Postal Station Closing In Hays Cove District

Lease on Building Expires June 30

Postal Station "B" on Sixth Avenue East will be closed with inauguration of door-to-door mail delivery in Prince Rupert, it was reliably learned today.

The station, in charge of Mrs. L. Holland, serves more than 300 persons in the area east of Hays Cove bridge. It was opened during the war to accommodate the hundreds of shipyard workers and additional thousands of servicemen in the city.

At one time, there were five employees at the station, but after the cessation of hostilities they were transferred to the downtown office. Mrs. Holland was appointed clerk in charge in August, 1951.

CLOSING IN JUNE
While no date has been set for start of mail delivery by postmen, it is believed the service will begin by June 30—date when the federal government is surrendering its lease on Postal Station "B."

All types of business are conducted at the station and many citizens in the area have boxes.

Jack Burgess, postmaster here, said it is possible a sub post office will be opened in the area now served by Station "B," but all postmen will be dispatched from the downtown office.

He said the sub post office at Seal Cove, which serves about 75 citizens, will remain.

Meanwhile the Civil Service Commission is seeking postmen. Closing date for applications is Monday.

Seven postmen will be required to deliver to the estimated 2,500 persons on the list drawn up by the post office department.

Mr. Burgess said a survey indicates most people have installed letter boxes or slots, as required, "and those who haven't will get them done as soon as the minister announces starting date for delivery."

Mill Operator Severely Hurt In Explosion

Special to The Daily News

SMITHERS—Max Buddruss, a mill operator about 45 years of age, was severely injured in an accident late Friday while clearing land on his farm at Evelyn, B.C., a small settlement nine miles west of here.

He was apparently blowing up stumps with dynamite, according to some nearby neighbors of Mr. Buddruss, when one of the charges that he set failed to go off at a set time. He went to investigate and the charge blew up in his face.

He was rushed to Bulkley Valley District Hospital here and attended by Dr. Wear.

His condition, however, was considered so serious that he was flown to Vancouver by an RCAF plane early this morning.

On February 21 last year Mr. Buddruss was injured when his truck collided with a westbound CNR passenger train at a level crossing at Evelyn.

Russ Veto Pearson Selection

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—The Russia of the new Malenkov era has vetoed L. B. Pearson of Canada for the job of secretary-general of the United Nations, well-qualified sources reported Friday night.

It was the 56th veto the Soviet Union had cast in the UN Security Council and the first since Georgi Malenkov succeeded Stalin as boss of the Kremlin a week ago.

An official communique, after the closed door meeting ended late Friday, merely said agreement had not been reached on a successor to Trygve Lie because one of the permanent council members had cast a negative vote.

Sources said there was no doubt that Russia did it, although the voting was secret and ballots were burned before the door was opened.

The council also voted on United States-backed Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines, but he obtained only five votes and thus Russia was spared the necessity of vetoing him.

On a third ballot, the council voted on Russia's choice, Polish foreign minister, Stanislaw Skrzyszewski, but he received only the lone Soviet vote.

Council then decided to meet again March 19 after the big five have consulted among themselves in an effort to reach agreement.

PRIME MINISTER ST. LAURENT is planning an official visit to Washington May 7-9 to discuss "matters of mutual interest," it was learned today. A formal announcement is due from the White House and at Ottawa shortly.

Waste Charges Denied By Finance Minister

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott says Canada is getting as good or better value out of the defence dollar and other public expenditures "as any other country."

Stepping into the budget debate in the Commons to reply to criticisms of his 1953-54 proposals, Mr. Abbott said supporters of opposition groups had not substantiated charges of widespread waste and extravagance in the government.

He dealt first with the speech of J. M. MacDonnell, chief financial critic for the Progressive Conservative opposition.

Mr. MacDonnell had made "sweeping general charges of waste and extravagance in the government without particularizing any of the charges." The fact that he made the assertions did not mean the charges were true.

Mr. Abbott said he would not claim that every cent in a $4,500,000,000 budget "is wisely spent," but he said there has not been widespread waste, widespread inefficiency and widespread extravagance.

Mr. Abbott then referred to charges to Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC (PC-Nanaimo) that there had been waste and extravagance in the construction of radar stations.

Mr. Abbott recalled that production minister Howe had said recently charges had proved an investigation to be without foundation.

