Heavy November Rainfall Brings Year's Total Nearer Record High

One month and three days to go, Prince Rupert's rain is well on the way to a better than average year for 1953. By this month 13.91 inches of rain have fallen during the first 27 days, with November 5 and 6 being the only two dry 24-hour periods.

Rhee Flies to Formosa to Meet Chiang Kai-Shek

SPENCER MOOSA (AP) — Rhee and Chiang Kai-shek, two Asian leaders bonded by a series of talks apparently aimed at tightening their political alliance against the South Korean president secretly to this Nationalist fortress only two days before conferences with top United Nations officials in Korea.

Rhee said his trip was a friendly visit but added "something may be brought up for discussion."

The surprise visit started immediate speculation they may join in a new anti-Red bloc.

Observers here expected the talks would touch upon at least two key points:

The possibility of Nationalist Chinese troops being sent to South Korea if that war is resumed.

The problem of what to do with some 14,600 anti-Red Chinese prisoners-of-war in Korea who are due to be freed as civilians in late January unless they choose to return to communism.

The meeting undoubtedly will draw a stream of attack from the Chinese Reds.

The plans were a well-kept secret in both Korea and Formosa.

FIRST REPORTS Rhee slipped from his capital of Seoul. The government announced the departure two hours after he left, and the news reports from Seoul were the first word here that he was coming.

Despite all the hush-hush, the U.S. obviously knew of the projected talks, since Hull loaned Rhee his private four-engine transport for the flight.

The navy had disclosed earlier that Rhee conferred Wednesday with the four top U.S. military officials in Korea aboard the battleship Wisconsin at Inchon, Korea.

Rhee was accompanied to Formosa by Foreign Minister Pyun Yung-tai and Ambassador Kim Hong Il.

The importance of Rhee's visit was emphasized by Chiang's personal greeting — the only other persons he has met at the airport in four years on this island have been Gen. MacArthur and vice-president Nixon of the U.S.

Hospital-Union Wage Issues To Go To Conciliation Board

Gregory Election Confirmed

VICTORIA. — British Columbia's Social Credit government has lost out in its attempt to obtain a legislature seat for Finance Minister Einar Gunderson.

A re-check Thursday of all ballots cast in Tuesday's by-election to fill the vacant Victoria seat in the legislature showed Liberal George Gregory defeated Mr. Gunderson by 90 votes.

Government sources said following announcement of the re-check result that it was unlikely Mr. Gunderson would ask for a judicial recount.

The sources also said the government was not expected to attempt to find another seat for him.

Mr. Gunderson, who went to a motion picture during the re-check, was not immediately available for comment.

When the ballots were first counted Tuesday, Mr. Gregory held a 93-vote lead. On the re-check Mr. Gregory lost one vote and Mr. Gunderson 10. However, Mr. Gunderson received 76 additional votes from counting of absentee and hospital votes not counted Tuesday compared to 64 for Mr. Gregory.

