Vast Forests Impressed Singer During Trip Here

The way in which cities and towns are nestled in the wilderness of the British Columbia coastline made the greatest impression on youthful Metropolitan opera singer Lucine Amara during her first trip north.

In an informal interview last night in the lounge room of the Civic Centre at a reception held for the vivacious singer by the Civic Centre Auxiliary, Miss Amara said she loved the vast forests of this country.

She already had seen much of the forest beauty of B.C. she said, while flying up to Bella Coola from Vancouver.

The reception by the Bella Coola residents was very heart-warming, Miss Amara said.

"This is the first year that Bella Coola has been added to the Alaska Music Trail itinerary and they seemed to really appreciate it."

The concert was the first of any magnitude ever staged at Bella Coola and was held in a community hall. As Don Jones, her accompanist, remarked:

"They seemed to realize how fortunate they were in having a Metropolitan Opera singer for their first visiting artist."

Miss Amara toured Prince Rupert in the afternoon.

The cold caught up with her between Bella Coola and Ocean Falls, the singer said huskily. She played a token performance at Ocean Falls and on the boat between Ocean Falls and Bella Coola she played shuffleboard, got too warm and, mistakenly took off her jacket, and became chilled.

"I need a full day's rest to put my throat back in shape," she said, but admitted ruefully that she wasn't likely to get it. She sings at Ketchikan tonight and then travels up to Wrangell, Petersburg and Juneau.

By October 2, she will be back at Mill Valley, Calif., for a concert and on the October 3 flies to New York on her way to Italy. There she will present a 2½-week concert series at the La Scala Milan, before returning to start her fourth season with the "Met."

Only 26 years old, Miss Amara made her Metropolitan Opera debut unseen as the Celestial voice in "Don Carlos" on opening night of the 1950-51 season. Later she got a chance to appear on stage in the operas "Götterdämmerung," "Rheingold," "Magic Flute" and others. Her greatest thrill she said, came when Rudolph Bing, director of the "Met" chose her to sing the role of "Nedda" during her first season. This full voice recording of "Pallaci" with Richard Tucker has been made on long playing records by Columbia.

One of the songs which Miss Amara sang last night, "Pace, Pace, Mio Dio," from Verdi's "La Forza del Destino" was the song she sang when she won the Atwater Kent award of $2,000 which helped her up the ladder of success.

Hajdukiewicz told his press conference he made his dramatic break because "I knew it was my last chance."

He said he believes his escape will encourage others in Poland.

"The Polish government is based on fear," he said. "I didn't want to return to my country which has been subjugated by the Communist regime. I should like to go to the United States of America."

He described Communism as "the subjugation of all life."

Later Hajdukiewicz was accompanied by U.S. officers to an undisclosed site, presumably in the Seoul area. He probably will be flown to Tokyo in a day or two, but army officials said they had no information on this.

State department officials in Washington said the circumstances were unusual, but it is U.S. policy to grant political asylum to persons honestly at odds with Communism.

RCMP Arrest 148 Doukhobors After Nude March Near School

Freedomites Sent To Oakalla Prison

By The Canadian Press

NELSON, B.C.—Mass arrests of nude members of the Sons of Freedom and smashing of the radical sect's newest stronghold mark British Columbia's latest drive to quell Doukhobor terrorism.

In a move shrouded in secrecy, RCMP Wednesday night rounded up 148 Freedomites, charged them with contributing to juvenile delinquency and herded them aboard a special train for trial in Vancouver.

At the same time police said they would dismantle the tent village of Polatka established by the Freedomites only last month on crown land at Perry Siding on the Skeena River some 29 miles northwest of here.

At Victoria, Attorney-General Robert Bonner said the provincial government took the action in carrying out its constitutional duty to uphold law and order. He also said the B.C. Welfare Department had taken over the care of some 80 children whose parents were among the 71 women and 77 men arrested.

The arrests climaxed several weeks of growing tension in the Interior Kootenay district as the Sons, angered by government insistence that their children attend school, staged sporadic nudist parades and dynamited the Canadian Pacific Railway's Kettle Valley line.

Meanwhile, Kootenay residents watched anxiously for some indication of reaction to the arrest by Sons of Freedom, a 1,600-strong sect that has kept the west coast province on tenter-hooks with sporadic outbreaks of arson and nudism for more than 20 years.

The Sons, whose religious beliefs are based on the edict that "God is freedom," believe any form of man-made law is a shackle on their freedom of worship and a slight to God.

Laws compelling their children to attend school have been a prime Sons' target for years and in the past they have both kept their children from school and burned down educational institutions in their fight against the regulations.

Wednesday's arrests were touched off on the opening of the new school term Tuesday. The majority of the adults in the 400-strong tent village kept their children at home; then, in an additional display of defiance, staged a nude parade past the Perry Siding school-house as the children were leaving at the noon hour.

The government's answer was the mass arrests and dismantling of the tents.

At Victoria, Mr. Bonner said the children's whose parents were arrested will be taken to the provincial sanatorium at New Denver, about 60 miles north of Nelson. There "certain formalities" will be worked out in connection with their custody.

The children will not be sent to schools immediately, said Mr. Bonner. He said their parents face criminal charges and, if found guilty, will face prison terms.

Inmates Quelled With Gas

The Associated Press

WALLA WALLA, Wn. — Eight hundred state penitentiary inmates followed a $500,000 prison fire Wednesday night with cell-wrecking disorders that were quelled only after guards thrice sprayed their quarters with tear gas.

The outbreak apparently was kept to a minimum by prompt action of guards who herded prisoners quickly into their cells when 14 inmates began acting up at evening meal time. Dishes were thrown and chairs smashed as a group of "young but tough" men began misbehaving.

This occurred about two hours after an unexplained fire roared through the institution's metals plant, destroying it and over 1,000,000 licence plates destined for use on Washington state automobiles in 1954.

NO DISORDERS

Damage from the fire was estimated by deputy warden Al Rembolt at $500,000. No disorders accompanied the blaze which started after the plant had been closed down for the evening.

Officials were prepared, however, for unrest and acted quickly when the dining room melee broke out. Back in their cells, the men apparently became annoyed, Rembolt said, because the prison's ventilation system failed when the fire burned out part of the power circuits.

Soon the convicts began hurling materials and abuse out the barred doors of their cells.

Mattresses were set afire and tossed out windows which had been broken with fists or articles ripped from cell walls. Lavatories were broken from their supports and smashed.

Layoff Slated By Studebaker

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Studebaker Corp. announced today it will lay off between 5,000 and 6,000 employees this week-end because of a one-third cut-back in passenger car production starting Sept. 14. Harold S. Vance, Studebaker president, cited slower deliveries as the reason for the cutback.

St. Laurent Planning Extensive 'Courtesy' Trip Around World

OTTAWA — Prime Minister St. Laurent is planning the most extensive air trip ever undertaken by a Canadian government leader, a 30,000-mile round-the-world friendship tour that will take him to some of the globe's major trouble spots.