Gen. Pearkes, Mr. Abbott said, had brought the matter out in the Commons without first consulting any of the departments. He had made the charges without mentioning names or places.

He suggested that in similar situations in the future, Gen.

Pearkes make use of stenographers, paper, messengers and cabinet ministers—all paid by the taxpayer—to inform departments of complaints about defence spending.

Staffs of the departments then could investigate complaints and make a reply. If not satisfied, Gen. Pearkes then could bring the matter before Commons.

UFAWU to Elect Officers by Secret Ballot

VANCOUVER (CP)—Card-holding members of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union (UFAWU) will elect their top officers for 1953 by secret ballot.

Previously, all officers of union have been elected by convention delegates.

George North, union press relations officer, said positions of president, business manager and secretary-treasurer would be filled by election. Convention delegates will continue to elect two vice-presidents and 16 executive members.

North said the mechanics of the ballot have not been worked out but the system will likely be similar to that of the International Woodworkers of America in which ballots are mailed to locals following nominations at the annual convention. All ballots are counted and returned within 60 days.

said the team would not play here before departure.

"I can't risk having any of the boys suffer an injury before we go," said Mr. Evans. Tonight's scheduled Inter A playoffs also have been cancelled for that reason.

Another basketball highlight takes place next week, Wednesday and Thursday, when Ocean Falls All Stars meet OOCs here for the annual northern B. C. pulp mill championship tournament.

Fire Ruins Machine Shop

DAMAGES WERE ESTIMATED AT $1,000,000 when fire destroyed the huge machine shop at Halifax shipyards earlier this week. Machine shops across the harbor at Dartmouth will go on double shift to make up for the loss of output. More than 200 workers employed in the demolished plant will be temporarily placed in other jobs, officials said.

Interference in Romance Caused Boxer to Commit Crime, He Says

VANCOUVER (CP)—A young boxer charged with murder was quoted Friday as admitting his guilt, saying the crime followed interference in his romance with the girl he loves "even more than my mother and boxing."

The statement, which police said 20-year-old Charles Mathews gave after his arrest March 4, was read at a coroner's inquest into the death of Mrs. Ann Smith, 44, his manager's sister.

The jury returned a verdict of "homicide," saying Mrs. Smith "came to an unnatural death as a result of severe head injuries inflicted with a hammer."

Jurors added the hammer "apparently was wielded by Charles Mathews, alias Sonny Jones."

Mrs. Smith was found dead in her home in an upstairs room and 23-year-old Mrs. Allan Wallberg was found tied to her bed, victim of a brutal beating. Police said the younger woman had been criminally attacked.

Some hours later Mathews was arrested while he was en route to church in a taxi. He was charged with murder.

All principals in the case, with the exception of Mrs. Wallberg, are negroes.

Testimony that she was lured to a hotel room by Mathews scant hours after the slaying was given at the inquest by the girl Mathews said he loved, Vernie Lovetta (Peggy) Bowen.

She said she went to dinner with Mathews and consented to go to the hotel room with him to meet a friend of his. But when they arrived the room was vacant.

"Sonny grabbed me and shoved me through the door," she said. "I screamed and bit his fingers when he shoved them in my mouth. A man came along and I got away from him."

Mathews, in his statement, blamed Mrs. Smith for interfering with his romance and boxing opportunities and said he went to the Smith house on the day of the slaying with no special purpose in mind.

A Priceless Formula

WITH Prince Rupert's Red Cross campaign only five days away, it is not too early to start thinking of the magnificent work of this organization. Indeed, it is never too early.

Of all the endeavors by man to reach across international boundaries and racial and religious differences, none has ever been more successful than the Red Cross. The formula behind its success is the simple but priceless one of practising human kindness.

Wherever there is habitation, there is need. It seems to be part of the price of our growth that we should be assaulted without cease by sickness, war, hunger, catastrophes of nature such as floods and earthquakes, and other disasters which leave physical and spiritual wounds that somehow must be healed.

This is the imposing responsibility which the Red Cross has assumed. While its duties are world-wide, perhaps we can get a better understanding of its achievements by bringing the subject close to home.

In British Columbia the Red Cross is 53 years old. It was started in Victoria when a branch was organized there to send supplies to Canadian troops fighting in the South African war.