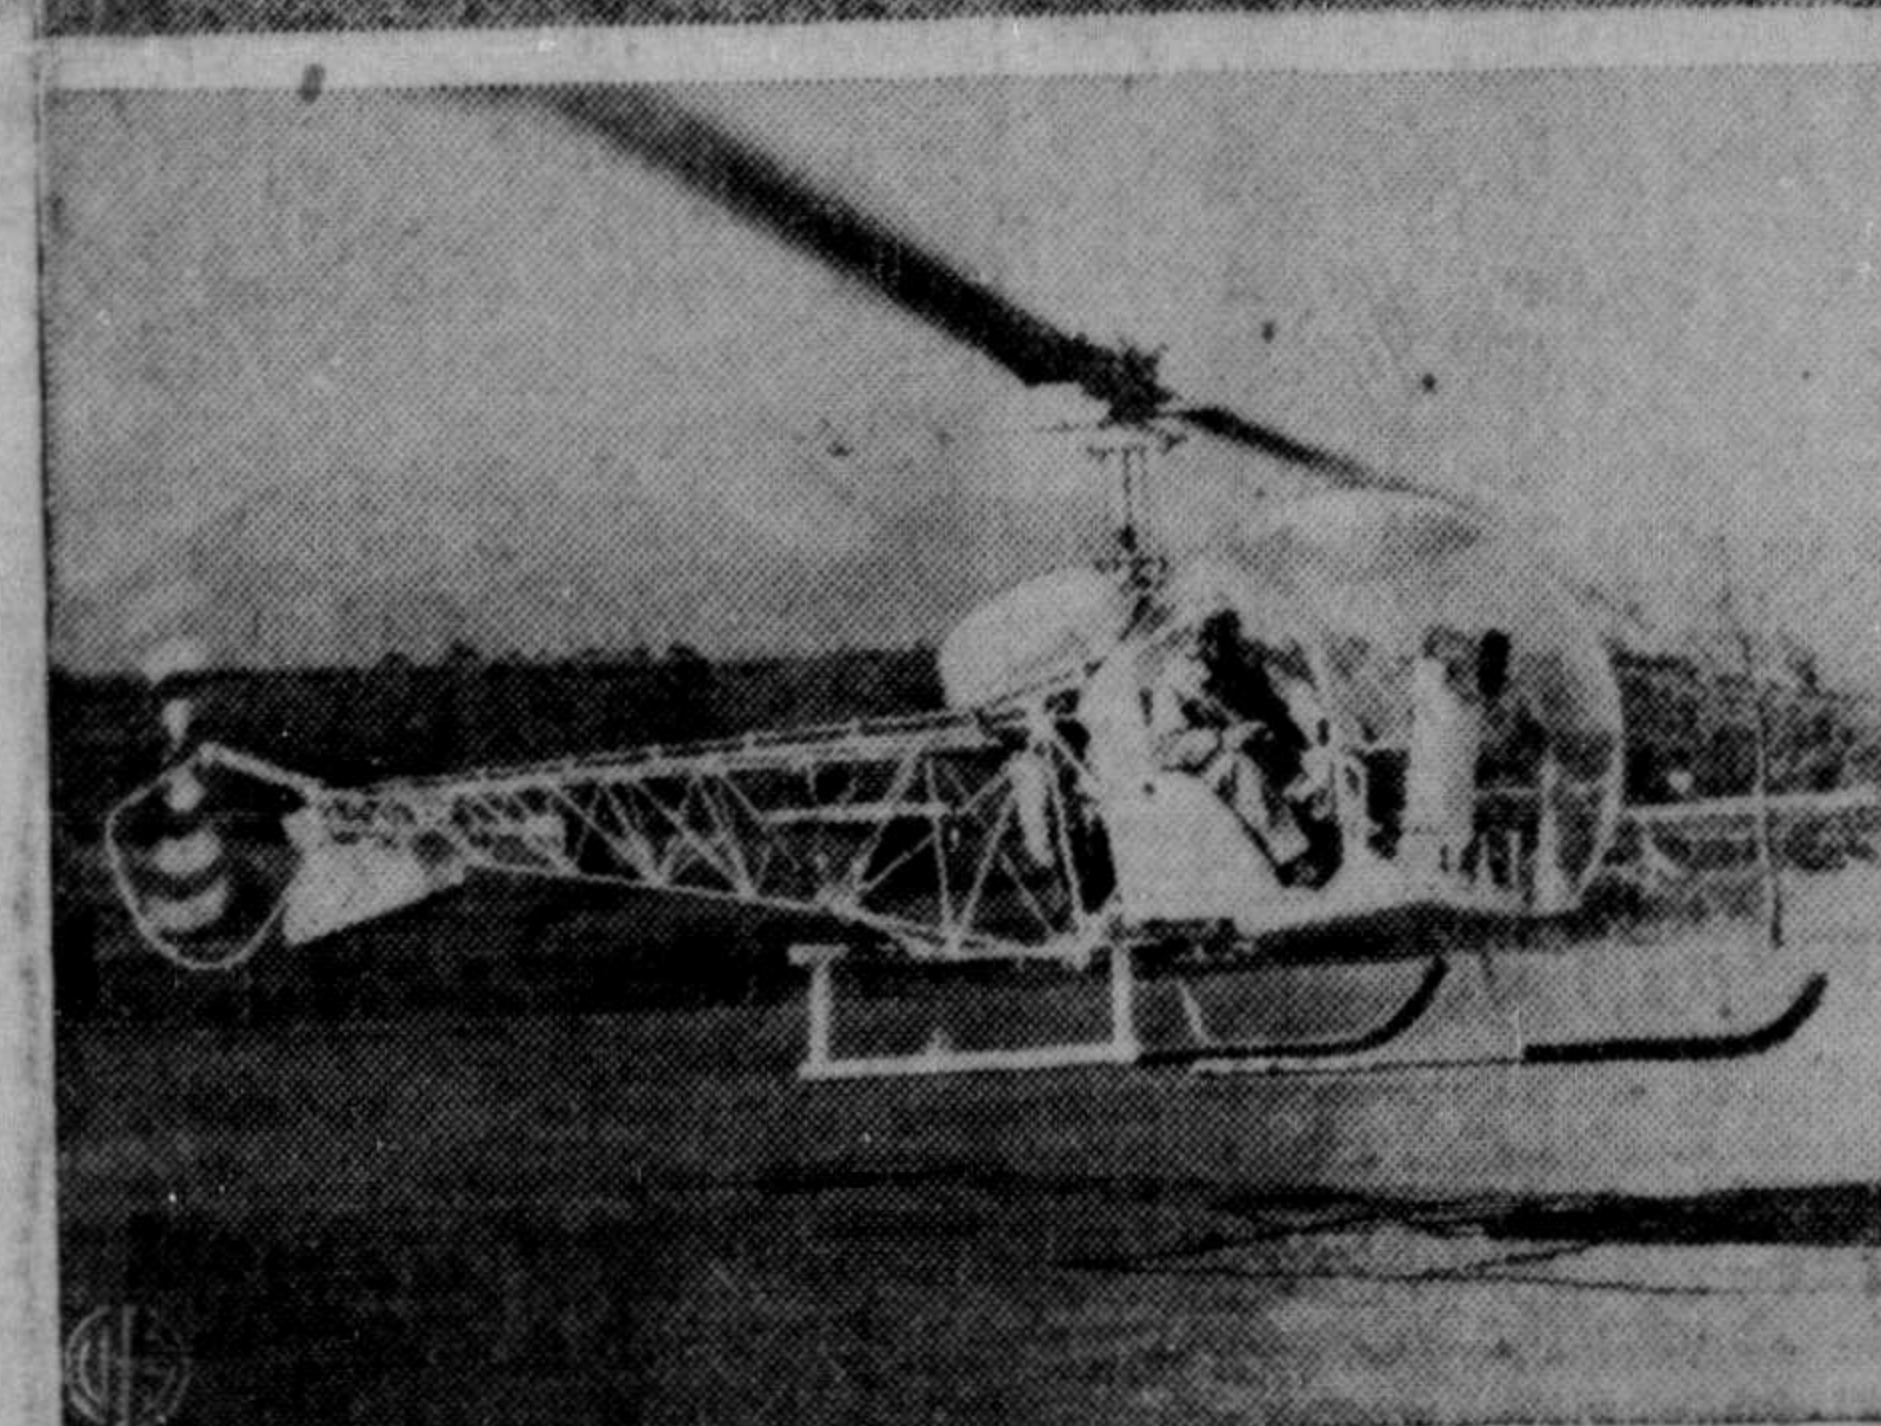

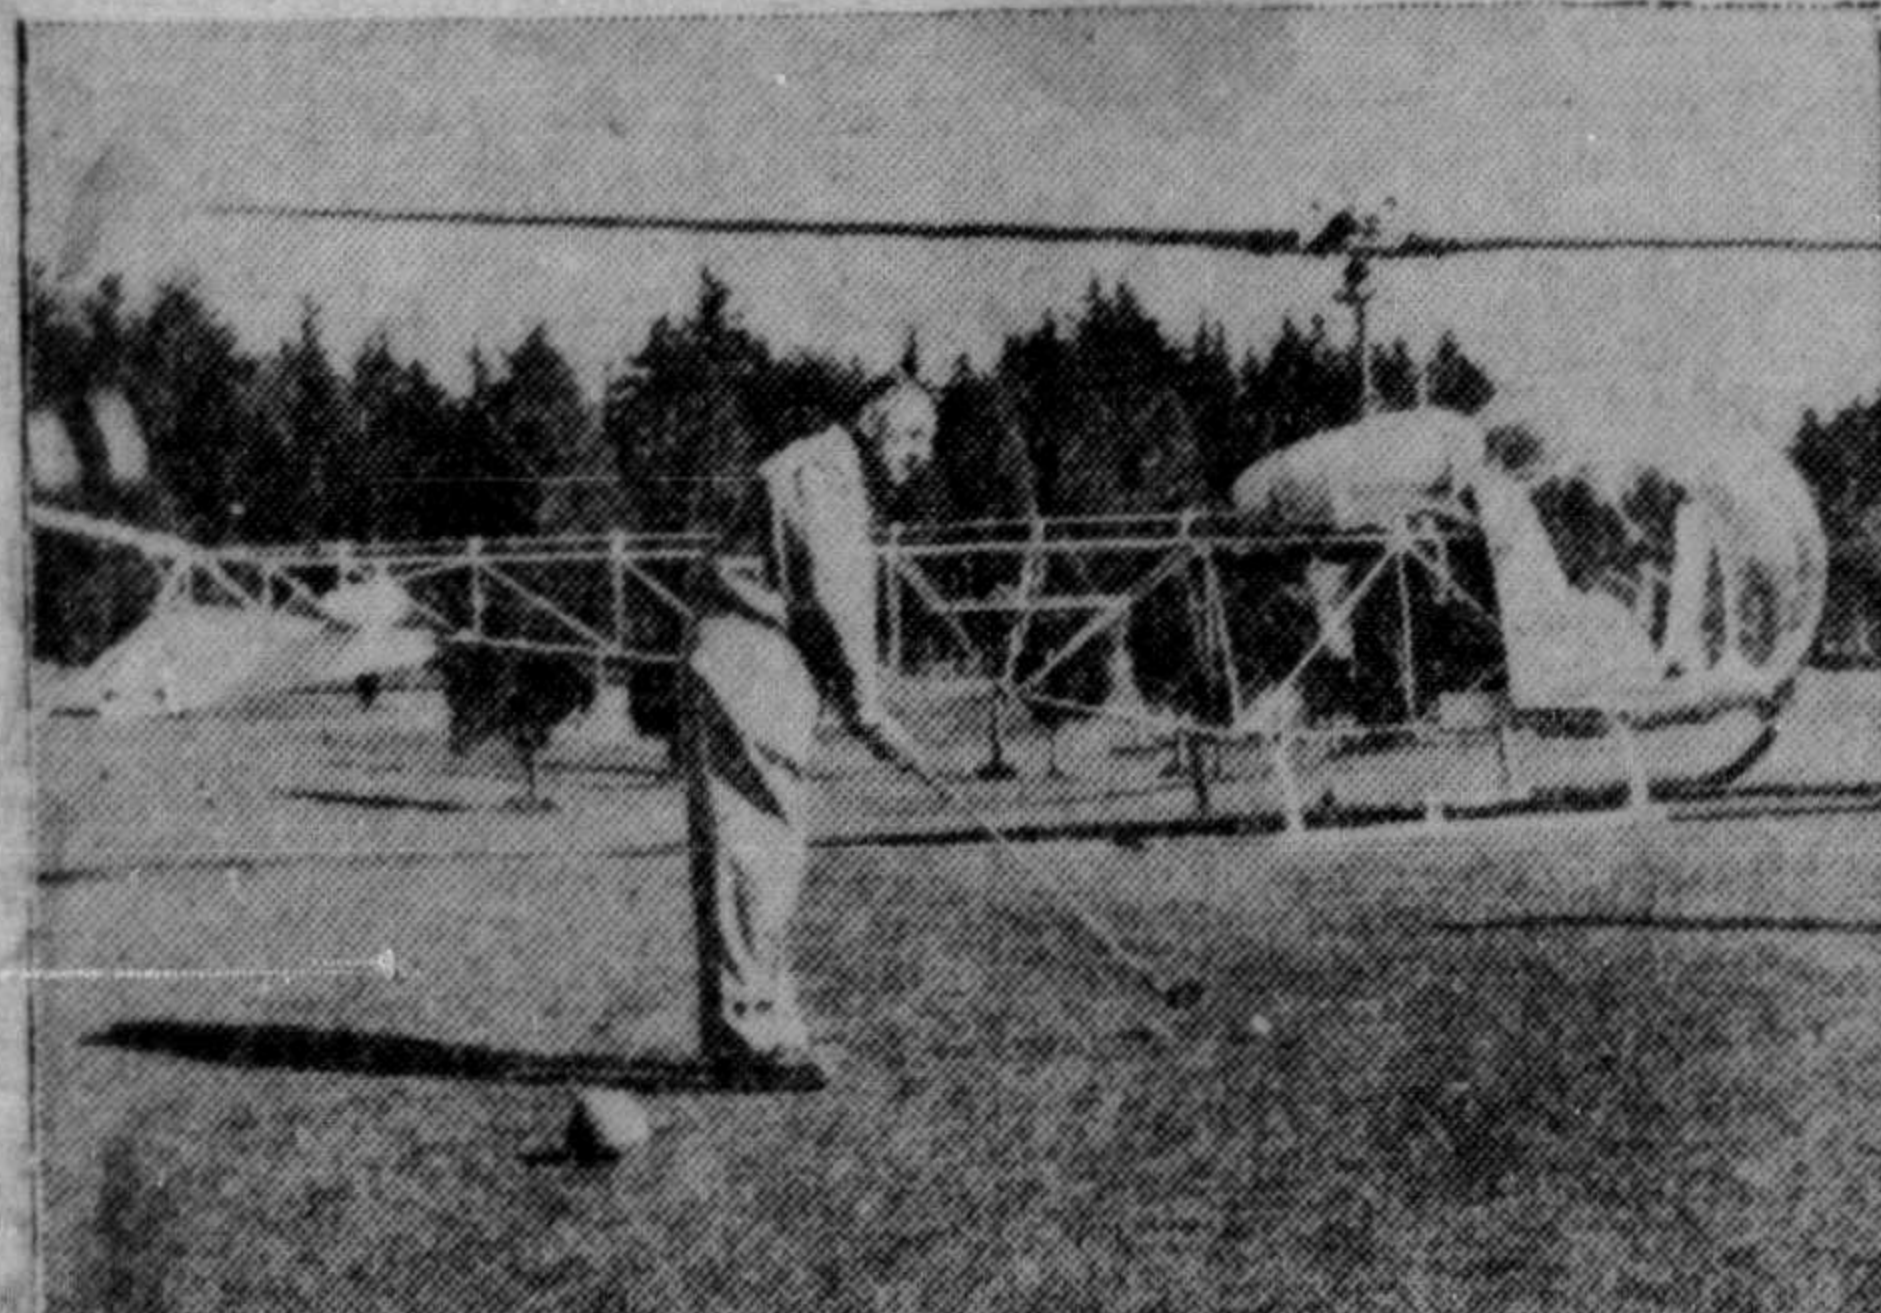

The final count is: Gregory, 8,456; Gunderson, 8,366; Alfred Matthews, CCF, 2,495; Deane Finlayson, B.C. Progressive Conservative leader, 981, and Mrs. Doris Blakey, Labor-Progressive, 161.

The election of Mr. Gregory leaves the standing in the legislature: Social Credit 27, CCF 14, Liberal 5, Progressive Conservative 1, Independent Labor 1, Total 48.

Former Resident Of Rupert Dies

VICTORIA (AP)—Funeral services will be held here Saturday for Thorstein Jonatansson Davidson, 33, of Cordova Bay, who was active in the CCF movement for 20 years both on Vancouver Island and in the Fraser Valley.

Born in Martharuppi, Iceland, he moved to Prince Rupert in 1908 where he was a photographer for 12 years. He then farmed in the Fraser Valley near Sardis and moved to Cordova Bay in 1950.

West Skeptical of Soviet Offer To Meet Big Three

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia has offered to meet with the Western Big Three to discuss critical European problems, abandoning its earlier insistence that Red China first be accepted by the West in the councils of great powers.

But officials here today said it is by no means certain that the Red China issue will not still block any profitable discussions between East and West.

A digest of the note Russia sent Thursday night to the United States, Britain and France became available this morning in Paris. It indicated that if a Big Four meeting of foreign ministers is held, the Russians would immediately press for a broader, follow-up meeting including Communist China.

But there was immediate speculation here, in Britain and elsewhere, that the Russians might be trying to manoeuvre the downfall of French Premier Laniel's government and cripple the Western Big Three conference opening in Bermuda a week from today.

CRITICAL DEBATE Laniel fights for his government's life today during the debate on support of the proposed European Defence Community treaty. Russia is bitterly hostile to this pact.

Laniel, who supports EDC, will be France's representative at the Bermuda meeting with President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill. If Laniel loses the vote of confidence, his government must resign. (See earlier story page 8).

Liberals Win No Confidence Vote in House

OTTAWA (AP)—The government has won its first test of strength in the new Parliament.

