TERRACE HIT AND RUN CASE OPENS ASSIZE COURT SESSION

A "hit and run" case from Terrace is the first trial proceeding at the spring session of the Supreme Court Assizes which opened here today with Mr. Justice Herbert S. Wood officiating.

Accused is William Parker, charged with failing to stop with his motor vehicle after an accident early on the morning of October 7 last in which Harry M. Seaton of Terrace was badly injured, injuries so serious, in fact, that he has not yet completely recovered from the effects.

Gilbert Hogg of Victoria is acting as crown counsel, assisted by Mrs. Willa M. Ray of Prince Rupert.

D. A. Sturdy of Vancouver is defence counsel.

Tightening on Labor Imports

VANCOUVER — Canada's immigration service has clamped more rigid controls on American imports of labor working in British Columbia. Tightening border crossing regulations followed quickly after the Building Trades council here complained of American personnel doing Canadians out of jobs in British Columbia construction projects. The council also protested against Americans treating Canadian workers like "trash."

Henceforth, any regular order for the importation of American personnel will go to the National Employment Service, an immigration spokesman said Saturday.

"We'll even go across the country if the man isn't available here," he said. "If he's not available, then we'll agree to the importation of someone from the States."

Mistake of Education

OTTAWA (CP)—Mayor Charlotte Whitton of Ottawa tonight said the "great sin of our day against youth" is that "we have been educating for easy living."

Dr. Whitton, in an address prepared for delivery, responded to the award of the Montreal Medal as a Maker of Queen's, given annually by the Queen's University graduates of Montreal.

University graduates "who should have been the strong defence of democracy have been contributing rather to its destruction," Dr. Whitton said.

The first of their "great betrayals" was their "failure to bear witness... to the truth as human experience has lived and recorded it."

From this grew a second betrayal, "the failure to define and uphold principles." The third was the "flunking of a sense of public responsibility at all commensurate with the privileges which life and the community have opened to the university graduate."

"As a result, democratic government which must be representative is declining and disintegrating through its failure to engage the service of a duly proportionate number of those best equipped to serve it."

Other trials to be heard at the current assize session are: Regina vs. Ronald Edward Riley, false pretences.

Regina vs. Harold Ryan, murder.

Regina vs. Arthur Bruce Cunningham, murder.

Regina vs. Jack Anthony Barry, murder.

Foot-Mouth Spreading

REGINA — The foot and mouth disease has spread to a third case in the Weyburn district of Saskatchewan. A total of 111 animals were shot and buried. Today there will be disinfecting and general cleaning up.

Twenty-two cattle and 89 hogs were destroyed in the latest outbreak on a farm five miles south of the original Weyburn infection. The town is 75 miles south-east of Regina.

The slaughter brought the Weyburn aggregate to 248 cattle and 162 hogs and the south Saskatchewan total to 1,742 since the first infection was reported February 25.

Meanwhile in Washington farm officials said the United States meat supply is in greater danger now than in 20 years, reason being the danger of infection spreading in the general direction of the international border.

This is the closest threat since 1929, when there was an outbreak in California.

Minister of Education to Visit North

Hon. W. T. Stralath, minister of education, will be among the members of the government who will campaign in the north in the Liberal interest in the forthcoming provincial election campaign.

In the course of the trip he will open new schools at Dawson Creek in the Peace River district. Then, with W. D. Smith, Liberal candidate for Atlin, he will fly into Lower Post and other small points in that constituency.

Churchill Sees Easing Of War Danger Although Anxious Years Lie Ahead

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill said Saturday the war danger had eased in the last six months. In a prepared political broadcast after the first half year regime, he remarked: "We have anxious years to endure but I cannot believe that the danger of a world war is as great as it was a year ago or that the last six months have not seen an improvement. All hopes of making a better homeland depend on keeping the peace."

Big Tourist Traffic Seen

All Vessels Booked to Capacity—CPR Official Party Here

Exceptionally heavy tourist traffic through Prince Rupert this summer was forecast here today by Captain O. J. Williams, Victoria, manager of the Canadian Pacific Coastal Steamship Service, on his arrival aboard the Princess Norah.

"Three of our ships will be calling here every week and all of them are already booked close to capacity," Captain Williams said. "Interest in visiting this part of the coast seems to be greater than ever."

