Fill Plan, Rat Drive Successful

The area fill method of garbage disposal is proving a success at Algonia Park and the city's poisoning campaign against the rat infestation is working out far better than was anticipated, it was learned today.

The law of nature is combating with the man-made death of the 30,000 to 60,000 rats which infest the city dump on Highway 1. Today the last of 500 pounds of warfarine was spread about the dump where rats, hungrily feeding on the combination of garbage and poison have become groggy and stupid and are easy prey to hundreds of crows and seagulls. Prior to the closure of the dump at the city limits, the city's public works department had put a certain amount of poison down to get the rats to it. Once the dump was closed and the vegetable matter picked up by the rats they became poisonous for the cornmeal and poisoned bait as it could be put down.

At the same time at Algonia Park the city discarded the old method of sanitary fill in the area fill system. It was found that the surface water and drainage from which crosses the park flowed into the new fill.

The versatile hystaway drag and bulldozer blade on loan to the city by Finning Tractor Company Ltd. for a week's free use was then turned to the fill method.

At least about ten truck loads of garbage were brought to the park bank out of sight. Garbage was brought and tins, cans, and refuse was impacted out 50 per cent. It was then covered with soil from the bank of McBride Street and some of the spread and levelled the garbage was sealed.

It stands now the multiple-use machine has accomplished three things in the last week. It raised the level of the area, increased the size of the lot on the McClymont side of McBride Street and provided a means of disposing of the garbage.

Work superintendent G. Wilson said that the operation was a complete success and the approval of Dr. S. F. City health officer.

"It should be noted," Mr. Wilson said, "that dumping of garbage by private persons is prohibited during daylight hours from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. only and Monday to Friday inclusive. The garbage dump at the Algonia is now closed to the public entirely," he said.

Mr. Carr said this morning he is very pleased with the work at Algonia Park. "I like the idea," he said. "The garbage has been compacted, there is no rat problem. The area method has proved that the garbage can be made an asset instead of a liability. If it is to operate to the extent of what it should be, it should prove a large asset to the city, what with no need to go six miles to the old dump and resultant lower gas consumption and time saved."

What happens next in the area fill project is not known. The week's free demonstration is over and it is not known when the city will rent the bulldozer for another week. The city has no caterpillar tractor available to cover the garbage, but a machine which could eat up the garbage into the hillside on the Algonia Park side of McBride Street is scheduled to visit the fill site at Algonia Park tomorrow.

Then he found that the "goldfish" were alive and kicking anyway. Now he's just beginning to get friendly as he realizes the fish are white mice and possible playmates.

American Mother in Korea To Ask Son To "Come Home"

TOKYO (AP)—An American mother arrived here today hoping to win back her soldier son who has renounced his country for communism, but Gen. John E. Hull said he had been "obliged to refuse permission" for Mrs. Portia Howe to go to Korea.

The soldier, Pfc. Richard F. Tompkins, is among 22 Americans who refused repatriation while prisoners of the Reds. They now are in neutral custody in the demilitarized zone of Korea.

Mrs. Howe arrived by plane today from her Alden, Minn., home. She paid for the trip out of savings from her son's military allotment. She went immediately to Hull's Far East command headquarters.

"I have the deepest sympathy for Mrs. Howe and the utmost respect for her desire to effect the return of her son to his own country," Hull said in a statement later.

"But in view of previously announced U.S. department of defence policy in relation to the prisoner-of-war question, I am not authorized to permit her entry into Korea to see her son."

FAITH IN GOD

Mrs. Howe said she came "with a faith in God and a knowledge that millions are praying for me." She hoped to win back her son from communism by starting "the old train of thought—religious training and love of country."

In September, when Mrs. Howe learned her son was refusing to come home, she said:

"If I could talk to him for at least 10 minutes, I could at least make a dent in that kind of thinking."

Mrs. Howe, mother of four children, said after the refusal that she was neither "surprised nor disappointed because I expected a certain amount of opposition and have had a certain amount of opposition all the way."

She told a press conference: "I am going to stay here for a while and wait and pray. I still hope to see my son. I am hoping for action in Washington that might clear the way."

Overwhelming Majority Names George Hills New City Mayor

Electors Reject Two Referendums

George E. Hills yesterday was elected mayor of Prince Rupert by an overwhelming majority as 1527 out of 2979 braved one of the worst voting days in the history of the city. Mr. Hills polled 909 votes to 594 for Mayor Harold Whalen.