The Commons voted 156 to 36 Thursday night to defeat a CCF motion of non-confidence in the government. Liberals, Progressive Conservatives and two Independents voted against the motion, supported by the CCF and Social Credit parties.

The Social Credit party promptly presented its own non-confidence motion.

The two motions centred attention on the issue of free enterprise in the throne speech debate, with indications the two-week-old debate may end next week.

The CCF motion criticized the government for giving no promise of a national health insurance scheme in its outline of legislation in the speech from the throne. However, it amended a Progressive Conservative non-confidence motion already before the House by deleting the statement that Canadian welfare depends on free competition.

CITY PAIR ATTEND PARLEY City clerk R. W. Long and Bob McKay, Prince Rupert Civil Defence officer, left this morning by plane to attend a civil defence conference in Chilliwack.

Hold Line Policy Management Stand

Wage discussions between the Prince Rupert General Hospital board and the Civic Employees Federal Union No. 5 will be heard by a conciliation board.

The move was recommended last night by Labor Relations Board conciliator J. C. Sherlock who heard representations by both the board and the union during the week.

The union, which bargains for all the non-professional staff of the hospital except office workers and engineers, listed requested changes in the 1953 agreement in a letter discussed at the last hospital board meeting.

In view of the BCHIS policy of holding the line on hospital costs, the board took the attitude that a renewal of the 1953 contract was called for. As a result of this the conciliation officer decided that a conciliation board hearing was in order.

Eight changes for the 1954 contract sought by the union are: (1) a reduction of the working week from 44 to 40 hours, (2) a 20-cent night shift differential, (3) check-off of permit fees from the start of a worker's employment instead of after the three-month probationary period, (4) addition of the Queen's birthday to statutory and any other provincial holidays, (5) three weeks' holiday with pay after five years employment, (6) inclusion of hospital workers in the federal unemployment insurance service scheme, (7) rates of pay of orderlies to be brought into line with that of Vancouver General Hospital orderlies, (8) an across the board increase of 15 cents per hour.

