TH KOREAN FARMER, using an age-old method, ploughs his rice paddy without even a glance at the Marine helicopter parked on the road nearby. The farmer's plough is old and his power supply is from an ox, yet it is the modern machine that broke down as he was forced to make a landing where it could. The ox just plods its stolid way through the mud as its ancestors did centuries ago.

Park Board Commissioners Ask City To Assume Operation

Reds Call One Day Recess

By GEORGE McARTHUR
PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists have called for a recess until Saturday in the Korean armistice negotiations—presumably to consider a new allied proposal—as speculation mounted that a break is near in the stalemated talks.

Authoritative quarters had predicted a showdown Thursday. But the negotiators talked only for 24 minutes, and then recessed until 2 p.m. Saturday (11 p.m. PDT Saturday). There was no official hint as to what went on during the brief meeting, which was delayed for 15 minutes while the United Nations Command delegation awaited a hurried message from its base camp at Munsan.

But observers outside the conference hut noted that allied interpreters held the floor most of the time to deliver three separate statements. Communist correspondent Alan Winnington of the London Daily Worker said the Reds asked for the recess, suggesting that the Communists planned to relay a new UN proposal to headquarters for an answer.

Gen. Mark Clark, the UN commander, flew to Seoul from Tokyo Thursday and accused the Reds of violating the secrecy which shrouds the armistice talks.

Clark told reporters a Peiping radio report that allied delegates staged a walkout at Wednesday's negotiating session "violated the executive nature of the truce sessions."

The Peiping radio turned secretive again Thursday night. The broadcast said only: "At the Korean armistice negotiations in Panmunjom the delegations of both sides held an executive session today."

Clark also conferred with Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, 8th Army commander, on the military situation. Clark's sudden arrival heightened speculation that a crisis of some sort was impending at Panmunjom.

Kitimat Job Won By Coventry Firm

COVENTRY—A small Coventry firm employing only 150 workers has won a large Canadian order in the face of stiff competition. The order is for 350 motor units to be used in the world's largest aluminum refining plant—that of the Aluminum Co. of Canada at Kitimat, B.C. According to the firm's Canadian agents, this is only a forerunner of more substantial orders.

Helicopter to Patrol Pipeline During First Winter Operation

EDMONTON (AP)—The Trans Mountain Oil Pipeline Company, with $82,000,000 and almost 18 months of work invested in its 711-mile Edmonton-to-Vancouver pipeline, is taking precautions against any interruption in the flow of Alberta crude oil to the west coast. Men will be stationed at various points along the route with radio and telephone equipment to flash a danger signal if there is any interruption in the pipeline's normal operation. U.S. Tourists Catch Record King Salmon

What is believed to be the largest spring salmon ever caught in Prince Rupert harbor and definitely the biggest one ever taken on sporting gear was landed last night by a visiting tourist, S. B. Bean, superintendent of Shell Oil in New Mexico, and his partner, J. W. Rich, woolen shirt manufacturer of Woolrich, Pennsylvania, when they hooked onto a 61½-pound King salmon.

They were guided by Larry Stanwood, who supervised the snagging of the record fish, caught on a Lucky Louis plug and a 23-pound line with 20-pound leader, plus six ounces lead weight. The fish measured 46½ inches and 33 inches in girth.

The battle started at 8:10 p.m. after the pair had been fishing since 7 o'clock. Mr. Rich got the strike and after 20 minutes of playing the huge fish, it surfaced completely 300 feet away from the 15-foot inboard boat. Mr. Bean took over the struggle from the slightly built Pennsylvanian and played the fish for another three hours.

During the 3½-hour battle the 61½-pound fighter dragged the boat all over the harbor. By this time darkness had fallen and the salmon was finally gaffed at the Prince Rupert Yacht Club float.

The exhausted fishermen headed for the yacht club float when it got too dark to see what they were doing and by the light on the float were able to land their gigantic catch. The fish was gaffed in the head at 11:30 p.m. by Mr. Stanwood and Dick Gilker who had

FDR's Cousin Falls to Death

NEW YORK (AP)—Oliver Wolcott Roosevelt, 60, banker and cousin of the late president Theodore Roosevelt, died of injuries suffered in a five-storey fall. Roosevelt, according to police, was the victim of an apparent accident in a fall from a low-silled bedroom window of his apartment.

Members Lack Time To Supervise Work

Prince Rupert's Board of Park Commissioners last night voted to ask the city engineering department to take over operation of the parks board as soon as possible.

The board admitted its progress this year was far from satisfactory and that as it was the taxpayers' money they were spending it would be to the advantage of all if the city would administer maintenance and development of Prince Rupert parks.

Initiating the motion, Art Murray told commissioners that "the board is having a disastrous year."

"We are having trouble with contracts, with supervision of the parks and with administration. We might as well face it, this is our worst year yet," he said.

He pointed out that board members hadn't the time to properly supervise the work going on at the parks. If the city took over, he said, the board would have the use of city equipment, city men, transportation and administration.

The board also granted the sum of $376 to provide lumber for bleachers for the Little League baseball league at Algoma Park.

Chairman Pat Forman relinquished the chair to put this motion, after a letter had been received from the Little League stating that if the board would pay for the lumber, the Trades and Labor Council would provide the labor as a community effort and the prefabricated and removable bleachers would become the property of the board on completion.

Following complaints that several more children had been bitten by dogs, the board decided to request city council to draft a by-law controlling dogs within the city and also keep them out of the parks.

The board voted to repair bases of the city's totem poles.

Pretty Mother Found Dazed, Cut Following Abduction

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP)—A young expectant mother who was abducted Wednesday night by a knife-wielding hitchhiker was found on a roadside early today.

Authorities said Mrs. Albert Geigle, 33, pretty wife of a Strasburg, N.D., grain elevator operator, was dazed but apparently otherwise unharmed except for cuts on her hands suffered as she struggled with the hitchhiker before she was abducted.

Held for investigation is a man identified by authorities as Donald Blackwell, 31, of Regina. They said he had Mrs. Geigle's chequebook in the pocket of his RCAF uniform when taken into custody. He told officials he couldn't even remember his name.

Geigle said his wife was on her way home from seeing a doctor. With her in the car were her three daughters, Carolyn, 3, Shirley Mae, 6, and Peggy Anne, 10; Mrs. Jake Feist and her 10-month-old son, Jimmy, and Mrs. John Unser, all of Strasburg. The hitchhiker terrorized the women and children before abducting Mrs. Geigle as he held a knife "as big as a bayonet" to her throat and threatened to kill her.