In the four-seat aldermanic race Norman Bellis, 41-year-old assistant manager of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association, headed the polls with 987 votes.

In second place was Phil Lyons, grocery store proprietor, with 853. The third seat was given back to Alderman Mike Krueger, chairman of the public works committee on the 1952-53 council, who polled 785 votes.

For the fourth council seat, veteran Alderman George B. Casey edged out Prince Rupert-born Walter J. Smith by 14 votes. Ald. Casey polled 699 votes to Smith's 685.

Other voting in the aldermanic race was as follows:

Sixth, James W. Prusky, 403; seventh, Ald. H. F. Glassey, 388; eighth, Thomas H. Elliott, 322; ninth, August S. Wallin, 301; 10th, Alderman John Currie, 249; 11th, John H. Mair, 55.

REJECT TWO REFERENDUMS

On the referendums the voters turned thumbs down on the two-mill levy for municipal buildings, 578 to 295; they approved the transfer of the Roosevelt Park trust fund to the Algonia trust fund, 651 to 240. The one-mill levy for Algonia Park was defeated by a narrow margin, 699 to 694; and the Civic Centre's one-mill levy was approved, 528 to 347.

Tension mounted during the count. The only sound in the gymnasium at the Civic Centre was that of counters calling off the votes, the wind howling around the building and the sharp crack of 22 rifles in the basement below from the rifle club.

The trend in the mayoralty race never changed from the start. In four progressive counts the figures showed Hills leading 80-51, 328-198, 587 to 366 and the final 909 to 594. In the aldermanic race, Bellis, Lyons, Krueger and Casey were never headed although a third count vote of Casey, 455, to Smith's 414, was cut down in the last count.

It was a slow count due to the referendums and counting which began immediately after the polls closed was not completed until after 10:30 p.m.

A large number of agents and most of the candidates watched the counting. Only candidates not present were Mr. Bellis, Mr. Elliott, Mr. Mair and Ald. Mike Krueger, who was in hospital for a minor operation on his nose.

Palmer Wins At Stewart

STEWART—Thomas W. Palmer was elected to the village commission in yesterday's election, defeating his only opponent by one vote.

Mr. Palmer won 50 votes, one better than Joseph J. McKenna's total poll of 49 votes.

Electors rejected by 10 votes a proposed sanitary bylaw section prohibiting horses and other animals from running loose in the village. In a plebiscite on the proposal the vote was 53 "No" and 43 "Yes."

Other commissioners whose terms are not complete are William R. Tooth and W. Shields Orr.

Tugboat Capsizes In Storm

VANCOUVER.—The bodies of three men who were drowned today when the C. P. Yorke foundered on a reef in a raging blizzard were recovered in Welcome Pass, 50 miles upcoast from here.

Three other crew members are also feared to have been drowned. Only survivor was Capt. Roy Johnson, plucked from the icy water an hour after the 75-foot tug struck the treacherous reef.

One of the bodies was identified as Fred Cruthley, mate, of Vancouver.

Two other bodies were not immediately identified.

Besides the skipper, the crew consisted of Bill MacDonald, chief engineer; Sid Corzan, cook; Richard F. Moore, deckhand; Thorsten Svenson, deckhand, and R. P. Kibi, second engineer. All were of Vancouver.

A fleet of small vessels was scouring the gale-whipped channel for other bodies.

The tug was apparently taking shelter from a battering storm when she struck a reef. She was towing a barge at the time.

An official of F. M. Yorke & Son, Vancouver, owners of the tug, said it "went right down and the barge she was towing moved over the ship and sheared off the deckhouse."

The reef is located near Pender Harbor. Its perpendicular sides are recognized as the most treacherous in the area.

Mayor-elect George Hills

December 10 Notable Day In Life of George Hills

December 10 has been an important day in the life of George Hills, newly-elected mayor of Prince Rupert.

His father was born Dec. 10, 1870. His first child, Kathleen, now Mrs. Frank Skidmore, was born Dec. 10, 1930. He was elected mayor Dec. 10, 1953.

Born in Grimsby, England, on June 30, 1905, he came to Prince Rupert April 1, 1915, and in 1926 he married Marguerite Casey, second-eldest daughter of Alderman George B. Casey, re-elected in yesterday's election. In one civic election here, veteran Ald. Casey defeated his son-in-law by just six votes.