A hospital board spokesman said this morning that the board would recommend that with some slight word changing the third and fourth items be included in next year's contract. However, he said, as all the other items mean increased costs the board cannot go along with them.

The board took a dim view of the union's request that probationers pay union dues before their three month's trial period is up, asserting that it amounts to a closed shop and removes from the hospital the right of hiring whom it likes.

On the unemployment insurance issue, the hospital would buck precedent if it petitioned the federal government to grant the union U.I.S. coverage. Only one hospital in British Columbia gives its employees this privilege, the others claim that if employees stay with the hospital there is no need to draw benefits and if they are let out they are sufficiently well-trained to gain employment in other hospitals. Addition of the hospital's share of unemployment insurance for its employees, would be an additional expense to the public, the board said.

Grey Cup On Air Here Tomorrow

Announcement was made at press time today that the Grey Cup football final tomorrow between Winnipeg Blue Bombers and Hamilton Tigers will be carried over local station CPFR and stations at Terrace and points east.

The broadcast will cover the game from its start at 9:45 a.m. to conclusion. It is not certain yet whether a broadcast of preliminaries starting at 9:15 a.m. also will be carried.

In making the announcement, local station manager Bill Hankinson said the broadcast was made possible by special arrangements of the CBC to transfer the program from the Dominion network on which it is carried to the rest of the country. Prince Rupert is on the Trans-Canada network.

This is the first time the game has been carried over local and interior stations.

Operators Offer to Meet Loggers

VANCOUVER (CP)—Southern interior lumber operators yesterday offered to meet union officials in an effort to find a solution to the crippling two-month-old woodworkers strike.

The offer was made through the B.C. Labor Relations Board and came as the International Woodworkers of America (IOWA) announced plans to set up a labor blockade throughout the interior to discourage workers from accepting employment in struck mills.

No date for a meeting has been set and there was no immediate comment from the IOWA.

Both northern and southern interior operators met with Premier Bennett Wednesday at Victoria in the latest of a series of meetings aimed at seeking a break in the deadlock over union demands for an 18-cent hourly wage boost. Present basic wage is $1.29 1/2.

Another meeting is scheduled in Victoria next Wednesday.

Colorful Bomber Supporters Arrive in Eastern Citadel

TORONTO (CP)—Two Blue Bomber special trains rolled into Union station today and turned loose on Toronto hordes of blue-and-gold-bedecked supporters.

Operating on the platoon system, the Winnipeg fans paraded through the station in two huge groups, their trains arriving from the Manitoba capital 20 minutes apart.

They were met in the lower concourse by about 250 Torontonians—some there to shout a welcome, some out of pure curiosity and other former Winnipeggers themselves.

The fans arrived less than 30 hours before Blue Bombers face Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the Grey Cup football spectacle, the annual west-east meeting that draws thousands more into the city than can possibly be shoe-horned in Varsity Stadium.

Bomber colors were everywhere. It seemed that every man, woman and child who stepped from the trains wore blue-and-gold ribbons or wore signs, letting everybody know where they were from and what they expected to happen Saturday afternoon.

Some of the western fans, who were getting a running start on the celebration, wore straw hats. Here and there were wide-brimmed cowboy stetsons.

The signs and buttons read: "The Indian sign is on Hamilton"; "Take off your hat to the Bombers"; "Ask us about our Blue Bombers."

One leather-lunged Winnipeg supporter bawled out "Boo Hamilton!" and the Toronto well-comers let out a roar of laughter.

Out of the arriving crowd emerged two Bomber supporters in comic dress, carrying a huge blanket. They spread it out, supplied their own smoke in puffs and sent out smoke signals.

The St. Andrews girls pipe band of Toronto was on hand to welcome the westerners. There were greetings of friends and relatives, and football talk was everywhere. Other trains were crowded, the usual quotas increased by ticketholders from out of town and those who still clung to a hope they can get tickets.

The plane is moving so rapidly that the sound of its engine has not reached the men on the ground yet. The photo was made by a Marine Corps photographer, who noticed that the same thing happened every time one of the squadron's jets sped over the runway. Seconds later, as the sound reached them, the Leatherneck flyers would swing around to look at the empty sky.

Unfair Abuse

IN THIS MATTER of choosing between Algoma and Roosevelt parks for future development, it seems to us that the opinion of the parks board deserves more respect than it has received from some quarters. One almost gathers from the remarks of critics that members of the board must have an ulterior motive in preferring the Algoma site.

The accusation that they are ignoring the will of the people is strong stuff and carries a nasty implication that, if they are not merely lazy, they are scheming.

Of course, neither description applies. The parks board is a singularly conscientious group whose members give their time without charge to do what they can for the improvement of our recreational facilities. If their preference lies with Almoga Park, that is a choice which at least deserves better treatment than being hurled back in their teeth. Who else has given the question so much careful study?

There is one point in their argument which requires more emphasis than it has received. The Algoma Park area is suitable for sanitary landfill which would assist not only in developing the grounds but in disposing of garbage which now feeds rats at the city dump.

The idea of garbage under park grounds may sound alarming, but it has been established that there is no unpleasantness or danger to health involved. In 1939 the U.S. public health service, having investigated this method of handling garbage, actually recommended that cities and towns adopt it as a sanitary measure.

No one is qualified to say whether the choice of Almoga Park as the city's principal playground is definitely right or definitely wrong. Moreover, the public's vote in the civic elections next month will not make the decision final one way or another.

But it is right that the voters should be heard, and we think it is right also that the parks board should be credited with some sense in reaching its conclusion.

Japanese railway engineers are not at all uncertain or indefinite in economic disputes. A pay raise being urgently needed, they turned to their locomotives in Japan the other day. For a full minute they blew the whistles of five thousand engines. In other words, the Japs just had to let off steam.

OF COURSE There is something about the approach of St. Andrew's Day had somehow cheers you up. It must be the music. For, as you surely realize, there's music and music. Need more be said? But of course, there's others.

Until 1914 great wars were practically unheard of. Lord knows there was blood shed—the Crimean, the Mutinies, American Civil, China, Franco-German, South Africa, American-Spanish, and a flock of lesser conflicts.

KEEPING IT IN MIND But today, how woefully different. Oh, yes, we pray and struggle for this precious peace, yet rising over all else broods the war instinct. We salute the UN as once we did the futile League of Nations. There are millions of young people whose thoughts cannot go further back than 1914, because they did not exist. Since then, life has been tinged with thoughts of the consequences. And it's pretty well known or should be.

We've getting to know a lot about Jamaica, and must go see sometime, but of course somebody will be a bit late to catch the Queen. Anyway, Jamaica was discovered by Christopher Columbus in 1494, and for about three centuries has been a British possession. The island, with its heat and hot weather, enchanting natural beauty, and a million and a half people, is a lot in the public eye. Jamaica is in the Caribbean Sea where one understands the word "blue." You never see it up north. One only thinks so?

The Library Board of Vancouver inquires why people are reading more, as well as why more are reading. For the first time, total circulation has passed beyond 200,000. It's 213,153. Why? Nobody seems to know. Library staff members are rushed and there is nothing to indicate an easing off of strenuous days. Prince Rupert already knows what familiarity with books can do; Vancouver must have found out about it earlier.

As I See It

BY

Elmore Philpott

• Woodsworth Book

MY WIFE and I are counting the days till we get in our own Ottawa apartment.

Meanwhile we are finding our way around the parliamentary job.

The people in charge have been most considerate to me. They have even given me a room all to myself, on the ground floor at the foot of the Peace Tower (with the lady senators).

I hasten to add; they did this, not because the freshman MP from Vancouver South has special pull, but because my erstwhile roommate, Mayor Arthur White of Galt, Ontario, found my activities too much for his peace of mind.