The 71-year-old prime minister told reporters Wednesday of a decision to extend his proposed two-week Asian tour next January to a globe-circling flight. He would probably make stops in India, Pakistan and Ceylon and possibly Japan, Australia and New Zealand, as well as several still-to-be-determined European points. He has received invitations to visit West Germany and France.

He considers the tour would be a "courtesy" trip, to return calls made on Canada by heads of these various foreign governments.

Mr. St. Laurent touched on the air trip—likely to be made in the RCAF luxury aircraft, the C-5—after a day-long cabinet meeting, the government's second since the Liberals were returned to power in the Aug. 10 general election. The next meeting will be Sept. 17.

The cabinet announced: Appointment of nine parliamentary assistants—just below cabinet rank.

A decision to place the bulk of federal office workers, including those in Prince Rupert, on a year-round, five-day work week, promising a similar step for operating staffs in the next few months. Some 60,000 of 85,000 workers are affected immediately.

Decision to grant Greece, torn by earthquakes in the last month, $500,000 worth of aid in the form of construction materials, salt cod and powdered milk.

Dropped from the ranks of parliamentary assistants is George McIlraith, member for Ottawa West who aided Trade Minister Howe. Mr. St. Laurent said the 45-year-old Ottawa lawyer, dean of the assistants, bowed out of his own accord. Mr. McIlraith said he wanted to devote more time to his law practice.

Parliamentary assistants get $4,000 a year in addition to normal member indemnities of $4,000 a session and $2,000 tax-free expense allowance.

BANKS IN TERRACE PLAN CLOSING ON SATURDAYS

TERRACE—In keeping with arrangements made by banks throughout Canada, the three bank branches in Terrace have decided to close on Saturdays.

To offset the closure the banks will remain open from 4:30 to 6 p.m. every Friday starting September 25.

It is felt that the late period on Fridays will be more beneficial to the majority of population in the Terrace area than the present Saturday period.

Rotary Governor Addresses Members of Rupert Club

When a Rotarian becomes District Governor he sees a lot of country and countries, according to Dr. W. Bruce Gordon, District Governor of District No. 151 who paid a visit to the Prince Rupert Rotary club today.

Dr. Gordon, who hails from Courtenay, Vancouver Island has just finished a whirlwind tour of Alaska and spoke today at the local club's weekly luncheon. As early as May 7, Dr. Gordon attended the International Rotary assembly for governors at Lake Placid, New York, and then attended the Rotary International World conference at Paris in the last week in May.

From there, he, his wife and two sons went to London and witnessed the Coronation. There they also received a warm reception from W. A. McAdam, agent general for British Columbia at B.C. House in London. From there he visited Scotland and returned to start his tour of District 151 Rotary clubs on August 12.

In Alaska he visited Rotarians at Juneau, Anchorage, Fairbanks, Wrangell, Nome, Petersburg, Ketchikan, and also went above the Arctic circle to Kotzebue.

From Prince Rupert, the district governor goes to Smithers and on September 16 will present a charter to the newly formed Rotary club at Burns Lake.

After a visit to Prince George, Dr. Gordon will fly home to Courtenay.

AWL Soldier Gives Self Up

A soldier from the Princess Patricia Canadian Light Infantry who on his own admission has been AWOL from his regiment since 1952, gave himself up to the RCMP in Prince Rupert last night. Pte. Stanley Johnson, from Currie Barracks, Calgary is being held until a military escort arrives.

It is believed that he has given himself up in hope of receiving the Queen's amnesty, granted during her Coronation year.