Among the first to congratulate the mayor-elect on his success was his mother, Mrs. W. V. Tattersall, 83, with whom he kept his regular Friday luncheon date today.

Besides his daughter Kathleen, Mr. Hills has two sons, Stuart, 20, employed on a tug at Vancouver and now home for the Christmas holidays, and George Howard, 8, a student at Borden Street School.

Secretary-manager of Kaien Consumers Co-operative (Hardware) Store in downtown Prince Rupert, Mr. Hills succeeds Harold E. Whalen, chief magistrate for the past two years.

Now 48 years old, Mr. Hills takes to the position a wide range of experience in both the civic and provincial fields.

He was a member of the first council chosen after the commission ended in 1943, serving for four successive years and again in 1951, remaining on council until his election as CCF MLA in the June election of 1952.

He was defeated in his bid for re-election to the legislature last June, losing to A. Bruce Brown, Liberal, by 140 votes.

In a brief statement following his election, he told a group of friends he was "a bit embarrassed by the majority" but said he first wanted to congratulate the loser for the clean campaign.

"With the continuing council and new members and with the co-operation which I will try hard to achieve, we will do our best to further the progress of this city."

As a member of the 1951-52 council, Mr. Hills served as chairman of the board of works committee.

Mr. Hills has been secretary-manager of the Kaien Co-op here since 1944. He has also been an active member of the CCF party and has continuously advocated publicly-owned facilities as being more beneficial to the city.

Air Cadets Get Awards Here Tonight

Two Prince Rupert air cadets who won flying scholarships last summer will receive their "wings" in a ceremony to be held at the Armory tonight. They are Stanley Kaardel and Ron Black, both of whom have successfully completed 30 hours of flying instruction provided by the scholarships, and 60 hours of ground school.

The two will be the first Prince Rupert air cadets to receive their wings since formation of the squadron here last year. The presentation, to be made by commanding officer H. W. McDonald, will be a feature of the squadron dance which starts at 8:30 p.m. Sea cadets and their partners will attend as guests of the squadron.

Children's Story Begins Today

Young readers will find the first installment of a special story on page two of today's paper.

The Christmas fantasy, by Wes Sullivan, tells of two youngsters who want to help Santa Claus prepare for Christmas.

The story, in 12 instalments, will run daily, ending Christmas Eve.

NEW SERVICE STATION BRIGHTENS CITY CORNER

A blot on Prince Rupert's landscape will be erased officially tomorrow with the opening of an ultra-modern service station and parking lot at the corner of Second Avenue and Second Street.

For years this centrally located corner has been adorned by an unsightly mess of junk. With completion of the new project there, the city's business district will take on a bright new look.

Details of tomorrow's official opening, and the services offered to shoppers, are carried on pages four and five.

Two Commissioners Lose Seats in Terrace Vote

TERRACE.—Two of this village's commissioners were defeated in yesterday's election which saw commissioner Henry P. Phillip retain his seat and two new commissioners, Claude C. Dale and W. J. Richard, elected.

Defeated in their bid for reelection were Geoffrey Lambly and D. G. Little.

Dale topped the poll with 161 votes. Other totals were: Phillip, 150; Richards, 92; Little, 80; J. deKergonneaux, 70; Lambly, 28.

North Vancouver voters registered one of the few upsets in elections held throughout the province.

While citizens of most cities and towns continued the nomination day trend that saw 12 mayors and 13 Reeves returned by acclamation, North Vancouver voters returned Charles Cates as chief magistrate in a stunning upset over Mayor Frank Goldsworthy, head of the city since 1948.

Other mayors re-elected included Ben F. Wright at Alberni; Claude Harrison, who registered an easy win over four challengers at Victoria; A. C. Wild at Vernon; Clifford Swan at Kimberley; and Joseph Kary at Nelson.

Final unofficial returns from North Vancouver gave Mr. Cates 2,464 votes to 928 for Mayor Goldsworthy. In contrast, all the incumbent aldermen were returned.

Herbert Dodd, Prince Rupert Pioneer Dies

Herbert Albert Dodd, 69, a resident of Prince Rupert for many years, died in hospital here yesterday after a brief illness.