Every day I write this column from inside the office. I also record three broadcasts per week inside my room. That made it a bit tough for another MP in the same room who was trying to see a deputation or dictate a speech.

LAST Saturday I read Grace Woodsworth MacInnes' new book about her great father, the late J. S. Woodsworth.

It is a warm and, in many ways, moving family story. It does not deal in much detail with the political highlights of the career of J. S. Woodsworth. But it does sketch them in clear outline, and in such a way that the reader understands why J.S.W. took the particular line of action that he did take.

There is the rather poignant section about Woodsworth's growing determination to resign from the ministry of the Methodist Church, in which his father and grandfather before him had been pillars.

But we see the church determined not to let J.S. go—and bending over backwards to let him remain, true to his own conscience, but with the blessing of the church, too, even on his growing unorthodoxy.

In one sense, that was the key to the whole life story of J. S. Woodsworth, as told by his daughter Grace. Her father was always trying to break with some institution he loved with one side of his heart. But first with the church, then with his unique job financed by three provincial governments, and finally with the CCF, which he founded, he met the same difficulty.

The whole book breathes the spirit of reverence and admiration which the daughter had for the father.

She tries desperately hard to paint her father "warts and all" as Cromwell ordered his own portrait.

She shows that there was a glaring contradiction in the thinking of her father on questions of war and peace.

He was a passionate isolationist and pacifist. Yet the whole implication of his fierce hatred of fascism and tyranny was to line up his own part, the CCF and all the rest of Canada in the war to defeat Hitler.

THERE are touching family chapters, such as that where little Grace runs out into the woods of B.C. and hides her father's papers when he is arrested at Winnipeg.

There is the "trial" of her mother, charged with being an unfit schoolteacher, because of the radical activities of her husband.

There is the last scene where the family consigns the ashes of the beloved husband and father to the sea waters of B.C.

European Countries Only Nibble At Offer of Surplus Farm Produce

LONDON (Reuters) — Western Europe so far has refused to take more than a nibble of a United States offer of $130,000,000 worth of surplus farm produce.

Britain has agreed to buy $20,000,000 worth of tobacco; West Germany has accepted an outright gift of $15,000,000 of soybeans and tobacco. That is all.

Principal reasons for the lukewarm reaction are:

• European countries cannot afford extra imports, even using their own currency. The terms of the offer stipulate that the produce must not be used to replace existing trade agreements.

• What some Europeans term "dumping" of American surpluses in Europe might throw the entire European market out of balance and seriously hurt producing countries.

Under the offer, designed to cut down United States surpluses, non-Communist countries can pay for the produce with their own currency. The money then would be used for the U.S. foreign aid program.

The general European reaction was summed up by Holland's agriculture minister, Sicco Mansholt, who said: "To accept the offer would mean either cutting down food imports from abroad or increasing home consumption. We are not prepared to do either."

Most of the European countries which have been offered surplus stocks are anxious not to harm their own contracts with other producers or their own markets.

RCMP Long Service Medals Awarded Inspector Taylor, Sergeant Clayton

Yesterday was a memorable day for two members of the Prince Rupert RCMP sub-division when Assistant Commissioner E. Rivett-Carnac, officer in charge of the E Division, presented long service medals to Inspector W. M. Taylor and Sgt. Ross A. Clayton. Making to RCMP personnel small but impressive parades, Commissioner Rivett-Carnac said that the medal he was presenting was a difficult one to obtain. It requires 20 years of exemplary service," he said.

During the Commissioner's annual inspection of the sub-division and city detachments. Inspector Walter Malcolm Taylor, 48, joined the RCMP in Edmonton, April, 1931 and was posted to Regina for training. At the conclusion of his training he was assigned to No. 1 Mounted Troop at Fairmont barracks in Vancouver. In 1932 he joined the Criminal Investigation Bureau in Vancouver where he worked on the drug squad, general investigations and the customs preventive service.

By June 1949 he had been promoted to sub-inspector and was transferred to Regina as training officer and later became officer commanding the Regina sub-division. Posted to Calgary sub-division as officer commanding he was promoted to inspector June 1, 1951.

LT.-COL. H. H. A. PARKER, 38, of Toronto, has been appointed assistant quartermaster-general at Central Command headquarters in Oakville, Ont. Formerly commander of the 1st battalion of the Black Watch (Royal Highland Regiment) he returns with his unit this month after a year in Germany.

City Moose Women Sponsor Successful Late Fall Bazaar

The Moose Club House here yesterday was the scene of a late fall bazaar staged by the Prince Rupert lodge No. 211, members of the Moose. The event was predominated in the native color scheme for the occasion. Mauve, white, yellow and pink mums, flanked by pink and yellow streamers, were on the tables and mauve and yellow streamers trimmed the sale booths.

Thomas Glen, and serving were Mrs. Robert Gilmour, Mrs. Thomas Christoph, Mrs. Bert Jeffries, Mrs. George Shenton and Mrs. David McKay. Mrs. Gordon Morrison was in charge of culinary arrangements assisted by Mrs. Frank Stewart, Mrs. H. Stewart, Mrs. M. Karasosky and Mrs. A. Eveleigh. The hall was crowded all afternoon for the affair and the many sale tables, sponsored by various committees of the organization, drew many customers.

The inspector married Ellen Irvine in Vancouver in 1938. They have three children, Margaret 13, May 10 and a baby boy, John Archibald. Sergeant Clayton enlisted in the RCMP on December 8, 1931 in Regina and after two months was sent to Vancouver to complete his training. He joined the Pentiction detachment in May, 1934 where he remained until posted to Merritt in 1936. From Merritt he went to Vernon in 1939 and while there married May Armstrong. In 1942 Sgt. Clayton returned to Merritt and while there was promoted to corporal in 1945. He was then posted to Cranbrook and when RCMP was amalgamated with the B.C. Provincial police, was placed in charge of the Cranbrook detachment. While in Cranbrook, in May, 1952 he was promoted to sergeant and in August of last year was transferred to Prince Rupert.

Keith DeWitt Named Head Of Men's Club

Keith DeWitt was elected president of the St. Andrew's Cathedral Men's Club at that group's annual meeting and banquet this week. Gerry Woodside was named vice-president and Lance Rossiter secretary-treasurer. The session opened with a pre-Christmas turkey dinner prepared by Foster Husoy. Following election of officers the group discussed the proposed budget for Scouting equipment for the First Prince Rupert Troop, and planned to support the Scouts' drive for funds. The next meeting of the men's club, January 27, will take the form of a father-and-son bean feed with members bringing their sons and Scouts and Cubs bringing their fathers.

Sea Cadets in High Praise Inspection

Members of the Captain Cook Sea Corps here won high praise for their appearance and training when they were inspected last night by Lt.-Col. D. H. K. Tye, sea area officer from HMCS Esquiver, Vancouver. The cadets and their officers, including at HMCS Chatham, were complimented on progress training which "leaves little to be desired," and especially on their appearance. Lt.-Col. Tye commented especially on the boys' boots. He said he was his usual practice to show boys his own boots, remarking, "This is how they should be." Last night he said he felt he should hide his own boots. He also told the group that they were under way to make a cadet training more appealing to the boys. The area officer arrived by air from Vancouver yesterday and is scheduled to leave today.