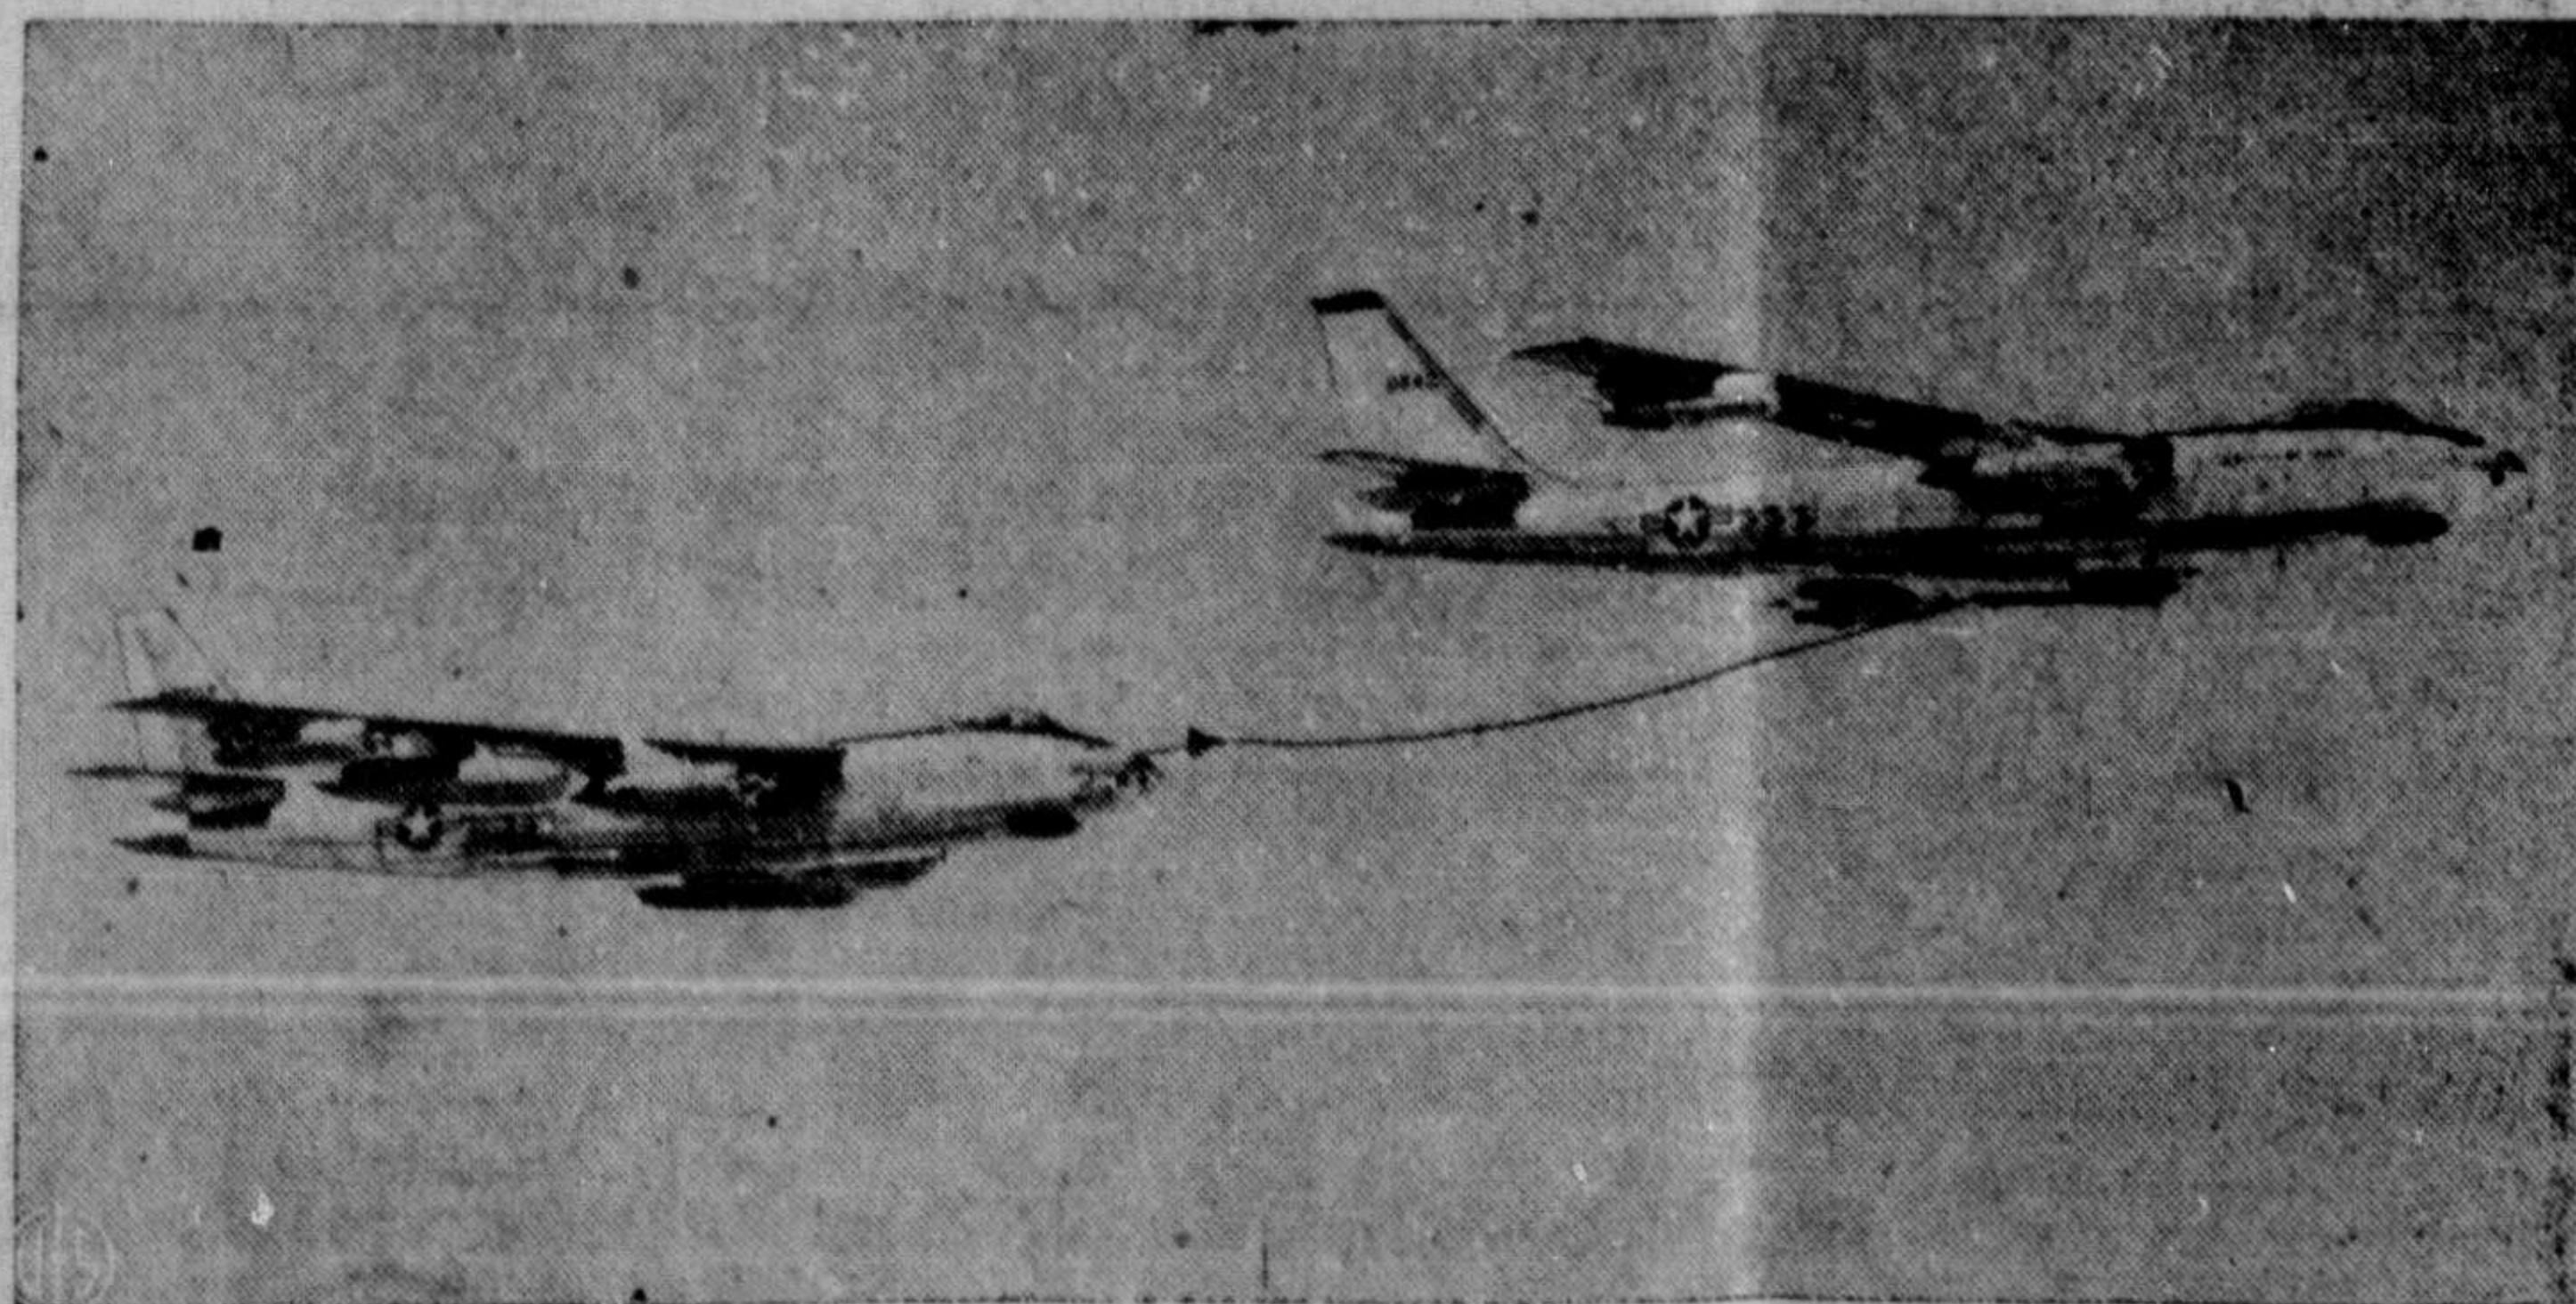

Summer Routine Concludes For Rupert's Sea Cadets

Camping's over, and so is the summer routine. Captain Cook Sea Cadets parade again tonight at 7:15 p.m. in the Drill Hall at H.M.C.S. Chatham.