Here are some of the things it has done for B.C.: supplied 96 hospitals with 215,000 pints of blood; trained more than 17,000 women in home nursing; founded two lodges for soldiers; trained almost 800 instructors in swimming and water safety; put 10 outpost hospitals into operation; last year supplied clothing and other necessary supplies to 78 families burned out of their homes.

This list, which does not even include the great services rendered during the two world wars, and currently during the Korean conflict, could go on and on, but that much suffices to impart the realization that the Red Cross is performing humanitarian work in the province which we could not do without.

An adjunct of the organization which merits grateful recognition is the Junior Red Cross. Operating in schools through the co-operation of the Department of Education, the junior group has a total membership in B.C. of 118,000 in more than 4,000 classrooms.

The Juniors work for underprivileged children around the world, making health kits and toys. Another phase of Junior Red Cross is assistance given crippled and handicapped children. Since the inception of this work, more than 1,400 cases have been treated.

Objective of the campaign in Prince Rupert on March 19 is $5,500. It's a small price to pay for the most generous of all human gifts—kindness.

OTTAWA DIARY By NORMAN M. MacLEOD

One curious phenomenon of the present session, judged by reference to any available standards of the past, is the temper of the House.

It's a pre-election session. Everyone realizes that this time the great game of politics is being played for keeps. Yet, in some thoroughly unaccountable way, while proceedings are generally vigorous and occasionally even tense, tempers remain strangely unfrayed and normal. There is little if any of the savagery being shown that usually has marked other pre-election sessions.

Veteran political observers frequently have to rub their eyes to realize that the time-to-time encounters between Messrs St. Laurent and Drew which now-days pass for warm action are part of the basically unchanged political contest in which Messrs King, Meighen, Bennett, Dunning, Cardin, the great Guttridge, and others used to compete. It's definitely a case of "other times, other manners." It may be more realistic and just less theatrical to do things the St. Laurent-Drew way. Certainly the stakes are the same. But from a spectator's standpoint it is definitely less glamorous. And somehow it doesn't seem at times as if the contestants were trying so hard. Certainly fewer bones are being broken—figuratively speaking.

RUMOR
These are the final hours in which the St. Laurent Government theoretically could still call a Spring election. A week hence and the time will be too late. No one really expects that anything will happen. But the inevitable "scare" rumors—born out of the tenseness of the possibilities—are springing up on all sides. Almost everyone you meet has his own version of the surprise tactics which he allegedly has discovered to be up the Liberal government's sleeve.

One rumor which forecast a May 15th election was especially persistent during the past week. Cited as confirmation of it was the fact that the Liberal Party was said to have reserved broadcasting time over virtually all the nation's radio stations commencing March 19th.

So far it has been possible to discover that the Liberal Party actually has reserved time over a large network of Quebec radio stations on a thirteen-week schedule commencing March 19th. The move very well may be a build-up towards the Federal general election. If so, the hint would point to a mid-summer election. But no one is treating this particular Quebec straw-in-the-wind as too important. It's interesting. But too much should not be argued from it.

As I See It

Case of Lee Meng

THE REDS in Hungary want to make a deal with Britain—releasing the business man convicted of "spying" for similar release of the Chinese girl "guerilla"—Lee Meng, or Lee Ten Tai.

This offer is surely one of the worst signs of all these times. It proves, more clearly than anything else to date, that what now grips the world is one gigantic international civil war.

Up till now, the top men in the Kremlin have more or less maintained the fiction that Russian Communists were not responsible for what Communists did elsewhere. Now the mask is coming off.

THE WORST feature of this international psychological war is that campaigns are waged with total contempt for the fate of the mere persons involved.

For instance, the famous campaign to save the Rosenbergs is so obviously a Communist world racket that it has two effects:

1. Many decent people who would otherwise surely raise their voices against this over-harsh and totally unprecedented sentence of death will not do so because they fear to be smeared by the Senator McCarthy as Communist tools—or even traitors themselves.

2. If the President does not relieve the Rosenbergs the Communists will claim they compelled him to act. But if he does not act, and the two convicted spies die, they will be made martyrs from one end of the earth to the other. They are in fact worth ten times a hundred times, more to the Communists dead than alive.

SOME OF OUR papers over here have said the Reds must place high value on Lee Meng, in order to try the human swap. The real answer may be quite different. I think they now intend to claim the credit for saving the life of a girl who should never have been sentenced to death in the first place.

Numerous British M.P.'s had long previously petitioned the Malay authorities to lift the dubious death sentence from this young woman. She could never have been convicted in any court where the regular British judge and jury system prevails.