One of the ships, the Princess Norah, of the Vancouver-Prince Rupert run, will remain all day. The other two vessels, the Kathleen and the Louise, will stop here to and from their trip to Skagway.

Indictment of Rupert Woman

ST. PAUL, Minn. (CP)—A cabaret dancer from Prince Rupert, known as the "Dark Venus," was named Saturday in the federal grand jury indictment charging violation of immigration laws.

She is Jeanette Velma Luisa Ruth Wilby Murphy, 18, now held in jail here after being taken into custody in New York.

Named in the same indictment are George Demos, Manhattan Beach, California, and Harvey Johnson Ross of Minnesota. The two men and four others are alleged to have brought Miss Murphy across the border illegally to Noyes, Minn., while returning from a deer hunt.

May Reimpose B.C. Embargo

VICTORIA — British Columbia's embargo on the westward movement of livestock and meats into the province will be reimposed today unless Federal agricultural officials agree to more stringent safeguards against foot and mouth disease.

The embargo was first imposed February 26 soon after the outbreak of the disease in southern Saskatchewan. It was lifted April 17 but, since then, new outbreaks have occurred in Saskatchewan.

The minister of agriculture, Hon. Harry Bowman, said Saturday he had asked Ottawa to ban from B.C. all shipments of livestock originating in East Alberta-Saskatchewan border.

He also said all livestock for immediate slaughter from Alberta must be shipped only from approved feed lots to the federal inspected plants in B.C. and that federal inspectors certify that animals sent in for slaughter are actually slaughtered.

Mr. Bowman said federal authorities had failed to live up to the agreement on control of live stock shipments. It was upon this agreement that B.C. lifted its embargo last month.

Federal officials assured Mr. Bowman that no cattle, swine, sheep or goats would be permitted to enter B.C. except when covered by health certificates stating animals are for immediate slaughter. Also, no frozen or processed meats would be allowed into B.C.

Mr. Bowman said this was not enough and unless Ottawa adhere to his request the embargo would be re-imposed.

Hair-Trigger Truce Ends Tumultuous Demonstration

MONTREAL (CP)—Sunday's riot that rocked the sprawling Bordeaux jail simmered out early today in a hair-trigger truce. For nearly five hours yesterday, Montreal's big north end prison was in turmoil. Six hundred prisoners were in complete control. They set a dozen fires, wrecked furniture and ran wild in the prison yard.

Unofficial estimates of damage ran as high as $400,000.

Two guards and one prisoner were taken to hospital. They are not in a serious state.

At least half a dozen others were injured.

About 4 p.m. there was a mass protest over the quality of food. This sparked the riot which the prisoners themselves finally called off.

The riot call brought scores of provincial police but they stayed outside the iron grille gate leading into the jail yard until the prisoners were tired of shouting and capering about. They continuously shouted protests about the food.

Inspector Norbert Labbe of the provincial police shouted through the gates that fruit would be provided them. This brought results.

The tumult slowly died down. More than 200 police searched the prison for weapons that had been seized.

The police say 100 butcher knives were stolen from the kitchen and 50 straight razors stolen from the barber shop.

WEATHER

Synopsis
Temperatures fell sharply under clear skies last night and frost was reported at most interior points. Some cloudiness will persist through the day in the northern interior and over the eastern mountains but the remainder of the province will remain clear. Tuesday will likely be sunny. Temperatures continue considerably below normal for early May but the trend is to milder weather.

Forecast
North Coast Region—Sunny with cloudy periods today and Tuesday. Little change in temperature. Winds light. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—At Port Hardy and Sandspit, 34 and 52; Prince Rupert, 36 and 58.

Credit Rules Eased

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. Douglas Abbott, minister of finance, announced that consumer credit regulations will end tomorrow.

However, Mr. Abbott warned in the House of Commons that restrictions on buying-on-time may be re-imposed but said the current situation was such that "we believe we can safely suspend the operation of these regulations."

It will be recalled that the regulations came into being in November 1950 as a method for draining off civilian buying to aid the defence program.

In March 1951 regulations stiffened and Mr. Abbott said "generally speaking, regulations required down payments of one-half of the selling price in case of motor cars and motorcycles, and one-third for all other commodities, with balance in succeeding 12 months."