As the new training year gets under way an invitation is extended to all boys over the age of 14 years to file applications for joining. A full training in the basics of seamanship, and naval lore is given, and later the more advanced cadet can branch out into the more specific details. A well-rounded course of study, and lots of fun besides.

Arrangements are being finalized for the Sea Cadet Tag Day to be held this Saturday. Proceeds are in aid of the local corps.

Uniforms will be worn tonight, and once again Prince Rupert streets will carry the appearance of the unforgettable "bell-bottomed trousers... coats of Navy blue," and the still night air will once again resound with the uncertain notes of bugles and drums.

Tragedy of Empty Concert Seats

JUST one disappointment marred the brilliant performance given last night by the beautiful soprano, Lucine Amara—there were empty seats among the audience.

As the magnificent voice of this gifted singer filled the auditorium, there was no inclination to notice a mundane detail of this sort. Miss Amara could probably sing to an audience of one without that individual being in the least aware of the lack of company. The reason is that she is an artist of consummate charm and talent who always commands complete attention. Even more than that, it seems generally agreed that she is one of the finest performers ever to appear in the Alaska Trail series—which is high praise.

But when the lights went up and the vacant seats became evident, one felt regret that not more had taken the opportunity to enjoy this occasion.

In the three years since the series started, the Alaska Music Trail concerts have proved they offer a standard of musical enjoyment normally found only in centres of major importance. Thanks to the willingness of the participating artists to depart from conventional circuits, talent of international repute has found its way along the lonely paths of the north country. In Miss Amara's particular case, she did not wait to be asked. She inquired of pianist Maxim Schapiro, who handles arrangements, if she could make the trip, and he needed no time to consider his reply.

In the face of such an opportunity to hear a distinguished performance, coming after hundreds of miles of travel off the beaten track, an empty seat is tragically out of place. Had the hall been packed last night, it would still be unfortunate that not more could have heard Miss Amara.

The only, and somewhat unsatisfactory consolation is that there are three concerts of the season yet to come. Each is an opportunity for deep pleasure that should not be missed.

Trans-Canada Short-Cut

USUALLY we travel between Vancouver and Radium via the U.S.A.

But this time, with a family party of four and no fear of flat tires, we decided to travel home through B.C. It was our first motor trip around the Big Bend—and it may be our last, for there are plain signs that the Trans-Canada Highway will soon find a new, shorter route connecting East and West Kootenay.

B.C. acutely needs a new Trans-Canada route through the Selkirk, and the party which is now exploring between Argenta, at the head of Lake Kootenay, and Windermere, on the Upper Columbia, seems to me to be on the most promising possible short-cut.

THE BIG BEND route has some magnificent scenery—though you can see very little of it for the forest growth is so dense on both sides of the road. The road itself is not bad in dry weather.

But you do not need to drive for five or six hours through thick forest to know we live in a country of tall timbers. The same amount of road mileage, through central B.C., would do for Vernon, Trail, Nelson, Revelstoke and Nakusp what the opening of the Hope-Princeton Highway did for Penticton—that is, bring enormous business expansion.

Motor traffic could move from Vancouver either by the Kamloops-Revelstoke-Argenta-Windermere-Banff route, or by Penticton-Nelson-Argenta-Windermere-Banff and points east—as well as through the Crow's Nest Pass, as now.

But I think the link between East and West Kootenay would benefit Vernon, most of all, for it would be in a position to tap traffic moving from both north and south into the new central B.C. short-cut route.

DRILLING crews are busy on the Big Bend right now testing for foundations for the big dams that will be necessary when the huge international water power developments go through.

There on the unpopulated Big Bend of the Columbia River is literally a God-given chance for us to create some of the most immense water storage basins in the entire world. We have a chance to get cheap power in vast quantities.

The whole deep interior of B.C. desperately needs cheap power—for it already has the water for irrigation right at hand. But cheap electricity is the now-missing link to get the water to the land.

ON LABOR DAY week-end the whole Hope-Princeton Highway area was literally alive with camper-outers. This was partly because all the hotels, motels and tourist cabins were sold out.

But it was also partly because the many camp sites and picnic grounds provided by the province of B.C. have brought cheap fun and real joy to increasing numbers of B.C. families.

The word is at last spreading among the people of B.C. that right in our own province we have the finest holiday country on this continent.

OTTAWA DIARY

By Norman M. MacLeod

The great game of politics may be the roughest and most ruthless form of activity in which mankind engages, but it also has its redeeming moments of generous and genuine sentiment.

The current proof in Ottawa circles that the party game isn't just complete mayhem is the widespread impact of the news of the major operation undergone by Gordon Graydon, Q.C. Politicians have been genuinely affected regardless of their political affiliations.

The reason is fairly easy to understand. Gordon Graydon during the 18 years that he has represented the County of Peel as a Conservative has become something more than just another Member of Parliament. He was elected in 1935 fresh from the ranks of the Young Conservative movement of that day. He has served continuously with much more than average distinction and so has won re-election without any break in House of Commons service. Thus he has come to symbolize in Parliament and Canadian politics generally the lost generation of young Conservatives of the past two decades who have been forced by political fortune and the unsuccessful leadership of their once-great party to waste their labors of party loyalty and their very great abilities in the unproductive wilderness of opposition.

No one who has followed Parliament closely for the past 18 years has been left in any doubt as to Gordon Graydon's ability to prove himself an outstanding Cabinet Minister. But he's never had any chance. At that he's been vastly more fortunate than other rank-and-file Conservatives of his generation. For it's a sad but true fact that no young Conservative who has reached voting age during the past 20 years has ever been able to vote for a winning Conservative Party in a national election. Gordon at least has had the satisfaction of becoming a Member of Parliament.

The most outstanding Graydon achievement in a career destined to the frustrations of opposition has been his preservation of a spirit which never has failed to impress the House of Commons with its complete invincibility. Instead of shrinking under the process of repeated party defeats, Graydon has seemed to grow greater. His effectiveness in debate has increased steadily and brilliantly with his experience in Parliament. His resolute purpose has never been impaired. His good humor and tolerance have never flagged or narrowed. His easy dignity has ridden every storm of adverse party fate. He's the sort of stout-hearted, hard-trying, sincere, party-loving and integrity-loving fellow whom Parliament admires regardless of the party to which he belongs.

And so the news of him undergoing a major operation recently in Toronto has been received with genuine sympathy in political circles here which do not deal in sympathy as a normal commodity. And the sincere hope for his convalescence isn't confined to any one party. It's shared in genuinely equal measure by all.