Born in Highgate, London, England, he first came to Prince Rupert about 1919. He was employed at the drydock, and later at the old Emerson sawmill at Seal Cove. He also operated the hotel at Seal Cove for several years.

In 1934 he moved to Usk, where he undertook some prospecting, returning here in 1938 to take charge of the stores at the drydock. For the past few years he was employed as accountant at Bacon Fisheries.

Besides his wife Doris, he is survived by four sons, Vincent, Richard and Gerald, all in Prince Rupert, and Frederick, chief gunner's mate aboard HMCS Ontario; three daughters, Mrs. Alezo (Toots) Christison, and twins Helen and Loretta, all in Prince Rupert, and a brother Frederick, in Ladner.

Funeral service will be held Saturday at 2:30 p.m. from the Grenville Court Chapel with the Rev. W. H. Lemmon of St. Peter's Anglican church, Seal Cove, officiating.

Never-Say-Die' Jaycees Week New Christmas Tree

Prince Rupert's never-say-die Jaycees are busy looking for a new Christmas tree for their office grounds.

Jaycees erected a Christmas tree on the post lawn a week ago, decked with lights, and secured against any wind (they fought with guy wires, they say, last night's gale-force winds snapped the tree like a matchstick, and toppled it down on the lawn, where Jaycees found it with all but one of the lights still glowing cheerfully. The guy wires were still in place.

The Jaycees, determined not to be beaten by any old wind, are looking for a stronger tree today.

Voice of The Public

BEFORE the congratulations are passed around, there is one man who merits our salute of respect for the manner in which he has carried his heavy load of civic responsibility during the past two years. That man, of course, is Harold Whalen. He performed his duties at all times with honesty and courage.

We trust that, having made his valuable contribution to our city as both mayor and alderman, Mr. Whalen will now enjoy his well-earned opportunity to relax. No more than what he has given could be asked of any man.

His successor, George Hills, goes in with a firm mandate to lead the city to new levels of efficiency and progress. It is a fine victory for Mr. Hills who can approach his job with the reassuring knowledge that the public is strongly behind him. His past record of community service is evidence that he is not the kind to let that public down.

In the aldermanic results, a significant feature was that three of the candidates endorsed by the Civic Affairs Association came through handsomely, while the fourth lost by a narrow margin to the redoubtable Mr. Casey. Although the victors were chosen on their individual merits and need not yield credit for their success to anyone, there can be no denying that the careful judgment of the CAA must have received the voters' consideration.

When there are many candidates in the field, as there were in this case, an organization like the CAA can do much to clarify the issues and reduce indecision. Its future activities will be followed with interest.

The strong lead shown by Norman Bellis was particularly striking. This is a young man who made an extremely favorable impression in his brief campaign appearances and should prove a capable alderman.

Phil Lyons, in his first try at the game, also emerged with flying colors. It is good that the council will have a pair such as this to introduce fresh viewpoints.

Mike Krueger was returned with definite proof that he is a man the people want in there, while the old warrior, George Casey, had the fight of his life. May the campaign issue which came up between these two be measured and handled accordingly.

To the winners go congratulations and to the losers, particularly those who have served on the council, the city owes thanks. Without their part in the contest, there would have been no opportunity to make a democratic choice.

Although Mayor-elect Hills did not appear to favor the proposed annual grant for the Civic Centre in his campaign talks, it may be assumed that he and the council will recognize the emphatic wishes of the public in this respect. Popular opinion on transfer of the Roosevelt Park fund also was expressed in decisive terms.

The new city council has the makings of a very good one. We look forward to the voters' choice being well rewarded.

Queer Gang-up on UN

MONTHS ago I reported in this column of the virulent campaign being carried on in the U.S.A. to "get the U.S. out of UN and the UN out of U.S.A."

Now this campaign has spread to Canada. In today's mail I received an eight-page leaflet calling for "a nation-wide crusade to effect the immediate withdrawal of the atheistic United Nations from the United States and the United States from the United Nations."

In the same mail comes a proclamation from the British-Israel World Federation (Canada) Inc. beginning: "Whereas Canada's membership in the United Nations is a flagrant violation of the Biblical command, 'Be ye not unequally yoked with unbelievers'..."

It takes a full page to prove to its own satisfaction that the UN is part of a conspiracy to set up a sinister world dictatorship and ends thus:

"This 24th annual convention declares our unalterable opposition to Canada's continued membership in the United Nations Organization."