Last January regulations were relaxed by permitting payments to be spread over a maximum period of 18 months.

Postmaster Flies Into Kitimat Job

Bringing north the new postmaster for Kitimat and a party of company officials, Queen Charlotte Air Lines converted Canso made a special flight north to the Alcan smelter site Saturday.

The new postmaster is Mr. Cronk of Vancouver. The divisional postal supervisor, A. McLean, is also coming.

The official party is headed by A. J. Spillsbury, president of QCA.

Cost of Living Down Four-Tenths

OTTAWA (CP)—Cost of living index declined four-tenths of a point during March to 188.7 from 189.1, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

It was the third monthly decline in a row.

Drop in food prices are again the main factor in pulling down the barometer of prices which rose to a peak of 191.5 last December, the bureau said.

Clothing and home furnishings also contributed to the decline.

The index dropped seven-tenths of a point during January to 190.8 and by 1.7 points during February to 189.1.

The index is based on 1935-36 prices equalling 100.

THOMAS M. CHRISTIE—Progressive Conservative candidate for Prince Rupert in the forthcoming provincial election. Mr. Christie returned yesterday after attending a party convention in Vancouver and is enthusiastic about the chances of the party for victory. C. H. Orme, formerly of this city, is coming north from Victoria to be campaign manager for Mr. Christie. Committee rooms are being opened in the former Central Lunch premises on Third Avenue.

Collapse of Steel Deal

WASHINGTON, D.C. — White House negotiations started by President Truman over the week end, in another effort to settle the steel strike, collapsed.

Both union and management spokesmen said privately the Supreme Court freeze on wages pending final court ruling on the government seizure of the mills, is a significant role in the breakdown.

Victory Bonds

IF YOU take a $100 Victory Bond and go out to sell it you won't today get $100 for it.

A few years ago you might have got as much as $105; a few years from now it is conceivable that you might again get $105; but certainly, the year it matures, you will get your full $100 and will have been getting interest in the meantime.

These variations from year to year may rest on your mind as simply variations in the current value of a Victory Bond.

But they mean something much closer to you than that. They influence the amount of your grocery bill and the cost of the house you may be buying.

Quite a number of things may influence the price of the government bond—but its price largely determines the general interest rate in the country.

As it works out, high prices for government bonds mean low interest rates; and low prices, such as we now have, mean high interest rates.

These present high interest rates, because they make borrowing more expensive, tend to hold down demand for goods, and so tend to hold down prices.

The word "tend" is used advisedly. The influence of the interest rates can be overcome by other factors but, even then, they act to keep the situation from becoming as bad as it might otherwise be.

But, while the high rates tend to keep down the cost of your house, they tend to make it harder for you to borrow money to pay for it and to increase the price you will have to pay for the money you do borrow.

This is because government bonds are, so far as getting your money back is concerned, the safest of all investments.

If they are yielding a low rate of interest, people will tend to forsake their safety for something a little more risky, which will pay a higher rate of interest—such as a mortgage on a house.

But the higher the current yield of government bonds, and it now is relatively high, the harder it is to attract people to put money into a mortgage.

Saying the same thing in other words, the annual report of the Dominion Mortgage and Investments Association comments:

"Bonds in relation to mortgages have become increasingly attractive as an investment."

How About American Dollars

WHAT will we do about American dollars? That question is being asked from one end of Canada to the other. Restaurant and hotel proprietors, service station operators and all sorts of other business people who come in contact with American visitors are concerned.

The simplest solution, and the proper one, would be a polite but firm refusal to accept U.S. currency. After all, it is not legal tender in this country any more than Canadian money is legal tender in the United States.

As The Financial Post urged a few weeks ago, both Canadians and Americans would save themselves a lot of trouble and embarrassment if they would have their money changed into the proper currency before they cross the border.

As I See It

Why I Like Ike

I DO NOT conceal the fact that I like Ike. I hope that General Eisenhower gets the Republican nomination for President, and wins the U.S. election.