Publicity committee sponsored the novelty table, with Mrs. Douglas Guyatt, Mrs. A. Schaefer, Mrs. T. Thompson and Mrs. S. Bellanger in charge. The Social Service committee's fancywork table was convened by Mrs. A. Ritchie, Mrs. A. Gomez and Mrs. Michael Munizaba while Mrs. May Bond and Mrs. Robert Rabby were in charge of the Moosehaven towel hamper. At the sewing and knitting table, sponsored by the Home-making committee were Mrs. Roy Poychuk, Mrs. A. Norton, Mrs. Trevor Johnston, Mrs. Dan Hopkins and Mrs. Cheryl McIntyre. The Child Care committee, with Mrs. Robert Cormier, Mrs. Harry Hanson and Mrs. Magnus Johnson, convened the candy stall and the Library committee sponsored the home cooking table, with Mrs. Manuel Heise, Mrs. Ole Tweed, Mrs. Bert Loyghlan and Mrs. Robert Dickson in charge. A delicatessen table was sponsored by the Mooseheart Alumni with Mrs. George Robinson, Mrs. Ole Stegavig, Mrs. John Casper and Mrs. John Thompson in charge. Some of the proceeds of the bazaar will go toward a children's Christmas Tree party to be staged by the Women of the Moose, December 19.

Christmas Decor Highlights Presbyterian Ladies' Aid Tea

Christmas was in the air at the First Presbyterian church hall here yesterday afternoon when members of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid staged their annual fall bazaar. Pretty paper lanterns hung from the hall reminded tea-goers that many of the articles for sale at the various booths were great for Christmas giving. There was a miniature Christmas tree with silvered branches and glowing colored lights on the serving table and bright red candies surrounded by greenery on the tea tables and placed around the hall. Adding to the homeliness of the hall were pretty paper lanterns hung from the ceiling. Mrs. William Bowes, president, convened the affair and was assisted in receiving by Mrs. E. A. Wright. Pouring tea were Mrs. C. Smith, Mrs. W. Reid, Mrs. W. Cuthill and Mrs. R. Cameron, while servers were Mrs. R. Hood, Mrs. T. W. Brown, Mrs. R. Eby and Mrs. W. G. Sheardown. Mrs. George Mitchell was in charge of the kitchen and tea room, and assisting her in the kitchen were Mrs. Sidney Elkins, Mrs. W. D. Lambie and Mrs. W. Bremner. Mrs. L. Kitimat Students Raise Funds For School Sports Equipment

Special to The Daily News
KITIMAT — A campaign to raise funds for sports equipment and other projects has kept the local Students' Council busy during the past week with a number of activities. A show and candy sale netted the group $19.50, sale of hot dogs and a door collection brought in $10.50 at Teen Town, and a combined tea and cake auction netted $43.65. The tea and auction was a joint project of the schools with junior and senior high school girls making the cakes and preparing tea, high school students with Frank Farrell as auctioneer carrying out the auction and girls from grades five and six serving tea. Other school activities include weekly boxing instruction for high school boys by Bob Fulton, recreational director. Mr. Fulton hopes to organize a junior boys' class after Christmas. The high school also is planning an election to name a vice-president for the Student Council, to replace Urban Rudman, grade 11, who has left for Vancouver. He was winner of the Alcan shield for proficiency last year and was active in many school affairs. Mrs. Frank Bower, wife of the school principal, arrived from Vancouver this week with her two sons, Raymond and Terry. Their third son, Albert, 15, remained at college in Vancouver. Lady Rose Alexander Lonesome For Canada

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON (CP) — Lady Rose Alexander is a "little bit" lonesome for Canada and she'd like to go back, but it won't be for a while.

The daughter of Canada's former governor-general has promised her family she will remain in Britain another 18 months. Then she'll decide whether her future lies here or in Canada.

The attractive, 21-year-old Lady Rose has nothing against Britain. It's just that she spent seven important years in Canada. Now that she's back in London she finds many of her old friends have grown up, moved away or found new interests.

"All my friends are in Canada," she said. "Now I have to start all over again."

Lady Rose's dark-haired mother, Countess Alexander, explained: "It all takes time. My husband and I are so busy it means Rose spend much time alone."

Meanwhile, Lady Rose has taken a stenographer's job in a civil engineering office off Park Lane. She cycles to work daily, much to the amusement of her soldierly father Earl Alexander, now Britain's defence minister.

"It's good for her," Lord Alexander jokingly said at a "family" interview. Actually he thinks his daughter has plenty of nerve to brave London's West End traffic.

"You could say it is improving my vocabulary," chimed in Lady Rose, referring to the colorful language London's taxi and bus drivers sometimes use when cyclists get in their way.

The Alexanders' only daughter—there are two sons, Shane 18, Baron Rideau, and Brian, 17—came back to Britain last May after completing two years of an arts course at McGill University. Like many Canadians who come to Britain, her first reaction was to shiver. "How I miss the Canadian winter," she said, looking out at London's night lights wreathed in fog.

Air Transport Association Submits Uniform Rates on Fares For World

MONTREAL (CP)—International Air Transport Association has announced agreement on rates and fares for scheduled international airline service throughout the world, beginning April 1 next, for 12 months. The agreement is subject to approval of interested governments.

R. W. Ireland, vice-president of United Air Lines and chairman of the conferences, said these are the major factors of the 1954 agreements:

- Completion of an air-tourist network around the world by provision of trans-Pacific tourist services.
- Addition of a tourist-class on the mid-Atlantic.
- Readjustment of first-class and tourist-fare levels in the rest of the world after the first 18 months experience in their operation.
- A world-wide agreement on many conditions which differentiate tourist from first class.
- Initiation of new quality discounts for air cargo in some areas. A new universal code of acceptance and handling of restricted cargoes.

World-wide standardization of baggage allowances and excess-baggage charges.

No alcohol will be carried on tourist traffic on the western hemisphere or on the north and central Pacific. Elsewhere it will be sold at specified rates.

Trade Problems Outlined

Special to The Daily News
MONTREAL — "No economic problem of the post-war years has been more persistent or more difficult, and none is more important to Canada, than that of expanding the flow of trade and investment between the dollar and sterling areas," says the Bank of Montreal in its latest Business Review issued today.

Just how deep-rooted and many-sided the problem is has been made clear in a penetrating analysis by Hon. Lewis W. Douglas, former U.S. Ambassador to the United Kingdom.

The report was made at the request of the president of the United States, and of H. Mr. Eisenhower wrote that "it has in it a vein of candor, both with respect to the United Kingdom's position and our own." The London Economist referred to it as "the biggest dose of liberal realism that could wisely be administered, at this stage in the making of American policy, within one document."

CONVERTIBILITY ESSENTIAL
The analysis of the sterling-dollar problem is frank and fundamental. At the outset, the report recognizes that any marked increase in the freedom of international trade cannot be achieved without making sterling freely convertible. The reasons for sterling's present difficulties are set forth bluntly, and, while noting what Britain has already accomplished, the report indicates that the U.K. must do more.

At the same time, "it is for us (the United States) as soon as possible to commence to remove from our policies the impediments to freer trade and currencies."

ACTION URGENT
The most important feature of the report, however, is its implied warning that there is now an opportunity for the U.S. and U.K. governments to act in concert towards achieving some degree of sterling convertibility, and that with further delays the opportunity may be lost for a long time.

The whole field of the economic foreign policy of the United States is at present being examined by the bi-partisan Randall Commission, whose recommendations are due to be submitted to the President early in March next year.

Eight British Firms Seek Seaway Contract

LONDON (CP)—Eight of Britain's biggest contracting and engineering firms have joined forces to bid on the St. Lawrence seaway project, it was learned today.

Sir Albert Braithwaite, Conservative member of Parliament and chairman of a British organization known as the Seaway Group, said he expects the combine to get £2,000,000 worth of orders.

He added: "This is our last chance to invest in Canada. We missed the Alberta oil and the Labrador ore fields."

"Canada is our best prospect for engineering exports and the seaway should take £2,000,000 off our bread bill, due to lower freight charges on the wheat we buy from Canada."

Farmers Seek Probe Industry in B.C.