THE British-Israel organization has always shouted to high heaven of its fervid loyalty to the British crown. Now it appears that the B-I patriots are tied up mentally and spiritually with the McCarthys, the McCormicks, and all the other most rabid anti-British Commonwealth elements in the U.S.A.

Colonel McCormick, like the Canadian B-I people, also wants to see the quick end of UN. He wants that as much as he also wants to see the end of the British throne. He would even take Canada into the U.S.A.—provided, of course, we cut loose from our Queen, and reduce our 10 provinces into four or five states!

A FAR MORE serious aspect to this Canadian gang-up against the UN is the open hostility of the Social Credit party of Canada.

It will come as a shock to most of the people of B.C. to learn that our Social Credit government has discontinued distribution through B.C. schools of the UN Association publication "World Review for Canadian Schools."

In the late 40s the UN Association of Canada approached all provincial departments of education to assist in distribution of a monthly leaflet, which deals with world events in a clear, impartial, and up-to-date manner.

B.C. was the first province in Canada to agree to co-operate. In all, 8,000 copies per month were distributed in B.C. at a cost to B.C. of $1000 per year.

The Social Credit government of Alberta never did come in on the plan. But individual teachers of Alberta so felt the need for the service that they paid out of their own pockets for the leaflets.

Now B.C. stands down from her former proud position as first province in Canada to stand solidly behind the UN educational work, and tags along after the anti-UN government of Alberta.

Steve and Nancy Santa Claus

by Wes Sullivan

CHAPTER I

Christmas was still a few days away, but all the noises and sounds of Christmas already were starting to fill Steve and Nancy's house until it seemed the house would fairly burst.

Or maybe it was just Steve and Nancy that seemed ready to burst—with excitement, that is.

Mama was making a gingerbread house in the kitchen. The sides and the roof were baked. Steve and Nancy were going to paste them together with frosting.

In the front room Daddy put up the Christmas tree and the whole family hung colored balls, strings of lights and rain on its branches.

When at last Daddy put the big star on top the tree, Mama turned off all the lights in the room. Then she turned on the tree lights, and everyone said "Oh-h-h" and "Ah-h-h" because the lights were so pretty.

"Have you written your letter to Santa Claus yet Steve?" Daddy asked.

Before Steve could answer, Mama said, "Hurry and get your clothes off, children. There will be just time enough to write it before you go to bed. I'll get a pencil and paper."

When the children were all snuggled down in front of the fireplace with their bathrobes and slippers on, Mama said, "Well, what do you want to ask Santa for this year, kids?"

Both spoke at once, and I can't put down the way it sounded because I can't write "Cowboy outfit" and "Doll buggy" at the same time.

Mama kept writing things down until the children ran out of breath. Then Mama said, "That's enough. You don't want Santa Claus to think you are selfish. Now why don't you offer to do something nice for him?"

"Well-l-l-l," said Nancy, rolling her big brown eyes until they looked up at the ceiling, "we could offer to feed the reindeer."

"Aw, all the kids do that," Steve said. "Why don't we offer to take his place at the North Pole for a while. That way he could have a rest before his big trip on Christmas Eve. Boy, I bet that playing Santa Claus would be fun."

"Yes, that's a good idea," Nancy chimed in. "Think of all the toys we could play with."

Mama wrote the children's suggestion into the letter and Steve and Nancy covered the outside of the envelope with Christmas seals.

Daddy mailed it in the mailbox at the corner the next day and everyone, including Steve and Nancy, promptly forgot about it.

There was so much to do in the week before Christmas, what with parties and the pageant at the church, that the letter was pushed further and further back in their memories.

The night of the church pageant, the children got to bed later than usual. There was a light snowfall on the ground, which is very unusual before Christmas in the valley where Steve and Nancy live.

When Mama turned out the lights in the children's room, they could see the moon shining on the snow outside. After saying "Goodnight" to Mama for the third time, they went to sleep, thinking nice thoughts of snow and Christmas.

Their thoughts of Christmas blended into wonderful dreams and in Steve's dream he sailed along on a cloud over the snow fields at the North Pole. Suddenly he heard Santa Claus calling his name. "Steve, Steve," he seemed to say.

Gradually he opened his eyes, thinking how real the dream seemed.