She may or may not be guilty. But the evidence presented in court against her was not enough on which to hang a dog.

LESLIE PLUMMER M.P. set forth the facts in a letter to British weeklies on February 21. He showed:

1. The only important evidence against the girl was in photographs taken years before the arrest and from a police inspector who swore that three years before the trial he had seen, through binoculars at a range of some 40 yards, a woman whom he now identified as the prisoner.

2. In the first trial before a British judge and two assessors (roughly equivalent to jurors) both assessors found the girl, Not Guilty. One assessor was Indian, one Chinese.

3. In the retrial ordered by the judge the authorities took the unique step of appointing one European with one Chinese to act as assessors. The European voted Guilty, and the Chinese voted, Not Guilty.

HOLLYWOOD—We bailed Hamish out of the lock-up yesterday and today we were invited to a cocktail party at Colossal Studios. There is always something happening in Hollywood.

The reason we were invited to the party was because Col. S. Skeffington-Smutts (Ret.) appeared as a character witness for Hamish (who had been arrested for trying to fill in the cement imprints of famous movie stars' hands and feet in front of a well-known Hollywood theatre) and the Colonel was such a striking figure, even for Hollywood—I mean, with his sabre and cavalry boots and his sun helmet, that naturally all the newspapers took pictures.

So I suppose some minor official at Colossal discovered that the Colonel was connected with me, and that I was connected temporarily with Colossal, and the result was that we were invited to the party.

Nobody telephoned us, of course. We just happened to be sitting in our hotel room—the Colonel and Little Augie and Hamish (somewhat subdued after his incarceration) and I—and there came this knock on the door and when I answered it we were deluged by bodies.

"That's him!" a man shouted, pointing at the Colonel. "Take him!"

It was then that I saw the three blondes, the two brunettes and the redhead. Evidently the orders were for them, because immediately they "took" the Colonel—that is, they draped themselves all over him where he was sitting in a chair, much to his surprise and not a little to his gratification. The blondes and the brunettes were very cute, and so was the redhead.

Cameras clicked and flash-bulbs exploded all over the room. "Okay, boys," shouted the man in charge. "That's great for now. Okay, girls—scram!"

The three blondes, the two brunettes and the redhead exulted themselves from the Colonel, dabbed at their mouths with lipstick, and left—probably to the nearest drugstore for a soda.

At the studio gates the three brunettes, the two blondes and the redhead were let off duty, and were replaced by three red-heads, two brunettes and a blonde. More pictures were taken, and by this time the Colonel looked as though he had been fighting the Ashanti Wars all over again.

"Thanks General," said the man in charge. "These will

Reflects and Reminisces

One of the good things about telling the truth is that you don't have to remember what you said.

"Never marry your intellectual inferior." A good many amongst us wouldn't do it if we could.—Guelph Mercury.

COULD RECALL A FEW

A Canadian soldier just back with his Japanese war bride says there will be more like him because Oriental girls are more attentive to their husbands. Nine times out of ten ask a Canadian wife to do something for you, he says, and she won't do a tap. Nine times out of ten. That's a pretty large proportion. We've known numerous Canadian girls perform any number of useful duties thousands of times.

Back in 1932, General McArthur required veterans of the 1914 war to abandon the attempt to develop the U.S. bonus army. There is a picture of him on Pennsylvania Avenue—and marching by him a youngish looking officer called Major Eisenhower. He hadn't the least idea how soon he'd return to Washington, or how long.

The Israel Government has, through legal action made the sexes equal. Wonder how they could manage to extend the system into Canada? It's quite unnecessary to remind the women of Canada how long they ruled the roost.

ONE ESSENTIAL

Birth notices in a small newspaper cause a good deal of telephoning around unless the editor explains who the mother, before her marriage was. The folks—even if they miss some of the rest—want that.

This Is DISCRIMINATION!

We Place Our Case Before The Bar of Public Opinion

(Final Article No. 2)

We, the employees of the Provincial Government, have recently charged the Government with "stalling" on our request for the right to Arbitration of our working conditions. Our Association has stated that in so stalling, the Government is denying its own employees not merely a condition of employment but a legal and civil right guaranteed by law to all other employee groups throughout the Province. What are the facts behind these charges? Are they true, half-true, or false?