Pretty Opera Star, Lucine Amara Wins Audience With First Number

The full meaning of "dramatic soprano" was demonstrated last night when Lucine Amara, 26-year-old Metropolitan opera star presented a delightfully-varied concert in the Civic Centre auditorium.

The concert, first of a series of four marked the opening of The Alaska Music Trail, for 1953-54 sponsored here by The Civic Centre concert auxiliary.

Gowned in iridescent acetate-nylon the dark-haired beauty won her audience from her first number. Handel's "Where're You Walk."

By the time she had sung Arne's impish arrangement of "Where's the Bee Sucks" Miss Amara had given several examples of the full-throated power of her voice, her ability to reach any note effortlessly and some idea of the depth of range of which she is capable.

In the first four selections in English Miss Amara's voice, perfect diction and enunciation showed the ease with which she controlled the different inflections needed with such a varied program.

Whether it was the sprite-like Ariel, the lover's query in Handel's "Art Thou Troubled?" or the old English air "Nymphs and Shepherds" by Purcell, Miss Amara changed perfectly to suit the role.

Hampered by a severe cold which only made itself apparent once when she lost control and cracked in "Die Lotosblume" by Schumann, the young artist put her heart and soul into every selection. Restrained where quiet exhortations were called for, her voice flowed out over the auditorium in waves of glorious sound.

Following Strauss' "Standchen" and the amusing French descriptive piece "Villanelle des Petite Canards" Miss Amara seemed to mould herself into the mood of the impassioned "Chere Nuit" by Bachelet, painting with her voice and actions a perfect picture of a girl's tender plea for love.

With the aria from Leoncavallo's "Pagliacci" she gave a rendition of Nedda's song envying the freedom of birds in a manner which told why her original audition with Rudolph Bing, manager of the Metropolitan Opera Company heralded great things to come. Here without doubt was the dark-eyed Italian heroine of the tragic opera longing for something which wasn't hers to have, in a scene leading up to a terrific climax.

The same dramatic ability and full-voiced intensity was apparent in Miss Amara's presentation of the heart-broken Laura's "Forza del Destino" by Verdi.

She sang in English completed her program during which she gave new life to the old "Belgian" song "Heigh, Come to the Fair." She won particularly enthusiastic applause with her concluding selection "Let My Heart Be Your Heart" in which she could be heard clear as a bell.

Complimenting Miss Amara, with excellent timing and no undue emphasis was the popular young San Francisco pianist Don Tenen.

On behalf of the City of Prince Rupert Mayor Harold Whalen welcomed Miss Amara and presented her with a bouquet from the Alaska Music Trails organization here.

As an encore she sang "I Heard a Forest Praying" which she said she felt was most apt for the "beautiful little city of Prince Rupert."

Chapter Honors Mrs. S. Kilback
 Mrs. S. A. Kilback, who is leaving Prince Rupert shortly to take up residence on Vancouver Island, was the guest of honor at a farewell party at the home of Mrs. J. A. Tenz by the members of Queen Mary Chapter, ODE.

Mrs. R. Scherk presented Mrs. Kilback with a corsage and an ODE spoon and extended best wishes for the future on behalf of the chapter. Games were played and refreshments served.