After riding with the group for almost 50 miles, the hitchhiker suddenly pulled the large knife from under his jacket. He seized one of the youngsters and said he would stab her if the women and children would not stop screaming.

Mrs. Feist jumped from the car after it stopped and attempted to get passing motorists to help. She said drivers of six cars and four trucks hesitated long enough to see that a struggle was going on, then drove off without helping.

Also cut in the struggle were Mrs. Unser and William A. Schwartz, a Bismarck insurance man who came to their help after the other drivers had passed them by. Schwartz was unable to wrest the knife from the hitchhiker before the uniformed man forced Mrs. Geigle to drive him down a lonely country road.

Major UN Attack Under Way

By JOHN RANDOLPH
SEOUL (AP)—Three South Korean divisions—backed by artillery, air and tank support—slammed into the Chinese Reds in central Korea today and quickly recaptured up to a mile of territory lost in the greatest Communist offensive in two years.

Hundreds of allied jet fighters, bombers and massed artillery hammered the Reds as 45,000 RoK soldiers surged northward in the 20-mile sector where the Reds gained an officially announced four miles Monday and Tuesday.

Exact area of the RoK attack was cloaked by censorship. But it was in the general area where Gen. Maxwell Taylor, U.S. 8th Army commander, reported the earlier attack—roughly at the junction of the Kumsong and Pukhan rivers and somewhat to the west on the east-central front.

All reports from the battle zone were subject to heavy censorship.

The 8th Army and United Nations Command avoided the term "counter-attack," but this appeared to be a matter of technical definition and there was no question that a major UN attack was under way.

The RoK division in the centre of the attack reported regaining up to a mile by early afternoon and divisions on each flank also moved north, but more slowly, the 8th Army said.

The South Korean columns rolled north under the personal observation of their chief of staff, Gen. Sun Yip Palk, and with an exhortation from President Syngman Rhee not to "yield even one inch of ground regardless of its importance."

Association Press correspondent Forrest Edwards said Palk is confident the Chinese will be thrown back and kept north of the Kumsong River.

The South Korean counter-offensive followed a lull in the fighting after the massive Red drive Monday and Tuesday.

Don't Give Up a Life

A LETTER to Mayor Whalen has raised a point which may seem of limited interest, yet it is actually a matter of life and death which is of concern to all.

The letter is from the Health League of Canada on the subject of artificial respiration. The writer, Dr. Gordon Bates, general director of the League, asks that it be drawn to the attention of Prince Rupert citizens. We are happy to assist the mayor in doing this because the Health League is offering advice which can mean the saving of lives.

Remarking that there is an alarming number of cases of apparent drowning in which artificial respiration has been stopped too early, Dr. Bates makes these five points:

(1) There is hope of reviving persons apparently drowned even though the duration of immersion has been up to half an hour.

(2) The fact that most of the usual signs of life are often entirely absent in an apparently drowned person is not a final indication of death. Persons have been revived by artificial respiration after hours of apparent death from various causes. Until some indication of life apparent to everyone appeared, there was no pulse, no heart sound audible by stethoscope examination, no reflex of any kind.

(3) Artificial respiration should be commenced immediately in all cases under water for less than half an hour and should be continued without an instant intermission until all hope is lost.

(4) The rule laid down by the Health League of Canada's committee was that it should be continued for a minimum of four hours or until rigor mortis has set in, and there should be no exception to this rule.

(5) Additional rules have to do with keeping the patient warm by all means possible and seeing to it that the air passages are clear.

If the average holds true, there will be 500 more drownings in Canada before the end of the year, with the majority occurring this summer. Perhaps you will be at the scene of one of them. If so, remember that minimum four-hour period allowed to restore breathing. You may not know the technique of artificial respiration, but your knowledge of this fact may help someone who does to bring back a life.

Reflects and Reminisces

Tim Buck of the Labor Progressive Party is, or was, on the coast a few days ago, being down for a variety of more or less timely subjects. Tim is in Prince Rupert but infrequently. We recall him last, on a Sunday forenoon before a full house—a mild mannered man, fully capable of keeping his audience interested.

CONSUMERS CHEERFUL

Fields are full of weeds instead of wheat and horses are so thin that ribs can hang on ribs, a young East German stated in France yesterday. But this will be relieved. Immense amounts of American food are already being sold in East Germany, and Communists are indignant, saying this is an insult. East Germans have not the slightest objection to abuse, either by word or act.

New Westminster had an hour's traffic jam when Orangemen undertook to observe the 260th anniversary of the battle of the Boyne. The day was reasonably cool, and a few of the high hats had no difficulty proving they had been there before.