FACT NO. 1: Government Employees have, for some years, requested the right of Arbitration. On December 1, 1952, the B. C. Government Employees Association presented a formal request to the present Government for this right. At subsequent meetings the Government stated that it required a further six months delay, but gave no reason for the delay. We rejected this on the grounds that such a delay amounted to a rejection of the principle of Arbitration. Our Association subsequently stated that we were prepared, at any time, to sit down with the Government and work out the details involved in granting the right to Arbitration, but that the Government should not require a further six months to study the principle involved, which is now a civil right. We feel that the Government's move to postpone decision on our request simply means, in parliamentary parlance, that our proposal will be killed.

FACT NO. 2: In 1947 the Government of that day passed the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act in an effort to promote industrial peace. The Act provided for a regulated bargaining procedure with provision for conciliation and arbitration, but its provisions were never extended to Government Employees, who continued to be treated as second-class citizens. On April, 1951, the Government established a Legislative Committee (known as the Ash Committee) to inquire into the provisions of the Act with a view to their improvement. In February, 1952, this Committee released its findings, and all members of the Committee unanimously recommended extension of the right to Arbitration for Government Employees. The Government has never implemented the findings of this Committee.

FACT NO. 3: Last spring, just prior to the Provincial election, the B.C. Government Employees Association contacted 185 candidates throughout the province to ascertain their views on the right of Government employees to arbitration. 131 took a definite stand in favour, 29 out of 42 of the present Government's candidates were in favour. 11 of those who were ultimately elected expressed their agreement with the principle. 6 of those who became Cabinet Ministers (a majority of the Cabinet) were definitely in favour.

The B. C. Government Employees' Association feels that by their continued refusal to act on previous commitments and previous recommendations, the Government has forced us to appeal to a higher court—the court of public opinion. We therefore urge you—the people—to write or wire your M.L.A. today asking him to support, on the floor of the Legislature, the right of Government employees to Arbitration—a right now commonly enjoyed by all other groups of employees throughout the Province.

DOUGLAS EVAN SHIER and his bride, the former Miss Marguerite Marion Ellen Double, are pictured as they signed the marriage register in the Anglican Cathedral Church of the Redeemer, Calgary, where they exchanged vows.

Shier-Double Wedding Solemized in Calgary

Dean J. H. Craig officiated at the recent wedding in the Cathedral Church of the Redeemer at which Marguerite Marion Ellen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Double of Calgary, exchanged marriage vows with Douglas Evan Shier, only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Shier of Prince Rupert.

MOTHER MAKES GOWN. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white taffeta, lace and net fashioned by her mother. Her finger-tip veil of silk illusion misted from a lace bonnet, trimmed with pearl orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls and drop earrings, gifts from the groom.

Miss Mary Houston attended the bride as maid-of-honor attired in a formal frock of lace and net poised over pink taffeta. Her headress was a pearl-trimmed coronet with chapel veil and she carried a colonial bouquet of carnations, daffodils and iris. Miss Muriel Shier, sister of the groom was bridesmaid in a similar frock of lace and net over yellow taffeta. A matching halo headress and chapel veil completed her ensemble and she also carried mixed spring flowers in her nosegay.

The groom was attended by Michael Anton and guests were ushered by Joseph Rossi and Harold Double.

Mrs. David McKellar sang "O Promise Me" during the signing of the register.

DEAN GIVES TOAST Dean Craig proposed the bridal toast at a reception in the Al San Club following the church rites.

For the wedding trip the bride changed to a frock of silver taffeta accented with velvet trim and topped with blue wool coat. Her accessories were black and her corsage was of red rosebuds. Mr. and Mrs. Shier will reside in Calgary at 3623 Centre B. Street, northwest.

Out of town guests at the wedding were the groom's mother, Mrs. E. C. Shier, and sister Muriel of Prince Rupert.

Women's Club Donates $300 To Museum

At a well-attended meeting of the Credit Women's Breakfast Club this morning, the president, Mrs. Jocelyn Bolton presented a cheque for $300 to Mr. F. E. Anfield, director of the Museum.

The money is to be used by the museum board to implement their current-year budget.

The gift was made possible through the staging by the club of the recent Variety Show in the Capitol Theatre.

Mr. Anfield, in the absence of the president of the Museum Board, Harry Black, outlined the history of the museum and its present financial operating problem.