BABY'S CRY IS NOT ALWAYS TEMPER

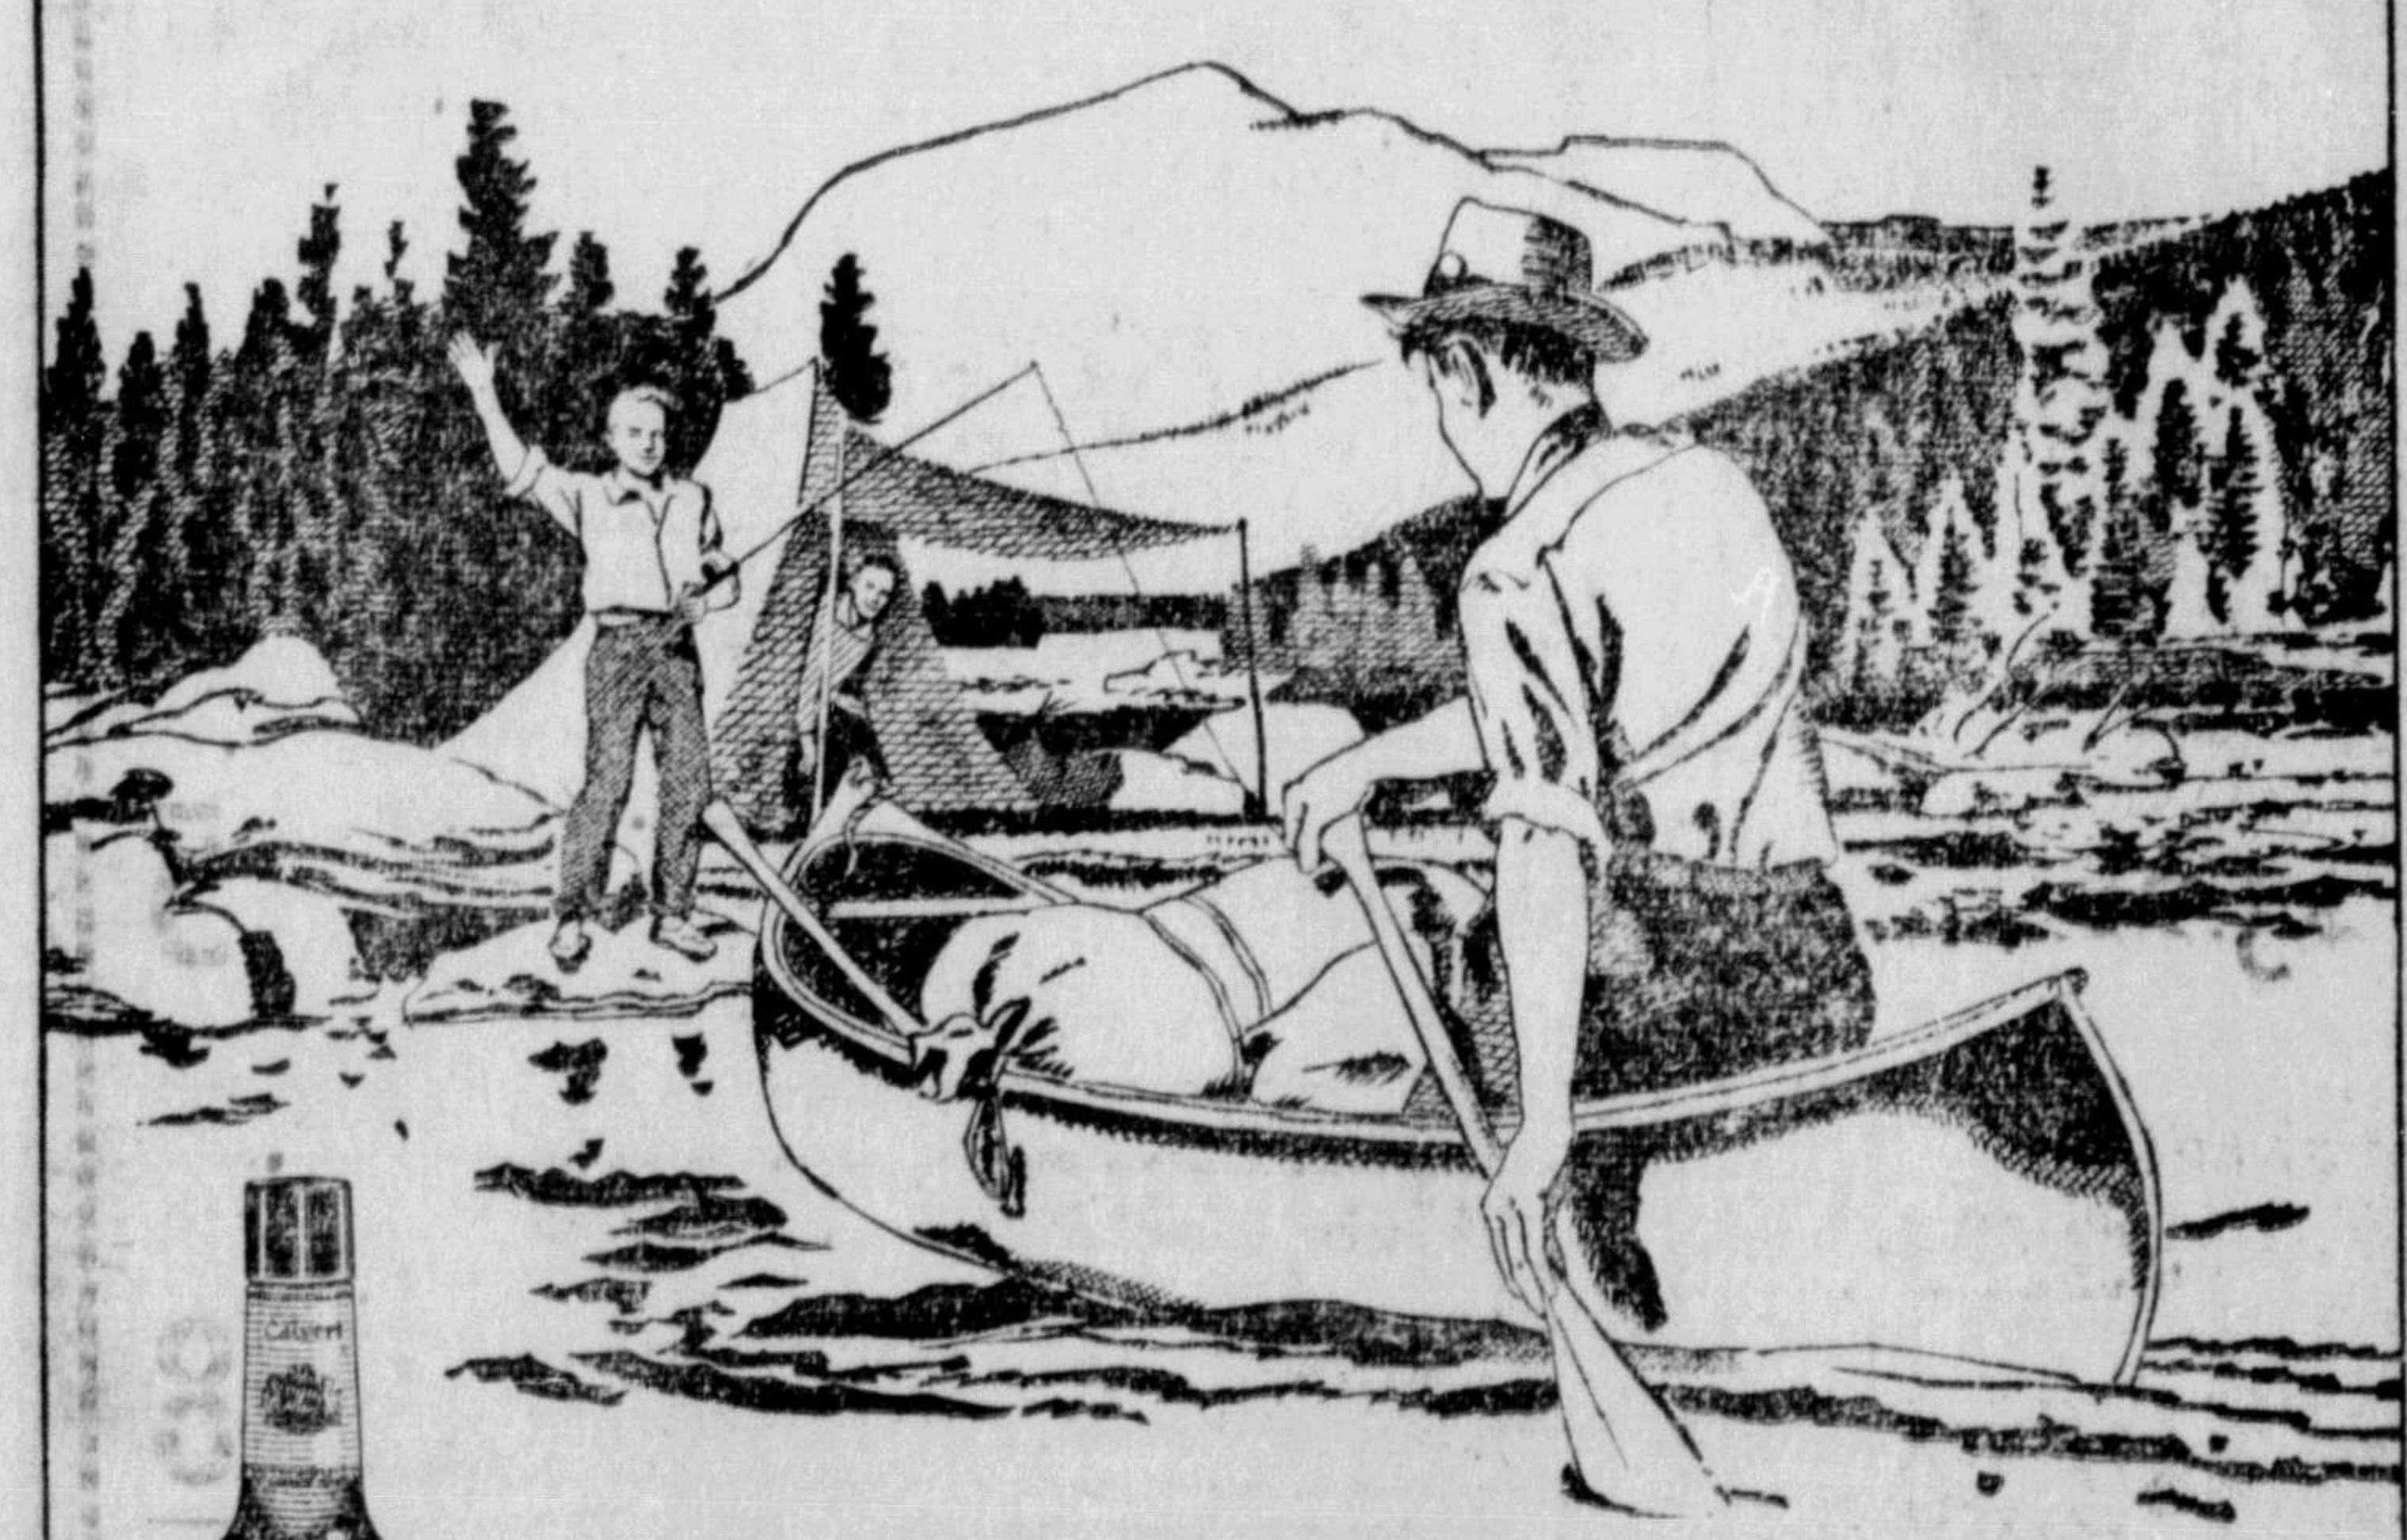

DISTINGUISH between your baby's cry of pain and cry of temper. The "pain cry" should have instant attention. If it is caused by the distress due to gas on the stomach or bowels or those common digestive upsets try Baby's Own Tablets. As one Ontario mother reports, "It used to be a worry what to use when my baby had an upset spell, needed a regulator. Well that problem was solved when my sister said, 'Give Baby's Own Tablets.' And during teething time—when babies are feverish, restless due to irregularity or have an upset tummy—Baby's Own Tablets not only relieve efficiently, but do it quickly. I wouldn't be without them."

Equally effective for constipation, digestive upsets, and other minor infant troubles such as the restlessness and fretfulness resulting from irregularity at teething. No "sleepy" stuff—no dulling effect. Get a package today at your druggist.

up? In second place.
Twenty victories in the last 25 games is Cleveland's record during the last three weeks, but with the season's end a little over two weeks away, they trail the pennant-bound New York Yankees by nine games.

That's the way it was last year—too late and too little.
The Indians won 18 of their last 21 games—and wound up losing a half-game to the Yankees.

The Yankees need only a combination of nine victories and Cleveland losses to clinch their record-breaking fifth straight championship following Wednesday night's 9-3 victory over Chicago White Sox.
The Indians boosted their second-place margin to four games over the White Sox, edging the Boston Red Sox 2-1.

Brooklyn's National League-leading Dodgers reduced their "magic number" for mathematical elimination of Milwaukee to two, shutting out Cincinnati Redlegs 6-0 while Philadelphia was blanking the Braves
2-0. New York Giants dropped St. Louis Cardinals into a tie for third place, defeating them 9-3. Chicago Cubs won their sixth straight, defeating Pittsburgh Pirates 8-7.

The two two-night double-headers in the American League ended in splits. Mickey Vernon's double scored Eddie Yost in the 12th inning to give Washington a 2-1 victory over Louis Browns after rookie on Larsen had pitched the owns to a 2-0 triumph in the ener.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Doesn't the second straight defeat of Ezzard Charles, this time by a light-heavyweight named Harold Johnson, make it plain-er than ever that the whole blooming world has about run out of big men who can use their fists?

Who is Rocky Marciano to fight next, assuming that he conquers Roland La Starza two weeks from tonight at the Polo Grounds? There simply is not a challenger worthy of the name, assuming that no one wants to see Jersey Joe Walcott come out of well-earned retirement.