A REAL NECESSITY

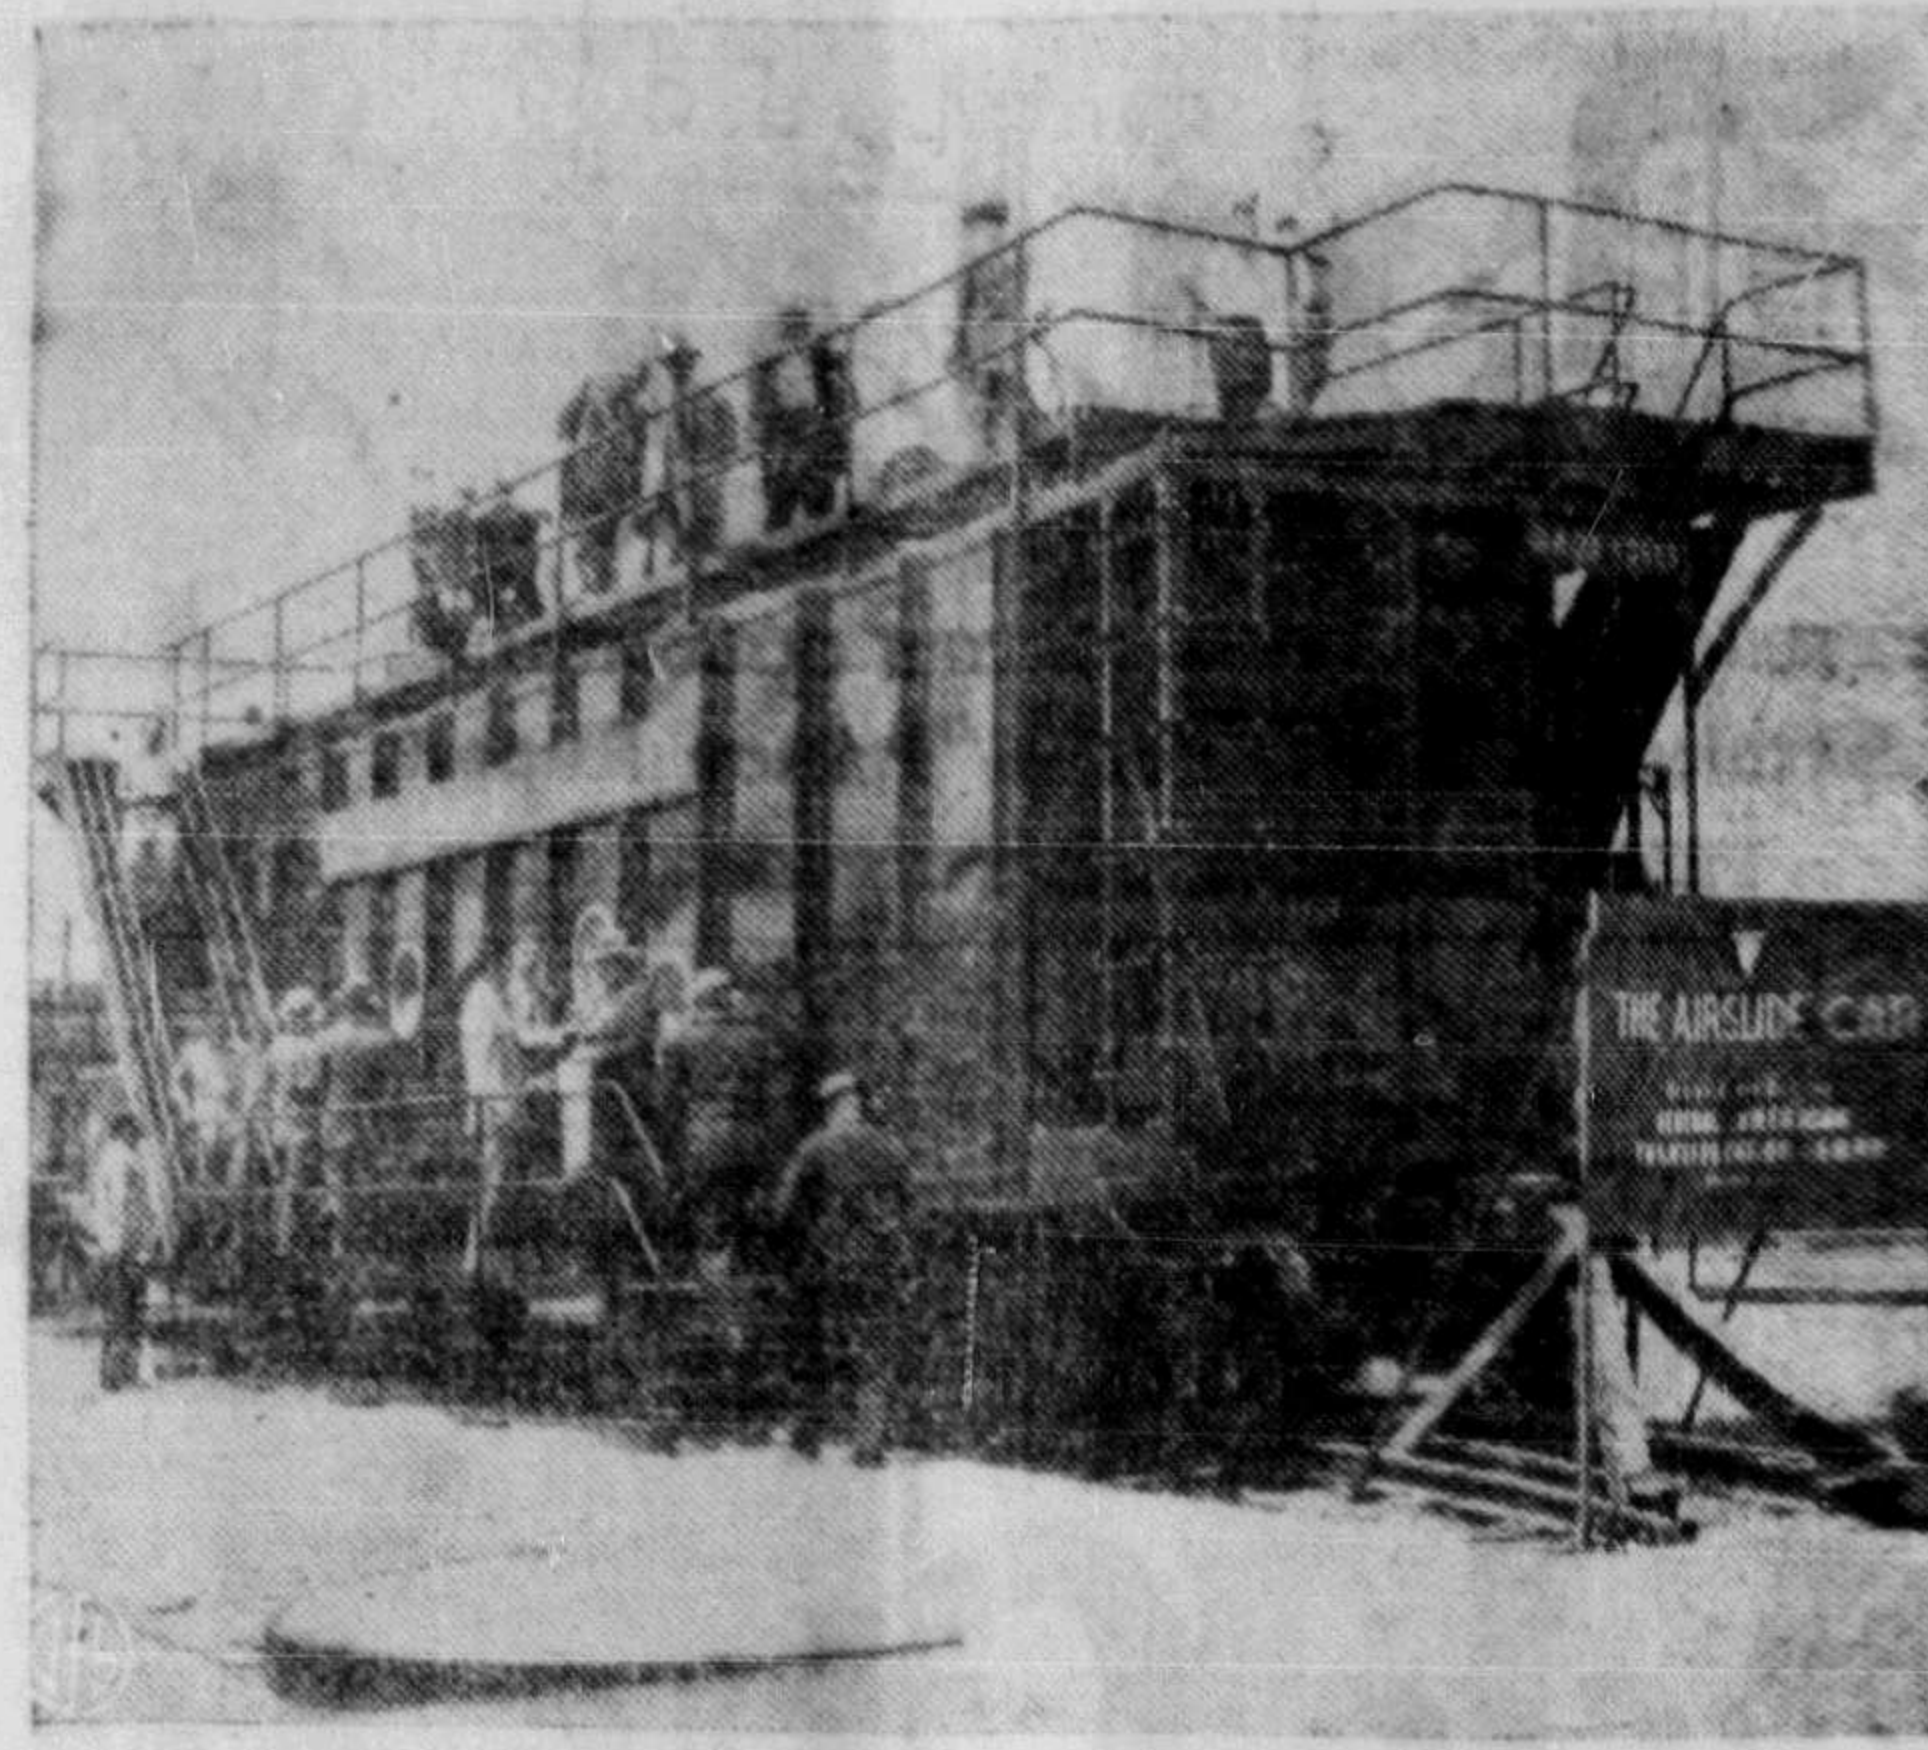

How did the Soviet ever come to fancy "Innocents Abroad," "Roughing It," "Life on the Mississippi" or "Huck Finn." Special editions have been ordered for Russia. Perhaps it is precisely what Russia needs. There's nothing like a good laugh, now and then.

One thing the New Zealander does well, says Al Williamson, Vancouver writer, is eat. We had the following to choose from, at breakfast: tree tomatoes, bacon and eggs, steak, starter of smoked schnapples and toast and marmalade, stewed prunes, French cutlets, deviled kidneys, loin chops, stewed rhubarb, cold York ham and roast beef or tongue.

NEW NAME, NEW FLAG!

The former SS Prince Robert is having quite a career. Built in England in 1930 for the CN Steamships for the coastal run, with the Prince David and Prince Henry, she is now named the Lucania and is owned in Italy. Under the new name and flag she sailed for the West Indies with 700 passengers.

When the queen mother goes roaming, Her Majesty usually can select places of outstanding interest. This time the choice was Rhodesia. It is here can be found the famous Zimbabwe ruins of an ancient temple, one of the riddles of history, and which gave Rider Haggard his idea of writing the novel "King Solomon's Mine" which, many years ago, scored a great hit.

AN INNOVATION in the handling and shipping of dry powdered materials such as foodstuffs, chemicals, starches, and similar commodities, was shown in New York with a demonstration model of the new "Airlide" freight car, produced by General American Transportation Corporation. Special viewing windows at the sides show the internal structure and operation of the car, while the loading hoppers on the roof, in the form of covered glass domes, reveal a test quantity of dry, powdery sand being sucked up and out of the car.

As I See It

BY

• Sorry—No Children

WHEN elections come around all the political parties get right down to arguing about things that mean most in the lives of the people.

Right now one most important argument concerns housing. Three parties offer their proposals, all of which have merit. The CCF program is the most ambitious, and if the CCF were in a position to elect a majority government it might produce the most houses at the lowest cost to the householder—for the CCF housing scheme is based on government loans to home buyers at two per cent per year.

There are, however, several objections to this plan, for the government obviously cannot borrow vast sums of money below two per cent. Hence to borrow money at the going rate for bonds—say four per cent—and re-lend it to home buyers at two per cent would be merely a form of subsidized housing.

