was delayed 65 minutes because electricians refused to cross "hot" lines thrown up around Sportsman's Park by members of another labor union.

Sil Maglie pitched a three-inning game and then singled a winning run in the ninth inning Monday night as New York Giants hung the season's third consecutive defeat on Cincinnati's Ewell Blackwell by a score of 2 to 1.

Blackwell had walked Alvin Dark in the final frame of the National League game. The shortstop advanced on Wes Strum's grounder before he was out on Maglie's hit.

It was a tough one for Blackie as he yielded only four hits. The game was Maglie's third consecutive victory.

Curt Simmons made a smooth comeback to big league baseball by pitching Philadelphia Phillies to an 8 to 2 National League victory over the Chicago Cubs. The former army sergeant Prince Rupert Elks' Boxing Club left on today's plane for Vancouver to arrive in time for the opening in under the careful scrutiny of their trainer, local C.M.P. radio operator, Joe Ward.

The heart of Rupert goes with the boys who made such a grand showing in the provincial Gold-Gloves tourney, in which they won three championships.

Full press coverage of the tourney will be featured in The Daily News.

Former Prince Rupertan, Eddie Ward, son of Trainer Joe, is flying to Vancouver from Calgary to witness the three-day elimination championship show.

Ward, who is an oil well engineer, will meet his father tonight.

Late reports from anglers say they have taken limits of open season trout in the Skeena and confluents of Skeena with such success as Khyex, Kwintsa and others.

Stan Cornwell, manager of the Cornwell & Anderson senior baseball club, announces a practice game for the team will be held next Friday at Roosevelt park, 10:30 p.m.

All former club members and interested ball players are invited to attend.

Another newcomer to Prince Rupert baseball is Bill Kaines, who is to play for Commercial. Kaines comes from Penticton and is a bowler. Bill, who manages bowling alleys, also announces the formation of a short season bowling league of 14 teams. More details later.

SUGAR RAY BRAINY—There never was much doubt that Sugar Ray Robinson did better than most when they were handing out brains to the prize fighters. Now it's official.

The middleweight champ had his choice of visiting Paris in the spring or staying here and getting himself cuffed around by Joey Maxim, the rugged ruler of the cruiser-weights. He chose Paris.

It would have made a great payday for everybody, probably above $100,000 for each fighter. There is no ring attraction in sight to match it. But Robinson doesn't need the money, and he was smart enough to realize the dice were loaded. Maxim, packing a 15-pound weight advantage, might have even evened things up to slip Sugar the first knockout of his career.

SHOULD COOL OFF—Warren Giles, the new president of the National League, should have been given a year's cooling-out period between handing in his resignation as president of Cincinnati Reds and assuming his present post.

Under the Talbot plan, the popular and extremely able executive would have been required to sit through a full schedule of games with nothing to do for his salary except munch peanuts and learn to admire umpires for the truly fine job they turn in under trying conditions.

It would have been a tough course for a man who had watched the Knights in Blue rob his Reds all those years, but a man of Giles' calibre would have mastered it, and would not, for

RICKEY DOES IT AGAIN—Intimates of Branch Rickey swear that the inventor of the rookie assembly line has done it again—that he already has assembled under the Pittsburgh banner the biggest and finest collection of future greats controlled by any club in either big league. Said one baseball figure, fresh from a swing around the Mahatma's new domain:

"I'm not fooling you—he'll have the Pirates up in the race within another year or two. I never saw such wonderful kids before in my life. I don't know yet what it is that Branch has the others don't have, but it's something."

STEWART—Funeral services for the late Thomas Campbell Macleod were held under the auspices of the Canadian Legion on Sunday in the Legion Hall. Testifying to the respect held for the deceased and his family, the hall was filled to capacity.

Chaplain W. Shields Orr conducted the service assisted by Rev. T. C. Colwell of Port Simpson United Church and Roy Sharp, Legion president.

Mrs. H. Wilkinson, accompanied by Mrs. H. Stewart, led the singing of "Rock of Ages" and "Lead, Kindly Light," and "O God Our Help in Ages Past."

The chaplain spoke briefly, followed by an address by the Rev. T. C. Colwell.

At the conclusion of the service the casket was opened and viewed by the entire assemblage while the "Last Post" and "Reveille" were played.

Change In Regulations For Halibut

The 1952 halibut fishing regulations of the International Fisheries Commission are different in some respects from those of last year. The regular fishing season opens on May 14 instead of May 1 as in 1951. Other changes include the establishment of a recently underfished far western section of previous Area 3 as a separate area and the opening of this in late summer at the time when it used to yield its greatest catches. Area 4, the Bering Sea, will be opened at the same time. Two similar areas established last year, one off British Columbia and the other off Southeastern Alaska, will again be opened as separate areas in late summer this year.

The coast is divided into eight regulatory areas. Area 1A includes the waters south of Cape Blanco, Oregon. Area 1B lies between Cape Blanco and Willapa Harbor, Washington. Area 2A includes those waters between Willapa Harbor and Cape Spencer, Alaska, that are not contained in Areas 2B and 2C. Area 2B includes the waters in southern Hecate Strait, off British Columbia. Area 2C includes the waters between Cape Addington and Dixon Entrance, off Southeastern Alaska. Area 3A extends from Cape Spencer to a line running South 3/4 East from Bold Cape through Caton Island of the Sanak Islands group. Area 3B extends between the Bold Cape-Caton Island line and a line running true west from Cape Sarichef on Unimak Island. Area 4 includes those waters of the Bering Sea lying north of the Cape Sarichef line.