In thanking the club for their civic mindedness, Mr. Anfield unfolded the need for a new museum building in this city.

It was his hope that a building similar in appearance to the old Indian communal tribal house might be constructed and he expounded the hope that if the people of Prince Rupert, both individually and through the many organizations, would get actively into such a project, help might be forthcoming from such interests as the Carnegie Foundation, as well as the provincial and federal governments and the city.

"The museum is a civic heritage and the responsibility of Prince Rupert" said Mr. Anfield, who appealed to all groups in the city to attend the annual meeting of the board at the museum on April 20.

In handing the cheque to the treasurer Rev. Canon Basil S. Prockter, Mr. Anfield said: "this gift, if implemented by a city grant, will make possible the re-opening of the museum this year."

No. 8 received an important visitor at a special meeting last night. She was the District Deputy Supreme Honored Royal Lady—Mrs. Thelma Bell of Prince George.

Mrs. Bell arrived Thursday night in the course of a tour of inspection of lodges under her jurisdiction. The lodges include those at Williams Lake, Quesnel, Prince George, McBride, Burns Lake, Smithers and Prince Rupert.

Mrs. Bell was introduced to the lodge by Honored Royal Lady Mrs. C. McIntyre and presented with a corsage of pink carnations.

After inspecting the lodge books and viewing the ritualistic and business proceedings, Mrs. Bell commented favorably on the work of this relatively new lodge and the efforts of its officers.

The drill team were congratulated on their appearance and performance. The team consists of Mrs. Pat Deane, Mrs. Rupert Holkestad, Miss Mildred Furunes, Mrs. R. Merrison, Mrs. Robert Shrubbsall, Mrs. Ted Prystay.

Delicious refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

This afternoon, Mrs. Bell was guest of honor at a luncheon given at Club 27. Covers were laid for 23 persons.

She is scheduled to return to Prince George by train tonight.

Booth High Cage Team Enters B.C. Playdowns

To Meet Quesnel Squad in First Game For School Championship

Entering competition on a provincial scale for the first time in several years, a Booth Memorial High School basketball team leaves here Monday to take part in the province-wide playdowns in Vancouver.

First team the Bo-Me-Hi Rainmakers meet Wednesday night, when the eliminations begin at the University of B.C. Memorial gym, is Quesnel. If the Rupert students win, they may meet the well-known Duke of Connaught cagers the following night.

Finals are Saturday. Sixteen teams are entered.

Meanwhile, Rainmakers' coach Jack Evans got a substantial boost in confidence when his squad outclassed a senior combination of the top five scorers of the season in a practice match Thursday night. Score was 52-44.

The seniors, picked and coached by Gordon & Anderson pilot Alex Bill, had to bow to the student cagers who carried the play most of the way on the large high school gym floor.

Commenting on the game, Bill said that the students showed good form.

"Evans should have a lot of confidence in his boys when they play down south," said Bill.

About his own team losing, the veteran coach said:

"I picked the five top scoring men of the season for the first string just to sit back and see the results. Two of the players were on opposite sides all season. It doesn't mean that the top scorers are going to play well together the first time."

The lineup which faced the students were Joe Davis, Ray Spring, Jim Flaten, Don Scherck and Rupe Holkestad. Ted Arney, Roy Webber and Ed Scherck were subs.

TEAM MEMBERS

Members of the representative school team chosen to make the plane trip south are Bill Morrison (already in Vancouver), Fred Kristmanson, Darrel Young, Jerry Ford, Ron Ciccone, Reynold McKay, Derek Letourneau, Fred Christensen and Ron Black.

Each player is paying a quarter of his own fare and the students' council pays the balance. Players will be billeted at UBC's Acadia Camp.

Only outside competition this team has met this season is that of the Ketchikan Polar Bears whom they tied in a four-game return (two here, two in Alaska) series.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)

— Paul Richards, the gloomy ringmaster of the Chicago White Sox, has come out of the heat of his preliminary training camp at El Centro, Calif., talking pennant with only one important "if."

"If all our stars play up to what they have shown they can do in other years, I think we have a real good chance," he said. "I like this team very much. However, if three or four of them should have poor seasons, then you know we are not going to win anything. It's as simple as that."

What did he think would happen to New York Yankees if Phil Rizzuto's pet ulcer should prevent his playing a full season at shortstop for the world champions?