CONSERVATIVES have a strong talking point in advocating that the National Housing Act be amended to provide for purchase of homes with a down payment of 10 per cent.

The present Liberal government has already done this very thing in connection with homes provided for defense workers.

But the Liberal Minister of Housing, Hon. Robert Winters, shows that the whole basis of NHA partnership between the government and the insurance companies would have to be changed to lower the down payment to one tenth of the total price. The Insurance Act is designed to protect the interest of the citizens of Canada who have a good part of their lifetime savings in the form of insurance. It would be bad business on the part of the Canadian nation to weaken the foundations of the insurance companies to help out one other section of the population.

THE LIBERAL government is proud of its housing policy and shows that in proportion to population Canada has built more new houses since 1945 than has any other country in the world.

This year Canada expects to break its all-time record with over 100,000 new dwellings. Canada would have been over the top of the 100,000 mark already.

had it not been for the Korean war, and the deliberate cut-backs that it entailed as government policy.

Now that the war is coming to an end, the Liberal leaders make it very clear that Canada is out to speed up.

MR. WINTERS quotes with approval this statement made by Gerry A. Golden, the Sun Life's expert on housing: "It may be that we in this country are currently placing too much emphasis on the construction of individual housing and too little on provision of rental housing."

As I read Mr. Winters' speech—that plainly means that if the Liberals are returned to power there will soon be a drive to end forever the heart-breaking brush-off which young parents get when they try to rent apartments or flats.

"Sorry, no children are allowed here."

In keeping with basic Liberal principles, free enterprise should be given the first chance to deliver the necessary rental family housing, maybe even helped by the government to do so.

OTTAWA DIARY

By NORMAN M. McLEOD

While Parliament Hill's Number One interest these days unquestionably is the Federal election campaign, enigmatic Russia ranks easily as the Number Two interest—and not so very far behind.

The strong feeling exists amongst Capital observers that there's a greater element of suspense and uncertainty in the Russian situation than in the domestic political picture. That's one reason for the close interest being taken in it.