By The Canadian Press
VICTORIA.—Alex Mercer, president of the B.C. Association of Agriculture, said today Canada's farm areas will face a growing unemployment problem unless the economic position of the country's farmers is improved.

Mercer told 200 delegates at the opening session of the association's annual convention that there is need for corrective machinery to stop the "drift" of Canada's agricultural economy out of relationship with industrial prosperity and expansion.

If the present trend toward a lower share of the national income for farmers continues, he said, lower wage levels and unemployment will follow in cities and towns. Industry needs a healthy agricultural economy because farmers as a class are the largest purchasers of city goods and services.

Dissatisfaction over the farmers' economic position was also indicated when delegates, representing 22,000 B.C. farmers, indicated they would support a resolution asking the provincial and federal governments to establish royal commissions to investigate the farm industry.

The resolution was sent back to the resolutions committee for re-wording after some delegates thought it gave the commissions too much power. The resolution was submitted by the Prince George Farmers' Institute.

Airwomen Held in RCAF Apartment

VANCOUVER — Airwoman Margaret Isobel Burton, 28, missing from the RCAF for 19 months, has been lodged in a comfortable air force apartment here.

Wing Cmdr. Donald MacDonnell said she came up for swift trial before him at Sea Island RCAF Station Tuesday on a charge of desertion.

"I have been authorized to deal with the case and have decided she will be freed as soon as formalities are complied with," the station commander said.

She disappeared from the RCAF station at Aylmer, Ont., in April 1952, and she told RCAF officers after giving herself up in Victoria, had spent the ensuing time travelling "all over the North American continent."

Wicks Leaving For Conference

VICTORIA — Labor minister Lyle Wicks leaves Sunday for Toronto to discuss the renewal of a federal-provincial agreement on apprenticeship training.

He will attend a meeting of provincial labor ministers Dec. 2 and 3. Principal item on the agenda will be the agreement under which Ottawa and the provinces split the cost of training apprentices. The 10-year agreement comes up for renewal March 31.

DOUGLAS AMARON, 39, a war correspondent with The Canadian Press, has been appointed an executive assistant at the Toronto Head Office of the co-operative news-gathering agency. Born in Quebec, he worked at the CP's Montreal and London offices and in 1947 was the first Canadian newspaperman to accompany a British commando on operations, witnessing a raid near Boulogne. He returned to CP this month after six years as managing editor and editorial director of the Sherbrooke Record.

Mercey Plane Still Lost; Reward Posted

EDMONTON — The fourth day of a giant air search ended Thursday without turning up a trace of a single-engine airplane which disappeared Sunday night in the northern wastes of Alberta on a 275-mile flight from Grande Prairie to Edmonton.

While 34 aircraft, including nine of the RCAF, covered more than 1,600 square miles of territory, $2,000 was offered Thursday as reward for information leading to discovery of the three men.

Missing are pilot Gordon McDonald of Edmonton, Dr. Don Wilson of Grande Prairie, and Floyd Wilson of Edmonton, seriously ill polio patient who was being flown to hospital here.

Relatives of Dr. Wilson noted a $1,000 reward while Grande Prairie business men put up another $1,000 providing any of the occupants are found alive.

CCF MLA Warns Against Borrowing Too Heavily Under New B. C. Laws

Special to The Daily News
SMITHERS — Frank Howard, CCF MLA for Skeena riding, reported to a small turnout of local constituents on the proceedings at the recent session at Victoria. He said that, regardless of party affiliation, he desired to do his duty for the riding as well as possible.

He criticized the Social Credit government for rushing through almost a third of the bills introduced at the five-week session in the last four days. He declared neither he nor the house had sufficient opportunity to consider the bills fully, yet they were passed and are now law.

It was not a very sensible or proper way to conduct the public's business, Mr. Howard stated, expressing his hope that more time would be allowed at the spring session.

Outlining the new Liquor Act briefly, he doubted it would affect the smaller places much due to strict licensing and required costly establishments.

The Toll Bridge Authority, Mr. Howard felt, had been granted too much authority in its $20 million borrowing power. It was set up as a means to provide for road construction. He suggested application under it may be the only way to insure construction of the Terrace to Kitimat road connection.

Mr. Howard doubted very much that the new 10 per cent tax on logging and mining profits over $25,000 would upset the industries much. He explained it represented an increase of only one and a half per cent over that presently being paid to Ottawa.

Referring to the B.C. Hospitalization scheme, he said he believed it was headed for a great fall, but he hoped not. He said hospital costs were going up and premium collections down. Only 35 per cent of premium collections were assured, being deducted at source. The other 65 per cent, he maintained, paid only if and when they wanted or needed to.

He warned against new borrowing privileges under the School Construction Act. Unless care was exercised, he felt these borrowings could pyramid quickly.

Referring to the Social Credit government's borrowing policy, he pointed out that under the School Construction Act and the Toll Bridge Authority such borrowings would be on the books of both "and would naturally not show on the books of the provincial government."

Habs, Bruins, Red Wings Enjoy U. S. Thanksgiving

By The Canadian Press
Calum Mackay, Jerry Toppazzini and Terry Sawchuk had much to be thankful for after their Thanksgiving Day chores in the United States last night.

Mackay, 26-year-old leftwinger with Montreal Canadiens scored three goals and an assist to give the National Hockey League leading Montreal Canadiens a 6-3 victory over Chicago Black Hawks.

Toppazzini, the 23-year-old rightwinger recently recalled from the minors, also scored three goals to give Boston Bruins a 5-2 victory over New York Rangers.

Sawchuk, Detroit Red Wings' netminder, shut out Toronto Maple Leafs 2-0 for his third shutout of the season.

Last night's action resulted in only one change in the league standings. The Red Wings broke their second-place tie with the Maple Leafs, leaving them three points behind the Canadiens.

The Bruins consolidated their hold on fourth place, three points behind the Leafs, and seven points up on the fifth-place Rangers.

Mackay's scoring spree came in the second period when he scored twice within 56 seconds, on

Macon Manages Montreal Royals

MONTREAL — Hector Racine, president of Montreal Royals of the International Baseball League, today announced that Max Macon will succeed Wally Alston as manager.

Macon, manager of Fort Worth in the Texas League, will be signed to a one-year contract, the same as Alston received when he was signed earlier this week to succeed Charlie Dresen as manager of Brooklyn Dodgers.

Sports Writers Name Rosen Most Valuable Player of Year

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP)—Al Rosen, Cleveland's slugging third-baseman, today was named most valuable player of the American League in 1953 by an unprecedented unanimous vote.

All 24 members of the committee of the Baseball Writers Association, three from each American League city, named Rosen first on their ballots. Thus the 28-year-old infielder won the award in a landslide with a maximum 336 points.

The highest previous total was run up by Lou Boudreau with 324 points in 1948, the year he led Cleveland to the pennant and world championship. Best score in National League history was Stan Musial's 319 in 1946.

Rosen led the league in home runs with 43 and runs batted in with 145, and just missed nipping Washington's Mickey Vernon for the batting championship. Vernon finished with an unofficial 337 to Rosen's 336.

Bobby Shantz, Philadelphia Athletics' little left-hander who won the American League award in 1952, didn't get a vote this year because he was sidelined most of the season due to arm trouble.

Yogi Berra, New York Yankees catcher and 1951 winner, finished second with 167 points, and Vernon was third with 165.

Orestes (Minnie) Minoso, Chicago's outfielder and third-baseman and a 313 hitter, was Gus Bodnar, George Gee and Bill Gadsby, netting his eighth of the season, scored for Chicago.

Ranger goals were scored by Nick Mickoski and Harry Howell.

Frosty's Seek First Victory In Girls' Loop

Frosty's Food Lockers, victims of a 22-4 lacing at the opening of the Girls Basketball league season at the hands of Dom's Department store are out for their first win tonight as they meet Sheila Hicks' platoon system Bo-Me-Hi Rainbirds at the Civic Centre.