Here are some reasons why I think Eisenhower would make the best available U.S. President from 1953 to 1957:

- 1. Because Eisenhower would have a better chance of preventing a world war than anybody else in sight for the White House job. 2. Because the closest possible partnership between the U.S.A. and the British Commonwealth is the absolute essential to the building of a stable, peaceful world order; and Ike has shown that he has what it takes to get this and hold it. 3. Because Ike knows the real strength of Russia and the Red army; and the Russians know the real strength of purpose and character of Ike. Neither side is likely to try any monkey business in view of the above facts. 4. Because Eisenhower is of the same school of military thinking as General Marshall, and hence will not "go for" any of the hare-brained adventures in Asia which are advocated by MacArthur, Taft, Chiang Kai-shek and the sinister "China lobby" operating in U.S.A.

TAFT is still ahead of Ike in the number of pledged delegates. But Ike has been gaining on Taft, by giant strides. It looks to me now as if Taft has no chance to win on the first ballot, and if Taft doesn't win on the first ballot I don't think he can win at all.

A Taft victory in the Republican convention would not necessarily be final. In that event a good Democrat could beat the Republican. But the election of Taft as U.S. President would be a disaster of the first magnitude for Canada, and for the whole British Commonwealth for the following reasons:

- 1. Taft's own book A FOREIGN POLICY FOR AMERICANS shows that he would have the U.S. tend to pull out of western Europe, concentrating only on keeping "England" as a U.S. military outpost there. 2. Taft's later speeches show that he would have U.S.A. make an outright military alliance with Chiang Kai-shek, even to the extent of aiding Chiang in an attempted military re-invasion of the Chinese mainland. He can't have both Canada and Chiang. 3. Taft proposes to use U.S. money power to buy newspaper editorial and radio propaganda support in other countries. He does not specifically mention Canada in this regard—but anyone should be able to foresee the effect say on British, Canadian, or other allied opinion of any such attempt.

I WOULD expect Eisenhower to follow the same general policy in Asia as I think Marshall would follow—and which Canada and Britain (under any party) would support. That is, I would expect him to do everything possible to end the Korean way, and to do everything possible to stop all wars or threats of wars in Asia. As a realist, I would expect him to follow some such plan as Nehru's or Walter Lipp-

Decision Soon on Burns Lake Experimental Station—Fisheries Estimates

It is my understanding that an almost immediate decision may be expected as to the exact location of the Illustration Station to be established in the Burns Lake district by the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

This will most likely not be early enough to produce any useful results this year but it should mean that steps can be taken now from which at least some results could be expected in 1953.

Figures do not make very entertaining reading but at times they are of interest and I believe many residents of Skeena will be interested in some items which I propose to give you, from the Department of Fisheries estimates. For general services, the total estimated for 1952-53 is $1,560,000, which is $6,083 less than the actual expenditure last year. Included under this heading are:

- Information and Educational Services $135,600 (up $30,900). Markets and Economic Service, $194,600 (up $25,812). Industrial Development Service $40,000 (up $15,000). The biggest item showing a reduction as against last year's expenditure is that with reference to the fur seal agreement which is down by $100,000.

For Field Services the estimate is $5,270,507 as against last year's expenditure of $4,755,000. Of this the Protection Branch accounts for $2,916,334; the Inspection Branch, $946,238; the Fish Culture and Development Branch, $905,025; the Consumer Branch, $46,090; and the harbor and grey seal bounty $45,000. There is an increase over last year's expenditure for the International Fisheries Commission (Halibut) of $5,750 and for the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission of $33,200. The grand total of the Department's estimates this year, (exclusive of the Minister's salary) is $9,797,496. Last year's total expenditure was $8,923,790.

Mr. Coldwell a few days ago asked the Prime Minister that immediate consideration be given to making a grant to the Dominion Drama Festival. Mr. St. Laurent stated that the government has been giving and is giving consideration to this and all the other recommendations in the Massey report, but he was not yet in a position to announce its policy in this connection.

We've had, during the budget debate, some quite warm arguments based, not on party lines, but on geographical differences, as, for instance, between the farmers of Saskatchewan, and the representatives from Ontario. One such, recently, occurred between G. M. Ferrie of Mackenzie, Saskatchewan, and Dr. Blair, of Lanark, Ontario. Hon. Huges Lapointe, Minister of Veterans' Affairs, was very mann's for putting Formosa in "cold storage" for some years to come—that is maintaining its safety from armed attack, but also making absolutely sure that Chiang Kai-shek was not allowed to use it as a threat to the mainland of China. In other words, I would expect Eisenhower not to go along with any twisting the dragon's tail policy which would result in the quick British loss of Hong Kong, as revenge for the disguised U.S. annexation of Formosa. Granted that an Eisenhower victory in U.S.A. will sweep back into power many Republican conservatives, who may slam shut the tariff gates on Canada. We would get that, or more so, under Taft. We could also get war.