And then he opened his eyes really wide, for outside the window, lighted by the bright moon, was a man with a smiling, round face and a long white beard. He was tapping at the window and calling "Steve, Steve."

It was Santa Claus.

Moscow Radio Scores Speech By President

LONDON (AP)—Soviet spokesmen have given strong indications that the Kremlin wants no part of President Eisenhower's proposal for an atomic energy pool for peaceful uses.

There was no "official" reply from the Soviet government, but Wednesday night a top commentator on Moscow radio, Boris Leontyev, described the U.S. proposal as a rebash of the Baruch atomic control plan which the Russians have always rejected. Leontyev added that Eisenhower had "threatened atomic war."

In the United Nations assembly, Russian delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky declared: "You cannot insure the use of atomic energy for peaceful purposes without unconditional prohibition and strict international control of atomic weapons."

UN deliberations on atomic energy control have been deadlocked for several years by Russia's insistence on an immediate ban and the West's counter-demand for a workable control and inspection system first.

The initial Soviet reaction came as the Western world generally applauded the plan. (See story page 7).

PERFECT TRIBUTE

The Editor,
The Daily News:
I have read your editorial of October 24, 1953, on the death of my uncle Alan (Hurst), and I want to thank you for paying a perfect tribute to this man.

At least to me, every word of it rings true. He was incisive of mind. He was a leader. He was human. The very tone of this editorial reminds me of uncle Alan.

You have an uncanny writer on your staff, or else a man who knew uncle Alan very well, because he has certainly brought to life all Alan was.

I didn't believe the news either, but reading your editorial made it seem particularly final. I am grateful to you for this editorial and I know many other members of my family who read it felt the same way.

Alan represented the same things to us that he represented to your community.

MRS. J. (AGNES) THOM, Kenora, Ont.

The Editor,
The Daily News—

The Communists have a lot of nerve at all times, but the editorial in "The Fisherman" issue December 4 is really the payoff.

The editorial is entitled "Let's Protect Canadians From McCarthyite Smears" and it goes on to commend the Canadian government and people for taking a vigorous stand against the U.S. methods of spy hunting.

The following is quoted from the same editorial: "Forthright though the reactions of the past two weeks have been, Canadians must forever be on the alert to prevent

Women Doctors From India Impressed With Work Here

MONTREAL (CP)—Two women doctors from India, doing post-graduate work in Canada under the Colombo Plan, have been impressed by the large number of teachers here and the great strides made in medical research in Canada.

Dr. Prema Naidu, professor of obstetrics at Osmania University, Hyderabad, and Dr. E. V. Kalyani, instructor in obstetrics at the government hospital for women in Madras, have been studying medical education at the Royal Victoria Hospital for several months.

Both doctors believe the Colombo Plan might work both ways, to the advantage of India and Canada or other countries concerned.

Dr. Naidu said: "In the cities of India medical aid is well organized. The hospitals and teachings are as good as any where in the world, but 98 per cent of the people live in villages where there is a shortage of medically-trained people."

"More and more women are taking up medicine in India, where the course is five years, and at every university 30 per cent of the seats are reserved for women," she commented.

"But it will be years before there are enough doctors and nurses to practise in the country where babies are still delivered by midwives."

STEWART—A dance in aid of the students of Superior School for the purchase of sports and other equipment was held in the Moose Hall and was an unqualified success financially and socially. While the dance was sponsored by the Stewart Parents-Teachers' Association, the students were largely in charge of the arrangements. Bob Cornwall was emcee. Music was supplied by Mrs. L. A. Behnen, on the piano, Ray Parent, on the sax and trumpet, Eric Mousette, on the accordion and Bill Orr on the traps.

Contract for the new Bear River bridge which was let recently to the Gulf Construction Company of Powell River, is now being proceeded with under the direction of A. Slaney.

Work of dismantling the present bridge got underway during the past week. Material for the new construction is expected shortly via the Coastwise Steamship Company.

The new bridge will consist of two spans of 180 feet and 120 feet with one centre pile pier and pile abutments reinforced by rock and concrete.

Overall the length of the bridge will be approximately 325 feet. The contract, it is believed, will be for about $50,000.

Whatshan Probe Adjourned

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Whatshan royal commission, appointed by the provincial government to investigate the disastrous slides of last August, adjourned Thursday until mid-January.