Frosty's have signed one additional player, Diane Kennedy, in an effort for extra strength and hope to cut down the gap between themselves and the two-time winner Dom's.

Two Junior league games are on tap tonight, with Orme's meeting Annunciation School in the opener and Sea Cadets tangling with NBC Power in the semi wind-up. Orme's have lost one game in its only outing and both Annunciation and Sea Cadets have one win each to their credit. NBC Power lost its only game to Annunciation. League leader is Sports Shop with two victories and Bulgars trail with two losses.

Offer Made To Trafton By Packers

TORONTO — The Globe and Mail says today in a sports page story from Los Angeles that Green Bay Packers of the United States National Football League have offered George Trafton, coach of Winnipeg Blue Bombers for the last three years, a three-year coaching contract at $17,500 a season.

Trafton, here with the Blue Bombers for the Grey Cup play-off Saturday for the Canadian championship, formerly was assistant coach of Los Angeles Rams of the NFL. Previous to that, he was head line, coach at Green Bay.

"In addition to Green Bay, two other NFL clubs, Los Angeles Rams and New York Giants, are reported to be eyeing Trafton," the paper says.

Vessels Named Outstanding Grid Player

TORONTO — Billy Vessels, 21-year-old hard-plunging back with Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Interprovincial Football Union, today was chosen Canada's most outstanding player of the year.

The 185-pound all-star was given the Canadian Schenley Trophy and $1,000 cash award at a special pre-game Grey Cup final presentation. Sports writers and sportscasters from the senior football cities of Canada selected the backfielder, one of the mainstays of the Eskimo club this season.

The award to Vessels, one of the greatest players to come to Canada, was his second big-time honor in two years. Last year he was chosen the most outstanding player in American college football, he played with Oklahoma Sooners, and won the Heisman Trophy.

Votes of the selectors were weighted to give equal balloting strength to each city.

Blue Bombers Improving After Wilting From Two Days in Different Eastern Air

AURORA, Ont. — Eastern air made Winnipeg Blue Bombers feel like a soggy football for two days.

"It leaves you like a wet sack sometimes," says coach George Trafton. "You gotta be a doctor, coach and crystal-peeker in this business."

Trafton had just finished putting the Bombers through a drill at nearby St. Andrew's College in preparation for their Grey Cup game against Hamilton Tiger-Cats in Toronto Saturday when he said:

"It's a big change when you move down here from that brisk, dry air on the Prairies. I didn't notice it much but the players nearly wilted during the drills shortly after they arrived." The players apparently felt the change after a three-hour practice Wednesday. Most of them took time only to eat a steak dinner before they went to bed.

Big Bud Korchak, the 26-year-old flying wing and kicking ace, was only one of many Bombers to notice the change.

"Man, was I beat yesterday (Wednesday)," he said. "I could not get to bed fast enough. Sleep came fast."

However, Trafton figures the air "will be like a shot in the arm by the time we meet the Tiger-Cats." He added: "They say it takes a couple of days to get used to it. The boys were pooped Wednesday night but were fine yesterday. Don't fret about us, buster. We're okay."

Remember When

Queen's University, then top team in the Intercollegiate Football Union, won the eastern Canada title 31 years ago today by edging the Big Four champion Toronto Argonauts 12-11.

Firm Terminates Union Contracts

SEATTLE (AP)—The Alaska Salmon Industry Inc. has notified 11 unions which represent its employees that it is terminating contracts with them.

The move apparently in anticipation of a drive to reduce wages and fish prices for 1954, was met with one union's statement it will push for new terms—presumably higher.

The industry letter to the union said "this step is taken in an attempt to avert complete economic disaster brought about as a result of the ruinous 1953 season and to try to bring production costs in line with the downward market trend."

Banking System Envied

MONTREAL (CP)—Canada's banking system is the envy of many other nations, the Royal Bank of Canada says in its current monthly letter.

"Canadian bankers know that their banks can prosper only in so far as the people of Canada themselves prosper," it says. "Their dominant interest is in high production, stable and reasonable prices, facility of exchange of goods and services... high employment and the preservation of Canada's high standard of living."

Banking in its present form started in Canada 133 years ago when the Bank of New Brunswick opened. Today the 11 chartered banks hold nearly $9,000,000,000 for depositors, pay them $61,000,000 a year in interest and have a payroll totalling $125,000,000. Loans to customers were $4,307,000,000 in September, 1953.

Two banks have assets exceeding $2,000,000,000, while one, the Royal Bank, is the ninth largest in the world in assets.

Canada's banking system provides a clearing house for business men and has grown "in almost parallel lines" with the country.

CONFIDENCE IN BANKS

Canadians have confidence in their banks, the letter says. Five times in recent memory they have been put to the acid test. In the 1929 crash, in Britain's departure from the gold standard in 1931, in 1933 when every bank in the United States was closed, and during the changes following the outbreak of war in 1939 and the return to peace in 1945.

"During these upheavals no Canadian has had to fear for the loss of a single dollar of his bank deposit," it says.

Parliament governs the conditions under which the chartered banks operate. The Bank Act, passed in 1871, is reviewed every 10 years. It is up for consideration again in 1954.

Plan Losing Tricks to Keep Control

Mr. Masters did not have quite enough to redouble after Mr. Champion's double so he made his normal and obvious bid of one heart. This bid was not forcing for one round as it would have been if Mr. Champion had passed. The reason is that Mr. Masters had a convenient call available to indicate an average hand in high cards or better. That call was "redouble."

Since he did not redouble, Mr. Dale knew he did not have an ace, a king, a queen and a jack or the equivalent. With knowledge of that limitation, Mr. Dale could estimate the game possibilities of the hand and pass if he chose.

Actually, he was interested in a heart contract in this particular case and raised to three. Mr. Masters was happy to go on to game.

It appears that the defenders can win only two spades and a heart but Mr. Champion hit on a cagey line of defence which would have succeeded in most cases. Mr. Masters had to make a good play of his own to counteract it.

The jack of spades was led and Mr. Champion overtook it with the queen and returned his lone diamond. He assumed that a heart finesse would be taken, at which time he would win with the king and lead back a small spade hoping he could get Mrs. Keen in with the 10. If so, she could return a diamond and he could ruff for the setting trick.

But Mr. Masters suspected the true situation. After winning the second trick in dummy he laid down the ace of hearts on the remote chance that the king might drop. He then cashed the ace and king of clubs. He followed with a small club and, instead of ruffing, discarded the last spade from the board. This effectively eliminated the possibility of Mr. Champion reaching his partner's hand for a diamond return.

Thus the defenders were held to three winners—a club, a heart and a spade. Note that Mr. Masters could have made six-odd if the king of hearts had been on his left not over three long, and if the diamonds had broken not worse than 4-2. But he adheres strictly to that admirable advice, "Make sure of your contract first, then go after the extra tricks." That's one reason he wins most of the time.

Laniel Faces Make-or-Break Assembly Vote

PARIS (AP)—Premier Joseph Laniel today took his European unity policy before a make-or-break parliamentary session confused by Russia's sudden offer to attend a Big Four meeting.

Some observers feared the Russian agreement to a foreign ministers' conference would bring the government down in the vote of confidence expected late tonight or early Saturday. Others thought it might strengthen Laniel.

The premier had demanded National Assembly endorsement for a weakly-worded approval of European unification to take with him to the Bermuda conference with President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill Dec. 4. Serious splits in his own coalition cabinet prevented his asking for any outright endorsement of the controversial European army plan to rearm Germany.

Defeat of the confidence resolution would force the cabinet to resign. France then might have to be represented at Bermuda by the representative of a caretaker government with little or no power to make decisions. The government at any rate has only a month more of life, since it must resign after the presidential election Dec. 17.