Reflects and Reminisces

By this time it might not be difficult for the steel industry to call Harry Truman a man of iron.

As far as known, the liberty yearning Sons of Freedom have not yet left for Brazil or Argentina or some other tropical neck of the woods. It seems a spokesman named Sorokin, with $87,000 has already gone to purchase a site or lands on which to settle. That much cash—and doubtless more—should belong to Canada but no one will kick if the Sons really move about ten thousand miles away and never even think of coming back.

THIRST, EAST AND WEST

There's a certain island on the British Columbia coast where liquor sales need not be regarded as discouraging. And there is another island over in the Atlantic where trade is pretty fair. Newfoundland offers Prince Rupert at least some competition. In 1951 the former community showed total sales amounting to not quite five millions but very near it.

A revival of reports about seeing flying saucers suggests that this time there are actually in the Heavens objects that cannot be explained. Previously, people who told such tales were airily dismissed as being in their cups.

LENGTHY SERVICE

In Trenton, N.J., the present penitentiary is said to go back to the days of George Washington. The prison in Baltimore, Md., is believed to have originated in 1805. The one in Charleston, Mass., is not without history. So there appears to be at least a few good reasons why today's convicts have been complaining in more than one way.

From Moscow comes advice that the Communist youth newspaper Komsomol Pravda condemns free love as something unwanted in Soviet society. Of course, it does not always follow that every invention, even with Russia back of it, is always endorsed a hundred per cent.

Special Pastor for Presbyterian Occasion—Appeals for Return To Religion

Guest speaker yesterday at First Presbyterian Church observed its forty-fifth anniversary. Rev. David Rowland, M.C., pastor of York Memorial Presbyterian Church, Toronto, inspired local congregations morning and evening with impressive messages. On both occasions there were good turn-outs. The visiting pastor congratulated the local church on its fine record and predicted future success under the present incumbent, Rev. Dr. E. A. Wright.

Mr. Rowland deplored the general tendency of the day towards disinterest outside the church and intrigue within. Possibly there was more harm from the latter than the former.

Drawing illustrations from the days of the last war when Prime Minister Winston Churchill had led Britons in turning to God and the church for help and inspiration, Mr. Rowland, who was himself a major in the war, appealed for a return to religion in these trying times.

At the evening service, Job's Daughters attended in a body and heard an appropriate address by Mr. Rowland.

Rev. Dr. E. A. Wright was in charge of the services.

Following evening service, there was a congregation reception to meet Mr. Rowland.

Child Patients Join Brownies

New Pack at Miller Bay Enrolled

The new pack at Miller Bay Hospital is now an established fact. On Saturday last Commissioner Silversides enrolled fourteen Brownies and gave them their uniforms. All are patients in the hospital and four in a ward. Their uniforms will consist of a cape and beret.
The Brownie leaders will cut out the capes and the Brownies will make them up themselves.
Mrs. W. S. Kerlin and Mrs. P. Melnes accompanied Miss Silversides. Miss Rathbone had been teaching them to sing and after the ceremony the new Brownies sang the Brownie song.
The new Brownies are Estelle Patrick, Eileen Patrick, Jeannette Aksidan, Beatrice Green, Martha Jack, Peggy Davis, Brenda Harris, Annie Nehass, Lillian Price, Julia Venn, Marion Martin, Diana Wilson, Gloria Stewart and Adele Lazarre.
The Brownie activities will give these small patients much interesting occupation to while away the period of convalescence, and they are very keen recruits.

Daily News Staff Party

H. G. Perry, retiring publisher of the Daily News, was host Saturday night to the staff at a delightful farewell party. Occasion was also taken to welcome the new publisher, J. F. Magor.

Perry paid tribute to the staff and the manner in which its members had carried on with efficiency and harmony during his regime. He gave assurance that he would still be continuing an active interest in the paper as its vice-president.

The new publisher, to whom good wishes for success were extended, also spoke briefly, expressing some of his ambitions for the Daily News.