The commission has been stating evidence since the end of October into the slides that buried the power plant of the B.C. Power Commission's $6,500,000 hydro-electric power plant at Lower Arrow lake in the interior Kootenay district.

Mr. Justice J. V. Clyne, conducting the inquiry, has heard technical evidence from 10 witnesses and 211 exhibits have been entered. The adjournment was made for the approaching Yule holiday and because some witnesses still to be heard are not available.

Sheardowns Super Service Station, Parking Lot To Be Opened Tomorrow

The Sheardown Brothers of Prince Rupert have come up with a new idea for service to their customers.

It's Sheardown's Super-Service Ltd., a service station and parking lot on the corner of Second Avenue and Second Street, designed mainly for service to Super-Valu customers, opening tomorrow.

The parking lot, surrounding the station on the large corner lot, is designed for free parking by Super-Valu customers. They may park free for an hour and a half, presenting a current sales slip from Super-Valu to claim their cars, after shopping.

And while they're shopping, they can have their car completely serviced at the modern station which boasts two of the new dual gas pumps, believed to be the first in British Columbia. Each pump is equipped with two hoses, two dials, two everything, so that in a pinch, four cars can be serviced at once.

Inside the station are two hoists, for grease jobs, oil changes, brake adjustments and other servicing. The most modern equipment has been installed for all types of service jobs, including a new tire changing machine for faster and better work with less wear on the tire. And it won't damage white sidewalls.

The service station is an L-shaped building, about 40 by 40 feet, with gas pumps under a canopy facing on Second Ave.

MODERN FINISH

Of concrete block construction, the building features modern blonde wood finishing, with chrome and black counter surfaces in the interior of the small office. The modern rest rooms for men and women are heated.

In the shop at the garage fluorescent lighting and a bright white and red color scheme matches the exterior decor.

Super-Service will feature Home Oil products and a complete line of Firestone and Good-year tires, plus a wide stock of modern auto accessories.

The new station and parking lot with its modern appearance is a big improvement on the location, formerly little more than an ugly hole in the ground.

Some 4,000 yards of fill were used to level off the lot which is now gravelled, with sweeping approaches from both Second Avenue and Second Street. When the fill is settled, probably next spring, the whole lot will be blacktopped.

SPECIAL SERVICE

Besides the parking service for Super-Valu customers, the Sheardown brothers plan a special delivery service. Customers can park their car at the lot, walk a short distance to Super-Valu, choose their groceries, and have them delivered to the parking lot. When the rest of their shopping is done, they can go back and pick up their car and groceries at the lot.

C. R. (Rip) Choquette will be in full charge of the service station and parking lot. A resident of Prince Rupert district for the past three years, he has been connected with service station work for about 23 years. A navy veteran, he worked in the Vancouver motor vehicle inspection depot as examining mechanic and at a number of the major oil company stations in Vancouver.

The Sheardown brothers, Allan, Harry and Bill, in announcing the opening, said they expected the same high service at the station, as is expected in Super-Valu store.

Opening day tomorrow, starting at 8 a.m., will see balloons handed out to children, gifts for men and women, and special door prizes, 15-pound turkeys, with the draw to be made at 5 p.m.

Mackenzie King 'Influenced' Commonwealth Development

TORONTO (CP)—State Secretary Pickersgill said today former prime minister Mackenzie King from 1922 on had a greater influence on the development of the Commonwealth than any other public man.

Mr. Pickersgill, private secretary to Mr. King during the last 12 years of his life, made the statement in an address to the Empire Club.

He said Mr. King used his influence "invariably and effectively on the side of preserving and strengthening this great association of free nations we call the Commonwealth."

Mr. Pickersgill said Mr. King saw earlier than most public men that the only way the Commonwealth could be preserved and strengthened was by establishing a relationship of complete equality and autonomy among members.

Mr. King believed vestiges of former colonial relationships were sources of weakness to the Commonwealth, but realized changes could be made only step by step as public opinion developed or as circumstances raised issues which had to be settled.

GIVES CONSERVATIVE CREDIT

Mr. Pickersgill said there is much to be said for the view that the foundations of the Commonwealth were laid by Sir Robert Borden, a Conservative, and that Mr. King merely carried on his work. However, he said, there was a fundamental difference between their conception of the Commonwealth.