Rightly or wrongly, government circles feel that they understand the dynamic of Russian affairs just as well as they are understood in any world capital. While that may not be saying too much, the fact remains that our Moscow Embassy has always been one of the most competently staffed of our foreign missions. For a number of years it was headed by Dana Wilgress, conceded to be the top individual in Canada's career foreign service. Wilgress left Moscow when the two nations ceased to exchange Ambassadors at the time of the Soviet spy plot in this country. But Canada continued to see that the skeleton staff left in the Moscow Embassy was of top calibre. The policy is paying off now in a better understanding of the situation revolving about the downfall of secret police head Beria.

The best information reaching the government discounts heavily the theory that Beria's downfall was engineered by Molotov and the Soviet generals as a power grab of their own ultimately threatening the ascendancy of Malenkov. The Cabinet here accepts the move at its face value—a manoeuvre by Malenkov to ensure his own security and the absolute nature of his dictatorship.

Canadian sources in Moscow, who have studied the scene at first hand there for a number of years, believe that Molotov has no ambitions for the Number One post in Russia. They say that he isn't disinterested in it because of its obvious dangers, but because of a curiously basic disbelief in himself. Molotov is described as having faith in himself as a Number Two man only—as lacking the qualities of a Dictator in his own right.

Moscow sources subscribe to the view that the recent events in Russia unquestionably ease the current international situation. They say that Russia will NOT start a war while the present crisis in domestic affairs lasts. At the same time, they are of the opinion that the situation represents simply a breather, and not a permanent change in outlook. They say it's no time for the democracies to let down their guard.

Freedom of the Press

What precisely is meant by that familiar phrase, "freedom of the press"?

Fundamentally it is not a special privilege reserved for newspaper publishers. It is rather a phrase of a much larger freedom—the freedom of all men to speak their minds openly and without fear. The press claims no right which should not belong to every citizen in a democracy. But freedom of the press is an all-important part of this larger freedom because, under modern conditions, the press is the principal agency by which the ordinary man receives the information he needs to judge the actions of his rulers and make up his mind on public affairs. Without newspapers, or with only gagged and blindfolded ones, he is in the dark, and helpless. An unfettered press is therefore one of the essential bulwarks of a democratic nation.

If any proof be needed, it is supplied by the record of the totalitarian dictatorships which have darkened the twentieth century. Rigid control of all sources of public information, and especially of newspapers, was the cornerstone on which all these regimes—Nazi, Fascist and Communist alike—were founded. Without it, they could hardly have lasted for more than a few months. With it, they could keep their peoples in blinkers and drive them on any course they chose. The calamities of our age, its fear and insecurity, stem in no small measure from the simple fact that, at critical periods, great sections of the earth's population have been prevented by their rulers from learning the real news of the world.

These examples should provide a warning against any attempt, by governments or by private interests, to restrict the essential freedom of the press. A free people must stand on guard not only against direct censorship, but also against more insidious encroachments. Nominal freedom is not enough. The only truly free press is one which can record the news faithfully and comment on it frankly, without fear of direct or indirect punishment. Neither the press nor the public is safe with anything less than this.

All liberty, of course, involves obligations. That of a free newspaper is to be truly free. It must strive to be thorough, accurate and unbiased in its reporting, sincere and thoughtful in its editorials, and resistant to all outside pressure. It must be both cautious and bold—cautious until it knows all the facts, bold when it is sure of its ground. It must, above all, be inspired by devotion to the public welfare as its staff understand it.

Such a newspaper is worthy of the privileges which the free peoples of the world have traditionally granted to their press: Such a newspaper is also the best guardian of the liberties of the people.

Major League Players Go Back to Work Today

By BEN PHILEGAR
Associated Press Sports Editor

Major league ballplayers put away their fishing poles and go back to work today after a three-day midsummer all-star holiday.

As if to make up for lost time the majors scheduled 11 games for today and tonight, with most of the action coming after dark.

Charlie Dressen awoke from his three-day dream during which he controlled the talents of such pitchers as Robin Roberts, Warren Spahn and Curt Simmons and resumed his daily agony of trying to find a winning combination from among the throwers on his Brooklyn Dodgers.

FACE ST. LOUIS

The Dodgers return to action with a 1½-game lead in the too-close-for-comfort National League pennant chase, racing St. Louis tonight in the first of a four-game series at home.

Dressen, whose National League all-stars came out on top at Cincinnati as expected, decided to give Preacher Roe another chance to recover his wizardry over the Cards in the first game. The Preacher used to beat the Redbirds by just showing up, but he's been kayoed twice by them this season.

Milwaukee's second-place Braves open their third eastern invasion with a night game in Pittsburgh and the home-happy Cincinnati Redlegs visit Philadelphia for a twilight-night twin bill. The Phillies, like the Cardinals, are four games off the pace, but own third place by two percentage points.

New York Giants, winners of seven straight before the Dodgers stopped them last Sunday, renew their battle for a first-division spot in a night game against Chicago.

What was Dressen's dream was Casey Stengel's nightmare and the New York Yankee skipper's only pleasant thoughts about the all-star encounter are that it's over. From a personal standpoint he also can remember that he's lost the dream game the last three years and gone on to win his pennant and the World Series.

OPEN THIRD TOUR

Stengel's Yankees, who won every game on their last western swing, open the third tour with a two-night doubleheader against the lowly St. Louis Browns. Casey's biggest problem at the moment is young Mickey Mantle, his all-star centerfielder now reported suffering with water on the knee.

Mantle reported he was ready to play but the indications were that Stengel would rest him for a vital doubleheader in Chicago Sunday.

The brash White Sox, who have moved from fifth place to a challenging second in a month, open their home stand with a daylight twin bill against Washington. The Sox trail the Yankees by five and have a 13-game home stand coming up.

Cleveland's third-place Indians play host to Philadelphia Athletics in a night game. The Indians fell 8½ games behind by losing four out of five to Chicago just before the all-star intermission.

Fourth-place Boston begins its invasion with a night game in Detroit.

Seattle Gains On Hollywood

Five full games separate Pacific Coast League-leading Hollywood from the pursuing Seattle Rainiers and the four-game series between these clubs in Seattle, starting Friday night, may well decide the 1953 championship.

The red-hot Hollywood Stars made it seven victories in a row by sweeping a doubleheader from Portland Wednesday night 3-1 and 8-2, while Seattle finally ended a five-game losing streak by beating San Francisco, 11-2.

The Stars gained another half game on Seattle, nevertheless. They beat the league's outstanding rookie, Jehosie Heard, in the seventh inning by errors in the seventh inning by Heard and shortstop Frankie Austin were costly.

Seattle's Bill Evans slammed on the brakes to stop the Rainiers' slump and his catcher, Ray Ortega, hit his 20th homer in the seventh with one aboard.

Los Angeles knocked over San Diego twice, 3-2 and 8-4. The first game, scheduled for seven innings, went nine.