During the evening Mayor Harold Whalen spoke briefly as did the company's banker, James E. Taylor and J. T. Harvey, company director and counsel.

Managing Editor G. A. Hunter spoke fittingly to Mr. Perry and welcomed Mr. Magor. Mechanical Superintendent M. D. Montasano spoke along similar lines. Also heard from W. J. Raymond, dean of working Prince Rupert newspapermen; John MacDonald, advertising manager, and Mrs. Jean Nixon, on the staff side.

During the evening there was piano music by Dyke McMillan for dancing and community singing.

Use Surplus For Housing

VANCOUVER (C)—J. Roxburgh Smith of Montreal said today that the federal government should make available its huge surpluses for a housing construction program and slum clearance.

M. Smith, president of the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada, in convention here, said he thought that Ottawa should give certain taxation powers it holds to municipal and provincial governments to enable them to use the revenues for social improvements.

He said the federal government is taking too much money away from the people. "It prevents them from building new homes."
"This money should never reach the government to pile up surpluses it tucks under a carpet."

A. Graham Henderson of Glasgow, president of the Royal Institute of British Architects, said that measures as outlined by M. Smith had been taken in Britain since the second world war.
About 95 per cent of post-war housing in Britain has been financed by the state. About 200,000 rental units have been constructed each year.

Iran Finds Cupboard Bare One Year After Oil Nationalization

By NATE POLOWETZKY
 TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—One year ago this week Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi reluctantly signed a decree nationalizing Iran's oil industry and setting forces in motion that shook the entire oil-rich Middle East.

Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, who pushed through the measure fulfilling a lifelong ambition, stood in triumph. His government took over the $1,000,000,000 Iranian holdings of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company. This was to be the first step in his promise to make Iran fully independent—economically and politically.

What is the picture now, one year after? The British technicians are gone but so are the markets for Iran's oil, the ships to haul oil away and bring back needed consumer goods and food bought with oil revenues. The huge Abadan refineries now turn out only a trickle of oil products for Iran's own use. Mossadegh has achieved his policy of "Iran's oil for the Iranians" but gone are the monthly revenues of $3,000,000 which this country previously received from AIOC.

In addition, there has been the enormous economic drain of paying the 80,000 former employees of AIOC. Soon there may not be enough money in government coffers to pay for civil service, the army and the police. FORGET OIL Mossadegh now tells his people they must forget about oil for the moment and concentrate on other means of revenue. He is calling on the new Majlis (lower house of parliament) to step up Iran's agricultural exports such as wheat, cotton, sugar rice and tobacco; develop its other natural resources such as iron ore and coal; cut down on government spending; revise the tax system so that the rich will contribute more to the country's upkeep. Mossadegh still controls the Majlis but there are defections. Followers of the powerful Moslem religious leader, Ayatullah Sayed Abolhassem Kashani, are drifting away from Mossadegh.

There has been more and more open criticism of Mossadegh's actions—where once there was undivided loyalty. Much of the criticism centres around the prime minister's unyielding opposition toward pro-

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD
 Mr. Meek Lays Foundation for Squeeze

A bolder player, Miss Brash for example, might have tried three no trump on the South cards after Mrs. Keen's three diamond bid. But not Mr. Meek. He made a nice bid of three hearts, inviting his partner to bid game at no trump if she had a club stopper.

But Mrs. Keen elected to bid four diamonds and Mr. Meek carried on to five. Mr. Abel cashed the king and ace of clubs and led a third club to Mr. Muzzy's queen. Mr. Meek ruffed the third trick and stopped a moment to check on his prospects.

He knew that a squeeze on a player in two suits will produce only one additional winner. For the squeeze to work you must have all the tricks you need except one. On this hand Mr. Meek had contracted for 11 tricks and could take 10—five diamonds, two spades, two hearts and a heart ruff.

Would a squeeze operate if Mr. Abel happened to be his side's only guardian of the black suits? Well, Mr. Abel would have to hold one club to top dummy's 10. If he held a spade stopper, it was a third round winner and therefore he would have to hold three spades. That made four essential cards in all.

Three tricks had been played and Mr. Meek could win the next seven outside of the spade suit; that is, four diamonds, two hearts and a heart ruff. That made 10 tricks and everybody would be down to three cards.