"Just say that I would love to play the Yankees about 22 games without Rizzuto in there," he replied. "It would be a very, very interesting experiment. If you see Casey Stengel, give him my regards and tell him I hope he has Rizzuto for about 13 games."

"It's too early yet to say whether Vern Stephens' bad knee will permit him to play third regularly," Richards said of the former Boston Red Sox.

"If Stephens doesn't do it I'll be perfectly willing to go with Rocco Krsnich (pronounced Krsnich) at third."

"With him, Chico Carrasquel, Nellie Fox and Ferris Fain in my infield and Minnie Minoso, Jim Rivera and Sam Mele in the outfield, I have much the fastest team in baseball."

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Goadng Your Opponent Can Be 'Fatal' To You
Mr. Abel's two club bid was an ill-conceived attempt to steal the play at that contract. It only served to goad Mr. Muzzy in leaping to three no trump.

Mr. Champion led the five of hearts, the queen was played on Mr. Muzzy's right and he won with the ace. With only one quick entry on the board, he elected to lay down the ace and queen of clubs, both of which he won. He then led his last club and Mr. Champion won with the king and returned his last heart.

Mr. Heinsite took the king of hearts and led another heart, clearing the suit. After winning with the jack, Mr. Muzzy entered dummy with the king of spades and cashed two more club tricks. But when he led a diamond to try to set up his ninth winner, Mr. Heinsite stepped in with the ace and cashed two hearts to defeat the contract.

As usual Mr. Heinsite offered

Urged to Help Polio Victims

VICTORIA (CP)—Leo Nimsick (CCF-Cranbrook) has proposed that the provincial government accept responsibility for care of all persons left crippled by poliomyelitis.

In a formal notice of motion on the legislature's order paper, Mr. Nimsick noted that polio victims are covered by the province's compulsory hospital insurance scheme only during the acute period. He said further treatment depended on economic circumstances of the patient or availability of treatment through charitable organizations.

Thirty-eight persons died of polio in British Columbia last year. There were more than 500 cases, worst in history.

Gary Cooper Selected Top Actor by Canadians

Canada's press and radio critics of motion pictures voted United Artists' Humphrey Bogart-Katharine Hepburn starrer, The African Queen, the best cinematic effort exhibited in 1952, while Gary Cooper, for his role in the same distributor's High Noon, was chosen the best player of the year.

John Huston directed The African Queen, which was in color by Technicolor, while Fred Zinnemann directed High Noon, which was produced by Stanley Kramer.

An American in Paris, the Academy Award winner as the best film of 1951, was placed fourth, right behind Empire-Universal's Technicolor boxoffice smash from Republic, The Quiet Man, which John Ford produced and directed in Ireland.

The critics, balloting in the annual Ten Best poll of the Canadian Film Weekly, named 85 of 181 eligible films in making their choices, while the number of players who received one or more votes in the course of selecting the first ten numbered

120. Six of the ten best films were in color.

Although Humphrey Bogart was given the 1951 Academy Award for his performance in The African Queen, Canadian critics ranked it fourth. The picture which provided Gary Cooper with his winning role, High Noon was the second choice in the Ten Best films.

One British film, JARRO's The Man in the White Suit, came seventh on the list and its star, Alec Guinness, was voted third in the Ten Best performances for his role in this comedy and in another JARO feature, The Promoter.

It will be noted that some films are 1951 releases in the USA and 1952 releases in Canada. This is partly due to producers rushing films into limited USA exhibition in order to qualify for the Academy Awards, with general distribution following the next year.

Here is a complete list of the voting:

Ten Best Pictures

1—The African Queen, 2—High Noon, 3—The Quiet Man, 4—An American in Paris, 5—The Greatest Show on Earth, 6—Limelight, 7—The Man in the White Suit, 8—Death of a Salesman, 9—With a Song in My Heart, 10—Quo Vadis.

Top Stars

1—Gary Cooper for High Noon, 2—Katharine Hepburn for The African Queen and Pat and Mike, 3—Alec Guinness for The Man in the White Suit and The Promoter, 4—Humphrey Bogart for The African Queen, 5—Joan Crawford for Sudden Fear, 6—Charles Chaplin for Limelight, 7—Susan Hayward for With a Song in My Heart, 8—Marlon Brando for Viva Zapata, 9—James Mason for Five Fingers, 10—Gene Kelly for An American in Paris and Singin' in the Rain.