Oakland pushed Sacramento a bit deeper into the cellar by whipping the Sacs, 4-2, in the only day game.

Battery Edges Motors XI 2-1

The 120 H/AA Battery eleven scored a 2-1 victory over General Motors in a Prince Rupert association football game last night at Roosevelt Park.

In a well-played game with plenty of good passing Battery scored the opening goal and Motors were able to prevent further scoring in the first half. Boltong scored the soldiers' second goal after the second half started and Furness headed in Motors only goal on a well-placed corner kick from Murray.

Week-end soccer will see a Prince Rupert team playing host to an eleven from Kispiox at Roosevelt Park at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Defend Trophy

Trap shooting was held Wednesday and Fashion Footwear defended the Rupert Radio and Electric Challenge Trophy, defeating the trophy sponsor's team 36 to 71.

C.C.C. team was unable to shoot due to a meeting but reports say they intend to win this cup on the July 29 shoot.

High scores for the evening were: E. Backer 19, R. Montgomery 17, T. Boulter 22, E. Clausen 19, and F. Parlette 19.

Main, Rochon Mainstays of Cup Play

MONTREAL — Two veteran Canadian Davis Cup tennis players will probably be doing most of the work in the North American Zone tennis tie against Mexico starting Friday at the Mount Royal Tennis Club, Lorne Main of Toronto and

Vancouver and Henri Rochon of Montreal may play both singles and doubles matches against the strong Mexican team of Mario Llamas, Pancho Contreras and Rafael Ortega. Canadian newcomers Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke and Paul Willey of Vancouver may possibly sit on the sidelines. Official referee Jacques Vadboncourt will make the draw for the singles today and for the doubles Saturday.

Bedard, at first considered a great singles prospect, tore a ligament in his back during a recent workout. He said he could still play a singles match with his back taped, but had difficulty reaching for low shots.

Observers felt, however, that the injury almost nullified his chances of drawing a singles berth.

Rochon pulled a thigh muscle in recent practices but returned after a day's rest and said the leg did not hamper his play.

He was teamed with Main in a doubles practice against Bedard and Willey Wednesday and showed well.

During the past few weeks Main worked out with Willey as a doubles partner and Willey's replacement by Rochon today indicated the young newcomer will not be in the left court position against Mexico Saturday.

Clayton Pitches Wildcats To 21-2 Win Over Pirates

The combination of Phil Clayton's pitching and hitting plus the overall strength of the Wildcats saw the Section 2 gang murder the Pirates from Borden Street 21-2 in a Little League game at Al-goma Park last night.

The one-sided game saw Clayton give up only three hits while striking out 15 Pirates.

Three Pirate pitchers were unable to hold the rampaging Wildcats as they picked up nine hits and Pirate pitchers gave up 18 free passes.

Pirates got their first run in the first inning when Anderson walked, stole second, rounded third and made home when Bill Smith, capable Wildcat catcher, tried unsuccessfully to pick him off and missed the fielder's with his throws. K. Mah got a clean single over short in the first, stole second but died there.

S. Wong got the second hit off Clayton, a two bagger in the second but he was picked off by catcher Smith when he tried to steal third.

J. Thom, Pirate right fielder, walked to start the third inning and was knocked home by A. Nickerson. Nickerson in getting his single in the third was the last Pirate to leave the plate in the direction of first base. Clayton finished off the rest of the Pirates with 10 consecutive strike outs.

Wildcat's polished hurler also did his share at bat, garnering four hits for five times at bat one of them being a bases loaded home run in the third inning. Cawdell, Foster and J. Scott got the other Wildcat hits.

For the Wildcats Clayton gave up three hits, allowed two walks, fanned 15 and gave up two runs.

A. Nickerson for the Pirates in the first and second innings gave up four hits, walked four, struck out three and allowed five runs. M. Greene, hurling for the Pirates in the third and fourth innings gave up three hits, walked 10 Wildcats, struck

Coldwell Advocates Public Ownership of Steel Industry

HALIFAX (CP)—CCF leader M. J. Coldwell said Wednesday night Canada's steel companies are deliberately holding up progress of the steel industry in this country by refusing to expand. He was in favor of having the steel companies publicly controlled.

Earlier in the day Mr. Coldwell spoke in Truro where he said his party would have nothing to do with a coalition with any other political party in Canada.

Mr. Coldwell lashed out at Health Minister Martin for his recent statement that a national health insurance plan couldn't be set up overnight. "It's been a long night... 38 years," said Mr. Coldwell.

He pointed to the health program with free hospitalization that now exists in Saskatchewan under a CCF government, and which he said could be used for a model anywhere in the world.

On the subject of the steel industry, he said the present owners of the steel firms in Canada bought them at a comparatively low price and that several of them admitted having contributed to Liberal and Progressive Conservative campaign funds.

Steel foundries in the United States were benefiting from the processing of raw Canadian ore while people in Cape Breton were forced to move to other provinces to seek jobs that would be open to them at home if the Sydney steel plant had received these raw ore shipments.

On federal aid to education, Mr. Coldwell criticized Prime Minister St. Laurent for what he termed lack of insight. He said the prime minister has dealt with big business all his life and as a result does not fully understand the wishes of the people.

Mr. Coldwell said Canada is

Clothes and Few Tufts of Hair All That Remain of Missing Child

MINAKI, Ont. (CP)—A tiny plaid shirt, a pair of blue jeans, some underclothing and a few tufts of long brown hair were all that was left of five-year-old Geraldine Huggan.

The tragic end of an intensive search of mosquito-infested northwestern Ontario bushland came about noon Wednesday.

It was a hunch on the part of prospector Harry Hawes of Kenora that sent searchers back to the swampy area between Long Lake and Catastrophe Lake, about two miles southwest of Wade, where the child disappeared from her grandparents' cottage.

There was not enough left for either a proper burial or an inquest, said Dr. D. J. Mason, coroner. The hair was infected with maggots and signs of wolf hair on nearby bushes led to the conclusion the body was devoured about 48 hours before discovery.

Dr. Mason said death probably came from exposure followed some time later by mutilation by the wolf. There was no blood on the clothing.

Police said the area where the body was found was covered by searchers last Thursday and Friday. The child wandered from the cottage July 5 in search of flowers for her mother. It was assumed Geraldine went into the section some time after searchers covered it the first time.

A false lead, discovered Monday, kept activity east of the area where the child was found until late Tuesday.

The child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jared Huggan of Winnipeg, at Wade, where Mr. Huggan spent untold hours with the searchers, for Kenora by plane to identify their child's clothing shortly after the discovery was made.