We have not heard a manager, other than those of La Starza and Charles, claim seriously that he has a man who might trim Rocky.

It seems strange to recall now that those who refused to accept Joe Louis' greatness when he was at his best liked to say that he had nothing to fight except a lot of bums. Marciano, who wants to make much money in a hurry, will be wishing shortly that there was a Billy Conn or a Max Baer or a Max Schmeling or even a Tony Ga-lento around these days to help him pack a few ball parks, as they helped Joe.

Don't the speed with which Ted Williams, a gaffer of 34, got himself back into shape and began wangling homers again prove once and for all time that the long spring training trip is strictly widow dressing?

TRAINING GROUSES

Although we do not know all the things the ball players' new lawyer is going to ask of the magnates, we do know that the athletes grouse mightily about the length of the spring grind and the fact that their salaries do not start until the opening day of the season. The younger

Beavers Close on Heels of Angels

By The Canadian Press
Don Eggert teed off on the first ball sent his way in the 12th inning of Wednesday night's Pacific Coast League game at San Diego. He lofted it over the fence to give Portland a 2-1 victory and an even 2-2 split in the season-ending series with the Padres.

The win kept the Beavers two games behind Los Angeles Angels who continued in hot pursuit of second-place Seattle by turning back San Francisco 6-3.
Seattle split with Sacramento, winning the nightcap 9-0 after losing 5-3.

Hollywood, the 1953 pennant already in the bag, scored twice in the ninth to edge Oakland 3-2.

Royce Lint went the distance for Portland to register his 20th win of the season.

Lanky Bill Evans blanked Sacramento on four hits to give the first and a two-run error
in the sixth, were instrumental.

Seattle the twin bill split. It was his 16th win of the season.
The Solons nixed Al Widmar's try for win No. 21 in the opening.
Joe Brovia's two-run homer in the first and a two-run error
in the sixth, were instrumental.

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

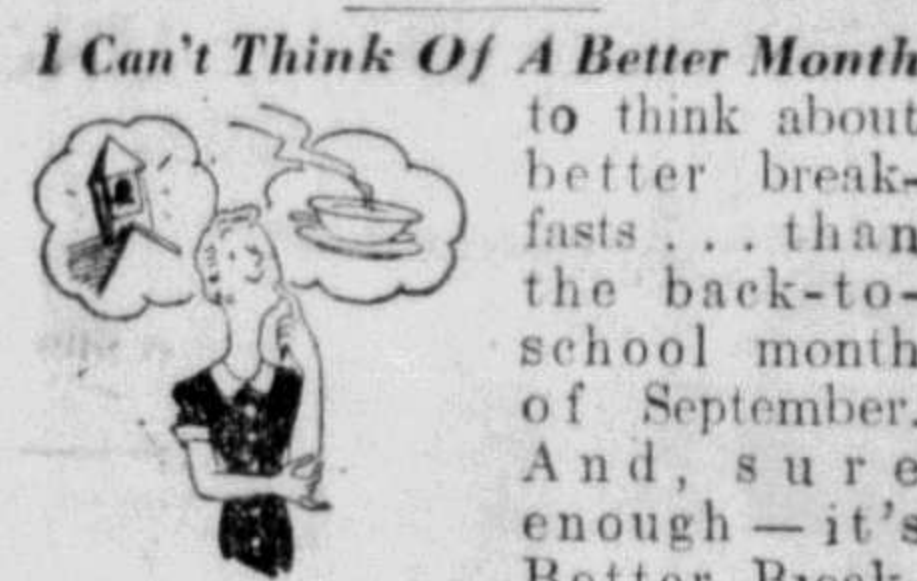

MONTREAL, Sept. 10th—You can imagine her holding roses—but not cleaning pots and pans. Yet Betty Farkas scours 4500 pots and pans a year (a good average for any housewife!). But her hands are soft and beautiful, thanks to JERGENS LOTION. Detergents help Betty to clean all those pots and pans—and Jergens keeps her hands lovely in spite of detergents. After every chore, she smooths pure, white Jergens Lotion on, and Jergens doesn't merely "coat" the skin. It penetrates to help replace softening moisture. (It has two ingredients doctors use for softening.) This is why more women use it than any other hand care. Be a good housewife and an attractive woman... Use Jergens Lotion—avoid detergent hands. Just 15c, 37c, 65c and $1.15.