Yes, the squeeze would be successful if Mr. Abel had the jack of clubs and queen, jack of spades or any four spades. Beginning with trick four, then, Mr. Meek cashed two top diamonds. Then he cashed the ace and king of hearts and

Serves Dual Purpose at Manitoba RCAF Camp
 MACDONALD, Man. (CP)—R.C. A.F. crews from No. 2 Construction maintenance unit are busy here correcting an expensive lesson learned in the Second World War. A $1,000,000 housing project being built is almost as mobile as the station's aircraft yet will be permanent living quarters as long as there's a need for them. One and two-apartment buildings, made of prefabricated steel can be erected in one day. Sgdn. Ldr. W. Riddell, officer in charge of the project, calls them "giant meccano sets." The buildings can be converted into barrack blocks and can be knocked down and carted to new sites. This is an asset in wartime, when defence centres can spring up almost overnight. Even beams, made of pre-cast concrete, can be used again in setting the buildings up in a new district. Apartments in the 100 units when completed will contain up to six bedrooms, depending on size of family. All useless corners have been eliminated and soundproof walls will separate each unit. The housing project is part of a $10,000,000 building program to be done by the RCAF this year. Families are expected to be able to move into their new quarters by fall.

Hit-and-Run Run-and-Hit

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—The young sports writer had been ordered by his editor to find out if there existed any real difference between the hit-and-run play and the run-and-hit play in baseball and, if so, just wherein the difference lay. There was only one man to ask, of course, and he approached Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees with the sublime confidence of youth. "Of course there's a difference—all the difference in the world," Casey said decisively, "and I'll be happy to tell you what it is. You know, I'm not even supposed to be out here in front of the dugout while they (the St. Louis Browns) are practicing. Mustn't talk to the patrons, either, but that there's a good rule. Some guy gives you a big wave and he either turns out to be a gambler or some relative lookin' for a touch. "Now, this here hit and run. You got the hit and run on, the batter's got a choice where he wants to hit—wherever he sees an opening to push the ball through. "It mostly depends on the count—say if the batter's got three balls on him. He's got to protect the runner. In that case I'll tell him where to hit it. There are others might do it different, but I tell him where to hit. "Now, watch those Browns. They don't know yet they can be licked. They're goin' to try to do a lot of buntin' on us. That's what I hear. I'd better tip off my young men to watch for it. "I'm beginnin' to wonder about this here league. All I hear is about how these pitchers think they're havin' a bad day if they give up more than one hit. You know, it might not be that all these pitchers are so great. Maybe it's just that this ain't a hittin' league any more. Think that's possible? "This hit and run, it's a very, very useful play if you've got men on. So's the run and hit, but it's different, and a lot of people never learn the difference like I've been tellin' you. One of 'em you're tryin' to keep out of that double play, the other it's somethin' else. See what I mean?" The young sports writer, who had listened enthralled, looked at Casey a long moment and

Big Clean-up On Horse Wager

LONDON (AP)—A man who risked £2 ($6.00) on two horses won $71,536. The figures were released by William Hill, a London bookmaker, who said he believed the payoff—the odds were about 12,700 to 1—was the largest in the history of racing. Hill did not disclose the name of the horse player, but he gave these details: The man had a fl "each-way" (win and place) double—a pound to win, a pound to place—linking Ivernia in a race at Newmarket and Golden Sparkle in a race at Ludlow. The bettor asked for pari-mutuel odds. Ivernia paid $79.30 for each 28-cents bet to win and $9 for each 28-cents bet to place. Golden Sparkle paid $24.65 for each 28-cents bet to win and $7 for each 28-cents bet to place.

Vancouver Grain Shipping Record

VANCOUVER (CP)—The port of Vancouver today is well on the way to an all-time record in the shipment of grain. More than 70,000,000 bushels of wheat have been loaded here during the present crop year compared with 41,000,000 at this time a year ago. About another 30,000,000 bushels are expected to move out before the end of the crop year, July 31. United Kingdom, Japan and India are among the best customers. Shipments from the prairie average about 300 railway box cars a day. The average fully-loaded deepsea freighter requires about 200 box cars of grain to fill its holds.