The search was one of the most extensive in the history of the area. Besides the Army unit, numerous campers, Indians, district residents and railway men battled their way through bushland for 10 days. An RCAF helicopter which aided all through the search, returned to Rivers, Man., Wednesday night.

The Panama canal was opened to world traffic August 15, 1914.

Candidates Asked to Back Wharf Project

All Vancouver and district candidates in the August 10 federal election have been asked by the Fishing Vessel Owners Association of B.C. to declare their positions on the False Creek fishermen's wharf project.

"We believe that breaking the bottleneck on the wharf project so that construction can be started this year should be of prime concern to you," says a letter to candidates from FVOA secretary Harold Christenson.

Mr. Christenson said: "All candidates have been asked to incorporate into their platforms a pledge that they will do everything in their power to cut Ottawa red tape on the wharf project if they are elected."

"The longer Vancouver is without proper mooring and equipment storage facilities for the fishing fleet, the worse becomes the fire hazard which is a threat to the entire waterfront."

Irene Worth and the Canadians shared most of the stage time, a reverse of the opening night performance of "Richard III" in which the play was carried by 29-year-old Alex Guinness, famed British stage and film actor. Guinness appeared in Tuesday night's presentation, which will alternate with "Richard III" throughout the five-week festival, but he took rather a back seat.

"All's Well," it is believed, has never before been presented on the professional stage in North America. It was in modern dress.

Miss Worth, 37-year-old American-born veteran of both the British and American stage, portrays Helena, the heroine who sets out to get her man—and does.

The hero, Bertram, is played by Donald Harron, versatile young Toronto actor, well known for his work on the CBC and on the stage in Canada, the United States and Britain.

The king of France is played by Guinness and Diana, by Beatrice Lennard, a native of Toronto. Eleanor Stuart, a native of Montreal, plays Bertram's mother.

The honey badger, a carnivorous animal, is common in India and South Africa.

Seneca Root Hunt Starts In Alberta

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Alta. (P)—Indians in this area are digging seneca roots to make one extra money for their annual sun dance, and to attend the stampedes throughout the province.

Harvesting seneca root, the use of many sought remedies, rings in the most money in the hottest time, just when the Indians have spent their trapping money. Every member of the family can join in the work.

An energetic Indian squaw can dig up to 20 pounds a day in a good spot, for an income of $40 to $50 a week while it lasts.

Seneca is a small plant with a tiny blue flower and a root covered with gray bark, and is found in abundance in this area, 150 miles southwest of Edmonton in the foothills. The plant thrives in wet bush lands. One field 20 miles south of here, on land that used to be muskeg, is the best in the west and thousands of pounds are harvested there each summer.

Before the Second World War, much of the raw root went to China and Europe, but now most of it is sold to manufacturing plants in Canada and the United States.

The most popular tool for digging up the roots is a section of an automobile car spring fitted with a smooth wooden handle.

A few of the older Indians still brew a bit of this herb for various remedies, but the younger generation refuses such bitter medicine.

This is one Indian field that the white man has not invaded. Few if any of the local residents would know seneca if they saw it. Few besides the buyers and the local merchants even know seneca is a local crop.

The fur buyers who handle the seneca would much prefer to purchase dried roots, but the Indians are far too busy to dry seneca root, a long tedious process, so they sell it green.

350 Claims Filed After Uranium Found

VICTORIA (P)—Uranium-bearing pitchblende has led to a "rush" in northern British Columbia, the provincial mines department reports.

Some 350 claims have been filed at Atlin since the discovery last month by a team working for Conwest Exploration Company, it was reported. One sample of uranium had been confirmed from a formation of metamorphic contact rock with some pitchblende.

"We shall send one of our mining people into the area shortly but until then we cannot comment upon the discovery," a mines official said.

Most of the claims are reported in the area of Loggers Bay and Deep Bay on the eastern side of Lake Atlin, about 12 miles north of the town.

Conwest has controlling interest in the wealthy United King Hill mines in the Yukon. Two years ago it bought the asbestos claims in the McDame Mountain area about 100 miles east of the present discovery.

Railway Starts Tunnel Survey

TOKYO (Reuters)—The National Railway Corporation announced today it has begun a survey for a projected underwater tunnel across the 10-mile Tsugaru Strait between Honshu and Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost island. A team is conducting blasting experiments at Yoshioka, on Hokkaido's southwestern tip, the announcement said.

Midget Television Camera Catches Shoplifter in Act

NEW YORK (AP)—The shoplifter edges up to a counter. The clerk is busy with a customer. There's the flash of a practised hand and a half-dozen expensive ties disappear. It looked easy and it was, until the shoplifter started to walk out and a store detective quietly collared him. The completely baffled thief hadn't reckoned on a concealed midget television camera on which his entire operation was observed. That's only one of the countless future business or industrial uses for TV envisioned by Dr. Allen B. Dumont, video pioneer and president of Allen B. Dumont Laboratories.

Dr. Dumont says the real potential of industrial TV only recently has been opened up with development of small, low-cost cameras a fraction as expensive as previous models.

INDUSTRIAL USES
He predicts industrial and business uses of TV ultimately will eclipse its entertainment use, just as electronics grew out of radio and now is several times as big as the radio business.

He foresees increasing use of TV for purposes as checking signatures on cheques, for enabling a control operator to monitor an entire assembly line or fabrication operation, in railroad yards, and even in the home for keeping an eye on a child or for seeing who is at the door.

British Scientists Develop Artificial Heart After Experiments on Thirty Dogs

LONDON (Reuters)—British medical scientists have developed an artificial heart for human beings.

The British Medical Journal publishes details of the heart built from researches by doctors led by D. G. Melrose, assistant lecturer in a postgraduate medical school here.

A Journal editorial says Melrose and his colleagues consider the artificial heart machine now might be applied to the treatment of certain forms of heart disease.

It cautions that the step from experiments on animals (the machine has been tested on 30 dogs) to humans is a big one. "The circumstances justifying the trial at the present time are few but the potentialities of the machine may be considerable. It is likely to be a valuable contribution to the advancement of cardiac surgery."

In another article, Melrose outlines the experiments carried out on the dogs, in which the natural blood circulation was assisted by shunting part of it from vein to artery through the machine.

None of the dogs died as a direct result of the experiments though four did not survive for other reasons. The survivors suffered no ill effects. "The challenging problem was and still remains to produce an extra-corporeal apparatus capable of maintaining temporarily the entire circulation of the human body."

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Muzzy Lost Because He Failed To Co-ordinate Hand

One of the more serious failings of players like Mr. Muzzy is that they look at a hand trick by trick, rather than viewing it over all—as a single unit.