Probe Ordered Into Conduct Of Administrator of Will

VANCOUVER (CP)—An investigation has been ordered into the conduct of Carl M. Stewart of Vancouver, official administrator in the $900,000 Thomson will case.

The order came from Attorney General Robert Bonner following the passing of an order-in-council calling for the investigation. James Thomson, pioneer hotel owner, died here in 1948. A year later a will was found among dusty records in a real estate office. It was later branded a forgery, though the person responsible was never named.

Stewart was appointed official administrator and after court hearings six of Thomson's relatives were named beneficiaries. Stewart is a former deputy official administrator in the department of the attorney-general.

The order-in-council said: "Information has been received that the conduct of Carl M. Stewart in so far as the same relates to his official duties has been such as to warrant an inquiry." The investigation will be conducted by Fred H. Sheppard, a Vancouver barrister.

It was also reported Vancouver police have reopened their investigation into the will.

Under the terms of the forged document city fireman Gilbert Campbell, 43, would have inherited some $600,000.

The hotel Thomson owned here was recently sold for $450,000.

Mrs. Margaret Millen of Vancouver is the chief beneficiary of the estate.

LONG-LIVED TWINS

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Vancouver man and his brother in Walkerville, Ont., are in the running for title of Canada's oldest twins. Edgar L. Webber of Vancouver and his brother Egbert will be 85 years old on March 21. They were born in Oxford county, Ont., and Edgar came to B.C. in 1922.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Every Home Should Have a First Aid Kit

Nearly one-third of the 8,500,000 disabling injuries to Americans last year were received inside the home! When accidents occur it is dangerous to wait until help arrives—first aid on the spot may save a life, possibly your own. Come in tomorrow and get a first aid kit for your home. It is wise to be prepared for this. It is wise to be prepared for the emergency that may come any minute.

Time was, nobody ever heard of twin beds—except, maybe, for twins. In those days, beds, like bicycles, were built for two. The double bed was and is easier to make up in. That's a lot to be said for the double bed, and it's reportedly said delightfully and delicately in Stanley Kramer's "The Four Poster," a tender biography of a marriage for Columbia Pictures, starring Rex Harrison and Lilli Palmer, which opens at the Totem Theatre on Monday.

The double bed is the solid symbol of a successful marriage in "The Four Poster." It is present at the joys, the wonders and the problems encountered by two people in love, from the first night to the first baby—and through the years beyond—becoming the best friend any marriage ever had. No stronger case could be made for the double bed, for instance, than the morning Miss Palmer forgets that just the night before, in the screen play, she told Rex Harrison: "The divorce arrangements will be simple... I'll take the house, the children, and all the money... You can have her!"

The four poster bed itself, which figures so importantly in the film, was found by Irving Reis, director of "The Four Poster," in a California warehouse, deep in the farthest corner of the top floor. There it stood, majestic, satin-smooth, obviously a bed with a past. There was no mistaking the star qualifications of this four poster and Reis got a jolt when he learned that the title-role bed had once belonged to Rudolph Valentino.

Not an 'Oscar' but a 'Queen'

HOLLYWOOD, May, 52—(I.P.) The very word "Queen" suggests a Throne, opulence, wealth and abundance of every sort and—COMFORT—that is, comfort of a sort, the best which was known when Kings and Queens were first created. But that was quite a few thousand years ago and during all this time a royal throne retained its supremacy for sitting comfort. Now, however, there is a new Queen—American style—and a new throne, which is even replacing the old-fashioned ones in old world palaces.

Our new "Queen" really is two separate entities. Marie Le Doux of Hollywood, who has recognized the vast potentialities of providing really comfortable and adequate sitting accommodation in the innovation known as the Contour Chair Lounge, can well be regarded as the Queen of Comfort, while the new and sixth size in which this extraordinary chair is made, is called the "Queen" size.

The new Queen size now completes a full range, with every possible combination taken into consideration, such as a short torso with comparatively long legs, or the other way around. This American-style Queen appears to be persona grata the world over since she supplies the wherewithal for complete comfort and relaxation not only to over-exerted, exhausted and fatigued Americans, but to war-weary Europeans and leisure-loving Asians who are all acclaiming and hankering to relax in a made-to-fit-YOU Contour Chair Lounge from Marie Le Doux, Inc., of 8512 Sunset Boulevard, in Hollywood, California.