Sir Robert advocated an imperial foreign policy in which we would have a voice. He believed there could be an effec-

Women Seek Removal of Margarine Tax

TORONTO (CP)—The National Council of Women of Canada today called on the government to remove the 10 per cent sales tax on margarine.

The council, in a prepared brief, said margarine is "an economic necessity in many homes" and called the tax unfair.

The NCWC also asked the government to scrap the means test in the Blind Persons Act, grant more favorable pensions to dependent parents of dead Canadian war veterans and provide better treatment of early sex offenders under the Criminal Code.

It lauded the CBC for banning alcoholic liquor advertising from its programs.

against McCarthyite persecution here at home."
It is common knowledge that the fishing industry (the UFAWU) is headed by strong Communists and their mouth-piece "The Fisherman" paper is so Red it must satisfy the most ardent of them.

So just what gullible fools do these lovers of Moscow take us for? And just how nery can they get? Warning us to beware that McCarthyism doesn't take away our freedom, while they themselves work steadfastly and relentlessly to undermine everything that democracy stands for.

ada that would guarantee I should think they don't want McCarthy here in Canada; or for that matter any system of cracking down on Communists.

It might mean an end to the paradise for Reds in which they are now free to carry on their insidious and rotten work.

1500 Firms Join Payroll System

VICTORIA (CP) — A total of 1,500 firms have joined the B.C. Hospital Insurance payroll deduction system of premium payment.

Health Minister Eric Martin said this represents 35,000 new registrations and about 100,000 persons.

There now is a total of 5,200 firms on the payroll deduction plan. This means a total of about 230,000 British Columbians are covered under the payroll deduction plan instead of direct payment.

Muzzy Almost Drives Heinsite To Quit Game

Mr. Heinsite was about ready to quit the game after this hand. He made a truly great defensive play which, in all justice deserved a better fate.

But Mr. Muzzy made his contract anyway. It wasn't so much that Mr. Heinsite's fine play was nullified but the manner in which it was done that irritated him.

Mr. Abel's opening lead was the king of diamonds. Dummy ducked and Mr. Heinsite went into a huddle. A mental review of the bidding and a look at his own hand, the dummy and the opening lead convinced him that Mr. Abel couldn't possibly have an entry in clubs or spades.

In other words, Mr. Muzzy had to have the ace of spades and the king-queen of clubs for his opening bid.

The only possible chance for Mr. Abel to get in to run his diamonds lay in the heart suit. If he held the queen of hearts there would be no problem. But if he held something like three to the 10, it was necessary for Mr. Heinsite to get his ace and king out of the way at once.

Accordingly he dropped the king of hearts at trick one. Mr. Abel followed with the queen of diamonds, dummy's ace won and Mr. Heinsite bravely discarded the ace of hearts.

Mr. Muzzy now saw nine tricks if the spade finesse worked. He cashed three clubs and Mr. Abel discarded a diamond on the third round of the suit. He laid down the ace of spades, then the six of spades. Here Mr. Abel had to make another discard. He had to keep three hearts to stop that suit so he let go another diamond.

Muttering about his bad luck, Mr. Muzzy went up with king of spades in dummy. He had now given up and started to lead the queen of hearts from his hand, but Miss Brash was in time. She warned him the lead was on the board, resigning.

Mr. Muzzy led a diamond from dummy.

This put Mr. Abel in and he cashed three diamonds. But then he had to lead a heart, from his hand into Mr. Muzzy's queen-jack-nine.

"Did I make it?" Mr. Muzzy asked.

"I am disgusted to say that you did," Mr. Heinsite replied.

"I knew you were silly to discard the ace and king of hearts," was Mr. Muzzy's answer.

CCL Urges Employment Program

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Congress of Labor told the government today there are "disturbing features" in Canada's economy and called for action to head off any recession.

The 375,000-member CCL, making its annual legislative submission to the cabinet, asked that the treasury lay out funds to boost employment.

"If bad spots and soft spots of employment are not to develop into something worse," it said, "the government will have to develop a comprehensive public assistance plan . . . and promote new industries in, or transfer workers from, depressed areas."

Another major recommendation of the congress was for what it called an "external affairs consultative committee" to act in an advisory capacity to the Canadian delegation at the United Nations.

Discussing the throne speech announcement of prospective mortgage money from the banks to finance housing, the CCL said: "The most urgent need is for subsidized public housing."

The government could do this, the CCL added, under the National Housing Act.