It's Back-To-School Again For All The Youngsters. And I hope I'm not too late to give you a tip about back-to-school clothes. When you're making or remodelling your children's clothes for busy school-days... use LIGHTNING FASTENERS for convenience and safety. Convenient? Yes, Lightning Fasteners make getting dressed and undressed easy for any youngster. You see, Lightning is the zipper with the famous automatic lock. They're wink-quick to unzip when you want to... yet when they're zipped-up—Lightning Fasteners stay put. And mother, just think!—when your youngsters' clothes are finished with Lightning Fasteners, you can forget the chore of constantly replacing buttons. Ask for Lightning Fasteners now... in a wide variety of colours and sizes.

Grape Jelly Is A Favorite with most of us. What a treat it is to spoon into that fresh-tasting royal looking jelly. And if your jellies are made with CERTO FRUIT PECTIN, the set will be right, the flavor and consistency delicious. Results with Certo are always so sure, if you follow the recipe exactly. You'll see a fine recipe for grape jelly in the booklet that's under the label of each bottle of Certo. Other grand recipes, too. And doing jams and jellies the Certo way, means you save 2/3 the time of the former long-boil method... and get up to 50% more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit.

I Can't Think Of A Better Month to think about better breakfasts... than the back-to-school month of September. And, sure enough—it's Better Breakfast Month. Well, that means breakfasts with hot "CREAM OF WHEAT" as the main attraction. I don't need to tell you that a hot breakfast is better for you... and "Cream of Wheat" is such a delicious way to begin the day. Good for you, too. It gives you quick-starting food energy, plus iron for good red blood, and calcium and phosphorus for diets deficient in those elements. Make every month Better Breakfast Month. Give your family a quick start for the day with the cereal that's both nutritious and tasty: hot "Cream of Wheat".

Once Upon A Time, my washing used to have a yellow tinge. I'd scrub and rub, with no success. Then I remembered something from my school-days... that seven colours combine to make white—and one of them is blue. So, of course, I said to myself, the answer to the problem of my yellow wash—is Blue. You know you must use your wash to get the clothes clean. Then simply put a dash of Blue in the water—to get them really white. Your sheets, shirts and table linens will fairly sparkle! What's more, Blue is kind to fine fabrics—won't harm them in the least. And it costs just a few pennies a month... a sound investment!

Yes, for the whitest wash, use RECKITT'S BLUE.

Many Outstanding Displays At Terrace District Fall Fair

TERRACE—With oldtimers recalling the days of four-horse teams, the parade of the Terrace and District Agricultural Association marched to the Civic Centre, the RCMP car leading the smartly-uniformed Aiyansh Native Brass Band.

Outstanding was the "For Remembrance" float of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, and the Rebekah Lodge had a dazzling car covered with hundreds of white handkerchiefs.

The judges, Mr. Zacharias, Brian Appleby and Miss Eileen Cross of UBC Extension Department, were fully extended with the many exhibits, while Peter Van Stolk dealt with the large art section.

Veteran farmer George Hipp and son swept the board with a wonderful display from grain and grasses to canned cheese and ham.

Alex Olson, with 12 firsts and three seconds, was prominent, and Messrs. Hamlin and Thomson were well represented.

Encouraging for the future of this area was the strong appearance of new and expert farmers. In farming, each season is different from year to year, and while many vegetables were displayed, less fruit, flowers and baking entries were on show.

Citizens Enjoy Sports Program

TERRACE—The Civic Centre committee ran a very successful Labor Day program for the benefit of Terrace youth. Next season the committee hopes to sponsor a ball team, and the Kinsmen Club, Canadian Legion, and Junior Chamber of Commerce also plan to sponsor one each.

Public support was good, and the races covered all age groups from two-year-olds to married women. The booths were well patronized, with corn-on-the-cob and barbecued beef in steady demand.

The "Silver Jubilee" Band was in attendance. More than 400 attended the dance at night.

In the ball game, Terrace beat Hazelton, 8-3, after two extra innings, and Gordon & Anderson beat Esquimaux 6-3 and later downed Terrace 11-0.

Meeting to Name New Directors

Three new directors will be elected and a treasurer appointed at a meeting tonight of the board of directors of the Civic Centre Association. The meeting, to be held in the Common lounge will also make plans for a membership drive and further discuss the possibility of starting a dancing class.

UN Demands Return of 3404 PoWs

PANMUNJOM (CP)—The United Nations command today charged the Communists held back 3404 Allied war captives—including three Canadians—and demanded a prompt accounting for each man.
The chief of the Allied delegation of the Korean armistice commission told reporters the Reds had better account for the missing men—"or else." He did not amplify.
Maj.-Gen. Blackshear M. Bryan turned over a carefully documented list to the Reds at an 86-minute meeting of the armistice commission. He warned the Communist officers:
"We now demand that you return these people to us or account to us for each of these individuals. We demand prompt action."

The scap, a wild duck popular with hunters, is found in northern Europe, Asia and America.

Independent Merchants Want More Profit on Sale of Quart of Milk

VICTORIA (CP)—Fresh milk may no longer be sold by "corner store" members of the Independent Merchant Co-operative Association, W. Palmer, president of the group, announced today.

The matter will be discussed at an IMAC meeting tonight. Membership will be asked to support the executive by voting on the question within 30 days.

of date of advising the B.C. Milk Control Board of their intention.

"We are tired of waiting on the Milk Board to act," said Mr. Palmer.

"We must get a profit of two cents on a quart of milk if we are to continue handling it. At present we get one cent. This does not cover the operation cost of the cooler and the handling of the milk," he pointed out.

Copter Lands In Canyon

VANCOUVER (CP)—A three-year-old crash of a United States B-36 strategic bomber, which took five lives, almost claimed three more Tuesday when an investigating helicopter crashed in rugged Fraser Canyon.

The wreck was found only last week and the helicopter was returning from the scene, near Smithers, B.C., when its gear box jammed, forcing it down near an Indian cabin. No one was injured.

The B-36, eight-engine aircraft from Tacoma, was stricken in February, 1950, over Princess Royal Island and its 17-man crew baled out. Twelve survived but five others were lost without trace.