CATCH LIMITS

Catch limits are placed on Areas 2A and 3A only. These are 25,500,000 pounds and 28,000,000 pounds, respectively. Since Area 4 is opened for a stated 17-day period the previous 500,000 pound catch limit is removed. No catch limits are set for Areas 1A, 1B, 2B, 2C, 3B and 4.

The fishing season is opened on May 14, except in Areas 2B and 2C which are opened for 10 days fishing commencing on July 26, and in Areas 3B and 4 which are opened for 17 days fishing commencing August 2. The season ends in Areas 1B and 2A when the Area 2A catch limit is taken, and in Areas 1A and 3A when the Area 3A catch limit is reached.

Set line vessels may again secure permits to retain for sale one pound of halibut with each seven pounds of other salable species of fish caught incidentally while fishing for other species during a limited period after closure of the areas to halibut fishing. The winter closed season, the closure of the Masset and Timbered Islet nursery areas throughout the entire year, and the application of the minimum size limit to the halibut that are landed, are continued.

Gardening....

SOW PERENNIAL FLOWERS WHEN YOU SOW VEGETABLES

If you wait until summer, as many do, the difficulties of germinating seed and growing these plants will be much greater, and the plants will have less time to grow up before winter.

Nearly all the perennials which can be grown from seed are native forms, collected originally as wild plants, and improved only by selecting the finest plants as seed parents. Those which are the product of hybridizing will seldom come true from seed; but there are exceptions, such as delphiniums and hollyhocks, which have been fairly well fixed. Peonies and iris, by contrast, have never been tried and to obtain named varieties, plants must be bought.

So there are relatively few new perennial varieties which you can produce from seed, but hundreds of lovely old ones, many in danger of being lost because the new generations of gardeners does not know their charm.

Columbines are much the same now as they were in grandmother's day, and there is no more beautiful flower. The blue anemones with forget-me-not flowers borne on tall spikes, look well with any other color, and make all other colors look better. Arabis, and cerastium, which bear dwarf clumps of white flowers in the border; anemones, yellow daisy; dianthus plumarius, the clove or grass pink; hesperis or sweet-rocket, fragrant phlox-like flowers of white and lilac, borne in mid-summer; hibiscus, the lovely blue linum, and lavender veronicas, all these are flowers for the garden, not for cutting. They help enrich the beauty of the perennial border throughout the summer, each contributing its share to a beautiful whole.

Of these flowers you need many plants; and once they are established in your garden you will greet them with delight each year, when they come to pay you a brief visit. They will grow so vigorously you must hold them in check, by digging up overgrown clumps and dividing them with your friends and neighbors.

Log Towing Specialty

Capt. Bill Dolmage Has Pioneered Business on Coast

Capt. William (Bill) Dolmage has been in the "tug and tow" business for 26 years. He began with one small boat, on which he was the skipper, first, second and third mate and deckhand. He towed logs for a living. Today, Dolmage Towing Co. Ltd. operates 20 boats, four of them huge, 100-foot power machines which will tow more than a million feet of logs.

Capt. Dolmage, who visited Prince Rupert this week to see the safe arrival of a new type of log raft, was born in Port Essington in 1906. While here, he chartered a plane to revisit his birthplace for the first time.

The tug-boat captain, no longer sea-going, still marvels at a coincidence of his birth-day—for he was one of three boys born on the same day.

"But we never met again." Pacofi, on the Queen Charlotte Islands, was the next home of the Dolmages. Here, the captain's sister was born, the first white girl on the Islands. Her name? Charlotte, of course.

A white girl baby, and the first at that, was news, but nothing like the birth of the first white boy, born to the Dolmage's neighbors. That was in 1910 and a big feast was spread by the native chief in the vicinity. Name of the boy was Frederick Kilby, but the Indians wanted to add several names of their own.

"They finally settled on one—'Wahai'—and ever since he's known as Fred Wahai Kilby," relates the captain.

In the towing business, "Dolmage" stands for log transportation.

"We don't touch anything but logs—unless, of course, it's doing somebody a favor," the tug fleet owner says. He pioneered towing log booms from Harrison Lake, down turbulent Harrison River to the Fraser and to Vancouver, spring freshouts notwithstanding.

Logging business is funny. Sometimes I can't understand it myself. "Here I've seen myself going down the Fraser on high water just a tail-spinning along. Then suddenly I pass another log raft coming up the river, grunting and groaning with maybe five tugs straining to budge her. Why don't the two outfits get together?"

He reconsidered with a grin, "maybe it's just as well, or we wouldn't be in the towing business." Since the successful trial run of a bundle raft towed to Prince Rupert from Nisei Island, below Queen Charlotte Sound, Capt. Dolmage expects his tugs to ply the northern waters often. Last time he did a job here was a little more than six months ago when the Sea Prince towed a million feet of cottonwood logs in a flat raft, taking 16 days to reach Vancouver.

Research Ship Lands Halibut

Under charter to the International Fisheries Commission, the but grounds, the Seattle vessel J. O. Edwards, Capt. Olof Mattson, made her third call yesterday to land 5,400 pounds of fish and outfit for her next trip. The halibut was sold to B. Packers for 19.9c, 17c and 16c as required. The fish was brought from Hecate Straits.

With Allan Ritchie on board the International Fisheries Commission, the J. O. Edwards has been operating in the Cape Adolphus, Forrester Island and Triple Island area.

Leaving here last night, she heading for the Portlock Bay in the Westward.