In today's deal Mr. Muzzy opened the bidding with one spade, although one club or even one no trump would have been better. Mr. Champion raised to three spades. This bid is forcing to game unless you have previously passed.

It is also a limit bid. That is, with a little less, Mr. Champion would have made a minimum response in a suit of his own and given partner a single raise if partner rebid his suit.

With a little more than he actually had, Mr. Champion would have bid a suit of his own first, planning to jump raise his partner's suit on the next round. And, of course, with a hand strong enough to suggest the possibility of a slam, he would have made an immediate jump takeout over the one spade opening.

Again the final contract of four spades, Miss Brash led the lone six of clubs. Automatically, Mr. Muzzy played the five from dummy. He gave no thought as to how this play might be related to the winning of 10 tricks on the hand.

He was thinking only about this one trick—if he was thinking at all. In other words, if the king of clubs was on his left, he would lose no club tricks at all. If it was on his right, he would lose one club trick—but in that case anybody would have to lose a club.

As you see, it wasn't quite as simple as that. It wasn't a question of losing or not losing a trick in clubs. The question of time was all-important.

If the club lead were a singleton, then the contract might be lost by ducking at the first trick.

The contract was lost. Mr. Masters won with the king of clubs and returned the nine. Miss Brash ruffed, put her partner in with a heart lead to the ace and ruffed another club. She then cashed the ace of diamonds and led another diamond for Mr. Masters to ruff. Down three.

Note the slight difference if Mr. Muzzy had noted, at trick one, that he did not need to win four club tricks to make his bid. If he had put up the ace of clubs and taken three quick rounds of trumps, the defenders would have won a heart, a diamond and a club, period.

St. Laurent Doesn't Think Irrigation Dam Needed Now

By HAROLD MORRISON

Canadian Press Staff Writer
REGINA (C)—Prime Minister St. Laurent has swept away Saskatchewan's hopes of getting Liberal government support for early fulfillment of its greatest irrigation and power dream.

He stated frankly here he is not yet convinced the big South Saskatchewan project, a deeply controversial political issue in this land of bitter drought memories, will be beneficial to all of Canada.

And until he is convinced of its country-wide benefits—such as those that will result from the St. Lawrence Seaway—he would not be prepared to recommend it to Parliament, the prime minister added in a speech before some 2,000 persons attending a Liberal rally that filled the local armories.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner, in an introductory speech said he has backed the project for many years. It was the only proposal he has made to the cabinet in the 18 years that he has been a federal cabinet minister still unfilled.

Both the Progressive Conservatives and the CCF said they would build the dam if elected to power, but he felt sure that if the dam is constructed it will be because of Liberal policies.

ATTACKS PARTIES

Mr. St. Laurent clarified his position on the dam, after attacking both the Progressive Conservatives and the CCF. He suggested the Progressive Conservatives have "betrayed" Canada's interests by not disclosing what their "secret weapon" is for recovering Canada's markets in the sterling area.

There was no easy solution to the dollar shortage overseas, but it was "by no means hopeless." It could be solved by patience, hard work and international goodwill.

Canada had provided some help, but the key to the problem lay largely in the United States.

As for the irrigation project, Mr. St. Laurent felt this was too serious an issue to be made into a political issue and his position would be the same whether it was an election year or not. He did not even want to make a statement on it during his campaigning, but he might have been considered "pretty cowardly" if he didn't.

The project as envisioned by the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration would harness the South Saskatchewan river to build an irrigation and power site between Elbow and Outlook, Sask., to water some 450,000 acres and provide 150,000 horsepower.

In 1950, the PFRA said it would cost $105,000,000 but a royal commission last year said it would cost $250,000,000 and turned it down as uneconomical.

"We've got to get a factual basis which we can consider as proper to make a decision in the interests of the Canadian nation as a whole," said the Prime Minister.

The South Saskatchewan project might be required to complete the work of the PFRA but costs had to be measured against benefits.

McCarthy Decides Not To Call Truman Before Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep.-Wis.) said this week the Federal Bureau of Investigation has assured him that former President Harry S. Truman did not withhold any information he received from Canada about an atomic spy plot.

In view of this, McCarthy said, there would be no occasion for the Senate investigation sub-committee he heads to call Truman for questioning.

A little more than two weeks ago, while Truman was on a vacation trip east, McCarthy said there had been "constant reports" that the ex-president had not turned over to the FBI a list of some 150 Soviet spy suspects received from Canadian authorities.

McCarthy fired off a letter to Attorney-General Herbert Brownell asking whether the justice department and the FBI ever got such a list from Truman.

He called this a first step toward deciding whether to ask the investigations sub-committee to call Truman as a witness.

In New York at the time, Truman told reporters he had no comment because "what I could tell you, you wouldn't print."

In answer to reporters' questions today, McCarthy said: "I've gotten assurances from the FBI that Truman did not withhold any information which he got from any Canadian source, including Mackenzie King, in regard to espionage."

He declined comment when asked specifically if Truman had turned over a list of names to the FBI.

RECEIVED LIST

McCarthy in his statement two weeks ago said he understood Truman received from former Prime Minister King in 1945 a list of U.S. citizens allegedly linked to an international atomic spy ring.

At the time the senator also said that if such a list were turned over to the FBI, he would like to know why the U.S. citizens were not prosecuted. He said nothing further about that today, however.

Information about suspects was made available to the U.S. government after 10 persons, including the British scientist Alan Nunn May, were sent to prison in the Canadian atomic spy trials.

Igor Gouzenko, a code clerk in the Soviet embassy at Ottawa, broke with communism and furnished the Canadian government with documents used in the trial.

165-POUND MAN TIPS TRUCK TO SAVE LIFE OF SON

ASTORIA, Ore. (AP)—A 165-pound father tipped over a pick-up truck with his bare hands to save the life of his 14-year-old son. The boy, Thomas Johnson, was pinned face down under two feet of water by the 3,000-pound truck after it skidded off a road and overturned on the bank of Young's river. The 5-foot, 8-inch father, Howard Johnson, 42, managed to tip the truck from its side back onto its wheels.

Nine-Year-Old Girl Held In Theft Case

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP)—A nine-year-old girl who banged on a big steel safe with a hammer in an attempt to open it, was held for juvenile authorities Monday as a confessed burglar.

Police were more than surprised—they wouldn't believe her confession at first.

Picked up after the burglary of a residence, the child told officers of two more burglaries. In one, the child said, "I used a hammer to pound on that big thing in the corner to get it open."

She failed, but took other articles.

In a roller rink, she escaped with skates, a billfold, candy and souvenir coins.

All the loot was recovered.