Not Victorious But Not Badly Defeated, Local Men Returning

By LARRY STANWOOD
VANCOUVER.—Team of Prince Rupert amateur boxers set out for home today, not victorious but not badly beaten either in the three-day Dominion amateur boxing championships and Olympic trials which ended here Saturday-night. A ring wise Quebec slugger Bob Malous, who decided mid-weight Bill Mouse Morrison in the finals, will carry sore ribs and cut eye all the way back home. Only slight gleam shone back from heavily swollen eyes of Mantoban James Saunders an hour after emerging from three rounds with battering heavy-weight Glen Carlson. In both bouts decisions were won by easterners in the last round of leather slapping and inside fighting, overpowering Rupert boxers with strength and weight which won for Malous and Saunders Dominion championships and the trip to Helsinki Olympic Games next June. Defence work of Rupert boxers, however, was unequalled by any bout with exception of the Ken Walter-Ferdinand Paradis show. NOBODY HURT Neither of the two Elks stable boys were hurt any time. Vancouver's Len Walters of Dave Brown's PMBA stable won the Dominion featherweight championship and ranked tops on six man Olympic team after demonstration of ring craftsmanship and scientific boxing outsmarting fierce and Tigerish Paradis. Kimberley's Jack Butula won a disputed decision over 147-pound Reggie Chartrand of Quebec who gave the diamond driller his toughest match so far in ring. A crowd of 3000 saw the finals of the first Olympic trials in Vancouver history.

Blue Man, second choice in wagering, finished third, 8 3/4 lengths behind Sub Fleet. Hill Gail's performance earned $96,350 for his owners. The fabulous Lexington, Kentucky thoroughbred is owned by Mrs. Warren Wright. Total purse for the race was $124,350. The track was fast and dry with warm sun.

Evasive Champs

NBA Hits Out at Those Who Shy at Risking Titles
WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Boxing Association today hit out at world champions who shy away from risking their titles against first class opposition. At the same time the NBA congratulated the two smallest titleholders for "conducting themselves like champions." The NBA praised Vic Towell of Johannesburg, South Africa, the bantamweight king, and Dado Marino of Hawaii, boss of the flyweights, for taking on all comers. "All we ask champions to do," said Dave Rochon, NBA president, "is to abide by the simple dictionary definition of the word 'champion.'" Rochon said his dictionary defines a champion as "one who stands supreme in any branch of athletics and is at all times ready to defend against any qualified challenger." "The two little fellows," Rochon said, "are certainly setting an example for the bigger six to follow." The NBA said heavyweight Jersey Joe Walcott, light heavyweight Joe Maxim, welterweight Kid Gavilan and lightweight Jimmy Carter are overdue for defence of their titles against first rate opposition. Ray Robinson, the middleweight champ, defended his title against Rocky Graziano, but the

Shuffle in Big Leagues

Giants and Sox at Top But Others Change
NEW YORK (CP)—Major League standings got a quick shuffle Sunday following an action-packed day of five double headers and three singletons. The league leading New York Giants in the National, and Boston Red Sox in the American maintained their top rung, but nine other teams swapped positions in the junior circuit. Cleveland replaced St. Louis Browns in second place in the American League, coming from behind to whip the first place Boston Red Sox 9-6. Browns fell from second to fourth as Washington handed them a double trimming 2-1 and 15-7. The Senators thus moved up from fifth to third. The New York Yankees swept a double bill from Chicago 8-0 and 3-1 to climb into fifth place with a .500 mark. At the same time the White Sox dropped from fourth to sixth. NATIONAL LEAGUE The Giants retained their half game margin over Brooklyn, winning a ten-inning 6-3 decision.

NBA pointed out it had rated Rocky far down at No. 9 among the challengers. The other champion, featherweight Sandy Saddler, escaped censure largely because he didn't escape his draft board. He will be in service the next two years, and during that time his title will be held for him.

Today's more powerful engines require a highly complex gasoline to deliver their full power. There can be as many as 1500 different chemical compounds in a gallon of gasoline. To select the best of these chemicals, and to arrange them properly to fulfill the needs of your car calls for the last word in refinery equipment and scientific skill. It is Shell's manufacturing policy to make "The most powerful gasoline your car can use." Shell activates gasoline by splitting and rearranging petroleum molecules. The result—Shell Premium—the most powerful gasoline your car can use. See the Shell Dealer in your neighborhood.
